Dedicated to the Progress and Development of Bailey County and the South Plains of Texas

LITTERA SCRIPTA MANET—THE WRITTEN WORD ENDURES

MULESHOE, County Seat of Bailey County, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1942

TWENTIETH YEAR, No. 22

All Candidates Are In For State Offices

Monday, June 15, is the deadline for filing for county offices, and indications are that the elections this year in Bailey County will be the quietest in more than a decade.

Monday, June 1, was the final date for filing for state offices. The unofficial state list follows:

Governor — Coke Stevenson, Hope Wheeler, Charles LaVergne, Somerville, Hal H. Collins, Alex Ferguson and Gene Porter.

United States Senator — Dan Moody, Austin; James V. Allred, Houston; W. Lee O'Daniel, Fort Worth; Floyd E. Ryan, Houston.

Lieutenant Governor — Vernon Lemens, Waxahachie; Harold Beck, Texarkana; John L. Smith, Throckmorton; Doss Hardin, Dallas; J. Dixie Smith, Houston.

State School Superintendent — Aiton Mead, San Benito; Boyce House and Arthur Miller, Houston.

Attorney General — Gerald C. Mann, Dallas; Jim Hair, Dallas.

State Comptroller — George H. Sheppard, Sweetwater; Clifford E. Butler, Houston.

State Treasurer — Gordon Smith, Austin; Jesse James, Austin; Larry Mills, Dallas; W. Gregory, Dallas.

State Land Commissioner — Bascom Giles, Austin; Neil Day, Westland.

State School Superintendent — L. A. Woods, Waco; Charles Ferguson, Harris county.

Commissioner of Agriculture — W. N. Corry, Arlington; J. E. McDonald, Waxahachie; W. W. King, Bronson; Bailey Ragsdale, Houston.

Railroad Commissioner — Lester Boone, Fort Worth; Ernest O. Thompson, Amarillo.

Chief Justice, Supreme Court — James P. Alexander, Waco.

Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals — Harry N. Graves, Georgetown; Walter H. Strength, Marshall.

Sept. 8 — State Democratic convention meets to declare party nominees and draft party platform.

Oct. 14 — Absentee voting for general election begins.

Oct. 21 — Last day for absentee voting for general election.

Nov. 2 — General election.

Nov. 9 — Commissioners Courts canvass election results and certify them.

Nov. 15 — State election board meets to canvass general election returns and declare results for state and district offices.

Muleshoe Masons Elect Officers

At a regular meeting of the Muleshoe Masonic Lodge, Tuesday night, June 9, new officers were elected for the coming year. A goodly number of members attended the meeting.

The following officers were elected and will be installed on June 24:

C. H. Holdeman, worshipful master; H. B. Mathis, senior warden; Jim Burkhead, junior warden; R. J. Klump, secretary; Ray Griffiths, treasurer; Rev. R. N. Huckabee, chaplain and Cephas Roebuck, tyler.

Setup Ready For Obtaining Canning Sugar

The set-up for securing sugar for canning purposes has been worked out and the ration board stated Tuesday that they were waiting for the necessary forms.

As soon as these arrive announcement will be made in The Journal. This sugar is for the canning of fresh fruits by consumers who have registered.

Amount allowed is one pound per four quarts of finished canned fruits and one pound each per person for use in preserves, jams, jellies or fruit butters.

In no event may an individual or family unit be permitted more sugar than is necessary to can the quantity of fruit which the board thinks is reasonable, giving due consideration to season, the practices of the individual and the community, and all other pertinent information.

Application shall be made by one adult member of a family unit for the entire family. Applicant shall state the names of consumers for whom application is filed, and the War Ration book serial numbers, the number of quarts of fruit canned in 1941, or if a previous application for canning has been made, number of quarts of fruit in possession of the applicant, the number of quarts to be canned during the period for which application is made, whether sugar will be used for preserving and excess sugar supply as of time of registration and any reduction since then.

If application is for sugar for use in preparing preserves, jams, jellies or fruit butters, it shall so state and no statements about canning are required.

Soybean Contest Open To 4-H Club And FFA Boys

Bailey county 4-H Club and FFA boys are again reminded of the soybean contest sponsored by the West Texas Cotton Oil Co. for boys who will grow one acre or more of No. 2 grade yellow soybeans.

A total of $90 is offered Bailey county boys in the form of six prizes. The contest is divided into two classes—dry land and irrigation. Three prizes of $30 first prize, $15 second prize, and $10 third prize are offered in each class.

At least six boys must enter the contest. Only three have entered to date, according to County Agent Sam Logan. A grand prize of $50 is offered the winner in each class for the High Plains area.

Boys interested in entering the contest should contact either Mr. Jones or Mr. Logan. It is still early enough to plant soybeans.

Contestants must be under the supervision of either the 4-H Club or the FFA.

Entries will be judged according to production per acre and system by which the project was carried out. Boys entering the contest should notify their leader.

HERE FROM CORPUS CHRISTI

Mrs. W. E. Fish and daughter, Gypsy Lee, and son, Dick, of Corpus Christi, came in the latter part of last week for a visit with Mrs. Fish's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lee. Gypsy Lee and Dick will spend the summer here with their grandparents.

The first native Texan elected governor of Texas was James Stephen Hogg, (1861-1896).

WOMEN SERVE THE GUNS

Defending Britain from enemy raiders, women operate the predictor apparatus, shown above.

Into this complicated machine they feed data on the course, speed and height of the enemy aircraft. Thus the men who work the guns can fire at the right spot in the night sky.

Even while the guns are shooting, as this picture shows, the girls go on working despite enemy spears and height of the enemy aircraft. Thus the men who

During the recent Nazi raids on Britain these girls have earned high praise for their coolness under fire. One of them has already been killed in action at her post.

County Farmers Urged To Pool All Transportation Facilities

War Against 'Hoppers' Is Still Underway

County Agent Sam Logan said this week that grasshoppers in Bailey county are getting large enough to severely damage some crops and even start migrations.

Damage will be noticed particularly on young cotton and soybeans. At present, most 'hoppers' are confined to turn rows and small areas over the field.

By poisoning now, trouble may be avoided later.

One mixing station has been set up in the center of the county at Needmore. The government is furnishing the materials for mixing. The station is charging 20 cents per 100 pounds to cover the freight charges and mixing cost. From 15 to 20 pounds per acre is recommended. The station will operate only as long as sufficient material is used by Bailey county farmers to pay for the cost.

Farmers are all urged to get in now and kill the 'hoppers' along the infested areas and help avoid a second crop later in the summer.

AT THE HOSPITAL

Bill Kistler is in this week for a checkup on his arm, which was broken sometime ago when his hand caught between the belt and pulley of a feed grinder.

Mr. Kistler has not completely regained his strength, and is confined to his home much of the time.

Admitted for tonsillitis: Joyce and Cloyce Hunt; Betty Renfrow; Joann Chitwood.

Dismissed: Mrs. Savannah Goodson; "Pinky" Barbour.

Admitted for medical treatment: Charles Burch of Gainesville, Tex.; Floyd Owens of Priona, Rt. 1; Dovie Jones of Circleback; N. J. Goodnough of Muleshoe, Rt. 1; Roy White of Muleshoe.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Owen, Tuesday morning, at 6:25, a daughter, weighing 8 1/2 pounds.

W. J. FINLEY TO DIRECT BAND AT SUDAN SCHOOL

W. J. Finley, director of the Muleshoe band during the term just closed, has been named successor to C. E. Blount as director of the band at Sudan.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley have already established residence at Sudan.

FORMER RESIDENT VISITS

Mrs. C. B. Collins of Aspermont, former Muleshoe resident, was here Sunday for a short time, visiting relatives and friends. Mrs. Collins was en route to San Francisco to visit her son, Robert, who is in the U. S. Marine Corps.

More than 200,000 Texans saw service during World War I.

Hitler vs. Stalin Scrap Is 'Tops' In Local Sports

People everywhere have often wondered just which would be the best man, Joseph Stalin or Adolf Hitler, in case they had to battle it out man to man.

Many times people have said they would like to put them in a ring together and see who would be the "biggest guy" after a certain number of rounds. Well, you will soon have that opportunity, for Adolf and Joe are going to battle it out to a finish—logically speaking—starting Saturday, June 13, and the battle will be right here in Muleshoe. The ring is already set up and Joe and Adolf have been in training for the past week.

