McInnis disbarred

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) — State District Judge Joe Evins disbarred Hidalgo County District Attorney Oscar McInnis Friday, saying the longtime prosecutor was guilty of the State Bar charges brought against him.

He ordered McInnis to turn over his law license to the district clerk.

A jury ruled last week in favor of the State Bar in its civil trial to have McInnis barred from practicing law. The charges al-leged professional misconduct.

Agent found dead

WASHINGTON (AP) - An FBI agent who was fired Tuesday on corruption charges was found shot to death in his home Friday afternoon in an apparent suicide, the FBI said.

The body of Alan H. Rotton, who was a supervisor at FBI headquarters, was discovered at his home in Burke, Va., a Washington suburb.

Police officials said they received a call just before noon, but they declined to provide further details.

Recession may still be just around corner

WASHINGTON (AP) - The recession that was feared to have begun in mid-summer may not have occurred after all, as government figures Friday showed a rebound in economic growth to a 2.4 percent annual rate.

While the figures showed the economy doesn't yet fit the generally ac-cepted definition of a recession, Treasury Secretary G. William Miller indicated he expects a recession still may occur. "I hope people will not be misled into thinking we are headed toward expansionary growth," Miller said.

Consumer buying received a large share of the credit for the boost to the economy, although purchases came at the expense of savings, which fell to a 28-year low of 4.1 percent of income.

The rate of inflation as measured by the GNP stayed about the same in the third quarter, as prices advanced at an annual rate of 9.6 percent, the Commerce Department said. An "annual rate is the increase if the quarterly results were to continue for an entire year.

The 2.4 percent rate of economic growth — as measured by the gross national product — offset a second quarter rate of decline of 2.3 percent. It crossed up many government and private forecasters who had flatly declared the economy was in a recession.

"These things are hard to predict," said Courtenay Slater, the Commerce Department's chief economist who was among those who had thought the third quarter would show another decline. The economy grew at a 1.1 percent rate in the first quarter.

White House spokesman Jody Powell said the figures showed the economy "is perhaps stronger and more resilient than many had expected." He said they confirm that fighting inflation must be the primary economic concern.

Treasury Secretary Miller, who had gone so far recently as to say the nation not only was in a recession, but that the recession was half over, said he does not expect the growth to continue. "We expect the economy to return to slow or negative growth," he said.

Acquin convicted

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP) -A Superior Court jury convicted Lorne J. Acquin Friday of the bludgeoning deaths of his foster brother's wife and eight children two years ago.

The slaying of Cheryl Beaudoin and the children the morning of July 22, 1977 was the largest mass murder in Connecticut history.

Acquin was also convicted of first-degree arson in connection with the gasoline-fed fire that gutted the home in Prospect. Judge Walter Pickett set sentencing for Nov. 30.

Wolf resigns

WASHINGTON (AP) - Milton Wolf, the U.S. ambassador to Vienna who met three times with a representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization, is leaving the post to work for President Carter's re-election, it was learned Friday.

Wolf will be replaced in Vienna by Philip Kaiser, another businessman who is now ambassador to Hungary.

Two State Department officials, who asked not to be identified, confirmed Wolf's departure.

Talks pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United Automobile Workers told Congress Friday they are pressing for an early windup of contract talks with the Chrysler Corp. after making unprecedented concessions to the automaker.

The conventional[®] definition of a recession is two consecutive quarters of decline in the GNP, which is the value of the total output of goods and services in the economy.

But the final judgment is up to the National Bureau of Economic Research in Cambridge, Mass., which conceivably could conclude a recession had occurred even with the third quarter rebound.

A bureau committee will meet on Oct. 25 to consider the matter, but a spokeswoman said Friday it is unlikely to make a decision for another few months because recent economic statistics are inconclusive.

The 2.4 percent increase in GNP, the gain after discounting for inflation, was surprisingly large. However, Ms. Slater said the economy still shows "many of the symptoms of a recession."

A major reason for the economic rebound in the July through September period was that consumers stepped up their purchases, increasing demand for goods and services. Personal consumption spending rose 4.3 percent, at an annual rate, compared with a second quarter rate of decline of 2.9 percent.

However, as consumer income was eroded by inflation, the increased buying came at the expense of savings, which fell to just 4.1 percent of income, the lowest since 1951 when the savings rate fell to 3.7 percent.

Korean students rioting

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) - Students rioted against the hard-line government of President Park Chung-hee on Friday for the fourth straight night

Police using tear gas dispersed the protest in the southern industrial city. of Masan, where a night-time curfew was imposed earlier Friday, and seized a dozen persons for questioning, witnesses said.

Hundreds of students assembled around downtown business districts and near a public park after sunset and then roamed the streets in groups, shouting anti-government slogans.

After similar rioting in Masan

Thursday night, the government slapped a 10 p.m. to 4 a.m. curfew on the city of 372,000 and announced that its two colleges would be closed until further notice.

Masan is 175 miles south of Seoul and 35 miles east of Pusan, South Korea's second largest city and the scene of bitter battles between students and police this week.

The protests were triggered by the Oct. 4 expulsion from Parliament of opposition leader Kim Young-sam, a native of Pusan. They began Tuesday with what police called a "premeditated riot" when students attacked city buildings and called for the overthrow of the government.

On Wednesday and Thursday, 3,000 demonstrators converged on government and private offices in Pusan, setting fire to several buildings and police cars in what was described as the most destructive anti-government demonstration since President Park came to power in 1961.

The government blamed the protests on "subversive elements" and imposed martial law in Pusan.

In Seoul, about 300 students of Seoul National University held a brief campus rally Friday to demand democratic reforms in school administration, including reinstatement of students expelled or suspended as dissidents

Pathologist testifies in city murder trial

By BILL MODISETT Staff Writer

Army Sgt. J.B. England drowned in his own blood July 18 after he was shot about 10 miles east of Midland on Interstate 20, claimed the Midland pathologist who performed the autopsy

Dr. David Shneidman, who spent about 11/2 hours on the autopsy, testified Friday afternoon in the second day of the murder trial of 17-year-old Kelly Joe Chambliss of Midland, which is under way in 238th District Court here.

Although selection of the eightman, four-woman jury began Mon-day, testimony did not begin until Thursday morning.

That trial is expected to resume at 9 a.m. Monday after a weekend recess.

Dr. Shneidman said the autopsy revealed three wounds to England's face and a two-inch laceration on his left elbow.

SPEAKING OF THE three bullet wounds to the sergeant's face, Dr. mond Wesley Mathis of Midland.

Shneidman said, "His air passageways filled with blood ... and he drowned in his own blood.

