

Awards Paid By Crime Line Top $7,000 Mark

LUBBOCK'S highly successful Crime Line program now has paid out more than $7,000 in reward money to anonymous informants who have called the Crime Line gumber with information leading to the clearing of a crime.

The crime-busting program is funded entirely through donations from private citizens, and guarantees anonymity to all persons calling in.

Persons wishing to make donations to the program's reward fund should mail them to Box 2000, Lubbock. And all persons with information concerning a felony are eligible to receive rewards of $300 or more if their information aids in the solution of the crime.

This week the Lubbock Police Department is offering $1,700 in rewards pertaining to five specific crimes.

The "Spotlight Crime of the Week," which has a reward of $500 attached to it, occurred on September 19, when a local woman entered the police station and said she had been forced into a car at Avenue Q and 34th Street and raped.

The woman said she was walking when a light blue Chevrolet Camaro drove by and three black males in the car yelled at her. She said she tried to run but one of the men pulled her into the car and began driving down Avenue P. She said the man who forced her into the car raped her while the trio drove around. The victim told police she was eventually pushed from the car at 39th Street and Avenue P.

Four burglaries each carry rewards of $300 for information leading to their solution.

In the first, police say that a self storage unit at 5840 50th, No. 61, had $1,000 worth of property removed from it August 23rd. Taken were two Cervin-Vega speakers, a Kustom mixer, a stereo Kustom amplifier and the cords and hookups of the public address system.

Burglars opened a kitchen window at a house at 2316 Seventh St.

on the night of July 16, and took several items, including a Texas Instruments SR-51 calculator, a Backgammon set, some Concord stereo equipment and a Home Box Office cable TV unit. Also taken was an RCA color portable TV set, serial No. 632436122. Some items were marked with Texas driver's license No. 2295176 or 7736863.

Another July 16 burglary, this one at 1805-A 14th St., netted burglars an RCA XL100 color TV, an RCA cassette player, some stereo equipment, an RCA TV cartridge, 25 record albums, 100 cassette tapes, a 12 gauge single shot shotgun, a classical guitar, a chain watch and a ring. Police said the intruders entered through a back door.

And, on Sept. 11, the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office received word that a burglary at Rt. 1, Shallowater cost the owners some $6,500 worth of property. Someone kicked open the front door of the home and removed a Yamaha YP-701 turntable, a Yamaha CR-2020 home entertainment center, two NS 100 speakers, and a cassette deck.

Information on any of these burglaries is worth $300 to persons calling the Crime Line number.

Rape Seminar Underscores City Crisis

By RUTHANNE BROCKWAY

Avalanche-Journal Staff
AN EXPLICIT film demonstrating a reenacted rape, the testimony of a Lubbock rape victim and the shocking statistic that one of 15 women will be raped in her lifetime combined to make Sunday's rape prevention seminar message clear.

Rape is a degrading, humiliating violent crime.

And it can happen to you. It's an individual decision for each woman to make whether to resist or cooperate, noted Becky Mahan, chairman of the seminar and director of Lubbock's Rape Crisis Center.

But a brief film clip of convicted rapists discussing the subject, ended with the chilling comment of one rapist, "The woman I raped fought back and she's dead."

Miss Mahan advised the audience of some 500 to 600 persons. There is no one single foolproof plan.

Assess your attacker, your surroundings and yourself, she said. Do you think he will carry out his threat? Is he armed?

If you are in a desolate area, your screams may infuriate your attacker and bring you no help. But a scream in a populated area may save your life.

"There's no question we have a rape crisis in our city," Mayor Dirk West said. In 1978 there were 177 reported rapes in Lubbock. In the first six months of this year there have been more than 70 rapes reported, a figure far ahead of last year. "And underline reported," West noted, adding that many rapes are not reported.

The battle to fight rape has two fronts: prevention and penalty.

Prevention tips include changing locks when moving to a new address, keeping doors and windows locked, keeping well-lighted grounds, using last name only on the mailbox and in the phone directory and being leery of trusting strangers.

As for the courtroom battle, Criminal District Attorney John Montford said, "We intend to make this a very unprofitable crime in our community." A round of applause erupted after Montford told the audience the lowest sentence given this year in Lubbock for aggravated rape was 99 years.

People in Lubbock tend to be friendly, warm and kind, said Pat Riley of the Rape Crisis Center. But that can lull women into a false sense of security when a stranger comes knocking at the door asking to use the phone to call for car repair.

"The cold plain facts are that you can't trust everyone," she said.

Forty percent of the rapes reported in Lubbock last year occurred in the victim's home. More than half of those rapists either used or displayed a weapon. And in 53 percent of those rapes, the victims were sexually assaulted more than once during the attack.

Sexual assault includes vaginal penetration, oral and rectal. Abusive language frequently accompanies the assault.

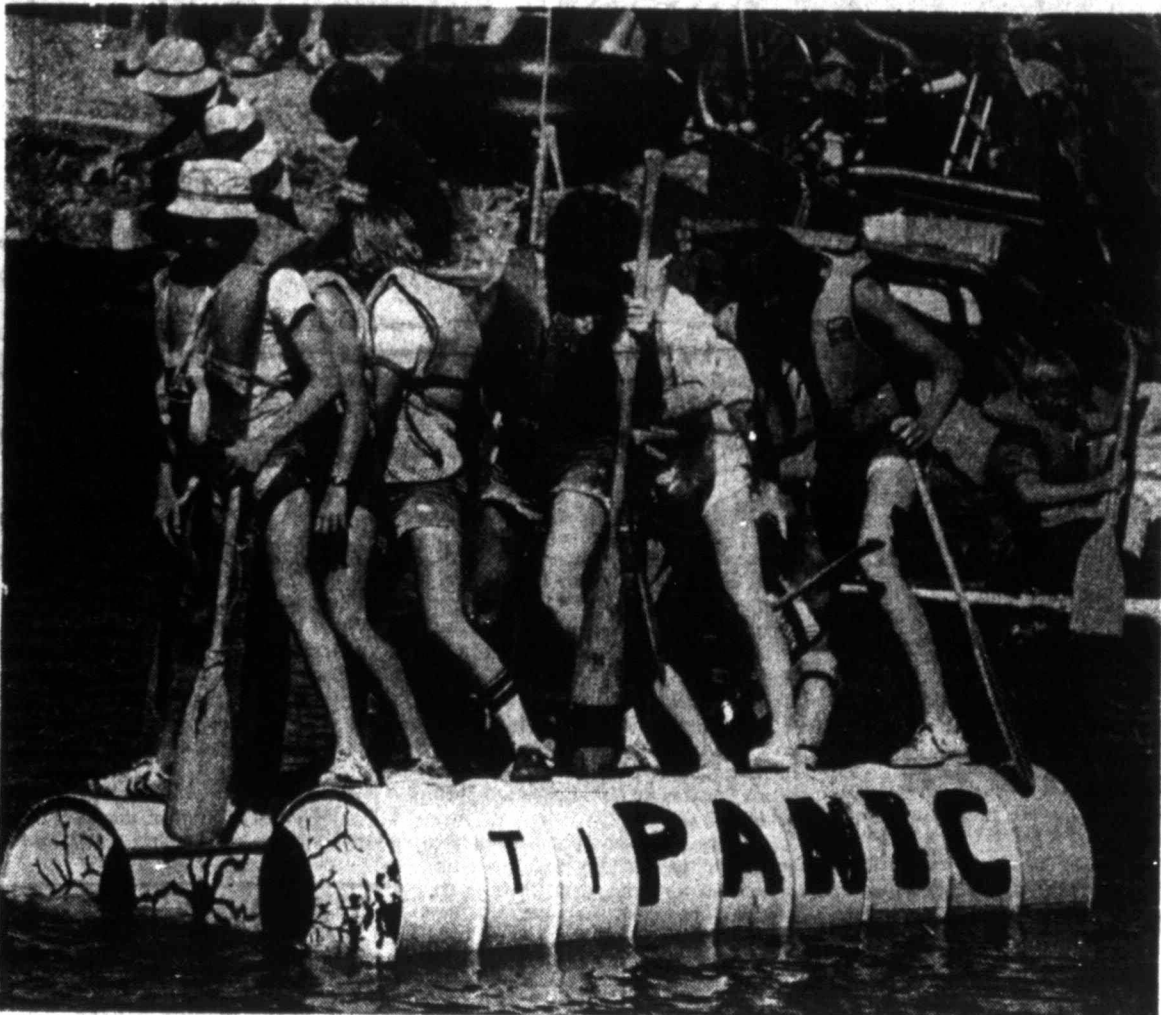

It may be embarrassing to repeat those graphic words that the attacker used, but Det. Sgt. Butch Hargrave of the Lubbock Police Department said it is important for victims to report as many details as possible.

The attacker may have used the same words and methods in a previous attack, and when several victims report the crimes, it may help police solve the case.

In Lubbock, 73 percent of reported rape cases are solved, which is higher than the national average of 51 percent solved.

Although rapists often threaten victims not to report the attack, Hargrave said in his 17 years on the Lubbock police force, "I've never known of a victim being harassed (after reporting a rape). See SEMINAR Page 14

By JOHNNY HOLMES

Avalanche-Journal Staff
IT WASN'T exactly the same as whipping through the churning white water of the Colorado River rapids, nor was it a re-creation of "Deliverance," but the "Great Yellowhouse Canyon Raft Race," held Sunday in the Canyon Lakes, was certainly a memorable event.

More than anything else, the race was an excuse to get outside and enjoy one last sweaty summer day before autumn sets in for keeps, and more than 1,000 people took advantage of the gorgeous Indian summer afternoon to do exactly that. And our Olympic sculls team can rest assured, they'll get no competition from Lubbock.

The race, sponsored by the city Parks and Recreation Dept., the Texas Tech University Recreational Sports Dept., and KSEL Radio, covered a 1 1/2 mile course through Canyon Lakes 1 and 2, which stretch from near N. Loop 289 across N. University Avenue, and was marked by a spirit of carefree fun and a relative lack of concern over who managed to win the prizes in each of several different categories of type of craft.

To be sure, there was some competition, especially in the canoe races that preceded the main event, but over a course that long, few of the 108 entries, most of which were inexperienced and out of shape, could manage any sort of rapid, consistent clip. The most notable exception was the team of Rusty Hamilton and Ricky Tomlinson of Waco, which blazed through the course in 14 minutes, 24 seconds, almost twice as fast as any other raft in the event.

Instead, most took their time and enjoyed the trip through the murky green water of the canyon lakes project, trading good-natured insults and encouragement from the spectators lining the canal. And, if any sort of speed records were set Sunday, it was because there were none to beat in the first place.

City Parks and Recreation director John Alford had said the race was created to have some fun, but also to put the canyon lakes to use and to create another enjoyable alternative for the numerous outdoors lovers in the city. In each of those respects, the raft race was completely successful.

That success can be attributed largely to the efforts of the three sponsors, but also to the creativity and ingenuity of the participants. Sure, there were some who decided to run the race in your basic innersuits or rubber rafts, but most of the entries smacked of imagination, however demented. There were rafts of rubber, plastic and wood, and various combinations thereof; there were rafts that looked like longhorn steers, and one that looked like a carrot, complete with orange paint job and a green sticking from the rear.

There was a raft made of six styrofoam beer coolers lashed together and carpeted, and, most incredibly, there was one wood and rubber raft sponsored by Mr. Tom's Cutters that carried 26

Ireland's Violence Assailed By Pope

KNOCK, Ireland (AP) — Pope John Paul II took his peace pilgrimage Sunday to Ireland's most sacred shrine, in the bogs of County Mayo, and in a forceful denunciation of terrorism declared, "Murder is murder, no matter what the motives or ends."

The pontiff called the Northern Ireland conflict "this great wound now af-

U.S. Ends Control Of Canal Zone

BALBOA, Canal Zone (AP) — The American flag was lowered from its mast in front of the Panama Canal Co. administration building for the last time Sunday evening in an emotional ceremony presided over by Harold Parfitt, retiring governor of the Canal Zone.

Hundreds of residents, some with tears streaming down their faces, watched as the banner was lowered while "The Star-Spangled Banner" sounded in the background.

The residents stood on a grassy hillside stretching down from the administration building, some waving small American flags.

The Canal Zone ceased to exist at midnight, when Panamanian jurisdiction over the 647-square mile area began.

It was Parfitt's last official act. He said he planned to leave Panama immediately aboard the Cristobal, the canal company's supply ship, which was awaiting him on the Atlantic side of the Isthmus.

A Panamanian flag was lowered from another pole just before the American flag was lowered. Beginning Monday morning the Panamanian flag will occupy the place of honor.

Some Americans in the crowd carried posters opposing the turnover of the canal to Panama at the end of the century.

Parfitt said the American flag was first raised in the zone at 7:30 a.m. May 4, 1904, signalling the beginning of the American canal construction effort. The canal was completed in 1914.

"There are no tomorrows for the Canal Zone. Only yesterdays, but those yesterdays will light our memories for a lifetime," Parfitt said. "We enjoyed a quality of life under an organizational structure which others must envy."

The Panama Canal Co. was replaced at midnight by the Panama Canal Commission, a U.S. government agency that will run the canal until Americans relinquish all control in the year 2000.

The American-Panamanian canal treaties signed in 1977 provided for the U.S. Canal Zone to become Panamanian territory at midnight Sunday.

The celebrations, said Panama's President Aristides Royo, mark "a day of jubilation and pride... The act of a licting our people" and appealed to the Virgin Mary to "cure and heal it."

"Mother, protect all of us and especially the youth of Ireland from being overcome by hostility and hatred," he said.

But it appeared the pope's pleas for peace were not persuading the mostly Catholic guerrillas in British-ruled Northern Ireland to put down their arms. A nationalist spokesman in Belfast said the "war of liberation" would continue.

Moral Sickness Attacked

Earlier Sunday, John Paul made a similar appeal for non-violence to some 250,000 cheering Irish youths gathered for a Mass at Galway's race track. But he made a broader appeal as well, telling the Catholic youth of the world that a "moral sickness" stalks society.

"How many young people have already warped their consciences and have substituted the true joy of life with drugs, sex, alcohol, vandalism and the empty pursuit of mere material possessions," he asked.

It was one of the most explicit denunciations yet by the 59-year-old Polish pontiff of the growing material concerns of Western consumer societies.

The pope's stop here produced the first security scare of his weekend visit.

Man Rushes Pope

A man shouting "I am Jesus Christ!" dashed into an open area and toward the pope but was grabbed by two policemen several hundred feet from the papal altar, police said. The man, in his late 30s, appeared to be from India, a police spokesman said. He was not armed and was taken away for psychiatric examination, the spokesman said.

Wreck Kills

Woman, Son

PLAINVIEW (Special) — Donna Gale Hodges, 19, of Plainview and her three-year-old son, Kenneth Dale, were killed when Mrs. Hodges' car and a pick up truck collided head-on on a county dirt road about three miles east of here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Hodges and her son were pronounced dead at the scene by Abernathy Justice of the Peace Jean Marr. Mrs. Marr ruled the deaths accidental. The accident occurred about 3 p.m.

The driver of the 1977 Chevrolet pick up truck, Max Noel of Plainview, was not injured in the crash.

Department of Public Safety reports show that Mrs. Hodges was traveling west and Noel was eastbound on the dirt road when the collision occurred.

Services for Mrs. Hodges and her son are pending with the Lemons Funeral Home here.

Mrs. Hodges is a Plainview native and was graduated from Plainview High School.

She was the head checker at Howard Discount Center here. Mrs. Hodges was a member of the First Assembly of God Church.

She is survived by two sisters, Tammy Hodges and June Malone, both of the home; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hodges of Plainview.

Access To Records Forbidden

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Citing an 1873 rule, the House Administration Committee has refused to let a news reporter examine computer records that might help explain how six votes were cast last summer in the name of an absent member.

The committee governs the House Information System, which in turn operates a $1 million electronic voting machine that allows members to vote by inserting wallet-size cards into any of the 44 voting slots around the House floor.

Despite many built-in safeguards, the six votes somehow were cast last July 30 for Rep. Morgan Murphy, D-Ill., while he was on official leave to conduct a congressional narcotics hearing in Chicago.

The committee announced in early September that its own investigations indicated little chance a card was forged or of an electronic malfunction — leaving the implication that Murphy's card was actually used.

A United Press International reporter who thought the computer's intricate records might give a clue to the mystery was turned down when he asked to see them.

Robert Moss, the committee's general counsel, said that was forbidden by House Rule XXXVII, dating back to 1873, which says "no memorial or other paper" can be removed from House files without its consent.

Moss interpreted "memorial or other paper" as covering computer records that would show, for one thing, whether a particular member always voted just before or after the Murphy vote was cast at one of the voting slots.

A member violating House rules by voting two cards — his own and a colleague's — might be expected to use two widely separated voting slots on the huge house floor to avoid being observed voting twice.

However, many members habitually insert their cards in the same slot a second time as a legitimate means of confirming their vote was recorded correctly. A light flashes on to verify how the previous vote was recorded.

This means a House member seen voting a second card would likely be thought to be merely verifying his vote.

The House Ethics Committee more than a week ago appointed a two-member subcommittee to look into the matter.

Chairman Charles Bennett, D-Fla., said the effort was directed at the voting system's security — not any individual member of the House. He also announced the committee was hiring a computer security expert to help.

The House Administration Committee called on the General Accounting Office and the House Information System for its security check. Both investigations indicated there was little chance of a computer mistake.

Murphy, who discovered the votes when he returned from Chicago and asked for an investigation, said he does not recall whether he took his card to Chicago or left it in Washington. He has since been issued a new card.

Energy Leading Issue At Governor's Meeting

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Energy emerged as a leading issue of the 45th annual meeting of the Southern Governors Association on Sunday as Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander criticized President Carter's energy program.

"I agree generally that the Department of Energy, with its billions of dollars and thousands of employees, is not what we need to solve our energy problems," Alexander said at a news conference preceding the three-day meeting.

"What we need is an energy policy that is simple, geared toward production and that will help us become more self-sufficient," he said.

Alexander, a Republican, said he was in general agreement with the conference host, Democrat Edwin Edwards of Louisiana, who has said the Energy Department has had "an inhibiting effect" on the exploration for and production of energy.

After a brief opening session on Monday, Edwards was to preside at a conference on energy.

Energy Secretary Charles Duncan, representing Carter, will meet with the governors on Tuesday.

Other major issues to be considered by the governors of 17 states, plus Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, are education and welfare. One governor, Jim Hunt of North Carolina, cancelled his reservation Saturday and sent an assistant, saying he "felt the agenda of the conference didn't justify spending the money."

"I would hope the southern governors make a more cohesive statement emphasizing that any national energy policy should be based on production, rather than on restrictions on the production of energy," said Alexander.

Alexander also turned to politics, promoting the Republican presidential candidacy of Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee. He said Baker probably could win in 1980 more readily than either Ronald Reagan or John Connally.

"While he (Baker) might not be the most conservative candidate, he is perhaps the candidate most capable of getting the independent and Democratic votes that would permit him to beat either Carter or Sen. Kennedy," said Alexander.

States represented at the meeting are Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Pope Visits Invalids In Ireland

KNOCK, Ireland (UPI) — For a few brief moments Sunday, John Paul II put aside the pageantry and splendor of the papacy and stood before 2,500 invalids to humbly praise their courage.

"Jesus loved those who suffered and this attitude has been passed on to his church," he told them.

The sick and handicapped from all over Ireland gathered in a crescent around the altar at the Knock Basilica.

The pope walked among them — a touch here, a hand held out there, a tousing of a boy's hair, a kiss for a sick priest, a hug.

Some were in wheelchairs. Others lay on stretchers. Still others were strapped to chairs, blankets and rugs on their legs to ward off the cold and damp of the giant basilica.

For one little boy there was a whisper.

"You brave young man," the pope said. "Give me some of your courage."

The pope told them, "although it remains difficult to understand suffering, Jesus has made it clear that its value is linked to his own."

"But remember our blessed mother Mary is close to you... she will never leave you alone."

He was interrupted by applause at almost every sentence, but he conveyed a sense of strength, not pity. His tenderness was obvious, but he made it clear their afflictions must be borne with courage.

Many invalids feebly waved paper flags, smiles creasing their faces.

One elderly woman on a stretcher tried to rise, but the pope gently pressed her down and kissed her forehead. She sighed blissfully.

Strike Ends For Teachers In Alabama

By The Associated Press

Almost 10,000 students and their teachers were returning to the classrooms Monday at Jasper, Ala., ending a 23-day-old strike, but school strikes elsewhere continued to affect more than 355,000 students in nine states.

More than 18,000 teachers were on strike in California, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

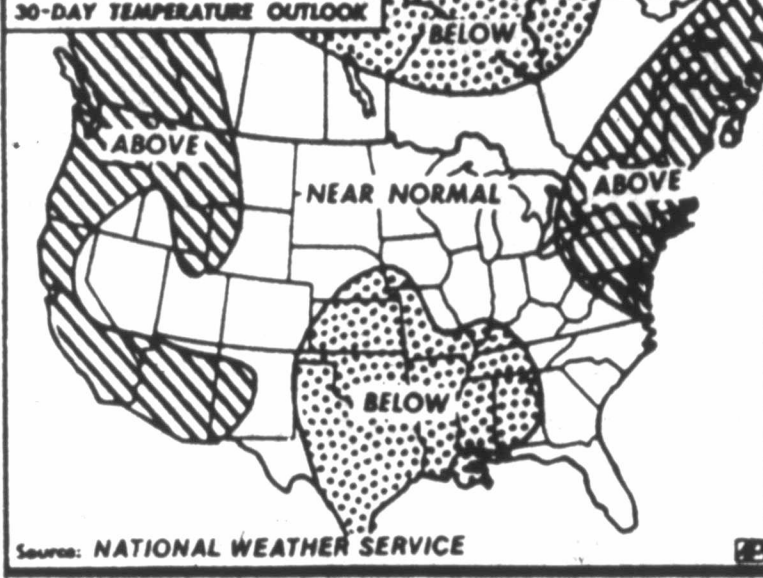

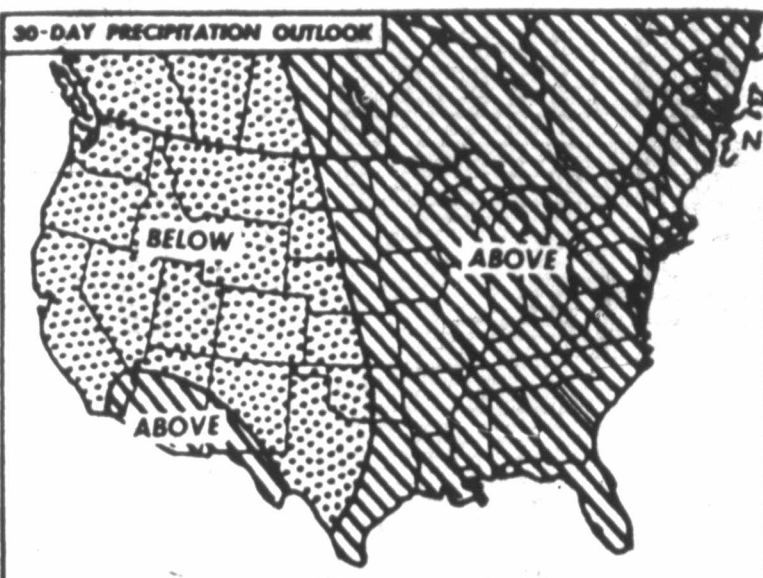

At Jasper, the first recorded teacher strike in Alabama history ended when the 600 teachers voted Saturday to return to work after several businessmen agreed to guarantee a loan to be used to rehire 24 teachers and four support workers fired in a cost-cutting move. The financially troubled Jasper schools were closed for nearly six weeks because of a lack of funds and the teachers' strike. Opening of schools was delayed for three weeks even before the teachers' strike vote because of money ills.

