Iranians change conditions for releasing U.S. hostages

By The Associated Press

Iranian leaders said today the American Embassy hostages in Tehran might be freed if the United States acknowledges that the shah is a criminal, allows an international investigation of the deposed monarch and hands over his U.S. property, it was reported from the Iranian capi-

The State Department said it appeared to represent a softening of the Iranian position in the 10-day-old cri-

At the same time, however, Iranian Foreign Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr accused Washington of creating a "war climate" and called for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council, the Kuwait news agency reported from Tehran.

The agency said Bani Sadr today reiterated the key demand of the student militants holding the embassy and 98 hostages - that the United States surrender Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi to Iran for trial. He is currently hospitalized in New York for cancer treatment. But Bani Sadr added, "The United States should at least acknowledge the shah is guilty," the report said.

Another member of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's Revolutionary Council, Sadegh Gotbzadeh, set out more detailed conditions, said Iran was not retreating from its demand for the shah's extradition, but added that the Iranians were ready "to end ests of the hostages," the Kuwait news agency reported from Tehran. "We will get the shah sooner or later," he was quoted as saying. He said the hostages "may be freed if the United States acknowledges that the shah is guilty" and agrees to an international inquiry "to investigate his crimes," the Kuwait agency

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported that Gotbzadeh said the United States must also agree to return all of the shah's U.S. property to the Iranian government.

Gotbzadeh, who is director Iranian radio and television, said he was speaking only in his own name and not for the Council. Bani Sadr has emerged as the leading spokesman for the Khomeini regime, however, and his statements were believed to represent the official position.

State Department spokesman Jack Tuohey said U.S. officials were examining the reports. "If true, this would appear to be a softening of their position.... Any movement is welcome as long as it's upward," he said.

NBC-TV's "Today Show" said the Iranians also said they were willing to receive U.N. Secretary-General Kurt' Waldheim to discuss the situation. But the Gulf News Agency reported in Bahrain that Bani Sadr was quoted on Tehran Radio as rejecting the Waldheim offer.

Khomeini's revolutionary regime responded Monday to President Carter's ban on U.S. imports of Iranian oil with the announcement that the Revolutionary Council already had decided to cut off exports to the United States. Radio Tehran reported early today that workers at the Kharg Island terminal in the Persian Gulf stopped loading a tanker, the 125,582ton Northern Lion, that was taking on oil for the United States.

It appeared unlikely, however, that the new proposals reported today were in reaction to Carter's ban. Radio Tehran reported Monday before the president's announcement that the Revolutionary Council was going to discuss "a proposal concerning the American Embassy.'

The Security Council appealed to Iran last Friday for the immediate release of the hostages held prisoner by Iranian students in the American Embassy since Nov. 4.

Iran's charge d'affaires at the United Nations, Jamal Shemiran, met with Waldheim in New York Monday and said his government had no reply to the council appeal yet. But he told reporters the issue will not be resolved until the United States hands over the shah.

The Carter administration has refused to extradite the shah. But the State Department said Monday, "We've always said he is here for medical treatment. It was assumed that at the time that treatment was

Iranian boycott generally praised

WASHINGTON (AP) - Major rivals in both political parties say President Carter made the right decision in suspending U.S. purchase of Iranian oil.

While there was uncertainty about the likely impact - some raised the prospect of long lines at gasoline pumps - political and congressional leaders generally praised the cutoff as a necessary and timely reaction to the seizure of at least 60 Americans as hostages in Iran.

Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., urged Americans to drive two fewer miles each day to make up for the decline in Iranian imports. "But in practice what will happen is that conscientious Americans will voluntarily make the cut while me-first types will not," he said.

The result, he added, will be "endless lines" at gasoline stations. "If we are to avoid kidding ourselves, prompt and effective rationing, either by coupons or by a gasoline tax ... is necessary," Reuss said at a news conference in Milwaukee.

Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd said Carter's action "preempts any further opportunity" for Iran to use oil as an economic weapon in its 'dangerous game of international blackmail.'

"And I believe the American people will be willing to sacrifice for the principles we cherish," Byrd said.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Energy Committee, said halting purchases of Iranian oil should not cause a renewal of asoline lines, but warned of a psychological effect. "I suspect the number of cars going to the pumps to top off their cars will increase," he said. Despite any misgivings about its impact on U.S. motorists. Jackson, a frequent critic of Carter policies, said, "I commend the president for the action he has taken.' Carter's decision also drew support from former President Gerald R. Ford and several Republicans and Democrats attempting to wrest White

Ford said in Los Angeles he was "totally supportive" of Carter's move and termed it a "definitive action" toward freeing the U.S. hostages.

