After discussion of various aspects of these needs, Ladd appointed committees to begin work toward obtaining them.

Dr. W. R. Hornburg has tendered his resignation as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe. The action was announced to the congregation Sunday. He has been serving the local congregation for more than three years.

Dr. Hornburg's decision to leave the local work to others was induced by Mrs. Hornburg's ill health and they feel that a change of climate will be beneficial.

Cpl. Harlan Was Tough On Japs

With the 21st Infantry (Victory) Division on Mindanao.—Until the Japanese surrender, Corporal William G. Harlan, of Muleshoe, son of W. B. Harlan, member of a ground crew supporting aircraft, has directed many air strikes that have been responsible for much of the success of this Victory Division's campaign on Mindanao. Corporal Harlan's unit of the 13th Air Force, attached to this Victory Division was responsible for maintaining communication between ground and air during the bombings by planes on strong enemy positions in the Davao sector. This called for great accuracy, at times the targets were only a few hundred feet in front of American infantry teams.

Heavily mined roads, constant danger from enemy infiltration and ambushes, and snipers made doubly hazardous Corporal Harlan's duties. At times he was out ahead of the infantry front lines in order to make more accurate his observations for the planes.

On one occasion the doughboys were held up by a strongly fortified pillbox. Corporal Harlan's unit called to the crew of a B-25 circling overhead and asked them if they had any bombs. They did. The plane was guided in over the target, released its bombs, and destroyed the enemy stronghold.

Several times the radios were used to guide C-47s onto airstrips to evacuate wounded soldiers. In one day, one hundred and twenty-five strikes were directed on 27 different targets.

School authorities here intend to see that the provisions of the Texas Compulsory School Law are enforced, according to a statement by Supt. W. C. Cox, made this week.

Mr. Cox said some complaint had reached school authorities that there is some delinquency on the part of boys in the neighborhood, and he felt that a statement of policy and explain the provisions of the State law. His statement follows:

Many people either forget or ignore the fact that the State of Texas has a compulsory school law. This law provides that children between the ages of 7 and 16 inclusive that have not finished the 8th grade be compelled to attend a public free school for a period of at least 120 days beginning with the beginning of school of the current school year.

There are four exceptions: 1. If a child is attending a parochial school which includes in its course of study a course of citizenship and civics instruction on the basis of instruction 2. Any child whose bodily or mental condition renders attendance inadvisable. 3. Any child who is blind, deaf, dumb, or feeble minded. 4.

39 DEGREES WEDNESDAY

A preview of winter was provided here Wednesday when a blustery norther blew all day and sent the mercury hurtling toward the bottom of the tube. A low of 39 degrees was recorded, said Judge R. J. Klump. High for the twenty-four hour period was 72. It was an unusually cool spell for mid-September, and men with late feed felt an early frost blowing on their necks. Ground where wheat has planted was not helped by the cold, dry wind, growers said.

Any child who lives more than 2 1/2 miles from a school that does not maintain a transportation system.

Since the Muleshoe Schools do maintain transportation, Number 4 will not apply to children in this district. So unless he falls under one of the first three, he is compelled by the Law to attend school for at least 120 days beginning the first day of the opening of school.

The Law further provides that even a temporary absence is not to be countenanced by school authorities unless it be for one of the following causes: 1. Sickness backed by doctor's statement. 2. Sickness or death in the family. 3. Quarantine. 4. Severe storm. 5. Route to school made impassable. 6. Unusual cases acceptable by school authorities (financial condition not included).

The Law also provides that in temporary absences a written excuse signed by the parent or guardian must accompany the child's return to the school. Parents have resented our asking for these written excuses, not realizing that we were merely complying with the law.

The penalty for violating the compulsory school law is very plain. It provides that the parent may be forced to make a bond guaranteeing the presence of the child in school if it becomes necessary to forfeit this bond because of parent's failure to keep child in school, a fine of $10 is collected.

This fine may be collected for each additional offense if the child can not be kept in school and continued violation results, the child can be adjudged an insubordinate and placed in the State Training School located at Gatesville.

The School Authorities are not just supposed to enforce the Compulsory School Law, it is demanded that they enforce it.

The Authorities of the Muleshoe Schools sincerely desire the cooperation of all parents toward keeping their children in school. It should be necessary to compel parents to send their children to school. It is the undenied heritage of every normal child to receive at least a common school education.

This heritage is guaranteed by millions of dollars paid in school taxes by the taxpayers of Texas. It is the parents' obligation to their children and to the community to see that their children receive their just desserts.

