U.N. Council plans public talks on Iran

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — U.N. Security Council members gathered at headquarters to arrange a public meeting on the U.S.-Iran crisis and decide whether to hold it today or postpone it until Iran's foreign minister arrives.

They were addressed by Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, who on Sunday called for a meeting of the 15-nation Council, describing the stalemate over the detention of 49 U.S. hostages in Tehran as the most serious threat to peace since the 1962 Cuban missile crisis. Waldheim had been asked to explain to the members today why he thought the council should meet.

Diplomatic sources said the public meeting, planned for this afternoon, might be put off if Iran's Bani-Sadr can be expected to arrive in a few days. If his arrival is uncertain, or put off for as long as a week, the council might meet with Iranian Charge d'Affaires Jamal Shemirani representing Iran temporarily. Bani-Sadr said Sunday he was postponing the trip for a week.

The United States, which for nearly two weeks blocked an Iranian request for the debate, agreed because it believed the debate would result in a strong resolution demanding release of the hostages, who have been held in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran for three weeks, a State Department official said.

The hostages were visited Sunday for the first time since their ordeal began Nov. 4 by an American official as tens of thousands of Iranians held the daily anti-American demonstration outside. The official, Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, reported the captives were still being kept with their hands tied loosely and were "anxious" but healthy. He also reported one of them was recovering from chicken pox.

In Tehran, revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini today urged his Islamic followers to mobilize against the United States and said all Iranians must learn to handle a weapon. In a speech to revolutionary guards, broadcast from his headquarters in Qom, the Moslem patriarch envisaged his nation of 35 million people producing a 20-million strong army within a few years. "Our Islamic principles say everyone should know how to shoot and how to ride a horse," he said.

Waldheim in a letter to Security Council President Sergio Palacios de Vizzio of Bolivia said the tension between the United States and Iran "could have dangerous consequences for the entire world." He asked that the council "be convened urgently in an effort to seek a peaceful solution."

Diplomatic sources earlier said they expected the 15 council members to consult privately this morning and to meet publicly in the afternoon to start the debate.

These sources said they expected council members generally would make it very clear that they considered the main issue release of the Americans held by Iranian students demanding that the U.S. government surrender the deposed shah for trial in Iran.

Iran's U.N. delegation asked Tehran for instructions. Bani Sadr asked on Nov. 13 for a council meeting to hear the Iranian revolutionary regime's charges against the shah and the United States. But the council refused to grant the Iranian request because it had not replied to a council statement Nov. 9 urging immediate release of the hostages.

Waldheim's request for a council meeting was announced at 3 a.m. Monday Tehran time and there was no immediate reaction from the Iranian capital. On Sunday, Pars, the official Iranian news agency, announced that Bani Sadr would fly to New York today to address the council and demand that the United States surrender the shah. But several hours later a government spokesman said the trip was delayed a week because of the Ashura religious holiday and the national referendum Dec. 2 on Iran's new Islamic constitution. Bani Sadr today said in a broadcast statement that he had postponed the trip because Waldheim had not consulted Iran about the date of the meeting.

Carter opposes Hansen mission

Congressman backs hearings on charges against shah

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary Jody Powell said today the Carter administration opposes Rep. George Hansen's personal mission to Iran and believes it may prolong the holding of 49 American hostages there.

"I don't think that sort of thing is helpful," Powell said of Hansen's negotiating independently with Iranian officials.

Hansen has proposed congressional hearings into charges against the deposed Shah of Iran as leverage to win the release of American hostages held for 23 days in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

President Carter has not endorsed any such proposal. To the contrary, he has publicly refused to negotiate in any way with Iran's leaders as long as the Americans are held captive.

When a reporter asked if there was a danger that Iranians might misinterpret Hansen's statements as an official signal from the administration, Powell said, "Yes. If he gives a conflicting view to the students...he could prolong their (the hostages') stay."

Powell said the administration continues to oppose such private missions as Hansen's.

It was the administration's decision to admit the shah into the United States that sparked the seizure of the embassy Nov. 4 by militant Iranian students supported by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. Iran's leaders have called repeatedly for extradition of the shah, hospitalized in New York City for treatment of cancer, as the price for releasing the hostages.

Hansen, an Idaho Republican, went to Tehran on his own last week and, in discussions with Iranian officials, proposed that a congressional committee investigate charges against the shah. Hansen said his proposal was well received in Tehran.

On Sunday he was allowed to see about 20 of the 49 American hostages at the embassy. He said their reaction to his presence made his trip worthwhile.

Powell would not comment on a report in The New York Times which said former Secretary of State Henry

Kissinger had urged Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi to remain in the United States until the administration "directly asks him to go."

Powell said the administration has had no direct contact with the shah, and plans to allow him to remain in the United States until his cancer and gallbladder treatments are completed.

"We are not going to force him to leave until the work he came here to have done is completed," Powell said. "By the same token, we're not going to hold him here."

Latest statistics show evidence of recession, economists say

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's latest statistics offer the strongest evidence so far of the nation's long-awaited but slow-to-develop recession, many economists say.

Cracks in the economy are widening as business and consumers show increased vulnerability to inflation and rising interest rates, these economists said in a recent series of interviews.

Since the Federal Reserve Board moved last month to tighten credit and boost interest rates, home-building has dropped, industrial activity has weakened and retail sales have eroded.

The government says incomes rose in October, but not enough to keep up with inflation, which has been rising at an annual rate of about 13 percent.

The government also says Americans saved more of their incomes last month than in September. But while that eventually could help ease the inflation rate, it also is a sign of a recession, said Jack Carlson, chief economist of the National Association of Realtors.

And the government says that despite a 6.2-percent increase in after-tax corporate profits in the third quarter, less cash was available for dividends and expansion than during the second quarter, when a downturn was reported.

Businesses spent much of those profits replacing inventory and worn-out equipment, which cost more now because of inflation.

Michael Evans of the Washington-based Evans Economics says if the lucrative oil industry is set aside, "it's clear profits have been running behind inflation this year" for other industries.

Interest rates are so high — nearly 16 percent to banks' best customers — that many firms will delay capital expenditures.

Detroit will be an exception, says auto industry analyst Arvid Jouppi, because that industry "must expand to stay in business" and equip itself for increased small-car production.

Business spending is seen as a key prop for the economy because it can make up for diminished consumer spending, economists say. Consumer spending was a major reason the nation's gross national product increased 3.5 percent in the third quarter after slipping 2.3 percent in the second quarter.

But retail sales in October dropped 1.7 percent, led by declining auto purchases. Many economists say that slippage will worsen.

Alan Greenspan, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Ford, agrees cracks in the economy are widening, but adds: "The walls have not yet caved in."

Employment remains relatively stable, he notes, while factory orders for most long-lasting goods — a key economic signal — are holding up.

"We're not yet at the precipice," he says, although "we're slipping, eroding."

The precipice may be close. Commerce Department economist Theodore Torda says businesses clearly are beginning to work off their backlog of durable goods orders.

As that happens, industrial production, already sluggish, will begin to decline noticeably, he said.

That is when the unemployment rate — a key measure of recession — will rise rapidly, says Robert Gough of Data Resources Inc. in Cambridge, Mass.

Pakistani airliner crashes, kills 156

JIDDA, Saudi Arabia (AP) — A Pakistani jetliner flying Moslem pilgrims home from Mecca caught fire, exploded and crashed shortly after taking off early today from Jidda and all 156 persons aboard were believed killed, airline officials said.

A Pakistani International Airlines spokesman told a news conference in Karachi, Pakistan, the plane's destination, that no survivors were reported among the plane's 145 passengers and 11 crew members. He said none of those aboard were American or European.

Airline officials said they did not rule out sabotage, but PIA engineers in Karachi said they believed a short circuit caused the fire and explosion. The plane carried 110 Moslems returning from a Pilgrimage to Mecca, Islam's holiest shrine, a PIA spokesman said.

An airline spokesman said the Boeing 707 crashed 35 minutes after taking off from this Red Sea port city. The wreckage was scattered over a three-mile area, he said.

PIA operations chief Masoud Ghazi told a news conference in Karachi that flight captain Khalid Wyne radioed a distress signal 30 minutes after takeoff, reporting smoke in the cabin and cockpit and requesting permission to land.

At the time the plane was flying at an altitude of 25,000 feet 167 miles from Jidda. Five minutes later, Wyne radioed: "May Day! May Day!" and radio contact was broken.

Ghazi said the plane crashed about 70 miles northeast of Jidda, in rough and mountainous desert north of Mecca.

Saudi helicopters, carrying civil aviation and Pakistani airline officials, left Jidda before dawn for the wreckage about 15 miles north of Taif.

The PIA plane had come from Kano, Nigeria, and left Jidda shortly before 1 a.m. bound for Karachi.

It was the second tragedy during this year's pilgrimage to Mecca. On Tuesday members of an ultra-conservative Moslem tribe in southern Arabia seized control of the Grand Mosque in Mecca, Islam's holiest shrine, and took a number of hostages. Saudi troops retook the mosque Saturday in a blazing gunbattle.

Ghazi described Wyne as an experienced pilot, and said the airline had purchased the Boeing 707 in 1970. He said the most recent previous PIA tragedy involving a Boeing plane was the May 20, 1965, crash of an inaugural flight near Cairo, in which more than 120 people died.

FAA probing hijack attempt; Hearing slated

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Federal Aviation Administration officers today investigated the first airline hijacking attempt in Texas since 1973 in hopes of finding out how the hijacker got aboard a passenger plane in San Antonio with a large hunting knife.

"It is of considerable concern to us," said John Adams of Fort Worth, the FAA's chief of security for the five-state Southwest region.

How the knife-wielding assailant boarded American Airlines Flight 395 to El Paso Saturday "is the unanswered question. We are still investigating the matter," Adams said.

The hijacking drama ended here after nearly four hours when FBI agents stormed aboard the passenger jet and took the knife from Gerald James "Skipper" Hill Jr., 18, of Chester, Mass.

Hill, who was charged with armed interference with a flight crew, appeared at a hearing today where his bond was kept at $500,000, and he was assigned a court-appointed defense attorney. Another hearing was set for Thursday.

Adams said federal officials were still trying to determine whether Hill began his air journey in San Antonio Saturday or arrived at the airport on another plane and transferred to the American flight.

"If he came in on another flight but arrived in the same concourse, he could have boarded the American (without going through a metal detector in San Antonio). He would have been screened at the point of origination," Adams said. He said Hill's point of origin had not been determined, but it was thought to be San Antonio.

"Airlines are in charge of screening passengers," said Adams. "They employ various companies to physically do the screening. I believe in this case Wackenhut is the contractor, but the airline is the responsible organization."

Wackenhut officials in San Antonio were unavailable for comment.

Adams said the El Paso incident was the first hijacking attempt in Texas since 1973. "The system is working," he said. "Just since last March, 283 guns have been detected in the five-state region."

Hill received a "trainee discharge" Oct. 11 from the Army infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga., according to Staff Sgt. David Bristow of the Ft. Benning public information office.

Jury finds Burkhalter guilty

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A jury convicted Dr. Archie Herman Burkhalter today on a charge of attempted murder in a plot to kill the current husband of his ex-wife.

The jury acquitted co-defendant Scott David Minnick.

Both had been charged with attempted capital murder.

The four men and eight women had deliberated seven hours Wednesday before reaching for the Thanksgiving weekend. They met for little over an hour before returning their verdict.

State District Judge Darrell Hester set sentencing for later Monday.

Burkhalter showed no emotion when the verdict was read.

Minnick told reporters, "I didn't know what to expect. I feel a hell of a lot better."

Burkhalter and Minnick had been charged with attempted capital murder but the lesser charge of attempted murder was an option the jury had. The lesser charge carries a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison.

The prosecution had charged that Burkhalter hired two men to kill John Hensley, who married to the former Laurita Burkhalter.

Hensley survived a Feb. 15 shooting outside his South Padre Island condominium but was left blind.

Minnick's uncle, S.J. Wilburn, was convicted as the "hit man" in the case and was sentenced to life in prison as a "habitual criminal," based on his previous felony convictions.

Prosecutors allege Minnick drove a specially outfitted car that allowed Wilburn to fire at Hensley from port-holes in the trunk. Wilburn was arrested near the Padre Island causeway shortly after the shooting and Minnick was arrested later in the day north of Corpus Christi.

No rain, snow or hail forecast

No rain, no snow, no hail. For a late November forecast, Midland still doesn't have anything added to make it more exciting.

According to the weatherman, Midland's plain vanilla forecast consists of fair skies and cooler on Tuesday. The only change might be blowing sand, but that is a year-round occurrence.

The mercury should dip into the upper 30s tonight, warming up to the low 60s on Tuesday, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport.

High Sunday was a warm 73 degrees, still below the record of 85 set in 1965. Overnight low was 35 degrees, almost twice that of the record 18 degrees set in 1938.

Fair skies and cool temperatures were reported throughout the area.

A few clouds buffeted by brisk, gritty winds drifted over northwest Texas this morning, but the rest of the state woke to clear skies today.

Winds across the state generally are less than 10 miles an hour.

Another winter storm brewing in the Central Rockies increased wind-speed some in northwest Texas and whooshed a few light clouds into the state. As windspeed pick up, the possibility of blowing dust will increase.

Two arrested early today

Two men were arrested early today in connection with the alleged theft of a car Sunday night and the subsequent burglary of a cafe, but no charges had been filed by early today.

Midland police officers stopped the two men, ages 20 and 21, at 1:25 a.m. today at the intersection of Mincola Street and Griffin Avenue. They were riding in a vehicle that had been reported as stolen late Sunday night in the city.

The vehicle, which belonged to Fidel Ruiz, 1609 W. Griffin Ave., contained items reportedly taken during a burglary this morning of Cafe La Sirena, 303 Terrell St., according to police. Ruiz had reported his vehicle as stolen early this morning.

Taken in that burglary of the cafe, police said, was $23.28 worth of ground beef, beef tripe, cheese, green peppers, cooked rice and cooked beef tips.

Freight train sets off grass fire near Stanton

By ED TODD Staff Writer

STANTON — A wind-whipped grass fire apparently sparked off by a passing freight train burned off two sections of rangeland Sunday afternoon before Stanton volunteer firemen set off a back fire to block off and extinguish the blaze.

"It's not very bad; it didn't get away," said Gary Reid, one of 10 Stanton firemen who fought the blaze for about two hours. "That dad-gum train..." he lamented, "... (about) everytime it goes by the hill" it touches off a fire.

Pasture land three to four miles east of town and on the south side of the Missouri Pacific Railroad line was charred by the fire, which was whipped by westerly winds which averaged 17 mph but gusted up to 30 mph.