The pathologist said that an examination of England's lungs revealed that the interconnecting air passageways were clogged with blood, probably streaming from a gunshot wound in the back portion of his throat.

Bloody material also was found in the 39-year-old Army sergeant's stomach, Dr. Shneidman testified. According to the pathologist, the bleeding that caused England's death could have spanned a 11/2-hour peri-

Earlier testimony in the trial indicated England was shot about 4 a.m. July 18 10 miles east of Midland on I-20. He died at 5:55 a.m. at Midland Memorial Hospital.

LATE FRIDAY, Calvin Storey Jr. of Austin, a firearms examiner for the Texas Department of Public Safety, testified concerning tests he performed on the three .22-caliber rifles found in a car driven by a co-defendant in the case, 20-year-old Ray-

Mathis was convicted of murder in the case during a September trial the July 18 arrests of Mathis in Ward here and assessed a 99-year prison County and Chambliss, who was arterm. That conviction is on appeal.

Earlier Friday, Capt. John Kleinhans of the Midland County Sheriff's Department testified that blood spots found on the exterior of the van Sgt. England was driving indicate he was shot at least once while outside the van.

Kleinhans said the eight drops of blood, found on the driver's side of the van, appeared to have been caused by an exit wound from a gunshot.

Defense attorney Eddie Garza at-tacked Kleinhans' testimony, contending that the drops of blood could have been created by England swinging his wounded left arm.

BUT KLEINHANS appeared convinced that the droplets of blood, concentrated in an area on the van's exterior, were caused by England being shot at least once outside the vehicle.

Kleinhans also testified that blood smears were found on the van's exterior.

Testimony Thursday centered on rested just before or just after midnight that same day.

Sgt. Pat Fuller of the sheriff's department testified that he arrested Chambliss at an address on Griffin Street. Fuller said he had been told that Chambliss was attempting to leave for Canada.

When Mathis was arrested in Ward County that day, Fuller said officers found a loaded .22-caliber magnum rifle in the front of the car with Mathis and two .22-caliber rifles in the vehicle's trunk. A later inventory of the car revealed live .22-caliber, .25-caliber and .38-caliber bullets, Fuller said

THE DEFENSE TEAM of Garza and Allen McFall has contended that perhaps a passenger was riding with Sgt. England in the van, But Fuller discounted that possibility Thursday, testifying that he is "reasonably sure" that England was alone in the van.

The defense also pointed out that weapons capable of firing all the calibers of bullets found in Mathis' car haven't been located by the sheriff's department.

Testimony early Thursday centered on the initial investigation of the shooting incident.

Deputy Benny Fishback testified he was called to the scene-about 4:30 a.m. July 18 and found England being aided by two couples who had stopped. A woman, who told Fishback she was a nurse, was treating the sergeant for shock and attempting to keep him from choking on his own blood

A search of the van revealed pools of blood, mounds of broken glass from the shattered driver's side window and a fired bullet.

England was traveling from Marion, N.C., to Fort Bliss at El Paso when the shooting incident occurred.

The case is being prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney Charles Seltzer and District Attorney Vern Martin.

Last December, the AP-NBC News poll found 47 percent of the public backed U.S. recognition of Cuba and 41 percent opposed such action. Twelve percent of the 1,600 adults interviewed nationwide by telephone were not sure.

But the latest poll, taken Monday and Tuesday, showed only 39 percent now favor full diplomatic relations. Forty-four percent oppose such recognition and 17 percent were not sure. This swing comes after President Carter's speech on Oct. 1 outlining his efforts overall in foreign policy plan to increase the U.S. presence in the Caribbean as the proper response has done a good or excellent job in to the revelation of the Soviet brigade in Cuba.

Carter's actions did not draw applause from most Americans.

The public does link Carter's efforts on Cuba to his overall foreign policy rating

Of those who approve his efforts on Cuba, 40 percent give him excellent or good marks overall in foreign policy. In contrast, only 13 percent of those who don't approve his actions on the Soviet brigade give him top marks.

As with every sample survey, the results of the AP-NBC News poll can vary from the opinions of all those with telephones across the country because of chance variations in the sample

For polls with 1,600 interviews, the results should vary no more than 3 percentage points either way simply because of sample error.

Lawyer urges appellate court to uphold Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. relations with China may suffer serious damage unless an appellate court quickly upholds President Carter's authority to end a defense treaty with Taiwan, government lawyers argued Friday.

Bianchi enters plea of guilty to stranglings; Buono arrested

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP) -

Kenneth-Bianchi, who had earlier claimed innocence, pleaded guilty Friday to strangling two Washington coeds and agreed to plead guilty to five of the 13 so-called "Hillside Strangler" slayings in the Los Angeles area.

Whatcom County Superior Court Judge Jack Kurtz immediately sentenced Bianchi to serve two consecutive life terms in prison. Arrangements were made to take Bianchi to Los Angeles as soon as possible, said Whatcom County Prosecutor Dave McEachran.

McEachran said Bianchi, 28, had signed a written agreement that he would plead guilty to all counts" against him in California and cooperate with authorities to provide infor-mation on the "Hillside Strangler" slayings.

The agreement was co-signed by McEachran; Bianchi's lawyer Dean . Brett; Los Angeles District Attorney John VandeKamp; Los Angeles Police Chief Darryl Gates; Los Angeles Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess; and Glendale Police chief Duane Baker, according a statement from the prosecutor. Bianchi, who cried during much of the 65-minute hearing before Kurtz, told the court, "I can't find the words to express the sorrow for what I've done. In no way can I take away the pain I have given to others and in no way can I expect forgiveness from anybody Bianchi also told the court: "I have to take responsibility for what I've done and I have to do everything I can to get Angelo Buono and to devote my life to do everything I possibly can so that nobody else hopefully follows in my footsteps.

A half hour after Bianchi entered the guilty pleas, his cousin, Angelo Buono, 44, of Glendale, Calif., was arrested in connection with 10 of the "Hillside Strangler" slayings.

Buono was served with a warrant charging him with multiple felony counts, the Los Angeles sheriff's de partment said. Buono, long mentioned by police as a suspect, claims he is innocent.

Bianchi admitted strangling Karen Mandic, 22, of Bellevue, Wash., and Diane Wilder, 27, of Bremerton, to commit murder, kidnapping and Wash., in Bellingham in January. The rape.

Bianchi changed his plea from innocent to guilty after authorities agreed not to seek the death penalty, said McEachran.

Bianchi, who moved from California to Washington in May 1978, had earlier pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to the two slavings. Three psychologists tentatively diagnosed him as having a multiple personality. Later, at least one of the psychologists said Bianchi does not suffer from a multiple personality.