The Muleshoe School Authorities are going to accept their part of the obligation to the school children by putting forth every effort to the enforcement of the Compulsory School Law. We are pleading for parental cooperation. But whether or not we have this cooperation or duty to the child remains the same.

The child must be in school or he must come under one of the above exemptions.

Short Cuts Save Time in Pickle Making

FULL-FLAVORED pickles can be yours this fall without long hours of work in the cheerful news to housewives imparted by the Rural Home editor of nationally circulated Copper's Farmer.

"There's a short-cut method for pickles," she writes in the magazine read by 1,200,000 farm families. "It calls for shorter drainage and cooking time, less cooking liquid and uses distilled white vinegar as the preservative. Recipes developed with the new method require little sugar."

"For cucumbers pickles make this way the brining period is omitted entirely. Vegetables for relish are salted down, then drained only 2 hours; then the cooking period is shortened and the amount of speed-vinegar solution decreased."

"The pickles may taste rather mild when first packed. But flavor continues to penetrate during storage. By the time you want to serve these pickles at club meetings next winter they will be as spicy and sharp as you like them."

"With individual sandwich leaves, other relishes and coffee you'll have the tempting afternoon snack pictured above. Decorate plates with slices of green pickle."

CURRY PICKLES

4 c. white vinegar 1/2 c. yellow mustard seed
2 c. sugar 1/2 c. salt 1/2 medium cucumbers
1 tsp. curry powder 1 tsp. celery seed

Heat vinegar, sugar, salt and spices to boiling. Add washed and cubed cucumbers to solution and boil gently for 10 minutes. Pack while boiling into hot sterilized jars; fill to one fourth inch from top. Be sure solution covers cucumbers. Seal each jar immediately. Yields 8 pints

'TICKIE QUIZ

Soccer is the only game of football deserving the name because it is the only one where advancement of the ball is limited to action of the feet. It is the original game of football, dating back to England in the 14th Century.

In 1863 the London Football Association, in distinguishing its game from the never "kicked" football, decided to call its "association football" was merely "football" in time "association" was substituted in "kick" and finally to "Soccer."

After checking with officials of the ODT, he was assured that the war time restrictions on school transportation have now been lifted and school buses may be used in has sent a clipping from a service newspaper, which perhaps reveals the frame of mind of men who are in the occupation forces. The clipping was submitted for publication in The Journal by his wife, who lives here:

A LETTER TO HOME:

My Darling,
It's a little hard to believe, a little difficult to accept as real. After months of training that we knew was preparing us for fighting, after enduring a period of combat, praying every day for peace, after living through a man-made purgatory, the end of hostilities comes to us while the battlefield is far away. Perhaps that is why we find it hard to realize that no longer will we have to aim through our sights, and pull a trigger with the sole thought in mind to kill.
Truly a queer mixture of emotions, dearest. We want to accept this peace so completely, yet this distance between us and the gunflashes makes it seem unreal—it's over? With no Jap arms held high in surrender? With no flaming towns, no crying children no homeless old people? Slowly it comes to us, this far-off thing.
Happy? Of course. But it is a sober joy; there is no uncontrolled jubilation, no wild celebrations. Rather, a quiet relaxation, as for the first time we rest tired muscles and smile. And it is a slow reaction at best, as a peaceful sun melts the war-frost that glazes our mind.
Thankful? That too. We thank our

God for protecting us, our leaders for guiding us, our dear ones for cheering us and loving us. Also we are appreciative of the chance to build anew in a peaceful world what our day dreams of home have outlined for us.

We feel, and this too I am thankful for, that our task and our responsibility have not ended—they have merely begun. The intense desire to return to the life we left foremost in our minds, but while doing so we must protect what we have fought for. Follows who shared this brutal experience of warfare with us are no longer here, and we who have lived through it all owe to them to consolidate what all of us—the living and the fallen—have gained. It is the world's debt to them to make this a durable and a lasting peace. We refuse to believe in grandiose phrases. We do believe in what we have seen—and are determined that the suffering and misery that has been paraded before us shall not be repeated.

That's why we're soberly happy—we are sure of returning to our loved ones—we're sure of the opportunity to attempt the reconstruction of what we have lost or missed. But we have a debt and a responsibility. And not to fulfill these would be to lose this war we have won.

Yours,

BLACKWATER VALLEY Soil Conservation District News

Board of Supervisors: B. H. Black, W. R. Carter, R. Q. M. Beasley, Paul M. Carmickle, and Virgil Nowell.