Elsewhere in the South, teachers and bus drivers, on strike against the large Jefferson Parish school system outside New Orleans, held rallies Sunday. Two thousand teachers are striking over a new contract and drivers are striking for collective bargaining recognition. About half the system's 64,000 students are attending classes conducted by substitute and non-striking teachers.

In San Francisco, negotiations resumed Sunday in the 18-day teachers' strike. Of the 2,428 teachers the school district said should be on the job, 1,051 reported for work Friday.

Strikes continue at four school districts in Ohio, with 1,800 teachers on strike, affecting an estimated 34,000 students. The longest walkout is the five-week-old strike by 300 teachers against the Ohio Valley Local School District, serving Adams, Brown and Highland counties. Walkouts continue in the Lorain, Middletown and Meigs local school districts.

Fourteen districts in Pennsylvania remain strikebound.

Hot Weather To Continue

The weeklong Indian summer that could be the last blast of really hot weather to hit the South Plains is expected to continue its dominance of the area through at least the middle of the week.

Today should be slightly cooler than the weekend, though, as highs in the area reach into the upper 80s. Highs in the lower and mid 90s were reported all across the area Sunday. Lubbock topped out at 93 degrees Sunday.

Evening lows should remain in the upper 50s, just as they have been for more than a week. Again, there is no precipitation expected anywhere in the region.

The existing weather pattern is being caused by a stubborn high pressure ridge that has dug in over West Texas and refused to budge. A surface cool front is moving into the eastern parts of the area today and Tuesday, but is expected to have little effect on the pattern. If anything that front will lower temperatures a few degrees, but it will not bring with it any chance for rain.

As the front comes in, though, the winds should pick up, and blow at 15 to 20 mph from the north by late afternoon.

Most of the rest of the nation also will enjoy pleasant weather, though few portions outside the Southwest will be nearly as warm.

John Paul II Condemns Bloodshed In Ulster

KNOCK, Ireland (UPI) — Pope John Paul II, moved to tears by an outpouring of love from throngs of Irish youth, told their elders Sunday "evil means can never lead to a good end...murder is murder no matter what the motive or end."

On the second day of his 9-day journey of peace to Ireland and the United States, the pope again strongly condemned religious bloodshed in Ulster and pleaded that Catholics and Protestants discard their guns and embrace in peace.

The pontiff is scheduled to arrive in Boston at 3 p.m. Monday to start his U.S. tour.

In Belfast, the outlawed Irish Republican Army issued an "authorized" statement branding as "a malicious lie" a suggestion it was considering a ceasefire in response to the pope's appeal.

"The war goes on," a Belfast IRA-orientated publication declared.

In contrast to brilliant sunshine Saturday when almost 2 million faithful flocked to the pope, Sunday was more typically Irish — rainy and misty and chilly. But the people's fervor was warm and unrelenting.

In Galway, 136 miles west of Dublin, he warned 275,000 Irish youth at a race-track mass against casting aside traditional religious precepts in favor of "the moral sickness that stalks your society today."

Twice he stabbed at tears when the singing, swaying, banner-waving youngsters responded with seven minutes of thundering applause to his shouted declaration, "Young people of Ireland, I love you." The ovation did not fade until a priest begged for quiet.

"We love the pope," they chanted — then John Paul repeated "I love you" in Gaelic. The demonstration erupted anew.

At the tiny Irish village of Knock, 35 miles north of Galway on the west coast, John Paul renewed his relentless quest to end a decade of bloodshed in Ulster.

"Teach us to distinguish clearly," he said, "what proceeds from love for our country from what bears the mark of destruction and the brand of Cain."

A half million pilgrims, many of whom sat through a rainy night on the grassy hillside overlooking Knock, came for a glimpse of the 59-year-old Polish pontiff, first pope to visit the Emerald Isle where St. Patrick spread Christ's word in the 5th Century.

To the multitude near the town where 100 years ago a villager reported he saw an apparition of the Virgin Mary, the pope said:

"Teach us that evil means can never lead to a good end, that all human life is sacred, that murder is murder no matter what the motive or end."

The pope's homily was interrupted when a man shouting "Jesus help me, help me" rushed to within 100 feet of the altar. About a dozen Irish policemen tackled him, wrestled him to the ground and carried him away.

A police officer said it appeared the man was "overcome" by the drama of pope's visit.

Among the crowd were 2,500 invalids — many children, many babies — for whom he celebrated a special mass at Knock, one of 10 ecclesiastically recognized Catholic shrines and the site of numerous reported healings.

Clad in a miter and brilliant white raiments, John Paul blessed the lame and the sick, the halt and the blind. Many were wrapped in blankets against the damp cold.

He touched the forehead of a young blonde girl and made the sign of the cross. The child gave no sign of recognition.

Past stretchers and wheelchairs, past Mongoloids and children thrust toward him by weeping mothers the pontiff walked, fingering the gold cross around his waist and whispering words of solace and hope.

Twelve small children, representing all of the invalids, were wheeled or carried in hospital beds to the altar to receive a papal appointing at the mass.

CARING — Pope John Paul II lays his hand caringly on the forehead of fourteen-year-old Paul Kelly of Dublin, at the Dominican Convent at Cabra, early Sunday. The Pontiff met with a group of mentally handicapped people at the convent. Paul has been confined to a wheelchair for many years after suffering brain damage while a child, due to measles. IRA Statement Offers Hope Of Peace BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A statement passed to the British Army here early Sunday said the Irish Republican Army offered "the possibility of ending hostilities" in Northern Ireland in response to Pope John Paul II's appeal for peace.

The statement, attributed to a senior member of the Belfast section of the IRA's Provisional Wing, was reported by the British Press Association, Britain's domestic news agency. It said:

"We owe our religious allegiance to the pope, but the Irish struggle is a political one. However, if the Holy Father can offer the possibility of justice for Ireland without violence, we shall be glad to lay down our arms."

"Following reaction from our active service units, we are offering the possibility of ending hostilities, providing politicians offer a reasonable solution to the Irish question," it said.

No further details or comments on the message could be obtained immediately. The mostly Catholic IRA has been fighting to oust the British from Northern Ireland.

Protestant leaders were divided in their response to the pope's visit. The Rev. Ian Paisley, firebrand Ulster Protestant leader and a harsh critic of the Vatican, said the papal appeal for peace and an end to violence "will only give comfort to the terrorists...I repudiate everything he said."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems—fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 East Dayton Street, West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I was recently injured on my job. I am 68 and have Medicare and three other private policies (Medicare supplements).

I just learned that since I was hurt on the job, I am eligible for Workmen's Compensation. Will this affect my Medicare coverage or the coverage of my Medicare supplements?—D.A.

Medicare will not pay for services when payment has been made or can be made by a federal or state Workmen's Compensation program.

As far as your private insurance is concerned, we would suggest that you read your policies, but we can say that most, if not all, private health insurance policies, including Medicare supplements, will not pay while you are eligible for Workmen's Compensation.

HEARTLINE: I have read your column for years. I have gained a great deal of information from it. I started reading in New York four years ago and now I am reading it in California. It eased my transition from a hard-working fellow to a relaxed, retired person. My friends and I have often wondered why your column is called "HEARTLINE."

At first glance a person unfamiliar with your column might think it a medical column or a love-love column, if they look only at the title. Well, as an experienced reader of Heartline, I can say that those are two of the few subjects you do not cover. We were just curious about the name.—R.Q.

You are right. The title "Heartline" is often misleading. Heartline is not a medical column and never has been. Heartline is not a column for the love-love. And there is no "Mr. Heartline" who writes the column. It is actually written by Charles M. Musick and always has been.

The name "Heartline" is sort of an idealistic and emotional name. A column that would be close to the hearts of older Americans and a direct line for help or information. Thus, Heartline.

HEARTLINE: I was in my doctor's office the other day and I picked up a rather interesting newsletter called the Heartline-NAOA Newsletter. There was at one time a coupon in it for joining the National Association of Older Americans, but it had been torn out. Could you tell me where to get information on the NAOA?—B.C.

Yes. Send a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope to Heartline-NAOA, 114 East Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381.

HEARTLINE: A few days ago, some of my friends and myself were talking about Medicare. One of them said that he thought that if a person made a lot of claims to Medicare that, just like my insurance company, they could cancel your coverage. We discussed this for some time, but no one really knew for sure whether or not Medicare coverage can be cancelled. What do you say?—K.O.

Once you are 65 and have Medicare hospital insurance because of work credits, your coverage is guaranteed as long as you live, or as long as you want the coverage. Medicare medical coverage (and hospital insurance if you pay premiums) is also guaranteed as long as you pay premiums or authorize Social Security to deduct the premiums from your Social Security check.

AN EDITORIAL:

Foothold In Sands For PLO?

COLLAPSE OF AN American initiative to draw the Palestine Liberation Organization into the peace talks could imply that Israel has gained the upper hand in recent Mideast developments.

But many Israelis believe events have been set in motion with dire consequences for their nation. In this Israeli view, the instigator of their troubles and the motivating force for resolution of the Palestinian problem will be none other than Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

"As time passes, it has become apparent to many Israelis," writes National Journal commentator Richard Cohen, "that Egypt has won American support of a two-step plan for its early reconciliation with the rest of the Arab world, and the recognition of the PLO as a full partner in the peace process."

UNDER THE terms of the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty signed at the White House, local agreement should be reached by next April on a plan of autonomy in the Israeli-occupied area on the West Bank of the Jordan River—land that had been held by Jordan until the 1967 Mideast war.

"Regardless of how many new settlements Israel permits in the West Bank, the Arabs undoubtedly will maintain well over 90 percent of the local population," writes

Cohen. "Thus, most Israelis concede it is simply a matter of time until most of the occupied territory gains self-rule."

Moshe Sharon, a Tel Aviv University professor, is quoted by Cohen as suggesting that "Egypt may at any moment return to the open arms of the Arab world and be greeted like a returning lost brother. The latest developments suggest this may come to pass even earlier than expected."

PROFESSOR SHARON envisions Sadat telling his Arab brothers that his treaty with Prime Minister Menachem Begin resulted in the return of every inch of Arab territory and Israeli recognition of Palestinian rights.

"Because of the treaty," Sharon wrote in the Jerusalem Post, "the gate has been opened wide to admit the PLO as a full participant in the process that will decide the fate of Israel."

Sharon fears that once the PLO accepts a revised or new UN resolution on the Mideast—tacitly recognizing Israel—then Begin and his cohorts will be hard pressed to ignore the PLO's claim to the land.

President Sadat and Prime Minister Begin have managed to maintain their public cordiality, but in private the talks must be strained as Mr. Begin is forced to wrestle with the next steps to implement the treaty he signed five months ago.

AN EDITORIAL:

'J. Edd'--He Lived Beliefs

THE DEATH of J. Edd McLaughlin of Rails removed from the South Plains, indeed the world scene, a man who truly believed in world brotherhood. And practiced it.

Mr. McLaughlin's widespread interests during his long lifetime were most varied, his services to his fellowman most notable and long-lasting, his good humor and dedication to civic duty always a good example.

The Childress county native, who moved to Crosby County in 1905, was known for those qualities not just among his friends and neighbors, but in countless places around the globe.

AS A PAST president of Rotary International, Mr. McLaughlin, who died late Thursday at the age of 85, truly practiced the world-wide motto of that organization "Service Above Self."

He also was a former chairman of the Texas Tech University Board of Directors and held numerous civic and professional titles and honors during his lifetime.

After receiving his public school education, he graduated from West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon and Brantley-Draughon Business College in Fort Worth.

IN 1912, he joined his father and brothers in founding two private banks in Crosby County.

Mr. McLaughlin's association with and love for service in the worldwide Rotary organization began at an early age. He was a charter member, director and past president of the Rails Rotary Club and then went up the ladder as district governor, and a director of Rotary International. He served as president of Rotary International—which has hundreds of clubs and thousands of members around the globe—in 1960-61.

His list of professional accomplishments would fill a page. But it was his civic work which gave the man with the ready smile and the extended handshake his most pleasure.

J. Edd McLaughlin "grew up" with the South Plains and its citizens, took great pride and joy in the area's accomplishments and never forgot two basic principles which guided his life: It takes people to make things work, and giving of oneself—service above self—has its own rewards.

Lubbock, this area and people and places far removed are better for having had J. Edd McLaughlin pass this way.

JOSEPH SOBRAN:

There Is More To Us Than Meets The Eye

WASHINGTON—The cause du jour is pornography: only this time it is the feminists, not the bluesies, who are angry.

The feminist Establishment—Steinem, Abzug, Brownmiller—are holding conferences, planning marches, conducting tours of 42nd Street. Their thesis, in the words of Dolores Alexander of Women Against Pornography, is that "pornography is antiwoman propaganda."

Don Marquis pointed out that an idea can't be held responsible for the people who believe in it. But an idea is not merely an idea: it takes on its coloration from the way it is held and asserted.

Opposing pornography is one thing. Calling it "antiwoman propaganda" is another. True, porn is now a multi-billion-dollar industry. But most of it is cheesecake run amok.

IT'S JUST A little bit silly to talk as if the GIs who kept pinups of Betty Grable in their lockers were anti-Grable. At least Miss Grable took it as a huge compliment.

Recently the Ivy League girls were eagerly posing for Playboy. Is that kind of thing immoral? Yes. But good bluesies should understand why. The human personality has structure. There is more to us than meets the eye, and the sense of privacy is rooted in our instinctive resistance to premature exposure. Only shallow people give themselves away at once.

Was Betty Grable immoral? That's pushing things. I don't know that the Miss America pageant is immoral, but somehow it offends me to see women putting themselves on display for a panel of judges.

THE THINGS THAT are obvious to strangers are rarely the important things about us. That level of attention is a little vulgar in itself, with or without nudity. But it's nothing to mount a high horse about.

The feminist agitation over pornography focuses on the sadomasochistic variety, the sick, Huxler and then some kind—what a friend of mine calls "concentration camp stuff."

But this is a minority taste. What interests me about the current concern is the way the feminists are insistently treating it as typical of commercial porn. I suspect this says more about the feminist movement than about porn consumers in general, most of whom are guilty of nothing worse than perceiving women as candy bars.

Today's feminism is of a special kind. It is only distantly related to the suffragette movement with which it claims continuity.

The suffragettes were demanding citizenship for women. They were a modernizing movement, part of a deep shift in Western culture from tribal and familial social order to individualism.

Like the abolitionists, they were ethnically dissenting Protestants. Susan B. Anthony's father was a Massachusetts Quaker abolitionist: extending citizenship ran in the family.

TODAY'S FEMINISTS are antimodern and anti-individualist. They bring to their causes the bickering style of New York bob politics: tribal, accusatory, gimme-gimme. Men, to them, are The Enemy—less a sex than a brutal conspiracy.

Miss Brownmiller has written a whole book charging that all men are rapists at heart, which pretty well sets the tone for the movement.

The days of oppression are over, but these women can hardly afford to admit that. Hence the harping on the worst male behavior as if it were the norm, the loose charges of things like "antiwoman propaganda" as if porn were a phase of the War Between the Sexes.

The extreme rhetoric serves to justify extravagant demands, when the essential victory has long since been secured, by the likes of Susan B. Anthony.

INCONSISTENCY IS usually a good tipoff. Today's feminists rarely complain about double standards, because they favor them—in affirmative action and the like.

They want Ann Meyers to be able to play in the National Basketball Assn., but they don't want "equal pay for equal work" to mean Billie Jean King has to face Bjorn Borg.

"Equality of the sexes means executive jobs for women, but not, apparently, giving fathers an equal (or 'affirmative') shot at child custody."

Let Dr. Johnson have the last word: "Your levers always want to level down as far as themselves, but they cannot bear levelling 'up' to themselves."

"AH, WE'VE FOUND THE MAN WHO CAN LIGHT THE WAY TO A BETTER DAY"

MARTHA ANGLE & ROBERT WALTERS:

'Anyone' But Teddy

WASHINGTON—If Sen Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., decides to seek the presidency in 1980, at least 10 percent of the electorate probably will reject his candidacy because of his personal conduct 10 years ago.

For the second time in less than a year, a national survey undertaken by a major magazine indicates that there is a significant group of anybody-but-Kennedy voters that has neither forgiven nor forgotten the senator's Chappaquiddick auto accident in the summer of 1969.

DONALD GRAFF:

A Credit To Us All

IF YOU'VE BEEN preoccupied with matching dwindling income to escalating outflow and other aspects of rampant inflation, it may come as a surprise that the United States is rated the most creditworthy of the world's nations by those who know the subject best—international bankers.

A survey conducted by Institutional Investor magazine in which 50 banks rated national credit standings on a scale of zero to 10 put the United States at the top with an average 9.89.

Interestingly, none of the supposedly super-rich oil exporters was among the leaders. The judgment was that oil alone does not make a stable economy.

That may be comforting to the United States and its hard-pressed industrialized allies. But when it comes to footing the bills for precious heating oil this winter, it could turn out to be somewhat cold comfort.

GOVERNMENT HAS NO business going around deliberately and falsely blackening the reputations of citizens.

That is a truth so basic to democratic government that it should need no repeating.

It is no news by now, however, that the U.S. government—through its agent, the FBI—has engaged in exactly that practice.

That is, the practice may be no news. But specific instances of the FBI's transgression of mission continue to pop up, such as its current admission of responsibility for the fabricated report in 1970 that the actress Jean Seberg was pregnant by a leader of the Black Panthers.

There was nothing offhand about the campaign in calumny against the actress. It was the result of a proposal made directly to then FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The proposal, FBI correspondence now made public reveals, was to "cheapen her image," presumably weakening whatever significance there may have been to her support of the extremist black-power group and thereby strengthening the cause the FBI believed it was furthering at the time. Whatever that may have been. It certainly wasn't the rule of law in a free society.

THE ONE POSITIVE aspect of the Seberg affair is the alacrity with which the post-Hoover FBI acknowledged culpability when pressed by the actress's former husband, French author and diplomat Romain Gary, whose child she was in fact carrying at the time and who compelled publication of the relevant documents under the Freedom of Information Act after her death.

That is a remarkable change from past bureau practice, which has been to resist divulging information on its internal operations to the public and on occasion even to its nominal boss—the President of the United States.

The Seberg tragedy may not be the last that circumstances may pry out of FBI files of that unhappy period. But it is to be hoped that the present director, William H. Webster, has already delivered the last word on the FBI's one-time practice of operating beyond the law that was responsible for such tragedies. In releasing the Seberg documents, he observed: "We are out of that business forever."

JAY HARRIS:

A Nation Is Born

THOHOYANDOU, Venda—A nation was born at midnight here recently. Hardly anyone outside South Africa heard its birth cries.

It was the third black homelands area to get its independence from the Republic of South Africa in the past three years. Seven others are due to follow.

The new nation, about a third the size of Israel, is Venda, a small but beautiful and for the most part fertile area in the far northeast portion of the RSA. It is located just west of famed Kruger National Park and separated from Zimbabwe-Rhodesia by a small buffer zone.

Made up of an estimated 466,000 persons, Venda joins The Transkei and Bothaputswana as the first of a series of black homeland areas which have won nominal independence in a peaceful, rather than violent way. Had Venda come to this point by conflict and had its "sponsor" been anyone other than South Africa, it would have been hailed as a great achievement by much of the world.

VENDA CAME OF AGE at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 13, as the South African flag was lowered and the new flag of the Republic of Venda was raised.

A 101-gun salute boomed out to the cheers of 22,000 Venda natives and visiting dignitaries in the football-sized stadium.

As Venda's blue, green, yellow and brown flag was raised, eight native runners representing the tribes of Venda accompanied an independence flame into the stadium. The flame had been carried the 200 miles from Pretoria by relays of runners.

As a climax to the early-morning ceremony, Chief Patrick Mphahlele, the first president and prime minister of the new republic, told the throng the nation has "a culture and tradition older than the majority of the nations of the world."

IN WHAT was interpreted as a reference to other nations in Africa which have gained their independence in the past decade, Mphahlele said: "There are many nations who have achieved freedom from colonialism through bloodshed and violence, only to find that another master has slipped in to subjugate the people."

"We have achieved peace at the conference table," the small Venda tribal chief, told his audience. "Not a drop of blood has been shed. Yet will not have to pay homage to any master. Yet by the topsy-turvy values that are used in the world today, the very fact that we have achieved what we have peacefully counts against us."

Most nations, including the U.S., have branded the granting of independence status to the black homelands as a ploy on the part of South Africa to perpetuate apartheid. South Africa, on the other hand, has claimed that the policy of "separate development" is one which will aid the black, especially the rural Bantu, in the long run.

ARGUMENTS CAN be made on both sides.

But, the fact remains that so far as self-determination is concerned, the black homelands have gained full rights to administer their own internal affairs, choose their own parliaments and leaders and to a great extent determine their own policies.

But, as is the case with even Marxist-oriented Mozambique, guerrilla infiltrated Zambia, Cuban-ruled Angola, and the more friendly nations of Zimbabwe-Rhodesia and Botswana, all to the north of South Africa, all depend heavily on the expertise and viability of white-ruled South Africa for their economic livelihood and to a certain extent, however.

In addition to trade with South Africa, use of technical know-how and the stability of the RSA's economic and monetary base, all the nations, homelands included, need South Africa. Without the economic and industrial giant, they would sink even deeper into an economic and political morass than they already have.

AS A NATION, Venda is not some semi-arid, God-forsaken area which South Africa wouldn't want anyway.

It is made up of rolling hills, "a hundred streams" and forests and dams and has a subtropical climate which with ample rainfall and proper management could turn the nation into a garden spot.

Some of South Africa's finest tea is grown in the region. There is also fruit, cattle, sisal, lumber. But, for lack of better training, the Vendhas barely eke out a living.

Because of such problems and because South Africa is a target of the "do gooders" and Marxist-oriented groups of the world, Venda, like the Transkei and Bothaputswana, is seen as a victim, not a victor.

THE HOMELANDS policy was under fire almost from its inception. It gained impetus under former Prime Minister John Vorster.

Under his successor, Prime Minister Pieter Botha, the homelands policy is still intact, but major changes in the way the urban black will fit into the scheme of things seem in the wind.

The Prime Minister has speedily moved to push for many new gains for the black workers in South Africa's cities. The past week, union rights were granted black workers. In recent months, a move toward more equal pay for the blacks has been instituted. Great strides are being made in mass education of the black populace.

And Prime Minister Botha, who has just won a showdown within his own Nationalist Party over his bold program, has been pushing the idea of a Constellation of States, a sweeping plan envisioning a sort of confederation of homelands and neighboring nations.

The verdict is still out on South Africa's future. But, whatever it is, it is of utmost importance to the U.S. and Free World that the Republic of South Africa be maintained as a bulwark in this part of the world. It, like Zimbabwe-Rhodesia, is one of the prime targets of world Marxism.

Man Jailed On Rape Charge

A 25-year-old Lubbock County man remained in county jail late Sunday in connection with the aggravated rape of a young Lubbock County woman Saturday morning.

Sheriff's deputies took the suspect into custody about noon Sunday at an apartment on West 19th Street. The 18-year-old victim called the sheriff's office Saturday night, telling them that she had spotted the suspect's car at the 19th Street apartment.

