'Nobody loves me,' shouted the man whose home address was testimony of his human state

DALLAS (AP) - Horrified witnesses told police the young man shouted pitifully "Nobody loves me" then walked into the middle of a busy intersection, lay down on the street and awaited the oncoming traffic.

Just before a car struck him, witnesses said the 6-foot-tall man raised his head to the level of the bumper of an oncoming station wagon. Police said the victim, identified as Bill Haynes, 34, was dragged 25 feet after the

Officers said they consider the death a suicide, although a formal ruling has not yet been made by the medical examiner pending a toxicology

'He was a very lonely man, a man who needed much guidance," said Helene Frye, 55, who said she had known Haynes four years. "He was a brilliant man, even though he didn't have much formal education.'

The victim's brother, Thomas Haynes, 32, of Phoenix, Ariz., said, "It just doesn't sound like him at all. I grew up with him. He always had a good personality. He was a super salesman with a knack for talking to Thomas Haynes said his brother was one of eight children born in Logan County, W.Va., to a coal miner. He said his brother had plenty of friends in school, served in the Navy, and more recently traveled around the country, taking one sales job after another.

Haynes was married and the father of two children, his brother said Police investigator Gerald R. Robinson said officers had not talked to the

"As far as we're concerned, it is a suicide," Robinson said. "He lay down in the middle of the roadway and was struck by a car. Witnesses told the man to get out of the road, but he shouted back, 'Nobody loves me. "I'll say one thing - the guy had guts," Robinson said.

About 15 witnesses saw the death, according to police. They said Haynes had spent the night drinking and going from bar to bar. Bystanders told police for a while he played like a bullfighter with passing cars on busy Cedar Springs, darting into their paths and waying an Army camouflage jacket like a matador's cape.

"He'd never kill himself," said Thomas Haynes.

But Robinson said," "I can understand why his family wouldn't believe it. That's the case with nine out of 10 suicides.'

Police said Haynes' identification card showed he was a salesman. It gave his address as 2022 Lonesome Circle.

U.S. envoy seeking release of Americans held in Iran

The Associated Press

Former Attorney General Ramsey Clark and a Senate aide flew to Iran today carrying a letter from President Carter to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and other Moslem leaders asking them to free 60 Americans held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran under threat of death by pro-Khomeini demonstrators.

In London, the British Broadcasting Corp. reported without attribution that two Americans were taken from the Hilton Hotel in Tehran and put with the hostages at the embassy. BBC television also reported Americans were being rounded up around

Carter said of Clark's mission "we hope it will (succeed), we pray it

The demonstrators said Tuesday they would kill the hostages if the United States attempted a rescue operation. The United States has said several times it had no such plans.

The BBC also quoted Khomeini as saying he did not fear military intervention by the United States because "America is far to impotent to do so.

"If they had been able to intervene they would have kept the shah (in power). They tried with all their might, including propaganda, to keep him here, but our nation paid no heed. The nation wanted something, and America was unable to stand up to

"Our nation regards America as its No. 1 enemy because America has ment said. admitted the deposed shah - who is our greatest enemy — and taken him under its protection," the BBC quoted Khomeini as saying in a broadcast by

Landowners' bid denied without public hearing

RANKIN - The Upton County Water District scrapped a public hearing requested a month earlier by landowners protesting their inclusion in the taxing district and denied more than 150 landowners their request to be excluded from the district here Tuesday night.

There was no discussion on the unanimous denial after board member Billy Rankin moved that the landowners' request "be overruled and denied." Adjournment, again unanimous by the five-member board, immediately followed. And the landowners, fearful that the water district might over tax them and garner their water rights, immediately called a meeting in the courtroom and decided to file a law suit against the district. 'We don't think the district is legal to start with," said Dallas attorney Paul Phy, who represents the landowners. "They (water district members) didn't afford the landowners the right to be excluded from the district." Many of the landowners, organized through the Upton County Landowners Association, are farmers and ranchers in the rural areas of Upton County. Others live outside

The landowners, who had formally presented petitions to the board Oct. 2, had expected to explain their viewpoint to the board Tuesday night. But the gist of the petitions, even if considered by the board, wasn't dis-"I'm glad we live in a democratic nation," sarcastically cried Mike Ratliff, a landowner-farmer, just after adjournment in which all but one - Bud Poage - of the water board members bolted from the courtroom. With them went the board's attorneys, John Menefee of McCamey and Pete Tart of Dallas, and the board's consulting hydrologist and engineers.

Although displeased with the board's decision, the landowners were not surprised at the ruling. Earlier that day, they already had planned their new route the lawsuit - should their request be turned down.

"It makes me that much madder and more determined," said Benedum farmer Frank Evridge, vice president of the Upton County Landowners Association. "That's the most chicken--- thing I've seen," St.

Voters throughout the nation express themselves

Demos retain control in cities, win in Mississippi and Kentucky

The Associated Press

Cleveland Mayor Dennis Kucinich is out after two years of battling the city's bankers and his own party establishment. But Democrats retained control of other big-city governments and withstood spirited statehouse challenges in Mississippi and Kentucky.