Six months ago, Bianchi was charged in Los Angeles with five of the "Hillside Strangler" murders that occurred between September 1977 and February 1978.

He was charged in the deaths of Yolanda Washington, Kristina Weckler, Jane Evelyn King, Kimberly Diane Martin and Cindy Hudspeth. He also was charged with conspiracy

Texas drivers surveyed in the latest Texas Crime Poll admitted that they drive faster than the 55-mile-per-hour legal speed limit.

Only 35 percent said their average speed is 55 or less.

The Texas Crime Poll is a survey of attitudes and opinions in the area of criminal justice conducted by the Criminal Justice Center at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. A total of 1,530 individuals representing 180 counties participated in the latest survey.

In answer to a question on average driving speed, the speed listed most frequently was 60 miles per hour (40.1 percent), followed by 55 (28.1 percent), and 65 (11.5 percent), for an average of 58.93 mph.

Participants also were asked what they thought the legal speed should be. The most common responses were 55 mph (32.1 percent), 60 mph (25.8 percent), 65 mph (23 percent), and 70 mph (14.3 percent), for an average of 61.09 mph.

In another area of concern, 56 percent of the respondents said they felt. they may be a victim of at least one crime during the next year. A similar number (55 percent) felt that the crime problem in their community is becoming worse.

"A comparison of these findings on the public's perception of the crime problem with those of earlier Crime Poll surveys suggests that a trend may be developing," said Dr. Raymond H.C. Teske Jr., Crime Poll director. Only 46 percent of those surveyed in Fall 1977 felt the crime problem was becoming worse.

The apparent growing concern with violent crime also was reflected in concept of probation.

Four out of five Texans answering the survey said they favored proba-tion being considered for at least one crime catagory. But only one in 20 would agree to probation being considered for the most violent of crimes, murder

The public's ranking of crimes by severity also was indicated by answers to a question on the crimes for which they would consider probation. After murder (5 percent) came rape (6 percent), robbery (9 percent), sale of illegal drugs other than marijuana (12 percent), aggravated assault (16 percent), burglary (20 percent), use of illegal drugs other than marijuana (24 percent), theft (32 percent), sale of marijuana (32 percent), auto theft (39 percent), use of marijuana (53 percent) and driving while intoxicated (60 percent).

Charles R. Jeffords, a Sam Houston graduate student who compiled data used in the survey, thought it significant that the public apparently feels that driving while intoxicated - with its accompanying risk to innocent motorists and pedestrians - is less reprehensible than the use of marijua na

A question on the death penalty provided another measure of the public's perception of the severity of crimes. Four out of every five participants favor the death penalty being available for at least one crime, with 77 percent naming murder, followed by rape (39 percent), kidnapping (31 percent), treason (25 percent), armed robbery (14 percent), arson (9 percent) and "other crimes" (7 percent).

Taiwan treaty is scheduled to be terminated.

U.S. District Judge Oliver Gasch, in ruling Wednesday, decided Carter acted unconstitutionally in deciding end the 25-year-old treaty with Taiwan as part of his program to normalize relations with mainland

Ending the treaty with the island nation had been one condition set by the Peking government before the United States and China could assume normal diplomatic relations.

Gasch contended Carter would have to receive the approval of twothirds of the Senate or a majority of both the House and Senate in order to end the treaty

The government served notice Thursday that it would appeal Gasch's decision and formally filed that appeal Friday

Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher, in a statement attached to the appeal, told the appellate court that Gasch must be reversed or 'there is the risk that the (Peoples' Republic of China) will feel obliged to reconsider the entire relationship and a reversal of steps already taken is a distinct possibility.

In Peking, Chinese Vice Foreign Minister Han Nianlong said the United States "should act in accordance' with Chinese-American normalization agreements. He said that if the U.S. defense pact with Taiwan is extended relations between the Washington and Peking will be in serious trouble

In its legal brief, the Justice Department urged the full appeals court to expedite review of the case.

Christopher's statement said "a normalized political relationship with (China) is of great significance to the strategic interests of the United States in achieving a careful balance of relationships in Asia and the world.'

American and Japanese victims until next-of-kin were notified.

Hampered by storm-disrupted communications and continuing bad weather, U.S. officials here had trouble assembling details of the accident at Camp Fuji, a combined American-Japanese military base at the foot of the sacred 12.000-foot extinct volcano 90 miles southwest of Tokyo

Efforts to evacuate the most serious cases to U.S. military hospital failed because helicopters sent to the camp could not land; authorities said.

U.S. officials said they would move the critically injured by other means to the hospitals at Yokosuka, the 7th Fleet Headquarters, and at the U.S. air base at Yokota.

For the time being, the injured were being treated at five Japanese hospitals in the area, they said.

The Kyodo news service, quoting police near the camp, said the howling winds and rain collapsed a 10-foot enclosure where fuel was stored in plastic containers, allowing the gasoline to flow into the barracks area where it "probably" was ignited by a heater, setting off the blast and fire.

Kyodo said about 5,000 gallons of gasoline were washed down a slope from the fuel depot on higher ground and it quoted one unidentified injured victim as saying, "The flames surged down toward us like lava."

It reported the flood of fire spread rapidly and Marines, confined to their quonset-hut barracks, smashed windows and crawled out to escape the flames

Master Gunnery Sgt. Bos Green, a U.S. military spokesman here, did not confirm those details. "The fuel tank leaked, flowed and then ignited. That's all I know," he said.

The U.S. military reported it took firemen almost five hours to extinguish the fire. Fourteen of 20 quonset huts, plus a laundry-concession building, were destroyed, the reports said.

One Japanese woman was treated and released, according to the U.S Command. Kyodo said three of the injured were Japanese.

New windfall-profits tax not as tough as Carter's

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate saved a worker and his employer up Finance Committee approved an oil industry "windfall-profits" tax Friday that is less than half as tough as the one recommended by President Carter.

The measure, adopted on an 11-1 vote, would cost well owners and oil producerss an estimated $142 billion from 1980 through 1990. The bulk of "the money would be used to finance Carter's long-range national energy plan and to help Americans earning under $22,000 a year pay their fuel bills

The windfall tax proposed by Carter would have produced an estimated $292 billion in revenues during the 11 years, assuming oil prices rise each year as fast as inflation plus 2 percent. The House-passed plan would have yielded about $273 billion.

The tax would take away some of the billions of dollars in extra money that will flow to the oil industry as a result of Carter's decision to phase out federal controls on U.S.-produced erude oil. The tax — which would be on revenues, not profits - would apply to 50 to 75 percent of price inceases above current levels.