Republican presidential candidate John Connally said, "This removes oil as a bargaining chip in delicate hostage negotiations, and I fully support President Carter's action."

Another GOP candidate, Senate Minority Leader Howard Baker said simply: "He's dead right." But Baker said the current Iranian crisis is another sign the United States has "lost its clout" overseas.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, campaigning in Iowa for the 1980 Democratic nomination said, "I'd basically follow the president's lead on this particular step." He told audiences Carter's action demonstrates "we put a higher value on the safety and security of those hostages

Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas, another GOP presidential contender, said, "I believe the people of this nation are willing to accept whatever sacrifices are deemed necessary to resolve this crisis.' There was some criticism, mainly from conservative Republicans, that the president should have taken more dramatic action, perhaps in some military move against Iran.

But there was far more bipartisan support than complaint. Both Jackson and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the effect of Carter's action was to deny the Iranian government any leverage regarding the export of 700,-000 barrels of oil daily to the United States. "We shouldn't buy a drop of Iranian oil as long as they hold Americans hostage," Church said. "If they think that our lust for oil exceeds our loyalty to one another, now is the time to disabuse them of that notion. Rep. Thomas B. Evans Jr., R-Del., a former chairman of the Republican National Committee, said, "There are more important things to a nation than oil and it's high time we started letting others know where American

New tax would result in more oil production

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congressional economists say the "windfallprofits" tax approved by the Senate Finance Committee would result in considerably more U.S. oil production during the next decade than the version favored by President Carter.

However, the Congressional Budget Office offered no judgment Monday on whether the additional oil would warrant allowing the oil industry to keep an additional $184 billion, as it could under the Finance Committee

Midland County Jail needs work to meet requirements of the state did not participate earlier this year," Brown said. Brown's chief of staff, Gray Davis, said the second phase of the odd-even

WASHINGTON (AP) - Vice President Walter F. Mondale, a leader of Carter administration efforts to win hospital cost-control legislation, said today that a week on a Riviera beach could become cheaper than spending a night in a hospital. Urging two groups of elderly citizens to boost the effort, Mondale cornered one man after his speech in the White House family theater and suggested that as he approaches legislators, "just grab 'em by the ear and tell them 'vote right.'

The hospital cost containment proposal, one of the key elements in President Carter's domestic program, is likely to reach a vote on the House floor Thursday, an administration official said. Just before Mondale spoke, the White House made public a letter Carter sent to all House members, telling them that the proposal could

In Beaumont, Texas, about 500 protesters burned the ayatollah in effigy at Lamar University Bud Leonard, Lamar's vice-president for university relations, said a 'scuffle" between American and Iranian students occurred late Monday morning in front of the campus police office. However, he said, the confrontation consisted mostly of "pushing." There were no arrests and no injuries Campus police escorted several Iranian students to safety from shouting matches with groups of sign-carrying protesters who called on the United States "to quit bleating like sheep and start roaring like lions.'

Anti-Iranian demonstrators marched through downtown Houstonlfor the fourth time in five days. A small bi-plane circled Houston's 40-story Dresser Tower that houses the Iranian consulate and dumped leaflets during another demonstra-

Signed "The John Wayne Society -Every American Citizen is a Member." the leaflets urged that Americans stop buying where Iranians work, that Iranians be fired and denied housing and that restaurants and merchants refuse to serve them. Meanwhile, officials of Fulton County Community College in Johnstown, N.Y., announced Monday that it had canceled plans to enroll a dozen

Iranian students in January "until the college is assured that basic human rights are protected in Iran." The announcement came after the Fulton

County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously to order the college not to admit the Iranians.

The current clear, crisp weather should continue at least through Wednesday, the weatherman said today, but the afternoons should be a little warmer. High Wednesday is expected to warm all the way up the low 60s, with tonight's low dipping to the low

Winds should be light and variable tonight, according to the National Weather Service office at Midland Regional Airport. Monday's high was a chilly 57 degrees with the overnight low recorded at 28. For comparison, the record temperatures for the date are 84 degrees set in 1938 and 15 set in 1976.

