The home recenly purchased by Noman Hamilton has been repainted, also that of Gradius Partain on north First street. REELECT

"If you remember when the electric refrigerator first came into general usage, then you know how utterly happy women were over the way it preserved food and provided ice cubes. It simplified kitchen labor. The health problem was greatly solved. But it was only the beginning of the great service Electricity was destined to render. Today every other home served by your West Texas Utilities Company has an electric refrigerator. Every seventh home has an electric range. Over 30,000 have electric irons. Nearly 40,000 have good light, many in isolated communities where power lines were built without hope that they might ever become profitable. This is a service rendered by Your Electric Servant so that you might have BETTER LIVING!

"And it doesn't cost you much, honest, does it?"
