NEWS IN BRIEF

Fonda to quit

DAVIS, Calif. (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda, who has campaigned in person and in her movies against nuclear energy and the Vietnam War, said Friday she will drop out of politics for a few years to make films.

"I am stepping down from the political arena and will be spending the next years of my life pretty much exclusively making six films," Ms. Fonda said.

The two-time Academy Award winning actress just completed a month-long trip with her husband, political activist Tom Hayden, to promote their Campaign for Economic Democracy.

Carrier OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $2.1 billion nuclear-powered aircraft carrier once branded a waste of money by President Carter won final congressional approval Friday.

The huge ship was the most controversial item in a $41.4 billion defense authorization bill that was approved by a 300-26 vote in the House. The legislation was passed by the Senate on Wednesday.

Carter vetoed the nuclear carrier last year and was upheld by the House.

Kick the habit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cutting down on eating and smoking could be doubly profitable under legislation proposed by an Indiana congressman.

In addition to savings at the grocery store and tobacco stands, Rep. Dan Quayle, R-Ind., proposed Friday additional savings on income tax.

Quayle introduced a "Kick the Habit" tax credit to reimburse people who go on weight-loss or no-smoking programs.

Concessions praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wage and other concessions made to the Chrysler Corp. by the United Auto Workers union won praise Friday from members of Congress who support government help for the ailing automobile firm.

"I think the UAW has done its part and we are delighted with the news," Rep. James J. Blanchard, D-Mich., said at a hearing on his bill to authorize loans or loan guarantees for Chrysler.

Doggone shame

STEPHENVILLE, Texas (AP) — One of the candidates for homecoming queen was a real dog.

Jessie, a black and beige collie of unknown ancestry, polled more votes than any other candidate in the balloting at Tarleton State University. But because she was neither enrolled nor officially nominated, she won't be riding the queen's float.

The student-owned dog captured 23 percent of the vote in Thursday's election. She was awarded a new collar and honored as unofficial homecoming queen Friday night.

128 miners trapped

South Korean President killed

South Korean Prime Minister Choi Kyu-Hah, left, was named president of South Korea Friday after President Park Chung Hee, right, was killed. (AP Laserphotos).

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Park Chung-hee, strongman ruler of South Korea for 18 years, was killed accidentally by the chief of the Korean Central Intelligence Agency during a shooting spree in KCIA headquarters, the government announced Saturday.

It said Park, 62, and five other persons were slain in a gun battle Friday night that erupted following an argument between the KCIA head, Kim Jae-kyu, and Park's chief bodyguard, Cha Chi-chul, at a dinner given by Kim. Cha also was killed and Kim was being questioned by military authorities, according to the broadcast by Information Minister Kim Seong-jin.

His report said the KCIA chief accidentally fired the shot that wounded Park and the president was taken to a nearby army hospital where he died at 7:50 p.m. (6:50 a.m. EDT) Friday.

Informal sources said the four others killed also were Park's bodyguards. They said they did not know what the argument was about.

The information minister's announcement came several hours after a 4 a.m. broadcast declared that Prime Minister Choi Kyu-hah was named acting president under a constitutional clause that permits a successor to be named if the president is unable to perform his duties. That report made no mention of Park's death.

Rumors of an assassination swept through Seoul, jarred awake by the startling announcement of Choi's appointment, and there was speculation here and abroad that Park was the victim of a coup.

At 10 a.m., a government spokesman issued a public statement saying there had been no attempted coup: Choi, in a radio address at the same time, appealed for calm and said South Korean troops had been placed on alert "to guard against any North Korean moves" during the leadership crisis.

Defense Minister Ro Jae-hyun called a news conference and issued a resolution signed by the top military commanders pledging support of the acting president. It said the South Korean armed forces "are all set to crush any North Korean provocations."

It was announced in Washington that the 38,000 American soldiers in South Korea were ordered into an increased state of alert by the Defense Department. The

Carter administration, in a warning directed toward communist North Korea, issued a statement saying the United States "will react strongly ... to any external attempt to exploit the situation in the Republic of Korea."

President Carter was advised of the situation at 2 p.m. EDT Friday, it was announced in Washington.

In a message addressed to Choi, Carter said America would "stand firmly" behind its treaty commitments to South Korea. Carter expressed "shock and sorrow" at Park's death and said Park "was a firm friend of America, a staunch ally and an able leader."

Choi, a Park follower and prime minister since 1975, was named acting president by an extraordinary session of the Cabinet convened after the shootout in the KCIA headquarters about 500 yards from the presidential mansion.

Kim Jae-kyu, as head of the KCIA, was one of the key figures in Park's authoritarian government. A former army lieutenant general and a classmate of Park at the Korean military academy, he was named by the president to head the KCIA in 1976.

Park's wife was killed by a gunman on Aug. 15, 1974, who fired several shots at the president as he was making a speech. Park was not hit but his 48-year-old wife, standing nearby, was fatally wounded. The killer, a Korean resident of Japan who the prosecution claimed was a North Korean agent, was tried and executed.

Park had been under mounting pressure, even from his own ruling party, following the resignations of all opposition legislators in the National Assembly and weekend riots in two southern cities.

His government frequently was accused of human rights violations, and he barred all criticism of his regime, saying South Korea could not afford divisions because of the danger posed by North Korea.

Carter had raised the issue of human rights with Park when he visited South Korea in June.

Before the official announcement was made of Park's death, army units deployed around key government buildings and public facilities and a general was named martial law commander. He immediately imposed cen-

TESCO raising rates 11 percent Tuesday

By LANA CUNNINGHAM
Staff Writer

New electric rates in Midland go into effect Tuesday, announced Winston Barclay, western division manager for Texas Electric Service Co.

The Public Utility Commission approved this week a $37.9 million rate increase, he said. This amounts to an 11 percent average hike in residential rates.

TESCO originally had requested a 16 percent rate increase when the firm filed the application in May. The Midland City Council, upon recommendations made by a consulting firm, approved only a 2.74 percent hike in late August. The case was appealed by TESCO to the PUC.

The largest increase will be in winter rates, Barclay said, while summer rates should drop.

He explained that in the total rate order, the PUC "directed that the difference between summer and winter rates be eliminated for all residential customers except those who have all-electric space heating."

Those with electric space heating — or all electric residences — will continue to pay a slight difference in rates during the seasons.

That rate increase will be felt only during the winter months, considered by TESCO to be November through May. And the hike takes effect just as the winter rates are to be launched.

Barclay said the PUC requested the change in rate structure because many customers had complained about the higher summer charges.

With construction of additional power plants, the PUC noted the peak load usage during the summer no longer applied.

Customers who have electric space heating — or RTE rating — will have a lower rate during the winter for any kilowatt-hours used over 525 kwh each month, according to Barclay. Customers who fall under the residential rate R will be charged the same rate year-round.

To level the rates as ordered by the PUC, the summer rate has been lowered from 2.95 cents per kwh to 2.85 cents while winter charges were raised.

Barclay said that by averaging the summer and winter rates, a standard residential customer whose bills for a year average $30 a month would see an annual rate increase of about $35 over a 12-month period, or about $3 per month, Barclay explained.

On a rate schedule prepared by TESCO, the average electric user who comes under the R rating with a monthly bill of $20 would see an average winter increase of $6.50 to $7.50 a month. But when averaged over a year's time, that increase actually comes to $1.50 to $3 more per month, according to the figures.

However, a customer whose residence has space heating and ranks under the RTE division, will find that his $20 electric bill will jump $10.50 to $30.50 a month. This averages to a $5 to $7 per month hike.

The $20 per month figure applies to a customer who uses a small amount of electricity, according to a TESCO release.

Customers whose meters are not read until after Tuesday will have their electricity pro-rated on the bills, Barclay said. For example, if the meter is read five days after the new rates become effective, that person will be charged the new rate for only five days. The rest of the bill will be figured on the old rate, he said.

Just a little mistake

NEW YORK (AP) — Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. has owned up to a major accounting error that made the nation's money supply appear $3.7 billion larger than it really was and gave some Wall Street traders fits.

Manufacturers Hanover, the nation's fourth largest bank, said in a statement Friday that there were reporting errors that "grew out of a new form we used to calculate data reported to the Federal Reserve." The bank did not say when it started using the new form or why a change had been made.

The error, which passed undetected into the Federal Reserve's influential report on the money supply, also may have briefly distorted financial policy-making and unnecessarily depressed the value of many bonds earlier this month.

An angry Rep. Henry S. Reuss, chairman of the House Banking Committee, has asked all seven members of the Fed to appear before his committee on Monday to explain how such an "appalling and destructive" error could have occurred.

The error showed up in the Fed's figures for the basic money supply during the period ending Oct. 10.

The figures include cash and funds in checking accounts and are based on reports from major banks. The Fed, in an effort to control inflation, sets targets for money supply growth, which it attempts to control by adding or withdrawing reserves from the nation's banks.

The Fed's error was disclosed late Thursday as it released the weekly money supply numbers. A Fed statement said its adjustments were "due to revisions in data by a major money center bank." That bank turned out to be Manufacturers Hanover.

News reports said the Fed's clerk who handles the reports from banks was on vacation and that a replacement failed to notice the bulge in the numbers. Fed officials said its computers caught the error.

The money supply figures are closely watched by the markets, and the size of the error stunned financial analysts.

Many interest rates fell sharply, although Citibank, the nation's second-biggest, pushed its prime rate to a record 15 1/4 percent. Some analysts said the increase might be the last in a string that have boosted the prime rate, charged by banks to their most credit-worthy customers, from 11 1/4 percent during the last ten weeks.

The fall in other interest rates, however, indicated money market certificates sold by banks and savings institutions may be at their peak. Such accounts, with interest rates based on six-month Treasury bills, now yield 12.651 percent.

The major reasons for the jump in interest rates during the last month were two efforts by the Federal Reserve to tighten credit.

Food prices expected to continue to increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail food prices are expected to continue climbing the rest of this year, but not at the pace they maintained in September, a senior Agriculture Department analyst said Friday.

"We expect to see some moderation in the rate of price increase," said J. Dawson Ahalt, head of the department's World Food and Agriculture Outlook Situation Board.

Retail beef prices "have come off a bit" this month, and pork and poultry have continued to decline, Ahalt told a news conference.

"And we believe that they will continue to be a moderating factor for the balance of the year," he said.

Ahalt's comments followed a Labor Department report showing food prices overall, including restaurant meals, climbed 0.9 percent during September, the biggest increase in five months. Grocery store prices rose 1.1 percent, following three months of little or no increases.

The department's earlier forecast that retail food prices will rise an average of around 11 percent this year over 1978 still is valid, he said.

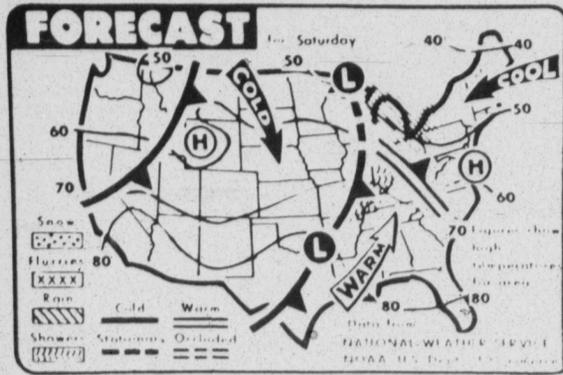

Ahalt made no prediction on food price increases in 1980. The department's first official estimate will be released in early November.

A month ago, however, the department's top economist, Howard W. Hjort, said 1980 food prices may go up 7 percent to 12 percent, but probably not at the 11 percent rate predicted for this year.

Housing costs may double by 1985, researcher says

DALLAS (AP) — Representatives of a real estate marketing and research company have told a seminar the median price for a home in Dallas in 1985 will be $158,000, more than double the current figure of $68,500.

The Texas Legislature has imposed a 12 percent interest ceiling on mortgage loans, but Mattingly said the figure has no real meaning. He said few lenders are making loans at that rate because of the high rates they must pay for money.

M-PF Research, Inc., also warned that newly available office space in Dallas will far outstrip demand for that space in 1980.

M-PF chairman Oliver Mattingly said home mortgage interest rates should decline next spring, but the industry will suffer in the meantime.

Researcher Steve Rogers said the glut of office space will be most apparent in the downtown area, far North Dallas and the area along Stemmons Freeway (Interstate 35E).

"The outlook should be one of caution," Rogers said. He said an estimated 6.3 million square feet of multi-tenant office space will become available in 1980. Another 1.1 million square feet available as a carry-over from 1979 will add to that total, Rogers said.

Mattingly predicted a recession soon, but said unless that recession proves very severe and produces high unemployment, new home sales and starts should pick up again when mortgage money becomes available.

Mattingly admitted that the availability of so much space could prove a lure for companies looking for a new location.

Two jailed in beating of youth in apparent attempted robbery

Two Midland High School students who allegedly beat a younger student in a robbery attempt mid-morning Friday were in Midland City Jail Friday night on charges of aggravated assault with serious bodily injury and robbery.

Charged before Peace Justice John Biggs Friday afternoon were Richard Shelton, 17, 209 N. Donald St., and Curtis Ray Deary, 18, 1709 N. Edwards St., according to Midland police reports.

Bonds totaling $12,500 were set on

Shelton and Deary. The two teen-agers allegedly assaulted the younger male student on the high school campus after the youth failed to produce any money or valuables in an attempted robbery, police reported. The victim lost some teeth in the incident, according to reports.

Police said assaults on the campus are not uncommon, but indicated that incidents of serious bodily injury are rare.

Official backs down on report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials backed away Friday from U.S. intelligence reports suggesting South Africa detonated a nuclear device in a remote area of the Southern Hemisphere.

