More Americans freed by Iranians

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Ten more Americans freed after being held hostage for 16 days in the American Embassy in Tehran were flown to Europe today to join three others released Monday.

An Iran Air jetliner carrying the 10 landed at Orly Airport in Paris. They then were flown to Frankfurt, West Germany, in a U.S. Air Force hospital plane and taken by car to an Air Force hospital in nearby Wiesbaden for medical examinations and questioning by U.S. officials. There was no word on whether they would be home in time for Thanksgiving.

According to French security agents at the airport, the Iranian jetliner arrived with one engine smoking.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur A. Hartman said the six men and four women "looked in good shape, considering what they have been through." Hartman went on the bus that carried the released hostages to the Air Force plane.

Also on the bus was Ann McKeown, a former secretary to the U.S. ambassador in Tehran, who left shortly before the siege began. Ms. McKeown, fighting back tears, saw old friends among the released hostages and said they looked remarkably well.

Before leaving Tehran one of the freed captives, Joan Walsh of Ogden, Utah, told reporters at Mehrabad Airport that the remaining 53 hostages were in "greater danger than we were."

The U.S. government said two women were among the 49 Americans still held in the embassy by students demanding that the United States hand over deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolutionary regime for trial. One black man also was believed among them.

The Carter administration renewed its demand for the release of all the hostages and said if Khomeini carried out his threat to put some of them on trial as spies, it would be a "further flagrant violation" of international law as well as a violation of "elementary human rights."

Foreign Press Director Abolghassan Sadegh told The Associated Press it had not been decided whether any of the hostages would be tried. But "if there is going to be a trial," he continued, "it will be carried out by the country's legal courts, either the special revolutionary tribunals (which have sentenced more than 600 persons to death by firing squad) or the ordinary courts. There will be no trial by the students in the embassy compound."

"Even if some of the Americans are tried and found guilty and sentenced to death for spying," he added, "the imam (Khomeini) is empowered under Islamic law to pardon them."

Iranian Foreign Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr in a CBS interview Monday said the remaining hostages could not be released for two months — until after a new Iranian government is installed — unless the United States surrendered the ailing shah to stand trial for the death of at least 60,000 political opponents Khomeini's supporters claim were killed during his 37-year reign.

The four women members of the embassy staff and six blacks were freed today in compliance with Khomeini's order last weekend to release female and black Americans found not guilty of spying.

Another woman and two black Marine sergeants were freed Monday and flown to Wiesbaden. They were reported in good mental and physical condition.

The three released Monday reported there had been seven women and 10 blacks among the captives in the embassy, two women and one black more than were freed. The State Department confirmed that two women and a black man were still held and identified them as Elizabeth Ann Swift, a political officer, Katherine Koob and Charles Jones, both communications officers.

The State Department said the four women freed today were Elizabeth Montagne, Calumet City, Ill.; Terri Tedford, South San Francisco, Calif.; Miss Walsh, and Lillian Johnson, Elmont, N.Y. It said the six blacks were David Walker, Waller, Texas; Lloyd Rollins, Alexandria, Va.; Wesley Williams, Albany, N.Y.; Neal Robinson, Houston, Texas; James Hughes, Langley AFB, Va., and Joseph Vincent, New Orleans.

Like the trio freed Monday, they were put on display by their captors at a news conference at the embassy Monday night. Miss Johnson said they "were not harmed at all" but she underwent "a lot of interrogation, believe me — at rude hours of the evening."

"I guess they were just convinced that I wasn't a spy," she added.

The three released Monday were Katherine Gross, 22, of Cambridge Springs, Pa., Sgt. William E. Quarles of Washington, D.C., 23, and Sgt. Ladell Maples, 23, of Earle, Ark.

A State Department spokesman said the freed hostages would spend several days undergoing medical and psychological tests and relaxing at a U.S. Air Force hospital in Wiesbaden, with a heavy guard to keep reporters away from them.

The State Department said officials would question them about their ordeal, and Undersecretary of State David Newsom was flown to Wiesbaden to take charge of them. But spokesman George Sherman said their stay in Germany would be "very short and is only a way station on the return to their families."

42 weapons recovered

Four teen-agers in custody

By ED TODD
Staff Writer

Midland police detectives recovered about $9,000 in firearms taken in a supermarket break-in early Monday morning and arrested four teen-agers.

Forty-two weapons — including a semi-automatic AR-15 rifle, a $900 pigeon-grade 12-gauge shotgun, rifles, magnum pistols and hunting knives — were taken in the burglary of Furr's Supermarket in the Town & Country Shopping Center here. Police said three of the teen-agers, all waiters at the nearby Sambo's Restaurant, allegedly broke the store's plate glass window and took the weapons in shopping carts.

The youths apparently had keys to the racks containing the rifles, police said. The 35 handguns were in display cases.

"These are not your run-of-the-mill guns," said Detective Roy Harrison. "About 80 percent of these guns are top quality."

Taken along with the weapons were 22 boxes of ammunition and scores of loose rounds. Some of the firearms were loaded when the teen-agers were arrested, according to the police.

Two teen-agers were arrested at the restaurant. One, a 15-year-old boy, was carrying a loaded .22-caliber pistol, police said. Four handguns were in the saddlebags of a motorcycle owned by an 18-year-old man, also a waiter.

Working the case with Harrison were Detective John Anastasio and Detective Sgt. Mike Roberts.

Police indicated the youths had planned to keep some of the firearms and sell the rest.

"You could get a lot of 'dope' for something like this" in Mexico or South America, speculated Harrison. He said the AR-15, which is equivalent

Zambia mobilizes army to meet 'full-scale-war'

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — President Kenneth Kaunda today mobilized his armed forces to meet what he said was a "full-scale war situation" from Zimbabwe Rhodesia.

Kaunda's announcement to diplomats, officials and newsmen followed a series of raids by Zimbabwe Rhodesian troops against Patriotic Front guerrilla camps in Zambia and, lately, against landlocked Zambia's road and rail lifelines to the sea.

Kaunda also accused South Africa of conspiring with Zimbabwe Rhodesia in "wanton attacks" against Zambia since October. He said the raids had resulted in the destruction of 12 bridges and the loss of nine Zambian lives.

"I call upon the people and residents of Zambia to realize that we are in a full-scale war, and to assist in vigilance all over the country," he said.

But Kaunda stopped short of declaring war on his southern neighbor.

A spokesman for Zimbabwe Rhodesia's military headquarters in Salisbury, meanwhile, said, "So far there are no indications of any unusual activity."

The moves announced by Kaunda included the cancellation of all military leaves, mobilization of all male high school graduates and the recall of retired military officers.

Kaunda said his country was confronted by a "formidable enemy who is supported by Western powers." He said Zambia reserved the right "to call upon any friendly country to come to its aid."

The Zambian president called for material and other assistance "both to herself and to the Patriotic Front to fight this just war to its logical conclusion." He also called on the West "to come out in the open to condemn these attacks."

"The losses we have suffered must be compensated for. This has to be done by Britain," Kaunda said in reference to Britain's status as the legal colonial power in Zimbabwe Rhodesia.

Kaunda made his announcement at Mulungushi Hall, where three months ago at a Commonwealth heads of government summit, Britain won support for a new Zimbabwe Rhodesian peace conference involving the Front and the Salisbury regime of Bishop Abel Muzorewa.

The peace talks, now in their 11th week in London, are now focusing on the crucial question of arranging a cease-fire before new elections are organized by Britain.

Zambia currently has about 14,500 men under arms, and the mobilization could probably double that figure. But military observers agree that, even at the higher figure, Kaunda's army would be no match for the well-disciplined and battle-hardened Zimbabwe Rhodesian forces.

More likely, observers said, Kaunda was using the alert to focus world attention on the serious damage to his economy by the recent raids.

Thanksgiving Reporter-Telegram to be delivered early Thursday

The Reporter-Telegram's Thanksgiving Day edition will be published and distributed Thursday morning in order to enable employees to have a full Thanksgiving holiday with their families.

The regular metro and home editions will be combined in one edition with regular publication schedule resumed on Friday.

The Thanksgiving edition is traditionally one of the largest newspapers. The Reporter-Telegram publishes each year and will be filled with Christmas shopping advertisements and features related to the holiday season.