The big bout will be staged at the Ray Griffiths Elevator, and everyone is invited to come down and look the boys over, guess at their weights, and forecast the outcome.

Both Joseph Stalin and Adolf Hitler, in this case, are a couple of pies. They are going to be fed for ninety days, one on Purina Hog Chow, and the other on grain and shorts. A chart will be kept on the contestants to determine the cost per pound, the gain in weight each week and comparative cost of feed. The pies have already been wormed, and they will be officially weighed in at 11:30 a. m., Saturday, June 13. Guesses may be made as to weights at the conclusion of the test, and appropriate awards will be made to those guessing the closest. The guesses must be made between June 13 and June 27.

Farmers who are interested in better profits from their hogs are especially invited to be present Saturday for the official start of the contest. See the picture in this issue of The Journal for full particulars.

Watkins Agents To Collect Scrap

In calling on the people to save scrap rubber and metal, the War Production Board announced last week that Watkins agents the country over would be assisting in gathering this vital material.

If you have scrap rubber, turn it in to the Watkins agent in your territory, or take it to the point he has designated as a scrap center. At stated intervals trucks will call and pick up all this scrap which is turned in for use in the manufacture of war materials.

In this county, the Watkins agent at Needmore will handle the scrap.

FARWELL BUSINESS MAN KILLED IN CAR WRECK

Guy Kiker, 36, auto dealer of Farwell, was killed last weekend in an auto-truck collision two and one-half miles west of Texico.

Kiker was driving a 1936 model coupe. The stock truck with which he collided was driven by Ben T. Hardisty of Clovis, and accompanying him was Bud Johnson, also of Clovis. Neither Hardisty nor Johnson was injured.

MORE FISH

The fish market is going to be overloaded again this week, as Roy Jordan, Ray Griffiths, Bils Holt and Neil Rockey are at Alamogordo Lake catching a big supply—we bet.

The present railroad commission in Texas was established in 1901, during the administration of Gov. James Stephen Hogg.

Area Farmers To Get Wheat Bins

A telegram was received Tuesday afternoon from the Commodity Credit Corporation to the effect that this organization would deliver wheat bins to the farmers in this territory for use in the storage of grain and wheat. The bins are of two sizes, 1,592 bushel capacity and 1,843 bushel capacity.

Farmers are asked to contact the AAA office in Muleshoe for particulars as soon as possible, so that orders may be sent in. Delivery will be in carload lots of five.

New Phases Of Scrap Campaign Are Announced

Practically every home in Texas is harboring at least one 50 calibre machine gun, and many of the farms and ranches are harboring the equivalents of everything from a .75 millimeter anti-aircraft gun to a .75 millimeter howitzer or a 2,000-pound aerial bomb. This, of course, is in the form of scrap iron and steel.

Our job is to get this scrap into the junk yards so that it can be graded, cut to specifications, and shipped to our factories, County Agent Sam Logan says.

Nothing would be more pathetic than the picture of our boys facing the enemy without their quota of guns, tanks and shells—simply because we have sat peacefully at the scrap and failed to factory in the manufacture of fighting equipment. Let's do our part.

WASTE PAPER

The War Production Board recently notified the salvage committee of Bailey county that there is not a waste paper shortage at present. In fact, there is a temporary surplus. This shortage has been corrected by the splendid cooperation of the people.

The WPA suggests that housewives, collecting agencies and charities discontinue their collection of waste paper for the present.

TIN CANS

At the present, there is no drive for tin cans. A tin can shredding plant will soon begin operation in Dallas. This plant will be able to economically salvage cans from an area within 100 miles of Dallas. We have no outlet, consequently no salvage program for tin cans.

With these facts in mind, let's exert all our salvage efforts to scrap rubber, iron and steel.

Good Rains Fall In This Section

Showers to good rains fell over this territory last Sunday afternoon and night, some sections reporting almost an inch. Northeast of Muleshoe, in the YL community, about three-fourths of an inch was reported. The weather station in Muleshoe recorded .35 of an inch.

These rains will be of great help to crops which were up, as well as stuff which had just been planted. Some farmers stated that they had sufficient rain to wet down to sub-soil moisture. Cotton and row crops which are up are looking fine and most of them have a good stand, free of grass and weeds.

KIRKLANDS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Kirkland of Mart, Tex., have been here the past few days, visiting home-folks and greeting old friends.

They have been in the used car business at Mart for the past two years, but due to war conditions has closed out his stock of cars and used parts for the duration. They are making a short visit in Amarillo this week before returning to Central Texas.

RETURN TO SAN ANGELO

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Merriott and two sons returned to their home at San Angelo Saturday after spending a week in the home of Mrs. Merriott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wenner.

Clinton Lambert, a cadet at the Army Flying School, Lubbock, was a guest in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Renfrow and Dillard Chitwood last weekend. Mr. Lambert is Mrs. Bruce Lambert's brother-in-law.

USO Meeting To Be Held Here Saturday

A meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to complete plans for the USO Service Organization drive for funds in Bailey county. Each community in the county is urged to have a representative of a committee present. The meeting will be held at the courthouse, J. L. Alsop, chairman of the county committee, said.

Bailey county has been asked to raise $500 for the USO, these funds to be used for recreational activities at army camps, navy, marine and air corps bases. The USO is doing a wonderful job for the armed forces, and this is vouched for by the boys themselves. When men are off duty, there is nothing worse for morale than having them just walk the streets. That is when a man gets a bad case of homesickness and loneliness.

With hundreds of boys from Bailey county in the service, every man and woman should make at least a small donation to this service. It is realized by officials that there are many things to be done which takes money, but in proportion to the sacrifice these men are making, it is little enough to raise $500, so that you sons or brothers may have a few of the pleasures of home. Don't forget the date of the meeting here, and have someone present to represent your community.

Lubbock Elder To Preach Here

Ed. J. A. Brannaman of Lubbock, missionary of The Plains Baptist Missionary Association, will fill the pulpit during the morning hour at the Main Street Missionary Baptist church here Sunday.

Ed. Brannaman has been a friend to the church in its establishment and recently completed building program, and would appreciate meeting many of his friends Sunday morning.

Bro. Gus Prince, who has moved here from Bald Knob, Ark., as pastor of the church will preach Sunday night. Everyone is invited to attend all services of this church.

Bro. Prince will conduct services at the local church on the first and fourth Sundays of each month and at the West Camp church on the first and third Sundays.

NOTICE OF CREDIT REGULATION

By Government order under regulation W, (5C) 'a charge account shall be deemed to be in default if any article for which credit was extended in such account has not been PAID FOR IN FULL BEFORE THE 10th DAY OF THE SECOND CALENDAR MONTH FOLLOWING THE CALENDAR MONTH DURING WHICH SUCH ARTICLE WAS SOLD ...'

WHEN A CHARGE ACCOUNT IS IN DEFAULT THE DEALER CANNOT EXTEND FURTHER CREDIT FOR ANY CHARGE SALE OR INSTALLMENT SALE UNTIL THE DEFAULT HAS BEEN CURED, EITHER—

- (1) By payment in full of the amount of default;
- (2) By the purchaser entering into a written agreement in good faith to pay the amount in default within a period of 6 months or less from the date of such agreement by substantially equal installment payments of not less than $5.00 monthly or $1.25 per week at substantially equal intervals not exceeding 1 month;
- (3) By the purchaser filing with the creditor a statement of necessity in accordance with Section 10 (d) and entering into a written agreement in good faith to pay the amount in default within a period of 12 months from the due date of such agreement by substantially equal installment payments at substantially equal intervals not exceeding one month.

If you have been in the habit of paying your bills on a thirty-day basis, and if you continue on that basis, Regulation "W" will not affect your accounts at all.

The Federal Reserve Bank has ordered restrictions placed on all charge accounts. Under this new ruling, with which all stores doing credit business must comply, no further credit can be extended on an account that has a past due balance of 40 days.

