

Families Of Freed Hostages Overjoyed

United Press International
FAMILIES OF three hostages freed from the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, Monday, said they were relieved and joyful, but the mother of one of 10 captives awaiting release first wept and then broke into song when she heard that her son was coming home.

The elated mother of David Walker, 25, a young Marine staff sergeant at the embassy, said "I couldn't help but to break down" upon hearing word that he would be released, Tuesday.

"Oh, I'm so happy I don't know what to do," said Mrs. Ari Ruth Walker. "I really am. A relative called who saw it (the release announcement) on TV and she said, 'It's Ricky (Walker's nickname) and he looks well.'"

Mrs. Walker broke into song when she said "happy."

She said she and her husband, a part time Baptist minister, would pray for the remaining hostages, but felt "nothing is going to happen to them. I don't believe they're going to be harmed. They'll probably be released a few here, a few there."

Robert Vincent, whose brother, Air Force veteran James Vincent, 41, of New Orleans, La., is also scheduled to be released, said he would not comment on the situation for fear the excitement would harm a sister's medical condition.

The brother of Sgt. James Hughes, 30, of Metairie, La., said his family was happy with the impending release, but they were confused why blacks were being freed and not whites. Philip Bell said the news "uplifted" him and his parents.

The freed trio, two black Marine sergeants and a woman secretary at the embassy, were flown to Copenhagen, Denmark.

Laura May Reeder, mother of Sgt. William R. Quarles, 23, of Washington, D.C., said she never lost her faith her son would be returned to her.

"I always kept a lot of faith in what I believed — that eventually somebody would be released," she said.

Mrs. Reeder, 54, said she is unsure about how her son and the other 61 American prisoners were treated, adding, "But there're still a lot of innocent people there. What about their loved ones?"

Secretary Catherine Gross, 23, Cambridge Springs, Pa., may have been released because she wasn't "hostile" with her captors, her family members said.

"All you can do is hope that they release the rest of them," said her 16-year-old brother, Kevin.

Marine Sgt. Ladell Maples, the third freed hostage, said he had been treated well. Maples, 23, Earle, Ark., said he had spent most of his time in captivity eating, sleeping and reading.

Maples' mother, Jessie Maples, of Earle, said he could not celebrate until she was sure her son was safely out of the embassy.

About a dozen members of the Communist Workers Party demonstrated at the Daley center in Chicago in support of returning the deposed shah of Iran, but were taunted by about 300 lunch-time pedestrians. Police were called in to protect the demonstrators, and no violence was reported.

About 250 to 300 pro-Iranian demonstrators marched through the San Francisco financial district calling for a return of the shah to Iran. The march was sponsored by the Revolutionary Communist Party and included a contingent of Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

The marchers, escorted by motorcycle policemen, shouted, "Send the shah home" and "hands off Iranian students."

About 200 Iranian students at Jackson State University staged a peaceful campus demonstration to express fears that they would be treated like "criminals" by U.S. immigration officials during visa checks.

The demonstration broke up after about two hours when American Civil Liberties Union attorneys advised the gathering that immigration officials had given assurances that no students would be arrested.

Wide-Ranging Storm Brewing

By JOHNNY HOLMES
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

A MASSIVE cold front that is expected to bulldoze its way across the South Plains early today should drop temperatures at least 20 degrees, bringing with it the threat of snow and freezing rain.

The front, which is being pushed into the area by a high pressure system located over northern Arizona, is expected to dump up to a foot of snow over the New Mexico and Colorado mountains and blow snow and freezing rain across most of the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles and portions of the South Plains.

DELIVERY PROBLEM?

CALL 762-8855
 MORNING BEFORE 9:00 A.M.
 EVENING BEFORE 7:00 P.M.

Cooler Readings Today
 Winter storm warnings are posted for the Panhandle and far west Texas for this afternoon and tonight as blowing snow is expected to hamper travel until early Wednesday.

Highs today across the area should reach only into the middle 50s, a drop of some 20 degrees from Monday's high of 76 degrees. Lows tonight should plummet into the middle 20s with a 60 percent chance for precipitation today.

Winds should be northeasterly at 15 to 20 mph after the front hits.

The forecast for Thanksgiving, however, is more promising. The National Weather Service has indicated clear skies and chilly weather should follow the huge storm system into the area, making for a cold but clear Thanksgiving Day across the South Plains.

The front should drop enough snow across the mountains for several major ski areas in New Mexico and Colorado to open Thanksgiving Day, although as of Monday night, none of the major areas had called in snow depth reports.

Light Snows Forecast
 While most of Texas' northern and western sections will be suffering through the chill of this storm, snowfall across the area should not amount to more than an inch, according to the weather service.

The cold front buffeting the South Plains is by far the largest weather system affecting the United States today. Snow will extend from Colorado and New Mexico into Kansas and across Texas and Oklahoma by late tonight, with rain falling across parts of central Texas into the Mississippi River Valley.

Highs across this area will stretch into the 60s in the southern portions near New Orleans, but above the snow line, highs shouldn't climb any higher than about 40 degrees, with readings in the 30s and 30ds dominating all the Rocky Mountain and northern plains states.

Snow In Patches Due
 The weather service predicts that snow will fall in patches along the line of the front stretching from the lower Rockies into Kansas and Oklahoma, and that rain should pelt the remainder of the deep South and up most of the Atlantic Seaboard from the Carolinas into Pennsylvania.

Another cold front will curve over a low pressure system from James Bay, Canada into south central Quebec and loop down into New York and New Jersey. A slight warm front will bridge into this system and stretch out into the Atlantic Ocean, but temperatures in the northeastern part of the continent should remain near freezing throughout the day.

The Canadian Rockies and much of the upper Rocky Mountain states should enjoy a chilly but sunny day today before another cold front brings more snow and subfreezing temperatures back into this area, which is being passed over by most of the heavy weather affecting the lower Rockies.

BURNING PROTEST — Several people gathered at Christopher Columbus Park on Boston's waterfront Monday to protest the treatment of the Americans being held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran. The protesters burned an Iranian flag and spoke against the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. On Khomeini's orders 13 of the hostages were released and deported Monday, but he threatened to try the remainder of the hostages as spies. (AP Laserphoto)

Two Women Still Held In Embassy

By The Associated Press
TEN MORE American hostages left the U.S. Embassy in Tehran early today for the airport, ABC-TV reported from the Iranian capital. A Swiss airliner was waiting there to fly them to West Germany to join three others released Monday.

An ABC reporter in Tehran said the hostages — four women and six blacks — were driven out of the embassy gates in three cars. The students who had been holding them in the embassy since Nov. 4 put them on display at a news conference, Monday night.

The list of 10 hostages being released did not include the names of Elizabeth Ann Swift, identified in Washington as a political officer, or Katherine Koob, who apparently still were being held, despite the release of the other women.

Trio Freed Earlier
 Earlier Monday, Katherine Gross, 22, of Cambridge Springs, Pa., a secretary in the economics section of the embassy, and Sgts. William E. Quarles of Washington, D.C., 23, and Ladell Maples, 23, of Earle, Ark., both black, were flown to Wiesbaden, West Germany, where they immediately called their families, U.S. officials said.

Revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini ordered the release of female and black hostages who "were not spies," and said Iran might put some of the remaining 49 hostages on trial for espionage if the United States did not return the shah.

In Washington, a White House statement said any such espionage trial of U.S. diplomats would be a "further flagrant violation" of international law.

Two Month Limit
 Iranian foreign affairs supervisor Abolhassan Bani Sadr said Monday in a CBS interview that the remaining American hostages could not be released for two months, until the seating of a new government, unless the United States returns Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi to Iran. The shah is undergoing cancer treatment in New York, and the United States has said it will not force him to leave.

Bani Sadr said the shah, if returned, would be tried under Iranian law and would not be sentenced to death unless convicted of murder or of causing someone's death by such means as torture.

He also said former U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark wrote a letter advising Tehran of legal steps it could take to have the shah returned. The letter was apparently written before President

President Sadat celebrated the anniversary at Mount Sinai and, in an appeal for world peace, declared the mountain where God gave Moses the Ten Commandments open to Jews, Christians and Muslims alike.

Christian militiamen shelled a string of Palestinian-controlled towns in South Lebanon, causing material damage but no casualties, travelers from the area said.

It was from south Lebanon that a motorized rubber Zodiac dinghy set out, late Sunday night, with four Palestinian guerrillas bound for the Israeli coast. They never made it to shore:

Teaching Hospital's Economic Outlook Again Looks Bleak

By KIM COBB
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

AFTER PREMATURE announcements of financial improvement, the county teaching hospital is sitting on the edge of economic disaster again, anticipating more than $200,000 in overdrafts by the year's end and a possible shutdown in July.

Monday's meeting of the Lubbock County Hospital District Board of Managers produced a cash projection report of bleak proportions — a picture "as bleak as we can paint it," finance committee chairman Wayne Smith said after the meeting.

During the next few weeks, Health Services Center Hospital officials will be cashing certificates of deposit, the hospital's only reserve, to break even. But the last of the CDs will run out in mid-December.

Judging from the current level of operation, administrators will be over-drawn $216,000 by Dec. 31 and will be starting the new year owing vendors about $2.9 million.

Rosy Previous Report
 In mid-October, Brookwood Management Services still was running Health Sciences. They had completed an optimistic budget for 1980 and said the hospital had passed the crisis point in its financial operation.

But hospital district officials had long been asking for more complete financial reports, including a projection of available cash to budgeted needs, as presented Monday.

Smith also presented the board with a list of steps that he said must be taken to insure the hospital's survival. Efficient billing and collection efforts top

427 Recruiters Fired In Vast, Army Scandal

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army said Monday that 427 recruiters have been fired from their jobs in the worst recruiting scandal since the end of the draft, six years ago.

Reporting to Congress on a six-month investigation, officials said an estimated 12,700 soldiers have been enlisted through fraud or other irregular procedures by recruiters since October 1977.

The Army is consulting with the commanding officers of the improperly enlisted soldiers to see if they want to keep them in the service, the officials told the Senate Armed Services manpower subcommittee.

Worse Than Army
 Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., chairman of the panel, said the Marines and the Navy apparently have a worse problem with recruiting malpractice than the Army, based on discrepancies in recruits' test results. Marine and Navy officials did not take part in Monday's hearing.

About 75 percent of the Army cases involved false information about education records of potential recruits who had not graduated from high school, officials testified. Others involved illegal coaching for enlistment tests and concealment of police records, medical problems and other information.

Gun Victim Found To Be Ex-Disc Jockey

By RICHIE D. REECER
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

A FORMER California disc jockey has been identified as the man involved in a shootout Sunday with a New Mexico police officer.

David Perry Blackmore, 34, of Palm Springs, Calif., died as the result of the shooting which also killed police officer David Coker, 31, the first state police officer to die in the line of duty since 1971.

Maj. Charles Pack, deputy chief of the New Mexico State Police, said Blackmore, who had been employed until last Friday at radio station KDES in Palm Springs, was identified by an Albuquerque man who used to work at the same California station.

Joe Tourtelot, station manager at KDES, told The Avalanche-Journal that Blackmore abruptly quit his job there last Friday, leaving a note that said he was sorry, but that he had to resign his position.

The station manager said he was not aware of any personal problems Blackmore was having. The disc jockey had worked at the station since early August, Tourtelot said. He added that the car Blackmore was driving belonged to a friend in Palm Springs.

Blackmore and Coker, of Santa Rosa, N.M., were shot Sunday afternoon on Interstate 40, approximately seven miles west of Santa Rosa.

Coker was killed instantly. Pack said, when a bullet struck him in the forehead. Blackmore, shot in the chest, died en route to Santa Rosa Hospital.

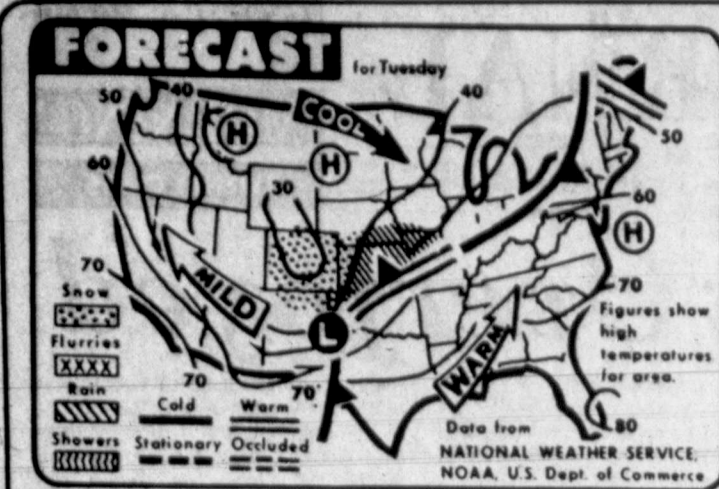

The incident occurred at 12:17 p.m. after Coker stopped Blackmore for what apparently was a routine license check.

Witnesses told police Coker and Blackmore faced each other about six feet apart beside Coker's patrol car before they fired shots at each other and simultaneously fell to the ground. Coker was pronounced dead at the scene about 12:30 p.m. (MST) by medical investigator Eddie Martinez.

Pack said Coker's service revolver apparently was taken from him, unloaded and placed on the floorboard of the patrol car. How the men ended up out-

Three-Way GOP Battle Developing

By BILL KIDD
A-J Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Right now, the battle in Texas for the GOP presidential nomination looks like a struggle between John Connally and Ronald Reagan — with George Bush cast in the role of potential upset winner.

That, at least, is the reading — filtered and condensed — from Republican Party officials and workers in the campaigns of the three apparent front-runners.

Connally chose Texas for the kick-off of his official campaign, and workers in the Connally organization agree that he'll need a strong showing in Texas to assist with his nomination attempt.

That Reagan is strong in Texas is readily admitted by Connally's workers

— but they also insist that Connally has the ability to overcome what they see as support remaining from Reagan's effort, three years ago.

Carrying Texas will be a key objective with Reagan, they believe, since Reagan was able to come to the state and win, in the face of support for then incumbent President Gerald Ford by party leaders.

"It was quite some feat to knock him off in Texas," one Connally supporter says of the Ford-Reagan brouhaha of '76.

"If Reagan cannot duplicate that effort, with a Republican not in the White House...it will indicate that he's lost strength," he reasons.

But beating Reagan — and Bush — won't be a cakewalk.

One reason for that is Bush's closeness with a number of party faithful and his organization, which seems especially strong in the Houston area.

Bush's folks say their "primary project" — which may be an intentional pun — is to use qualifying petitions to get his name on the May 3 ballot.

His supporters agree that they're facing an uphill fight to beat both Connally and Reagan, but insist that "it's going to be a very close, contested three-man race."

Bush's staff is in the process of "targeting" various congressional districts for intensive campaign efforts.

Data Processing Switch May Aid HSCH Billing

By KIM COBB
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Patients released from Health Sciences Center Hospital should get an accurate "bill that looks like a bill" with the switch-over in the teaching hospital's data processing system, a hospital official said Monday.

Members of the Lubbock County Hospital District's finance committee were reviewing the contract with data processing firm Shared Medical Services, going over the fine points of the document. Beyond minor changes in the wording, the group appeared generally satisfied with the contract.

Already approved by the district's board of managers, the contract provides for a switch-over from the present data processing system — Hospital Management Service — during the first week in January. The old system has been blamed for many of the billing problems which bogged down the hospital's business department until a few months ago.

Finance committee members seemed relieved that the bills produced by SMS are relatively easy to read, a feature they hope will alleviate some of the confusion created by the bills in the past.

"It looks like a bill," Charles Smith, controller of patient accounts, said. He warned, however, there probably always would be confusion between bills issued by the hospital (Health Sciences Center Hospital) and the related clinic (Health Sciences Centers).

Finance committee members were joined by representatives from the hospital's billing and data processing departments for advisement on the contract.

tract. Data processing director Becky Vincent seemed concerned that the new service would mean a cutback in equipment.

But the new service apparently intends to make better use of the equipment available. Mrs. Vincent also asked for an on-site visit of a facility serviced by SMS to provide observation of the new system at work.

Airline Introduces New Discount Plans

Braniff International Airways has introduced a new system of discount fares that could save Lubbock passengers as much as 40 percent on certain flights.

One plan offering a 40 percent discount on airfare connects Braniff's six Florida destinations — Miami, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, Orlando, Tampa and Jacksonville — with Dallas-Fort Worth and other Braniff cities including San Antonio, Denver, New Orleans and Memphis.