The circulation department will be open Thursday until noon to handle reader services. The classified advertising department will also be open until noon and can be reached by dialing 682-6222.

All other departments will be closed all day Thursday.

Shades of Yesteryear: Cattle stampede

ABILENE (AP) — The Triangle Cattle Co. ordered about 20 cowboys on horseback to criss-cross the brushy prairies north of town today in search of cattle lost in a wild, pre-dawn stampede.

About 700 head of cattle, possibly spooked by wild dogs, thundered through fences and galloped along a busy highway where passing vehicles struck some of them Monday.

Two persons — a truck driver and a passenger on a bus — suffered minor injuries.

At least 11 cattle were killed on the highway. State troopers, animal control officers and sheriff's deputies helped cowboys round up cattle until about 10 p.m. Monday. Triangle manager Walter Wilmon said between 300 and 350 head were rounded up and the rest remained at large today.

"We're sending about 20 cowboys back through the brush and pastures, but it'll take a week to gather them all up — if we're lucky," he said.

"We figure a bunch of wild dogs stampeded them," Wilmon said. "They get to chasing the cattle and having a lot of fun. The cattle resent it. It terrifies them and they'll stampede. They broke down all the fences."

He said he has hired a rifleman to stand guard over the cattle all night from now on in hopes of keeping the wild dogs away.

The escaped animals spread out along a 10-mile stretch of Interstate 20 north of this West Texas city after the stampede. Some were herded successfully into trailers by officers using squad cars instead of horses.

Bob Warren, maintenance supervisor for the state highway department, said his crews carried 11 dead cattle to the dump Monday. He estimated they weighed 300 to 500 pounds each.

A group of six cattle were struck and killed by an 18-wheel truck driven by Lester Bassham of Winter Haven, Fla., who was tossed out of his vehicle by the impact.

"A bunch of cattle came right across the road at 4:40 a.m. I swerved to miss them and almost turned over," said Bassham, who was treated for a back injury.

A Trailways bus en route from Midland to Dallas, driven by Bob Lovett of Dallas, struck and killed five cattle. A passenger, Tinnie Mae Williams of Dallas was treated for an eye injury. Lovett and 11 other passengers escaped injury.

Carter warns Iran trials not legal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration insisted Monday that all remaining American hostages in Iran "must be released" and warned that putting any of them on trial as spies would violate international law.

U.S. officials took the tough line as three hostages were set free and flew to sanctuary in West Germany and the State Department said an additional 10 hostages were en route to Paris on an Iran Air flight.

The department said they would be picked up there, probably by a military plane, and flown to Frankfurt, West Germany, where they would join the first three hostages released.

The 10 additional hostages, four women and six blacks, apparently were the same 10 presented at a news conference earlier in the day in Tehran.

In a statement issued at the White House and the State Department, the administration said forcing the American hostages to stand trial would be a "violation of elementary human rights" and would heighten "world-wide outrage" caused by the seizure of the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

Despite the tone of the U.S. statement, administration officials did not rule out some discussion with Iran at the United Nations or elsewhere, providing all 62 Americans captured in the embassy takeover are released.

Three hostages in three states are also freed

By The Associated Press

A unemployed woman seeking a job, a young man trying to make up with his girl friend and a handicapped man who authorities say was looking for attention took hostages at gunpoint and then freed them unharmed in separate incidents in Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky.

Louis Posey was charged with armed and aggravated assault shortly before midnight Monday. Earlier in the day he had taken over a Knoxville, Tenn., business college classroom for the second time in two months. Posey, who briefly held a school official hostage, surrendered to police and was jailed in lieu of $100,000 bond.

"He's having problems; he feels the world is closing in on him," said Capt. Doug Norman, one of two police officers who spent 11 hours attempting to coax Posey out of committing suicide.

Posey, who said he dreamed of being a motorcycle daredevil, was on a 10-day pass from Lakeshore Mental Health Institute, where he was committed after a similar standoff at Knoxville Business College.

Partially paralyzed and suffering from a speech impediment as the result of a motorcycle accident 12 years ago, Posey, 27, was described by police and psychologists as a desperate loner seeking friends.

On Sept. 27, he threatened to kill himself in front of 30 students while pointing a .25-caliber pistol at his face before two psychology-trained officers coaxed his surrender.

In Jackson, Ala., a black woman turned away from a possible job walked into a state employment office Monday and held three white employees hostage for four hours before relatives talked her into surrendering.

Police said Emily Curtis, a 38-year-old mother of seven, released the hostages unharmed after accusing them of racial discrimination.

"I can't support my children on $207 a month unemployment," she was quoted as saying.

Mrs. Curtis was taken to a nearby town for psychiatric examination and was not immediately charged, police said.

One of the hostages, Mike Rotch, a job interviewer, said Mrs. Curtis threatened to smear black shoe polish on their faces while they were tied up to show them how it felt to be black.

Three tins of black shoe polish were left unopened on the office counter along with a Bible that Mrs. Curtis also carried.

In Florence, Ky., bond has been set at $25,000 for Joseph Blair, who police say held two hostages at gunpoint for six hours while demanding to see his former girlfriend.

"We took turns talking to him, trying to keep him calm," said Robert Longabaugh, one of the hostages held at a blue jeans warehouse.

Blair, 23, of Clarksville, Ohio, was charged with two counts of kidnapping.

"The incident stemmed from a disagreement between two lovers," said Capt. Dale Fortner of the Kentucky State Police.

Blair surrendered after police said they would allow him to talk to his former girlfriend, Julie Heeger, 20, who works at the warehouse.

Oil, foreign policy to dominate 1980 GOP campaign themes

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Republican governors are forging a 1980 campaign theme by blaming Democrats for leaving the country without an energy program when Iranian oil is being shut off again.

Ford called the crisis, which arose when the U.S. Embassy in Tehran was seized two weeks ago, the most serious challenge the country has faced since World War II. He said he would not try to second-guess Carter in handling it "because it is too important and the dangers are too great."

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says he is proud Texas has two "long-term" candidates in the Republican presidential race, and he is not going to take sides.

However, if for some reason, both John Connally and George Bush are eliminated from the race, Clements said Monday he "might" consider a "favorite son" role at the 1980 Republican convention.

"But, as long as two Texas candidates are in the race, I am not going to take an active part and I am not going to take a stand between them. As a 'favorite son,' candidate at the 1980 Detroit convention, Clements would be able to keep Texas' 80 delegate votes separate until it was decided which way to cast them.

Jim Nugent tells 'em

Texas Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent of Kerrville isn't one to mince words. He never has been.

Addressing a Rotary Club meeting at Longview last week, the commissioner told the Ayatollah Khomeini what he could do with his Iranian oil.

The Longview Morning Journal quoted Nugent as saying, "It's a shame we've gotten ourselves into a position where we aren't energy self-sufficient enough to kick Khomeini's (expletive deleted) up between his eyes."

"We have the ability to be self-sufficient in this country," he added, "but both the state and federal government need to do everything they reasonably can to excite the risk-takers to drill more wells and to hold what reserves we've got in production."

He warned of dependence on imports from such nations as Nigeria, Iran and others — countries, he said, which are "openly antagonistic" toward the United States.

Many of us have been hearing and saying these very same things for a long time now, but Jim Nugent's forceful manner of delivery just might get through to some who apparently haven't gotten the message.

Nugent went on to say that he believes "Americans are ready for some deprivation of energy if it means they can have the feeling of independence and their own self-direction."

He said that while the United States is involved in a struggle over imported oil, Texas is in a regional struggle for the available energy in this country.

The commissioner also urged increased drilling and production, pointing out that the U.S. "must find new fields the size of Alaska's North Slope every two years just to hold our production at the same level we have it today."

He then commented on the recent surge of drilling activity, stating that the American public generally speaking is unaware that "efforts to find and develop oil and gas fields have in effect doubled in the last five to eight years."

"There are twice as many rigs in the field today as in 1971," Nugent said. "In 1971, 27,000 wells were drilled nationwide; this year the number will push 50,000; and spending for exploration and development will be more than four times as great."