Kucinich, who had survived last year's recall vote and two defaults on the city's debts, lost decisively to George V. Voinovich, Ohio's Republican

Even in defeat, Kucinich was still fighting. "We sacrificed the mayor's office because we refused to bow and serve to the money power of this community," he said in a defiant concession speech late Tuesday. The final tally gave Voinovich 94,407 to 73,505 for Kucinich, who told his subdued supporters, "We stood up for the people against the corporations that are attacking the consumers every day. Voinovich said he hopes Cleveland will have a new era of "understanding and cooperation" while he is mayor. "I'm confident we have the resources in this community to become a great city again," he told supporters. Political novice John Y. Brown was elected governor of Kentucky, while political veteran William Winter captured the Mississippi statehouse.

Democrat Kevin White won an unprecedented fourth straight four-year term in Boston. And in Philadelphia, former Democratic U.S. Rep. William J. Green will succeed flamboyant, law-and-order Mayor Frank Rizzo.

In Minneapolis, Donald Fraser scored a comeback for the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party with his election as mayor of the city he served as San Francisco Mayor Dianne Feinstein, appointed after Mayor George Moscone was slain last year, faced a Dec. 11 runoff with second-place finisher Quentin Kopp, a city supervisor. Final unofficial tallies in the 10-person race gave Ms. Feinstein a narrow lead with 81,115 votes to Kopp's 77,784. Another runoff is in store in Houston, where Democratic Mayor Jim McConn finished first but will have to battle Councilman Louis Macey, his chief critic in city government, on Nov. 20.

Democrat William Donald Schaefer won a third term in Baltimore. Republicans Tom Moody in Columbus, Ohio, William Hudnut in Indianapolis and Margaret Hance in Phoenix, Ariz., were returned to office.

Ted Wilson, a Democrat, won re-election easily in Salt Lake City. Richard Hatcher, who was the first black elected mayor of a major city, easily won a third term in Gary, Ind. Incumbent Democrats Doug DeGood in Toledo, Ohio and Maurice Ferre in Miami and Republican Mayor Lewis Murphy in Tucson, Ariz., also won.

Midlanders OK two issues in very light turnout

Fewer than 5 percent of the total number of registered voters in Midland County turned out Tuesday to pass two constitutional amendments and defeat one in the statewide general election.

Of the 32,000 registered voters in Midland, only 1,393 persons cast a ballot in the election, and that includes the 79 that voted absentee. Proposed amendment number one passed easily, 839 to 545. This would change the authority of approving notaries public from the county clerks' offices and hand it over to the secretary of state's office. It also would provide for four-year terms for the notaries, instead of the current The second proposed amendment was defeated locally, 556 for to 824

This amendment was the more controversial one on the ballot with Gov. Bill Clements, the League of Women Voters and State Sen. Pete Snelson opposing it.

The bill would have given the State Legislature power to review the rulemaking policies of agencies under the executive branch. Snelson had argued that it thwarts the separation of powers theory with the legislative branch taking control over part of the executive branch. The third proposed amendment barely received Midland county's approval with 712 in favor and 671 against.

This amendment would allow the state of Texas to sell general obligation bonds to guarantee loans to qualified borrowers wanting to purchase farm and ranch real estate.

Snelson had favored this amendment, saying it would provide the money to young people wanting to enter the agriculture business. The average age of the farmer is going up, and it is difficult for people to obtain an agriculture loan today without a great deal of security, Snelson

Selling $10 million in bonds would be sufficient for guaranteeing loans All precincts in Midland County were in favor of the first amendment with the exception of one polling place, and that was at the Midland County Exhibit Building where precincts 16 and 25 voted. Three polling places favored or were tied in their opinion of the second amendment. The 14 voters who cast a ballot at the Exxon Midkiff Camp were tied in their opinion of the issue. Those who voted in precinct

Texas electors fail to establish clear trend in statewide voting

The Associated Press

Texas voters soundly expressed their independence at the polls during Tuesday's off-year elections, hiring and firing local officials and approving or rejecting bond issues without setting any clear trends.

Voters approved two amendments to the constitution, but rejected a third. One incumbent mayor was ousted, one mayor pro-tem lost in a recall vote, and Houston's mayor was thrown into a bitter runoff.

Voters in Tarrant County showed what they thought of the treasurer's job — they eliminated it. But in Dallas County seven controversial bond proposals blasted by activists as benefitting only the wealthy sailed to approval with surprsing ease

The only issue common to all ballots in Texas were the three proposed constitutional amendments. Voters defeated the one that would have granted the Legislature the power to veto state agency rules and regula-

Proponents of a Proposition 1, which would appoint notaries public statewide instead of county-by-county, garnered 65 percent of the vote in late returns.

Voters rejected Proposition 2, which would have granted the Legislature the veto power, by a 52 percent to 47 percent margin. Proposition 3, aimed at preserving family farms through a $10 million state bond program, seemed destined for passage with 54 percent of the vote favor-

At 12:20 a.m. today, with 252 of 254 counties reporting, 240 complete, the results were Proposition 1 - 283,266 for, 149,654 against; Propostition 2 -202,699 for, 221,760 against; Propostition 3 - 233,552 for, 196,928 against.

The state constitution has now been amended 232 times since it was adopted in 1876.