"It was pretty bad," said mayor-firefighter Danny Fryar. "It could have gotten a lot worse had it gotten past the T.D. Barnhill place" and into heavy grassland.

The fire threatened rows of harvested cotton, which were blocked by boxcar-size modules, but was cut short of the cotton and stretches of grassland to the east.

Rangeland fires are common during the winter season, when the fange grasses are tall and dry and act as kindling wood.

"When the winds are about like this, you can come over here and we'll have a fire," noted Fryar.

Fire Chief Bob Haislip said he has seen rangeland fires far more out of control than the one Sunday.

"It wasn't as bad as lots of them," he figured. "Fortunately, it wasn't two miles farther east (into) good grassland."

In addition to the back fire and some disking on Corky Blocker's land, the leaping fire also was checked by a road.

"It never did jump that road, or it'd be worse than it was," suggested Reid.

The fire may have been ignited by sparks or fire from a hotbox on the freight train.

Outside of the back fire and disking, about all the firemen could do was "pray an awful lot," said Bob Wilson, who noted that water from Martin County's 450-gallon and 1,000-gallon rural firefighting engines wasn't near enough to contain the fire.

The back fire was the key to dousing the blaze.

"You set a back fire, and there's nothing to burn when the fire gets there," explained Reid.

Fighting the blaze were volunteer firemen Robert Jeffcoat, Lonnie Long, Walter Taylor, Teddy Stewart, Ted Stewart and Haislip, Fryar, Reid, Wilson and Blocker.

The fire was reported by Stanton Police Chief Jerry Register.

"It was burning pretty good there for awhile," recalled Martin County Deputy Sheriff John Key, who drove out to the fire. "I didn't know if they were going to put it out or not."

Soil used on collapsed dam too light, according to study

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The wrong type of soil — which a government study says was too light to resist erosion — may have been used in construction of an Idaho dam that collapsed in 1976, the Los Angeles Times reports.

The collapse of the Teton Dam unleashed a wall of water, and was blamed for 14 deaths and widespread agricultural damage.

The report of an Interior Department review group, scheduled for public release about Jan. 1, is the first official study of the dam collapse to cite construction irregularities as a possible cause, the Times said Sunday.

Parts of the dam embankment were built of a "low density, highly permeable material" instead of a denser material which would have resisted water pressure, the Times said in quoting a government source, who was not identified.

Previous investigations have pointed toward design problems in the 300-foot tall dam, which failed June 5, 1976.

Reception to honor Col., Mrs. Speir

Col. and Mrs. Wilson E. Speir of Austin will be the honored guests of the Midland Region of the Texas Department of Public Safety at a coffee-reception scheduled from 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday in the Midland Regional Office, Major Ira W. Dees, regional commander, announced today.

Col. Speir, who formerly headed the Midland Region as commander, will retire on Dec. 31 as director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, after 38 years with the department.

Major Dees said the reception here will give employees of the DPS and the colonel's many friends here and throughout West Texas an opportunity to honor him.

Speir served as regional commander here from Sept. 1, 1957, until June, 1, 1962, when he was appointed assistant director of the Texas DPS at Austin. He has served as director since September 1968.

Major Dees said Speir will be a special guest at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday noon. He is a past president of the Austin

Woman reports purse stolen

The theft of a purse containing keys, credit cards and a check valued at $219 was reported to Midland police Sunday morning.

Pamela Sisk, 2600 W. Washington Ave., told police Sunday that her purse was taken from Barry's Nice & Clean, 807 S. Midkiff Road, Saturday night.

She reportedly told police the purse was taken by two men.

Occupation of school ends, but parents pledge boycott

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 12-day occupation of a Philadelphia elementary school has ended with the arrest of eight protesters, but some parents now say they'll refuse to send their children to the school.

Twenty-five sheriff's deputies moved into Harrity Elementary before dawn Sunday, breaking window locks to get in after protesters refused to admit them, authorities said.

Chief Inspector Joseph DeStefanis of the sheriff's office said some of the 20 parents left the premises when he read an injunction ordering them to vacate school property.

"The eight remaining didn't want to disperse, so I placed them under arrest," DeStefanis said.

They were released without bail on charges of violating a Nov. 15 injunction against the occupation. Hearings were to be held today.

The parents demand the ouster of principal Josef Weinstein, charging that he was insensitive to the safety of pupils and allegedly covered up the rape of a 10-year-old pupil by an 11-year-old intruder.

Weinstein, 56, said the child had been robbed, but not sexually assaulted. The school district backed up the principal.

On Nov. 14, the parents refused to allow Weinstein to enter the school he has administered for 10 years. The next day, classes were suspended when teachers and students also were barred from entering.

After the arrests Sunday, some parents denounced the action as "betrayal" of their negotiations with the school board.

"We were going to open the door, but they broke in," said Greg Thompson, who had been occupying the school but left after deputies read the injunction.

"I don't really see any reason why we should continue (negotiations) at the risk of some child being found dead over there," said Elizabeth Keller, a parent.

Some parents said they might open alternative schools for their children, rather than return them to Harrity.

Body found beside highway

An autopsy was ordered this morning to determine the cause of death of a 57-year-old Midland man whose body was found lying near East Highway 80 about 7:30 a.m. today.

Police said they do not suspect foul play in the death of the man identified as Albert McCabe. The death is believed to be due to natural causes.

There were no unusual marks on the body, police said. It was uncertain how long the man had been dead.

Peace Justice Robert Pine ordered the autopsy to determine the actual cause of death.

A police spokesman said the man's body was found alongside the highway and police, along with Judge Pine, were called to the scene to investigate.

Sen. Snelson to speak tonight

SAN ANGELO — State Sen. W.E. "Pete" Snelson of Midland will discuss past accomplishments and future needs in educational legislation at the Teachers Political Action Council dinner here tonight.

The dinner will start at 6:30 p.m. in Las Brisas Motor Inn Restaurant. The program will follow at 7 p.m.

TPAC members are honoring Snelson for his support of Texas State Teachers Association-backed legislation during the 1979 State Legislature.

CHARLEY REESE
Writer says proper time to complain is right now

By CHARLEY REESE
Sun Belt Syndicate

Charley Reese

ORLANDO, Fla. — The Carter administration has agreed to provide $1.5 billion in loan guarantees to the Chrysler Corp. This means banks can lend the money to Chrysler, make a profit on the loans, and if Chrysler can't pay it back, the taxpayers will.

There are several things wrong with the situation. First, if we the taxpayers are going to assume the risk, we the taxpayers ought to earn the profit, not the banks.

Secondly, it is strange that some of the same very large banks which are so eager to lend money to communist governments that they lobby the government are reluctant to lend money to an American corporation.

David Rockefeller, chairman of the Chase Manhattan which has deposits in the neighborhood of $40 billion, made loans and arranged others in order to finance the Moscow International Trade Center and the world's largest heavy truck factory on the Kama River in the Soviet Union.

What does this mean? It means American capital diverted to the Soviet Union. Isn't that strange when the Chase Manhattan runs advertisements warning of a capital shortage in the United States. It also means the Soviets can divert their own resources into military production.

You may be pleased to know that the reason Soviet missiles are now as accurate as ours is that we sold them precision ball bearing machinery.

The multinationals and some unions which push for increased trade with communist countries always use the arguments about the need to increase exports and to create jobs in the U.S.

Who's kidding who? These same multinationals have direct foreign investments of more than $110 billion. One million trade-related jobs in the U.S. have been lost as a result.

I defend the right of multinationals or anybody else to make a profit. That's what business is all about. The only thing we have to do is understand that their job and their motivation is to make profits, not to be concerned about the long-range interests of the American people.

Our forefathers understood the necessity of disentangling church and state so that the state would not be co-opted by the church or vice versa. Our most pressing political task is to disentangle business and state by seeing to it that powerful multinational corporations stop bending U.S. policy to suit their private interests.

It may be good business to sell the Soviets technology. It is not, however, in the best interests of the American people whose lives are threatened by the Soviet Union. It may be profitable for American corporations to develop Nigerian oil; it is not, however, in the best interests of the American people to be dependent on foreign oil.

It's time to complain, folks.

Southwest battles 'em

Southwest Airlines is waging an all-out battle — with justification — to continue providing service between Dallas' Love Field and New Orleans.

The Civil Aeronautics Board previously had granted Southwest permission to provide the service, but within 10 days after Southwest's initial flight from Dallas' Love Field to New Orleans, Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth, majority leader of the U.S. House of Representatives, had submitted amendments to a routine airport funding bill which would force airlines to operate out of Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Southwest claims that the amendment "would single out Love Field as the only airport in the United States from which interstate commercial flights would be congressionally prohibited."

This doesn't sit too well with many residents of Texas and Louisiana, many of whom use or would use the service. Herbert D. Kelleher, Southwest's board chairman, told The Reporter-Telegram that petitions opposing the Wright amendments, and bearing the signatures of more than 130,000 persons, have been sent to Washington, along with thousands of cards, letters and messages from individuals and groups.

The Austin American-Statesman, in commenting editorially on Jim Wright and his actions, said, "For a man committed to the American free enterprise system, Wright exhibits a parochial attraction to artificial government control over a marketplace. Wright's action does a disservice to those passengers who find the Love Field flights a convenience."

Southwest Airlines serves Midland Regional Airport and many Midland and area residents who find the airline's Love Field-New Orleans flights a somewhat cheaper and more convenient service, undoubtedly feel the same about it as does the Austin editorial writer. Many of them undoubtedly have already expressed their views on the matter to their senators and representatives.

In granting Southwest Airlines permission to begin non-stop service to New Orleans from Love Field, the CAB reasonably determined that the carrier was entitled to the route it had gained rights to under the automatic entry provision of the 1978 Airline Deregulation Act. Congressional interference, then, seems to be a bit out of line.

Southwest apparently is doing an excellent job in providing this particular service, since the flights to date reportedly have proven to be quite popular.

The two bills which include the Wright "Love Field" amendments are up for conference committee meetings early this week, although it is possible they may be delayed.

Final results will be watched with a great deal of interest.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

War cries mobilize U.S. action

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, part in hot embitterment, part in cold calculation, has taken the world into a new and worse era. He has brought the Middle East to a boil, which could have scalding consequences.

Even now, a U.S. naval task force, operating under wartime conditions, is steaming within air-strike distance of Iran. Soon two nuclear carriers will be ready to launch fighter-bomber attacks against Iranian targets.

There has been speculation in the press about the possible targets. But the secret contingency plans call for a precision strike upon the Iranian island of Kharg in the Persian Gulf. This is Iran's great oil port, which pumps precious petroleum into world commerce. The task force has the firepower to knock it out for six months or for six years.

As a precaution, the planes probably would also hit Iran's air bases to prevent retaliation against the carriers. But Iran hasn't enough trained pilots nor spare parts to seriously challenge the naval force.

The order to launch the attacks must come from Jimmy Carter, a patient man, who suddenly has been caught in a series of crises and threats reverberating throughout the Middle East oil region. The president is not disposed to use military force unless his patience is strained beyond endurance.

The bombing of Kharg would bottle up Iran's oil, which is critically needed by the industrial West. Britain imports 23 percent of its oil from Iran; the average for all Western Europe is 16 percent.

But the strangling of Iranian oil exports would hurt Iran more than the West. Analysts estimate that Ayatollah Khomeini must ship out between 2.5 and 3.5 million barrels of crude a day to avert an economic collapse.

Without the cash flow from oil exports, he couldn't hope to solve the social and economic problems that now plague his country. Close to 3 million people — about a third of the workforce — are already jobless.

During the first year of the ayatollah's reign, his government has been in such a state of paralysis that it has been unable to appropriate public funds or spend public money. Indeed, the ayatollah may have approved the takeover of the U.S. embassy, deliberately precipitating the present crisis, to distract his people from their problems.

It will be up to the ayatollah whether to bring American bombs down upon his oil works. If he goes ahead with his announced threat to put American diplomats on trial, President Carter may interpret this as an act of war.

In fact, the capture of the embassy and the seizure of American hostages already gives him all the justification he needs for military intervention. But the president rightly is exercising restraint as long as there is a chance to save the lives of the hostages.

At first, the national Security Council recommended against a military response even if the hostages were killed. The council concluded that the ayatollah is an implacable fanatic who might even welcome a U.S. attack and the martyrdom it could bring him.

But the failure to strike back, the council now fears, could encourage militants around the world to join in the fun. The council cited the oil port as the most appropriate target not only to plug up the ayatollah's oil revenue but to dramatize that the United States will not submit to oil blackmail. The bombing of Kharg island should impress upon the oil powers that the U.S. is prepared to destroy vital oil facilities if it is sufficiently provoked.

Some military advisers, in fact, wanted to take over Iran's oil fields by force, thus depriving the ayatollah of the source of Iran's wealth and power. The bases that Israel is abandoning in the Sinai are available as a staging area. This would put our paratroopers within easy striking distance of Iran.

The 82nd Airborne Division has been trained to take over oil fields. The Air Force has also perfected a "bare-base" operation, complete with airlifted fuel and water tanks, repair shops and communications facilities. After the 1973 Arab oil boycott, the Marine Corps also began preparations for seaborne landings in the Middle East.

Sen. Richard Stone, D-Fla., chairman of the Senate Middle East subcommittee, has urged the Pentagon to utilize the three Israeli bases as a loud and clear warning that the United States intends to defend its overseas oil source.

The Pentagon quietly sounded out Israel, Egypt and Saudi Arabia about the idea. Only Egypt raised any objections, which might now be withdrawn after the Iranian crisis.

The next move belongs to Ayatollah Khomeini. Then it will be Jimmy Carter's move.

BIBLE VERSE

The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein. — Psalm 24:1.

Threat to security

A presidential commission has determined that one of the threats to the nation's security is the woeful inability of Americans to communicate with our overseas friends — or enemies.

A study has concluded that we are guilty of a "scandalous incompetence" in foreign tongues.

And it is true that most Americans are scornfully indifferent to any language other than English. As a result, according to the commission, we suffer from trade deficits and an ignorance of foreign customs and thinking.

"The United States," said the commission, "requires far more reliable capacities to communicate with its allies, analyze the behavior of potential adversaries and earn the trust and sympathies of the uncommitted."

The commission recommended new language programs to be financed by $178 million in federal and private funds in the next year.

As this country meets its destiny in the American century, its power has often outgrown its knowledge. In diplomacy, in business, in all affairs of friendship and leadership, it is better not to have to depend on a translator. Language learning is no easy task. It should be encouraged.

