Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

The flow of goods which was expected to begin with the turn of the year has not materialized yet, indicating that manufacturers were not holding back simply because of tax advantages. There was a widespread belief during December that manufacturers were waiting to take advantage of lower excess profits taxes in 1946 before increasing the bulk of their sales. Elimination of that question highlights the difficulty of obtaining raw materials, of meeting OPA price ceilings and of labor disturbances. Home appliances probably will not come into the market in volume for some time. The three largest manufacturers of these items, General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors, have their production tied up with strikes and when production is resumed, it will probably be allocated to the various retail outlets. Textile troubles are still largely due to prices, according to industry spokesmen. Clothing makers say they cannot sell many items at present ceiling prices on the basis of present costs. Wage increases of 21 per cent on December 10 added to their cost problems. Meanwhile, the public waits with cash in hand to buy a number of necessities.

BOMB-SIGHT TO EGG-BEATERS

An intriguing transition from war to peace is reported by S. F. Wolmar, executive vice president of SKF Industries of Philadelphia, which for 10 years before the war was the only ball and roller bearing firm entrusted with making these vital machine parts for the ultra-secret U.S. bombsight. Some of the bearings which permitted our bombardiers to aim with astounding accuracy from five miles up were so delicate that they had to revolve freely when lightly stroked with the tip of a camel's hair brush. They were so small that they had to be lubricated with a hypodermic needle. Now off the top-secret and top-priority lists, they are being made for new types of household appliances specially designed for long wear and silent operation, such as vacuum cleaners, mechanical mixers and electric fans. Ultra-precision instruments like dental drills are another field for these anti-friction devices which caused Hitler such a headache and now are expected to reduce the aches in American molars.

THINGS TO COME

New electric range and gas range burners, which promise greater cooking efficiency. The gas burner draws sufficient air through an adjustable shutter and requires no space between its flame and a cooking utensil. The electric burner's heating element is imbedded in a smooth, heat conductive cement which designers say will provide peak heating temperatures within 40 seconds. It has a thermostatically controlled "super-charger," and like the gas burner needs no space.

A midjet pneumatis screwdriver about the size of a cigar. It starts when applied to the work and is designed to adjust itself to driving conditions.

A new handy projector for salesmen which weighs 40 pounds and is carried in a relatively small case. It gives a talking movie when plugged into a wall socket and the screen is snapped into place. A new dishwashing machine to be powered by "water from the faucet," promised by the Henry J. Kaiser interests. Three new alarm clocks by General Electric, one which sounds like a darned-needle's wings, a third which turns on a radio program.

MILK IN FIBRE

Because of its growing popularity with dairymen and consumers alike, the fibre milk container bids fair to make packaging news in 1946. Discussing the merits of the fibre container as opposed to glass for raw milk, Fred C. Baselt, manager of the American Can Company's Atlantic division laboratories, says that the next two years

WORKERS CONFERENCE IS WELL ATTENDED

A very good attendance was present at the Baptist workers meeting Tuesday which convened with the Quitaque church as host. Representatives from 17 churches were present.

Speakers during the morning session included Rev. Elrod of Silvertown, Rev. Lee of Flomot and Rev. Record of Fairmont.

Dr. John W. Cobb of Wayland College was the afternoon speaker and his subject was Christian Education.

A delicious and bountiful lunch was served at the church at the noon hour.

The conference in February will meet with the Silvertown church.

BY TROOP REQUIREMENTS DEMOBILIZATION GOVERNED

Demobilization of the Army has progressed to the point where troop requirements overseas, rather than shipping, have become the governing factor in the rate at which the Army can return men to the United States for discharge, the War Department announced today.

Because troop requirements overseas during the next six months will exceed the rate at which the Army is capable of maintaining them through replacements, it will be necessary to slow down the rate of demobilization and in some cases to delay return to the United States of men eligible for discharge until replacements can take their places. In no case, however, should this delay any man in the theatres more than three months beyond the time he becomes eligible for discharge.

