Army Recruiters Claim Corruption I

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) - Unwritten rules of corruption have been followed for years within the Army's recruiting command in a high-pressure scramble for bodies to send into the allvolunteer Army, four accused recruiters

The recruiters, all relieved of duty and three facing court-martials in a nationwide recruiting scandal, say that getting copies of entrance exams to help enlistees cheat in the Army's Charlotte recruiting district was as easy as opening "They mainly come in the mail," said one of the four. ## Skate Stars Defect To West

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) - Soviet figure skaters Ludmilla Belousova and Oleg Protopopov, two-time Olympic champions and aging darlings of the Russian ice rink, have defected to the West, the Swiss government announced Monday.

The husband-wife team, who dominated world pairs skating in the mid-1960s, were the fourth and fifth prominent Soviet performers to seek political asylum abroad in little more than a month. Three dancers of the Bolshoi Ballet defected to the United States.

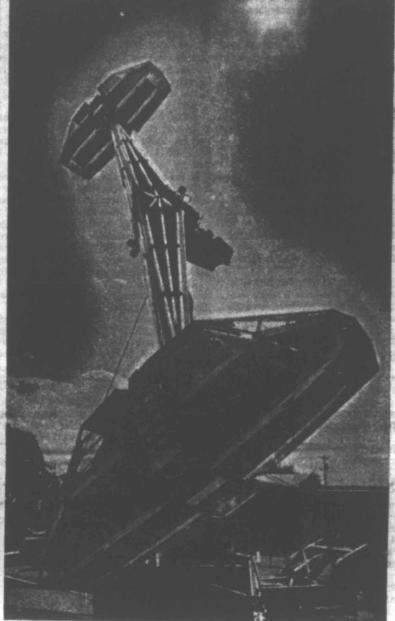

The 47-year-old Protopopov and his 44-year-old wife vanished last Tuesday, the day they were to have flown back to the Soviet Union after a four-week skating exhibition tour of West Germany and Switzerland.

Swiss Justice Ministry spokesman Ulrich Hubacher announced that they had asked for asylum in Switzerland last week, and he said the government would make a decision within several weeks. He did not disclose their present whereabouts or their plans.

SPAG Ties Discarded By County

By DEBBI STALTER Avalanche-Journal Staff

LUBBOCK County commissioners may have voted more than themselves out of the South Plains Association of Governments Monday - their decision may mean the loss of two minority representatives on the council of governments' board of directors.

County Commissioners Coy Biggs, Alton Brazell and Edgar Chance voted during a morning session to pull out of SPAG, with Commissioner Jim Lancaster abstaining. Lancaster had sided with County Judge Rodrick Shaw in saying the county should stay in the organization to retain an active voice in projects affecting the county.

Accounts Affected

Savings

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senste Banking Committee approved a bill, Monday, that would phase out federal controls limiting the interest that banks and other institutions pay on savings accounts.

The measure would require that the interest ceiling be raised by one-half a percentage point per year from 1982 through 1989, when controls would ex-pire. By that time, today's rate of 5¼ percent on a passbook account in a com-mercial bank would rise to 9½ percent.

The same bill, aimed at increasing incentives for Americans to save more and centives for Americans to save more and spend less, would require that the $10,000 minimum for a high-earning certificate of deposit be reduced to $1,000 within two years. This amendment, sponsored by Sen. William Prozmire, DWis., the committee chairman, is designed specifically to help small savers.

Move Could Be Delayed

The bill also would override a court decision and give banks, credit unio and savings and loan associations speci checking accounts. This part of the bill passed the House last week; the other provisions face significant opposition in both the House and Senate. Even so, the legislation, most which carries the endorsement of the Carter administration, was approved by Armstrong, R-Colo., opposing it.

The major source of opposition is from the savings and loan associations. Since they are the nation's major source of home loans, they now are allowed to pay savers one-quarter of a percentage point more in interest than are con cial banks. The bill would end that diff-

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., who led the opposition to phasing out the interest ceilings, agreed with Proxmire that more must be done to help small savers, whose interest earnings now are not even half the rate of inflation. But requiring that interest rates go up every year will drive many savings and loan associations out of business because they will have no way to earn the extra money needed to pay higher rates to savers, Cranston contended. He See SMALL SAVERS' Page 18

Three More Charged

Three more Lubback women were charged Monday with theft stemming from alleged schemes to defraud the Texas Department of Human Resources (TDHR) out of various welfare benefits totaling more than $2,600.

In all three cases, the women — Karen Sue Holland of 1916 E. Colgate St., Lillie Mae Poster of [113-B 44th St. and Cecilia Harmon of 1913 Baylor St., No. 46 — are accused of giving false income information to TDER interviewers in order to receive the excess benefits.

TDHR investigative reports indicate that Mrs. Harmon, 35, received $912.64 in Medicaid Insurance coverage benefits and $836 in public assistance treasury warrants provided as aid to families with dependent children. She allegedly received the excess payments on a monthly basis between January 1978 and April 1978.

Mrs. Holland, 27, also allegedly received the same type of payments as Mrs. Harmon between November 1977 and December 1978, TDHR reports indicate the excess funds totaled $256 in treasury warrants and $176.64 in Medicaid payments.

Forty-one-year-old Mrs. Poster is accused of illegally reporting her income in order to receive $417 worth of food stamp authorization coupons. She allegedly received the excess coupons on six occasions between August 1977 and June of this teas.

The theft charges filed Monday against the women are classified as third degree felonies, and the criminal district attorney's office recommended a $3,500 bond for each of the women.

Late Monday a fourth case, similar to the others, also was being prepared by the district attorney's office but had not been filled.

Hospital Conducts Fake Disaster Drill

West Texas Hospital personnel, Lub-bock firemen and EMS ambulance attendants participated in a disaster drill Monday night with high school students acting as the injured in a mock explosion and fire at the Avalanche-Journal build-

The supposed explosion "killed" several persons and sent about 25 more to West Texas Hospital with a variety of in-

Units from the Lubbock Fire Department and Emergency Medical Services rushed to the scene, where the students lay strewn about the basement and first

'We're required to de drill such as these twice a year," said Dave Moore, director of education at West Texas Hospital. "But we like to do them just tokeep our people responsive to such disasters.

Working through the Explorer Scouts, the hospital rounded up nearly 30 student volunteers from Lubbock High School to pretend they were in-jured workers. After they were docked out in articisi blood and gore, they were spread around the inside of the A-J building, just as if there had been a real 'We want this to be as real as possi ble," Moore said. "EMS and the Fire Department know we're going to have the drill, but they've got to react and get

As the EMS crews found their way to the basement of the A-J building, they were confronted with moans and screams from the "injured" workers. Outside, fire units covered the building as fire crews checked the top and sides of the plant. The EMS technicians checked each person they found, quickly diagnosed his injuries and decided which needed to be taken care of first. They had to find their own way in and out, encountering locked doors, stairs that were too narrow for stretchers and several very uncooperative patients. "It was a little tougher than we thought it would be," mumbled one exan injured person to a waiting aimbulance.

Several concerned bystanders, attracted by the flashing lights and gather-ing of emergency vehicles in front of the paper's offices, watched closely, but the worried looks quickly disappeared when informed the disaster was only a lake.

For UW Luncheon

Dr. Tom Haggai of High Point, N.C., who averages speaking once a day to some group and travels more than 250,000 miles per year to do it, will be the kickoff speaker for the 1979 United Way campaign at Memorial Civic Center on Oct. 2.

Haggai is a member of the General Motors Speakers Bureau and also makes 30 appearances annually for Mayflower Movers.

United Way campaign chairman Joe Price, in announcing the event, said Haggar will be speaking to about 1,200 persons many of them civic club members since many clubs use the kickoff as their meeting for the week.

This is the 25th year that civic; and service clubs have joined in kickoff activities, Price said.

'We feel that many citizens of Lubbock will want to hear this fantastic speaker," Price said. "Whether you're a member of a club or just interested in the community and want to hear one of the best speakers in the country, you should make it a point to attend the kickoff," he said.

Tickets for the luncheon are on sale at the United Way office, 2201 19th St., and will be available at the door on the kickoff date. Price is $4.

In addition to his speaking, Haggai serves as chairman of the board of the Independent Grocers' Alliance, American's fourth largest group of food stores at retail. He is on the board of Super Food Services and contributes regularly to several business periodicals. He also has written a book about youth and its problems titled "Chrissie, I Never Had It So Bad.

IN A CONFRONTATION heavily influ-that can be hardly pleasing to President enced by the Carter-Kennedy rivalry, Maine Carter and his allies on the DNC. and Massachusetts are defying orders from the national Democratic Party to push back their 1980 presidential caucus and primary

Under new party rules adopted last year, states are not supposed to begin selecting 1980 convention delegates, whether by the caucus system or by primaries, until March

Parenthetically, the Democratic National Committee voted to prohibit New York Democrats from including an "uncommitted" option in the 1980 primary ballot unless those who want such an alternative gather the same minimum of 10,000 petition signatures required of presidential candidates seeking a ballot spot.

THE DNC compliance review commission majority ignored complaints that such a requirement was never contemplated by those who write the party rules. Carter supporters at the DNC do not want any, say, late starters in the 1980 race, such as youknow-who, to use the same ploy in New York.

Meanwhile, Maine has scheduled caucuses for Feb. 10 and Massachusetts has set a March 4 primary. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy -if he decides to make his candidacy official-is expected to do extremely well in both Maine and Massachusetts, a prospect

Handout Line Is Never Short

THE DESIRE for a balanced budget is inherent in the philosophy of our society. The banker balances the till, the accountant reconciles the accounts, the auditor certifies the assets and liabilities and the rest of us who work for a living try to pay our bills and balance our checkbooks.

Yet there are those in Congress who cry welfare and social justice-and without compunction crucify taxpayers with an awesome and increasing Federal Debt.

It makes common sense to balance. It is a basic operating standard for the taxpayers. Why, then, should the tax-users be exempt? At does not make sense to borrow against future for daily expense; it is morally reprehensible to place this burden on the ng generation—it is an irresponsible act of thoughtless parents.

AN IMPLICIT purpose of the balanced blidget (concept) is to reduce the growth of government spending," points out a Heritage Foundation study prepared by analyst gene McAllister.

"It is important to realize,...balanced dget and spending measures need not reoffire a cut in essential services but merely impose a reasonable limit on 'growth' of expenditures."

The concept of managed growth alluded by McAllister requires emphasis. A bal-

Party leaders in both states say they will stick to their guns, raising the possibility that their delegations to the 1980 Democratic National Convention in New York will be denied seating for having been chosen in violation of the rules. That may depend on who wins the presidential nomination, how-anced budget which results in the stability of managed growth would be one of the better political and social decisions of our timeespecially if the decision for a balanced budget were accompanied by corresponding cuts in discretionary federal spending.

Party rules, like history books, tend to get written by the winners.

THE ECONOMIC double standard now used by Congress cannot be: Private-For Official Use Only. The fiscal actions of the private and public sector are inexorably intertwined.

The only collateral the Federal Debt offers is a promise to pay from future receipts. That future becomes more distant, and the collateral more ethereal each day.

It is indeed a sad fiscal policy which requires more billions in debt annually to pay current expense. Witness the charade played by the U.S. House when the Debt Limit was increased using the threat of "noncashable Social Security checks" as political leverage.

It is evident that governments at all levels have not been listening, or at best made selective use of their hearing aids. Meanwhile, part of the burden of responsibility for deficit policies must be shared by state, county and local governments who rebuke Congress for its profligate habits while bellying up to the bar of "free" money at hand-

MacArthur Was Our Best Combat General

say of five-star Gen. Douglas MacArthur's incre-ASHINGTON-Sept. 16 was the 29th annivere landing at Inchon, Korea. It is sure to live forever in the military textbooks of the world's staff colleges.

bur combined chiefs-of-staff-Army, Navy, Marine, Air Force—unanimously opposed the landing. To a man, they called it utterly impossible. Two small islands and a lighthouse guarded the channel into Inchon harbor.

The tides were 33 feet. But it remains an unmatched, absolute classic of planning, timing and execution.

Inchon was, of course, an amphibious landing: And nothing depends so much on the commandar's individual competence, nothing takes such precise coordination of Army, Navy and air units, and nothing depends so capriciously on the weather. Nothing is harder to try.