"There is no independent evidence that would link a particular country" with the suspected explosion of the nuclear device, said a senior Defense Department official, asking that he not be named.

And another government source, also asking anonymity, told The Associated Press: "There is no reason whatsoever to implicate South Africa in this." This source said "no one really knows" what actually occurred in the remote area where the blast is reported to have taken place.

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, citing the size of the area in which the blast apparently took place, said, "We can not say that an explosion has taken place in South Africa."

Vance, at a news conference in Gainesville, Fla., noted South Africa's pledge not to develop nuclear weapons and said, "We do not have any evidence as yet that they have."

U.S. intelligence officials told reporters Thursday night that evidence indicated South Africa may have exploded a nuclear device in the atmosphere Sept. 22 "in an area of the Indian Ocean and South Atlantic, including portions of the Antarctic continent and the southern part of Africa."

South African officials angrily denied that their country was responsible.

U.S. had trouble with Park regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The authoritarian Park Chung Hee regime in South Korea gave the Carter administration fits.

On the one hand, there was U.S. admiration for the enormous economic strides achieved under Park's leadership. On the other, his stiff security measures, throttling the political opposition, were viewed as excessive.

South Korea, under Park, was a natural target of President Carter's human rights campaign.

The president's trip last summer gave at least symbolic support to his rule. However, Carter also called for South Korea to match its economic strides with similar progress in political and human rights.

There was a new crackdown after he went home. A bloody police raid on opposition party headquarters Aug. 10 was an unpleasant development for the U.S. administration. Carter initially planned a wholesale cutback in U.S. troops in South Korea.

ship and a curfew, banned all public assemblies and ordered universities and colleges closed "pending further notice."

Martial law was declared throughout the peninsula country, with the exception of the resort island of Cheju. Commercial radio stations suspended regular programs to carry announcements of Park's death and play solemn music.

Park had attended the dedication of a dam near Taejon, 100 miles south of the capital of Seoul, Friday. He returned to the presidential mansion by helicopter and then left the mansion for his dinner at the KCIA headquarters.

Park's government drew both praise for South Korea's strong economic development and condemnation because of its harsh treatment of critics.

The country's future now is uncertain.

There was speculation that Choi, a 60-year-old former diplomat, will be little more than a caretaker leader as the various political factions engage in a power struggle. The dominant force remains the armed forces, which have backed Park's conservative Democratic Republican Party.

The constitutional line of succession provides for the prime minister to become acting president and for the electoral college to choose a new president within three months. That could mean three months of political turbulence.

Members of the electoral college, called the National Conference for Unification, were elected by popular vote in May 1978, and all were firm Park supporters.

Park held such absolute control that few names have been mentioned as possible successors, and Park had been re-elected last year to a six-year term.

A major factor in the selection of a new president will be South Korea's alliance with the United States. That alliance, forged in the 1950-54 Korean war, has eroded in recent years because of the human rights issue.

But ultimately, he became convinced they were needed as a counterweight to North Korean forces. In July, he reversed himself.

This month, the conflict between

However, Defense Secretary Harold Brown went ahead with a scheduled trip to South Korea, assuring the Park government that the United States would act "promptly and decisively" if it is attacked by North Korea.

On the same plane with Brown, returning to his post, was Gleysteen. The administration evidently had come down on the side of security. Some within the administration were unhappy with the decision. They felt Brown should have canceled and sent a lower-level Pentagon official in his place. And Gleysteen's return may have offset whatever was gained by the ambassador's recall.

Park's repressions hurt South Korea's image in this country and, in the view of some U.S. observers, weakened American public support for maintaining nearly 40,000 American servicemen there.

Even more damaging, perhaps, were revelations during the Ford administration that the Korean Central Intelligence Agency had steadily extended its reach in the United States.

Agency officers, operating from the Korean embassy in Washington and consulates-around the country, and Korean diplomats attempted to influence U.S. legislators with offers of money and other gifts.

In his 18-year rule, Park sometimes showed remarkable flexibility and found ways to stay on the good side of the United States.

In 1974, for instance, he was anxious to have President Ford visit the country. Political opposition to Park was growing, though, fueled by resentment of his 1972 suspension of the Korean constitution and elimination of guarantees of privacy and free expression.

So, to set the stage for Ford's visit, Park announced in August that some prisoners would be released, sentences of others would be reduced, and that arrests for criticism of the government would be held to a minimum.

An analysis

U.S. security concerns and respect for human rights sharpened. Opposition leader Kim Young Sam was ousted from the National Assembly and U.S. ambassador William Gleysteen was recalled to Washington for consultations.

The State Department expressed regret about the treatment of Kim, declaring it to be "inconsistent with the principles of democratic government."

Kim was among those who met with Carter in Seoul in July.

LBJ supporters staging 15th anniversary rite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Break out the chili and warm up the band for "Hello, Lyndon!" — supporters of the late President Lyndon B. Johnson's 1961 campaign are getting ready for a 15th anniversary victory celebration.

The reunion, scheduled Nov. 6 at a Washington hotel, is a special edition of the annual East Coast bash thrown by the Friends of the LBJ Library.

Minnesota wild rice will be on the menu in honor of the late Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

"People are going to feel the flavor of the last big whistlestop," Liz Carpenter, Lady Bird Johnson's press secretary during the White House years, said. "There hasn't been the likes of it since."

Invitations from Mrs. Johnson and Muriel Humphrey were sent to everyone from speechwriters to Secret Service men, from luggage handlers to Cabinet members.

"November 6 in '64 was a heady day for us," Mrs. Carpenter said in a telephone interview from Austin, Texas. "There are still so many who are still active in politics and political life, so it will be a real reunion of old friends and memories."

Despite plans to make the evening seem like an election night celebration, organizers promise that only two speeches — by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Humphrey — are planned.

Invitations ask guests to "wear your campaign buttons and bring your best stories."

Mrs. Carpenter said invitations were sent out throughout the country, but most of the 400 people expected to attend will be from the East Coast.

Clark Clifford, Johnson's defense secretary; James Symington, one of his protocol chiefs; Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., then the head of Young Citizens for Johnson-Humphrey; and Leonard Marks, former director of the U.S. Information Agency, are expected to be among the crowd.

The late president's daughters, Lynda Bird Robb and Luci Nugent, also have said they will attend.

Bess Abell, White House social secretary during the Johnson years, has been handling decorations, food and other arrangements for the reunion.

"We've all fallen back into our roles," she said jokingly. Mrs. Abell, now the executive assistant for Joan Mondale, wife of Vice President Walter Mondale, said cookies for the reunion will be Texas-shaped or round HHH campaign buttons.

"We can even eat our memorabilia," she said.

Prosecutor wants stiff terms for Scientologist infiltrators

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prosecutor says he'll seek stiff prison terms for Church of Scientology members convicted of plotting to infiltrate government offices and steal records.

While no sentencing date was set for the Scientologists, acting U.S. Attorney Carl S. Rauh said Friday the government "will recommend that substantial prison terms be imposed" for most of the nine defendants.

Rauh commented after U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey convicted the church members for their roles in a conspiracy to take records from the Justice Department, the Internal Revenue Service and the U.S. Attorney's office. The conspiracy also included planting employees in the IRS and the Justice Department and "bugging" an IRS meeting.

Eight of the defendants — including Mary Sue Hubbard, wife of church founder L. Ron Hubbard — were found guilty of a single conspiracy count that carries a maximum five-year jail term and $10,000 fine. The ninth defendant was convicted of theft, which carries a maximum one year in jail and $1,000 fine.

GAO says U.S. dollars needed for Alaskan pipeline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even though federal dollars aren't pledged to the proposed 5,000-mile Alaska gas pipeline, they may be needed to keep the project alive, the General Accounting Office says.

The GAO, an auditing branch of Congress, said Friday that the consortium of U.S. and Canadian firms building the pipeline may be forced to seek federal subsidies to help finance the multi-billion dollar project.

Pipeline officials testified before a

House committee earlier this month that they still hoped the pipeline can be privately financed.

But they said government red tape, especially in the United States, was delaying the project and driving up the cost.

Further delays affecting the project's viability and its ability to be privately financed are possible, the GAO said in its report to Congress.

Texaco Inc. tops oil profits list

Company reports 211 percent increase

NEW YORK (AP) — Texaco Inc. announced Friday that it had more than tripled its third-quarter profits, topping the list of major oil companies that have posted record increases from the same period last year.

The 211 percent increase for Texaco was the second straight quarter of impressive profit increases for the nation's third largest oil firm. Texaco said the increase came primarily from improvements in foreign earnings. Texaco's profits rose 132 percent in the second quarter of this year from the year before, the largest profit increase reported in that quarter by any of the nation's 15 biggest oil concerns.

Amerada Hess, the nation's 16th largest oil company, announced Friday its profits had more than quadrupled, rising 290 percent from the third quarter of 1978.

All but one of the top 15 companies have released earnings for the third quarter. The exception is Standard Oil of California, which is scheduled next week to release earnings that analysts say will be among the largest in the industry.

On Monday, Exxon Corp., the world's biggest oil company, said its profits had risen 118 percent in the third quarter. Profits were up 131 percent for Mobil Corp.; 134 percent for Conoco Inc. and 191 for Standard Oil of Ohio.

Shell Oil Co. had the smallest increase of the 15 at 18 percent.

In Washington, the Council on Wage and Price Stability asked 20 of the nation's largest oil companies to provide in 10 days information on recent profits, product prices and crude-oil costs.

The council's director, Robert Russell, said, "Because of the alarming impact of rising petroleum product prices on the national economy, the public is owed an explanation."

Texaco said its huge profit increases in the past two quarters were somewhat misleading because the company suffered "abnormally low earnings" in the corresponding quarters of 1978.

The company, based in White Plains, N.Y., also said its third-quarter results this year had been inflated by the inclusion of a one-time gain from tax writeoffs due to foreign operating losses and tax credits in previous years.

Carter wants report on high oil firm profits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty of the nation's largest oil companies were asked by President Carter's anti-inflation council on Friday to provide information on prices and recent profits within 10 days.

The action by the Council on Wage and Price Stability came as Texaco Inc. announced that its profits in the third quarter were 211 percent higher than in the same quarter last year.

Texaco was not alone. In recent days, Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) announced that its profits were up 191 percent; Mobil Oil Corp., 131 percent; and Conoco, 134 percent.

"The apparent dramatic increases in gross margins for the refining industry suggest the possibility of non-compliance with the voluntary standards in the third quarter of 1979," the council said in a statement.

The companies would have been required to file the price-and cost data by the end of November.

Submission of the data by Nov. 5 was requested, according to council Director R. Robert Russell, because "we decided that it would be imprudent for us to wait."

He added, "Because of the alarming impact of rising petroleum products prices on the national economy, the public is owed an explanation."

The council statement indicates, however, that the oil companies will be able "to raise objections to the orders" for early reports within the 10-day deadline.

Margaret Earl, spokeswoman for Exxon Corp., said the oil company believes it is complying with the anti-inflation standards. "We will try to meet the new deadline (for reporting third-quarter data), and we expect to," she added.

John Flint, a Mobil spokesman, declined comment until "we see what it says." He added, however, that the company has been complying with the voluntary guidelines program from its start last October.

According to a Labor Department report released Friday, the average price of gasoline was 99.8 cents per gallon in September, up 3.1 cents from August.

Court nixes merger of Exxon, Reliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Friday blocked Exxon Corp. from taking operating control over a key part of Reliance Electric Co. in an antitrust case brought by the government.

U.S. District Judge John H. Pratt ruled Exxon cannot control Reliance's drives group even though the energy giant already has bought the stock of the Cleveland-based electrical company.

"The judge has prevented the competitive harm we sought to avoid," said Michael A. Schlanger, an antitrust attorney for the Federal Trade Commission. "We are quite pleased."

Midland firm gets stock permit

The State Securities Board has granted Petroleum Exploration & Development Funds, Inc. of Midland a permit to sell $750,000 in securities in Texas. The company's permit was among 14 granted last week for the sale of $11,931,000 in securities.

Travel receipts in county total over $36 million

AUSTIN — During 1978, Midland County received $36,639,000 of the state's $7,032,369,000 travel receipts, according to a national study commissioned by the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

The 1978 figures reflected a 12 percent increase in travel receipts over 1977 for Midland County.

In addition to gross receipts, the study indicated Midland County in 1978 had 1,349 of the state's 243,887 travel-related jobs, with an annual payroll of $9,314,000.

It also estimated $1,224,000 in state and $356,000 in local taxes were paid by county visitors in 1978.

The study was conducted by the U.S. Travel Data Center in Washington, D.C., an independent travel research organization funded jointly by public and private sectors.

It was based on the center's Travel Economic Impact Model which breaks out a state's share of the national travel market on a county-by-county basis.

The model measures the economic impact of all travel involving overnight trips away from home and day trips at least 100 miles from home. It includes travel by Texans as well as out-of-state visitors, for all purposes.

It includes estimates of the traveler's spending at home in preparation for the trip, his spending en route and that at his destination.

Basic data for the model comes from the National Travel Survey conducted every five years by the U.S. Census Bureau and from the center's own National Travel Expenditure Model.

'Fear of speaking America's top phobia'

By ED TODD
Staff Writer

The fear of public speaking rates No. 1 among phobias perceived by Americans and even out-rates the fear of death, said Eric K. Stuhlmueller, president of Toastmasters International.

The Toastmasters concept, which may not totally rid a person of the fear of speaking, certainly lessens that fear and may lead to more confident, successful lives, said Stuhlmueller, who is in Midland this week on a presidential visit.