The committee defeated a Republican effort to tie a one-year freeze of Social Security taxes to the windfall profits tax. By holding the tax in 1981 to the same level that will take effect in 1980, the amendment would have to $387

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the committee chairman, insisted that the amendment by Sen. William V. Roth, R-Del., was too important to vote on without further study. Long vigorously tried to avoid a yes-or-no vote, attempting to spare some Democratic colleagues the task of opposing such a politically appealling measure

Roth was able to force a vote, but lost on a 10-10 tie. Democrats David Boren of Oklahoma and Mike Gravel of Alaska joined the panel's eight Republicans in voting for the Social Security tax freeze.

Roth promised another effort when the committee takes a final review of the windfall bill next Wednesday.

The committee, even though it has approved the bill, has not filled in all the details on how the government should help lower-income Americans cope with ever-rising fuel costs. That decision also will be made Wednes-

Here are basic elements of the spending plan:

-About $70 billion would be spent through 1990 in direct payments of at least $10 a month to welfare recipients (generally those with incomes up to about $11,000 a year) and in tax credits of perhaps $60 a year for those making up to $22,000-a year.

-About $8.3 billion worth of tax credits would be designed as incencredits would be used to encourage homeowners and renters to weatherproof their homes and substitute solar and wind power for fuel oil. -About $13.2 billion worth of tax

The Time Is NOW!

We can't afford to wait any*longer to make needed repairs and improvements to our schools. Several years ago, we "waited" on air-conditioning...and the waiting cost taxpayers millions of dollars in higher costs when it was finally done. We need these things NOW-and we need a new elementary school to be begun NOW! Let's show our concern and our care for our children by voting FOR School Bonds Tuesday.

"BUILDINGS DO NOT AN EDUCATION MAKE" -- BUT WE MUST HAVE GOOD, UP-TO-DATE FACILITIES TO GET THE JOB DONE...KEEP STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT HIGH ... ATTRACT AND KEEP BETTER TEACHERS. EVERY ONE OF US HAS BEEN A SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER AND WE HAVE WORKED FOR BETTER SCHOOLS. THE NEW FACILITIES AND IMPROVED OLDER ONES WILL BE A FINE AND NECESSARY INVESTMENT IN THE FUTURE OF OUR GREAT CITY AND ITS'-CONTINUED GROWTH.

Please Vote For Bonds Tuesday!

special commemorative service at 4 p.m. Sunday. The event will draw visitors from Odessa and Lubbock in addition to members and friends of the congregation from the Midland area.

The Rev. Russell Lockwood of Tulsa, Okla., director of the Southwest Unitarian Universalist Conference, will give the commemorative address at the afternoon service. It will be followed by a reception. The public is invited to attend the service and the fellowship event. The Midland Unitarian Church was chartered in 1954, with Midland physician Dr. Kurt Liekish serving as first president of the congregation. The church building was erected in 1958 and the Rev. Gordon Crook served as first minister of the congregation

Later ministers were the Rev. Bill'Nichols and the Rev. Peter Richardson. The congregation has been without a fulltime minister for the last several years

The Unitarian Universalist Association is based in Boston, Mass., and its Beacon Press has been a major developer and source of religious education materials used by several denominations.

The Unitarians and Universalists were separate organizations until they merged in 1961. Universalists played an active part in early Texas history but the denomination receded to New England and the far West in more recent years.

Unitarians were among the earliest colonial church groups and established the first legal precedent for freedom of religion a number of years

Joseph A. Fiorenza as bishop of the diocese. Organ accompaniment for the massed choir at the ordination rites will be Bertha S. Johnson of Midland.

The Lighthouse Principle

Maybe few of us landlubbers ever thought about it, but those graceful old lighthouses were built on a firm and logical principle.

They assumed their light would be seen and understood. In fog ships did not see the light and many fpundered on the shoals. Occasionally captains mistook the light for that of another vessel and sailing across its bow or stern they came to grief upon the rocks. Yet despite hazards of nature and blunders of man, lighthouses became the landmarks of our coasts.

Whenever in your travels, work or play, you see a church think of it as a lighthouse. Its gleam may not reach every soul. But it's there for those who see and understand.

It lights our way to port while keeping us off the shoals.

Supreme Court rejects effort to spare Bishop

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) - The U.S. Supreme Court on Friday rejected another request to spare the life of convicted killer Jesse Bishop, who says he wants to be executed on schedule Monday. But his frustrated defenders renewed their efforts to stop the execution.

The high court voted 7-1 in Washington to reject the latest appeal filed in Bishop's behalf, by the NAACP Legal Defense Fund. It was the second rebuff by the court this month to Bishop's defenders, who also have been turned down by the Nevada Pardons Board and various state and federal courts

On Thursday, Justice William H. Rehnquist had refused to postpone the execution. Defense fund lawyers then turned to Justice William J. Brennan Jr., who referred the matter to the full court, setting the stage for Friday's vote.

Bishop, condemned to death for nurdering David Ballard, 'a Baltimore newlywed, during a holdup in Las Vegas in 1977, has repeatedly spurned efforts by those who want to halt his execution in the gas chamber.

His execution, set to take place between 12:01 a.m. and 2 a.m. PDT Monday, would be the first in Nevada since 1961 and the first in the United States since John A. Spenkelink was put to death in Florida in May.

The courts have said the defenders have no legal standing in the case, and Bishop agrees.

'I'm not glad that the ACLU asked (for a stay of execution) because I have no respect for them," he said at one point.

After the Supreme Court's ruling, the American Civil Liberties Union filed suit with the sentencing judge, Clark County District Court Judge Paul Goldman of Las Vegas, asking for an immediate stay of execution.

The suit said the procedure to sentence Bishop was unconstitutional because there allegedly was no consideration of any mitigating circumstances. Therefore, the suit said, no state money should be spent on the execution.

"We have no quarrel with Mr. Bishop's desire to die," said Henry Schwarzschild of New York, director of the ACLU's capital punishment project. "Our quarrel is with the right of the state of Nevada to kill him.'

Convicted hired killer, crime

"The state of Nevada, all of us, have a hand in this," said Eric Moon of the American Friends Service Committee in Reno. "Some tiny portion of the cyanide egg belongs to me. I, if no one else, ought to be able to say I don't want a part in that killing."

"We simply disagree with this man about whether he has a chance to live," said the ACLU's Richard Siegel of Reno.

Bishop says any delay in his execution would needlessly prolong the suffering fop him and his family, and he has refused to take any action on his own.

He has even refused to offer mitigating evidence in court that could lessen his sentence, evidence that the defenders claim might prevent the execution.

Schwarzschild has argued that the ourts should consider the evidence anyway. "The fact of the execution is a moral, political social act of transcending importance," he said.