The victim told deputies that after a fight with her boyfriend, she left the apartment, walking towards Wolfthorpe about 3:45 a.m. Reports show that the suspect offered the woman a ride to Levelland and that she accepted it.

As the suspect drove off, he told the woman that she was going to make love to him. The victim said that when she told the man she wasn't, he pulled out a pistol and pointed it at her head.

Reports indicate that the suspect drove to a dirt road, stopped the car and ordered her into the back seat of the car where he raped her.

After the incident, the suspect drove the woman back to her apartment.

The victim was treated and later released from Health Sciences Center Hospital.

Police Sunday sought a suspect in connection with the attempted rape of a 21-year-old Lubbock waitress which reportedly occurred about 2:30 a.m. Sunday in the parking lot of a club at 2408 Fourth St.

The woman said that she was walking to her pickup truck when the suspect approached and asked her for a ride to an after hours place in East Lubbock.

Reports show that the woman refused the man's request, got into her pickup and closed the door. However, the woman reported that the man grabbed her arm through a partially opened window and got into the truck.

The suspect reportedly pushed the woman down in the seat and put his hand over her mouth, but the woman began hitting and kicking the suspect and he fled the scene.

The victim said the suspect was black, 26 to 35, of medium height, stocky and had a beard and moustache. She said he was wearing a three-piece white suit.

A 51-year-old Lubbock man told police that two black males took his wallet, containing $155, during an incident about 1 a.m. Sunday at a pool hall at 706 13th St.

Fabian Salinas of 1417 Guava Ave. said that the two men approached him in the pool hall and that one of the suspects stood behind him and grabbed his arms while the other man grabbed his wallet.

He said the suspects were tall and of medium build.

Sheriff's deputies Sunday sought a suspect who robbed and attempted to rape a 36-year-old Lubbock County woman about 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

The woman, who was conducting a garage sale at 98th Street and the Tahoka Highway, said that she was showing the suspect some chairs when he pulled a knife on her and forced her into her car.

Reports indicate that the woman was ordered to drive on various county roads and that she ran out of gas on County Road 835. The woman said the suspect then undid his pants and pulled her over toward him. When the woman resisted, reports show, the suspect pushed her out of the car and left, taking her money box with him.

The woman was discovered by Department of Public Safety officers, who contacted sheriff's deputies.

The woman said the suspect was black, and about 5-foot-6, and wearing blue jeans, a short-sleeved shirt, brown fishing hat and shades.

Dale Ora Berry, Box 211, Lubbock and Howard R. Barker, 37, of 1930 70th St. reported that two Mexican-American men assaulted them outside a club at 2228 Clovis Road about 1:15 a.m. Sunday.

The victims, who were sitting in a pickup truck in the club's parking lot, said the two men approached and began cursing at them.

Berry said one of the suspects pulled out a pistol, fired three shots into the ground and ordered them out of the truck. When the men got out of the truck, reports show that one of the men knocked Berry to the ground and kicked him in the face. Barker was reportedly hit by the other suspect. The suspects fled in a red pickup truck going west-bound on Clovis Road.

The victims said the suspects were 26 to 35 and stocky.

In another incident, a young white male reportedly exposed himself to a 10-year-old Lubbock girl and her friend in a bathroom at Lubbock Christian High School Saturday afternoon.

Reports show that when the two girls walked into the women's restroom, the suspect exposed himself to them. When two women entered the restroom, the suspect reportedly pushed them out of the way and left.

The suspect was said to be 18 to 25, very tall and wearing a white shirt and green shorts.

Plainview JP Asks For Raise

A-J Correspondent
PLAINVIEW — Justice of the Peace Glenn Stone filed Friday for a grievance hearing in the court of Hale County Judge Bill Hollars for a salary increase.

Stone had asked the commissioners to give him a $100 a month salary adjustment and to increase his car allowance $50 a month. Instead, the commissioners granted Stone along with other county employees a seven percent salary raise raise, a $25 a month salary increase for for Stone.

Stone, who has requested salary adjustments several years and been rejected by Hale County commission is the first to request a grievance hearing in the county since the procedure was instituted by state law in 1972.

College Founder, Publisher Dies

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP) — Walter Hendricks, founder of three Vermont colleges, died Saturday afternoon in Brattleboro Memorial Hospital after a brief illness.

The 87-year-old resident of Putney, Vt., had been in the facility's intensive care unit since he suffered a stroke about a week ago, according to hospital officials.

The Chicago native was founder and acted by state law in 1972.

A committee, consisting of the county sheriff, tax assessor-collector, county clerk, county treasurer, county attorney, district clerk and three citizens must consider the grievance within 30 days after it is filed, according to law.

Judge Hollars also will sit on the committee but will not vote.

If six committee members vote in favor of a raise, then the county commissioners will vote again on the raise based on findings of the committee.

If all the members on the committee vote for a raise then Stone's raise will go into effect the first day of the following month.

He also headed his own publishing firm, Hendricks House, Inc. of New York, and was vice president and general editor of Hendricks House-Farrar and Straus, also of New York.

Surviving are his wife, three sons and a daughter.

Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry Tells Franciscan Sale, Items For Gifting

Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry, 2147 50th St., is not trying to rush the season, but "if you have a someone very special in mind for a very special Christmas gift, why not do some planning and looking ahead (and using layaway), utilizing the wide stock and even specials now posted at Pigg Bros."

There are still some great selections in the Autumn Classic annual Franciscan sale.

Open stock is marked at 20 per cent to 33 per cent savings with patterns still available including Desert Rose, Apple and Picnic.

Open stock means you buy the pieces you need... cups, saucers, dinner plates, salad plates and soup, cereal bowls... now at really great savings at Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry in its convenient Oakwood Center location.

Franciscan — For Quality
 (It is possible, though not probable, that some may not realize Franciscan's quality features such as its high resistance to chipping. It never fades and it never crazes. Every piece of Franciscan dinnerware is decorated by hand.)

The Franciscan sale has been held annually for 27 years at Pigg Bros.)

While taking advantage of this sale, it would also be prudent to consider the opportunities in the wide jewelry selection there.

Diamonds
 Select from diamond drops, dinner rings, engagement rings, etc., with layaway provided.

There are "Teen Dream" diamonds delicately set in gold, from only $29.95 and up.

And the seven-diamond cluster that looks like 12 carat, at $159.95 and up in dinner rings. The secret is the massed brilliance that creates the effect of a large single diamond. The five "petals" are each set with another sparkling diamond. Choice of white or yellow gold is enabled.

The many gift choices at Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry reflects the firm's consideration for every age group.

Fine watches are stocked in abundance, naturally.

And there are baby gifts, birthstone rings, costume jewelry, beautiful lockets, pens, pencils and lighters Plus more!

For big savings and big selection, it is Pigg Bros. Shamrock Jewelry, Oakwood Center.

Stork Shop, In Indiana Gardens, Stocks Added Lines, New Items

"More than ever, for anything in maternity wear, it makes sense to depend upon Lubbock's only exclusive maternity wear shop, The Stork Shop, 3416 34th St., in Indiana Gardens."

Brand names, as well as finest selection, is important at The Stork Shop where quality is assured without exorbitant price.

the same Indiana Gardens location. Everything at the fully-stocked and attractively arranged Stork Shop says "Welcome."

New, Added Lines
 The Paulette line of dresses has been added to many well-known labels already featured, including Phil Jacobs, Daran, Marion Sue, Charles Lewis and Maternity Circuit.

Lingerie
 Some may not realize that The Stork Shop carries a complete line of Mary Jane lingerie, including panties, bras, slips, hose, girdles, gowns, robes and pantyhose.

Sales Rack
 And at this time a special sale rack of in-season merchandise affords added savings, with this rack having such items as turtle necks, sweaters, blouses and pants, all in a good size selection.

There are scads of new fall and winter arrivals dominating at The Stork Shop, and one can doubly profit by taking advantage of the special group in-season savings and at the same time inspecting and purchasing the new arrivals for the forthcoming months.

Use of VISA and Master Charge is welcomed.

Store hours are 10 a.m. until 6 p.m., six days weekly.

Under ownership and active management, since early '78, of longtime Lubbock resident Mrs. Doyle (Ida) Langford, The Stork Shop actually dates its record of service from much earlier.

Since its establishment, it has been in

NEW STOCK ARRIVALS — Mrs. Doyle (Ida) Langford of The Stork Shop holds a Phil Jacobs blouse and points out that not only are new items in stock but that new lines have been added and that there is even a sale rack for special savings at this time.

Valet Parking Proves Customer Pleaser At Budget Rent A Car

"Free valet service, with delivery and pick-up right at the doors of the air terminal... did you know such a convenience is being afforded in Lubbock?"

Budget Rent A Car of Lubbock makes it possible.

Yes, one can park his or her vehicle at Budget Rent A Car, 1701 N. Quirt, at a cost of only $1 per day, and free valet service is provided right to the airport! (Many also find it advantageous for the folks at Budget Rent A Car to service the vehicle while it is there.)

Budget Rent A Car of Lubbock, 1701 N. Quirt Ave., not only operates from all-new facilities said to be the most modern in the area, but it provides likely a much greater scope of services than some may have realized.

You don't have to be in need of rental units to be served at this complete Enco service center where there's even a big used car lot.

As for the rental part of the business, the owner emphasizes, that "we save you money," inviting comparison of the low rates afforded on current model GM and other fine cars of all sizes.

Valet Parking

Valet parking is one of the much-appreciated services, with Budget Rent A Car enabling one to leave a personal car there, with a firm representative taking the driver and occupants right to the airport, affording the same service upon return trip! Thus there are no long walks from parking areas; the customer is taken right to the airport doorway.

A full-service station is provided, open six days a week.

Rentals are available every day.

Good Car Buys

The Used Car Lot features late model rent cars. (Check now for exceptionally good buys in '78 and '79 low-mileage rent cars.)

Not only are autos rented, but a good truck selection is available in the rental department, too. Select units varying from cargo vans to 22-ft. units, some air conditioned, most with hydraulic lifts and some with automatic transmission.

Some 70 to 80 cars are kept in the rental fleet at most times, right here in Lubbock.

(There is no drop charge for cars dropped in Amarillo.)

Bill Creps is manager of the firm, coming here from Amarillo to the Budget Rent A Car of Lubbock (a Budget Rent A Car System licensee) with opening in September '78 in the all-new present quarters just 2 1/4 miles south of the airport at 1701 N. Quirt. The firm previously was at 604 No. Ave. Q for several years.

Whether the automatic car wash, the full-service station, the rental services, the car sales lot or any other feature of Budget Rent A Car is desired, customer service is assured.

"May we have the pleasure of your consideration and patronage at Budget Rent A Car of Lubbock? Phone 763-6471."

Childress Hardware, At New Address, Still A Leader In Downtown Lubbock

"Thanks for all the good things we're hearing from you about our new home! And thanks for coming by, renewing or making new friendships, discovering how we can be of benefit to one another in the good old South Plains way!"

Yes, Childress Hardware is an old friend, but with a new address in Lubbock and with a new functionally-beautiful building in which to serve even better.

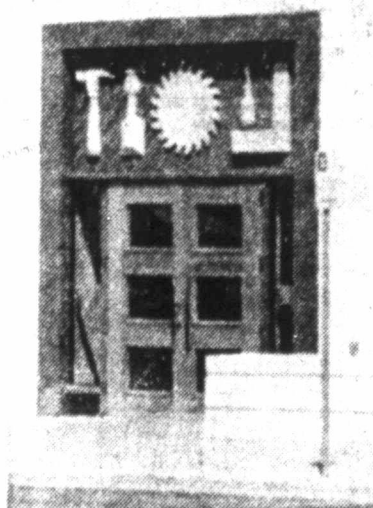

Now, the Fred Childress Hardware is at 10th & H (915 Ave. H) just a block north of the former 902 Main Street location that was home of hardware since back in 1917!

It is no idle statement that hardware needs of the area have been met for decades by the Childress Hardware and its predecessors. As a bit of history, it is recounted that the old Cole-Myrick Hardware was established at 902 Main in 1917. Within a few years ownership passed to the Nislar interests, with Fred Childress in 1924 going to work for that ownership. Then in 1934, just a decade later, the firm was purchased by Childress and O.A. Terry. Then in 1959, Terry disposed of his interest.

The Fred Childress Hardware, Inc., is owned by Dick Jay and Leslie Duncan who have long served at this time-proven and time-honored establishment that prides in stocking needs of the day for every year, every season.

The former Main Street building has been razed to make way for other use of the property, and the new and beautiful building at 915 H marks even greater capacity for service.

Away from the "congested area," more and easier parking is enabled, yet the business still is on a major traffic artery to conveniently serve city and area. The new building was specifically designed for Childress Hardware, and the

Kirby Sales And Service Tells New Model Arrivals, Top Deals

"Let us prove anew at Kirby Sales and Service, 5410 Slide Road, that this is the place to come for a good product and a good deal!"

And what better time is there for discovering this than now with the introduction of the new 1980 models of the Kirby Tradition, a really fine vacuum cleaner.

With its dozens of different uses (more than 80, actually), the Kirby Tradition had refinements over even previous models. Disposable or regular bags can be utilized, as example, and larger wheels at the rear enable easier rolling and maneuverability.

From the availability of the finest vacuum cleaners and the Super Upkeep products to the popular maintenance special (still $7.95 for a tuneup on any Kirby vacuum cleaner, with no labor charge on fixing any Kirby vacuum cleaner, with no labor charge on fixing any Kirby unit, just a charge for parts only), with full emphasis on friendly, qualified service, the firm invites full consideration.

"Very, very liberal trade-ins on your present vacuum cleaner when purchasing any new unit at Kirby Sales and Service, 5410 Slide Road... this should help get the new season started right for you!"

Not only does this Kirby firm have a quite good selection of new cleaners (including the sensational new Kirby Tradition) but the firm is in need of trade-ins, so special deals are being made at this time. But don't delay!

(Reconditioned units are sold with a full one-year warranty.)

Super Upkeep Line

So come on out to Kirby Sales and Service, on the way to the Mall, at 5410 Slide Road, and see the many products including the Super Upkeep line now made available there.

Super Upkeep is a carpet cleaner, stain remover and deodorizer, fully guaranteed to spot clean and completely deodorize a long list of stains on carpets, fine furniture and auto upholstery, ceramic tile, shoes and clothing, etc.

There is more to merit one's patronage of the firm:

Reasonable prices always, as example:

"The new Kirby Tradition is presently featured, a system that gives more versatility, quality, reliability and performance than in any other appliance!"

"Suppose you had to shampoo a rug, clean, sanitize, buff, wax, polish and paint — all in the same day; how many appliances would you need?"

Just one — when that one is the Kirby Tradition System with its 80 different uses!"

Repairs, Parts

See this and the entire Kirby line at Kirby Sales & Service, open 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., six days a week at 5410 Slide Road, phone 792-3718, in Lubbock.

The firm is essentially a family operation, with Dale Bramlett and his son-in-law Dan Wilbanks, as owners-operators, and with Sandy Everett, daughter of Bramlett, also on the job. They assure a personal interest in every transaction.

Repairs and parts are stocked, and the skilled staffers work on any kind of vacuum cleaner.

A complete line of rebuilt Kirby units is stocked at "a price you can afford."

Rental is available on vacuum cleaners and shampoo machines.

Visa and Bank Americard are honored, and in-store financing is available.

Take a good product, represent it well, with the customer's welfare considered foremost, and you have a business worth knowing and patronizing. The business concept and everyday practices of Kirby Sales & Service, 5410 Slide Road, place it as such a business.

Southern Sea Catering Services Seen Advantageous, Flexible, Economical

Southern Sea is most appreciative of the reception to our expanded menu, our so-convenient catering service, and to the dining and take-out services at our two Lubbock facilities, 10th & Q and Loop 289 at S. Indiana.

Some may not realize the catering capabilities and convenience that is making this department a key service of Southern Sea.

Two Mobile Kitchens

"Using two mobile kitchens, we are in position to serve your group, anywhere in the area, one of the finest catered meals you've ever had! We are happy to custom plan your catered menu from a variety of entrees. Furthermore, fish and chicken are fried on location assuring freshness, prepared just minutes before you eat! Chicken fried steak also is cooked right on location.

"Or maybe the preference is barbeque, spaghetti, chicken gordon bleu or chicken Marco Polo, or just about any menu item you can think of... Southern Sea can cater to your complete satisfaction."

All You Can Eat!

Served buffet style, these menus are economical, versatile and convenient, served on an "all you can eat" basis (however, we at Southern Sea can serve any style catered meal that will suit your needs).

For full details, call Danny Waller, catering manager, at (806) 799-2099.

Town & Country Pauline's Sportswear Prides In Selection, Brands, Price

"We are what you've been looking for!" This is the assurance from Pauline's Sportswear in Town & Country Shopping Center, 4th and University. Devoted to providing quality merchandise (with known and respected labels) at prices inviting comparison. Pauline's provides a full line of junior and missy sizes, with queen size in numerous items. There are tops and pants in all sizes represented at the attractive shop, dresses in junior and missy sizes, skirts, blouses and an exceptionally good jean line (including queen sizes). And there are uniforms, too, with tops in all basic colors and with white pants. A very good line of sweaters is stocked.

Examples of the "name" brands include jeans by Levi, California and Faded Glory. Savings Explained All merchandise is top quality and this is probably surprising when the modest prices are considered. A low overhead, involving family operation of the store, location out of the high-rent district, volume buying power and other factors enable exceptional savings. The shop relies upon numerous sources of supply for its wide selection. Home-Owned In the same location for 12 years, Pauline's Sportswear for the past two years has been owned by lifetime Lubbock resident Kathy Wagner, who operates the shop with assistance of her mother, Affanell Patterson, who marks some 10 years experience in the type store presented. Under their operation, Pauline's has been remodeled and the enlarged stock reflects the owner's attention to fashion, practicality, quality and price. Kathy, the former Kathy Patterson, is a graduate of Lubbock High School and attended Texas Tech. Long-Term Layaway Aside from its attractive and selective merchandise, Pauline's Sportswear affords other advantages including: Open six days a week, 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., even on Saturdays. Master Charge and Visa purchases are welcomed. Ninety-day layaway is provided without special charges or interest. Gift certificates are available and encouraged. "See why we believe that 'we're what you've been looking for!'"

Optical Store & Boutique Affording Modern Services, Fine Quality, Style

"Our Boutique is Unique" actually is the motto but nevertheless an understatement of the services and products of the Optical Store & Boutique, phone 792-0901. "Doesn't the new school term call for renewed awareness of the correct optical needs?" Then, we wish to direct your attention to the Optical Store & Boutique, 5202 Slide Road, phone 792-0901, where we know that we can serve you within one or more of our departments where we welcome your visits and believe you will appreciate the professional yet friendly service and the truly relaxed atmosphere traditional here. "Here's something of special interest that we want you to consider, regardless of your eyewear situation, especially if you have too often found yourself in this predicament. Upon selecting new frames for your eyewear, hoping of course to get those frames that look the very best on you, desiring frames with which you would be pleased day in and day out, you have found that selection was difficult because in trying them on, with your present glasses 'off,' you just couldn't see to select intelligently." The Optical Store & Boutique, just south of 50th & Slide, has done something about this! New video tape equipment has been installed to enable one to be photographed with the various frames, then the tape is played back through a color television set to enable one to see exactly how the frames look upon him or her! Doesn't this make sense? "We at The Optical Store & Boutique think so, and we believe we are the first optical company in Lubbock to offer this brand new innovation to optical dispensing. "We believe it is general knowledge that quality lines in frames and glasses are just as near as The Optical Store & Boutique. Thoroughly in keeping with the firm's consideration of the customer's welfare, the folks there emphasize: (1) Children should have an eye examination annually. (2) Adults should take the same step every two years. (3) Even if one does not wear glasses, eye examination on a systematic schedule is recommended. (4) See your eye doctor and then when glasses are advised, bring his prescription to us at The Optical Store & Boutique, and we'll prove our uniqueness and capabilities, with you benefiting. "We want to see you keep your frames in good repair, and we'll help if you simply give us the chance!" "And did you realize that The Optical Store & Boutique stocks the complete spectrum in frames, including a utility selection combining style with surprisingly low price?" A departmentalized arrangement of rooms and areas provides four distinct categories in our service: (1) utility selection, (2) another where quality is the sole consideration, (3) designer frames, and finally (4) the Boutique. So, whether the attractively priced lines in frames and glasses for the student, as example, or the very finest in choices from the Designer collection or the unusual and expensive lines within the Boutique are preferred, this Lubbock facility is outstanding, in a class by itself. Upon entry into The Optical Store & Boutique, one is impressed with the pleasing but striking decor (such as the art deco in the Designer Room carried out in mirrors, pictures and fixtures), a customer consideration that exemplifies the firm's uniqueness. One may first discover the Designer Collection where an area is devoted entirely to designer frames by Ralph Lauren, Givenchy, Diane Von Furstenberg, Oscar de la Renta and other top designers. Then there is the Children's Corner in another segment of the complex. And who could not help but be most intrigued by the Boutique where antique decor dominates and where the unusual and expensive lines are displayed. Some glasses are set with diamonds, some with 18k gold settings, some with real cultured pearls. Custom design with special precious stones, etc., is a specialty. Lines are out-of-the-ordinary, with some exclusive in Lubbock to the Boutique, such as the Martin Creations from West Germany. "See what we mean when we say that 'Our Boutique is Unique,' providing a product and service seldom experienced anywhere?"

AMONG UNITS AVAILABLE AT NATIONAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER

National Fire Extinguisher Firm Locally Owned, Operated

Take a good staff, a good product and service, and a genuine desire to serve best, and there you have a firm worth turning to... in this instance the National Fire Extinguisher Co., affording 24-hour service.

National Fire Extinguisher Co., Inc. at 3407 Ave. A, phone 765-6532, can fill all your fire extinguisher needs.

A master warehouse and distributor of quality portable fire extinguishers, the firm is owned and actively managed by the husband-wife team of Furd and Betty Taylor, assisted by an experienced, well-trained and customer oriented staff.

'Folks You Know'
In operation since back in 1963, the firm has only recently come under ownership of the Taylors. Furd Taylor is a Texas Tech graduate of '59 and is certified as a safety professional (earned by examination) by the Insurance Board of Texas. Mrs. Taylor, the former Betty Meyers, is a lifelong resident of Lubbock.

and is a graduate of Cooper High School. Jerry Frasier is shop manager, with Eddie Cox in shop and service, and Ron Childers and Joe Threatt are in sales and service. All are licensed and experienced service men.

Two lines dominate the stock of the firm... the General fire extinguishers (since 1903) and the Badger-Powhatan lines, both for home and business.

Last a Lifetime
All extinguishers sold by National Fire Extinguisher are best quality, all fully rechargeable, and being all-metal products, they last a lifetime.

Sales and service, retail and wholesale, are provided.

A really good stock of fire extinguishers is kept in stock; the shop is fully equipped; and the firm does all its own work, never sending extinguishers elsewhere for repairs.

"See why we say that National Fire Extinguisher can fill all your fire extinguisher needs!"

Whether selection is from a General (think of fire before it starts) unit, or one from Badger-Powhatan (the protection people), assurance of a quality, long-lasting unit is the picture.

General is the only manufacturer in North America with a complete line of portable fire extinguishers, and has long been recognized as a leader, the knowledgeable management at the National Fire Extinguisher firm emphasizes. General manufactures all its vital component parts—valves, shells, hose assemblies, powder and many other parts. This integration assures the buyer of a quality product manufactured under strict control.