All other Braniff markets will have discounts based on roundtrip mileage, according to a spokesman in the airlines home office. Discounts will range from 15 percent of the fare for flights under 1,000 miles to 35 percent for flights of more than 1,500 miles. All fares require a seven day minimum stay.

In 1671, the first governor of the Bahamas was appointed and commissioned to have an elective assembly of 20 freeholders to help him govern.

Grain Worker Escapes Injury

ABERNATHY (Special) — An Abernathy man nearly found out what it's like to be buried alive Monday when the soybeans in a grain tank he was attempting to unclog avalanched, covering him up to his neck.

Frank Westmoreland, an elevator helper at Plains Grain Co. in Abernathy, spent nearly an hour standing neck deep in the soybeans before eight other men were able to free him by scooping the beans out from under him.

A dusty, but otherwise unharmed Westmoreland said he had crawled into the 60-foot tall, 30-foot diameter tank to unplug the drain, when the soybeans "just filled up around me."

When help arrived some 10 minutes later, "the situation was getting serious," said plant manager Charles Hobgood, "but it could have been worse."

Hobgood explained workers enter grain tanks "in certain cases" and had done so several times in the past at the Plains plant. No one had ever been nearly buried before, he said.

Monday's mishap will have "some effect" on plant policy, Hobgood continued. "We need to prevent this from happening again."

Wastewater Permits Renewed

AUSTIN — The Texas Water Commission has renewed the wastewater disposal permits of four Lubbock area feedlot operations.

The TWC renewed the permit of Estacado Industries Inc., which operates a feedlot located immediately east of U.S. 385 about four miles south of the intersection of FM 145 and U.S. 385 and about 16 miles south of Dimmitt in Castro County.

Also approved were permit renewals for Willis Cattle Co. Inc. The company is located six miles west of Dimmitt on Texas 86 and 1.5 miles south of the intersection of FM 1055 and Texas 86 in Castro County.

Hill's operation is located on FM 1055 about 1.5 miles north of the intersection of FM 1055 and FM 2392 and about nine miles northwest of Dimmitt.

Swisher County Cattle Co. is located on both sides of FM 214 about four miles west of the intersection of FM 214 and U.S. 87 and nine miles northeast of Tulia in Swisher County.

None of the renewed permits authorized the discharge of wastewater into or adjacent to waters of the state or change the pattern or place of disposal.

Five Convicted In Lubbock Area Crimes Paroled By Governor

AUSTIN — Five persons convicted of crimes in the Lubbock area have been paroled by Gov. Bill Clements on recommendation of the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Larry E. Beecham, convicted of burglary of a building in Lubbock County April 13, 1979, was paroled to Bee County after serving and earning one year and two months of a three-year sentence.

Bobby Follis, convicted of burglary in Dawson County Nov. 17, 1978, was paroled to Lynn County after serving and earning one year and one month of a five-year sentence.

Courthouse Named For Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter signed a bill Monday naming the federal courthouse in San Antonio after the late U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr.

Terry D. Shelton, convicted of possession of marijuana and burglary in Midland and Lubbock counties Sept. 21, and Oct. 16, 1978, was paroled to Lubbock County after serving and earning one year and eight months of a six-year sentence.

Charles A. Zimlich, convicted of theft over $200 in Lubbock County March 2, 1979, was paroled to Bexar County after serving and earning 10 months of a three-year sentence.

Elizabeth K. Hall, convicted of forgery by passing in Garza County March 5, 1979, was paroled to Lubbock County after serving and earning 10 months of a two-year sentence.

The judge was shot and killed as he left his San Antonio apartment last May. The killer remains unapprehended.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, sponsored the measure.

Failing Grades For Education

EVEN IF we were to accept the questionable assumption that federal intervention in the educational process is justifiable, which we don't because it isn't, there remains the problem of structuring and administering local programs from Washington.

Education a la Capitol Hill manages to combine the least appealing features of political expediency, academic panderism and governmental bureaucracy to fritter away billions of tax dollars on projects of dubious value.

The latest is a new cabinet-level department for education with 17,000 employees and a start-up budget of $14.2 billion. That is what we have. What we do not have is a rational mission for those people or sensible priorities for spending that money.

PAST PERFORMANCE is a reliable guide to future expectation, especially in this case, because, you see, the new department will be controlled by the same career civil servants, members of Congress and interest group lobbyists who heavily influenced the government's meddling in education when it came under the purview of HEW.

HEW, now the Department of Health and Social Services, spent almost $2.5 million to improve education concerning environmental issues, another $750,000 for projects to bring arts awareness and experience in creative arts to students and $3.5 million for programs "that enable public schools to serve the needs" of their respective communities.

Admittedly, some, if not all, of the projects embrace noble goals. But they shrink to significance when compared with the country's most profound education problem—illiteracy.

A REPORT to the Ford Foundation estimates that as many as 50 to 60 million adults may be functionally illiterate today. This appalling figure is three times that of the Soviet Union.

One out of every five Americans cannot read well enough to understand directions for the use of household articles. One out of four college freshmen requires either remedial reading or writing help.

The Right to Read program, which began operation in 1971, and the Adult Basic Education program, federally administered since 1966, ostensibly were established to assist those who lack the fundamental skills necessary to perform basic daily tasks.

Right to Read has only two more years in which to meet its inaugural goal of conquering illiteracy in this country.

The Ford Foundation's conclusion: Federal efforts to stem the tide of functional incompetence not only have been inadequate but ineffective.

Exorbitant public expenditures, in other words, have produced only insignificant gains.

AN EDITORIAL:

It's Just Like The Old Times

THE UNTHINKABLE didn't come to pass after all. After a shutdown lasting nearly a year, during which fears were expressed that they would never appear again, The Times of London, The Sunday Times and three literary and educational supplements resumed publication last week.

The long labor-management deadlock was broken Oct. 21 when the National Graphical Association, the last trade union still holding out, ratified a new agreement on wages and working conditions.

Neither side claimed victory. The only clear winners, in fact, are the readers of The Times and its sister publications—a relatively small but influential group comprising most of the British Establishment.

They have been without their favorite reading matter since last Nov. 30.

TIMES COLUMNISTS, said The Associated Press, sought to reassure readers that nothing important happened while they were away.

Bernard Levin reopened in mid-sentence with the word "moreover," and Philip Howard with "Dicebamus hesterna die," which he translated as a Latin way to say: "As I was saying when I was interrupted."

Times Newspapers Ltd. aspired to be the first company on Fleet Street to persuade the typesetters' union to accept the principle of "single keystroking," which would allow reporters, editors and some members of the ad staff to feed their copy directly into the computer for printing.

The union refused to budge, agreeing only to talk about it over the next 12 months.

MANAGEMENT DID WIN some concessions from the unions, notably a reduction of manning levels. The price was steep, however.

The new basic wage for typesetters is $500 for a four-shift week, and journalists won a 40 percent pay increase.

Whether the Times papers won lasting labor peace is very much open to question. It is possible that management and labor will be at each others' throats again a year from now if agreement is not reached in the meantime on single keystroking. It is an issue that threatens the very existence of the traditional typesetters trade, typesetters say.

But for now, English commuters, no longer forced to converse with one another, may submerge their noses in the august paper that combines the quirkiness of an eccentric earl with sheer reading excitement.

You Can Take Advice For What It's Worth

WASHINGTON—The mail has been rather heavy this week. A lady in Manhattan writes:

Dear Mr. B., I just received my bank statement from Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. and have been credited with $3 billion to my account. My husband said it couldn't be the bank's fault because they don't make errors.

He said I must have messed up my checkbook again. I went over every stub and could not find a $3 billion mistake. I found one for $17.50 and another for $60, but none for the larger amount.

I am certain someone put the $3 billion in my account by mistake. My question is, should I notify the bank or keep the information to myself in hopes that Manufacturers Trust doesn't discover it?

Please advise. Mrs. Paul Conway

DEAR MRS. CONWAY, Your husband is correct in saying that large banks do not make mistakes.

Therefore, it seems to me that you may have deposited $3 billion in your checking account and forgot to keep the receipt.

Or perhaps someone with the same name deposited $3 billion in her account and you were credited with it.

I'd advise you not to tell the bank as they will get very upset with you for bothering them on such a minor matter.

They will either ask you to move your account to another bank or will bill you with a service charge for making them go into their computers.

I would leave the $3 billion in your account for six months.

If you don't hear from Manufacturers Hanover by then you can start writing large checks on the assumption that, even if the bank made such an unlikely error, they will be too embarrassed to admit it.

Sincerely, A.B.

DEAR SIR, I live in Key West and do a lot of Seuba diving off the coast of Florida. For the past three months I keep hearing a lot of shoveling and digging when I'm under water.

Is it possible that the Russian Combat Brigade is digging a tunnel from Cuba to Miami? If so, should I notify President Carter?

Lee Pentress

Dear Lee, Please don't say anything. President Carter is having enough trouble getting his SALT Treaty through. If Sen. Frank Church hears about the tunnel he'll demand that the President do something about it.

The Soviets will maintain that they're only building the tunnel as a training exercise.

Carter will have to take their word for it because he still doesn't know what the Soviet brigade is doing in Cuba.

Besides you're not sure the tunnel is being dug by the Russians. It could be our own CIA digging one to Havana to find out what is going on there.

Sincerely, A.B.

DEAR MR. B., I'm a marshmallow salesman and I met this nice guy in a bar in Bloomington, Minn. He said he was the manager of the New York Yankees and he bought me a drink.

Then I offered him a free marshmallow and he hit me in the mouth. I had to have 18 stitches on my lip. Now he wants me to do a Lite Beer TV commercial with him. What do you think?

Yours truly, Bloody Manny

Dear Manny,

As soon as your lip heals I'd do it. There is a lot more money to be made in selling beer than in toasting marshmallows.

But tell him if he socks you in the mouth again, you will hit him over the head with a beer bottle.

Letters to the Editor

Lubbock Reader Defends 'Ban On School Religion'

Editor, Avalanche-Journal: The president of our school board, Mr. Hasie, is reported in the Oct. 15 morning edition as saying that a majority of citizens wants religion in the schools; therefore, we should have religion in the schools.

He is undoubtedly correct on one point: A majority probably would like to see our public schools teach and support the dominant religious persuasions. He is, however, appallingly wrong on two other matters.

First, constitutionally guaranteed rights are, by definition, not a matter of majority rule. The very essence of the concept of constitutional rights is that there are some things that majorities cannot impose upon minorities however much they may desire to do so.

Second, Mr. Hasie is misinformed as to the content of the rights in question. A Supreme Court decision as to the meaning of the Constitution, until overturned, becomes the law of the land.

The Court said in Engle v. Vitale, "...neither the fact that the prayer may be denominationally neutral nor the fact that its observance is voluntary can serve to free it from the limitations of the Establishment Clause..." (370 U.S. 421 at p. 430). The "Bible reading cases" Abington Township v. Schempp and Murray v. Curlett (373 U.S. 930) held that reading the Bible without comment violated the Establishment Clause even though the child may be excused from listening.

Finally, there is really no such thing as voluntarism where school sponsored devotional activity is concerned. In order to avoid ceremonies that offend them, students must become non-conformists and resist the enormous social pressure of their peers. Establishing oneself as different is not a popular or widespread trait among schoolchildren. Religion is a divisive activity while public education is supposed to be integrative.

American Veterans Did Not 'Die In Vain,' Says Reader

Editor, Avalanche-Journal: On Veterans Day 1979, American soil was trembling. An earthquake? No, it was the collective sobbing of thousands upon thousands of once proud, but now restless, American souls—those that have gone before, proudly and bravely, upholding the at one time unchallenged tradition: "America, Land of the Free and Home of the Brave."

How those souls must be trembling as they view the events of today.

Their country's property and even their countrymen seized by another nation.

The flag, for which they unquestioningly gave up their lives, set afire unchallenged.

Foreign nationals permitted to march in the streets in support of a government that has openly advocated the downfall of their once brave and powerful country.

A training camp for insurgency openly operating less than 100 miles from the shores they died to protect.

Oh, how those souls must wonder: "That they shall not have died in vain." Is that just so much Veterans Day rhetoric? Are they doomed to eternal shame? Or will their living friends, relatives and countrymen shed the shackles of apathy, square their shoulders with heads held high, chest out, shout for all to hear: This is America, Land of the Free and Home of the Brave? And our veterans, whether lying at rest here at home or under foreign soil have not died in vain...believe it!

RSA Official Comments On South African Articles

Editor, Avalanche-Journal: I read your series of editorials on my country and wish to commend your newspaper on the depth of insight portrayed in these.

South Africa is a young country with one of the most complex population make-ups in the world. People of different cultural backgrounds, speaking more than 14 different languages, belonging to many different and conflicting religions and having different judicial systems were arbitrarily united by 19th Century colonial policies.

Many visiting journalists can not, or will not, fathom the complexity of the situation or the real issues involved. Your newspaper showed a refreshing and objective approach by which your readers can only benefit.

In maintaining the precarious balance between East and West, South Africa and Rhodesia, which controls more than 98 percent of the free world's uranium as well as other essential strategic minerals, are of great importance. For this reason every effort has been made to turn these two countries away from their Western orientation. The race issue has been exploited to this effect.

Although every honest South African would admit that mistakes have been made in the past, we are proud of the fact that no other country in Africa can provide its people the standard of living, education and social security enjoyed by all South African's people. For this reason South Africa is faced with the problem of thousands of illegal aliens crossing into the country every month.

The state of human rights in general in South Africa was rated by an independent institution in New York (Freedom House) as better than some 46 UN member-nations (many of which attack South Africa in international forums but depend heavily on assistance from us in keeping their people fed and economies afloat.)

There is another side to this coin, as 96 percent of all Americans who have visited South Africa can testify. The Avalanche-Journal has portrayed some of this in an exemplary and unemotional manner. Congratulations!

Natie de Swardt, Consul (Information), South African Consulate, Houston

Ted Kennedy Best 'Runner' In Demo Candidate Stable

Editor, Avalanche-Journal: I noticed that the Democrats have been delving into Camelot, and have turned the Camel out of the lot to run for the Presidency of the U.S.A.

If they are hunting for a runner they couldn't have done better, for he has had lots of experience running, mostly from things...

When in big trouble, Ted Kennedy's repeated history has been to run.

VIRGINIA PAYETTE:

Big City Cops Out

DALLAS—A lot of people—from President Carter to Mexican civil rights groups—didn't join in the celebration of "be-kind-to-your-local-police week" in two of the country's biggest cities.

That's because they'd already done their darndest to make it "throw-the-cops-in-jail week," for everything from brutality to murder. You can see why they weren't exactly cracking out the bubbly.

Neither are a lot of other people, especially the citizens of Philadelphia and Houston.

It's the police in those cities who have just wiggled off the legal hook, courtesy of a couple of sympathetic judges, and residents are beginning to wonder what really goes on behind the bars in their local hoosegows.

CHARGES OF police brutality are not unusual. They pop up in every big city (and some little ones), with the boys in blue proclaiming the prisoner who died with a bullet in his back committed suicide, and aroused natives accusing them of watching too much "Kojak."

But the Philadelphia case is unusual because it was Jimmy Carter's own U.S. Justice Department that filed brutality charges against the City of Brotherly Love, Mayor Frank Rizzo (who used to be police commissioner), and 18 other top city and police officials.

Griffin Bell accused them of condoning systematic and criminal violence on the part of the police that "shocks the conscience," including shooting non-violent suspects and abusing handcuffed prisoners.

THIS WAS the first time in history that the federal government has gone after a whole police department. And that apparently was the trouble.

A buckshot suit like that isn't worth the brief it's printed on, according to the federal district judge who threw it out of court.

Hizzoner said the attorney general had no authority to bring such an all-encompassing suit and that to recognize it would be "to vest an excessive and dangerous degree of power in the hands of the attorney general."

In a 44-page opinion, he went on to scold the administration for bringing in a "stacked deck," knowing that Rizzo and the other defendants would never get a chance to have "their day in court." (Rizzo is not eligible for re-election.)

On the same day, halfway across the country in Houston, another judge gave the back of his gavel to a federal appeals court which had ruled he goofed in a civil rights case and ordered him to go back and do it right.

HERE'S WHAT happened.

Back in May of 1977, Joe Campos Torres, a Hispanic veteran of Vietnam with a reputation for violence, was arrested for being drunk in a bar.