He went on to say that fewer stripper wells were abandoned last year than in any year since 1947. He said these low producers brought in 391 million barrels of oil last year, "or enough to offset $8.6 billion worth of imports."

"We can put it into our economy, our jobs and our tax base, or we can send it to Algeria and Libya, add it to our trade deficit and let them use it for their purposes," Nugent concluded.

Howdy, George Bush

Former Midlander George Bush, a candidate for the Republican nomination for President of the United States, returns to his old stomping ground here this afternoon, and, as always, he will be greeted by a host of friends, supporters and admirers.

He is visiting in the Tall City on a fast-moving campaign swing across West Texas. He was scheduled to visit Wichita Falls and Lubbock earlier in the day.

A press conference was to be held at 3:45 p.m. at Midland Regional Airport. It will be followed by an evening fund-raising reception in the Robert Holt residence here.

The West Texas swing is Bush's first appearance in Texas since coming out victorious in straw balloting in Iowa, Maine and Rhode Island.

Bush has held a number of important posts in government, ranging from congressman to ambassador to the United Nations to special envoy to China, as well as having served as national chairman of the Republican party several years ago. His long-time friends here remember him also as a top civic, business and cultural leader and Sunday School teacher during his residence in Midland. Many feel that he yet is a Midlander at heart.

All Midlanders join in welcoming George Bush back home to Midland, Texas, on this particular occasion, and in making it clear that the welcome mat always is out to him and his family.

NICK THIMMESCH

Understanding the nature of Congress is all important

By SEN. HOWARD BAKER

It is news to no one that there is in America today a rising tide of dissatisfaction with the way the United States government operates, with the amount of money it takes and spends, with the power it wields over the daily lives of the American people and with the meager results of its massive endeavors.

The public's dissatisfaction seems to transcend all partisan lines. It may, in fact, explain why partisan allegiance is declining in America and, more ominously, why so many Americans have abandoned the political process altogether.

As fewer and fewer Americans bother to cast their ballots on Election Day, more and more are casting a vote of "no confidence" in their own system of government.

The Congress is a prime target of public disaffection and often the object of the public's scorn.

Our procedures strike many people — many legislators included — as archaic, fractious and dilatory.

Each year seems to find the Congress at a farther remove from the deliberative, policy-making body which the framers of the Constitution envisioned, and nearer instead to an august assemblage of elected bureaucrats.

In recent years, there has been ample discussion — and tragic proof — of the ill effects of an Imperial Presidency. But scarce attention has been paid to the evolution of a Mandarin Congress, a self-perpetuating ruling class with no interest but government and no real home but Washington, D.C.

We have made ourselves full-time employees of the federal government, leaving scarcely any time to go home at all.

We have made ourselves wards of the state, completely beholden to the public treasury for our livelihood, with salaries most people consider too high.

Every year, legislation is introduced to increase the size of our staffs, to mandate federal financing of our election campaigns or protect our incumbency by some other means.

My colleagues in the Senate have heard me speak more than once about the need for a Congress of "citizen legislators." But I become more certain every year that a thorough restructuring of our work in Congress and a drastic reduction in the time we spend in Washington are the only sure defenses we have against the day when we cut ourselves off completely from the very people we are elected to represent.

I propose that the Senate redefine its role, get back to legislating rather than regulating, concentrate on making federal policy, on the design of government programs and on the strict oversight of the executive branch through our standing committees.

I propose that annual salaries of members of Congress be abolished, that they be paid on a per diem basis, that other sources of income not be

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Brennan's memoirs tell secrets

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Under Chief Justice Warren Burger, the Supreme Court has become the most secretive branch of the federal government, cloaking its activities in a confidentiality that puts the Central Intelligence Agency to shame.

But now the velvet curtain of silence has been drawn aside by Justice William Brennan Jr. His secret memoirs, according to court sources who have seen portions of the manuscript, describe personal relationships among the members of the court and the little-known bartering that swings votes in certain cases.

The memoirs are Brennan's painstakingly detailed year-by-year account of his tenure on the high court, which began with his appointment by President Dwight Eisenhower in 1956. Brennan will not authorize release of the judge-and-tell document any time soon — probably not until long after his death.

But some who have seen various parts of the memoirs have described them to us, in the belief that the public has a right to know how important cases are decided by the nine justices. This is a belief that is emphatically not shared by Burger, who has wreaked intemperate reprisals on court employees suspected of leaking information on court deliberations to the Nosy Parkers of the press.

The 73-year-old justice has given strong indications that he intends to resign at the end of the current session next spring.

Here are some of the highlights of the Brennan memoirs as relayed to us by court sources:

— The historic Nixon White House tapes, decision — which made the president's impeachment or resignation inevitable by ordering him to turn the tapes over to the special Watergate prosecutor — involved an intense backstage struggle, the memoirs show.

Chief Justice Burger argued Nixon's side in the closed-conference deliberations. Realizing he was hopelessly in the minority, Burger apparently decided he could do Nixon more good with a restrained majority opinion than a lone dissent. So he exercised his prerogative and assigned himself to write the 8-0 decision that led to his benefactor's downfall, court sources say.

In a story that shows the way things really work behind the scenes at the court, Brennan recounts his courtship of Justice Harry Blackmun on a particular case. The vote had been taken on another decision and Brennan, as the senior justice on the majority side, had the authority to assign the member who would write the opinion. Blackmun wanted to be that justice.

To assure Blackmun's vote on the undecided case, Brennan gave him the coveted opinion-writing assignment — even though he felt that Justice Byron White was better qualified for the job. Brennan writes that he

American people pay for Jimmy Carter's mistakes

By CHARLEY REESE

ORLANDO, Fla. — Jimmy Carter may be remembered as the architect of the destruction of the United States. Two years ago, I called him the worst president in American history. It's one of those cases when you wish you weren't right.

But look at his record: Despite an overwhelming rejection by the American people in 1972 of the policies of Sen. George McGovern, Carter riddled his administration with McGovern supporters including radicals like Sam Brown who supported the Hanoi regime.

He pardoned the draft dodgers, thus simultaneously insulting the memory of some 57,000 Americans who died in the war, demoralizing the Armed Forces, and guaranteeing that in a future conflict, draft dodging and deserting will probably assume epidemic proportions.

He betrayed the families of Americans missing in action. He had promised to keep Vietnam out of the United Nations until there was a full accounting. He broke that promise. He is now having them declared dead by administrative action despite numerous accounts by Vietnamese refugees of Americans still alive in Vietnam.

He adopted a phony and hypocritical human rights program which his leftist State Department appointees have used to undermine anti-communist governments while embracing governments totally hostile to the United States.

He has destroyed American credibility among the world's nations with his cowardly failure to support American allies and to respond to Soviet aggression. It's no wonder the Iranian rabble felt safe in seizing the American embassy for the second time. Carter's response was to send Ramsey Clark, one of the most pitifully weak public figures in recent history. Clark also parroted communist propaganda during the Vietnam War.

He has delivered the Panama Canal to a leftist dictator, setting the stage for a strategic disaster.

He has gutted American military power, cancelling the B-1 bomber, refusing to produce and deploy the neutron warhead, cut the Navy to pre-Pearl Harbor size, delayed development of new weapons, underfunded conventional forces, and then capped it all by negotiating an arms treaty which will freeze American inferiority.

He has totally failed to develop a Latin American policy with the result that not only Cuba, but also Jamaica, Guyana, Grenada, Panama and Nicaragua all have anti-American leftist regimes. Those governments which are not leftist and anti-American are rightist and anti-American thanks to Carter's policy of kicking friends and kissing enemies.

Carter has undercut his own Middle East peace efforts by pressuring Israel, flirting with the PLO, arming the rejectionist states, and, most of all, by allowing the shah to be toppled. For better or worse, the shah was perceived as our chief ally.

He has betrayed the Chinese of Taiwan in a needless surrender to Red Chinese demands. Published statements of Red Chinese leaders clearly show they view the United States as an enemy to be dealt with after being used.

How one immorality leads to another is illustrated by the sad spectacle of the United States defending in the United Nations the regime of that maniac Pol Pot, who committed genocide against his own people.

Domestically, Carter has surrounded himself with second-raters who don't even have decent manners much less any competency. He has filled his administration with environmental extremists, he has consistently attacked the principles of free enterprise, and he has enlarged the bureaucracy.

