Ten years ago, citizens set far-reaching goals for the Tall City, many of which have been reached. Clockwise, economic diversification such as Texas Instruments' new facility; the founding of Midland College; Hogan Park's clubhouse and additional nine holes of golf; a downtown exhibit hall; improved hospital facilities; Chapparal Center, a multi-purpose arena; and Midland Regional Airport renovation and improved air service. Carter has big lead in Florida

MIAMI (AP) — President Carter held a commanding lead over Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Saturday in early results in Florida's Democratic county caucuses by capturing many small counties and running close in Kennedy's Miami stronghold.

Unofficial results from 61 of 67 counties showed Carter with 330 delegates, Kennedy with 59, AFL-CIO organizers with 19 and 20 uncommitted. However, those 61 counties have only 49 percent of the 878 delegates elected on Saturday.

White House press secretary Jody Powell described Carter as "very pleased."

In Washington, Carter said he was grateful for the work done by his Florida supporters and, when asked if the vote in the non-binding contest was significant, said "Yes."

Carter's campaign manager, Jay Hakes, claimed victory in late afternoon based on the results of surveys his campaign workers took at caucuses. Hakes also claimed victory in the Miami area — a feat he and the Kennedy campaigners had agreed beforehand would be a "knockout punch" for the president.

The campaign focused on the election of 879 delegates to the mid-November Democratic State Convention. They'll join 838 other delegates, including party leaders, elected officials and their appointees, to vote in a non-binding presidential straw ballot. (One of the 879 elected delegates switched to the appointed column Saturday when Hardee County had only one eligible candidate.)

At stake in the caucuses and straw ballot, really, is nothing more than attention from the press and public. Florida's delegates to the 1980 Democratic National Convention in New York will be chosen in the state's March 11 presidential primary.

Nevertheless, the caucuses and straw ballot may have a psychological effect on the national political scene in part because of the interest that developed after Kennedy, D-Mass., hinted strongly in September that he would challenge Carter.

At the Carter headquarters in Orlando, Powell said Carter called the campaign staff to thank them.

Powell said the President's showing is "a very clear signal that anyone who chooses to challenge the president of the United States must be prepared to fight every step of the way."

Draft-Kennedy campaign director Sergio Bendixen, a Democratic national committee member, refused to concede Miami's 188 delegates, the largest bloc of any county.

Rain over populous South Florida's big cities kept the turnout below the 50,000 registered Democrats who were expected to vote.

With hundreds of names on the ballot in the larger counties, party officials estimated it could be days before official results are tallied in some areas.

Midland's objectives achieved

Chamber of Commerce reviews decade of progress

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the past decade, Midland has taken giant steps forward in a number of areas of development. This first in a series of two articles reviews those "Objectives for Midland" which have been realized.

By LANA CUNNINGHAM
Staff Writer

As Midland limped out of the "swinging 60s" and a recession, city leaders sat down to take a hard look at the town and where it should be heading as the Tall City entered the 70s.

The ideas that came out of those meetings were dubbed "Objectives for Midland." The plan centered on eight top-priority areas.

Today, more than 10 years after that meeting, the Midland Chamber is looking over its shoulder to see how much has been accomplished toward those goals.

Why the retrospective glance? The chamber wants to know what resulted last time before formulating new objectives for the 80s.

The untried program — patterned after "Goals for Dallas" — got its beginnings in 1967, said Fred Tyler, executive director for the Midland Chamber.

William B. Blakemore II was selected to chair an advisory committee.

Essays on various aspects of Midland — such as government, design, housing, recreation, education, health, culture and economy — were compiled. Then 100 conferees were pulled out of the community and shipped off to a

School bonds total $10.2 million

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a five-part series reviewing items to be voted on in the Oct. 23 $10.2 million school bond election.

By SUSAN TOTH
Staff Writer

Midland voters will be asked to approve a $10.2 million bond issue Oct. 23 in an all-or-nothing package.

The money will be split off with something for most of Midland's schools in a variety of fix-up projects ranging from replacing heaters, air conditioners and boilers to resurfacing tennis courts.

The money also will purchase and equip a number of new vocational areas, particularly in the junior high and freshman schools.

Another $1.2 million project is aimed at constructing and equipping a new elementary school in the growing northwest section of the city.

More than half the $10.2 million will be spent at Midland High School, where more than $5.5 million will be used to renovate, expand and improve the existing campus and building.

Trustees had planned to take most of the property between the campus and F Street from Illinois to Tennessee avenues for the campus expansion.

IN A FINAL attempt to hold down costs, however, trustees pulled back the line of property they plan to take to the alley between Ohio and Tennessee avenues, removing eight of the original 21 homes from the proposed expansion area.

School-board members plan to purchase the 13 remaining lots in the area west of the existing campus for practice fields and a new $2.4 million physical education facility.

A major portion of the land was acquired earlier this year when the district negotiated a settlement with the heirs of the J.E. and Irene Hill estate for an almost four-acre tract bounded by Illinois Avenue and F Street.

The land was purchased for $450,000. The historic Hill house was sold separately to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Viney and is being moved to a new location.

But the settlement was reached only after long, sometimes bitter haggling.

The district's eminent domain suit — set aside when an out-of-court settlement was reached — brought a petition drive from a citizens' group and left many Midlanders with a bad taste for the schools' expansion program as a whole.

One million dollars has been set aside in the bond package to purchase the remaining 13 houses.

BUT THE TEDIIOUS, drawn-out eminent domain process could be needed again if homeowners, many of whom are senior citizens concerned about where to go if they sell their homes, are dissatisfied with the price offered by the school district.

While school trustees contend they will negotiate in good faith and offer a fair market price for the property, Trustee Johnny Warren pointed out the expansion into that area has been a long-term goal of the board.

The district has been buying land as it became available steadily since 1977 and had spent more than $240,000 on property near MHS before the purchase of the Hill estate.

The expansion is a vital part of the (See SCHOOL BONDS, Page 5A)

NEW YORK — Washington's response to the presence of Russian soldiers in Cuba, and Leonid Brezhnev's offer to withdraw troops from East Germany, may at a glance look like separate events. Actually, they are the latest moves in a global and dangerous chess game.

Russia could not afford to lose face in the Cuban situation, but obviously assured President Carter that the combat effectiveness of the 3,000 troops would be reduced.

At the same time, Brezhnev knew that he was going to have to withdraw troops from East Germany because of the growing number of desertions, as pointed out last week by my friend and colleague Seymour Freidin, chief

In his latest dispatch from Europe, Si reported as follows:

"An effort to check the rising rate of desertion among Warsaw Pact troops was the corollary but unpublicized cause prompting the Soviet Union to propose cutting their forces in East Germany."

"The Soviet-led East European bloc, including tightly-controlled Russian soldiers, has been plagued in the last few years by desertions that out-

I am writing this letter in reference to off-duty employment by officers of the Midland Police Department.

It would seem to me that the practice of paying off-duty officers of the police department overtime pay to patrol dump grounds and parks is a gross misuse of citizens' tax dollars.

This practice had been going on for over a year and apparently will continue.

One off-duty officer is paid overtime wages to sit in a city-owned vehicle at a dump ground near Cotton Flat Road and Interstate 20. This dump ground has had a cable surrounding it for nearly a year, which prevents any dumping.

Another area where an off-duty officer is employed every weekend is at the end of West Cuthbert Street. The dump ground adjacent to Interstate 20 uses an officer every evening for five hours. The other hires an officer for eight hours Saturday and Sunday.

Several other officers are employed off-duty to patrol certain parks in the city each weekend, again drawing overtime pay at the expense of taxpayers.

The strange thing is that all this off-duty employment by officers rarely results in anyone being arrested or fined for anything.

My question is why the need of using our tax dollars for enforcement which shows no results?

I also wonder that if I called an officer to patrol a certain area, the city fathers would pay them off-duty (See ANSWER LINE, Page 4A)

Chinese leader arrives in Europe Monday to open three-week tour

PEKING (AP) — Chinese leader Hua Guofeng arrives in Western Europe on Monday to open a three-week tour in which he is expected to present a three-sided portrait — that of diplomatic statesman, economic super-salesman and anti-Soviet friend.

The 57-year-old Chinese premier, Communist Party chairman and military commander-in-chief will fly into Paris on the initial leg of his tour, the first to Western Europe by a head of the Chinese government since the People's Republic was founded 30 years ago.

With that in mind, the leaders of France, West Germany, Italy and Britain are planning to welcome Hua and his 15-member delegation with all the pomp reserved for historic occasions.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung, became premier in 1976 and then party chairman a month after Mao's death in September of that year.

While he presides over the Chinese hierarchy, Senior Vice Premier Deng Xiaoping, who visited the United States in January, leads the drive for Chinese modernization. Both are viewed as indispensable by the Chinese Communist Party.

Hua, who since gaining power has visited Yugoslavia, Romania, Iran and North Korea, takes his delegation of foreign advisers and economic and trade officials to West Berlin on Oct. 21, London Oct. 28 and Rome Nov. 3.

In his talks with government leaders, Hua will try to persuade West European governments and businessmen to help finance China's program to become a modern industrial nation by the turn of the century.

He is also expected to stress China's support for European unity against Soviet "expansionism" and give his blessings to the instruments of that unity, the European Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

His message, often stated by Chinese leaders, will be that Moscow cannot be trusted and that SALT II, its new arms-limitation treaty with the United States, should be viewed as a Russian trick to lull the West.

"A strong and united Western Europe is of great significance for the preservation of peace and security in Europe and the world," Hua said at a news conference last week.

Hua, who left Peking Friday and made a weekend rest stop in Xinjiang province before flying on to Europe, is bringing with him Chinese Vice Premier and Planning Commission chief Yu Qiuli; a deputy planning minister, Gan Ziyu, and Deputy Foreign Trade Minister Cui Qun.

It is not known whether the trip will produce a harvest of new trade and economic agreements, although Hua will be pumping for greater West European participation in newly created joint venture projects, a vehicle the Chinese hope will encourage heavy investment.

With its credit high and its priorities after an initial rash of over-enthusiasm pared down, the Chinese are back in the international marketplace with an estimated $35 billion to spend between 1980 and 1983 for capital goods, chiefly industrial plants.

U.S. Defense Secretary Harold Brown is to visit China later this year, but the United States says it is not interested in selling Peking military hardware. Nevertheless, it gives tacit encouragement to the Europeans to do so.

Along this line, negotiations have been completed for Britain's Rolls Royce-made Spey aircraft engines, now being turned out under contract in China, and for helicopters from France, where negotiations on sales of anti-aircraft missiles have gone on for a few years. Italy and West Germany will not sell China military hardware.

Each of the four countries has favorite projects to discuss: Britain — Harrier jet fighters, steel; mining equipment, railway and transportation equipment and electronics.

Chambliss murder trial set to begin here Monday

By BILL MODISETT
Staff Writer

Kelly Joe Chambliss, accused by his co-defendant of having shot Army Sgt. J.B. England July 18 on Interstate 20, goes on trial Monday in Midland's 238th District Court on a charge of murder.

Jury selection is expected to get under way at 9 a.m.

Chambliss, 17, of Midland will be the second man tried in connection with the death of Sgt. England.

The co-defendant in the case, 20-year-old Midlander Raymond Wesley Mathis, was convicted of murder in the case in September and assessed a 99-year prison term by an eight-man, four-woman jury.

Late in September, 238th District Judge Vann Culp denied a motion for a change of venue filed by Chambliss' attorneys, Allen McFall and Eddie Garza, but indicated he might reconsider the motion at a later date.

McFall and Garza contended in that motion that pre-trial publicity in the case had made it impossible for Chambliss to receive a fair and impartial trial in Midland County.

While initially denying the request to move the trial out of the county, Judge Culp did grant a defense motion which will allow McFall and Garza to question potential jurors in the case outside the presence of other members of the jury panel.

Other pre-trial motions in the Chambliss case were heard in 238th District Court last week.

If testimony in the Chambliss trial is as time-consuming as that in the Mathis trial, the case likely will take several days to hear. The Mathis trial lasted almost a week.

Testimony in that earlier trial indicated that the 39-year-old Army sergeant, on his way from Marion, N.C., to Fort Bliss at El Paso, was shot in the early morning hours of July 18 about 10 miles east of Midland on I-20.

Sgt. England was found by law enforcement officers about 4:30 a.m. that day and taken to Midland Memorial Hospital, where he died shortly before 6 a.m.

Sgt. England had sustained three wounds from bullet fragments to his face and one wound to his left arm, according to testimony.

A Midland pathologist who testified in the Mathis trial said an autopsy performed on Sgt. England revealed that the sergeant literally drowned in his own blood after being wounded on the highway.

The pathologist, Dr. David W. Shneidman of Midland, said that blood flowed into England's air passage and his body would not repel the blood as it would a foreign substance.

Officers arrested Mathis later that same morning in Ward County and confiscated a .22-caliber rifle and three different calibers of bullets from the car he was driving.

According to testimony, Chambliss was arrested July 19.

In a statement to sheriff's deputies entered in his trial, Mathis claimed Chambliss shot Sgt. England.

The statement said the two (Mathis and Chambliss) went driving around on the morning of July 18 and "Kelly shot this man."

Mathis, who indicated he was driving the car, said he continued on, but that Chambliss told him to go back to where the man had been shot.

When they returned to that location, according to the statement, Chambliss again shot the sergeant.

Mathis' statement said the two then returned to the home of Mathis' parents and told them a man had been shot and that they were leaving town.

Laetrile boy Chad Green dies in Tijuana

BOSTON (AP) — Chad Green, the leukemia-stricken three-year-old whose parents defied a court order and took him to Mexico for treatment with the banned substance Laetrile, has died, a spokeswoman for the Central Medical Clinico Del Mar in Tijuana, Mexico, said Saturday.

Chad died at his Tijuana home at 5:10 p.m. Friday, according to Marisa Terriquez. His parents, Gerald and Diana Green, had reported that Chad had not been feeling well Friday afternoon, she said.

The Greens reportedly have decided to stay in Mexico to consider the possibility they may be prosecuted if they return to Massachusetts.

The Greens fled their Scituate, Mass., home on Jan. 25 after a judge ordered them to stop treating Chad with Laetrile and a special diet they claimed can combat leukemia.

The judge also ordered them to resume chemotherapy treatments for Chad at Massachusetts General Hospital after the hospital brought suit in February 1978. The Greens insisted that chemotherapy was causing Chad more harm than good.

"This is a time of tremendous grief for me," said John Wyman, who served as the boy's court-appointed lawyer. "We all devoted a lot of time in keeping Chad healthy. I think we all have sympathy for the parents and the child."

"It's obvious that if we can confirm that he was not receiving chemotherapy then we can all reach our own conclusion, but I think we can all agree it was chemotherapy that kept him alive."

SALT rejection would provide propoganda for Soviets: Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, playing radio talk-show host, said Saturday rejection of the SALT II treaty would give the Soviet Union "a tremendous propoganda weapon" against the United States.

Carter said refusal by the Senate to ratify the accord would be "a clear signal to the people all over the earth that our country is not willing to control nuclear weapons adequately."

The president accepted questions from 28 persons during the wide-ranging session, the second Carter has held. He predicted inflation would taper off by the end of the year. And Carter asserted that "by the time Congress adjourns, we will have on the law-books a comprehensive energy policy that will truly benefit the nation."

On the strategic arms issue, Carter repeated his statement that the SALT II pact should be verified "on its merits" — aside from any other considerations.

If the Senate fails to do so, the Soviet Union could claim falsely that it is a nation of peace and the United States is not, the president said.

Carter said he could not support a proposal by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, that the SALT treaty not be implemented unless the United States receives assurances that the Soviet troops are not engaged in a combat role and will not threaten any other country.

"I don't think it's necessary," the president said of Church's proposal. "My own judgment is that those kinds of amendments are not needed."

Carter also said the United States has a "perfect right" to keep its naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, under a 1903 treaty that was reconfirmed in 1934. He said people should not fear a confrontation over the recent deployment of U.S. forces to the island for a training exercise.

Most of the questions concerned significant national affairs such as the arms race, the economy and inflation, though there were lighter moments as well. While the program produced no startling revelations, Carter did agree to grant an autograph to one caller and an appointment with government officials for another who was interested in development of alcohol-based fuels.

The president spoke on a two-hour "talk show" carried by some 200 radio stations affiliated with National Public Radio. Carter played host for a similar show which was broadcast in April 1977.

School bonds total $10.2 million; More than half for MHS projects improvements at MHS, trustees explained.

The 5-to-1 failure of Plan O, a controversial proposal to consolidate the city's two high schools, in an April referendum was a mandate to provide "two equal high schools," Warren contended.

"We can't afford equal facilities, but this expansion is the minimum to make the facilities even comparable.

"IF YOU SIGNED the petitions against Plan O, you have to be with us on the bond election," he said. A survey made by the school district indicated the 13-acre MHS campus is one of the smaller high school campuses in this area. All District 5-4A schools have larger campuses, as do Class A and AA schools such as Rankin and Crane, the survey showed.

Lee High School, with an enrollment roughly equal to MHS, sits on a 40-acre tract, with 23.33 acres of outdoor activity area.

MHS' campus, by comparison, includes 3.7 acres of outdoor activity area — and 1.38 acres of that is taken up by tennis courts.

One major criticism of the MHS bond package has been its emphasis on enlarging and improving physical education and athletic facilities during a time of budget crunches and declining secondary enrollments.

In addition to $1 million to buy land and $2.4 million for a physical education facility, the bond package calls for $165,000 for work on the track, baseball diamond and practice fields; $140,000 for other site work, and $120,000 for paving and walks — along with $9,000 to resurface the tennis courts and $47,500 to renovate the swimming pool.

BUT SCHOOL TRUSTEES contend physical education is an important part of rounded program, and a part that is available at the district's other high school.

Federally mandated increases in women's athletics has put a major strain on the already limited athletic facilities at MHS, school officials noted.

Midland High School has one area, a little larger than a football field, on which all physical education classes are conducted, the band marches and athletic teams practice.

Effectively, that means MHS athletes travel to Memorial Stadium for practice. Since UIL rules are specific about time allotted for athletics, that means travel time to the stadium is subtracted from practice time.

Female athletes lose even more time, since they have no facilities for changing clothes at the stadium.

Aspiring athletes at MHS are discouraged, Warren noted, because runners cannot work at the track during their regular P.E. class in hopes of making the team later.

Jogging classes have no place to run except on the sidewalks around the campus, next to fairly busy streets.

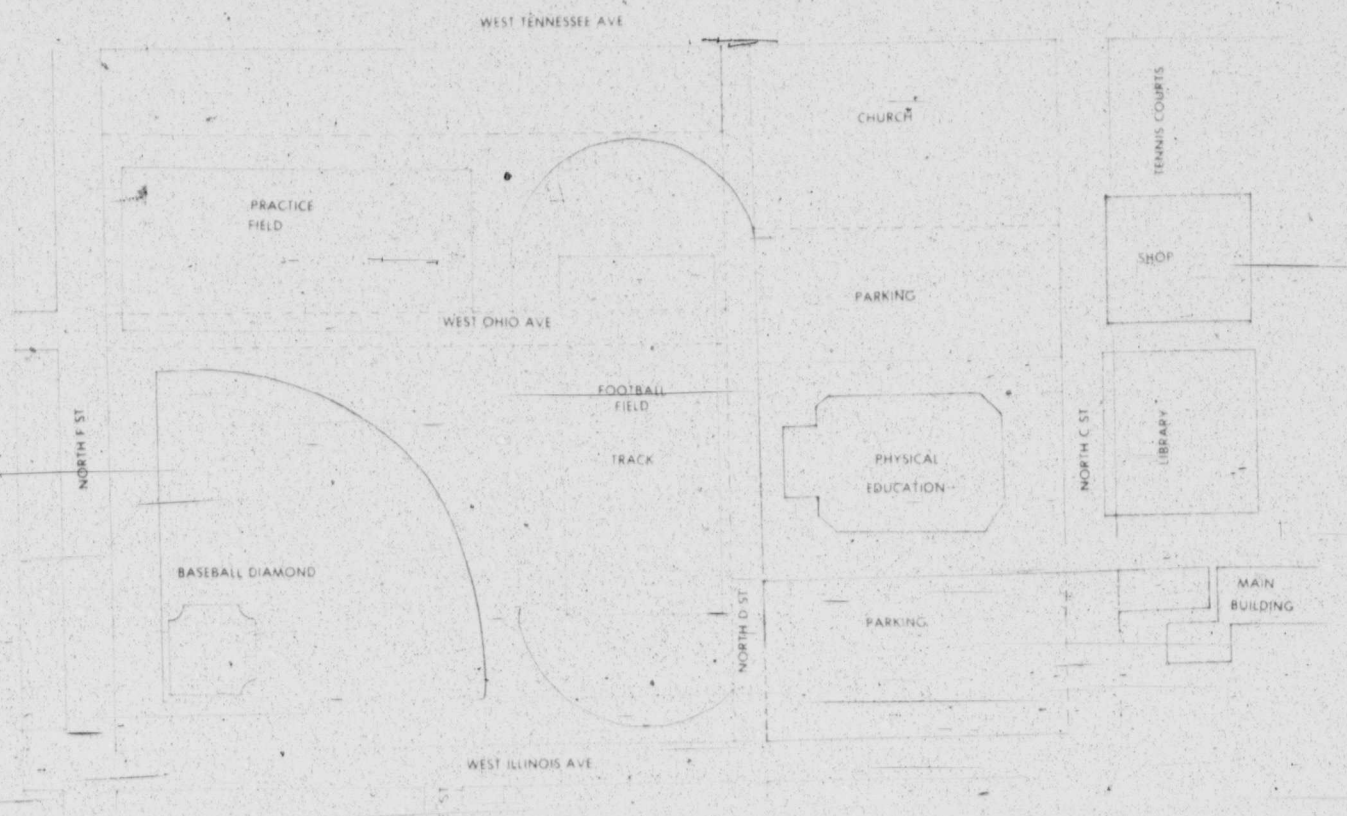

ADDING THE PLANNED area to the campus for a baseball diamond, practice field, and track — along with the new physical education facility — would alleviate those problems, school officials add.

The $2.4 million athletic facility will be designed with 1,800 temporary seats so it can be used for pep-rallies and those varsity basketball games that will not be played at Chaparral Center.

In addition, volleyball, junior varsity and girls sports will be played in the new area. The new gym also will serve physical education classes and relieve the crunch in scheduling practice sessions for all the teams, school officials noted.

Most important, it will make room in the current gymnasium for a new library and learning resource center, school officials said.

Monday: MHS academic improvements

A million dollars have been earmarked to buy land to expand the Midland High School campus in the Oct. 23 school bond election. Plans call for constructing a $2.4 million physical education facility and spending a half-million dollars converting the old gym into a library. Eight lots now occupied by homes have been deleted from the revised plan.

The $10.2 million bond question: Can we afford it?

Can we afford it?

That's the major question in most bond elections, and the $10.2 million issue the Midland Independent School District will ask voters to approve Oct. 23 is no different.

In this case, school officials say, the answer may be "we can't afford not to."

The bond issue includes more than $5.5 million for buying land, expanding and renovating Midland High School, $1.3 million for improvements at Lee High School, $431,000 for vocational facilities, $844,600 for other capital improvements and $2.1 million for a new elementary school.

While none of the bond issue elements is extra, school officials contend, some of the repairs and improvements will have to be made whether the bond issue passes or not.

Several schools are scheduled for reroofing projects, for instance, and the boiler and air conditioning at the 20-year-old Lee High School must be replaced soon.

Trustees estimate the essential repairs could range from $1 to $2 million. Without passage of the bond issue, that amount will have to be added to the district's operating budget, trustees point out.

Funds for that budget must be raised from the current year's taxes, Trustee Johnny Warren said, which could mean a larger tax increase without passage of the bonds than with it.

"It's a lot cheaper to roll the repairs up into a bond and pay for it over the 15 years than to have to pay for it all next year. It's just like getting a home improvement loan," Trustee Johnny Warren explained.

If the bonds pass, according to calculations by the district's fiscal agents, a 3.96 percent average tax increase will be needed to pay for the extra debt.

That adds just under a nickel to the current tax rate, or an extra $11.09 per year, on the school tax bill of a homeowner with an house valued at $30,000, officials said.

Tax bill on a house valued at $50,000 on the tax roll would increase by $18.49 per year, school officials said.

Even with the current upheaval in the bond market, according to the district's fiscal agent, because of the high assessed value of the property in Midland, increasing interest rates will not affect the tax needed to finance the bonds by more than a half cent.

All those calculations have been made on the current tax roll, school trustees point out.

With the growing economy in Midland, "the tax increase should be negligible," according to Trustee Joe Dominey.

Opponents of the bond election, however, point out that MISD already takes the largest tax bite of any taxing entity in the county.

Citing declining enrollments, opponents say even small tax increases for the bond payments added to the ever-increasing school budget — there still being a removal of money from Midlanders' pockets — make little sense.

DIRT, SQUIRT, QUIRT
Time to winterize

By CHARLES W. GREEN
Midland County Extension Agent - Agriculture

Unseasonably hot, dry weather continued to sap soil moisture and stress plants in the West Texas area last week. Cotton is drying, dropping leaves and opening rapidly. There is some conjecture as to whether the September weather may have caused reduced yield and/or quality in cotton. It probably depends on the maturity stage of the individual fields when the dry, hot conditions set in.

Overall, however, we still expect a good cotton crop in the Midland area. Producers are already using, or strongly considering use of chemical defoliants to dry stalks and leaves to permit harvest before frost.

WINTERIZING YOUR YARD consists of several chores that need to be done in the fall. In view of the damage caused by severe cold to some tender perennials last year, several suggestions can be made that will help lessen, or prevent, such damage this winter if temperatures again drop down and remain at the zero-degree level for several days.

The first step is to "harden off" shrubs, trees and turf by lengthening watering intervals and letting soil levels decline. In other words, avoid a flush of new, tender growth from this point on.

Next, mulch the cold-susceptible plants now while the soil is still warm. A 3- to 5-inch layer of mulch materials such as grass clippings, hay, sawdust, bark, cottonseed hulls, etc., will serve as insulation to protect the roots of such plants as pittosporum, ligustrum, oleander, eucalyptus and other plants that do not like temperatures below 10 degrees.

After dormancy be sure to water often enough to keep the soil moist in the root area. The roots of even deciduous plants remain active during the dormant months. It doesn't take much water, maybe once a month, depending on weather conditions, but it is important not to let the soil dry prior to severe cold.

DON'T FORGET TO WATER the lawn during the winter months, even if you have a warm season type such as bermuda or St. Augustine, and especially if you have a cold-season type such as fescue. St. Augustine grass was heavily damaged by cold in the Midland area last winter. This need not have happened if the grass had been taken into the winter in proper condition. This means basically two things.

One, don't use too much of any nitrogen fertilizer past Sept. 1. One-half pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet in early September is heavy enough. This would be the amount of nitrogen in only 2.5 pounds of ammonium sulfate (21-0-0) per 1,000 square feet.

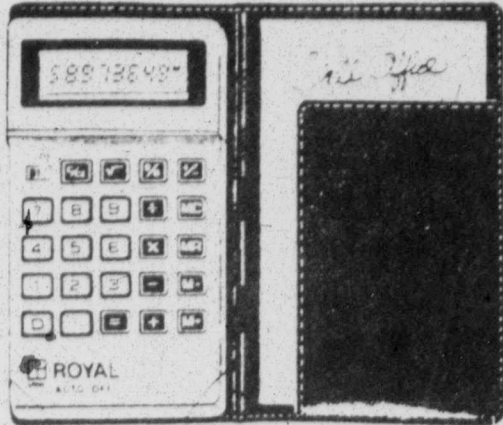

Two, allow the grass to reach a height of 3 to 5 inches before killing frost. This will provide a mulch that will protect the grass through severe cold. I have known St. Augustine plantings that were allowed to grow tall last fall that did not suffer any freeze-out.

If you have already mowed too late to get that kind of growth on St. Augustine this fall before a freeze, you can add mulch such as bark, leaves, straw, hulls, etc. A 3- to 5 inch layer is needed.

FALL IS A GOOD TIME to prepare annual beds and garden spots for spring planting. Spade or till the areas thoroughly and keep winter weeds out. Use all plant debris such as stalks, leaves and stems to make a compost pile to furnish valuable humus for soil improvement next spring and summer. The use of organic matter is as important, if not more so, in soil improvement as the addition of mineral nutrients. A soil well supplied with organic matter will have increased water holding capacity as well as better nutrient availability. This results in better root development and plant vigor.

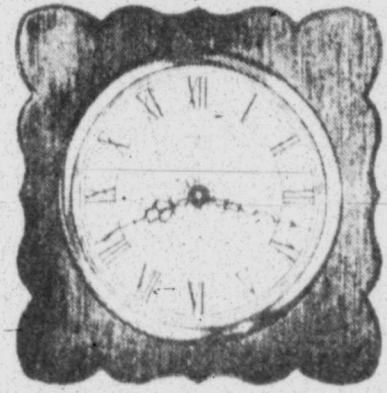

ABOUT THIS TIME of year we frequently get questions from home gardeners concerning the harvesting and storing of sweet potatoes. They should be dug when the vines turn yellow but before frost has killed them. If frost should kill the vines, dig the potatoes immediately.

Immediately after harvest the sweet potatoes are cured. Rapid curing takes place at 85 degrees and 85 percent humidity. This process should last about a week and is completed when the skin no longer slips under finger pressure to expose the wet, raw interior of the potato.

Midland County pecan growers plan annual show

David Harris was elected new president of the Midland County Pecan Growers last week. Other officers elected were C.A. Gray, vice president, and Mrs. Art Shaw, secretary.

The new officers began making plans for the annual county Pecan Show at Dellwood Plaza Nov. 26-27.

Morris Davis was named show chairman, with Lonnie Kreger in charge of necessary equipment. Cathy Harris will handle promotion, R.B. Henderson is in charge of publicity and David Harris is award chairman.

Anyone may enter the show by collecting 40 of the best pecans of each variety, putting them in a container along with his name and address and the variety.

If the variety is unknown, the judges will classify the pecans.

Collection points for pecan entries are the County Extension Office at 218 W. Illinois Ave., C.A. & L. Pecan Office on Rankin Highway and manager Pam Rhoden's office at Dellwood Plaza.

Further information may be obtained by calling 682-6744.

demand economics, foreign use of U.S. cotton, now is expected to equal that of the domestic textile industry in the 1979-80 cotton marketing year.

Rural areas gaining people:

Rural areas in Texas and the United States are gaining more people than their urban counterparts, according to demographers speaking at the annual Town and Country Church Conference at Texas A&M recently.

The increasing population growth in rural areas is due mainly to four factors, according to Calvin Beale, chief demographer with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Those factors include:
 - Fewer jobs are being lost in rural areas.
 - More alternative jobs are available in rural areas.

Retirees continue to increase, and more of them are moving to rural areas.

People are displaying more independence on where they want to live. Many people are moving for non-economic reasons, such as a desire for rural life.

Plant food expo at Lubbock

The Texas Plant Food Institute will open its annual convention and exposition Wednesday at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

Theme for the event is "The Profit Picture."

About 500 delegates are expected to attend the exposition to hear featured speaker Ed Wheeler, president of the Fertilizer Institute in Washington, D.C.

The Institute will recognize the group's "Outstanding Man of the Year" at the convention.

Soviet crop is poor

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet sources predicted Saturday that the Soviet grain harvest, which is 91 percent complete, will be the worst since 1975, necessitating massive purchases of American grain.

While there are no estimates yet on overall agricultural output, the 1979 grain harvest, if predictions are correct, will be 175 million to 185 million metric tons — off by about one-fifth from last year's record crop.

The United States recently agreed to allow the Soviet Union to buy 25 million tons of corn and wheat in 1979-80 and U.S. Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland has predicted the Soviets will buy the full authorization.

Foreigners own few acres

The latest reports show foreign investors own 243,368 acres of Texas farm and ranch land, valued at $178,038,784, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said recently.

This acreage represents less than 2 percent of the total amount of agriculture land in the state, Brown added.

The information is based on 321 reports filed so far under the Agriculture Foreign Investment Disclosure Act of 1978, said Brown, "and is still incomplete at this time. A number of reports that have been submitted did not contain the required information, and when these are tabulated, the total amount of Texas farmland under alien ownership will be greater."

Housing finance program under fire

By SUSAN TOTH
Staff Writer

A tri-ethnic citizens' group Saturday asked the Midland City Council to delay action on the Single Family Mortgage Revenue Financing Program until it can be redesigned to help low-income residents.

A seven-member Citizens for Fairness in Community Development made the request during a press conference at a Midland shopping center.

Committee member Michael L. Williams said the group would try to collect about 500 signatures on petitions asking for the delay and reorganization of the program, tentatively set to begin in November.