INSIDE REPORT:

Illinois' Big Jim Thompson cools on Big John Connally

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

AUSTIN, Texas — That Ronald Reagan's commanding position in the Republican presidential race may ultimately face only George Bush's challenge was suggested when word passed among Republican governors meeting here that Gov. James Thompson of Illinois has cooled his long flirtation with John B. Connally.

Thompson, whose tentative alliance with Connally began forming one year ago, will entertain Reagan soon at his governor's mansion in Springfield. That will mark the first meeting between them since a chance encounter and brief handshake at an Israel Bonds rally in Chicago last year.

Connally's ardent courtship of Thompson had nailed down no hard commitment but did produce this understanding: Some time in 1979 — at least before the first 1980 presidential primary election — Thompson would publicly bless Connally's candidacy. With many top Illinois Republicans (including a national committeeman and the legislative leaders) committed to Connally, Thompson's blessing was intended to accomplish two things:

First, it would enhance Connally's showing in the important Illinois primary March 18; second, it would give Thompson precedence in the Connally entourage, including the possibility of becoming Connally's vice president. "The trouble is," one Thompson

Evans Novak aide told us at the winter session of the Republican governors' conference, "the whole deal depended on Connally producing. Connally has not been able to produce — not yet anyway."

So Thompson has moved to strict neutrality, but with Reagan's candidacy getting Thompson's attention for the first time. Asked why Reagan had not telephoned or visited Thompson since that chance meeting almost a year ago, one Reagan insider said privately: "Thompson hasn't behaved very well toward Reagan. Reagan wanted to show it is not without cost to support an opponent of the front-runner."

The shift in Thompson's attitude demonstrates what the governors have analyzed with near-unanimity: Basic weaknesses mark the campaign of the former Democratic governor of Texas.

Connally is the most forceful stump speaker of all the Republican candidates, and a wizard at raising funds from corporate America. But dynamism and money have not converted the Republican contest into what Connally has long claimed is just ahead: a two-man race between Reagan and Connally.

What Thompson's men call Connally's inability to "produce" has caused multiple frustrations inside his campaign organization. An example came just before the Florida "preferential" convention when Connally was told by campaign aides that he had narrowed the next day's straw vote to a "neck-and-neck" margin with Reagan.

Exuberant John Connally immediately informed reporters that an upset might be in the making. Not only did he lose to Reagan by 10 percentage points the next day but Bush came within striking distance of Connally for a close third-place finish.

In a post-Florida meeting of his campaign organization, Connally demanded tighter discipline and control of his campaign staff. Agreement was reached that he should cool his own rhetoric on the theory that his tough guy image was adding another negative to the heavy burdens he now carries. "I'm getting an image of coming on tough," he told the governors here. "I'm not coming on tough. I'm only coming on candid."

That self-appraisal may be correct but it adds one more layer to the apprehension among anti-Reagan governors that Connally is not close to overtaking Reagan, leaving only long shot Bush.

Almost all of the many Republican governors in the political center — Pierre duPont of Delaware, William Milliken of Michigan, Robert Ray of Iowa, Richard Thornburgh of Pennsylvania and others — view a Reagan nomination as political chicken pox. But every one of them clings to the strict public neutrality they have followed since their session one year ago.

Now Thompson, who had allowed himself to be wooed by Connally, is seeing the handwriting on the wall. Thompson's decision to cool it with Big John Connally is the sharpest political sign yet that the governors are looking elsewhere if anybody is to stop Ronald Reagan.

Weekend rallies show support for hostages

By The Associated Press

Patriotic throngs crowded weekend rallies in California to show support for 49 Americans being held hostage in Tehran, and minor skirmishes marked smaller gatherings in Kansas City and Gainesville, Fla.

In Desert Hot Springs, Calif., about 125 persons carrying candles marched a half-mile through town Sunday night to convey their support for the hostages.

The march was organized by motel owner Hank Schmitz, who said he "got tired of watching the news reports on TV every night of thousands of Iranians throwing their fists into the air chanting anti-American slogans."

More than 1,000 persons waved miniature U.S. flags and sang patriotic songs at a "Freedom Rally" Saturday night in the ballroom of the Los Angeles Convention Center.

Louise Bagley drove 100 miles from San Diego to join the rally, and said, "I think we've heard enough of America hatred. It's time to stand up and be counted."

In Gainesville, Fla., two men were arrested after a brief scuffle between marchers with conflicting sentiments about the hostage situation.

About 40 supporters of the embassy takeover, members of the African People's Party, skirmished briefly Sunday with townspeople who support government efforts to free the hostages.

Some of the anti-Iranian participants were apparently members of a motorcycle club and some wore Ku Klux Klan T-shirts.

The melee began when a marcher lunged for an American flag carried by an American supporter. No serious injuries were reported, and police said the two men arrested were charged with assault and battery.

In Kansas City, Mo., a group of Iranian students prayed for peace with the congregation of a black church, but the service ended when one of the students demanded to be able to address the worshippers.

"We didn't come to pray — to pray just for peace, but a peace that has no discrimination, no inequality," a student said. "The reason we came here was to talk with the people."

After the service, one of the students objected to the Rev. William F. Darcy's prayer for a peaceful end to the confrontation between the United States and Iran.

He said his group wanted to talk to the congregation about the similarities between the Iranian struggle and the oppression of blacks in the United States.

Hansen describes hostage scene

By ALEX EFTY

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The hands of the 49 American hostages at the U.S. Embassy are "loosely tied with a strip of white cloth" and the captives are kept about three to a room, Rep. George Hansen reported.

"Some were sitting and reading. Some were lying on mats," the Idaho Republican said. They "don't get much sunshine and much opportunity to change their clothes," and one was recovering from chicken pox, he said.

Hansen said the hostages looked fairly well when he visited them Sunday, "but their mental state seems anxious. They would like to get out. They are anxious for their families to know they are well."

Hansen, a self-styled "do-it-yourself ambassador," was the first American to see the captives since Moslem militants seized the embassy Nov. 4 demanding the U.S. government extradite Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, who is being treated for cancer at a New York hospital.

The U.N. Security Council was expected to begin debate today on the crisis. Acting Foreign Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr planned to address the Council, but postponed his trip for a week because of a religious holiday and a constitutional referendum, a government spokesman said.

Hansen said when he entered the embassy and "I heard those gates clank behind me I thought this must be the last free-walking American official in Tehran being taken out of circulation."

He said the student captors "blindfolded me and took me around the compound a couple of times in a truck" before reaching the hostages.

"Some things will be with me for a long time — the crowd, the look on the hostages' faces when I walked in, and the horror the students told me they and their families had suffered under the shah."

Hansen talked with about 20 of the hostages, and when he walked back through the embassy gates on his way out, hundreds of demonstrators began chanting, "Yankee Go Home!" and waving their fists.

But within minutes the chants switched to "People Yes, Carter No," apparently in response to a signal, Hansen said.

He said he had a moment's apprehension when he first saw the crowd, "then I saw smiles and arms reached out to shake hands, and I decided this is a friendly crowd."

"I'm here because I am concerned about your cause, your people, your suffering and about the threat of war," Hansen told the embassy captors in a question-and-answer session shown on

Iranian television Sunday night. "I am here also because my countrymen are held hostages and I am concerned about their welfare and hopefully their release."

Saudi troops regain control of holy mosque, official says

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Saudi troops combed the Grand Mosque in Mecca today, seeking remnants of the band of Moslems who seized Islam's holiest shrine six days ago.

"The whole mosque is under our control," Oil Minister Ahmad Zaki Yamani told reporters in Riyadh after Saudi troops routed the armed men from the upper floor of the building Saturday evening. But he said "some gangs" were still at large in the tunnels and passageways beneath the stadium-size building and courtyard and that they held some hostages.

Officials said earlier that those captured would be dealt with severely. A Moslem leader said Friday that they were guilty of "spreading corruption on earth," and the penalty for this is dismemberment.

Saudi national guardsmen, acting on orders from King Khaled, used howitzers and rapid-firing armored personnel carriers to blast most of the invaders from the upper floor of the mosque, diplomatic sources said. They said witnesses reported the attack was led by two armored personnel carriers that circled the inner courtyard, firing into the ramparts of the building where the intruders were holed up.

Shyness key to depressed state

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Overcoming shyness may be the key to treating a form of mental depression, a study at the University of Pittsburgh says.

"It's not our purpose to make people aggressive or obnoxious," said psychologist Michael Hersen, one of three researchers reporting the work in the October issue of the American Journal of Psychiatry. Instead, the aim is to help patients stand up for themselves.

The target of the research is a disorder known as unipolar non-psychotic depression, the technical name for a common problem among people who have been discouraged since childhood from standing up for their rights.

Symptoms include loss of appetite, loss of sex drive, unexplained weight loss, low self-esteem and especially the inability to relate well with other people. Seven of 10 persons afflicted are women.

"The patient can't get normal satisfaction from his relationships with other people because of a lack of important social skills," Hersen said.

"When they turn up at the doctor's office, it's usually for treatment of insomnia, weight loss, or one of the other accompanying symptoms, not for the depression itself."

While many physicians try to treat the disorder with drugs, the Pittsburgh researchers says their work so far shows that the depression can be better treated by training patients to be assertive.

DEAR ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you go about putting a stop to exchanging Christmas gifts with people you hardly ever see? I don't mean relatives. I mean out-of-towners who used to be neighbors, and whose children were friendly with our children (all grown now), and folks we are no longer close to. Shopping, wrapping and mailing Christmas presents has gotten to be a real chore, and I am not as young as I used to be. I would just as soon get off a lot of people's lists and take them off mine, too! I'm sure they feel the same way about it, but don't know how to get off ours.

So how do I get off this merry-go-round, Abby? I would just as soon send Christmas cards to a couple of dozen people who are still on my Christmas gift list. Thanks from ... CHICAGO

DEAR CHICAGO: Early in December write a note to those you'd like to take off your gift list and put on the card list, saying you are "thankful" for friends with whom you can be perfectly frank. Explain that this year, along with trimming your Christmas tree, you're trimming your gift list and sending cards instead. I'm betting they'll appreciate your practical approach and will reciprocate accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a big-hearted husband who gets loaded at a party on Saturday night and invites everyone there to come to our house on Sunday for a Bloody Mary brunch? When I hear him say this, I feel I have to say, "Oh, yes, do come, we'd love to have you" — but what I would love to do is conk him on the head!

Most people have sense enough not to come, but some do. What's the solution? — NEWPORT

DEAR NEWPORT: Should you hear your husband issue such an invitation, good-humoredly let it be known that hubby is tipsy and there will be no party. And if somebody shows up, let HIM entertain them.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married three months and already I have a very serious problem. My husband told me he divorced his first wife of five years because she had affairs with other men. Now I can understand why, because even though he has many fine qualities, he has got to be the world's worst lover!

I have tried to build up his ego in this regard and put on a good act because I know how hurt he was when he found out about his first wife's unfaithfulness. But, Abby, this constant frustration is driving me up a wall!

I have considered seeing some old boyfriends. I really think it could save our marriage, because we get along

Children's rooms can double as play and sleeping rooms

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

In most apartments, the second and third bedrooms are small and don't lend themselves to a lot of furniture.

If a child's room is to double as both a play area and sleeping room, the selection of furniture is important.

Under the age of 8, most children need a minimum of furniture. Since even children's furniture has gotten more expensive, it is not wise to run out and buy a complete bedroom set for a young child.

Their tastes change as do yours and in a few years you'll be wondering what to do with an expensive bedroom set that the youngster feels he has outgrown.

Usually a good bed, small play table for entertaining friends and a chest of drawers that can be painted and repainted are a good start. Concentrate your efforts on making the room imaginative with exciting colors and easily changeable furnishings like bedspreads, posters and wood cutouts for the walls. Since space is at a premium, design items that can double for storage of toys, games and books.

The secret to getting young children to put their things away lies in making the storage area not only fun and interesting, but at a height that young ones can reach. The low chest of drawers that once held clothes for the young child can be repainted and used as a night table for him when he gets older.

If there is room on one wall, build some low shelves. Underneath, leave plenty of space for colorful plastic bins or wicker baskets. You'll probably find children more tidy if storage is made easy. The shelves can hold books and additional toys.

As the child grows older, more sophisticated items can be stored in the same bins while the shelves will still be useful for books, models and other hobby items.

Bunk beds are still fun for children and they make a lot of sense in an apartment. They provide extra storage and take up a minimum of space. As the child gets older, they can be separated and used against the wall or with a night table between them.

As children get older, they begin to entertain their friends in their room. Keeping this in mind, young people's rooms need to be versatile and able to grow and change to accommodate their new interests.

When decorating the room, take into consideration what activities will be taking place and the size of the people involved so that the room is both comfortable and functional for little ones.

Men want to be 'sensuous'

By NATALIE BEST
Copley News Service

NEW YORK — Is it time for trends or a trend of the times? The men in Western nations, especially the United States, are taking up the use of perfumes in ever-increasing numbers.

The daily bath is no longer enough and is being augmented by dabs and splashes of colognes and after-shave lotions. HE, too, wants to smell sweet and sensuous... and is willing to pay for it.

Sales of men's fragrances totaled $368 million last year and are expected to top $500 million in '80.

Today, over half of all males across the country wear colognes and over 70 percent use after-shaves. (Cologne is more concentrated than after-shave lotion.) In fact, the typical male has four to six fragrances in his toiletries cabinet. This goes along with the fashion trends, started in '79, calling for shorter collars, narrower ties and lapels, generally slimmer lines and shorter, better-groomed hair, mustaches and beards.

Men's cologne purchases are growing at the rate of 12 percent a year... 3 percent more than the women's fragrance field. That's quite a change from half a century ago when the only lotions most men would even consider wearing were witch hazel and bay rum.

What's behind the change in attitudes?

"American men today are more active, have more leisure time and are more concerned with making a personal statement about themselves," says David Knight, marketing manager for Denim, a new line of men's fragrances and toiletries now being introduced in the United States by a division of Lever Bros., following a test marketing in Denver, Colo.

"With changing social attitudes, including women's equal rights, men have come to view and use fragrances as a growing means of self-expression and identification," according to Knight, a suave Britisher who already has introduced Denim successfully to most of Western Europe.

"Men, like women, are beginning to build fragrance wardrobes to fit their moods and the time of day."

Who is buying the new perfumes for men?

The largest group of consumers for men's fragrances is men 18 to 34, middle income, living in major cities.

The second-largest buying group is women who buy the gift of scent for the men either to express intimate personal feelings or to be mod. Many women look upon all fragrances, including the so-called men's fragrances, as uni-sex and a small percentage actually buys for personal use.