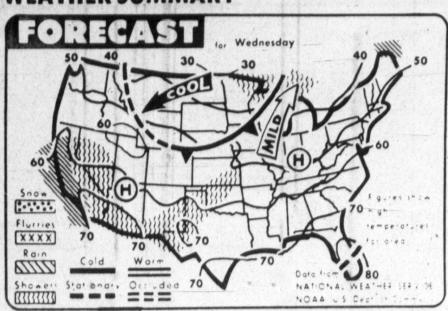

Incumbent Jim McConn was the frontrunner for re-election in the Houston race for mayor, but failed to receive a majority and was forced into a Nov. 20 runoff with his bitter political opponent, Councilman Louis Macey.

The Houston City Council, increased in size from eight to 14 members, gained its first Hispanic in State Rep. Ben Reyes, a Democrat. Three blacks also won council seats, as did five of seven incumbents. Another incumbent was leading, and the other was headed for a runoff.

Tarrant County voters appproved by a three-to-one margin a measure that would abolish the county treasurer's office. The vote was 23,20 to 7,260. But a Tarrant County tax limitation proposal failed by a vote of 16,193 to

In Dallas, all seven issues in a $54.6 million bond package were passed. The biggest vote against the tax-supported bonds for a variety of arts facilities, the Dallas Convention Center, roads, storm drains and downtown improvements, came in East Dallas, but voter turnout was only about 15 percent. The favorable vote came in North Dallas, where turnout was as high as 30 percent.

In Austin, a $5 million bond proposal to build an office building and garage in Travis County passed by a vote of $,952 to 5,391.

Showers are forecast today over parts of the Southwest, reaching across Oklahoma into Nebraska and over sections of Minnesota and Wisconsin. Rain is expected for much of the California coast and in northern Maine. (AP Laserphoto Map)

Culver Home expected to reopen soon

Midland County's Culver Youth Home, a minimum security detention facility for juveniles, probably will be back in operation by the end of next Juvenile Probation Officer Grover Green said this morning that the county is reviewing four applications for the position of house parents at the facility, located at 3800 N. Lamesa Road.

The 11-year old facility has been closed since Oct. 8 when the last couple serving as house parents resigned, according to Green.

The officer said the couple indicated the job was too confining. But he acknowledged this morning that the salary paid house parents may be too

The juvenile probation officer said he will meet Monday with County Judge Bill Ahders and county commissioners to discuss salary for house

Presently, a couple is paid $672 per month for serving as house parents in the facility. That salary increases to $746 a month after six months, Green noted.

All expenses of the house parents are paid by the county with the exception of clothing, Green said.

The job requires that the house parents be in the facility 24 hours a day, five days a week, he said. If the house parents work seven days instead of five per week, they are paid an additional $60, Green noted. Although the county has experienced difficulties in finding new house parents, Green said, "I believe we'll be able to open it up by the end of

Employment officials in Midland told the county that another reason it is difficult to find new house parents is the county's low unemployment

Since the Culver Youth Home has been closed, juveniles taken in to custody in Mfdland have been housed at either the county jail or the city jail. Last year an average of six juveniles per day were housed in Culver Youth Home, Green said.

Prosecutors hope to link Pasadena physician to alleged 'hired killer'

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) -Prosecutors hope to link Pasadena physician Archie Burkhalter to a man he allegedly hired in a murder plot with the same evidence used to convict the other defendant.

State District Judge Darrell Hester called the material offered as evidence "damning" Tuesday and postponed a ruling on its use until today.

Burkhalter is accused of hiring S.J. Wilburn and Scott David Minnick for $15,000 and a car to kill John Hensley, witness against the doctor in a kidnapping case.

Henlsey survived a Feb. 15 rifle blast to the face, but lost his sight. Hensley is married to Burkhalter's ex-wife, the victim in the alleged kidnapping.

The kidnapping case has been postponed until the current attempted capital murder trial is over.

Wilburn was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in the Hensley shooting. At his trial, Cameron County prosecutors produced letters from Wilburn to his girlfriend along with a diary he purportedly kept about plans to kill Hensley.

Jurors weigh fate of Cullen Davis

McCrory.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - An 11-member jury panel began deliberations today in the murder-for-hire trial of millionaire Cullen Davis.

The jury will consider 12 weeks of testimony and two days of fiery final

The panel, reduced to 11 members because one juror broke her leg and had to drop out, received the case Tuesday night but decided to wait until today to start deliberations.

The jury must decide if Davis is innocent or guilty of either of two charges - solicitation of capital murder or conspiracy to commit capital

Both charges carry penalties of five to 99 years or life in prison.

A Houston jury deadlocked 8-4 for conviction last January in Davis's first murder conspiracy trial.

Kennedy's candidacy announced

BOSTON (AP) - Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, decrying the "lack of a clear summons from the center of power," today announced that he is challenging President Carter for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomina-

Kennedy, heir to a modern political legend, became the third Kennedy brother to seek the White House.

In remarks prepared for delivery at historic Faneuil Hall, the Massachusetts senator accused the Carter administration of failing to set national goals. He said there is a conflict of direction in the administration.

'Fear spreads that our leaders have resigned themselves to retreat," the Massachusetts senator said. "This country is not prepared to sound retreat. It is ready to advance. It is willing to make a stand. And so

Kennedy has been mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in every election since 1968. But today's announcement marked his first entry into the quadrennial race. On Thursday, California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., is to enter the race for the Democratic nomination, and on Dec. 4 President Carter is to announce his quest for reelection.