Citing what he termed municipal officials' lack of sensitivity to the needs of low-income residents, Williams said, "at some time, we will find out how much this community believes in local initiative."

During the past four years, Williams said, the city has refused federal money for low-income housing problems because of the federal interference involved.

"The city has said 'we want to take care of local problems with local money, local initiative and local energy.'"

"This is an opportunity to handle local problems locally," he said, adding that low-income residents have been effectively left out of the program.

The Single Family Mortgage Revenue Financing Program is designed to provide low-interest home loans for moderate and low income residents.

The program, to be financed through sale of $35 million in revenue bonds distributed through the local lending institutions, will be administered by the Midland Housing Finance Corp.

Top adjusted gross income limit for the program will be $30,000. Maximum mortgage amount is $75,000 over a 30-year term.

Williams said his group was addressing its requests to the City Council rather than the program administrators because the group "was established by the city of Midland, and the direction for that group comes from the City Council."

He also said members of his organization would be talking with both council members and members of the housing finance group in the next two weeks.

The citizens' group requested that more of the money be used for low-interest loans for mortgages for low-income residents and for low-interest home improvement loans.

"I don't have any great illusions about what our city leaders will do with this request," Williams said at the press conference, "but at the same time, I have to believe those leaders believe what they have been telling us" about their concern for the housing problem.

The Citizens for Fairness in Community Development has other projects under consideration, according to member Woodrow Bailey.

A voter registration drive will get under way this month, along with citizen information and education projects, he announced.

Interest in city government will stay high, he said.

"We plan to increase our input into the city."

"We will help them when we know they're right and tell them when we know they're wrong," he added.

More than 600 mourners attend oldest citizen's burial

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) — America's senior citizen, Charlie Smith, was buried Saturday in the closing chapter of an ex-slave's storybook life which spanned nearly 14 decades.

Charlie, the oldest U.S. citizen listed on Social Security rolls, was 137 years old when he died Oct. 5 at a convalescent center in Bartow where he spent his last five years.

"He came to this country in shackles," General Counsel Arthur Cassell Jr. of Liberia said at a service. Charlie claimed to have been captured by slave traders in Liberia in 1854.

"He lived to become a free man. He exercised his rights and privileges as a citizen of the United States and he stood tall before his journey home," Cassell said.

More than 600 mourners packed St. James African Methodist Episcopal Church to hear several local dignitaries offer final tributes to Charlie. He had asked to be buried on a Saturday, saying that was the day of the week he had enjoyed most in his younger days. After an hour-long service at the church a long funeral cortege wound through the streets of this quaint Central Florida town. American flags and red, white and blue bunting adorned utility poles near the church in recognition of Charlie's love for his adopted nation.

Charlie was buried under threatening skies, dressed in a brown business suit. He normally wore western attire when he would hold court in the convalescent center. There he would spin innumerable tales about the Civil War, Reconstruction days, and, so Charlie said, his time as a rider with outlaw Jesse James.

"Anyone sitting around listening to his oratories heard history that wasn't even written," said the Rev. M.C. Ross. "Oh, Lord, how good God was to him."

After the brief eulogies, the congregation strolled single-file past the open bronze casket. Many of the mourners smiled warmly.

Castro holds two-hour meeting with members of black caucus

NEW YORK (AP) — Fidel Castro met for more than three hours Saturday with two members of the Black Congressional Caucus in what was described as a wide-ranging discussion of world issues, then played host to well known news media figures.

Among those attending the evening reception at the tightly guarded Cuban mission in midtown Manhattan were Roone Arledge and Barbara Walters of ABC-TV, and Katharine Graham, chairman of the board of the Washington Post Co.

Police said another reception that Castro had been expected to hold for delegates from non-aligned nations may not have been held. As usual, Castro's plans were kept secret for security reasons. But it was learned that after the evening reception the Cuban president was to meet with three of the four Puerto Rican nationals recently freed from federal prisons by President Carter. The four had been held for more than 25 years in connection with attacks on Congress and President Harry S. Truman in the 1950s.

The three were Lolita Lebron, Irving Flores Rodriguez and Rafael Concel Miranda. Oscar Collazo, oldest of the four, could not make the trip for health reasons, said a spokesman for the Pro Liberation of the Nationalists Prisoners Committee.

Organizations change formats to accommodate youths' needs

A stone slips from the trail and crashes through the tangled underbrush of the steep canyon, momentarily bursting the wilderness calm at Buffalo Trails Ranch.

A wild horse roundup can be an exhausting experience.

But for the 11 young men and 10 young women of Midland Explorer post 19, eight hours in the saddle through savage thickets and over precarious trails is great fun.

Rigged out in chaps, boots and gloves, the post sets out in the fall to round up 35 horses allowed to run free most of the year on the 6,000-acre Boy Scout ranch near Ft. Davis.

This "western heritage" post of youths from the Midland-Odesa area is a prime example of a contemporary trend among traditional youth groups such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

These organizations, all United Way agencies in Midland, along with similar groups across the country have found that high school age youth prefer programs geared to specialized interests rather than the more traditional all-around approach.

In response, Midland now has Explorer posts aimed at interests such as law enforcement and hospital work.

The idea of co-ed specialized programs has been in process for about 10 years and has been highly successful in Midland, said Steve Odom, executive director of the Buffalo Trails Council in Midland.

Girl Scouts also are restructuring certain aspects of their character-building programs, said Girl Scout field representative Ava Jane Warren.

At both the Girl Scout day camp and summer outdoor camps, girls may opt for either special areas of interest such as swimming or the more traditional general camping experience.

Brownies identify bicycle parts for bicycle safety instructor David Ham during a course taught at the Girl Scout Service Center, 901 W. Dengar Ave.

One unit at Camp Mitre Peak near Alpine this summer took a float trip down the Guadalupe River, Mrs. Warren said.

A new trend among Senior scouts is to stress career opportunities, as the new Senior handbook, "From Dreams to Reality," indicates, Mrs. Warren continued.

"We're big on girl-planning. The older the girls get, the more planning they do (within the troop). They learn to make decisions. By the time the girls are Senior scouts, their leaders become more or less advisors," Mrs. Warren said.

As part of this development process, girls who have finished the eighth grade have the opportunity to be trained as a program aide to assist other troops with particular projects, such as flag ceremonies or camping trips.

Younger girls in Scouting still are exposed to a wide variety of activities and interests, although Mrs. Warren said many programs had been updated to meet changing times, changing needs.

In addition to traditional programs such as the "challenge of active citizenship," she said, this year the Scouts were offered courses in rape prevention and a variety of specialty cooking.

Camp Fire Girls too are evolving with changing times. Camp Fire now offers "mini-ventures" for girls interested in a certain program, but who do not necessarily want to join a group which meets on a regular basis.

Some of the programs scheduled this year include a clown workshop, puppet workshop, doll furniture making and a baby-sitting clinic. Classes in macramé, ceramics and self-reliance are other typical offerings in the mini-venture series.

Camp Fire group members may participate in mini-ventures as well as in their regularly scheduled meetings, and in many city-wide programs.

The major objective of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls continues to be character building, but each organization is changing its format to help accommodate youths' changing needs and interests.

Six killed in crash of two cars

BEEVILLE, Texas (AP)—A sports car ran a stop sign at high speed and crashed broadside into a station wagon early Saturday, killing six persons and injuring four others, state troopers said.

All 10 persons in both cars were flung from the vehicles by the crash, which occurred shortly after midnight at an intersection outside this south Texas community, said Trooper Ellis Ginn.

PRIMITIVE LIQUID

Water can save your life in the desert; it can provide a bundle of fun in the form of a quiet lake or rolling ocean beach, or be the former's best friend. But there are times when planning the construction of a new home, the drainage of this primitive liquid should be the source of great concern.

Desirable drainage soils include sand, loam, and gravel. The highest point on the property is often best because it provides proper surface drainage away from the house in all directions, and the sub-surfaces of ground water will be at the greatest depth.

Distinguished visitor from England to be in Midland this week

Walter Gilbey, former finance director of the international firm of Gilbey's Wine and Spirits Distillers of London, England, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Evetts Haley here on Wednesday and Thursday, while on a visit to Texas and New Mexico.

A reception in his honor is scheduled from 5 to 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Nita Stewart Haley Memorial Library. A new collection of paintings will be on display at the library at that time.

The distinguished visitor will be the guest speaker Thursday noon at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Sheraton Inn.

A resident of the Isle of Man in the British Isles, Gilbey is a director of the Isle of Man's oldest company, the Isle of Man Steam Packet Co., a ferry line. He also is an investment banker, chairman of the board of Manning Trust Bank, Ltd., and is a beef and dairy farmer.

During his visit in the state, he is sharing with Texans the unique historic background of the Manx Government, the oldest continuing and uninterrupted form of government in existence, having been established in 1066.

Gilbey is from a distinguished English family. His great grandfather, Henry Gilbey, originated the Cambridge Fly, a stage coach line into London, in 1830. His son, Sir Walter, was knighted for his distinguished work breeding Hackneys and Shires (dray horses). The second Walter made famous the Gilbey racing colors.

When Gilbey Distilleries discontinued London deliveries by carriages drawn by six bay geldings, the third Walter Gilbey, who will be here this week, acquired the stable of horses, carriages, coaches and harness. He and Mrs. Gilbey are noted "whips," capable of handling teams of four, not only in the country, but in London's teeming traffic. They conduct a riding school on the Isle of Man, where they also break and school riding horses and hunters, and teach driving.

Caucus of 19th district dissolves after two years

LAMESA — The membership of the 19th Congressional District Conservative Caucus, Inc. voted to dissolve the two-year-old organization at a meeting here Friday, according to Laurence Lee, district director of the group.

Funds and records of the 17-county conservative lobbying organization will be transferred to the National Conservative Caucus, Inc., headquartered in Falls Church, Va., Lee said.

The group disbanded because of the distances involved in the wide-spread 19th Congressional District, Lee noted.

"We just could not get sufficient people to meetings to accomplish things," he said.

"If we have sufficient numbers of interested people, we will restructure under a different form."

New archbishop installed

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — More than 5,000 persons gathered under threatening gray skies Saturday to witness the installation of Patricio Fernandez Flores, a native Texan and son of migrant workers, as archbishop of San Antonio.

Flores, Bishop of El Paso for the last 16 months, became the first Mexican American bishop in 1970. "I come to you to be a servant of the Lord and to His people, my brothers and sisters... the bishop rules his flock by standing in their midst and by being willing to serve," said Flores.

DEATHS

Claudia Gray

Claudia Gray

Mrs. Fred H. (Claudia) Gray, 72, 4324 Douglas St., died Saturday in a Midland hospital following an illness.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Newnie W. Ellis Funeral Home chapel with Larry Vansteenberg, minister of Golf Course Road Church of Christ, officiating. Burial will be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Mrs. Gray was born April 16, 1907, in Haskell County and was reared in Stamford. She moved to Jal, N.M., with the pioneer family and lived at the Jal T-Bar Ranch headquarters. She moved to Hobbs, N.M., in 1928 and lived there until 1958, when she came to Midland.

She established her principal residence in Midland, although she also lived in Fort Stockton, Elk City, Okla., Duncan, Okla., and Kermit, W. Va.

In 1972, Mrs. Gray was nominated queen of drilling by Loffland Bros. Drilling Co. She was married to Fred H. Gray in 1951 in Hobbs, N.M. She was a member of the Church of Christ. Survivors include her husband; a daughter, Barbara Ann James of Midland; four brothers, Luther Bruce of Truth or Consequences, N.M., Lem Bruce of Hobbs, N.M., Joe Bob Bruce of Mesquite and Hunter Bruce of Crockett; a sister, Autrey Kelly of San Angelo, and four grandchildren.

W.L. Collins

BROWNFIELD — Services for W.L. "Slick" Collins, 67, of Brownfield, brother of Dick Collins and Edith Wilkes, both of Lamesa, were Saturday in Brownfield Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. Jack Garrett, pastor of First Christian Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. David Rhodes, pastor of First United Presbyterian Church.

Burial was in Lamesa Memorial Park.

Collins died Thursday in a Lubbock hospital following a lengthy illness. He was born in Boswell, Okla. He moved to Lamesa with his family in 1926, when they founded Collins Dry Goods Store. He moved to Brownfield in 1932 and was associated with Collins Department Store until his retirement.

Collins was a World War II veteran. He was married to Lou Ellen Brown Dec. 26, 1938, in Big Spring.

Other survivors include his wife, a son, a daughter and three grandchildren.

Lola Huddleston

BROWNFIELD — Services for Lola Huddleston, 59, of Brownfield, sister of Ellie Brown of Midland, were Saturday in the First Baptist Church here with burial in Ira Cemetery.

She died Friday in a Brownfield hospital.

Formerly of Snyder, she had lived in Brownfield since 1953.

Other survivors include her husband, a daughter, a son, two sisters, three brothers and five grandchildren.

Valerie Williams

Mrs. Noland (Valerie Mair) Williams, 79, 1610 Bedford St., died Saturday in a Midland nursing home after a lengthy illness.

Graveside services will be at 2 p.m. Monday in Resthaven Memorial Park with the Rev. Sam Hulsey, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Derrill B. Manley, assistant rector. Newnie W. Ellis Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Williams was born Dec. 16, 1899, in Hallettsville and grew up in Houston, where she lived until 1918. She was married to Dr. Joseph R. Frobose in Cuero. They lived in Austin. Dr. Frobose died there in 1946.

She came to Midland in 1965 after the death of her second husband, Judge Noland Williams. She was a member of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity and taught school for several years at Trinity School here.

Survivors include a son, Dr. Alfred Frobose of Rydal, Pa.; a stepson, Joseph Cade Frobose of Winona; a daughter, Mrs. Perry (Valerie) Pickett of Midland, six grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

The family has requested that memorial be directed to the Mission Outreach Fund, Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity, 1412 W. Illinois Ave., Midland.

Elma Phinney

BIG SPRING — Elma Phinney, 88, died Friday in an Abilene hospital following a short illness.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Monday in Nalley-Pickel Rosewood Chapel here with the Rev. Edgar Tatum of San Angelo and Dr. Claude N. Craven of Big Spring officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Phinney was born Sept. 28, 1891, in Aubrey. She was married to Harry C. Phinney in 1907.

They farmed in Coahoma until he died in 1951. She lived in Tuscola from 1951 to 1963.

Since then, she had resided in Coleman. Mrs. Phinney was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include two sons, Lawton Phinney of Stephenville and Clovis Phinney Sr. of Coahoma; two daughters, Mrs. Truett (Wilda) Loudamy of Coleman and Mrs. Wayne (Mary) Rogers of Tuscola; two sisters, Bessie Morrin and Lena Johnson, both of Midland; a brother, Olin Cain of Midland; four grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and a great-great-grandchild.

Grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Edwardo Robles

SEAGRAVES — Services for Edwardo S. Robles, 58, of Albuquerque, N.M., father of Olivia Garcia of Lamesa, were Saturday in St. Paul Catholic Church here with the Rev. Cornelius Ramirez, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Seagraves Cemetery directed by Connally Funeral Home.

Robles died Tuesday at home. He lived in the Loop-Seagraves area from 1955 until 1969. He also had lived in Portales, N.M., moving to Albuquerque in 1976. He was a farmer and a mechanic.

Robles was married to Nancy DeLeon July 6, 1945, in San Antonio.

Other survivors include his wife, five sons, three daughters, his mother, five brothers, two sisters and 22 grandchildren.

Joe Salazar

BROWNFIELD — Services for Joe Salazar, 80, of Brownfield, brother of Felix Salazar of Lamesa, will be at 3 p.m. today in St. Anthony's Catholic Church with the Rev. Aidan Maguire, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be in Brownfield Cemetery directed by Brownfield Funeral Home.

Salazar died Friday in a Brownfield hospital following a lengthy illness.

He was born in Mexico and came to Brownfield from San Marcos in 1946. He was married to Juanita Garza in Brownfield in 1955. He was a farm laborer and a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Other survivors include four daughters, three sons, three brothers, two sisters, 42 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

(More Obituaries, Page 4A)

Winnie Carver

DEL RIO — Services for Winnie Mae Carver, 80, mother of Mrs. John Hawks of Midland, were Saturday in Yeager Funeral Chapel in Eagle Pass.

Mrs. Carver died Friday in a Val Verde hospital.

Other survivors include a daughter, two sisters, four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Oil workers prepare to try and cap well

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Oil workers prepared Saturday for a new effort to control the runaway Ixtoc 1 well in Campeche Bay, awaiting the arrival from Texas of a 310-ton steel cone they plan to place over the well mouth, a spokesman for the state-owned PEMEX oil monopoly said.

Woman charged with rape

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP) — A 27-year-old woman has been charged under the new Missouri criminal code with rape and sexual assault of three teen-age boys, authorities said Saturday.

Debra Lee Timmons of Moberly is accused of having sexual relations in her home with the boys, ages 12, 14 and 15, according to Phil Brown, the Randolph County prosecutor.

She was being held in lieu of $45,000 bond, pending a preliminary hearing Oct. 18.

Brown said that the boys allegedly consented to have sex with the woman but that charges were filed because they are minors.

The criminal code, which went into effect Jan. 1 and replaced the existing law of statutory rape, makes no distinction in the sex of the adult involved.

Beefed-up charity

By WANDA MOUTON
Lifestyle Editor

Weeks ahead, everyone was talking about it.

Weeks after, guests will still be speaking glowingly of it.

Their conversation centers around the Beefeater Ball, "elected" as the best of Midland's fall social season.

Staged every other year by the Children's Service League, the eighth charity event took place Friday night in the Midland County Exhibit Building.

ACTIVITIES INCLUDED cocktails, dinner, dancing, and the auction of choice steers and livestock, plus a few other surprises.

Unofficial total derived from the auction was $131,895, which will benefit the Cerebral Palsy Center and its 182 children patients in 19 West Texas counties and parts of New Mexico.

The ordinarily plain barn was transformed for this one night into a glittering scene from the streets of Paris.

Approximately 530 guests who attended were officially greeted with a red carpet welcome by Beefeater Ennis Lee Cole.

THEY ENTERED a French setting through iron scroll gates and were presented with programs of color prints by famous French artists, such as Renoir, Degas, and Monet.

General color theme of red and white was carried out in French canopies, banners, red curtain backdrops, and twinkling lights which designated the "Folies" dance floor, the "Loterie Nationale" auctioning area, and "Maxim's Restaurant" buffet table.

Focal points at each table were wine and bread baskets centered with red and pink geraniums and other colorful flowers on a red tablecloth. Menu for the gala affair consisted of beef steak, wild rice, buttered broccoli, bread, wine, cheese, fruit and strawberry mousse.

Aligning the walls were murals of typical Paris street scenes, flowers, a flowercart, and wooden baskets.

AS A SPECIAL FEATURE of the ball, guests were invited to have their caricatures drawn by artists Stan Jacobs and Paula DeMasi.

Entertainment throughout the evening was provided by Mal Fitch and his Orchestra of Dallas.

Active and hearty participation was evident throughout the auctioning. In addition to the some 20 cattle, also auctioned off was a bronze sculpture of a roundup by Paul Tadlock of Fort Worth entitled "Survival." The piece was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Ford of Midland and bought by Mr. and Mrs. Allen K. Trobaugh.

Auctioneer at every Beefeater Ball has been Gayle Ingram of Quitman.

Co-chairmen of the event were Donald B. Jones and Donald L. Evans. Honorary chairman was William H. Gilmore Sr., who has worked on each ball since 1965.

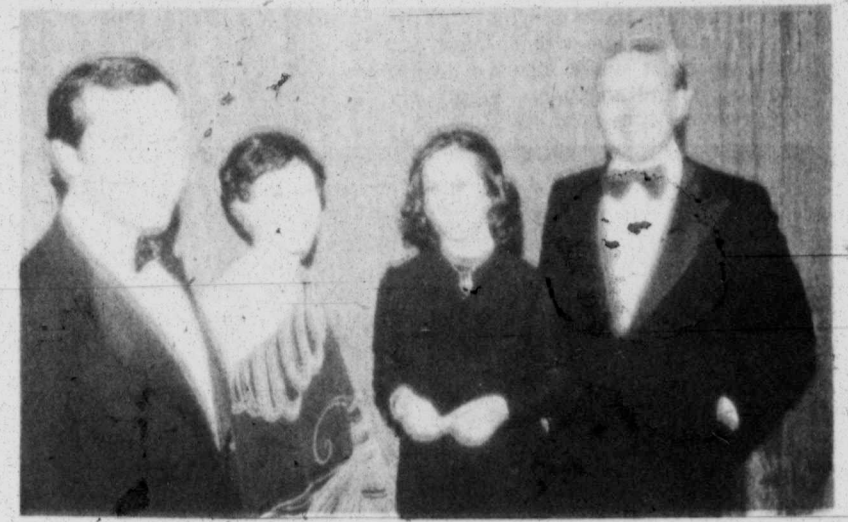

INVITATIONS CHAIRMEN were Mrs. Durward Goolsby and Mrs. Lloyd Henderson. Gifts and program chairmen were Mrs. Eugene Monroe and Mrs. J. W. Manuagh.

Directing the decorations were Jess Ann Thomason and Mrs. Robert Wynne. All members of the Children's Service League were on the decorating committee.

Cattle auction chairman was Edwin J. Dwyer and Joseph I. O'Neill III was in charge of special items for the auction.

Other chairmen included Henry Shaw, special effects; Ferrell Davis, beverages and services; Mrs. Bruno Hanson, food and beverages for workers; Mrs. Cecil Aycock and Mrs. Morgan Copeland, publicity; Jones, Evans, Davis and Mrs. Goolsby, sponsor committee.

More than 200 persons sponsored the black tie event.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ross and Mrs. Walter Laufer, right, enjoy the party.

Auctioneer was Gayle Ingram of Quitman, assisted by Mrs. G. Arthur Donnelly III, Midland.

Ennis Lee Cole in Beefeater costume has served as official greeter for every Beefeater Ball since 1965.

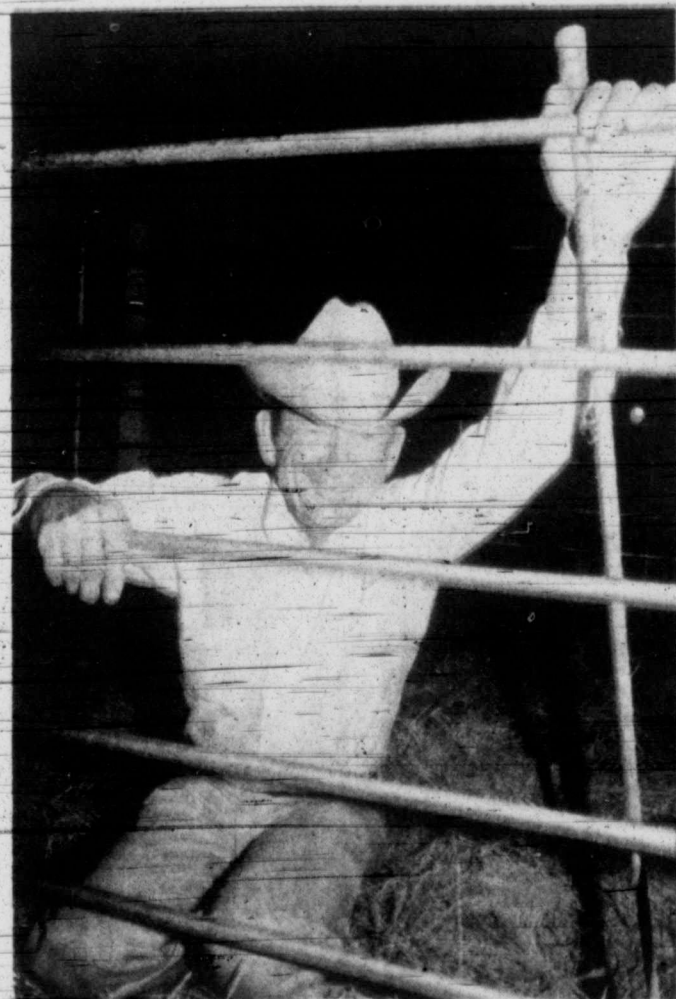

Mr. and Mrs. James Devenport and Mrs. George E. Eng, right, join the fun.

This Black Angus steer was in the group of cattle furnished by John Cargile of Producers Livestock, San Angelo.

Jess Ann Thomason and Ken Burrows enjoy dancing to the orchestra music.

Cowboy Tom Stewart braved approximately 20 steers in lining them up for auctioning.

Houstonians Marcie Copeland and Lynn Bernard get their pictures drawn by "sidewalk artist" Stan Jacobs.

Marcie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Copeland.

Texas energy policy: We must produce more

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says Texas is unique in that he knows of no other state with an energy policy.

"I question that any other state has a policy of position," Clements said.

"As I have talked with other governors, I have not found any state that can say with no hesitation it has a policy or position."

Clements said the Texas policy, fundamentally, is one thing. "We must produce more energy."

"We are saying with no equivocation we must move forward on five points, simultaneously, vigorously, aggressively," he said.

The first four points are energy production from oil and gas, coal, and nuclear power, plus research and development to improve such production.

The fifth point is conservation but on this, Clements said, Texas disagrees with President Carter.

"The Carter administration has been putting too much emphasis on conservation because conservation will not do the job," he said.

"Our position is we must produce energy and that must be top priority with conservation secondary."

On Friday, Clements briefed the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association on the status of the Texas policy and sought support for it from the trade group he once served as a director and executive committee member.

Clements said the Texas policy was developed by the state's elected officials — governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, railroad commissioner, comptroller and land commissioner — and their studies led to the establishment of the Texas Energy and Natural Resource Advisory Council that became a reality Sept. 1.

"All of the elected officials are in total agreement with the policy," he said. "But all of us who are evolving this Texas position or policy feel the energy problem is not a Texas issue. It is national and international and a very complex and very serious problem. It is probably our No. 1 national and international problem today."

Clements said 10,000 to 15,000 coal miners are out of work and the nation is mining less coal than two years ago.

"Our nation cannot stand this kind of procrastination," he said.

"And we need to quit this nonsense that is going on about an anti-nuclear position. We must allow and have our nuclear capability playing a significant role in energy between now and the year 2000."

Carter, Reagan favored by party leaders nationally

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter holds better than a 2-1 edge over Sen. Edward Kennedy in support among grassroots party leaders for the Democratic presidential nomination, an Associated Press survey shows.

On the Republican side, Ronald Reagan commands a substantial lead for the GOP nomination, followed by John Connally, Howard Baker, former President Gerald Ford, George Bush, Philip Crane and Bob Dole.

The survey, completed Saturday, canvassed Democratic and Republican county chairmen throughout the nation about their first and second choices for their party's nominee in 1980's race for the White House.

Carter's standing in the survey indicates the president's support among the party hierarchy has held up thus far, at least in the pre-primary jockeying. Neither Carter nor Kennedy has announced his candidacy.

Texas Demo leaders favor Carter over Kennedy

AUSTIN (AP) — An Associated Press survey shows President Carter an overwhelming favorite among local Democratic leaders in Texas for a second term as president.

Republican county chairmen are split, but former Texas Gov. John B. Connally has a sizeable lead over Ronald Reagan and George Bush.

A number of county chairmen in both parties refused to reveal their political leanings in the AP's mail and telephone poll taken since Oct. 1.

Others were outspoken.

"If Congress would help President Carter more our country would be in better shape," said A.H. Montagne, a Carter backer in Orangefield, of highly industrialized Southeast Texas.

"To hell with Kennedy," said Earnest Rea of Childress, another Carter chairman in Northwest Texas.

"Please save us from Gov. Brown," said M.D. Carlock of Winnsboro, a backer of Carter in East Texas.

A West Texas Democratic chairman who did not want to be named marked off all suggested Democratic nominees listed on the questionnaire and wrote in broad blue pencil: "We want John Connally."

"In all-around ability I think John Connally is the best choice but Republicans tend to be suspect of him due to his association with Lyndon Johnson," said Republican County Chairman James Hansard in Wichita Falls.

"Democrats are suspect of him due to his association with Nixon. I seriously doubt if he could be elected," Hansard voted for George Bush.

"I like Ronald Reagan but feel his age is just four years the wrong way," said Republican Dunman Perry Jr. of Mineral Wells, a Connally backer.

"We need a full-term president to get us out of the current crisis. ... Reagan is too old."

Of the 160 replies received from the 254 Democratic county chairmen, 95 said their first choice for president was Connally. Sen. Edward Kennedy got 19 votes, Sen. Daniel Moynihan 2, California Gov. Jerry Brown 3, Sen. Adlai Stevenson 4, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen 3, Connally 4, Sen. Henry Jackson 1, Rep. Jim Wright 2, Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards 1, Vice President Walter Mondale 1 and 25 undecided.

For second choice, Democratic chairmen gave Kennedy 35 votes, Carter 16, Brown 8, Moynihan 12, Stevenson 19, Gerald Ford 1, Mondale 5, Jackson 2, Bentsen 3, Frank Church 1, former U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger of Texas 1, former Texas Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes 1, and 24 undecided.

Twenty-eight of the Democrats answering said they were working for their chosen candidate now. Another 66 said they would work in campaigns later.

Of the 161 replies received from 229 Republican county chairmen, 68 said their first choice was Connally. Forty-five said they favored Reagan and 26 chose Bush. One selected Alexander Haig, three Rep. Phillip Crane, three Ford, one Sen. John Tower, one Rep. Jack Kemp, and 12 were undecided.

For second choice, Republicans gave Connally 42, Bush 24, Reagan 23, Sen. Howard Baker 9, Ford 13, Crane

10, former Treasury Secretary William Simon 1, Rep. John Anderson 1, Sen. Robert Dole 5, Haig 5, Sen. Jesse Helms 1 and 12 were undecided.

The AP survey showed Democratic chairmen in Bexar, Dallas, El Paso, Gregg, Denton, Lubbock, Potter, Smith, Tarrant, Taylor, Tom Green, Randall, Nueces, Hidalgo, McLennan, and Wichita counties personally favor Carter. Chairmen in Galveston and Travis counties were undecided. Democratic chairmen in Harris and Collin counties favor Kennedy while the Midland chairman wants Louisiana's Edwin Edwards.

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — A masked mystery mule, a masked mystery runner and scores of other walkers and joggers will line up today for the second annual man-mule race.

The race — a 20 mile contest southeast to Lamolle — began last year as a grudge match between runner Tony LaMorte and mule rider Fred Harris. What started as a wager between them over who could get to Lamolle faster became a contest for 50 riders and runners.

The winner last year, the mule "Dear Old Girl," retired after the race. Harris has imported a masked mystery mule, "Jezebel," this year.

"Jezebel" must carry 228.3 pounds for the 20 miles. LaMorte will have no handicap.

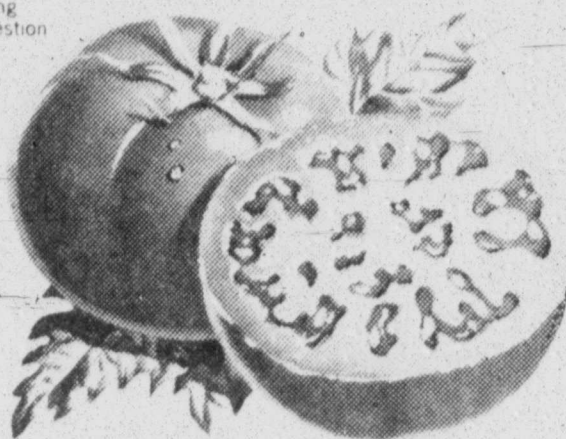

Competitors this year will include horse drawn buggies, bicyclists and other runners — including a man who will hide his identity behind a mask — apparently in case the mule wins.

About Student Parking At Midland High...

Some who are opposed to the school bond election have said that land to be acquired for needed expansion of the Midland High Campus will be used for student parking areas. That is absolutely untrue. The BOND ISSUE TO BE VOTED OCTOBER 23RD DOES NOT CONTAIN ONE SINGLE DOLLAR FOR ADDITIONAL PARKING AREAS AT MIDLAND HIGH! It does, however, provide $122,000 for an additional parking area at Lee High School, which is badly needed.

Here Are The Facts:

What Will Be Done at Midland High School

- A new library and learning center adequate to meet the needs of 1,800 students
- A new physical education plant to replace the present inadequate, out-of-date gymnasium facilities
- A badly-needed new roof
- Paving and walks - but NOT for parking
- Remodeling classrooms, offices and science laboratories
- Enlargement of the totally inadequate Band Hall
- Replacement of windows, floortile, lockers and inadequate lighting
- Badly-needed repairs to the auditorium and other facilities

Campus Area

The Midland High Campus is the smallest high school campus in West Texas. Its 13 acres is of similar size or smaller than 8 elementary schools and 2 junior high schools and both of our freshman schools in Midland! To expand this campus to make it comparable to Lee High (which has 40 acres more than 3 times the area of Midland High), additional property is required...and some of it has already been obtained. The area is fast becoming commercial - and waiting longer to obtain the needed land would cost taxpayers 2 to 3 times more.