Every effort has been made by the War Department to obtain sufficient replacements, but they have not been obtained fast enough to permit immediate return of every man who becomes eligible for discharge without endangering the Nation's occupation role. Our overseas forces would be dangerously understrength in occupying hostile countries if all eligible men were to be returned before sufficient replacements arrived.

There will be about 1,553,000 men to be shipped home over a period of six months rather than three months, which would be possible with the amount of shipping presently available. Approximately 800,000 men will be discharged in January.

To utilize shipping now on hand, the War Department may now begin to carry out our obligation to return war brides and other dependents of American soldiers. The shipment of these dependents will not be permitted to delay any soldier who would otherwise be ready for return.

Several factors have kept replacements from meeting present needs. One has been the rapid pace at which the demobilization program has progressed—exceeding all advance estimates. The enlistment program, while breaking all prior records, has not kept pace with replacement requirements. Furthermore, all newly enlisted men must undergo a period of training and since the enlistment program began in September the first of these men are just reaching their overseas stations. Re-enlistment furloughs and men traveling, account for another 200,000 men a month who are prevented from performing overseas duties. In spite of continuing efforts of the Selective Service System to meet Army requirements of 50,000 men a month, actually an average of only 37,000 men have been procured monthly since V-J day.

Dann Mack Morris is here visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morris, on furlough from his station in Washington state. He reports back to service February 10.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

DOES GOD SEEM FAR AWAY—AT TIMES?

By Rev. E. B. Thompson

In a recent round-table for ministers only, one of the leading persons present suddenly asked this question, "But Doctor, why does God seem so far away at times?" When the shock of the question had passed, we all echoed the same mood. Why indeed! For we had the feeling that we had all wanted to ask the same thing but had lacked the courage and honesty to do so!

The best thing about this whole matter was that we faced up to the fact that this business of living spiritually, is no one mood affair, but has its struggles, its ups and downs, its low moments and its high days.

And, this has been the universal experience of men who have tried to serve God through the ages. The ancient psalmist sang, "As the heart panteth after the water brook, so panteth my soul after thee O God—." The prophet Habakkuk cried out from his watch tower, "How long shall I cry unto thee and thou wilt not hear?" While on His cross Jesus quoted from another Psalm, "My God My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" So, when we ask ourselves just why God seems so far beyond our reach at times, so hard to touch, and so unreal, we are not inventing a new mood, but simply joining our voices to an ancient one.

This feeling of the nearness of God, if it is to be worth much, must be had at the cost of some discipline in our lives. Its very fineness and quality makes that true. We should not expect it to come easily nor treat it lightly when it comes. On the other hand, our spirits should not be allowed to go into eclipse at every unfavorable situation. We should have some high and worthy goals for ourselves and drive toward them, come fair weather or foul. To fail here is to be spiritually fickle—to succeed in this shows that we are strong in our faith.

But, there is a hopeful sign even in this farawayness of God, which is sometimes the experience of men. Just suppose David had not felt that "Panting after God!" Just suppose Habakkuk had been satisfied at the foot of the tower, and had not restlessly flung his defiant questions up into the blue, where he conceived God to be! We would never have heard of them, and how much poorer would have been our lives! Yes, God seems very near at times, and then there are times when He does not seem near at all, but far away. In those times we long to have Him near, and strive to feel His presence, and in His own way and time He comes into our hearts to bless again and again. That great fact is our fondest hope and our soundest stay. For the world never advances on the feet of numb satisfied people but on the hearts of the dissatisfied and spiritually hungry. Think it over.

BRIDAL SHOWER

A large crowd gathered last Friday in the home of Mrs. Celia Slayton to welcome her son Weldon and his bride who were visiting from Lubbock, and to shower them with bridal gifts.

Hostess for the shower were Mrs. Ford Johnson, Mrs. George Pigg, Mrs. Volley Hodges and Mrs. Walter Cobb.