T CAN be a ghastly debacle. Witness the British ill-fated amphibious landing at Turkey's Galoli in World War I.

en. Dwight D. Eisenhower once told me he rded Inchon as all modern military history's st perfect achievement by any commander at in time or place.

the nature of General MacArthur's Inchon ng, he listed for me in Europe Gen. George s Patton's amphibious landing in Sicily and his Wattern Sicilian conquest.

neral MacArthur, from the USS Mount McKinley bridge, commanded an armada of at 260 vessels. Under bombs and whatnot, he took the fleet directly into Inchon's blacked-out Against enormous odds, the landing routed the North Korean enemy from South Korea.

YOU COULD reasonably state that General MacArthur was the greatest combet general the world has ever seen. Consider the World Was II

All war begins with terrain; its advantages, its bstacles, its inherent problem.

And in the world's history, no such terrain, no such sweep of oceans, no comparable start on the heartbreaking pathway to victory ever faced & commander in all history as faced General MacArthur and his outnumbered forces after Pearl

The battleground? General MacArthur fought with more than 1,000 ships in a Pacific expanse almost 65 million square miles. Island-hopping from one island to the next (most of them heavily fortified) he succeeded in taking the Japanese surrender Sept. 2, 1945, in Tokyo Bay.

GENERAL MACARTHUR was brought up in a world of standards and nobody ever silenced his drums or captured his battle flag: a most interesting, fascinating man and true scholar. He graduated (1903) at the United States Military Academy first in his class. When Gen. Robert E. Lee graduated he averaged 98.33 percent in all studies, and not a single demerit. The record of 99.78 is held by Irving Hale, class of 1884. In World War 1 General MacArthur commanded the 42nd (Rainbow) Division. He was gassed and wounded in action. In January 1925 he became the youngest major general in the U.S. Army. Then, like his father, Gen. Arthur MacArthur, became Superintendent of West Point.

CONGRESS AWARDED General MacArthur the nation's highest decoration, the Congressional Medal of Honor.

He was among the world's most-decorated men. General MacArthur received three Distinguished Service Crosses, seven Silver Stars and two Purple Hearts-22 in all, 13 for heroism.

The anniversary of General MacArthur's Inchon landing is a fitting reminder that you find no substitute for the individual, no substitute for

In this world there is such a thing as the genius spark. General MacArthur had it. And we must honor the individual before we honor mankind

Fed Workers' Pay Decrease Tied To Inflation Increase

Editor, Avalanche-Journal:

I see in The A-J Sept. 18 a letter from an air traffic controller. In his words, "To be a federal public employe I am a second-class citizen. Be this as it may. Ours is a free enterprise system. A person either works for free enterprise, or is a parasite upon it. True, federal public emploves pay taxes too, but their entire salary comes from taxes paid by free enterprise. In my humble opinion, not only should they not have the right of collective bargaining, but their pay should be decreased annually by the percentage of that year's inflation (caused for the most part by excessive government spending, over-regulation, etc.).

If about 40 percent of all government employes quit rather than take a cut in pay, so much the better. Since the days of WPA, one works while

White River Real Headache For Adjacent-Land Owners Editor, Avalanche-Journal:

I have a complaint that I think needs to be made public. The White River Lake is a wonderful thing for Spur, Crosbyton and Ralls, They now have plenty of good water and a nice place for week-end outings.

It offers good fishing and camping but it's a real headache to the ranches that join it. I know that everyone who enjoys this place is not like some who believe the world is theirs to do as they please regardless of the cost to other people.

We have about five miles of land that joins the lake property and right now we have at least 100 posts gone out of the fence, wires cut and laying on the ground. They bring chain saws and wire cutters to get the posts for firewood.

In my opinion there's nothing lower than people who enjoy outings at others' expense. Mrs. Harry Martin, Rt. 1, Spur

Thousands Of Empty Chairs Symbolic Of IYC 'Fiasco' Editor, Avalanche-Journal:

This, the only conference sanctioned by the federal government relative to IYC, was, in the words of Marie Oser, a national IYC commissionef, to receive input from participants to be for-mulated at the final session into a report to the National IYC Commission. In reality, at the final session views opposing goals of leaders and organizers of the conference were not permitted to be presented. The mayor and people of Houston and the American taxpayer deserve an explanation from HEW and IYC

Problems In Schools Arise From Decay Of Permissivism Editor, Avalanche-Journal

This is in response to the editorial printed Wednesday, Sept. 12, entitled "Schools Fail Teaching Test." The article blamed schools for lower scores on standard tests, as reported by the College Board

I must dispute your theory that scores will head back up just as soon as the schools reaccept the responsibility for education and again insist that students sit still for it.'

Let us not deceive ourselves. Learning will never take place in a school until teachers and administrators are given the necessary powers to correct and discipline in the classroom.

Our permissive society and big government have taken away the power teachers and principals must have in order to maintain an atmosphere conducive to learning.

The school's hands have been tied, making their job impossible to carry out.

The problems in our schools are merely a reflection of a society decaying from permissivism Kennedy--Not--For President and the "anything goes" philosophy, along with the problems that naturally arise when government gets its nose into something about which it knows little.

If ever our schools regain the power to demand a decent standard of discipline and behavior from students and parents, then perhaps schools will be enabled to build an environment suitable for quality academics.

Zoning On Garages In Two Crowded Areas Defended

Editor, Avalanche-Journal:

The letter from H.W. Milnes, Ph.D. in the Aug. 26 AJ should be of concern to those who live in the UNIT and Overton South neighborhoods immediately to the South and East of the Tech campus and as such probably warrants a reply. We may conclude that the writer feels the recent decision to enforce longstanding zoning ordinances more strictly is "ridiculous" and that someone needs help. The first statement is a misrepresentation. The objective is not to demolish all garage apartments but to regulate the number of rental units that can be crowded onto one lot. In my opinion the move was long overdue.

Ultimately, in light of soaring energy costs, both neighborhoods are virtually certain to attract increasing numbers of Tech faculty and staff. That the areas not be reduced to ghettos or jungles before that day arrives seems imperative.

Those who question such possibilities need only drive the east-west alleys between University and Indiana, 19th and 34th. Time again the height and density of uncut weeds, the amount of discarded debris, the number of open dumpsters, as well as the frequency of alleys blocked by parked vehicles reflect the number of rental units, occupants and in turn decay of the neighborhood.

That someone needs help, I don't question, but let us also include in that category responsible homeowners who wish to see property values maintained rather than inflated and who have no desire to live surrounded by blaring stereos, stray dogs, and cars parked all over the front lawn.

don't think soning enforcement "ridiculous" and I applaud the city's initial, if belated, efforts in this direction.

Boston Boy' Front Runner For Demos Now. And In '80 Editor, Avalanche-Journal:

Sen. Howard Baker, presidential hopeful, says he does not consider the Chappaquiddick 'accident," as he called it, an issue if Edward Kennedy decides to enter the race. Well, in the first place, Kennedy is already in the race, as should be obvious to any school boy.

But, in my opinion, for whatever it is worth, Chappaquiddick is the main issue. As far as politics are concerned, there is not a dime's worth of difference between Kennedy and Carter...

But, in spite of everything that could be said against the Boston boy, I am pretty sure he will be the Democrats' nominee in 1980

JOSEPH SOBRAN:

In Bible

WASHINGTON-Pope John Paul II has ordered that women not be permitted to help distribute Communion in the masses he says during his October visit to America.

As James Boswell once wrote in preface to a Johnsonian riposte, "It did not require much sagacity to foresee that this would not be suffered to pass without due animadversion."

The riposte in this case was, alas, less than Johnsonian. It came from Don Zirkel, editor of the Catholic Brooklyn Tablet, and consisted largely of the inevitable cussword "sexist," suitably amplified.

When in Rome," said Zirkel, "we have been advised, do as the Romans do. It would not seem disrespectful to suggest to the Vatican planners. of the Pope's trip to the United States that when in America, it is appropriate to do as the Americans do. Polite guests are everywhere expected to respect the culture of their hosts. Our culture frowns on sexism and all forms of public insults

THIS SOUNDS plausible. But of course it begs. the question what "sexism" is: I have always suspected that this is one of those words whose usefulness would be destroyed if it were ever de-And polite hosts don't insist on construing as insults" behavior by guests, especially dignitaries, which is native and customary to them. Zirkel talks as if insulting women in public were required by Polish etiquette. I am beginning to think that sassing the Pope is required by American etiquette-or more precisely, by liberal American etiquette. It is important not to confuse liberalism with Americanism as Zirkel apparently does. This is by no means a trifling confusion. When Zirkel refers to "our culture," he is really talking about the culture of liberalism, not of America itself. Liberalism has ratified the Equal Rights Amendment, but America hasn't.

What is more important is that the equality of the sexes is as much mere convention as any system of subordination between them. People who are far from despising the rights of women wonder whether those rights should be identical with the rights of men. While the question remains unsettled, the presumption is in favor of tradition.

THE LADY in the Thurber cartoon exults. "I just love the idea of there being two sexes, don't you?" Not any more, we don't. It offends the fashionable uniformitarianism, according to which all differences among human beings are potential "barriers" and sources of divisiveness.

Liberal etiquette requires that we pretend they don't matter. It is one thing to observe that etiquette oneself, another to demand that the Pope grovel before it. The whole point of an orthodoxy is to resist the pressures and fashions that happen to be current in one's age.

I see nothing wrong with a reasonable equality of the sexes as a civil custom. And it is civil rights that feminism is all about. But the standards that apply to our public life don't necessarily apply to private life-and religion is private life par excellence.

More and more we are hearing the demand that private life, including religion, assimilate to the forms of public life. A few years ago the New York Times called on the Episcopal Church to ordain women priests.

NOW WE would think it audacious of the Moose Lodge to tell the Elks Club how to reform its constitution. But it verges on the when secularists presume to lay down guidelines for the sacred. The situation is complicated by the difficulty of distinguishing secularists from worshippers; many people manage to be both at once.

In his brilliant book "Catholicism and Modernity," James Hitchcock argues that many Catholics, in their eagerness to keep up with secularity, have given up on the Church's mission to the world; instead they conceive themselves as the world's missionaries to the Church. They are forever demanding that the Church instantly conform-they would say "reform"-to various secular models

"Reform" in this sense turns out to mean, in practice, jettisoning those things that are distinctive about one's faith. What, ultimately, is the nature and role of women? Perhaps the traditional subordination of women can and should be modi-

But the Catholic Church, like my religion, must find its own reasons for doing so, and not simply change in order to be like folks-even 'enlightened" folks. The word "sexism" doesn't opcur in the Scriptures.

...Pass It On

THE SAMURAI code of old Japan held up until relatively recent years and may hold up still among some there. It decreed, among other things, that inevitable defeat be met with honor. even by committing suicide, if necessary.

An example of the samurai code: In 1945, nine Japanese soldiers were left to guard the ammo dump on Iwo Jima. The war ended. Americans surrounded them, but didn't attack. Instead, the Americans daily left food at the entry for them.

Finally, the Americans found a note where they usually put the food. It read: Thank you for the food. But leave no more, please. Tomorrow we'll blow up the dump and ourselves. And they did.

When you take your foot off the accelerator in a diesel truck, you shut off all fuel to the engine. Some truckers know this, some don't. That is why some get exceedingly good mileage on longhaul trips by taking advantage of the down grades while others try to make up in time saved what they lose in fuel burnt by pushing constantly. Interesting, if true. It's the contention of Transportation Department researchers.

The only two species of animal that get emphysema, I'm told, are horses and humans.

Amazing, some of the things found in the innards of sharks. Ancient records at Aix in France note that fishermen there once pulled in a 22-foot shark, opened it up, and found the headless body of a man in a full suit of armor.

Medical records indicate that category of woman who suffers the most chronic illnesses is the widow with small children.

Exports Increase WASHINGTON (AP) - Exports of U.S. farm commodities in the first nine months of the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 totaled $23.8 billion, up 16 percent from the same period in 1977-78.

Agriculture Department officials have forecast exports will total a record 332 billion for the entire year, compared to $27.3 billion last year.

The experts say the pace will continue in the coming year and that the total could range from $35 billion to $40 bil-

"When the movie-makers finally absed why, the chief told them the Abrakis had died more than a line between their heritage and life in modern America like no other group in history. Most Indians live tucked away on isolated reservations scattered across the continent, yet the moment they step 100 years ago, So we became the Abnakoff that land they are expected to funcis, and that movie became "Northwest tion in a space age society without miss-

That film became a classic, showe ing the talents of young actors such as Spencer Tracy and Walter Brennan, but White Eagle may have had the most demanding role in the picture. "Well, I was killed twice in that movie," he admits with a grin. "Some guys never die in the movies, but not me. That was one of my specialties."

His many onscreen deaths kept his career alive for more than 40 years and even though at age 62 he could retire to Social Security checks, the White Eagle is continuing his work.

