Last Rites Thursday For Mrs. Clarence Wise

The community was saddened when it was learned that Mrs. Clarence Wise had passed away Tuesday night about 9 o'clock at the Plainview sanitarium. She had been in declining health for a number of years with long periods of severe illness at intervals which she bore with the greatest fortitude. When her fragile health permitted she taught music and speech to a large class of devoted and admiring young pupils, who will miss her greatly.

Mrs. Wise shared her musical talents generously, responding graciously to every community need, frequently taxing her limited physical endurance to serve wherever and whenever she could.

Her passing leaves a great void in the community which she loved, and which loved her. Her many friends grieve with the family in her passing.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) afternoon at 5 o'clock at the school auditorium, with burial in the Quitaque cemetery. Complete obituary will be published next week.

Last Rites In Oklahoma For Former Resident

Last rites were held last Thursday for W. C. Payne, 76 years old, who passed away Wednesday, July 10, at his home at Sulphur, Okla. He had been in failing health for about two years. Burial was in the Drake cemetery near Sulphur.

Mr. Payne and his family had lived in Quitaque for about 12 years, coming here from Sulphur in 1924 and returning to Oklahoma in 1936. One son, Larry Payne, died in 1932 at the age of 33, while the family resided here.

Survivors are the wife and three sons, Oliver Payne of Quitaque, Murry Payne of Mill Creek, Okla., and Carl Payne of Sulphur; three daughters, Mrs. Lorene Carpenter of Quitaque, Mrs. Pearl Williams of Shamrock and Mrs. Geneva Williams of Sulphur; 18 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

All of the children and their families were present for the last rites except one grandson, Denver Lee, son of Oliver Payne of Quitaque who is in the army stationed at San Antonio and could not be notified in time.

The older son Bruce who is a paratrooper is back in Germany and a letter received from him this week states that he is instructor in a "jump school". It is his duty to see that all the men in his group jump from the plane, then he follows. He says they make seven jumps a week and are putting 700 men through.

Included in the letter from Bruce was a clipping from Stars & Stripes at Frankfurt, Germany, telling of the death of one of his buddies who was killed when his chute failed to open on a routine flight near Eschborn air field.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was enjoyed Sunday at the Ed Dunavant home, all of their children, except one, being present with their families.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

THE HEALING OF THE HILLS

By E. B. Thompson

In an address recently, Bishop Chas. C. Sealeman told an interesting story of a southern lady who was a seamstress, and used her eyes in an exacting manner in her work. After a number of years of this, her eyes gave her trouble. A great doctor in the east was consulted, and upon thorough examination said her eyes were tired. He then asked her what scenery or landscapes were near her home. Said the lady, "From my front porch, I can see the blue haze of the Cumberland mountains, far to the south. The physician then prescribed his remedy. She was told to sit for three hours each day looking toward the mountain range. The far view and the restful blue, was the need of the eye.

It may be that in our tasks which are crowded with details, and which are painfully close to us, our souls grow weary, and need this far-flung and restful gaze occasionally. The ancient singer of Israel had come into possession of that fact when he sang "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from which cometh my help."

Dr. Halford E. Lucecock the teacher of young ministers at Yale, has said to his classes, "Keep your sermons in date—and be careful at the same time to keep out the date." He had learned that man must come to grips with his everyday tasks, but he must also refuse to become circumscribed by them. When the soul grows weary and refuses to longer concentrate on the many exacting details of life, let us look away—far away, to the blue hills of eternal values, for in them is rest and strength.

Frank Gillespie, Jack Hutcheson, Harley Eddleman and Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Gillespie and son who were visiting here from Ohio, attended the rodeo at Ralls last Saturday. Frank and Jack entered the competition and placed in several of the events.

These boys have been doing quite a bit of practice roping lately and figure they'll put on a good show. The main event will be followed by jack pot and ribbon roping, open to all, with the entrance fees being returned in prizes.

The show is scheduled to start at 2 p. m.

MCKAYS ENJOY FAMILY REUNION

Reports Favorable For Dam Project On Quitaque Creek

Childress, July 15—Water from Quitaque creek to serve the needs of Childress is available, according to Paul Ord who returned Saturday from a trip to Fort Worth, Dallas and Washington where he discussed the matter with the Federal Works Agency, Reconstruction Finance Corporation and engineers.

"The Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development has spent two years studying the Quitaque project and records have proven that there is enough water in the creek to serve a city three times as large as Childress, not counting the flood flow," Ord said. "It is estimated that Quitaque water would serve Childress until it exceeds 50,000 population."

Ord and Charles Damron went to Washington to discuss with officials the status of the Childress Army Air Field and the feasibility of securing Quitaque water.

"Reliable engineers have estimated that the water can be secured for $1,500,000 and even at the RFC interest rate of four percent revenue bonds would pay for the project in 35 years," Ord said.