Compensation To Property Owners

Every property owner in the expansion area of Midland High has been and will be more than adequately compensated for land used for this purpose. Our School Board recognizes - and the law recognizes - that any landowner whose property is taken for public purposes must be compensated at fair market value of his property. This is just...it is fair...it is reasonable. Yet this expansion will cost taxpayers far, far less than building a new high school in another location. This is the economical way to get the job done.

What Inflation Has Done

The rapidly-increasing cost of public education is a subject which every school district in the nation must face and solve. Inflation affects schools just like it affects families and businesses. Costs have risen at an astronomical rate, and all forecasts say they will continue to soar. We cannot afford to postpone the essential repairs and improvements which are so badly needed throughout our school system - or they will cost us much, much more. Let's do it NOW! We can't afford to wait - and neither can our children.

Weekend was made for the theater lovers

It's been a real theater weekend in Midland-Odessa.

While Permian Playhouse, Odessa's community theater, was offering final holdover performances of its highly successful season-opener, "The King and I," Midland Community Theatre and the Globe of the Great Southwest were mid-way into the runs of their current attractions.

THE MCT OFFERING

is "The Passion of Dracula," while the Globe production is Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

Meanwhile, the Odessa College drama department this weekend was offering four performances of Tennessee Williams' famous drama, "A Streetcar Named Desire."

All in all, you could pay your money and take your choice, as the saying goes.

And choice there certainly was! Just how well a choice was demonstrated by MCT's "Dracula" and the Globe's "Shrew" stage offerings that were about as diverse as you could hope to encounter.

MCT's "DRACULA" is a kind of campy novelty piece, loosely based on the original Bram Stoker drama about the legendary Prince of Darkness. As engrossing stagefare, it is something less than memorable.

The MCT version is set in England instead of Transylvania which disturbed me a bit—I think I prefer Count Dracula in his old home territory. (Let's leave England to Jack the Ripper and that ilk of fog-shrouded villains).

Face it, though, despite an essentially silly and contrived kind of plot, "Dracula" has a certain electricity about it—even "fire" you might say. (Consider the unfortunate fire at Theatre Midland early Saturday after Friday night's performance.) It is presented with style and assurance by a cast that is quite creditable.

In the main, MCT director Art Cole put the whole nonsensical-business together quite skillfully.

STEVE NOLAN, complete with fangs and sweeping opera cape, makes an appropriately menacing Count Dracula. Charles Dixon is good as the Dutch scientist, Prof. Van Helsing, and Lori Skelton is excellent in role of the young Dr. Helga Van Zandt. Bill Schneider is strong and believable as the servant Jameson, and Darrell White is good as a mental patient, Mr. Renfield.

Darrell Ward has some of the best lines in play as the pompous Lord Godalming, and he serves them up nicely. Ralph Noyes is creditable as the young journalist, Jonathan Harker, and Debra Eden is pretty and very appealing as Wilhemina, the beautiful young victim of Count Dracula. Jack Scannell took over the part of Dr. Cedric Seward at the last minute and he does very well with it.

"Dracula" will have a performance at 2:30 p.m. today, and closing presentations Friday and Saturday nights. Telephone the box office, 682-1111, for seat reservations.

THE GLOBE'S "Taming of the Shrew" might be called "Instant Shakespeare," or perhaps "Shakespeare for People Who Don't Like Shakespeare." This version is an adroit cutting of the Bard's most famous comedy—a distillation of the essence of the piece, you might say.

From start to finish, the Globe's "Shrew" lasts only slightly more than an hour, but the heart and soul of Shakespeare's much longer, talkier original version has been retained nicely.

James Buchanan, drama instructor at Midland High School, put the skillfully-truncated play together, and has staged and directed the production. It is largely a creditable production, and the show drew appreciative response from the audience on opening night.

BUCHANAN'S CAST is a young one—most are high school students, I would judge. And the director has wisely considered both the capabilities and the limitations of this cast in mounting the production.

In his staging of "Shrew," Buchanan has used "commedia dell'arte" to impart a gentle slapstick flavor to the piece. It thus is a lark, a romp—a happy and uncomplicated entertainment.

There'll be a matinee of "Taming of the Shrew" at 2:30 p.m. today, and final performances of the comedy at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Tickets for the three remaining performances are on sale at the theater, located on the south edge of Odessa College.

A STRONG AND well-matched pair portray Petruchio and the shrew, Kate. They are Phil Caffey and Melissa Hirsch, and they singly and collectively provide much of the merriment in the play. Grant Lauderdale is quite good as Grumio, Petruchio's servant.

Joining them in providing satisfactory characterizations are Dana Hand as Bianca, Steve McGuire as Lucentio, Nick Nichols as Baptista Minola, Phillip Coffield as Hortensio and Paula Simpson as Gremio.

Permian Playhouse, Odessa's community theater, initiated its 1979-80 season with Rodgers and Hammerstein's delightfully melodic "The King and I," and it has played to comfortably full houses for the last four weekends.

I MUST SAY TIME HAS NOT dimmed the lustre of the music nor dulled the beauty and essential drama of the story.

And Permian Playhouse's new resident director, Guy Sharp, put together a remarkably professional production—his attention to detail in all phases of the production certainly spoke well for him and his assistants.

Ronald Bennett as vocal director, Charles Nail as orchestral director, Peg Wilson for lighting, Dave Skinner for scenic design, Skinner and Alan Philoon for set construction, and Midland's Cherry Jones for choreography.

These are important considerations, and certainly they contribute vitally to the success of a production. But you know as well as I that what "makes" a show—what makes it come alive for an audience—are the players.

And here, too, Permian Playhouse achieved a winning production, with what seemed to me to be a superior cast. And it's a huge cast, remember (about 60 performers in all) so it's an ever greater accomplishment to assemble so many good performers.

At MCT Beth Thomas is kind of a 'Jill-of-all-trades' lately

By ROGER SOUTHAL
Staff Writer

Midland newcomer Beth Thomas is a kind of "jill-of-all-trades" these days at Midland Community Theatre.

And she may well be the master of all those theatrical trades by the time she leaves Midland next September.

Miss Thomas is an administrative intern at MCT. She has come to Midland to study community theater administration with MCT director Art Cole, in a special one-year program offered in conjunction with Midland College.

Beth attended Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, N.C. (working toward a bachelor of fine arts degree) where she was active in all phases of theater, backstage as well as onstage, with special emphasis on technical design work.

Now, she says, "I need to learn the administrative part of theater," and she chose to learn it here through the unique work-study program in community theater management and administration offered by MCT and Midland College.

In addition to taking theater administration classes through Midland College, Miss Thomas is working in such areas of stagecraft as stage lighting and sound, set construction, and publicity at Theatre Midland, the home of Midland Community Theatre at 2000 W. Wadley Ave.

"I'm into just about everything around the theater, and I love it all," she declared.

Miss Thomas has a strong background in backstage and technical work in theater.

She has worked as production assistant at the Greensboro (N.C.) Coliseum and, more recently, served as company manager for "Unto These Hills," one of the nation's oldest and best-known outdoor summer pageant-dramas, located at Cherokee, N.C., in the Smokey Mountains. Miss Thomas has done some directing in the past. Her directing credits include several plays for children, such as "Winnie the Pooh," in addition to one-act plays.

And she has done considerable acting in her years in theater. She has had roles in productions of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Godspell," "Hot L Baltimore" and the famous musical, "Cabaret," in which she played the Sally Bowles part.

Regarding musicals, she feels that she is limited in what she can do because her voice is in the tenor range, and most female roles in musicals aren't scored for voices in a range that low.

"But I'd love to do some acting while I'm in Midland — and perhaps I'll be able to, if I have the time," she said. And she hopes to be doing some design work during her year at MCT. "Set designing, that is. She admits to being not especially crazy about costuming and costume design."

Miss Thomas, born in central Kentucky, grew up in North Carolina. Her family now again resides in Kentucky.

Miss Thomas herself has lived in New Orleans, New York, and all over North Carolina.

Miss Thomas receives an educational stipend for her internship at Midland Community Theatre. To help support herself, she also works at a local restaurant.

"That, along with all the time I happily spend at the theater each week, pretty well takes up all my hours. The way time flies by," she said, "it'll be next September long before I'm really ready for it to be!"

Stained glass workshop to begin at Museum of Southwest Monday

Karl Nelson of Santa Fe, N. M., will conduct special classes in stained glass this week at Midland's Museum of the Southwest.

Nelson presented a special demonstration and show of his stained glass work Saturday afternoon in the museum planetarium, as a preliminary to the classes which begin Monday. It was erroneously reported in Saturday's Reporter-Telegram that the demonstration and show would take place there this afternoon.

The stained glass workshop, presented under auspices of Las Manos, the volunteer service organization of the Museum of the Southwest, will offer both beginning and advanced classwork in stained glass making.

The advanced classes are intended for persons who took Nelson's first series of classes held here last February. They are aimed at perfecting and refining the techniques learned in that course as well as introducing students to three-dimensional work and other aspects of the art of stained glass making.

The course for beginners will cover basics of design, glass cutting, color selection, leaded glass, copper foil work and glass etching.

Persons may register for the classes Monday morning at the museum. Additional information on the workshop may be obtained by telephoning the museum office, 683-2882.

Nelson is a former school teacher from Long Island, N.Y. He moved to Santa Fe in 1973 and began working for a glazing shop there, ultimately becoming director of the firm's stained glass studio.

In 1977, Nelson established his own firm, Aquarius Glass. The firm is located on Canyon Road, Santa Fe's famous arts and crafts street. Nelson earlier this year was selected to enter his work in the prestigious New Mexico Arts and Crafts Fair, an exclusive juried show presenting the work of the state's outstanding artists and artisans.

The Aquarius firm has done stained glass windows and other pieces for firms and individuals throughout the U.S. Many windows have been commissioned for private residences in Texas, including several in Midland.

Jazz Party planning under way

With less than a month remaining before the third annual Midland Jazz Party, final planning for the popular event is under way.

The Nov. 6-11 festival in the Midland Hilton will feature two dozen of the best, and also some of the best-known, instrumentalists in American jazz music.

Tickets (or, actually, chairs) for the party are still available in limited quantity. The seating for the entire six concert series is being sold on a first-come, first-served basis, with no tickets to be available for individual concerts.

Max H. Christensen, president of the Midland Jazz Association, sponsor of the Midland Jazz Party, said Saturday that series tickets may be purchased by writing to P.O. Box 3814 or by telephoning 682-5334.

Christensen said that the jazz association's policy again this year is for any surplus funds from ticket sales to be used to help finance next year's festival and to establish special music scholarships for deserving students in Midland.

Members of the board of the association serve without any monetary compensation so that all monies will go directly to underwriting the festival and to fund the scholarships.

The line up of musical artists for this year's festival include trombonists Urbie Green, Al Grey and Bill Watrous; reed men Al Cohn, Johnny Mince, Abe Most, Zoot Sims and Bob Wilber; pianists Ralph Sutton, Dick Hyman, and Dave McKenna; trumpeters Ruby Braff, "Pee Wee" Erwin and Joe Wilder; drummers Mousey Alexander, Jake Hanna and Gus Johnson; bass players Milt Hinton, Jack Besberg and Mike Moore.

This year, Cal Collins will be joining in on guitar and Carol Sloane will be the vocalist providing one "set" each evening.

LULAC forms a political unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The League of Latin American Citizens formed a national political unit for the first time in its history Saturday with a goal of increasing Hispanic voter turnout in the 1980 elections.

"We feel as the nation's oldest and largest Hispanic organization we have the will and the network to encourage voter participation," LULAC President Ruben Bonilla said.

The Corpus Christi, Texas, lawyer was elected head of the organization earlier this year on a platform of increased political activity for LULAC, which has about 100,000 members.

Bonilla formed a political arm for the Texas branch of LULAC in 1978.

The group will be called Hispanics Organized for Political Education, or HOPE. Its headquarters will be in Washington.

Bonilla said HOPE will not endorse specific candidates but will conduct voter registration campaigns and publish a bilingual voters' guide.

AREA REPORT

Deadline coming for disaster loans

LUBBOCK — Final deadline for filing loan applications for physical damage resulting from excessive rainfall and flooding which occurred July 19 in Martin County and adjacent counties is Oct. 25.

Philip J. O'Jibway, district director for the U.S. Small Business Administration's Lubbock District, said information about the program may be obtained by telephoning the district office, 806-762-7462.

Lea County to vote on bonds

HOBBS, N.M. — Lea County voters will go to the polls Tuesday to decide the fate of a $4.5 million bond election for additions and improvements to New Mexico Junior College.

The bond plan is set for a five-year payoff. Additions to the junior college would be to the Pannell Library and the Caster Gymnasium, to be renamed the Caster Activities Center.

Vestal new Martin County agent

STANTON — A new county agent has been hired by the Martin County Commissioners.

Rick Vestal, vocational agriculture instructor at Grady High School the past three years, will replace Preston Faris, who resigned in September to take a similar position in Sutton County.

McCamey voters eye school bonds

McCAMEY — Two bond propositions totaling almost $7 million for the McCamey Independent School System will go before the voters on Tuesday.

The first issue on the election calls for $4.83 million for additions to an elementary school and band hall, construction of a new junior high gymnasium and repairing the South Gym, the North Gym and home economics building.

The second bond issue is for $1.975 million for additions and repairs to the senior high school gymnasium, tennis courts, library and to provide for a new press box.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Mahon Andrews County auditor

ANDREWS — Scott Mahon, 33, has been selected as the new Andrews County auditor.

Mahon replaces Dennis Elam who accepted the county auditor position in Fector County.

Mahon, a native of Ozona, will be moving from Hobbs to Andrews. In Hobbs he was employed with Marathon Oil Co. as an engineering assistant. He holds a bachelor's degree in business from Texas Christian University.

Hobbs woman world champion

HOBBS, N.M. — Betty Gayle Cooper, 27, has won the 1979 world champion tiedown calf roping title of the Girls Rodeo Association held recently in San Antonio.

Miss Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cooper of Monument, is coach of the three-time national and intercollegiate champion rodeo team at Southeastern Oklahoma State University at Durant, Okla.

She has won numerous titles while attending Hobbs High School and Eastern New Mexico University. She was a teacher at Lovington High School for several years before being offered her job as teacher and coach at the Oklahoma school.

Big Spring deposits up

BIG SPRING — Deposits in local banks are up here, according to figures released by the financial institutions.

Deposits in the four Howard County banks hit an all-time record during the quarter ending Sept. 28 with $142,095,879. This is a $6 million increase over the first quarter of the year.

Dawson County drive half pledged

LAMESA — The Dawson County United Way drive has reached the halfway point as a reported $26,010 has been pledged for the coming year. Goal for the drive is $52,500 this year.

To give the drive a boost an Invitational Doubles Racquetball Tournament is scheduled for Oct. 15-18 at the Court House. Monday is the deadline for entries. Proceeds from the $20 per team entry fee is going to the United Way fund.

Scientific tests on Shroud of Turin are inconclusive

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP) — Scientists studying the Shroud of Turin say they can't prove the material is the 2,000-year-old burial cloth of Christ, but add they have ruled out every hoax theory they've come up with.

And one chemist working with the Turin Research Project told a news conference Friday that she may be able to show the red-colored stains on the shroud are blood.

Project members conducted tests last year in Turin, Italy, where the 14-foot-long cloth has been kept in a Roman Catholic chapel for the past 400 years.

Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory chemist Diane Soran said she has come up with a way to explain how the red color of blood might have been preserved on the cloth.

She said a historian during the time of Christ wrote that linen was washed with a type of soap made from a plant containing sugar ether.

She said the substance is a poison which would kill organisms that cause decay and could explain why the cloth is so well preserved.

Dr. Soran said she hopes to submit bits of the cloth to analysis to determine if the substance is present.

The cloth contains an image that some say is the outline of Christ's body.

The scientists said they are unable to prove the image on the cloth was made by a body, but have ruled out the possibility it was created by dyes or paint.

Today's pitchers for the fifth game of the World Series in Pittsburgh will be Mike Flagana, left of the Orioles and the Pirates' Jim Rooker. A Baltimore victory today will end the Series as the Birds own a 3-1 edge so far after Saturday's 9-6 win. (AP Lapsphoto).

Pirates face must situation in 5th game of World Series

LEADOFF BATTER SKAGGS reached first when Madlock threw badly after making a nice stop on his ground ball. One out later Bumbry followed with a single to center for Baltimore's first hit and Skaggs stopped at second.

Garcia followed with a double up the gap in left-center field, scoring both Skaggs and Bumbry. That gave the Orioles' shortstop five hits and six RBI in the Series.

When Singleton followed with another double, Garcia scored, making it 4-3. Bibby escaped further damage by making Murray his sixth strikeout victim and getting DeCinces on a fly ball.

In the fifth, the Pirates made it 5-3 when Foli walked, moved to second on a single by Parker and scored on Milner's double inside first base.

An inning later, the Pirates added another run. This coming after two were out. Foli reached base with his third single to left as the ball took an artificial-surface bounce away from outfielder Roenicke.

THE OROLES tried to mount a rally in the seventh when Skaggs singled and pinch-hitter Pat Kelly was safe on a controversial infield hit.

Horned Frogs top Rice Owls, 17-7

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas Christian quarterback Steve Stamp, subbing for starter Kevin Haney, turned two Rice fumbles into touchdown runs of 1 and 16 yards Saturday as the Horned Frogs defeated the Owls 17-7 and ended a nine-game losing streak.

TCU, which lost to Arkansas 16-13 in the closing seconds last week, took a 3-0 lead on its first possession with a 19-yard field goal by Greg Porter and went ahead 10-0 at halftime on a 1-yard plunge by Stamp.

TCU started its first touchdown drive when safety Steve Barnes recovered the first of two costly fumbles by Rice running back Earl Cooper. Barnes recovered at the Rice 39 and TCU drove to the Owl 1 where Jimmy Allen failed to score on two line plunges. Stamp then pined into the end zone with four seconds left in the half.

The Frogs, who had not won since a 13-7 victory over Tulane last season, struck again early in the third quarter when Cooper fumbled and Jim Bayuk recovered at the Rice 16. Stamp scored on the first play.

Rice quarterback Randy Hertel, the Southwest Conference's leading passer, got the Owls on the scoreboard with 4:31 left to play with Cooper's 2-yard run to climax a pass-oriented drive. Hertel completed pass of 22 yards to Cooper and 20 yards to Jose Fortune in the drive.

Holtz has humor

out the rest of the series. Without Hadnot at the goal line, Tech is as helpless as a newborn baby. Two plays later Arkansas' Ricky Wessinger pulled off a safety blitz to trap quarterback Ron Reeves for a loss and Tech had to settle for a Bill "Blade" Adams field goal.

IN THE second period, Reeves had moved the Raiders inside the Arkansas 40-yard line on a good drive. But Reeves received a hip injury and had to leave for a few plays. Replacement quarterback Jim Hart fumbled on the next play. And in the first period, former Stargell fielded his slow roller and threw to Garner, covering the base. But umpire Jim McKean ruled Garner had missed the base, triggering an argument from the Pirates.

That finished Bibby and left-hander Grant Jackson, an ex-Oriole, relieved to face Bumbry, a left-handed hitter. Weaver passed up the righty-lefty pinch-hit strategy and let Bumbry bat. That backfired with a rally-killing double play from Foli to Garner to Stargell.

But instead of giving up, the Birds came back at the Pirates again in the eighth and put together the game-winning rally thanks to Weaver's successful pinch-hitting strategy.

The contest was played at the start under sunny skies — the first time that weather has not plagued this World Series. Game time temperature was 42 degrees and a strong wind whipped the banners and flags that decorated Three Rivers Stadium.

By the time the contest was over, almost four hours after it began, there were overcast skies and the lights had been turned on. The changing weather pattern seemed to reflect the fortunes of the home team in this contest and now Pittsburgh is faced with a must-win situation in Game 5.

The Pirates will use veteran left-hander Jim Rooker in that game against southpaw Mike Flanagan, winning pitcher in Game 1 for Baltimore.

Rice dropped to a 1-5 overall record and 0-3 in Southwest Conference games. TCU now is 1-4 for the season and 1-2 in the SWC.

Rice lost seven turnovers — Cooper's two fumbles and five interceptions on Hertel, which tied a Rice school record for most interceptions in a game.

Stamp was a last-minute replacement for Haney, who suffered an eye injury during a Tuesday workout. The Owls' Kyle Hunter recovered an onside kick following Rice's touchdown but Hertel was intercepted for the fourth time moments later by cornerback Al Futrell.

TCU's Jimmy Allen broke through the Rice defense for a 36-yard run in the first quarter to set up the kick by Porter, who connected on his seventh field goal in eight tries this season.

The run also put Allen into the top 10 among all-time TCU rushers.

Odessa High star Jeff Crombie recovered an Arkansas fumble at the 22-yard line for a golden Tech opportunity. Tech ran three plays and then had to settle for a 34-yard Adams field goal.

It was one of those days. Tech is virtually out of the Southwest Conference race now and Arkansas is still undefeated and not looking very good doing it.

"Hey, there was some good defense played by both teams out there," said Holtz, playing the role of the comedian right to the end. However, some of the Arkansas writers said some of Holtz' jokes are getting a little stale. He said the same thing about TCU last week.

Spurs drop one to Pistons

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP)—Bob Lanier hit 30 points, including the winning basket with 11 seconds remaining as the Detroit Pistons edged San Antonio 112-110 Saturday night in a National Basketball Association game.

With the score tied 110-110, the mammoth, 6-foot-11 Lanier hit a 10-foot hook shot over Spurs center Bill Paultz to put the Pistons ahead.

San Antonio's George Gervin, who struggled through a frigid 10-for-24 night from the field, missed an 18-foot jumper in the final 10 seconds that would have tied the score.

Detroit, now 2-0, led most of the way, holding a 24-22 margin at the end of the first quarter and leading 53-50 at the half. The Pistons held an 83-80 advantage going into the final quarter.

San Antonio caught up and went ahead with 3:45 remaining on a tip-in by backup center Paul Griffin and the two teams exchanged the lead the rest of the way.

The Spurs went ahead 109-107 with 1:43 remaining when Gervin converted a three-point play and led 110-108 when Larry Kenon hit one of two free throws.

Detroit guard James McElroy tied the score with a 25-foot jump shot.

Kenon hit 23 points to lead the Spurs in their season opener. Gervin added 22 while Griffin had 18. San Antonio shot a paltry 43 percent from the field.

John Long had 18 points for Detroit and Bob McAdoo added 17.

John Newhouse of the University of Houston, picks up short yardage as Texas A&M players surround him in third period of SWC game in College Station Saturday afternoon. The Cougars

Houston stuns Aggies, 17-14

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP)—Reserve quarterback Terry Elston completed two passes in the final 50 seconds and scored on a 5-yard run with only 15 seconds left to give No. 7-ranked Houston a 17-14 victory over Texas A&M in Southwest Conference play Saturday.

IT APPEARED A&M had upset Houston as the Cougars got the ball for the final time at their 40-yard line with only 30 seconds left in the game. Elston, a 6-foot-3 junior, hit Eric Herring with a 38-yard completion. Herring made a one-handed diving catch.

Elston then threw to halfback Terald Clark for 17 yards to the A&M 5 and scored on the next play by sprinting around right end after his receivers were covered.

Curtis Dickey and Mike Mosley gave A&M a 14-10 halftime lead on 1-yard scoring runs, and the lead held up until Houston's last second heroics.

THE WIN boosted Houston's record to 5-0. The Cougars are 2-0 in the SWC.

A&M, playing its home opener just now because of stadium construction, fell to 2-4 and 0-3 in the SWC.

Houston grabbed a 10-0 lead in the first half on a 14-field goal into the wind by Ken Hatfield and a 15-yard sprint by 220-pound David Barrett, who shook off three A&M tacklers.

A&M moved 53 yards for its first touchdown after Houston punter Mark Ford shanked a 19-yard kick. Dickey had runs of 19 and 12 yards, and Mosley ran for 14 to set up Dick-ey's 1-yard touchdown leap over right guard.

A&M THEN kicked off, and on the first play A&M defensive end Jacob Green and cornerback Carl Grulich slammed Terald Clark down and he fumbled. Linebacker-Doug Carr recovered at the Houston 17.

A third down, 10-yard pass from Mosley to Gerald Carter carried to the Houston 6, and Mosley scored untouched on third down, running an

Houston drove from its 13 to a first down at the A&M 4 but used up its time outs. Quarterback Delrick Brown ran to the 2, threw incomplete for Herring in the end zone, and Allen Polk was stopped for no gain.

A Hatfield field goal kick appeared to split the uprights, but the Cougars failed to score because time had run out in the first half and Houston was flagged for illegal procedure on the play.

Erving nets 44 in opener

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Julius Erving scored a National Basketball Association career high of 44 points and Doug Collins tallied 28 as the Philadelphia 76ers staved off a closing rush by the Houston Rockets for a 113-105 victory Saturday night.

Houston, losing its second game in two nights, trailed 64-48 at halftime and was behind 92-78 at the end of the third period.

The Rockets rallied in the fourth quarter and came within one point of the 76ers at 101-100 when Calvin Murphy hit one of two free throws with 3:26 remaining.

The 76ers then surged ahead 107-100 on successive field goals by Erving, Collins and Maurice Cheeks.

The Rockets came back to 107-104 after two free throws by Moses Malone, who finished with 20 points, and a field goal by Rick Barry.

Collins then put the 76ers safely ahead with a field goal over former 76er Mike Dunleavy with 26 seconds left. He added two free throws, making it 111-104.

Dwight Jones hit one out-of-three free throws for Houston's last point, with nine seconds to go. Erving dunked the ball with six seconds left for his final points.

Alcott maintains LPGA leadership

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Amy Alcott shot a one-over-par 73 in windy, chilly weather Saturday and maintained the lead in the $100,000 LPGA tournament over the Elizabeth Manor course.

Alcott's 213 total for 54 holes was a stroke ahead of Kathy Postlewait, who emerged as a new challenger after shooting a 68, the lowest score so far in the 72-hole tournament.

Postlewait, 29-year-old daughter of a golf pro in Sylacauga, Ala., had four birdies and six one-putt greens. She missed only two greens.

Susie McAllister, runner-up to Alcott after 36 holes, shot a 74 Saturday and slipped to a tie for third with Joanne Carner and Jan Stephenson at 215.

Carner took a double bogey on the seventh hole, shot 39 on the front nine and finished with a 73. Stephenson had a 73 with three birdies.

Shelly Hamlin, who birdied three of the first five holes and was tied for the lead briefly in the early going, shot a 73 for 216 and sixth place.

Donna H. White eagled the par-five 15th hole and moved up with a 71 and a 217 total. She was tied with Sandra Spuzich, who shot a 73.

Nancy Lopez Melton, the top money winner on the tour this year, continued to improve. After a 79-73 start, she went two under par Saturday with a 70 that included five birdies. She was at 222 and nine strokes behind Alcott.

Alcott, the No. 7 money winner on the LPGA tour this year with two victories and $109,000, had a two-over-par 38 on the front nine, then sank birdie putts of 20 and 15 feet en route to a 35 coming back.

"A 73 was just about par today under these conditions," she said.

Postlewait, who has not won in seven years on the tour but has had several second-place finishes, had almost a flawless round. She missed only one fairway and had 30 putts for the round over greens that are not in the best condition.

Her iron game was so accurate that her longest birdie putt was 15 feet.

Florida State topples Mississippi State, 17-6

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Jimmy Jordan's passes to Jackie Flowers set up one touchdown and produced another as ninth-ranked Florida State scored a 17-6 victory over Mississippi State Saturday night.

Defensive end Ed Richardson played a key role in the victory by recovering two key fumbles.

Jordan found Flowers in the deep corner of the end zone with a 17-yard touchdown strike with 11 seconds left in the first half to lift a sagging Florida State offense before 48,701 fans. The largest crowd ever to see a game in Doak Campbell Stadium. Richardson recovered the biggest fumble of the night in the Florida State end zone after Bulldog halfback James Doss had dashed 34 yards to the Seminole 1-yard line with 2:56 left in the third quarter.

Florida State's defense bottled up the Bulldog wishbone attack for the rest of the night, sacking quarterback Dwayne Brown five times.

The Bulldogs finally scored with 1:10 left in the game when reserve halfback Mike Haddix took a pitchout and dashed two yards for the score. A two-point conversion attempt failed.

Bullpups down Big Spring, 28-0

BIG SPRING — The Midland High Bullpup junior varsity football team took a 28-0 victory over the Big Spring JV Thursday night to bring their record to 3-2 on the year.

Brandt Moffatt picked off a mid-air fumble and raced 22 yards for the first Pup score and Preston Robertson added the PAT for a 7-0 lead.

The second MHS tally came when Wesley Williams raced 65 yards for a TD, but this time, the PAT failed.

Williams also added an 8-yard TD run in the third period and this time Joe Goebel kicked the PAT for a 20-0 lead.

John Logan went three yards for the final score and Richard Magnus hit Jay Mutter with a pass for the two-pointer and the final 28-0 result.

This week, the Midland Sophomores battle the Greenwood varsity at 4 p.m. Thursday in Memorial Stadium while at 7 p.m., the Bullpups take on the Abilene High JVs.

SFA beaten by A&I — KINGSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Martin Stromman scored twice on runs of 1 and 15 yards Saturday night as Texas A&I thumped Stephen F. Austin 34-10 in a Lone Star Conference game.

A&I blistered the Lumberjacks for 334 rushing yards, 95 by tailback Marcus Bonner and 88-by fullback Robert Poole, who also scored a touchdown.

The win boosts A&I's record to 5-0 overall, 2-0 in LSC games. SFA fell to 1-2 and 1-1.

El Paso, Odessa capture cross-country championships in Midland Invitational

San Angelo, El Paso High and Odessa High were the team winners Saturday in the Midland Invitational cross-country meet at Hogan Park, but several local athletes had sterling performances in the cool autumn weather.

Perhaps the top effort by a Tall City entrant was by Midland High's Donna Repman, who finished second against a pack of fine runners from girls' team champion El Paso High.

Repman toured the course in 12:01 and Midland High coach Ed Nixon was pleased with the showing. "She did real well," said Nixon, "because the girls from El Paso High had finished one-two-three in their other meets."

El Paso's Patsy Norman won the girls' event in 11:45 and teammates Gloria Mejia and Lucy Bockman finished third and fourth, respectively.

With that type of showing, the Lady Tigers walked away with the team crown with 27 points to El Paso Coronado's 40. Midland High was fourth with 118 points and Midland Lee — paced by Melody Stewart who was twenty-seventh — was seventh with 168.

In boys' varsity competition, Lee's Robert Schooler was ninth individually with a 10:06.

But it was San Angelo's overall depth — four finishers in the top ten — that won the team title for the Bobcats. Paced by runner-up Julian Mata and Frank Rodriguez, Michael Hendrey and Dirk Davis, who finished fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively, the Bobcats tallied 31 points to second place El Paso High's 39. Midland High was fourth in the 11-team field with 161 points while Lee struggled to eighth with 217.

The individual boys' varsity kingpin was Ricky Penal of El Paso High, who clocked 9:46, the same time as Mata. Midland High's top placer was Kevin Yates, who clocked 10:33 for twentieth.

Al Smith of Odessa Permian notched the junior varsity boys' individual crown with a time of 10:54.

Still, Odessa High, with their five runners all making the top ten including the three-four-five spots, copped team laurels with 29 points to second place San Angelo's 65. Lee, sparked by Joe Odum who was sixth in 11:14, was fourth with 83 points while Midland High was sixth with 168.

Top finisher for the Bullpups was Roy Dennis who was thirty-second. "We had a good meet and a good turnout," said Nixon. "And I'd like to thank the Packbackers for their help in running the meet."

Arizona State fires Kush before tilt with Huskies

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona State football coach Frank Kush was fired Saturday, hours before the Sun Devils were to take the field against Washington in a Pacific-10 Conference game, according to a Phoenix radio station.

KOY radio reported that Kush made the announcement at a hastily-called press conference, but was not available for questions afterward.

Kush was accused in a $1 million lawsuit last month of punching former Arizona State punter Kevin Rutledge and forcing him to quit the team.

He reportedly planned to hold a news conference following Saturday night's game.

Kush's firing came less than a week after one of his players told the ASU student newspaper that he saw the coach hit Rutledge with an uppercut.

The State Press quoted the unidentified player Tuesday as saying Kush hit the punter after a bad kick during the Arizona State-Washington game on Oct. 28, 1978.