For the best in portable fire protection equipment, depend upon the home-owned National Fire Extinguisher Co., Inc., 3407 Ave. A, phone 765-6532, in Lubbock.

Target Engines At Special Lowered Prices Among Don Crow Plus-Factors

Need an engine? Then, by all means, turn to Don Crow Chevrolet, Loop 289 at Slide Road in Lubbock!

Imagine... a 350 Target engine for only $985! (Regular price $1,200).

And this special low, low price, good until Oct. 15 or while supply lasts, includes intake gasket set and labor, for Chevrolet passenger cars and light duty pickups! Cost for heavy duty trucks is a still modest $1,035!

From the service manager to the service advisors and technicians at Don Crow Chevrolet, Inc., all take pride in the ultimate in customer service at a price that can be lived with.

Other Specials Listed
Jess Nichols, with 23 years of service in Lubbock, tells of other limited-time specials featured now at Don Crow Chevrolet:

Change oil, filter and lube is just $9.95, including up to five quarts of Quaker State HD30w oil, AC filter and grease!

Brake Special, complete, is $79.95 and includes replacing front pads, repacking front wheel bearings, replacing rear shoes, turning both rotors and turning both rear drums. Genuine GM parts are used.

Tune up is just $29.95 on American-made GM cars and trucks equipped with high energy ignition. (Usually this service is performed in one hour or less at Don Crow Chevrolet!)

Wheel balance and rotation on all cars and light-duty trucks, except front wheel drive and magnesium or aluminum wheels, is just $18.95.

Front-end alignment is $15.95, with the price including free inspection of the front end, and is good for all American-made GM cars and light-duty trucks.

There is transmission service at $19.95; wheel bearing special at $12.95, air conditioner service at $5.95, and other limited-time specials (many extending until Oct. 15).

All service work is guaranteed 90 days, or 4,000 miles on all GM parts and accessories.

Fully Staffed
Fourteen technicians and three service advisors are on the job. Leon Roberts and Jim Bob Dickey, master technicians, are newest additions to the highly qualified technician staff.

Both advisors and technicians mark practical experience and special training among their qualifications.

Many of the services within the Service Department at Don Crow Chevrolet can be done in an hour or less! The customer is invited to take advantage of the firm's shuttle service to South Plains Mall or to watch television in the customer lounge.

Mini Maid service is provided, picking up and delivering service customers as need is presented.

The Don Crow Chevrolet Service Department is open five days a week, from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m., with 7:30 opening of the service drive to enable one "getting to work on time" when leaving the vehicle at Don Crow Chevrolet where "we want to be No. 1 in Lubbock by making you No. 1 with us!"

FOR TARGET ENGINES, OTHER SPECIALS — Mrs. Jess (Eve) Nichols, one of the service advisors at Don Crow Chevrolet, calls attention to Target engines marked at budget-pleasing prices as outlined in the accompanying story. (Check other Don Crow specials, also.)

Tick Tock Clock Shop Marks Anniversary With Sale Prices

It is Anniversary time at the Tick Tock Clock Shop in Monterey Center, which brings to mind:

"In every field of endeavor there is a leader, and there are followers. For the fourth year in a row, it is clear that Tick Tock Clock Shop is the leader in its field."

Growth has been marked by larger selection and even greater display area.

Ceiling Fans

Ceiling fans have been added to the selective stock and have met with enthusiastic reception. Four brands and 55 models are stocked, together with all parts. Variable speed models are included in the wide presentation. Brands include Classic, Casa Blanca, Emerson and Ritz.

A really tremendous stock of clocks always is on hand at Tick Tock Clock Shop. An enlarged display area recently has been arranged, and 30 new models in grandfather clocks have been stocked.

"Volume buying is one of the factors that enables our presentation of the best clock for the money," owners of the big shop explain.

Significant Specials

Anniversary Special prices have been posted, highlighted by a Howard Miller grandfather clock, of oak construction, at $299.

Wall and mantle clocks start at $69.90.

Specials are arranged throughout the stock, and one is invited to come in to discover how really significant these savings are.

(Also, bring your ticket stubs from the Tick Tock Clock Shop booth at the Fair and match to see if you have won the beautiful clock prize.)

The Anniversary Observance presents a great opportunity for selecting and laying away for Christmas. Layaway purchases can be made at this time for Christmas, with no interest or carrying charges.

Also, there is free delivery and set-up for grandfather clocks.

Tick Tock has experienced a really impressive growth in its four years in business, and the October Anniversary Specials are a very practical method of saying "thanks," wouldn't you agree?

Possibly you have not realized the scope of services at this popular shop.

"Did you realize that invisible identification is placed on all repaired pieces and purchases at no extra charge?" This can be quite a protection factor for you as owner of a timepiece.

Meaningful Warranty

And a three-year limited warranty is

LARGEST SELECTION — Against backdrop of representative fine clocks stocked abundantly at Tick Tock Clock Shop is Mrs. Al (Shirlene) Juno displaying a Matthew Norman repeater alarm clock made in England, and daughter Lisa Seifert holding a unique brass hourglass. Special prices have been posted as an Anniversary observance.

another factor that should make the Tick Tock Clock Shop especially considered. In reality this warranty is three years plus a four month grace period. As example, a customer receives a three-year notice but does not wish to have his clock serviced at this time (clock still running). Three months later the clock ceases to function correctly, and the customer brings it in and it is serviced for a fee, then we give the customer a new three-year warranty, which in reality means a lifetime warranty that can go on and on.

There are hundreds of clocks from which to select at Tick Tock, from the most economical to the unusual and to the very finest such as a $4,250 clock handmade in Spain, a limited edition with only 80 having been made.

Prices of all are most likely much less than one would expect in clocks that are "quality throughout." Tick Tock would stock no other kind. All are of wood cases, with no simulated wood cabinets, no plastic cabinets.

Full Westminster chimes are stocked.

"We service what we sell, with in-store service provided" is further advantage at this better clock shop where particular people congregate.

Locally owned and operated by Al and Shirlene Juno, the Tick Tock Clock Shop is a family operation.

"We want to be your clock specialists."

Finish-Off Stripping Center Serving At Avenue E Address

The do-it-yourselfer no longer need endure the fumes, mess and time-consuming labor of stripping down articles for refinishing!

Finish-Off Stripping Center is introducing to the Lubbock area a unique process that quickly and thoroughly removes layers of paint, stain and varnish. The process is safe for wood, metal and other materials, and does not damage the original surface like harsh commercial products and related methods can.

Finish-Off Stripping Center is new to Lubbock, established by long-time Lubbock businessman L.K. Lankford. Operating businesses here for about 20 years, Lankford is still associated with House Clinic. He was the founding owner of Arcadia Stone Manufacturing. Long involved in the home improvement field, Lankford has secured for Lubbock and Finish-Off Stripping Center, the exclusive rights to the Houck's process for professional stripping. The nearest comparable facility specializing in this unique process is located in Dallas.

Explains Need

Lankford commented that he "felt there was a definite need in this area, since many people enjoy refinishing but don't like the messy part." Now at a reasonable cost, Finish-Off Stripping Center can accomplish the hard work, leaving the do-it-yourselfer the fun part.

Even the largest furniture pieces can be completely stripped without having to be dismantled. Glued joints, formica insets or thin wood veneers are not damaged. The process is safe for even marble or stained glass.

Advantages Cited

Antique dealers and other individuals involved with restoration of treasured heirlooms have already discovered the advantages of the service offered by Finish-Off Stripping Center. Pieces with ornately carved designs, curved spindles or other hard-to-reach places can be the at-home refinisher's nightmare. At Finish-Off Stripping Center, the most unreachable cracks and crevices are cleared of the old finish or stain. The most delicate of details is safely preserved, and valuable antiques protected from stripping hazards.

Grease, grime and rust are dissolved away, making the process useful for cleaning tools and equipment. A rust preventative coating is applied to protect any metal surface until the item can be refinished. Among articles already processed by the recently opened business have been antique car parts for restoring and a Mercedes trunk lid in need of repainting. Other interesting collector's items and decorative pieces received at the Center have included old milk cans, kitchen scales and a hand drill press, in addition to an assortment of chairs, tables, cabinet and antique wardrobes.

'Know-How' Assured

Owner-operator Lankford and his wife, Barbara, who assists in the business, attended sessions last May in Atlanta, Georgia, to receive their specialized training in the exclusive stripping process. Since then, they have been setting up equipment and assembling materials for the Finish-Off Stripping Center. A representative from the company's home office in Stamford, New York, joined them initially when they began operating on Aug. 9 to oversee the beginning and to train shop foreman David Corder.

Lankford and his staff plan to expand their services to offer replacement hardware and refinishing supplies in the future.

"What have you got that you've been 'intending' to refinish but have put off because of the dreaded mess and hassle of stripping?" Call customer relations director Kenan Curry at 747-3938 or bring your articles to be stripped by Finish-Off Stripping Center at 1922 Avenue E. Achieve completely professional results for your refinishing work by using the quick, thorough and safe process offered exclusively in Lubbock by Finish-Off Stripping Center.

Maximum Convenience
 "You'll be insulating your home, yourself, with the insulation the professionals use: Premium Brand Rockwool. The blowing machine and trailer comes with everything you need to re-insulate your home quickly, easily, safely. The Premium Brand insulation is noncombustible, non-irritating, noncorrosive, and is the finest, most efficient mineral fiber insulation one can buy."
 Not only can one conserve energy, saving on utility bills, too, but there are tax savings possible. Let the folks at Maxey Home Improvement Center go into detail on all this, showing how the tax credit program can help in your own situation.
 With the new blowing insulation products and facilities of Maxey Home Improvement Center, six special advantages might be cited:
 (1) Installation is easy, with the insulation being blown about six to eight feet from the end of the hose there's no need to crawl into tight places such as along the eaves.
 (2) There's no cutting or fitting the insulation around wiring, framing members and other obstructions.

 (3) It will take you only about half the time and much less effort to use blowing insulation.
 (4) You will end up with a uniform, complete insulation coverage, even over the tops of the joists and other wood surfaces.
 (5) There's no hauling bulky bags of insulation into tight attic access openings, the only thing that goes into the attic is you and the end of the hose.

 (6) Finally, there's no big cleanup of used bags and excess insulation in your home. Blowing insulation is clean and neat.
 Remember... Do it yourself and save, thanks to Maxey Home Improvement Center.

HOME INSULATION CONVENIENCE — Ben Romo of Maxey Home Improvement Center announces a do-it-yourself insulation package from that firm enabling added savings and convenience.

Pope Sees Faithful In Ireland

came by helicopter from nearby Galway to concelebrate the Mass with 200 cardinals, bishops and priests.

It was at Knock 100 years ago that a group of Irish peasants claimed to have seen a vision of the Virgin, St. John the Evangelist and St. Joseph against the limestone gable of the local church.

Appeals From Knees
After an emotional appeal "on my knees" Saturday night at Drogheda for peace in the north, the pope hammered further at the theme in the homily at the Knock shrine.

Appealing to the Virgin Mary, he said: "Teach us to distinguish clearly what proceeds from love for our country from what bears the mark of destruction and the brand of Cain. Teach us that evil means can never lead to a good end, that all human life is sacred, that murder is murder no matter what the motive or end."

On Saturday evening in Drogheda, 30 miles from the border with Ulster and the closest he will get to the British province, the pope made his fervent appeal for peace to an audience of some 250,000, most of whom had traveled to the Irish Republic from Northern Ireland.

Possible Turning Point
The pontiff referred again to Northern Ireland in remarks Saturday night at separate meetings with Irish government and opposition leaders, with Dublin's diplomatic corps and with Protestant leaders.

Some leading non-Catholic clergymen hailed the pope's impassioned statements as a possible turning point in the struggle to end the violence in Northern Ireland, where guerrillas of the mostly Catholic Irish Republican Army are fighting to reunite the Protestant-dominated province with the overwhelmingly Catholic Irish Republic.

But the papal visit has split the Protestant hierarchy — hard-liner Rev. Ian Paisley declared the pontiff's words were actually encouraging terrorism. And the guerrillas themselves appeared undeterred.

The "war of liberation... will continue," a spokesman for Sinn Fein, political front for the IRA's militant Provisional wing said Sunday in the Northern Irish capital of Belfast.

IRA Discounts Reports
IRA sources in Belfast and Dublin discounted reports early Sunday that an unidentified "senior member" of the Provisionals said guerrilla leaders were considering a possible truce. "As far as we're concerned, the struggle goes on until we achieve our objective," one guerrilla informant said.

The pope was unable to restrain his tears at one point during the open-air youth Mass at Galway's race track Sunday, when two young victims of the Northern Ireland violence joined the Offertory procession — Damien Irwin, 16, who lost a leg in a Belfast bomb blast in 1976, and Richard Moore, 19, blinded by a rubber riot bullet in Londonderry eight years ago.

Pope Weeps
The pontiff greeted young Irwin as he approached the altar but started weeping as Moore, carrying a white cane, was led up by his girlfriend to receive a papal embrace.

The pontiff began the grueling day, his second in Ireland, with a touching early-morning meeting with 300 mentally and physically handicapped children at a Dominican convent in the Dublin suburb of Cabra.

U.S. Relinquishes Hold In Panama Canal Zone people entering a portion of their territory that has been under foreign jurisdiction for seven long decades."

The festivities also included a giant beer bash for hundreds of Americans on a grassy area at the tip of the zone on the Pacific Ocean side.

The government urged all of the country's 1.8 million citizens to participate in a symbolic entrance march into the zone beginning Monday at 8:30 a.m. The march was to end up at Albrook Air Field, where an estimated 250,000 persons, including Vice President Walter Mondale, were expected to attend a rally beneath giant portraits of Panamanian leaders and President Carter.

Ten Latin American heads of state who supported Panama's drive to gain control of the zone, were expected to attend.

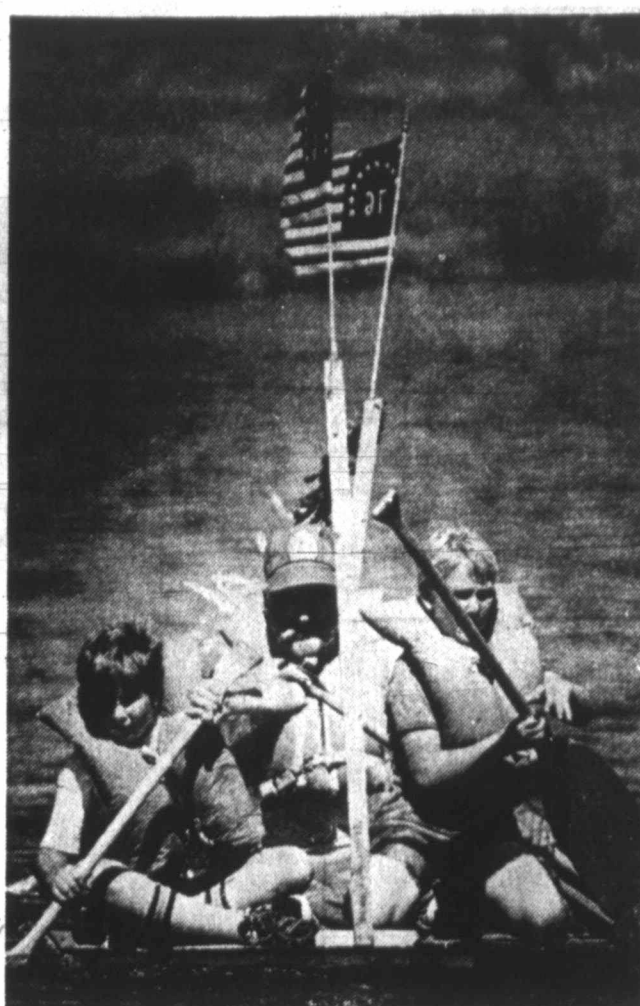

The United States will retain five military bases and run the canal itself until the year 2000, when all Americans are to be withdrawn.

DELIVERANCE — The scene at the Great Yellowhouse Canyon Raft Race Sunday wasn't quite as dramatic as "Deliverance," but then, that movie wasn't nearly as funny as the race, either. The start of the big race was nothing if not hectic as attested to in the left panel.

el, but the contestants quickly strung out over the 1 1/2 mile course. It wasn't all smooth sailing, either, as (center panel) this one rather unlucky rafter found out the hard way, but he climbed back aboard and finished with a smile. Others, however, managed quite nically, like this father-son combination, shown in the right panel in their own flagship. The race, sponsored by KSEL, the city and Texas Tech, was considered a success by spectators and participants alike (Staff photos by Milton Adams)

Great Canyon Lakes Run Hailed Success

screaming, cheering people on it. Even more incredibly, all 26 people who began the race on the precariously balanced raft managed to stay on all the way to the finish — which is certainly more than some persons on rafts not nearly so crowded can say.

The sponsors required Coast Guard life jackets on all participants, though, so even those who fell overboard in their enthusiasm suffered nothing more than a temporary case of dampness. And in the blazing sun, no one stayed wet too long.

Whatever the reasons the competitors conjured up in explanation of their performances, little could be blamed on the course. The waterway is, of course, as flat and level as the South Plains. There were no rapids, no white water, not even a ripple. In fact, bath-tubs are seldom as calm and glassy smooth as were the lakes Sunday, with the only trouble coming in the form of a slight easterly wind that sprang up out of nowhere and forced the rafters to move into its not-so-awesome 5 mph force.

As the event came to a close, many of the participants and spectators gathered at the Buddy Holly Recreation Area, which served as the halfway point and the hub of activity, and began to talk of next year's still unplanned encore race. All of those present Sunday felt the race was an unqualified success as an outdoor diversion and felt it would be even bigger next year. Spokesmen for the sponsors agreed that, while a similar event is still in the mill, the second annual event is a very real possibility.

Trophies were awarded the winners of the various classes, but all those present shared in one final summer sun-burn and the event's pleasure almost equally.

Yeah, the "Great Yellowhouse Canyon Raft Race" was almost as good as the girl-watching.

Seminar Ponders Rapist's Mind could be a woman or a used car." One rapist in the film had sexually assaulted both women and men. Either way, the men described their victims in one word, "Objects."

trustng people," she said. Some feel silly or paranoid about locking their doors in the daytime when leaving for only a moment to take out the trash. But it only takes a moment for someone to open that door.

The woman was composed during her testimony to the audience. But a woman never forgets being raped.

President, Advisors Study Cuba Policy

The State Department, meanwhile, said Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin met with Secretary of State Cyrus Vance Sunday afternoon but would not divulge what they discussed. They have discussed the Soviet troops in a series of previous meetings.

The indications are the troops have been there in about the same numbers since the mid-1960s," Mondale said Saturday night in Hanover, N.H., adding the Carter administration was the first to bring the issue to light.

Of the referrals reported to the Lubbock Rape Crisis Center since its opening in 1975, victims have ranged in age from 2 to 83. "They weren't asking for it," Miss Heifer said.

Congress Gets Raise, Bureaucrats Payless

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of Congress and other high-ranking officials of the government received a 12.9 percent salary increase at midnight Sunday but thousands of other federal workers, including the military, may go payless.

But Congress can't touch the 12.9 percent pay increase that went into effect for federal judges. Under the Constitution, a judge's salary cannot be cut during his term.

President Carter, secluding himself at Camp David Sunday, prepared to address the nation Monday night on the apparent restrained approach the United States is taking toward the presence of a Soviet combat brigade in Cuba.

Still Carries Scars
A Lubbock woman gave her personal account to the audience, which sat motionless during her remarks. She still carries scars on her neck from the attack of more than two years ago.

Employees of the departments of Health, Education and Welfare, Housing and Urban Development, Labor and Defense plus many smaller agencies may have to wait for their government paychecks.

German Seeks More Defense Spending

BOHN, West Germany (AP) — Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher called Sunday for an increase in West Germany's defense budget to bring it closer to the 3 percent real growth target sought by the Carter administration.

Genscher said in a radio interview there can be no doubt of West Germany's desire for a strong NATO alliance, even though the government of Chancellor Helmut Schmidt plans only a 1.5 percent real growth in next year's defense budget.

THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — President Carter, secluding himself at Camp David Sunday, prepared to address the nation Monday night on the apparent restrained approach the United States is taking toward the presence of a Soviet combat brigade in Cuba.

Outwardly, she tried to remain calm. "You have the wrong house," she answered.

But senators and congressmen, now making $57,500 a year, will automatically begin getting $64,900 a year, an increase of $7,400.

U.S. officials fear that if the Germans refuse to hike their spending, other European members of the alliance will be reluctant to go along with the 3 percent target.

But the Bonn government reportedly is concerned that an overall 3 percent increase will spur inflation as the 1980 national parliamentary elections approach.

Vice President Walter Mondale indicated Carter plans to emphasize "balance and restraint" in his speech, and Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., said the best way to handle the issue is not to allow either side to be backed into a corner.

But the man slammed the door, turned out the lights and announced to his victim, "No, I'm in the right house."

Although the Senate plans to meet all week, the House has scheduled only "no business" sessions Tuesday and Friday. Unless Speaker Thomas O'Neill calls his charges into regular session, the dispute may not be resolved until after Oct. 9.

Despite this, all alliance partners, and I do not exclude the Federal Republic of Germany, should once again determine whether it is not possible by reasonable means at least to come closer to the common goal of 3 percent," Genscher said.

At the urging of President Carter, NATO heads of government agreed in 1977 to increase their national defense budgets by 3 percent next year to offset military gains by the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact.

Carter, in seeking American acceptance of the new canal treaties, said they would remove a major stumbling block to better relations with Latin American nations.

She yelled, reasoned, pleaded and begged. To no avail. It wasn't until she glanced at a mirror that she realized her nose was bleeding from his slaps. He used her own pair of sewing scissors to cut her neck and back. After the assault, he asked for a pair of pantyhose.

The continuing resolution was blocked by sharp disagreements between the House and Senate over pay increases for the top-level officials and language that governs the use of federal funds for abortions.

At the urging of President Carter, NATO heads of government agreed in 1977 to increase their national defense budgets by 3 percent next year to offset military gains by the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact.

U.S. officials fear that if the Germans refuse to hike their spending, other European members of the alliance will be reluctant to go along with the 3 percent target.

The 1903 treaties, negotiated and signed by a Frenchman, Philippe Bunau-Varilla just 15 days after Panama broke from Colombia, were unpopular in this nation from the outset.

There was no "I'm sorry I opened your purse," he told her.

The House insisted on a 5.5 percent increase for members of Congress and others in the highest echelons. The Senate wanted a freeze on pay for members of Congress.

U.S. officials fear that if the Germans refuse to hike their spending, other European members of the alliance will be reluctant to go along with the 3 percent target.

But the Bonn government reportedly is concerned that an overall 3 percent increase will spur inflation as the 1980 national parliamentary elections approach.

President Johnson committed the United States to negotiating an entirely new pact in December 1964 after rioting in January killed 27 persons, including three Americans.

Instead he tied her hands and legs, then rummaged her purse for money. There was none. "I'm sorry I opened your purse," he told her.

The House, similarly, insisted on highly restrictive language forbidding the use of federal funds for abortions unless the mother's life is endangered if the fetus is carried to term. The Senate wanted somewhat more liberal language in current law.

U.S. officials fear that if the Germans refuse to hike their spending, other European members of the alliance will be reluctant to go along with the 3 percent target.

But the Bonn government reportedly is concerned that an overall 3 percent increase will spur inflation as the 1980 national parliamentary elections approach.