The gifts were presented to the couple in the style of a treasure hunt. They were guided to each one by strings spread around the trees in the yard, then the gifts were heaped into a wheel barrow, and the bridegroom wheeled them into the house to be opened and admired.

Tables were set up for games of forty-two and refreshments of cakes, cookies, cocoa and coffee were served.

BABY BURNED

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Helms, Sr., drove to Tullia Monday and brought home with them the 16-month old son of W. E. Helms, Jr., who was released Monday from the Tullia hospital where he had been under treatment for burns to his legs which he suffered the preceding Thursday.

W. E., Jr., who is stationed at the Naval hospital at Norman, Okla., came in Wednesday on a five-day furlough to visit his little son.

FARM SALE AT FLOMOT TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5

There will be a big farm sale on the C. L. Franks place at Flomot, Tuesday, February 5, with a good list of stuff to be put up for auction. Franks, who lived on the Flomot place from 1929 to August, 1944, when he moved to Tullia, is selling out his complete farming equipment, houses, livestock and all.

Elsewhere in the paper will be found a complete list of the sale which begins at 10:30 a. m. with free lunch served at noon. The Franks property is the old Pirtle place, three and a half miles north east of Flomot.

Mr. Franks is now the representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Co. in the Tullia area.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Wess Harvey celebrated his birthday last Wednesday Jan. 23, with a couple of big feeds, one Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Berna Steward and another Thursday noon in his own home. Guests at both affairs were his brother-in-law and family of Lakeview, Frank Winter, and son Alvin Winter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Berna Steward and the Harveys. Thursday, his son Howard arrived in time to enjoy the meal with them. And son Graham wired birthday greetings from Clayton, N. M.

Wess, as usual was surprised to have his birthday remembered but had a big time enjoying the chicken dinners, pies, birthday cake, etc.

RETURN TO QUITAQUE

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Matthews and little daughter have moved back to Quitaque from Amarillo where they lived the past eight months and he has bought out Charlie Carpenter at the Magnolia Service Station. They are living in the place vacated by the Keyth Tiffins which Victor Hall recently bought from the Craigs when they moved to Wellington. Allen has done quite a bit of fixing up at the station and invites his friends to come in and bring him a share of their business.

DRY CLEANING BUSINESSES CHANGE OWNERSHIPS

J. R. Lusk, Sr. has bought the interest of Keyth Tiffin in the Turkey Dry Cleaners and is now associated with his son Leonard in the operation of the business.

Tiffin last week sold his Quitaque shop to Jack Holcomb and is now out of the cleaning and pressing business. Holcomb has been busy all week getting his machinery set up and will be ready to start operating Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Carpenter moved last week to Alamogordo, N. M., where Mr. Carpenter is hoping that his health will improve. Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Brunson have moved to the farm north of town on which the Carpenters formerly lived. Donnie recently was discharged from the Navy.

Ray Persons Is In The Race For Commissioner

R. B. Persons authorizes The Post to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of county commissioner of precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the democratic primary July 27.

Mr. Persons is now serving his third term in the office, having guided the destinies of the precinct and assisted in administration of the county's business through the war years when road improvements, etc., were unobtainable.

Mr. Persons says he has a strong desire to serve another term and to bring to fruition those postwar plans which were made since he has been in office, which were held in abeyance due to the war effort.

Mr. Persons says that folks have paid their taxes the last year or so, and much delinquent taxes has been collected, and financially the county is in good condition. With conditions as they are much should be accomplished during the next few months in the way of road improvement, etc., and he asks that the people consider him for another term in the office of commissioner of precinct No. 2.

He expresses his appreciation for the cooperation he has received in the past and asks your consideration and influence in the coming election.

Major Changes In Revised G. I. Bill

Listed below are the major changes in the revised G. I. bill.

Education Changes

Education and Training. Extends the time two to four years after after discharge or the end of the war (which is the later) to initiate a course, and extends the time for completing the education from seven to nine years after the end of the war.

Eliminates the requirements of showing interruption of education by service, and strikes out the 25-year-of-age limitation.