Members of the Kennedy family sat in the front row as Edward Kennedy launched his first bid for the presidency once held by his late brother John F. Kennedy.

In his announcement speech, Kennedy's criticized the domestic policies of the Carter administration. While never mentioning President Carter by name, Kennedy's references to the Democratic incumbent were unmis-

"I question no man's intentions," he said. "But I have a different view of the highest office in the land — a view of a forceful, effective presidency, in the thick of the action, at the center of all the great concerns our people share.' He said, "The failures are stark: - Workers are forced to take a second job to make ends meet because wages are rising only half as fast as prices. "- Families go into debt and suffer real financial hardship to educate their children. This year the poorest 10 percent of our population must pay 119 percent of their income for the necessities of life. That means they go with-

out. In a reference to criticism both from the Carter administation and Republican presidential candidates that he is tied to a philosophy of continued high levels of government spending to deal with social probelms, Kennedy said:

"We can say, and truly so, that we cannot solve any of our problems by throwing money at them. But we must develop more effective answers in areas such as education and jobs, especially for the young now entering the world of work, and measures to make our cities and towns places where people can live in dignity and

On inflation, Kennedy said: "Surely, the nation that came back from the depression half a century ago can role back the tides of inflation.

On energy, Kennedy called for a policy "imaginative enough to bring our citizens to conserve old sources of energy, while we speed the pursuit of new forms of energy, including power from the sun

"We need not be permanent beggers at the banquet tables of the OPEC rulers," he said. "Nor should we rush to embrace a nuclear future until we are certain this will not threaten the future itself."

ment 44 to 31. The third amendment gained eight polling places' approval with three voting it down. and prosecutor Jack Strickland. Haynes painted a scathing portrait of key prosecution witness David

"The man is a salesman. He sold the FBI," Haynes spat, referring to McCrory as "scurrilous...a man totally lacking in character ... a manipulator" who lied to his son and to his mother.

"Did he sell Cullen Dayis?" Haynes asked.

In the summer of 1978, McCrory turned informant on his one-time pool-shooting pal, telling FBI agents Davis had ordered him to hire the murders of 15 persons, including Judge Joe Eidson

FBI agents faked "proof" of Eidson's death, wired McCrory with hidden taping equipment and recorded two crucial meetings between the informant and Davis.

Moments before his Aug. 20 arrest, Davis gave McCrory $25,000. McCrory said the money was to pay a "hit man" but Davis said McCrory won the cash gambling and he had been keeping it for him.

Strickland dismissed Haynes' contentions, conceding that McCrory's going to the FBI was out-of-character, but insisting it was legitimate in light of the circumstances.

"Do you really believe the FBI, the Texas Rangers and the U.S. Attorney's office were McCrory's pup-pets?" he asked. "Do you believe (prosecutor John) Bankston and I are puppets, with David McCrory off somewhere pulling the strings?

In 1977, Davis was acquitted of murder charges in the Aug. 3, 1976 shooting death of his 12-year-old stepdaughter, Andrea Wilborn. One other person was killed and two others, including his then-estranged wife, Priscilla, were wounded in a shooting spree at Davis' $6 million Fort Worth mansion. Davis now occupies the home with his third wife, the former Karen Master.

Rain chance still about 30 percent

Overcast skies greeted Midlanders this morning, giving credence to the weatherman's forecast for tonight of a 30 percent chance for showers.

The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport recorded a trace of rain overnight. But that kept the yearly accumulation at 13.25 inches. While the Tall City remained dry, residents of Andrews, Lamesa, Stanton and Big Spring were reporting light showers early today. Lamesa reported the heaviest shower with the weather watcher there saying it had been "raining straight down since 6:30 a.m."

Skies are to begin clearing Thursday, said the weatherman. And temperatures should be getting warm as the high is expected to get into the upper 60s. Low tonight should be in the mid-40s.

High Tuesday was 53 degrees recorded at 9 p.m. Record high for a Nov. 6 is 84 degrees set in 1977. Overnight low today was 50 degrees, almost 30 degrees above the record low for that date of 22 degrees set in

Former South Korean president freed

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) - Former South Korean President Yun Posun was freed today after being held under house arrest since 1976. Yun had not been permitted to receive visitors since Oct. 23, three days before the assassination of President Park Chung-hee. He said his release signified an easing of Park's repressive policies. Yun called for free elections to choose a successor to Park. Otherwise, he warned in an interview with The Associated Press, "there will be great trouble.

Yun, one of Park's leading critics, also urged the release of all political prisoners.

The 82-year-old former president called on the National Assembly to revise the constitution and schedule free presidential elections "as soon

'We have suffered nearly 20 years under Park's regime," he said. "We really need change. Otherwise it will be too late. We can't stand any The legislature reconvenes Nov. 15.

Yun, who was deposed by Park in a military coup in 1961, said popular opposition makes it impossible to follow constitutional provisions for choosing a new president.

Those provisions, written by Park in 1972 under martial law, provide that the nation's electoral college choose the next president in 90 days, without debate or campaigning. Should that procedure be applied, Park's successor would be chosen, in effect, by the small group of civilian and military officials in charge, informed political sources said.

Yun said he expects to meet with the leader of the opposition New Democratic Party, Kim Young-sam, and other opposition leaders, as well as government figures. However, he refused to say which party or candidate he would support in new elections.