Instead of taking him in, four officers drove him to a secluded parking lot where, according to court testimony, they beat him up and then forced him to jump into a bayou to "see if a wet-back can swim." Torres drowned.

Houstonians, particularly the black and Hispanic groups, agitated for murder charges, saying they were fed up with the Houston police department's lack of respect for prisoner's rights, or words to that effect.

It is a fairly widespread reputation. White Houstonians treat it as a grisly joke. Local columnists refer to it openly, and the blacks and Hispanic groups stage street demonstrations with some regularity.

THE POLICE beat the murder rap in court, but in a later civil-rights trial, three were found guilty of letting their prisoner drown (a fourth is awaiting a separate trial).

Judge Ross Sterling sentenced them to a year on misdemeanor charges of "violating the victim's civil rights."

He also slapped them on the wrist with a 10-year, suspended sentence each, plus five years probation on felony charges resulting from Torres' death. The maximum sentence for this is life.

That's when the Justice Department got into the act, reminding the judge that probation is not allowed when the possible penalty is life. It ordered him to call the officers back in and resentence them to a jail term.

WHICH HE did. He gave them each a year and a day. But the year is to run concurrently with the earlier one-year misdemeanor sentences, which, in effect, adds just one day to their prison terms.

It also makes them eligible for parole, which they would not be if their sentences had been set at exactly one year.

The local reaction was predictable. Hispanic groups called it an "incredible travesty of justice" by a "racist judge" and called on President Carter to remove Sterling from the federal bench.

Carter (at this writing) hasn't answered yet. But the tough guys in Philadelphia are taking boxing lessons, and minority groups in Houston are learning to swim.

Board Warns Citibus To Hold Down Expenses

Transit Advisory Board members learned Monday that Citibus spent $1,400 more than was budgeted for fuel and lubricants during October, but they vowed they will not ask the city council for additional funding.

"You're going to really have to keep this (expense) under control," board member Bill Dean cautioned city transit coordinator John Wilson. "We don't want this to escalate."

Dr. Milton Smith, board president, echoed Dean's concern, saying, "there are only so many times we can go to city council with our hat in our hand."

One-time seasonal expenses such as $1,800 worth of antifreeze which was added to all 41 buses in the fleet, helped boost operating costs over budget in that category, Wilson explained.

The cost of fuel, may rise faster than his projection of 90 cents per gallon (whole sale) by the end of the year, Wilson said.

"With this Iranian crisis, it may go to 90 cents by January," he said. He said, though, that if the price of fuel does rise that rapidly, ridership also will rise above projected levels, offsetting the cost of gasoline.

"We won't be going to the city council to request extra funds," he said. In other business, Dwight Maddox of Transit Management Co. of Lubbock, reported security at the Avenue C Citibus garage will be increased following two recent burglaries in which 18 tires were stolen.

Following an Oct. 23 meeting of an advisory committee on the handicapped, Wilson prepared a transition plan which will make Citibus "nondiscriminatory in services, policies, procedures, equipment or facilities to handicapped persons" by 1983.

He asked the board to review the plan before a public hearing at the Dec. 17 TAB meeting.

Optimists To Honor Outstanding Lubbock Junior High Students

The outstanding seventh, eighth and ninth grade students from 12 city junior highs will be honored tonight in ceremonies at First Christian Church.

Youngsters from nine public and

Man Breaks Record By Eating 100 Jalapeno Peppers

PAMPA (AP) — It was more than an ordinary old case of heartburn. "My stomach felt like a small campfire," Ronnie Farmer said after gulping down 100 fiery jalapeno peppers.

"I really hurt, and my throat felt like sandpaper," he said Sunday. The 29-year-old plumber ate the peppers in a record 14 minutes and 19 seconds as 75 spectators watched.

According to the Guinness Book of World Records, the previous record was set by a Michigan man who ate 94 peppers in 1 hour and 51 minutes.

Farmer, who has an ulcer, tried to break the 94-pepper record last March. But severe stomach pains forced him to quit after eating 64 peppers in 7 minutes.

Why did he stop this time? "Would you believe I lost my appetite?" he said.

Retardation Plea Nixed In Sexual Abuse Case

By KAY BELL
Avalanche-Journal Staff

After an emotion-filled hour of testimony Monday afternoon, State District Judge William R. Shaver denied defense motions to have Ralph Edward Williams declared mentally retarded and sentenced Williams to five years in prison for the sexual abuse of a 7-year-old Lubbock boy.

Last month, a jury found the Williams, 26, guilty of sexually abusing the youngster. The young victim took the witness stand and identified the defendant as the man who took him to a cul-de-sac at Bean Elementary School and molested him April 7.

When the judge pronounced the prison term, Williams' 62-year-old mother, who had taken the stand and asked the judge to assess probation for her son, left the 140th District Courtroom in tears.

"I appreciate this family's love 100 percent and my ruling will not depreciate it in any way," Shaver said quietly before announcing the sentence. "But this court has other obligations."

During the punishment hearing, defense attorneys Clifford and Mike Brown again employed the strategy they used during Williams' October trial.

At the trial, the attorneys called psychologist Richard Wall, who testified that on several tests administered Williams, the defendant scored at the retarded level. Monday afternoon, the attorneys emphasized Wall's testimony and asked Shaver to postpone the hearing until Williams could be tested further.

Shaver, however, pointed out other testimony that indicated Williams is not retarded and denied the motion. The judge also denied the defense motion seeking to have Williams sentenced under the Retarded Persons Act of the penal code.

Williams' 63-year-old father also testified at Monday's hearing. Both parents said their son had been living at their 41st Street home since his conviction and they were willing and able to furnish Williams with 24-hour supervision if the judge granted him probation.

Prosecutor Rick Howell presented no new evidence during the hearing but asked the judge to remember trial testimony and consider the nature of the case.

Howell, felony chief for the criminal district attorney's office, also pointed out the defendant's past history, also brought out in trial testimony, concerning criminal sexual acts.

Earlier testimony revealed Williams was convicted of a federal indecency with a child charge in 1973 and given a probated term. After a similar offense in 1975, Williams' probation was revoked and he was remanded to federal prison.

He was released on parole from the federal facility in 1977 and still under parole conditions when the April incident occurred, Howell noted.

"Most of all, consider the protection of society in this case," Howell told the court, and asked the judge to sentence Williams to the maximum 20 years in prison.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Double check your judgement early in the day and make sure it is correct. Find new ways that can increase your income in the future. Study whatever has been puzzling you in the past.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be sure you have correct data before making any important decisions today. Be alert to new opportunities now present.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your mate is cooperative so make the most of this now. Your intuition will improve as the days get longer.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use caution in whatever you do early in the day, but later all goes smoothly and you can throw caution to the winds.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure your activities are well scheduled before you start working. Strive for more harmony with family members.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be sure to handle difficult work early in the day so you will have more time for social activities later in the day.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study new interests that could be profitable in the future. Make sure you invest money wisely and well. Be more cheerful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Contact higher-ups who can give the support you need at this time. The evening is fine for social pleasures with congenials.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't take any chances with money in the morning or you could regret it later. Don't let an outsider take advantage of you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Morning is not the time to go after personal goals, but the rest of the day is fine. Friends can bring you pleasure in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Concentrate on how best to solve problems that have been puzzling to you in the past. Health treatments can be helpful to you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day for seeing as many persons as you can, either for business or personal reasons. Show that you have wisdom.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan how to expand in your line of endeavor. Be sure not to let an opponent upset you in any way. Relax in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be able to comprehend anything having large scope to it, be projects or philosophies. There could be fame and wealth in this chart. Teach good manners and give good religious training early in life.

Candidate Slates Tech Speech

Republican presidential candidate George Bush will speak at Texas Tech University and attend a luncheon at the Hilton Inn here today as part of a brief campaign swing through Texas.

Bush, a former GOP congressman from Houston and Midland oilman, has served as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations and as director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

His campaigning today, which will include stops in Wichita Falls and Midland as well as Lubbock, is his first since winning straw polls in Iowa, Maine and Rhode Island, and finishing a strong third in a similar ballot Saturday in Florida.

Bush will arrive in Lubbock at 10:45 a.m. and attend a $125-a-plate luncheon at the Hilton at noon. He will speak at the University Center Ballroom on the Texas Tech campus at 2 p.m. before leaving for Midland.

Bush is considered perhaps the most moderate of the 10 announced GOP presidential candidates.

PECAN PIE NEW HOLIDAY DESSERT RECIPE

CLIP AND SAVE

TEXAS PECAN PIE

Crust:
1½ cups all-purpose flour ¾ cup shortening
½ teaspoon salt 3 tablespoons water

Mix flour and salt together; add shortening and cut into flour with fork or pastry blender. Add water and mix gently with fork in stirring motion. Gather pastry into a ball and place in pie tin. With tips of fingers, spread pastry along bottom and sides of pie tin, shaping a high, fluted edge. Makes one 9" pie shell.

Filling:
1½ cups Imperial Dark Brown Sugar (firmly packed) ½ teaspoon salt
½ cup Imperial Granulated Sugar 2 eggs
¼ cup water ½ cup evaporated milk
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour 1½ cup pecan halves
¾ teaspoon vanilla

Combine first five ingredients in small bowl and mix well. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add evaporated milk and mix well. Stir in pecan halves and vanilla. Mix well and turn into unbaked 9" pie shell. Cook in preheated 400°F. oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350°F. and cook an additional 35 to 40 minutes, or until filling is puffed in center and is well browned. Let pie cool before cutting.

Ambassador Chides Clements

Governor Urged To Stay Out Of International Diplomacy

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Ambassador at large to Mexico Bob Krueger, a Democrat, said Monday Republican Gov. Bill Clements ought to leave international diplomacy between the United States and Mexico to the federal government.

"Any time the governors of border states can talk about common problems, it can be beneficial — but I have had Mexican officials tell me the oil spill can't have been too bad when your own governor of Texas said 'what oil spill?'" Krueger said.

"There is a temptation in Mexico to assume the actions of state governors reflect national policy," Krueger said. "Sometimes it's not clear where areas of responsibility lie. But the constitutional responsibility for relations between countries lies with the federal government."

Krueger, a former Texas congressman recently appointed by President Carter as U.S. coordinator for Mexican affairs, made the remarks at a press conference before an appearance at Texas A & M. He said the runaway oil well off Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula that stained Texas beaches this summer will play an unimportant role in the long-term relationship between the two countries.

"There is no country with whom the United States has a more important relationship than Mexico," he said. "There are far more areas of accord than discord."

Krueger cited cooperation in the policing of narcotics traffic and a recent joint scientific agreement between the two countries for the development of a wild, rubber-producing desert bush.

Pilgrims Invent First Leftovers

ENGLEWOOD CLIFFS, N.J. (Special) — When the first American settlers sat down to the original Thanksgiving feast, the bounty of the harvest and the gifts from native Americans must have been heart-warming as well as stomach-filling. When we imagine that the celebration was joyful, the name of the game was still survival with the lean winter months just ahead. While much of the scenario is conjecture, we can be fairly sure of one thing — after the feast those early settlers didn't waste a morsel! The first Thanksgiving feast had given rise to the first Thanksgiving leftovers!

Times are certainly better, but leftovers are still an integral part of the Thanksgiving celebration. And the recipes that follow were created with this twofold function in mind. Serve Creamy Onions on Thursday and enjoy the leftovers in an Onion-Green Bean Casserole or Creamy Onion Soup later in the weekend. Or try Cranberry-Pineapple Sauce with lots of leftovers to pop into muffins made from a mix, as a filling for make-ahead crepes, or for Cranberry-Pineapple Sundae. And of course, there will be leftover turkey and gravy which team up to create a variety of open-face sandwiches.

To make the smoothest holiday gravy and sauces use corn starch as the thickener. It's easier than flour to work with and the results will be smooth and translucent.

For more no-fail, no-fuss sauce and gravy ideas, write to Argo Sampler, Dept. PS-NB, Box 307, Coventry, Ct.

06238. You'll receive a 4-color (7x10-inch) card which includes, along with the gravies and sauces, eight fruit pie recipes.

HERB TURKEY GRAVY

1/4 cup turkey pan drippings
1 cup coarsely chopped onion
1 cup sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup corn starch
1 tsp. chopped parsley
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. dried thyme leaves
4 cups turkey broth or chicken bouillon

After roasting turkey, pour off drippings in roasting pan leaving brown crusty parts in pan. Return 1/4 cup drippings to pan. Add onion and mushrooms; cook over medium heat about five minutes or until tender. Stir in corn starch, parsley, salt and thyme. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in broth until smooth. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 2 minutes. Makes five cups, enough for Thanksgiving with leftovers for hot turkey sandwiches.

HOT TURKEY SANDWICHES

Hot Turkey-Broccoli Sandwiches: For each sandwich, place on toast a tomato slice, hot broccoli spears and sliced turkey. Top with hot gravy.

Pineapple-Turkey Sandwiches: For each sandwich, place turkey slices on toast. Top with hot gravy and add a slice of pineapple. Garnish with watercress.

Florentine-Turkey Sandwiches: For each sandwich, place 1/4 cup cooked spinach on toast. Top with turkey slices and hot gravy. Garnish with sliced celery.

Turkey-Sprout Sandwiches: For each sandwich, place turkey slices on toast. Top with hot gravy and bean or alfalfa sprouts.

Apple-Turkey Sandwiches: For each sandwich, place turkey slices on toast. Top with hot gravy and fried apple rings. Garnish with parsley.

CREAMY ONIONS

3 tbsps. corn oil margarine
3 tbsps. corn starch
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup dry sherry
3 lbs. small white onions, cooked, drained

2 tbsps. chopped parsley
In large saucepan melt margarine over low heat. Stir in corn starch, salt and pepper until smooth. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk and sherry until smooth. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Add onions and parsley. Stirring occasionally, cook over medium heat 3 minutes or until heated through. Makes eight servings. If there are any leftovers, turn them into other dishes as suggested below.

Onion-Green Bean Casserole: In casserole dish stir together leftover Creamy Onions, cooked green beans and shredded Swiss cheese. Sprinkle additional shredded Swiss cheese over top. Cover. Bake in 350-degree F. oven 30 minutes or until heated through, uncovering during last five minutes to brown cheese.

Creamy Onion Soup: Place leftover Creamy Onions in blender container; cover. Blend on high speed 15 seconds or until smooth. Turn into saucepan. Thin to desired consistency with milk or chicken broth. Reheat gently over medium heat just until hot (do not boil.)

Cranberry-Pineapple Sauce
1 can (20 oz.) pineapple chunks in own juice

2 cups cranberries
1 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. ground allspice
2 tbsps. corn starch
1/4 cup water

Drain pineapple chunks; reserve liquid. In 2-quart saucepan stir together reserved liquid, cranberries, sugar and allspice. Bring to boil over medium heat; reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes or until cranberry skins pop. Stir together corn starch and water. Add to cranberry mixture. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil one minute. Stir in pineapple chunks. Cover; refrigerate. Makes about 4 cups, enough for a Thanksgiving side dish with leftovers to use in a variety of ways. Serve over ice cream.

To Your Good Health

By PAUL DONOHUE, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: During a television interview three doctors were extolling the virtues of aspirin as a prevention against heart attacks and strokes. Two of the doctors and the reporter claimed to be taking three to four aspirin every day. What is your opinion on this? Any possible side effects? — L.K.

Many large studies have been and are being conducted to see if aspirin helps prevent strokes and heart attacks. If the arteries leading to the heart or brain become clogged, blood cannot get to these organs, resulting in death of some of their tissue. The aspirin idea stems from a couple of simple facts. One component of the substance that clogs arteries are blood platelets, which we know have the ability to stick together. That's how blood clots. We know that aspirin interferes with the ability of platelets to stick together. The theory is that arteries will not become plugged if no platelet clot forms.

Two or three aspirins daily ought not to hurt you, but you should talk it over with your doctor. Ideas as elegantly simple as this often have basic flaws. For example, aspirin can have adverse side effects — bleeding from the stomach being one of them. The aspirin's anti-clotting effect is not limited to blood inside vessels.

My personal view on such things is that of the English poet Alexander Pope: "Be not the first by whom the new is tried, nor yet the last to lay the old aside."

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have lived in the same apartment for a long time on two-year leases. I pay $300 a month rent.