He said murderers like Bishop have no right to choose their own execu-

"It's not what they want," Schwarzschild said. "If they had not committed murder they might be able to say whether they live or die

Schwarzschild termed the slaying for which Bishop was convicted a "run-of-the-mill murder" that did not warrant the death penalty. Moon agreed, saying Bishop "is not what I would call a threat, not so much of a monster, that he would have to be done away with."

But in rejecting clemency for Bishop, Gov. Robert List, a proponent of the death penalty, said state laws clearly cover murderers like Bishop. Moon said Bishop's steadfast refusal to plead for his life had created sympathy for him among people who seem to say, "He's a killer, but at least he's going to be a man."

The defenders, on the other hand, are seen as "weirdos," said Moon. He said anyone who says, "No, stop the cycle of violence" is in a way "a lot more threatening than Jesse Bish-

Midland has always risen to meet the challenges of being a better city especially in the educational arena. Our schools have been operated economically by a cost-conscious administration and board. EXCEPT FOR AIR-CONDITIONING, WE HAVE NOT VOTED BONDS TO BUILD NEW SCHOOLS OR IMPROVE OLD ONES SINCE 1965. But the time has come: we must build a new elementary school, expand the Midland High School campus to meet student needs, and repair, renovate and up-date buildings which are twenty to thirty years old. We can't afford to wait any longer! The longer we wait, the more it will cost.

| Here | 's What It | Will Cost: |
|------------------------|------------|----------------------------------|
| If Your House Is Worth | | Your average yearly Tax Increase |
| $50,000.00 | | $18.49 |
| $40,000.00 | | $14.79 |
| $30,000.00 | | $11.09 |

92° to $1.54 PER MONTH! Much less than the cost of a movie...or a hamburger and coke...or two packs of cigarettes...and the annual cost is less than one fastfood meal and a drive-in movie for a family of four!

Cougar downs Lee, 28-14, to remain No.

By BOB DILLON Sports Writer

Abilene Cooper made the big play pay off Friday night in Memorial Stadium.

The Cougars came out with their guns blazing, but managed to fire some blanks too in route to a 28-14 victory over the Midland Lee Rebels in a game of unbeaten football powers

Coach Ray Overton's Cougars jumped out in front, 21-0 and it looked like the state's No. 1 team was going to run the Rebels out of their own stadium, but not so as the game; but smaller Rebels battled back to cut the deficit to 21-14 at halftime.

The big play was the difference as Lee pretty well shut down the potent Cougar ground attack, but through the airways, it was a different story, especially with John Slaughter at quarterback.

Slaughter riddled the Lee secondary with pin-point passing, connecting on six of eight passes for 166 yards and one touchdown. The 180-pound senior hit his first six passes before 3 14-14 at the intermission.

finally missing, a la Roger Staubach

THERE WERE a lot of factors in the game. Cooper played without allstate fullback candidate Terry Orr on defense, but the 229-pounder did play at a linebacker slot, while Lee had three players banged up in quarterback Gary Butler, fullback Mark Thompson and safety-punter Barry Corley.

Corley and Butler had ankle injuries while Thompson was bothered somewhat with a bad thigh, but the 190-pound senior power running still led both ground attacks with 93 yards in 23 carries.

Slaughter was the leading rusher for the Cougars with 55 yards in seven carries. . .

The powerful Cougs scored the first three times they had the ball and it oooked like a blowout, but Bartosh's gutty crew scratched and clawed their way back into the game and if it hadn't been for a gift on a bad snap on a punt, it could have very easily been

COOPER TOOK the opening kickoff and went 50 yards in only five plays after a short kickoff. Slaughter was. thrown for a seven-yard loss by Craig Ellis and James McGarritty, but on the next play, gave the ball to Steve Moake, filling in for Orr and the 200-pounder picked up four yards. A 35-yard run by Slaughter to the Lee 12 set up the first touchdown of the night. On the next play, Slaughter scored easly from the 12 as the big and mobled Cooper line blew out the Rebels. Kyle Stuard booted the first of four extra points for a 7-0 lead with 10:08 left in the first period.

Lee was uanble to move the ball in its first possession and once again the Key City crew scored after Corley was dumped for a 24-yard loss on a bad snap from center with the ball going over to the Cougars at the Lee 13. Three plays later, tailback Keith Pantalion scored from the five and Stuard's PAT made it 14-0 with 6:15 left in the initial period

LEE THEN marched from its own

41 to the Cougar 10, but the Cooper defense stiffened and Larry Linne's 36-yard field goal was blocked by Denny McInnis.

The Cougars then went 80 yards in five plays with a 62-yard bomb from Slaughter to David Williams the real stunner down to the Rebel seven. Slaughter-also dialed Williams' number for an additional yards and the quick drive as capped by Williams' six-yard pass from Slaughter. Stuard made it 21-0 with 11:55 left in the first half.

This is when Lee could have folded its tent, but the Rebels showed plenty of poise in driving for two touchdowns to make things very interesting indeed at halftime.

Eugene Merritt gave the Rebs some. hope with a fine 30-yard return of the Cooper kickoff after the Cougs' third touchdown to give Lee the ball at the Rebel 42 and in 13 plays, they scored with Steve Waldron skipping the final 10 yards for the score. Linne booted the PAT to make it 21-7 with 10:21 left in the first half.

Charlie Coleman and Keith Brown led the fired-up Rebels who finally _come to the Cooper goal line the rest stopped the next Cooper drive and the Rebels got the break they needed when Greg Hadley fumbled a Lee punt with sophomore Terry Thompson pouncing in the loose ball at the Copper 15. In two plays, Lee scored to get back into the game when Butler hit Linne in the end zone with an eight-yard pass. Linne tacked on the extra point to make it 21-14 with 3: 13 left.

Corley picked off a pass by quarterback Lanny Dycus just before halftime as Dycus misfired on four straight passes.

Cooper started off the second half with a bang, taking the opening kickoff and driving 74 yards in nine plays to score what proved to be the final points of the game. The big play, was, you guessed it --- a 38-yard pass. from Slaughter to Steve Malpass down to the Lee 22. Slaughter capped the drive with a one-yard plunge and Stuard's PAT made it 28-14 with 8:01 left in the third period.

The closest that Lee was going to of the way was at the Cougar 30.

Wade Cartwright picked off a Slaughter pass at the Lee 49 midway in the final period, but the Rebels couldn't penetrate the tough Cooper defense

With the loss, Lee is now 5-1 on the year and 2-1 in Districrt 5-4A play while Cooper is 6-0 and 3-0 and takes on Odessa Permian next week in Abilene in another big showdown battle.

Potent Cougars bring Rebs back to reality

It was one of those weeks for the Midland Lee Rebels; and it had to come when the Abilene Cooper Cous gars were coming to town.