Although he's reluctant to discuss it. he's become involved with what is being termed as a "major, major" production of a television version of Ruth B.B. Hill's book, "Hanta Yo." The project, which is described as an Indian version of "Roots," is being produced by David Wolper, who made "Roots." Production is set to begin about this time next year, after a suitable screen play is drawn from the book.

Despite the longevity of his career in Hollywood, White Eagle remains a love, and will prove it by entertaining the children at several area school today and Wednesday with a program of Indi an skills and legends.

"Acting kept bread on the table, so I'm very thankful for it," he said. "People were more receptive to me as a film star than as just another Indian. I was invited more places and had more opportunities to speak my mind."

Life in Hollywood for the chief was a microcosm of the Indian's life across the country, highlighted by sudden and dramatic changes of lifestyle. "In Holly wood, I'd work on movies when I could and then I get a job as a welder to fill the gaps. I'd help build bridges and skyscrapers until I got another offer," said. "It worked out fairly well. Most young actors don't have anything to fall back on, and many of them starve be-

But above all else, White Eagle is a loyal and concerned Indian. "I used to be more politically active but I've mellowed some in my old age," he said. "I watch them (the American Indian Movement) now, and though I don't really approve of their techniques to get attention, maybe the end justifies the means.

"We've found that the average Amer ican is pretty good-hearted. He doesn't want to see the Indians or anyone else get stepped on.

"I really think the thing that would help the Indians the most is to mesh er than try to keep the two so separated," he said. "The Indians can stay on the reservations because that's their homes now, but give them a chance to make it out in the world, too. Indians are as easy to train as anyone else. We found that out during World War II, when the Indians proved to be the best builders in the Army.

It is somewhat ironic that a primary reason the Indians have had so much trouble changing their image is because it has been so perpetuated in the movies. In nearly every western since John Wayne jumped aboard his first horse, the Indians have surrounded the wagon train, attacked the fort and gotten wiped out in the end.

"I do wish there was something really positive we could do about that image," he said, somewhat wistfully. Some of us, Iron Eyes Cody (perhaps the most famous Indian performer) and Jay Silverheels (Tonto on "The Lone Ranger"), have spearheaded a move to prevent the moviemakers from continuing the stereotype," he said. "We feel that if a scene is historical and based in fact, it's okay to do, but we don't want to do any more fiction that makes us look bad. After all, we won a lot more battles than Custer's Last Stand."

Chief White Eagle blames the continuing stereotype on the fact that there have been no Indian screenwriters or producers. "Children all over ask me why the Indians always lose, and I have

Avalanche-Journal Staff With Citibus ridership on the rise, Lubbock's Transit Advisory Board voted Monday to recommend that the city purchase four more 39-passenger buses for use on the Texas Tech campus and Citibus routes beginning next summer.

Although the city previously had planned to use a federal grant to purchase 14 buses, the board voted unanimously to pick up the city's second option on the grant and purchase four more of the advance design diesel-powered vehicles.

The federal Urban Mass Transit Administration in July approved Lubbock's original request to purchase 14 buses at a cost of $125,000 each. The purchase, however, would not have required a cash outlay by the city because of a matching fund set-up provided by the federal government.

The city's second option on the grant, for 18 of the wheelchair lift-equipped General Motors RTS II buses, will require $35,000 in city money, explained City Transit Coordinator John Wilson. If the City Council approves the transit board's reccommendation, that money will come out of next year's budget.

If the grant is approved, most of the 18 buses will be used for the city's charter service at Texas Tech. A limited number would be available for regular Citibus routes, according to Wilson.

"The city is going to replace the Grummans (Citibuses) anyway," com-mented board President Milton Smith. 'It makes sense to start now."

Bus prices are expected to jump 10 reent due to inflation next year, noted Wilson. He also stressed that maintenance costs on the aging fleet of 24 Citi-buses will be much higher as they continue to wear out.

The one year required to submit a grant and wait for its approval, in addi-tion to the one-year delivery lag on bus orders, also influenced the board's deci-

"City council approved option one in September 1978 when we first applied for the grant," Wilson told the board. 'They know about the second option, but they don't know the cost."

The option will be presented to Lub-bock City Council at Thursday's meet-

In other business, the board asked Wilson's staff to look into the possibility of contracting with a taxi company to provide demand-response service to the city Health Department.

TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES Title 20 mile arrive Social Services Plan

The 1980 social services program for Texas has been prepared by the Department of Human Resources in cooperation with citizens throughout the state. The plan is available for public

Comprehensive Annual Services Program Plan for Texas (CASPP) 1 October 1 1979 to September 30, 1980

Differences Between Proposed and Final Plan-The proposed Title 20 plan was published May 11, 1979. Public comments were accepted through June 25. Changes in the final plan show updated estimates of the number of people to be served and program cost. A summary of the major differences between the proposed and final plan follows:

Organizational Structure—The organizational charts for DHR's State Office and Social Services Branch have been updated.

Clients to be Served and Income Eligibility-Income eligibility for all services, except those provided in the Alternate Care of the Aged, Blind and Disabled (ABD) program, has been changed from 55 percent to 56 percent of the state median income, adjusted for family size. Income eligibility for ABD services has been set at 70 percent, 60 percent and 40 percent of the state median income, adjusted for family size. Income eligibility for ABD services varies by services and by region.

Fees for Services - A sample schedule of day care fees is included in the final plan.

Planning, Needs Assessment, Evaluation-These sections have been revised to include an updated description of the department's planning, needs assessment and evaluation processes. The criteria used to allocate program funds to regions also are included.

Service Definitions - The definitions for Permanent Planning, Protective Community Resources and Alternative Living Plans have been revised to better describe the activities included in these services.

New Service - A new service was added to assist victims of family violence. This service was made possible by a special appropriation. by the 66th Texas Legislature.

Service to Be Continued-The proposed plan stated that Health Assessment Services would be discontinued after December 31, 1979. This service will be provided in regions 5 and 7 throughout the 1980 program year.

Program Expenditures - Estimates of expenditures and clients to be served in the proposed CASPP were based on Legislative Budget Board recommendations. The figures in the final CASPP are based on the actual appropriations approved by the Governor. With the exception of state contracts, most programs received a slight increase in funds. The ABD program received a major increase, about $13 million, and AFDC Special Services were increased by about $8.6 million. State contracts were cut about $1 million. The estimated number of clients to be served in each program has been updated based on regional projections.

Catalog of Services—The eligibility criteria for ABD, Rehabilitation and Community Services have been clarified. ABD eligibility has been simplified to include fewer categories.

Purchase of Service Providers-The list of purchase of service providers in the final CASPP has been updated to show contracts which were in effect July 1, 1979.

Getting Copies of the Plan-The complete plan may be read or reviewed in the DHR offices listed below, or obtained free by writing to Title 20, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701

More Information - To ask questions about Title 20, contact any of the offices below or the Title 20 Information Center. To apply for any of the services in the plan, please contact an office listed below.

Public Comments - A summary and file of public comments can be examined from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays in the Title 20 Information Center, John H. Winters Building, 200 East Riverside, Austin.

State Median Income (Monthly) (For a family of four: $1577.44)

To be eligible for most Title 20 services, need must be established and the family's total monthly income cannot be more than the amounts shown.

BY DR. PAUL G. DONOHUE

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have just read about the effects of tetracycline on the teeth of unborn babies. My two-year-old shows the effects from it. Could you please tell me if his permanent teeth will be white? Is there anything to help correct the problem? This is of great concern to me. - M.R.

The antibiotic tetracycline is deposited in teeth during the period when they are being calcified. This may happen before birth when "baby" teeth are being calcified if the mother is taking the

The permanent teeth may be stained if tetracycline is taken while they are being formed. The front ones (incisors) begin to form six months after birth. The back ones (molars) form after three or four years. Thus, the antiblotic should be avoided until a child is at least five, preferably eight years old. If your child has not had any tetracycline from six months after birth to age five, these permanent teeth should not be affected.

You must remember that there may be compelling reasons for a doctor to want to use tetracycline drugs in early childhood, even with full awareness of this unfortunate side effect. There are life-endangering illnesses that call for their use. If this is the case, then the teeth-staining is considered a relatively small price to pay.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My 41-year-old son just told me he is going on a 10-day water diet. I told him he was out of his mind, and that going without food so long will put him in the hospital.

He lives in California and goes to some outfit there. He was put on a oneyear diet of nothing but vegetables, and every so often he water fasts. I went to visit him, and when he met me at the bus I had to bite my lip to keep from crying, he looked so horrible. Now this 10-day water fast! I am sick with worry, and would like your opinion, please. -

Of course, this is not a sensible diet. At 41, your son is the product of an age of "pop medicine" nonsense. I'll bet he won't listen to me or you; even though, as they say, blood is thicker than water He may be interested in the booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing." For a copy, send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Donohue, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Three years ago my doctor said I had familial tremors. At that time he prescribed Inderal. There was little or no relief as far as the tremors were concerned. For a time, a drink of alcohol seemed to work better than anything. Now even alcohol doesn't seem to do any good. I would appreciate any suggestions you may be able to give me. -J.G.H.

Familial tremor is a fine shaking of the hands, which increases with precision work, trying to thread a needle, for example. Alcohol does stop the tremor temporarily, but it is not a long-term help, as you learned. Inderal (propranolol) is sometimes useful. If that is not helping, there is little else to do, medically.

Anciety worsens such tremors. One other thought. The tremor that comes from an overactive thyroid gland is very similar to familial tremor. Your thyroid status should be checked, if that has not been done, "Familial," as the word implies, means the tremor tends to come in members of the same family. It has nothing to do with Parkinson's Disease to answer another reader's question unthe same subject.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: You printed a letter from a woman who was disgusted because her husband wouldn't give her any loving at bedtime, but he was rarin' to go at 4 a.m. You suggested that she accommodate him in the morning, after the alarm went off. Later you said so many wives complained about your advice you were willing to concede that a woman does have the right to refuse if she feels like it. It's about time someone expressed the male point of view. Here it is and I hope you print it. You make no allowances for the fact that a female can engage in sex anytime - all she has to do is be there. A male, however, must be well-rested and in the mood, or he simply cannot perform. Most husbands come home from work exhausted. When bedtime rolls around, they want to go to sleep. It is not uncommon for a man to awaken at an odd hour, after he has had some rest, and want romance. Most wives don't mind accommodating their husbands even though they may not be thrilled with the idea. A wife who refuses to take care of her*husband should not be surprised if he looks elsewhere. I can tell you he will have no trouble finding someone who will be more sensitive to his needs. There is a growing surplus of women 35 years of age and older not only in this > at Square A. I'm not going to get stung by the same bee twice. You've had your say, and I thank you for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: It is both amusing and annoying to see how often you suggest "counseling" or "therapy" or advise a reader to "see your clergyman." It's a simple way to pass the buck when you don't know what else to say - a very transparent dodge, to say the least.

Why do you suppose people write to you? It's YOUR counseling they want, Ann. Another thing - when you give such advice, do you honestly believe these people know where to go to get 'counseling''? Psychiatrists in the big cities charge as much as $100 an hour. Not many people can afford such "help." I never expect to see this letter in the paper but I feel better for having gotten it off my chest. - Sarasota, Fla.

Dear Sara: A great many people who write to Ann Landers need a lot more help than I can give them. A life that has been loused up for 15 years cannot be straightened out in three inches of newspaper space. Moreover, I am not a therapist. These people need to talk to someone - on a continuing basis. Often family counseling is in order. When I say, 'Get professional help," I mean just

As to where to get "counseling" anyone who has read this column for a month or more knows that I constantly repeat (at the risk of boring my readers to death) . . . "Look in your phone book under Mental Health Clinic" - or call Family Service, the Salvation Army, The YMCA and Recovery, Inc. Call Alcoholics Anonymous - phone Gamblers Anonymous. Ask your physician to make an appointment with a competent therapist. Call the nearest medical or dental school. Write to the American Psychiatric Association or the American Psychological Association.

I make no apoligies for the advice I give. But I know my limitations. Many readers have told me that the best advice I ever gave was > After eight months of our being very happy, Kirk's parents moved out of town, so, of course, he had to go, too. I went into a terrific depression, started to eat like crazy and gained 45 pounds.

I am now wearing my old "fat" clothes and my size 8s, which I loved, have been taken over by my kid sister who has plenty of clothes of her own.

When I complain to Mom she says, It's your own fault. Lose some weight and wear them yourself - or quit complaining.