When I moved in, the landlord demanded a security deposit of $600 to cover the last two months of the lease, but he has never paid me any interest on that deposit. Somehow this doesn't seem right. After all, it's my money, and he has been using it for years.

Your answer will help me as well as many others. — Miami, Fla. Questioner

Dear Questioner: I consulted with Thomas Robb of Sudler and Co., in Chicago. Mr. Robb said security deposit requirements vary according to state. Usually, the determining factor is the number of units in the building. In Illinois, a tenant is entitled to interest on his security deposit (five per cent a year) if he lives in a building that has 25 units or more.

After Mr. Robb phoned the Florida Real Estate Board he reported, "Those regulations are quite complicated. Your correspondent should make that call himself."

Readers who want to find out how the law reads in their state should look in the white pages under Real Estate Board. I'll bet a dollar to a dime pickles that a lot of people who didn't know they were entitled to interest on their security deposits are going to come into some unexpected cash. You're welcome, friends!

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a lawyer who specializes in domestic problems. I hear from plenty of divorced men, enraged because their in-laws intercepted child-support checks. I also get complaints against children who grab welfare and Social Security checks addressed to their elderly parents.

So please stop telling people there's a federal law against opening letters addressed to others. There may be a law, but I've never heard of a conviction, so — Tell It Like It Is

Dear Tell It: OK. Here are the facts: Once a letter is in the mailbox, it's under federal jurisdiction. The problem is this: When the letter is taken out of the mailbox and brought into the house, it is troubled with them. I had four removed, but others come and go. I am 23 and overweight, but my doctor says this has nothing to do with it. Is there anything I can do to prevent them? — D.F.

I believe the term is "hidradenitis suppurativa" and I wouldn't want to touch that phonetically with a 10-foot pole.

It involves sweat glands around the nipples and in the groin area. They become infected, usually with the staph or strep germs.

In its early form, the treatment involves incision and drainage. Careful washing of the areas affected is a must. If the gland problem persists then removal of the skin along with the infected glands may be the answer. This requires subsequent skin grafting. We don't know why some people's glands behave this way.

Dear Dr. Donohue: What can you recommend for women who have backache while carrying their babies? — B.L.

Most women with this problem just have not adjusted properly to the new passenger being carried.

They should not develop a pregnancy slouch, but make special efforts to stand erect. Sensible heels, a firm mattress and local heat and gentle massage are often enough to overcome the problem. For some, a maternity girdle may help.

Did you know that 80 percent of stroke victims resume to some degree their former lives? The booklet "Stroke Recovery — Hope and Help" describes the causes and treatment of stroke. For a copy write Dr. Donohue, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, Ill. 60611, enclosing 35 cents and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I would like some information on hidradenitis cysts. Over the past two years I have been no longer under the protection of the postal authorities.

Dear Ann Landers: You've printed letters about husbands who refuse to bathe, smell like goats, won't use a toothbrush and sleep in their underwear.

My mother's problem was just the opposite. She was crazy clean. Guests had to remove their shoes at the door if they didn't pass inspection. She used so much Lysol our home smelled like a hospital. She didn't wash the silverware, she sterilized it!

We have two daughters. I'm raising them to be neat, but I don't want them to be nuts. My husband says I am too lenient. He calls them sloppy. In my opinion they are normal 11-and-13-year-olds. I don't think they should wash their hair more than once a week. If a few garments aren't hung up — so what? Comment! — Greenwich

Dear G.: I suspect that because of your own mother's rigidity, you are going to the other extreme without realizing it.

If your husband is complaining, I'd bet there's something to complain about. Sloppy boys are bad enough, but girls who grow up to be slobbers are yucky. So, tighten up, Mother, for their sake.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NO NAME IN NEW ULM, MINN.": Constantly checking up on your good-looking husband may not make him more faithful — but it will make him more careful.

How to — and how much? Find out with Ann Landers' new booklet, "How, What, and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." For your copy send 50 cents along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Hints From Heloise

HI, THERE!

Just as I promised, here's the recipe for Old-Fashioned Turkey Dressing, our family's Thanksgiving tradition started years ago by my mother and carried on by me.

One thing that's unique about making this dressing is that it's cooked in a baking pan. Weird? Not if you like your dressing tender and crisp, not soggy.

You'll also find that when you don't cook the dressing inside the bird, the turkey slices more easily, and won't have that sage flavor.

For those of you who cook dressing in the bird, government bulletins warn there is a danger of bacteria in the body cavity of a stuffed bird after it has been kept a few days. Dressing should be totally removed from the bird immediately after roasting.

My recipe calls for biscuits, cornbread and white bread, but I've found that canned biscuits work just as well (can't taste any difference.) I use my own Southern cornbread recipe for the stuffing, but a package of cornbread mix is fine.

Bake the biscuits and cornbread at the same time and toast the white bread in the same oven too. This can be done a day ahead of time, or weeks ahead and frozen. And now for the recipe:

OLD-FASHIONED TURKEY DRESSING
 1 can of 10 refrigerator biscuits (baked)
 2 to 3 cups yellow cornbread (prepared by directions on package)
 1 (1-pound) loaf of bread, toasted
 1 1/2 cups chopped onions
 2 cups chopped celery
 1 cup chopped celery tops
 1 tablespoon sage
 1 tablespoon poultry seasoning
 2 cups water
 1 cup chicken bouillon or turkey drippings
 Salt and pepper to taste
 2 eggs

Break breads into small pieces and put into a big pot. Set aside.

Put all remaining ingredients — except eggs — in a saucepan. Let boil 10 minutes or until celery and onions are tender, then pour over the broken bread and toss. If it's not as moist as you like, add more liquid. Cool.

Add eggs, mixing lightly. Place dressing in greased baking pan. Bake at 300F for 30 minutes. If you like it extremely moist, pile the dressing high in the pan. For drier dressing, spread it about two inches thick in the pan.

May your Thanksgiving table be shared by many who hold dear this holiday season. — Love, Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

While reading through some old congratulatory cards received by my parents at their wedding, I especially got a kick out of one sent by my aunt and uncle.

She wrote: "One day, not long after Joe and I were married, I decided to try out a new recipe for yeast bread. 'Well, I goofed and decided not to tell Joe how much money I had wasted. The only way I could think to keep the secret from him was bury the bread dough.' 'The next morning we decided to eat breakfast on the patio. When I went back inside for some more coffee, Joe began admiring our pretty yard. 'While in the house I heard him yell, 'Quick, get me a hoe! There's a salamander coming up through the grass!' 'How was I supposed to know the sun would make the dough rise?'"

Hope this gave you a laugh as it did me. — Debbie

The whole office staff was tickled silly trying to visualize that buried yeast bread rising in the sun.

Isn't it encouraging to know that life's little tragedies, things that make us want to cry with disappointment, give us a good laugh in later years?

Thanks for sharing. — Heloise

Why not share a good laugh with Heloise and her friends. Send your Letter of Laughter to Heloise, 235 E. 45th St., New York, N.Y. 10017. Give someone who needs a lift a giggle today.

and let it ride to East's jack. East returned a club. Now South led a second heart, rose with dummy's ace and wound up with egg all over his chin.

South explained to us that he was the most unlucky bridge player in the world and that only the singleton jack of hearts in the East hand could have led to his defeat.

South had been unlucky, but he had overlooked a perfect safety play that would have guaranteed his contract against any and all combinations of adverse cards. That safety play would have been to cash dummy's ace of hearts instead of leading the nine for a finesse. If neither honor dropped South would return to his hand, lead the nine of clubs and let it ride.

Suppose that it lost to the jack. The defenders would only have two hearts left. Two of dummy's hearts could be ruffed and eventually the fifth heart would set up.

You can check on all other combinations and will see that South is sure of that club discard once he has made this safety play.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

If South can see the singleton jack of hearts in the East hand he will make seven.

Today's South won the diamond, drew trumps with one lead, led his nine of hearts

Hearty Snack Made From Cheese

By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA Food Editor

Everyone loves to nibble while waiting for the Thanksgiving dinner to be served after watching the many football clashes that fill holiday time. Curled dill-battered rye slices are just right to hold Norwegian sardines and a farm cheese spread.

This is an economical nutritious way to snack. Make your own farm cheese with sour cream, minced parsley, green onions, paprika and cottage cheese. Dieters may eat this on slices of tomato, onion, cucumber or celery sticks.

CRANBERRIES

During the heyday of clipper ships and whaling voyages, American vessels always carried barrels of cranberries packed in spring water to protect sailors against scurvy. In the same manner that English "limeys" ate limes, American sailors ate cranberries. It was actually the Vitamin C, which no one had ever heard of, that did the trick.

NORWEGIAN CURLED RYE WITH SARDINES AND FARM CHEESE

1 carton (8 oz.) cottage cheese
 2 tbsps. dairy sour cream
 1 tsp. paprika
 1/4 cup minced parsley
 1/4 cup minced green onions
 Salt and pepper
 1 small loaf buffet rye bread (about 4 inches high)
 1/2 cup melted butter
 Dill weed
 3 cans (3 3/4 ozs. ea.) Norway sardines, drained

In mixing bowl, combine cottage cheese, sour cream, paprika, parsley, onions and seasoning. Cover and refrigerate a few hours or overnight to mellow flavors. When ready to serve, brush slices of bread with butter and sprinkle with dill. Keeping the shape of the loaf, tie string around sides of entire loaf and bake on cookie sheet in 400 degree F. oven for 10 minutes. Serve cheese on warm toasted rye, top with sardines. Makes six hearty servings.

Maternity Care Available

Childbirth With Preparation of Lubbock recently became a member of the International Childbirth Education Association (ICEA), according to a group spokesman.

ICEA is a federation of groups and individuals interested in family-centered maternity and infant care. Publications, conferences, teacher certification, and contact with other prepared childbirth organizations on an international scale are available through ICEA.

As a service/resource organization, the primary goal of ICEA is to foster family-centered maternity care.

Childbirth With Preparation of Lubbock teaches the Pavlov-Lamazé method of prepared childbirth. Instructors teach couples in small groups usually in the instructor's home. A pregnant couple attends a prepared childbirth class series in the last two months of pregnancy.

The class series is seven weeks in duration including such topics as information about labor and delivery, relaxation and breathing techniques used during labor and delivery, theory behind the Pavlov-Lamazé method of prepared childbirth, variations of labor and delivery, medication information, postpartum information for after the baby comes, and a labor rehearsal.

A class series for women expecting to have or recently having had a Cesarean section birth and the Early Bird Class for women in early pregnancy are also taught by Childbirth With Preparation of Lubbock.

Housewife Has Purse Snatched

A 23-year-old Lubbock housewife lost more than $200 in food stamps and cash to a man who grabbed her purse while she was walking to the store early Monday.

Reports show Lou Ann Balderas was walking in the 700-block of Avenue W about 1 a.m. when the incident occurred. The suspect reportedly fled south on Avenue W.

The suspect was described as Mexican-American, 18 to 25, very short and very thin. He was wearing a white T-shirt and blue jeans.

A 24-year-old Texas Tech University student told police that a middle-aged man exposed himself to her while she was riding her bicycle in the 600-block of Avenue X about 9:45 a.m. Monday.

The woman reported that she was going south on Avenue X when a man driving a blue Plymouth turned into her path, exposed himself and drove off at a high rate of speed.

She said the suspect was Mexican-American, tall and heavy and was wearing a light blue dress shirt and blue pants.

W.S. Hughes of 5505 17th Place said that burglars took $1,150 worth of property, including a TV set and guns, from his home sometime between 8 p.m. Saturday and 9:30 a.m. Monday.

K. Don Spurgin, a salesman at Polard Ford, told police that someone stole a pickup truck, valued at $8,000, from the car lot sometime between Saturday evening and Monday morning.

Burglars carted off a TV set, radio and jewelry, valued together at $925, from Michael Preston Kennedy's home at 4406 54th St. sometime between 7 p.m. Sunday and 10 a.m. Monday.

Carlos Yznaga of 2216 35th St. is missing $3,000 worth of camera equipment after a Sunday night break-in at his home.

A Texas Tech University student was arrested Sunday after he reportedly was seen pointing a gun at another person in the 700-block of Avenue J.

The 20-year-old suspect allegedly got out of his car, pointed a pistol at another man, yelled "freeze" and then began chasing the man on foot.

A witness called police about 4 p.m. and said he saw the Tech student and a black man chasing the other person — whom police could not locate. Police found the suspect's car parked behind an apartment complex with its engine running and doors open.

When the suspect went back to his car officers asked if the vehicle was his and he reportedly said, "Yeah, that's my car. Me and my roommate came over here to collect some money this dude owes me. When we got here, he took off running."

Reports indicate the man said he had been armed with only a BB gun. Police said they found a loaded .22-caliber revolver and a rifle in the student's car. He was taken to the county jail and booked on suspicion of unlawful carrying of a weapon.

The man's companion said he had been armed with a BB gun, but that he had hidden the weapon. He was being questioned early Monday.

In a Sunday night arrest, a 22-year-old Lubbock man was taken into custody after he allegedly caused a traffic accident about 8:45 p.m. in the 1900-block of 26th Street and then walked away from the scene with his wife.

The suspect, who reportedly was armed with a hunting knife, was apprehended by police after he fell on the pavement in the 2400-block of Avenue Q. Arresting officers said they had to struggle with the suspect before taking him to the county jail.

Ester Garza of 2703 Dartmouth St. told Lubbock police she was at Broadway and University Avenue about 10:30 a.m. Sunday when she saw her car drive by.

She said she rushed home and found her house burglarized, the car keys missing and her Gremlin gone. The Department of Public Safety contacted the woman later in the day and said a trooper had located her car south of Lubbock on U.S. Highway 87.

Police reports state the woman driving the car told the trooper the vehicle had stalled, and that the trooper drove the woman to her boyfriend's house in New Home.

The suspect was described as a short Mexican-American female in her teens. Mrs. Garza said the girl had done baby-sitting for her in the past.

Tirsa Hernandez of Tahoka told city police her purse, containing a $534 check and $46 cash, was stolen about 9 p.m. at a pool hall in the 700-block of 13th Street.

The alleged thief was described as a short, heavy-set Mexican-American woman with brown hair and brown eyes.

D.E. Goulet of 2012 30th St. said his house was burglarized between Saturday and 8 p.m. Sunday, with the intruders getting $742 in electronic equipment.

Fire Cause Determined

The Lubbock fire marshal's office said a dropped cigarette or match started a Monday morning fire that caused more than $1,000 worth of damage to a garage and storage shed at 2014 Ave. M.

Officials said the fire, which caused an additional $1,000 damage to two nearby structures, apparently was started by a transient staying in the garage.

Firemen were called to the blaze at 4:58 a.m. and had it under control in less than 10 minutes.

Crisis Affecting SALT II Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S.-Iranian crisis seems to be "hardening the stance of many people" against the SALT II treaty with the Soviet Union, acting Senate Republican Leader Ted Stevens said Monday.

"If not resolved soon, this will force the treaty back into committee," which would imperil its chances of ratification, the Alaska senator told reporters.

The trouble in Iran contributes to "a general feeling that our defenses need to be reappraised" and "this is no time to enter into a treaty that many of us feel is one-sided," he said.

But Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd challenged Stevens' assessment of the treaty's chances.

"I don't think anybody knows except God — and I haven't had a chance to talk to him about this matter," Byrd said.

Suspect In Burglary Shot When Spotted By Guard

By JACK DOUGLAS
Avalanche-Journal Staff

A burglary suspect, shot once in the face Monday morning by a security guard at Farmers Co-op Compress, 3800 Southeast Drive, was in serious condition late Monday following surgery at West Texas Hospital.

The 25-year-old Lubbock man, who ran 32 blocks to his sister's house after being shot, underwent surgery Monday afternoon to have a 22-caliber bullet removed from the back of his neck where it lodged after entering his left cheek.

Ray Sparks, night watchman at Farmers Co-op, said he spotted the suspect allegedly burglarizing another security guard's car at the plant shortly after 2 a.m. Monday.

Sparks said he saw the man leaning over William Bolivar Hogan's open car trunk. When he approached the vehicle, Sparks said, the suspect began walking away. After the suspect refused to explain what he was doing, the 57-year-old guard grabbed the man by the arm and the two men began scuffling, according to police.

Sparks said he drew his pistol and fired "two or three" shots at the alleged burglar after the man struck him in the face with a flashlight.

However, the guard told police he thought he had missed the man because he got up from the ground, climbed a fence and ran north by some grain elevators. Sparks was unable to catch up with the man, according to reports.