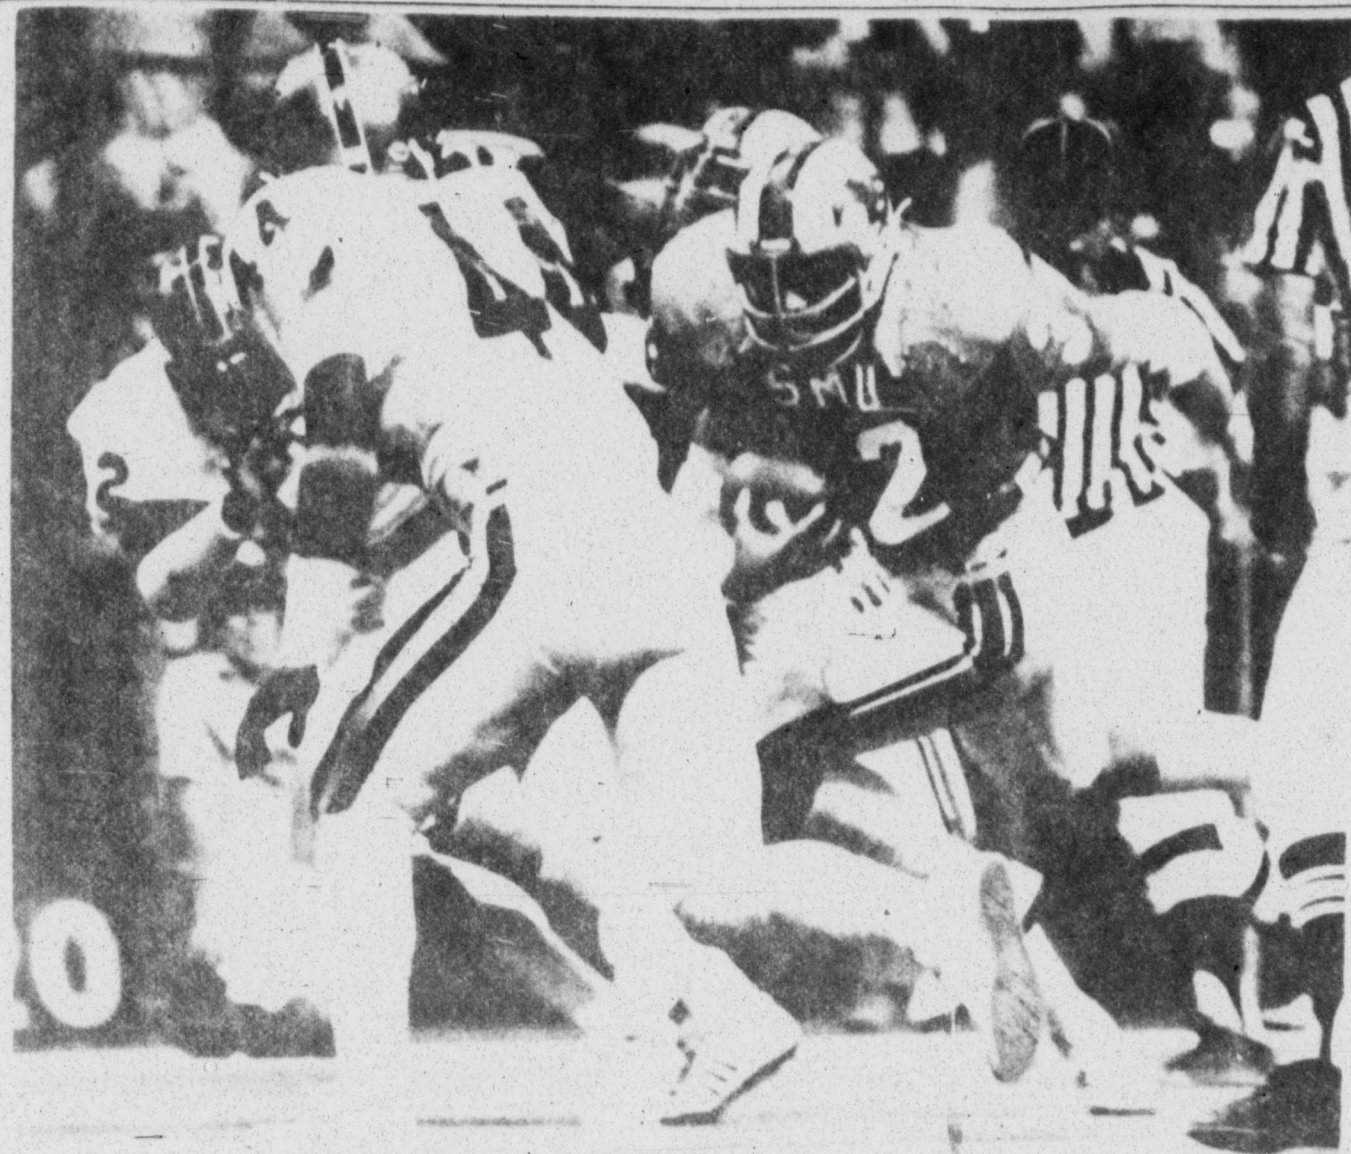

Until Saturday, Kush had declined to comment on the accusation, on the advice of his attorney.

Rutledge, in his suit, alleged mental and physical harassment and abuse by the Arizona State coaching staff forced him to quit after the 1978 season. He now attends the University of Nevada at Las Vegas.

Besides Kush, the suit filed in U.S. District Court in Phoenix named Mill-

Baylor edges past SMU on field goal, 24-21

Brannan, substituting for injured Mickey Elam, directed three long distance Baylor scoring drives and then took the Bears 62 yards in a desperation race with the clock to set the stage for Bledsoe's winning kick.

Defensive tackle Max McGeary broke through to block two fourth period Southern Methodist field goal attempts after the Mustangs had deadlocked the score at 21 on a sensational 100-yard kickoff return by freshman James Collier.

The loss dumped Southern Methodist from the Southwest Conference's unbeaten ranks, while Baylor improved conference record to 3-1 and its overall season record to 4-2. SMU is now 2-1 in the SWC and 3-2 overall.

The Mustangs mounted a 14-0 lead before a sell-out Texas Stadium crowd of 65,101, their largest turnout of the season. Jim Bob Taylor tossed a 12-yard scoring pass to tight end Bob Fisher and tailback Eric Dickerson streaked 14 yards for the other touchdown after a key interception by Jerry Kovar.

Brannan came on late in the second quarter and guided the Bears on a 77-yard drive capped by Dennis Gentry's 13-yard scoring scamper, to reduce the margin to seven points at the half.

In the second half, Brannan scored the Bears' second touchdown himself with a 1-yard plunge, and tailback Phillip Ward put the Bears briefly ahead on a 2-yard scoring dive.

It was then that Collier took the kickoff from within his own end zone and burst through tacklers, followed blockers, and finally raced down the sidelines, outrunning everyone to tie the score.

His runback was the fourth 100-yard effort by an SMU player. The others were Kyle Rote in 1949, Jerry Levias

Brigade captures fifth straight

The Midland Lee Stoenwall Brigade took a hard fought 14-0 junior varsity football victory over the San Angelo Central JVs Saturday morning in Memorial Stadium.

Lee fullback Calvin (Thunder) Riggs broke on a 48-yard touchdown scamper in the first period and teammate Van Gravitt booted the extra point for a 7-0 lead with 3:51 left in the initial period.

Then in the fourth period, Riggs raced 46 yards for another apparent score only to have the TD run wiped out with a holding penalty.

The Brigade, now 5-0 on the year, added a final score in the fading seconds when quarterback Bart Ryan hit Kevin Sparks with a 43-yard TD bomb. Gravitt booted the PAT to seal the fifth straight victory.

Chris Parker had intercepted a Bobcat pass to set up the final score of the morning.

The game had originally been set for Thursday night, but San Angelo failed to show up for the game then.

in 1966, and Arthur Whittington in 1974.

Collier's electrifying run threatened to overshadow Brannan's performance. However, the youthful red-shirt from Lake Jackson was superb in the final minute and a half, propelling the Bears 62 yards in eight plays into range for the winning field goal.

The biggest gainer of the do-or-die drive was a 31-yard pass from Brannan to wingback Bo Taylor which carried Baylor to the SMU 35.

For the evening Brannan hit 5 of 10 passes for 134 yards and picked up an additional 120 yards on 19 carries.

Dickerson led the Mustangs' attack with 103 yards on 22 trips. Emanuel Tolbert caught four passes to hike his career record to 154, moving into third place among all time SWC receivers.

Austin College trips Tarleton State, 43-20

STEPHENVILLE, Texas (AP) — Kelly Hyde's three touchdowns led Austin College past Tarleton State 43-20 in a Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association contest Saturday.

Tarleton lost six turnovers in all, four of them leading to Austin scores, to nullify a school record 99-yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Ricky Bush.

Colorado State tops UTEP, 17-3

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Colorado State cornerback Donzell McDonald set up one touchdown and defensive back Les Browne scored another as the Rams relied on a tough defense to defeat Western Athletic Conference opponent Texas El Paso 17-3 Saturday night.

The game, marked by lost balls, left both teams 2-3 for the season.

Midway through the first quarter UTEP running back James Copeland fumbled on his 8-yard line. That's when McDonald recovered the ball to set up a short touchdown plunge by running back Mike Faucett.

During the third quarter, UTEP kicker Steve Folkner's punt from the end zone was blocked and recovered by Browne for the touchdown.

UTEP quarterback David Stone who took over in the third quarter ran 11 yards to the 4-yard line following a fumble recovery. After he was sacked back at the 15-yard line, Folkner kicked a 32-yard field goal for the Texans only scoring of the game.

Colorado State's Mickey Barilla kicked a 42-yard field goal in the early seconds of the fourth quarter.

The Miners had one free chance when Folkner was roughed during a punt at the end of the first half. The penalty, after time had run out, gave starting Miner quarterback Gerry Dickens one pass play which Ram tackle Mike Call deflected.

McNeese wins 6th

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — McNeese State defensive end Rusty Gilbeau recovered two fumbles and intercepted a pass and the unbeaten Cowboys turned all three turnovers into touchdowns in defeating Lamar 34-25 Saturday night in a Southland Conference game.

The victory gave McNeese sole possession of the league lead with a 2-0 mark in conference play and a 6-0 record for the year. Lamar is 1-1 in SLC play and has a 2-2-1 season record.

McNeese led only 27-25 when Gilbeau recovered a Floyd Dorsey fumble to give the Cowboy's the ball on the Lamar 30.

McEnroe crushes Alexander in Supreme Challenge series

Perth, Australia (AP) — Young American tennis star John McEnroe, showing the best form of his Australian visit, crushed Australia's top player John Alexander 6-1, 6-2 Saturday night for his fifth straight victory in the $100,000 Super Challenge series.

In the other match Saturday night, Vitas Gerulaitis of the United States beat Guillermo Vilas of Argentina 6-2, 6-1.

Alexander, shaking his head in disbelief at some of McEnroe's shots, said after the match: "What can you do when someone plays like that?"

"Most of his shots were unbelievable — they were almost flukes but he hit so many there was no luck involved."

McEnroe has a 5-0 record in the series and has won $105,000. He will pick up another $21,000 if he can defeat Vilas in the final match of the series Sunday night — plus an additional $50,000 for going through the series unbeaten.

By The Associated Press
 Abilene Cooper — the No. 1 ranked team in Texas — used a tight defense and a fourth quarter touchdown reception by tight end Alvin Jenkins to ice a 21-0 win over Odessa in a schoolboy football matchup Friday night.

The unbeaten Cougars scored in the first quarter on a 30-yard inside reverse run by Mike Flores and added another tally in the third stanza on Keith Pantalon's 8-yard touchdown pass reception from quarterback John Slaughter.

The win was the fifth straight for Cooper, the top-ranked AAAA squad in The Associated Press schoolboy football poll. Eight of the top 10 teams in the division came out victorious during the sixth week of the 1979 schoolboy gridiron season.

THIRD-RANKED PLANO intercepted four Lake Highlands passes — converting two into touchdowns — to shut out their district rivals by a 30-0 count. Lake Highlands was ranked No. 9 in Class 4A coming into Friday night's game.

Plano scored first on a field goal, led 10-0 at the half and waltzed away with the game with three touchdowns in the first 18 minutes of the second half.

"This is the best game we've played all year," said Plano coach Tom Kimbrough. "We had balance from our offense and defense. I was pleased."

Plano quarterback Ronnie Mullins demonstrated his skill with the option play and ended up as the game's top rusher with 110 yards on 17 carries. Fullback Greg Birdsall added to the attack with 85 yards on 14 carries. Each scored two touchdowns.

Sixth-ranked Houston Stratford fell for the second time this year and suffered its first shutout loss since 1976 as unranked Houston Spring Woods pulled off a shocking 9-0 upset.

Spring Woods scored on a 45-yard field goal in the first quarter by Scott Stonestreet and an 18-yard touchdown run by Mike Church in the second. The tough Tiger defense sacked Stratford quarterback Jeff Fonden eight times.

No. 2 La Porte beat Pasadena, 27-15; fourth-rated Conroe blasted Ty-bank-Fairbanks, 56-6; Temple, fifth-ranked, blanked Round Rock, 27-0; No. 7 Converse Judson rolled over Laredo Martin, 48-0; eighth-rated Kilbuck Ellison edged surprising Waco Richfield, 22-21; and Highland Park, No. 10, nosed out Richardson, 21-17.

JASPER, THE king of the hill in Class 3A, defeated unranked Silsbee, 23-0. The nine teams ranked behind Jasper also came out on the better half of the score Friday night.

No. 2 Kerrville Tivy clobbered Carizo Springs, 42-0; third-ranked Beaumont Hebert beat cross-town rival Beaumont South Park, 35-7; No. 4 Paris, powered by Ricky Dirks' three touchdown runs, blasted Liberty-Eylau, 42-14 and fifth-rated Huntsville steamrolled Houston King, 42-0.

Gregory-Portland, No. 6, downed Calallen, 27-6; seventh-ranked Lubbock Cooper 21, Odessa 0.

More than half of the ranked teams in Class 2A and Class A had the weekend off.

Pittsburg — the top-ranked team in 2A — blanked Hooks, 40-0; No. 2 Childress rolled to a 35-0 win over Tulla; fourth-ranked Breckenridge beat Comanche, 26-7; Wylie, No. 5, crushed Kaufman, 31-0; and tenth-rated Hondo outlasted Pearsall, 26-13.

KENEDY, LITTLEFIELD, Hallettsville, San Antonio Randolph and Hays Consolidated — the other ranked 2A clubs — did not play.

China Spring — the cream of the crop in Class A — edged Moody, 7-6, for its fifth straight win. In other action, No. 2 Haskell bombed Crowell, 54-0; third-rated Hawkins beat Sabine, 23-12; fifth-ranked Seagraves downed O'Donnell, 41-0; and No. 9 Dilley squeaked past Three Rivers, 11-6.

The poll's other ranked Class A teams — Glen Rose, Mason, Troup, Flatonia and Falls City — were not scheduled.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Art Schlichter, the Big Ten's total offense leader, accounted for 204 yards Saturday, leading eighth-ranked Ohio State to a 37-6 football victory over Indiana.

"The triumph of the Buckeyes' sixth in a row for now Coach Earle Bruce, kept the Buckeyes tied for the conference lead with Michigan at 3-0. The loss knocked the Hoosiers from a share of the top spot and gave Indiana records of 4-2 and 2-1.

Schlichter, a sophomore who led the nation's major college passers two weeks ago, completed seven of 12 passes for 136 yards. One of his completions was a 21-yard touchdown to Doug Donley.

Schlichter also ran six yards for a touchdown and earned 68 yards rushing for Ohio State, unbeaten against Indiana for the last 28 years.

Fullback Paul Campbell scored on runs of two and three yards and Ric Volley, switched from fullback to tailback this week, plunged two yards for another Buckeye touchdown.

Ylode Janakievski booted field goals of 32 and 35 yards, helping Ohio State to a 26-0 halftime lead.

Alabama flexes muscles in 40-0 rout of Gators

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Second-string quarterback Don Jacobs set up one touchdown with a 21-yard run after a fake punt alignment and bolted 73 yards for a third period score, leading second-ranked Alabama to a 40-0 romp Saturday over winless and punchless Florida.

Jacobs' fourth-down run after Alabama shifted out of punt formation set up Steadman Shealy's 3-yard touchdown and Shealy's nifty running set up Steve Whitman's 5-yard plunge as the Crimson Tide took a 14-0 first-quarter lead and coasted to its fifth triumph of the season and 14th in a row.

The victory marked Bear Bryant's 289th coaching success, 25 short of Amos Alonzo Stagg's all-time record of 311. It also was his 34th triumph in 39 meetings with one of his former pupils and 21th in a row. Florida is 0-4-1 under Charley Pell, who played at Alabama in 1960-61-62 and later served as a graduate student assistant under Bryant.

Alan McElroy kicked the first of his two field goals eight seconds before halftime to make it 12-0 while Major Ogilvie and John Hill added scoring runs of 1-yard and 2 yards respectively as Florida suffered its worst defeat since a 49-7 licking by Georgia in 1971.

Meanwhile, Alabama's defense, ranked third nationally, held Florida to three first downs and never permitted the Gators beyond the Crimson Tide 45-yard line. Alabama has yielded just one touchdown all season and that came with 12 seconds left in the opener against Georgia Tech.

Notre Dame blasts Air Force by 38-13

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Quarterback Rusty Lisch threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score, and running back Vagas Ferguson had a pair of first-half TDs as 10th-ranked Notre Dame routed Air Force 38-13 Saturday in college football.

The triumph boosted the Fighting Irish to 4-1 this season, while Air Force dropped to 0-6 and had its losing streak extended to nine games — the longest in academy history.

Notre-Dame put together three sustained scoring marches and capitalized on two Falcon turnovers for another TD and a field goal to roll up a 31-7 halftime edge.

Ferguson, who didn't play in the second half, rushed for 81 yards and scored on runs of 3 and 23 yards. He now needs only 24 yards to break the school career rushing record of 2,682 held by Jerome Heavens.

The other Irish first-half scores came on Lisch's 2-yard pass to tight end Nick Vehr, Lisch's 1-yard run, and Chuck Male's 43-yard field goal.

Air Force quarterback Dave Ziebart completed 12 of 26 passes for 132 yards, including a 2-yard TD toss to tight end Scott Schafer in the third quarter.

Huskers whip Kansas in 42-0 Big Eight rout

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — 15-0 halftime edge — Tim Hager threw a pair of touchdown passes, Dean Sukup kicked three field goals and reserve 1-back Craig Johnson ran for two more TDs as fifth-ranked Nebraska crushed Kansas 42-0 in the Big Eight Conference opener for both schools Saturday.

After a scoreless first quarter, Sukup opened the second stanza with a 36-yard field goal. Nebraska scored on its next seven possessions as the Huskers totally controlled the line of scrimmage.

Jarvis Redwine, with 158 yards rushing for the day, scored on a 54-yard run and Sukup added field goals of 41 and 27 yards to give Nebraska a fourth quarter Redwine's 54-yard TD earlier had the brief distinction of being the longest run from scrimmage by a Husker this year.

Kansas' deepest penetration, to the Nebraska 31, was stymied in the third quarter.

Pitt blanks Cincy

PITTSBURGH (AP) — University of Pittsburgh quarterback Rick Trocano passed for one touchdown and ran for another, and running back Randy McMillan rushed for 119 yards as the Panthers beat Cincinnati 35-0 in college football Saturday.

Cincinnati, 1-4, got close to scoring three times. Steve Schultz's 32-yard field goal attempt sailed wide in the second quarter, and early in the third quarter Pitt cornerback Terry White intercepted Tony Kapetanis in the end zone to kill another Cincinnati threat.

Kapetanis then slipped on a keeper play at the Pitt 2-yard line to end a drive that started at the Cincinnati 20. The Bearcats got to the Pitt 4 on a 76-yard pass play from Kapetanis to wingback Aaron Hagans.

The Panthers, 4-1, scored first on Trocano's 19-yard touchdown pass play to Benjie Pryor early in the second quarter. Two series later, Trocano covered 6 yards on a keeper to make it 14-0.

Cincinnati had the ball twice before White's interception started the third Panther touchdown drive. Pitt started on its own 7-yard line and got to the Bearcats' 5, where Ray Jones took the ball and vaulted into the end zone.

Freshman quarterback Dan Marino engineered a 70-yard touchdown drive that ended with his 11-yard pass to Running back Russell Carter dashed 11 yards for the last Pitt touchdown after Marino completed three consecutive passes to Julius Dawkins.

Stonum has 242 average in $95,000 PBA tournament

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — Second-year pro Al Stonum averaged 242 in six games Saturday for the first-round lead in the Professional Bowlers Association $95,000 tournament at Ken Nottke Lanes.

Stonum, a 24-year-old right-hander from San Francisco, rolled a high game of 280 and finished the first qualifying round with a 268 for a 1,453 total pinfall.

PBA Hall of Famer Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis was second at 1,432.

Stonum also rolled games of 259, 222, 225 and 200 during the afternoon qualifying session. His best career finish was 10th in the 1978 San Jose Open. This year, Stonum has earned $7,595 in 25 tournaments.

Sul Ross wins
LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Willie Rodriguez carried the ball 16 times for 92 yards Saturday to lead Sul Ross State on a 49-0 rout of Lubbock Christian in a non-conference college football game.

Sul Ross, 3-3, piled up 468 total yards to Lubbock Christian's 110. Winning quarterback Larry Hill completed five of eight passes for 60 yards and two touchdowns.

Lubbock Christian, 1-6, lost the ball on turnovers six times — five fumbles and a pass interception.

third place at 1,429, only three pins ahead of all-time PBA leading money winner Earl Anthony of Kent, Wash.

Anthony, winner of the PBA tournament here in 1975 and 1976, has collected 31 titles and earned more than $700,000 during his 10 years on the tour.

Roy Buckley, a 10-year veteran from Columbus, Ohio, rounded out the top five at 1,404.

Two more rounds of qualifying remain for the 208 bowlers before the field is cut to the top 24 for match play. The leading five bowlers after 42 games then advance to the finals Tuesday night to shoot for the $11,000 first prize.

THE MIDLAND NATIONAL BANK presents straight talk on high interest rates and tight money.

To our customers and other interested West Texans,

Recently, there has been a great deal of talk about high interest rates and the money supply. I think it is time for The Midland National Bank to address this subject.

The regulatory bodies and the administration in Washington have chosen to fight inflation primarily by decreasing the supply of lendable dollars and increasing the interest rates charged to borrowers. While the merits of this action will be debated for years to come, The Midland National Bank makes this statement now... we will honor all of our existing commitments and continue to meet the legitimate credit requirements that are requested.

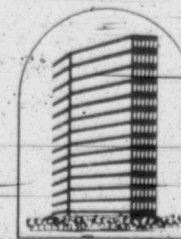

We have the professional ability to stay abreast of economic conditions, and we will respond quickly and positively to your banking needs. Therefore, the communication you have with your Midland National Bank officer is more important than ever. Together we can make sound financial decisions in your personal or commercial business.

As in previous uncertain times, The Midland National Bank has approached the situation in a realistic and honest manner. We will continue with this approach and a renewed commitment to keep Midland strong and viable. We believe in the future of our city.

Over the past several days, we have had numerous calls from you seeking information and advice. We are always pleased to hear from you and encourage your inquiries.

Yours very truly,

European corncrake joins growing list of vanishing birds

By GRAHAM HEATHCOTE

LONDON (AP) — The corncrake, a curious and secretive bird of the fields, is disappearing from Britain and Ireland and could vanish from all of Western Europe, birdwatchers say.

"Its future does not look bright," says James Cadbury, head of research at the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds.

Cadbury organized 176 ornithologists to search for the elusive, semi-nocturnal corncrake during the breeding season. Covering some of the remotest areas of the country and working mostly at night, when the rasping cry of the male bird is likely to be heard, they counted 650.

Cadbury said these birds were located in only 23 percent of the places in which corncrakes were recorded in a survey 10 years ago. "A dramatic and alarming contraction," he concluded.

"Corncrake populations on the European continent and in Ireland also have suffered major declines," the RSPB reports.

The seldom seen corncrake, which doesn't eat corn and prefers hayfields, is a buff-brown bird, 10 inches from beak to tail, with long legs and toes and a high-stepping gait. It is a summer visitor to Britain, flying fast and high from southern Europe, Africa, Arabia and India, arriving at April's end and departing in mid-September.

When it gets here it stops being a high-flyer and goes to ground, skulking about in the thickest herbage and resorting to flight only as a last resort. If surprised, it shuts its eyes, collapses and feigns death, but recovers instantly for an escape chance and dashes away.

The Romans named it Crex crex, syllabing the doubled, rasping cry of the male bird.

A corncrake in full throat will crex away hour after hour, night and day, but will hardly ever be seen. It also grunts, whistles and croaks, and emits an eerie scream when driving off a predator.

Aristotle mentioned the corncrake, and its fossil bones have been found dating back to the late Ice Age, 11,000 years ago. It has several other names: landrail, daker-hen, grass-quail, corn cracker and corn creak. It is protected under English law and lives on insects, slugs, snails, worms and seeds.

Theories vary about its decline, which coincided with the introduction in the last century of hay-cutting, nest-destroying machines. The sowing of rye grass to produce an earlier hay crop than meadow grass meant corncrakes could not get a nesting start at all.

The RSPB believes machinery drove the corncrakes farther and farther north, until now their only strongholds are in the small fields on the Hebridean Islands off northwest Scotland.

However, some naturalists point out that other ground-nesting birds have survived machinery and there could be more subtle reasons.

Max Nicholson, who has studied birds for many years, feels there is still a lot to discover about the corncrake — if it survives to be studied. The reason for its persistent calling remains a mystery, he says. It may have something to do with gathering a number of birds in one place before they can breed successfully.

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

My 6-year-old daughter received a bird for her birthday with the understanding that it would be her responsibility to feed and water him. But I found we always had a mess from birdseed all over.

Not only that but our small son always wanted to "help" which added to the problem.

One day in the midst of a small mishap of birdseed spilled all over my kitchen counters and floor, I had had it. So I looked in my cupboard for something to put the birdseed in. My eyes fell upon a one-pound margarine tub.

Taking that and a scoop from the powdered drink cans, I poured the birdseed into the tub.

Now when the children feed the bird, all they have to do is get one scoop of birdseed and put it into his dish.

No muss! No fuss!

And, best of all, two happy kids who feel useful. You're a smart mommie, Kathy. Keep up the good work.

EGGS-ACTLY RIGHT FOR PUPPIES!
DEAR HELOISE:
We have a puppy who loves to romp and play with things that rattle and roll... so I figured instead of buying a toy, I'd make one.
I took one of those plastic eggs pantyhose come in (I used the silver color) and put a few popcorn kernels inside, then glued it together tightly with non-toxic glue.
Let it dry overnight and, presto, a shiny, new toy.
Sonya Sheldon

JUST A SPRINKLE DOES IT!
DEAR HELOISE:
Here's a hint for kids who like to bake cakes... After pouring the cake batter into the pan, put some chocolate sprinkles over the top and bake your cake. It costs less than frosting and it tastes fantastic.
Monica Hoffman

STAND TALL!
DEAR HELOISE:
My grandson has always been curious as to just how tall he was from the time he was very young. So on the inside frame of the door leading to the basement we marked his height and the date.
He is now 13 and still records his present height about once a year. You cannot see the markings unless you look and whenever the door is painted, that inner edge is left alone.
V.D.

Another good place to record the growth of your child is on the inside door frame of a closet, especially a walk-in one. That place need never be painted as no one will ever see it but the family.
(Wouldn't matter if they did, would it?)
Heloise

WHO HASN'T?
DEAR HELOISE:
Have you ever written a check and forgotten to enter it in the stub?
As a reminder, always fill in the check stub or check register before making out a check.
It saves the "forgotten" entry problem and also helps in just how to fill out the check.
R.E.P.

IT'S A SNAP!
DEAR HELOISE:
Here's a use for those little containers 35mm film is packaged in. They are a good temporary holder for coin collections.
I've even put them out at garage sales and they were picked up fast.
Nita

HINTS FROM HIM
DEAR HELOISE:
To prolong the life of a mechanical pencil sharpener, remove the cover and clean the debris from between the cutting edges with a pencil point, a pin, or the tip of a ball point pen. Be sure to do this over a wastebasket.
This should be done every week or so. Broken pencil tips that sometimes lodge between the cutters can also be removed in this way.
As a school librarian, I have never had to replace a dull sharpener.
Will Pearson

PRESSING PROBLEM
DEAR HELOISE:
When some little something needs pressing in a hurry, such as a ribbon or sash, I've recycled my old ironing board cover and pad by cutting it to fit the top of my washing machine. It's great for quick touch-ups.

Country-style fun in West Texas

Kicking up their heels to the Cotton-eyed Joe are, from the left, Betty Smith, Rob Roberts, Judy Harris and Todd Young, all country-western dancers appropriately attired in jeans, belt with big buckle and boots (or socks). While the hat is not ordinarily worn on the dance floor, Rob was persuaded to try his on for style.

By WANDA MOUTON
Lifestyle Editor

"I wanna go home with the Armadillo.
Good country music from Amarillo to Abilene.
With the friendliest people and the prettiest women you've ever seen."
"The London Homesick Blues" sung by Jerry Jeff Walker and the Lost Gonzo Band.

October is Country Music Month and there's no better place to celebrate the event than West Texas, a haven for country-western music dancers.

C&W has been around for a long time, through thick and thin, rock and roll, and disco. It's earthy, uninhibited and just plain a lot of fun.

Cowboys have been dancing their way forever. But it's a new and growing attraction for thousands of "city slickers" who are discovering the pleasures of honky-tonkying.

For those sceptics who still disbelieve and scoff at the rhythmic pleasures of the c&w swing, just visit the dance halls on a Saturday night and view the crowds. Don't be surprised if your favorite disco plays a lot of country music, too.

"Disco-country is coming back in," says Charlie Reese, manager of the Stardust, Midland's biggest country and western dance hall which seats from 600 to 700 people.

But for Todd Young and Betty Smith of Midland, disco and country will never work together. They're both staunch c&w dance supporters. Todd, who began dancing about three years ago, is so enthusiastic about it that he admits to going dancing an average of 5 or 6 nights a week.

They, along with Judy Harris and Rob Roberts of Midland, agree that the best way to learn western dancing is just "getting out there and doing it," though Rob and Betty teach it weekly at the Alamo YMCA.

They agree that the dance has been traditionally learned by watching and doing, but the class helps newcomers to the dance learn which steps go with which music and all the variations possible.

They say the classes have had enthusiastic response, with participants ranging in age from 11 to 30. But a lot of older folks can be spotted on the dance hall floors in Midland's country-western night spots.

Lawyers, business executives and even teenagers are joining the oldtimers who have always danced to the waltz, polka, the two-step, the Shottische and the ever popular "Cotton-eyed Joe".

"If more people would learn country-western dancing, they would enjoy it," says Betty. "It's pretty easy to learn, but it's so much fun because every dance is different. With disco, every dance seems the same."

"Each person has his own style," said Judy. "Even on the basic two-step, you can make up your own thing. Every person has their own style and puts their own twirls, turns, tricks and things into the dance."

They all think that it's more fun to learn the variations instead of just waltzing in square corners, or sliding along on the same two-step. But all four also think that courtesy is a prime consideration for dancers, especially when the floors get crowded. "We sometimes wish there were more people saying 'excuse me' than we have here," said Todd.

Dance styles vary from city to city, say the dancers, who all disagree on what is the best. Rob said that Fort Worth, for example, doesn't really know how to country-western dance. "They just shuffle," he said.

"Odessa does a stutter step on the two-step," added Judy, who also said that this step is beginning to infiltrate Midland.

"Other areas have different paces—that's all," shrugged Todd.

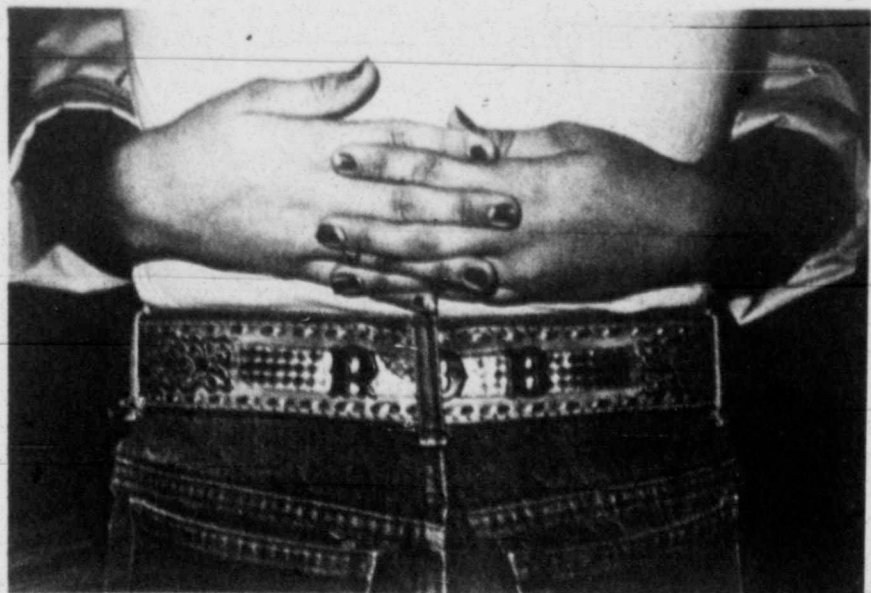

They don't call themselves kickers and say that it's a putdown for most cowboys. "We're just country," said Rob. And they feel most comfortable in a place where there's crying songs, beer-drinking songs and cheating songs. And where the guitar, fiddle and banjo still are tops.