"It is possible that a lower rate of interest can be secured from bond buyers, and this would make the project better, but the RFC has agreed to finance the bonds at four percent," he continued.

"The study of water on Quitaque also included quality tests. These tests were started last year and have proved the water to be of excellent quality. The engineers also report there is no gyp in the water shed and the quality of water will improve with rainfall."

From an engineering standpoint the project is feasible, Ord reported. The Bureau of Reclamation, who has been studying the project for two years, state the water would flow gravity and is a sound engineering project.

In a telephone conversation Wednesday afternoon with Paul Ord, manager of the Childress board of city development, Mr. Ord stated that the proposition would be presented to the city officials Monday night for action.

If approved, Mr. Ord said, work would begin on the project just as soon as necessary arrangements could be made, but that it would require approximately a year to complete the job.

Under the setup as now proposed this writer sees no reason why there should be a hitch to prevent construction of the dam and pipeline, as Childress would pay for the project with revenue derived therefrom. Confronted with such a dire necessity for water, we hardly see where the Childress city officials could afford to withhold approval or turn down the proposition.

ELECTION TIME IS NEAR

This week's issue of The Post is a reminder that election time is not distant, and it is time now to be thinking over the list of candidates and making decisions.

The full ballot for the primary election is being published for your perusal and consideration, through the courtesy of Jake Honea, candidate for reelection to the office of sheriff. Look it over. We have just fought a war and sacrificed our young men for the privilege of holding a free election. To exercise that privilege with as much forethought and consideration as possible is our duty.

Absentee voting ends Saturday, July 20, so if you will not be here to vote at the polls on Saturday, July 27, secure your ballot and have it in the mail by July 20. Full instructions are printed on the ballot.

HIWAY SAFETY ASSN. PLANS TO REDUCE TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

In the face of an already 45 percent increase in traffic fatalities over last year, the Texas Safety association has accepted a charge by Governor Coke Stevenson to mobilize public support for a safer Texas.

"Since my inaugural address as portance of highway safety as esgovernor, I have stressed the immential to modern, progressive government," Stevenson said. "There is no more tragic waste of human lives, no more unnecessary background for human suffering, no more needless source of economic loss than traffic accidents."

"The current critical traffic accident situation is a positive challenge for public action to every Texas citizen. Unless vigorous and concerted application of proven methods of traffic control is made, Texas faces the greatest accident toll in its history."

"To that end I call upon the Texas Safety Association to coordinate the practical recommendations of the President's Highway Safety Conference and to mobilize public support for a safer Texas."

President Truman's Highway Safety Conference held in Washington this May was attended by twenty members and officials of the Texas Safety Association. Recommendations of the national conference parallel in large measure those of the Texas Emergency Traffic Conference and the Texas Safety Conference.

"The principal elements of this uniform traffic control program embrace positive and practical measures that experience has shown are necessary to curtail street and highway accidents," said A. F. Allen, president of the Texas Safety Association.

"This basic guide for traffic safety in Texas contains blueprints for uniform traffic laws and ordinances, adequate traffic enforcement personnel, driver training courses in our schools, and modern technique in enforcement and engineering."

Allen said the association accepted the governor's charge "in the belief that a balanced and adequate traffic control program of state and local government, fully supported by the people both through organizations and as individuals, can bring down and hold down the highway casualty list."

pulling method of spot-weeding is on the way out, now that entire areas are being weeded merely by spraying. The age-old laments of lawn tenders are undoubtedly being replaced with, "What a difference a spray makes," since approximately 1,600 square feet of lawn can be treated for $1.00 in a matter of minutes.

Experiments conducted by the Sherwin-Williams scientists during their development of Weed-No-More have proved that although the new lethal-liquid kills most weeds, it will not harm common lawn grasses. Permanent destruction of perennials has also been accomplished through the method. Sections of large dandelion fields treated with the chemical in 1945 were not only freed of all dandelion growth for the season, but devoid of any signs of them this spring, although the usual dense growth of the perennial reappeared on all sides. Explanation for this is that the chemical travels to the very roots, thus preventing regrowth.

The new discovery will also kill ragweed, responsible for about 90 per cent of the nation's hayfever. During a recent weed-control conference, Dr. Gaylord Anderson, director of the University of Minnesota School of Public Health and former Chief of the Army Medical Intelligence Division, stated: "The preparation of 2, 4-D offers more promising means of attack upon ragweed than does WPA relief projects. For the first time there is an effective liquid weapon in reducing human suffering and disability from the disease." And this is nothing to sneeze at.

Senator Allen Shivers, only ex-serviceman in the race for Lieutenant Governor, focused attention on war veterans when he opened his campaign recently in his home town, Port Arthur.