Denim, named for the fabric of the same name that has become a household word, is called the fashionwise odor and recommended for daily wear starting in the morning with status jeans or a three-piece suit. The fragrance is a blend of woody leather with a spray of citrus topped with a note of mossy musk background.

"Men's perfume may be trendy now," says Knight, "but if the market growth rate continues more men than women will be wearing fragrances by 1985."

Black groups assail Brazil's census plans

BY EDUARDO GALLARDO
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The Brazilian government, which officially prides itself on good race relations, is under fire of black organizations over the manner in which it intends to determine the nation's racial makeup in the national census scheduled for next year.

The organizations accuse the government of trying to cover up the true racial composition of the population, in order to continue presenting Brazil "as a white country." And they say this is "a form of racism." The government denies it.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in 30 years the question of color will be included in a census. But only about 25 percent of the population will be asked, and their answers will be taken as a representative sample. Brazil takes a census every 10 years.

The Brazilian Institute of Geography and Statistics, which takes the census, says that this system was chosen for "technical and financial reasons." But black organizations, which have started a campaign to have the question included in the questionnaires of all Brazilians, doesn't accept this explanation.

"They don't ask everybody the question because they know that the majority of the country is black or of black ethnic origin," says Isaura de Assis, a teacher of black dance and one of the leaders of the movement to reveal the true racial composition of Brazil's population.

"THEY DON'T WANT to characterize Brazil as a 'black' country or as having a black majority, because they know that the whole world realizes that here blacks are the poorest and most underprivileged elements of society, in spite of being in the majority. You could compare us to South Africa."

The last time the census included the race question was in 1950. At that time, of a population of 51.9 million inhabitants, 5.6 million were registered as black, while 32.02 million were considered white, 329,000 yellow and 13.7 million "colored" or of mixed race. Thus the proportion of the total population that was considered of "black ethnic origin" came to around 35 percent.

"In truth, it's over 60 percent," says Isaura de Assis.

The 1980 census is expected to show Brazil with a population of close to 120 million.

THE OFFICIAL REASON for omitting the race question from the census for three decades was that "the national conscience rejects all forms of racial discrimination."

"False," contends Isaura de Assis. "Look, they eliminated the race question because of black people, not whites. The idea was that they were doing the black a favor by not forcing him to admit it was black. Nobody thought it was a question of not making whites admit they were white... That's what racism is."

This year, the fourth of the population that will be asked about race will have the same four choices: white, black, yellow or colored.

THE CENSUS INSTITUTE said it decided on this system because in an earlier census, when it tried to eliminate arbitrary color categories from the questionnaire, census takers received 139 different responses — some of them highly original, such as: "dark white," "really white," "dirty white," "kind of light," "kind of dark," "tending toward white," "sunburned." And others like "orange," "navy blue" and "purple."

Isaura de Assis says these answers "are not ridiculous. They just show the lengths many people will go to in order to not call themselves black or of black origin. And this is due to the inferior social and economic role that, in general, is reserved for blacks in society."

Orlando Fernandez, president of the Institute of Black Studies and another leader of the campaign, supports this argument. "In carving up the economic or social pie, the blacks and coloreds get the crumbs," he said in an essay.

"THE VAST MAJORITY of the illiterates, of those groups with low income, poor schooling and unsanitary housing conditions, are black."

Carlos Negreiros, a composer who participates in the campaign for "the racial enlightening of the country, above racial ideology," said the campaign begins with a mobilization of interested organizations, especially blacks, and ultimately can turn into a popular street movement.

The organizers of the campaign are in contact with the census institute but, according to Negreiros, there is not much optimism for its success, even though they have support among many racial groups and various non-black institutions.

Campaign organizers recognize that one big problem is the lack of interest and ability to mobilize the great majority of blacks in the country.

"Society has made blacks lose even their self-esteem; the appreciation of their own values," said Negreiros.

Red Cross hospital cutting death rate among refugees in Thailand

ATLANTA (AP) — Deaths among Cambodian refugees in northern Thailand have been reduced considerably since the Red Cross established a hospital there, the national Center for Disease Control reports.

The CDC said that deaths were averaging about 30 a day when the estimated 31,000 refugees from Cambodia were gathered at a camp in northern Thailand late in October. But now deaths are averaging about eight a day, mostly caused by malaria and malnutrition, the CDC said.

The CDC said the Red Cross hospital cares for more than 1,000 patients a day at the camp near Sakaeo, about 200 miles southeast of Bangkok and only about 50 miles below the Cambodian border.

Doctors report that the hospital allows them to monitor causes of admissions and to check possible outbreaks of disease.

Malaria, malnutrition and upper respiratory infections were given as the three main reasons for hospital admissions.

The CDC said there were no outbreaks of diarrhea, typhoid, cholera, diphtheria or measles.

Besides the field hospital, which was established by the International Committee of the Red Cross, the Thai Red Cross has set up an outpatient clinic which is caring for more than 3,000 persons a day, the CDC said.

A census gives the age of most refugees as between 10 and 34, with only a few children under 5. Forty babies have been born in the camp, the CDC said.

Live Without a Queen

By Alfred Sheinwold

Today's advice, not directed to Britain's Prince Charles, is offered to all readers: Think of getting along without a queen.

South took the ace of spades and led the ace of hearts. When the queen fell, South drew trumps and tried the club finesse. He lost a club, two spades and a diamond.

South was done in by his queen. If he held a low club instead of the queen he would make his contract.

SWITCH

After taking the ace of spades and the ace of hearts, South should switch to the ace and his other club. Regardless of the defense, South can get to dummy with a trump and the ace of diamonds to ruff low clubs and then with the jack of trumps to cash dummy's last club.

Since this plan will work whenever the six missing clubs break 3-3 or 4-2, the odds are better than 5 to 1 in South's favor. The club finesse gives South only an even chance.

ANSWER: Bid three notrump. Partner's raise promises 16 or 17 points, and you have only 8 high-card points, but you should count something extra for the queen of partner's bid suit and for your tens, nines and eights.

Coins stay in thigh

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — When Giancarlo Hazoni had his left thigh broken in a 1974 auto accident, the bone healed but he was left with a limp.

When the same thigh was broken again recently, surgeons found three coins imbedded in the flesh of his thigh.

The impact of the first accident had forced the coins through his trouser pocket and pressed them so deeply into the open wound they were hidden from sight when the bone was set.

Anti-nuclear protesters feel 'betrayed' by arrests

GLEN ROSE, Texas (AP) — Members of an anti-nuclear coalition said they felt "betrayed" after deputies arrested nearly 100 of them for protesting at a nuclear power plant construction site.

It was the second demonstration against the Comanche Peak power station, about four miles from this North Central Texas city. But in June, 48 members of the Comanche Peak Life Force were allowed to climb the plant's fence, make speeches and sing anti-nuclear songs before deputies hustled them away on criminal trespass charges.

Sunday, as soon as their feet touched the ground inside the fence, deputies and Department of Public Safety troopers put the protesters on buses and hauled them to the sheriff's office for fingerprinting, booking and new trespass charges.

"We feel betrayed," said protest leader Jim Schermbeck of Fort Worth. Sheriff Frank Laramore told reporters he had not talked to the demonstrators before Sunday's gathering and had made no arrangements "like last time."

The booking process Sunday took more than five hours when 25 of the protesters refused to leave their bus.

"We will stay on the bus until we work out a compromise to our satisfaction," Schermbeck said during the delay, which saw deputies carry one protester off the bus by his hands and feet.

The others left voluntarily after it was made clear they would not have to spend the night in jail.

A small group of construction workers from the plant site, wearing their hard hats, watched the booking process and chatted amiably with some of the protesters.

"They have their right to protest," said worker Terry Bateman, "and we have our right to protest. That's why we wore our hard hats today."

The 48 arrested last June were brought to trial en masse during the summer, but jurors deadlocked 4-2 and authorities then began trying them individually.

Mavis Belisle was the first to be brought to trial on the June charges. She was part of Sunday's gathering, too.

"I feel like it will increase my chance of conviction," she said as she was being fingerprinted Sunday. Her trial was in the hands of a Somervell County jury today.

Seabrook just 20 percent complete

By ANDREW SCHNEIDER

SEABROOK, N.H. (AP) — Electricity from the Seabrook nuclear power plant was to have started flowing into New England homes this week, but its owners say it will be at least three more years before the first light bulb glows with atomic power from New Hampshire.

The controversial plant — the target of thousands of anti-nuclear demonstrators and the focus of hundreds of federal hearings and court cases — is today only 20 percent complete despite the constant efforts of its builder, the Public Service Co. of New Hampshire.

Now, the first watt of electricity is not expected to flow from either 1,150-megawatt reactor until April, 1983. The delays have cost the company millions of dollars and at times have threatened completion of the plant.

The $1 billion price tag placed on the plant when ground was broken in 1976 has leaped to $2.6 billion and Public Service officials caution that additional delays on the second unit could boost the cost to more than $3 billion.

"It's not poor planning on our part that's caused the delays and the increase in cost," said company spokesman Gordon McKenney. "It's the system that we must abide by."

Because of licensing delays, construction started two years later than initially scheduled. Work was halted twice by regulatory appeals and twice, briefly, by union trouble.

"We had initially scheduled to have Unit One operational this week, but that date was selected in 1972 long before we had any idea of the regulatory mire we'd have to face," McKenney says.

Every facet of the plant's design had to be approved by an alphabet soup of regulatory agencies including the Atomic Energy Commission, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board and the Environmental Protection Agency.

Today, more than 4,100 men and women working in hundreds of specific construction skills toil on, above and under the 140-acre construction site.

Thirty stories above the ground, iron and steel workers forge the metal skeleton which will become the containment building for the reactors. More than 260 feet into bedrock granite beneath the plant is the subterranean world of the tunnel workers. Around the clock, hundreds of miners are cutting two parallel cooling tunnels three miles into the Atlantic.

The need for precise engineering can be seen in the construction of the cooling tunnels — a system which will supply an estimated 850,000 gallons of seawater a minute to cool the plant's giant reactors.

The twin tunnels, each 22-feet in diameter, will run more than three miles under Seabrook salt marsh, beneath Hampton harbor and out into the Atlantic where they must link up with 14 vertical intake and discharge shafts which are already being built.

Congress begins final 1979 push

WASHINGTON (AP) — Back from the Thanksgiving holidays, Congress begins a final push this week to try to finish the year's business by Christmas.

"Must" legislation leaders hope to finish work on includes two energy bills, guarantees to keep the Chrysler Corp. afloat, and a bill to aid cities with high unemployment.

As usual, the end-of-session hang-up will be an energy bill, this time legislation to impose a "windfall profits" tax on the oil industry.

Senate Democratic Leader Robert Byrd says he expects Congress to be in session until Dec. 21. But that depends on whether House-Senate conferees can work out a final "windfall profits" tax bill that soon.

The House has approved its version and the Senate will be working on its version this week and probably next. The House bill, going even further than President Carter asked, would take $277 billion in taxes off the $452 billion in profits the oil industry is expected to get from price decontrol.

Carter is phasing out the federal controls on oil prices to let them rise an estimated $1.1 trillion by 1990 as an incentive for U.S. oil companies to find and produce more fuel.

But Carter wants $255 billion of the anticipated profits from the price rise to be taken back with the tax, which would actually be levied against revenue rather than expected profits.

The bill before the Senate would take $138 billion in taxes, according to the oil industry's contention that higher profits will assure faster development of newly found oil.

The second energy bill is an emergency conservation bill including new incentives for renters and homeowners to insulate their dwellings.

Another bill on the "must" list would guarantee $1.5 billion in loans to Chrysler to keep it in business. The fourth bill on the list would provide aid to create public service jobs in cities with high unemployment.

But the House will not be working on any of those bills this week.

The biggest scheduled action is a return match for a bill that would make Jan. 15, the birthday of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., a federal holiday.

The bill got 252 House votes for and 133 against two weeks ago — four votes short of the two-thirds needed under a special procedure intended to speed approval.

This week the bill is to be considered under normal rules with only a simple majority needed for approval.

Most opponents argued that making the slain civil rights leader's birthday a holiday would be too expensive for the government. The measure, they said, would cost $27 million in overtime pay for federal workers.

Recovery claim made

MONTREAL (AP) — Venezuela's government oil company estimates its reserves of heavy oil at 500 billion barrels and claims it can be recovered and converted into high-quality crude at much less than current world market prices.

Petroleos de Venezuela said in a paper to be presented at a United Nations energy conference opening today that results of drilling in the Orinoco River oil belt indicate that "something of the order of 500 million barrels" could be recovered economically.

Joseph Barnes, a U.N. energy adviser and the scientific secretary of the conference, said he believed it was the first estimate of recoverable oil in the Orinoco belt. But he said he expected the Venezuelans would not rush into production because of the enormous cost and because they would not want to undermine current oil prices.

Venezuela is a member of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

The Venezuelan report gave no estimate of the initial bit capital outlay required to bring the Orinoco belt into production. But it said the cost of extracting the heavy oil would be between $2 and $5 a barrel, and it would cost $3 to $5 a barrel to convert it to light crude, or a total cost of $5 to $13 a barrel. At current world prices, oil sold under long-term contract costs $19 to $23 a barrel, and on the spot market it sometimes runs double that.

"The Orinoco oil belt is probably the largest essentially untapped oil accumulation in the world," the Venezuelan paper said.

Another paper prepared for the meeting by the Rand Corp. estimates the world's proved and probable reserves of recoverable liquid oil at 676 billion barrels, with North America and the Soviet Union accounting for about half of the total.

The Venezuelan oil, heavier than conventional light crude oil, is a sticky substance that does not flow easily. Jets of hot steam must be blown into the deposits before the oil can be extracted.

The conference, organized by the U.N. Institute on Training and Research, runs for two weeks and is being attended by scientists from 100 countries.

Secretary's mission: Keep foreign petroleum flowing

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates (AP) — U.S. Treasury Secretary G. William Miller hopes to convince officials of three Middle East countries not to cut back on oil production.

His arrival here today marked the second stop on a tour designed to encourage moderate members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to maintain high production levels.

Miller failed earlier to win an outright commitment from Saudi Arabian officials in response to a U.S. request that the Saudis maintain peak oil production at 9.5 million barrels a day.

American officials are hopeful such a commitment will be announced very soon, however. The United States receives about 24 percent of its total oil imports from Saudi Arabia.

In Abu Dhabi, the major oil producer and most powerful of seven members of the United Arab Emirates, Miller will try to talk officials out of plans to trim their oil output next year to about 1.3 million barrels a day, down from the current level of 1.5 million barrels.

Miller will continue Tuesday to Kuwait, the third and final stop on his Middle East tour.