American prestige is zero. The consequences are visible. Iranian mobs run wild in our embassy, ambassadors are murdered, OPEC rapes our economy, the Russians go where they please, and what few remaining allies we have edge nervously away from us.

The American people pay for Carter's mistakes. They pay in higher taxes. They pay in cruel inflation. They pay in fear, well-founded for the first time, of foreign attack. They pay in lost liberty, and one day, if Carter is not turned out and the country turned around, will pay in defeat and loss of independence.

Mark Russell says

Age seems to be Ronald Reagan's Chappaquiddick, so we'll soon see Roger Mudd posing the following questions: "Governor, on that fateful night eight years ago when you turned 60, exactly how many Geritols did you have?"

"Mr. Reagan, you say you are 68, but frankly you appear to be somewhat younger. Are you too going to say you never lied to us?"

"President Carter says he never panicked in a crisis. How do we know you'll never age in one?"

"Mr. Reagan, this is prime time television and I want to be discreet. You played many romantic roles in the movies opposite a number of desirable women. Tell me, do you ever think about that stuff any more?"

E. E. Hogue of Midland has been awarded the Professional Recognition Award of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers (AIREA).

The announcement was made during the Institute's Governing Council meeting held recently during the Institute's 47th annual convention.

The award was established to stimulate a higher level of appraisal professionalism than that already required.

Selection of members honored by the award is based on activities in three specific areas during the previous three years: participation in continuing education programs to keep abreast of changes in the field of real estate valuation, contributions to the appraisal education of others and service to the profession through donation of time and effort.

Seniors find classes chase off boredom

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A 67-year-old student says going to college has swept away boredom and inspired him.

"It's a difference between having a life of life and a life of death," Ell A. Elson told a reporter. "I have something to look forward to — being in class Monday morning."

"What's the biggest problem seniors face? Boredom," he said. "You get to the point you've lost all activities. You lose interest in living."

Elson is among 40 senior citizens auditing or taking classes at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga as part of the continuing education program. Among other things, he takes American philosophy, primitive religion, classics of Christian tradition and psychology of religion.

The balding, animated Elson operated a fish market for years until he suffered a heart attack at 62, which he said ended his working days and incapacitated him for six months.

Elson said he heard about the university program and joined five years ago. He has audited courses year-round since.

Kitty Kirby, the university's director of adult education services, said the program allowed persons 60 and older to audit courses for free. They must pay the going $26 per credit hour if they take the courses for credit. But those over 65 are charged $7.50 per credit hour, just enough to cover bookkeeping costs.

She said the legislature had paved the way by passing legislation that, beginning in 1974, permitted state colleges and universities to allow senior citizens to attend classes as space permitted.

Elson said he had been apprehensive about how professors and younger students would receive him, but said he had been well treated.

Mary K. Whelchel, 64, said she had also been well received. She moved to Chattanooga from New York in 1978 and was looking for something to fill her spare hours. She started this fall, auditing advanced dramatics, creative writing and oral interpretation.

"I guess I'm just like a first-grader at school. I'm really excited about it," she said. "I just can't believe older people can go for free. I intend to keep on until I'm 90."

Miss Whelchel said she had taken some night courses in New York. Elson said the Depression had cost him his chance at college — he put two sons through instead and both are now doctors.

They said they were auditing courses just for interest, although some others are pursuing degrees.

Elson said his sons urged him to earn a degree, but he said, "I have fun. And that's what, at this stage of life, I want to have, the pleasure of learning."

DEAR ABBY His battered wife wins photo finish

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a successful, prominent professional man who frequently works under severe pressure. Once or twice a year he would erupt into a violent rage, and it seemed therapeutic (for him) to "punch me out."

For years I suffered in silence, hiding and making up excuses for not appearing in public until my cuts and bruises healed. I was too ashamed to let anyone know the truth, so I kept quiet.

I felt that I must have done something terribly wrong to deserve this kind of treatment. Meanwhile, by my silence I was protecting my husband, whom I continued to love in spite of his occasional animal behavior.

I began to ask myself why I took so much abuse and let him get away with it. Then, suddenly, a solution came to mind!

That evening I calmly told my husband that if he ever beat me again, I would hire a professional photographer to photograph me after the battle. Then I would place these 8-by-10 photos in strategic places all over town — identifying myself in living color as his beloved battered wife!

My husband was shocked at this idea; he knew I really meant it.

Needless to say, it worked. It's been four years since he has laid less than a loving hand on me, and our marriage is more solid than ever.

Share this with your readers, Abby. — PEARL THE PINUP

DEAR PEARL: Thanks for a helpful letter. It's been said, "One picture is worth 10,000 words." A picture of this kind should be worth at least $10,000.

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years, and was very disappointed to learn that you are so closed-minded about snakes.

Obviously, your fear stems from prejudice and ignorance. If you ever get to know snakes, you would learn to love them. Most people would kill a snake on sight just because it is a snake! How cruel. Snakes are gentle and harmless by nature, and avoid confrontation. They strike only when threatened, and don't deserve to be run over by cars, or decapitated and hacked to pieces by garden tools. Snakes perform a valuable service by eating rodents and pests that threaten crops and the ecology. Snakes make wonderful pets for retired people and apartment dwellers. They're odorless, clean and quiet, and don't need to be groomed or walked. — C. J.

DEAR C. J.: Another plus: You won't have to worry about anybody stealing them.

THE CONTINENTAL SHORTCUT.

FOUR WAYS CONTINENTAL CUTS THE TIME TO NEW YORK.

- Continental has found the fastest way into New York. With service to Newark Airport, Newark's fifteen minutes less flying time than if you head into JFK. It's also in a different traffic pattern. You'll avoid those stackups that happen so often over JFK.
- You save time on the ground, too. Newark serves about 15,000,000 fewer passengers a year than JFK. So you still have a good chance of getting your baggage in a reasonable amount of time, without the frustrating delays.
- Because Newark is modern and well laid out, people are able to come and go without the huge jams you get at most International airports. You can get through the terminal without the shoving, crowding and delays that cut into your time.
- You can get into Manhattan about 45 minutes faster from Newark than from JFK. That's according to the Official Airline Guide.

not us. So you spend far less time caught in time-consuming traffic.

Finally, Continental saves wear and tear on your soul. We've grown up giving warm, friendly service. We take the extra steps that make flying something more than an airborne bus ride. Call your travel agent, company travel department, or Continental at 563-2100.

Psi Phi report tea

A Preferential Tea was held recently in the home of Patsy Childress to honor seven new Psi Phi Pledges.

The new pledges are Nancy Brinson, Shirley Collins, Becky Farris, Cheryl Browning, Jeanette Oei, Joanna Swift and Nancy Beeson.

The new pledges and three pledges from last spring, Jamie Johnston, Ann Bohanan and Barbara Adams, received the Ritual of Jewels prior to the regular meeting.

Ty Tindall was announced as winner of the turkey raffle drawing held at the Harvest Ball. Patsy Childress will present the turkey to him.

Carol Schmitter announced Psi Phi was second in the amount of money collected by Beta Sigma Phi Chapters for the Poppy Sale.

The program for the meeting was presented by Becky Winkler on "Winning the Battle of Depression."

MGF reports note closing

MGF Oil Corp. today announced the closing Nov. 13 of $15 million of convertible subordinated notes which have been privately placed with three financial institutions.

R. O. "Jack" Major, president of the company, said the notes bear interest at 10 1/2 percent per year, are convertible into MGF Oil Corp. common stock at $19.25 per share, are due Dec. 1, 1991, and provide for interest only for seven years with the principal to be retired in five equal annual installments commencing Dec. 1, 1987.

The conversion price of $19.25 per share was set in September and represented a conversion premium of approximately 35 percent.

The proceeds from the issue were used to reduce bank debt. Major said the interest savings to MGF, based on current prime interest rate levels, will be approximately $950,000 per year.

Texas joins in action against state of Montana

By GARRY J. MOES

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Texas, which claims to have led the nation in energy production for 50 years, has suggested that a new roustabout in the field, energy-rich Montana, is not being a good neighbor in an energy-hungry nation.