The treaties, signed in Washington Sept. 7, 1977, squeaked by the Senate with a one-vote margin in March 1978, after the addition of an amendment that gave the United States the right forever to intervene militarily to keep the canal open.

That would have been impossible, given the mix of Republicans and Democrats, hard-liners and doves," he said.

Because Congress failed to agree, pay increases for the federal government proposed by President Carter automatically took effect at midnight Sunday. That means 7 percent pay hikes for all federal employees except members of Congress and the government's top earners.

U.S. officials fear that if the Germans refuse to hike their spending, other European members of the alliance will be reluctant to go along with the 3 percent target.

But the Bonn government reportedly is concerned that an overall 3 percent increase will spur inflation as the 1980 national parliamentary elections approach.

The unamended version was approved in a national referendum in Panama by a 2-1 margin and Panama has since said it would reject any changes not in keeping with the spirit of the pacts as they were signed in Washington.

Another told newspaper, "and a real desire to be helpful, a real feeling by everyone that this is an issue we have to look at together, a national issue which calls for a national response, and a very serious effort to give the president our best judgment."

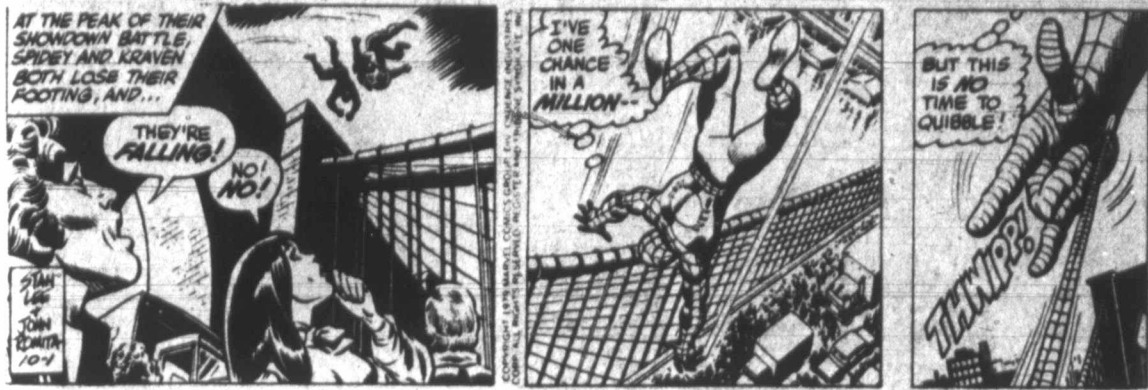

They get 12.9 percent, a hike that includes deferred pay from last year. Con-

Clements Keeps Campaign Promise To Cut State Work Force

By BILL KIDD
A-J Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Reducing the size of state government has been promised for years and years, so when Bill Clements, during his gubernatorial campaign, promised he'd reduce the state work force, it came as no surprise.

Oh, there was some surprise in the amount of reduction Clements promised — 25,000 jobs to be eliminated — but generally observers felt the pledge was fairly standard political rhetoric, or if it was wholly sincere, that it wouldn't be possible to carry it out.

State employees, on the whole, took it more seriously than other folks — and it appears they were right.

Bill Clements really is reducing the size of state government. That effort is coming under the "Texas State Government Effectiveness Program," which is being spearheaded by Clements' aid Paul Wrotenbery, director of the Governor's office of Budget and Planning.

And, Wrotenbery stresses, it's not just an effort to cut the number of positions. The program also includes promoting greater efficiency, performance review, management training, identifying and rewarding the "better performer," and "management by objective," Wrotenbery says.

That last topic was the subject of a workshop sponsored by Wrotenbery's division for the administrators of the 12 largest agencies during the past week.

How well the new program works in streamlining state government and improving its operations won't be known for some time — but the results of the trimming now in progress already are visible.

In the general appropriations bill, the 1979 legislature called for a goal of reducing the number of state workers by 10 per cent over the biennium.

Wrotenbery says that goal is well in line with Clements' plans, which will require a reduction of some 15 per cent in the estimated 160,000-member work force over his four-year term.

Thus far, Wrotenbery says, agencies have been moving satisfactorily in their attempts to meet those reductions, but he agrees that getting the last five per cent may be harder than getting the first 10 per cent.

"It is very likely," he says, "that, with rare exceptions, they can do it, even if their program is growing...but they're going to have to tighten up pretty good."

Wrotenbery stresses, too, that the reductions won't be required arbitrarily, or imposed in such a way as to impair the functioning of an agency.

"The governor recognizes it cannot be an across-the-board reduction program. In some places it may not be appropriate to reduce," he explains.

"The greatest challenge is in carefully evaluating...the situation."

Thus far, Wrotenbery's figures show some 3,000 positions have been cut for the year, with 8,000 due to be eliminated in all for this first year.

That 8,000, he adds, includes higher education, which will be more or less conducting its own reduction program, under a panel of educators headed by West Texas State University President Max Sherman, former state senator from Amarillo. State universities will work out their program in line with the governor's objectives, defining specific methods and implementing reductions themselves, "but implement they will," Wrotenbery says.

Thus far, concentration on reduction has been on the 12 largest agencies, and those agencies have been able to achieve cutbacks through attrition — with retirements and voluntary terminations preventing, thus far, any wholesale firings.

There have been some instances where involuntary terminations have been necessary, such as in the case of the Texas Industrial Commission, where funding cutbacks resulted in a reduction of over 20 per cent.

But the larger agencies are moving towards their reductions with hopes of avoiding as many firings as possible — and it appears that they'll be able to get through the first phase with fewer firings than had been feared.

Agencies also are restructuring their operations as they reduce — and some, like the Department of Human Resources, are shifting employees internally to allow them to continue employment as the number of positions are reduced.

Agency administrators also say they'll have to wait and see how well they can operate with their reduced and restructured staffs.

That, ultimately, will show the wisdom, or lack thereof, in Clements' push to cut back the size of state government, and that won't be known for a long while.

But it is clear that Clements already is on the way to achieving at least part of his goal — and is confident that he will achieve the rest.

Steam Engine To Remain Displayed In Carlsbad

By MARILYN HOLMES
A-J Correspondent

CARLSBAD, N.M. — Now that the smoke has cleared it turns out that no one seriously intends to get rid of the historic old Number One steam train engine, the first to haul potash out of this lucrative mining basin.

But when a Carlsbad city councilman suggested at a recent meeting that the iron engine be donated to an Oregon museum, everyone got steamed.

The engine was built in the early 1900's and has been on display at Lake Carlsbad for almost 20 years.

If a sister engine were originally handcrafted to replace the famous 20-mile team that hauled borax in Death Valley. The two engines are the only ones of their type in the world.

When an Oregon Museum recently requested the donation of old Number One, the rusty iron horse was suddenly reverted into the spot light.

The Carlsbad Jaycees were angry about the idea.

Twenty years ago this civic group arranged to have the special track built and a city bulldozer used to transfer the heavy iron monster 25 miles from its old mining site to its present location in Carlsbad.

Current Carlsbad mayor pro-tem Johnny Volpato was a member of the Jaycee group that undertook what he said was a "monumental" project.

"We had all kinds of problems, like figuring out how to elevate it to its present position," Volpato said. "I seem to remember that some kid in the second or third grade solved that one."

Potash industry employees, both retired and active, were mad.

To them, the train engine represents a dream of prosperity come true, even though the iron horse arrived during the Depression years when potash was being hand-shoveled, trucked into town and sold as crude, unrefined ore. The system was slow and inefficient.

The only potash mine in production at the time, U.S. Potash Company, was eventually bought out by U.S. Borax, the company that owned the train engines used at Death Valley.

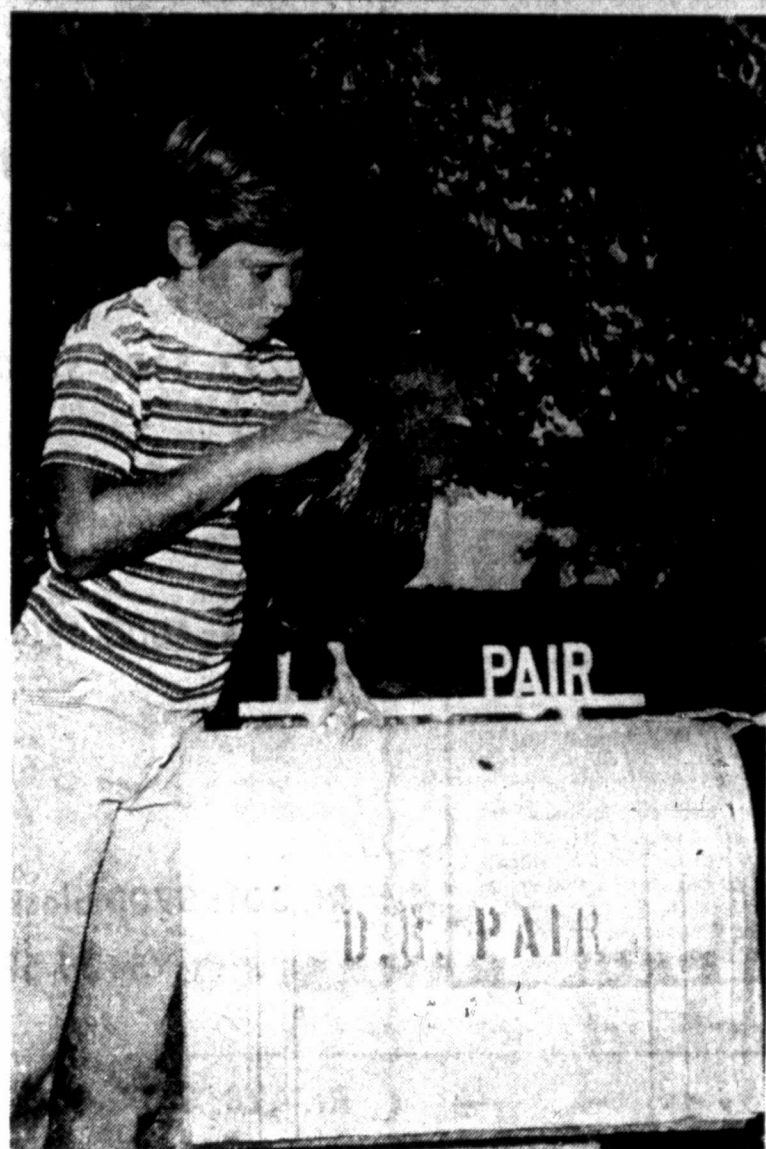

The engines, Number One and Number Two, were transferred to the Carlsbad basin in the early 1920's along with cars, track, ties and their original crews. (The Number Two engine is apparently now on display at Death Valley.)

While he didn't belong to the original Death Valley crew, one of the train conductors for old Number One was R.M. Black, now retired and still living at Carlsbad.

"I don't believe there's ever been a piece of equipment in the Pecos Valley that meant so much to the economy of this area," he said. "At that time, the economy was real, real bad."

Legal Aid Office Helps Woman During Crisis

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles dealing with the United Way of Lubbock. The stories reflect actual case histories here.)

A young woman with three children was beaten by her husband on Saturday night. Monday morning she goes to the office of the Legal Aid Society of Lubbock, Inc., she wants to file for divorce. What can she do?

This case, according to attorney Thomas Giovannitti, director of Legal Aid, is one which might cross his desk on any typical day.

The Legal Aid Society of Lubbock, Inc., is a United Way agency and will receive $37,127 from the United Way's 1980 goal of $1,802,752.

The story of the young woman continues. The police were called that Saturday night, but could do nothing in the family argument. She feels she has no recourse but to divorce her husband of 12 years.

During the course of an interview at the Legal Aid office, it comes to light that her husband has beaten her frequently over the past years of their marriage.

Also, she says he works hard but he only gives her a little money for groceries. If the children need extra medical care or other necessities, he doesn't help. Yet, he beats his wife if the children are not neat, clean and in good health.

In this case Giovannitti said, if the woman meets the guidelines of indigency set up by the federal government and other requirements which are measured through the interview at the office, the agency will handle the divorce, perhaps, by first obtaining a restraining order barring the husband to see his wife and children or visit their home.

The woman is not charged for the services of Legal Aid, but clients must pay their own court costs.

Giovannitti said that the agency deals in family law and will not handle cases involving criminal charges or traffic violations.

He said that many times persons will come to his office not knowing whether they need a lawyer with the problems they are having. At this time, he may only have to refer the person to another agency or write a letter for them.

"We try to provide legal assistance for people who normally do not have access to legal systems," Giovannitti explained.

Also, he said, many times his dealings show persons that the legal section of society is not just to put people in jail and that it does many other things for them.

Besides Giovannitti, third-year law students from Texas Tech University assist in cases, with the clients permission, for credit in school.

He reviews all applications for aid and determines their merit. Giovannitti said that many of the cases involve working persons but the size of the family and debts also are figured into its merits.

In handling primarily family law cases, Giovannitti said that many deal in custody during a divorce. For example, ne said, a woman will come in and say her husband has taken their child and will not let her see the child. He says she can do nothing and that, if she tries to get a divorce, he will make sure she never see the child again. Also, he said, the husband has friends who will testify that she is not a good mother, has been promiscuous and is on dope.

United Way of Lubbock

It has been two weeks since she has seen her child. She is not living with her parents because they think she should solve her own problems and go back to her husband. They do not realize that he has been mentally harassing her for months.

In this second case, he said, the threats are probably not true and, if the woman is sure the man will stay in town, they will proceed with a custody suit for the children.

Giovannitti said, at times, the children are used by a parent who really does not want custody but rather wants to hurt the partner.

Currently, he said, Legal Aid serves more than 290 clients in one capacity or another and each case is totally unique in its problems and solutions.

The Legal Aid Society of Lubbock is among 34 United Way agencies.

17-Mile Walk Highlights Loving Demonstration

A-J Correspondent

LOVING, N.M. — Messages for all races to unite in anti-nuclear and other issues were repeated by speakers during a special ceremony held Sunday afternoon at the Pecos River.

The ceremony was part of a 17-mile walk by demonstrators that began at Loving and proceeded to the Waste Isolation Pilot Project Site, where the Department of Energy proposes to bury nuclear wastes for study in desert salt beds near Carlsbad.

Pima Indian leader Fred Walking Badger of Arizona urged several hundred rally participants to "improvise and expand" on the present system of government.

"The human spirit is the government," he said.

He announced that at the end of sev-

Blamed On Mail

BUCHANAN, N.Y. (AP) — It's not often in these days of Three Mile Island that nobody shows up at a hearing held by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. But it happened here — twice in one week.

The NRC says blame it on the postman.

NRC spokesman Karl Abraham said the agency mailed notices six days in advance of the hearings last Tuesday and Wednesday, but none was delivered on time.

A check by The Associated Press confirmed that no newspaper or radio station in the area around the controversial Indian Point nuclear reactors 35 miles north of New York City was aware of the hearings on emergency procedures at the power plant.

en generations there would be no more war.

"In the middle there will come a circle, a sacred circle," he predicted. The red spirit of our people will bring a balance to the world.

He told protesters that even though different causes were represented among them that they must unite by "learning to think good of somebody."

"We must remember to think good of everyone," he said. "If we follow these small teachings, we will prevail at all levels."

He said that everyone, according to their personal religious beliefs, must "sacrifice to their creator to obtain spiritual strength."

He also warned that the Indian and Chicano people were "tired" because of past oppressions.

"Pray so that there will not be bloodshed," the Indian leader urged.

He said that Anglo children now were suffering because of "spiritual karma" caused by past injustices committed by the white race against Indian, Chicano and oriental races.

Salomon Leyja, representing a Phoenix, Ariz.-based movement sounding to unionize farmworkers, also spoke at the riverside ceremony.

"We are going to hit the ranchers from both sides," he said.

Other Chicano, Indian and local anti-nuke leaders also spoke out at the ceremony, one of the final events of the weekend rally.

"Losing Hair? Try This At No Risk"

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss, and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women that is not only stopping hair loss, but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in the family," it is certainly not proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. If you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair, now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc. will supply you with treatment for 32 days—at their risk—if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail.

REBEL GENERAL — Gen. Luciano B. Menendez, left, explains to newsmen Saturday why he demanded the resignation of Argentine army Commander-in-Chief Roberto Viola. Menendez failed to receive support from other military units and he was relieved of command of the Argentine army's Third Corps by Gen. Viola. (AP Laserphoto)

Rebel General Bows To Authority

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — A hard-line general who had called for the resignation of Argentina's army commander ended a 34-hour rebellion and agreed on Sunday to bow to the authority of his more moderate superiors, the army said.

An army headquarters communique said Gen. Luciano B. Menendez, who was fired but had refused to accept dismissal, agreed to "abandon his attitude" and his post during a morning meeting here with Army commander-in-chief Roberto Viola, the man whose ouster he had sought.

Menendez, who set off an army crisis by accusing Viola of being soft on subversion and demanding his resignation, returned to Third Corps headquarters in Cordoba, the country's third largest city 470 miles northwest of the capital.

He will turn over his command to Gen. Jose Vaquero, "normalizing the troop situation in the area," the army said.

The brief communique gave no hint of what fate awaits Menendez, but army sources speculated that he could be immediately retired or arrested and court-martialed.

An estimated 4,000 paratroopers, armed with mortars and light artillery, surrounded Menendez' makeshift headquarters early Sunday in Jesus Maria, a mountain town about 20 miles north of Cordoba. The rebel and a handful of supporters moved there early Saturday after Viola ordered his dismissal.

Menendez' position became increasingly difficult as dozens of army units loyal to Viola began moving toward Jesus Maria from neighboring cities Saturday afternoon.

The rebel general met Saturday night with generals representing Viola and, according to army sources, offered to meet with the commander in Buenos Aires. Viola accepted the offer and Menendez flew to the capital early Sunday.

The crisis erupted before dawn on Saturday when Menendez called a news conference in Cordoba to demand Viola's resignation, charging he had not "kept the promise to completely eradicate subversion, making it impossible for Marxism to make a comeback in the country in the future."

Menendez, one of the most outspoken members of a hardline faction within the army, had been increasingly critical of efforts, headed by President Jorge R. Videla and Viola to end the armed forces' lingering campaign against subversives.

Argentina's military government has waged a tough battle against leftist subversion since ousting the elected, violence-ridden government of President Isabel Peron in March 1976.

Viola reacted to Menendez' demand by ordering his immediate dismissal as third corps commander and dismissing Menendez' second in command, Gen. Jorge Maradona.

Menendez refused to accept the order and moved to Jesus Maria. Both generals began a headcount of units loyal to them. Commanders throughout the country began announcing support for Viola. Army spokesmen said Menendez had the support of no more than 1,500 troops.

The Menendez-Viola rupture was the most serious break in army unity since the armed forces took over the government. It came only 24 hours after Viola had proclaimed in a speech in the city of Santa Fe that "there are no hardliners or softliners in the army."

Gen. Viola has assured the country that terrorism has been "militarily defeated," although he admitted that isolated incidents could and would still occur.

U.S. To Continue Using Canal

BALBOA, Canal Zone (AP) — Here is a question-answer look at what happens Monday to the Canal Zone, the Panama Canal and the Americans and their families who live and work here:

Q — What happens to the Canal Zone?

A — The zone, a 646-square mile area that has been in U.S. hands since 1903, will be handed over to Panama. The United States will continue to use the 109-square miles of military sites, including five bases exclusively under U.S. control. The Canal Zone government ceases to exist and Americans become subject to Panamanian laws. Americans continue to direct the canal transit operation until the year 2000.

Q — Why is the United States, which spent $375 million to build the canal, relinquishing it to Panama?

A — President Carter, who worked hard to promote the controversial Panama Canal treaties he signed last year, said "they permit a new relationship with Panama" and "remove a major obstacle in relations with the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean and will substantially improve our standing with other nations."

Panamanians have long viewed the zone, which cuts Panama in half, as a colonial enclave. Its elimination has been a national goal for years.

Negotiations on the Panama Canal treaties began after anti-American rioting in the zone in 1964, in which three U.S. soldiers and 24 Panamanians were killed.

South African Integration Trend Seen

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Officials at Jan Smuts International Airport said Sunday bathrooms at the nation's largest airport have been desegregated.

Officials said signs — possibly the most infamous in South Africa — designating separate toilet facilities for "whites" and "non whites" were painted out and there have been no complaints.

Domestic airports at Kimberley, Cape Town and Durban also integrated their bathroom facilities and the new airport in George was built without any arrangement for separate facilities.

Q — Can Panamanians run the canal?

A — Not now. But they don't have to until the year 2000. Under the treaties the United States will continue to operate the canal under a new government agency, the Panama Canal Commission, headed by a board of five Americans and four Panamanians.

Panamanians take over canal operations completely in the year 2000, when all U.S. troops must be withdrawn from military sites.

Q — How do Americans in the zone feel about the Panamanian takeover?

A — Some are bitterly opposed to the treaties and most are unhappy about them. But many of the 3,500 American Panama Canal Co. employees say they will remain here and see how things go under Panamanian authority. They will be able to shop at U.S. military post exchanges in the zone area for five years and use military mails.

They also will have the right to import one car a year duty free. Panamanian employees of the canal receive no such benefits.

Q — What happens when an American citizen gets in trouble with police?

A — For the next 30 months Americans arrested in the Canal Zone area will answer to Canal Zone policemen, who will make joint patrols with members of Panama's National Guard. A U.S. court will try criminal cases involving Americans and handle residual zone civil cases. After 30 months, zone police and the court will be dissolved and Americans will then have to answer to Panamanian guardsmen. All American employees of the Canal Commission will be issued official U.S. passports, the kind carried by diplomats.

Q — How will Panama resolve the great disparity between wage scales in the republic and the American pay scales used in the zone?

A — U.S. workers will maintain their present salaries, as will Panamanians employed by the Panama Canal Commission. The U.S. minimum wage rate of $2.90 an hour has been in effect in the zone. Panama's minimum wage rate is 60 cents an hour, raised recently from 40 cents. Panamanians say they haven't completely resolved the issue for new hires in the Canal Zone area, but they expect wage rates there will continue to be higher than in the rest of Panama.

Trains Roll Amid Festivities

HONG KONG (AP) — As champagne corks popped and a Chinese dragon danced for luck, Hong Kong christened its new subway system on Sunday and sent the first trains on their maiden runs under the teeming streets of this British colony.

About 1,000 people paid $100 apiece for a charity breakfast of champagne and caviar to mark the opening of the mass transit system.

The $1.6 billion rail line has become a necessity for Hong Kong, which has grown from 500,000 people in 1945 to nearly 5 million today.

Sunday's festivities marked the opening of the first five miles of track in a system that's designed to carry about 1.8 million riders a day by the mid-1980s.

Gov. Sir Murray Maclehoose pushed a button in the cab of the first outbound train at Shek Kip Mei Station, sending it rolling through a red banner that ripped as the silver cars picked up speed. Lady Maclehoose did the pushbutton honors on the first inbound train from Kwun Tong.

The first trains were on time, though fast starts and stops and an extra jolt at the final station provided some lurching moments of togetherness for those packed aboard.

"It was a very smooth ride," Sir Murray said, diplomatically ignoring the bumps. "It's the beginning of a completely new system of transportation in Hong Kong which in time should relieve pressure on the roads."

Israeli Jews Celebrate Yom Kippur

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Yom Kippur, Judaism's holiest day, was ushered in here Sunday evening by Israeli Jews putting aside worldly matters to fast and pray for atonement of their sins.