The gauge at the weather service remains dry, so the monthly accumulation is still a mere trace, while the annual total stays at 13.25 inches. Clear to partly cloudy skies prevailed across Texas today as a large high pressure system covered the state. Predawn temperatures dropped into the 20s over much of West Texas, while readings in the 30s were reported over most other sections. In the Rio

SouPac 3.40 gains NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market scored a broad advance in moderate trading Monday, adding to gains registered Friday. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose 15.45 points to end trading at 821.93. The index of blue-chip industrials gained almost nine points Friday.

Advances outnumbered declines by more than a 3-1 margin among issues listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Volume on the Big Board came to 26.64 millon shares, down from 30.06 million shares Friday. Most banks and federal government offices were closed Monday for Veterans Day. The market's gains mounted as trading progressed Monday, and the advances continued after President Carter ordered a halt to oil imports from Iran, in reaction to the occupation of the American embassy in Tehran, where Iranian students are holding more than 60 Americans hostage. Analysts noted that the ban on imports of Iranian oil had little effect on the market because investors had known that the reliability of supplies from Iran was tenuous at best, due to the strained relations between Iran and the United States since the embassy takeover. The NYSE's composite index of common stocks rose 1.08 to 58.82.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose 4.35 to 213.09. Standard & Poor's index of 400 industrial stocks picked up 2.40 to 116.12 and S&P's 500-stock composite index rose 2.00 to 103.51. Topping the NYSE most-

Ambassador hurt; one killed by terrorists

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Terrorists fired sub-machine guns and hurled hand grenades at the car carrying Israel's ambassador in downtown Lisbon today, slightly wounding the envoy and killing his bodyguard and wounding three others, police said. No group immediately claimed responsibility. The PLO said it had nothing to do with it.

Police said Ambassador Ephraim Eldar escaped with a bullet wound in the arm as at least two men opened fire on his car as it arrived at the Israeli Embassy. Eldar's Portuguese bodyguard died instantly from an exploding grenade, police said.
The attack came at 9:54 a.m. at the embassy on a tree-line wide street near Lisbon's Gulbenkian Museum. The ambassador's briefcase was found near the side of his car a few feet from a pool of blood. Police said witnesses reported one of the gunman was a blond wearing a raincoat, and that he still carried his submachine gun as he led the others fleeing the scene. The gunmen's bullets also hit a Portuguese guard at the embassy door, the ambassador's driver and a woman passerby. The 55-year-old ambassador survived the attack by remaining in his car, police said. A woman who lives near the embassy said she saw Eldar leaving his car clutching his right arm, and that he was taken away in an ambulance. Police quickly sealed Portugal's borders with Spain and set up airport and maritime checkpoints. Prime Minister Maria de Lourdes Pintasilgo, reported stunned and saddened by the attack, ordered an all-out search for the attackers. The attack was the first by terrorists in Portugal since the 1974 revolution and came 10 days after an Arab solidarity conference in Lisbon where the main theme was Middle East peace and the featured speaker was Palestine Liberation Organization chief Yasser Arafat.

In Madrid, a spokeman for the PLO said his organization "had nothing to do with the attack" which he described as an attempt to damage Palestinian-Portuguese relations after Arafat's visit. He said the attack could have come from any of Israel's Portugal and Israel upgraded diplomatic relations to the ambassadorial level two years ago when Eldar was assigned to Lisbon. Portugal has yet to send an envoy to Israel.

Begin's government may be in trouble

JERUSALEM (AP) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin's government seems to be in real trouble. It is suffering from coalition pains, a dispute between two of its most powerful members, losses in public and parliamentary support and new tension among the Palestinians of the occupied West Bank.

The latest blow came Monday when a tie vote in the Knesset, the Israeli parliament, defeated a government bill to ban abortions now permitted for social or economic reasons.

As a result, the four Knesset members from Agudat Israel, an ultra-orthodox religious party, are threatening to withdraw their support from the government.

This would leave Begin with only 62 of the 120 Knesset seats, a weak and vulnerable majority of four and a spectacular drop from the majority of 36 he once had. The majority of four would depend on the support of two mavericks who say they are still members of the prime minister's Likud Bloc but who vote against the government as often as they vote Opposition whip Moshe Shahal of the Labor Party said the abortion vote was "another nail in the government's coffin." Another Labor Party member predicted new elections by next November and perhaps sooner.