"Everybody is nervous about giving speeches," he said. "We don't promise anyone to get rid of butterflies.... We promise him or her the opportunity to make them 'fly in formation,'" he said in quoting an old Toastmasters' saying.

"We offer people the opportunity to belong to a proud organization which has a history of developing strong, confident leaders," said Stuhlmueller of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.

The 1924-founded organization functions "to enhance self-image and self-confidence" through effective communications.

Stuhlmueller, 50, the 49th president of 75,000-member organization of 3,600 clubs in 48 countries in the free world, is in Midland to promote Toastmasters-ism and to attend the District 44 (West Texas) convention of Toastmasters today at the Ranchland Hills Country Club.

He is the public acceptance officer in the Nuclear Development Department of Manitoba Hydro.

Stuhlmueller has been a Toastmaster since 1964 — four years after he immigrated to Canada from West Germany.

"The reason I joined Toastmasters is that I spoke...very broken English," he said. "I think it was self-motivation that I became a member" of the organization that is devoted to personal development in public speaking, communication and leadership.

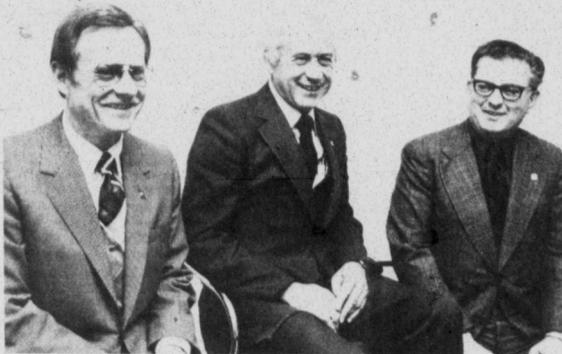

Toastmasters was founded by Dr. Ralph C. Smedley in 1924 in the basement of the YMCA at Santa Ana, Calif. Charter membership was seven.

The club was a fraternal organization until 1972, when women were allowed in the ranks.

"They (women) hold some very strong, influential positions," he said. Today, women make up about 25 percent of the organization's membership.

Noted a fellow Toastmaster, Midlander Bill Keaton: "Male chauvinists lost out, I'm happy to say."

Stuhlmueller is working toward an 8 percent growth in membership during his reign. His theme during his presidency is "Your Opportunity...Belong, Participate, Succeed."

He can attribute his speaking ability and effectiveness, which was enforced by Toastmasters, to his personal and professional success.

Fellow Toastmaster John Will Nichols said job promotions and increased earnings may be by products of effective speaking.

"When you talk about money, you get to people real quick," said Nichols, who is a bank auditor at Tullia.

"It (effective speaking) gets you what you want — more money," Nichols said.

But the Toastmasters' concept focuses on losing the fear of speaking in public.

"The fear of speaking in public is something which holds back a good many otherwise qualified people in both the business and personal sides of their lives," Stuhlmueller has said.

"In Toastmasters, we are trying to help people conquer this fear, and develop their talents so that they can in turn help others do the same."

Coating break caused explosion

HOUSTON (AP) — A breakdown in the coating of a natural gas pipeline caused it to rupture and explode one year ago, killing six persons and injuring more than 50 others, according to a report submitted Friday to the state Railroad Commission.

Texas A&M engineering professor Walter L. Bradley prepared the report, which said the rupture began either with a crack caused by hydrogen bubbles forming beneath the coating of the pipe or pressure on corroded pipe.

His report concluded that evidence leaned more heavily toward the hydrogen cracking theory.

Alien education suits may be consolidated, including Ector case

ODESSA — A decision to consolidate suits against Texas school districts, including Ector County schools, over the issue of providing free education to children who are not U.S. citizens may be reached within a month.

The suit consolidation was considered Thursday by the Judicial Panel on Multi-District Litigation in New York City.

Consolidation is being considered for suits filed against the Brownsville, Pasadena, Goose Creek, Longview, Dallas, Houston and Ector County Independent School districts.

The suits have been filed across the state by Mexican-American groups who claim a state code forbidding use of state funds for "free" public education to children whose parents cannot verify their U.S. citizenship is unconstitutional.

An "agreed ruling" on the case was reached in federal court in Midland last August by the state, the school districts and the minority groups.

For non-U.S. citizens, tuition for an elementary school student is $1,209 per year; $1,213 for a junior high student and $1,610 for a high school student.

Feminist protests stop Spanish abortion trial

BILBAO, Spain (AP) — A three-judge court Friday suspended indefinitely the abortion trial of 11 women in the wake of widespread protests by feminists across the country.

Several defense attorneys said they would have liked to have tried the case to test Spain's aged penal code under its new constitution. The women would have been tried under an 1870 law that says any Spaniard who commits a crime against another Spaniard, including a fetus, can be prosecuted even if the crime occurred outside the country.

Although the tribunal postponed the trial on grounds two of the defendants were not present, defense lawyers said the court had known in advance they were missing and suggested the suspension was granted to avoid continued, violent confrontations over the controversial issue.

The missing defendants were not identified.

Decision due soon on bonds

ODESSA — A Texas Attorney General's opinion on the release of $21.6 million in school bonds — tied up in a suit stemming from alleged illegal handling of the bond election — may be handed down within 10 days.

Bill Holm, superintendent of the Ector County Independent School District; Shirley Huffaker, school board president, and Robert Cox, school attorney, were in the Texas Attorney General's Office in Austin at mid-week in continuing their fight against contestants of the 1978 school bond election.

Holm said they sought a way to enable the attorney general to release the bonds.

The bonds must be released before they can be sold.

Cox said the bonds could be released if the Attorney General's office determined that the suit against the school district is frivolous.

Gov. Nigh finds bison for 'Horns'

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Gov. George Nigh finally has a buffalo for Gov. Bill Clements of Texas.

The two governors made a bet on the Texas-Oklahoma football game, with Nigh offering a buffalo for a Texas team barbecue if Texas won. Texas won, 16-7.

John Reid, an aide to Nigh, said today that Indian City at Anadarko has offered to supply the buffalo.

Midland Lee rumbles over Big Spring, 41-0

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Sports Writer

The Midland Lee Rebels went into Friday's District 5-4A football encounter with Big Spring a bit on the battered and bruised side, but they had more than enough "do" to the Steers what 34 previous 5-4A teams have done. Rebels 41, Steers 0.

That's right, Big Spring has now run its 5-4A losing streak to 35 straight games. And Lee rolled to its sixth victory of the season against a lone setback. And just to top it off, the Rebels notched their fourth shutout of the season, and they didn't need nary a goal line stand in the process.

In fact, Lee was so potent offensively and defensively that the Steers never came close to scoring, moving only briefly into Rebel territory twice.

Lee grid boss Gil Bartosh also showed some new faces on the field that had Rebel fans searching frantically through the program for a name.

Barry Corley looked out of position when he was sent in to the quarterback slot to replace the re-injured Gary Butler. He's the one that usually plays safety on defense. But it didn't take him long to look right at home. Corley ran for 138 yards on 11 carries to pace a 407-yard rushing attack. Both marks are bests in the 5-4A statistics this year.

Reserve Rodney Hemphill rushed for 47 yards on 10 carries and scored two touchdowns. He and Corley, who scored another TD, had plenty of help with Steve Waldron, 65 yards and one TD; Mark Thompson, 64 yards and two TDs; and Eugene Merritt, 82 yards on 10 carries. Merritt played only in the second half.

Defensively, end Wade Colburn, earning his first start, was simply awesome. His pass rush was furious and he forced two fumbles and had five sacks. With him and Anthony Johnson doing the hitting, the Steers couldn't get anything wide and linebacker Scott Collins saw to it that nothing else worked either. It was an easy night for the Lee secondary since two Big Spring quarterbacks very seldom had time to throw.

The Lee defense had the Steers going backward in the rushing department, holding Big Spring to a minus 40 yards rushing. The Steers did have 90 yards passing thanks to two passes for 36 yards late in the game.

And even the score could have been worse. A 17-yard TD run by Corley was called back on a penalty in the first quarter and Larry Linne missed a 21-yard field goal in the third period. Linne thought he made the boot, but the referee didn't agree.

Lee scored the first time they got the ball. They started at the Steer 33-yard line after Colburn forced quarterback David Coffey to fumble into the arms of Charlie Coleman. It took Lee five plays to put Thompson in from two yards out. Linne then kicked the first four extra points. He missed one also. Also in the first period, Lee marched 31 yards with Thompson banging in from three yards out after he set up the score with a 17-yard run.

Right before the half, Corley stepped off 49 yards for a TD through Big Spring hopefuls for a 20-0 halftime margin. It got worse.

In the third quarter, Waldron had a 17-yard gallop to end a 55-yard drive and then Hemphill ended drives of 31 and 55 yards with short TD plunges in the fourth quarter.

Even with the victory, however, the Rebels may have lost their chance to represent 5-4A in the playoffs despite a 6-1 record. Abilene Cooper defeated Odessa Permian Friday in another 5-4A battle, and that means that the No. 1 ranked Cougars would have to lose two of their remaining three games to fall from the playoff berth.

It looks like Lee and Permian will battle for second place next Friday night in Odessa.

Ex-Middie quarterback makes Navy respectable

By DAVID GOELLER

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — When George Welsh left the lofty football heights of Penn State to return to his alma mater Navy as head coach in 1973, he walked into a gridiron version of Pearl Harbor.

All-American Roger Staubach and Joe Bellino were but names in the Navy record books. The Vietnam War and the lure of big pro football contracts were sending top players elsewhere.

After Staubach led the Middies to a 9-2 season in 1963 and won the Heisman Trophy, the Middies sank to a 2-8-1 record in the next nine years while Welsh was working as an assistant to Joe Paterno.

Today, under onetime Middle quarterback Welsh, Navy is again respectable, although not a top national power. "Playing a less rigorous schedule than during their depression years, they are 6-0 and ranked 17th in the nation."

"I think our football program is in a position where we can have winning seasons and be competitive every Saturday," Welsh says.

"We're trying to win a majority of our games and be the best service academy football team," adds Welsh, a soft-spoken man whose public personality remains constant in victory or defeat.

After going 4-7 in Welsh's first two years, Navy was 7-4 in 1975. It lost two games by one point each in 1976 for a 4-7 mark and improved to 5-6 a year later.

Last year was a turning point. A veteran team with few weak points won seven straight before losing successively to Notre Dame, Syracuse and Florida State. It then beat Army and went to the Holiday Bowl for a 23-16 victory over Brigham Young, now No. 11 in the nation.

Navy now has an eight-game winning streak over two seasons, the longest since the 1959-1960 teams, paced by Bellino, ran off 10 straight.

Welsh has succeeded in his goal of having the best service academy team. He is 5-1 against Army, 4-2 against Air Force and 38-31 overall since 1973. Three Army coaches are 23-46-2 and three Air Force coaches are 19-51-2 in the same period.

All three service academies face the same handicaps in trying to recruit top prospects: no pro career right after college and often tougher academic requirements.

But it has been Navy under Welsh which has made the gains.

"He's the best man in the country for this position," says Bo Coppage, Navy's athletic director. "He understands our problems. He's a great football mind."

Welsh says he's had offers to go to other schools where it might be easier to build a Top 10 team.

"I'm not foreclosing anything, but I'm not looking," he said. "I feel I can satisfy all my personal ambitions here."

The 1979 team lost its experienced passing attack to graduation, but an offensive line averaging 245 pounds remains.

The blocking has helped make tailback Mike Sherlock one of the nation's top rushers statistically. Backing him up are Steve Callahan, the starting tailback in 1978, and sophomore Duane Flowers.

Last Saturday against Virginia, with Sherlock and Callahan out with injuries, Flowers started his first collegiate game and gained 136 yards on 27 carries.

Navy's first six opponents in 1979 — The Citadel, Connecticut, Illinois, Air Force, William & Mary and Virginia — collectively have a 12-28-1 record this season.

Robnett paces Pack over San Angelo, 30-7

By BOB DILLON
R-T Sports Writer

SAN ANGELO — The Midland Bulldogs were clicking on all eight cylinders here Friday.

Coach Dennie Hays' Purple Pack ruined San Angelo Central's homecoming with a 20-point explosion in the second half to win going away, 30-7.

Fullback Jeff Robnett, District 5-4A's leading rusher going into the contest, took up right where he left off last week by rushing for 124 yards on 16 carries while quarterback Michael Feldt connected on six of eight passes for 108 yards and two touchdowns.

The game started slowly with Midland drawing first blood on the last play of the first period when Feldt scored from the one, capping an 89-yard drive in 14 plays. Bobby Stovall booted the extra point to give Midland a 7-0 lead with seven seconds left.

Robnett's 25-yard scamper keyed the drive as the Bobcats only had the ball for one possession in the first period.

Central took a chapter from the Midland play book by driving 75 yards in 18 plays with a 13-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Kel Crain to fullback Doug DeWitt drawing blood.

Ray Fields' extra point tied it at 7-7 as the drive ate up almost eight minutes of the second period. Midland took the lead just before intermission when Stovall booted a 30-yard field goal after Feldt connected on a 31-yard pass to Pat Hickey to set up the goal with only 15 ticks left on the clock before intermission.

Both teams went scoreless in the third period, then Russell Hays, who had punts of 49 and 44 yards go out on the Central's one and two yard lines, intercepted a Crain pass at the MHS 33 and in seven plays the Bulldogs increased their lead to 16-7 when Feldt hit Bill Young with a three-yard TD pass. A bad snap kept the score 16-7 on the extra point attempt with 9:36 left in the game.

In Midland's next possession, the Pack went 48 yards in eight plays with Feldt dialing Billy Taylor's number with a 20-yard TD strike. The pass failed with 5:58 left to make it 22-7.