Road traffic stopped, Ben-Gurion Airport was closed and Israeli radio and television ceased broadcasting. All restaurants and places of entertainment throughout the country were shut and even hotel dining rooms stopped serving food for the 25-hour fast period that began an hour before sundown.

Israelis flocked to synagogues for the first of five prayer services during Yom Kippur — meaning Day of Atonement in Hebrew.

Reflecting security concerns, armed volunteer guards were posted at synagogues and police were on alert to guard against any possible terrorist attacks.

A bomb evidently set by Palestinian terrorists exploded on the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv rail line Sunday morning, causing extensive damage to a maintenance engine but no injuries, police said.

As always on Yom Kippur, the army closed all roads into Israel from the occupied Gaza Strip and the West Bank of the Jordan River. The Allenby Bridge, the link between the West Bank and Jordan, was shut until Tuesday.

In religious terms, Yom Kippur is the day when God determines man's destiny for the coming year. Observant Jews spend the day in prayer and meditation, seeking forgiveness for their sins.

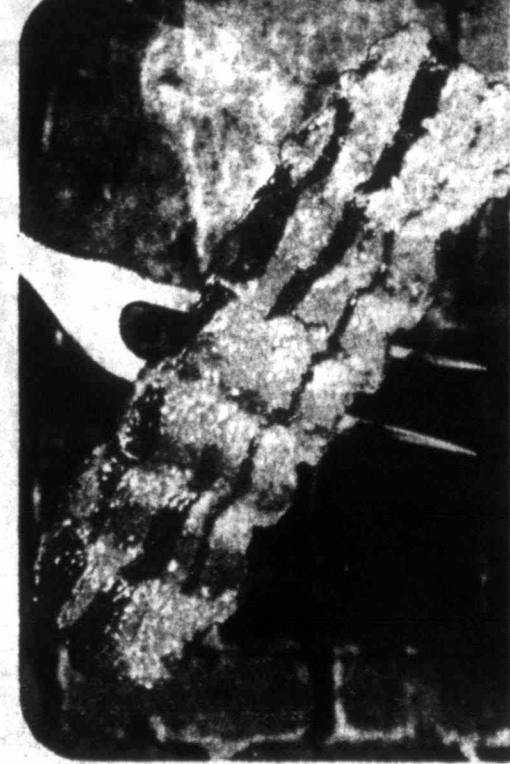

Orthodox law prohibits all work, eating, drinking, washing, and the wearing of leather shoes during the fast.

Cowboys Rekindle Old Magic, Whack Bengals

IRVING, Texas (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys finally looked like the Dallas Cowboys Sunday.

The defending National Conference champions intercepted three passes, got solid running from Tony Dorsett, excel-bly today and Aaron Mitchell handled himself well for a rookie.

Randy Hughes and Mitchell intercepted passes and returned them for a total of 104 yards to set up two Dallas touchdowns.

A third pass was intercepted by lineman Bruce Thornton to put Dallas in position for its last score.

"We had good intensity overall," said Landry.

The 10-point favored Cowboys seemed more at home on the 93-degree day than did the Bengals, who had surrendered an average of 28 points per game.

Cincinnati scored on its first possession, just like the last four Cowboy opponents have done, as Bahr drilled a 48-yard field goal.

The Bengals victimized Staubach on Dallas' next possession when tackle Wilson Whitley reached high to intercept an attempted screen pass at the Bengal 47.

Anderson completed three down passes of 21 and 14 yards to Bass to put Cincinnati on the Dallas 29.

Hughes then made the Dallas defensive play of the game, jumping in front of Isaac Curtis for an interception which he legged 68 yards before he was overhauled by Charles Alexander at the Bengals' three.

Laidlaw scored on the next play, and the Cowboys were off and running.

Staubach took the Cowboys on two long scoring drives before halftime. Calling on Dorsett, who booted 23 and 14 yards, the Cowboys rolled 69 yards in 12 plays, with Laidlaw scoring again from a yard out.

A 38-yard Staubach-to-Drew Pearson pass took Dallas to the Cincinnati 11-yard line late in the second quarter.

After two runs by Dorsett put the ball on the three, Staubach rolled out and flicked a scoring pass to Dupree.

Bahr hit a 38-yard field goal with 39 seconds left and Dallas held a 21-6 halftime lead.

Anderson completed a 16-yard pass to Bass, highlighting a 73-yard drive to open the second half. Bass slipped away from Mitchell five plays and Anderson hit him for a touchdown.

Anderson completed 17 of 33 passes for 188 yards and was sacked three times by the Cowboys' pass rush.

Staubach completed 12 of 15 for 164

Ron Springs scored from a yard out after rookie Bruce Thornton had intercepted a Jack Thompson pass for Dallas' final touchdown with nine seconds to play.

Campbell, Oiler Defense Color Browns Blue

HOUSTON (AP) — It wasn't the fact that Earl Campbell scored three touchdowns and led Houston rushers or that the Oilers defeated previously unbeaten Cleveland 31-10 Sunday that was so shocking to Oiler Coach Bum Phillips.

It was the fact that they did it in the first half.

"I mean, we got our motor started early, and we kept it going against a good team," Phillips said after the victory had put the Oilers in a three-way tie for the American Football Conference Central Division lead.

"We forced them early to play catch up, and you are talking to one who knows what that's like," Phillips said. "I mean to tell you, that is a hard way to play a ball game."

A week ago, the Oilers had to fight back from a 24-0 hole to finally defeat Cincinnati 30-27.

Houston cornerback J.C. Wilson contributed to Houston's early 24-3 lead with a 34-yard interception return in the second quarter. It was one of three interceptions by the Houston defense.

"I just felt it was the right situation," Wilson said. "The coaches told me all week if I got that route to go for it, and that's what I did."

in losses, giving them 24 for the season.

Houston fullback Tim Wilson ran twice for 19 yards and Dan Pastorini hit Ken Burrough for two passes totaling 18 yards to key the Oilers' first touchdown drive. Campbell rolled to his left and went in standing.

The next time the Oilers get the ball, Pastorini threw over the middle to tight end Mike Barber for 35 yards and Campbell ran 17 yards to the Browns' two.

This time, Campbell went to his right and cut back inside cornerback Oiler Davis into the end zone.

Happy Hinkle Wins Golf Title

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Easy-going Lon Hinkle made up four strokes on the last four holes and, with a closing 67, scored a one-stroke victory Sunday in the rich World Series of Golf.

Hinkle, a big, fun-loving guy who was the protagonist in the famous tree-planting incident at the U.S. Open, won the biggest prize in golf, $100,000, with his 272 total, eight shots under par on the 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course. It pushed his season's earnings to $246,275.

Lee Trevino, who missed birdie putts on the last two holes, bitterly disappointed Larry Nelson and Bill Rogers shared second at 273.

Nelson, who held a three-stroke lead at various stages of the final round, blew his lead with a double bogey-six on a bunker on the 17th and finished with a round of par 70.

Rogers had scores of 68 and 69 in the double-round, 36-hole windup that was necessitated when Friday's play was rained out. Trevino shot 72 and 66.

Tom Watson, who lost the lead with a double bogey-five on the fifth hole of the morning round, failed in his quest to become the first man to go past $500,000 in single-season earnings. Watson, a five-time winner this season, the pre-tournament favorite and second-round leader, finished with rounds of 72 and 69 and won $15,000 for his share of fifth place with a 274 total.

That set his earnings at $462,636. Several tournaments remain on the 1979 schedule, but Watson indicated last week he would not play in this country again this season.

NORVAL POLLARD Red Raiders Walk Plank Of 'Gravy Boat'

FORGET THE COTTON BOWL and the Southwest Conference championship and the Associated Press Top 20 and all that other gravy that goes hand-in-hand with college football success in this part of the country.

That gravy boat is sailing in circles waiting for the Houston Cougars or the Texas Longhorns or the Arkansas Razorbacks or maybe even the surprising Baylor Bears to board and guide the craft to its final destination.

Space aboard that elite vessel is no longer available for the Texas Tech Red Raiders. The boarding platform, along with a 10-0 lead, was yanked out from under the Red Raiders midway through the second quarter of Saturday's conference opener in Waco.

Those determined Baylor Bears, coming off a 45-0 setback at the hands of the No. 2-ranked Alabama Crimson Tide, shook off that embarrassing defeat, shook off Tech's early domination and shook off the Red Raiders period en route to a 27-17 victory.

You really have to admire the Bears and the way they came back after being stuck in a hole so early in the contest. The Bears never lost their composure nor their determination to win and it paid off. It was truly a team win.

SO, WHAT'S IN STORE for the Red Raiders? That's a question I wish I could answer with a short and sweet reply, but I can't because there are just too many variables involved.

Tech has not been mathematically eliminated from the SWC title chase by any stretch of the imagination, but no conference champion has ever had more than one loss. If that maxim holds true in 1979, Tech would have to win its remaining seven conference contests to have a chance.

It's midseason, the Red Raiders are 1-2-1 and have obviously not put the puzzle together yet, and Texas and Houston are drubbing opponents left and right. The best the Red Raiders can possibly hope for at this point in time is a 5-5-1 mark — and that is probably stretching the string.

I would guess those four remaining wins would come against Texas Christian and Mike Ford-less Southern Methodist on the road and Rice and either Texas A&M or Arkansas at home. And a victory over either the Aggies or the Razorbacks would have to be considered a big upset.

As far as Texas and Houston are concerned — well, they appear to be the teams to beat in the conference scramble just as most sane sportswriters predicted after seeing team rosters months ago.

I JUST CAN'T SEE Tech whipping either the 'Horns or the Coogs away from the friendly confines of Jones Stadium. Texas reaffirmed its position as one of the top grid powers in the nation Saturday with that 21-0 shutout of the fifth-ranked Missouri Tigers. Houston laughed it up as it turned the football over four times and still crushed West Texas State 49-10.

Of course, Arkansas (4-0) and Baylor (3-1 overall and 2-0 in the SWC) can't be counted out of any championship talk at this early stage. Lou Holtz is always better than he professes to be and Grant Teaff's Bears may come up with just enough on enough occasions to be there when all the smoke clears late in November.

Any success Tech enjoys from here on out will have a great deal to do with the pride of the Tech team members — just how bad the Red Raiders really want to win. All that preseason optimism has been badly dented by the results of the last two weekends. Pride has won football games before and I imagine it could help out again if called upon.

I PREDICTED TECH WOULD end all the offensive frustration Saturday against Baylor and for 12 minutes I was sitting in the press box atop Baylor Stadium with a pretty smug grin on my face.

But then the roof fell in and I just sat there shaking my head, not believing what was happening on the field. It was like a nightmare, but you can end nightmares by waking up. Saturday's nightmare went on and on.

Tech's defensive unit was hurt last week by the absence of junior outside linebacker Roger Jones, one of the Red Raiders' most aggressive defenders. Jones suffered a knee injury during Tuesday's practice and will be out of action from three to five weeks.

Eagles' Victory Gives Vermeil Stature

By The Associated Press
Coach Dick Vermeil equated his Philadelphia Eagles' 17-14 triumph over the previously unbeaten Pittsburgh Steelers to his 1976 Rose Bowl victory.

Vermeil coached UCLA to a startling college football upset over Ohio State that New Year's Day.

The Eagles, after falling behind 7-0 on a 7-yard score by Pittsburgh's Sidney Thornton in the second quarter, came back to win on a 1-yard touchdown by fullback Leroy Harris. Tony Franklin's 48-yard field goal and finally a 1-yard score from running back Wilbert Montgomery.

"It's a very good win," said the obviously excited Vermeil as he was surrounded by jubilant dozens in the Eagles' dressing room.

"It was as good as the Rose Bowl," Vermeil shouted.

"I really can't tell you how I felt coming off that field today, but I was excited and happy for my team, our coaches and our entire organization. They did something they weren't supposed to be able to do," Vermeil said.

Vermeil, who had tried all week to play down the meeting with the Steelers, let it all out after the triumph.

"It's the most important victory of his four-year tenure because we beat the world champions," Vermeil said. "We raised a level of confidence within the coaching staff, the organization and myself."

There is no way we're better than the Steelers over 16 games," Vermeil observed. "But I told the guys we only have to be as good for one day. Today was the day."

The Steelers, who had won their first four games of 1979, scored with 4:34 seconds remaining in the second quarter on a 7-yard run by Sidney Thornton, capping a seven-play, 47-yard drive following Jack Hamm's 28th career pass interception, the most for an active linebacker in NFL history.

The Eagles, however, took the ensuing kickoff and moved 80 yards on eight plays to tie the score on a 1-yard dive by fullback Leroy Harris.

The upstart Eagles took the second half opening kickoff and drove for a first down to the Pittsburgh 33. When three plays netted only 2 yards, Franklin, a rookie barefoot kicker, booted a 48-yard field goal to give Philadelphia a 10-7 lead with 11:26 left in the period.

The Eagles made it 17-7 with the help of a 57-yard punt by Max Runager that curled out of bounds at the Steelers' 3-yard line. Pittsburgh picked up a first down at the 16, but linebacker John Bunting intercepted a Terry Bradshaw pass and returned 15 yards to the 2.

Montgomery gained 1, and then crashed the final yard into the end zone. Franklin converted, and it was 17-7 with 2:49 remaining in the quarter.

The Steelers, who won their last three games on final period rallies, advanced to the Philadelphia 2-yard line with the help of two pass completions by Bradshaw and 9 yards on a pair of running plays by Thornton. But Franco Harris fumbled trying to reach the end zone and the Eagles' Randy Logan recovered at the goal line.

Jets 33, Dolphins 27
Tom Newton's pair of 1-yard scoring plunges in the second quarter and Richard Todd's game-clinching 71-yard touchdown pass to Wesley Walker carried the New York Jets to a 33-27 victory over the previously unbeaten Miami Dolphins.

Newton's first TD, with 5:30 left in the second period, came three plays after Todd hit Derrick Gaffney on a 43-yard pass to the Miami 3-yard line. It capped a 54-yard, seven-play drive that wiped out the Dolphins' 10-7 lead and put the Jets on top to stay.

The Dolphins failed to move with their next possession, then the Jets drove 80 yards in 12 plays and two penalties with Newton diving over one second from halftime. During the march, the Jets had to settle for Pat Leahy's 35-yard field goal attempt. It was blocked — but Miami was offside, giving New York a first down to keep the drive alive.

On Miami's second possession of the third period, cornerback Bobby Jackson stepped in front of Jimmy Cefalo, picked off Bob Griese's pass and made it 26-10 with a 58-yard scoring sprint down the left sideline.

Vikings 13, Lions 10
Minnesota's Rick Danmeier kicked a pair of field goals and Chuck Foreman scored on a 2-yard touchdown run as the Vikings defeated the Detroit Lions, 13-10.

Danmeier's first field goal — which turned out to be the margin of victory — came after time had run out in the first half.

With just three seconds showing on the clock, and the Vikings on their own 41 yard line, Minnesota quarterback Tommy Kramer hit Sammy White with a short pass over the middle and White danced and cut his way to the sideline, trying to get out of bounds to stop the clock for one more play.

But Detroit cornerback Luther Bradley cracked into White on the sideline and drew a 15-yard penalty, allowing the Vikings a shot at a field goal since a half cannot end on a penalty.

Danmeier was good on a 40-yard field goal to send the Vikings into the locker room with a 3-0 lead. Danmeier booted a 31-yarder early in the fourth quarter.

New Orleans had opened a 17-0 lead before Giants rookie Phil Simms, seeing his first regular-season NFL action, took over the offense to engineer two scoring thrusts.

Both drives for New York scores covered 18 yards and came after interceptions thrown by New Orleans quarterback Archie Manning.

The first New York score came on a five-yard run by second-year running back Billy Taylor and the second was an 11-yard pass from Simms to running back Ken Johnson.

New Orleans touchdowns came on a 10-yard run by Chuck Muncie in the second quarter and a three-yard sprint with 41 seconds left in the game. Manning hit wide receiver Ike Harris on a 24-yard touchdown pass play in the third quarter.

Ferguson, who had a 74-yard scoring pass to Frank Lewis nullified by a second-quarter penalty, completed a 24-yarder to Lewis with 15 seconds left in the period. The Bills led 14-6 at halftime after running only 23 plays from scrimmage.

Raiders 27, Broncos 3
All-Pro Dave Casper returned to Oakland's starting lineup after four weeks as a second-stringer, caught a 28-yard touchdown pass from Ken Stabler to open the scoring and the Raiders beat the Denver Broncos 27-3, ending their three-game losing streak.

Casper, who reported to training camp late in the summer after a contract dispute, caught four passes for 92 yards.

Casper's final catch of the game was on a 42-yard bomb from Stabler which set up one of Jim Breech's two field goals in the final period.

Pirates Uncork NL East Champagne

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates sprayed champagne and superlatives after winning the National League East title.

This is the warmest feeling I've had in baseball... Willie Stargell said Sunday after he drove in two runs and hit his 32nd homer to lead Pittsburgh to a 5-3 title-clinching victory over the Chicago Cubs on the last day of the regular season.

This is the biggest thrill of my baseball career... said manager Chuck Tanner, whose previous three years in Pittsburgh ended with second place finishes.

In Sunday's clincher, Stargell rapped a sacrifice fly and a solo homer to help Pittsburgh to a 3-0 lead through five innings off loser Lynn McGlothen, 13-14.

Dave Kingman hit a solo homer in the Chicago sixth off Bruce Kison, who left the game after that inning with a blister on his throwing hand. And Chicago scored single runs in the seventh and eighth innings off reliever Kent Tekulve.

But Bill Robinson rapped a bases-loaded, two-run single in the Pirate seventh, and Tekulve held on for his 31st save of the season, tying the team record he set a year ago. It was also his 93rd appearance, two more than the old Pirate record he set last season.

The Pirates' season total of 98 victories was the highest by a Pittsburgh team since 1909 when the club won 110.

HHS' Cumpton Settles For Close Shaves

By JIM FERGUSON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
To Don Cumpton, it doesn't matter if Hereford wins by one point or 60 of them — just as long as the Herd wins.

But lately the HHS head coach hasn't seen too many of those 60-point margins; the one-pointer is more like it.

After opening the season with a 22-0 loss to Pampa, the Whitefaces have since reeled off three straight victories to stand 3-1 for the year. But nothing has come easy for the Whitefaces. First, they beat Palo Duro 10-6, then Borger 14-13 and finally, last week, Canyon 14-13. So over the last three Friday nights, Hereford has managed to outscore its opponents by the grand total of six points.

"I'm just tickled to death that we're winning," said Cumpton, who has now seen HHS win exactly the same number of games this season as it did through 10 games a year ago.

The key to Hereford's early success, Cumpton said, is "getting the big breaks. And we've been playing with a lot of emotion, too. But we've gotten the big breaks, too."

Last week against Canyon, Hereford got a long scoring pass off the arm of quarterback Derek Dirks right before the halftime break. And finally, as the game was winding down, the Hereford defense stopped Canyon on its two-point conversion try following a touchdown with 1:50 remaining.

Against Borger the week before, Dirks directed the Herd on a late scoring drive.

"We're keeping it interesting, all right," said Cumpton, now in his second year as Hereford's head coach. "But a victory's a victory and we'll take it every time."

Another key to Hereford's success, said Cumpton, is the way the "veterans" and younger players have welded into a team. The HHS offense returned only four starters off the '78 team, while six regulars are back on the defensive side.

"The veterans that we had coming back have really come through for us," said Cumpton. "They've shown a lot of leadership and helped the younger players quite a bit. It's been a good mixture. I think."

Paced by the running of back Joe Walker, Hereford has averaged a little over 212 yards total offense each outing. Before Friday night's contest, Walker was the third leading runner in the loop with 173 yards on 21 carries. He trails only Willie Johnson of Monterey and Plainview's Irvin Davis in that department.

Dirks, the junior quarterback, was the league's top passer with 212 yards on 15 completions. He has gone to the air 37 times without an interception.

Hereford still has two non-district games remaining — against Amarillo and Brownfield — before it opens loop play against Plainview. And, according to Cumpton, the Herd will be ready to compete for the 4-AAAA crown.

"You've got to think that Monterey and Plainview are the favorites," said Cumpton. "And Coronado has been improving. But I think we'll be in it too."

District 2-AAA Takes NFL's Cue

By CHUCK McDONALD
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
Talk about the toughness of the Central Division of the AFC has become old hat by now. Again this year, NFL fans are raving about the good ol' Central where Pittsburgh, Houston and Cleveland all boast 4-1 records.

Some pro football observers have gone so far as to say that maybe two wild card teams from that division should be allowed in the playoffs.

Here on the high school level there is no such thing as a wild card team — but maybe there should be.

District 2-AAA is beginning to look like the Central Division of the Class AAA South Plains schoolboy competition. After four weeks, three of the schools boast 4-0 records, one is 3-1 and last-place Monahans is a respectable 2-2.

To put it bluntly, district 2-AAA has feasted on outside competition. Pecos, Odessa Ector and Andrews are all undefeated. Last week Andrews got its toughest test of the year when the Mustangs battled Snyder of district 3-AAA. The Mustangs took a 14-8 victory in Snyder.

That victory, coupled with Estacado's loss to Class AAAA Monterey, moved Andrews into first place on the Avalanche-Journal area AAA poll.

San Angelo Lake View stunned highly-ranked Brownwood 3-0 also this weekend to make their presence felt in the poll. Lake View is the only team in district 3-AAA with a margin better than 500. That's hardly the kind of mark the teams down south in 2-AAA have been making.

And up north in 1-AAA, the record against non-district competition has been what you would call outstanding.

In fact, it's been downright lousy.

Only Estacado is over the 500 mark. Leveland is next with a 2-2 mark. No one else has managed more than one victory in four tries.

The Dunbar Panthers trail the pack with an 0-4 mark but things are beginning to look brighter for coach Van Jefferson.

The Panther offense showed signs of life Friday night against Lubbock High, racking up 195 yards of total offense and scoring 14 points — the first of the year for DHS.

Vikings' McNary Receives Honor

By RUSS PARSONS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
James McNary is back, and are the Valley Vikings glad he is.

When he bolted 32 yards to a touchdown on Valley's very first offensive play of the season four weeks ago, it seemed all the preseason predictions and dire warnings that had been coming out about this dangerous little runner were true. But later in that game he injured his shoulder making a tackle. That caused him to miss the next game also.

But last week he came back, and in a 60-0 victory over Spur, the 5-7 and 165-pound junior rushed 12 times for 203 yards, scoring four touchdowns.

An impressive performance for sure, but Friday night he topped that — again carrying only 12 times, and again scoring four times, but this time gaining 231 yards.

For that he is the Avalanche-Journal's South Plains Offensive Player of the Week.

McNary scored on runs of eight, 75, 20 and 18 in the Vikings' 70-0 thrashing of Paducah. Incidentally, both of the last two massacres have come against Class A teams.

Earning Defensive Player of the Week honors is Littlefield's Dale Demel. The junior linebacker was in on 21 tackles (giving him a total of 83 in four games) in the Wildcats' 42-14 win over Lockney. He also caught four passes for 74 yards and a touchdown.

Throwing those passes was quarterback Eddie Gregory, the leading passer on the South Plains. Gregory hit nine of 11 passes for 171 yards and a pair of scores.

Tahoka's Tracy White is another prolific runner. He carried the ball 29 times against Crane and gained 204 yards and three touchdowns as the Bulldogs reversed last year's upset loss to Crane with a 33-14 win.

Amherst's Ronald Johnson carried 27 times for 217 yards and scored a pair of touchdowns and a pair of extra points to guide his Bulldogs to a 28-6 victory over winless Happy.