The act now provides that the veteran will be afforded education for one year plus the time he was in service, not to exceed four years.

Short, intensive courses are authorized cost not to exceed $500. Provision is made for correspondence school instruction, without subsistence allowance, cost not to exceed $500.

The administrator is authorized to make adjustment of fees with public institutions under certain circumstances.

Subsistence allowance is increased from $50 to $65 for the veteran without dependents; from $75 to $90 for veterans with dependents.

Provision is made for a combination of courses, except the period of time is not to exceed the period of eligibility.

Loan Provisions

1. Any loan made by a prescribed lending agency within 10 years after the end of the war is to be automatically guaranteed to 50 per cent of the loan, but loans by lenders not supervised by state or federal agencies must be approved in advance in order to be guaranteed.

2. The amount of guarantee in case of non-real estate loans may not exceed $2,000, but may be $4,000 in case of a real estate loan.

3. Interest charged may not exceed 4 per cent.

4. The Administrator is authorized to pay 4 per cent on the amount originally guaranteed rather than interest for the first year.

5. Maturity on real estate loans is not to exceed 25 years, or in case of farm realty 40 years, and on non-real estate 10 years.

6. Permits the veteran to buy a lot out of a loan designed to finance the building of a home on the lot.

7. Omits the word "normal" from the phrase "reasonable normal value."

8. Loans may be for every ordinary farming purpose.

9. Permits any normal business enterprise to be financed initially.

10. Broadens financing of existing indebtedness to cover all types of loans.

No Deduction From Bonus

The section providing deduction of costs of benefits from any future bonus is repealed in its entirety.

Another section grants both educational and the loan rights to persons on terminal leave, or who are hospitalized while awaiting discharge, under both the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16.

PUBLIC LAW 16

The Veterans Administration is authorized to extend the time for education or training of disabled veterans beyond the four-year period, and the time within which training may be furnished is extended from six years to nine years after the end of the war.

Monthly subsistence rates are increased under Public Law 16 as follows: The minimum to be $105 for a veteran without dependents; $115 for a veteran with one dependent; $10 for a child; $7 for each additional child; $15 for a dependent parent.

For further information and details, see Paul Miller, Veterans County Service Officer. The office is located in the basement of the county court house. Quitaque office in First National Bank building.

Veterans are reminded of their privilege of voting in this year's elections without payment of poll tax. It is only necessary to show evidence of service in the armed forces in order to exercise your voting privilege.

The train was pulling out and the old gentleman was just settling down comfortably. Suddenly the door burst open, and a young man stumbled into the coach and seated himself, panting and puffing, opposite. The latter looked on with obvious disapproval.

"You must be very unfit, young man," he said after a while. "Why, when I was young I never panted like that after a run."
"Perhaps not," said the other, "but I missed this train at the last station."

may see a production increase of 150 percent over 1944. He bases his prediction on a survey among both grocers and housewives. Sixty per cent of housewives interviewed in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, and San Francisco said they preferred to buy milk in paper containers because there are no deposits and no returns, the containers are easy to dispose of and eliminate bottle washing. Seventy-five percent of the grocers interviewed said they preferred to sell milk in paper containers as there is less handling, a saving in refrigerator space and decrease in breakage. Paper for the fibre containers which was formerly imported from Scandinavia is now manufactured in a Southern pulpwood area and under procedures which destroy all pathogenic bacteria.

Cotton Harvester (PICKER)

Out of our shipment, we have only one Cotton Harvester left for delivery, and although it might seem a little early to buy, we feel that with conditions as unsettled as they are there may not be any harvesters available next Fall and if there are, it is almost certain they will be a good deal higher in price.

FARMERS ARE ADVISED TO TAKE CARE OF TRACTORS

It will take several years for farmers to obtain all of the new machinery needed for replacement and expansion, states Simpson Motor Co., Ferguson System dealer here, in sounding a warning on winter care of the tractor and implements with a view toward longer wear.