Police Cpl. Larry Jenkins said the wounded man apparently ran to his sister's Fifth Street residence and was taken to the hospital by a private vehicle. A hospital spokesman said the suspect was admitted about 6 a.m. Monday.

The man told his sister only that he had been shot and that he had to go to a hospital, according to Jenkins.

Hogan's leather jacket, portable television set and briefcase — the apparent loot taken in the thwarted break-in — was found next to the fence the suspect scaled. A blue visor cap, which the suspect's sister said she saw the man wearing earlier in the night, also was found at the scene, according to reports.

Jenkins said there was no evidence at the company that the suspect had been wounded by Sparks' gun.

Hogan also was on guard duty at the plant when the burglary was discovered.

JP Continues Death Probe

SHALLOWATER (Special) — Shallowater Justice of the Peace Dardie Williamson said Monday she expects it will be at least a week before she makes a ruling in the death of a 26-year-old woman whose decomposed body was found east of here Saturday under a piece of farm machinery.

Mrs. Williamson said she had not received an autopsy report on Shallowater resident Doris Christy, adding that it will be "a week to 10 days before making a ruling" because she haven't completed our investigation.

An unidentified jogger found the woman's body Saturday morning in a clump of weeds and under a piece of farm machinery. The site is about two-tenths of a mile east of Shallowater on F.M. 1294.

The death was being investigated by the Lubbock County sheriff's Department and the Texas Rangers. Authorities, however, said Monday it did not appear foul play was involved. Mrs. Williamson said she was expecting to receive a report from Ranger Joe Hunt Monday.

Graveside services for Mrs. Christy, 26, of Shallowater will be at 3:30 p.m. today in the City of Lubbock cemetery with the Rev. Glenn Price officiating. Burial is under direction of Resthaven Funeral Home.

Mrs. Christy appeared to have been dead about two months when the body was found Saturday, Mrs. Williamson said.

Relatives told Lubbock County sheriff's deputies that the woman had been missing since Sept. 1 and that a missing persons report had been filed Sept. 8 with the Lubbock Police Department.

Deputies said a 22-caliber pistol was found under the woman's head.

Music Educator, Choral Director Dies

AUSTIN (UPI) — Dr. Archie N. Jones, nationally known music educator and choral director who was on the University of Texas faculty from 1940 to 1959, died Sunday.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in University United Methodist Church.

Jones, 79, was a former president of the American Choral Directors Association, International Association of Concert Managers, Phi Mu Alpha (professional music fraternity), Sinfonia Foundation and Southwest division of the Music Educators National Conference.

At UT he was a professor of music education, director of the A Capella Choir and University Singers and long-time faculty adviser to the Cultural Entertainment Committee.

After leaving UT Austin, Jones served as dean of the music conservatory of the University of Missouri at Kansas City from 1959 until his retirement in 1970.

Prior to joining the Austin faculty he was director of music at the University of Idaho in 1935-40 and chairman of music education at the University of Minnesota in 1928-35.

He is survived by his wife, three children, two stepsons, two sisters and five grandchildren.

The best time to look for shooting stars is between midnight and dawn. On a normal night, an observer should see five to 10 an hour.

WATER DUMPING PROTESTED

BALTIMORE (AP) — About 100 persons turned out for a rally to protest the possibility that water containing radioactive tritium will be dumped in the Susquehanna River by owners of the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant in Pennsylvania.

Carter Signs Measure Aiding Pension Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A measure providing up to $52 million a year in federal subsidies for the financially troubled District of Columbia pension systems was signed Monday by President Carter.

The new statute also tightens rules to cut down on the number of city employees able to retire with disability pensions. It revises retirement systems for District of Columbia police officers, fire fighters, teachers and judges.

Supporters of the pension measure argued that the city, now operating with a large measure of autonomy under recent "home rule" legislation, was being forced unfairly to pay for an expensive and abuse-prone pension system for which Congress was responsible.

Cattle Prices Hit Lowest In Two Weeks

By Reuters
CHICAGO — Cattle futures closed 100 to 150 points lower Monday with all contracts except distant December down the daily limit.
 Sales totaled 22,523 cars.
 Prices fell to the lowest levels in almost two weeks, off 262 points since

Thursday, in aggressive local and commission house selling touched off by heavy cattle arrivals.
 Although cash cattle slanted higher and beef was steady, traders feared an abrupt slowdown in movement as the holidays draw near.
 Wholesale beef was unchanged at 104 1/2 to 106 1/2 cents a pound, f.o.b. river, a two-month high. The six markets expect 13,500 head today.

 Cash cattle were up $2 to off $1, with the best top at $69 at St. Louis. Slaughter totaled 110,000 head.
 The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported the steer-corn ratio in the week ended Nov. 17 was 28.8, against 28.4 the previous week and 26.6 a year earlier. The hog-corn ratio was 15.0, unchanged on the week but down from 23.6 a year ago.

Much of the selling spilled over from the live cattle pit and there was an extension of Friday's profit taking. Traders looked for a slowdown in beef trade as holiday featuring of poultry becomes more widespread.
 Deliveries total 312 thus far. The six markets expect 2,350 head today. Cash feeder cattle were up $4 to off $1, with the best top at $116 at Greeley.
 Hog futures closed 50 points higher to 42 lower on 8,318 cars. Both February contracts paced the upside with distant December off the most.
 Early buying was prompted by mostly higher cash hogs despite increased arrivals. The premium over cash and weakness in cattle pits also braked demand in the late trade.
 Wholesale hams were up one to off one cent at 76 to 89 cents a pound, f.o.b. river. The six markets expect 33,500 head today.

Acre Pledges Secured For Area Cotton Pool

SEMINOLE (Special) — Cotton Pool Inc. of Texas board chairman Glen Shook has issued a statement concerning results of the group's recent effort to secure pledges on 3 million acres of cotton for marketing at 1,600 points over the loan to growers.
 "We are both pleased and disappointed with the final tally," he said. "We are pleased with the number of cotton farmers who signed up in the extremely short period of time that we allowed ourselves."
 "We know now that the 40-day time period was too short for this undertaking," Shook said.
 "We were disappointed, on the other hand, that more cotton farmers did not, due to the present tight supply of cotton, seize upon the opportunity of banding together and becoming price makers instead of price takers," he added. "Fortunately, our philosophy of marketing—that—the marketplace should support the price we need to stay in business and not the government—is growing," he said. "Next time around we shall be successful."
 "In the meantime, we will respond, as directed, to the 767,823 acres that were committed."
 Cotton Pool Inc. of Texas is a producer-owned marketing group based in Seminole and has members in 14 West Texas counties.

PLAINS AGRICULTURE

By DUANE HOWELL

"SPECULATORS PUSH UP COTTON PRICES."
 So trumpeted the Daily News Record, a textile trade publication based in New York, in the middle of last week, before a late-week slump in prices.
 The headline may have comforted the DNR readership, says one market analyst, since it implies that the recent advance in futures—which has outdistanced the rise, for those qualities for which prices indeed have gone up and not down, in the cash market—is unrelated to fundamentals.
 But is that accurate?
 "One thing we know for certain is that we are experiencing record-breaking activity in the futures markets," the analyst points out. "Whether it is speculative or not may depend on if you are right or wrong."
 In each of the past three weeks, he points out, there have been three days with a futures trading volume of 10,000 or more contracts, easily topping any other comparable period.

BY CONTRAST, JUST A YEAR AGO, when prices were making their highs, trading volume exceeded the 10,000-lot level just once each month during that last quarter.
 Open interest has set new records, and the New York Cotton Exchange is booming.
 Speculators, without whom there would be insufficient liquidity for a viable market, generally are labeled as the guilty party by the government when prices go up and by farmers when prices go down, the analyst points out.
 "Of course, all the speculator tries to do is to live by his wits and to take advantage of opportunities that are available to everyone else," he adds.
 "The opportunity presented itself this season because the Chinese have already purchased a million bales more than they took from us last year; because the Russians, our biggest competitor in world markets, show every sign of trying to cope with increased internal consumption; because our growers are not in a rush to sell; and because business simply won't get bad, as the textbooks say it should."
 "We don't know of any speculator who would claim credit for causing all four of those events."

AFTER TWO WEEKS OF FLYING HIGH and moving straight up, another analyst says, the retracement late last week was not unexpected. Several red flags, in fact, had been raised, he adds.
 Bullish percentages had reached an 18-month high of 83 percent, speculators were 66.1 percent long as of Nov. 9 and probably were close to 70 percent long—at least they may have been going into the liquidation on Friday—and open interest had continued to hover at a near-record level.
 These factors had indicated that perhaps the market had gone too far too fast and suggested that the speculative longs might have to re-evaluate their positions, this analyst says.

Much of the recent market strength has been because of the strong export market, many analysts agree. And it is unlikely, one says, that the export market can maintain this strength without at least a pause.
 The basis, meanwhile, has continued to widen, and producers have derived comparatively little benefit from the recent strength in futures. The cash market still is above the loan, however, interest rates are high and the cost of carrying cotton has reached new highs.

THE DECEMBER-MARCH DIFFERENCE narrowed sharply Friday, when the spread closed at a 124-point premium on March, against 172 points the previous day.
 This may have been because of volume mill fixations done at the market, one analyst speculates, but adds that it also may have indicated a reluctance to liquidate long positions—with certificated stocks at a low level—in December.

In any event, one analyst says, a further narrowing of the spread would tend to keep support under the entire market.
 Some analysts say the near-term direction of the market may depend on the tenacity of the speculative longs. But these analysts tend to believe there may be more liquidation and downward pressure on prices.
 There are those, however, who speculate that the market may not give up all of its recent gains and who theorize that another spurt in export activity, if it should develop, might see new price movements to the upside.
 There is no uniformity of thinking among analysts, though, and some point out that good arguments can be made on both sides of the market.
 Which is to be expected. If everyone agreed on market direction, there would be no liquidity for positions on the other side.

THE RELATIVE SUPPLY OF DIFFERENT qualities of course affects cash market prices and the spot market price differentials.
 With a heavy percentage of low-micronaire cotton expected on the High Plains, mike differentials have widened dramatically in the Lubbock market.
 Mike readings in the base range of 3.5-4.9 accounted for only 15 percent of the areawide classings last week of 126,145 bales, down from 20 percent on classings of 75,740 the previous week. White grades comprised 48 percent, down from 75 percent the previous week.
 High grades combined with low mikes are difficult to merchandise (as are long staples in combination with low mikes), and thus the increase in the amount of light spots last week actually could be considered a plus factor strictly from the standpoint of merchantable cotton.
 Breaking strength last week averaged 87,000 pounds per square inch, same as a week earlier. Cotton stapling 1-inch and shorter totaled 80 percent, also unchanged from the previous week.
 Prices paid High Plains growers for cotton miking 3.5-4.9 ranged from 775 to 1,100 points over 1979-crop loan rates, according to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Services' cotton division office here.
 Growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and higher, staples 30-33, mikes 3.5-4.9, for around 56.35 cents per pound, up 70 points from a week earlier. Lower mikes brought 300 to 700 points over loan rates, the USDA reported.

GRAIN FUTURES
CHICAGO (AP) — Corn futures were mostly higher while wheat and soybeans fell Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade in a session halved by computer troubles.
 The exchange's computer price reporting system broke down after about two hours of trading. Under an emergency closing procedure, trading reopened for five minutes around the normal closing time and closed, using a manual price reporting system.

'Dalton Gang' To Ride

Three-Hour Movie Tells Story Of Outlaws

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Dalton Gang met its end in a blaze of gunfire on the streets of Coffeyville, Kan., in 1892, but the story didn't die there.

It ended 42 years later at the corner of Hollywood and Vine. Emmett Dalton, the last surviving brother, pulled a gun on Bitter Creek, another old member of the notorious outlaw gang, in 1934.

Well, in a way that's what happened. Emmett did have a run-in with someone in Hollywood, but it was not Bitter Creek. Dalton and the other man were separated before anyone was injured.

In "The Last Ride of the Dalton Gang," it's difficult to separate fact from fiction, as producer-director Dan Curtis gleefully admits and so proclaims at the start of the three-hour movie airing tonight on NBC-TV.

It's a rip-roaring Western well-leavened with good humor, as written by Earl W. Wallace and directed by Curtis. It does drag a bit because of length, but the only thing to do is sit back and enjoy the movie and not let the facts get in the way of the entertainment.

Incidentally, Emmett Dalton produced his own version of the story. It was "When the Daltons Rode." He was a real estate man in Hollywood and took time out to produce the movie about his family's exploits.

Larry Wilcox of NBC's "CHiPs" plays Emmett Dalton, and narrates the film. Cliff Potts is Bob Dalton, Randy Quaid is Grat Dalton, Mills Watson is Bill Dalton, Bo Hopkins is Billy Doolin, Matt Clark is Bitter Creek, Sharon Farrell is Flo Quick, Dale Robertson is Judge Isaac Parker, and Jack Palance is railroad detective Will Smith, the nemesis of the Daltons.

Wilcox, who feels more at home astride a horse than a police motorcycle, was well suited for the role. He was raised in Rawlins, Wyo., where his grandparents had homesteaded, and he still rides in rodeos. His son, Derek, who plays Emmett as a boy, is following in dad's footsteps. Wilcox took along two of his horses to the location site near Sonora and Columbia, and he and Derek spent their off hours at local rodeos.

"It was great to have a role more challenging than Jon Baker," he said, referring to his character on "CHiPs."

"When I read the script I saw that he wasn't as fleshed out as Bob or Grat. I had another Jon Baker on my hands, so I had to do something to enhance the character."

"So I had him believe that he's the real leader of the gang, even though he doesn't step out as Bob does. He acts as a moderator between Bob and Grat, who is really wild. But when Emmett gets a gun in his hands he becomes irrational. I made him neurotic then and gave him a wheeze. I had to do some-

Huge Electromagnet Stops At Reno Hotel, Casino

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The MGM Grand-Reno hotel and casino played host to its biggest visitor ever Monday — a 107-ton electromagnet traveling from Illinois to California.

The huge magnet, the heaviest load ever transported on the nation's highways, made its way across Nevada over the weekend on its special 120-wheel trailer. It was parked Monday in the MGM Grand parking lot.

The magnet is being hauled from the Argonne National Laboratory to the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center by a 450-horsepower diesel truck.

The long trek over the Sierra was to begin today, weather permitting.

Bond Thriller Eyeing Record

NEW YORK (Special) — Although it has been in worldwide release for about half a year, Albert R. Broccoli's production of "Moonraker," the 11th James Bond thriller, has already rolled up an awe-inspiring global gross of $126,706,985. It was announced by Andy Albeck, United Artists President and Chief Executive Officer.

The film played several weeks earlier this year at the Winchester Theater in Lubbock.

With a number of major international and domestic markets yet to be tapped, this latest 007 adventure, once again starring Roger Moore as James Bond, could well overtake the all-time United Artists record-breaking "The Spy Who Loved Me." Albeck indicated. He pointed out that the tenth Ian Fleming-inspired screen adventure had generated $79,197,680 in worldwide rentals over a two-and-a-half year period, compared with the $61,337,015 in rentals reported, to date, for "Moonraker," which had bowed in London on June 27th and in the U.S. on June 29th.

Both in terms of gross and rentals, "Moonraker" has performed almost equally spectacularly domestically and overseas.

Singer Recalls Struggles In Career

Succession Of Four Hits Puts Artist In Envyable Position

NEW YORK (Special) — Mel McDaniel is a straight-ahead country singer who is in the enviable position of having four hit singles on the national country charts in quick succession prior to the release of his debut album, "Gentle To Your Senses" on Capitol Records.

"I'm a country singer and I'm going to stay a country singer," says McDaniel. "If my records become successful in other areas of music, that's great."

He began playing the trumpet in the fourth grade, but it was too loud for his family and neighbors so he switched to guitar and soon formed his own group. In high school his band played sock hops and any other engagement they could get. McDaniel got married at 19 and began playing clubs in Tulsa. He recorded several singles on independent labels in the area including "Lazy Me" which was written and produced by J. J. Cale. After a short stint in Ohio, McDaniel moved to Nashville in 1969 and learned to starve.

"I was pumping gas and trying to get into the music business, but the timing wasn't right," he explains.

After barely surviving for a couple of years, McDaniel headed to Alaska where he performed at the "Kings X" and other clubs in Anchorage.