The Bulldogs put the icing on the cake by going 62 yards in 10 plays with Robnett capping the drive on a seven-yard TD run. This came with 60 seconds left in the game and quarterback Doug McLean passed to Young for the two-pointer.

With the victory Midland is 5-2 and 2-2 in District 5-4A while San Angelo is 2-5 and 1-3. Midland entertains Odessa High Friday in Memorial Stadium.

Besides Robnett's 124 yards rushing, Feldt picked up 63 yards in 18 carries and Billy Appin 46 in 13 carries. The leading rusher for Central was Glenn Payne with 44 yards in 14 carries.

Cougars shake off Permian

ABILENE — The Abilene Cooper Cougars, the No. 1 ranked AAAA team in the state, all but sewed up the District 5-4A playoff berth here Friday night with a 14-3 victory over Odessa Permian.

Cooper is now 7-0 on the year and 4-0 in loop play while Permian is 5-2 and 3-1. Cooper can now lose one of their last three remaining games and still go to the playoffs if Abilene High loses one more contest along the way. AHS plays Odessa High tonight in W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa.

Cooper put the contest out of reach in the third period when fullback Terry Orr ran 40 yards for a touchdown and a 14-3 lead. Cooper took a 7-0 lead in the first period when quarterback John Slaughter scored from one-yard out. Permian tried to get back in the game in the second period when Roy Dunn toed a 22-yard field goal to cut the margin to 7-3 before the half.

Cooper dominated the rushing game with 222 yards rushing compared to only 81 for the Panthers. Permian, however, did have an 81-19 advantage in the airways.

Playing regularly big help to Skins' Theismann

By TOM SEPPY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe Theismann says just the mere fact that he's playing regularly is the key to the consistency he has shown as quarterback of the Washington Redskins this season.

"There is a big difference between when you play football and when you don't play," says Theismann, who finally won the quarterback job last year after living in the shadow of Bill Kilmer and Sonny Jurgensen for five years.

The 30-year-old Theismann, when Kilmer was released in the offseason, got together with Redskins offensive coordinator Joe Walton to better learn and understand the intricacies of the Washington system.

"I just wanted to understand Joe's system," said Theismann, who considers himself the body for Walton's mind. "When you call your own plays, you know why you are calling them... you have a specific reason in mind. You know what you want to do with the football."

"When you're working in another man's system and he's calling the plays, it's important that you understand it as if you are calling it," said Theismann, who receives he plays from the Walton through a tight end messenger system. "And this is something I really didn't understand last year."

Theismann's offseason work has shown some benefits for the Redskins, who have won a surprising six games in eight outings to tie them for second place in the National Conference East with Philadelphia, one game behind leader Dallas.

And Theismann ranks second among quarterbacks in the NFC with his 113 completions in 182 attempts for 1,250 yards and eight touchdowns, just behind the Cowboys' Roger Staubach.

"We have played in a very consistent manner, myself included," he said. "That's really been the thing I have strove for this year. I have just tried to maintain a consistent level. I feel like I want to progress each week and I want to improve each week. I don't want my performance to diminish any. That is my goal as the year goes by."

Last year, the Redskins were 6-2 at the halfway mark after winning their first six in a row. They lost eight of their last 10 games to finish 8-8 and did not make the playoffs.

"At 6-2, we're in a similar situation that we were last year except that I don't think we're anywhere near the same type of football team we were last year," said Theismann. "Last year, we were a football team that started out in a ball of fire and ended in a muddled mess. So what has happened is that instead of a football team on the downside of a good start, we're a football team which has remained consistent this year."

Big Spring's Joe Willie Jones (25) finds out that returning a kickoff can produce some heavy traffic as Midland Lee's Larry Ledbetter moves in to plug up a hole. Lee won the game, 41-0, for their fourth shutout of the year. (Staff Photo by Brian Hendershot)

Baylor by 18, but Teaff fears Frogs despite 2-4 mark

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

The Baylor Bears could be in the catbird seat Saturday except for one problem—they're 18-point favorites over Texas Christian.

The Bears could relax and pull for an Arkansas victory over the Houston Cougars except the fast-improving Horned Frogs come calling. "Make no mistake this (TCU) is a good football team. I don't care what their record is," Baylor Coach Grant Teaff warns.

Baylor is 4-1 in the league race with its only loss by a field goal to Houston.

If Houston loses to Arkansas, the Bears could gain a tie for first place on down the road by beating the Razorbacks.

But first things first. "I think their last three games are very indicative of the true TCU football team," said Teaff. "They have been working to build a fine program since Coach (F.A.) Dry took over and now they are seeing the fruits of that work."

"They are an awfully good defensive team and have a ball control offense. That's tough to combat. They aren't throwing the ball very much and that's by design. They are just playing keep away."

Teaff says he has been impressed by both TCU quarterbacks, Kevin Haney and Steve Stamp.

"I really expect a very tough football game, one of the better tests for our club," Teaff says. "Texas is a 17-point favorite over Southern Methodist in Texas Stadium and Texas A&M is a 19-point favorite over Rice in Houston.

Texas is 1-1 and trying to keep its SWC title hopes alive against the crippled Mustangs. Arkansas is a two-point favorite over Houston.

This is the first game for a Longhorn team in Texas Stadium, home of the Dallas Cowboys.

Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz said of the Houston game: "I don't know whether we can beat Houston or not but I don't know whether this team can lose. Houston-dominated us last year and they have everyone back."

"Houston is the most talented team in the Southwest Conference. There aren't many teams in their class. They're awesome on defense and explosive on offense."

MSA to open range Nov. 4

The Midland Shooters Association will open their rifle range to the public Sunday, Nov. 4, from noon to 5 p.m., for hunters wanting to sight-in their rifles before deer season opens. The range is located southeast of Midland on Farm Road 1213, four miles south of the Garden City Highway and four miles east of the Rankin highway. Targets will be furnished and members will be present if any assistance is needed. A fee of $1 per gun will be charged.

2 teams share 1st

LAKE BUENA VISTA, FLA. (AP) — Jim Colbert-Mike Sullivan and Tom Purtzer-Howard Twitty tied for the second-round lead Friday with 17-under-par 127 totals in the $250,000 National Team Golf Classic at Disney World. But three other teams were just 1 stroke behind in the best-ball event in which the winners split a $45,000 first prize.

Colbert, 38, a 14-year PGA veteran who won here in 1975, and the 24-year-old Sullivan fired six birdies, an eagle and a bogey. They fashioned a 7-under-par 65 to deadlock with the highly regarded Purtzer and Twitty. The Purtzer-Twitty combo carved out eight birdies for their 8-under 64. One stroke back at 128 were the teams of Bruce Fleisher-Tom Jenkins, Peter Jacobsen-D.A. Weibring and George Burns-Ben Crenshaw. Fleisher-Jenkins shot their second straight 64; so did Jacobsen-Weibring. Burns and Crenshaw, who had started the day in a three-way tie for second, shot a 66 Friday.

At 129, 15-under par on Disney's Palm and Magnolia courses, were five other teams, including first-round leaders Forrest Fezler and Larry Ziegler, who had a 68 to go with their opening 61.

Colbert and Sullivan shot their 65 on the 7,197-yard Magnolia while Purtzer and Twitty got their 64 on the shorter, but tougher 6,951-yard Palm.

So, when he left college football in 1963, most people figured Bud Wilkinson was taking dead aim on the Executive Mansion on Pennsylvania Avenue. People kept telling him when he was football coach at the University of Oklahoma that he was bigger than the governor of the state. And, when the voters rejected him for the Seante in 1964, no one was sure whether it was because they didn't want him as senator or because they wanted him back as coach.

McCamey cracks ribs to beat Marfa and go 2-0 in 6-A

By RICHARD VINCENT
Sports Writer

MCCAMEY — There were no ifs, ands or buts about this one. Nooo way. Anybody within earshot of Badger Stadium Friday night had to have heard the nasty licks the McCamey defense laid on the Marfa Shorthorns.

And it was that rib-crackin' defense that enabled McCamey to run their District 6-A record to 2-0 and their overall mark to 6-1-1 with what could only be termed a solid 28-0 victory over the Shorthorns.

McCamey coach Larry Nabors agreed. "I can't say enough about our defense," said the first-year boss, a smile adorning his round face. "It was great."

Amen, Larry. The fired-up Badger defenders limited their visitors to 119 total offensive yards, just 51 of which came from Marfa's vaunted passing attack, which came into the contest atop 6-A stats.

Badger defensive coordinator Ronnie Page shedded a little more light on his group. "The secret to our defense was pass rush," said Page. "We knew that was what we had to have. We talked about pass rush all week."

On the evening, the Badger defense recorded one interception, one fumble recovery and one blocked punt. And, as Page mentioned, there were no individual stars. Rather, everybody that played defensed for the Badgers deserved credit for the victory.

But, hey, the Badger offense didn't just stand around and enjoy the cool, pleasant fall evening.

They accumulated 234 offensive yards, getting 195 of them from a sometimes potent ground game that seemed to operate best with the option.

And, even though they put the football in the air only five times for just two completions, each went for a touchdown.

Ironically, after the Badgers had received the opening kickoff, they fumbled the football at their own 27 on the fourth play from scrimmage and Mark Henderson snorped up the pigskin for Marfa.

Unable to capitalize in three plays, the Shorthorns opted to try a 23-yard field goal with a brisk breeze at their back. The kick failed, however, and the tempo for Marfa had been set.

Neither squad was able to tally in the opening session and as the second frame began, it looked like the punt-fest was about to continue.

Midway through the second, though, McCamey began to operate the option pitch. Senior quarterback Raul Arana twice got good yardage with keepers while faking the pitch, setting up the Shorthorn defense each time.

Then, on third and one at the Marfa 45, Arana feigned a keeper but pitched off at the last second to fleet junior halfback B. J. Terry.

Once outside, Terry hit the afterburners and not a sole laid a hand on him as he flew the distance for McCamey's first tally. Arana boomed the extra point through to make the count 7-0 with 4:49 before half.

But that was just the start of what was to be McCamey's second quarter explosion.

After another Marfa drive stalled and the Shorthorns punted into the stiff wind, the Badgers took over at the Marfa 39.

Four successful running plays later, Arana found Billy Ray Terry, the remarkable senior split end, cutting across the middle for a 17-yard touchdown pass. Arana's extra point ran the count to 14-0 with 1:13 before half.

Hold your horses, though. The Badgers were heard from once more before intermission.

With time dwindling, Marfa was forced to punt, but a wave of black jerseys attacking the kicker resulted in Mike Hanks' blocked punt. Ernest Velasquez scooped the ball up and romped 15 yards to the Marfa one.

Two frantic plays later, Arana crashed over from the one with just five ticks remaining on the clock. His kick made the score 21-0.

"I was happy that the kids capitalized on the turnovers," said Nabors. Speaking of turnovers, it was a Marfa miscue that led to McCamey's last score.

It came with the Shorthorns preparing to return an Arana punt. What happened was the ball bounced and hit one of the Marfa return men, who failed to cover the live ball.

Billy Ray Terry pounced on it for McCamey at the Badger 42.

Grinding yardage out in big chunks, the Badgers marched to the Marfa 22 before Billy Ray worked his magic and was wide open in the corner of the end zone to haul-in Arana's scoring strike. For Terry, it was touchdown catch seven for the year and he's only caught 11 passes. Arana's point after made the score 28-0 with 57 seconds left in the third quarter.

Marfa dropped to 4-4 overall and 1-1 in 6-A with the setback. And you can bet it's a defeat the Shorthorns will remember — and feel — for a long time.

Gomez stops Perez in 5

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Wilfredo Gomez knocked down 19-year-old Nicky Perez three times in the fifth round to stop him and retain the World Boxing Council's super bantamweight championship Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Perez went down for the third time just as the bell rang to end the fifth round, and referee Arthur Mercante immediately signaled that the fight was over.

It was the 27th straight knockout for the 22-year-old Gomez and was his 10th straight knockout in a title defense to tie a record held by former lightweight champion Roberto Duran of Panama.

Perez, of Tucson, Ariz., who went into the fight with a 42-1 record, tried to keep the action in the center of the ring. But the champion from Puerto Rico had too much guile and too much firepower for the young challenger.

Perez won the third round when he scored with several labs, a good hook and a short right. Then Gomez took charge.

Late in the fourth round, Gomez knocked Perez down with a left hook to the body after he had softened him up with seven or eight body shots. Perez got up at three and the bell rang.

Gomez, who weighed the class limit of 122 pounds, came out to finish it in the fifth round. A right to the head sent the challenger down. He came up at the count of seven and fought back as Gomez moved in. But with about 50 seconds left, a right to the head followed by a left hook dropped Perez again.

Again Perez, 120, came up quickly, and it looked like he might finish the round, although he obviously was in trouble. Then just at the bell, Gomez clubbed home a right to the head that ended the fight.

A crowd of 9,054 turned out and paid a gate of $132,797.

Esparza sparkles as Rankin romps

RANKIN—Fullback Naldo Esparza rushed for one touchdown and gained 162 yards in 34 carries to lead Rankin's Red Devils to a 21-0 District 6-A football victory over the Iraan Braves here Friday night.

The win gives Rankin a 5-2 record overall and marked the Devils' league debut. Iraan is now 1-6 and 0-2.

Esparza wasn't the only star for Rankin. Quarterback Brant Myers passed for two touchdowns and freshman Dennis Black gained 75 yards rushing in 16 attempts.

However, it was Esparza's all-around play that sparked Rankin. He got his chance as a result of an injury two weeks ago and responded with a 126 yard night in his first game.