He pointed out that all manufacturers are rushing tractors and various types of equipment to dealers everywhere as production increases, but that the serviceability of machinery now in use can be maintained by the following helpful suggestions.

Keep the battery clean, the terminals greased, the cells filled with clean distilled water. The charge in the battery should be maintained by running the engine or taking it to a service station for re-charging when the tractor is not in use for some time. Never store the battery on a concrete floor or in a damp place.

Simpson Motor Co. suggests that a hot engine be allowed to cool gradually before filling with cold water. In freezing weather, let the engine cool off a bit before draining the water.

Slow starting in cold weather may be caused by too heavy crankcase oil, frozen water pump, water in the fuel system, moisture in the distributor, or dirty spark plugs.

The following steps are advised for tractor storage: store tractor in shed or some sheltered place; drain entire fuel system and cooling system; remove the battery for proper storage, and relieve the tires by elevating the tractor on blocks.

A coat of paint not only improves the looks and serviceability of the tractor, but the machine will work better and last longer.

BRIDAL SHOWER FOR RECENT BRIDE

A lovely bridal shower honoring Mrs. W. R. Butler, nee Miss Bettye Gilmore was given in the home of Mrs. Roy Cooper Friday, Jan. 25. It was a call shower with guests calling from 3 until 5.

A lovely assortment of gifts was received by the honoree, many being sent by friends who were unable to call.

The refreshment table was attractively decorated, being centered with a large reflector on which was placed a three-tiered bridal cake topped by figures of a miniature bride and groom. Four teal blue candles in crystal holders were placed on either side of the cake. Sprays of ivy surrounding the reflector completed the pattern.

FAMILY IN ENGLAND WANTS AMERICAN "PEN PAL"

Mrs. F. F. Hefner of Quitaque belongs to a group who write and receive correspondence from people of all the countries in the world. Some of her mail is very interesting. The following letter is from a lady in England who would not only like to have a "Pen Pal" for herself but also has a nephew who might make an interesting correspondent for some young lady if she could spare the time to write to him:

3 Wantfield Cottage, Margaret-

ting, Ingatstone, Essex, England.

My dear friend: I had a letter from my pen pal of four and a half years, Mrs. Marion Ostrom of 423 Elmwood St., Michigan. She told me if I wrote to you, you would send me a pen pal who had not had a letter.

First I must say how I long for a letter. I am 43, with three girls, Pat 12, Gladys 8, and Kathleen 5 Christmas time. Some of our mothers union have had some nice letters which are read at our meetings the first Thursday in the month. There are about 37 of us. We have a hymn and prayer, then we have a vicar's give us a travel talk, then the letters are read.

Such is a coincidence that one lady writes to a lady in America of the same name as hers, a Mrs. Howard. Another lady hears from Ohio. We feel very near to you. Some of the ladies exchange views, some have hankies or trinkets, or photos sent. I save hankies, so dear friend, perhaps you will find me a pal or two. I don't mind. I have my nephew who is 16 and an orphan living with me. Perhaps you can find him a pal. His name is John Kingsbury, co of my address.

I must close wishing you and yours all the best. I remain Your sincere Pal, Elizabeth Wright.

A sailor spotted his buddy in the Base library. Said buddy was solving a cross word puzzle and filling in with a fountain pen instead of customary pencil. First sailor slapped his buddy on the shoulder and remarked, "When a guy whistles in a grave yard I know he is afraid. And when a guy cuts out paper dolls it means he is 'psycho.' But when a fellow fills out cross word puzzles with a fountain pen, what does that show." "Confidence," his buddy calmly replied.

MANY UNLICENSED DRIVERS RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENTS
Unlicensed drivers are figuring in 24 percent of the fatal collisions in Texas, according to Director Homer Garrison of the department of public safety.

A survey covering 415 "fatal drivers", all residents of Texas, showed that 104 either never had licenses or had permitted their licenses to expire.

"Driver licensing suffered during the war from public apathy and inadequate law enforcement," Garrison commented. "Now it's