"I performed a six-hour set the second night I was there," he remembers. "I had to learn a lot of new songs fast. They love country music up there. Every night the club would be packed — hippies on one side, cops on the other. It seemed like everyone in town came. It gave me a lot of encouragement."

In early 1973, he returned to Nashville and performed for nine months at the Holiday Inn. He went back to Alaska once for six weeks to earn enough money to pay some bills. Soon, however, his luck in Nashville began to change. He became a sought-after "demo singer" for songwriters and publishing companies.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

By BILL DOYLE

Q. I returned to this country recently, after living in Vienna, Austria, for 12 years. I own the same stocks I bought before moving to Europe. The dividends on most of my stocks have about doubled in the 12 years and their market values have risen accordingly.

But I also own shares of two mutual funds. The current values of my investments in those two funds is much smaller than the prices I paid and the funds' dividends are also low.

How come the professionals running those funds produce worse results than simple-minded me?

A. Maybe you're not at all simple-minded — for picking mostly good stocks and staying with them. You do, however, admit to at least two mistakes. And, although you didn't list all your stocks in your letter, some of those you did name haven't done all that well.

Just the same, if the overall value of your investments has come even close to doubling over the past 12 years — a period in which the stock market has not been a sure road to riches — you're a wonder. Maybe you should be running a mutual fund.

A mutual fund is supposed to have two major things going for it — diversification and professional management.

Diversification means that the fund uses the money you and other investors pay to buy the fund's shares to invest in many different securities. This is the old "don't put all your eggs in one basket" theory.

Professional management means that the securities the fund buys and sells are chosen by stock-pickers who are paid for their efforts. If those "professionals" are right more often than they are wrong, the fund does well. But things don't always work out that way.

It's not difficult to pick out some mutual funds which have been investment bombs. In fairness to the mutual fund business in general, however, it must be pointed out that most funds have done better than the stock market in general over the long term.

Q. My son, who is interested in buying real estate for income and investment purposes, is considering buying a four-family house. The real estate broker showed him only one of the four apartments.

The seller asked my son to sign a purchase agreement (UHE) without having seen the entire place, saying that if there was anything my son didn't like about it, he can cancel the offer.

I say NO. See it all and then decide. What do you say?

A. The same thing you do. That "purchase agreement" might turn out to be a binding contract — without an escape clause.

I am always amazed by people who even think about buying real estate, stocks, bonds or anything else without complete knowledge of what they are getting into. The "investigate before you invest" admonition holds for every kind of investment.

Q. I purchased several $500 Series E, U.S. Savings Bonds, in my name and my sister's name in the early 1950s. When the new Series HH bonds come out in 1980, I plan to exchange my E bonds for HH bonds.

Will I be able to change the registration on the HH bonds to my name and the names of other relatives, like nieces and nephews?

A. Yes. When E bonds are exchanged for the H bonds now being offered or the new HH bonds which will be available beginning next year, the "principal owner" is allowed to change, add or eliminate the names of co-owners or beneficiaries.

You paid for the E bonds. That makes you the principal owner. When you swap your Es for HHs, you can name anyone you like as co-owner or beneficiary of the HHs.

Q. To whom do I complain, when an insurance company is trying to get out of paying a full endowment policy?

A. To your state insurance department. There is no federal regulatory agency for insurance. The insurance lobby has beaten back all attempts at federal regulation of that industry.

Doyle welcomes written questions, but he will be able to provide answers only through the column.

Hance Questions Validity Of National Military Spending Study

By BOB CAMPBELL
Avalanche-Journal Staff

The 19th Congressional District paid $184 million more into the defense budget in fiscal 1978 than it received in military spending, a national study of defense spending patterns indicates.

The study showed 14 of the 24 Texas congressional districts with such a deficit.

U.S. Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock questioned the validity of the Employment Research Associates of Lansing, Mich., study, however.

"It looks like they're saying that if you're not getting more than you pay in, you ought to be voting against the defense budget," Hance said.

"You cannot divide the budget by 435 (the total number of congressional districts) and say everybody is going to get an equal amount of money. We've got NATO forces and bases in West Germany and all over the world, and you just can't say you're going to spend all the money in the United States."

The study indicates that more than half of all the congressional districts show a net loss in the military cash flow of at least $100 million per year.

Overall, the research concludes that only 130 districts receive more money from the U.S. military budget than local citizens pay to support the defense part of the federal budget, the Associated Press reported.

The analysis, released Sunday, supports earlier studies that defense spending is concentrated in the South and Southwest.

"Military spending is a principal source of drastic imbalance and inequity in the federal tax burden and budget allocation," the study concluded.

The study was conducted by James R. Anderson, a professor at Michigan State University. Employment Research Associates is a private consulting firm specializing in analyzing military spending patterns.

Anderson told the AP he considers military spending "an unproductive use and waste of a country's resources once you get beyond the sums needed to defend your shores and help allies."

Although the study shows the 19th District as the 110th worst off in the nation, Hance said Lubbock County probably would have a surplus if considered by itself.

"I imagine Lubbock County would come out ahead," Hance said. "If you look just at Lubbock County, it has Reese Air Force Base and Litton Industries (a major defense contractor).

"The MX missile would greatly jump the spending, but I'm not for the MX missile being put in the 19th District. I think it would be too costly for the government to have to buy so much farmland. MX missiles could be placed in Utah or Nevada on federal land without any cost to the government."

Hard To Swallow

BOY, YOU SHOULD'VE SEEN IT. There was Texas Tech basketball coach Gerald Myers sitting down for lunch with pals like Shelby Metcalf, Abe Lemons and Eddie Sutton.

Abe was chomping away on his ever-present cigar, Shelby was wearing that ever-present frown, Eddie was mumbling something about missing Sunday School and Gerald was being polite and trying to swallow the roasted shoe soles that were being served up for lunch.

The action came Sunday at the Airport Marina Hotel at the DFW Airport when the Southwest Conference basketball coaches gathered to discuss the upcoming season with hung-over media types.

In the middle of the agenda, we broke for lunch that rated somewhere between 1.5 and 2.8 on a scale from one-to-ten. But that wasn't the only thing that was hard to swallow.

First of all, A&M coach Shelby Metcalf tried to tell us that his team would be "pretty good" this year. Heck, the Aggies just may have the best front line the SWC has ever seen. With 6-11 Rudy Woods, 6-7 Vernon Smith and 6-6 Rynn Wright, the Ags have some studs down at College Station.

THE AGGIES ARE ALREADY being referred to as "The Wall" because of their awesome inside game.

"The Wall — is that what they're calling it?" said Metcalf. "I think I like that. But The Wall is going to have to be intact for us to win this year."

Down in Austin, nobody's come up with a name for the Texas Longhorns predominantly freshmen team. But coach Abe Lemons had a suggestion — how about "McHale's Navy?"

"The thing about freshmen," said Abe — who was in top form Sunday, "is that they think you like 'em. They're always paling around with you."

"When you tell 'em something — they think you're joking," he added. "I don't know what to expect. It's going to be like McHale's Navy."

But things aren't as bad as Abe would have you believe. The Texas coach says he plans to start two of his crop of freshmen this year, 6-10 LaSalle Thompson and 6-1 George Turner. But they're nothing less than two of the most sought-after high schoolers in the country a year ago.

"Turner is as good a freshman as I've ever had," says Abe. "And Turner is a good pivot man. But you know freshmen — they're kinda like a goose, they wake up in a different world everyday."

"So you never know what they're going to do."

BUT IF ABE WAS FUNNY — Rice coach Mike Schuler was a scream. What Schuler lacks in talent at Rice, he makes up for in sheer bravado.

"I'll bet everything that I own that we won't finish in the bottom two this year," Schuler stated flatly. "We may not win the conference championship but I guarantee you that we'll have a say in who finishes first, second or third."

Sure, coach.

Just for the record, Rice has finished in the bottom two the last five years. Back in 1974, when Schuler was still learning to shave, the Owls finished in a tie for sixth place.

"You're gonna be surprised at the people we play," Schuler persisted.

The reason for his optimism is a 6-9 freshman named Kenny Austin, who hails from Los Angeles. I don't mean Los Alamos, New Mexico either. We're talking about LA — The City of Fallen Angels, Hollywood and all that jazz.

"Kenny Austin may be the best freshman in the country," said Schuler. "He'll definitely play in the NBA."

There's a few noteworthy basketball schools in LA — you might've heard of one of them — John Wooden used to coach there.

HOW DID THE RICE OWLS EVER manage to lure a superstar away from a big name like UCLA?

"It's easier to recruit kids from out of Texas," says Schuler, "because they don't have the idea that you can't win at Rice."

Don't worry coach, he'll learn.

One school where winning seems to come easy is the University of Arkansas. Under Eddie Sutton's firm hand, the Razorbacks have won or shared the SWC crown for the three straight years.

But the Hogs money man, Sidney Moncrief, is gone and Eddie is singing the blues.

"We are not a very good shooting team," says Sutton. "We are not a very disciplined team and we don't have a proven player who can make the big play when the game's on the line."

Come on coach, you're coaching Arkansas — not the Rice Owls.

"Coaching may not be as much fun this year as it has been for the last three years," said Sutton with a smile. "But I don't think anybody will embarrass us."

Nobody's gonna make fun of the Hogs this year, that's for sure. In spite of their claims, Arkansas is a lot better team than the Rice Owls. They may just be have the outside shot to take the SWC title.

WHATEVER HAPPENS, IT'S GOING to be a great basketball race in the SWC this year. Once we learn what to swallow and what to leave on the plate.

Cowboys Drop Henderson

By A-J Services

DALLAS — Dallas Cowboy coach Tom Landry said Monday he had decided to place talkative linebacker Thomas Henderson on waivers, but before that action could be taken, Henderson announced he was retiring from football.

The surprising move, coming at a critical point in the season for the slumping Cowboys, indicated Landry had finally run out of patience with the vocal Henderson and felt a decisive move had to be made to boost Dallas' chances for making the playoffs.

Dallas officials emphasized that although Landry had originally planned to place Henderson on waivers, the move was abandoned when Henderson said he was retiring. Henderson thus remained under contract to Dallas if a reconciliation could be managed.

Speculation as to the cause of the move centered around Henderson's play in the Cowboys' 34-20 loss to the Washington Redskins Sunday, which some coaches reportedly felt was lethargic.

And, while his teammates were being thrashed on the field, Henderson grinned and mugged for television cameras, pointing to a Dallas bandana hanging from his waist and holding up a finger to indicate the Cowboys were still "No. 1."

Landry said the time had come for Henderson to depart.

He said, "I won't dwell on the details. First I want to say Tom Henderson has contributed to this football team in a lot of ways over the last five years."

"When this year began, we had a meeting in camp, and we understood him. I benched him once, but it came to a point that it was time to make a change in the best interests of the Cowboys. The time was right."

Landry said he did not make the change to shake up the slump-ridden

But in my position, you have to make those decisions. I hope the team has a positive response."

Safety Cliff Harris was asked if irritated him that Henderson was mugging for the camera while he Cowboys were being flogged by the Redskins.

"It blanked me off," said Harris.

Because of that statement, and because Henderson wound up intercepting a pass and running it back for a touchdown in Dallas' 28-0 win over the Rams, the Cowboys' linebacker became an instant media star at Super Bowl XIII.

It was all just a part of Henderson's self-styled publicity campaign which eventually led to a movie role and contracts for national commercials.

Henderson, dressed nattily in a broad suit, appeared genuinely surprised by the attention the announcement had brought him when he walked into a scheduled news conference later in the day.

"I wasn't counting on this much of a crowd," Henderson said. "Coach Landry talked to me before the team-meeting today and said for a number of reasons I couldn't start for the Cowboys. And if I couldn't start, I couldn't play."

"He said they were going to place me on waivers and I said I always wanted to be remembered as a Cowboy, so I would retire."

Henderson declined to be too specific as to the reasons Landry gave him for making the move.

"I think he thought I was using the team for my own ventures," said Henderson. "He did mention I had a poor game against Washington. I expected it to happen one of these days. If it hadn't happened now, it would probably have happened next year because I was going to ask for an astronomical amount of money."

"I think it was just a clash of person- See HOLLYWOOD, Page 2

Cowboys, who have lost three of their last four games, including Sunday's debacle at Washington.

Landry said, "The poor game was not the basis for my action, although everything was a factor."

Asked if he was aware that Henderson mugged for the camera while the Cowboys were losing on the field, Landry said, "Yes, I was aware of it. This is just an accumulation of things...he would try hard, then he would slip back...then he would start again. Maybe Sunday was the last straw. It was not a good performing day for him."

Landry said if Henderson wants to go to another team "I'll do whatever I can to help him."

But Landry said Henderson will not be given a second chance. "This is it," said Landry. "It would not be to his best interest to try to come back here."

Landry said, "Personally, this hurts me a great deal. I care about people.

The First Thanksgiving as a national holiday in this country was proclaimed in 1863 by President Abraham Lincoln. Most Americans believe this holiday dates back to a day of thanks ordered by Governor Bradford of Plymouth Colony in New England in 1621.

The "First" Thanksgiving at the First National Bank gives us the opportunity each year to pause and give thanks to God for the opportunity of this great part of our country, and for the many good friends we have made through the years. # Tech Women Explode Past NT 111-53

By CHUCK McDONALD
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
By the time it was all over Monday night at the Municipal Coliseum, the only one who hadn't scored for the Red Raiders was coach Gay Benson.

as the Red Raider women crushed North Texas State 111-53 in an awesome display of one-sided basketball. Don't bother to look it up either — because that 111 points is a record for the Raiders — the most they've ever scored in a single game.

"Well, I've been in some games like this before," admitted Mrs. Benson with a smile. "But I think it was on the other end."

"It's sure good to be in this spot." For the record, Tech's previous high mark had been 106 against West Texas State back in 1977. And the Raiders 111 output marked only the third time that the women have gone over the century mark in the five years they've been playing intercollegiate basketball.

The Raiders women are now 3-2 on the year and travel to Denton today to face Texas Women's University tonight at 7 p.m. North Texas drops to 0-4 on the year.

Everyone that suited up for Tech got into the scoring act in the one-sided contest. Freshman Gwen McCray led all scorers with 17 points and she scored every one of those in the first half. Miss McCray also hauled down 11 rebounds.

With only three days to prepare for the University of Houston, Texas Tech football coach Rex Dockery has his work cut out for him.

Dockery must prepare a banged up Red Raider squad to face the ninth-ranked Cougars Friday at 2 p.m. in the Astrodome. The contest will be televised nationally by ABC-TV.

"We didn't have any real serious injuries occur during the SMU game, but we did have quite a few players who were banged up with bumps and bruises. That Tartan surface in Texas Stadium was quite a bit different than the other artificial surfaces we've played on. For some reason we had a lot of shoulder injuries."

Among the players who were hobbled during practice Monday were linebackers Jeff McKinney and Johnny Quinney, noseguard Hans Bischof and freshman safety Dennis Veals. Veals will miss the remainder of the year with a hamstring injury.

Senior cornerback Larry Flowers and junior free safety Ted Watts, who were suspended from Saturday's game after missing a Friday night curfew, will be back in the Tech starting lineup Friday.

Junior cornerback Leonard Duncan, who picked off two Mike Ford passes during the 35-10 defeat, will back Watts up at free safety this week.

Dockery also announced that Jim Hart will start at quarterback for the Raiders against the Cougars. Hart has started the last two contests for Tech because of the absence of Ron Reeves. Reeves was lost for the remainder of the season with a shoulder separation against Texas three weeks ago.

Hart will share time with freshman Mark James. James saw some action against Southern Methodist before leaving the contest in the second quarter with a hip-pointer.

JUMP SHOT — Texas Tech's Reina Keasler, a 5-8 sophomore from Florida, goes up for a jumper during early action Monday night in the Municipal Coliseum. Looking on for Tech is Christie Newman (No. 32), Rose Penkunis (No. 34) and Liz Havens (No. 42). Defending for the Eagles is Dixie Krueger. The Raider women crushed NTSU 111-53 and little Miss Keasler scored 12 points for Tech. The 111 points scored was a new Tech record. (Staff Photo by Gary Davis)

And when Miss Keasler connected on a free throw with 2:50 remaining to give the Raiders their 100th point, her teammates hugged her like she'd just won an NBA playoff.

"This one should be a confidence builder," said Mrs. Benson. "We still looked ragged in a few spots but that was mostly because the girls were trying to assist each other too much."