It is also necessary to list all past due accounts; therefore it is to the advantage of everyone to pay their accounts on the due date in order to avoid default. Those who are not able at this time to liquidate their accounts in accordance with the new law are requested to consult the credit managers of the stores where they owe accounts to make the necessary provisions required under the new law. All credit managers in Muleshoe stand ready to assist their customers. Regulation "W" became effective May 6. All charge purchases on the books at that time, and all charge purchases made since that date, come under its rules. If there is any question concerning your charge account at any retail store, please, please do not hesitate to get in touch with the credit manager. He will gladly explain any detail you'd like clarified.

STATEMENT DATES

To meet the conditions of this Government ruling, the statement month must coincide with the calendar month. Future statements will include all charge purchases from first day through last day of month.

INSTALLMENT ACCOUNTS

With a few exceptions, Regulation "W" requires a down payment of one-third of the purchase price. Payments may be extended up to 12 months, but no monthly payment can be less than $5.00.

BUDGET, SPECIAL AND COUPON BOOK ACCOUNTS

The regulations require a down payment of one-third of the purchase price. The payments of the balance to be arranged in the credit departments, but no monthly payment can be less than $5.00.

THIS IS THE LAW! SELLERS WHO VIOLATE REGULATION "W" ARE SUBJECT TO A FINE OF $5,000

Charges Now on the Books, Made Prior to May 1, 1942, Will Default If Not Paid on or Before July 10

The above information is brought to you by the following firms and business men in order that you may be more familiar with the provisions in Government Regulation "W", which is now in force in the United States. All firms will be regulated by the provisions of this law, and it is our hope that this information may be of assistance to you in meeting its requirements.

Egg Crates Listed As Vital War Material

Egg crates are the latest item to be listed as a vital war material. Handle them gently and don't hoard.

According to Lonnie Arnold, chairman of the Bailey County USDA War Board, the increased production of eggs in the nation has strained the egg crate capacity, so the board has been asked to urge careful handling and rapid movement of all used egg crates.

Chairman Arnold lists six suggestions for helping to keep egg crates from becoming a bottleneck:

1. Open cases carefully. Take care of the lid so that it will be available to protect the eggs on the next trip. A strip of wood is not enough.
2. Use care in removing fillers. They can be used again. By being careful when you take them out, you are preventing egg breakage.
3. Replace flats and fillers in emptied cases. They are hard to obtain. Otherwise put them in to a clean, dry place. A wet, dirty filler may damage your next lot of fresh eggs.
4. Don't drop cases. They take nails and extra time to repair.
5. Make every case go another trip. If care could make every case go to market and back just one more trip, it would help overcome the shortage.
6. Don't hoard cases. Remember there are poultry producers who have eggs to move with nothing to put them in. Let that extra case go back into circulation and there will be enough for everyone.

STEGALL 4-H CLUB MEETS WITH MISSES LUMAN

Members of the Stegall 4-H Club met June 5 at the home of Luman, where the minutes were read and approved. Seven visitors and seven members were present. The visitors were: Mary Jane Chitwood, Annie Pearl Ward, Kathleen Phillips. Members present were: Lynette Baker, Juanita Phillips, Fern Phillips, Florence May Martin, Bennie Fae Slape, Mildred Luman and Betty Jo Luman.

The group played games and sang songs, after which ice cream, cookies and cold drinks were served.

The next meeting will be June 19 at the home of Juanita Phillips.

THEY JUMPED BY NIGHT

WITH THEIR FACES and even teeth painted black, British paratroopers look like these floated out of the night over Occupied France recently in the first important mass raid on the European continent since the fall of France. They quickly captured and blew to bits an important German radio-locator station near the coast, then—taking the surviving Nazis with them as prisoners—fought their way back to the beaches, where the Navy was waiting to pick them up for the homeward journey. The four men in this photo are shown looking down through the hole in the fuselage of their Whitley transport, preparatory to jumping.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living
BY SUSAN THAYER

"Do you know what they're saying about the man down at the new airplane plant?" my neighbor asked me breathlessly the other day, her face flushed with the excitement of the news she bore!

"No," I said calmly and perhaps a little coolly, "I don't, and even if I did, I wouldn't believe it."

"Oh, but I heard it direct from a woman who got it from a friend—"

"Who got it from another friend," I interrupted.

"But how did you know how many people it came through?" she asked in surprise.

"Because all the disturbing stories that are going around these days follow the same pattern. They never come direct from the people to whom it's happening. And when you try to trace them back, and back to their source, somewhere along the line they simply evaporate."

"Then you don't think it's all true?"

"Of course not," I scoffed. "In fact, the chances are that not one word of it is true! You know that today the chief target of the Nazi propaganda office that has wrought such havoc in Europe is our own United States. All of the man's tricks the people have for setting group against group—faction against faction—and undermining the fabric of an

A young girl on the farm desired to marry a young man to whom the father of the girl found objections, principally because the young man had not prepared to support a wife.

"Why, father," said the young thing, "you don't understand our plans. Jack's aunt has promised to give us a hen as a wedding present. Now, a hen will hatch 20 chickens in a year. The second year these 20 chickens will amount to 400 chickens; the third year there will be 8,000; the fourth year 160,000 and the fifth year 3,200,000. At 25 cents a chicken we will have $800,000 at the end of the fifth year, and we'll pay off the mortgage on your farm, move to town and live happily ever after."

Former Bailey County Farm Boy Writes From Base In Florida

The following letter was received by The Journal this week from Corp. W. H. Shanks, former Bailey county boy, who is with the 313th Materiel Squadron, Morrison Field, West Palm Beach, Fla.

Dear Sirs:
I've been meaning to write to your paper ever since I've been in the Army, but have always neglected it for one reason or another. My folks sent me the paper each week while I was at the Airplane Mechanics School at Chanute Field, Ill., but after I came down here I don't have time to read it, so they just send the clippings of special interest.

"Sister" Bert's and L. D. Vaughn's letters.
I guess all your readers would be interested in knowing about all the work I do. Of course, most of it I can't say much about, not only because it's against the rules and regulations to do so, but because I realize, as do your readers and yourself, that it is best for us all concerned to not talk too much. Some of my duties include such things as keeping flight time for flying personnel and doing different kinds of military correspondence.

Army life is not so bad, but I will have to admit that the ten-day furlough that I had the last part of last month is about the best thing I've seen so far. It really felt good to get back in old Bailey county and see all of my old friends once again. I am sorry I didn't get to see any more of them than I did. The people down here in Florida are all very nice to us service men and that helps a lot. They always invite us home with them from church, then treat us almost like sons. You know that means an awful lot to us to be treated so nicely.

I have had only one long airplane ride since I've been in the Air Corps, or the "Army Air Forces," as it is now called. That was when I was coming home for my furlough. I rode in the Army version of a Douglas DC-3 transport plane from Miami to San Antonio. It's sort of funny for a little while, but after a few hours, it certainly grows tiresome. I rode the bus all the way back, but I don't believe it was as tiresome as the airplane. One of the things that made my trip back more bearable was the fact that I had been notified just before leaving Muleshoe that I had been made corporal, so of course that made me feel a lot entire nation are now being used on us. Spreading stories like the one you want to tell me is one of the tested methods. There are plenty of different groups in this country. Old Americans and foreign-born; Catholics and Protestants; Jews and Gentiles; negroes and whites, and perhaps most vulnerable of all—management and labor.

"In the management-labor controversy active today in many war plants, they find one of their best hopes of dissension that might sabotage our war effort. So they spread news of labor disloyalty on one hand and news of management greed and unfairness on the other. Preposterous stories are told and flames of hate are fanned. To tie up one important war factory would be as good for our enemies as winning a military battle."

"So don't listen to such stories. Above all don't spread them. The rank and file of men in war plants are doing their jobs faithfully and efficiently, while industrial leaders the men responsible for delivery of planes, guns, tanks and ships, are on the job sometimes twelve to fifteen hours a day, six to seven days a week in order to meet the President's gigantic victory production program—which today, as the President himself has said, is actually being realized!"

Sentry: "Halt, who's there?"
American: "American."
Sentry: "Advance and recite the second verse of 'The Star Spangled Banner.'"
Voice: "I don't know it."
Sentry: "Proceed, American."

Heart of Texas" keep doing your part—supplying us all the materials we need and we'll soon have the Japs wishing they could "FORGET PEARL HARBOR".

THEY'RE OFF!

COME IN AND HAVE A LOOK, FOLKS!