What is your opinion of a mother who acts like that? - Too Much Me

Dear Too Much: I don't like to tell a teenager that her mom is off base, but yours is. She should instruct your sister to keep her hands off your clothes.

You have a more serious problem than clothes, honey; and I hope you'll go to work on it as soon as you read this. You took the weight off once, and you can do it again. Get some counseling and zero in on that compulsive eating pattern. A 16-year-old girl who is 45 pounds overweight can be separated by a wall of fat from a great many joys of living. Don't let it happen to you.

I walked into Pat Walker's Figure Salon in Lubbock a few months ago, ready to try one more time to lose weight. I had tried everything else, even to having surgical staples put in my ears.

After my courtesy treatment, the counselor explained the Pat Walker figure correction program to me. When she assured me that the program was guaranteed, I felt I had finally found the solution to my figure problems.

When I began my program at Pat Walker's Figure Salon, I weighed 178 lbs. and wore a size 20 dress. Today I weigh 126 lbs. and wear a size 8 dress. My life style has changed completely because today I can do "skinny" things. I can't wait for summer so I can lounge around the pool in my new size 8 bikini!

Dock Foreman Reports Theft Of Cigarettes

The dock foreman of an east Lubbock business told police Monday that someone stole $6,120 worth of cigarettes from the firm.

A. C. Bullard reported that 17 cases of cigarettes, each case containing 60 cartons, were stolen from the 1205 Ave. E business some time between 11 a.m. Sunday and 7 a.m Monday.

Reports indicate that the door near the firm's north loading dock was open and a part of the fence outside the door was propped open with a board. Police could find no evidence of forced entry.

Calculators, typewriters, whistles, balloons and a color television set were some of the items reported stolen from a North University Avenue mobile home late Sunday.

Oscar Power, owner of Mustang Mobile Home at 1406 University Ave., told police that some time between 10:48 p.m. and 12:30 a.m. Sunday someone stole $4,790 worth of goods from the business.

Reports indicate that a window located in the north part of the building was broken and had been raised. Police found a small amount of blood inside and outside the broken window.

Police said they collared two men and were looking for a third in connection with the early Monday burglary of Clark's Drug Store at 1702 Broadway.

Along with the arrests, police confiscated about $500 in drugs which had been gathered up in two bags.

Dispatched on an alarm down at the store about 3:30 a.m. today, police Cpl. D.E. Milam and Sgt. Bill Ackors entered the building and arrested one of the suspects, a 20-year-old Lubback man, who reportedly was hiding behind some boxes inside the kitchen area.

Several minutes later, officers apprehended a second man, age 33, who was behind an air conditioner unit outside the building. Reports indicate police also were looking for a 49-year-old Lubbock man in connection with the burglary.

Entry into the drugstore was thought to have been gained by climbing through an air conditioner vent on top of the roof.

In other activity, police were looking for three men in a 1969 silver and black Cadillac who allegedly stopped in front of Sally Moreno's residence at 3218 Duke St. and fired several shots at the house abaout 1:40 a.m. Monday. No one was injured in the incident.

A person in another car said he saw a passenger in the suspects' vehicle display a pistol and shoot at the house. Police dug out two spent .25-caliber bullets from the southside of the structure.

Officer's Vehicle Hit By Vandals

The rear window of a Lubbock Police Department patrol car was shattered late Sunday or early Monday by vandals while the auto was parked at Eighth Street and Avenue X

A department spokesman said someone threw a rock through the window, shattering it. The vehicle had been parked at the intersection during the night, and the damage was discovered about 11 a.m. today, the spokesman said.

He added that the policeman the car was assigned to had been up late Sunday because he was in the process of moving. The spokesman refused to identify the officer.

Worried Politician Concerned With Dogs, Not Crime

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A politician bitten on the rear end last weekend while campaigning says he's more worried about stray dogs than crime in the streets.

"I'm not concerned about whether I'll be mugged but whether I'll be bitten," said City Council candidate Peter J. Jurnynski after being treated and released from Mercy Hospital on Sunday for a bite on the buttecks.

Juraynski has been calling for creation of a city dog pound with a warden, trained staff and fleet of vehicles to transport strays.

"The dogs I'm attacking aren't the ones who have owners," he said. "I do a lot of footwork in my campaign, and I know there are residential sections with packs of wild dogs running in the streets."

A Lubbock woman said she had to splash hot water on her 32-year-oldbrother about 6:40 p.m. Sunday to get him to stop hitting her in the stomach.

Attorneys Select Jury For Trial

A-J Correspondent
CROSBYTON — After a full day of questioning prospective jurors, attorneys finally selected a four-woman, eight-man panel late Monday to hear testimony in Paula Bruce's murder trial.

Crosby County Attorney Bill Marley and defense attorney Bill Lee of Ralls questioned the possible veniremen for almost six hours before selecting 12 about 4 p.m. Monday. Testimony in the case is scheduled to begin here, with 72nd District Judge Denzil Bevers presiding, at 9 a.m.

Former Lubbock County District Attorney Alton Griffin is acting as special prosecutor in the case.

Charges against Mrs. Bruce, 57, of Lorenzo were reduced from two counts of capital murder to two counts of murder at a hearing in March. A capital murder conviction could have meant a death sentence while the murder charges could bring a life sentence at

The trial had been delayed twice, once when a co-defendant in the case was found shot to death in his jail cell in March and again in April when Marley had health problems.

Services Set For Bishop DeFalco Mass for Bishop Lawrence M DeFal. His first assignment was a provided.

Mass for Bishop Lawrence M. DeFalco, 64, former bishop of the Amarillo Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, will be at 10 a.m. today in St. Laurence Cathedral in Amarillo. DeFalco died Saturday following a lengthy illness.

Burial will be in Llano Cemetery.

Concelebrants at the funeral mass will include Bishop Thomas Tschoepe of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese, Auxiliary Bishop John McCarthy of the Galveston-Houston Diocese, Archbishop-elect Patrick Flores of El Paso and Bishop John L. Morkovsky of Galveston-Houston Diocese who preceded DeFalco in the Amarillo post. Other bishops from Texas and surrounding states also are expected to attend today's funeral.

DeFalco served as bishop of the Amarillo Diocese, which includes the Lubbock area, since 1963. His resignation for reasons of health was accepted Aug. 28 by Pope John Paul II.

Following the bishop's resignation, the board of Consultors met and named the Rt. Rev. L.T. Matthiesen as interim administrator of the diocese. He will continue in that capacity until the popenames a successor to the late bishop.

The bishop, the son of Rosario and Margaret Def alco, was born in McKeesport, Pa.

He attended St. Vincent's College in Latrobe, Pa., and St. John's Home Mission Seminary, Little Rock, Ack. He was ordained to the priesthood His first assignment was as associate pastor of St. Patrick's Church in Fort Worth.

Bishop DeFalco was appointed vice chancellor of the Diocese of Dallas Fort Worth in 1952. In 1953, he was named associate pastor of Sacred Heart Cathedral in Dallas. Later that year, he was sent to Rome to study canon law at the Gregorian University. Upon his return to Texas, he was assigned as secretary to the dioscesan tribunal.

In 1956, he was named administrator of St. Michael's Parish in McKinney and then became the first pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Relp. Dallas. He was named a papal chamberlain Feb. 10, 1961, with the title Very Reverend Monsistor.

In January of 1962, he was named pastor of St. Patrick's Co-Cathedral in Fort Worth.

DeFalco was appointed bishop of Amarillo April 17, 1963, by Pope John XXIII. He was consecrated bishop on May 30, 1963, at St. Patrick's Co.Cathedral and was installed as Bishop of Amarillo at Sacred Heart Cathedral, June 13, 1963, by Archbishop Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio.

He attended the Second Vatican
Council in Rome and returned to West.

Judge Has No Plans To Retire

County Judge Rod Shaw isn't ready to retire, despite the efforts of the U. S. Postal Service to deliver his mail to a retirement hotel.

Shaw got the letter Monday afternoon after it had first been delivered to the downtown Lubbock hotel and commented, "I don't know why they thought I had retired.

Maybe some of the postal employees thought you should," volunteered Commissioner Alton Brazell.

The letter was from Constable Allen Meurer of Slaton. It concerned a 1980 salary request from Meurer and was addressed, "County Judge Rod Shaw, County Courthouse, Lubbock."

There was no apparent geason for the letter being misdirected. Meurer said Monday morning, when the subject of the then-missing letter first came up, that he had mailed it last Thursday.

Suspect Nabbed By Deputies

Lubbock County Sheriff's deputies Monday evening arrested a 23-year-old Lubbock man as a suspect in the alleged robbery and shooting of a 19-year-old Authorities also have the name of another man who might have been involved in the Sept. 8 incident.

Rene Ledesma told deputies that he got out of his van, parked on Municipal Drive about 2 1/2 miles east of Loop 289, and had walked about six feet from the vehicle when one of the suspects shot him in the back. Ledesma said he turned and pleaded, "Man, rob me, but please don't kill me." He reportedly then was struck in the face and knocked to the ground.

Reports indicate Ledesma, while still on the ground, was shot once in the right temple after one of the suspects told his companion. "Shoot him in the Ledesma was able to walk to the nearby Christian Worship Center, located on East Municipal Drive, where authorities were called.

Ledesma told deputies the two men took his wallet containing between $75

He was admitted to Health Sciences Center Hospital, but recently was released. Doctors told deputies that the bullets, from a small caliber pistol, would remain lodged in Ledesma unless complications developed and surgery

The Lubbock Criminal District Attorney's office has been aiding sheriff's deputies in the search for the murder suspects.

YOUR PERSONAL BIORHYTHMS By Bernard Gittelson, Author of "Biorhythm: A Personal Science"

The personal science of biorhythm can tell you how your day will go. Now you can judge the highs and lows of not only yourself, but loved ones and friends, and celebrities and stars. Biorhythm, our newest scientific discipline, is the study of the built-in natural cycles that powerfully influence our behavior.

Step 1: From the year chart, find the numbers corresponding to your year of birth. For instance, if you were born in 1947, your number for Physical would be 21, Emotional 17, Intellectual 19. Note whether your numbers are preceded by an A or B; this will be used for Step 2.

REGIONAL Civil Liberties Union Challenges Holiday

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - The Iowa Civil Liberties Union went to federal court Monday, asking that the county be prevented from giving workers a holiday for Pope John Paul II's visit.

The ICLU argued the Polk County Board of Supervisors' decision to give county employees a day off for the pope's Oct. 4 visit to Des Moines violated the constitutional guarantee of separation of church and state.

A hearing was set for Thursday be-fore U.S. District Judge William C. Stuart.

Executive Director Steven Brown said the ICLU will file a second suit Tuesday seeking to prevent an Oct. 4 school closing by the Lenox Community School District about 70 miles southwest of Des Moines.

Brown said both the school closing and the county holiday involve the spending of public funds for the advancement of religion, noting that publicly funded services will not be available that day.

The cost of the county workers' holiday will be about $50,000 in wages, Brown said.

A plaintiff in the lawsuit is Kenneth Hutro, a Unitarian minister from Des Moines. Hutro said he is "overjoyed" for his Roman Catholic friends that the pope will be among them, but he is also angry, dismayed and resentful that publicly elected officials are going to use my tax funds to support a religious event, no matter how noble."

Brown criticized the Des Moines schools for closing that day but said no court action will be taken against the district. He said there was not enough time to gather and hear evidence pertaining to the "legitimate health and ' arguments in favor of closing Des Moines schools. Such arguments don't apply to the Lenox schools, he said, because they are distant from the site of the visit.

Brown also praised officials of the Des Moines Catholic Diocese for their actions.

"Rather ironically, it's the government officials who have shown insensitivity to the serious First Amendment issues raised," he said.

Bishop Maurice Dingman said Monday that the diocese's position has been that the county should decide whether to declare a holiday.

Members of the Polk County Board of Supervisors said their decision stands.

The pope's upcoming visit sparked protests in Boston and Philadephia. In Boston, the archdiocese agreed to fund costs of building a platform for a papal Mass. And in Philadelphia, the American Civil Liberties Union went to court to prevent public funding of a similar

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Q. In reply to a reader who said he "lost $1,600" on U.S. Treasury notes, you wrote that the loss could be taken at a capital loss when that person files his in-

I have always believed that U.S. Treasury notes and bonds are the safest investments in the world. How does one "lose money" on U.S. Treasury notes?

A. By selling them at a lower price than the price at which they were put-chased. That's what happened to the reader whose letter was answered in the previous column.