This was the week to dream of conquests that would shake the state, but it was almost doomed before the week got a good beginning. This was the week to stand up an be counted. To make the No. 1 AAAA team in the state finally pay its dues. But by the time collection time had rolled around, it seemed almost too much to ask.

It all started Tuesday for the Rebels. Backup quarterback and starting saftey Barry Corley came up with a bad foot in a freakish practice play. Then Wedensday, starting quarterback Gary Butler twisted an ankle on another freakish play. That was the start of the week when Lee had dared to dream.

Both played, and both played well Friday against the Cooper Awesomes, but Butler could barely walk without pain. Corley was a little bet-ter in the walking department, but you could see the limp. It was with, these kinds of things that the Rebels tried for their moment of glory.

It all had coach Gil Bartosh shaking his head. "It even rained before our pep rally Thursday- night. I don't know what kind of omen all this is, but guess we will find out tonight," Bartosh stated before the game. He and his Rebels found out quick

the hip and got back into the ball game. They wouldn't go down that easily. Not this bunch. It was just a case of too many broken bodies trying to dream the impossible dream. But in retrospect, this was District

5-4A football that we have all come to know and love. We loved the effort of both teams. No one lost, Lee just came out on the short end of the score

And as Bartosh put it after the game, "They had too many big guns." And that was it in a nutshell. And we will hear the echos of the shots fired for a long time.

Bobcats upset

San Angelo Central shocked Odessa, 19-17 and Odessa Permian took an easy 35-7 victory over Big Spring in District 3-4A football action Friday night.

Central had been blanked twice in 5-4A play, but the Bobcats got scoring out of Glenn Payne on an 87-yard kickoff return, Kel Crain and pass from Crain to fullback Doug DeWitt. OHS, now 0-3 in 5-4A play, got touchdowns from Greg Adams who scored twice and a field goal from (Continued on 12A) enough. Cooper scored the first three times it touched the ball. Bang! 21-0 Cooper

But Lee was still dreaming. I mean, they still dared to dream. A rout was on and here was fullback Mark-Thompson carrying the ball and a bruised thigh up and down the field like there was, hope

And before the half, there was a ray of hope. Butler, Thompson and Lee's offensive line had narrowed the margin to 21-14 on two TD drives. The Rebels were making broken bodies do things that can only be done in midnight dreams. Cooper was ready for the half.

But the Cougars made it a broken dream in the third period when they marched 74 yards for a touchdown. That was the final margin, 28-14.

Cooper made the big plays, like passes for 32, 62, 38, 26 and 21 yards. That was the difference. Lee was trying to kill a giant with a run up the gut. It was the only real weapon they had, and it wasn't enough in the end. If only they could have had David's slingshot

Cooper just kept making the big play against the Lee defense. They moved the ball against Lee like no other team has been able to do. And that in itself is to Cooper's credit. There are some reasons why they are the top team in the state. They didn't get that way on politics alone.

The Rebels, on the other hand, could have died easily at 21-0. After all, you don't spot 21 points to the No. 1 team and get away with it. But they tried and that was the fun part. The Rebs came back shooting from Alabama ranks No. 1, but out of deed or old habit?

On one of those talk shows, a coach, no less, suggested that you couldn't vote Alabama out of No. 1 if it beat Tennessee today, even if Texas beat Arkansas, a feat that would give the Longhorns back-to-back victories over top-10 ranked, unbeaten opponents.

Such thinking probably explains why the polls look like they do each week. The pollsters vote out of habit and blind, unquestioning obedience.

The question here is, what did Alabama do to deserve to be ranked No. 1 in the first place? The Crimson Tide is unbeaten, but half the teams in the nation would be unbeaten, facing the kind of challenges offered by Wichita State, Vanderbilt and Florida.

The Tide's success, it-is rumored, has the Bear thinking bowl already, although it hasn't been confirmed that he'd be willing to beat Air Force in the Sugar Bowl, if it can win one of its remaining games. Alabama, the questionable national champion of a year ago, soundly beaten by the team that wound up N. 2, may very well be the nation's best, but right now their credentials don't. seem to warrant it. Although the Tide is 5-0, its opponents are a combined 5-21-2 and if it weren't for Baylor, the Tide's opposition would be a glittering 1-19-2. That's No. 1? Surely, there's a better more scientific way. Among the unbeatens in the top ten, a check of the records reveals that the only team playing opponents who have compiled a winning percentage is Florida State, 17-16, but that's against the likes of Toledo, Louisville, Southern Mississippi, Miami and Arizona State. Of the others, Texas' record is 10-12, wins over Oklahoma and Missouri; Nebraska is 13-15; Arkansas 11-17-1; Houston 9-20-1;-Ohio State 14-22; and once-tied

USC, 10-16-2.

Just for kicks, we devised a simple...primitive is more accurate, rating formula for ranking the unbeatens, just to see what it would show. Briefly, 10 points are awarded for each victory. five for a tie for the games played and 10 points and five for a tie for each of the opposition's successes.

The standings would vault Florida State to the top with 230 points, with Ohio State-second, 200; Nebraska, third, 180; Arkansas, fourth, 165; USC, fifth, 150; Houston, sixth, 145; Texas, seventh, 140, and Alabama, no better than eighth, 110 points.

That's worse than the pollsters' picks, but Florida State and Ohio State have the advantage of playing one more game than most of their rivals and two more than Texas, which explains the Horns low rating under the system. Obviously, some adjustment would have to be made to compensate for the inequity in the number of games played. However, in the long run, it would balance out. Infact, you can imagine the leap forward the winner of the Texas-Arkansas game would take .after this week And who will win today's SWC

Eagles eke out 13-10 win over Pack at gun

BY RICHARD VINCENT R-T Sports Writer

ABILENE-Midland High's dream of a possible District-5-4A crown went out the window here Friday night quicker than you could say Loyal Proffitt to Leo Parrish.

Quarterback Proffitt tossed a sixyard scoring pass to sophomore halfback Parrish with 10 seconds remaining in the game here, leading the Abilene High Eagles to a 13-10 district victory over the Bulldogs.

The setback dropped Midland to 4-2 for the season and 1-2 in district while the Warbirds increased their overall mark to 3-3 and 2-1 in the league. Abilene's desperation last second scoring drive began at the Midland 42 with but 72 ticks remaining on the clock Proffitt, who hit on six of 15 passes for 51 yards, opened the brief foray with an 11-yard screen pass to fullback Willie Roberts.

Then, with first and 10 at the 31, Midland hurt itself with a pass interference penalty that moved the Eagles to the 25. On second down, Roberts, who led all rushers with 124 yards, ripped off 11 steps that caused the good sized Shotwell Stadium. crowd to sense something big was about to happen.