The former president is under a suspended five-year prison term imposed in 1976 after he, former presidential candidate Kim Dae-jung and others signed a manifesto urging Park to resign and calling for constitutional reform.

Bolivian colonel considering plan to form junta, hold set election

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) - Col. Alberto Natusch is considering a proposal that he form a junta with two members of Congress, sharing the power he seized in a coup; and hold a presidential election as scheduled in May, congressional sources report.

The proposal was made by 20 leading members of Congress who met Tuesday night with Natusch. The colonel went into conference with his top military associates to consider the proposal, said a congressional source who asked not to be identified.

"The conversations are arriving at a happy end," said Auxiliary Bishop Genaro Prata in a radio-TV report on the government stations. He had been mediating between Natusch and the congressmen

He urged tin miners, peasants and others opposed to Natusch "to avoid all acts of violence that can throw into irreparable danger the talks that are arriving at a happy end.'

Presidential elections were to have been held in May after an interim term by Walter Guevara, Bolivia's first civilian president in a decade who was overthrown by Natusch Thursday after only 10 weeks in

Dozens of priests and nuns were to gather in La Paz today, and one priest said they would draw up a "strongly-worded denunciation" of Bolivia's new week-old military dictatorship.

La Paz's streets were generally free of gunfire Tuesday for the first time since Saturday, but troops supporting the colonel attacked peasants and miners at two points in the provinces, military and union sources

At Achacachi, 60 miles northwest of La Paz, soldiers and air force planes on strafing runs put down a peasant uprising, a high-ranking officer said.

Miners battled soldiers at Bolivia's richest tin lode, the Huanuni mine, 175 miles southwest of the capital, union sources said. The country's 35,000 tin miners have declared an indefinite strike to protest the coup.

Tanks, troops mark Soviet revolution

MOSCOW (AP) - Tanks, rockets, missiles and thousands of Red Army troops rumbled through snow-whipped Red Square today to mark the 62nd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution. Defense Minister Dmitri F. Ustinov said Soviet armed forces will defend "peace and socialism." Strong winds whirled the snow through the square and against the red brick Kremlin walls, as Soviet leaders reviewed the parade from Lenin's mausoleum. President Leonid I. Brezhnev, 72, wearing an overcoat and lambswool hat, returned the troops' salute' and stayed until the end of the parade.

The 'coldest man alive' dies of natural causes at age 64

MADISON, Wis. (AP) - Warren S. Churchill, who gained nationwide attention as the "coldest man alive" in 1973 when his body temperature dropped to 61 after a lake accident, has died at age 64.

Churchill collapsed Tuesday night while walking his dog near his home, and died a short time later at a hospital. Dane County Coroner's Investigator Philip Little attributed the death to natural causes.

On April 5, 1973, Churchill and two other marine biologists for the state were making a fishing site survey in Madison's Lake Wingra when strong winds capsized their small boat.

The three stayed affoat in the 40-degree water for 11/2 hours before they were rescued

Churchill was unconscious and virtually frozen when he was admitted at University Hospital. His body temperature was registered at 61 degrees, the lowest ever recorded in a survivor of a drop from the normal 98.6 body temperature. Doctors gradually raised Chur-

Court upholds sentence

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - An appeals court on Tuesday upheld a fiveyear prison sentence for a former Midland jail prisoner convicted of escaping two days before his scheduled release after 16 months in jail. The ruling by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals involved Roy Haskell Owens, who escaped from his cell at the city jail in Midland, Texas,

Owens got drunk after somehow getting whiskey in his cell - authorities do not know how. After running out of liquor, he crawled through an air conditioning duct to the jail roof and jumped off, breaking both

Owens hobbled off to a bar for a few more drinks, went to a girl friend's home and was arrested within three hours.

When he escaped, Owens was winding up a federal term for interstate transportation of a firearm. After a week in a hospital he was released as scheduled, but then he was indicted on a federal charge of escape. Owens pleaded innocent by reason of insanity due to intoxication, but a jury convicted him and the judge imposed the maximum punishment of Owens appealed, saying the sentence was excessive, but the appeals court said there was nothing it could do. The jury verdict was supported by evidence and the sentence was legal, the court said.

Bandido member 'guilty' of firearms violation

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A Bandido motorcycle club associate, arrested by FBI agents seeking the gun used in last year's ambush of a federal prosecutor, has been convicted of federal firearms violations. U.S. District Judge John W. Peck found Daniel A. Thomas, 43, guilty on 10 counts Tuesday after Thomas waived a jury trial.

FBI agents had received a tip that Thomas was hiding a gun similar to the .30-caliber automatic carbine used in the Nov. 21 assault on then Assistant U.S. Attorney James Kerr.

The agents did not uncover that weapon in the Aug. 8 raid on Thomas' house, but did find 10 other guns. Thomas, a convicted felon, is not allowed to possess firearms.

In an affidavit used to obtain the search warrant, FBI Special Agent Gregg Van de Loo said the informant had been approached by members of the Bandidos to help kill Kerr.

The document also said Kerr selected members of the Bandidos in a police lineup as his assailants. Kerr escaped a hail of bullets by ducking behind the dashboard of his car.

There have been no arrests in the case, however.

Dugas' ex-wife to take stand?

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) -Prosecutors seeking the death penalty for convicted killer Ovide Joe Dugas, 33, hope to call Dugas' ex-wife to the stand today during the punishment phase of the trial.