It would be ironic if the abortion law proved to be the government's undoing when it faces far more —Tension is high among the West Bank's 700,000 Palestinians because of the arrest for deportation of the mayor of Nablus, Bassam Shakaa. The Palestinians closed schools and businesses in the territory; other Arab mayors threatened to resign, and Egypt condemned the action as a violation of the Israeli Egyptian peace accords.

Board raises savings account interest rates

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The State Depository Board - expressing concern over the possible effect on smaller banks - has reluctantly raised the interest rate banks must pay on state savings accounts.

"That was a rough one," State Treasurer Warren Harding said of the board's decision Monday to hike the annual rate from 10.5 percent to 11.5 percent.

With a balance of approximately $2 billion in time deposits, the interest rate increase should earn the state an additional $20 million a year. More than 1,300 banks keep state deposits.

The new rate went into effect today for all new time accounts and redeposits. Other time accounts will be charged 10.5 percent interest until the accounts mature.

"The Duchess and the Dirtwater Fox," a 20th Century Western film starring George Segal as a card shark and Goldie Hawn as a dance hall singer who team to outsmart bank robbers, airs on Tuesday, Nov. 13, on NBC's Tuesday Night At The Movies." This parody of Western films plays on bank robbers who are clumsy at their task and do not collect the money they have hidden until after Segal and Hawn have stumbled upon it. Chasing them across country, the bank robbers finally lose their stash to the agile Segal-Hawn team.

More than 10,000 flee to Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) - More than 10,000 Cambodians, fleeing a new round of fighting in their homeland, crossed into Thailand today, and 20,000 more are expected to cross the border later this week, the Thai command said.

The command said the refugees are civilians loyal to ousted Cambodian Premier Pol Pot who is leading a guerrilla war against the Vietnamese-backed regime in Phnom Penh that ousted him in January.

A group of U.S. congresswomen toured refugee camps along the Thai-Cambodian border and flew to Phnom Penh Monday for talks with Cambodian leaders on relief aid to sick and starving refugees in

Cambodian Prime Minister Hun Sen told them he was grateful for international aid arriving by plane and ship but termed "not practical" an earlier plan by three U.S. senators to truck in supplies from

The congresswomen also had been given permistrip would "not be worthwhile.

Sources in the U.S. mission here said they were out: "puzzled" by such a decision especially since the Vietnamese are a key to the humanitarian problem in Cambodia

The congresswomen left Thailand for the United in suburban Stafford States today but returned shortly after takeoff when one of their aides took ill.

The U.S. Embassy said Sally Brown, a staff aide to Rep. Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo., was stricken "apparently with serious chest pains" about 15 minutes after the aircraft departed.

The embassy said Ms. Brown was rushed to the Thai air force hospital at Bangkok's international airport for a diagnosis. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., led a team of five other congresswomen into Cambodia Monday for talks with Phnom Penh authorities on prospects of more and speedier aid. The congresswomen told a news conference after their one-day trip that they were encouraged by a positive attitude among Phnom Penh authorities toward receiving aid. But Thai Prime Minister Kriangsak Chomanan said the congresswomen told him there were differsion to visit Vietnam today but decided that such a ences of opinion between them and the Cambodian officials and that they hoped conflicts could be ironed

Kriangsak also said he was happy that the United States has shown a greater interest in this region by dispatching several missions here.

Lynch watches first rodeo in Texas

HOUSTON (AP) -Prime Minister John Lynch of Ireland watched his first rodeo, tasted Texas barbecue and announced that nine U.S. coroprations had agreed to spend $26 million in his country during Lynch said $2.5 billion of American industrial capital had flowed into Ireland in the past 10 years, five times the total volume of the previous 20 years.

Prior to making the economic announcement, Lynch attended a rodeo where he watched Indian

CONTINENTAL SHORTCUT.

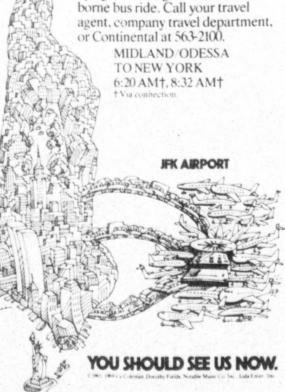

FOUR WAYS CONTINENTAL CUTS THE TIME TO NEW YORK.

Continental has found the fastest way into New York. With service to Newark Airport. Newark's fifteen minutes less flying time than if you head into JFK. It's also in a different traffic pattern. You'll avoid those stackups that happen so often over JFK.