They all agree that Midland probably has 50% disco supporters and 50% country fans, but think that most of West Texas has gone the way of country-western.

And it's a sure sign you're a country-western dance fan when you learn that the real words to the Cotton-eyed Joe aren't "go sit" or "prosit."

The sign of a true cowboy—with his beer, his hat and his snuff.

Country clothes

What does Midland wear when it goes country dancing?

For ladies, comfort is a basic necessity if they plan to do any dancing at all. Bare-toed sandals are a no-no, "mostly because most C&W dance floors are wooden and a girl just slips and slides around if she has anything but boots on," says Judy. Also, sandal-wearers must be brave to risk getting their toes crushed under stampeding cowboy boots. The usual way to dance is with boots or in your socks.

But almost anything else goes for the ladies though they usually dress casually.

Real fashion on C&W dance floors is set by the men who "must" wear the following:

Levis or other western-cut jeans. It's very "in" to wear those pants with a faded ring in the rear pocket, showing all that the cowboy regularly carries his can of snuff.

Boots, properly shined.

Belt with a big buckle and name tooled across the back.

Hat is optional, but many country dance halls now won't allow a man to wear his hat on the dance floor. "A guy's hat is kinda special to him and trouble nearly always starts when another dancer knocks it off, whether or not he did it by mistake," said Rob.

Also, it's considered in bad taste to clutter up the table with your 10-gallon. "Besides, a guy who's been wearing a hat sometimes doesn't look all that great with a big crease on his head where it's been sitting all night," added Judy.

Volunteers are needed to help operate the 24-hour Rape Crisis Hotline which will begin service to Midland residents in mid-November.

Each volunteer must participate in a three-day training session to qualify as a hotline operator. The classes will begin Oct. 23. To participate, interested persons can call 682-RAPE by Friday for registration.

The volunteer will be a support figure to the rape victim during the immediate crisis and all follow-up activities. Rape Crisis hotline workers will provide information in regard to medical, legal and law enforcement procedures.

Wendi Stovall, bride-elect of Michael Tully, has been honored with two recent bridal parties.

She was honoree at a lingerie shower in the home of Sharon Goodwin, 2100 Wadley Ave. The mantle was decorated with streamers with the bride and bridegroom's names.

Among out of town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. M. Anderson of Kermit and her aunt, Mrs. Don James, also of Kermit.

Miss Stovall was also honored with a miscellaneous shower. Hostesses were Mrs. Verne Devyer and daughter Shauna.

The bride's chosen colors were used to decorate the front door and mailbox post. The table was decorated with her bride's chosen colors of navy and almond.

The couple will marry Oct. 27 at South Memorial Baptist Church.

PERMIAN AIMEES will have a luncheon at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Ranchland Hills Country club.

Ken Terrell from Atlantic Richfield Company will present a program on "Oil in Alaska."

New members can call Joann Sheldon at 683-2405 for reservations.

All members are asked to bring recipes for the club cookbook, or send them to Jane Vitrano.

CATHLEEN (SUNSHINE) BRADY Tuesday will celebrate her 4th birthday. She is the daughter of Tommy and Cathy Brady of Santa Fe, Texas, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Brady of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Parsons of Galveston.

Sunshine has two older brothers, Jack and Truman Lee. She attends nursery school and takes dance lessons at her mother's studio.

MU ALPHA, a management club affiliated with state and national DECA and sponsored by the Mid-Management Department at Midland College, has installed officers for 1979-80.

The new officers are Brian Scarborough, president; Floyd Ivey, vice president; Donna Sue Hale, secretary; Susan Sexton, reporter; Kevin Fender, parliamentarian.

These officers attended the annual junior college DECA officers' leadership conference which began Thursday and concluded Saturday.

MIDLAND SOUTHSIDE LIONS CLUB met for an early morning breakfast Saturday to kick off its World Service Day project. The Lions were served hot cakes and sausage to start their day of service, during which they took fruit to four nursing homes in Midland, along with magazines for the elderly residents of the homes. Extra hot cakes and sausage were taken to the Veterans' Home that is located close by the Southside Lions Club Building.

ANDREWS DUPLICATE BRIDGE CLUB, directed by Mrs. Ruth Fahrig, hosted a special game last week for the benefit of the Allison Bridge Center Building Fund.

Snacks and sweets provided by the Andrews people were enjoyed by Midlanders Joe and Cathy Ranne, Bob and Jane Myers, Al and Dixie Gifford, Mary Hammond, Midge Taylor, Betty Dickerson, Jimmie Penn, Leta Myers and Gloria Crites.

The profits of $120 from the game presented by Mrs. Fahrig will be used toward the purchase of card tables and chairs.

High scorers in the bridge were an Andrews pair, while Midlanders Hammond and Jane Myers were second and Leta Myers and Crites were fourth.

PVT. DOUGLAS H. UPTON, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Upton, 4703 Anetta Drive, is attending basic training at Fort Dix, N.J.

Sorority chapter discusses projects

The Xi Psi Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Pat Coble for a business session conducted by Pat Semple, president.

Connie Day introduced Nicki Robbins a guest. Ms. Robbins received the hostess gift.

Ms. Coble, service chairman, reported the chapter will be sending birthday gifts this month to the girl being sponsored at Girlstown, U.S.A.

Jon Bellamy, social chairman, reported on the brunch given to entertain Xi Alpha Mu.

Carol Gum announced the Boutique Auction will be Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the Kimber-Lea Clubhouse.

The chapter will assist with decorating of tables for the fall dance to be held at the VFW Hall Nov. 10. A cocktail party will be held prior to the dance.

The next social will be a "Trip to Transylvania" Oct. 20 at the home of Connie and Pat day.

Ms. Bellamy and Nancy Gray presented the program on "Australia."

Sororities raise over $600 at dance

Over $600 was raised by Beta Eta and Beta Omega chapters of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority at the annual Charity Western Dance held at the American Legion Hall.

Proceeds will go to St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., where patients are treated without charge. The children are treated for catastrophic diseases, such as leukemia, Hodgkin's disease and other illnesses.

The world-wide sorority has donated over $3 million to the hospital which was opened by Danny Thomas in 1962. It operates primarily through private donations.

The two local chapters have held this dance for four years. A sorority spokesman expressed thanks to the Shade Country band for donating their talent to provide entertainment to the event. Wells-Boot City also donated a pair of boots as a prize.

Energy Day proclaimed for Thursday in Midland

Mayor Ernest Angelo will proclaim Thursday as Energy Day in Midland.

Mrs. Joanne Dinsmoor is serving as Midland chairman for Energy Day activities sponsored by AWARE (Alerting Women About Resources and Energy), a newly formed energy conscious organization.

"We are committed to accurately informing women, community leaders, educators, conservationists and other interested citizens of this country's energy and energy resources and their impact on the future of our nation," said Mrs. Dinsmoor.

AWARE is planning a number of activities to mark the day in cities and towns across the state.

Arthur H. Dinsmoor, district manager for Marshall R. Young Oil Co., will address the Midland group on "Our Future Lies in Energy" at the Midland Hilton Thursday.

As a member of the Speakers' Bureau for the IPAA (Independent Petroleum Association of America), Dinsmoor has addressed groups interested in energy resources from New York to Washington State.

Those interested in participating in Energy Day activities may contact Mrs. Dinsmoor at 683-1315 or Amy Stewart at 683-5246.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I owe you heartfelt thanks for an article you wrote concerning missing persons some eight or nine months ago.

I had cried and prayed so much for someone to show me how to get in touch with my son, whom I hadn't heard from in two and a half years. Then I read in your column that the Salvation Army helps to locate people, so I wrote them immediately.

In a matter of days they wrote back. Those wonderful people didn't leave a stone unturned in trying to locate my son. One night, less than two weeks later, my telephone rang. It was my son calling me! Abby, that had to be the happiest day of my life. We are now reunited.

Sorority has model meeting

The Psi Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its Model Meeting in the home of Becky Winkler. Kathy Langley was co-hostess.

Pauline Watson, chairman of the nominating committee, gave a "grab bag" presentation.

Guests were Jeanette Oei, Becky Farris, Nancy Brinson, Shirley Collins, Cheryl Browning and Kathy Miller.

Carrying out the sorority's international theme of "Around the World with Beta Sigma Phi," it was announced the next couples' social will be a Mexican Fiesta Oct. 20.

lot of people who don't know where some of their loved ones are, or even if they are alive.

God bless you and the Salvation Army! —VIRGINIA B.

DEAR VIRGINIA: Anyone wanting to locate a lost relative should write to:

Salvation Army Missing Persons 30840 Hawthorne Blvd. Rancho Palos Verdes, Calif. 90274

Please note the following: The Salvation Army will search for relatives ONLY, and even in a foreign country, but not for juvenile runaways or children kidnaped by the other parent.

They are not set up for adoption or genealogy research. And please do not ask them to locate a relative to collect a debt.

The Salvation Army is a non-profit organization, supported by donations, so if you request a search, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a few dollars for long-distance telephone calls.

DEAR ABBY: What would cause a grown man to take guests in the house on a grand tour, pointing out the furnishings, objects of art, pieces that were found in various places around the world during his travels, etc., ad nauseum?

The man is my husband, and I am so embarrassed when I see the looks on their faces. It sounds like so much bragging to me. I've even heard him mention how much various items cost. Lord, help me!

We do have a lovely home, have traveled extensively and have collected some interesting things, but, Abby, if he would just wait until someone admired an object, or ask him where it came from, there might be some justification for all this talk.

If he had been needy in his childhood I might be able to understand it, but that was not the case.

Tell me, please, what I can do to help him. — EMBARRASSED.

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Tell him privately and lovingly, in a non-critical way, what you have told me. Almost every reasonable person will accept suggestions graciously if they are presented properly.

DEAR ABBY: My wife's father is being transferred to a job near our home and has hinted that he would like to spend the working week living with us. (We have a guest room.)

Dad is a kind and generous man and I get along very well with him, but I value my privacy and prefer to live alone with my wife.

It would be possible for Dad to commute to his new job just as he is doing in his present one.

I feel a bit guilty not insisting that he live with us, but I have to admit that if he were to stay here from Monday through Friday of every week I wouldn't have the privacy I presently enjoy.

So what's the answer? — ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANON: A couple should not open their home to ANYONE unless both parties are in complete agreement. If either one has reservations, the word from here is DON'T.

That 'something you ate' may be food allergy

By PATSY GORDON
Lifestyle Writer

A baby cries with the colic after taking its bottle.
A grown man with a passion for lobster finishes his favorite meal and falls to the floor of the restaurant, unconscious.

A youngster breaks out in hives after two pieces of strawberry shortcake.

Food allergies are among the most common and, in some cases, the most mysterious of the allergic ailments that plague human kind.

Some people are so sensitive to certain foods that even the mere odor of them cooking can trigger an asthma attack or hives or itching eczema. Doctors have seen children who break into such reactions from just touching the shell of an egg.

But more often food allergies are not clear cut. To allergists they can pose a true detective case — a complicated and difficult diagnosis. For instance, a child breaks into hives after eating spaghetti. Is he or she allergic to the tomato sauce? To the meat in the sauce? To the seasonings? To the pasta? To the oil used in cooking? To preservatives used in canning the tomatoes?

To make matters worse, skin tests valuable in detecting some other allergies are not as reliable in detecting food allergies. The doctor has to rely instead on solid gumshoe work.

Dr. J. Oliver Gooch, a Midland eye, nose and throat specialist who has done allergy studies and who has professionals in his office who do allergy testing and treatment in his laboratory, begins his investigation by taking a detailed history of the patient. Were there others in his family who suffered from allergies? What kinds of allergies? What allergic reactions?

Dr. Gooch also conducts a complete physical examination as well because there are other reactions to foods that mimic allergies, but are not true allergic reactions.

According to Dr. Gooch, "Food allergy causes many and varied reactions. First of all, foods can aggravate the same symptoms the inhalants cause. Foods usually cause year-round symptoms. However, some food allergies only occur when certain inhalants are in season."

Symptoms and reactions from foods can last hours or even days because it can take the body up to 72 hours to eliminate a food once it is eaten, said Gooch.

The most common symptoms of food allergy are the gastro-intestinal ones, including heartburn, indigestion, belching, queasiness, nausea and vomiting, ulcers, stomach aching and cramping, constipation, diarrhea and anal itching.

Gooch believes 85 percent of headaches are food related. "The intensity and type of pain can vary. Most commonly, food headaches occur in the back of the head, neck and shoulders, and in the temperal area, but they can radiate to any part of the head. Because of the 72 hour food elimination period, a food cause headache may last hours or even days. Migraine-like headaches have been found to be food caused."

Nighttime symptoms are frequently food aggravated, said Gooch. "Insomnia, bad dreams, awaking during the night with or without changes in feelings, night sweats and cardiac palpitations can all be from something you ate for dinner."

Undue fatigue, explained Gooch, is a prime food symptom. "You go to bed tired and wake up the same way. Daytime sleepiness or the need for a nap after lunch can be from something you ate."

Lightheadness and dizziness are food symptoms, as are fainting spells and blackouts, pointed out Gooch. "These are frequently associated with sugar sensitivity."

"Food reactions can change your emotional and behaviour patterns — such as feelings of depression, irritability, nervousness, hostility and anger, inability to concentrate, anxiety, frustration and tension. An example of this is the so-called tension headache in the back of the head and neck for which doctors frequently prescribe tranquilizers," said Gooch.

Other food symptoms follow the inhalant type such as sore throat, hoarseness, stopped up ears, frequent ear infections, itching of the eyes, ears nose and throat, nasal polyps, post nasal drainage and nasal congestion. Shortness of breath, asthma and wheezing also are aggravated by food allergy, said Gooch.

"Eczema, itching of the skin, with or without rash and acne, are food problems. Arthritis and polyglycemia have both been relieved with treatment of food allergies. Because the body eliminates food through the urinary tract also, urinary frequency, itching and other urinary tract symptoms can be food aggravated."

The physician said infants and small children with food sensitivities may have colic, eczema, diaper rashes, night sweats and behavior and learning problems.

Foods also mask or cover up the symptoms they produce, said the longtime Midland doctor.

"For example, you drink your regular cup of coffee for breakfast and feel fine. About mid-morning you begin to feel headachy, drowsy or even hungry. You have a coffee break, drinking more coffee, and you feel better again. It works like taking an injection for the relief of symptoms except the dose is not correct and by continually repeating this pattern, more food allergy is built up."

"Food masking thus creates the craving for beverages and foods and the need for snack time. For most of us, this creates weight problems."

According to Gooch, food testing does not have to be completed in a short period of time like the inhalants. "The testing periods may be spread out over weeks if necessary. It will take about three to four full days and may be scheduled one-half day per week."

This is the second of a three-part-series

The most highly reactive foods are tested first and food injections are begun following the initial test period so immunity is being built up while being tested. The injections are given twice a week for six to eight weeks and then the time interval is increased to once a week, 10 days or two weeks, or maybe once a month as the patient becomes and remains more comfortable.

The basic tool of a doctor investigating food allergies is diet. Because of this, the four-day food rotation diet is necessary in the treatment of food allergy, along with the injections.

The food rotation diet is based on the premise of the body needing 72 hours to eliminate a food once it is ingested. For example, if beef is eaten on Monday, it cannot be eaten again for three days. On the day the beef is eaten, the patient can eat it all day if desired as long as it doesn't cause any bad reactions.

The three-day wait gives the body time to completely eliminate the food before it's eaten again. This accomplishes two important things: (1) It enables patient to eat foods he or she is sensitive to on a limited basis and (2) It will keep the patient from building up new food sensitivities.

The foods most frequently indicted as allergens are: tea, chocolate, cottonseed, eggs, milk, wheat, soybean, Cheddar cheese, malt, saccharin, chicken, Coca-Cola, peanut, Baker's Yeast, corn, onion, tomato, potato, pinto bean, rice, cane sugar, coffee, black pepper, apple, beef, orange, coconut, vanilla, lettuce, pork, beet sugar, grain alcohol and dextrose.

Allergy patients are urged to plan their menus around as many fresh, simple foods as possible. Frozen foods are second choice. They are warned to stay away from canned foods and foods with many ingredients. Artificial food colorings, flavors and preservatives cannot be tested, so foods with these ingredients should not be used as they are high reactive. They are found especially in instant and ready-to-eat foods and mixes.

The hidden foods, found in small quantities in many foods, are the hardest to rotate. These are eggs, milk, wheat, corn, soybean, sugar, malt, yeast and etc. This is when the allergy patient must read labels.

Using soybean as an example, it's most recent use is as a protein substitute and dietary supplement. It also is the basic of soy sauce and other meat sauces and gravies, even bouillon. As a vegetable oil, it is used in bakery products, salad dressings and mayonnaise, shortening and cooking oils and in all margarines.

On labels, the word lecithin sometimes appears. It is a soybean derivative and is used to prevent drying and to emulsify fats in candy, especially chocolate, in ice cream, sherbet, ice milk and in dry milk and non-dairy products. Breakfast cereals also can contain lecithin. These are just a portion of soybean contact.

"Vegetable oil presents a problem in that foods listing vegetable oil as an ingredient can have any or a portion of all the vegetable oils unless it is specifically identified. These include soybean, corn, peanut, cottonseed or coconut.

Cereal grains also are difficult to rotate, with wheat being the most commonly used. There are several grains so it is possible to rotate them. Rice, for instance, can be used for breakfast as a cereal, either cooked as cream of rice or dry as puffed rice.

Any fruit juice may be used with it to replace milk and sugar. Rice biscuits, which are rice flavored with salt and sesame seed are a good bread substitute for bread. They can be found in health food stores.

Growing evidence indicates that some forms of schizophrenia, manic depression or chronic fatigue can result from eating a common food or inhaling an ordinary substance like dust.

However, research in diet manipulation has so far yielded little new. In the meantime, doctors must contend with the fact that as many as 12 million Americans may be sensitive to ingested or injected chemicals, and that finding the true culprit in any given case can be a long and exhausting job.

Town's mayor guides kids across the street

FARMERSVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The mayor of this small central California city has taken to the streets to help get children to school safely.

No, he's not leaving an initiative to put in sidewalks. He's a school crossing guard.

Herb Jones, 66, a retired truck driver and mayor of Farmersville since 1974, puts in 1½ hours each school day at an intersection near city hall, helping children cross the street safely.

The children come from their homes on both sides of the main street, Farmersville Boulevard. Some head east to an elementary school, while others attend the town's new junior high school.

"Being retired, I haven't much to do and hang around city hall most of the day," Jones said. "So it's not much trouble for me."

Jones was among the first crossing guards hired by the district. He started work in January 1978.

"It seemed to me like it was kind of hard for them to get anybody that wanted to work these few hours," Jones said. "It's kind of a pleasure for me to do it."

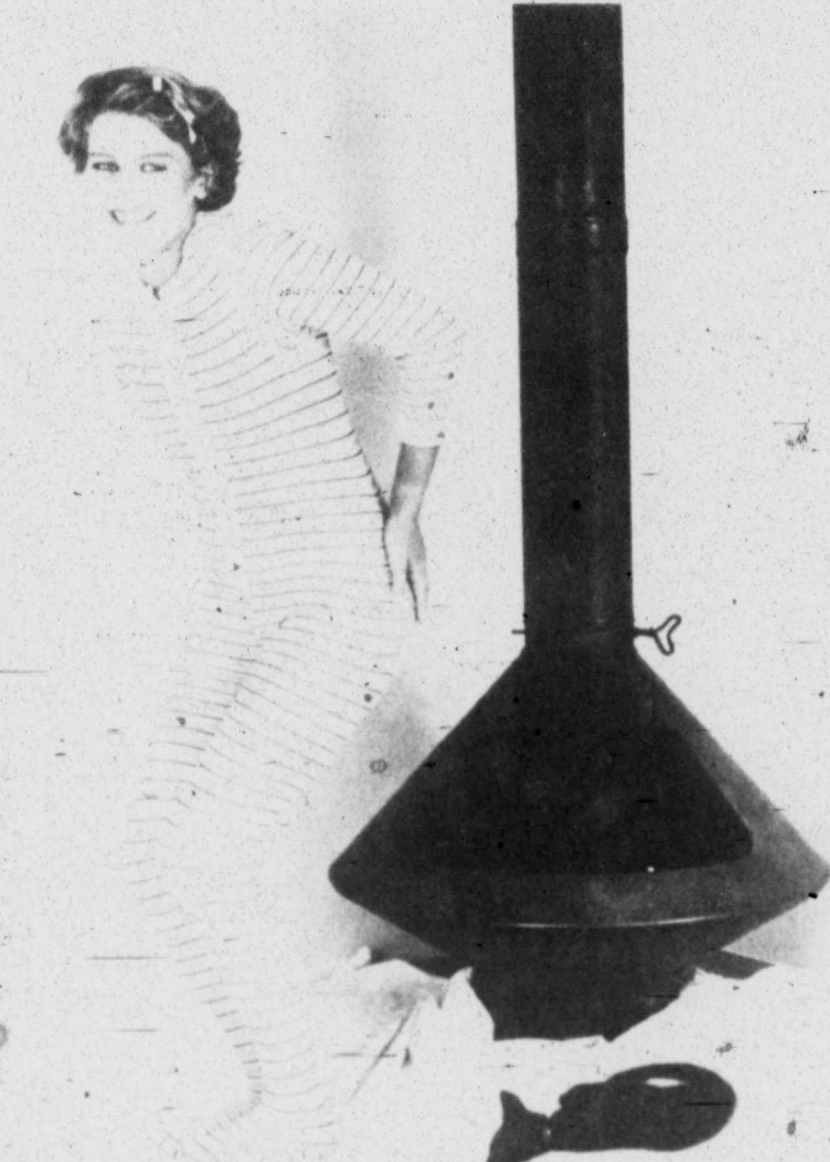

It is not uncommon for the children to offer Jones flowers or candy on their way to school.

There is no lobbying intended, just sheer friendliness, said Jones.

"I meet these little guys on the streets during school vacations and it's a pleasure that they know me," he said. "You see a lot of people and it's never a lonesome job down there."

Called "grandpa" by some of the youngsters, Jones says he has them "pretty well trained" to wait for him before they cross the street and to keep within the crosswalk.

"A few times someone won't stay between the lines, but I don't make a fuss about it," he said. "I always give them the benefit of the doubt."

The fashion industry is cooking up a whole new group of anti-freeze wear for the bedroom based on sportswear, skiwear and camping gear. It also is bringing back cotton flannel classics such as granny gowns, nightshirts, thermal underwear, nightcaps and these terry-striped pajamas with feet. (Los Angeles Times Photo)

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: You enjoy life more this year. Your career carries more responsibility and love and marriage profit from your satisfaction at work. Health should remain strong. Romance becomes more meaningful. Money may be more abundant toward the time of your next birthday.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Social events may prove worthwhile. Your entertaining skills may be much in demand. Keep your ears open and valuable lessons may be learned. Your energy level runs high.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Relationships may be unsettled in the early half of the day. Your negative attitude may be the cause. Try to be positive and work harder to keep family life free from pressures.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Home and family affairs may be more settled. Get caught up on your personal correspondence. Keep well informed by reading material aimed at improving your mind, as well as being entertaining.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Try to make this a family day. Parents may need to take more interest in activities of their children. Do not keep problems bottled up inside you. You may be in for an unexpected treat.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Romance continues to keep you feeling secure. Married Leos should do all they can to strengthen their relationships. Team work produces best results now. Live within your income.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): On the whole, this should be a rewarding Sunday. Recently there may have been some strain in your relationships, but today marriage and romance are on a happier level because of your heart-to-heart talks.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): This may be one of those days that will exceed your expectations! Sports or physical activities should be part of the plan. Your health will improve as a result. Romantic or social life should be more gratifying.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You may be feeling more optimistic about your overall financial condition. Be creative in finding solutions to family difficulties. Give romance a chance!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may be asked to assume a leadership role at a family or church outing. Do not expect everyone to be happy with these arrangements. Have confidence in following your intuition.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 22): Entertaining holds much appeal. Special celebration will likely put you in a party mood. Drink, eat moderately. Be discreet in conversation with others. Someone may be trying to ferret out information.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Simple activities at home may be just as pleasurable as taking a trip. Conserve money. Instead, spend some time reading or write to friends or relatives who live overseas. Your social life becomes more active now and you may not be able to figure out why.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Others may not concur with your personal plans. Travel may have to be postponed. Do not fret, as you may encounter an old friend you have not seen in some time. Avoid being impulsive when entertaining.

Monday, October 15, 1979
YOUR BIRTHDAY: Your innate honesty and careful attention to detail aids in advancing your career goals this year. You may be secretly troubled and unhappy at various times. Overall, however, you will find much pleasure and happiness in the things you are able to do. Family and friends will be more supportive than usual.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Greater profits may mean increased income. You have an acute ability to judge investment situations. Safety is extremely important for those working with machinery or power tools.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Deal with obstacles as they arise. Do not allow your thoughts to jump too far into the future. It is increasingly important that you exercise self-control. Hopes centered on romance may be fulfilled.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Creative activity may prove both personally satisfying and financially rewarding this week. Mentally you will be very alert. Your business judgment should be right on target.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Everything should go according to plan. You will start week in a happy mood. It may not be possible to do certain things on your own. A helping hand could contribute to your financial gain.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): This will be a good day for work if you do not dwell on worrisome problems connected with money. It is pointless to brood. Affairs of the heart may add excitement and spice to your routine.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Solid new business foundations may be laid today. Your range of activities may be extended. Problems can be more easily dealt with if you consult with experts. Be more discreet about romance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Any effort you make to get in better physical shape may prove more successful than you anticipated. Now is time to take firm hand concerning health. If you are overweight diet is a must.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Moving forward with your plan means motivation on your part. Creative effort may pay rich rewards. You may have to deal with financial problems. Be alert to the danger of accidents caused by negligence.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Postpone business appointments until you have time to do your homework—you can increase your bargaining powers. Distant affairs improve due to intervention of a prominent individual.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Postpone business trips. Use public transportation wherever possible. Being more flexible will pay off. Look behind-the-scenes for answers. React spontaneously to romantic overture.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Put forth extra effort in whatever you do. Some overtime may be necessary without pay; you will be rewarded in a different way. New friendship will probably be long-lasting.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Deal with obstacles as they arise. Do not allow your thoughts to jump too far into the future. It is increasingly important that you exercise self-control. Hopes centered on romance may be fulfilled.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Creative activity may prove both personally satisfying and financially rewarding this week. Mentally you will be very alert. Your business judgment should be right on target.

Midland Palette Club members see oil painting presentation

George Maxwell of San Angelo presented a demonstration in oil painting through slides at the monthly meeting of the Midland Palette Club this week.

Meeting was held at the clubhouse, 604 N. Colorado St.

Maxwell's works are currently on exhibit at the Midland Woman's Club through the month of October.

In business session, the group made arrangements for the 12th annual Fall Show and Sale. The event is set to begin the night of Nov. 29 through Dec. 1 at San Miguel Square.

Painting-of-the-month award went to Lucille Kissell for her oil titled "Bluebonnet Trail." The picture will be on display at the Midland National Bank this month.

New members were Morris Murphy, Dora Wahlfeld and Mrs. Ben Pate. Hostesses for the meeting were LaVerne Jones, Mildred Lindsey, Kate Raney and Maria Spencer.

Driving program given area club

MIDKIFF - The Midkiff Study Club met Wednesday in the home of Maydelle Jackson. Refreshments were served prior to a program entitled "You and Your Driving" given in a slide and tape presentation by Department of Public Safety Officer Roger Weaver.

The business meeting was called to order by the president, Bootsie Braden. Pat Hughes led the group in the federation creed and the club collect. Reports were given by committee chairmen.

Nine members present welcomed two new members into the club, Mrs. Lucy Cranford and Mrs. Cookie Holiman. Mrs. Kathy Vinson, a new resident in the area, was a guest.

Marilyn Midkiff will host the club Oct. 23 in the Midkiff Public Library.

Member honored

Ruth Youngblood has been chosen Woman of the Year of the Zeta Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha.

Mrs. Youngblood is the current president of the chapter and treasurer of the Permian Basin Area Assembly of Phi Sigma Alpha.

Mrs. Youngblood received a bachelor of science degree and master of education degree from Sul Ross State University. She taught English 19 years, 17 of which were spent in the Midland Independent School District and two years in the Austwell Independent School District.

Her honors include Phi Theta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Chi honor societies. Her hobbies include reading, playing cards and dominos, traveling and collecting owls. She is planning to make a tour of the Northwestern states and Canada later this summer.

Sewing demo given association members

Ida Tyson demonstrated the making of a velvet top for members of the Junior Woman's Association. She also showed other wardrobe items that she had completed using the "Ann Person Method of Sewing."

Members brought toiletry items to be donated to Teen Challenge.

Plans were discussed for the club's style show to be held Jan. 29.

Special guests were Elizabeth Adair, Terri Barnes, Sallie Kidwell, Sallie Kula and Glenda Pollard.

Jennifer Colwell was hostess. The co-hostesses were Dorothy Blair and Gayle Dodson.

AT WIT'S END

Husband a champion snorer

By ERMA BOMBECK

The loudest snore, according to the Guinness Book of World Records, was measured at 69 decibels at St. Mary's Hospital in London until last night.

The record was broken in the bed next to mine by my husband, who sustained life at a rousing 72 decibels. (Seventy-two decibels is the equivalent of having a cannon go off in the seat next to you in the Astrodome.)

You would expect the snorer to have some compassion for the snoree, but this is never the case. Angry retorts of, "How do YOU know I'm snoring?" have to be documented by lampshades blown off the base, pictures blasted off their hooks and restless farm animals as far as 50 miles away.

Frankly, I'm sick of all the therapist remedies that never seem to work, like self-hypnosis, earplugs and rolling the snorer off his back.

The following are the only methods of relief that have worked for me:

Woman's Club begins new year

The Midland Woman's Club will hold its first monthly luncheon meeting of the 1979-80 club year at 11:30 a.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Hazel Smith, president, invites all "Midland women who are interested in the study of literature, history, science and fine arts to become members and participate in its varied programs. Her theme for the year will be "Women and Changing Times."

Members present this month will be led to do a little bit of soul searching on their own responsibilities, stewardship and relationships to "The Energy Crisis" of today.

The Lt. William Brewer Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, one of the 10 shareholding clubs that make up the Woman's Club, will present the speaker, Steven Suellentrop, of the Atlantic Richfield Oil Co. Speakers Bureau. The speaker, a native of Missouri, where he received his masters degree, will lead a discussion with members following his presentation.

Mrs. Lois Parker is regent for the Lt. William Brewer Chapter, while Mrs. Peggy Fitzgerald is in charge of the program and Mrs. Frank Ittner of the decorations.

Reservations must be made before 9 a.m. on the morning of the luncheon by calling Mrs. Zena Knight, 682-6675.

Change beds: Get the snorer out of his own bed and into a strange one...preferably in another state.

The pillow technique: Get a large fluffy pillow. When the breathing becomes deafening, put it squarely over every opening in his face and hold there until some demands are met.

Forestalling sleep: This one works as well as any I've tried. Just as you are both climbing into bed, get every nerve in his body on alert by offhandedly mentioning, "The IRS called you today, but will call you back tomorrow," or "You seemed so tired today, I hope you don't have the same thing the late Fred Witherall had."

Humiliation route: Place a tape recorder by his bed and the next night when he is watching TV, play it and tell him someone is stealing his car.

Other experts believe you have to get to the root of a husband's reason for snoring. It has been suggested a person snores because he is troubled, his dentures don't fit properly, he indulges in excessive smoking or drinking, has swollen tonsils or suffers from old age.

My husband doesn't snore for any of those reasons. He snores for one thing alone...to annoy me. As I yelled to him the other morning at 3 a.m., "You'd do anything to keep from talking to me."

I thought I saw him smile.

AAUW study groups begin year of activities

"Just as the degrees held by members of the Midland branch of the American Association of University Women reflect a personal intellectual choice, so do the study groups offered," said Mrs. Robert Davis, branch president.