Planting of a winter legume cover crop on irrigated land was urged today by the supervisors of the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District as an important part of both the wartime agricultural program and the local soil and water conservation program.

"Planting a winter legume, preferably hairy vetch in this area, will help to insure the productiveness of our farmlands next year and enable our farmers to grow successfully whatever adapted crops are required by our own efforts," Ray Carter, chairman of the district supervisors, said.

"A good growth of winter legumes helps to hold soil in our fields during winter and early spring rains. Hairy vetch, when plowed under as green manure, adds a large amount of nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. This extra nitrogen will reduce next year's fertilizer bill and the organic matter will enable the soil to hold more moisture for the summer crops" the chairman continued.

N. S. Abbott, Work Unit Conservationist for the Department of Agriculture - Soil Conservation Service, said that success with a winter legume cover crop depended upon proper inoculation of the seed. He suggested that a phosphate fertilizer be used to obtain maximum growth.

At the Experiment Station, Tyler, Texas, hairy vetch increased the per acre production of seed cotton in 1942-43 80 per cent.

In many cases hairy vetch can be seeded following the harvesting of sorghums, cotton and truck crops without any additional seedbed preparation. Seeding should be done not later than October 1 and preferably by September 15. The rate of seeding when drilled alone should be 20 to 25 lbs. per acre; 10 to 15 lbs. with small grain, and 25 to 30 lbs. when broadcast alone.

Hairy vetch requires 35 to 40 inches of water per year. The amount of irrigation needed will depend entirely on the amount of annual rainfall. Ordinarily it will need one irrigation at seeding time, one irrigation late in the fall, and one or two irrigations in the spring.

A. W. Copley, O. C. Thomson, and W. B. McAdams, cooperating with the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District, have planted several acres of hairy vetch on each of their farms.

King Commended By Gen. Kenney

M. D. King, of Route 1, has had the honor of receiving a personal letter from Gen. George C. Kenney, Commanding General of United Far East Air Forces. The letter, dictated and signed by the famed air general, concerned Mr. King's son, Lt. M. D. King, Jr., who has been decorated with the Air Medal. The General's letter follows:

Far East Air Forces
Headquarters
Office of the Commanding General

August 27, 1945

Dear Mr. King:

Recently your son, Lieutenant M. D. King, Jr., was decorated with the Air Medal. It was an award made in recognition of courageous service to his combat organization, his fellow American airmen, his country, his home and to you.

He was cited for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in the Pacific Area from November 19, 1944, to July 14, 1945.

Your son took part in sustained operational flight missions during which hostile contact was probable and expected. These operations consisted of transporting troops and supplies to forward positions in unarmored transport aircraft.

Flights were accomplished over hazardous land and sea routes, where inclement weather was frequently encountered, and landing was often made within a few miles of enemy bases. These operations aided considerably in the recent successes in this theatre.

His has been a very real contribution to victory and peace.

I would like to tell you how genuinely proud I am to have your son in my command, and to know that young Americans of such resourcefulness and courage have been the deciding factor in our country's overwhelming victory against the Japanese.

You, Mr. King, have every reason to share that pride and gratification.

Sincerely,
GEORGE C. KENNEY,
General, United States Army,
Commanding

Dr. S. E. Goucher

To The People of Muleshoe and Trade Area:

The new Childrens' Shop recently added to our Clovis store, together with a greatly increased volume of business in the other departments there we find takes up all our time—rendering it impossible to continue to give the Muleshoe shop our personal attention as heretofore.

We therefore deemed it advisable to dispose of the shop there, and to devote our entire time and attention to the main store at Clovis. We turned it, as you know, to W. B. Little, of Littlefield, who we understand, will continue it along the same general lines.

We are proud to have given your fine little city a modern ladies shop. We trust it will grow into an institution commensurate with the opportunities that may develop as time goes on. Mr. and Mrs. Little are very fine people, and I am sure will become valuable assets to your splendid community.

We like you people very much. You have been very cooperative, very generous with your patronage at both the Clovis and Muleshoe stores. We appreciate it. We value highly the many fine friendships formed, and which we trust may endure throughout the years.

In the future, when you can't find what you want or need in Muleshoe, drive over to Clovis (it's only 31 miles) . . . and, by all means, drop in at our store. We'll be glad to have a visit from you, and delighted to be of service to you.

Sincerely,
MAYE BAKER

SAYS SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE:

Despite Victory Used Fat Saving Must Go On!