"I exchanged ideas with fighting men many times in the hard days overseas in Africa, Italy, France and Germany. I know the anxiety and disappointment so many veterans feel today, and I understand and appreciate their problems that are also my own problems," the Jefferson county senator stated.

Although only 28 years old, Senator Shivers is dean of the Texas Senate because of his 12 years service there. The Gulf Coast counties of Jefferson, Hardin, Liberty and Orange made him the youngest senator ever to take the oath of office when he was first sent to the state capitol to represent them in 1934.

"My past 12 years experience in the state senate enables me to preside over that legislative body, which is one of the main duties of Lieutenant Governor," Senator Shivers pointed out.

Listed as his aims when elected Lieutenant Governor, Senator Shivers named consideration of war veterans problems, higher salaries for teachers, better farm-to-market roads, reorganization of the pardon and parole system of the state.

He pointed out that he proposed and sponsored a farm-to-market road program for every county in Texas during the last session of the legislature. "The first old-age assistance law placed upon the Texas Statutes was sponsored by Allen Shivers," he reminded.

"I have been a proponent of legislative redistricting since 1937. This must be done and real soon," the senator said, continuing his platform. "I favor a 60-day session of the legislature each year rather than 120 days every other year. I also favor a reduction in the number of legislators and adequate pay for them," he stated.

Now touring the state in the interest of his candidacy, the senator stated he is asking for promotion upon the basis that he is the only candidate for Lieutenant-Governor who has the experience and qualifications that are so badly needed in order to properly preside over the Texas Senate, the Lieutenant Governor's chief function.

CHAPMAN HAS ENVIABLE RECORD AS DISTRICT JUDGE

One of the outstanding records in the illustrious history of the judiciary of Texas has been made by our own district judge Alton B. Chapman. The efficiency and dispatch with which he has operated the court has been recognized by his fellow judges in their selection of him as president of the State Judiciary for 1943-44. This organization is composed of all district and appellate judges including members of the State Supreme Court. The selection of Judge Chapman as president was the first time the honor has ever been accorded a judge in West Texas.

The most criticism that has been leveled at the courts through the years has been the slowness with which they have operated. Our present district judge has been wholly responsible for remedying this situation in this district. In a trip to Austin at his own expense he helped prepare and pass through the legislature a Continuous Terms Bill by which court is in session in all four counties all the time. Instead of having to wait from one term to another a case may be tried in any part of the district now just as soon as service is complete.

Chapman is a tireless worker, as evidenced by the fact that he has held court in ten other counties outside our own district. This work was not obligatory and he received no extra pay. In Lubbock county alone he held the 99th court for six months consecutively with a saving to the state of $2,500.00 in salary and without a single appeal from that busy court.

Without regard to the above matters the thing that makes Judge Chapman popular with the people of his district is that he is a regular fellow in every respect. He has spent his 42 years in West Texas and speaks the language of the people of this county and district.

Allan Shivers Is Only Vet In Race

Senator Allan Shivers, of Port Arthur, candidate for lieutenant governor, is the only war veteran seeking that office. Exempt from military service, he joined the army as a volunteer and served two years in Africa, France, Italy and Germany. A member of the Texas Senate 12 years, he is asking to be promoted to lieutenant governor on the basis of his service to his country and his state.

VOTE FOR

ALTON B. CHAPMAN

FOR

BECAUSE

1. His record is not surpassed by any district judge in Texas. This fact was recognized in his election as President of the State Judiciary for 1943-44, the only time in the history of Texas a West Texas Judge has been accorded this honor.
2. He has saved jurors hundreds of man hours and the counties thousands of dollars by not calling juries except when absolutely necessary.
3. He has had the Legislature pass a continuous terms bill that keeps court in session all the time in all four counties, thus speeding litigation and making it unnecessary to wait from one term to another to file a law suit.
4. In addition to doing all the work in this district he has, without any extra pay, held court in 10 other counties outside of this district. In Lubbock county alone he held court for six months consecutively, with a saving to the state of $2,500.00 in salary.
5. His consideration for jurors, their comforts, welfare and excuses from service has made him respected and appreciated by all men who have been called for jury service.
6. He has run a clean race, strictly on his own merits and qualifications.

(Arranged and paid for by Briscoe County friends who want to keep experience and proven efficiency in the district judge's office.)

We had to have a place to live, so I went to see the city attorney. He passed the buck to Peter Brown, the building inspector. Peter Brown merely gave me the book on building codes. When I asked to attend a city council meeting, he refused to give me the time of meeting, and said that there was nothing that I could do.

On a lot 195 feet long, we could not build an apartment over a garage which has been there for 20 years.

Is this sort of thing fair to the GI who wasted four years of his life for these leeches who stayed at home to suck his very blood when he returned?

troops of the 24th Eagle Scouts at Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, N. M.

Dearest Mom: Today we settled down to regular routine and work. The burro pack string returned to Abrew for our tools and we then turned the animals loose until we get through here.