The allegation underlies written "friend of the court" arguments submitted by Texas with the Montana Supreme Court. Texas has joined a lawsuit against Montana by several midwestern and southern coal-using electric utilities who claim Montana's tax on coal production is unconstitutional.

A state district court in Helena ruled against the utilities earlier this year, and they have appealed to the Montana Supreme Court.

Stuart Fryer, assistant attorney general for Texas, argues that Montana's tax violates the "supremacy clause" of the U.S. Constitution because, he claims, it frustrates national energy policy to increase the use of coal.

The supremacy clause states that federal laws take precedence over state laws when the two are in conflict.

Montana law requires 30 percent of the market value of coal, measured as it leaves the mine, to be paid as a tax to the state. Montana's coal severance tax is the highest in the nation.

Fryer began his argument by noting that Texas has provided one-fourth of the energy ever produced in America, mostly in the form of oil and gas.

He said that this historic ready availability of energy in Texas has also made the state the leader in energy consumption.

Those two facts put Texas in a pinch when Congress began passing legislation requiring conversion from petroleum to coal in reaction to the Arab Oil Embargo and other "events of this decade" which have altered the course of energy production and consumption, Fryer said.

The object of all the congressional action, he said, is to decrease the amount of petroleum consumed in the United States, and since exotic energy sources are only distant solutions and nuclear power has hit the rocks, coal remains the only immediate substitute for oil.

Senate asked to substitute tax bill backed by President

By JIM LUTHER

WASHINGTON (AP) — After rejecting two attempts to further weaken the "windfall-profits" tax, the Senate is being urged to substitute a version, favored by President Carter, that would double the cost to the oil industry.

Buckeyes whittle away

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN AP Sports Writer

Ohio State, which completed a perfect regular season by defeating Michigan 18-15 on Saturday, continued to chip away at No. 1-ranked Alabama's lead today in The Associated Press college football poll.

The Rose Bowl-bound Buckeyes received 18 of 65 first-place votes and 1,214 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters to move within 24 points of Alabama.

The Crimson Tide, 30-0 winners over Miami, Fla., received 32 first-place votes and 1,238 points. Last week, Alabama led Ohio State 34-14 in first-place votes and 1,262-1,218 in points.

The top six teams — Alabama, Ohio State, Nebraska, Southern California, Florida State and Texas — held onto their positions but Arkansas slipped past Oklahoma into the seventh spot while the Sooners dropped to eighth, a reversal of last week's ratings.

Nebraska, which defeated Iowa State 34-3, received four first-place votes and 1,157 points to nose out Southern Cal, idle last weekend. The Trojans had 10 ballots for No. 1 but only 1,151 points.

It was a good weekend for Florida State, which accepted a bid to the Orange Bowl and then walloped Memphis State 66-17. The Seminoles received 1,019 points.

The remaining first-place ballot was split among Texas, Arkansas and No. 9 Houston. Texas whipped Texas Christian 35-10 and received 959 points, Arkansas earned 865 points for a 22-10 triumph over Texas A&M and Houston, which wasn't scheduled, polled 811 points. The Cougars are 37 points behind Oklahoma, which polled 848 following a 24-22 decision over Missouri.

Unbeaten Brigham Young held onto 10th place with 705 points for a 27-0 victory over Utah.

The Second Ten consists of Pittsburgh, Purdue, Clemson, Washington and Auburn, tied for 14th, Michigan, Baylor, Tulane, South Carolina and Penn State.

LA Rams stay tied for 1st place

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The six-time division champion Los Angeles Rams are 6-6 and tied for the National Football Conference West lead with New Orleans, but Rams' Coach Ray Malavasi is still counting his blessings.

"With all the injuries we've had, I just feel fortunate to be in the position we are in right now," Malavasi said after Monday night's 20-14 Ram victory over NFC West foe Atlanta. "I feel we can win the division, just like I felt at the beginning of the season."

The loss dropped the Falcons to 4-8, putting them two games off the lead with just four contests remaining. However, in what is the NFL's weakest division this season, there are no foregone conclusions.

Atlanta Coach Leeman Bennett refused to concede anything, saying, "As far as the race is concerned, we're still out of it."

ONE OF many Los Angeles' reserves pressed into a starting role, quarterback Vince Ferragamo, guided the Rams to the important victory over the Falcons. Making his first NFL start, the third-year pro out of Nebraska passed for two first-half touchdowns and set up the clinching score — an 11-yard run by Cullen Bryant — in the final quarter.

"I hope to do better next week," said Ferragamo, the apparent Rams' starter the rest of the season since Pat Haden is out with a broken finger. "I wasn't as worried about my first start as I was about coming off an injury."

Ferragamo himself had been sidelined for the past month, recuperating from a broken hand suffered in a game against Dallas.

"I thought I played well at times," he said after completing nine of 22 passes for 171 yards against the Falcons. "I knew that having been out four weeks, I was going to be a little rusty ... and I was."

Ferragamo hit Preston Dennard with a 29-yard touchdown pass early in the first quarter, connected with Billy Waddy on a 40-yard scoring play in the waning moments of the first half, then set up Bryant's tally with a 18-yard toss to tight end Terry Nelson midway through the final period.

AS IT turned out, the Rams needed all three scores. Atlanta quarterback June Jones III, starting in place of the injured Steve Bartkowski, put the Falcons back in the game with two second-half touchdown passes.

Bulldogs are more than 6-9 Johnson

By TERRY WILLIAMSON Sports Writer

If anyone was wondering if the Midland High cagers were going to have anyone to go with 6-foot-9 junior Herbert Johnson, they found out at the Chaparral Center Monday night as the Bulldogs coasted to a 95-72 marathon victory over the AAA Fort Stockton Panthers.

Johnson, the only returning starter back from the defending District 5-4A champions, pumped in 14 first quarter points before being saddled with three fouls. In the third period, he was called for a technical foul and first year head coach Jack Stephenson put him on the shelf for a while. It served one good purpose in that six Bulldogs ended up in double figures to show that this year's edition of the Purple Pack will be much more than a one-man crew.

Horace Brown, a 6-5 post up from the JV, ripped the nets for 20 points while guard Perry Bolger, the leading scorer on last year's 26-4 JV unit, hit for 17 more and made enough steals, blocked passes and assists to stamp this youngster as a Pete Rose type of hustler.

In addition to those two, Darrin Matlock sunk 12 points while Justin Morett and Steve Henry each hit 10 markers.

In short there was enough to go around for just about everyone with the 95-point explosion as 10 Bulldogs got in on the scoring act.

"I didn't notice that we had six kids in double figures, but that is very good," Stephenson stated after the game. "I thought the kids played well against a pretty good team. We saw a lot of people and some of these kids are going to be good basketball players when they get a little more experience. This team is going to get a good test when we play Amarillo High Friday in the first round of the Tall City tournament. They are picked to win their district up there."

Pokes in trouble but...

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

To most people, the Dallas Cowboys conjure up visions of a whirring machine — cold steel, nuts and bolts, flashing lights, operating with the unerring precision of a computer. "Don't believe it," said the Cowboys' star quarterback Roger Staubach. "We're flesh and bones like everybody else. We make mistakes. We pay for it and we hurt."

"Right now, we're in trouble. We can't look back on what we've done in the past. We've got to get it together. No computer is going to save us. We have to do it physically."

After a 7-1 start in the National Football League, the Cowboys have fallen into a late season slump. They have lost three of their last four games — and thwarted a fourth by a last gasp miracle finish against the New York Giants. Now they face the disquieting specter of possibly failing to make the playoffs for the first time in 13 years.

Five times they have made it to the Super Bowl, winning twice. The Pittsburgh Steelers beat them in Super Bowl XIII.

ONCE BELIEVED headed for a runaway victory in the NFC Eastern Division, the Cowboys now find themselves tied with Philadelphia and Washington at 8-4, their confidence shaken and a rocky road ahead.

"We have come to realize that success most times is based on the final moments of the season," Staubach said, prior to starting workouts for Thursday's game against Houston. "We are not satisfied. Our fans are not satisfied. They expect us to go to the Super Bowl and win it."

"Maybe we still can." The Cowboys are a team renowned for their superb organization — from President Tex Schramm and the chief of player development, Gil Brandt, down to the only coach the team has ever had, the impeccable and professorial Tom Landry.