Each biennium, two study topics are selected by national consensus, with individual branches incorporating variations of the subjects into their own programs.

Topics for 1979-80 club year are: "Managing Resources For Tomorrow," and "Families Facing Change."

Study group chairman, Mrs. William Wise, describes the manner in which these topics are adapted. "Our garden group has had programs on the 'Ecological Planning of a West Texas Garden."

Pot Pourri, as the name describes, studies any subject of interest to the group.

The International Group, unique in its makeup, consists of 14 foreign-born and 14 U.S. born women. They find that "families face change" throughout the world these days, and have unlimited opportunity to explore mutual problems.

Midland County Library used book sale brings in a record $6,000-plus profit

Mrs. W.H. Thams is holding one volume of a set of "The Great Books of the Western World" that she was high bidder for at the silent auction held at the Friends of the Library's Annual Used Book Sale. Gerald Hickman, sale chairman, accepts the check for the books from Mrs. Thams. (Staff Photo)

Gerald Hickman, chairman of the 1979 Used Book Sale, has announced that the profit from this year's sale exceeded $6,000.

"It is the most successful sale in the 12 years the Friends of the Midland County Library have sponsored the sale," said Hickman.

Among the 25,000 volumes donated for the sale was a complete set of "The Great Books of the Western World." This set was sold at silent auction with an interested person writing down his bid and placing it in a sealed box, with the buyer determined at the close of the sale. High bidder was Mrs. W.H. Thams.

Also auctioned in this manner were a "Webster Unabridged Dictionary," high bidder being Ed Smith; a "One-Volume Columbia Encyclopedia," that went to L.H. Alexander, and a nine volume set of the "Junior Classics," the high bidder Linda Barnes.

A visitor to Midland, Mrs. Claire D. Maze, attended the Preview Night and was startled to discover some issues of Etude Magazine, which had been delivered to her mother in Temple and still had the address label. The subscription had been a gift from her to her mother in 1938 and her name also appeared on the label. Of course, she bought them. Mrs. Maze is the sister of Mrs. J. Harvey Herd, who donated the magazines.

For first time visitors to the sale, the inexpensive prices of the books were a surprise. One customer, when told her bill for 13 books was $3.25, commented, "That's ridiculous," and promptly donated $10, said Hickman.

Not one of the 3,000 volumes of National Geographic that was on hand when the sale opened remained Sunday night. Only 13 out of 1,000 books remained on the children's book table and less than 35 works of fiction went unsold from a beginning of 2,400. Unsold books were given to the Salvation Army.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to provide items needed in the Midland County Library, with the bulk of the monies being invested for the purchase of furnishings for the planned library addition.

Donations for the 1980 Book Sale are welcomed the designated area at the south entrance of the library after Nov. 1.

School problems don't scare future teachers

By BARBARA RIEGELHAUPT
Associated Press Writer

Sherry Duncan isn't intimidated by the stories of student violence and physical and verbal assaults against teachers. She knows the stories are true, but she's not going to let them frighten her away from her goal.

"I'm just totally turned on to teaching," said Ms. Duncan, 21, an education major at the University of Tennessee at Martin. "I started in high school working with third-graders below first-grade reading level."

"The kids are why I'm going into it," she continued. "There's a lot of violence... but most kids are so great. And at the age I work with, they still want to learn."

Ms. Duncan's comments are echoed by many teachers-to-be, who say they won't be deterred by the problems confronting the profession — including violence, low pay and public criticism casting them as villains in the "Why Can't Johnny Read?" saga.

Many education students interviewed said matter-of-factly that the problems went with the territory, while others expressed optimism that the difficulties could be remedied.

"Every profession has its problems," notes Jose Plata, 21, vice president of the National Education Association's student affiliate. "It's just something we have to cope with."

But many teachers who were among the 110,000 educators physically assaulted in the nation's schools last year are no longer willing to cope.

Thousands of teachers are dropping out of the schools each year, reports the NEA, the nation's largest teacher organization. Some of those calling it quits are relatively young and want a less punishing career; others are taking early retirement.

Of 1,777 veteran teachers questioned in an NEA poll last year, nearly a third said they would not become teachers again if they could go back to college and start over.

"For a long time, the thing for a woman to do was go into teaching," said Ms. Rose, who teaches industrial studies, or "shop."

"You became either a housewife or elementary school teacher — a 'babysitter,' really," she continued. "Those are the people out there now. But the people going into teaching now do it because they really want to teach."

In addition, despite the Jose Platas and Sherry Duncans, the number of college students pursuing teaching degrees declined by more than 40,000 last year — the sixth consecutive year the number of teacher graduates dropped.

Many young people still eager to teach shrug off the dropout statistics, saying they are less likely to become discouraged than are current teachers because they are entering the field knowing what to expect.

Elisa Della Rose, 22, a graduate student at California State University's Los Angeles campus, says many of the current teachers spent decades in classrooms without the serious discipline problems that are a fact of life in schools of the 1970s. And they are simply unprepared to handle such crises.

Joanne Barnes, 31, a student at Glassboro

State College in New Jersey, agrees that many teachers who started in the classrooms 10 or more years ago are encountering trouble now because they have not been able to adapt to the needs of students in the 1970s.

"Society is changing very fast and the kids don't know how to adjust," she said. "I think they want someone to talk to, who would stay after school with them."

Students respect their teachers and want them to be that someone, she says, but many teachers either don't know how to begin or aren't willing to spend the extra time it would take.

"I think maybe we need more programs in schools to help bridge the gaps that have been created because of the rapid development of our society," said Ms. Barnes, who worked as a secretary in an after-school community education program before taking up teaching. Ms. Barnes' point about the amount of time teachers are willing to devote struck home with a number of education majors interviewed; they matter-of-factly stated that teaching was a 24-hour-a-day job.

Begin that Christmas shopping at Annual Day sale activities

Finding that perfect Christmas gift is possible at the Annual Day salad luncheon and sale sponsored by the Midland County Extension Homemakers. The event is set for Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Midland County Exhibit Building on East Highway 80. Beautiful handmade items will be available, with the five area clubs setting up a booth in which they will sell their goods. Gift items will include arts, crafts, paintings and needlework. Homemade pies, cakes, jams, jellies, cookies and candies will also be available.

Lunch, to be composed of a variety of salads prepared by club members, is to be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. Tickets can be purchased from any club member or at the door. Prizes will be awarded and persons do not have to be present to win. Also available will be an opportunity to win a handmade quilt, a comforter, handcrocheted coat sweater and a three-dimensional windmill picture made with galvanized tin. Cookbooks will also be for sale, with all recipes being family favorites of the club members.

CLUB NEWS

NEWTIMERS BRIDGE CLUB

The Newtimers Bridge Club met for bridge games and a luncheon in Ranchland Hills Country Club. New members were Mit Buckles, Bobby Weideman, Edith Gorst and Coney Thomas. Bridge winners were Coney Thomas, high, and Doris McClure and Jewel Creason, tied for second. The club meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at RHCC. Interested persons can contact Mary Renton, 697-1859. Reservations must be telephoned in by Friday mornings before the Tuesday meetings.

TWENTIETH CENTURY STUDY CLUB

A program on the American economy was presented by Chuck Nattinger at a meeting of the Twentieth Century Study Club in the Midland Woman's Club. Mrs. R. L. Denton was hostess. Nattinger stated that the free enterprise system has three vital parts: Private industry, the public sector and the consumer. Private enterprise and profit are the keys to the success of the American free enterprise system, he said. Mrs. Vance Hendricks, president, presided. Members were invited to attend the "Citizens Against Crime" workshops to be held Oct. 24. These workshops are sponsored by the Midland Crime Prevention Commission and will be held at the Girl Scouts' Midland Service Center. The club, through the "Hands Up" program of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Texas Federation of Women's Clubs has been actively engaged in crime prevention projects. Mrs. Richard Story, member of the club, is president of the Midland Crime Prevention Commission.

MIDLAND JUNIOR WOMEN'S CLUB

The Shop for Pappagallo presented a style show for a meeting of the Midland Junior Woman's Club. Brenda Cathren narrated a style show. Loni Wilson gave a facial demonstration and answered questions about skin care. New members introduced were Jan Stromberg, Judy Phelps, Ann Maabadi, Diane Young, Rebecca Fiestler, Pam Pate, Margie McKinney, Mary Lou Westmoreland, Shirley Butts and Carol Kaufman. Guests were Kathy Langley, Barbara Stoltz and Karen Pfister. There will be a trunk showing of "Christmas Fantasy with Fun Designs" from 10 a.m. to noon Nov. 1 in the Midland Woman's Club. The public is invited to attend.

WESTSIDE EXTENSION HOMEMAKERS CLUB

Mrs. David Fawks was elected president of the Westside Extension Homemakers Club during a meeting in the home of Opal Reaves, 2413 Cuthbert St. Other officers named were Mrs. Gaines Webb, vice president; Beulah Phillips, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. C. P. Davis, council delegate. A sandwich luncheon was served and a work session was held for Annual Day, which will be held Oct. 19.

MIDLAND GARDEN CLUB

Midland Garden Club met in Lancaster Garden Center-Museum of the Southwest, for a business session, coffee and flower arranging workshop. Hostesses to the coffee hour were Mrs. C. Bill Coleman, Mrs. Clark Matthews and Mrs. Paul Smyres. Mrs. J. W. McCart conducted the business session. She announced she will attend the fall convention of Texas State Garden Clubs Oct. 30.

Mrs. Coleman, center representative announced a patio sale will be held at the center Nov. 3. Mrs. A. P. Shirey reported a flower show will be held in the center Dec. 1 from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Members of garden clubs associated with the center will enter horticulture items and flower arrangements.

The report from "Lone Star Gardener" was given by Mrs. C. E. Bissell. Mrs. McCart, a life flower show judge, was moderator for the flower arranging workshop, which was followed with a sack luncheon. A Christmas arrangements program by members at the Nov. 1 meeting of the club in the center.

Rumors circulate about The Upper Crust

Have you heard all the rumors about The Upper Crust? Dinner for two will cost you $100. Men have to wear a coat and tie and women can't wear pantsuits. It takes three weeks to get a reservation. A cup of coffee is $2.75. You can't have a drink in the lounge unless you eat dinner too. They are closed one day a week, but no one is sure which one.

Does that sound too rich for your blood? Well, as gossip goes, it is all a lot of exaggeration...

They tell me the only $100 spent for a twosome at dinner included an $80 bottle of wine. The Upper Crust is only slightly more expensive than the local steak places. Two people can have a fantastic dinner with wine for under $30. Lunch will run you $6 a person (and Margueritas and Bloody Marys are 50¢ at lunch!).

As far as a dress code, you would look out of place in a T-shirt, worn out jeans and thongs. But women can and do wear nice jeans and pantsuits. Men don't have to wear coats and ties either.

If you want to call for a reservation because you have a party of 5 or more, or need a birthday cake, or want to make sure and avoid any wait, by all means, call to arrange it. But two ladies at lunch or two couples at dinner can usually be seated within a very short time even without a reservation.

A cup of coffee is 60¢ with unlimited refills and real cream. Yes, there is an Upper Crust Coffee for $2.75. It has 2 oz. of liquor in it, has whipped cream on top, and refills are $2.75.

There is entertainment in the lounge Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights from 7 to 11 P.M. And there is a 2 for 1 Happy Hour seven nights a week from 4 to 7 P.M.

Since The Upper Crust is open seven days a week for lunch and dinner, you don't have to wonder when they are closed. Lunch on Sunday is called Brunch and has some specialty breakfast items plus champagne for 75¢ a glass.

The Upper Crust is the most elegant place to dine in Midland-Odessa. The service is very attentive. Once you arrive you will forget the time, relax, and enjoy the best food you'll find anywhere. The Upper Crust is an affordably elegant restaurant where you will be treated like a guest instead of a customer.

Craftsman makes gold tableware to order

ZEIST, Netherlands (AP) — Wondering what to do with those gold bars stashed away in the vault, just gathering dust?

No problem. Dutch goldsmith and silversmith Albertus Gerritsen will turn them into something useful — knives, forks and spoons — or even plates and fingerbowls if the fancy strikes.

Gerritsen's family has been providing Holland's homes with pots and pans for four generations. His firm, Sola, also produces silverplate and sterling silver, a set of which the government buys for each Dutch ambassador for Holland's embassies around the world.

"My grandfather taught my father and he taught me and now I am teaching him," said the beaming 58-year-old Gerritsen, an arm thrown over the shoulders of his son Albertus, 24, during a tour of their plant, located in this small town east of Utrecht.

"If you don't start young, you'll never learn the touch to making good tableware, and you won't get it when you're older," the older Gerritsen said, rubbing the bowl of a spoon between his thumb and forefinger.

Gerritsen wants to set the tables of the world's staggeringly wealthy with gold tableware, hoping purchasers will consider the items as much an investment as a fantastic luxury.

The Dutch craftsman said he had applied for world patents to a process that will turn the precious, malleable metal into material hard enough to make tableware, but not add to its weight.

"Even sterling is not pure silver. Other metals are added to make it hard enough to use," said Gerritsen.

Each piece of Gerritsen's gold tableware carries four hallmarks of its quality from his goldsmithy and from the Dutch assay office. Each set will also be accompanied by a certificate from Lloyd's of London that it is made of 24-karat gold.

The price, of course, will vary according to the quotations on the gold market, but for $4.5 million Gerritsen can whip up an entire service for 36, with plates, of 3,312 troy ounces of gold. A similar collection for 36 of 1,517 troy ounces without the plates can be had for a mere $2.1 million.

One's own gold may be used, but it must be of the highest quality; three times the amount needed for the actual set must be provided because of the leeway needed for the work, and an 8 percent loss in the amount must be reckoned due to waste.

"This is obviously not for everybody," said Ted Veenendaal of Off

Export, the firm that is handling Gerritsen's gold tableware for export to the United States and the Middle East.

"We anticipate sales to those who are looking for an investment. You can't show your friends your gold bars in the safe, so why not invite them to dinner and show them what you're worth?"

Veenendaal travels with a 500-pound sample case, armored cars and three bodyguards when he sells his wares.

Gerritsen and his son oversee the tableware factory, where dozens of huge green machines stamp out strings of knives and spoons from silver plates as if they were patterns for paper dolls.

"There are about 45 steps to making stainless-steel silverware, but with silver and gold, you have to be much more careful," said the younger Gerritsen. Underneath every workman's bench are plastic cloths to catch gold and silver leavings, and each worker must give up his or her work coat at the end of the day to be dusted for scrap.

Only master silversmiths who have worked in the factory for about a dozen years are chosen to work on the gold orders, Gerritsen said.

The sets can take anywhere from two to 12 weeks to produce, depending on the size of the order, he said.

As colder weather descends upon the north, those of us lucky enough to live in the Southwest will be receiving letters from distant friends and long-lost relatives and — guess who's getting company?

It's always fun to show off your new home for the first time, and especially fun when the visitors are enjoying your part of the country as a new adventure. We entertained our first visitors in June, and even though we discovered that the Permian Basin can't be described as the entertainment capitol of the nation, we had a fine time.

THE FIRST THING we did was to check the "Window on West Texas" column in the Reporter-Telegram for a complete listing of what was happening and when. Our first evening out was at the Summer Mummies. We all love old-time melodramas whether they're on river boats or in Legion Halls and we entered into the spirit of things with gusto. The film clips were a new slant and were especially well done!

Another evening, we cheered the Midland Cubs at the ballpark and later, the younger ones went "country swinging" at a local club.

WE SPENT an afternoon at the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum and found it fascinating. One of the guests had been a water well driller until his retirement, so he enjoyed and understood the displays and terminology perfectly, but even we "greenhorns" became interested and educated. The museum helped us to appreciate what a truly unique part of the country this is.

That afternoon led to a further adventure later in the week, when we visited a drilling site for some on-the-spot excitement. We also enjoyed visits to the Planetarium and the Museum of the Southwest.

We soon learned that Midland and Odessa are about the same as other cities their size, when it comes to dining. There are a few very good restaurants and dining-rooms; many which would be rated good to fair, and then those which don't rate a second visit. Luckily, with some advice, we avoided the third category, but we did enjoy local specialties of steak, seafood, barbecue and Mexican.

OF COURSE, we cooked our own special favorites at home, and found select meat cuts in several excellent meat markets. All the spices and other ingredients as well as top grade fresh fruits and vegetables were available at produce and super markets, and gourmet items and cheeses were plentiful in specialty stores.

Our visitors were impressed by the size of the airport and the majestic skyline, and felt that Midland would, indeed, be a nice place to live in a great climate. St. Louis and Chicago were exciting cities in which to entertain, but we have lived in some towns that were woefully lacking in entertainment and good food. At least Midland offers more to do than to "go down to the A&P and watch them unload trucks."

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The Newcomers Club of Midland Thursday will meet at Ranchland Hills Country Club for a luncheon. A demonstration on hair styling will be given by The Bushwackers.

Registration will begin at 10:45 a.m. Reservations can be made by calling 694-7428 by Tuesday.

City couple says vows

Terri Suzanne Branch and Richard A. Sparks Jr. were married Oct. 5 in a garden ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Sparks, 80 Katie Lane.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Branch, 2902 Delano Ave.

The 7 p.m. ceremony was officiated by Winston Bell.

Mike Lewis served as best man and Pam Branch, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid.

Grady Steen and Scott Compton seated the guests. Karlyn Lewis served as tranbearer for the bride.

The bridegroom is employed at Dick Sparks Pipe and Supply.

The couple will make their home at 4405 N. Garfield, No. 623.

The Permian Basin Geophysical Society honored Paul L. Davis of Midland, center, last week by making him a lifetime member of the organization. With him are Pete Renick, PBGS president, and Jeff Poyer, treasurer. Davis, a founding member of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, also accepted a $1,000 check presented by the society to the museum. The money will be used to promote geophysical history exhibits. Davis started his geophysical career with Roxana Petroleum (now Shell Oil Co.) in 1926. He moved to West Texas in 1929 and became an independent oil operator in 1937.

House leaders searching for way to overturn vote lifting price controls

By TOM RAUM

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders are searching for a way to overturn a vote to lift price controls from gasoline, an action one critic says could lead to $2-a-gallon gas.

The House voted by a slim 191-188 margin Friday to immediately lift all price and allocation controls on gasoline.

Even though gasoline prices have risen sharply this year to more than $1 a gallon, the increases have all been under the framework of federal price controls that generally prohibit increases that cannot be justified under a complicated set of regulations.

Under the House vote, oil retailers could set their prices at whatever the market would bear.

Sponsors of the amendment to free prices claimed federal price regulations were making shortages worse without protecting consumers from higher prices. Gasoline is the only petroleum product that remains under price controls established in 1973.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., chairman of the House energy and power subcommittee, predicted the move could send prices at the pump soaring towards $2 a gallon.

"It guarantees massive increases in prices, especially if there is a shortage," Dingell said. "It leaves the American consuming public naked to any shutoff of supplies or a panicky market."

Later in the day, oil industry and U.S. government sources said Iran apparently has drastically cut its oil exports in recent days, a development that could have serious consequences in the United States if the reduction continues.

The suspension of Iranian oil last winter was cited as a key cause of shortages that caused long gasoline lines and sharply higher prices for petroleum products.

According to U.S. government figures, Iran supplies about 900,000 barrels of oil a day to the United States, about 6 percent of daily consumption.

Supporters of gasoline deregulation — and even some of its opponents — disputed that prices would rise as high as Dingell predicted.

Another vote on the issue will be held early next week as the House continues work on the overall bill, a measure authorizing Department of Energy programs. Although it is working on a companion measure, the Senate has yet to take up the issue of gasoline price decontrol.

Dingell told reporters he was hopeful of mustering the votes to overturn Friday's narrow approval when the matter comes up again next week.

"The allocation system has had a disruptive effect on gasoline supplies," claimed Rep. James A. Courter, R-N.J., sponsor of the decontrol amendment.

The vote on his proposal followed House action Thursday affirming President Carter's decision to phase out price controls on domestic crude oil by mid-1981. House members also rejected attempts to slap price lids back on home heating oil and diesel fuel.

Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., accused colleagues Friday of becoming a "decontrol Congress," a course he said was delivering consumers to the mercy of the big oil companies.

However, he conceded that he saw some logic in lifting the gasoline controls now that price lids are gone from most other oil products. And he said he also doubted gasoline would climb to the $2 a gallon figure cited by Dingell.

House leaders said a general unhappiness with the allocation system was one factor in approval of the decontrol amendment. They said another was the fact that a number of lawmakers from the East who might have voted against the measure had already left town for the weekend.

And some congressional sources said that lack of a clear-cut White House position on the amendment helped carry it to passage.

The Carter administration had originally intended to remove controls from gasoline prices, but had held off after last year's cutoff of Iranian supplies sent prices soaring and created a tight market.

In related developments Friday:

—Energy Secretary Charles Duncan said growing home heating oil supplies have begun to bring about lower prices. "In the past several weeks, the price trend has been softening, and that's very good news," Duncan told reporters at the White House. Duncan spoke after President Carter reported that the administration will meet its goal of having 240 million barrels of home heating oil in "primary reserves" by the end of October.

—Sen. Russell Long, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, suggested a $10 per month special payment to welfare recipients as part of a program for helping low-income Americans pay this winter's heating bills. But Long emphasized that his proposal was simply a basis for committee discussion. The panel adjourned for the week Friday still far from agreement on a plan for distributing money raised from the proposed "windfall profits" tax.

DiBona hints of heating oil 'glut' in nation this winter

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Charles J. DiBona says the nation may have more heating oil than it needs if supply lines stay open through the winter.

"Perhaps enough to soften the domestic market a bit, maybe even a glut," said DiBona.

"But if there are problems and world crude oil markets tighten we may slip to the other side of that razor's edge very quickly."

At 47, DiBona is oil's top spokesman in Washington as president of the American Petroleum Institute.

DiBona, who holds degrees in engineering, philosophy, politics and economics, says the sad truth is there are as many variables in the U.S. petroleum supply situation as there are countries that supply the nation even small amounts of crude oil.

"The Saudis supply about 20 percent of our crude oil imports," he said. "Right now, their production is fluctuating."

He said Saudi Arabia has raised its planned crude oil output until the end of the year but has announced it will then go back to the original level.

"We know they are sharply critical of U.S. Mideast policy and, it is said, depending on whom you listen to, they are displeased with our attempts to build a strategic oil reserve as insurance against an embargo," he said.

"So we're never quite sure whether we'll be getting all the Saudi oil we want and our dependence on the political stability and continued good will of this nation cannot help but influence the overall direction of U.S. foreign policy," DiBona said.

He then turned to Nigeria, the second largest crude oil supplier for the United States.

"Recently, in protest against Britain's foreign policy in Rhodesia, Nigeria nationalized British Petroleum's holdings in that nation," he said. "Nigeria has expressed dissatisfaction over U.S. policies in southern Africa."

Exploration firm formed

HOUSTON — The El Paso Company has formed a new subsidiary, El Paso Exploration Co., which will be responsible for geological leasehold acquisition and production activities.

The subsidiary is headed by veteran exploration-oriented personnel from other El Paso subsidiaries, Travis Petty, chairman of El Paso, said.

Petty is president of the new subsidiary, and T. W. Bittick is executive vice president and chief operating officer. C. T. Hollenshead has been named vice president — Geology; L. G. Truby is vice president — Production, and D. N. Canfield is vice president — Land.

Petty said "the formation of this exploration company demonstrates El Paso's long-term commitment to gas exploration and production." He said that last year El Paso spent about $105 million on exploration and production and the budget this year is $135 million.

LeGrande on program

The Petroleum Accountants Association will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Ranchland Hill Country Club.

The speaker will be J. L. LeGrande, professor and coordinator Criminal Justice and Criminal Justice Management at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin, will be the speaker. His topic will be "Property Law: Some Thoughts on Legal Vestiges of The Past."

LeGrande earned a B.S. degree in Business at Central State University, Edmond, Okla., and his Juris Doctor from the College of Law, University of Oklahoma.

Committee to fete officials

Officials of Cities Service Oil Co. from Tulsa, Okla., and Midland will be guests of honor at a reception given by The Midland Wildcat Committee, from 5 to 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Petroleum Club.

The Cities Service group will be headed by Charles J. Waidelick, president. Others in his party will include Jim Wood, executive vice president; Ray Dodson, Bob Sampson, Jack Phillips and Lox Stayton, all vice presidents from Houston, and Charles Hartwell, general manager of the firm's Midland-based Southwest Division.

Robert L. Wood is chairman of the host organization's executive committee.

Recently, Nigeria decided not to raise its crude prices above the current OPEC ceiling. But it may tack on surcharges that would have the same effect.

DiBona said Libya, the third largest supplier, has recently announced it will readjust the quantities of oil purchased under long-term contracts.

"Combined with earlier cutbacks, these adjustments may reduce the expected supplies of some American oil companies by as much as one-half," he said.

"This oil may be diverted through different channels to other companies, American or foreign. It's not clear what effect these adjustments will have on the price or amount of U.S. oil supplies, but the changes will cloud the outlook for some time."

And so, DiBona added, the list goes on "to Algeria which has cut its crude oil exports by 25 percent since August, to Iran whose stability is a day-to-day question, to Mexico which wants to link the question of illegal immigration with access to its oil supplies, to Indonesia, Venezuela, Canada, Iraq and beyond."

"Our freedom from oil shortages today depends on the willingness of all these countries to sell us adequate amounts of oil," he said.

"The United States may have enough oil to get us through this month, and next month, and next year. But our susceptibility to oil supply interruption is exerting continuous and unrelenting pressure on the well being of this country. Until we reduce our vulnerability to these interruptions, we'll be living on the razor's edge."

Lead balls slow flow

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico's national oil company, Pemex, has credited a stream of steel and lead balls for stemming the flow of oil from its runaway Ixtoc 1 oil well in the Gulf of Mexico.

A spokesman said Friday 108,000 tennis ball-sized spheres have been pumped down the maverick well in a heavy solution in recent weeks and have "formed a packing which impedes the flow of oil and reduces the volume."

However, officials noted that the flow of oil could increase again at any time.

The spokesman did not say how much of the spill had been stemmed. Crude oil had gushing out at a rate of about 425,000 gallons a day, totaling more than 110 million gallons since the offshore test well in Campeche Bay blew out on June 3.

Oil from the spill has drifted as far north as the southern Texas coast where it splattered white sand tourist beaches.

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said natural gas was still leaking through the packing and continues to burn in a giant torch rising out of the sea at the well site, 56 miles off the Mexican shipping village of Ciudad del Carmen.

Several Mexican newspapers reported Friday that the flow of oil had been stopped. The Pemex spokesman denied the reports.

Werner now with Canyon

Steve R. Werner has joined Canyon Pipe Line Corp. in Midland as staff engineer, reports Ed Moses, president of the company.

Werner joined Canyon from Shell Oil Co. where he worked in the Production Department and was involved in engineering management and project engineering.

Werner is responsible for management of engineering and construction activities. He was graduated from Texas Tech University with a B.S. degree in Mechanical Engineering and is a registered professional engineer in Texas.

Valdis R. Daiga

AICE slates Daiga talk

The Permian Basin Section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Coor's hospitality room on U.S. 80 between Midland and Odessa.

Valdis R. Daiga, project manager for Owens-Illinois, Inc., Toledo, Ohio, will present the program, "Commercial Building and Industrial Applications for Solar Energy."

The speaker was graduated from the University of Toledo with B.S. and M.S. degrees in Chemistry. Since 1975, he has been a project manager on the SUNPAK solar collector development program, responsible for planning, sales and implementation of SUNPAK solar products for Owens-Illinois. He has been associated with the company since 1965.

His professional organization affiliations include the National Society of Professional Engineers and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Reefs topic of meeting

C. W. Achauer, senior research geologist with ARCO Oil & Gas Co. in Dallas, will be the speaker for the Tuesday meeting of the Permian Basin Section of the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists.

The event will begin at 11:30 a.m. in the Midland Hilton.

Achauer's topic will be "Contrast in Cementation, Dissolution, and Porosity Development Between Two Lower Cretaceous Reefs of Texas."

Loggers to hear Aguilera

Dr. Roberto Aguilera, an international consultant headquartered in Dallas, will present the program for the Thursday meeting of the Permian Basin Well Logging Society in the Midland Country Club.

The event will get under way at 11:30 a.m.

Aguilera is a petroleum engineer graduate of the Universidad de America at Bogota, Colombia, and he earned his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in Petroleum Engineering at the Colorado School of Mines.

He has worked for Texaco in Colombia and the United States, for H. K. van Poolen and Associates in the U.S., Exxon (Intercol) in Colombia, Cities Service in Argentina and Soquip in Quebec.

As a consultant, he has been involved in reservoir studies in the Middle East, South America, and the United States, and has presented the short course, "Naturally Fractured Reservoirs," in the U.S. and South America.

Desk & Derrick seminar to be held in Tall City

The Desk and Derrick Club of Midland will sponsor a seminar Saturday on "Exploring for Knowledge — Land and Legal in the Midland Hilton."

The instructors will be Jack Huff, a Midland independent oil operator, and Robert C. Bledsoe, a Midland attorney.

Other speakers will be Vicki Bailey of Midland, a member of the Independent Petroleum Association of America's speakers bureau, and Lurline W. Andrus, Washington, D.C., president-elect of the Association of Desk and Derrick Clubs.

Huff will cover the land segment of the seminar, and Bledsoe will conduct the legal segment.

The seminar will begin with a get-together at the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame Friday at 7 p.m. That affair will feature "Time Out at the Derrick Floor Saloon," with boomtown films and tours through the museum. Registrants and their escorts are invited.

The seminar will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Huff was graduated from The University of Texas Law School and has been a Midlander since 1950.

Bledsoe earned a B.B.A. degree at The University of Texas at Austin, and also earned his L.L.B. degree at the university's law school. He is a partner in Cotton, Bledsoe, Tighe, Morrow and Dawson.

Panel members for the afternoon workshop are Kitty Adams, division secretary for Pauley Petroleum, Inc.; Martha Elder, corporate officer with Robert D. Fitting & Associates; Anne Fleming, land secretary for Joseph I. O'Neill Jr.; Joyce Lovett, corporate officer for Bernold M. Hanson, and Pete Minnerly, accountant for Henry Petroleum Corp.

The registration fee is $20 for D&D members and $25 for non-members.

General arrangements chairman is Willie Mae Armstrong, with Cola Petroleum, Inc.

Permian Basin rotary rig total climbs to 294

Another increase in drilling activity in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico was recorded by Reed Rock Bit Co. as 294 rigs were spotted in the two-state area.

Last weeks tally was 285 rigs and a year ago at this time the Reed survey counted 254 rigs.

Lea County, N.M., kept its lead with 39 rigs going, having decreased activity by two from the last count.

Pecos County, the West Texas leader, reported a gain of one and 27 rigs making hole.

Eddy County lost one unit from last week with 24 rigs turning to the right.

Andrews County picked up two units as 15 rigs were spotted, while Reagan County followed with 13.

Crockett, Howard and Ward counties each reported 11 units working. The previous count showed Crockett with 9, Howard 11 and Ward 9.

Other drilling activity as recorded on the Reed survey is listed in the table below.

Qualified Printers, 2803 N. Big Spring St., is keeping up with today's trends by adding computerized typesetting equipment. Many new services are made possible by this new hardware, including an unlimited potential for information storage.

Qualified Printers has computerized potential

Qualified Printers, located at 2803 N. Big Spring St., has served Midland for 15 years. It is a family business owned by the Rhodens, and their highly professional printing operation offers both today's technology and yesterday's craftsmanship.

Since 1964, when the business was formed, Qualified Printers has added qualified personnel and sophisticated machinery through the years to keep pace with Midland's growth. They recently expanded typesetting capabilities by becoming almost unlimited through the acquisition of computer terminals. Publications, directories, accounting and business reports — any printed material can be stored in the computer "banks."

Four-color process printing is a specialty of Qualified Printers. Anything from sales promotions to annual reports can be done professionally, effectively.

Office forms, letterhead and envelopes which can be sent out with pride are specialties at Qualified.

In the binder department, there is an automatic book stitcher which will modernize and upgrade their bindery production, giving them faster results with less spoilage.

To learn just how pleasant it is to do business with the people at Qualified Printers, 2803 N. Big Spring St., bring in your specifications for the printing you need done, and they will gladly prove their professionalism to you.

1980 economic policies should help industry, says Mrs. Kreps

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — U.S. economic policies in the 1980s should be designed to help the nation's industries compete more effectively in world markets, Commerce Secretary Juanita M. Kreps said Saturday.

Mrs. Kreps, who will leave her Cabinet post at the end of the month, told businessmen meeting here that current government strategies "are inadequate" as nations of the world become more interdependent.