Against Iraan, he not only was an offensive workhorse, but intercepted one pass and recovered the fumble that led to Rankin's last touchdown. Kevin Smith also had an interception.

Iraan, held to two first downs, one by a penalty, recovered a fumble at the Rankin 15, but couldn't move and then ranked the 15 on another occasion only to be turned back, which was the extent of their offense.

Rankin drove 86 yards to score with 1:47 left in the first period as Esparza rammed it over from the one and Jesse Hernandez kicked the point.

The Devils were on the warpath again in the third period, this time scoring with 45 seconds in the period when Myers passed to Black to wrap up a 58-yard drive. Rankin's final TD came with 9:54 in the game and this time it was Myers pinpointing Steven Midkiff with a pass from 14 yards away. This was a 52-yard hike off the Esparza fumble recovery.

STANTON—Stanton's Buffaloes led at halftime 14-0, but blew it in as O'Donnell turned an intercepted pitchout and run for 42 yards and 20-yard pass into second half touchdowns and a 14-14 tie here Friday night in a District 5-A football game.

Stanton scored in the first period with 6:34 left on a one-yard run by Richard Perez and Craig Eiland's conversion. Eiland then passed 20 yards to split end Freddie Silva for a touchdown with three seconds left in the half. His conversion made it 14-0.

O'Donnell, after tying the score, almost pulled out a win with a 25-yard

Stanton's leading rusher was Ernie Byrd with 80 yards in 13 carries.

John Olivian intercepted the pitchout for the first O'Donnell TD and it was a pass from quarterback Stanley Forbes to end Todd Gass that set up the two-point conversion pass from Eddie Joe Hancock to Gilbert Morales that gave O'Donnell its tie.

Wall turns Cannon on Owls for 21-14 victory

BIG LAKE—Reagan County's Owls pushed Wall all over the gridiron, but it didn't make any difference. Mike Cannon, acting as though he had been shot from one, returned a kickoff 73 yards to give Wall a 21-14 victory over the Owls in a District 7-A football game here Friday night, squaring both teams' records at 1-1 in league front 25 seconds before intermission when quarterback Brett Hahn hit end Alvin Braden with a 25-yard pass and it was 13-7 after the blocked kick.

Reagan enjoyed a wide edge in statistics over a Wall team that is 4-3 on the season, but the difference came on four lost fumbles and an interception.

Reagan had just gone ahead 14-13 with 3:09 left in the third period on James Phillips' three-yard run and Byron Bitner's extra point kick.

Then Cannon exploded and Wall had its win.

The Owls found themselves behind with 6:55 left in the first half when Robert Braden simply stole the ball from a Reagan back and ran 10 yards for a touchdown and Cannon booted the point.

Reagan, now 5-2 for the season, squared it on Mickey Owens' one yard run over right guard, climaxing a 67-yard drive in nine plays and Bitner converted. However, Wall as back in

Tall City is getting a football reputation among major colleges

When Texas A&M's James Zachery plays near home, mom and the boys are on hand to watch, taking a bow for the photographer during recent Tech game at Lubbock.

Rusty Maroney, linebacker from Midland High, gets a word of advice from Texas Tech coach before recent Red Raider game at Jones Stadium. Maroney is one of three Midlanders on Tech roster.

Midland, Lee grads make waves in college football

BY TED BATTLES
R-T Sports Editor

Midland High and Midland Lee are proving a happy hunting ground for college football talent scouts. Former Bulldogs and Rebels are playing for major colleges scattered from Lincoln, Neb., to Albuquerque to Waco and making their college fans and coaches happy they found the Tall City gusher.

One of the ex-Tall City players is a candidate for All-America, another has a chance to make all-SWC while third loomed as possibly the nation's offensive leader until fate stepped in. Junior Miller, a tight end from Midland Lee, is a cinch all Big Eight and after his performance on national TV, the 6-6, 240 pounder University of Nebraska star is a strong candidate for All-America. Miller turned the game around against Penn State with his key receptions after the Cornhuskers had fallen behind the Nittany Lions, 14-0, early and sparked the unbeaten Huskers to an easy victory.

James Zachery, an all-state linebacker from Midland High, has been the leading tackler at Texas A&M most of the year. After his brutal hatchet job on Memphis State backs, the Tigers' coach labeled James a Hercules.

Zachery, from a long-line of football playing Zacherys at MHS, is a candidate for All-SWC. One reason is that tackles aren't supposed to lead the defense in tackles. They just knock people down and the linebackers are supposed to mop up.

A year ago, Brad Wright, who led Midland Lee to a district championship, a few years ago, was No. 5 in individual offense and the only returning quarterback ahead of him on the list was SMU's Mike Ford. All the other leaders had graduated. Then Ford was hurt and it looked like Brad, off to a great start, might have a chance to grab the nation by the lapels. Then out in Hawaii, he tore up a knee and was lost for the season. However, he's only a junior and the University of New Mexico can count on him for another year.

All three are possible pro draft bait, but that's for the pro scouts and future to decide.

But these are not the only Midlanders making it in the college ranks, Rusty Maroney, a linebacker from MHS, plays a lot of defense for Texas Tech and he had a key interception in last year's upset of the year when the Red Raiders came from behind to surprise SWC champion Houston.

Tech is also looking for freshmen Jeff McCowan, linebacker-fullback from Lee, and Blake Feldt, a walk-on tackle from MHS, for future help.

At Baylor, halfback Phillip Ward is playing a big role in the Bears' resurgence this year and he scored a vital touchdown when Baylor beat SMU in that last second thriller at Texas Stadium in Irving.

A year ago at Midland Lee, Paul Speight wasn't even sure anyone wanted him, but he was plucked by Oklahoma State and the 6-4, 215 pound tackle has not been a disappointment. He already has earned a starting berth with the Big Eight team.

District 5-4A hasn't exactly overrun the pros with people. Odessa has Kelvin Clark playing tackle and Tom Sorley is being carried as a quarterback while Charlie West is still around after many years as a defensive back. Sorley and West are from Big Spring.

Right now, Tom Brahaney, the former All-America center from the University of Oklahoma, is the only Midland in the pros, playing for the St. Louis Cardinals. Before Tom, there was Wahoo McDaniel, who played for the Jets and Denver before becoming a fulltime wrestler. But it may not be too long before there are more Tall City gridders in the NFL.

He may not be leader of the band, but Midland's James Zachery is a leader of the Texas Aggie defense.

Steinbrenner probes latest Martin escapade

NEW YORK (AP) — George Steinbrenner was reported on his way to New York Friday to gather more information on the latest incident involving Billy Martin, the controversial Yankees manager. The Yankees owner had been in Tampa, Fla., the corporate headquarters of his shipbuilding company, when police in Bloomington, Minn., reported that Martin was involved in a fight in a hotel lobby and split open the lip of an Illinois man, sending him to the hospital.

MARTIN DENIED hitting the man, 52-year-old Joseph Cooper of Lincolnshire, Ill., contending that he fell. But Cooper, police, hospital and officials of L'hotel de France acknowledged that Cooper received 15 to 20 stitches in his lip following the incident.

"I'm not a violent person," Martin was quoted in the New York Post as saying upon his return to New York. "I used to be. I used to get in trouble and not back down."

"Now I'll walk two blocks in the opposite direction to get away while a guy is swinging at me."

"I was a poor kid. I worked 35 years to get where I am and I'm proud of it. My life is the Yankees and I love people. That's where it's at with me."

Steinbrenner said he would not have any comment about the incident until he had all the necessary information. And Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said his office was investigating the incident "to find out all the facts in the case."

MARTIN'S STORY, however, was refuted by employees at the hotel.

Steve Holland, a bellhop, was quoted by the Post as saying he did not see a punch, "but I heard him (Cooper) hit the floor. He hit the ground real loud."

But Holland added, "We called an ambulance and, as we waited, the guy's friend came out. He said (to Cooper), 'Boy, he really hit you hard.' And the guy said, 'For a little guy (Martin is 5-foot-7 and about 165 pounds), he really hit me good.'"

Texan Jackson won't jump UCLA for SMU

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA defensive standout Billy Don Jackson won't play for the Bruins when they entertain 20th-ranked Washington Saturday but apparently is not on the verge of quitting school.

UCLA Coach Terry Donahue issued the following statement through the school's sports information office Friday afternoon:

"Inside linebacker Billy Don Jackson missed practice this week due to some personal problems. Therefore, he will not play against Washington tomorrow. Appropriate disciplinary action will be taken."

Donahue said he expects Jackson to attend practice next week, according to a school spokesman. The Bruins have a bye next Saturday. They return to action against Arizona State on Nov. 10.

It had been reported Thursday that

Jackson, a junior from Sherman, Texas, was on the verge of leaving school and was going to transfer to Southern Methodist University.

The 6-foot-3, 231-pounder, missed practice before the Bruins played Stanford earlier this month, reportedly for personal reasons, and didn't start, although he saw extensive action.

Jackson was switched from defensive tackle to inside linebacker this season and has one of the top players on the Bruins' defensive unit. It has been reported that he is not happy at UCLA and doesn't get along with one of the assistant coaches.

The Bruins are 1-2 in Pacific-10 Conference play and 3-4 overall entering their regionally televised contest against Washington, 2-1 in league action and 5-2 on the season.

NCAA may investigate Arizona State controversy

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Few direct charges of Arizona State University violations have been made to the National Collegiate Athletic Association, a spokesman said Friday.

But the spokesman, Steve Morgan of the group's enforcement division, said an NCAA investigator could be on the Tempe campus soon, depending on how much information the organization has relative to an investigation.

With football Coach Frank Kush relieved of coaching duties and amidst allegations of conspiracy, recruitment violations and questionable financial practices by coaches, booster organizations and private individuals associated with the school's football program, Arizona State President John Schwada asked the NCAA Thursday for an investigation to clear things up "as expeditiously as possible."

And the Arizona Republic said Friday in a copyrighted story that the NCAA had begun an investigation even before Schwada's request.

Morgan, however, declined to confirm or deny the report and said he couldn't comment on Schwada's request.

THE REPUBLIC cited four areas of possible violation:

—A November 1978 fund-raising banquet for which the Sun Angel Foundation, a 13,245-member athletic boost organization, sold tickets and from which proceeds were said to have gone to Kush and the man who suspended him, Arizona State Athletic Director Fred Miller.

—An eight-day trip to Hawaii by Bob Owens, then defensive coach and now Kush's replacement as head coach, to help recruit linebacker Wayne Apuna.

—An Arizona State assistant equipment manager, Wayne Hall, having co-signed a loan for player Marshall Edwards' purchase of a car.

—Lack of university control over inter-relationships of players and private individuals regarding possible provision of incentives for players.

"All these areas are areas of potential violation... that tend to rise in any NCAA investigation," Morgan said in a telephone interview from NCAA headquarters in Mission, Kan. He declined to comment about their specific application at Arizona State.

ASKED WHETHER the NCAA had received allegations of possible violations in the Arizona State program other than what the NCAA has seen in news reports, Morgan said the organization gets such allegations "with regard to virtually every institution we have."

In the Arizona State case, he said, the allegations mostly have been generated among individuals near the campus and "they haven't fed things through us."

Kush, who was said to be sitting in on depositions being given by Owens and another Arizona State athletic staff member Friday, was unavailable for comment.

What does the Bible really mean to you? Is it an old leather volume gathering dust on the shelf, or a beloved, faithful companion?

The answer depends partly on your childhood. If your family read the Bible daily, then its Books have long since become part of your way of life.

But to many of us, the Bible remains a mystery and even the "modern" versions seem complicated. We may want, almost desperately, to understand, but it isn't that easy.

Help is as near as your closest church. For centuries the Church has made a business of studying and interpreting the Bible. Despite the passing of time, they proclaim its message with remarkable clarity. Try it and see.

Mormons give second chance to those 'beyond the vale'

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — You may not be a Mormon now, but the genealogy arm of the Mormon church wants to give you a chance to reconsider once you slip beyond the vale.

In its quest to baptize the dead, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints sends genealogists worldwide, from the jungles of Indonesia to the parishes of Poland and the libraries of China, gathering millions of names.

"All they are going to do is make the dead Mormons," said church spokesman Wayne J. Metcalfe. "Everyone who dies deserves that opportunity. If he (the deceased) desires that those ordinances be valid, then they will be."

Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon church, said, "The greatest responsibility in this world that God has laid upon us is to seek out our dead."

Like Alex Haley in his search for his roots, one Mormon team trekked deep into the tropical rainforests of Sumatra where no written records exist to tape the oral histories of bush people, recalled as far back as 82 generations by one "rememberancee."

Another team is stalking names in the wilds of Nigeria.

Records specialist Ted Telford plans a trip to China next month to expand the church's 100,000 volumes of Chinese family histories.

RELIGION

All together, 85 church photographers are poring through birth, death and marriage records; parish registries and land deeds in Poland, India, Sri Lanka, Chile and other countries to add to the church's nine-floor, microfilm library in Salt Lake City.

Only the U.S. government and a Colorado firm do more microfilming than the Mormon church, whose 640 genealogy workers add 4,000 rolls of microfilm a month.

The church's genealogy library is open to the public and every time a photographer copies a set of records, the donor gets a copy.

Mormons aren't taking any chances on losing their records. Copies are stored in six concrete and steel-reinforced vaults blasted out of solid granite cliffs in the nearby Wasatch Mountains.

Because Mormons use the names to baptize the dead, the church encounters opposition from some governments and churches.

"The major difficulty is the difference in the religion," said Lee Boam, manager of genealogy acquisitions. "If there's one factor we struggle with, that's it. It's an emotional issue."

"Some of them consider this a continuation of vicious proselytizing. Here come some Mormon missionaries to steal away more members for their church," Boam said.