"TOM DOESN'T feed us a lot of fire and brimstone, I know most people think of him as a cold, methodical disciplinarian," the veteran quarterback said. "He is one of the fiercest competitors I have ever known. It just doesn't show."

Normally the Cowboys are not an emotional, demonstrative team, Staubach said, but it would be folly to interpret that as lack of fire and spirit.

Statistics show the Cowboys have lost 17 fumbles while recovering only seven from the opposition, thrown 10 interceptions while picking off 11. It's untypical of the two-time Super Bowl champs. This is Staubach's 11th year in the NFL after a brilliant college career at Navy and five years in the service. At 37, he is not even flirting with retirement.

"I don't feel old," he said. "I plan to play as long as my arm and legs hold out. I have a thigh bruise now — not serious. Sometimes after I've been bumped and banged around a lot, I wake up and start questioning myself. By Tuesday, I'm raring to go again."

not like Hollywood's

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

DALLAS (AP) — Thomas Henderson finally got too "Hollywood" for his own good. He mugged for the national television cameras once too often — on a day the Dallas Cowboys were fighting for their lives.

His sideline antics coupled with a lack of enthusiasm on the field during Washington's 34-20 rout of the Cowboys Sunday was too much for some teammates, and definitely irked the Dallas coaching staff.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry called strongside linebacker Henderson into his office Monday and told him he was being placed on waivers. Henderson said he would just retire from professional football. Landry said clean out your locker.

"Thomas had no intensity...and his sideline escapades didn't help," said mild-mannered line-backer coach Jerry Tubbs, who was watching when Henderson held up a forefinger to say the Cowboys were No. 1, then pointed to a bandana tucked in his belt.

"I saw it on the television monitor and I mentioned it to him," said Tubbs. "He (Henderson) wasn't too happy about it."

Safety Cliff Harris was asked if Henderson's lack of concern bothered him: "Yeah, it made me mad."

On the field, Henderson made one tackle. "He didn't hustle," said Tubbs. "I think it was the way he played that was the straw that broke his back as far as Coach Landry was concerned. He wasn't performing...then he went on TV."

HENDERSON said he was ill with the flu and had a pulled hamstring. Landry refused to give the details of what amounted to Henderson's firing.

However, Landry said he was aware of Henderson's mugging the camera. He also said Henderson had a bad game. "This is just an accumulation of things...he would try hard...then he would slip back...then he would start again," said Landry. "Maybe Sunday was the last straw. It was not a good performing day for him."

Henderson has three years left on a contract with Dallas but could play for another team tomorrow if he wants. Landry said he would help Henderson go anywhere he wanted to go.

Henderson said, "I love the Dallas fans and I love the Cowboys. I don't want to play for a lower echelon team."

Asked if the retirement was irrevocable, Henderson said, "No, but I don't want to be passed around the leagues."

LANDRY SAID Henderson would never be invited back to the Cowboys.

"This is it," he said. Henderson said he was put under a number of restrictions by Landry this year after his spectacular outbursts during the 1978 season, climaxed by the Super Bowl in which he held the center stage for the press.

So, the player who once called the Los Angeles Rams "chokers" and backed it up, is out of football.

But most of the Cowboys will tell you they saw the storm coming.

Cooper finishes on top

By The Associated Press

Ablene Cooper in Class 4A and China Spring in Class 3A completed unbeaten and untied regular seasons last week and went into the playoffs just like they started the season — ranked No. 1 in the final Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll of the season.

While other top rated teams fell victim to upsets, Cooper and China Spring never were seriously threatened in the rankings all season.

Beaumont Hebert, hovering in the No. 2 position in Class 3A in recent weeks, took over the No. 1 spot in the final week of balloting as Kerrville Tivy, last week's No. 1, lost to San Antonio Madison, which jumped from No. 10 to No. 7.

Childress, which wrestled the Class 2A top rank away from Pittsburg, retained the lead going into the playoffs with Pittsburg still as strong runner-up choice.

Monday's sports transactions

BASEBALL American League — BALTIMORE Orioles — Added Larry Jones and Tom Rowe, pitchers; Dallas Williams and Drungo Harwood, outfielders; Dave Huggert, catcher, and Dan Logan, first baseman, to the team's 40-man roster. Assigned Jose Bastian, pitcher; Kevin Kennedy, catcher; Tom Chisholm, first baseman, and Carlos Lopez, outfielder, to Rochester's roster. Released Elrod Hendricks, catcher, and announced he will remain as a coach. National League — HOUSTON Astros — Signed Mike Piazza, catcher, to a four-year contract. LOS ANGELES Dodgers — Signed Don Stenberg, pitcher, to a five-year contract. PITTSBURGH Pirates — Signed Manny Sanchez, catcher, to a multiyear contract. International League — RICHMOND — Fired Tommy Burgess, manager. BASEBALL NBA — ATLANTA Hawks — Signed Hubie Brown, head coach, to a new five-year contract. Announced that Lewis Schaffel, general manager, resigned but will remain with the team.

Texas A&M 'astonished' by claims that organizations closed to women

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M University officials say they are "astonished" that the U.S. government thinks the Fish Drill Team and other university organizations are closed to females.

The government made its position clear Monday, charging in a test case on women's rights that the Texas school has discriminated against women students by barring them from the drill team and three other organizations.

The Justice Department sought to join a private class action suit filed last May by Melanie Zentgraf, a member of the Texas Corps of Cadets.

The department's proposed suit marks the first time that the government has tried to enforce Title IX of a 1972 law forbidding sex discrimination by schools which receive federal aid. James Bond, representing Texas A&M, said that he has not seen the Justice Department's motion. Bond said Justice Department lawyers had been at A&M because they would have to represent Corps Commandant Col. James Woodall, one of the plaintiffs in the suit, since he was a regular Army officer.

Bond said it now appears Woodall has been dropped as a plaintiff so the Justice Department could enter on the side of Miss Zentgraf. Bond said "this type of activity is incredible and leaves us all bewildered."

Bond said he was "astonished that the Department of Justice has seen fit to reach an agreement with the plaintiffs to have Col. Woodall removed as a defendant in the pending lawsuit."

Bond said A&M has filed a reply to the suit denying all allegations. "Texas A&M is proud of its female contingent in the Corps and is dedicated to its growth and success."

The government contended otherwise. "Every female who has evidenced an interest in the Aggie band has been actively discouraged or dissuaded from joining the Aggie band by band and/or faculty members," the Justice Department said.

Panel authorizes beginning of land purchase negotiations

Midland County Commissioners on Monday authorized beginning negotiations with landowners for the purchase of right-of-way for Loop 250 west of Midland and FM 1788 south of Interstate 20.

In a unanimous vote, the four commissioners approved having the county land negotiator, Evelyn Glover, offer the landowners the appraised prices for the six parcels of property along the Loop 250 route and the one parcel of land involved in the FM 1788 project.

Appraised prices for the parcels of land have not been disclosed.

A little more than 16 miles of highway is involved in the Loop 250 project, according to Mrs. Glover. While the total project involves some 38 parcels of property, she said, only six parcels have been approved to this point.

The FM 1788 project involves .912 acre of land, she said, and involves straightening a "reverse curve" some three miles south of I-20.

If landowners refuse the county's offers of the appraised price for the land, Mrs. Glover will negotiate for a settlement agreeable to both the landowners and the county, she said.

Condemnation proceedings can be used as a last resort, she said, but "we would rather work with them and come up with an equitable amount."

Securities sales applications filed

Fifteen applications to register $22,356,263 in securities for sale in Texas were filed with the State Securities Board during the past two weeks.

Securities Commissioner Richard D. Latham said the applications included five Texas companies.

Of those Texas companies, Midland's Laguna Petroleum Company filed for the sale of $625,000 in securities, according to Latham.

Latham said the Securities Board granted ten permits to sell $23,957,500 in securities in the past two weeks. None of the permits were for a Midland company.

United Ostomy Association chapter begun in Basin area

ODESSA — A Midland-Odessa Chapter of United Ostomy Association, Inc., was formed Sunday by a group of ostomates and other interested persons at a meeting held in the auditorium of Medical Center Hospital here.