Our Pig Growing Contest is off to a roarin', smortin' start. Just a couple of days ago, we picked out two frisky little porkers, both from the same litter. They were both fresh out of their mama's bottle, and each a living image of the other.

We brought these two pigs into the store and put them in separate pens. There they will eat and eat until they make big logs out of themselves. One gets all the grain he wants, and the other gets grain plus Purina Hog Chow.

Our door swings easy, folks, so come in!

WAKE UP AMERICA ... IT'S LATE!

The nation needs to awaken to the full gravity of the peril that confronts it.

It needs to appreciate how badly we have been defeated in three months of war.

It needs to understand that it is possible for the United Nations and the United States to lose this war and suffer the fate of France—and that this possibility may become a probability if the present tide does not change.

It needs to realize that there is a grave chance of the Japanese pushing through India and the Germans driving through the Near East, to join their armies and resources in an almost unbeatable combination.

It needs to get away, once and for all, from the comforting feeling that while we may lose at the start we are bound to win in the end.

Only when fully aware of existing perils will the United States do its utmost. Pray God that its awareness will not come too late, as it did in France!

Production Director Donald Nelson appeals for vastly increased industrial output on a 24-hour, seven-day basis—168 hours a week. Maximum production, in short.

Can we get it?

Not on the present basis, not under the psychology of recent years.

Not until we quit thinking in terms of less work for more money.

Not while there is greater concern about overtime pay than overtime production.

Not while Government bureaus—created to meet a depression emergency that is ended—continue to grab for themselves money needed for armaments.

Not while an army of Federal press agents clamor to promote and perpetuate activities that have no present need or value.

Not while Congressmen try to put over useless canal and river schemes and take up the time of defense officials clamoring for factories and contracts as if war were a great gravy train.

Not while WPA, despite a shortage of labor, seeks to carry on projects which it doesn't have the men to perform or the need for performing.

Not while CCC and NYA stretch greedy hands for funds to pamper young men who ought to be in the armed forces or the war plants.

Not while strikes hamper war production, despite a solemn promise that they would stop.

Not while life-and-death need for uninterrupted production is used as a weapon to put over the closed shop.

Not while double time is demanded for Sunday work, which is only part of a forty-hour week.

Not while a man can't be employed on an Army project or in a war plant until he pays $20 to $50 or more to a labor racketeer.

Not while criminal gangs control employment and allocation of men to work on the Normandy and other ships along New York's vast waterfront.

Not while fifth columnists are pampered and enemy aliens more freely in defense areas.

Not while the grim job of preparing our home communities against air raids and sabotage is gummed up with a lot of high-falootin' and pseudo-social service activities.

Not while pressure blocs clamor for higher benefits, bounties and pensions.

We will not get maximum production in short, unless we fully realize our awful peril; and, second, get over the gimmes of recent years.

Gimme shorter hours, gimme higher wages, gimme bigger profits, gimme more overtime, gimme less work, gimme more pensions, gimme greater crop benefits, gimme more appropriations and patronage, gimme plants for my Congressional district, gimme fees and dues to work for Uncle Sam, gimme ham 'n' eggs, gimme share-the-wealth, gimme $30 on every Thursday.

France had the gimmes, too—had them till the Germans were close to Paris. Then everybody went frantically to work—to late.

France has no gimmes today—except gimme food for my baby, gimme a place to lay my head, gimme death.

THINGS IN GENERAL

For those who advocate treating our lap rats like long lost brothers, with six-bit meals three times a day, ice cream and feather beds, we suggest they read an article in this week's Saturday Evening Post, by a man who was captured at Hong Kong but later escaped, with the help of Chinese friends. It merely adds to the vast amount of testimony already given by hundreds of white people who have been subjected to the tender considerations of the world's scummiest scum. Its good reading, but you probably won't sleep so well for a night or two—neither will your love be so great for the little yellow men. If it is, you are too good for this world.

RIGHT IN ITS PATH

FALSE PROPHETS

During the past few days, government officials and radio commentators have been frantically trying to stop talk about the war ending by this fall, or Jan. 1, 1943 at the latest. Just where the idea originated in the first place is not known, but there is any number of "believers" in every village, town and city. Usually it is the same bunch of wishful dreamers who last winter hooped at the idea of the Japs capturing Manila or Java or Singapore.

They have never returned to earth and realized that there is a war going on which is going to mean the complete destruction of one side or the other. They have never realized the advantages of preparing for a flood and receiving a shower, rather than preparing for a shower and receiving a flood. About all that such folks are interested in is their own comfort and inconveniences, and they will grab at the chattering of so-called experts to bolster their fond hopes.

No one wants to see the war continue—at least the citizen of sound mind doesn't—but to indulge in unground thinking isn't going to do the cause much good.

Just to show what some of the recognized experts know about the future, we quote from a radio speech of Maj. George Fieding Elliot on Nov. 10, 1941. This was just before Pearl Harbor:

"Japan is in no case to fight a war with a group of major opponents. Her army is sadly out of date, having not even one fully armored division, and being short of tanks, armored cars, anti-aircraft artillery and modern engineering equipment. As for Japanese air power, it is almost non-existent."

The American, Dutch and British naval and air forces are fully capable of isolating Japan from the world and bringing to bear the pressure of full blockade, a pressure which Japan could not long endure.

We are going to win this war.

all right. But it is going to be done with planes and tanks and artillery, and it will be "as soon as possible" not on Sept. 1, 1942, or Jan. 1, 1943, or any definite date. The main thing is for everyone to get started.

THE STORY SO FAR: Ellen Carey, daughter of the postmaster, is interested in Jeff Brand, a dashing rustler. A fourth rustler, Black Yeager, is killed under peculiar circumstances. Two riders had been shot at Terry while CHAPTER XX Calhoun Terry took no unnecessary chances with the safety of his passenger. He had brought to town with him three Diamond Reverse B riders. One of these he sent to the corral to hitch a horse to the buckboard. Another one took care of the horses. The third was a lad named Larry Richards.

At a nod from the ranch manager Larry followed along the plaza past Peggy Jim's pool room, the Crystal Palace, and the Evans store. Through the swing doors of the Red Triangle saloon he passed, drawing up to the bar.

There were half a dozen men in the room. Two upon whom his gaze fastened were Lee Hart and Jack Turley. They were playing a game of seven-card stud.

"Hank, bartender, said 'What'll you have, Larry?'"

Hank glanced up and stiffened. "Important customers patronizing this place, Hank," he said of the rustler. "Better get out yore best."

Young Richards was a cool, daring man, with more than a streak of recklessness. He was a close personal friend of his boss.

"If it isn't Lee Hart," he drawled, enthusiasm in his voice. "How's everything with you? Good calf crop this year?"

The rustler started to jump to his feet, but thought better of it.

"That's fine," Larry answered. "Neither am I. You had me scared for a moment, Lee."

Hank polished the top of the bar with a towel. "Now, gents," he pleaded. "Let's not have any difficulty."

"Better tell this young squirt to finish his drink and get out," Turley advised the bartender.

"On account of not having the smallpox," Larry inquired.

"Men from your outfit are not welcome at Round Top," Hart growled.

Richards recalled his instructions. He was posted here as a guard, with definite orders not to get into a fight. It would be better for him to let the small, but so small enough to encourage these men to jump him.

"I just dropped in for a last-chance drink on my way out of town," he mentioned in a placatory voice. "No offense meant, gents. I didn't know there was a deadline on our riders here."

Larry grinned down into his drink and refrained from further amenities.

The swing doors opened, to let in Slim.

"Dog my cats! Where did you drop from?"

Larry's expression of pleased surprise did credit to his ability as an actor.

"Been around," Slim said. "On my way back to the range now. How about you keeping me company?"

"I reckon I'll have to do that. Never saw it fall. When a fellow drops in, it's nice to know of someone, comes along and drags him away. Well, adios, gents! Been nice to meet you."

The cowboys sauntered out of the Red Triangle, mounted the two horses at the hitch-rack, and cantered up the street. They caught up with the buckboard before it had reached the cattle chutes by the railroad tracks. From the driver's seat Terry slanted an inquiring glance at Larry.

"Everything all right?" he asked. "As slip as you are, Terry."

The party ate lunch at the Box 55 restaurant. Terry introduced Powers to Lane Carey and his daughter.