The boys are going up the mountainside, cutting trees, peeling the logs and hauling them about a mile. We have to build a kitchen in five days. The trees are beautiful, quaking aspen. We have no bought lumber of any kind and very few nails and tools. The boys really like this type of work.

One crew is building this kitchen and another will start tomorrow on the 10 foot by 30 foot cabin, which will house a toilet, shower and wash room.

Tomorrow morning we are having fish for breakfast, rainbow trout. The boys can catch a mess before you turn around; ten a day is the limit and most boys get their share. I'll be burned out on fish before the summer is over.

Some of the boys almost froze last night. It was about freezing at day break. Most of the boys have trapper beds, which are about six inches off the ground. I'm sure glad I have a real good sleeping bag. I haven't seen one that is better up here yet. My tent mate is Lindy Wheeler "Preacher" from Dumas. He's a real nice kid of 17.

I received the shoes, shirts and socks today. Came in by mule pack train. They were really welcomed. I had borrowed a pair of heavy shoes. This land is really rough on shoes, about two months to a pair. Maybe I can get by until September on these. The heavy socks make them a good fit. Please send me another half dozen pair in about three weeks. My other socks are about gone. It's practically necessary to have heavy shoes and socks. The shirts came in handy as they are so easy to wash. I washed today and the pair of red socks faded and now I have some pink spotted underwear—but clean anyway.

I really appreciate the paper and magazines. We grab any old paper to read and any magazine. Please send me some more. Some cookies and candy would be enjoyed too. Thanks for sending the box. We just live for th email.

I don't know whether I told you

MORE OBSTACLES TO DELAY ADEQUATE HOMES FOR VETS

Material and labor shortages—high costs and low incomes, are not the only obstacles that the veterans encounter in search of a home for their families. Following is a clipping from a Racine, Wis., newspaper which is interesting to us because the author is known here. She is Mrs. Gordon Ince, the former Miss Anna Christine Faulkner, granddaughter of Mrs. Anna Hughes of Quitaque.

She and her husband were prevented from building the home which they could afford because of a too narrow interpretation of a city ordinance. So, after attempts to obtain a hearing from city officials failed, she sent her complaint to the newspaper—and here 'tis:

Dear Mr. Reynolds: I have been following your column for some time, and a great many of my friends have urged me to write to you concerning the deal our city fathers cooked up to make the housing shortage worse in Racine.

Some time ago, my husband, an ex-soldier, engaged the services of a contractor to make an apartment for us over the garage. Of course, all garages built in earlier years are behind the house. Well, getting on with the story, when our contractor went to get the building permit, he was refused! Why? Because of a city ordinance passed in March of this year which stated that no dwelling could be that the boys named one of the donkeys "Fanny Farley" and one "Mille Murphy."

We have lots of fun with the Yankees about our states, the "crick," religion, etc. Claude.

"I'm sorry," said the elevator girl.

"Did I stop too quickly?"
"Oh, no," coyly replied one of the female passengers, "I always wear my bloomers down around my ankles."

Adults tend to grow more conservative as they grow older.

HOW TO JUDGE QUALITY WHEN BUYING A RUG

Judging quality and wear in new rugs may be a problem to many homemakers, according to A. & M. College specialists in home improvement, and she has several suggestions to prospective buyers.

The amount of wool in the rug, the construction of the rug, and the quality of the wool itself determine quality and wear in the rug.

Assuming that the wool is of good quality, the rug with a greater amount of wool will be a rug of higher quality. A label will usually tell whether the wool used is worsted or woolen. Worsted rugs wear well, but the initial cost is apt to be high.

Both sides of a rug should be examined to check on construction. A high-pile rug will wear better than a short-pile rug of the same density. But a rug with a short dense pile is preferable to a loosely woven high-pile rug.

Tightly woven foundation yarns, called "filling" are important in the wear of a rug. These are usually cotton or jute. Tightness of weave in the "filling" of a rug can be tested by shifting the rug back and forth in the hands. If the back of a rug feels sleazy or thin, it lacks formness, or shifts readily, it probably is not a high quality rug.

Weave itself does not necessarily mean quality and durability. There may be high, medium and low-priced rugs in any well-known weaves.

And if you aren't up on today's expressive slang, "peanuts" means a very small amount of money. Like your electric bill. It really is "peanuts," isn't it—compared to most other items in your family budget?

While the cost of most things climbed through the years—the price of electric service kept right on going down. Even in wartime, when practically all prices popped up, electricity actually became a few "peanuts" cheaper.

As a matter of fact, the average American family gets twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago!

All of this goes to prove an important point. Sound business management—and experienced employees—together have given the American people dependable, low-priced electric service—the best and most in the world! You'll enjoy that service even more in the electric years ahead.