It did, two players later when Proffitt hit the swing pass to Parrish, who made a bee-line for the corner of the end zone with the winning score.

It was earlier in the fourth quarter that the struggling Midland offense managed their lone score of the second half.

Unable to capitalize on a 12-play journey that moved them from their 40 to the Warbird four, Bulldog Coach Dennie Hays called on Bobby Stovall for a 21-yard field goal which made the count 10-7 Midland with 6:01 in the

For the evening, Midland racked up 259 yards total offense while the Warbirds tallied 274. Senior fullback Jeff Robnett and junior tailback Jerry Zachery each ran well for the visitors, but in the end, it was their inability to get crucial yardage in key situations that spelled doomed for the Bulledgy as evidence by one lost fumble for each team in the first period. Midland finally untracked midway through the first and blasted from their own 33 to the Eagle two behind the hard running of Zachery and Robnett. But they were foiled on a fourth and goal at the two when Zachery was nailed short of the goal line by Eagle tackle Wes Gorman.

It wasn't that the Eagles did any better in the first quarter as they ran only eight plays including punts for a mere 10 yards

Rick Ankerholz, who played a brilliant defensive game, recovered a Roberts fumble at the Eagles 44 to set the' Dogs up for their opening TD march. After a one yard loss, Feldt cranked a 22-yard strike to end Paul Hickey and then went for it all with a 23-yard scoring dart to Russell Hays at 9:20 of the second period. Stovall made it 7-0

However, Abilene stormed back as Roberts and Parrish began gobbling up huge chunks of yardage. The Birds needed just seven plays to punch the Zachery resulted in a 15-yard loss. The game started with both teams and 15 yard romps by Parrish. Roberts, on a perfectly executed delaydraw, scooted the final 15 yards and following a Randy Williams' point after it was 7-7 with 6:56 left in the half

Midland looked like they were starting for paydirt midway in the third after Mark Hewitt intercepted a Proffit pass at the Bulldog 40, however, as was the case most of the second half, the Dogs just couldn't move the football.

Pecos downs Andrews in showdown

PECOS - The District 2-AAA football season opened with a battle of giants here Friday night, and it-was the Pecos Eagles who escaped falling from the list of the unbeatens.

Pecos scored 14 points in the fourthquafter to wipe out a 3-0 lead by the Andrews Mustangs, who had their field goal in the fourth period also. Pecos is now 6-0 on the year and 1-0 in loop action while Andrews fell to 5-1 and 0-1 with their first loss of the season.

It was a bitter pill for the Mustangs to swallow. Andrews captured a 3-0 lead early in the fourth period when. place kicker Van Eisenbach booted a 20-yard field goal. Black's run saves Devils

RANKIN-Freshman halfback Dennis Black turned in a searing 69-yard run with 8:46 left to play to give Rankin's war-whopping Red Devils a thrilling 22-18 victory over stubborn Wink, 22-18, in a non-district football game here Friday night.

Wink shot in front 18-14 in the third quarter on a sensational 82-yard interception return by Steve McDonald, but that was about it for the Wildcats in the second half. Wink managed just 20 yards rushing and no pointer after Black's game-winner, gained 26 yards in 139 carries while Black gained 152 yards in 21 carries and had a 32-yard fourth period TD wiped out by a clip.

Defensively, Kevin Smith intercepted two passes for Rankin while Esparza recovered a fumble that set up a TD.

Despite Shootout label, Steers usually pack the heavy artrillery

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

It qualifies as a "shootout" because both teams are in the Top Ten, but Texas carries a long string of domination into Saturday's Southwest Conference battle of unbeatens against Arkansas in Little Rock. Texas has won 11 of its last 12 games against Arkansas. Since 1966 when Arkansas beat the Longhorns 12-7 in Austin, the Razorbacks have only prevailed once - a 31-7 victory at Little Rock in 1971.

In other words, Texas has a seven-game victory streak over Arkansas. So while the "Shootouts" have been thrilling such as the 1969 game for the national championship, Arkansas has caught most of the bullets. Of course, Texas Coach Fred Akers will tell you tradition never tackled anybody.

"Arkansas is just as undefeated as Oklahoma was," says Akers. "The Arkansas game is going to require everything we can muster in the way of concentration and intensity."

No. 2-rated Texas was a fourpoint favorite over the No. 10rated Razorbacks.

"We've not played a team the caliber of Texas since I've been here," said Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz. "Texas is just a great defensive football team." Holtz said he wishes he could have recruited Texas halfback

A.J. "Jam" Jones. "A.J. was a great back in high school just 35 miles from my hometown in Ohio and my father-in-law called me about him," said Holtz. "Unfortunately, he had no interest in Arkansas.

Jones leads the SWC in rushing with a 135-yard-per-game average. While the Arkansas-Texas 'matchup holds national attention, there are some other big SWC games. Southern Methodist and its Mustang Mania tries to survive against No. 5-rated and unbeaten Houston Saturday night in the Astrodome. Houston is a 12point pick over the crippled Ponies although the Cougars have yet to beat SMU at home.

Rice travels to Lubbock where it is a 21-point underdog against Texas Tech, Baylor is a 13-point pick over Army at West Point, and Texas Christian is a 4-point underdog as Coach F.A. Dry goes back home against Tulsa.

The SWC is 15-8-1 on the intersectional front and already assured a winning season no matter the outcome of the TCU-Tulsa and Baylor-Army games.__

Series better than expected, and had its moments

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, SAT., OCT. 20, 1979

By JIM MURRAY

Los Angeles Times Syndicate BALTIMORE - It was a better World Series than it had a right to be. On paper, it looked like an agony fight, strictly an undercard match in Baseball history, a plating race. A World Series which stars Willie Stargell, like any movie which stars Redford, moves up in class, is a main event.

The Baltimore Orioles, such a collection of mystery guests they should have played in masks, almost stole it. But the majestic figure of Wilver Dornell Stargell, the nearest thing to Babe Ruth this generation has seen, wouldn't let them. He elevated himself and the Series in the process.

TEE TIME

Its greatest achievement was finishing on time. You might say it was like the U.S. mail, "neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow, nor heat of day nor dark of night stayed these worthies from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" & except, the word "swift" doesn't belong in there. One game took two days, and all the rest four hours. Or three

It's time to pause and give awards for Series valor, or lack of it, Such

BEST QUOTE - This came from Pirate third-baseman Bill Madlock, an ex-Giant, commenting on the firing of San Francisco's manager Joe Altobelli: "Joe tried to treat the players like men, but it's well known most ballplayers are a bunch of asses. MOST UNDERRATED PLAYER -This would be the Ott who isn't Mel. Ed Ott, Pirate catcher, batted a nice, steady 333, with one double and two Runs-Batted-In, scored the winning run in Game 2, and handled Pittsburgh's gangbusters pitching staff like Gabby Hartnett.