"They don't approve of me or of the ranch," he explained to the Easterner. "But since you are only the owner and not responsible for the way it is run, perhaps you will escape criticism."

Powers had come West to find out all he could about local conditions. "Why don't you approve of the Diamond Reverse B, Mr. Carey?" he asked bluntly.

"I think it is one of the finest territories a young man can find in the West," the cattleman answered. "He was a little embarrassed at first, but you don't like the way it is managed."

"I don't think you can find in the territory a young man can handle better than Mr. Terry."

INSTALLMENT NINE dead from the buck. Someone—possibly Lee Hart, brother of one of the victims, took a shot at Cal from behind. A fourth rustler, Black Yeager, is killed under peculiar circumstances. Two riders had been shot at Terry while

"What do the women think about this trouble?" he asked.

"They think it is terrible," he said. "What else can they think, Mr. Powers, when they see such awful things going on? Some of them are frightened to death for fear their sons or their husbands may never come back to them alive."

"Because their men are thieves?"

"I suppose they are," Ellen carried on, impulsively. "But what of that? The women aren't to blame. Some of them try to hold back their husbands and their sons, but they can't. If they lose them, it doesn't make them any happier to know that they brought it on themselves. Some of those who once in a while brand a calf not their own are good men in a way—good to their families, kind neighbors, generous to those in need."

"Generous with other people's property," the Philadelphian suggested. "Well, no need thrashing that out. I am going to step out of this here before we get into it any deeper."

"I don't quite see how," said Carey.

"You and Miss Ellen will have to transfer your disapproval to some other ranch and some other manager. We are going to cut up the Diamond Reverse B into small chunks and offer them for sale at attractive prices."

Ellen felt a glow of joy beating up into her breast. If the Diamond Reverse B was broken up into smaller units, it was because under present conditions so large a ranch could not be made to pay. The No. By Joe and the other big outfits would have to follow the same course. The bitter feeling in the country would automatically disappear.

"I'm so glad!" she cried.

"Her eyes were on Calhoun Terry. She was speaking in him, perhaps asking him to forget the hot anger with which she had turned away from him at their last meeting. He understood her words as an apology.

CHAPTER XXI As Terry and Powers were leaving, Lane Carey noticed a newspaper sticking out of the Easterner's pocket.

"Is that a Denver paper, Mr. Powers?" he asked.

"The Denver Republican. Like to have a look at it?"

"At the cattle quotations, if you don't mind. I'm shipping next week."

Carey took the paper, but he never got from it the information he was seeking. A front-page story caught and held his eye. The headline was:

RUSTLERS WAR IN WYOMING

The story said that forty Texans had just reached the city and expected to leave within a day or two for some unknown point in the northwest. The rustler story started, were rough-looking customers armed with revolvers and 45-70 Winchester rifles. Most of them had been sheriffs or deputy United States marshals in Texas or Oklahoma. None of them knew exactly where they were going, and there was an air of mystery about their arrival, heightened by the rumors to be heard around the railroad yards.

The famous Sunday Brown was in charge of them, a man celebrated as a man-hunter in frontier days when the Indians were the bad men of the Southwest. It appeared that Brown had been seen talking with Clinton Ellison, secretary of the Wyoming Stock Association, but Ellison in an interview denied any knowledge of the Texans. He had heard a Wild West Show was being organized. As to this, he had no positive information. One of the Texas, who asked not to have his name given, had admitted to the reporter that they were heading for the cattle country to clean up the rustlers who had been stealing so flagrantly.

Carey passed the newspaper to Terry, pointing to the story.

Calhoun read it, not a flicker of expression on his face. It disturbed him even more than it did Carey, since he knew and the Box 55 man could only guess.

"Maybe a reporter's yarn to fill space," he said evenly.

Ellen pumped a question at Terry. "Do you think they are coming to the Buck River country?"

"There's something in the story about a Wild West Show," the foreman evaded.

"That doesn't mean anything," Ellen replied impatiently. "That's just something Mr. Ellison told the reporter. If they are coming here, what do they intend to do? One of the Texans said they were going to clean up the rustlers. Did he mean . . . kill them all?"

"I had a disagreement with Mr. Ellison," replied Terry. "When I told him I was urging Mr. Powers to cut up and sell the ranch, he felt I was deserting the big outfit group. I am no longer in the confidence of the association. Naturally they would tell me their plans."

"But what do you think?" Ellen insisted. "You must have an opinion."

"I think that if I were a rustler I would be hitting the trail for parts unknown," Calhoun answered, looking directly at her.

She worried about what she had read in the Republican, even after the foreman and Mr. Powers had left for the ranch. When Jeff Brand dropped into the crossroads stage station she lost no time in telling him the news.

"He would not believe the Texans were heading for the Buck River country, and if they came the invaders would find the district too hot for them. The news about the Diamond Reverse B interested him more."

"It's the beginning of the break-up of the big ranches," he told her excitedly. "I'll say for Terry that he is right. The Diamond Reverse B will get out in time and save its hide. Some of the others are so stubborn that they won't."

"Yes, they are stubborn," she agreed. "I'm glad Mr. Terry has broken with them. I never did believe he had anything to do with the killings."

Brand slanted a quick look at her. "Do you mean you think Mr. Powers thought the drylugger was?"

"No, I'm sure he doesn't know, and if he did he wouldn't tell me. We're not friendly."

"I'm headed down at the ground, drawing a line in the sand with my boot. I've spent a lot of time mulling that over, girl," he said. "It's someone who knows our habits might see it. He must have known Buck was going to be where he was the morning he shot him. The same goes for Teltow and Yeager. Not many men would know that, I've been down at the ground for a my mind forty times, but none of them said to me. Some of them are guys I would trust with my life. I have a specimen of his writing in my pocket now."

"Let me see it," she suggested.

"I've seen the writing of lots of people. When they send mail out, you know."

"Yes, and showed her the slip. Ellen read. "This is what happens to rustlers."

"Yes, I've seen the writing. At least I think so." She looked up at him, the light in her eyes quick.

"I'm not sure, but—"

Silent, his gaze on her, Brand waited.

"Did you ever suspect that man Terry?" she asked.

"Yes, and I thought it couldn't be Jack. He's too bitter against the big ranches."

She added: "I believe this is his writing. I'm not sure, but it looks like it."

He put the slip in his pocket, his eyes diamond-hard and bright.

Farm, Ranch Operators Are Helping Out

Small farm and ranch operators in West Texas are proving that they can contribute very materially to winning the war and at the same time help themselves to gain a permanently useful place in the nation's economy.

This was the point of a report on the war effort made this week by J. W. McDermott, county supervisor for the Farm Security Administration. He said this is particularly true of the low-income farm and ranch operators in Bailey county.

Citing records compiled in Washington, the county supervisor said that of all the increases of principal foods required by the Department of Agriculture, low-income operators participating in the Farm Security program in the south and southwest will produce from one-fourth to one-half of the total.

In Bailey county, Mr. McDermott said, the 1942 plans for Farm Security borrowers show that they have increased their gardens by 20 percent, their egg production by 25 percent, their milk and milk products by 20 percent, and their hogs and other meat supplies by 25 percent.

"The Food for Freedom program," said Mr. McDermott, presents an opportunity for low-income farm families to participate in the war-winning program, and the FSA's special Food for Freedom loan program enabled them to increase their operations to help feed this and the other United Nations during the war.

"Farm Security's Food for Freedom loans, in addition to the regular rehabilitation loans," he continued, "also enabled many farm families to make adjustments in accordance with feed resources, housing and equipment for handling the increased enterprise, and the increased poultry, livestock and garden programs."

Mr. McDermott said his agency is warning its borrower families against selling their products they may need at home for proper nutrition. This might be a temptation, he explained, because prices for these products may be higher than in the past several years.

With sufficient financial and supervisory help, low-income farmers in Bailey county and over the nation are proving that they can contribute an important share of the increased food production needed to win the war and write the peace.

However, the FSA encourages its borrower-families to protect their own diets and health before marketing any of the produce they raise this year.

"This precaution," he concluded, "because each individual must safeguard his own health if we are to make this a nation of strong people."

Soldier: "Yes, but I couldn't get in it."

Reporter: "Why not?"

"Not necessarily, my dear," her husband replied, not daring to look up.