Mormon genealogists also encounter opposition in the Soviet Union, where librarians and archivists are afraid to release records to a group with "American ties," he said. Two exceptions are Poland and Hungary.

The church hopes to soften resistance to its quest for records next spring when it sponsors a worldwide genealogy conference in Salt Lake City.

Members of the Young-Musicians Club of Bellview Baptist Church, 1710 N. Big Spring St., rehearse one of the songs they will sing in their presentation of a musical, "The Secret Mission," at 6:40 p.m. Sunday.

RELIGION IN THE NEWS

Young Musicians Choir to present special musical

The Young Musicians Choir of Bellview Baptist Church, 1710 N. Big Spring St., will present a special musical, "The Secret Mission," during the Sunday evening worship hour at the church.

The 6:40 p.m. presentation will be open to all residents of the community and surrounding area, said the Rev. G.A. Magee, host pastor.

The Young Musicians Choir is made up of young people in grades 2 through 6, said Troy Stevenson, choir director.

"The Secret Mission" takes place in a neighborhood where the children form a group called the "P and S Club." Soloists in the musical are Jonathan Card and Laura Cox.

Others in the cast include Alisha Yarbrough, Jimmy Ward, Vanessa Davis and Ricky Taylor.

The presentation includes a bit of humor along with songs of service and mission, director Stevenson said.

Soloist to give gospel program

Vocal soloist Clyde Burns of Sarasota, Fla., will present a program of gospel music at 10 a.m. Sunday in Kelview Heights Baptist Church.

Burns is engaged in a fulltime music ministry which takes him to all parts of the nation each year. He also has made LP recordings of his gospel songs.

The public is invited to attend the service and hear the vocalist.

Sunday is designated "Family Roll-Call Day" at Kelview Heights Baptist Church, with all Kelview family groups encouraged to participate, said the Rev. Frank Johnson, pastor.

Kelview Heights Baptist Church is located west of North Big Spring street, near Scharbauer Drive.

Church of the Nazarene, to be held next June in Kansas City, Mo., will be announced.

Special guests at the meeting will include Dr. George Coulter, general superintendent of the denomination; Dr. James Hamilton, well-known educator and author; Dr. Elmer Schmelzenbach, a missionary; and Dr. John Knight, president of Bethany Nazarene College at Bethany, Okla.

Baptists hold 94th annual meet

LUBBOCK — The 94th annual meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the state organization of Southern Baptist churches, will be held in Lubbock next week to deal with matters of major concern to 2 million Southern Baptists and other Texans.

The convocation begins Tuesday and continues through Thursday.

Messengers, or delegates, from many of the 4,000 Southern Baptist churches in the state will take action on plans for helping achieve a Baptist goal to reach every person on earth with the gospel of Jesus Christ by the year 2000, according to Milton Cunningham of Houston, current president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

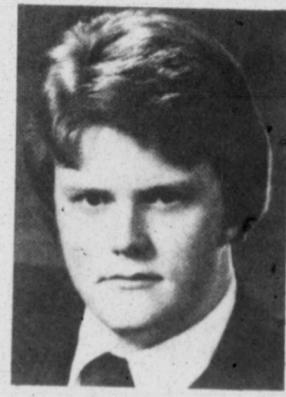

A major facet of the ambitious mission goal will be consideration of a proposed $34 million Cooperative Program budget for Texas Baptists' share of the worldwide mission efforts of 13 million Southern Baptists.

Other major business to occupy delegates will include the election of a new president to succeed Cunningham, who has served the maximum of two terms.

More than 6,000 people are expected to pack the Lubbock Civic Center to hear "Bold Mission" challenges to help share Christ in Texas and around the world.

In addition to BGCT president Cunningham, speakers will include Dr. Harold C. Bennett of Nashville, executive secretary and treasurer of the Southern Baptist Executive Committee; Dr. James H. Landes of Dallas, executive director of the BGCT; Dr. Russell H. Dilday, president of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth; Dr. William G. Tanner, executive director and treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board in Atlanta, and Dr. Nelson Do Amaral Faniini, president of the Brazilian Baptist Convention.

Preceding the meeting will be annual meetings of two adjunct organizations of the BGCT, the Women's Missionary Union and Texas Baptist Men.

The Rev. Tim Hill, widely known evangelist from Weatherford, will conduct revival services next week at Midland's Church of God, 5300 Thomason Drive.

George Ivy, host pastor, said the evangelist also will be singing and playing the guitar and the piano at the special services, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday through Nov. 4. The public is invited to attend the revival events.

Church observes traditional day

First United Methodist Church will observe its traditional "Great Day of United Methodist Singing" on Sunday.

Highlighting the special observance will be a service at 5:30 p.m. in the sanctuary, corner of North Main and Ohio streets.

Theme of this year's service is "The Wesley Family in Church Music," said George DeHart, organist and choirmaster at First UMC. The commentaries for this service were written by Austin C. Lovelace and will be read by Dr. Charles Lutrick, senior minister of First UMC, assisted by the Rev. Jerry Wyatt, associate minister.

At the service, the Carol and Junior choirs will sing the Charles Wesley text, "Gentle Jesus, Meek and Mild," with music by Malcolm Williamson.

The Youth Hallel Choir will offer "Hosworthy Church Bells" by Samuel Sebastian Wesley and will help accompany "Lead Me, Lord," when it is sung by the vocal choirs.

The adult Chancel Choir will offer "Wash Me Thoroughly From My Wickedness" by Samuel Sebastian Wesley.

Organ music at the service will include "Andante" by Charles Wesley II, "Gavotte" by Samuel Wesley III and "Choral Song" by Samuel Sebastian Wesley.

The congregation will join with the choirs in the singing of hymns used in the service.

The service will be open to all interested residents of the city and surrounding area. The church nursery will be open to care for infants and small children.

Reformation Rally set for Sunday

A special Reformation Rally, in celebration of the Festival of the Reformation, is scheduled here Sunday evening.

The 7:30 p.m. event will be in Grace Lutheran Church, 3000 W. Golf Course Road, and is expected to draw persons from all branches of Lutheranism from Midland, Odessa and surrounding area. The celebration will be open to all interested residents of the city and environs.

The event commemorates the 462nd anniversary of an event that shook the world and marked the beginning of the Protestant Reformation.

On Oct. 31, 1517, a courageous young friar named Martin Luther nailed a sheet of paper to the door of a church in a remote village in the province of Saxony in Germany. The event marked the beginning of a return to the use of the gospel in determining the rule and norm for Christian living, rather than the emphasis being on the temporal authority of the church. Luther's protest movement against the abuses of the church has in the ensuing centuries resulted in the largest Protestant church body in the world.

San Angelo's bishop winning

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — When San Angelo's new Catholic bishop followed the pope's lead and spoke to his congregation in Spanish and English, he won the hearts of many communicants.

"Muy bueno," said one Mexican-American woman. "I think I'm going to like him."

The Most Rev. Joseph A. Fiorenza was interrupted four times by standing ovations as he spoke at his ordination Thursday.

About 900 people packed the Sacred Heart Cathedral to celebrate a two-hour Mass and to hear Fiorenza's call for unity among all ethnic groups in the San Angelo diocese.

"Positive recruitment joined with unceasing prayer will bring results," Fiorenza said. "No one should feel alienated or unloved."

Fiorenza, chancellor of the Galveston-Houston diocese before coming to San Angelo, was ordained by Archbishop Patrick Flores of San Antonio.

Church bells, a brass band and a choir combined from three churches heralded Fiorenza's arrival.

The new bishop was presented with a bishop's ring, a shepherd's staff and a cathedral chair after the ordination.

Eighteen Catholic bishops, one Episcopal bishop, and 250 priests, deacons and nuns attended the ceremony.

The Most Rev. Jean Jadot, apostolic delegate to the United States, also addressed the congregation in English and Spanish, calling for unity between the priests of the diocese and the new bishop.

"This union alone can guarantee peace, justice and dignity to every human being," Jadot said.

Fiorenza replaces Bishop Stephen A. Leven, who retired in April. The new bishop will be the third in the San Angelo diocese, which was founded in 1962.

Midland churches are represented

Midland's two Christian churches (Disciples of Christ) are represented at the General Assembly of the Disciples of Christ denomination now under way in St. Louis.

The convocation began Friday and will continue through Wednesday. Theme of the assembly is "Proclaim Christ Lord."

Among featured speakers at the meeting will be Jean Childs Young, chairman of the U.S. observance of the International Year of the Child, and Archbishop Tom Helder Camaro of Brazil.

Attending the convocation from Midland's First Christian Church are the Rev. Steve Edwards, senior minister, and the Rev. Steve Church, associate minister.

In attendance from Midland's Memorial Christian Church are James C. Henry, chairman of the church's Official Board; Eugene Greenwood, an elder of the congregation; Dr. John Long, minister of the congregation, and the Rev. Allen Lowe, associate minister.

The Rev. Stovall to be honored

The congregation of South Memorial Baptist Church, 1700 W. Carter Ave., Sunday will honor the Rev. Jimmy Stovall on his 27th anniversary as pastor of the church.

Stovall came to the Permian Basin from Fort Worth in the early 1950s and first held a pastorate in Ector County before accepting a call to the pastorate of South Memorial Church in 1952.

Stovall will preach at the 11 a.m. Sunday worship service, with special vocal music to be presented by Bill Reddell, formerly minister of music for South Memorial Church.

Following the service, a luncheon is scheduled at the church, with Dr. Daniel Vestal scheduled to speak. The evening worship service will begin at 6:30.

All members, former members and friends of the church are invited to attend the anniversary celebrations.

Couple tried for moaning

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia — A man and a woman were recently sentenced to two months in jail here after an Islamic court heard testimony that they had been "moaning with pleasure."

The man told the court that he had been moaning with pain, not pleasure, because he had a fever. He said he had asked the woman to comfort him.

But witnesses said that after listening outside the defendants' door for 15 minutes they were convinced that the moaning was the result of pleasure.

The case was an outgrowth of a sort of "Muslim puritanism" that is on the rise.

Nazarenes hold Waco conference

WACO — Nazarene pastors from cities and towns throughout Texas, including Midland, will attend a conference next week in Waco's First Church of the Nazarene.

The meeting has been arranged by district superintendents of the four districts of the Church of the Nazarene in Texas. The first session of the conference is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, and additional sessions are scheduled through Thursday. Pastors' wives also will be in attendance at the convocation.

Leaders of the meeting say that while the conference is primarily a time of spiritual refreshing and renewal, some promotional matters also will be presented by the participating district superintendents. Plans for the 20th General Assembly of the

Decision forestalls court case

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — An American woman who was born a Jew but now believes in Jesus as a messiah has been allowed to remain in Israel, forestalling a wrenching court case over the disputed issue of who is a Jew.

The 1950 Law of Return guarantees automatic Israeli citizenship to Jews, and defines a Jew as "one born to a Jewish mother or converted to Judaism, and who does not adhere to another religion."

Eileen Dorfingler, 36, of Harwinton, Conn., who applied for citizenship under the Law of Return in 1976, claimed to be both a Jew and a believer in Jesus as the messiah of the Jewish people.

'Prayer is form of Witchcraft'

MOSCOW (AP) — "Prayer is nothing but a form of witchcraft," says the new Atheist's Pocket Dictionary on sale in Moscow. Religion, it says, often serves to sanctify "capitalist exploitation." The 275-page paperback, out this autumn in a new edition, is a compendium of material for Soviet atheism campaigners, by Thomas Keht, b3700, sent Oct. 20.

Self-paced geological remote sensing course scheduled to start Tuesday night at UTPB

ODESSA — Students can still register for a self-paced course in geological remote sensing scheduled for Tuesday at The University of Texas at the Permian Basin.

Slated at 7 p.m. in the Founders Building on the university's south campus, the course will provide hands-on experience to participants, according to Dr. Robert G. Reeves, dean of the college of science and engineering.

"Students will interpret satellite (landsat) images, black-and-white and false-color composites and aerial photographs," Reeves said.

Instructors for the course are Reeves and independent exploration geologist William C. Ramsey-Palmer.

Reeves has had experience in remote sensing research for more than 15 years while at the U.S. Geological Survey, NASA and the Colorado School of Mines.

He is editor-in-chief of the Manual of Remote Sensing published by the American Society of Photogrammetry.

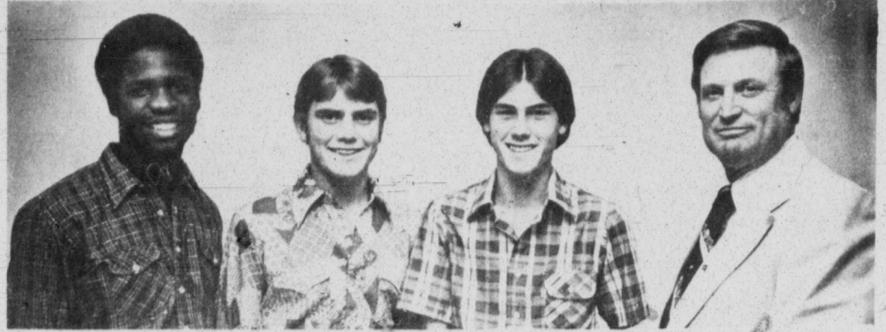

Ramsey Palmer has had experience and success using remotely sensed data, especially satellite imagery and high-altitude aerial photography, in exploring for petroleum and mineral deposits.

The course is open to anyone eligible to register at UTPB. Enrollment at the upper-level university is open to persons who have completed at least 60 hours of lower division course work at any accredited college or university.