Petersburg gained 472 yards total offense in a 30-0 win over Hart Friday night, and picking up over half of it was running back Mike Phillips. He carried 20 times for 196 yards and caught a 75-yard pass, as well as scoring three touchdowns.

Sylvester Dunn proved to be the key in Abernathy's 21-7 win over Roosevelt. The junior speedster broke loose for 184 yards on only 18 carries (most of them in the second half) and scored twice.

Springlake-Earth didn't have much offense in its 19-0 loss to Hale Center, but a couple of defensive standouts might have prevented that score from being much worse. Junior linebacker Steve Montreal was in on 16 tackles before leaving the game in the fourth quarter with an ankle injury. Senior safety Kevin Riley was in on six tackles and picked off a pass, his third in two games.

Another defensive star was Wilson's Quentin Talkmitt, a linebacker.

Nancy Melton Wins

DALLAS (AP) — Nancy Lopez Melton shook off a temporary case of antagonism brought on by a clicking camera Sunday to card a final round 70 for a 272 total and win the $150,000 Dallas Open golf tournament by two strokes.

The $19,500 first place check boosted her 1979 earnings to a Ladies Professional Golf Association single season high of $193,752.

Sandra Post carded a final-round 67 and four-day 276 to beat Beth Daniel in a duel for runner-up money of $12,740. Daniel shot a six-under-par 66 on the final day for 278.

Sign Up For Independence

When young people sign up for newspaper route work, they are really signing up for independence. The kind of independence that goes with earning your own money, running your own business and dealing with people on a one-to-one basis.

Our carriers are young business men and women. They provide a vital service, handle their own finances and reap a handsome profit from their efforts. What better training to prepare them for the future?

If you are interested in stepping into the business world and declaring your own independence, contact our carrier manager right now. He'll give you all of the important facts about carrier work. Then, if you are still interested, he'll provide the pen and show you where to sign... even if your name is John Hancock.

Gas Stored Despite Protests

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — National Guard troops supervised by nuclear experts on Sunday began storing 20 tons of radioactive tritium in a concrete bunker at an Army ammunition depot.

Officials had no word on how a leak, which they said was small, developed inside a lead-lined steel box used in moving the substance in a convoy across central Arizona on Saturday.

Gov. Bruce Babbitt ordered the tritium seized last week from the American Atomics Corp. plant in Tucson and brought here for temporary storage. State officials had said the plant was leaking radiation.

Darrell Warren of the Arizona Atomic Commission said the leak that developed during transportation of the gas was discovered when guardsmen were unloading the steel box. It carried 38 drums that together held 6.8 million tiny steel tubes of tritium gas.

"Nothing was detected in transit," Warren said on Saturday. He said once the material arrived, "We found we had a slow leak... It was so small we could barely detect it."

TRITIUM PROTEST — Protesters gathered outside an army ammunition depot near Flagstaff, Ariz., carry signs and show their disapproval as a vehicle carrying radioactive tritium from the American Atomics Corp., in Tucson passes by Saturday. An Army National Guard convoy carted 20 tons of the radioactive material across Arizona Saturday for burial at the depot, then technicians discovered a small leak in the lead-lined steel box holding the gas. "Right now I can't answer what the potential hazard is," said Darrell Warren of the Arizona Atomic Energy Commission. (AP Laserphoto)

Amtrak Wants Service Discontinued

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amtrak asked the Supreme Court and a U.S. Court of Appeals on Sunday to issue an emergency order allowing the rail company to discontinue its passenger service from New York to Kansas City, effective Monday.

Amtrak spokesman Jim Bryant said the two appellate courts were asked to dissolve a restraining order blocking the rail company from discontinuing service on the National Limited.

However, Bryant said there would be no immediate appeal of another court order requiring passenger service to continue on three other jeopardized routes originating in Chicago and going to Seattle, Houston and Miami. That apparently means service on those lines will continue for at least another day.

The Amtrak petitions were filed Sunday afternoon with the Supreme Court and the nine-member U.S. Court of Appeals here. Bryant said they asked for "emergency relief" from a temporary restraining order issued Friday by two members of the Court of Appeals.

Bryant said the Court of Appeals petition asks the full nine-member court to overturn the action of its two members. The Supreme Court petition was being referred to Chief Justice Warren Burger, who would have jurisdiction for emergency action, Bryant said.

The Amtrak spokesman said the petitions argued that the two Court of Appeals judges did not have the authority to issue the temporary restraining order because the order already had been refused by another judge. In addition, Bryant said, a previous court decision has specified that only the attorney general can sue Amtrak in such situations.

The suits have been brought by cities and states served by the four lines. The suit involving the National Limited was filed by the city of Dayton, Ohio.

Bryant said the appeals argued that President Carter on Saturday signed into law a bill that carries Congress' approval for the route cutbacks.

And, Bryant said, the appeals argued that the restraining orders "would cause irreparable harm to (Amtrak's) ability to operate intercity rail passenger service."

A similar court order was issued Friday by U.S. District Judge Frank Theis in Wichita, Kan., directing Amtrak to continue service on the Lone Star, running from Chicago to Houston, the North Coast Hiawatha, from Chicago to Seattle, and the Floridian, from Chicago to Miami and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Bryant said no emergency appeal would be taken from Theis' order on Sunday, but that Amtrak attorneys hoped to meet with the judge on Monday and persuade him to lift his order based on the same grounds stated in the formal appeals in Washington.

That apparently would allow the trains to operate at least on Monday. Amtrak has said that if it was required to operate the trains beyond the scheduled cut-off, it would not take reservations nor provide sleeping car service.

A fifth train involved in the Amtrak service cutback, the Hilltopper from Boston to Catlettsburg, Ky., died quietly Sunday. No court challenge to Amtrak's plan was filed on behalf of the Hilltopper.

Elimination of the five routes is part of a retrenchment that would reduce the Amtrak service network from 27,700 miles to 22,824 miles. Amtrak contends the five routes do not carry enough passengers to earn their keep.

Fire Leaves Woman, Children Dead

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — A firebomb thrown into the lower floor of a house Sunday ignited a fire that killed a woman and four children trapped in their home on the second floor.

Police said two men who lived on the lower floor ran outside through the back door after the firebomb was thrown but were hit by gunfire that forced them to return to the house.

Firefighters arrived at the scene and pulled the two wounded men from the house. However, they were unable to rescue the five persons on the top floor.

"The woman and the children were innocent victims," said Tom O'Connor, head of the police bomb and arson squad's investigation of the case.

O'Connor said there was "a probability of drug involvement" in the firebombing and shootings. He said no arrests were made.

Some bystanders who watched firefighters douse the flames told reporters the house was known as a place where drug dealings took place.

"There are a lot of houses like that around here," one youth said.

Firefighters were hampered by iron grates on windows and doors but managed to save Arthell Reeves, 27, and George Jackson, 40, from the first floor.

Police said Reeves had been shot once in the chest and right arm and Jackson was shot in the right arm. Both were reported in satisfactory condition at City Hospital.

Found dead were Thelma Brown, 49, her daughter, Savannah, 13, son, Loren, 7, and grandchildren Lareefa Brown, 4, and Raymond Smith, 5.

Fire officials said four of the victims were found underneath a mattress, where they had crawled to escape the flames.

The fire gutted the two-story brick residence, situated among deteriorated row houses in a west end neighborhood pockmarked with weed-covered lots. The house, located on Westminster Place, is only a few blocks from the city's notorious "Stroll" area, frequented by prostitutes.

Prisoner Witnesses Death Of Youths

BANGUI, Central African Republic (UPI) — A former prisoner under deposed Emperor Bokassa I says guards once filled his tiny cell with the bodies of dying school children.

"They brought the children's bodies into my cell one by one as they died," said Jacques Gallo, 31, a former pilot recently released from Bangui's infamous Ngaragba prison.

Gallo was a witness to the deaths of scores of teen-age children earlier this year in an incident that inspired the Sept. 20 overthrow of the self-crowned emperor by his cousin. Bokassa took revenge on the children when they protested his order to wear uniforms made in his own factories.

Independent reports have implicated Bokassa personally in slayings though Gallo could not confirm this.

Gallo was sentenced in 1976 to 10 years in prison after a military court found him guilty of taking part in an abortive plot to kill Bokassa. He was freed after last week's coup.

His head shaved to signify a new beginning, he relaxed late last week on the narrow front porch of his modest home on the city outskirts, wearing a new shirt, slacks and shoes. He came out of prison in rags.

"There were no newspapers, no radios, no visitors, no information from the outside world — only torture and occasional starvation," Gallo said.

He said in April some 40 school children were herded into one cell near his own in the barren prison on the bank of the Oubangui river.

"The children began to die during the night," he said. "Most of them apparently died through suffocation. There were no windows, no ventilation.

"During the night 18 bodies were dumped in my cell as the children died. The following morning a truck came and took them away."

"However, I did not see Bokassa visit the children or beat them."

Czech-born Otto Sacher, a former French Foreign Legionnaire and current prison administrator, insisted that none of the children died at the prison although they had been there.

"For the first nine months of my sentence, both my legs were shackled in chains," Gallo said. "I didn't leave my cell. I survived on one meal a day."

"To try to communicate in any way with the outside world meant instant death."

He said many prisoners during his more than three years at Ngaragba were severely beaten by wardens with long staves — the instrument Bokassa used in 1972 to kill four thieves in the prison courtyard.

"Sometime after the beatings, the prisoners vanished or died later from their injuries," he said.

As raucous music pounded from a nearby bar, Gallo reflected, "Bokassa? What can I say about him — a man who eats other men?"

There have been persistent reports, believed by most of population, that Bokassa was a cannibal.

"Leave it. The convoy relocating the tritium on Saturday rolled swiftly past 50 demonstrators at the depot entrance, who were chanting, "We don't want it here."

William Reilly, president of the protesting Parks Water Users Association, said the group is considering legal action to force removal of the tritium. He said the association fears the radiation will contaminate wells near the depot.

American Atomic agreed to surrender its license to handle tritium — used to illuminate watch dials and road signs — in July after the state found the firm allowed excessive amounts of radiation to leak into the surrounding neighborhood, two miles east of downtown Tucson. The company's plant is in a semi-residential area and about a block away from the kitchen that prepares food for Tucson public schools.

The Tucson Unified School District closed its main kitchen, located a block away, after discovering high levels of radiation in a cake. Other food, valued at $300,000, was found contaminated and subsequently buried.

Workers Dropping Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Social Security Commissioner Stanford G. Ross says he has instructed his workers to take "a more aggressive stance" to stem defections from the system by state and local government workers.

Although Ross believes the number of government workers who have dropped Social Security coverage has been negligible, he said that "from a public affairs standpoint, it's an important issue, and I'm going to get more aggressive."

Two weeks ago, Alaska became the first state to drop Social Security coverage for its employees. Less than half the 14,000 workers voted in the ballot that decided the move.

Ross, who marks his first anniversary in office Monday, said Alaska's situation was "relatively unique" because it has a substantial state pension system, high wages and a young, transient work force. But he insisted that despite the rising Social Security tax bite, no one has come up with a better buy for most workers.

No private plan can match all of Social Security's benefits, including Medicare, disability and survivors' insurance, adjustment for inflation and portability between jobs, he claimed.

"It is so far better than what these people are going to get," the commissioner said.

Most state and local workers do pay Social Security taxes — 9.5 million are in the system and 3.5 million are outside it. The entire federal civilian work force of 2.8 million, including Ross, is not in Social Security.

But an HEW panel is near completion of a report to Congress on possible ways to combine civil service and Social Security retirement systems.

Justice's Wife Accepts Drug Responsibility

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The wife of state Appellate Court Justice Paul Halvonik has assumed responsibility for planting and tending 323 marijuana plants seized Sept. 19 in a drug raid at the couple's Oakland home, it was reported Sunday.

Deborah Hinkel Halvonik, a 37-year-old attorney, told Alameda County authorities that she alone was responsible for the marijuana plants, the Sacramento Bee reported.

It also was reported that a close friend of Mrs. Halvonik disclosed that the judge's wife claimed sole responsibility for the small amount of cocaine that police discovered in a desk drawer while searching the home.

Deputy District Attorney Clayton DeVega declined to confirm or deny that Mrs. Halvonik made such an admission in a statement given to the Alameda County district attorney's office Sept. 20, the day after the couple was arrested.

The newspaper said a source close to the investigation indicated the statement resulted in only Mrs. Halvonik being charged with felony possession of cocaine.

In San Francisco fellow appellate judge William A. Newsom said Halvonik had not lived with his wife for more than two months prior to the drug raid. Newsom said Halvonik called him about 10 weeks before the raid, saying he was having marital problems and asking to stay with Newsom.

Halvonik returned to his house about two days before the raid, Newsom said. Oakland police said the plants were about six weeks old.

The justice, a friend and former top aide of Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., would be removed automatically from the $65,050 a year post if convicted of a felony charge in connection with the drugs.

Halvonik was named to the appellate court 16 months ago by Brown.

Neither of the Halvoniks has been available for comment since being arraigned Sept. 21 in Oakland Municipal Court.

Halvonik is scheduled to enter a plea to the charges against him in court on Tuesday. Mrs. Halvonik earlier entered pleas of not guilty to the drug-related charges.

SWC ROUNDUP

Baylor Chooses To Disregard Prophets

By The Associated Press
Texas, Arkansas, and Houston still are without taint on the intersectional frontier but, on the bottom line that counts, you ain't gonna believe who is tied for the Southwest Conference football leadership.
Say howdy to the Baylor Bears, who were thought to be in hibernation after a 45-0 flogging by Alabama two weeks ago.
The Bears charged into a tie Saturday with Southern Methodist after a convincing 27-17 victory over Texas Tech. In fact, it was more convincing than the score indicated.
Baylor dominated Tech in every category as Mickey Elam became the first Bear quarterback in history to rush for over 100 yards.

"We're a long way from being as good as the team (Houston) we will play this week but I don't think we're going to finish seventh like everybody picked us," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff. "We're a million miles from the Cotton Bowl but a lot closer than some people."

Baylor has now beaten Texas A&M and Texas Tech. However, a Teaff team has never beaten Houston.
"We don't have a lot of depth but we may have more talent than the 1974 team that made it to the Cotton Bowl," said Teaff. "I still think it might be possible to get to the Cotton Bowl with one loss."
The SWC unbeaten except for SMU kept on rolling Saturday. Fourth-ranked Texas whipped Missouri 21-0, eighth-ranked Houston mauled West Texas State 49-10, and fourth-ranked Arkansas downed Tulsa 33-8.
Nineteenth ranked SMU tumbled 24-17 to Tulane. Oklahoma crushed Rice 63-

21. Texas Christian was upset 21-14 by Texas-Arlington, and the Texas Aggies subdued Memphis State 17-7 in other games involving SWC teams.
The SWC is now 14-8-1 against outside competition.
In other league games this weekend, Texas A&M is at Texas Tech, Arkansas is at TCU, and Rice is at Texas.
Texas' magnificent defense still hasn't yielded a touchdown as the Longhorns killed Ole Miss with a non-scholarship placekicker, John Goodson, who tied a school record set by Russell Erben with four field goals.
Asked if he was going to give Goodson a scholarship now, Texas Coach Fred Akers said of his walk-on: "I haven't thought about it. I have one left. No one wants to be given anything. John has a lot of pride. He'll know he's earned one. He went a long way toward that today."

The Aggies suffered two injuries in the Memphis State game. Tailback Curtis Dickey broke a thumb and quarterback Mike Moseley bruised an arm. Dickey played two quarters with his thumb broken as he again rushed for over 100 yards.

Tim McCarver Calls It Quits

MONTREAL (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies catcher Tim McCarver has announced his retirement after 21 years as a major league player to become a Phillies broadcaster.
"It was a tripartite decision. Ruly, Paul and Dallas decided I couldn't play any more," McCarver said Saturday, in a reference to Phillies owner Ruly Carpenter, general manager Paul Owens and interim manager Dallas Green.

College Football Roundup

10. No. 9 Washington trimmed Fresno State 49-14 and No. 13 Arkansas whipped Tulsa 33-8.
However, No. 10 Purdue struggled past Oregon 13-7. 11th-ranked Michigan rallied to edge previously unbeaten California 14-10. No. 12 Florida State shaded Virginia Tech 17-10 and No. 16 North Carolina State nipped Wake Forest 17-14.
Notre Dame's Ferguson rushed for 169 yards, including touchdown gallops of 24 and 48 yards in the third period, to help the Irish hand Michigan State its first setback. Ferguson has 2,401 career yards, trailing only Jerome Heavens' 2,682.
"We played a tremendously emotional game," Devine said, "and our guys were not to be denied. Knute Rockne once said you could only play a few emotional games a season, but with us every game is emotional."
For three periods, LSU thrilled a screaming crowd of 78,322, second largest in its history, by taking a 12-3 lead over mighty Southern Cal. But The Trojans marched 57 yards and closed the gap to 12-10 on All-American Charles White's 4-yard plunge with 9:54 remaining. McDonald then directed a 79-yard drive that culminated in his short touchdown pass to Williams in the left flat.

Notre Dame, Sooners Savor Victories

By The Associated Press
The legendary names of Knute Rockne and George Gipp were being bandied about the Notre Dame campus. Penn State came away somewhat tarnished. Oklahoma and Texas rolled impressively toward another shootout and Southern California continued unbeaten by the skin of its teeth — and 32 seconds on the clock.
Those were the major college football developments on a weekend in which five games paired members of The Associated Press Top Twenty — guaranteeing a shakeup in the upcoming poll — while No. 19 Southern Methodist finally felt the loss of quarterback Mike Ford and bowed to Tulane 24-17.
The shakeup almost included No. 1-rated Southern Cal, which needed two touchdowns in the final 10 minutes, including Paul McDonald's 8-yard toss to Kevin Williams with 32 seconds left, to overtake fired-up 20th-ranked Louisiana State 17-12.
"It was a war," said USC Coach John Robinson. "That's as much of a test as I need to have. Don't put us on a pedestal, we still need to improve."
Meanwhile, Notre Dame's Dan Devine spent part of the postgame celebration throwing Rockne's name around after Vagas Ferguson passed Gipp and became the school's second all-time rushing leader as the 15th-ranked Fighting Irish walloped No. 7 Michigan State 27-3.
Third-ranked Oklahoma got three touchdowns and 103 first-half yards from Billy Sims — his 12th consecutive 100-yard game — in blasting Rice 63-21 while No. 4 Texas used its super defense to stifle No. 5 Missouri 21-0. Oklahoma and Texas tangled Oct. 13.

Sixth-ranked Nebraska, down 14-0 after the first period, exploded for 298 yards on the ground and 232 in the air to trounce No. 18 Penn State 42-17. It was only the seventh time in Coach Joe Paterno's 14-year career the Nittany Lions allowed more than 30 points.
Elsewhere, runnerup Alabama flattened Vanderbilt 66-3, eighth-ranked Houston clobbered West Texas State 49-

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I attended a conference recently and had my eyes opened. The subject under discussion was rock and roll music.

Most parents have no idea what rock music is all about because they pay no attention to it. If they listened to the lyrics they'd be shocked. For example, "Get Down and Make Love" tells a story of homosexual love. Another, "Cold Ethyl" by Alice Cooper, is an incredibly vulgar song celebrating sexual perversion. "Wild Love" by Frank Zappa is a thoroughly offensive number. The words to "Some Girls" (Rolling Stones) could not be printed in a family newspaper.

Acceptance of marital infidelity is the theme of many rock songs. "Part Time Love," written by Elton John and Gary Osborne, has Elton John singing: "You've been seen running around. Don't tell me what to do when you've been doing it, too."

Everybody's got a part time love. Copyright 1979 by Big Pig Music, Ltd.

Is it any wonder there is so much teenage sex, promiscuity, pregnancy outside of wedlock and couples living together without marriage? When young people hear this trash for hours on end, they accept it as the ordinary, everyday way of life.

I urge every parent to turn on the radio and pay close attention to the words of the songs. The next step is write to the local radio station and tell the manager exactly what you think of the programming. If no one complains, the stations have every right to assume it's perfectly OK, and there will be no end to it. Thanks for letting me have my say. — Want A Better Environment For Youth

Dear Want: Thank you for addressing yourself to a subject I have been hoping someone would write about.

I've been hearing about the filthy rock and roll lyrics for a long time and decided to tune in and listen. Twenty-three years of this column have made me virtually shock-proof, but some of the lyrics were incredibly crude and offensive.

I support your suggestion that parents tune in and listen to what their children are hearing hour after hour. If they don't approve, they should write to the local station and complain.

At Wit's End...

By ERMA BOMBECK

Good news for all of you apartment dwellers who are short on space and long on imagination. I have before me a magazine article in which a decorator, faced with a dinner party, makes what she calls an "amusing transformation."

She converts her dressing room-bathroom into a dining room.

The tub is covered with an upholstered, cushioned board which serves as a buffet. She adds a folding table, extra chairs, puts the champagne into the sink to chill (thank goodness, she didn't go for the cooler with the lid) and stores her glasses on the vanity shelf.

She covers each of the walls in a different flowery fabric and for accent, sets baskets of fresh fruits about with tangerines peeled and ready to eat as "a nice surprise for hungry guests."

The peeled tangerines would be the least of the surprises. Can you imagine for a moment herding your guests to the bathroom for dinner?

I don't even want my guests to use the bathroom when we have dinner in the dining room. I cannot imagine that the idea will catch on like wildfire. Our bathroom is entirely out of the question.

1. The dressing room IS my bathroom.

2. My menus can never be adapted to harsh lighting.

3. The bathroom door has not been open, or for that matter ajar, in 15 years.

4. I couldn't eat a bite facing a full-length mirror.

5. I couldn't relax in a chair that was bolted to the floor.

To tell you the truth, I hate to see the bathroom exploited as a room for entertaining. To me, that sacred part of the house has been the last bastion of privacy for the American family.

The toddler who regards it as Disneyland with faucets; the teenager who barricades himself in there until puberty has passed; the father who seeks peace in his reading room.

But mostly, it is needed by the woman of the household as a haven from havoc: a port for post-natal depression; a refuge from reality; a retreat to regroup; a chapel in which to pray; a cloister in which to cry.

It's no place for peeled tangerines. Copyright 1979, Field Enterprises, Inc.

Dear Ann Landers: I was furious at the reader who said you should be horsewhipped for telling a 17-year-old girl to have plastic surgery on her nose. She said it was ruining her life and wanted your opinion. You okayed "anything that might improve your looks."

For years I wore glasses with lenses that looked like Coke bottles. I was nearly blind without them. They were heavy. They pinched. They slid down on my nose. I had no peripheral vision. My eyesight was getting progressively worse. My doctor recommended contact lenses.

No more Coke bottles. No more pinching. No more sliding. No more blind spots where the glasses weren't. Most important of all, my vision stabilized.

Contacts aren't for everyone, but they surely helped me. That turkey deserves a spot in the snoot for spouting off. If he spent his life trying to see out of my eyes, he'd be grateful the good Lord gave humans the intelligence to help themselves. — 20-20 — Praise To Heaven

Dear 20-20: I believe my advice to the 17-year-old girl was good, and I stand by it. Glad your contacts have made such a difference in your life. Thanks for sharing.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Weddings

MRS. KEVIN BELKNAP

HOGGE—BELKNAP
DALLAS (Special) — St. Alice Catholic Church was the site of the 7:30 p.m. ceremony Saturday uniting Kay Hogge and Kevin Belknap. The Rev. Edward Chrisman of Fort Worth, former pastor of St. Alice, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hogge and Mr. and Mrs. Barton A. Belknap of Midland. Susan Hogge, sister of the bride, and Bruce Belknap, brother of the bridegroom, were honor attendants.