Miller's message is the same in all three countries: A slowdown in production now could create oil shortages that would send prices skyrocketing again and bring on a worldwide economic recession.

Miller was greeted at the Abu Dhabi airport by the nation's finance minister, Sheikh Hamdan Bin Rashid Al-Maktum. He will meet later today with the president of the United Arab Emirates, Zayid Bin Sultan Al Nahayyan.

The United Arab Emirates, which extend along the Persian Gulf on the eastern shore of the Saudi Arabian peninsula, have a total population of about 760,000.

Earlier, Saudi Finance Minister Muhammad Al-Balkhali indicated his government doesn't plan to cut oil production in the immediate future. He said no decision has been made on next year's output, but added he saw no reason to reduce production.

Miller made his appeal for continued high output at a meeting with the Al-Balkhali and Oil Minister Ahmad Zaki Yamani.

While Saudi officials are expected to maintain current production levels through the end of this year, they are known to be divided on whether to extend those levels into 1980.

The Saudis raised their output from 8.5 million barrels to 9.5 million barrels a day last summer at the request of President Carter. The increase was sought to offset a reduction in Iranian oil output after the revolution that overthrew Shah Mohammad Reza

Pahlavi. Miller also asked the Saudis help hold the next OPEC price increase to a minimum. He said the Saudis were studying his requests, and "I think we must all await their decision."

OPEC is to meet in Caracas, Venezuela, on Dec. 17 and decide how much to raise the current $23.50-a-barrel ceiling on its base price for crude oil.

That ceiling already has been broken by a number of the members, and experts predict a hike of $2 to $4 a barrel.

Saudi Arabia, which has billions of dollars invested in the United States, has tried to protect the value of those holdings by keeping down the price of oil it sells to American companies.

But Miller said some Saudi officials want to raise their price of $18 a barrel to the current OPEC ceiling because, they say, U.S. companies are buying Saudi oil and reselling it at the higher OPEC ceiling price. The Saudis say the practice costs them $100 million daily in lost revenue.

Miller also said the Saudis told him the United States must increase its taxes on oil industry profits or face higher oil prices.

Discovery, explorers reported in WT areas

Wilson Brothers Leasing Co. of Midland has completed a Queen sand gas discovery in Pecos County, 12 miles west of Iraan.

The strike, No. 1-20 Wilson Ranch, was finalized for a calculated absolute open flow potential of 2,250,000 cubic feet of gas per day, natural.

Completion was from open hole at 1,598 feet, where 5.5-inch casing is set, and total depth of 1,621 feet.

The Yates was topped at 1,090 feet, the Seven Rivers at 1,218 feet and the Queen at 1,440 feet. Ground elevation is 2,705-1.

The well is 217 feet from south and 1,235 feet from west lines of section 20, block Z, TCRR survey and in the Willie B. (San Andres gas) area. It is 1/2 mile southeast of production in that field.

STERLING WILDCAT
Petroleum Exploration & Development Funds, Inc., of Midland staked a 7,800-foot wildcat in Sterling County, 15 miles northwest of Sterling City.

It will test for production in the Credo (Wolfcamp) field pay and in the Credo (Wolfcamp lower B) pay.

Other zones will be tested as a wildcat.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block 30, W&NW survey. It is 1/2 mile east of the Credo (Wolfcamp) pool which produces at 7,334 feet, and one location northwest of the Wolfcamp lower B pay which produces at 7,430 feet.

ANDREWS EXPLORER
Britton Management Corp. of Midland No. 2-5 Fasken is to be dug as a 5,200-foot wildcat in Andrews County, 13 miles southeast of Andrews.

The prospector is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 5, block 41, T-2-N, G&MMB&A survey. The site is one and one-eighth mile southwest of a 5,100-foot dry hole and three miles northwest of the Lowe (Atoka) pool which produces at 11,257 feet.

Field work announced

Getty Oil Co. of Odessa will re-enter the No. 2-K University, former Triple N (Silurian) producer, for completion attempt in the Clabberhill and Emma (Strawn) fields of Andrews County, 11 miles south of Andrews.

Originally drilled to 12,568 feet, it will be plugged back to 9,500 feet for Strawn tests and 5,700 feet for Clabberhill tests.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 28, block 9, University Lands survey.

HOWARD TEST
McCann Corp. of Big Spring will drill No. 5-A Read as a 9,100-foot Fusselman test three-eighths mile northeast of the Coahoma, North field of Howard County.

The site is 1,965 feet from south and 1,937 feet from east lines of section 40, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey, three miles northeast of Coahoma.

MIDLAND PROJECT
Texaco Inc. of Midland spotted location for an 11,500-foot project five-eighths mile west and slightly north of the same firm's No. 1-AB Midland Fee, discovery well of the Bradford Ranch (Atoka) field of Midland County.

The No. 1 Zula B. Wylie is 933 feet from south and east lines of section 11, block 39, T-3-S, T&P survey, 11 miles south of Midland.

GLASSCOCK FINALS
Champlin Petroleum Co. of Midland filed potential test on No. 1

J.E. Watson, five-eighths mile north of production in the Conger, Southwest (Pennsylvanian) field of Glasscock County, 18 miles southeast of Garden City.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 10 barrels of 44.3-gravity oil and no water, through a 24/64-inch choke and perforations between 8,090 and 8,332 feet.

The pay was acidized with 4,500 gallons and fractured with 128,000 gallons. Gas-liquid ratio is 59,300-1. Total depth is 8,623 feet, where 5.5-inch casing is set, and plugged back depth is 8,552 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 3, EL&RR survey.

The same firm completed the No. 2 I.W. Terry, three-quarters mile east of the No. 1 Terry, Ciscro oil discovery in the Sterling County portion of the Conger, Southwest (Pennsylvanian) field, 20 miles southwest of Sterling City.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing gauge of 48 barrels of 44.2-gravity oil and no water, through a 24/64-inch choke and perforations from 8,043 to 8,381 feet.

The producing zone was acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 20,000 gallons. Total depth is 8,450 feet where 4.5-inch casing is landed. Plugged back depth is 8,397 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and 7,500 feet from west lines of section 1, GC&SF survey.

Basin areas get wildcats

Texaco Inc. announced plans to re-enter a well in the Block 5 (Devonian) field of Andrews County and plug back to 11,900 feet for tests as a wildcat.

The project, No. 1-AB State of Texas, is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 22, block 5, University Lands survey and 15 miles northeast of Andrews. The old total depth is 12,667 feet.

It is 3/8 mile southwest of depleted Ellenburger production and two and five-eighths miles southwest of dual Devonian and Mississippian production in the Magutex field.

FISHER TRY
Bridwell Oil Co. of Abilene No. 2 H. C. McClesky is a 3,800-foot wildcat 4.5 miles northeast of Rotan in Fisher County.

The site is 330 feet from north and 1,300 feet from east lines of section 182, block 2, H&TC survey and one location northeast of the Hunsaker (Strawn oil) pool. It is surrounded by deep failures.

Department of Energy awards three contracts

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. — The Department of Energy has awarded contracts to two universities and one to private industry in an attempt to improve enhanced oil and gas recovery and to analyze massive hydraulic fracturing tests.

An $85,000 contract has been awarded to the Colorado School of Mines in Golden to develop improved laboratory techniques for analyzing oil and gas formation cores.

James B. Jennings, electrical engineer at DOE's Bartlesville Energy Technology Center and technical project officer, says the work is expected to improve dielectric constant log analysis procedures used in enhanced oil and gas recovery activities.

The project consists of three tasks. The first is to use existing dielectric constant laboratory instruments to analyze oil and gas formation core samples. This experience will then be used to develop an improved system which will have greater flexibility, bandwidth, and ease of operation.

The third task will be a series of demonstration tests of the complete system. George V. Keller is the contractor's principal investigator for the development of EOR technology, currently is funding or co-funding with industry, universities, and other government agencies about 23 EOR field demonstration projects and several laboratory research projects at universities, national laboratories, and other DOE energy technology centers.

Intercomp Resource Development & Engineering, Inc., Denver, has been awarded a $188,760 Department of Energy contract to analyze results from massive hydraulic fracturing tests conducted through DOE's Western Gas Sands Project (WGSP).

The research program is a comprehensive DOE effort to develop new and improved methods for recovering natural gas from "tight" reservoirs scattered throughout many states west of the Mississippi River. These reservoirs contain large amounts of gas that cannot be recovered economically at present prices.

The Bartlesville Energy Technology Center, DOE's lead facility for

State to get tough

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The State Department of Energy, citing the possibility of an impending oil shortage, says it's going to get tough and start enforcing minimum gas sale guidelines that have been on the books since last summer's gasoline crunch.

Energy Commissioner Joel Jacobson says he is stepping up enforcement to avoid re-implementing odd-even gas sales plans.

"Up until now, this department has not been heavy-handed in enforcing any regulations," Jacobson said in a recent interview.

Steelers top Browns in overtime, 33-30

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The nation got its chance to watch Texas' two teams whoop it up in the National Football League last Thursday. Today, Pennsylvania has more reasons to cheer. It has twice as many winners.

The Houston Oilers defeated the Dallas Cowboys 30-24 on Thanksgiving Day. On Sunday, the Pittsburgh Steelers edged Cleveland 33-30 in overtime and the Philadelphia Eagles defeated Green Bay 21-10.

As a result: —The Eagles own first place outright in the National Conference's East Division with a 9-4 record while the Cowboys, at 8-5, share second place with Washington, a 14-6 loser to the New York Giants on Sunday, and.

—The Steelers share first place in the American Conference's Central Division with the Oilers, each at 10-3, while the Browns are second, two games back at 8-5.

In Sunday's other games, Minnesota shaded Tampa Bay 23-22. Buffalo nipped New England 16-13 in overtime. Miami beat Baltimore 28-24. New Orleans ripped Atlanta 37-6. Los Angeles trimmed San Francisco 26-20. San Diego defeated Kansas City 28-7. Oakland downed Denver 14-10 and Cincinnati outlasted St. Louis 34-28.

Tonight, the New York Jets visit Seattle.

"This was a very, very pressure-packed game where we showed we could come from behind against a good team," defensive tackle Joe

Greene said after the Steelers scored 10 points in the final 4½ minutes of regulation play, then beat the Browns on Matt Bahr's fourth field goal of the game, a 37-yarder with nine seconds to go in overtime.

Midland girls try Monterey

The Midland High girls basketball team hopes that playing in the confines of the Chaparral Center will change their luck against Lubbock Monterey.

MHS faces Monterey today at 8 p.m. in the Chap Center and they are hoping that they can get a little revenge. The Bulldogs lost a 75-50 decision to Monterey in Lubbock last week, and that is the only blemish on MHS' 3-1 record this year. The two junior varsities will square off at 6 p.m.

Midland has a victory since that meeting with Monterey. They defeated El Paso Bel Air Friday in their home debut. Midland will travel to Amarillo Friday for a two-day tournament along with the Midland Lee girls, who are also 3-1 to date.

Lee, however, will stop in Lubbock Thursday for 8 and 8 p.m. matches with Lubbock Coronado. The JV game is at 6 p.m.

Franco Harris' third touchdown of the game, on a 3-yard run, cut Cleveland's lead to three points and Bahr tied it 24 seconds from the end of the fourth quarter with a 21-yard field goal.

Terry Bradshaw, who completed 30 of 44 passes for 364 yards — all career highs — against Cleveland, scrambled 28 yards from his own 34 on a third-and-10 play to set up Bahr's game-winner. "They had a man-to-man coverage on and the only guy unaccounted for is the quarterback," Bradshaw said of his key run.

Then, just before the big kick, Bradshaw mentioned something to Bahr. "We try not to put any pressure on him. We just said, 'Miss it and you're cut,'" he laughed.

Eagles 21, Packers 10
While Franco Harris was rushing for 151 yards for Pittsburgh, Leroy Harris was amassing 137 for Philadelphia, 80 of them on a fourth-period jaunt that preceded the Eagles' clinching TD, Ron Jaworski's third scoring pass and second to Harold Carmichael.

"Leroy has feet that go 100 miles an hour and a body that only goes 30, but that was the big play," joked Jaworski.

Dick Vermeil, the Eagles' coach, could afford to smile — for the moment. "It only counts at the end, but it's a great feeling to be No. 1," he said.

Giants 14, Redskins 6
Washington is tied with Dallas rather than Philadelphia because it couldn't stop Billy Taylor, who rushed for 126 yards, 74 of them in a one-man drive capped by his 1-yard dive for the clinching touchdown in the fourth period.

"Now we have to hope the Giants keep the momentum going and kick the heck out of the guys with the stars on the helmets," said Joe Theismann, the Redskins' quarterback, reflecting on the Giants' visit to Dallas next Sunday.

Vikings 23, Bucs 22
Tampa Bay, a winless team in 1976, had an opportunity to win the first division title of the 1979 season thanks to Chicago's 20-0 loss to Detroit last Thursday.

But Minnesota, whose best weapon may be the blocked kick, employed that tactic to perfection and kept the Bucs from wrapping up the NFC Central crown. The Vikings got their paws on two extra points, a field goal attempt and a punt while Tommy Kramer passed for three TDs and Rick Danmeier kicked three extra points and a field goal.

"We happen to have the best people at blocking kicks," said Coach Bud Grant. "It's a contagious thing. If you believe you can block kicks, you will block a lot of kicks."

The biggest block was by Wally Hilgenberg. It kept the game from going into overtime, coming after Bucs quarterback Doug Williams had scrambled 13 yards for a TD with 19 seconds to play.

Bills 16, Patriots 13
Buffalo's Joe Ferguson hit Lou Piccone with an 11-yard touchdown pass just 11 seconds from the end of the fourth period to force overtime, then hooked up with Jerry Butler on a 51-yard pass to set up Nick Mike-Mayer's game-winning 29-yard field goal at 9:15 of overtime against the Patriots.

The loss dropped New England back into a first-place tie with the Dolphins, each team at 8-5 in the AFC East, one game ahead of the Bills.

Dolphins 28, Colts 24
A week ago, Miami Coach Don Shula relegated Bob Griese to bench-warming duties, handing the starting quarterback job to Don Strock. But when Strock was knocked silly by the Baltimore defense, Griese regained his touch with two TD passes against the Colts.

"I've got to hand it to Griese," Shula said. "After all that happened to him this week, being asked to go in and win... and doing it."

"I told Don when he made the decision, 'I'll do whatever I can to be ready; things can happen,'" Griese said.

Notre Dame takes 40-15 victory over Hurricanes

TOKYO (AP) — Notre Dame did everything but pass as it trounced Miami, Fla. 40-15 Sunday on a rain-soaked gridiron thousands of miles from home before 80,000 enthusiastic — if not always comprehending — Japanese spectators.