You save time on the ground, too. Newark serves about 15,000,000 fewer passengers a year than JFK. So you still have a good ghance of getting your baggage in a reasonable amount of time. without the frustrating delays.

Because Newark is modern and well laid out, NEWARK AIRPORT people are able to come and go without the huge jams you get at most International airports. You can get through the terminal without the shoving, crowding and delays that cut into your time. You can get into Manhattan about 45 minutes faster from Newark than from JFK. That's according to the Official Airline Guide, not us. So you spend far less time caught in time-consuming traffic.

Poerner backs move

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) Chairman John Poerner of the Texas Railroad Commission approves of President Carter's decision to end United States oil imports from Iran and thinks the president should issue an order emphasizing domestic production.

"It is right and proper for the president to cut off oil purchases from Iran, and I am gratified that he has taken this step," Poerner said in a statement Monday. "It will mean tighter supplies for the United States, but this nation will rally behind his leadership."

Poerner said for seven years Texas oil wells have been pumping at maximum rates "consistent with optimum recovery practices, and will continue these efforts."

"Another thing that would help is a return to all-out encouragement of our drillers and wildcatters," Poerner said. "Every incentive should be placed before them, and all artificial barriers should be removed. There will be plenty of time to complete the paper work after we bring in the wells.

Field work announced

Gulf Oil Corp. of Odessa filed potential test on its No. 1 Mary L. Crawford, current fourth Clear Fork producer in the Stinnett, Southeast (Clear Fork) field of Lubbock County, 16 miles east of Lubbock.

Reaction favors president's decision to halt purchases

Bx The Associated Press Here is some editorial reaction to President Carter's decision to halt the purchase of Iranian oil for consumption in the United States:

the Iranian government are being served notice that, contrary to their apparent belief, we don't need them or their oil. It may help to bring the Ayatollah Khomeini and his followers to their senses.

Firm could be harmed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - President Carter's cutoff of Iranian oil imports could cause problems for Ashland Oil Inc., one of Iran's biggest customers in the United States.

Almost one-quarter of Ashland's total crude-oil inventory comes from Iran, according to Dan Lacy, an Ashland spokesman. "We have a contract with the Narels of crude oil a day," Lacy said in a telephone interview Monday from his Ashland, Ky., office. Ashland Oil, the 15th largest oil company in the United States, uses

450,000 barrels a day, Lacy said.

tem will work.'

The Energy Department estimates direct imports of Iranian erude oil at 400,000 barrels a day plus an additional 300,000 barrels of refined oil.

Iranian oil amounts to between 7 percent and 8 percent of U.S. imports, or about 3.5 percent to 4 percent of the total U.S. oil consumption. Lacy said it would be 30 to 60 days before Ashland would feel the pinch of the cutoff because of the company's inventory. "We just loaded two supertankers with crude oil in Iran last week," Lacy said. "Both of them are on the high seas, so the oil is our property

now. That should help some. The Ashland-based company owns refineries in Kentucky, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York and has customers in about 20 states. Ashland produces the whole range of petroleum products from gasoline to petrochemicals.

Meadco finals Irion gasser

Meadco Properties of Midland filed potential test at its No. 1-1901 A. Sugg, seven-eighths mile northeast of production in the Ela Sugg (Wolfcamp) field of Irion County, 20 miles northeast of Barnhart.

Operator reported a calculated absolute open flow of 817,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 7,258 to 7,599 feet. Total depth was reached at 7,450 feet, with 4.5-inch casing set on bottom Location is 660 feet from south and 930 feet from west lines of section 1901, H. Noelte survey, abstract 490.

M&H slates Lynn project

M & H Oil Co. of Fort Worth has announced plans to drill the No. 4-A C.S. Davis, one location west of production in the YWO (San Andres) field of Lynn County. The field has three well, only two are producing. Location is 730 feet from suth and move to end Iranian oil purchases can transform this negative feeling into a forceful positive common effort to intensify our oil conservation measures to show the Iranians - and the world - that we have not lost the spirit and the pride that lately seem to have been on the decline ...

Des Moines Register: "President Carter did the right thing in cutting off U.S. purchases of crude oil from Iran. As long as the United States was buying Iranian oil, Americans were pumping money directly into the government of the Ayatollah Khomeini that is holding 62 Americans hostage inside the U.S. Embassy. The idea of continuing to provide financial support for this lunatic was repulsive.