SADDEST SIGHT - On what should have been the happiest day of his life, Pittsburgh manager Chuck Tanner went to a funeral. His mother'

WEIRDEST SERIES STAT EVER -In the ninth inning of the last game, two consecutive batters got hit by two different pitchens both named Martinez. Ripley gets the rights to that one

NEXT SADDEST SIGHT - The Baltimoze Mifield

LONELIEST PLACE IN THE BALL-PARK - The doghouse occupied by Pittsburgh's Bruce Kison after giving up five runs in one-third of an inning in the first game. Next loneliest was Dave Roberts, the only player on either team not to get in a single BIGGEST SURPRISE - Pittsburgh pitcher Grant Jackson, a much-traveled, have-arm, will-pitch pitcher who appeared in four games and gave up only one hit and no earned runs. UNLUCKIEST PLAYER - Baltimore's Jim Palmer, who pitched two impeccable games only to see his team lose both of them on some slapstick fielding. Palmer, who was 20 years old and won the game on the last game Sandy Koufax ever pitched, now knows what Sandy felt like that day. Also, the bitter Palmer, pointed out, when he pitched against Pittsburgh's Bert Blyleven, he was pitching "against a guy making twice as much money as I do.'

GREATEST COMEBACK - Omar Moreno, known in press row as "Omar the Outmaker" in the early games, awoke with a start to personally demolish Baltimore's relief corps in the last two games

MOST MISLEADING STATISTIC-Ken Singleton's 10 hits looked good in the record book, but his nine singles and one double were just Confederate money in this Series. He scored one lone run in 30 plate appearances MOST TRUCULENT QUOTE - Also from Bill Madlock, who observed, 'We on 96 games and Baltimare won 102. But if we had played Foronto, Cleveland, Seattle and Chicago, all season, we would have won 150. MOST QUESTIONABLE STRATE-GY - Earl Weaver's leaving the game's certifiably greatest defensive shortstop on the bench in games 6 and 7 and playing Kiki Garcia and his ell-steel glove and iron elbow. MOST VOCAL FANS - Baltimore, 2-1. Pittsburghers acted as if they were at the opera.

MOST UNPOPULAR PLAYER WITH THE PRESS - Don "throw the damn ball please". Stanhouse, whose deliberations on the mound made every pitch seem like a Genéva peace treaty, and who pitched right through newsmen's deadlines and seemed to be waiting for bats to become cob webs before he threw to them.

MOST WELCOME SIGHT - The final out in the bottom of the ninth of the seventh game. The "workingman's" World Series finally came to an end and let the participants get into their gold Rolls Royces and roll down to their yachts in Florida.

Memorial scoring area proposed ASU linebacker testifies

BY REX WORRELL Hogan Park Golf Pro

Golfers who have participated in company or association tournaments -since the golf shop was moved probably noticed the lack of a scoring area. Remember the old golf shop location? We used the Mulberry tree behind the outfield fence of Cubs Stadium for refreshment, scoring and food-catering. What this is all about is we need the support of church, association, civic and industrial groups that host tournaments at the Hogan Park facilities.

We are going to start a fund drive to send to Hogan Park Gon Course, construct a scoring area that will P.O.Box 167, Midland 79702. A set of plans for the area as it will be built consist of a tournament building, 12x15 feet, on an exposed aggregate concrete pad with tieins to the service drive and cart trail between the cart storage area and golf shop.

The scoring center will be used for tournaments and will.cost between $10,000 and $12,000. The area will be the Smokey Woods Memorial scoring center and as a base for the fund drive, the Smokey Woods Memorial fund, which started about two years ago, will be used. The fund presently is about $1,825 and Rex's Golf Shop will start this fund drive with a $500 donations

Golfers who work for or belong to an association or company, that uses the facilities are urged to check with the group involved and see what we can do to get the fund drive. going

Make donations payable to the Smokey Woods Memorial Fund and send to Hogan Park Golf Course, plans for the area as it will be built are on display at the golf shop.

The Midland Women's City championships got under way Thursday with the qualifying round and Charlotte Marburger took medalist honors with an 85. The tournament proper begins Tuesday at Hogan Park with the first round of matches.

We hope the weatherman cooperates with the ladies and provides. beautiful weather for the 16th annual championships

The Schedule for the tournament beings at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday with coffee and doughnuts with first round matches at 9 a.m.; Wednesday it will be coffee and doughnuts at 8:30 with second round matches and first round consolation play. Chipping and putting contests will follow Wednesday's play. Thursday at 9 a.m. the final round for all flights begins with the Crybaby flight scheduled for a 9:30 a.m. tee off. The awards luncheon will be held at Midland Country Club following play

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - Line backer Gary Bouck testified Friday that he owes $1,050 to a dragstrip promoter reported to be instrumental in the firing of Arizona State University football coach Frank Kush.

Rick Lynch, the promoter, admitted to The Associated Press that he loaned money to ASU players and hired them to work for cash, but said the loans were repaid either in money or labor. "But the most money I've ever lent a player is 100 bucks or Bouck testified before U.S. District Judge William P. Copple, who denied a plaintiff's motion to enjoin Kush and his attorney, Harry Cavanagh, from intimidating witnesses in a $1.1 million suit filed against Kush and the university by Kevin Rutledge.

Noting that Kush no longer has control over assistant coaches or players, Copple said, "I cannot find that there is any likelihood of any harassment or intimidation that is going to be committed.

Sri Lanka's president threatened

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (AP) - The government offices next door to the trade union offices. has uncovered a threat against the life of President Junius Richard Jayewardene, the state-controlled Ceylon Daily News said Friday.

The newspaper said police, acting after a probe by the Criminal Investigation Department, recovered three hand bombs from the trade union headquarters. of the opposition Sri Lanka Freedom Party. The premises were placed under police guard, but there was no word of arrests. Nor was there immediate reaction from the party.

The report-said that "for some time" information had been received that "certain persons" at trade union headquarters had been discussing the most opportune time to "insult or assassinate" the president. The phrase was not explained.

It said the group had decided to go ahead with the plot when Jayewardene visited his dentist, who has Jayewardene had seen his dentist Wednesday and Thursday, and his secretary had requested another appointment Friday. The report did not say whether the president had visited the dentist again Friday. The Daily News said that police had information that bombs had been brought to the trade union office last month and taken away. Further information was received today that bombs had been brought once again led to the raid.