The Fighting Irish ground out 229 yards rushing — 177 by running back Vagas Ferguson, who scored three touchdowns. They intercepted three passes — with Dave Waymer scoring on two steals — they blocked a punt, and kept Miami from moving on the ground.

The Irish actually did try eight passes. Six failed and one was intercepted. Quarterback Mike Courye, who started in place of Rusty Lisch, looked better running, going 26 yards in Notre Dame's first two plays from scrimmage.

But it was a break that got the Irish started. Forced to punt at Miami's 43, they ended up with a first down on the 28 because of a roughing-the-kicker penalty. Ferguson ran those 28 yards in five carries, going over finally from the two.

Notre Dame was leading 15-0 43 seconds later on the first of Waymer's interceptions. He ran back six yards with a Miami screen pass Jim Kelly had aimed at Jim Joiner.

"From the films, I recognized the quick screen," Waymer said later. "When I saw Joiner take a step off, I just automatically looked for the ball. I thought the quarterback saw me. I didn't know if he would throw. I was lucky to hang on to it."

Miami got up momentum toward the end of the first quarter. Aided by passes of 30 and 17 yards by Kelly, and a 10-yarder by Mike Rodrigue after Kelly was hurt on a running play, the Hurricanes marched 67 yards, scoring on Gary Breckner's 1-yard plunge.

Fiesta Bowl gets Arizona

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Barring an Auburn upset of undefeated Alabama, the Fiesta Bowl on Christmas Day will match Pittsburgh against Arizona.

And if that football match does come to pass, the Wildcats can thank a freshman field goal kicker — Brett Weber — who wasn't even listed on the printed roster for their 53rd meeting with Arizona State on Saturday night.

Weber, who kicks barefoot and soccer-style, made good on a second-chance field goal with no time remaining for a 27-24 Arizona victory. Until Saturday, he'd never kicked in a varsity game.

He connected on a 27-yarder after just-missing a 37-yard try with five seconds to go. Arizona State was charged with roughing the kicker on the first one.

The victory left Coach Tony Mason's Wildcats with a record of 6-4-1, including a 4-3 mark in the Pac-10. Fiesta Bowl officials were quick to extend a conditional offer and Arizona officials were even quicker to accept Sunday.

Stewart wins race

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chris Stewart of England won a five-kilometer race Sunday in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, timed in 14 minutes, 26 seconds.

The women's winner was Phyllis Olrich of Palo Alto, Calif., in 17:24. The event was the Sprite Challenge Race.

Arkansas fools SWC experts

By The Associated Press

A team without stars and flash, the Arkansas Razorbacks fooled the experts and maybe some of their own fans to earn at least a Southwest Conference co-championship and a berth in either the Cotton Bowl or Sugar Bowl.

"I thought we had to prove something to a lot of people," said senior quarterback Kevin Scanlon. "We have a lot of guys with a lot of heart. Now we have a chance to finish in the top five."

The Razorbacks could very well be playing No. 1 ranked Alabama in the Sugar Bowl if the Texas Aggies upset the Texas Longhorns Saturday in College Station.

The Razorbacks clinched the SWC co-championship Saturday night with a 31-7 victory over Southern Methodist. They were picked for a second division finish back in August when the SWC press tour made its rounds.

"It was great to win a championship, especially in a year the league is considered tougher than it's ever been," said Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz.

Arkansas will play either Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl or Alabama depending on the outcome of the A&M-Texas and Houston-Rice games this Saturday.

If both Texas and Houston win, Arkansas will go to the Cotton Bowl, Texas to the Sugar Bowl and Houston to the Sun Bowl. The same thing happens if both teams lose.

If Texas loses, Houston will go to the Cotton Bowl, Arkansas will go to the Sugar Bowl, and Texas will go to the Sun Bowl.

"We have our share of the title," said Holtz. "Someone else may share it with us. When something is that good, maybe it ought to be shared."

The Longhorns will be hurting going into the traditional meeting with the Aggies.

Texas lost two members of its starting backfield Saturday. Freshman Rodney Tate suffered a shoulder separation and A.J. "Jam" Jones will be lost for the season with a knee injury.

The Cotton Bowl landed Nebraska as the guest team as the Big Eight runnerup.

"We're fortunate to have them," said Field Scovell of the Cotton Bowl committee. "They are a great team."

Lewisville sends Cooper to sidelines with 13-10 defeat

By ALAN SAYRE
Associated Press Writer

Nearly unranked and almost-ignored Lewisville pulled the upset of the year in Texas schoolboy football Friday night with a 13-10 comeback victory over Abilene Cooper — the No. 1 Class 4A squad for 10 straight weeks.

RUNNING BACK Freddie Wells scored the winning tally with less than two minutes left as the 10th-ranked Farmers sent the stunned Cougars home after just the first week of the school-boy playoffs.

"We've beaten America's team," Dallas Wortlin, a jubilant Lewisville running back, said. "Now we're America's team."

In other Class 4A bi-district action, quarterback Mike Miller's fourth-quarter, 1-yard touchdown run and Kevin Gardner's 27-yard insurance field goal led a late Plano comeback to disappoint Lufkin, 25-21.

Todd Debatto crossed the goal line from 1 yard out with 3:59 remaining to give Houston Kashmere a 19-13 victory over arch-rival Houston Yates, Kashmere's third straight bi-district win over Yates.

DALLAS WHITE scored twice in the last period to trim Dallas Madison, 13-10; Trinity nudged Corsicana, 14-13; Baytown Lee battled to a 12-7 win over West Orange Stark; and La Porte stomped Texas City, 42-10.

AUSTIN REAGAN tripped Lamar Consolidated, 24-7; Alice sneaked by McAllen, 41-35; San Antonio Jay blanked Converse-Judson, 28-0; and San Antonio Wheatley outlasted San Antonio Lee, 16-14.

El Paso Coronado edged El Paso Bel Air, 13-6; Lubbock Monterey downed Amarillo, 23-7; Temple trounced Spring Klein, 38-7; and Houston Memorial whitewashed Houston Lee, 21-0.

Louis Landry blitzed for three crucial second-half touchdowns as Beaumont Hebert — the cream of the crop in Class 3A — came back to beat second-ranked Huntsville, 27-14.

Tailback Tommy Hargraves scored from 2 yards out on McKinney's first possession of the game and the Lions held on to blank Fort Worth North Side, 7-0.

IN OTHER 3A playoff contests, San Angelo Lake View edged Burk Burnett, 9-6; Brownwood outlasted Austin Westlake, 10-6; Bay City shut out San Antonio Madison, 17-0; Gregory-Portland downed Falfurrias, 26-9; Lubbock Estacado blanked Odessa Ector, 7-0; and Mount Pleasant beat Carthage, 24-7.

In Class 2A, quarterback Rock King accounted for five touchdowns as Wylie outgunned Cedar Hill, 55-7.

In other 2A games, top-ranked Childress beat Dalhart, 19-7; Muleshoe stopped Idalou, 27-13; Stamford edged Slaton, 30-22; Fabens blanked Kermit, 21-0; Breckenridge outgunned Decatur, 36-14; and Van whitewashed Quinlan, 24-0.

EDNA NARROWLY beat La Grange, 14-13; Medina Valley beat Boerne, 27-20; Port Isabel claimed victory over Premont, 27-11; and Hallettsville shut out Refugio, 27-0.

Also, Pittsburg trounced North Lamar, 44-6; Port Arthur Austin slipped by Woodville, 13-0; Waller downed Barbers Hill, 22-16; MacGregor rolled by Fairfield, 31-6; and Marble Falls edged Rockdale, 7-3.

In Class A, Pilot Point beat Holliday, 14-6; Wolfe City downed Southlake, 12-7; Troup smashed Frankston, 49-0; Hawkins downed Rivercrest, 21-8; Waskom shut out Timpson, 14-0; Lovelady popped Franklin, 16-7; Hull-Daisetta defeated Tichaven, 20-0; Bartlett demolished

Flatonia, 62-9; and Falls City won over Three Rivers, 26-7.

STRATFORD STOMPED Panhandle, 42-8; New Deal creamed Kress, 35-8; Seagraves blanked McCamey, 21-0; Haskell rolled to a 53-20 win over Rotan; San Saba beat Junction, 29-14; and China Spring blasted Whitney, 42-0; Comfort won over Dilley, 24-6.

In Class B playoff action, Wheeler slipped by Valley, 14-13; Windthorst beat Gorman, 21-0; Valley View outlasted Dawson, 15-14; High Island trounced Mildred, 36-10; Salado blanked Leakey, 13-0; Agua Dulce downed Runge, 13-7; Grand Falls beat Sterling City, 13-7; and Union Hill shut out Cumby, 25-0.

Rose Bowl match could be best

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

A national championship shootout between the No. 12 college football teams still isn't out of the question, but for now the Rose Bowl has two of the top three teams and two out of three ain't bad.

While Alabama, the No. 1 team in The Associated Press ratings, was idle over the weekend and looking ahead toward next week's annual regular-season windup with Auburn, fourth-ranked Southern California earned a trip to the Rose Bowl against No. 2 Ohio State by routing UCLA 49-14 while eighth-ranked Oklahoma knocked off No. 3 Nebraska 17-14, opening the door for USC to move up in the ratings.

to the Cotton Bowl against either seventh-ranked Arkansas, a 31-7 winner over Southern Methodist, or No. 9 Houston, which held off Texas Tech 14-10 after trailing 10-0 with 16 minutes left.

Sixth-ranked Texas, though still in a virtual three-way tie for the South-west Conference lead, nevertheless was eliminated from Cotton Bowl consideration despite a 13-0 victory over No. 17 Baylor. If the Longhorns beat Texas A&M next Saturday, they will go to the Sugar Bowl and put Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl. If they lose and Houston wins, the Longhorns probably will go to the Sun Bowl while Houston goes Cotton and Arkansas gets the Sugar.

THE HALL of Fame Bowl would have invited Kentucky, but the Wildcats lost to Tennessee 20-17 on a 25-yard field goal by Alan Duncan with five seconds remaining and finished 5-6. That's not quite good enough for a bowl bid this year, but who knows what the future holds.

Elsewhere in the Top Twenty (eight teams were idle):

—No. 10 Brigham Young completed an 11-0 regular season and won its way to the Holiday Bowl by thrashing San Diego State 63-14 as Marc Wilson threw four touchdowns on his first five passes.

—No. 19 South Carolina (Hall of Fame Bowl) nipped No. 13 Clemson (Peach) 13-9.

—And No. 18 Tulane (Liberty Bowl) spoiled the regular-season finale of Louisiana State (Tangerine) Coach Charlie McClendon 24-13.

raved. "It was the best defensive performance ever."

NEBRASKA HAD yielded only 67.1 yards a game on the ground but Sims romped for 132 by himself in the first half. He also had a 68-yard touchdown run chopped to 53 because of a penalty and that cost him a national record. His two-game total of 529 fell nine short of the 538 by Colorado's Charlie Davis in 1971.

A 71-yard dash by Sims set up the decisive score, a fourth-down 3-yard run with 7:55 to play by quarterback J.C. Watts, who teamed with Forrest Valora on a 58-yard TD pass play in the third period.

White began Southern Cal's scoring against UCLA with a 2-yard run in the first period and Ronnie Lott's 30-yard interception return made it 14-0 after one period. White added touchdown runs of 1, 26 and 2 yards in the second quarter for a 35-0 halftime spread and finished his career with 5,598 regular-season yards, second only to Tony Dorsett's 6,082 in NCAA annals.

"Even more important than the game itself is that you have to reflect on our senior class," said Coach John Robinson. "This is the greatest class of football players in the history of football at Southern California. They performed so well for so long. In their careers at USC their record was 41-6-3, with one game to play."

Tackles Steve McMichael and Bill Acker keyed a mighty Texas defense that held Baylor to two first downs while Johnny "Lam" Jones snagged a school record eight passes for 196 yards — including a 54-yarder from Rick McIvor in a first-period score — and John Goodson kicked third-quarter field goals of 44 and 42 yards.

OHIO STATE, 11-0, and 10-0-1 Southern Cal have been gaining support in recent weeks anyway, and, if 8-2 Auburn upsets Alabama, California, here comes your dream matchup.

And that means another heartache for the Sugar Bowl, which would wind up with 6-5 Georgia, with Alabama going to the Fiesta Bowl against Pitt.

WHILE SOUTHERN Cal's decisive victory settled the Pacific-10 race — and sent runnerup Washington to the Sun Bowl against either Arkansas, Texas or Houston — Oklahoma destroyed the Orange Bowl's hopes of matching a pair of 11-0 teams in Nebraska and fifth-ranked Florida State, which turned back Florida 27-16.

Instead, the 10-1 Sooners are headed for Miami while Nebraska will go

GET IT? It's a lot clearer than last week, even if it doesn't sound that way. The rest of the bowl lineup looks like this:

Sugar, Alabama or Georgia vs. Texas or Arkansas; Gator, Michigan-North Carolina; Liberty, Tulane-Penn State; Bluebonnet, Purdue-Tennessee; Holiday, Brigham Young-Indiana; Peach, Clemson-Baylor; Tangerine, Wake Forest-LSU; Hall of Fame, South Carolina-Missouri; Garden State, Temple-California; Independence, McNeese State-Syracuse. Georgia, LSU, Missouri, California and Syracuse all have five losses, but who cares?

"I know of some people who have been saying we shouldn't go to a bowl with a 6-5 record," says Dave Hart, athletic director at Missouri, which got the Hall of Fame bid by crushing Kansas 55-7. "But if the bowl people think we are the best possible team available, I think we should go."

OKLAHOMA'S BILLY Sims and Southern Cal's Charles White, who were picked before the year to wage a battle for the 1979 Heisman Trophy, wound up their regular seasons with outstanding efforts. Sims, the 1978 Heisman winner, rushed for 247 yards on 28 carries — he has 529 in his last two games — and set up both Oklahoma touchdowns while White carried 35 times for 194 yards and four first-half touchdowns.

"What can I say about Billy Sims?" cackled Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, who had plenty to say about an underrated defense that held the Cornhuskers to 336 total yards, almost 150 under their average. "That was the greatest Oklahoma performance I've ever seen," Switzer

KEVIN SCANLON led Arkansas over SMU by firing two touchdowns passes to Steve Clyde and one to Gary Anderson and scoring once, all in the first half.

BYU's Wilson fired touchdown strikes of 25 yards to Dan Plater, 42 to Bill Davis and 57 to Eric Lane in the first period and added a 46-yarder to Scott Phillips in the second quarter as the Cougars flattened San Diego State. His 3,720 passing yards and 3,604 in total offense wiped out the NCAA marks of 3,343 and 3,464 by Tulsa's Bill Anderson in 1965.