He bought $30,000 of Treasury notes at the time those notes were issued. He paid the "par" - face - value of $30,-000. $30,000 was also the market value -the price at which those notes could be bought and sold - at the time of his

Some time later, he sold. By that time, the market value of notes and declined. He received the going market price — 28,400 — and realized a $1,600 loss. This happens anytime you 'll sell any security at a lower price than you

You're very right about U.S. Treasury notes and bonds being the safest investments in the world. Like all Treasury securities, they are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government. If you own one, you know it will be paid off at I par value - when it reaches maturity.

But, if you sell it before it matures. you will get the market price at the time of your sale. When interest rates go up, the market prices of debt securities including Treasury issues — go down.

Because, to many readers, the words "bonds" and Treasury bonds" means only U.S. Savings Bonds, I want to make it clear that this change in market value situation applies only to "marketable securities" - those that can be traded the market place.

U.S. Savings Bonds never lose dollar value. Séries E bonds can always be redeemed at their purchase price, plus ac-cured interest. Series H bonds can always be redeemed at par value, which is also their purchase price.

Q. Say that I buy stock in company and receive a stock certificate with the signature of "John Jones," president on is one of the big advantages of spying it and that Jones leaves the company, with "Robert Smith" coming president. What steps must I take to get a certifithe U.N. the tallest observation tower in cate with the new president's name on

A. None at all. The signature on the stock certificate is that of the purson who was president at the time the certif-icate was issued. The certificate remains valid evidence of ownership of a share of the corporation, no matter who occupies the corporate executive saits.

A corporation is an entity which continues, no matter if the person who signed the certificates has left the company or this vale of tears.

Q. I would like to sell the shares of a metual fund I wen. Will I get a higher or lower price, by dealing through a bre-herage firm or directly with the fund? A You'll get exactly the same price either way — unless the brokerage firm fund. You redeem them by turning them back to the fund. The fund pays you the " redemption price." For almost all funds that is the actual dollars and cents value behind the shares at the time you

The exceptions to this rule are the handful of funds which levy a small redemption fee. The fund you named in your letter does not have such a fee.

COTTON BOLLWORM ACTIVITY CONTINUES to decrease on the High Plains but is still reported to be a problem.

Dr. James Leser, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, points out that open bolls are beginning to show up in a number of fields in most areas.

The weather outlook this week, with temperatures Monday at Lubbock predicted to range under sunny skies from the low 90s to the middle 50s, is favorable for cotton maturation. The normal maximums and minimums at the National Weather Service office at Lubbock for the fourth seven-day period in mber are 81.1 and 55.3 degrees.

Dr. James Supak, area extension cotton specialist at Lubbock, says probably not more than 1 to 2 percent of the crop as a whole is open.

Cooler temperatures last week provided some help in retarding bollworm infestations, Leser says, but he warns: "Don't take down the bollworm alert flag just yet."

WHILE A COMBINATION OF LAST WEEK'S lower temperatures and the current toughening of bolls, reduced square densities and cotton "cutting out" has reduced the risk of economic loss from bollworms, Leser says, there still are some fields that are vulnerable. And while egg-laying activity has dropped, he adds, counts as high as 50 per whole plants have been reported.

These new bollworm infestations are being found regardless of the condition of fields, Leser says. In fields that are "cut out" with reddened foliage, however, it is doubtful that these later infestations could develop to damaging

'Control decisions are difficult to make at this time of year and actual yield increases hard to guarantee," he points out. "There probably will be less than one field in 1,000 that may have damaging bollworm infestations worth treating over the next 10 days."

The entomologist says control may be justified if an infestation of 10,000 or more one-half-inch or smaller worms are found per acre or approximately three worms per four feet of row examined.

"BOLLWORM DAMAGE HAS BECOME EVIDENT to farmers over the last 10 days," Leser says. "Unfortunately, when damage is obvious on the larger bolls, it's usually too late to do anything.'

Many producers waited too long to make control decisions and then hesitated to use the more expensive rates necessary to control the larger worms, the entomologist says.

"Damage in parts of Hale, Swisher, Briscoe, Floyd, Crosby and Lubbock counties will result in millions of dollars lost," Leser says. "An average yield reduction of 60 pounds to the acre due to bollworm damage will not be a bad

'The final monetary loss will not be known until the effects on remaining fiber quality are determined," he adds. "Damaged bolls don't exactly help overall fiber quality when mixed with undamaged bolls."

Boll weevil infestations are increasing rapidly below the Caprock. By Sept. 6, only 2 percent of the fields checked by Leser's scouts were infested. Now, he says, more than 30 percent are infested and damage is more evident.

While overall counts are way down from previous years," Leser says, "weevils are increasing to levels sufficient to provide more than enough seed to create problems in 1980."

Legislators Back Act For Family Farm Loans

By KATHLEEN HARRIS Avalanche-Journal Farm Writer

"Like the energy problem, severe food shortages could sneak up on Americans if the family farm is allowed to disappear," State Sen. E.L. Short Of Tahoka said here Monday. Short joined State Reps. Luther Jones of El Paso, Buzz Robnett of Lubbock and Jim Rudd of Brownfield in urging passage of the Family Farm and Ranch Security Act as a constitutional amendment which will appear as Proposition 3 in the Nov. 6 election.

Purpose of the amendment, Short said, is to help young people to stay in farming and ranching at almost no risk to the state.

"Credit would be made available to young persons who can afford monthly payments but cannot come up with the percent down payment now required," said Jones, who sponsored the bill in the House

Eligibility of the loans, which would be up to 90 percent state-guaranteed, would be limited to Texas residents who have the "necessary education or training" in farming or ranching and intend to purchase the land for use by the applicant and his family for agricultural purposes. The applicant would have to we a net worth of less than $100,000.

While all farm organizations and many urban groups have endorsed the legislation, Jones said, the amendment is not worth anything unless it passes in

"Voter turnout is expected to be very low in November because there are only three proposals on the ballot," Jones "However, Houston will hold mumore than half the votes cast in the elec- chase land.

tion are expected to come from Hous-

"Taxpayers may be leery of starting a new program," Jones continued, "but the land is the security in this legislation. If there is a default, the state could auction the acreage and probably make a profit, judging by current prices of

A similar bill in Minnesota that was a pattern for the Texas amendment has issued 158 loans in 21/2 years without one default thus far, Jones said. If the amendment passes, it would authorize the sale of $10 million in general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which would be administered by the commissioner of agriculture and be used only in the event of a default Loans would be made by private lenders.

Short called the enabling act "one of the most important pieces of legislation to pass the 66th legislature.

The continued existence of the individually owned or family farm and ranch in Texas is endangered by the extremely high down payment required of loans for land purchase," Short said. "Unless this amendment is adopted by the voters, many young Texans may be forced off the land into a life they do not desire.

With the average age of the Texas farmer being 59 years old, it has become increasingly more important to find means of keeping younger farmers and ranchers in the business," Short said. Unless the trend is reversed, farming and ranching in Texas will soon become an industry totally dominated by corporations and foreign investors."

Short said the adoption of the amendment will provide a means to furnish long term, low interest loans to young nicipal elections at the same time and farmers and ranchers who want to pur-

Tech Museum Schedules New Sheep, Goat, Show,

A new exhibit on sheep and goats at the Museum of Texas Tech University will be one topic of discussion at the annual membership meeting of the Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement at 2 p.m. today at the Museum.

The exhibit, scheduled to open Feb. 1, will join the 3,600 square feet of Food and Fiber exhibits already in place at the Museum. The existing exhibits trace the historical development of the beef cattle cotton and grain sorghum industries and honor outstanding individual contributors in each Members of the Lubbock-based non-profit organization also will hear reports on the membership campaign tied to the exhibit at the State Fair of Texas in October and the presentation at the Texas Department of Agriculture's "Taste of Texas" meal in February.

The Institute seeks to tell Americans how the food and fiber industries affect their lives. It reportedly will be the only Lubbook organization to have an exhibit at

Bell System Extra Dime

AUSTIN (AP) - A Texas Public Utility Commission economic researcher added another dime Monday to her recommended increase in Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s monthly residential Julie Parsons filed a revised rate design plan to fit a $9 million addition to the PUC staff's proposed revenue increase for Bell. The staff jacked up its rate recommendation from $136.4 million to the full $145.2 million sought by Bell after discovering an error in computing Bell's proper return on its investment. Miss Parsons suggested increasing monthly household telephone bills by from 90 cents to $1.20 per month, depending on how much additional revenue the commission decides must come from Bell's "vertical service" custom-

Bell has requested residential rate increases of $1.55 a month.

Shortly after the Bell hearing began Sept. 4, Miss Parsons recommended a range of 80 cents to $1.10 a month, depending on the amount of money to come from "vertical service." Vertical service costs are borne largely by businesses and include such things as PBX, Centrex, Touch-tone telephones and special equipment such as tele-phones that chime instead of ring. Miss Parsons also increased her recommendations for basic single-line business telephones by 30 cents, providing a $2.70 to $3.60 range of possible increases. Bell wanted a $4.65 monthly in-Carol Barger, attorney for the Con-

NEW YORK (AP) - "Love for Lydia" is set during Britain's jazz age, but Mel Martin, who plays the lead in the 'Masterpiece Theater' production, says despite the open cars and flapper-style clothes, the story is not necessarily dat-

"In a sense, times aren't that much different now," says Miss Martin, who is well known to television and theater audiences in Britain. "What happened to Lydia could happen to a girl brought up like her now, or any time.

'She starts out as a child, really," the actress says, "who is raised by her father and, after he dies, a relative in a small village.

"She is very protected, and develops this hunger for experience and excitement that eventually destroys the people around her and then destroys her, physically. I think of her as a sort of Zelda

H.E. Bates' "Love for Lydia" began a 12-week run on many Public Broadcasting Service stations Sunday evening Sept. 23. As with many PBS programs, air date and time may vary, so check local listings.

Although PBS does not officially begin its fall programming until Sept. 30, "Love for Lydia" is the second "Masterpiece Theater" presentation of the season, following a two-part biographical drama, "Kean," starring Anthony Hop-

"Masterpiece Theater," featuring dramatic serials from Britain, has been a mainstay of the PBS lineup since 1969. 'Love for Lydia," like the most popular of the "Masterpiece Theater" productions, "Upstairs, Downstairs," comes to this country from London Weekend Tel-

The current serial, set in the English countryside of the 1920s, is the story of a beautiful young heiress driven by a passion for adventure.

In addition to Miss Martin, the series stars Christopher Blake as her first love, Jeremy Irons and Peter Davison as rivals for her affections, and Beatrix Lehmann, Rachel Kempson and Michael Aldridge as her relatives.

Miss Martin says "Love for Lydia" was well-received by the critics when broadcast in Britain a year or so ago, and, she says, "the people still talk about it.

"It was very addictive. Interest grows slowly from a gentle start."

The actress says Julian Bond's dramatization of Bates' story was well-crafted and the development of this child into an extraordinary woman happened, for me, almost automatically."

Mel Martin recently completed a role Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" with the Chichester Repertory Company in London, and currently is appearing in "Richard III" at London's National Theater.

"The Russian Connection," a halfhour documentary on Soviet involvement in the training of Palestine Liberation Organization terrorists, will be broadcast by many PBS stations Tuesday evening at 10 EDT.

The film, a co-production of KERA, the public TV station in Dallas, and the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., will air at the same time, though in a slightly longer form, in Canada,

"The Russian Connection" establishes in interviews with PLO Officials and others the types of training involved, as well as locations of some Soviet camps where the training takes place.

Actress Finds Role Slice Of Own Life

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - For Shirley Jones starring in "Shirley" is a case of deja vu, a slice of her real life invested in an hour-long drama-comedy TV se-

The blonde singer-actress plays a single parent rearing three children under difficult circumstances. It is altogether unlike her role in the defunct "Partridge " situation comedy series in which she starred for four years. Only five years ago Shirley found herself divorced (from the late Jack Cassi-(dy) and faced with bringing up her three

In the new show she is the mother of three youngsters - Two daughters and a son approximately the same ages as her own offspring at the time of the divorce.

As Shirley Miller she is a sophisticated New York widow starting a new life in a small California town on the shores of Lake Tahoe.

While Shirley" may not be biographical, it's close enough.

At least one episode might have been plucked directly from Shirley's private ife. Her fictional character establishes a relationship with a man for the first time since her husband's death.

Her children's reactions vary, just as they did in real life when Shirley began Bating her present husband, former comedian Marty Ingels. One of her sons rejused to accept the fact that his mother ould possibly look at another man.

"Shirley Miller and I have so much in. mmon this is a very easy role for me o play," said the Academy Award winper (best supporting actress in "Elmer Gantry" circa 1960).