"Economic policy should shift its emphasis to the supply side," she said. "Policies that affect the supply side are those that influence long-term economic growth and industrial development."

Mrs. Kreps, an economist, addressed the closing session of the fall meeting of Business Council, the council, made up of corporate executives, has met regularly since the late 1920s to discuss government policy.

Mrs. Kreps offered the businessmen "an agenda for the 1980s" aimed at "strengthening its (U.S.) capacity to produce and to compete abroad."

She said U.S. investment in industry is lagging far behind other nations. Investment in the United States equals about 10 percent of the nation's total output of goods and services, compared to 20 percent in Japan, she said.

Objectives of U.S. policy in the next decade, she said, should include:

- Balancing the federal budget and reducing regulatory policies "that serve only to increase costs and prices without providing commensurate benefits."
- Cutting business taxes.
- Improving government support of basic research and exchange of technological information.
- Reducing U.S. dependence on imported oil.

—Training people for jobs in industries likely to grow in the future.

—Re-examining anti-trust policies "to take account of worldwide practices."

—Expanding exports.

Without policies aimed at encouraging economic growth, productivity and investment, Mrs. Kreps concluded, "we shall not achieve the decade of genuine economic progress deserving of a great nation."

Mrs. Kreps, the first woman to head the Commerce Department, told President Carter recently that she will leave the post for "personal family reasons." No successor has been nominated.

Farmers harvesting record corn crop for record sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — A record corn crop of 7.39 billion bushels is being harvested by farmers this fall, grain that will provide most of the feed to produce meat, poultry and milk in the coming year, the Agriculture Department said Friday.

The huge harvest also is expected to help satisfy a growing demand for U.S. grain in foreign countries, including potential record sales of grain to the Soviet Union.

Based on field surveys as of Oct. 1, the new estimate was up 309 million bushels — 2 percent — from the forecast a month ago. Last year's harvest, also a record, was 7.08 billion bushels.

Deputy Secretary Jim Williams, said after reviewing the new report that "it's hard to tell" at this time whether the Soviet Union will buy all of the 25 million metric tons of corn and wheat the United States recently said they could purchase in 1979-80.

Department officials also indicated the 1979 Soviet grain crop prospects have declined further but Williams said "it will be about 60 days before we get a firm idea from the Russians on what (their crop) actually was."

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland predicted last week the Soviet Union would buy the entire 25 million metric tons now authorized, an increase of about 10 million tons from their purchases in the year that ended on Sept. 30.

The department's Crop Reporting Board also estimated a 1979 soybean crop of 2.21 billion bushels, up 18 percent from the 1978 harvest of 1.84 billion bushels. Last month's forecast was 2.17 billion bushels.

Corn is the largest U.S. grain crop by far and is most important as livestock feed and for export to other countries. Soybeans, when crushed, yield high-protein meal for livestock feed plus vegetable oil for cooking, margarine and other purposes.

In the report on Soviet grain production, USDA estimated the total 1979 grain harvest at 175 million metric tons, down 26.2 percent from last year's record 237.2 million.

A month ago, USDA estimated the Soviet grain crop at 180 million metric tons.

By comparison, the U.S. corn harvest alone this year equals 187.7 million metric tons, according to the new estimate.

A metric ton is about 2,205 pounds and, for example, is equal to 39.4 bushels of corn or 36.7 bushels of wheat.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service said the new Soviet grain harvest estimate — including reductions from a month ago in both wheat and coarse grains such as corn — "reflects a reduced estimate of spring grains" in the European area and "lower spring wheat yields in West Siberia and the South Urals."

Allen Frasier, owner, and Raymond Kennedy, shop manager, are proud of the service of ARC Truck & Auto Body at 2700 W. Francis, west of Cottonflat Road. They try harder; they offer excellent work for a reasonable price.

ARC Truck & Auto Body work good, reasonable

ARC Truck & Auto Body repair shop is the largest independent body shop in Midland. It is a relatively new business, and the personnel there are eager to please, and have a total of more than 100 years experience among them. Allen Frasier is the owner, who invites any interested person to check into what ARC has to offer.

ARC Truck & Auto Body has a paint room which can accommodate diesel rigs. A complete, factory-type paint job is priced $289.95.

Frame straightening is done by the capable people at ARC. Their equipment for this job is made by Blackhawk-Mitek.

ARC provides 24-hour wrecker service. The number is 682-9722. Free estimates are given on all necessary repairs.

There is a comfortable, attractive, quiet waiting room for ARC customers. In the event of a major repair job, there are loaner cars available for the customer's transportation while the repairs are being completed.

It would be wise to jot down the phone number of ARC Truck & Auto Body shop, 682-9722, keep it in your billfold, and if you need their excellent, reasonably priced services, they will respond.

Miniature backyard railroad becomes tourist attraction

HINTON, W. Va. (AP) — More than a decade ago, railroad man Ralph Bostic unwittingly created a tourist attraction when he built a miniature railroad for his granddaughter in his back yard.

Since then, his granddaughter has grown, and so has her railroad. Children and parents from miles around visit the 85-foot railroad track complete with engine, cars, depot and railroad tower.

The month-long task of building the electric engine was successful, despite claims from neighbors that the engine, made from a grease drum, stove pipe, milk strainers and coffee cans, would never run.

"But it never stopped throughout the years, except when I put it 'on strike' several years ago when the 'big railroad men' went on strike," said Bostic, 64, now retired from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. He said the strikers needed support.

Passersby in the old railroad town of Hinton can look down over an underpass and see the train dubbed JRR 5, John's Railroad.

The train was named by Bostic's granddaughter, Tammy Honts, who said she called herself "John" when she was younger. She's 19 today, and says the train is her prize possession; she still rides it.

The miniature train has been taken to many Hinton Water Festival Parades. And for those special events Bostic says he hooks up a smoke stack.

"When the train went by, it put black smoke out its stack to give it that original look," said Bostic who worked on the railroad for 19 years.

And the visitors keep coming to Bostic's back yard.

Chrysler rebates reduce inventory of unsold cars

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp.'s rebates reduced its inventory of unsold cars to the lowest of the Big Three producers, a trade publication reports.

This week's edition of Ward's Automotive reports puts Chrysler's stocks at 234,000 cars on Sept. 30, a close-to-normal 62-day supply. A year ago, Chrysler's stocks were a swollen 103 days' worth.

On Aug. 31, Chrysler and its dealers had a 77-day supply on hand.

Supplies at General Motors Corp. rose from a below-normal 54 days to 63 days at the end of September. A year previous, GM had only 30 days on hand.

Kestrels moving

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Kestrel hawks are moving into Czech towns and building their nests on high-rise buildings and on electricity pylons.

Each young kestrel eats up to 30 mice a day.

Police said he walked into a convenience food store in Painesville Township wearing nothing but a pair of men's briefs over his head.

Interests of U.S. to be 'asserted'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reubin Askew says he intends "to assert fully to every extent possible" the interests of the United States in foreign trade.

Askew, former governor of Florida, spoke Tuesday at ceremonies during which he took the oath of office as a special ambassador for U.S. trade negotiations. He replaces Robert Strauss, who resigned to become Carter's special ambassador to the Middle East.

Askew said he plans to work closely with private businessmen in his new role.

Ski Patrol being 'snowed under'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A representative of the National Ski Patrol System says the volunteer group may have to disband and abandon its search and rescue missions unless Congress grants it a national charter.

Luanne Skinner of Ogden, Utah, former assistant national director of the organization, told the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday the group is being "snowed under" by separate paperwork requirements in the 13 states where it operates. A federal charter would eliminate most of that. Such charters are not as easy to come by as they used to be, however. The last one granted, in 1971, was to the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Other nationally chartered organizations include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and American Red Cross.

Oil Industry Notes

FINDLAY, OHIO — C. E. Kallsen has been named by Marathon Oil Co. to serve as senior staff geologist, production exploration, for the United States and Canada. He previously was a geologic supervisor, exploration, Canadian oil and gas exploration and production at Calgary. His appointment will be effective Nov. 1.

TULSA — In a restructuring of its executive management, Chase Exploration Corp. of Tulsa has named Ralph W. Jackson vice chairman of the board. He was president of Chase. Arthur R. Pool now is president, advancing from executive vice president. Charles L. Rogers is the new executive vice president — Finance, and Jerome W. Weikel was named controller. Jerald M. Schuman continues as chairman of the board.

TULSA — R. C. McComb, 21-year veteran of United States Steel Corp. has joined The Bovaired Supply Co.'s general office in Tulsa as assistant to Raymond E. Batchelor Jr., executive vice president and general manager. McComb had been in charge of U.S. Steel's downriver inventories.

CORPUS CHRISTI — The formation of Sparkman Energy Corp. has been announced by Wallace C. Sparkman, president and chief executive officer. Larry Kalas, formerly with Mogul Petroleum, has joined Sparkman as vice president and treasurer. The company's assets consist of a 100 percent interest in an 85-mile offshore natural gas pipeline, interests in 60 producing oil and gas wells in North and West Texas and acreage contiguous to the wells.

DALLAS — Southeast Exploration, Inc., a Dallas-based publicly-owned oil and gas production firm has announced the acquisition of El Dorado Exploration Co., a privately held oil and gas exploration and drilling company based in Oklahoma City. The purchase included Warrior Drilling Co., El Dorado's drilling division. The acquisition is valued at approximately $5.2 million. Effective with the merger, the new president of Southeast will be C. C. Sellers. He was president of El Dorado Exploration. The board members include Scott Heape, Dallas; Byron McGough, Nacadoches; John Hazleton, Norman, Okla.; Carl B. Kendrick, Sellers and Joe R. Love, all of Oklahoma City. Prior to becoming president of El Dorado, Sellers was employed by Sohio Petroleum Co., 32 years.

HOUSTON — Glenn Norris has been named director of administration for Crutcher Resources Corp. He had served as personnel director for the last 10 years. He is responsible for the overall performance of the Personnel Department, Administrative Services Department, and the Insurance Services Department of the CRC and CRC Pipeline Groups.

AMARILLO — Mesa Petroleum Co. announced it has completed the sale of its Canadian oil and gas properties and related facilities and equipment to Dome Petroleum, Ltd. Consideration was approximately $60 million (Canadian) in cash at closing, $148 million (Canadian) interest-bearing obligations payable Jan. 2, 1980, and $446.5 million (Canadian) interest-bearing term royalty on the producing properties. Mesa retained a 12.5 percent gross overriding royalty interest in the undeveloped properties consisting of approximately 1.2 million net acres.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. — J. Lucian Smith, former president and chief operating officer of the Coca-Cola Co., has been elected to the board of directors of Phillips Petroleum Co. He will join the board Nov. 1, reports W. F. Martin, Phillips chairman and chief executive officer.

NEW ORLEANS, La. — Newpark Resources, Inc., announced an agreement in principle to acquire Eagle Mud Service, Inc., an Oklahoma, Texas and Rocky Mountain distributor of drilling mud products and services, for an undisclosed amount of stock and other considerations.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Harold H. Hammer, executive vice president, Gulf Oil Corp., has been elected to the company's board of directors. Hammer joined Gulf in 1972 as chief financial officer and senior vice president. He was elected executive vice president in 1973.

HOUSTON — Moran Bros., Inc., has announced two additions to its Houston staff.

Kevin Loud joined the firm as treasury analyst. Loud was relocated from New York City and will work at the North Belt office.

J. C. Mitchell joined the company as division controller. He previously was with Mobil Oil Corp. in New Orleans. He also will work out of the North Belt office.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Apache Corp. reported that drilling expenditures by Apache and its oil and gas programs are expected to reach a record $160 million in 1979, a 25 percent increase over the $120 million drilling budget announced earlier this year.

Apache's share of the budget is scheduled at approximately $65 million. Raymond Plank, Apache chairman, said the increase is due to the combination of the 45 percent increase in Apache program sales for 1979, the company's continuing level of deep drilling in the Anadarko Basin and increased availability of drilling prospects.

Venezuela will hike crude prices today

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela will raise its export price for residual fuel oil by an average 8.3 percent starting today, becoming the third major petroleum producer to announce a price hike this week.

The Venezuelan Energy and Mines Ministry said the new prices reflect "a favorable market situation" and noted rates set by Venezuela, the largest exporter of residual fuel oil, tend to dominate the market.

Venezuela, one of 13 members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, exports a daily average of 500,000 barrels of the product, left after gasoline and other derivatives are refined from crude oil, and burned primarily by generating plants and ships.

The export price for Venezuela's lowest sulfur content residuals will jump from $24.60 to $26.75 per barrel. Residuals with the heaviest sulfur content acceptable for export will jump from $18.15 to $19.63 per barrel.

On Monday Mexico, not an OPEC member, said it would raise its price for crude oil exports by $2 to $24.60 a barrel retroactive to Oct. 1.

The government-owned Pemex oil company sells 440,000 barrels a day to the United States out of 530,000 barrels in daily exports. Mexico has raised prices three times from January rates of $14.10 a barrel.

On Tuesday Kuwait, another OPEC member, raised prices 10 percent to $21.43 a barrel for the estimated 2 million barrels of crude oil it pumps daily. Kuwait's rate is still below the OPEC base price ceiling of $23.50 a barrel.

In other oil developments, the Japanese government announced last week it would invest $88.5 million to finish a massive Japanese-Iranian petrochemical complex in Bandar Khomeini, on Iran's Persian Gulf coast. Completion of the project has been delayed by political unrest in Iran.

Deep rig work increases

DALLAS — Rotary rigs for 3,000 foot and deeper U.S. drilling increased by 331 during the 12-month period ending in mid-August to total 3,182, reports in the October issue of Drilling-DCW magazine. The census is conducted August to August each year by Reed Rock Bit Company for the Dallas-based trade publication.

Demand for rigs increased 3.2 percent in 1979, the census shows, but failed to keep pace with the 11.6 percent increase in rigs available.

Rig utilization slipped from just under 97 percent in 1977 and nearly 98 percent in 1978 to more nearly 90 percent in 1979.

The number of rotary rigs available for 3,000 feet and deeper drilling in 1979 increased in all U.S. areas except Alaska (down 3) and the Permian Basin (down 10). The Rockies (up 90 rigs or 24.59 percent) and the Mid-Continent (up 82 rigs or 13.76 percent) showed the biggest increases in rigs available.

Of the 331 rotaries added to the U.S. rig inventory during the latest census, 179 (54.1 percent) were rated for 16,000 feet and deeper drilling, 37 (11.2 percent) were capable of 13,000-15,000 foot work, 66 (19.9 percent) were in the 10,000-12,000 foot class, and 60 or 18.1 percent, were 6,000 to 9,000-foot rigs. Partially offsetting the 342-foot-plus drilling was an 11-rig decline in rigs for 3,000 to 5,000 foot work.

The rig census—the 27th annual one conducted for the magazine—takes an in-depth look at U.S. drilling rig distribution and utilization via tables and statistical analysis.

This year is the first time the U.S. rig total has topped 3,000 since 1966, when 3,093 rigs were available, rig availability in the U.S. hit an all-time high in 1956 with 3,809 units working. They drilled a record 58,418 wells that year. Drilling activity began to decline in the U.S. in 1957, hitting a low of just over 26,000 wells drilled in the early 1970s with fewer than 1,800 rigs.

Americans forget life before SS

WASHINGTON (AP) — HEW Secretary Patricia Roberts Harris says many Americans have "forgotten what life in this nation was like for the elderly before Social Security."

The head of the health, education and welfare department told a Social Security symposium Wednesday that "many young Americans have little understanding of the impact this program has had on our way of life." And she disagreed with critics who say workers would get more for their investment in private savings plans. Social Security is "an unbeatable investment in the future," she said.

Tenneco plugs Atlantic test

HOUSTON — Tenneco Oil Exploration and Production announced that an exploratory well in Wilmington Canyon Block 495 off the coast of New Jersey is being plugged and abandoned as a dry hole.

The well, which was started on June 12, represents the first test of acreage acquired last February in the second federal lease sale for the Baltimore Canyon area.

Situated 90 miles southeast of Atlantic City in 379 feet of water, the well was drilled to a total depth of 18,300 feet. Shows encountered while drilling were tested but proved to be non-commercial.

Tenneco holds a 50 percent interest in Block 495 and is operator for itself and two partners, Freeport Oil Co., a subsidiary of Freeport Minerals, and Transco Exploration Co., each with a 25 percent interest. The three companies paid $6.37 million—the highest bonus payment made in the February lease sale—for the right to drill on the block.

Prime minister promises route talks with Carter

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Joe Clark promises to discuss the routing of a proposed Alaskan oil pipeline when President Carter visits Canada Nov. 9-10.

It will be the first visit by a U.S. president to Canada in seven years, and energy and environmental issues are expected to dominate the talks.

Clark said he will ask Carter to address a joint session of Parliament during his stay.

Clark told Parliament Thursday in announcing the visit he would consider asking Carter to extend the deadline for selecting one of several competing U.S. and Canadian applications to move Alaskan oil south to the lower 48 states.

But in Washington U.S. officials doubted the president would agree to the delay because of the importance of moving the oil, particularly to the Midwest states.

Carter is to recommend to Congress by Dec. 6 which proposal he favors. There are signs of growing support for an all-American route, using tankers, over competing Canadian proposals.

The front-runner in the United States is the northern tier proposal that would move oil south by tanker along Canada's West Coast to Port Angeles, Wash., from where it would be piped 1,600 miles inland.

Clark's government supports an all-land route proposed by Foothills Oil Pipe Line Ltd. of Calgary to pipe Alaskan oil through the Yukon, British Columbia and Alberta to the lower 48 states.

Foothills proposes to use the same Alaska Highway corridor planned for the joint Canada-U.S. natural gas pipeline.

The Canadian announcement of support last month followed a request from the United States for Canada to state its preference. Canada says its aim is to minimize risk of environmental damage on the West Coast from oil tanker traffic.

A second Canadian application is from Trans Mountain Pipe Line Co.

of encounter. The firm proposes to pipe oil transported by tanker to a port in Washington state to hook up with existing facilities in Alberta.

The government has made no comment on the Trans Mountain bid. Both applications are before the National Energy Board and hearings are not expected to conclude much before Carter's Dec. 6 deadline.

The federal regulatory agency must approve one of the applications before construction in Canada could begin.

Permian Basin Briefs

Petroleum Exploration & Development Funds, Inc., of Midland has announced the addition of two executives to its management staff.

Jerry W. Ward has been named to the newly-established position of executive vice president, with overall responsibility for exploration, drilling and production activities. Before joining PEDF, he was vice president — Secondary Operations for Shenandoah Oil Corp. in Fort Worth.

Ward

Bert L. Hungerford was elected senior vice president and is responsible for financial planning and reporting, investor relations and administration of the company's drilling programs. Hungerford previously was vice president — Finance, and treasurer of Marline Oil Corp. in Houston.

Hungerford

Continuing their present responsibilities, other operational officers are Herbert V. Wales, vice president — Land and Legal, and Frank S. Delay, controller.

Perry Gas Companies, Inc., of Odessa announces the recent promotion of employees in two of its subsidiary companies.

Dan R. Brazzelton has been promoted to manager of Right-of-Way and Land with Midland-based PGP Gas Products, Inc. He previously was materials manager in the Supply and Transportation Department of Perry Gas Companies. He is a member of the National Association of Purchasing Management.

Brazzelton

Perry Gas Processors, Inc., promoted Robert S. Purgason to manager of operations. He formerly was employed as process engineer for the company. He is membership chairman for the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Purgason

Perry Gas Companies announced the addition of Scott C. Shelton to its Midland staff.

Shelton

Shelton is assistant vice president/associate general counsel. He formerly was employed in private law practice in Midland. He is a member and secretary of the Midland County Hospital board of directors, the Boys Club board of directors, the Palmer Drug Abuse Program and the Crime Prevention Association.

Wollaston

John L. Wollaston, previously in the company's Amarillo office, has been transferred to the Midland office of Perry Gas Transmission, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Perry Gas Companies, Inc. Wollaston transferred with the closing of the Amarillo office, is manager of gas supply with responsibilities in the acquisition of new gas reserves for the Palo Duro system from Wheeler to Sweetwater, and FERC matters.

Service anniversaries have been announced for employees of Gulf Oil Exploration & Production Co.'s Western Division, Southwest District headquartered in Midland.

W. R. Gregory was recognized for having worked 40 years with the company. The Midlander is project land agent in the Exploration Department. His Gulf career started with Gulf Research and Development Co. Oct. 11, 1939. He became a survey in 1949 at Houston and was transferred to Midland in 1952. He moved to Roswell in 1954 and served there as scout, abstract leaser and landman. He moved back to Midland in 1972 and became land agent in 1974. He was promoted to his present post in 1978.

Bucy

A graduate of Permian High School in Odessa, Bucy received his B.S. degree in Petroleum Engineering from Texas A&M University in 1976.

He formerly was associated with Amoco Production Co. in Odessa and Houston. He is a member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME.

Neal McCaskill, area engineer for ARCO Oil & Gas Co. in Midland, has completed 35 years of service with the company.

McCaskill

He joined the Venezuelan Atlantic Refining Co. in 1944. After serving five years in Venezuela, he transferred to ARCO's Permian District office in Midland.

In 1974, he was transferred to the South Alaska District and then back to the Permian District the next year. He is an area engineer in the West Area of the Permian District.

Iran apparently cutting back sharply on imports

By MARK POTTS

NEW YORK (AP) — Iran, whose oil-production shutdown last winter was a key factor in this year's oil squeeze, is once again apparently cutting back sharply the amount of petroleum it exports, oil industry and U.S. government sources said.

But Ali A. Agah, charge d'affaires at the Iranian Embassy in Washington, said he checked with his government and was told there had been no reduction in exports.

The U.S. government source, who asked not to be quoted by name, said "several oil companies have been notified to push back their October loadings" onto tankers.

The world oil supply "is in very tenuous balance — right on the knife's edge," the source said. "This is not helpful at all. Not at all."

The source said the Iranian government told several oil companies in recent days that shipments of oil from Iran would be delayed.

The delay was confirmed by sources at a number of major oil companies. "The ships are backed up," said one at a company that buys some oil from Iran. "We don't know why."

A British publication, London Oil Reports, said a long line of tankers has formed at Kharg Island oil terminal, the Iranian loading point in the Persian Gulf.

"Our marine people say the lines are growing longer," said another oil company source, which also asked anonymity. "We haven't heard" of production cutbacks, the source added, but "you may draw that conclusion, if you want," from the tanker lines.

London Oil Reports said Iran's exports had been cut from 3.3 million barrels a day to 1 million barrels. A barrel contains 42 gallons.

Sources said the apparent cutback could be due to several reasons. One possibility is unrest in the nation's oil fields, perhaps caused by protests over the replacement last week of Iranian Oil Minister Hassan Nazih with an official more sympathetic to the new government.

Iran's government has also said it wants to hold production to the minimum needed to sustain its economy and preserve oil reserves.

Sources also speculated that Iran was withholding oil to get a higher price. "The Iranians may be diverting some of their product from contract sales to the spot market," the government source said. Iran's official price of oil for customers with long-term contracts averages about $21 a barrel, $2.50 under the OPEC price ceiling. Prices on the spot market, where oil not sold under long-term contracts changes hands, are almost double that. The loss of a significant amount of oil from a supplier as large as Iran, which has been producing about 4 million barrels of oil a day, could mean renewed gasoline lines, tighter heating oil supplies and higher prices.

"If it just returns to normal in a couple of days, it doesn't present a problem at all," said a New York analyst who asked not to be identified. "If it continues, you've got a problem."

Other publications and industry officials have said in recent weeks that Iranian oil production appeared to be dropping. But government and industry sources were unable to estimate the size of the cuts.

A severe decline in Iranian supply could affect the delicate world oil supply situation. Some members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries have said they plan to cut back on their oil sales, to prevent a world glut of oil or to get better prices.

Increase would dampen efforts

By GLENN RITT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another sharp price rise by OPEC could seriously damage the Federal Reserve Board's efforts to dampen inflation, warns board member Emmett J. Rice.

The board's tight-money policies should convince the oil producing cartel that it "isn't necessary to continue raising prices," Rice said last week in an interview.

OPEC nations have claimed that past price increases were needed because inflation was eroding the dollar's value.

Last week Kuwait and Mexico increased their crude oil prices, generating concern about price leaping by members of the Organization

United Gas plans line

By MARK POTTS

HOUSTON — United Gas Pipe Line Co. an interstate gas transmission subsidiary of United Energy Resources, Inc., has filed an application with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) to construct a 30-inch pipeline extending 635 miles from north Louisiana through Oklahoma to the Texas Panhandle.

The Mid-Continent pipeline, estimated to cost $386 million, will extend westward from United Gas' existing system in north Louisiana to a proposed point of interconnection with the existing pipeline system of Colorado Interstate Gas Co. in the Texas Panhandle. The pipeline initially will have a capacity of 425 million cubic feet per day.

United Gas' Mid-Continent pipeline will traverse important producing areas in Oklahoma, including the Deep Anadarko Basin, where increased drilling activity has resulted in the availability of large natural gas supplies.

In addition, through proposed interconnection and anticipated transportation arrangements with Colorado Interstate, the Mid-Continent pipeline will enable United gas to attach to its existing pipeline system natural gas it will purchase in the Rocky Mountain area.

Large reserves of natural gas have been discovered in recent years in both the Deep Anadarko Basin and the Rocky Mountain area, most notably in the Overthrust Belt region. These areas have great potential for future development.

United Gas owns and operates some 9,000 miles of interstate pipeline in the Gulf South region embracing portions of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, southern Alabama and northwest Florida. Through sales to other interstate pipeline companies United Gas also helps serve the eastern half of the United States.

In addition to United Gas Pipe Line Company, other Energy subsidiaries include United Texas Transmission Co., Cotton Petroleum Corp., PetroUnited, Inc., and other companies engaged in energy-related enterprises.

Partnership formed

MGF Oil Corp. announced that MGF Equipment Ltd-1979, a Texas limited partnership, has been formed to own and operate three diesel electric drilling rigs with depth capabilities to 25,000 feet.

MGF Oil is acting as general partner for the partnership.

The partnership has been funded with $4,350,000 provided by certain limited partners, $850,000 provided by MGF, and $13,865,000 in bank financing.

R. O. "Jack" Major, president of MGF, said two of the rigs will operate in the Rocky Mountain region and one in the Permian Basin.

Applications reported

Applications last week to register securities for sale in Texas included Maynard Oil Co., Dallas, one by CPI Ltd., 1979 C, $2,250,000; Commerce Midland for $1,815,000. Other Texas-based companies filing include Braewood Development Corp., Dallas, $5,625,000, and Braniff International Corp., Dallas-Fort Worth Airport, for $10 million.

Center slates three courses

A trio of business-related courses have been announced by the Permian Basin Graduate Center, 105 W. Illinois St. in Midland.

"How to Manager People at Work" is slated from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays from this Tuesday to Nov. 6. Marion Kimberly, a Midland career counselor, will be the instructor. The fee is $60.

"Leadership Skills for Administrators" is scheduled from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesdays, starting this Wednesday and continuing through Nov. 14. The instructor will be Bob Avary of Bob Avary & Associates, management consultants. Fee for the course is $80.

A calligraphy workshop is scheduled October 26-28. Classes will be from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Oct. 26; from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Oct. 27, and from 2 to 5 p.m. Oct. 28.

Former Midlander Laird Considine, now a teacher at Austin Junior College, will be the instructor. Fee for the workshop is $25 plus $15 for materials.

Jocelyne Jones, left, and Marilyn Borkon examine items at Personally Yours Ltd., a new store in the Tera del Sol Shopping Center, 3205 Cuthbert St. which features a poppourri of gift items. The business will open Monday, and grand opening ceremonies are slated for Nov. 1. The owners are Florence Borkon and Marilyn Borkon, both long-time Midlanders.

Jury still out on final effect of credit-tightening on gold

By MARK POTTS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The jury is still out on the final effect of the Federal Reserve's credit-tightening measures on gold prices, as the metal's value seesaws in world markets.

"I thought the market was somewhat schizophrenic," said Jeffrey Nichols, a gold analyst at Argus Research. "One day it thought the Fed meant business, and the next day it had some doubts."

"We are seeing the same erratic situation that we've been having in the past few weeks," said one London dealer.

"It appears that the volatility is going to continue," said John Crowley, a spokesman for the trading house of James Sinclair & Co. "It's a nervous market that could go either way."

ernment source said. "The ships are backed up," confirmed a representative of one oil company. "We don't know why."

The cutbacks could lead to another oil shortage and provide new upward pressure on oil prices, which were Automakers finished announcing their price increases on 1980-model cars, with Chrysler posting prices about 5.1 percent, or an average of $359, higher than final 1979 sticker prices. The Ford increase was estimated at 3.6 percent.

Earlier, Volkswagen announced price increases averaging 4.8 percent for its Pennsylvania-built models. General Motors boosted prices by an average of 4.6 percent and American Motors prices rose 5.2 percent.

Midland permits again go over million mark

Terry Clay

Bonds sell at 10 per cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time ever, the Treasury has sold long-term bonds at a yield above 10 percent.

The Treasury on Thursday sold $1.5 billion of bonds at an average yield of 10.17 percent, far above the previous record of 9.23 percent on long-term bonds, which are defined as 10 years or longer.

The record rate on the bonds, which mature in 1994, followed other interest rate surges after the Federal Reserve Board last week adopted fresh anti-inflationary moves.

Promotions announced

The board of directors of The First National Bank of Midland announced the promotion of Terry Clay to vice president and manager of the Engineering Department in the Energy Division.

The board also promoted Jose J. Moreno to assistant vice president in the Consumer Lending Department.

Moreno

Clay has been associated with the bank since 1975 as a petroleum engineer, and was promoted to assistant vice president earlier this year. He earned his degree in Petroleum Engineering from Oklahoma State University and received a masters degree from Oklahoma University.

He is a member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers and the Natural Gas Men's Association of the Permian Basin.

Moreno joined First National in 1971 and was promoted to assistant cashier in the Credit Department in 1972.

AMARILLO — Pioneer Corp. has announced the election of Charles K. Vaughan to vice president, with responsibility for the distribution system of Pioneer's utility division, Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Vaughan has been with Pioneer 18 years.

Officials oppose voter power

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The executive board of the Texas AFL-CIO says state labor leaders — though opposed to the concept — would use initiative and referendum to seek a corporate income tax to replace property taxes.

Texas labor officials oppose giving Texas voters the power to pass and repeal laws. The proposal has the support of Gov. Bill Clements, who plans to call a special legislative session to consider it.

A resolution unanimously approved by the labor board calls for petition drives aimed at putting the corporate tax proposal on the first referendum ballot.

The resolution also

"I don't think there can be a stable outlook for gold," said Nichols. "Either the U.S. policy-makers will continue to fumble, and the gold markets will receive some further fuel from that, or they'll make their plays and bring the situation with regard to hyper-monetary growth under control. If the markets see that, they'll react negatively."

But Nichols added a caveat to that prediction: "Typically, when you ask economists about this you get the wrong answer," he said. "Maybe the market will stay where it is, instead."

In other business developments this past week:

Iran was reported to have drastically cut its oil exports in recent days. The reasons for the cut were uncertain, industry and government sources said, but, if prolonged, the reduction could create a severe squeeze in world oil markets.

Heating oil stock up

NEW YORK (AP) — The petroleum industry says stockpiles of distillate fuels, used for heating oil and kerosene, rose sharply to 230.8 million barrels last week.

The American Petroleum Institute says the increase moved the industry closer to the federal government's goal of a 240-million-barrel inventory by the end of October.

The API reported distillate inventories rose by 3.8 million barrels from a week earlier — and 6.7 million barrels from a year ago — as production remained constant at 3.2 million barrels a day. A barrel is equivalent to 42 gallons.

Robert Loflin

Manager announced

Robert Loflin has been named plant manager on the management staff of Levi Strauss & Co. in Midland.

His responsibilities include providing guidelines for developing production plans, developing budgets and performance objectives, monitoring quality control, and insuring overall plant efficiency.

A native of Las Cruces, N.M., Loflin has been employed by Levi Strauss seven years.

TIC officials report high interest in trade office

AUSTIN — Officials with the Texas Industrial Commission report a continued high interest by Mexican buyers at the State's Trade Office in Mexico City, which remains a Texas "exclusive."

Frank Alagna of TIC reports the office has been "funneling a lot of activity through," including one recent deal involving the purchase of 100,000 telephone poles from a Houston company (at the cost of $36-plus per pole).

Then, to haul the poles back, the buyer purchased $425,000 worth of trucks and trailers in Dallas.

Considerable activity continues in relation to petroleum and oilfield equipment, Alagna reports, with efforts still in progress on the sale of 20 drilling rigs to a contractor for Pemex.

Texas continues to be the only state with a trade office in Mexico City, Alagna reports, although Louisiana and some other states have contacted Mexico about setting up operations there.