Mrs. Howard Adkins of Odessa was elected president of the chapter. Other officials include Roy A. Minear of Midland, vice president; Mrs. Jim McNatt, Midland, secretary; and Mrs. Eugene Miller, Odessa, treasurer.

Chapter by-laws were adopted in conformity with standards set out by the national association. Primary purpose is to assist in the rehabilitation of persons who have, or will have, ileostomy, colostomy, urostomy and other ostomy surgery.

Chairmen of the various committees include John Wilson of Midland and Virgil Hughes of Odessa, program; Lu Ann Bearden, Midland, newsletter; and Joyce Jones, Odessa, visitation and education.

The Midland-Odessa Chapter will serve a 20-county area, including Andrews, Borden, Crane, Crockett, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Pecos, Reagan, Scurry, Terrell, Upton, Val Verde, Ward and Winkler counties.

The chapter has 20 charter members.

Additional information on the association may be had by contacting Mrs. McNatt at 682-2851, Midland, or Mrs. Adkins at 337-8217, Odessa.

Monahans man pleads guilty

A 19-year-old Monahans man was sentenced to 10 years in prison Monday and ordered to pay $1,485.84 restitution after he pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery by passing.

Henry Mack Thompson was sentenced in 238th District Court here by Judge Vann Culp.

He pleaded guilty to a July 25 incident in which he passed a check bearing the name of W.B. Turner.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney Richard Moore.

Thompson was represented by attorney Lawrence Barber.

20-year-old Midland man indicted for alleged sexual abuse of child

A 20-year-old Midland man has been indicted by the Midland County Grand Jury on a charge of sexual abuse of a child.

Carl Willie Lewis, 308 S. Clay St., was indicted Wednesday and remains in Midland County Jail in lieu of posting a $15,000 bond. The grand jury also returned indictments against 10 others.

Lewis was arrested Nov. 9 and charged in connection with the alleged sexual abuse of a 7-year-old boy at Anson Jones Elementary School.

According to police, Lewis had worked about a week as a school custodian at the school.

The grand jury also returned an indictment against Robert Jay Rhoads, 24, 3200 Travis Ave., on a charge of possession of methamphetamine. He is free on $5,000 bond.

Paul Lynn Iglehart, 19, 1914 Nash Ave., was indicted on a charge of theft by exercising control, over $200, but less than $10,000. Currently he is free on $5,000 bond.

A re-indictment on a charge of aggravated rape of a child with serious bodily injury was returned against William Richard Ward, 28, 1911 S. Colorado St. He is in the county jail in lieu of posting a $50,000 bond.

Ward is charged in connection with the alleged Oct. 3 rape of a 2-year-old girl here.

Names of seven others indicted Wednesday by the grand jury were not immediately released.

Richard Ervin Floyd, 1623 E. Magnolia Ave., was sentenced in 238th District Court by Judge Vann Culp. He had pleaded guilty Nov. 7.

Floyd was charged in connection with a Sept. 10 incident in which he forged a check on the account of City Transfer and Storage.

The case was prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney Richard Davis.

Floyd was represented by attorney Rusty Wall.

American aid totals more than $3 million

By MALCOLM N. CARTER

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans have sent more than $3 million overseas in cash, food, medical supplies and other goods to aid starving Cambodians, an Associated Press survey of voluntary relief agencies shows.

This supplements the mostly volunteer services of scores of medical personnel, and public and private contributions from the rest of the world, including the U.S. government.

Carter administration officials say that about $27 million of the $69 million pledged by the United States already has been spent for famine relief in Cambodia and Thailand.

Matthew Nimetz, acting U.S. coordinator for refugees, has said that "two and a half million people face starvation in the next few months unless food reaches them."

The biggest problem for all the relief efforts has been getting material from this country to the refugee camps in Thailand and Cambodia. The Cambodian government has rejected appeals for a truck route from Thailand through its country.

But the head of the State Department's refugee program told Congress on Monday that the Cambodian government has "shown some new signs of willingness to cooperate" in easing the famine.

Although there was no indication a truck route would be opened, John A. Baker, director of the Office of Refugee Programs, told a Senate subcommittee he is encouraged by the Phnom Penh government's recent decisions to permit more flights of food to land and to permit food and medical supplies to be transported up the Mekong River into the interior of the country.

Most private donations have been in the form of money given to international groups that arranged abroad the purchase and delivery of supplies.

But CARE, which estimates $500,000 in donations so far for Cambodia, sent the first privately sponsored plane load of supplies directly from this country to Thailand on Saturday.

It consisted of more than 7,000 cartons of baby food donated by the Gerber food company and shipped from New York free by Pan American World Airways.

The Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, chairman of the Overseas Development Council and president of Notre Dame University, said in a telephone interview from his office in South Bend, Ind., that he was pleased by progress being made by the relief agencies.

"The good will is there," he said. "The problem is mobilizing it."

Hesburgh, who originally coordinated the private relief efforts, added, "I never saw so much get accomplished in so short a time... I think hanging over it all is that spectre of the holocaust."

"At this point in history, the voluntary agencies are at a high point that they probably have not experienced before in terms of working together and making an effective response due to the magnitude of the need," said the Rev. Paul McCleary, president of the board of the American Council on Voluntary Agencies and director of Church World Services.

Despite CARE's success Saturday, the American Friends Service Committee says it has 200,000 pounds of vitamins, medicines and medical supplies stockpiled in a Los Angeles warehouse awaiting clearance for a direct flight.

The organization, which has raised $350,000 in little more than a month, had $100,000 worth of rice on a barge that was chartered by Oxfam of the United Kingdom and was received in Cambodia a week ago.

Oxfam-America says it has funneled roughly $750,000 from U.S. contributors to its sister organization in England.

Church World Service, a Protestant organization, says it has donated $200,000 from Americans to the World Council of Churches for Cambodians, given $25,000 worth of mosquito netting shipped through UNICEF from Europe and chartered a barge to carry $500,000 worth of rice, cornmeal, sugar and dried fish into Cambodia in a week or two.

World Vision, a non-denominational Christian organization, expects to have spent $505,000 on its relief program by the end of the week. It has distributed 30 tons of rice, other food, fish and mosquito nets, fishing equipment, pots, kerosene lanterns and stoves and medicine.

Catholic Relief Services, which began its refugee operation in the area in June, has already used $250,000 raised from the U.S. public. It also has donated $25,000 toward a boatload of trucks, agricultural tools, school materials and rice due in Cambodia soon. In addition, the agency has pledged at least $50,000 to help supply a second shipment.

Other agencies that have been especially active include the Red Cross, the International Rescue Committee, Lutheran World Relief, Save the Children, UNICEF, World Relief Corp., Baptist World Alliance and the American Refugee Committee.

Besides supplies, many of the agencies sponsor medical personnel. The American Refugee Committee has 20 doctors and nurses in Thailand with applications from another 800 medical volunteers.

Californians resume gasoline rationing plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Californians greeted the resumption of odd-even gasoline distribution with relative indifference — there were no long lines at gas pumps and many motorists and station owners ignored the plan.

The mandatory odd-even system took effect Monday in 14 California counties and the city of San Francisco, areas which had voluntarily implemented the system earlier this year.

The plan limits motorists with odd-numbered plates to getting gasoline on odd days of the month and those with even-numbered plates to filling up on even-numbered days. On the 31st, everyone can buy gasoline.

The system will go into effect throughout the rest of the state, except for some remote areas, on Dec. 3.

On the first day of the born-again plan, business at gas stations in Los Angeles and San Francisco was reported normal, and in the San Diego area it was even slower than usual.

At Shaw Shell, owner Oscar Shaw said there had been about as many cars with even-numbered plates as with the proper, odd-numbered plates. Monday was Nov. 19.

"I just ask them to leave. They're pleading ignorance, but the fact is they just don't want to believe it's back," Shaw said.

But Neil Rosenblatt, manager of an Arco self-service station in Granada Hills, said he would do nothing to enforce the regulations.

"I'll just let the general public do what they've been doing," he said. "I don't have the manpower to enforce the rule and I won't hire help to do so."