Every woman in America should know that our country continues to face a serious fat shortage. And victory over Japan won't solve the problem immediately. We must keep on saving used fats in our kitchens!

If you have any thought that saving used fats is one of those wartime chores we can drop, now that Victory is here, please consider these facts and tell them to your neighbors.

America still needs salvaged fats. Not even at the peak of our war effort, when fats were required for mountains of shells and bombs and medicines, in addition to the ever-present need for soap, were our needs for salvaging fat greater than now. Our stocks have been drained by four long years of war, and there isn't enough on hand to meet all requirements.

Don't let "Victory psychology" blind you to this national need! If housewives stop saving fats now, the shortage will become even more critical.

Don't let a single drop of used fats go to waste! Little trimmings of fat left on the platter at the table, scraps left on plates, and even the skimmings of soups and gravies are important. It is the consistent saving of even these small amounts that counts.

Don't turn in fats that can be re-used! But some fats, such as those rendered from lamb and mutton, are not suitable for re-use. Put them immediately in the salvage can. And, with other fats, after you've got all cooking good out of them, there is always a little left. No matter how little it is, save it.

Your butcher will still give you 4¢ and 2 red points for every pound you turn in. Save consistently—save every drop you can—every day—until Uncle Sam says the job is done.

Clinton Anderson
Secretary of Agriculture

Frozen Lemon Pie Is Toothsome Dish

FROZEN lemon pie is a toothsome dinner dessert for the family that's been working hard all day, says the Country Cooking editor of Capper's Farmer.

Graham cracker crumbs are crust and topping for the chilled yellow filling, she writes in the nationally circulated farm magazine. Pie-shaped pieces are made by cutting diagonally across the refrigerator tray in which pie is frozen.

The dessert which will be an ever-popular family favorite, serves 8, the Capper's Farmer expert advises.

FROZEN LEMON PIE

1 cup sugar 1/2 cup lemon juice 1/2 cup lemon rind 1/2 cup sugar

Beat egg yolks; add lemon juice and piece of rind slice a lemon and all but 2 tablespoons of the sugar. Cook over low heat 15 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove rim and cool. Beat egg whites until stiff add remaining sugar and fold into cooked mixture. Add whipped egg whites to lemon mixture. Pour in lemon mixture; sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Freeze with temperature set at coldest. Serves 8.

WAR WORKERS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luttrell are back home in Muleshoe this week and seem to be very happy about

COAST GUARD WANTS MEN

The U. S. Coast Guard Mobile Recruiting Unit will be in Dallas, at the U. S. Post Office beginning Sept. 1. Young men of 17 years of age with birth certificate and parent's consent are being enlisted and given the opportunity to "Earn while Learning."

NAVY IS SEEKING YOUNG MEN 17-20 FOR ENLISTMENT

Navy Recruiting Stations all over the country are initiating an all out drive for voluntary enlistments, particularly in the Regular Navy, among men in the age group of 17 to 20 inclusive, who are now eligible by executive order of President Truman.

The Navy's recruiting drive is designed to speed demobilization of men with long war service, to reduce the Navy's calls through Selective Service and at the same time to enable the Navy to fulfill its extensive responsibilities through the transition period and beyond.

During August, despite the ban on recruiting men between the draft ages of 18 and 37 inclusive, the Navy enlisted more than 16,000 men in the 17 year age group, with parental consent. Of this number 6,300 joined the Regular Navy and the balance entered the Naval Reserve.

Men who have not been uniformed as well as those recently discharged through the Army and Navy demobilization plan are sought in this recruiting drive.

The term of enlistment in the Regular Navy is now reduced from six years to four.

Any men interested in this new program can see Chief Lambert or James McGriel, Y2c, assistant Recruiter at the Navy Recruiting Office, Post Office Bldg., Lubbock any week day from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. They will be glad to explain the many opportunities of this new program.

ARE YOU DRIVING A LEAPING LENA?

THEN CHANGE TO THIS New Fighting AVIATION OIL

Your car doesn't have to be an old jalopy to run like a "Leaping Lena." Reduced wartime speeds and too much stop-and-go driving can sap its pep and power, causing it to lose its smooth operation.

So let your favorite mechanic check the motor and tune it up. Then change to Champlin H.V.-1... the new fighting aviation oil.

Champlin H.V.-1 (High Viscosity Index) motor oil is refined by an entirely new solvent process... from 100% Paraffin Base Mid-Continent Crude... the finest obtainable. IT REMEMBER, the Armed Services have first call on all Champlin products