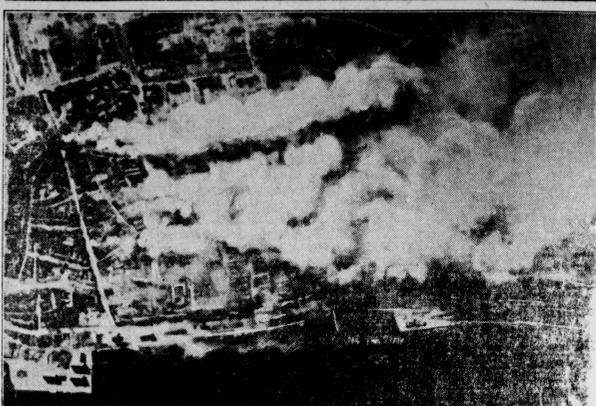

"If you want your dreams to come true, you'd better wake up."

BOTTLENECK CORKED

THE NAZIS WERE USING ROSTOCK to send supplies across the Baltic to their forces fighting in Russia. Throughout the winter, while the port was icebound, supplies piled up. They were to be moved as the spring thawed the sea. But before the Nazis could uncork this bottleneck, the Royal Air Force "corked" it with a devastating five-night series of powerful attacks with squadrons of Britain's newest and heaviest bombers. Mrs. Meacham Is Hostess To Fairview Club

The Fairview Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Ral- do Meacham Friday, June 5, in sead of Tuesday, June 9. The house was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Meacham, as Mrs. Terrell is on her vacation in Oklahoma. The roll call was answered by sayings of great men.

Miss Gentry gave a talk on "Work Clothes for Defense." She had several garments already made to show us how neat and comfortable work clothes could be and yet be inexpensive. A few of the members cut patterns from the work clothes.

The meeting adjourned, to meet with Berta Kitchens June 23. Punch and sandwiches were served to: Mrs. Dick Linsley, Mrs. T. P. Linsley, Mrs. McKnight and Mrs. Couth, Miss Janie Tinsley and Wilma Grace Bell of Turkey, Tex. all visitors, and to the following members: Mrs. Ruth Hunt, Opal Field, Hazel Reeder, Wheatley, Berta Kitchens, Pauline Meacham and Miss Gentry.

He was undersized, meek, diffident and subdued and he had applied for a job as night-watchman.

"Yes," said the manager, dubiously, "but the fact is we want someone who is restless and uneasy, especially at night. Someone who thinks the worst of everybody, and whose suspicions are seldom allayed. Someone who sleeps with one eye open. Someone with remarkable hearing who starts at the slightest sound. Someone who is always listening, thinking there are bad characters around. We want a large, aggressive, intrepid, and dangerous person, bad-tempered and revengeful. The kind of person, in short, who, when roused, is a fiend incarnate."

"All right," said the little man as he walked away. "I'll send the wife."

"We've enjoyed courtesy and willing service so much that we sort of hate to see the depression end."

DEPOSIT OF BENTONITE FOUND IN JASPER COUNTY

A 40-acre deposit of bentonite—a clay used extensively in the refining of petroleum and for rotary drilling muds—has been located in Jasper county, near the old townsite of Brownfield and has been mapped by the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology, with aid of WPA field crews, Dr. E. H. Sellards, bureau director, has announced.

The deposit is approximately 20 feet thick and is "very conveniently located for shipment to the market," Dr. Sellards said. "The latter feature," he added, "will undoubtedly influence the development of the material to a great extent, since nearness to rail transportation is one of the chief factors for successful exploitation of such resources."

In addition to use by the petroleum industry, bentonitic clays are also used in the manufacture of soaps, insecticides, cosmetics, polishes, adhesives, ceramic glazes, absorbents, and in road, roofing and floor materials.

Progress News

Attendance at Sunday school last Sunday showed a decrease. It was decided to start at 10:30 in the future instead of at 11 o'clock.

Friday night will be Community Night at the auditorium. Everyone is asked to come.

Eating More Lettuce Is Way To Better Health

Local stores are now featuring exceptionally good buys on lettuce and local homemakers are taking advantage of excellent crops this year, according to statements of Bailey county merchants today.

S. T. Logan, county agent, said the lettuce crop is especially abundant this year and he urged local homemakers to serve as many lettuce dishes as possible.

According to nutritionists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, green lettuce is a good source of carotene which the body changes into vitamin A. In addition it has some vitamin B1, some riboflavin and some vitamin C. Besides these vitamin contributions, lettuce is a good source of the minerals, iron and calcium.

The white leaves, called bleached lettuce are not as good source of these food values as are the green leaves. As far as iron and carotene are concerned, the thinner and greener the leaf, the more of these the lettuce contains.

Mr. Logan passed on these "tips" from the Department of Agriculture about the preparation of lettuce:

"Cut out the core of the lettuce with a sharp pointed knife. Then put the head under running water and let water run in where core has been removed.

This loosens and freshens the leaves—making it easy to slip the leaves off—each leaf, whole and unbroken—for use in preparing salads and sandwiches.

"Naturally, a lettuce leaf used in a salad or in a sandwich will not contribute a whole lot of food value. To get the good from lettuce eat more of it.

"There are many ways to fix lettuce. It is a perfect vegetable for salad and it gets along well with almost any vegetable combination. Will shredded head lettuce or leaf lettuce in a heavy skillet with some well-flavored fat—and season it with vinegar and chopped onions. Or cut head lettuce up in fourths and braise it just like you do cabbage.

A report was being circulated this morning that a 60-year-old man has a new tooth, but it may be false.

Marriage Of Popular Couple Is Announced

Announcement is made this week of the marriage of Zoe Juanita McReynolds to Edgar J. Miller, the wedding taking place at the Methodist parsonage in Tahoka, Tex., April 8, 1941. Word of the marriage came as a surprise to their many friends here who wish for them much happiness.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Allen McReynolds, and is a graduate of the Muleshoe high school, class of 1937. She has been a student at Texas Technological college for the past two and one-half years.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Miller of Plain view, Tex. He is a graduate of the Lockney high school and was a student at Texas Tech two years. Edgar is well known in Muleshoe and Bailey county, having been employed in highway construction work here for several months just before the war clouds began to thicken. He is now in the Army, stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla.

FORMER LOCAL TEACHER MARRIES AT ABILENE

Word was recently received here of the marriage of Miss Lucille Beatty and Rev. Clyde Campbell, at Abilene, Tex., on May 27.

Mrs. Campbell is a sister of Mrs. A. E. Lewis of Muleshoe and formerly taught in the local schools.

Reverend Campbell is pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Abilene, and teaches Bible at Hardin-Simmons University.

Mrs. Campbei has many friends here who extend congratulations and best wishes.

BIRTHDAY DINNER HONORS JACK LUMPKIN, SUNDAY

Jack Lumpkin was honored by a birthday dinner given Sunday by Mrs. Lumpkin, and enjoyed by a group of friends and relatives.

Coming as a surprise was the presence of Pvt. Noel Lumpkin, who arrived Saturday and spent Sunday with his family and friends.

Those present at the birthday dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Daniel of Sudan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rine of Sudan, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lumpkin, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lumpkin and Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Lumpkin and family, all of Muleshoe, Steve Lumpkin of Muleshoe, Jean and Dan Lumpkin of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Rone of Muleshoe and Mrs. J. D. Border of Muleshoe.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

The Santa Fe System carloadings for the week ending June 6, 1942, were 22,339 compared with 22,313 for the same week in 1941. Received from connections were 10,231 compared with 7,219 for the same week in 1941. The total cars moved were 32,590 compared with 29,532 for the same week in 1941. The Santa Fe handled a total of 32,298 cars during the preceding week of this year.

"HOB0" PARTY

The Intermediate class of the Methodist church enjoyed a "hobo" party Thursday evening at Fellowship Hall. The party was given by Mrs. Connie Gupton, teacher of the class, and Miss Elizabeth Harden, sponsor. Seventeen members were present. In a contest to determine the best hobo, Billie Green and Donnie Cox were winners.

SCOUTS TO LITTLEFIELD

Members of the Muleshoe Boy Scout troop will go to Littlefield Friday night for the annual swimming meet. The local Boy Scouts have always managed to make a good showing in this meet and are said to have a strong entry this year. Sunday the Scouts will leave for a week at Camp Post.