Thus far, he notes, those requests have been turned down.

In a related matter, Gov. Bill Clements has notified agencies — such as Tourist Development Board and Texas Department of Agriculture — of the change in the past legislative session to make the TIC office the State Trade Office, and has informed them of the possibility for using space there.

That likely would be handled under interagency contracts, TIC reports.

The State Board of Insurance has called on insurers to continue their commitment to the Texas Market Assistance Program (MAP) for products liability coverage, as the program seems to be attracting little attention — and certainly less than that desired by SBI.

Over the last year and a half, only 37 applications have come to the MAP committee, and consideration has been given to disbarring the operation.

Supporters of the program — which is intended as a clearing house for hard-to-place risks — feel that there are risks which need coverage, but which aren't being contacted.

SBI is looking at a request to groups such as the Texas Association of Business, National Federation of Independent Business and similar organizations to notify their members of the MAP program, and to obtain more information on those members' experiences in obtaining products liability coverage.

Others involved in the effort feel the problems with such coverage is affordability not availability, and that not much in the way of additional results under the program is likely.

And the State Board of Insurance has set a meeting for Wednesday (Oct. 17) in a dispute between insurance agents and some mortgage lenders over so-called "certificates of insurance," which the lenders contend are to inform lenders of coverage — but which some agents have contended are an effort to increase agents' liability and to force borrowers to do business with particular agents and companies.

Interest rates remain much in the news, and the House Financial Institutions Committee continues planning for a public hearing on mortgage loan rates for the first week in November, although no date has been set.

Stand up for oil!

It is great that there are those who will stand up for the petroleum industry, stating publicly and accurately what the industry has meant and yet means in the growth, development and progress of this great nation.

And if any community in the nation could be expected to take the lead in rallying support for the oil and gas industry, it is the Tall City of Midland, located in the heart of the highly productive Permian Basin Empire of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

This is why it is so significant that the Midland-based West Texas Geological Society and the Permian Basin Petroleum Association have joined hands in sponsoring a huge Permian Basin Pro-Oil Rally Tuesday noon on the south steps of the Midland County Courthouse.

It is an occasion when residents can demonstrate their support of the oil and gas industry, while at the same time expressing their appreciation for the industry, including companies and personnel.

The prime purpose of the pro-industry assembly is to get the jump on a national day of protest against the petroleum industry, scheduled for Wednesday, and to offset any benefits which might be derived from same.

The nationwide protest is being engineered by the Citizen-Labor Energy Coalition, which has been sounding off against petroleum interests for the last year and a half. Demonstrations are planned in Washington, D.C., in Chicago and in other key points across the nation.

Other demands of the coalition go on and on. For instance, it seeks appointment of a special prosecutor to investigate gasoline and heating oil shortages and establishment of a Taxpayers Energy Corporation which would buy and distribute all imported oil, and explore for oil, gas and coal on federal lands. It also would break up the major oil and gas companies and eliminate all oil industry tax breaks.

In other words, the coalition and its supporters are seeking nationalization of the oil and gas industry.

And if this doesn't make the blood of all free enterprise-conscious Americans boil, we don't know what will.

Certainly, it should make all residents of Midland and neighboring cities fighting mad.

And attendance at the Pro-Oil Rally here Tuesday noon will be an excellent, meaningful manner of expressing one's true feelings in the matter.

Actually, the success of the rally will depend on attendance, and there is no reason why there shouldn't be a record-breaking crowd on hand, overflowing the courthouse lawn, spilling out into Wall Street. Pictures of such a crowd assembled in support of the petroleum industry and distributed nationwide by the news services on the eve of the coalition's "Stop the Oil Profiteers" demonstrations, certainly will be most effective.

The Jane Fonda-Tom Hayden-Citizen-Labor Energy Coalition demonstrations well might be termed an effort in stupidity.

The petroleum industry has done as much or more than any other one industry in developing this great nation of ours, being responsible to a marked degree for advancing the high standard of living which we enjoy. The industry is doing more now to solve the energy shortage and to ease America's dependence on foreign oil than anyone else. It is a shame and disgrace for the likes of Jane Fonda and the Citizen-Labor Energy Coalition to even attempt to destroy such a valuable asset as the domestic oil industry.

Sponsors of the Permian-Basin Pro-Oil Rally here Tuesday noon are to be commended for taking the lead in arranging and staging the pro-oil event. The rally merits community-wide support.

BIBLE VERSE

Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel. — 1 Cor. 9: 14.

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The major theme running through the mini-crisis over Russian troops in Cuba was that Fidel Castro is nothing more than a Kremlin puppet.

Jimmy Carter's orchestration of this old sweet song took the form of a flat assertion: "In every international dispute, on every international issue, the Cuban regime automatically follows the Soviet line."

But a secret report by the State Department's bureau of intelligence and research strikes a discordant note in the familiar puppet tune. The report, dated April 13, 1976, concludes that while Castro has aligned himself with many Soviet policies over the years, he "remains something of a maverick who still conceives of himself as a leader of the Third World."

The State Department analysts addressed themselves to Castro's adventures in Africa, dating back to his first dispatch of "technicians" to train troops of emerging nations in the mid-1960s, and continuing through his major military involvements in Angola and Ethiopia a decade later.

The extent to which the Soviet Union can direct and/or restrict Cuban activities in Africa is a moot question," the report states. On the other hand, the analysts concluded, "Castro probably would not be forced to give more than token support to a Soviet policy which he believed to be contrary to Cuban interests."

The report pictures Castro as a sort of gun-toting missionary. "In opposing Western economic imperialism, the remaining vestiges of European colonialism and white minority regimes of South Africa and Rhodesia, Castro brings to his mission an almost messianic zeal," the report states.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Fidel Castro's no Kremlin puppet

Rejecting the notion that Castro salivates every time the Russians ring a bell, the State Department analysts have this view of the Soviet-Cuban relationship: "Soviet policy probably determines the outer boundaries of Cuban options in the sense that Cuba would not undertake an initiative directly opposed by the Soviet Union, and any large-scale Cuban military operations require Soviet logistical and financial support."

Noting that "Cuba is much less constrained than the USSR by global strategic and economic interests," the report concludes that Castro thus has greater freedom to intervene in other countries' affairs than the Kremlin does.

The report lists Castro's "major aspirations" in Africa, after his support of the successful rebel faction in Angola in 1975, as concentrated in southern Africa, where colonialism remains dominant. He wants the overthrow of the white minority regime in Rhodesia, removal of South African control of Namibia (Southwest Africa) and, eventually, destruction of the white-dominated regime in South Africa itself, the experts predicted.

An important reason for moderating the standard "Kremlin puppet" view of Castro, the State Department analysts felt, is the Cuban dictator's perception of himself as a leader among nations that are not aligned with either side in the East-West struggle.

Cuba, the report concludes, "values its Third World credentials, and does not want to jeopardize them by appearing a too-obvious agent of Soviet interests."

WEAPONS WASTE: Navy officials are forbidden to hire their own lobbyists to push for particular appropriations in Congress, but when a pet project is involved the regulations are sometimes thrown out like so much bilge water.

A case in point is the development program for a controversial eight-inch naval gun designed for relatively short-range bombardment, as in amphibious assaults or other close-in operations.

The whole concept had been the target of intense sniping over the years, mainly from younger Navy officers who felt that such a weapon was an anachronism in the age of long-range missile launchers. The Marines and nostalgic old-timers among the Navy brass argued that the new gun could fill a vital function even in pushbutton warfare.

But a secret General Accounting Office report we have seen found that officials in charge of the program had fudged on its early test reports, making the weapon appear better than it actually was.

The information reported to Congress indicates that the gun exceeded its reliability objectives," the report states, "but it actually failed to meet these objectives during operational testing."

That did it. After an expenditure of $4.7 billion, the Navy decided to scuttle the program.

But Warren Kitterman, technical director of the gun program at the Naval Weapons Testing Laboratory in Dahlgren, Va., refused to strike his colors. A double-dipping ex-Marine officer, Kitterman decided to take his baby's case directly to Congress.

Kitterman worked through Universal Systems Inc., a naval consulting firm that had received some $400,000 in contracts from Kitterman's office.

Navy records show Kitterman upped the budget on a Universal contract by more than $2,000 for "additional engineering time." What the money actually went for, sources told us, was the hiring of a military consultant, Sam Martin, to lobby for the eight-inch gun in Capitol Hill.

Martin admitted "talking to some friends" and calling some congressional offices about the gun, but denied being hired as a lobbyist. Kitterman also denied that Martin was a lobbyist.

But when the House Armed Services Committee voted $32.8 million back into the gun program, Universal employees were heard joking that Martin's words were actually included in the committee report.

ART BUCHWALD Father of the electric bill missed out on public acclaim

WASHINGTON — This month, we are celebrating the 100th anniversary of the electric light bulb. All the credit is given to Thomas Alva Edison who invented it.

But what people don't know is that another person, Jeffrey Kobrin, started it all. He invented the electric light two years earlier than the electric light. If it hadn't been for Kobrin, Edison might never have been inspired to invent the bulb.

Jeffrey was an accountant by trade, but at night he dabbled in his basement trying to think up new ways of charging people for services in their homes. One evening he was sitting at his bench and he wrote down the word "What." Then he wrote down "100 whats." Then he wrote "1,000 whats." It didn't make any sense until he scribbled down "One kilowatt equals 1,000 whats."

He showed it to his wife. She said, "What is it?" "It's an electric bill. You put it in the mail and you can collect millions of dollars when people send in their checks."

"Why would people send in their checks for an electric bill if they don't use any?" "I haven't figured that out yet. But you'll have to admit it's one of the best bills I've ever invented."

"Jeffrey, will you stop this nonsense? All these crazy bills you design haven't put one loaf of bread on the table."

But Kobrin was not discouraged. He went to see an investment banker on Wall Street. The banker looked at the new electric bill and said, "By gum, it has possibilities. If we could send out one of these to every family in America each month we could be rolling in money."

"Exactly, sir, but I can't think what to charge them for."

"Look," said the banker, "I have a crazy friend in Menlo Park, N.J., who is an inventor. Why don't we go to him and ask him to invent something that people would have to use so we could send them a bill?"

The banker and Kobrin took the ferry to Hoboken and the train to Menlo Park, where they found Tom Edison messing around in his dirty laboratory. They showed him the bill and the banker said, "Tom, can you come up with a gimmick so we can stick the people for using it?"

Edison studied the bill and then said, "You spelled kilowatt wrong. It's k-i-l-o-w-a-t-t."

"You idiot," the banker shouted at Kobrin, "you want me to invest my money in an electric bill and you can't even spell what we're going to charge the people for?"

Kobrin, abashed, replied, "It's not too late. We haven't printed up any yet."

The banker cooled down. "Tom, can you do it? I believe in this electric bill. But we need your technical know-how before we can put it in the mail."

Edison said, "Well, I was working on an electric light bulb, but I gave it up because I couldn't figure out any way to make money on it. Now that you've invented an electric bill it might be worth my while to go back to it."

Kobrin said, "Wait a minute. I created this bill. You can't get in on it just because you're going to come up with a light bulb."

"The bill's no good without the bulb," Edison said.

"And the bulb's no good without the bill," Kobrin replied.

The banker interrupted, "I've got it. Tom can make money on the bulb. It will burn out in a few hours and people will have to buy a new one every time it does. We'll let Edison keep the patent on the bulb, but we hold the rights to the electric bill, where the real money is."

They shook on it, and the rest is history. Unfortunately, Edison has become a household name, but Jeffrey Kobrin, the man who started it all, has been forgotten. This is ironic, because everybody takes Edison's light bulb for granted, but they all scream bloody murder every time they get one of Kobrin's thoughtfully designed electric bills.

Have you heard about that couple who get a divorce at the end of every year for the tax break, then remarry after the first of the year? Instead of saying "I do," they say "Don't I always?"

They've been getting married annually for years. If you don't believe it they have 37 chafing dishes.

Every time they get married the organist plays "Love for Sale."

Authorities became suspicious when the couple ran to their car hugging and kissing under a shower of flying rice — in front of the divorce court.

INSIDE REPORT:

U.S. 'swing strategy' is termed a 'strategy of weakness'

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Against the military's better judgment, the Carter administration is continuing in slightly modified form a strategy that, kept secret from Japan, would "swing" substantial U.S. naval force from the western Pacific to Europe if the Soviets attacked NATO.

This confirms the "swing strategy," one of the U.S. government's most closely held secrets for 25 years. Plans to shift half of U.S. naval power to Europe if war seems imminent troubles Pentagon professionals in two ways: First, it underlines U.S. naval weakness in coping with a global emergency; second, it is less than candid in dealing with Japan (which, if it knew the truth, could be urged to step up its own defenses).

Nevertheless, continuation of the post-Korean War swing strategy was recommended by the Pentagon's Consolidated Guidance Study No. 8 (CGS) of May 14. It did urge that U.S. replies to NATO's annual defense planning questionnaires (DPQs) be amended to make more flexible just how many ships would "swing." But secrecy with Tokyo was endorsed: "It is recommended that the U.S. not announce the DPQ commitment, whether modified or not, to its Asian allies."

This recommendation is grounded in the bleak assessment, quoted in the document, by the U.S. commander-in-chief, Pacific (CINCPAC), of what would happen if half his fleet was sent to Europe: "...He would have to turn his back on U.S. alliance commitments and become totally defensive in order to survive in the Pacific."

High officials refer to documents such as CGS as "think papers" when disclosed. In fact, not only are its recommendations a secret U.S. policy but it unwittingly says the unsayable by admitting U.S. global weakness. Without meaning to be, it is a chilling document.

Particularly unsettling is the counterpoint of comments by the military, peppered throughout, mostly as asterisks and parenthetical notes. For example, this footnote: "the joint staff believes we do not have sufficient assets to perform all missions assigned in a global war." The alternative "is to program additional forces."

Time and again, conclusions of CGS (directed by Dr. Lynn E. Davis, a deputy assistant secretary of defense) are challenged by military professionals. A footnote from NATO commanders suggests the "swing" forces would arrive in Europe too late. A footnote from the Navy and the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) disagrees with CGS's "view" (attributed to the CIA) that the Soviets probably would not and could not interdict U.S. shipping to Europe.

In forwarding CGS to Defense Secretary Harold Brown, Assistant Secretary David E. McGiffert noted that the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS), "believe the long-term solution is to obtain the forces required to make the 'swing' unnecessary." Nevertheless,

McGiffert called the military rationale for the swing strategy "sound."

What did trouble McGiffert, Davis and other authors of the document is what McGiffert flatly calls "subterfuge" in dealing with Japan. CGS rejects the naval buildup favored by the JCS, and warns that "any U.S. initiative to retreat from the swing concept probably could be viewed in NATO capitals as...an indication of confusion and indecision among U.S. policy makers."

Yet, the document warns that "public acknowledgement" of the swing strategy could "further reinforce" Asian notions of a "general U.S. withdrawal from the region." Even though Japan and other U.S. allies in Asia "are probably aware" of the strategy, "public disclosure or official notification of our Asian allies...could further undermine the credibility of our commitments in Asia and become an issue in our defense relations with Japan."

The backdrop: consternation over Carter's now modified withdrawal of U.S. ground forces from Korea. Specifically, CGS warns that a public discussion would "strengthen pressures for Japan to go neutral or rearm." Here is the issue between Carter appointees such as Lynn Davis and the professionals, both military and civilian, who think neutrality out of the question and want Japanese defense spending encouraged by telling Tokyo the truth. But Davis and her State Department allies are wary of Japanese military expansion.

This conflict leads to the flights from reality characteristic of Carter administration defense policy papers.

Arguing for the swing strategy, the paper claims "a primary Japanese concern is whether she becomes directly involved" in a U.S.-Soviet conflict "...while Japan would undoubtedly be disturbed if the carriers on the (U.S.) West Coast headed for the Mediterranean rather than for WESTPAC (the western Pacific), she would be more disturbed if U.S. carriers...prepared to initiate attacks against Petropavlovsk, and these preparations resulted in pre-emptive Soviet attacks against U.S. bases in Japan."

Here is a family resemblance to presidential review memorandum (PRM) 10, which in 1977 envisioned withdrawal from one-third of Germany if the Soviets attack, and President Carter's Oct. 1 grudging acceptance of growing Soviet military power in Cuba. Being forced by weakness to deceive one ally to help another adds another chapter to U.S. decline.

To The Editor:
Howard College is planning to establish a post-secondary educational program for the deaf in Big Spring. This program will serve the surrounding nine-state area.
The City of Big Spring will give Howard College part of Webb Air Force Base to use as the campus for the deaf. The facilities include a $3,000,000 hospital with 66,000 square feet, an officer's club, a non-commissioned officer's club, classroom building, swimming pool and more.
The enthusiasm at Howard College is wonderful. At present 75 people employed by the college from top level administrators to kitchen and ground employees are attending sign language classes.
The college is conducting a feasibility study and needs statements from the public to include in the study. If you see a need for this type of program and would like to see our tax money used in this way, please write Dr. Charles Hays, Director, Feasibility Study, Howard College, Big Spring, Texas, 79720. In all fairness I have to say that if you don't like the proposal, you can write to express a negative opinion. Please talk to me first, though, because I would love an opportunity to sell you on an idea that I feel is very exciting for our deaf children, deaf adults, and families of the deaf in this area. The college can offer courses and workshops for all of the above in addition to a post-secondary program for our deaf high school graduates.

The Reporter-Telegram even printing that letter! I thought this was a newspaper not just another scandal sheet!

I understand Keith Muse being concerned or even scared, but such vague rumors can cause an innocent person to lose his or her job.

I think teachers have enough to worry about, without having someone watching every move they make. I've had a wide variety of teachers during my years of schooling in Midland, and never did one of them bring their personal lives into the classroom.

I believe that whatever goes on outside of the classroom is none of our business to begin with.

well as you do boys? I know you cover the girls' sports whenever there is a tournament, but I have never noticed that you cover the girl's sports, such as volleyball, basketball, golf, and softball weekly.

The high school volleyball teams had games on Sept. 27. You had some coverage of the games, but you did not have any pictures of highlights of the games in your Friday issue of the paper. I think that we (the girls) have interesting sports and activities as well as the boys do.

New ag facility

To The Editor:
In Midland there is a very important issue forthcoming. It is the school bond election on Oct. 23. The bond is for over $10 million. All of the discussion about the bond has been about whether or not Midland needs a new elementary school and whether or not to build at Midland High School. These are not the only issues concerned in the bond election. There is the matter of a new agricultural facility.

I am an Agriculture student at Lee High School and 140 other ag students at Lee feel a new barn is needed very much. Lee has been sharing Midland High's barn ever since Lee got their own ag department five years ago. The one barn is overcrowded to the extent that pens designed to hold three hogs have eight or nine in them, pens designed to hold one calf have three in them, and the sheep pens are the same way. Another reason for building Lee a barn is that we must go to the barn often during class and to feed our animals every day. It is better than a 15-mile round trip and as high as gas is, we students can barely afford it. This new agricultural barn would be approximately a four and a half mile round trip. As I have stated before, this facility is really needed and would only be a small portion of the $10 million on the bond issue.

Likes Reese

To The Editor:
The man who wrote to you describing his displeasure with the Charley Reese column that The Reporter-Telegram buys and prints certainly has his right to "say so."

I thoroughly appreciate the clarity of common sense and thoughtful reflections on our American heritage that Charley Reese pens. He must have been one of those who LEARNED U.S. American History-Government.

I like it that The Reporter-Telegram carries the Charley Reese columns. I enjoy it.

A.A. Jeffers

P.S. Again, to the person who is so reviled by the Charley Reese column that he asks someone to clip it out before he reads the editorial page—I clip it out, too, to save, savor, and sometimes, even, to send to others. If you don't like what I like, and I don't like what you like, isn't it GREAT that we live in these United States of America and have the freedom to "say so."

It's education

To The Editor:
I would like to respond to Martha's assumption that the issue of abortion is one of differences of opinions and that no one has been able to answer the question of when a fetus becomes a human being.

First of all I contend it is not a difference of opinion but of education.

If anyone has ever seen the aftermath of an abortion and saw the dismembered arms and legs of a tiny, tiny fetus they'd realize that it was a human being not a blob as some say. Everything has to begin somewhere and grow to maturity. At the moment of conception the soul enters into the fetus. Read Jeremiah 1:5: "I knew you before you were formed within your mother's womb; before you were born I sanctified you and appointed you as my spokesman to the world."

God expects us intelligent human beings to be responsible enough to take care of His creation. We are not animals but human beings.

It is not the fetus' fault that people have illicit sex and babies are formed. It is the problem of an immoral society, Romans 8:5-8, who rather have their pleasures for the moment and make the baby suffer for it later on.

The unborn fetus does suffer and they don't get any anesthesia for their pain like we do when a doctor performs surgery on us. How cruel can we be? We treat an animal more humane than that.

We better stop and wake up, world, our souls are at stake. Thou shalt not kill.

Sure people make mistakes but don't make another one by killing an unborn child. Have the child and then give it to some family who is waiting in line for a precious bundle from heaven because they cannot have a child of their own.

I was one of those precious bundles who was given to a mom and dad who couldn't have any children of their own, so I know how great it can be.

To The Editor:
I am a senior at Lee High School. This year the school board took away the traditional "senior privilege." As if that wasn't bad enough, they just had to take it away this year. Couldn't they have at least waited one year? That would have been the practical thing to do since our schedules for this year had already been made. The whole senior class had to make a special trip to school and have their schedules rearranged.

All my school years I have heard about and looked forward to experiencing the joy of senior privilege. I can't imagine how the school board could take away something for which we have waited and worked for 12 years. The students should be able to decide whether or not they will attend six classes during their senior year. I saw virtually no reason for doing away with senior privilege.

True, attending six classes could have been avoided if you had a job, or if you were married, or if someone in your family were disabled. I am for education as much as the next person, but don't you think a student is apt to do better if he is not forced to take so many classes, especially if he does not need or want them?

Kindness recalled

To The Editor:
This letter comes from a citizen of Midland for 42 years. One who loves Midland, and has had a happy life here with no desire to call any other place my home. I have enjoyed a good life here all because of you beautiful people. Your kindness gave me many opportunities and have opened doors for me which I may never have passed through; had it not been for you. With gratitude in my heart I would like to mention a few out of many.

When I came to Midland, I had very little knowledge of "library science." You gave me a job and sent me to school to learn. I ran the Dunbar Branch for 10 years, until the county library was moved out of the courthouse into its new building and was consolidated.

You sent me to Langston University for Scout Training for the community. I was glad to serve as a Girl Scout leader for 20 years with Senior Troop 32, served as organizer, camp director and aide to many troops with Boy or Girl Scouts for 34 years, ran a kindergarten and day care center for children of all nationalities and acted as director of Washington Youth Center for several years. You also let me share in the planning of Midland College.

Out of a grateful heart, I say thank you for giving me the training at Langston University, Bishop, Prairie View and Odessa College.

When a cross-section of Midland was selected to go to Brackettville to form the Objectives for Midland, you carried me with you as well as others of minority groups. It was there that we struck a happy medium to make Midland a model city and a better place for all people to live.

This letter comes not as a complaint but as a reminder in behalf of the minority groups, namely the blacks and the Spanish. With reference to the city council, we have no representative on the council, black or Spanish to my knowledge, and in all good faith we tried to elect one on April 6, but failed. We are willing to serve.

While working at the library, I ran across this quotation, author unknown. It has been a favorite of mine for more than 30 years: "The service we give is the rent that we pay, for the space that we occupy here (in Midland community)." Please let us pay our rent with our service.

Draft women

To The Editor:
I'm for American citizens standing up for what they believe in and defending their country. I see nothing wrong with women being drafted for certain positions enabling men to do the heavy duties that women would never be able to do. Are we forgetting all the women who did help in the many previous wars? Maybe it is because I was the eldest in the family, and was taught responsibility and how to carry it out, and it was a natural thing for me to want to defend my country, my family, and my God. We American citizens are killing ourselves without a military draft! If I could, I would join up now.

Why was there a lawsuit involving a drug dog in Houston, and why was the drug dog fired from Dallas Public Schools?

If former and present school board members would have had foresight, they could have spent our tax dollars on the so-called needs presented on the forthcoming school bond issue earlier, instead of buying some of the textbooks and programs and land they have purchased. They could have saved the taxpayers a lot of money with the ever-increasing rate of inflation.

Tax dollars could have been used to pay the GOOD TEACHERS what they are worth, instead of letting our children lose so many other GOOD TEACHERS to other occupations.

The saying goes, "When in Rome, do as the Romans do," and I say, "When in America, do as the Americans do," and teach the children how to speak proper English.

To be equal: Agenda for the '80s

By VERNON E. JORDAN JR.
Copley News Service

Years ago, at the dawn of the 1900s, the great black scholar and activist W.E.B. DuBois wrote that "the problem of the Twentieth Century is the problem of the color line."

As our nation enters the 1980s the color line is still with us. The challenge of the coming decade is to dismantle the color line that places a ceiling on black opportunities while removing the floor from black security.

That implies an agenda for action to bring about a greater measure of equality for all Americans. While blacks and other minorities are most in need of major domestic reforms, all poor people would benefit from them. And since fully two-thirds of the poor are white, the "black agenda" is also one that crosses racial and regional lines.

The core of the black agenda includes a handful of major issues. Prime among them is a national full-employment policy.

That takes on added significance as the nation slides into still another recession that will mean escalating unemployment.

Black jobless rates are now well over double the white rates. Current unemployment levels are intolerable for blacks and too high for everyone.

So the coming decade ought to see a national commitment to decent jobs for all as a matter of right—in the private sector wherever possible, in the public sector if industry can't absorb all of our workers.

And an indispensable feature of a full-employment policy has to be a national commitment to affirmative action. This is necessary if blacks are to achieve full parity in employment and educational opportunities. A vigorous affirmative action thrust in the 1980s will mean no further need for special affirmative action efforts by 1990, because its goals will have been met.

In addition to jobs, the agenda for the 1980s includes an income maintenance system to replace the rotting welfare system. Current welfare reform proposals should be just the first step toward development of a comprehensive, federally administered income maintenance system free of punitive elements and available to all in need.

Another key item is a national youth development program that assures young people, especially disadvantaged youth, of the skills, schooling and services they need to participate fully in our society.

There are nearly 10 million black and white poor children in America, and neglect of their needs can only perpetuate poverty.

Health is a major part of the agenda, especially for black people who have higher incidence of bad health and less access to quality health care. The widespread closing of public hospitals and clinics in the minority neighborhoods of many cities for budgetary reasons shamefully worsens an already serious health care crisis for the poor.

The current debate over health insurance proposals has been personalized and limited. The 1980s ought to see passage of a national health system that is unified, comprehensive, consumer-oriented and guarantees total quality health care services for all.

Finally, the coming decade should mark achievement of the long-standing goal of decent housing for all. Thirty years ago Congress passed a National Housing Act whose goal was to provide "a decent home and suitable living environment for every American family."

That elusive goal is nowhere in sight, and it should be a major part of an agenda for the 1980s. A first step toward that goal would be to finally eradicate racial discrimination in housing through beefing up federal enforcement powers.

The agenda for the 1980s includes other items as well, but these are the central issues that touch on the lives of all of our people and are central to the future of the nation.

They are issues of pressing importance for blacks, who are more likely to be in need of jobs, health care, decent housing and education. But in sheer numbers, more whites would benefit from such steps than blacks, just as the reforms of the 1960s moved far more whites than blacks out of poverty and disadvantage.

The civil rights struggle of the 1950s and '60s concentrated on winning rights, those of the 1970s on defending the limited gains of previous years. But the civil rights issues of the 1980s will be to secure parity between blacks and whites, and to remove race once and for all as a negative factor in our society.

POSITIVE THINKING

Problem of irritation is widespread

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

One day as I was walking on Fifth Avenue in New York, a man I knew slightly pushed through the crowd, stopped me, and said, "You believe in religion as a practical technique, don't you?" When I said that I did, he continued, "You also teach, do you not, that there is a healing power in faith?" Again I agreed.

"Well," he said, "my big problem is irritation. Sometimes I feel that I'm just going to blow up. Can you tell me how to keep from being irritated?"

Evidently this problem of irritation is a widespread one because, recently, I have been hearing about it from many sources. The head of a large department store told me the other day that never in all his years of merchandising experience had he seen so many irritated customers and irritated sales people as now.

"I would be willing to close down for two days," he said, "if someone would come in and give my sales clerks a course in how to keep their tempers and curb their tongues in the presence of customers, no matter how annoying they may be."

The governor of one of our most important states once told me, "One of my big problems is to know how to conquer irritation. I always liked people until I got this job. Now they drive me to distraction."

There is a therapy, a healing technique which can be used to overcome and conquer irritation. Like many other such therapies for the emotional problems of modern living, it can be found in the pages of the Bible.

In the book of Colossians, we get the secret of overcoming irritation where it says, "Let the peace of God rule in you heart." That is a great phrase and it will help you if you make it your dominating emotion, your supreme attitude, your habitual spirit. Let it rule your heart and it can control your basic self.

A person who has the peace of God ruling in his heart is always under control. He is therefore able to take an objective and scientific attitude toward his irritation. And no one has ever learned to live effectively until he has become scientific and objective toward emotion.

Take anger, for example. How do you control anger? Simply by being scientific and objective toward anger. If you begin to get angry, your face becomes red, your voice rises, your fists clench. This is the result of adrenalin being shot suddenly into your system.

Instead of allowing the voice to rise when anger begins to well up within you, deliberately force it down and control it until you are speaking quietly, almost in a whisper. You can never carry on an argument in a whisper! If your hands begin to clench, deliberately extend your fingers. You cannot continue to be angry with your fingers held out extended. Try it sometime.

I was present at a religious conference when tempers began to flare. Even at religious meetings, people are human. Those present began to get peppery and irritated. Then a man took off his coat, went over and lay down on a couch in the room.

Everybody was astonished. Anxiously we asked, "What's the matter? Are you sick?"

"No," he said, "I'm not sick. I was just getting mad and I've found that I cannot get mad lying down."

Those of us who practice faith need not be swept by emotion and carried into anger and irritability by it. We should be able to control emotion rather than have it control us. If you have the power to control your emotions, you will not be left defeated and sick by the irritations to which all of us are prey.

Acquire such control. Pray for guidance. Seek the peace of God actively and affirmatively. If you have the peace of God ruling your heart you can master the skill of examining irritation and anger objectively and so reducing their power over you.

Cigarette smoking, fatty diets termed avoidable cancer-causing factors

Dear Dr. Solomon: I realize that illness, like death and taxes, cannot always be avoided. But having had several relatives die of cancer, I'm wondering what steps a person can take to help avoid the disease. I know you have written about this topic in the past, but it is so important to me, I hope you can write about it again. — Mrs. G.T.

Dear Mrs. T.: As your question implies, cancer is not always attributable to hard luck or a stroke of fate. Although some cancers have no known cause, others are more readily predictable.

Public health officials have estimated that up to 90 percent of all cancers originate in the environment. We know, for example, that scientists who pioneered in the use of X-ray equipment, before the potential dangers were known, developed certain forms of cancer. And we also know that excessive exposure to sunlight may cause malignancy. Such experience indicates that cancer can be triggered by specific and avoidable environmental factors.

Almost all authorities believe that most lung cancer is caused by cigarette smoking. Some people contend that it is air pollution in general that leads to lung cancer, but air pollution was a problem in some cities in the United States and Europe a hundred years ago. Obviously the marked increase in lung cancer in men since 1930, and in women since 1960, cannot be attributed to air pollution.

Cigarette smoking became popular with men around the time of World War I. Women didn't get into the act until around World War II. Since the disease becomes apparent anywhere from 20 to 40 years after the beginning of exposure through smoking, we are beginning to see its effects in women today.

Ideally, of course, one should never start smoking. But even individuals who have smoked for years can reduce their risk of cancer appreciably if they stop smoking. In fact, after a person abstains from cigarettes for 20 years, the risk of cancer is almost as low as if he had never smoked.

Precautions can also be taken against some diet-caused cancer. Societies which have diets high in fat are known to have a greater incidence of certain types of cancer than those with low-fat diets.

In the United States we have a high incidence of cancer of the colon and rectum in men and women, cancer of the breast in women and cancer of the prostate in men. On the other hand, Japanese women have only about 19 percent as much breast cancer as American women, and Mexican men only about 14 percent of the colon-rectum cancer of American men. These differences are thought to be largely related to diet.

When people migrate to the United States from those countries, however, their diets change. And by the second generation their cancer rates are equal to those of the general population.

Furthermore, laboratory animals fed a high-fat diet are more likely to develop breast and colon-rectum cancer, thus confirming the evidence.

Some cancer risks cannot be avoided. But cigarette smoking and consumption of foods high in fats are two serious risks that can be eliminated.