Jurors deliberated an hour and 17 minutes Tuesday before finding the Port Acres defendant guilty of capital murder in the death of a 3-year-old boy slain execution-style along with his parents and grandparents last

The bodies of the five victims were piled in a common grave near Winnie in Southeast Texas after they were each shot in the back of the head during the July 4 weekend

The trial was moved here on a change of venue from Beaumont.

Dugas' ex-wife, Mary, is the daughter of the grandparents slain in the massacre, and prosecutors said after Tuesday's session she could tell about the violent nature of the defendant.

But Jefferson County District Attorney James McGrath said the judge may not allow him to call the former Mary Dugas to the stand.

Dugas' accomplice in the 1978 slayings, Linda May Burnett, 31, a housewife with three children, was tried earlier this year and sentenced in March to death by lethal injection for her part in the killings.

Dugas and Mrs. Burnett were tried specifically for murdering the little boy, but they are also accused of killing the child's parents, Elmer and

Dugas' brother Richard testified in the trial that his brother blamed his wife's parents for his marital prob-

Richard Dugas said his brother bragged about the killings, saying he and Mrs. Burnett kidnapped the family, marched them to predug gravesites and shot them.

In his final arguments McGrath branded Dugas a "butcher and an undertaker.

His voice cracking with emotion, McGrath stood right next to Dugas and said "He gave them no chance. When you look at all of this, it took planning, premeditation, deliberated premeditation, to carry out this diabolical thing this man did." Defense lawyer Bruce Smith spoke only briefly, urging jurors to weigh the evidence without being influenced by their emotions. The final state witness was Dr. Stanley LeBer, the pathologist who performed autopsies on the victims. He testified that each died of gunshots, fired from about 10 inches into each of the victims' heads.

"It was my conclusion that the infant died as the result of two gunshot wounds to the head," LeBer said. He said he performed the autopsies July 10, 1978, after the bodies had been exhumed from the grave, about 10 miles from the Phillips' home.

Sentencing scheduled for man

Harper, who was convicted of two counts of firstdegree murder for poisoning two persons with a cancer-causing rocket fuel additive, was scheduled to be sentenced today in Douglas County District

Nebraska law sets the sentence for first-degree murder as either life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

Harper was convicted Oct. 5 of murder in the deaths last year of Duane Johnson, 24, Omaha, who married Harper's former girlfriend, and Johnson's infant nephew, Chad Shelton.

PUBLIC INVITED

Archie Dennis Jr.

Whether Archie Dennis Jr. steps to the microphone on stage in front of thousands in Budapest, Hungary as part of the Billy Graham Crusade team or the pulpit of a small country church, it only takes moments to realize that within this man God has birthed a song-a unique song born from his personal experience and daily walk with Jesus

In July 1972 Dennis accepted an invitation from worldrenowned Billy Graham to perform as guest soloist at the Cleveland Crusade. Since that time he has been a regular guest with many crusades recently returning from his 26th trip abroad. His tours have taken him to Africa, Brazil, Switzerland, Japan, India and the Philippines. Archie will soon be returning to the Royal Albert Hall in London for another engagement as well.

Henry Davis, a product of Howard University in Washington D.C. has been Archie's accompanist for six years and between tours has written some of Archie's best loved songs like "I Believe in God" and "You'll Never Be the Same Again.

Archie's sensitivity to the Spirit of the Lord has been evidenced in the response to this performance all around the world. At the Billy Graham crusade in October 1977 in Cincinnati he received a standing ovation for "God Bless America.

Americans tally $300 million credit card, loan debt

'Retrenchment' later in year feared result of nation's massive borrowing By EILEEN ALT POWELL

WASHINGTON (AP) - For the first time in history, Americans owe more than $300 billion for credit card and other installment loan pur-

The $300 billion mark was passed in September as consumers increased their debt by a record $4.45 billion for the month, according to a report issued Tuesday by the Federal Reserve Board.

In fact, Americans at the end of September owed $303.9 billion on their bank, retail store and gasoline credit cards and for loans written on automobiles and mobile homes.

The statistics do not include the more than $750 billion that the nation's families owe for their homes.

Installment loans, excluding mortgages, passed the $200 billion mark in May 1977, government records show. They topped $100 billion for the first time in December 1969. Economists have been watching the debt figures closely because some fear Americans are taking on more loans than they can handle. Others fear that heavy borrowing now will force retrenchment in future months. just the opposite of what would be needed to spur the economy should it

A Federal Reserve Board economist, who asked not to be identified, said consumers appeared able to handle the heavy debt load so far.

"Finance companies, which tend to be the first to feel problems, are not reporting unusual problems with delinquencies," the economist said. "And remember there are many more two-income families these days.

The new debt total resulted from record borrowing in September of $28.6 billion, up 3.8 percent from August. At the same time, Americans paid off $24.2 billion, which was not as much as the record $25.1 billion in installment loan payments in August, the Federal Reserve report showed.

Much of the new borrowing was related to auto loans, which rose 10 percent from August to September to $8.4 billion. September is a month in which many auto dealers offered rebates in an effort to spur sluggish car

In other economic news Tuesday, President Carter's chief anti-inflation adviser, Alfred E. Kahn, said the president's prospects for re-election in 1980 may hinge on his administration's ability to slow inflation

"If the president is defeated, I think it will be overwhelmingly because we have failed to bring inflation under control," Kahn said after a speech at the National Press Club.