"...The United States must get more serious about reducing its reliance on foreign oil. Otherwise, Americans are going to get kicked around by a lot more fanatics like Khomeini during the 1980s."

The Arizona Republic: "... President Carter's embargo ... is a symbolic demonstration to Iranians that the United States will not be held hostage by oil. It also shows the resolve of Carter to gradually escalate our displeasure over the embassy takeover.

"Make no mistake, however. Wildeyed fanatics in the ayatollah's revolution will not budge easily. They are prepared to sacrifice revenues from American purchases of oil, and

"Short of the unthinkable - an armed and therefore bloody American strike on Iran - the president must continue to press American allies to join in repudiating the diplomatic outrage committed by the Khomeini government."

New York Daily News: "Each day that passed without some initiative by the administration raised the risk that the public would vent its wrath on Iranian students in the U.S. and trigger the slaughter of the captives in Iran.

"Now, at least, people can let off steam in a constructive way zby reducing their driving or the heat in their homes to make good any oil lost by the embargo.

"...In practical terms, Carter's boycott may not have any earth-shaking impact. But it is still a worthwhile move for its psychological effect and as a boost to American morale."

New York Times - "President Carter is being both wise and firm in his contest against Ayatollah Khomeini. Removing oil as a factor in that contest will not liberate the 60 hostages at the American Embassy in Tehran. It also risks economic damage to the United States and other oil importers. But it summons the entire nation to join in the defense of principle and preserves the hope of somehow getting 700 vulnerable Americans out of Iran alive.

Washington Post: "...the Carter administration removed perhaps the sharpest arrow left in the ayatollag's quiver, the threat of an oil embargo, by deciding on its own to stop importing Iranian oil.

.. Presumably, Iran's diplomats in this country are reporting ... what is obvious to the rest of us: That such pressure as there is on Mr. Carter is not coming from those who would have him surrender the shah but from those who would have him take an even tougher line.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "It was a deft stroke in his (Carter's) duel of wits with Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini .. The United States can afford a little belt tightening to do without the Iranian supplies ... the national push to conserve oil and to refuse to buy any from Iran gives Americans a chance to feel they are doing at least something in their cause and against oil country terrorists."

Miami Herald: "The president actzd wisely yesterday in ending U.S. imports of Iranian crude oil. In doing so, he deprived Mr. Khomeini of the psychological advantage of cutting off that oil, and he also subtracted oil from the hostage equation."

Banking application submitted by Midlanders Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - The Texas Department of Banking has received an application by several Midland residents and a Dallas woman to acquire control of the First State Bank of Memphis.

The application, received Oct. 24, was filed by John E. Crosby Jr., Dr. Thurston E. Dean, Charles B. Gillespie Jr., Thomas O. Harrell Jr., W. Goodrich Hejl, E.M. Little, Pen-Dee Corp. and John Wood, and Marshall E. Surratt, all of Midland, and Annie Laurie Drews of Dallas.

Banking Commissioner Robert E. Stewart has 60 days to approve or deny the application.

If the application is denied, the applicants may request a public hearing on the matter.

Despite still-full agenda, Congress busy choosing sides for 1980 race

By TOM RAUM

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress has widely missed its Oct. 15 adjournment target and still has much to do before quitting for the year. But that doesn't stop members from reflecting endlessly on presidential politics.

It's a time for choosing sides. And some lawmakers concede openly that they have ulterior motives for picking a particular candidate.

Like Sen. Paul Tsongas, D-Mass., who wants Sen. Edward M. Kennedy to go the full distance to the White

"I'm pleased by the notion I might be the senior senator from Massachusetts," the first-term senator explained.

"If I hadn't lost I might be Senate majority leader today," he told a Democratic rally after being introduced by Byrd. "And Bob Byrd would be out running for president.'

Meanwhile, President Carter may sometimes give the impression of feeling a little left out. The other day he warmly thanked a group of applauding congressmen who had accepted his invitation to come to the White House for dinner.

'Truth Squads' after candidates

By GRACE-MARIE ARNETT Copley News Service

WASHINGTON - Ted Kennedy and Walter Cronkite have more in common than fame and a desire to spend their summer vacations at Martha's Vineyard.

Both are targets of "Truth Squad" campaigns. Truth squads are springing up around the country as critical issues and controversial figures gain public attention.