'It's not easy for a woman to go back to work when she's not 20 years old anymore. Her whole social life has to be restructured and that has repercussions within her family. To be sure, Shirley's personal circumstances were altogether different from those of her TV Role and other single women rearing children.

She was, for openers, a movie star. Her stepson, David Cassidy, costarred with her in "The Partridge Family" at the time of her estrangement from the senior Cassidy. Her son Shaun became a TV teen age idol in his own right.

Shirley Jones' real home is a Beverly Hills mansion. Shirley Miller lives in a three-story Victorian house. Shirley Miller is a substitute school teacher, not a show biz celebrity. Still, like other women without a man in the house, Shirley Jones had to establish a different and often difficult The Partridge Family' was fanciful, aimed for children," Shirley went on. "This show is designed for the entire family. We're trying to keep the scripts honest and serious. "There will be some nice adult moments, including Shirley's involvement with a ski instructor played by Patrick Wayne who is a regular member of the 'We can't get too racy. We're hampered by the family time slot, 8 o'clock on Friday nights opposite 'Fantasy Island and 'The Incredible Hulk." It's been six years since "The Partridge Family" left the air although Shirley is waxing wealthy on residuals from reruns. In the interim, she was offered several TV series. Most of them asked her to play heroic female detectives, doctors or lawyers. Shirley refused, unable to see herself packing a pistol, stethoscope or brief

Mother roles come easy because of my background. Also I play well with children. Most actors don't like to perform with kids but I enjoy it.

That's not to say it's easy. Because they work only five hours a day, I'm the first one on the set at 6 a.m. and the last to leave at 7 or 8 at night. I'm in the first scene and last scene almost every day to accomodate the kids.

Singer Feels Time Right For Greatest

By WILLIAM D. KERNS A-J Entertainment Editor

The next album on tap for country singer Eddie Rabbitt is a "greatest hits" LP. The singer explained the reasoning hind this during a recent telephone interview with, "Yeah, well, there's lots of reasons. Some of them are political. It's also winter coming up, and it's somewhat traditional to release 'greatest hits' during the Christmas season. And also, I guess it's just time for it.'

That's putting it mildly. After first establishing himself as a songwriter by penning "Kentucky Rain" for Elvis Presley and "Pure Love" for Ronnie Milsap, Rabbitt decided to stop giving away his best material and the results have been nothing short of phenomenal. He's recorded nine consecutive singles which climbed to the top of the country charts. He won the Acader of Country Music's "Best New Male Vocalist" award, two songwriting awards from BMI, Country Music Magazine's "Silver Bullet" and an Academy nomination as Best male Vocalist. He's established his own publishing firm, and sung the theme song for a popular Clint Eastwood movie.

Not bad for a country singer who grew up singing songs in (you'll never guess) New Jersey, then headed for Nashville where he joined hundreds of others with the same goals and the same paychecks - about $37.50 a week. Indeed, Rabbitt is now headlining for the first time, and already he's set attendance records at the state fairs in Albuquerque and Salt Lake City. He's probably also set speed records in getting out of halls, because the handsome, bearded singer has more than his share of female

But one subject which does not draw a laugh from Rabbitt is the crossover controversy currently raging in the country field, with some artists purposely trying for pop or easy listening airplay because of the potential increased revenue. When it was mentioned that "Suspicion," Rabbitt's current hit, was regarded as anything but a country tune by some, the singer came back with 'Maybe it's not hard core country. I write a lot of different songs. But it bugs me to get a kind of left-handed compliment, because I am a country entertain er. some people's minds."
So is Rabbitt bothered by intimations of crossover success. "I'm not that bothered. But a lot of people (country music writers) I talk with are. See, I'm not purposely thinking of sales or crossing over when I write a song. But everybody changes somewhat or they get stale. I like to create, to write. But you just can't start thinking things like 'will they play this song on pop stations' when you're writing. If you do that, well, as

"No gay is going to put up $15,000 or $20,000 to bring you in just because you had a few hit singles," he said. Rabbitt admitted to being exhausted with his current work schedule.

But Eddie Rabbitt is proving himself in the concert halls, as well as on record. And the success of Eastwood's "Every Which Way But Loose," a film which the critics despised and the masses of Eastwood fans adored, has hed its elfeet. "Singing the title song for that movie opened up a lot of doors for me. It helped define the question of who is a Rabbitt. Everybody heard that song, it was played so much."

Rabbitt did not write that song, but still depends on his own abilities in the composing field — even though his cur-rent grueling concert schedule and rapid

HEW Grant To Hospital Withheld

back to Dallas and Washington, D.C., hospital district officials and staff appeared confident that things could be worked out.

Berryman told board members that HEW officials think the hospital is trying to get out of paying back the loan altogether. Several board members suggested they might have misunderstood board members contention that since the loan was to be repaid from net revenues - and the hospital has no net revenues - that they were not yet legally responsible for repayment.

Berryman doesn't believe HEW is going to release the $120,000. And he thinks that if they do release it, it will be earmarked toward paying back the $8

Commissioners' Help Asked Board members asked the Lubbock County Commissioners, present at the meeting, to help them out with the HEW problem. Board member Dub Rushing suggested that U.S. Rep. Kent Hance be contacted to intervene, as

In other action, Berryman told board members that the hearing officer for the Texas Health Facilities Commission has favorably recommended the certificate of need for the hospital's proposed burn unit, as long as the hospital limits expenditures on that project to $130,000.

The hospital reportedly has already spent about that much on equipment alone, without actually beginning construction on the project. The issue now goes before the full health facilities commission for a public hearing and approv-

Board members also approved a "gold card" credit policy for outpatient clinic use. Processed through regular credit check channels, upon recommendation by a Health Sciences physician, issuance of the card will enable the holder to "charge" outpatient clinic services like with any credit card.

Good For 90 Days The card will be good for 90 days, but may be renewed if necessary. Board members and finance director Tom Kearney haggled over whether the 90day period was too short to be convenient, but ultimately agreed that 90 days would be an easier period to monitor as well as process through the hospital's limited computer system.

Brookwood Management Services' Ronnie Elliott told board members he recently met with Blue Ribbon Committee member Lonnie Hollingsworth to discuss Emergency Medical Services. He said Blue Ribbon members would like access to the same information on EMS available to the board to help them study EMS as well as other hospital

Board member Rushing asked for clarification as to the responsibilities and supervision of the Blue Ribbon group. County Judge Rod Shaw told him that the committee had been appointed by the commissioners as an advisory group for the LCHD board. The committhe commissioners, he said.

Hospital finance director Tom Kearney told the board that cash collections for the hospital, as of Sept. 21, had reached $624,000. He predicted that if the hospital could collect about $200,000 more by the end of the month, it would not be necessary to cash in any more of the hospitals certificates of deposit.

Administrator Berryman asked for a 10-day period of recess for current shared services negotiations between the hospital, Texas Tech University and the Tech medical school. He said they would be ready to reconvene next week.

Kearney also recommended that the board try to re-negotiate contracts with Texas Tech concerning the use of the leaching hospital for student health services. The hospital is not always paid for student health treatment he said heond previously agreed services which do not always cover costs.

Board members went into closed session for about two hours to discuss a lawsuit recently filed against them by Texas Tech University students alleging riolations of the Open Meetings Law. Legal counsel briefed the board on the current status of the suit as well as the specifics of the Open Meetings Law.

"We feel we've been in compliance," board chairman Jack Strong said after

"It is misleading and very unfair to small savers to suggest that this bill would solve their problems because a 10year phase out (of interest ceilings) is not fast enough" to help them significantly, he added.

Proxmire noted, however, that the bill would authorize federal agencies to phase out the interest ceilings at a rate faster than one-half point per year if they think that is desirable.

There is no reason, considering high inflation and the terrific spread between market interest rates (12 to 13 percent) and what the small savers get that they shouldn't be able to phase out the ceilings more quickly," Proxmire said. Many Small Accounts

Cranston's amendment was defeated

While a saver with $10,000 to invest for six months can earn more than 10 percent interest, the person with a small passbook account can earn no more than 51/2 percent. Savings institutions defend the differential on grounds they have use of the bigger amount for a definite period; the passbook account is available on demand

The legislation is in response to a recent trend in which Americans have been saving far less than citizens of most other industrialized nations. Economists agree that the reduced savings rate has played a major role in inflation; lower savings means higher consumer spending, which tends to drive up prices, and less capital available to businesses for sion and modernization.

At Cranston's insistence, the committee agreed that interest-bearing checking accounts would be allowed in California savings and loan associations only if authorized by the state legislature. He said only four of the state's 177 thrift institutions want such accounts. Soviet Encyclopedia praises them for their "grace, exactness of performance

SPAG executive director Jerry Casstevens, in his third week serving in that position, said the board now will be faced with deciding what to do about the minority representatives that were to be elected from Lubbock County.

The SPAG general assembly had decided Sept. 11 to approve the addition of eight minority members to qualify this area as an Economic Development District. Two of those members were to be elected from Lubbock County.

Casstevens said the board must now make a clarification of whether six or eight minority members should serve. "I'm sure it will have some effect." he said, "but we're not going to close

The commissioners' vote marked the second time the county has dropped its SPAG ties. Commissioners voted to get out of SPAG in 1975, citing reasons of federal intervention into local government as their reason then, also.

Commissioners at that time gave similar opinions on the addition of minorities to the board in an effort to get economic development funds. They said that while they were not against minority representation, they were strongly opposed to the federal government telling them who could serve on a local board.

After the 1975 pullout by the county, commissioners waited two years before voting to return to SPAG, a decision which came about the time the county began seeking federal funds for its juvenile detention center.

Minorities To Meet

Lubbock minority leaders say the commissioners may be hearing from minorities in the area about the vote.

Bidal Aguero, who organized the Conference of Organizations representing about 30 minority groups, said the conference will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Auxilio Center, Third Street and Avenue F, to decide its course of action in response to the county's decision.

"I think something is needed to make the commissioners realize they must be responsible to other people besides themselves," Aguero said, adding that he was not surprised by the vote.

Lubbock city and county officials both have been criticized by the conference for their stance on not wanting anyone other than elected officials serving on the SPAG board. The board currently has no minority members.

Meanwhile, the Army has announced the start of a second internal investigation into recruiters' charges that senior officers invited cheating in overlooking malpractice.

The Army's inspector general's staff will probe actions of senior recruitment officers throughout the chain of command, the Pentagon said last week.

Papers Reveal Nazi Idea Of Red

WASHINGTON (AP) - As World War II ground to a close, there were some who suggested that America and England attack the Soviet Union to eliminate communism - and at least one Nazi official believed it might happen, according to newly released documents. The documents disclose that German trop considered proposing that, facing this possibility, Russia switch sides and join with Germany and Japan. In April 1945, even as Soviet forces swept into Germany from the East, Von Ribbentrop was meeting with the Japanese ambassador to Germany, Hiroshi Oshima, to present this proposal. That meeting and others are detailed in more than 100,000 pages of previously secret wartime documents released Monday by the National Security Agen-

Made public at the National Archives, the documents still contain many large gaps where information remains classified. Officials said these documents, based primarily on intercepted radio messages, can be released only with the concurrence of authorities in England, where there is still reluctance Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbento disclose official secrets. England and the United States inter-

There are not a few who say that, after forcing the collapse of Germany, they intend to beat up Russia," the German foreign minister quoted captured allied officers as saying.

Japan, although also fighting the United States and England as an ally of Germany at the time, was not at war with Rusia, and Von Ribbentrop suggested that an approach to Stalin might be made through the Japanese.

If Russian response would be favorable, Von Ribbentrop said, he would be willing to fly to Moscow personally to negotiate and he told Oshima that Germany would not drive a hard bargain.

"To give my own private opinion, I think Germany would consider it all right to offer Russia all the Balkans, northern Europe, etc., retaining only old German territory, Hungary and Croatia, and further to support Russia if she wished to penetrate the Dardanelles, or even to Suez," Von Ribbentrop said.

Oshima said the matter could be brought up in other discussions underway between Japan and Russia, and the two diplomats discussed it again April' 7, but the move was vetoed by German dictator Adolf Hitler, who continued to rely on his ever-dwindling military ma-

Syria, Israel Increase Lebanese Air Fighting

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian jet fighters and U.S.-made Israeli F-15s dueled south of Beirut Monday in the biggest air battle over Lebanon in three months. Four Syrian Soviet-made MiGs were downed, both sides said, and Syria claimed two Isra-

The Israelis said all their planes made it safely back to base.