Kahn also said he was not optimistic that inflation would drop below its double-digit rate in the near future.

"I now see that we are in a situation in which the price of energy could continue to increase in the months ahead at these incredible annual rates." he said The prices consumers pay for petroleum products have risen between 50 percent and 60 percent this year in the wake of higher prices charged for crude oil by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

The increase in energy product prices has added at least 4 percentage points to the government's Consumer Price Index this year, Kahn said

If crude oil prices rise as much next year as they did in 1979, it could push the nation's inflation rate above recent gains, he predicted. Prices currently are going up in excess of 13 percent, the worst inflation rate in more than three

Meanwhile, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported that the effective interest rate on mortgages for new homes jumped to a record 11.18 percent in early October.

The increase from 11.02 in September marked the 24th consecutive month in which mortgage rates have risen, according to the bank board.

The report also showed that interest rates on mortgages for previously occupied homes rose from 11.2 percent in September to 11.3 percent in

And rates could go still higher in coming months because of action taken recently by the Federal Reserve to tighten credit, the board

Shutdown denied

NEW YORK (AP) - Spot market oil prices jumped sharply when it was reported deliveries at Iran's main Persian Gulf port had been halted, but the Iranian oil company today denied there had been any shut-

An official at the Tehran office of the National Iranian Oil Co. said in a telephone interview: "Both the refinery in Abadan and the oil-loading terminal at Kharg Island are functioning. There is no strike; everyting is normal."

"Iran appears to be shut off." one oil company executive, who asked not to be quoted by name. said Tuesday

Administration and congressional sources said Tuesday the Central Intelligence Agency had determined U.S. tankers have been barred. A State Department official said the Kharg Island port has been closed to all customers by what may be a

But a White House aide said the reports had been received but "not confirmed." Reports of a shutdown also were received in Japan, said officials there.

Iran's Oil Minister Ali Akbar Mo'Infar said Monday that shipments to the United States would be shut off if Iran's ruler, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. ordered the action.

Khomeini has been orchestrating an anti-America campaign in recent days, and some of his followers have been holding about 60 Americans in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran since Sunday. They have demanded the return of the deposed Shah of Iran, who is hospitalized in New York City with cancer.

Iran provides some 700,000 barrels of oil daily to the U.S. -3.5 percent to 5 percent of U.S. consumption.

Oil experts said a general shutdown would be more damaging than a strike. In July, only 387,500 barrels a day were imported directly from Iran. Another 200,000 to 300,000 barrels of Iranian crude was getting through each day from other

A shutdown might not have much effect on the world market, but "if it continues for an extended period of time, the end result would be the same" as during a strike by Iranian oil workers last winter when Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi was ousted, said analyst Gary Ross of the Petroleum Industry Research Foundation. Suspension of Iranian production from late December 1978 to early March eliminated nearly 5 million 42-gallon barrels daily from world oil markets, tightening supplies, creating shortages and ultimately encouraging price increases.

Some wholesale prices went "out of sight" on the spot market Tuesday due to the Iranian reports, said Vincent Sgro, editor of the Oil Buyers Guide, a newspaper that covers oil mar-Sgro said tanker loads of home heating oil jumped 6 cents, to 94 cents a gallon on the spot market in New York. Cargoes of regular gasoline rose 10 cents a gallon to $1.18.

Environmentalists successful in blocking Banks lease sale

By MARK POTTS

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) - The sale of offshore oil drilling rights in the vast Georges Bank fishing grounds off New England have been postponed for at least 40 days, government officials say, but oil-company executives predict an even longer

Environmentalists successfully blocked the scheduled sale here Tuesday night when U.S. Chief Justice Warren Burger upheld Justice William J. Brennan's decision to put off the sale until the full Supreme Court can review the case. The court is scheduled to take up the issue Fri-

Donald Truesdell, a spokesman for the Interior Department, which was conducting the sale through its Bureau of Land Management, said that even if the Supreme Court decided on Friday to allow the sale, a new date for it would have to be set with at least 30 days' notice required for the submission of bids from oil companies.

"We're probably looking at at least a 40-day delay," Truesdell said. "The highest court wants to look at it a little

And oil-industry executives at the sale said privately that the delay could be several months if the Supreme Court asks for a re-evaluation of the project's environmental ef-

For the oil industry, the cancellation Tuesday was just the most recent in a long series of setbacks which have delayed exploration of the Georges Bank area.

The states of Maine and Massachusetts and environmentalists have challenged the planned sale, saying that an oil spill in the area, located about 100 miles offshore, could ruin the fertile fishing beds there and damage Cape Cod tourist business.

Oil companies, backed by the federal government and the state of Rhode Island, have argued, however, that' the possible energy benefits outweigh environmental risks. Most oil industry officials seemed to take the latest barrier in stride, but one said the last-minute setback could be very expensive. Michael A. McLean, regional land manager for Shell Oil, estimated his company's loss because of the last-minute court stay at as much as $1 million. McLean said that would be the cost of reformulating the company's bids for the available tracts. Oil companies had submitted their sealed bids - totaling as much as $500 million, according to some insiders as the day began. The bids were

Officials of other companies, however, said they expected that their bids would be unchanged if the sale

Stock market loses

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market, faced with concern over oil supplies from Iran, recorded its second straight loss in another quiet session Tuesday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials dropped 6.15 to 806.48, on the heels of a 6.31point drop Monday.