These groups purchase television and radio time, buy newspaper ads and hold news conferences to present information they feel is not getting an adequate public hearing through regular news cov-

THE KENNEDY TRUTH SQUAD is the most recent addition to the list. The group, formed by the National Conservative Political Action Committee, placed newspaper ads and held a news conference in Washington the day after the Massachusetts senator announced his candidacy for the 1980 Democratic presidential nomination.

The group urged reporters to ask Kennedy a set of questions it had prepared. Among them: "What makes you think that an extreme liberal like yourself is able to be a good president?" Chairman John T. Dolan said he believes the anti-Kennedy activity is necessary to "ask questions the liberal media won't ask."

Kennedy's office said the senator would not respond to the truth squad.

SIMILAR ACTIVITIES ARE BEING conducted by other groups. Mobil Oil and the nuclear power industry are waging truth squad campaigns of their own in a somewhat less vitriolic tone, although their methods are similar. Mobil was angry over a CBS news broadcast of

Oct. 24. Cronkite reported Mobil Oil's third quarter profits were up 131 percent over the same period a Mobil bought two full-page ads in 13 major newspapers at a cost of $325,000 to outline "19 facts the networks didn't tell you.

The message was that the bulk of the profits came from foreign sources and not U.S. consumers and that the increase in U.S. energy earnings was 'modest at best."

"Cronkite's Oct. 24 story was such a gross distortion of reality that we felt we had to correct the errors," said John Flint, spokesman for Mobil.

'There is a good deal of obvious skepticism about our company," he added. "When there is a hot public issue and we feel the press isn't giving our story, then we feel a responsibility to get the word out ourselves even if it means buying the time and

WILLIAM MORRIS, VICE-PRESIDENT of a utility industry trades association here, shares the

Morris conceived the idea of sending a truth squad to follow actress Jane Fonda and activist Tom Hayden along their 52-city, 30 day anti-nuclear tour

Morris sent Sandy Keifer and Dr. Linn Draper. both nuclear engineering experts, to hold news conferences either simultaneous, or nearly so to the main Fonda-Hayden event in every city.

"We felt it would be irresponsible for the public utilities to let the Fonda and Hayden charges go unanswered," Morris said.

"We felt Fonda and Hayden were uniformed and inaccurate, but we knew the media would give them a lot of attention, so we tried to give our side of the story," said Stan Soloway, a public relations account executive who accompanied Keifer and Draper on the tour.

A SURVEY OF THE NEWS CLIPPINGS and television news tapes shows the pro-nuclear duo was successful in getting equal coverage in many of the cities they visited.

Smith and Harroff, the firm that coordinated the truth squad tour, said the project cost about $50,-

"The timing was everything," said Keifer. "There is a great deal of interest in nuclear issues since the Three Mile Island accident, so we could draw the media's attention. If we had done this at any other time, we might not have been so successful.

Neither Fonda nor Hayden could be reached for their reaction to being dogged for a month by the They did express displeasure with the duo during the trip, however, saying they felt hounded and didn't understand why the truth squad should get equal coverage.

ONE OF THE MOST EXPENSIVE TRUTH squad campaigns currently underway is being organized by the same group forming the Kennedy truth squad.

The National Conservative Political Action Committee has targeted five liberal Democratic senators for defeat in the 1980 elections. They are Sens. Alan Cranston of California, Birch Bayh of Indiana, George McGovern of South Carolina, Frank Church of Idaho, and John Culver of Iowa.

The formula for truth squads is identical but the names are changed depending on the state the group is working in. In Idaho, for example, the group is calledd "Anybody But Church," and the advertisements warn: "If Frank Church wins, you lose."

Only the names are changed in the other four

The group plans to spend $700,000 before election day to defeat the incumbents. Sharon Snyder of the Federal Elections Commission here says the activities are entirely legal.

"They can raise and spend any amount of money they please so long as their activities are not coordinated with any of the opposition candidates," she

TO CARRY THE CYCLE ONE STEP FURTHER. another group is planning to counter the truth squad

The National Committee for an Effective Congress says it will spend $1 million next year on candidate support aimed primarily at undoing some of the damage of the truth squad campaigns.

The group, which supports liberal candidates, will be joined in its efforts by Americans for Democratic Action which also plans to work in the 1980 elections for candidates who support abortion, busing and assistance for Vietnamese boat people.

Cranston says he believes the truth squad activities may actually be helping him by stimulating interest in his campaign and drawing in early contributions.