South Carolina's triumph over Clemson enabled the Gamecocks to finish the regular season at 8-3, the school's first eight-victory season since 1903, and Tulane's Roch Hontas passed for 259 yards and three touchdowns as Tulane downed LSU.

Elsewhere, North Carolina (Gator Bowl) trounced Duke 37-16, Temple (Garden State) thumped Villanova 42-10 and Georgia kept its Sugar Bowl hopes alive by downing Georgia Tech 16-3.

Meanwhile, Utah State tied San Jose State for the Pacific Coast Athletic Association title by defeating Fresno State 41-31, Central Michigan completed a 10-0-1 campaign by shattering Kansas State 21-6 to wind up 3-8 under Chuck Fairbanks and Notre Dame ended at an embarrassing 7-4 despite a 40-15 triumph over Miami, Fla. in Tokyo.

Oklahoma's Billy Sims just misses setting rush record

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — If Billy Sims were the sort of football player who cherished records and craved individual recognition, he might take a keen dislike to Andy Means.

Means is the Nebraska cornerback who was clipped by Freddie Nixon on Sims' 68-yard touchdown run in the first quarter of Oklahoma's 17-14 victory over the Huskers in their Big Eight championship showdown Saturday.

Means had no chance on earth of catching Sims, but the clip was flagged at the 15-yard line, subtracting 15 from the 68 yards Sims actually traveled. Then Sims, the 1978 Heisman Trophy winner who closed out his collegiate career with two brilliant performances, wound up with an incredible 247 yards against the proud Husker defenders. That boosted his season total of 1,506, best in the Big Eight. But he missed by only 10 yards beating the NCAA two-game rushing record of 538.

"I did that on purpose," said Means, who in the second half was carried away on a stretcher with a deep thigh bruise. "Nixon was going down fast and I knew if I could step in front of him he might run over me. I couldn't have caught Sims, he was too far ahead. If they don't call it, it doesn't matter."

Not even to Sims, proclaimed once again by Coach Barry Switzer as the greatest football player in the nation.

Hernandez to receive honor

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Keith Hernandez, a fanly-fielding first baseman named earlier this month to share the National League's Most Valuable Player award, will be feted Jan. 23 as St. Louis baseball man of the year.

Hernandez, 26, shared the NL award with the Pittsburgh Pirates' Willie Stargell. He led the league with a .344 batting average and in runs with 116 and doubles with 48. He also had 105 RBIs.

Hernandez will receive the J.G. Taylor Spink award as St. Louis baseball man of the year. The award will be presented at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers during the annual baseball writers' dinner.

Lloyd will come back

By The Associated Press

The result was familiar, but Chris Evert Lloyd promised it would not be that way next year.

"I have said before this hasn't been my year tennis-wise," said Lloyd, who was beaten by Martina Navratilova 6-3, 6-3 Sunday in the finals of a women's challenge tournament in Brighton, England. It was the fifth time this year Navratilova has beaten Lloyd, who married British tennis player John Lloyd in April.

Since then Lloyd has fallen from the top of the women's ranks, surrendering her No. 1 spot on the computer list to Navratilova and her U.S. Open crown to teenager Tracy Austin.

But she says she'll be back.

Canter takes net victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — Top-seeded Jonathan Canter of Beverly Hills, Calif., defeated Jimmy Brown of Germantown, Tenn., 6-3, 6-3, to win the singles title Sunday in the U.S. Tennis Association Boys International Prince Indoor Tennis Championships.

But Canter, who also was top-seeded in doubles with Todd Witsken, Carmel, Ind., was upended by the No. 2-seeded team of Rick Leach, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Tim Pawsat, Santa Ana, Calif., 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

The tournament was for boys 16 years old.

Inflation hits your electric bill just as hard as it does your grocery bill.

Every time you go to the grocery store you can see what inflation's doing to your food bill. But because you don't buy electricity by the can, you probably don't realize how inflation affects the cost of electricity.

Fuel costs are up, particularly natural gas. Equipment costs are up. Power lines, transformers and poles cost us more every day. Just like milk costs you more every day.

The millions of dollars we must borrow to build plants to ensure your electricity needs in the future are costing us more.

The cost of building these plants is higher, too, because of inflation. And because of the time and money it takes to comply with an ever-increasing number of government regulations. The longer it takes to build, the more inflation takes its toll.

Inflation, overregulation and rising fuel costs are all making your electricity cost you more. But by using electricity wisely you can do your part in keeping that cost down in your home.

At Texas Electric, we want you to know what you're paying for.

FOOTBALL—The Edmonton Eskimos won the Grey Cup, emblematic of the Canadian Football League championship, for the second year in a row—his sixth Canadian professional football title overall—with a 17-10 victory over the Montreal Alouettes at Olympic Stadium.
 The Alouettes might have tied the score in the last two minutes when Keith Baker ran back an Edmonton punt 80 yards to the Eskimos end zone but the play was called back on a clipping call against Montreal's Gerry Dullio.
 Montreal middle linebacker Tom Cousineau, 41 million dollars in prize money, was named defensive player of the game, while his teammate David Green, who rushed for 47 yards and helped keep his team in contention throughout, was picked as the top offensive player.

UCLA's Donahue thinks Rose Bowl will be dandy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA Coach Terry Donahue, whose Bruins lost to both Southern Cal and Ohio State this season, doesn't pretend to know what may happen in the Rose Bowl, but he did say, "Both teams are excellent and it'll be one hell of a football game."
 Using UCLA's games against the two Rose Bowl-bound teams as a yardstick, fourth-ranked Southern Cal would appear to have an edge on the second-ranked Buckeyes.
 Earlier in the season, Ohio State had to score in the waning moments to pull out a 17-13 victory over UCLA. The Trojans ran roughshod over the Bruins in last Saturday's meeting, coming away with a 49-14 victory that gave Southern Cal the Pacific-10 championship and New Year's Day trip to Pasadena.
 "I think it's obvious that Ohio State is a much better team today than when we played them," Donahue said. "However, when we played them, they weren't in the class that USC was against us."
 Led by senior tailback Charles White, who carried 35 times for 194 yards and four touchdowns, the Trojans rolled to a 35-0 halftime lead en route to the surprisingly easy victory over the Bruins.
 The triumph ended Southern Cal's regular season with a 6-0-1 Pac-10 mark and 10-0-1 overall record, the one blemish a 21-21 tie with Stanford. Big Ten champion Ohio State is also undefeated, with an 11-0 record.
 Trojan quarterback Paul McDonald, who completed 17 of 23 passes for 199 yards and one touchdown against the Bruins, said: "We're going to be ready for Ohio State. They're very, very good, but we're pretty good when the challenge is on."
 Southern Cal got an unusual challenge this season, having to win the conference title again after the Trojans thought they'd clinched the crown with a victory over Washington, a Pac-10 ruling that forfeited all of Arizona State's victories gave Washington a revised 6-1 league mark, and the Huskies would have been conference champions and Rose Bowl representatives if Southern Cal had lost to UCLA.
 "It might be premature to accept this bid to the Rose Bowl," Robinson said sarcastically after the Trojans' victory over the Bruins. "There might be another Pac-10 council meeting or something."
 "It feels good to win the championship with a big victory like this after a ruling took it away from us," added White.
 UCLA's Bruins, meanwhile, have only next season to look forward to, since they finished the 1978 campaign

FOOTBALL—The Edmonton Eskimos won the Grey Cup, emblematic of the Canadian Football League championship, for the second year in a row—his sixth Canadian professional football title overall—with a 17-10 victory over the Montreal Alouettes at Olympic Stadium.
 The Alouettes might have tied the score in the last two minutes when Keith Baker ran back an Edmonton punt 80 yards to the Eskimos end zone but the play was called back on a clipping call against Montreal's Gerry Dullio.
 Montreal middle linebacker Tom Cousineau, 41 million dollars in prize money, was named defensive player of the game, while his teammate David Green, who rushed for 47 yards and helped keep his team in contention throughout, was picked as the top offensive player.

Matos recalls his 20 years as Cuban political prisoner

By GEORGE GEDDA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The date was March 30, 1958. Huber Matos remembers it well because it was the day he met Fidel Castro.

Matos, with seven companions, had flown five tons of arms from Costa Rica to Castro in Cuba's Sierra Maestra Mountains. Castro was overjoyed. He had spent 16 months waiting in vain for weaponry for his ill-equipped guerrilla forces.

"I think that was the happiest I ever saw Fidel Castro," Matos says. "He was trying out the arms, firing into the night, shouting, 'Now we'll win the war! Now we'll win the war!'"

He and Castro were to become close friends, a comradeship forged by shared deprivation and struggle in the interest of bringing down a hated military dictatorship.

For Matos, the revolution was everything. At the time he joined Castro, his wife was pregnant with their fourth child. He can still remember the all-night conversations with Castro, the two of them lying on the ground somewhere in the Sierra Maestra, preferring talk to sleep.

MATOS SMILES now in recalling those days. The smiles don't come as easily, though, when he talks about his falling out with Castro and the 20 years he spent as perhaps Cuba's most famous political prisoner.

Now 61, Matos, who was freed last month and came to Washington to attend a recent AFL-CIO convention, looks surprisingly fit for a man who spent 16 of those 20 years in solitary confinement.

His recall of the indignities suffered over that period is precise: He once went 11 months without ever seeing sunlight, 13 months without a shred of clothing, seven years without a visitor, 18 months without medical attention for a broken arm suffered during a beating by his guards.

"I think Fidel Castro's purpose was to do away with me or to make me admit guilt," he says. "But I decided to put up with all challenges, no matter how difficult they might be. What really helped me to overcome everything was the knowledge that I was right, that I was suffering a great injustice."

"We had told the Cuban people that our revolution was a democratic revolution. At no time did we suggest that the revolution would become a communist revolution and that Cuba would become a nation dependent on the Soviet Union."

MATOS SPEAKS in a non-stop monologue as if to compensate for all the years he had no one to talk to. Not surprisingly, his conversation sometimes makes him sound like a modern-day Rip Van Winkle.

After a particularly arduous day of interviews recently, he said he felt like he had just gone 15 rounds with Rocky Graziano, a champion middleweight fighter of the late 1940s and early '50s. Only a person as cut off from the outside world as Matos has been would choose an old-timer like Graziano in drawing such an analogy.

After the triumph of the revolution, Castro named Matos military governor of the east-central province of Camaguey. By Matos' own account, things went well during the early months, but then he became troubled by what he perceived as communist infiltration of the revolution.

Matos outlined his concerns in a letter he sent to Castro six months after the fall of the Batista dictatorship. He told Castro he wanted to retire from the armed forces but Castro told him to stay on.

Matos said he sent a second letter to Castro in October "and then all hell broke loose." Within hours after receiving the letter, Matos said, Castro was publicly accusing him of treason, of trying to "foment an uprising."

"Why did he do this? To destroy an individual who is no longer useful to him," Matos said.

FIVE DAYS after Matos' arrest Oct. 21, 1959, Castro spoke at a mass rally in Camaguey and said Matos should be sentenced to death.

Castro apparently did not believe Matos' claim that he, Matos, merely wanted to drop out of politics. At the rally, Castro linked Matos to a counter-revolutionary movement headed by Jose Luis Diaz Lanz, who had defected to the United States in June and who had dropped thousands of anti-Castro leaflets over Havana from an airplane the day Castro received Matos' second letter.

Later, Castro himself testified for six hours at Matos' trial. Matos was convicted on charges of slandering the revolution and sentenced to 20 years in prison. He came to the United States after his release.

For many, Matos is a victim of the dark side of the Cuban revolution. At least that's the way delegates to the AFL-CIO convention appeared to regard him. When Matos was introduced to a convention banquet, he received more applause than the labor movement's retiring patriarch, George Meany.

Wagons carry gold to gild dome

ATLANTA (AP) — The 60 covered wagons that carried 2.6 pounds of Georgia gold to gild the Capitol dome stood in a city park's mud puddles as the rain pelted down on their dingy gray canvas.

Horses and mules that had pulled the wagons over 70 miles of mountain roads and major highways stood tethered to wagon wheels, tearing their dinners from bales of hay.

"It's there. In dust and nuggets from north Georgia," wagonmaster Frank Rickman of Clayton, nodding toward the parked wagons, said Sunday. "People will see it when we hand it to the governor tomorrow."

The $21,000 in gold was purchased by the Georgia Jaycees, and the wagon train was part of a statewide drive to raise another $250,000 to pay for the work of applying it to the dome.

On Thursday, the train left Dahlonega, which in 1828 was the site of the nation's first gold rush. Gold from the same area was used to gild the Capitol dome in 1950, but weather has worn most of it away.

"We're doing this to show what can be done without spending the taxpayers' money," Rickman said. "It's also because the gold dome is beautiful. It shows tourists how we care about Georgia."

The rain that fell during most of the last two days of the ride wasn't a serious problem, said Rickman, who led the Georgia Bicentennial wagon train from Atlanta on a 2,000-mile ride to Valley Forge, Pa., in 1976.

He said some of the same riders were part of this trip. They came from Maryland, Florida, the Carolinas and Tennessee, and Georgia.

The reaction of motorists on the highway is a constant enjoyment, said Rickman's daughter, Cathy Pietraszuk, who with her husband Pete, drove the lead wagon.

"They just don't believe it when they see the first wagon and they see all the others behind. The reaction is just great," she said.

"This is the way this country was built," said Rickman, a developer and builder. "Machines didn't build this country. Horses and mules built this country. Machines came along and widened the roads."

The wagon train "is the greatest thing to show the hardships and what it took to build this country," he said. "I like to show people that everything didn't come on a silver platter."

Draft dodgers easily hide from the Soviet authorities

By STEVEN R. HURST

MOSCOW (AP) — Igor Korchnoi, the draft-dodging son of the self-exiled chess master, slipped into the Soviet underground in the summer of 1978 to avoid the Soviet draft. He hid there for more than a year.

He might have eluded police much longer had he not tried to move from a rural sanctuary to Moscow. His family reported that he was arrested here in mid-November.

Despite the tight organization of Soviet society, Western and Soviet sources say, draft dodgers — or any Soviet citizen trying to avoid the authorities — can easily go underground and stay there, unnoticed, for a long time.

"If you have friends it is easy to hide from the draft, for a while at least," one Soviet said.

One diplomat said that "if they don't travel too much and avoid contact with the militia," draft dodgers can hide for years.