The couple was graduated from Texas Tech University. They will live in Lubbock after a wedding trip to Colorado.

ALFORD—GAMBLE
Jo Alford and Arthur E. Gamble were married Saturday in a 10:30 a.m. ceremony in Bowman Chapel of First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Dr. Sam Nadar officiated.

Ann Alford, daughter of the bride, and Robert Gamble, son of the bridegroom, were honor attendants.

The couple were honored following the wedding with a reception in the home of William J. Bryant.

WOLFE—RACKLEY
By A-J Correspondent
— SNYDER — Paula Nell Wolfe became the bride of Michael Jay Rackley Saturday in a 7 p.m. ceremony in 37th Street Church of Christ. Dr. Wayne Hinds of Lubbock officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Charles R. Wolfe and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rackley of Arcola, Ill. The bride is a daughter of the late Charles R. Wolfe.

Honor attendants were Penny Wolfe, sister of the bride, and Ronnie Buchanan of Anton.

The bride was graduated from Snyder High School and attended Lubbock Christian College. The bridegroom was graduated from LCC and received a master's degree from Abilene Christian University.

The couple will live in Anton.

WOFFORD—COUCH
Patricia Wofford and Mark P. Couch were married Sunday in a 4 p.m. ceremony in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Couch. The Rev. Sam Laine of Westminster Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The couple will live in Houston.

COUPLE MARKS ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. John A. Roberts celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner in the Lubbock Country Club, hosted by the couple's children: Mrs. E. Jack Brown, Dan Roberts of Meadow and Jerry Roberts of Hereford. Roberts and the former Hollie Mae Joplin were married Oct. 2, 1929 in Shallowater. Roberts is a former mayor of Meadow. The couple has lived in Lubbock since 1960. They have eight grandchildren.

Hints from Heloise

HELLO THERE:

We receive stacks of letters asking, "Could you please tell me the best way to get mold and mildew off plastic shower curtains?"

I think it is a good hint and certainly worth repeating, so here goes:

Just fill your washing machine with warm water, add your normal amount of detergent and about a half cup of chlorine bleach, yes, the same kind you add to your clothes to make them white.

Let the machine run a few seconds, then put in the shower curtains and three or four white bath towels.

The mold and mildew build-up will be gone by the time the wash cycle is finished.

If you want to dry your curtains, just pop them in the dryer (along with the same bath towels), set it on damp dry or low heat, and your shower curtains will come out beautiful and wrinkle free! — Heloise

I think about all the push button inventions for our convenience and enjoyment, about the giant aircraft and the tremendous brains it took to send a man to the moon!

Then I wonder, with all these super brains in the world, how come no one has ever invented a machine to take the rocks and pebbles out of the beans before they are packaged? — Confused

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE:

Every time I'm preparing dry beans of any kind for my family, I marvel at all the wonderful machines invented for processing and packaging food.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

BY DR. PAUL G. DONOHUE

Dear Dr. Donohue: Why don't doctors tell their patients that taking too much antibiotic can cause colitis? This happened to me a few years ago after taking antibiotic shots for the flu. Anyway, a few months later I read an article stating that too many antibiotics will cause colitis. I wish I had read that article earlier. — F.D.

Colitis is inflammation of the large bowel (colon). What you say is true, but such a complication is a very special and uncommon problem with antibiotics. When it happens it is a serious situation. Many antibiotics have been implicated.

The problem is the use of antibiotics when there is a special kind of bacterium in the bowel at the time. This is called "clostridium difficile" (difficile being the word for "stubborn"). It comes by its name honestly, because it is an organism that is not affected by antibiotics. In fact, it grows in spite of that medicine. One reason for that is that other normal organisms are killed by the medicine, further inviting growth of the difficile bacterium. A vicious circle arises, and I'm sure this is the rare occurrence you experienced.

Untoward reactions are possible with all drugs. It is virtually impossible for the doctor to list each and every potential side effect, although in this litigation-conscious society more doctors are finding it necessary to do so. It is this potential for side effects that makes it so important for patients not to pressure their doctors for useless shots just for the sake of shots. This is especially true of antibiotics, which should be reserved only for bacterial infections. Colds and flu are due to viruses, not bacteria, and antibiotics have no effect against viruses. Yet, some patients feel cheated or improperly cared for if the doctor does not whip out a syringe to give them a comforting poke.

tell me why women seem to find it harder to lose abdominal flab than men do? When my husband loses weight, down goes his paunch. When I go on a diet, exercise included, there is the paunch, ugly as ever. — Mrs. H.A.

A lot of men will question your generalization, but it is historically true that women do seem to have a more difficult time losing abdominal flab than do men. One reason I can think of is that women bear children and men don't. Several childbirths can weaken abdominal supporting tissue and make whatever flab there seem more pronounced than in the abdominal wall. A good reason, incidentally for women to have good post-natal care and exercise those abdominal muscles after childbirth.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I want some information on growth. I am a male, 16, and 5 feet 6 inches tall. I have a brother who is 23 and 5 feet 9 inches. I've heard about hormone shots I can get while I'm still growing. I'm anxious to be tall. I've written before, but got no answer. — E.B.

This is a case of a little information being worse than none. The growth hormone is produced by the pituitary gland. People who, for one reason or another, do not produce sufficient growth hormone remain abnormally short. However, if your hormone production is sufficient, which it most likely is, then additional amounts would not help you grow taller. Heredity plays the major role. Forget the growth problem and concentrate on becoming a good little guard. Your 5 feet 6 inches in far from being abnormally short, and you can expect a few more inches of growth naturally.

Dear Dr. Donohue: What exactly is a hamstring muscle and why do you hear of so many athletes having problems with it? — B.P.R.

The hamstring muscles are those located in back of the knee. They are subject to much strain in many sports. The knee is not the most efficient joint in the body, or at least it seems to fall short of efficiency when we put it to many uses required in some sports.

For a better understanding of colitis and other intestinal ailments, their causes and treatment, write to Dr. Donohue, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, Ill. 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

DEAR HELOISE:

A good gift for a blind housewife is one of the little nylon dishcloths with the waxy texture and holes.

The nylon balls are good for sighted people but the blind person cannot tell if they are really rinsed; bits of food can stick.

The nylon dishcloth rinses so easily and dries in very little time and the blind person can feel that it is clean.

These cloths last indefinitely. Just sign me — Someone Who Knows

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

In my kitchen I keep a pair of shears, a strong bladed knife, a pair of pliers and a screwdriver to open those wonderful "easy-to-open" new packages! — Judy

How true, how true! — Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

My husband and I are very short and I have to cut the legs off all our pants after we buy them. So I buy them plenty long, then save the pieces I cut till I get enough that I can make a quilt top. I back it with flannel and quilt it.

They're great to take on picnics and to have in the trunk of the car in case of emergencies.

Love your column. Keep up the good work! — Karen B.

This is a super idea. You don't have to pay any more for the extra length and just look what you can do with it. — Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

When our grandchildren wash their hands, they rush through the job. The bar of soap is usually much too large for their small hands so they never really get them clean.

One day I put a few drops of dish-washing detergent on their hands and they loved the lather it made. They kept rubbing their little hands together and, of course, the longer they rubbed, the cleaner their hands were.

They were so happy — no one fussed at them — and they had clean hands besides! — Florence Elia

DEAR HELOISE:

Several years ago we had our sofa re-covered in plastic upholstery material. I saved the extra fabric.

Recently I needed to do something about our card table and chair coverings.

After some thought, I remembered the fabric and used it to re-cover the table and chairs. All it cost was one afternoon's effort and the effect is great. — Mary May

THIS COLUMN is written for you... the homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise, 235 E. 45th St., New York, N.Y. 10017. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—North's jump shift response to your takeout double is not forcing. It is invitational, showing a hand of about 11 or 12 points, and inviting the doubler to bid game if he is better than minimum. Even at this vulnerability South has a minimum takeout double, so you should pass.

Q.2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A63 ♥J762 ♦QJ1082 ♣7
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West

3 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You would have been much more optimistic about slam prospects had partner shown a heart suit in response to your Stayman inquiry. Even so, you have a good hand opposite a two no trump opener and you should not yet give up on slam. Bid four diamonds, your long suit—if partner can make a cue-bid with a fit for your suit, slam is still likely.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠93 ♥AK1092 ♦82 ♣A1073
The bidding has proceeded:

1 ♥ 1 ♦ 2 ♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—At this vulnerability, your hand is just worth a game try—after all, partner did respond freely over the interference. The fate of the hand could rest upon partner's holding in clubs, so we would make our try by bidding three clubs and leaving the rest up to partner.

Q.4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—With 19 points in high cards, some strong bid is called for. You could jump to three hearts to highlight your good five-card suit, but we prefer to have at least a six-card suit and an unbalanced hand for that action. Our choice would be to jump to two no trump, thereby describing a hand of 19-20 points that is balanced.

What do you bid now?

A.—You have a very good hand, but it does contain a flaw—some of your high cards are in your short suit, where they don't pull their full weight. Therefore, we would rebid only two diamonds, because we don't feel we can make game unless partner can act freely over that bid. But had we held two low hearts and the ace-king in diamonds, we would have jumped shifted.

Q.6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K86 ♥QJ92 ♦AQJ ♣J109
Partner opens the bidding with one no trump. What do you respond?

A.—This is a matter of simple arithmetic. Assume that partner has a maximum opener of 18 points. Add your 14 and you still come up with only 32—not enough for slam. So you should simply bid three no trump, since you do not get anything extra for bidding four or five no trump and you run the risk of going down when partner has only 16 and you get some bad breaks.

Q.7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ ♥KJ92 ♦5 ♣AKQJ73
Your right-hand opponent opens the bidding with one diamond. What action do you take?

A.—Today, jump overcalls are played as preemptive, but even if they were not, we would not jump to three clubs—that risks missing a 4-4 heart fit and a possible game in that suit. We would double and hope that partner responds in hearts. If he bids anything else, we can then jump in clubs to show our power.

Q.8—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠75 ♥92 ♦Q1043 ♣K10952
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
2 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass
3 ♣ Pass 3 NT Pass
4 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Since you could have passed three spades with an absolute bust, your rebid of three no trump promised some values. However, it did not promise a king and a queen, with a fair five-card suit into the bargain. If partner could move over that, we are prepared to play in a slam. If you rebid five clubs, we will accept that if you intended it as natural and were not responding to Blackwood. But for our money we would risk a direct six no trump.

DIET TIP

In the heat, when you have a craving for something to eat, reach for a cucumber. Not only will this 15-calorie vegetable keep you thin, it will also keep you cool. The pulp temperature of a cucumber is 20 degrees cooler than the outside air. A good way to eat them: sprinkle chopped cucumber with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Top with chopped chives.

Oswald: "Most declarers would wind up one trick short at the five-diamond contract. At some stage of the play they would lose the heart finesse. East would shoot back a spade and West would take his ace and queen."

Alan: "A really alert declarer would give himself an extra chance. At trick two he would cash dummy's ace of hearts. Then he would lead a low heart. East would be almost certain to duck, whereupon South would score his jack and wind up with his contract."

Oswald: "This swindle is a good example of the 'extra chance' play. Suppose that West holds the king of hearts. He will score a surprise trick with it, but won't be able to get two spade tricks. South will get to discard one spade on the queen of hearts and lose just one spade trick."

Protection Group Begins Program

The Women's Protective Services' Interim Program for Battered Wives begins today. The program will operate through a staff of volunteers who will receive calls referred to them by CONTACT Lubbock. The volunteers, who are available on a 24-hour basis, will suggest community resources available to callers. In cases of emergency, the volunteers can offer temporary shelter and transportation to battered wives.

The service has been offered the past two months through CONTACT on an unpublicized basis. About 18 women have been helped during this time.

Complete confidence is maintained at all times. More than one volunteer may be involved in a case, but it is the policy of the program that a caller will deal with no more than two volunteers.

Anyone wishing further information about Women's Protective Services may call Dennis Fulfillingham at 795-1006 or Susan Erickson at 792-0797.

Soundtrack For Movie Tells Story

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Record buyers expecting melody or original lyrics from the soundtrack of "Apocalypse Now" will be disappointed, since the album is literally a "sound" track of nightmarish war noise and dialogue from the controversial film.

"The album is our attempt to completely recreate the experience of the film. It takes you through the whole story," said David Rubinson, who produced the two-record set for moviemaker Francis Coppola.

Actually, music often is secondary to the album's dialogue, which tenuously threads together the story of a renegade Green Beret-cum-philosopher, played by Marlon Brando, in the Vietnam War.

Instead of the hum-along melody approach typical of soundtracks, the "Apocalypse Now" music is at times intentionally difficult to isolate, cleverly arising out of the film's activity or noise — Explosions, the chat of machine guns, the slap-slap of helicopters. One brief segment might have been called, "Solo for Rotor Blades."

"It's not being put out to be a gold, or platinum, or an instant smash. You can't dance to it. It's not going to be in discos," said Rubinson, whose 14 years in the music business have earned him a wall covered with gold records for performers he has handled.

Ordinarily, Rubinson said, a soundtrack composer is commissioned to write a score with variations of a theme to complement a film.

But that conventional approach might have taken somewhat less than the six months Rubinson spent collaborating on the score, overseeing the music soundtrack budget, contracting the players and recording and mixing.

Rubinson, introduced to Coppola by friends, found he wanted a soundtrack tailor made, cue by cue. Coppola dominated the creation as he dominated the five years spent making the film, an adaptation of Joseph Conrad's "Heart of Darkness."

"The most difficult thing was to understand exactly what Francis wanted," said Rubinson, who recalled continual renovation of the basic score Carmine Coppola rendered from his son's ideas.

"I've seen every scene in this film at least 100 times and know the dialogue by heart," Rubinson said in discussing the 11 1/2-hour record. The film runs two hours, 27 minutes.

The eclectically fashioned skeleton is fleshed out by the use of other material, including Wagner's "The Ride of the Valkyries," and The Doors' "The End."

Guided by a crude piano expression, Rubinson's recording team used synthesizers to create an initial sound or to transform the sound of instruments into something precisely suited to Coppola's vision.

New York Orchestra Rejects Three-Year Contract Proposal

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City Opera Orchestra rejected a three-year contract proposal Saturday, paving the way for cancellation of performances if a contract dispute is not resolved by midnight Sunday.

Lester Salomon, spokesman for 55-member Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, said wages were the main "stumbling block in the talks" with opera management.

The orchestra has been working without a contract since Aug. 31. Negotiations have been going on since mid-July, when noted opera singer Beverly Sills became company general director.

Salomon said said no new negotiations were scheduled, but the union did not plan a walkout. Management officials said performances would be canceled and the orchestra locked out unless the dispute was settled.

"The orchestra is willing to keep on working," he said.

David Rule, opera managing director, said the current weekly base salary for the musicians was $415. The current management offer called for a $40 weekly increase in the first year, $30 the second, and $35 the third, he said.

He said the union demands respective yearly raises of $50, $45 and $45 a week.

Strike Stops M*A*S*H Filming

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Striking studio and film lab workers claimed Saturday that production on the CBS-TV series "M*A*S*H" had been halted because actors and actresses were honoring their picket lines.

They said actors on other projects also were honoring the strike against major studios.

Federal mediators hope to set up talks next week between representatives of 2,000 striking officeworkers and the eight studios and film-processing plants they are picketing, say union officials.

Ruth Benson, business manager for Local 174 of the Office and Professional Employees International Union, said she was contacted Saturday by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Management spokesmen at the strikebound firms could not be reached for comment over the weekend.

Karen Neumeyer, associate business agent of Local 174, asserted that production on the CBS-TV series, "MASH," had been halted at Twentieth Century-Fox studios because of a "sick-out" among cast members, including series star Alan Alda.

Ms. Neumeyer said actor Robert Blake entered the Universal Studios lot Friday but later left in sympathy with the striking officeworkers there.

She said actor Ralph Bellamy, currently filming the "Condominium" TV movie at Universal, also refused to cross the union's picket lines Friday.

Mexican Spray Program Gets U.S. Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, in a delicate diplomatic communique, has informed Mexico it will provide no more funding for spraying marijuana fields with the herbicide paraquat, administration sources said Sunday.

But U.S. officials say the move — aimed at protecting Americans from health hazards of ingesting the herbicide — may have little effect and could mean a setback for a separate, more critical campaign against heroin.

They are hoping a compromise worked out in Capitol Hill last week will at least avoid a catastrophe for the heroin program.

Administration officials blame the problem on basic differences in the drug enforcement campaigns by Mexico and the United States.

The United States places its priorities on controlling heroin. It credits Mexico's poppy spraying program with spearheading a campaign that has cut by 100,000 the number of U.S. heroin addicts.

But Mexico emphasizes spraying paraquat on marijuana fields, and says it considers heroin less of a problem.

A 1978 amendment to the Foreign Assistance Act, sponsored by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., bars U.S. aid "for any program involving the spraying of a herbicide to eradicate marijuana plants" if the herbicide is unsafe.

In August, former Secretary Joseph Califano of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare advised the State Department paraquat, when ingested, can cause fibrosis and other serious respiratory ailments.

In an exchange of letters during last week's Washington visit by Mexican President Lopez Portillo, the State Department told Mexico it would continue to support, with another $1.5 million for fiscal 1979 and some $10 million during fiscal 1980, Mexico's spraying program for poppy fields.

The U.S. letter made no mention of funding for marijuana spraying, thus disclosing the cut of several million dollars over the two years.

But Mexico, which says it has bought all of its own paraquat for the spraying programs, is said to be refusing to reduce its marijuana spraying.

The dilemma for administration officials is the marijuana and poppy programs overlap.

"When a helicopter takes off to look for illicit marijuana and opium fields, you don't say, 'Go look for marijuana and opium, but don't tell me if you find marijuana fields,'" one administration source said. "There's just no way to break down the program."

Administration officials say they are worried Mexico will react to the funding cut by reducing its poppy spraying.

But Peter Meyers, chief counsel for the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, said it is "inconceivable that Mexico would cut back on the amount of poppy fields it is spraying."

A House-Senate Conference Committee may have solved part of the problem last week by agreeing to change the wording of the Percy amendment to prohibit making money available "for the purpose of spraying" marijuana fields, apparently allowing some overlap in the two spraying programs.

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Start the week right by utilizing an excellent day and evening where whatever is progressive and original are concerned. Get moderate and up-to-date friends to aid you in setting up plans.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Contact friends and gain their backing. Take time to repay social obligations. Accept worthwhile invitation.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): You now understand how best to handle property matters, so contact bigwigs and gain their support. Avoid one who is not a true friend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Elevate your consciousness and make life more worthwhile. Plan a trip you are contemplating wisely and don't forget details. Don't take risks where money and reputation are concerned.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Use tact in dealing with debtors and creditors. Come to a better understanding with close ties, also. Improve your health.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Discuss important matters with associates and come to a true understanding, get good results. Get involved in community affairs.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You get excellent results in handling important work. Come to a better understanding with co-workers and accomplish more.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Try to please social contacts more and improve relationships. Avoid a close tie who twists everything around. Be wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Try to find a solution for problems that have been puzzling you. Look for the right source of trouble. Evening is fine for socializing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Get together with partners and plan a more successful future for all concerned. Visit those who are important to your welfare.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Improve conditions at home and have more happiness with family. Take care of business affairs before entertaining friends at home.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You look and feel charming now and can put your talents across more effectively. Repay social obligations. Avoid those you dislike.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Do something a little dramatic today that can bring something good into your life, although you are usually very serious.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be most helpful to others where beauty, cultural and musical matters are concerned. There is a natural ability at precision and delving into minute details. The personality being a cheerful one, the sky will be the limit.

Musical Combines Four Great Shows

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Musical Comedy Tonight" is a joyful, affectionate look at four Broadway shows, typifying 50 years of musical comedy.

Each, in its way, illustrates a change in the theater, and scenes from the four are brought to life just as they were originally presented on the stage. The shows are "Good News" from 1927, "Anything Goes" from 1934, "Oklahoma!" from 1943 and "Company" from 1970.

For one show, "Anything Goes," Ethel Merman from the Broadway cast recreate her own scenes.

"Musical Comedy Tonight," which airs Monday night on PBS, was first titled "Four Runs, Four Hits, Four Eras" by Sylvia Fine Kaye, who conceived the idea, put the show together and provides the on-camera narration.

"Each play was selected to represent a major change in musical comedy," said Mrs. Kaye, who married one of the performers from her own first Broadway show, "Straw Hat Revue." After that, she and Danny Kaye merged careers and she wrote most of his songs and was involved in the production of his movies and television specials.

"Good News" was of the '20s. It represented the spirit and feeling of the times, although it wasn't necessarily the best play," she said. "It was the first musical with really broad, mass appeal."

"Anything Goes" I picked because Cole Porter brought a sophistication to the theater, a kind of open, sly kind of sexual and social satire," she continued. "The show was a social satire masquerading as low comedy."

"Oklahoma!" changed the theater, then there wasn't any real change until 'Company' came along. In 'Oklahoma!' for the first time the lyrics of the songs were very much a part of the story, and 'Company' was a turn. It was the bitter, cynical, cold look at society rather than individuals that typifies the '70s."

Among the stars appearing in the 90-minute special are Carol Burnett, Richard Chamberlain, John Davidson, Agnes de Mille, Sandy Duncan, Rock Hudson, Bernadette Peters and Bobby Van.

The show got its start indirectly the year Mrs. Kaye conducted a seminar in musical comedy at Yale. Many of the faculty — and even Irving Berlin — wanted to come to the class to listen.

"I thought to myself if there was such widespread interest, maybe it should have a larger audience," she said. "And one day in class, one of my brighter young men asked me why I said that Ethel Merman was such a great musical comedy star. He said, 'I've listened to her records and her voice isn't that much.'"

"I said there are some people who are born with a magical quality — because I believe stars are born. I said it's something you really have to see. I thought to myself, 'If I could just take them all by the hand into the theater.' And that's really gradually how this evolved."

That was the easy part. It took two years to get a grant to pay production costs of nearly $700,000, months of patient negotiation to secure rights — and months more of detective work to find long-forgotten musical sheets and information on the productions.

It took less persuasion to get the stars, Mrs. Kaye said. "All the stars worked for scale. I got the people that I wanted and it never occurred to me I wouldn't get them. Friends of mine in the business said I was dreaming. They'd never go on PBS, they'd never do it for scale, and even if they wanted to, they're too busy."

"So I called the busiest one first. I called Carol Burnett. She'd evidently heard about it, and she said, 'When and where do you want me?' She said she'd love to play Ado Annie in 'Oklahoma!' and sing 'I'm Just a Girl Who Can't Say No.'"

Mrs. Kaye said she was guided partly by the words of Fred Astaire, who told her, "For heaven's sake, don't make fun of us. We were doing the best we could." I said, "You were not only doing the best you could there were some marvelous things."

You bet!

I'm talking about my birthday suit of course. A month ago, I was pale and white. Now everyone thinks I just got back from the Caribbean. But I didn't. I cheated! I spent about 15 to 20 minutes of my lunch hour at Sundance Tanning Salon a couple of times a week. And their tanning booths are safe, comfortable and totally private, so I can get an all-over tan. It was only about $35 for 20 visits—that's about $1.75 per session.

This new suit is like a whole new wardrobe. And now I feel better and look better. What do you think?