Many station owners shared Rosenblatt's opinion, saying it was the responsibility of the motorist to comply with the plan. And most agreed that law enforcement officials appear unlikely to crack down on those who violate it.

"If there are problems, we will go out and deal with them, but we are not going to seek them out," Los Angeles County Sheriff Peter Pitchess said. He added that his officers had more serious crimes to worry about.

The new mandatory system differs from the previous voluntary system in several ways. Most notably, if a driver can prove he lives more than 100 miles away, he can fill up anytime, regardless of the date.

Besides Los Angeles and San Diego, other counties back on the odd-even plan are Ventura, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Marin, Sonoma, Monterey, San Mateo, Contra Costa and Alameda.

77-year-old producer in satisfactory condition

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Darryl Zanuck, a major figure at 20th Century-Fox for almost 40 years and one of the last great movie moguls, is in satisfactory condition at a Palm Springs hospital after a bout with pneumonia, his doctors say.

The 77-year-old screenwriter, director, and producer is credited with launching the careers of such movie greats as Tyrone Powers, James Cagney and Edward G. Robinson.

Zanuck's doctor said he entered Desert Hospital in Palm Springs Oct. 28 with a case of pneumonia but is "showing signs of improvement."

Zanuck's wife, Virginia, said he had "suffered a slight heart problem" but was now "up and walking" and "doing fine."

Zanuck began his career in the 1920s writing scripts for the Rin Tin Tin series, and produced the first successful feature length "talking" picture in 1928.

Among his best-known productions are "Grapes of Wrath," "Gentlemen's Agreement," "How Green Was My Valley," "All About Eve" and "Viva Zapata."

In 1971, Zanuck was ousted as chairman of the board and chief executive officer of 20th Century-Fox Pictures, the studio he helped found in 1933.

He was forced to leave shortly after he fired his son, Richard Zanuck, as president of the studio.

British television earns three Emmy Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — British television, cited for excellence in drama, documentary and the performing arts, has won three 1979 International Emmy Awards, while the Canadian Broadcasting Co. has taken one for the popular arts.

The winners, announced here Monday at the seventh annual awards gala of the International Council of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, were chosen from a field of 79 entries from 14 nations.

"The Secret Hospital," a two-part program by Yorkshire Television Ltd. which revealed mistreatment, cruelty and torture at British mental hospitals and their effects on a patient, was the winner in the documentary field. The program was produced and directed by John Willis; executive producers were John Fairley and Michael Deakin.

Dallas planning council election

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas city officials began planning today for a long-delayed city council election, while black and Hispanic groups expressed disappointment with the Justice Department's approval of a new plan to elect city representatives.

"I'm just glad it's over with," Mayor Robert Folsom said. "I hope the City Council will vote on Wednesday to have the election as soon as possible."

Under the new system approved Monday, eight city council members would be elected from single-member districts. Three other positions elected at large would form the remainder of the 11-member council.

The previous system that drew the Justice Department's attention elected all members at large. Federal officials ruled Monday the new plan would give minorities a fair chance to win at least three seats.

But minority leaders said the voting strength of blacks and Hispanics would be diluted by the three at-large posts.

"We're still getting half a loaf when we were overdue for a whole loaf," said Ernest Haywood, president of the Dallas Black Chamber of Commerce.

The new plan for Dallas districts was based on the 1970 census, when blacks and Hispanics made up about a third of the city's population.

State Rep. Paul Ragsdale, D-Dallas, said it may be 1990 before minority groups can realize their full potential on the city council.

"We're talking about not gaining adequate representation until after the 1990 census because they are going to lump as many blacks and browns into so-called minority districts as possible," Ragsdale said. "Even though our numbers might be 40 percent of the population, we may have only 20 percent representation."

Frank Hernandez, a former Dallas County court judge, said "the Chicano has not had his day in court."

Hernandez said he would recommend that Mexican-Americans delay possible legal action until after the 1990 census and 1981 elections before they consider a legal action.

Officials of the Oak Cliff Chamber of Commerce also expressed disappointment with the decision — which could eliminate one of the two white council seats the area now holds. The organization's board of directors was scheduled to meet today to discuss possible legal alternatives to block an election based on the new plan.

Folsom indicated Monday that a council election — delayed since April because of legal challenges to the election system — might be called for Jan. 19, the next available date approved by state law for such balloting.

LEE YOUTH CENTER CHATTER

Seasons changing in sports 'arena'

By KAREN FIDLER, GINA BARD and LEIGH ANNE JONES

Well gang, our mighty Rebel Express really ended its season with a bang by mangling the Pups from Midland High, 15-9. Way to go, men! Our mighty Express finished 7-3 for the season. Congratulations to the coaches and players.

Not only did our Varsity stop Midland High, but our Stonewall Brigade also defeated the Bulldog JV 7-6. Way to burn the Dogs, Rebs.

Our Rebel Roundballers had their first game Saturday night. Unfortunately they fell to Monterey, 68-61. David Keys was high point man with 16. Our basketball team will play in Stanton tonight. Also Friday night at 8, the Roundballers will eliminate El Paso in the Midland High gym. So everybody come out and support our Rebel basketballers.

Our girls basketball team won one and lost one last weekend in Dallas. Our women defeated Dallas Bishop Lynch 59-47, but dropped to Dallas South Oak Cliff, 72-29. Keep up the good work, girls.

Hey band — Y'all really looked great Saturday. Congratulations on getting a 1 rating at marching contest Saturday in Odessa. Anybody who saw the performance knows who the best band is, and that's you.

We would like to recognize the drama department for its production of Little Women last Thursday and Friday nights. You really did a great job.

B.C. Says: Thanks to Pam Casey and friend (?) who worked at the door at Friday night's dance, and to Elwanna Collins, Paula Huckabay and Bob for their help. Thanks Willie and John Holmes for setting up, and Cathy Olsen, Doug Fox and Greg Collins for cleaning up.

Last Friday the "Disco Night" started when "One Way or Another" our Mighty Rebel Express buried the MHS Bulldogs in "King Tut's Tomb," "cause they shouted "Lead Me On," but didn't know "Which Way Is Up," but we knew that everything "Happens for a Reason," so our "Macho Men" just "Floated On," down the field for another touchdown, knowing the game would "Close the Doors" on this football season, and pave the way to start our "Boogie Oogie Night," and told those puny Pups, "Don't Bring Us Down" because we have a "Heart of Glass" and "Tears" are "Pouring" from those "Sad Eyes," so take it to the showers, "cause "A Little Bit of Soap Will Wash Away the Tears," and "We Know a Heartache When We See One," but stop "Crying" "Losers," "cause everyone knows we're "Honky Tonk Heroes," so put on your "Boogie Shoes," "cause "You Should Be Dancing," because "You're a Friend to Us," so everybody "Get Lost in the Music," and take it over to "Strawberries" if "You Want to Party with Us." And with a "Little Help From Our Friends," we're gonna "Come Together," and we can't make it to "Margaretite," and back in time to hear the pronounced words "Here Comes the Sun," and all who have "Reunited" have only got their "Memories" of the night, and "Dreams" of the next to hold on to. And once again all of Dixieland is still, until the next time the "Lights Go Out," then the music will rise and the "Disco Inferno" will start again.

Well, Rebs, if you survived the exams yesterday and today, then you have a holiday for the rest of the week to recuperate. Have fun. But don't do anything we wouldn't do. Happy Thanksgiving, you TURKEYS!

Until next week, Karen, Gina, Leigh Anne

Postscripts: Hey, Rudy, do you think your Mom will mind if we ALL come over for dinner tonight? Good luck to our roundballers this week. We love you, Rebel Express — you did a great job. Don't eat too much Thursday.

Garage Sale

Patio Sale, Yard Sale
whenever, term you use, it's an enjoyable and profitable experience. It's your opportunity to clean up while you clean out. You'll become re-acquainted with your neighbors and meet new friends and the fresh air is good for your health.

Check your attic, basement, garage and closets for good but no longer used items — furniture, tools — the list goes on and on. Every item should be priced of course. You may want to combine your sale with a friend or neighbor. Choose your days, get your signs ready and place your ad in the Classified section. Your ad should list a few key items, give the date, time, and good directions.

A friendly Classified Ad Visor will help you word your Garage Sale ad for maximum results.