J. C. Smith, in company with members of the AAA board, are in Lubbock for a district meeting of that organization.

Do You Know TEXAS?

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas.

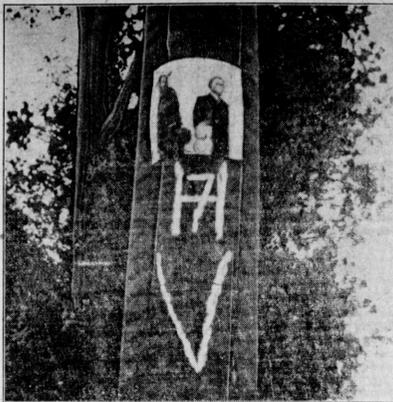

Q. Which state has the oldest house, Texas, New Mexico, or Florida? — H. C. C., Chicago, Ill.
A. New Mexico has the ruins of houses built by the ancient Aztecs that antedate the old and yet preserved missions of the early years of the eighteenth century in San Antonio and what ever still exists of structures erected by the first settlers in the Seventeenth century in St. Augustine, Florida.

ANNIVERSARY: On Jan. 15, 1942, the Texas Memorial Museum on the campus of the University of Texas celebrated its fourth anniversary. A very cordial invitation has been extended by Director E. H. Sellards to the general public to visit the museum.

Q. What was the least amount of money spent by a candidate to win the office of Governor of Texas? — P. B.

A. Gov. O. M. Roberts, under whose administration the present capitol building was financed and during whose last term the University of Texas was founded, claims the record for spending less than any candidate up to

Norwegians Defy Nazis

TESTIMONY to the spirit of independence which still burns brightly after nearly two years of German occupation is this photo of a telephone pole "somewhere in Norway." The pole bears a picture of King Haakon VII, Crown Prince Olav and the latter's little son, Harald, mounted by patriotic Norwegians in spite of the heavy punishment which is inflicted on all those caught by the Germans. Under the picture are chalked an "H 7" (for Haakon VII) and V for Victory. Photo is one of several brought from Norway by a refugee who escaped to Paris.

his time, and his record still stands. His campaign expense was exactly thirty-five cents. This was spent by a telegram he sent from Tyler to Austin, accepting the nomination of the Texas State Democratic Convention, he not being present when he was nominated.

CATTLE BUSINESS: The cattle business has existed in Texas since the very beginning of its occupation by the Spaniards. These people were born cattlemen from the sun-drenched hills of Andalusia; and in the semi-arid regions of northern Mexico there was small chance to develop the land except for the production of cattle.

WAR DEATHS: In answer to a question sent in by P. W. from Anson, Tex., we give the following information: The total number of battle deaths in the armies engaged in 1914-1918, was 7,485,000. Russia led the list by losing 1,700,000, and Germany followed with 1,600,000. Other were France 1,385,200; Great Britain 900,000; Austria 800,000; Italy 365,000; Turkey 250,000; Serbia and Montenegro 125,000; Belgium 102,000; Rumania 100,000; Bulgaria 100,000; United States 50,300; Greece 7,000, and Portugal 2,000.

Lariat People Attend League Rally, Plainview

Sunday, May 31, around 200 young people gathered at the city auditorium in Plainview for the rally of the Panhandle Lutheran Young People's association.

The theme for the rally was "Hope Thou in God." This very fitting and timely theme was aptly applied by the Reverend Lange of Wilson in his inspirational address, based on Romans 8:28. The inspirational service began at 11 a. m.

The association held its business meeting from 2 until 3 p. m. Then began the talent quest. The Lariat society won third place with 13 points.

The entries of St. John's Walthers League were as follows: Lillymae Kaltwasser, second in piano solo; Velma Kube, second in dramatic reading; Gilbert Kaltwasser, fourth in oration; Wilbert Kalbas, first in woodcraft; Paul Evans, fourth in soap sculpture; second place in one-act play contest.

Pastors of the six societies were judges of the talent quest. They are Rev. C. A. Gaertner, Plainview; Rev. E. Lange, Wilson; Rev. Loessel, Lubbock; Rev. E. Kiese, Littlefield; Rev. K. Keller, Clovis; and Rev. R. Weser, Lariat.

Eleven leaguers and 15 visitors from the Lariat church attended the rally.

The 1943 rally will be held in Littlefield.

Men put off things they ought to do, and women put off things they ought to wear.

"I don't want any callers this afternoon," said the business man to the office boy. "If they say their business is important, just tell them that's what they all say."

That afternoon a lady called and insisted upon seeing the man. "I am his wife," she explained. "That's what they all say," said the office boy.

Air raid warden: "I'm sorry, ma'am, but your husband had been taken to the hospital."

Wife: "Gracious, you frightened me. I thought something was wrong with my blackout."

SALESMAN: You won't find a better second-hand car anywhere than either of these. Wonderful buys!

CUSTOMER: If I only knew how the engines had been treated... what oil the ex-owners used.

SALESMAN: This one, I don't know. But this red job I happen to know had nothing but Conoco Nth motor oil from its first mile!

CUSTOMER: Well, why didn't you say so! Conoco Nth! I'll take the red job, of course! First of all, whoever owned that car knew what was best for a car when they used Conoco Nth. With Conoco Nth in the crankcase, I'm sure the cylinders and moving parts were protected by OIL-PLATING—lubricant that doesn't all drain down at every chance, but stays on the job.

SALESMAN: Well, that'd sell me the red one.

CUSTOMER: Why, man, Conoco Nth can help keep an engine so clean of sludge and carbon that it easily ought to mean good long life. I'm going to cash in on this car's value—and keep on using Conoco Nth.

You can cash in, too. Cash in by getting all the engine life and good oil mileage that are winning sensational sales success for Conoco Nth oil. See Your Conoco Mileage Merchant today! Continental Oil Company

From where I sit . . .
by Joe Marsh

A FEW weeks ago, I had occasion to visit some friends of mine in Nebraska.

Nebraska certainly is a great State. I like Nebraska. I like those immense cornfields that seem to stretch from horizon to horizon. (Plenty of wheatfields in Nebraska, too.)

But the thing that interests me most about Nebraska right now is the very important social experiment she has been people started there several years ago.

Beer itself is naturally a beverage of moderation. Yet, all too often, people are inclined to blame beer wrongly for any misconduct of the customer or the proprietor in a place licensed to sell beer.

So, the brewers got together to see what they could do about this. They weren't really responsible for their retailers. . . In fact, they're not allowed to control retailers. But the brewing industry worked out a plan by which it cooperates with the public authorities to eliminate bad conditions in the minority of places whose conduct would reflect on the law-abiding majority.

Somewhat, to me, that's a mighty important, public-spirited effort. I don't know of anything like it ever having been tried before. If people really help the brewers with that program they'll be doing a great thing for the country.

Al Gets New Hat For Duration

Former New York Governor Al Smith swapped his famed brown derby for a red, white and blue Uncle Sam hat when he bought two seats to the $50,000,000 War Bond premiere of Warner Bros. "Yankee Doodle Dandy" from Mrs. Douglas Gibbons, chairman of the ticket committee of the New York War Savings Staff. The picture, which portrays the life of George M. Cohan, will open at the Hollywood Theater in New York on May 29. Seats for the opening sell from $25 to $25,000 each. Buyers get a War Bond to match each ticket.

(From files of June 10, 1937)
The Western Drug Store last week installed one of the nicest soda fountains in this section of the state. It is known as the "Liquid Carbonic" fountain, is 20 feet long and finished in beautiful two-tone grey marble.

Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Clyde Holt of Morton and Miss Mary Holt of Muleshoe, entertained with a miscellaneous bridal shower in the home of Mrs. H. C. Holt, in honor of Miss Irma Willis, whose approaching marriage to Mr. Ferrel Little will take place June 18.

Dick Rocky last week purchased the H. C. Edmonds home in the west part of Muleshoe.

Devastating hail, accompanied by sheets of rain fell over the Muleshoe territory Monday afternoon, damaging crops and gardens, puncturing auto tops and knocking fruit off the trees.

A professor was trying to demonstrate a simple experiment in the generation of steam.

"What have I in my hand?" he asked.

"A tin can," was the answer.