The dogfight occurred just hours before Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance made a new appeal before the U.N. General Assembly in New York to end the "cycle of violence" in Lebanon. He disclosed the United States had launched a diplomatic initiative to restore peace in Lebanon, but gave no details.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Thomas Reston called the air clash a "dangerous development" and appealed on all sides to exercise restraint.

Syria said its MiG-21s scrambled to intercept the Israeli warplanes after the Israelis attacked civilian camps - presumably Palestinian - in the Damour area 10 miles south of Beirut The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv said its jets, including the F-15, America's most sophisticated fighter, were on a reconnaissance mission over Palestinian guerrflla bases. 'First two Syrian planes came, then four, to intercept our planes," which were flying five to seven miles south east of Beirut, said Lt. Gen. Rafael Eytan, Israell

Chief of Staff, in a Tel Aviv television interview. "We have no interest in fighting the Syriaffs," but the "Israeli planes had no choice but to fell the MiGs," Eytan said. The Israeli air force commander, Maj. Gen. David Ivir, told a news conference that Israeli F-15s began escorting reconnaissance flights two weeks ago after the Syrians began "aggressive interceptions." Last week, Israeli planes bolted from Syrian interceptors firing air-to-air missiles, Ivir said. The Israeli jets first drew ground fire from Palestinian and Lebanese leftist gunners as they roared over Beirut International Airport and the nearby Sabra camp. headquarters of Palestine Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat. The Israelis apparently were not touched by the anti-aircraft barrage, but the Syrian planes met them as the Israelis flew east over the mountains into the Bekaa Valley, Lebanese government sources said.

The planes headed back west and the dogfight erupted over the foothills near the airport, the sources said.

Both sides reported four Syrian jets went down. Lebanese government sources said two crashed in flames near the airport, and their pilots were seen parachuting to safety. The other two reportedly went down farther into the hills. A Syrian military communique issued in Damascus said two Israeli jets also were "hit," but did not say specifically they had crashed. Casualties from the air battle were unknown.

Later Monday, the wreckage of one plane lay smoldering in woods near Aramoun, less than two miles from the airport. Syrian troops sealed off the area.

"I'saw two planes come into the sky and then suddenly two more appeared," said Ahmed Abdul Khaleq, an Aramoun resident in his 40s, "All of a sudden I saw this one falling down with fire coming from its left wing. It exploded when it hit. There was a huge flame."

Last June 27, Israeli warplanes shot down five Syrian MiG-21s in the dogfight over southern Lebanon, the first airborne encounter between the two old enemies since 1974. Western military sources said all were downed by a single Israeli F-15 that was on the ground in Israel when the fight began but was quick enough to get there in time to help the slower Israeli jets.

Damascus radio said last Thursday that Syrian jets had driven off Israeli aircraft flying southern Lebanon. Israeli newspapers said the Syrians used air-to-air missiles in that encounter.

The Syrians, whose 22,000 troops police a civil-war armistice in Lebanon, have pledged to defend Lebanese territory against Israeli air attacks. Israeli jets frequently fly over Beirut and southern Lebanon on surveillance missions or to attack Palestinian positions.

Monday's dogfight came at a time when the United States and other countries are becoming increasingly critical of Israel's military strikes into southern Lebanon. State Department spokesman Reston had no comment Monday on whether Israel so use of F-15s over Lebanon violates U.S. restrictions limiting the aircraft to self-defense missions. The Israelis say their Lebanon operations are pre-emptive missions to defend against Palestinian attack.

When Roberta Preston made her decision to become an American citizen she thought it would be fun to get everyone into the act - everyone in her daughter's Girl Scout troop, that is.

She knew that by getting the girls involved she could achieve her two-fold purpose: to interest them in the "active citizen" badge for junior Girl Scouts and get the moral support she needed to walk into the courtroom, give up her British citizenship and espouse the U.S. as her own.

The Caprock Girl Scout Council, a United Way agency, will receive $81,838 from the United Way's 1980 goal of $1,-803,752

"I thought it would be a great thing if the girls could watch it (her swearing the oath of allegiance). It's not often little girls get to go into a courtroom. They were very much in awe," Mrs. Preston said, "It's a big step to give up citizenship. I wanted to become an American, but to give up my British citizenship,

As a part-time volunteer and soon to be co-leader of her daughter's troop. Mrs. Preston thought the experience of going with her would exemplify the purpose of the active citizen badge which is to "find out about and put into practice the responsibilities of a citizen of the United States of America," according to a Girl Scout publication. Part of the work for the badge is to find out how a person becomes a citizen and how a person may lose citizenship.

Before the courtroom visit, Mrs.

Preston explained much to the girls about her native England and gave them explanations on the processes of becoming an American citizen.

United Way of Lubbock

Also, Mrs. Preston took the girls to the Texas Tech University Law School for a talk on local government for part of the work on the badge.

However, another very important aspect of Mrs. Preston's work with the troup is making them aware of the international aspect of the Girl Scout program. Mrs. Preston as a child was a Brownie Scout in the Guide Program in Morecambe, England.

According to Peggy Sugarek, field director for the Caprick Girl Scout Council, the Girl Scout/Girl Guide organization exists in more than 100 countries around the world, with three million in the U.S. alone. She said, except for the Iron Curtain countries, the scouts subscribe to the same programs and beliefs in every country, but the structure may

The World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides formed in the early 1900s was begun to promote understanding and unity of purpose in all the organizations world-wide. They maintain four world centers in Mexico, Switzerland, England and India as gathering points for girls around the world to meet and work at a greater understanding of varied cultures while maintaining the unity of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides. Mrs. Sugarek said many girls from the Caprock Council have attended these meetings and have brought back many memorable experiences and new friendships.

Mrs. Preston spent part of her summer in England this year and now plans to expand the idea of world communication in her daughter's troop by sharing some of her findings from the trip. During her stay, she tried to visit some English Girl Guide troops and establish a bond of international friendship between her troop and some of the troops in England through letter writing.

Anti-Nuclear Stance Receives SMU Praise

DALLAS (AP) - California Gov. Jerry Brown took his unannounced presidential campaign to the campus of Southern Methodist University Monday, heavily emphasizing his anti-nuclear and pro-environment stands to applauding students.

"I take a strong position against nuclear power because I think it leads to a dead end," he said as several hundred students broke into applause. "Where are we going to put the waste and who's going to guard it?

"That nuclear plant will cost more to replace than it did to build it. And where are you going to put the radioactive water ... and where are you going to vent the radioactive air?" After shedding his coat in the warm, mid-morning sun, Brown said solar power is the answer to the country's energy struggle. We could have a solar power satillite that would generate electricity from the sun and beam it to earth," he said. "That can been done in 20 years."

The lean, tanned governor reiterated his positions on the economy and what he considers America's technological lag. We should be moving from a consumption ethic to an investment ethic in the next 10 years," he said. He proposed a type of Chamber of Commerce on the Cabinet level to push American-made products on the world market and likened

Browns Spank Cowboys

CLEVELAND (AP) — Brian Sipe led a first-period scoring blitz by Cleveland, then some uncharacteristic errors by the Dallas Cowboys helped the Browns to a 26-7 National Football League victory Monday night.

"The Cowboys turned the ball over in critical situations, and it's a credit to us that we came up with the big play," said Sipe, who threw a pair of touchdown passes in the first quarter.

The Browns built a 20-0 lead in the first 7:05 of play thanks to Sipe's passing and a 39-yard interception return for a touchdown by free safety Thom Darden.

"This is the most dramatic game I've ever been involved in. The key? We played opportunistic football," he said. Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach said, "Tonight, we made mistakes. But the Browns caused them." The Browns, who benefitted from three Dallas fumbles and two interceptions in the nationally televised game, kept their record unblemished in four

Friend's Death Spurs Norton's Retirement

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Ken Norton, who held a piece of the world's heavyweight crown, said Monday he will leave boxing because of the death of his longtime backer and manager, Bob Biron.

"I can't go on without Bob." Norton said in a telephone interview from Los Angeles.

"When we first started boxing together. Bob and I, we made a pact. If anything happened to me, he would quit and if anything happened to Bob, I would give it up.

Biron, 67, died Sunday night at his home in nearby Rancho Santa Fe. He never recovered from surgery for a brain tumor last December.

Biron left the University of California at San Diego, where he was vice chancellor for finance, and with four other men bought Norton's contract for $80. 000 in 1971. He took over the fighter as

After winning World Boxing Council recognition as champion, Norton saw his career skid. His last two bouts ended in a loss and a draw. He told the San Diego

Evening Tribune that he was through with professional boxing.

The 37-year-old Norton said he intends to concentrate on acting. He has appeared in several films lately, including "Mandingo."

Fading Astros Fall Twice To Braves

possible Dream" maybe just that, admit-ted Manager Bill Virdon after his Astros dropped a doubleheader to the lowly Atlanta Braves and fell 2 1/2 games behind the National League West leading Cincinnati Reds.

"It's next to impossible now," Virdon said after the Braves exploded for 29 hits in taking the twinbill 5-4 and 8-1. "It's not impossible, it can happen, but it's difficult to be behind that much with only five games to play.

He said the Astros needed a sweep of the last-place Braves to remain in contention.

'We have to win if we expected to stay in the race," he said in the solemn dressing room. "The first game was a tough loss, but that's baseball. We just couldn't afford to lose, and we did. We just couldn't get the job done.

"It's been a good year, but you hate to come this close and fall out of it,"

Gary Matthews drove in four runs in the nightcap, including two in a five-run Atlanta sixth inning to power the Braves to victor. The Braves won the opener on Jerry Royster's run-scoring single in the ninth inning.

Houston has five games remaining and the Reds have six.

Matthews knocked in runs in the first and fifth innings wih a ground-out and sacrifice fly off loser Rick Williams, 4-7. He capped the Braves' big inning in the nightcap with a two-run single off reliever Joaquin Andujar. Glenn Hubbard also drove in a pair of runs in the inning with a two-run single while Darrel Chaney produced the other with one of Atlanta's six singles in the inning. Barry Bonnell, who had three hits. hit a solo home run in the seventh to close out the scoring for the Braves.

Atlanta's Eddie Solomon, 7-13, scattered five hits, struck out five and walked two. The Astron averted a shut-

inced Of Oilers' Comeback Prowess

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Coach Burn Phillips, accused of using his "New England Game Plan" to rally the Oilers from a 24-0 deficit to a 30-27 victory over Cincinnati Sunday, said Monday a Toni Fritsch field goal with four seconds left in the half was the key to the comeback.

England last year," Phillips said, referring to a 26-23 victory over the Pats after trailing 23-0. "It gave us a reason to think we could come back. But yesterday proved what I've said about this team for the past two years. Our club is capable of beating anybody. We don't

Weaver's Decision Perturbs Ace Hurler

BALTIMORE (AP) - The Baltimore Origles have clinched the American League East championship, but they're not without their problems.

Manager Earl Weaver and pitcher Jim Palmer engaged in another of their shouting matches Sunday morning. The topic of argumentation this time was over Weaver's pitching rotation for the specoming playoffs. It all started when Palmer, who has missed some 15 starts this season because of various physical ailments, said his right forearm was hurting after pitching one inning in a postponed game Saturday night. "I was shocked," Weaver said. "I want him to start the first playoff game and now he's worried that he might not

Moore Criticizes SWC Ref

DALLAS (AP) - North Texas State coach Jerry Moore said Monday that films showed a Southwest Conference official missed a call that cost the Mean Green a touchdown Saturday night in a 20-9 non-conference football loss to Southern Methodist

"The guy blew it," Moore said of a fumble recovery by NTSU's Bernard

Moore said West caught the fumble in the air, which he can legally advance, and should have been given credit for a 59-yard touchdown sprint that would have put NTSU shead 10-7.

Instead, West was whistled down. The referee told me that they missed the call," said Moore. "It was not necessarily the difference in the game but it was a very poor call. I was told the official's vision was obscured but it happened right in front of the guy.

"I told them to tell it to my kids. I'm not trying to make it a big deal but it hurts you."

Mrs. Lloyd Wins Atlanta Net Opener

ATLANTA (AP) - Chris Evert Lloyd had little trouble Monday in beating 18-year-old Caroline Stoll in the first round of the $100,000 Atlanta Women's Tennis

Mrs. Lloyd, seeded No. 2, won 6-2, 6-She said she played her shots low nost of the time. "I know if I hit a lot of low shots, she can't do a lot with them," Mrs. Lloyd id. "She can't hit those moon balls I'm pretty patient. If I wasn't, maybe they would bother me.'