"And you can't fault them for that — they were just trying to make each other look good."

And the Raiders did look pretty good. They connected on 43 of 85 shots from the field for a better than 50 percent average and added 25 of 38 at the line.

Pam Sampey led the NTSU effort as she pumped in 14 points. Still, she was held to only five field goals in 17 attempts.

From the field, the Eagles could connect on only 20 of 61 shots and were out of the contest from the opening moments when Tech raced out to an 8-2 lead.

And from there, the Raiders never looked back.

QB Ferragamo Wins In First NFL Start

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Vince Ferragamo, making his first National Football League start, threw for two touchdowns and set up another as the Los Angeles Rams downed the Atlanta Falcons 20-14 Monday night.

Ferragamo, a third-year pro out of Nebraska, staked Los Angeles to a 14-0 halftime lead, connecting with Preston Dendard on a 29-yard scoring pass early in the first quarter, then hitting Billy Waddy with a 40-yard touchdown play in the waning moments of the opening half.

The young quarterback bore his responsibility well. "We have all the confidence in the world in Vince," Malavasi said. "He called his own plays 60 or 65 percent of the time."

Running back Wendell Tyler led the Rams' rushing attack with 21 carries for 111 yards. But he fumbled twice to squander Rams scoring opportunities.

The victory moved Los Angeles into a tie with the New Orleans Saints for the NFC West lead with 6-6 records. Atlanta dropped to 4-8.

Fullback Cullen Bryant tallied the other Los Angeles touchdown, sprinting 11 yards for the score midway through the final period. Los Angeles' 48-yard drive for that TD was keyed by an 18-yard pass from Ferragamo to tight end Terry Nelson.

The Rams' defense, which had been particularly effective against Atlanta's passing game, had to hold off a late charge directed by Falcons quarterback June Jones III.

"We're still not out of it but I'm sad the way we played," said Falcons Coach Leeman Bennett. "We stood around too much in the first half and then it was too hard to overcome their two scores."

The Rams' defense, which had been particularly effective against Atlanta's passing game, had to hold off a late charge directed by Falcons quarterback June Jones III.

June Jones put the Falcons on the board with a 15-yard scoring pass to Wallace Francis late in the third period, then marched his team to another score with 4:11 remaining in the contest — this touchdown coming on a 33-yard pass play to Francis.

Rams Coach Ray Malavasi was pleased with Ferragamo's play and said the young quarterback bore his responsibility well.

COOPER WINS
Shara Fredenburg scored 20 points as Cooper High School beat Shallowater 59-41 Monday night to raise its record to 1-1.

"I can tell you how every rookie feels when they are cut from the Cowboys. It is the most hollow feeling in the world."

SPUR KICKS IN
SPUR (Special) — Alicia Vasquez scored 18 points to give Spur a victory in its first game of the year, 45-33 over Jayton. Angie Long led the Jaybirds with 15.

"Henderson said he and Landry had perhaps 10 meetings during the year. "They were always like warning sessions," Henderson said. "I took them to heart. I tried to play the best I could."

ABERNATHY GIRLS WIN
ABERNATHY (Special) — The Abernathy girls basketball team defeated Frenship 52-33 Monday. Ramona Irlbeck with 16 points and Carrie Lutrick with 13 paced the winners.

Then, with a smile, Henderson said: "I guess Dallas isn't big enough for the both of us."

LCHS OPENS SEASON
The Lubbock Christian High basketball team will begin the 1979-80 basketball season tonight when the Eagles travel to Dimmitt to battle the Bobcats. LCHS is coming off a TAPS state championship season last year.

Estacado Flirts With Danger, Succeeds

By CHUCK McDONALD
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

The Estacado Matadors were finally tested Friday night but they came through the quiz with flying colors — and in the process clinched their second straight District 1-AAA championship.

Now, the second season starts. And this is the one that every coach hopes for. The Matadors will meet the Odessa Ector Eagles at 2 p.m. Saturday in Odessa in the bi-district battle.

But for awhile last Friday night, it looked like the only way the Mats would go to that contest would be as spectators.

Canyon took the opening kickoff and marched smartly down the field to take a quick 7-0 lead. The score marked the first time anyone had scored on the Mats in the first quarter, and it was only the second time they'd trailed in the opening half all year.

But the Mats came back from a 14-14 tie and routed the visitors in the second half. And for Estacado coach Louis Kelley, that proved something.

"Boy, I was proud of these kids," he said after the game. "We got behind and we could've just given up — but the kids hung in there."

What Canyon did in the early going was capitalize on the Matador quickness on defense and use it to their own advantage. The Mats play an all-out defensive style where everybody charges the play.

So the Eagles ran a delay type of attack and let the Mat linebackers over-react to the play — and take themselves out of the action.

"We were trying to get the linebackers to wait and read the play," explained Estacado's Kelley. "But they were a little excited and trying to make something happen."

But Estacado adjusted in the second half and Canyon went nowhere until the fourth quarter when it marched to the EHS three-yard line.

That's when the EHS defense stiffened, though, and Canyon came away with zero points.

"We had a nice goal-line stand down there," said Kelley. "That's the kind of thing you like to see."

But the Canyon game is old history.

TEAMS NEEDED

EARTH (Special) — Unexpected cancellations have left four openings in the Springlake-Earth Basketball Tournament bracket. Coach Charlie Schweers said he has openings for two girls and two boys teams for the tournament Dec. 6-8. Schweers can be reached at Springlake-Earth High. He is looking for Class A or B teams.

now as Estacado goes about the business of stopping Ector and the South Plains' leading rusher — James Ricks. Ricks has gained 1,086 yards on 137 games for the Odessa school this year.

That comes out to an average of almost eight yards a tope. Estacado's Kelvin White has 787 on 140 carries.

The winner of the EHS-Ector game will have to meet the winner of the San Angelo Lake View-Burkburnett clash in the regional contest. Lake View captured the 3-AAA crown with a perfect 4-0 district record and finished 9-1 on the year as did Ector and Estacado.

Lake View will meet Burkburnett Friday in Abilene.

NFL Victors Poured On Points

By The Associated Press

Winning isn't everything, Vince Lombardi used to preach. John McKay and, apparently, a few other coaches in the National Football League agree. Winning big is better.

"Gentlemen," McKay said after his Tampa Bay Buccaneers had rolled up the score to rout proportions against the New York Giants on Sunday, "since I've been in this league, I've lost games like 42-0 on bombs on the last play of the game."

"Anybody I can beat as badly as I can, I will. I have no compassion. It that makes me a horse's butt, so be it."

The 31-3 victory was particularly sweet since the Giants had recorded their first victory this season by beating the previously unbeaten Bucs 17-14 in

New York. And a few of the Giants had popped off about the Bucs in the days leading up to Sunday's rematch in Tampa.

"We were magnificent," McKay said. "Now we don't have to listen to that nonsense anymore."

The Bucs weren't the only team to roll up the score on Sunday. Washington beat Dallas 34-20. It could just as well have been 31-20, but with 14 seconds to play, the Redskins called time out and sent Mike Moseley onto the field to kick a 45-yard field goal. It was more than just the final three points, the Cowboys felt. It was the final humiliating indignity.

"They rubbed our nose in it with the field goal," said Danny White, the Cowboys' punter and No. 2 quarterback.

"We will remember it. It will be something to remember in a couple of weeks (the teams meet on the season's final Sunday in Dallas) and get us fired up! They love it now, but it may come back to haunt them."

Perhaps, though, Moseley's 45-yard field goal was a repayment of sorts, as well. Defensive tackle Diron Talbert denied the extra three points had been meant to run up the score. "If it had been a 50 or 55-yarder, we would be trying to run the points up," he said.

But Washington Coach Jack Pardee suggested otherwise. "Look what the Cowboys did to us a year ago," he said of Dallas' 37-10 romp. "Using play-action bombs is running it up."

Sometimes a team runs it up not to prove anything to its helpless opponent but to prove something to itself. Witness the New England Patriots.

A week earlier they were pounded 45-10 by Denver. So, as if to thoroughly wash away the memory of that debacle, they went out and buried Baltimore 50-21.

"It was our turn to mushroom instead of being mushroomed," Coach Ron Erhardt said. "Everything went well for us ... Last week it was the other end of the stick. We showed our character, how we can come back from adversity."

Added quarterback Steve Grogan: "Every team has a game in which it gets blown out, so you can't be looking over your shoulder and talking about the past."

Illinois Coach May Be Fired

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — University of Illinois football coach Gary Moeller will be fired, a Champaign newspaper reported Monday.

The News-Gazette said new Athletic Director Neale Stoner will recommend today that the Athletic Association Board of Directors dismiss Moeller.

Stoner denied that the final decision had been made, and Moeller would not comment.

"It would be premature to say that any decision on Gary Moeller or the program has been finalized," said Stoner.

Moeller has a three-year record of 6-24-3, and has two years left on his contract.

Members of his staff said Moeller told them that he had been fired.

Bulls' May Returns To Health

CHICAGO (AP) — No one issued an ultimatum to Scott May. The 6-7 forward, plagued by injuries ever since he arrived in the National Basketball Association, did it himself.

"I knew I had to play sooner or later. It came down to that," said May. "Being injured so long was frustrating. There's little doubt that without a long-term contract I'd be gone."

"But management never said they were going to give up on me and I certainly never gave up on myself," the former college basketball Player of the Year continued. "I knew it would take a while to round into shape. I've noticed the progress ... I think it's showing."

The Chicago Bulls made May, who capped an outstanding collegiate career at Indiana by leading the Hoosiers to the 1976 NCAA title, their number one selection and second overall in the 1976 NBA draft.

Professional scouts labeled him as a "can't miss" prospect — a complete player who was not only skillful in all facets of the game, but above all else, knew how to win.

The Bulls were coming off a horrendous 24-58 season, one year after the team narrowly missed advancing to the finals of the NBA playoffs. Great things were expected from May, but he is doubtful that many people actually knew what to anticipate.

Certainly he didn't anticipate coming down with mononucleosis during training camp of his rookie year. He bounced back, however, to play in 82 games and average 14.6 points per game, six rebounds and two assists.

Not bad by most standards for a rookie. Not bad by Scott May's standards. But not as well as hoped by management — though it never publicly criticized his play — or the fans.

"I think I showed them (management) that I could play when I was healthy. Maybe that's why they were so patient. I never got any pressure to do more," said May. "Sure, the fans expected more because I was college Player of the Year and all that stuff."

"But if you look at the history of players of the year, you'll see that none of them were really big scorers in college or in the pros," May added. "They are all great basketball players, but they are not the guys who are going to go out and score 30 or 40 points every night and lead the league in scoring."

"I've never been a great scorer and I never will be. I'll get 13 or 14 points, grab a few rebounds and get some assists. But I'm not going to be a point machine," May said. "At Indiana, we had a great system. The points I got came off easy buckets, the high percentage shot. I didn't have to score a lot. We made things happen with our defense and offense took care of itself."

May played an important role as the Bulls won 20 of their last 24 games to storm into the playoffs in 1977.

LCC Seeks To End Dive

GOODWELL, Okla. (Special) — By the end of the month, Lubbock Christian College coach Larry Hays will know the state of Oklahoma well.

After dropping a 92-77 verdict to Oklahoma Christian College at Oklahoma City Saturday night, Hays and his Chaparral basketballers will be back in the Sooner State tonight, facing host Panhandle State.

But, that's just the beginning. Next Tuesday, they will play East Central State at Ada, and then head for Chickasha, Okla., on Nov. 28-29 for that tournament.

But, tonight is what draws Hays' immediate attention, as he tries to pull the Chaps out of a scoring nosedive.

Hot shooting carried the Chaparrals to a pair of victories in their first three games, but in the OCC battle, they hit a series of point droughts.

Even though they hit more than 50 percent (36 of 71) field shots for the game, the Chaparrals let their hosts rattle off 21 straight points at one stretch in the first half. After that, LCC could not overcome the deficit.

By scoring 14 of the second half's first 16 points, LCC was able to pull into a tie, but every surge left the Chaparrals too exhausted to capitalize.

Hays is expected to open with his unit of 6-2 Bruce Carver and 6-0 Marshall Smith at guards, and 6-6 Keith Gardner, 6-6 Jim Steensma and 6-7 Kevin Wharton inside.

Gardner and Wharton have been leading the team in scoring this season. Hays has been playing most of the games with seven performers.

Cotton Center Paired

VERNON (Special) — Cotton Center, holding a 9-0 season record, will take on Vernon Northside here Friday night at 7 p.m. in the six-man bi-district playoffs.

Winner of that game will advance in the state playoffs against the winner of the Trent-Paint Rock contest. These two clubs will play Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Trent.

Raiders Set For TV Slot

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight college football games, including Nebraska-Oklahoma and Brigham Young-San Diego State, will be televised this weekend, ABC-TV announced Monday.

The network will show a national doubleheader on Friday, starting with Florida State-Florida at 11 a.m., followed by Texas Tech-Houston at 2 p.m.

On Saturday, the Nebraska-Oklahoma contest will be the lead of five regional telecasts in the 11:30-3 p.m. time slot and will be seen in approximately 70 percent of the country. The other regionals are Louisiana State-Tulane, Georgia-Georgia Tech, Temple-Villanova and Nevada-Reno at Northern Arizona, a Division I-AA game.

The Brigham Young-San Diego State battle for the championship of the Western Athletic Conference will be shown nationally at 3 p.m.

Oilers To Be At Peak For Cowboys

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers, with a sore-eyed quarterback and a convincing 42-21 victory over Cincinnati on Sunday, started hurry-up preparations Monday for Thursday's Thanksgiving Day game against the Dallas Cowboys in the "Texas Super Bowl."

The game is being built up as a battle of in-state archrivals but many of the Oilers say it's just another game — almost.

"They're America's team," Oiler center Carl Mauck said with a smile. "Forty per cent of NFL merchandise has the Cowboy name on it. I just don't know how anybody can beat them. But we intend to try."

Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini suffered a scratched right eye in Sunday's game but Oiler assistant King Hill said Monday the veteran signal caller would be ready to play Thursday.

"The scratch was not on the cornea and he should have no trouble practicing this week," Hill said. "We expect him to be fit and 100 percent by Thursday."

Mauck, the most outspoken of Oilers, couldn't resist expressing the strong feelings that the rivalry holds.

"How can you be against America's heroes?" he said, still flashing a devilish grin. "We're the villains, way down here in South Texas in the swampy old marshlands. But can I tell you something? We're peaking."

While Mauck fanned the flames of the Cowboy-Oiler rivalry, others sounded a note of caution.

"It's going to be hard to play Dallas on only four days of rest," said Oiler safety Mike Reinfield, who increased his interception total to 12 against the Bengals, tops in the NFL. "They have so many formations we have to prepare for."

"I'm not concerned with all the hoopla. I think the fans make more of it than the players. But on the other hand, I live in Houston and I have to live with a loss to the Cowboys."

The Oilers go into the game with a 9-3 record, equal to the best record in the NFL while the Cowboys are reeling from Sunday's 34-20 loss to Washington which dropped their record to 8-4.

The Oilers have won four games in a row since an upset loss to Seattle and are playing their best football of the season.

Pastorini came out of a slump a week ago against Oakland and had guided the Oilers to a 21-7 lead against Cincinnati before he was gouged in the eye by Bengal defensive tackle Eddie Edwards with 3:45 to play in the first half.

Pastorini watched the rest of the game on the sidelines with a patch over his eye while backup Gifford Nielsen came on to complete his first six passes and equal Pastorini's point-production.

The victory left Houston tied for first place in the American Football Conference's Central Division with Pittsburgh, which lost to San Diego 35-7.

Speedball Ryan To Boost Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Nolan Ryan, the American League strikeout king, joined Houston's J.R. Richard, the major league strikeout leader, Monday by signing a reported four-year, $4 million contract with the Astros that made Ryan the highest paid free agent in baseball history.

Ryan, 32, who shares the major league record of four no-hit games with Sandy Koufax, and Richard struck out combined 546 batters for their respective teams last season.

Ryan, a native Texan, said he is returning home to complete his final major league contract before retiring to his farm 26 miles south of here.

"We have established ourselves as a first-rate club and we feel the addition of Ryan puts the Astros a step closer to that day when we will win the pennant," Astros General Manager Tal Smith said.

"I'm delighted to be in Houston and the one thing I am interested in is helping bring a pennant to this city," Ryan said.