"Exactly. Now can any little boy tell me how, with this tin can, it is possible to generate a surprising amount of steam almost beyond control?"

"One little boy raised his hand. 'You may answer, Carter.'"

"The tin to a dog's tail."

A Welsh regimental choir was singing outside the officers' mess after dinner.

The colonel called the unmusical sergeant-major.

"Look here," he said, "go and tell the choir to sing 'Sweet and Low.'"

The sergeant-major went out and bawled to the leader: "If you blokes can't make less noise the colonel says you've got to clear off."

"We were so happy for over a year, your honor, and then—the baby came."

"Boy, or girl?"

"Girl—she was a blonde and moved in next door."

Nationwide Bag Saving Program Gets Underway

Bailey county farmers, farm organizations, grain, feed and seed dealers were asked today by Lonnie Arnold, chairman of the Bailey County USDA War Board, to aid in the nationwide bag conservation program launched recently by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

"Every farmer and dealer in this county," Arnold said, "has an important part to take in the conservation of fabric bags (burlap and cotton) needed for agricultural commodities this year."

"There is a shortage of bags now, but if we take care of those we have and keep them in use we will be doing much to offset the shortage and a great deal to prevent it from becoming a serious one."

"Wartime expansion in American agriculture means that approximately two billion bags will be needed for packaging farm commodities in 1942. That is roughly 500 million more bags than would be used under normal conditions."

"Our part in the conservation program is to see that every bag now on hand and in use does its full job and a great deal more. War has cut deeply into the supplies of burlap from India and the stocks of this material now on hand must be shared with our military forces. We have plenty of cotton in the raw state, but mills having the facilities to make bagging material are operating to capacity to turn out war orders."

Arnold pointed out that farmers can take the first step in bag conservation by taking stock of the bags they have on hand, by sorting them for size, type and condition and storing them in places where they will be safe and dry. Farmers are urged to sell the bags they will not need.

Home Dem. Agent's Column

The Bailey County Home Demonstration council met recently with seven members present from four clubs.

Plans were made for community achievement events, repair clinics for pressure cookers and a demonstration to be given in each club in June on "Caring for the Sick in the Home."

Each club has taken as one of its expansion goals the setting up of at least one exhibit on "Food for Defense" and on "Clothing for Defense." Baileyboro and Progress clubs gave reports on exhibits which they had set up.

Those in attendance were Mrs. A. E. Newton, Mrs. V. C. Weaver, Miss Dyalthis Swift, Miss Evadne Holley, Miss Elzada McMahan, Mrs. G. T. Maltby, Mrs. Everett Smith, and one visitor, Miss Cleo Rains.

Big Demand for Tomatoes
Citizens will have difficulty in buying processed tomatoes this fall and winter due to advance orders from the Quartermaster General's department of the U. S. Army, which will absorb practically all of the 100 million cases of tomatoes processed in the nation this season.

In view of this, every patriotic housewife, 4-H Club girl and boy should first of all plant an abundant supply of tomatoes and get in readiness every available glass and second-hand tin container and see that the sealing supplies for these are on hand for the canning season.

Ripe or green tomatoes are a rich and cheap source of Vitamin C, which prevents bleeding gums, loose teeth, sore joints and loss of appetite and weight. Ripe tomatoes have abundant Vitamin A, which guards against dry eye and night blindness.

Substituting for Sugar
Many housewives are brought face to face with the fact that a good many pies cakes and other pastries and desserts must be left off the menu because of lack of sugar for their preparation.

Many of the foods may be successfully prepared using molasses or honey and in some instances the flavor is actually improved.

It takes about one and one-half cups of molasses to equal one cup of sugar in sweetness. Each cup contains about one-fourth cup of water so the liquid in a recipe should be reduced in proportion. If products are leavened, about one-fourth teaspoonful of soda should be used for each cup of molasses or sorghum.

Molasses and honey burn easily so the temperature should be lower than the temperatures for baking mixtures made with sugar.

Mixtures made with honey brown easily so cooking temperature should be lowered. A cup of honey gives approximately the same amount of sweetness as one cup of sugar, so the exact amount may be used. However, each cup of honey contains about one-fourth cup of liquid, so the liquid requirements of the recipe should be reduced one-fourth cup for every cup of honey, quince, plum and currant jellies can be made by using three-fourths cups of honey to one cup of juice. Boil the juice for ten minutes, add honey and cook to 220°F; skim and pour into hot sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin.

Boyce House Out For Lieut. Gov.
The entry of Boyce House this week into the race for lieutenant governor has added interest to the campaign for that office. This is House's first race for office, but it is conceded by political observers that he will be a strong contender. This is due to his wide acquaintance, his thorough understanding of the problems of every section, and his popularity with the ranch and farm people.

Besides his column, "I Give You Texas," which appears in more than 200 newspapers, he has written five books on Texas. House lives in Fort Worth, is an ex-newspaperman and was educated in Texas. His stories of Texas ranch and farm life, from the early days of the state to the present, are read by more than a million people.

Member Signal Corps Writes Poem

The poem which follows was written by Sgt. Kenneth W. Jennings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jennings of Muleshoe, and a member of the U. S. Signal Corps.

LET'S NOT FORGET

To the Army we give our life
Our Selective Service term of strife.
And all for what, we do not know
All our work just goes for show.

You can bet when we get home
Nevertheless will we roam.
We will dream of days gone by
When the Japs were on the fly.

We'll remember Luzon and Bataan
For those who died will carry on
Corregidor was not lost in vain
Its name will live in the Hall of Fame.

Pearl Harbor we'll remember well
When he died in that flaming hell
Will be remembered very long
In many poems and songs.

These things we say that we will do
But do we swear that they are true?
As in the past will memory fade
And we forget just what they paid.

For what they died will freedom ring
Till all the bells and let's all sing.
The Rising Sun we knew has set
We have our freedom; let's not forget.
—Sgt. Kenneth W. Jennings

The principal reason why things are in the fix they're in is because the Siren of Hope drowns out the Voice of Experience.

Beat The Japs To It

THE COMMANDOS have taken many a poke at the Nazis (this picture shows them in a famous Norway fight). Now they are reported to have been the spearhead of the British troops which stormed the richly-held island of Madagascar. The Japs wanted Madagascar as a base for raiding vital Allied supply lines to India and the Middle East, but President Roosevelt has pledged that the United Nations will hold it in trust for France in order to protect it from attack by any one of the Axis powers.

Amendments To Affect Workers In Armed Forces

LUBBOCK, Tex. — Two proposed amendments affecting the workers who have entered the armed forces and civilian employees of the U. S. Government have been recommended to Congress by the Social Security Board, according to a statement made by John D. Palmer, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security Board.

"The first of these proposals," Palmer said, "calls for the protection of the insurance rights of workers entering the armed services of our nation. This may be accomplished according to the Board's idea by the 'freezing' of a worker's insurance benefits as of the date of his entry into the armed service. Another plan would be to extend the coverage of old-age and survivors insurance to include employment by the armed forces," Palmer said.

The second proposal which is considered of vital importance to workers applies to civilian workers in the employ of the Government. "While it is true these workers are receiving Civil Service rights, their rights under the old-age and survivors insurance system are jeopardized since, under the present law, employment by the Federal Government is not covered. The Board has recommended to Congress that the law be amended to protect the rights of such workers while employed on Government projects.

It was emphasized by Palmer that neither of the above proposals has been acted on by Congress and it is not known when amendments to the Social Security Act will be taken up. "It is our hope," Palmer concluded that something will be done regarding these two proposals as an early date since many people are constantly making inquiries concerning them, especially the one affecting the worker who has joined the Army, Navy or Marine Corps."

DALLAS, Tex. June 9 — There will be no 1942 State Fair of Texas.

Decision to forego the annual exposition, known as "The world's largest and most beautiful state fair," was reached by the Board of Directors after Harry L. Seay, president of the institution, made a report on his survey of conditions brought about by the national emergency.

Lack of transportation for both exhibits and patrons decided the issue. The shortage, possible gasoline rationing and a scarcity of shipping facilities influenced the decision. Many of the leading fairs of both the United States and Canada have been called off for the duration.

Grounds and buildings of the $15,000,000 plant of the State Fair of Texas have been tendered to the United States Government for whatever use it may see fit to make of them. Mr. Seay announced.