"There are no credit cards here to trace people through their purchases. The mass media don't deal with such matters. There's just no way for the public to know the authorities want a particular person unless the police go door-to-door."

THE 20-YEAR-OLD

Korchnoi was presented with his induction papers in mid-1978 as he and his mother were seeking exit visas to join the father, Viktor, who had defected to the West in 1976.

Young Korchnoi decided to go underground, his family says, because contact with the military could further delay attempts to emigrate. Soviet authorities usually forbid emigration by those with recent contact with military secrets.

There are no statistics on the number of young Soviet men who, like Korchnoi, attempt to avoid the draft. But Western sources here believe the problem is a real one for the Soviet military. Soviet draft dodgers also feign physical or mental disabilities to avoid service. Some young men flatly refuse to serve for reasons of conscience — citing Christian aversion to using force.

OTHERS SIMPLY don't relish serving two years in the Soviet army — three years in the navy. "It's not a very attractive service," a Western analyst said.

For those young men who can't get a deferment and decide to go underground, "it's far easier here than in many countries," a Western military specialist added. Every young man in the Soviet Union becomes eligible for the draft at age 18. Some receive deferments for education and then enter the services as officers.

Refusal to be inducted carries a maximum prison term of three years. The Soviet criminal code provides a harsher five-year maximum for draft dodgers who forge documents, malingering or use other "means of deception" to avoid service.

Some reports on Soviet military life explain why young men go underground.

VIKTOR BALENKO, the Soviet air force lieutenant who defected to the West in 1977 by flying his MIG-23 to Japan, provided this description to his debriefers:

Enlisted men in his regiment in the Soviet Far East were quartered behind barbed wire in barracks with 50 to 60 men in a large room. He said the men went months without contact with their wives.

Sergeants and enlisted men, he claimed, often committed suicide. He said the desertion rate was high and he had seen one deserter, a sergeant, found shot to death.

Turkey hopes pope's visit will help tourism, but fears Moslem reaction

By SAMUEL KOO

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — The Turkish government has mixed feelings about this week's visit of Pope John Paul II. It hopes it will help tourism but fears adverse reaction from militant Moslems.

The Turks are pleased because the three-day papal visit beginning Wednesday will focus foreign attention on such tourist attractions as Istanbul, Izmir and Ephesus, all on the papal itinerary. But official sources said the current unrest in the Islamic world is likely to put restraints on the Turkish government's official welcome for the pope.

"We will receive him cordially in accordance with international practices," said one official in Ankara, the capital. But he said he knew of no plan to "mobilize the people" to line the streets for the papal motorcades.

An editorial Sunday in Turkey's largest newspaper, Hurriyet of Ankara, said the "timing of this visit is wrong for Turkey because it comes at a time when Moslem-Christian differences are provoked, particularly by the events in Iran."

Oktaay Ekski, the paper's chief editorial writer, noted that the chief purpose of the visit was to pursue the reunification of Roman Catholicism and the Eastern Orthodox Church. But he said the pope should take special care not to injure the sensitivities of this predominantly Moslem nation.

"The pope might make some statements and gestures to look sweet to the Orthodox community. No one would have any objections to this providing these statements and gestures do not injure sensitivities of this nation," he wrote.

"But if, for example, the pope treats the Hagia Sophia not as a museum but as a church, there would be complications," he wrote.

The Hagia Sophia in Istanbul was one of Christendom's largest churches until it was converted into a mosque in 1453, after the Ottomans conquered Constantinople, the former name of Istanbul. It was turned into a museum in 1923 after the Turkish republic was founded and religious worship there was banned.

When Pope Paul VI in 1967 made the first papal visit to Turkey in 12 centuries, the government gave him a low-key welcome, and small crowds turned out to see him. But despite the ban on worship at the Hagia Sophia, he prayed there, and afterward a group of Moslem Fundamentalist students held a demon-

Kennedy machine part old, part borrowed and part new

By WILLIAM E. SCHULZ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's presidential campaign operation is in just the sort of disarray one would expect for a candidate who's been in the race less than 20 days.

Despite the buildup by various draft-Kennedy movements, the Massachusetts senator decided relatively recently to challenge Carter for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination — and it shows. Last week his aides were still waiting for office furniture to equip the abandoned Cadillac dealership rented as a headquarters.

Kennedy's campaign machine is part old, part new and part lured away from President Carter. Officials say they are scrambling to match Carter's organizational depth.

"It's really catch-up as far as we're concerned," says Philip Bakes, Kennedy's deputy campaign manager. Bakes said the Kennedy campaign so far has put together a full-time staff of about 60-65, 45 to 50 of them paid.

The Carter-Mondale campaign, with a full-time paid staff of 169, has been hard at work in its Washington office since summer. Carter is expected to announce his re-election bid officially on Dec. 4.

The Carter-Mondale people also have had their share of problems; Robert Strauss is the third director of the still-unannounced campaign.

But Carter's organization already includes 10 state and three regional offices, and about half the staff is working outside Washington.

The Kennedy campaign is lagging, especially outside the capital. But "we're starting to get in fairly good shape" in Iowa, Alabama and New Hampshire, with 26 on the campaign staff, said Bakes.

Elsewhere, he said, "we're just starting the effort to find out what the situation is."

While there were draft-Kennedy movements in more than half the states, Bakes said most are being phased out as the formal organization moves in.

Herbert Schmetz, a vice president of Mobil Oil Corp. who worked on the campaigns of John and Robert Kennedy, signed on for six weeks without pay to help set up Ted Kennedy's advertising program. A defender of the oil industry, Schmetz will not advise on energy issues.

Nationwide trend going toward condominiums

A nationwide trend away from apartments and expensive suburban housing has swept Texas in the form of a condominium boom.

Nowhere in the state has the trend been so pronounced as in Dallas, where apartment conversion and new condominium construction more than doubled in the past year.

Condominium consultant Sharon Reuler said that through the end of October, 3,063 condominium deeds had been filed in Dallas County, and 1,984 more condos were on the market. In 1978, 1,378 condominiums appeared in the city.

Since 1970, she said, 10,746 condos have been built and converted in Dallas.

IN HOUSTON, condominium conversions more than doubled in 1977 when 5,042 apartment units were converted, figures from the Greater Houston Builders Association show. Since 1970, 15,008 units have been converted. Through August of this year, however, only 1,194 were converted. No figures were available for condominium construction.

Conversion in Houston has leveled off because "all the properties suitable for conversion have already been (converted)," said Dr. Arthur Wright of the Texas Real Estate Research Center in College Station.

Condominiums, which were unheard of 10 years ago, have been built on a smaller scale in other Texas cities. But since "condomania" is a fairly new phenomenon, few figures are available.

The young, the single and the retired have made the move to condominiums because of relative low cost, low maintenance and proximity to work, Ms. Reuler said.

"A U.S. housing economist expects one-half of the U.S. population to be in condominium housing within 20 years. I think that in this region, that means any type of attached housing — townhouses, patio homes, low-maintenance housing, but not counting apartments," she said.

"WHAT IS happening is the attached housing market is the fastest-growing segment of the housing industry. What we're seeing, really, is a literal explosion. There is very little mortgage money for single family housing, but there is mortgage money for condominiums, much of it with 95 percent financing."

Ms. Reuler said changes in the population and lifestyles have led to the condominium craze.

"There are so many one- and two-person households," Ms. Reuler said. "The population structure is getting older, staying healthier longer and living in their own homes longer."

"Young adults are deferring marriage or not marrying at all; they are deferring children or not having children at all. What you've got is an ever-increasing number of households, even if the population stays static."

The skyrocketing cost of land and the energy crisis have helped fuel the move toward low-maintenance homes in the city, she added.

DALLAS' condominium explosion led to a July report by the city's Department Urban Planning.

The department said conversions of apartments accounted for 80 percent of condominium units made available in 1978, and that 70 percent of those units had been sold by the end of the year.

Condominiums, however, accounted for only 4 percent of all multi-family units in the city at the end of 1978, the report said.

"More and more the tenants' basic choices are to buy or move," the report said, adding tenants generally are given 90 days' notice.

"It said tenants are 'aggressively wooed' to buy their apartments, but called the pressure "an excellent marketing strategy."

Mobile home industry unhurt by recession

WASHINGTON — Soaring prices, high interest and tight money are locking many potential buyers out of conventional homes. But the mobile home industry is more than holding its own.

"This terrible recession just is not terrible for us," said Jack Wynn, a spokesman for the Manufactured Housing Institute which represents mobile and modular home manufacturers and suppliers.

In the first nine months of this year, 214,543 mobile homes had been shipped to new owners, up 2 percent from the 210,237 shipments in the same period last year, Wynn said.

Shipments in 1979 should total at least 275,000, and the mobile home industry is shooting for 300,000 in 1980, Wynn said.

Things are not as bright in the conventional home industry.

The manufacturer twice ran large display ads in more than 240 major newspapers explaining how the recall worked. News releases were sent twice to every major daily newspaper and trade publication in the country, and television spots were run during network football games.

The company also sent letters to 3 million owners of the tires.

About one third of tires replaced

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — In the year since it agreed to the largest tire recall in history, Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. has replaced just over a third of the Radial 500 and TPC tires covered by the recall.

When the agreement was reached in October 1978, the company estimated 7.6 million of the tires were still in use. But so far, only 2.8 million, or 36 percent, have been turned in for free replacements, the company told the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

An additional 872,000 Radial 500s have been exchanged at half price or pro-rated based on tread wear. And about 127,000 radials have been replaced free in Canada.

The administration's head, Joan Claybrook, contends replacements are lagging because the company has not done enough to notify consumers of the recall.

"We are not convinced that enough people are aware of the recall," she said at her Washington office. "We're asking Firestone to do another publicity campaign, but they haven't gone along with that yet."

In a recent interview, a Firestone spokesman defended the company's efforts by citing advertisements designed to alert the public to the recall.

The manufacturer twice ran large display ads in more than 240 major newspapers explaining how the recall worked. News releases were sent twice to every major daily newspaper and trade publication in the country, and television spots were run during network football games.

The company also sent letters to 3 million owners of the tires.

Energy ills MARC Camera rents darkroom predicted

AUSTIN (AP) — Two years ago energy expert John J. McKetta Jr. of the University of Texas predicted a severe energy shortage and recession by 1985.

Recently, in a follow-up interview by the Lower Colorado River Authority magazine, McKetta was asked what it would take for Americans "to realize the urgency of the situation."

McKetta, a chemical engineering professor, replied, "When gasoline lines are longer than they've ever imagined, and when, about six years from now, they flip the switch and no reaction occurs — there are no lights, in other words. That's what we are headed for."

"How can we prevent this from happening?" McKetta was asked.

"I don't think you can do anything to prevent this from happening by 1985," he replied.

Dr. Donnell to be acting health head

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Dr. Alonzo Donnell, deputy state health commissioner, has been named acting commissioner of the department.

Donnell, 63, will head the department while Commissioner Dr. Raymond Moore is recuperating from a heart attack. Moore, 60, was hospitalized Nov. 4.

The state health board executive committee also named Dr. Robert Bernstein to take over Donnell's spot until Moore returns.

Dr. Robert Moreton, chairman of the state health board, said Moore probably would not return to work until January.

Donnell and Bernstein are retired military doctors. Donnell joined the state health department in 1973.

Military building issue needs quick settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees will have to work out differences in legislation providing billions of dollars for military construction.

The Senate voted Tuesday for a $3.9 billion construction package — $406.7 million more than the House proposal. The Senate legislation includes $135 million for space shuttle launchings and facilities for the first test-firing of the MX mobile missile.

Kennedy legend could prove mixed blessing

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The importance of being a Kennedy is looking like a distinctly mixed blessing for the presidential candidacy of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

Let no one underestimate the advantages. The candidate's mother and children, his sisters and brothers-in-law and nieces and nephews are a formidable corps of campaigners. The family knows how to raise gobs of money, whether for charity or politics.

Analysis

Call it glamour or star quality, the Kennedys draw crowds.

And in a period when American voters might well be yearning for a return to what is perceived as a simpler time, even if it wasn't, the Camelot legend has its appeal.

But in the early stages of his campaign to evict Jimmy Carter from the White House, Edward M. Kennedy is learning some of the disadvantages of being the heir to a political legend.

That legend suggested that when Kennedy finally decided to run for president, his campaign would resemble some combination of a religious pilgrimage and a tour by the Rolling Stones.

Millions of people would line the roads and fill the public squares of America, pressing forward for a chance to touch him, to vow their support for him. His campaign would be an inexorable march to the White House. Of course, it was nothing of the sort.

When his campaign got off to a strikingly ordinary start, people wondered what had happened to the huge crowds that memory said engulfed his brothers John and Robert when they campaigned for president.

And where was that smooth Kennedy political machine? The fabled advance men who left nothing to chance?

Kennedy drew a big, friendly crowd for his announcement in Boston. But on the way to the airport, one of the press buses got lost and the crowds at stops in New Hampshire, Maine and Chicago were friendly but not huge.

Like all of his rivals, Republicans and Democrats, Kennedy came across most clearly as a politician searching for the best way to state his case.

Like his rivals, he does best when he concentrates on saying what is wrong with the Carter administration. He grows vague and hesitant when pressed to spell out the policies of a Kennedy administration. So do the other presidential candidates.

Political stump speakers are like other performers: They vary their delivery and their lines, looking for the right tempo to get the maximum response from the audience.

Kennedy turned them on at Grinnell College in Iowa with a spell-binding performance. Twenty-four hours later, he put them to sleep at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn. Lines he delivered with perfect timing on Tuesday sounded awful on Wednesday.

Part of the Kennedy legend has it that the brothers were masters at using the media to their advantage. It doesn't always happen that way.

Early on, it became clear that Kennedy likes to talk to small groups of elderly people and, after a brief speech, sit down with a cup of coffee and encourage senior citizens to talk about the rising costs of heating their homes and of prescription drugs.

An elderly man at a senior citizens center in Chicago stepped to the podium at Kennedy's urging and told how he spends $50 to $60 a month for medication, a graphic illustration of an area where Kennedy believes the government must do more.

And the large press contingent traveling with the senator was there to hear it all.

But 30 minutes earlier as Kennedy entered the center, someone lobbed an egg at him. It barely brushed his left shoulder, not breaking until it hit the ground.

To Kennedy's dismay, the egg got as much attention, if not more, than the elderly man's problems.

tiresome

COVENTRY, England (AP) — A survey conducted at Walsgrave Hospital shows that patients are sick of visitors.

Well-wishers are disturbing afternoon naps and forcing patients to rush through their meals, the poll shows, but the patients are too embarrassed to speak up.

The hospital has instructed nurses to drop the hint.