Tuition and fees for the course are $69.50 for those not currently enrolled at the school and $19.50 for those currently registered. Tuition is $12 for those enrolled in 10 or more hours with no additional tuition for those taking fewer than 10 hours.

Students will be expected to furnish or purchase landsat imagery and aerial photographs they will be using.

with other Texas high school winners for four scholarships and an opportunity for the $10,000 top national award. The program is funded by Shell Oil and administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. (Staff Photo)

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Carter wants Teddy to count all contributions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's campaign committee plans to argue next week that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy legally is a presidential candidate and that funds raised by supporters should immediately be counted against official finance limits.

These assertions will come in a complaint to be filed with the Federal Election Commission by the Carter-Mondale Presidential Committee with the Federal Election Commission, it was disclosed by Tim Kraft, the campaign manager.

Kraft said Friday that if the funds raised by draft-Kennedy committees are not counted against federally imposed limitations, "this is in effect double-dipping."

The total being raised by draft Kennedy committees could go as high as $500,000, he said.

Kennedy's spokesman, Tom Southwick, was not immediately available for comment.

At the heart of the complaint is a belief by the Carter campaign that in some key states, the campaign organization that Kennedy is expected to unveil next week will be able to exceed federal spending limits by as much as 25 percent.

The legal question, one Carter campaign official said, is "whether Sen. Kennedy, through his words or conduct, directly or through any agent, authorized or consented to the activities of the draft committees."

Once Kennedy becomes a candidate, or officially forms a campaign exploratory committee, the fund-raising and spending limits go into effect.

Thus, said the official, the draft committees are rushing to spend their already-raised contributions. The official declined to be identified publicly.

Because the spending limit for the New Hampshire presidential primary next March is $264,000 per candidate, an extra allowance of $64,000 would give Kennedy an advantage of approximately 25 percent.

GOP sees repeat of crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans on Friday used the upcoming 50th anniversary of the stock-market crash to call attention to their own plan of stimulating the economy by cutting taxes.

"Forty years of Democratic control (of the White House and Congress) have led us to the threat of a repeat" of the Oct. 29, 1929 crash, said House Republican Leader John Rhodes of Arizona.

Sen. William Roth, R-Del., original author of the GOP tax-cut plan, said the policies being pursued by President Carter and Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker "rely on long unemployment lines to get rid of inflation."

"Instead of seeking way to promote real economic growth, we are told American people must accept an austerity program of fewer jobs, higher taxes and a lower standard of living," Roth told a news conference.

"Instead of providing tax relief for our economy, we are told we must balance the budget by allowing taxes to increase to the highest level in this country's history," he added. "No wonder this country is experiencing a crisis in confidence."

Most Republicans in Congress have endorsed the plan by Roth and Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., to cut individual income taxes by 30 percent over three years.

Kennedy supporters to dine

NEW YORK (AP) — About 100 supporters of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy for president pledged at a private dinner party to help organize a $1,000-a-plate fundraiser for the Massachusetts Democrat in December, a guest at the dinner said Friday.

The report came from Manhattan Borough President Andrew Stein, who was among the guests Thursday night at the Sutton Place home of Patricia Lawford, who is Kennedy's sister. Stein said those present were asked if they would "attend a breakfast meeting prior to the December fundraiser to help organize it."

A majority of the ble persons present agreed to be at the breakfast meeting and their names were recorded, Stein said. He added that no pledges of money were made.

Byrne to reveal her favorite

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Jane Byrne said Friday she will break with local party tradition and announce her endorsement for the Democratic presidential nomination on Nov. 2.

In recent weeks, the mayor has commented on the 1980 election, but has left a confusing trail as to whether she favors President Carter or Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who is expected to announce soon.

Mrs. Byrne said that she and George Dunne, chairman of the Cook County Democratic organization, have discussed the candidates and agreed on "a choice."

She also said that she and Kennedy have privately discussed such key issues as inflation and the economy and that it was on the basis of those issues that she decided who to support. In the past, when asked about Kennedy, the mayor said that he had not publicly revealed his position on those issues.

Neither Mrs. Byrne nor Dunne would give any hint about their choice, but the mayor seemed to rule out California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.

Economy is sick: Kennedy

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, a prospective candidate for president, said Friday that "when the economy is wrong, nothing else is right."

Kennedy, whose formal challenge to President Carter is anticipated next month, was critical of a "sick economy" and the direction in which he sees the nation going, at home and abroad.

Kennedy also developed a theme — that it is time for a change, to get the country moving — employed two decades ago by his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

"I refuse to believe," the state's senior senator said, "that the nation which produced the cotton gin, the electric light, the automobile, the airplane, the assembly line and the computer has suddenly lost its capacity for innovation and competition in the modern world."

Kennedy was the principal speaker at a 50th anniversary convocation of the Boston College Law School. More than 2,000 guests crowded into an indoor athletic complex for the ceremony.

President Carter's campaign manager, Tim Kraft, announces Friday his committee will file a complaint before the Federal Election Commission claiming that Sen. Edward Kennedy is legally a presidential candidate and funds collected by supporters should be counted against official limits, just as are funds collected by President Carter's supporters. ## Spiraling inflation continues assault on U.S. pocketbooks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The worst rate of inflation in 33 years continued its assault on Americans' pocketbooks in September as consumer prices increased another 1.1 percent, the government said Friday.

Administration officials added to the gloom of the latest price report by conceding temporary defeat in their efforts to slow inflation, which was at an annual rate of 13.2 for the first nine months of the year.

"I see no short-term relief in sight," said Alfred Kahn, President Carter's chief anti-inflation. He told a congressional committee it would be "hard to quarrel" that inflation will be above 10 percent for a long time.

Charles L. Schultze, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, had said Thursday that the United States faces inflation of 8 to 9 percent indefinitely, even if the current anti-inflation efforts are successful.

Inflation has been the chief factor in a drop in the purchasing power of workers' paychecks, which fell another 0.7 percent in September and was down 4.4 percent from a year earlier. Consumer prices for the 12-month period ending in September were up 12.1 percent.

While the most dramatic increases in September were for food, housing and fuel, prices were higher for virtually everything the consumer uses. Even drowning one's financial sorrows in drink was more expensive, as the price of alcoholic beverages rose 0.6 percent.

Meanwhile, Citibank, the nation's second largest, announced an increase in its prime lending rate to a record 15 1/4 percent, passing the peak of 15 percent set earlier in the week by some other major banks. It continued the trend toward higher interest rates throughout the economy, the result of efforts by the Federal Reserve Board to reduce inflation.

The Labor Department said its Consumer Price Index stood in September at 223.4 percent of the 1967 average of 100. Put another way, it means that goods priced in 1967 at $100 had increased to $223.40 last month.

If the current 13.2 percent annual rate of inflation continues through the remainder of the year,

No short-term relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of President Carter's anti-inflation effort said Friday there is "no short-term relief in sight" from the nation's surging inflation, still running at over 13 percent a year.

Alfred E. Kahn, chairman of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, gave his gloomy assessment before the congressional Joint Economic Committee after the inflation rate for September was announced at 1.1 percent.

Calling the September figures part of an "unbroken string of bad news" on inflation, Kahn conceded that the administration's projection of a 10.6 percent inflation rate for 1979 was now "clearly unachievable."

He also offered little encouragement that inflation could be brought below the double-digit level anytime in the near future.

Connally plans blitz in Reagan's backyard

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Former Texas Gov. John Connally expects to raise more than $1 million in presidential campaign contributions next week in Ronald Reagan's backyard with three California fundraisers.

Connally also has purchased 30 minutes of television air time each on three different California stations serving rural areas in the next few days to rebroadcast a speech on federal water and land policies.

A Connally spokesman, Fred Karger, said the campaign already has sold 400 tickets at $1,000 each for a dinner next Tuesday in San Francisco and 800 tickets at $1,000 each for a Los Angeles dinner on Wednesday, plus 250 tickets for a $100-a-head reception Sunday near Fresno.

"We expect to net over $1 million. That's more than Reagan has raised here," Karger said in a telephone interview.

Reagan plans two major fund-raising events Sunday and Monday in Connally's home state, with $500-a-head concerts by singer Wayne Newton Sunday in Fort Worth and Monday in Houston.

The former California governor's biggest fund-raising event is planned next Friday in Boston.

WORLD NEWS

Salvadoran leftists hold 300 hostages

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Leftists holding 300 hostages in two government buildings remained steadfast Friday in their demands for social reforms during negotiations with the new civilian-military junta of this Central American nation.

The leftists held Labor Minister Gabriel Gallegos Valdes, Economic Minister Manuel Hinds and Planning Minister Alberto Hart Deneke. They were demanding pay hikes, lower food prices, information about alleged missing persons and the release of political prisoners they claim are held by the government.

There were no reports of progress in the talks.

Police said two people died Friday in a shootout with troops in San Miguel, 125 miles east of the capital. They did not say who the dead were, what provoked the confrontation or whether there were police casualties.

Relative calm returned to the streets of San Salvador, however, after officials ordered national police onto the streets to restore order in the embattled capital. Battles between leftists and supporters of a returned political exile Thursday night left 20 persons injured, four stores burned and other businesses looted, police said.

Recuperating shah marks birthday

NEW YORK (AP) — As hundreds shouted for his death blocks away, a relaxed and recuperating shah of Iran celebrated his 60th birthday Friday by taking a brief walk and eating a bland lunch.

The New York Hospital sent Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi a birthday cake, as it does every year. A second cake, a rum cake with custard filling, was sent by members of his family.

Doctors on Thursday had said the deposed ruler took "with style" the news that his lymph cancer was spreading throughout his body.

Cambodians refuse food supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian government is refusing to admit trucks carrying food and medical supplies into that starving Southeast Asian nation, three senators just returned from Cambodia and Thailand reported to President Carter Friday.

After the White House meeting, the president said the word from Cambodia was "discouraging" but he held out hope that the Vietnamese-backed government in Phnom Penh would relent.

He said that the administration has been encouraging the United Nations and the International Red Cross to find a means to "get the food to those people over the obstacles... of all kinds" raised by Cambodia and Vietnam, which backs the government in Phnom Penh.

Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., said the Cambodian refusal was "insane," but the senators criticized Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's proposal for a massive airlift of supplies and said that a land route, in which truck convoys would enter from Thailand, was the only practicable method.

Carter, speaking briefly in the White House press room, praised the trip by Danforth, Sen. James Sasser, D-Tenn., and Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont., as "a very fine and successful visit and one which demonstrated a great degree of human courage."

Newest nation atop 'volcano'

KINGSTOWN, St. Vincent (AP) — On the eve of independence, the people of this tiny volcanic island Friday found themselves sitting on top of another kind of volcano — the explosive politics of the Caribbean.

At midnight St. Vincent and the Grenadines cast off 352 years of ties with Britain, becoming the world's newest nation at a time when Cuba and the United States are engaged in a tug-of-war for influence in the region.

Prime Minister Milton Cato's governing Labor Party, which is friendly to the United States, is "very much out-of-touch" with the need of the ordinary citizen, said one U.S. diplomatic source, and "there are very severe economic conditions breeding potential political upheaval."

St. Vincent and the Grenadines, a necklace of islets stretching southward from St. Vincent, have a population of more than 100,000 people crowded onto just 150 square miles of dry land.

Midway between Puerto Rico and South America, some 1,500 miles southeast of Miami, St. Vincent is dominated by Mount Soufriere, an active volcano that in its latest eruption, last spring, spewed widespread destruction over the island's northern tip.

The British guided-missile destroyer HMS Jupiter, the U.S. frigate Valdez and a French patrol boat sitting in the harbor of this small capital were taking part in the ceremonies, firing their guns with the coming of independence. Representing Queen Elizabeth II at the traditional changing of flags was her cousin the Duke of Gloucester.

The new flag is plastered everywhere. It features a coat of arms on a leaf from a breadfruit plant like the ones brought here in 1793 from Haiti by Capt. William Bligh of HMS Bounty fame.

For the past 10 years, St. Vincent has been a self-governing British Associated State, with London running its foreign affairs.

Soviet arms mishap killed hundreds

LONDON (AP) — An accident at a Soviet weapons establishment in Siberia killed hundreds of people last June, apparently through release of a virus or a chemical poison, the British news magazine NOW! said Friday.

The magazine said thousands of persons in Novosibirsk, 2,000 miles east of Moscow, were hospitalized as a result of the accident, but authorities hushed it up and there was no reference to it in the Soviet press.

The magazine cited as its source a traveler who was in Novosibirsk, a Siberian city of 1.3 million people, at the time.

WHO says smallpox eradicated

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Man was declared permanently free from the scourge of smallpox Friday. World Health Organization officials said the virus that killed or disfigured hundreds of millions now exists only in seven laboratories.

WHO surveyors certified after two years of work in the eastern Africa bush that smallpox has been eliminated in Kenya, Ethiopia, Somalia and Djibouti — the last four countries not rated smallpox-free. From now on, they said, there should be no need for routine vaccinations or smallpox checks on foreign travelers anywhere in the world.

Assassination attempt fails

LONDON (AP) — An Iranian bishop who heads the small Anglican community in Iran escaped unharmed from an apparent assassination attempt Friday morning, but his English wife was wounded in the hand, Church of England officials said.

The attack took place at 5 a.m. in the Isfahan home of Bishop Hassan Dehqani-Tafti, said Wallace Boulton, a spokesman for the Church Missionary Society.

"Three gunmen entered the bishop's bedroom and five shots were fired," Boulton told The Associated Press. "Bullets struck his pillow and the wall. His wife Margaret tried to shield her husband, and she was struck in the hand."

Hua attacks Soviet Union

MUNICH, West Germany (AP) — Chairman Hua Guofeng, in the strongest statement of his West German tour, called Friday on Western Europe to increase its defense capability to counter activities "aimed at world domination."