Martina Navratilova had to win a tiebreaker to beat Renee Richards, 7-6, 6-1. Navratilova and Richards were tied at 6in the first set, before Navratilova won the tie-breaker 7-3 with an overhead

In other first-round matches, Evonne Goolagong, seeded No. 5, defeated Laura DuPont, 64, 64; and Wendy Turnbull, seeded No. 8, beat Bettina crew of SWC officials. Moore said there were some questionable things that happened two weeks ago in a game against Oklahoma State called by Big Eight Conference officials. "I think next year that I'm going to request that the official crew be split," North Texas is an independent vying for SWC membership. Moore, a former star at SMU, is in his first year as Mean

Green head coach after several seasons as an assistant at Nebraska. Anderson Wins Race

C.O. Anderson, of Abernathy, won the first race of the season by the Lubbock Homing Pigeon Club Sunday. The race originated in Knox City and covered 115 miles.

Anderson's bird flew at an average speed of 1002.34 yards per minute, and was followed by the entries of Harvey Grishom, Bill Chisum and Gary Paynes.

Phillips said after the Oilers fell behind 24-0 he thought that "we'd either get farther behind or we'd come back and we did. We don't have any player on this team that gives up." Fritsch booted a 43-yard field goal with four seconds left in the half that cut Cincinnati's lead to 24-10. Dan Pastorini hit Ken Burrough with a 35-yard touchdown pass earlier in the quarter and the two scores gave the Oilers something to hang their hats on.

The outcome of the game still depended on Fritsch's toe as the squat Austrian soccer-style kicker booted a 29yard field goal with 29 seconds left in

The Oilers now have a 3-1 record going into Sunday's game in the Astrodome against Cleveland

"He's the best field-goal kicker in the world," Phillips said. "He just doesn't miss many. If you can get it on the ground right, he'll kick it. The only ones he missed last year were had snaps.

Phillips said there was no particular problem with the Oiler defense that was riddled in the first half by the winless Bengals.

'Cincinnati is a good offensive football team," Phillips said. "You're just

Bart Starr Admits Job In Jeopardy

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Bart agreed Monday that, if his name eren't Bart Starr. he probably would all," Starr said. "We've got a job to do, Starr agreed Monday that, if his name weren't Bart Starr, he probably would not remain as coach of the Green Bay Packers.

The question at Monday's news conference followed Sunday's 27-21 overtime National Football League loss to the Minnesota Vikings that gave the Packers a 1-3 record for the season.

Starr, quarterback of the Packers through their glory years of the 1980s when they won five world championships, saw his overall record since taking over as coach five years ago slip to 22-36

He was asked if he agreed that no one else would have lasted as long as "I agree," he said. "I think our people have been extremely patient and very tolerant. I wouldn't fault that reasoning at all."

The Packers finished with an 8-7-1 record last season - Starr's only winning season as coach - and just missed the NFL playoffs.

But rather than challenging for the Central Division lead this year, the Packers have fallen into a last place tie with Detroit.

Starr, whose current contract expires Jan. 31, 1982, said he knew his coaching was becoming the target for criticism, but "I can't be concerned with it."

Has he considered the possibility that

Such children are easily distracted. Many people think these children don't pay attention, but the real problem is that they pay too much attention to too many things.

There is no single cause or simple explanation for learning disabilities, but you can learn how to recognize them and what to do from a new pamphlet prepared by the institute.

President Learned Dangers Of Faulty Advice

BOSTON (AP) - The late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said in an interview 15 years ago that the unsuccessful Bay of Pigs invasion taught President John F. Kennedy the danger of blindly following his aides' advice.

In that respect, Robert Kennedy said. the Cuban invasion "might have been the best thing that happened" to his brother's administration.

The younger Kennedy brother, who was assassinated in 1968, commented about the incident in an interview taped with author John Bartlow Martin in 1964. The tape is part of the collection stored in the John F. Kennedy Library, which one's Oct. 20.

Robert Kennedy said the president had relied on the experienced intelligence gatherers and military men who had been part of the Eisenhower administration. And when they all supported the invasion, he went along with their judgment.

"They had the experience. They had the background. They were evidently trusted by his predecessor. So he thought he could trust them," Robert Kennedy said.

Robert Kennedy said his brother was awed by the experience of the former Eisenhower advisers in foreign affairs. He added that the Bay of Pigs plan was favored by Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Richard Bissell, the CIA's chief of covert operations; Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, and Sen. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"If he hadn't gone ahead with it," Robert Kennedy said, "everybody would have said it showed that he had no courage 'because Eisenhower trained these people, it was Eisenhower's plan. Eisenhower's people all said it would succeed. And you turned it down.'

"Well ... ultimately what came out of this was the fact that he just never (again) substituted anybody else's judgment for his own ...," said Robert Ken-

He said Bissell was a particularly strong advocate of the invasion. And he quoted Bissell as saying that the mission really can't be a failure because once they land on the beach, even as a mili-lar force if they don't win, they can al-lar stay in Cuba and be guerrillas, and they will cause Castro so much difficul-

Robert Kennedy said the one person in the administration who was strongly against the invasion was Arthur Schlesinger, then a special assistant to the spotlight from the Los Angeles Rams marked the biggest victory ever for the unbeaten Tampa Bay Buccaneers, Coach John McKay said Monday. This was the most significant win in the history of our team because the Rams are the Rams — a prestigious team in the National Football League,"

The fourth-year Bucs, once 0-26, are now 4-0. They are two games ahead in the NFC Central Division following Sunday's 21-6 upset of the Rams.

Not only was it an easy victory over a proven team, but a team from McKay's hometown where he made his name in coaching during 16 years at the Universi-

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Stealing the ty of Southern California. And the game otlight from the Los Angeles Rams itself was beamed back live to West Coast audiences.

The game, played before a record crowd of 69,497 who sat through intermittent heavy downpours, should bring some of the Bucs deserved notoriety, McKay said afterward.

"We have players on this team who can make any team in the NFL and be stars. And we have some who can't," said McKay. "Richard Wood is certainly as fast as anybody at linebacker. But who knows who Richard Wood is?

"When we win, we get known. If we lose, it'll be right back to the same old vaunted Rams defense statistically. By holding the Rams to 186 yards of offense, Tampa Bay took over the NFC's leadership in defense with 897 yards allowed, 10 fewer than the Rams.

"On defense we had a tremendous reaction to the thrown ball," the Bucs' boss said. "Passes were completed, but it didn't hurt us so much. With short passes - under the linebacker - if you're going to throw on us that's what we want you to throw. We run a deep zone. That's no secret."

McKay claims he has never seen a defensive end play as well as Lee Roy Selmon and knows no outside linebacker who performs better than David Lewis.

We're still fumbling, though. I tell the players we have to play completely up to our ability to beat people. If not, we're not going to win."

A key to the Bucs' rise has been newly found stability. Their revolving door of player transactions has slowed.

"We started the same group of guys now for four weeks. And that's unheard of for the Bucs. Barring a slip on a banana peel, we'll do it again.

We went through 138 players. We had 8 quarterbacks.

"I used to spend every day looking at the waiver wire. I used to say, 'Can they walk? Lord, yes, send them over," he Foli has proved throughout his career that he's a talented gloveman.

that he can be an effective offensive player as well.

After a weekend series with the Chicago Cubs here, Foli was batting a career-high .278, .282 with the Pirates, and had driven in 56 runs, two more than his previous best for a season. He had struck out only 14 times and had 12 hits in his last 37 at bats, a .324 clip.

"I fit into a team where I'm around great people," he said. "Omar (Moreno). is a great player and Dave (Parker) is a great player and I'm sandwiched in the middle of them" in the batting order.

He also said sticking with one batting stance and the advice of Coach Bob Skinner have helped.

"I've probably had more stances than anyone in baseball. But I've stayed with this one all year," Foli said.

"He used to keep the bat off his shoulder," said Skinner. "I placed the bat on his shoulder so he would have a more compact swing and he'd hit more line drives.

"He's always had fair bat control, but that stance is one of the reasons he's

NEW YORK (AP) - First baseman Ed Kranepool, the only player to appear with the New York Mets in each of their 17 seasons, thinks he has played his last game at Shea Stadium and is angry that management let it pass without a momento.

Kranepool, 34, is playing out his option. He is completing a three-year, $300,000 contract and wants two more years at $150,000 per season but the Mets have balked at those numbers.

"As far as I'm concerned, this was my last day here." Kranepool said Sunday after the Mets completed their home season with their ninth straight loss, 7-4 to St. Louis. "And I didn't even get a plaque. I'm disappointed in the way I've been treated. If someone had given that much loyalty to me for 17 years, I'd treat them better. They don't even know how to retire a person. If they want me to retire th easier and nicer. Kranepool was annoyed because the Mets honored all-time base stealing king Lou Brock of St. Louis in his final New York appearance, but chose to overlook the veteran first baseman, who may enter the free agent market.

"I want to finish my career here," he said. "I would hope never to go into the free agent market but they are trying to force me. Why didn't they give me a going away present?"

Akers Predicts Hard Fight From Missouri

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Coach Fred Akers described Missouri on Monday as a "tough, physical football team" but dded, "so are we, and it should be a heck of a contest."

The two top 10 teams play Saturday at Columbia, Mo., with a record Missouri crowd of 75,000 expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

Misouri thrashed Mississippi, 33-7, to raise its record to 3-0 last Saturday, while Texas defeated Iowa State, 17-9, in its opener. One possible advantage for Missouri is that it plays on grass, and Akers said not a single member of the Texas squad has played on anything but artificial turf Texas, however, will work out on grass three days this week.

Texas quarterback Donnie Little was held to 45 yards total offense by Iowa State — including 10 yards passing — but Akers said he never considered re-

Halfback A.J. "Jam" Jones was voted the most valuable Texas offensive player of the game after receiving a grade of 96 from the coaches. Jones, also a 200-pound sophomore, scored twice on one-yard runs, carried 23 times for 125 yards and, according to Akers, had "a fine night blocking."

End Henry Williams, a 240-pound senior, was named the best defensive Williams had nine tackles, sacked the quarterback once and pressured him twice. Akers said Williams' tackles included "three super big plays" that prevented "potential long gains, possibly scores."

The vaunted Texas defense yielded 132 yards total offense in the first half but held Iowa State to 20 yards and two first downs in the second half. "The entire (defensive) football team perked up and pickd up extrmely well," said Akers.

However, Akers said, Missouri is "farther along with its program than Iowa State is, and it has proved it three times already" — beating San Diego State, Illinois and Mississippi."

five St. Louis fumbles and intercepted a pass in the end zone Sunday as they defeated the Cardinals 17-7 in a NFC East the end zone to give the Redskins a 7-0 lead in the first 57 seconds and another of the fumbles prevented the Cardinals from scoring a touchdown.

"It is the same kind of luck that Atlanta has," said Pardee, referring to the Redskins' next opponent.

"They're lucky every week because

Mayer, Walts Win Openers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Fifthseeded Gene Mayer had little trouble defeating George Hardie 6-1, 6-1 in the first round of a $175,000 pro tennis tournament at the Cow Palace Monday.

Mayer and 16th seeded Butch Walts, who beat Rick Fisher 6-2, 7-6, were the only ranked players with afternoon matches. Ninth-seeded Sandy Mayer and 10th Dick Stockton played unranked opponents at night.

In other afternoon matches, Billy Martin beat Rod Farley 1-6, 6-2, 6-4; John Austin defeated Ove Bengston 7-6, 3-1 with Bengston retiring in the second set because of an injury; and Bill Maze whipped Gene Malin 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Pardee said that the Redskins' defense caused the fumbles. Then, referring to two fumbles by his own running back John Riggins in the first two games, Pardee said, "John wasn't reckless with the ball, but it was still a fumble. He got hit. They were good defenaive plays.
"That's the same as two of ours yesterday by Rich Mailot and Ken Housto They were good plays. If Ken hadn't been hustling, pursuing . . . he had to come from the far side of the field . . . if he hadn't been there, it would have been a touchdown and we would have thought it was poor pass coverage."

Pardee said he was very pleased with the Redskin's performance against St. Louis, especially because they jumped into an early lead and were able to hold it, something they had not been able to do earlier in the season against Houston

Tech Casualty List Minimal

By The Associated Press Texas Tech football coach Rex Dockery says the Red Raiders are in the best health in weeks as the team prepares for its game Saturday against Baylor.

Dockery said tailback Mark Johnson and safety Larry Flowers, who both missed last week's 14-14 tie with Arizona, will return. He said cornerback Alan Swann, hurt against Southern Cal, will probably miss the Baylor game but should be back on the field in time for the following week's game against Texas A&M.