Ryan, who has 2,909 career strikeouts, said signing an Astros' contract fulfilled a childhood dream.

"I've thought about this moment many years and dreamed about it too, growing up in Alvin," Ryan said. "It was something I always wanted to do, to play for the Astros and live at home."

He said several factors were involved in his decision to sign with Houston.

"We felt the contract was right, and the Astros showed they were interested in us and that was important," Ryan said. "They also have quality individuals on this team and they are contenders."

Dick Moss, Ryan's agent, said none of the other clubs that drafted Ryan made any monetary offers because "we asked them not to. Our first priority was to have Nolan decide where he wanted to play. We felt after he made that decision we could make satisfactory contract arrangements."

Lubbock Pulls Away, Beats OHS

By NORVAL POLLARD
Executive Sports Editor

Oscar Lopez and Kirk Cole broke open a tight game with four points apiece in the final three and a half minutes of the fourth quarter Monday night to lead the Lubbock High School Westerners to a 58-50 basketball victory over the Odessa Broncos in the first action of the 1979-80 season for both squads.

The final outcome of the game, which was tied on 14 different occasions, boiled down to the Westerners being able to handle the full-court press and half-court trap Odessa threw up during the final six minutes of the contest.

With the score tied 46-46, senior guard David Norrid drilled an 18-foot jump shot to give LHS the lead for good, 48-46. With 3:39 showing in the clock, Cole broke loose under the Odessa basket and senior guard Gilbert Cuevas fired a pass some 50 feet to his open receiver. Cole caught the ball, took one step and used a reverse layup to make it 50-46 in favor of the Westerners.

Lubbock High managed to take the basketball away from the Broncos the next trip down the floor and Lopez, who led all Westerner scorers with 16 tallies, canned an 18-foot jumper from the left of the key. The Broncos squandered a scoring opportunity with a bad pass and Lopez was fouled in the process. He sank both ends of his one-and-one to put the Black and Gold up by eight points, 54-46, the biggest lead of the night.

Cole dropped in another easy layup to make it 56-46 and it was over.

The Westerners used baskets by Rodney Norris, Lopez and senior forward Jeff Manley to take a quick 6-0 lead, but the Broncos came right back and went ahead at the end of the first quarter 16-10 on the strength of Rayford Wright's six points in the final four minutes of the opening period.

Cole dropped in a pair of buckets at the start of the second quarter to cut the OHS lead to two points, 16-14. It was a dogfight the rest of the period. Sophomore Mike Hill connected from the top of the key with one second remaining in the half to break a 27-27 tie and give the Westerners a 29-27 halftime lead.

Odessa outscored LHS 14-10 in the third period to retain the lead 41-39, but rebounding and excellent ball control allowed the Westerners to stay close and ultimately pull out in front for keeps.

Joining Lopez in double figures for the Westerners was Cole with 14. Junior forward Charles Quade and Manley each contributed eight points.

The Westerners put their 1-0 mark on the line tonight when they travel cross-town to take on the Dunbar Panthers, who defeated Morton 52-49 Monday.

Whitfield Keys Dunbar

Stanley Whitfield grabbed 14 rebounds and scored 10 points to lead Dunbar to a 52-49 victory over Morton in both teams' basketball opener Monday night in the Dunbar gym.

In addition to Whitfield's points, the Panthers were led by Joe Bagley, who scored 10. High point man for Morton was Bob Dent who scored 14.

Both teams shot poorly from the floor, Dunbar hitting only 29 percent of its shots and Morton only 27. But the Panthers outbounded the Indians 55-32 to provide an edge.

Dunbar plays Lubbock High tonight at 8 in the Dunbar gym.

Cooper 91-51

ABILENE (Special) — The Monterey girls basketball team defeated Abilene Cooper 91-51 in the Plainsmen's opener Monday night.

A full-court press gave MHS a 30-12 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 52-27 bulge at halftime.

The Plainsmen were led in scoring by Barbara Ragus with 26 points and Chris Ethridge with 14.

Williams' Heroics Win

Tim Williams got a lesson in the roller-coaster nature of sports Monday night as he went from goat to hero in Estacado's 80-78 basketball victory over Amarillo Palo Duro.

Trailing by two points with 18 seconds remaining, Palo Duro took the ball in to center Todd Loftis at the foul line. He put up a jumper and was fouled in the act by Williams. The shot fell and Loftis went to the line with a chance to put the Dons up by one with only seven seconds left.

He missed though, and Estacado's inbounds pass went to Williams. He put up a turnaround jumper from the top of the key that swished through the bottom of the net to win the game as the buzzer sounded.

Matador James Barnett led all scorers as the 6-0 forward made 13 field goals for 26 points. Trailing him in the EHS scoring parade were John Jones with 21 and Williams with 14.

Palo Duro was led by Loftis with 22 points, Tony Westmoreland with 15 and Edward Schaeffer with 13.

The game was the season opener for both teams. Estacado will travel south to face Morton tonight.

Coronado Sets V-Ball Playoff

Coronado's district championship girls' volleyball team will host Amarillo High tonight, and the contest has caused a change in the time of the boys' basketball game with Amarillo Caprock.

The CHS girls, who won the District 4-AAAA volleyball title, will take on Amarillo at 8 p.m. in the Coronado gym. Winner of the contest will advance to the regional meet to be held in Abilene Dec. 1.

The new times for the boys' cage games are 3:30 for junior varsity and 5:45 for the varsity.

Tickets for the volleyball match are $1.50 for adults, $1 for students. Prior to the playoff, the gym will be cleared of fans watching the Caprock-CHS basketball game.

HAWAIIAN SNOW — Ken Marsh hooks up a car to be towed from the snow-clogged 12,000-foot level of Mauna Kea on Hawaii Island recently. Having to be towed out of a snow drift is a fairly common scene in many parts of the country this time of year, but most people wouldn't expect to see it in Hawaii. (AP Laserphoto)

Record Air Boardings Forecast

Lubbock International Airport Maintaining High Pace

Despite a drop in passenger boardings in October, the Lubbock International Airport remains on a record pace for the year, and is expected to board more than a half-million passengers before Christmas.

Total boardings for the seven commercial air carriers serving the airport for October was 41,839, a drop of 2.9 percent from the October 1978 figure of 43,088. For the year, 412,999 persons have flown from Lubbock, averaging more than 41,200 persons per month.

November and December are usually the airport's busiest months, said city aviation director Marvin Coffee in making the prediction for the 500,000-plus passenger year. Should that many persons fly from Lubbock this year, it will mark the first time in the airport's history that more than 500,000 persons have done so.

Southwest Airlines continued to lead the pack in October, boarding 23,782 persons. That figure is an increase of 18.9 percent over the carrier's October 1978 total of 20,005 persons, and boosts Southwest's total for the year to 217,572, which is 26.9 percent higher than its total of 171,495 through the first ten months of 1978.

Braniff International Airways was the only other major carrier serving Lubbock to report an increase in business for October. Braniff reported boarding 10,398 persons here for the month, an increase of 8.6 percent over its total of 9,575 a year ago. For the year, Braniff has loaded 96,773 persons here, up 10.2 percent over the 87,819 persons it flew from Lubbock through the first 10 months of 1978.

Texas International Airways, which began non-stop flights between Dallas-Fort Worth Airport and Lubbock last week, reported its business down some 12.2 percent from October 1978. For the month, TI flew 3,022 persons from Lubbock, compared with the 3,440 it flew during October 1978.

For the year, TI has flown 33,397 persons from Lubbock, a drop of 5.1 percent from the 35,190 passengers who flew TI from Lubbock through October 1978. Figures from the newly inaugurated Lubbock-Dallas flights will begin showing up in the November boarding figures.

Continental Airlines has flown 58,790 persons from Lubbock so far this year, a decrease of 44.3 percent from 105,505 passengers it boarded through the first 10 months of 1978. For October, Continental flew 3,752 persons from Lubbock, a decrease of 62 percent from the 9,883 passengers boarded in October 1978.

The three regional airlines serving Lubbock all reported solid months, with only Crown Aviation carding a loss. Crown had 148 passengers in October, 20 percent less than the 185 it registered in October 1978. For the year, Crown has flown 1,213 persons from Lubbock, a drop of 10.2 percent from the 1,350 it had registered through October 1978.

Air Midwest and Permian Airways, both of which began service to Lubbock earlier this year, reported good passenger volume for October. Air Midwest, the largest of the three regional carriers, boarded 567 in October, and has flown 4,362 in the approximately eight months it has served the city.

Permian Airways flew 170 persons in October, bringing its total for its approximate half year of service to 892 persons.

The total October figure is the second highest recorded at the airport, falling behind the record of 43,088 set in October 1978.

Lubbock International Airport's figure through 10 months of 412,999 keeps it well ahead of its rival airports in West Texas at Midland-Odessa and Amarillo.

For the year, Midland-Odessa Airport reports having boarded 373,008 persons, while Amarillo International Airport registered 320,114 persons. In October, Midland-Odessa had 37,156 passengers, while Amarillo had 30,482 boardings.

Rally Victim's Death Termed 'Waste'

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — He had a beautiful face, lean and Nordic, and the kind of awesome intellect heaven grants to maybe one in a million.

Bill Sampson seemed to know everything, to understand everything. He seemed to glide across campus with an instinctive grace that mirrored the way his mind worked. When he talked, people listened; when he debated, he did not lose.

He was Phi Beta Kappa at Augustana College, earned a master's degree in diploma at Harvard, and was about to finish medical school at the University of Virginia when he went to work in a textile mill.

Somewhere, something went wrong. Seventeen days ago, Sampson was one of five people shot and killed in the street in Greensboro, N.C., during a "Death to the Klan" rally. The dead were all members of a rag-tag radical group called the Communist Workers Party.

"I was at an organ recital at Trinity Cathedral when I heard," said Betsy Brodahl, dean of women at Augustana College. "He was brilliant and he was beautiful. I thought, 'What a waste.'"

Sampson — 31 when he died — graduated from Augustana, a 120-year-old Lutheran-affiliated college, in 1970 but no one here has forgotten him. He had come to Augustana filled with strong feelings and left filled with strong ideas.

"At Augustana College, there wasn't anything like him," said his cousin, the Rev. Charles Sampson. "He was good looking and charming, and the girls really went nuts over him."

By his senior year, Bill Sampson had won every honor available: Phi Beta Kappa, national honors, president of the student body, a scholarship for his year's study at the Sorbonne in Paris. He graduated magna cum laude and went to Harvard.

Sampson was descended from a long line of stern, Swedish Lutherans who farmed the Illinois prairie and founded Augustana. But he was born and raised in the South, the son of a Du Pont chemist. He learned very early about the Klan.

"Bill was an extremely sensitive person and from the time when we were children he worried about the condition of other people," said his cousin. "In Camden, S.C., they burned a cross in a yard a block away and Bill and I rode our bicycles by the house. I remember him saying what an outrageous thing that was."

At the Sorbonne his junior year, Sampson witnessed the enormous freedom accorded French students, both in the way they lived and in the radical ideas they entertained. It was a tumultuous time and he was at the intellectual heart of it.

"Before he returned, it was clear he was going to start a student movement on campus," said debate team partner Karl Zobrist, now a Kansas City lawyer. "Letters started coming back and we knew something had happened."

He had changed. The disarming smile was still there, but now he wore jeans and work shirts and talked about student rights and academic freedom. He organized marches and suggested abolishing homecoming.

Early in his senior year, Sampson staged Augustana's first student demonstration, sit-in at the college president's home. It was so orderly that the president's wife served cookies to the protesters.

One night Centennial Hall was filled with students and Miss Brodahl found herself facing Sampson as the administration's representative. She did not like interest in the Aggie band has been actively discouraged or dissuaded from joining the Aggie band by band and/or faculty members," the Justice Department said. "Other than a desire to keep the Aggie band all-male, there is no reason for the current effective restriction of the Aggie band to males only."

Assistant Attorney General Drew S. Days III, head of the civil rights division, said excluding the women from the band and other organizations "deprives them of an opportunity to participate in activities at the heart of university life at Texas A&M."

The other organizations are called the Fish Drill Team, the Ross Volunteer Company, and Parsons' Mounted Cavalry. The organizations are open to the 2,200 Texas A&M students enrolled in the Corps of Cadets. There are about 30,000 students enrolled at the university.

Texas A&M admitted females about 20 years ago and they now constitute about one-third of the student body. Women were admitted to the Corps of Cadets earlier this decade and there now are some 60 women in the corps.

The Justice Department said that the band, with about 300 members, does not require auditions and all males in the Corps of Cadets are urged to join.

Phone Books Being Distributed

A cover depicting Texas heroes and a page of tips for consumers are new features of the 1979 Lubbock telephone directory being distributed beginning today.

One copy of the directory will be delivered to each residential phone customer, and Southwestern Bell District Manager Bob McNamara said deliveries should be completed within three weeks.

The new directory reflects the growth of Lubbock with 288 white pages, 15 more than the 1978 directory contains. Telephone numbers beginning with a 794 exchange for about 2,750

Southwest Lubbock customers served by a new central office are included in the 1979 book.

New numbers for the Lubbock County courthouse are also listed.

The cover bears a painting of key figures from Texas history, selected with the help of the Texas Historical Commission, McNamara said. An explanation of the painting's characters is included on Page 1 of the Call-Guide pages.

Consumer tips are listed on the first page of the Yellow Page section of the book and include the phone number of the Better Business Bureau and a toll-free number for customers to dial if they find a Yellow Page advertisement to be deceptive or misleading.

McNamara said 223,825 directories are being printed, with 132,104 of them to be distributed to area residents by mid-December.

The extra books are for new customers moving to Lubbock throughout the year, McNamara said, and for customers and businesses needing replacement or additional books.

Extra copies of the directory may be obtained from the Southwestern Bell business office or the Phone Center store after mid-December.

'Studio One Disco' Owners File Suit On Fire Insurance Claims

Owners of Studio One Disco, which was destroyed in a July 9 fire, have filed suit against seven companies in an effort to collect the $400,000 for which the building and its contents were insured.

The lawsuit, filed in Judge John McFall's 237th District Court, lists West Texas Entertainment, Inc., doing business as the former 715 Broadway night spot, as the owner of the structure. The companies accused of withholding insurance payments are American General Fire & Casualty Co., American States Insurance Co., The Home Insurance Co., St. Paul Fire & Marine Insurance Co., United States Fire, and Floyd West & Co., underwritten by Lloyd's London Underwriters.

According to the petition, prepared by Lubbock attorney Gerald Anderson, policies with five of the insurance companies were instituted May 23 and in effect to May 23, 1980. The sixth policy, by Floyd West Co. and Lloyd's London Underwriters, became effective June 9 and was in force through June 1980.

The total amount insured by all companies is $400,000, according to the lawsuit, which also is seeking payment of interest since the owners of Studio One filed proof of claim forms.

The building and contents damaged in the fire, the petition states, amounted to $428,209.77.

Investigators say the fire was a result of arson, but tests to determine what kind of material was used to start the fire have been inconclusive.

Stamp Honoring Aviator Available Friday

Wiley Post stamps, honoring the pioneer navigator who was killed in a plane crash with Will Rogers in 1935, will become available Friday at the philatelic center of Lubbock's main post office, said Ken Smith, a clerk for that department.

The set-tenant stamps, which depict Post on one and the aviator and his plane "Winnie Mae" on the other, will be available in five to six months, Smith said.

The 25-cent pair represents the third in a series of stamps to be issued honoring pioneer aviators. Others depicted on U.S. stamps include the Wright Brothers and Octave Chanute.

Discrimination Suit Leveled At Texas A&M

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government charged Monday in a test case on women's rights that Texas A&M University has discriminated against women students by barring them from the Texas Aggie marching band and three other organizations.

The Justice Department sought to join a private class action suit filed last May by Melanie Zenigraf, a member of the Texas Corps of Cadets.

The department's proposed suit marks the first time that the government has tried to enforce Title IX of a 1972 law forbidding sex discrimination by schools which receive federal aid.

"Every female who has evidenced an interest in the Aggie band has been actively discouraged or dissuaded from joining the Aggie band by band and/or faculty members," the Justice Department said. "Other than a desire to keep the Aggie band all-male, there is no reason for the current effective restriction of the Aggie band to males only."

Assistant Attorney General Drew S. Days III, head of the civil rights division, said excluding the women from the band and other organizations "deprives them of an opportunity to participate in activities at the heart of university life at Texas A&M."