That left the average hovering just above its closing low for the year of 805.46, reach on Oct. 25. New York Stock Exchange volume, at 21.96 million shares, just barely surpassed Monday's 10-month low of 20.47 million. A number of banks and other investing institutions were closed Tuesday for Election Day. Demonstrators in Iran continued to hold some Americans hostage. Iran's oil minister was quoted as saying he was prepared to cut off oil to the United States if the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini instructed him to do so.

Rumors of a possible cutoff, unconfirmed by late Tuesday, circulated throughout the session. Iran accounts for an estimated 3.5 to 4 percent of the oil consumed in the United

Stocks of some oil companies doing extensive business with Iran showed losses of varying size.

Amerada Hess was off 1/8 at 3834 as of the 4 p.m. close in New York, after falling 11/4 Monday. Charter Co. lost 1½ to 36¼ in active trading. Other oils generally showed fractional declines.

Another dampening influence was General Motors' announcement Monday that it would pay a $1.50-a-share yearend dividend, down from $2.50 last year. GM shares slipped % to 55%.

Bausch & Lomb fell 13/4 to 30. A judge in Rochester, N.Y., ruled that the company infringed on a valid Brockway Glass patent for strengthening the glass in eyeglass lenses.

Experts' ideas may shock you By JOHN CUNNIFF

BUSINESS MIRROR

NEW YORK (AP) — You may disagree with the following ideas, proposals and findings, but they represent the thinking of some of the most influencial individuals and institutions in the nation.

-From a conservative economist: Interest rates are "too low," according to Milton Friedman, the Nobel laureate economist. And he means what he says, even though almost all rates are into historically high territory.

Friedman explained his position a couple of weeks ago to an alumni group at Stanford University.

There is still a gap between the rates of inflation and interest, he explained. In many instances inflation rates are higher. When that gap is taken into account, Friedman said, people who borrow now are "being paid 2 percent for the privilege." Such a statement would assume, for example, an 11 percent loan and 13 percent inflation.

Consumer borrowing rates in most areas of the country are now higher than 11 percent, except in states with low usury ceilings, but the thrust of Friedman's argument, that it pays to borrow, may

Not only do borrowers repay in cheaper dollars, but they earn tax deductions too. Therefore, according to his thesis, interest rates are still too low.

-From Citizen's Choice, a self-described "national grass-roots organization," closely allied with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce:

"Skyrocketing taxes, deficit spending and a deteriorating relationship between the taxpayer and the Internal Revenue Service demand that immediate measures to resolve these problems be

Therefore, a commission to investigate the relationship between the IRS and individuals will conduct nationwide hearings, during which questions such as these will be put to the public:

"Should the advice which IRS employees give to taxpayers be guaranteed, so that if a taxpayer follows it he will not be penalized later by another agent's ruling?

"Should the IRS eliminate the bounty paid to taxpayers who turn in the name of fellow citizens for a special IRS audit?

"Should the IRS be required to reimburse taxpayers for the money they spend to defend themselves during IRS audits when the taxpayer is sus-

Citizen's Choice calls its effort "a massive undertaking of vital importance to the future of taxpayer-government relations.' -From an editorial in the AFL-CIO News: "In campaigns (to determine if a union should represent workers) where we have been able to ascertain total dollars spent, as much as $270,000 has been paid in labor-management consultant fees by the employer.

"One major firm collects in excess of $600,000 per year in tuitions alone from employers who attend seminars to learn how to keep employees from These staggering sums could be paid to workers in the form of improved wages and fringes. In addition, the American taxpayer frequently winds up footing the bill for these payments. Legal fees, of course, are tax-deductilbe as a business expense."

-From the National Association of Manufactur-"Here's an idea guaranteed to generate a loud chorus of boos fom the federal bureaucrats - appoint federal civil servants for a fixed terms - say 10 or 12 years - rather than what amounts to the virtual lifetime job security they now enjoy." -From a Merrill Lynch brochure on investing in the stock market: "In our opinion, the onset of recession has only strengthened the case for investing in equities." -From The Conference Board, a not-for-profit educational and research organization support mainly by business: "Consumer optimism has revived for the first time this year but the spurt may be short-lived." If surveys are accurate you should believe in that statement. It was taken from a report on the board's latest survey of consumer attitudes, based on interviews with 5,000 households across the country.

Near-collision reported

WASHINGTON (AP) - An Air France supersonic Concorde airliner and four U.S. Air Force F-15 fighter planes passed less than 100 feet from each other over the Atlantic Ocean last month, the Defense Department said Tuesday.

Pentagon spokesman Thomas Ross told reporters a Concorde "passed very near" a formation of F-15s Oct. 30 while the Air Force jets were refueling about 60 miles east of Ocean City, Md.

Ross said he was "not making any judgment" whether the Concorde or Air Force pilots were at fault. He said reports have been filed with the Federal Aviation Administration by both Air Force and Concorde pilots.

Ross, under questioning at a briefing, did say the Air Force fighters, operating out of Langley Air Force Base, Va., were "where they were supposed to be."