In a clear attack on the Soviet Union, the Chinese leader also pledged that the touchstone of his country's foreign policy would remain "to fight hegemony and maintain world peace." Hegemony is a Chinese code word for Soviet world domination.

Hua delivered his remarks during a banquet in his honor given by Bavarian state Premier Franz Josef Strauss, one of Europe's most-outspoken anti-Soviet politicians and the conservative candidate to oppose Chancellor Helmut Schmidt in the 1980 elections.

President Jimmy Carter is shown at the White House Friday with three members of the U.S. Senate who just returned from a fact-finding mission to Cambodia. From the left are Sen. John C. Danforth, R-Mo.; Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont.; and Sen. James Sasser, D-Tenn. The senators said the

Cambodian government is refusing to admit trucks carrying food and medical supplies to that starving Southeast Asian nation. They also were critical of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's proposal for a massive airlift of supplies. (AP Laserphoto)

Cambodian talks set by U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim announced Friday that a conference on emergency aid for Cambodia would be held here Nov. 5 in an effort to relieve "misery and deprivation on a massive scale."

"There is appalling malnutrition, particularly among the children, 90 percent of whom are severely malnourished," Waldheim said, inviting U.N. members to pledge contributions to relief efforts in Cambodia.

The announcement follows Waldheim's Oct. 19 appeal for donations to a $110 million relief fund. He called the Cambodian situation "a national tragedy, the proportion of which may have no parallel in history."

In Thailand, Prime Minister Kriangsak Chomanan said he would ask the United Nations to permanently station a fact-finding committee at the tense Thai-Cambodian border.

Kriangsak told a news conference that he had canceled scheduled trips abroad because of growing tension along the border, where Vietnamese troops are reportedly mounting offensive against the remaining forces loyal to ousted Cambodian premier Pol Pot.

Luxury estates recycled

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In its heyday, White-marsh Hall, enshrined on a hill overlooking White-marsh Valley, was truly the ultimate of country estates.

Labeled the "Versailles of America" by French statesman Georges Clemenceau, the $2 million dream house was constructed over a five-year period beginning in 1916 by investment banker Edward Stotesbury for his second wife, Eva.

Built of Indiana white limestone and decorated with columns and statues, the six-story, Italian Renaissance-style mansion had 147 rooms, 12 bathrooms with gold-plated fixtures, three elevators, a ballroom, a movie theater, indoor tennis and squash courts, a Roman bath and a gymnasium.

Whitemarsh Hall now lies in shambles. Its interior has been stripped and demolished, scarred by fire, defaced by graffiti and buried in rubble. It will soon be razed, and 183 townhouses will be built on the site.

Like Whitemarsh Hall, many of the grand old palaces that gave the Philadelphia suburbs their reputation for residential splendor are passing into oblivion.

Sweeping lawns and formal gardens have been carved into geometric subdivisions and plastered with ranchers and split-levels, often more modest than the carriage houses where servants once lived.

Other majestic estates, homes of Philadelphia's merchant bankers and railroad barons, are being recycled as school buildings, libraries, museums and even entire parks.

The old estates began vanishing about 50 years ago, and the process continues, propelled by factors such as the personal income tax, division of family fortunes and, lately, soaring land values, property taxes and utility and maintenance costs.

"Every year or so, we lose another one or two old estates," said Joseph Newby, a Lower Merion Township planning technician.

"Most of them are breaking up because lifestyles have changed. People don't want to spend the time or the money on them any more. And the way land values are around here, it's much to their benefit to break them up."

For example, two years ago an 11-acre parcel, part of the old Foerderer estate in Gladwyne, was sold for $38,000 an acre. After roads and water and sewer lines had been installed, a vacant one-acre lot was recently resold for $72,000.

But some developers who are buying and building on the old estates are trying to salvage the mansions and are plotting new houses in a way that complements existing landscapes.

"Years ago, the attitude was, 'Let's level the old mansions and start over,'" said Raymond Freyberger Jr., a planner with First Valley Forge Corp., which plans to build 180 homes on the old Ellis and Strawbridge estates in Radnor and Haverford townships.

"Today there's more appreciation for the environment and the esthetic value of these old homes. The idea now is to work with the old mansions rather than against them."

In subdividing the estates and reducing the land around the mansions, developers have made some of them affordable again as private homes. In other cases, municipalities and school districts have purchased old estates and are using them for anything from seminars to wedding receptions.

An example is the Willows in Radnor Township. Built in 1910 by John Sinnott, son of a successful distiller, and once called "The Jewel of the Darby Creek Valley," it is now leased for bar mitzvahs and wedding receptions.

The 23-room mansion, with Spanish-style, red-tiled roof and balconies with wrought-iron railings, sits atop a grassy hill that tumbles down to a stream and a 2.5-acre lake bordered by weeping willows and populated by honking geese.

In 1973, the township bought the 48-acre estate for $1.1 million from a developer who had planned to build 60 single-family homes on the property. In 1976, the township began leasing it to the public. By the end of this year, about 200 activities will have taken place at the estate.

SHEINWOLD ON BRIDGE Let Enemy Be Clever

By Alfred Sheinwold

As a person of good character your greatest pleasure comes from letting others show how clever they are. You would be as unselfish as East in today's hand.

East signalled with the ten of spades, and South refused the first trick. West continued with the jack of spades, and East overtook with the king. South held off again, and East led the nine of spades to drive out the ace.

When South then lost the club finesse and East returned a club, South found himself believing that East didn't have the last spade since he hadn't cashed it (Perhaps South should not have been deceived, but that's another story).

CHEVROLET FINESSE
Putting himself on the back for his cleverness, South took the heart finesse in the "safe" direction, losing to East's queen. East thereupon took the missing spade to defeat the contract.

If East took his last spade earlier South would have an even chance to guess the winning play in hearts. East's generosity was only temporary but highly rewarding.

Chevco J.A. firm gains perfect attendance, membership

One Junior Achievement company has achieved perfect attendance and lost no members for each of the first six weeks of the J.A. program so far. This company is Chevco, counseled by Chevron, U.S.A., Inc. Chevco manufactures desk top pen sets and is raising $100 of initial capital through sale of stock at $1 per share.

Bases of the pen sets are either mesquite or cedar tree cross sections which students cut and finish. Under side of each base is covered with felt.

Chevco advisers feel customers will be willing to go along with a price adjustment due to raw material cost increases of 23 percent in the price of pens. The high price of gold is the reason for the increase, they said.

Advising the teenagers in business operations are Chevco's Julius Mondragon, D.L. Lopata, M.L. McDonald, R.A. Wright and J.R. Waugh. Recently elected achiever leaders of Chevco are Brenda Hall, president; Roger Leg, vice president for marketing; Tony Adams, vice president for personnel; David Clutter, treasurer, and Mary Kay McManon, corporate secretary.

Appointed officers are Ralph Clinton, safety director; Spencer Bennett, production manager, and Avis Fisk, quality control manager.

Gerrymandering charged 11 counties

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A coalition of organizations, calling Texas "the most gerrymandered state in the Southwest," is asking federal courts to order 11 counties to redraw precinct lines.

William Velasquez, director of the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project, said Thursday the counties have intentionally drawn precinct lines that dilute Mexican-American voting strength.

Velasquez sat in front of a map showing 97 Texas counties in which he said Mexican-Americans are under-represented on commissioners courts.

He said continued losses at the polls in those counties have alienated Mexican-American voters and left them with little hope of representation.

The counties named in the federal suits Thursday were Atascosa, Medina, Refugio, Uvalde, Cochran, Edwards, Lynn, Dawson, Crosby, Victoria and Castro.

Of the 11 counties named in the suits, Uvalde County is the only one with a Spanish-surnamed county commissioner.

Velasquez was joined at the news conference by officials from the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, the League of United Latin-American Citizens and the American GI Forum. Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc., also helped prepare the litigation, he said.

The suits are the result of a two-year study of county government in Texas, the officials said. Velasquez said the first 66 counties checked were gerrymandered — "some to an outrageous degree."

The suits charge the county precinct lines violate the one-man, one-vote doctrine. Federal law says the most populous precinct in a county should not be more than 10 percent larger than the least populous precinct.

Statistics gathered by the organizations showed all 11 counties are violating that law. In Edwards County, the largest precinct is 180 percent larger than the "ideal precinct" (based on the 1970 census).

The smallest precinct is 80 percent smaller than the ideal precinct, according to the figures.

Rolando Rios, director of litigation for SVREP, said staff members were "told to get out of the county by sundown" when they tried to look at voter registration figures in the Southwest Texas county.

Velasquez said more suits may follow.

"We intend to remedy this problem even if it takes us suing all the counties," Velasquez said. He said the organizations have the funds to pursue the matter, but he added he hoped the counties would agree to negotiate new precinct lines.

Rios said reapportionment of the 97 counties would mean Mexican-Americans would be in the majority in 104 precincts. He said there are now only 17 Mexican-Americans on commissioners courts in the 97 counties.

El Paso Rep. Paul Moreno, chairman of the Mexican-American Legislative Caucus, voiced his support for the legal action. He said, "the only way the Mexican-American can get any political power is through the courts. Our state government is quite biased."

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation is the new corporate name for the voluntary health organization formerly known as The National Foundation.

Harry E. Green, board chairman, says, "Our new name states our mission and acknowledges what the American people have recognized for many years. # Editor of weekly lets off steam

By ALAN JULIAN
The Evansville Courier

MARENGO, Ind. (AP) — John Flynn doesn't have a soapbox, but he does have a newspaper.

And ever since the first edition of his weekly publication, Hard Times, was printed seven months ago, Crawford County readers have had the opportunity to watch John Flynn do what he likes best.

Call it self-indulgence in the First Amendment; Flynn calls it plain, old-fashioned editorial "hell-raising."

He expounds freely and repeatedly on his favorite topics — the ills of big government, the erosion of individual rights and the destruction of inland waterways in the Midwest.

He describes the Washington bureaucracy as a bunch of "land grabbers and horse traders" who are bringing about "the ruination of the family farm in southern Indiana" through the purchase of farmland for federal watershed projects.

He claims the Ohio River is "ecologically ruined" and that valuable farm ground is being lost to erosion because of modern highlift dams. On clean air, he says: "I'm addicted to cigarettes but I ain't to dirty air."

From the Hard Times office, located in a former funeral home in Marengo, the 41-year-old Flynn does his editorial and news writing under the motto "Howlin' at the Moon," a line he borrowed from a Hank Williams song.

"I've always wanted an editorial page to just run my mouth to the fullest," says the bearded Flynn, a West Virginia native. "Now I've got it and, boy, do I enjoy it. "If I'm a little off the wall sometimes, OK. Every editor has the right to be off the wall every once in a while."

Flynn writes the majority of the news stories that fill each week's 10-page edition. Occasionally, however, he will "steal" a story from another publication.

Some of the stories that appear in the paper are written by Flynn's wife, Carole, but she is basically responsible for photography and layout. The only other members of the staff are two advertising salesmen, an office worker and a typesetter.

A 20-year veteran of journalism, Flynn has worked as a reporter at several large dailies, including The Louisville Courier-Journal, the Philadelphia Inquirer, and the Akron Beacon-Journal.

He says he named his newspaper Hard Times because he felt it reflected the attitudes of many rural people, especially the 9,000 in Crawford County, which has only one factory and a 19 percent unemployment rate.

To get the paper started, Flynn and his wife formed Hard Times Enterprises earlier this year and spent almost two months selling stock. They raised nearly $20,000 and in the 30 weeks the newspaper has been in existence, the circulation has grown to 3,000.

Domestic air fares scheduled for another increase next month

By HOWARD BENEDICT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Domestic air travelers will pay 3.7 percent more for tickets next month following Civil Aeronautics Board action Friday to help airlines cope with the soaring cost of fuel.

The fare raise was the fourth across-the-board boost approved by the CAB this year and brings the total increase since January to 25.9 percent.

With the latest increase, for example, the price of a one-way coach ticket between New York and Los Angeles will rise from $288 to $298. A Washington-Chicago flight will go from $97 to $100, Atlanta-Dallas from $110 to $114, Boston-Miami from $161 to $167 and Cleveland-Detroit from $37 to $38.

The increase, which the airlines can implement Nov. 1, comes as some of the largest carriers are reporting third quarter losses or drastically reduced earnings compared with the same period last year.

"We need all the help we can get," United Airlines spokesman Jim Linse said in reporting that United will file the new higher tariffs with the CAB on Monday.

UAL Inc., United's parent company, reported a net loss of $15.9 million in the three months ended Sept. 30. The airline itself had a net loss of $21.5 million, compared with net earnings of $166.1 million in the same quarter last year. The company said fuel costs were 54 percent higher than a year ago.

The CAB said the price of jet fuel has risen from an average of about 37 cents a gallon in January to 67 cents in September. Many airlines are buying at least some of their fuel at spot market prices of up to 90 cents a gallon.

The board said it would continue to allow airlines to adjust their fares to higher fuel price on short notice, but it warned carriers not to implement the increases until they had properly informed their ticket agents and the public.

When fares were increased in September, the board said it was "deluged by an intolerable number of complaints" that new fares were not advertised properly and that some agents were not fully aware of what they should be charging for tickets. This, it said, created confusion and "chaotic conditions."

Trans World Airlines said it would put the increase into effect across the board. Allegheny Airlines, one of the few carriers to report improved earnings in the third quarter, said it would implement the raise sometime after Nov. 1. Several carriers will continue to offer discount fares that have certain restrictions such as advance purchase, but these cheap fares are disappearing fast as airline operating costs spiral and the economy softens.
