RADIOACTIVE FALLOUT

Many questions are being asked and much concern is being evidenced with relation to the fallout from a nuclear explosion. The people should be given every possible bit of information on the subject. Hence, I have tried to gather together a few facts to pass on to you concerning the problem.

It appears that radioactivity comes from two sources: the explosion of a nuclear bomb, or the explosion of a thermonuclear weapon or hydrogen bomb. Both create radioactive fragments. The most important, or perhaps the most dangerous, are Strontium 90, Cesium 137, and Iodine 131.

The thermonuclear weapon adds another radioactive element, to wit: Carbon 14. When such an explosion occurs at or near the earth the dust particles are of course made radioactive. If such a weapon is exploded high in the air, the radioactivity of ground dust is minimized.

Radioactivity can give you cancer, shorten your life, make your hair fall out, give you anemia, make you sterile, or affect heredity so that you or your children will produce malformed children. Such tragic results, however, depend entirely upon the dosage absorbed by the individual. Although the overall amount of radiation one gets from fallout is less than four percent of the natural radioactive dose absorbed day in and day out from cosmic rays, water, bricks, rocks in the ground, and so forth, this does not mean that there is no danger from fallout. It is here that the four elements, to-wit: Iodine 131, Strontium 90, Cesium 137, and Carbon 14 become important. Fallout radiation, although no greater than natural radioactivity, insofar as dosage is concerned, could contain more concentrated amounts of one or all of the elements referred to, which would increase the danger. In other words, Iodine 131 could be taken into the body by drinking contaminated milk. Although milk presently contains Iodine, it is the position of one group of scientists that the Iodine content would need to be increased approximately 1,000 times that which has been detected in the past before serious worry should be indulged. It has been suggested that since radioactive life of about twelve days, the use of aged or powdered milk would measurably minimize any possible danger.

Strontium 90 causes bone cancer or leukemia. There is a continuing controversy between scientists as to the dose of Strontium 90 necessary to produce either. It has been concluded by tests that the average American carries approximately 2.5 microcuries of Strontium 90 for every gram of calcium, a microcurie being one millionth of a millionth of the radiation given out by a gram of Radium. The worry level has been set by the International Commission on Radiation Protection as between 200 and 2,000 microcuries. We in this country as a whole are a long, long way from any worry level at the present time.

Carbon 14 affects the genes, the heredity - controlling units inside your germ cells. Linus Pauling, a Nobel Prize chemist, has estimated that there will be 100,000 genetic deaths throughout the world in the next few generations as a result of Carbon 14 from tests up to 1958. It was also estimated that Carbon 14 has a life expectancy of 8,000 years. It is not like Iodine 131. It doesn't go away.

Cesium 137 also produces genetic defects. But it would appear from the information that I have that the possibility of damage from Cesium 137 is much more remote than the other elements above named.

I pass this information on as scientific data that has been produced by scientists and translated by able newspaper people. Personally, I am in somewhat the same

Rain Halts Cotton Harvest

The official rain gauge at the City Hall caught 1.30 inches of rain and snow this week as the cotton harvest has been brought to a standstill once again.

The two local gins have ginned over five thousand bales of cotton and estimates are that the local crop is about two-thirds finished.

If area farmers could have two weeks of sunshine, the cotton harvest could be pretty well under control under the 'Cap. However, weather forecasts are not very optimistic, the predictions being for another wet front to move in over the week-end. Cotton harvest on the plains is just now getting under way, most of the crops being late, and few farmers hand pulling their cotton. All in all, our country is badly in need of some cotton-pickin' sunshine.

LOCAL TEAMS TO PLAY ROARING SPRINGS

Due to bad weather, the game scheduled to be played here last Tuesday night with the Clarendon High School teams were cancelled.

Last Thursday night the local teams went over to Flomot and played a couple of game there, the locals winning both games.

The Pantherettes got back on the winning side of the ledger, winning that one 44-12. Chlonez Woods, who has been playing a guard position most of the time, switched to forward for that one and wound up top scorer for the night with 17 points. Jimmy Mayfield was runner-up with 8 points; Janice Dudley and Judy Colvin tossed in 7 points each. Jennifer Whittington made 5 points and Sharon Bailey to round out the scoring for the Pantherettes. Jean Green was high for Flomot with 6 points, Joyce Shorter made 3 points, Aleta Neatherlin 2 and Sue Tiffin dropped in 1 free shot.

The Panthers, with the regulars

The Longhorn's Sheldon Jacobs won scoring honors for the night, however, earning 17 points; Billy Speery racked up 8 points; Seab Washington 4, and Cloyce Shorter made 2 points to round out the Longhorn scoring.

Friday night the local teams journey over to Roaring Springs for a couple of games, and next Tuesday night the Roaring Springs teams will come to Quitaque for a double-header.

Keith Cleggar, a student at West Texas State College in Canyon was injured when he was thrown down inside a bull's spin and trampled. His injuries required several stitches in his head and treatment for a sprained arm, and although his ribs were badly bruised, it was believed that his wounds were not serious.

C. L. Dunn of Silvertown was kicked in the head by a horse, which raised a large knot and blacked his eye.

The weather was a little cold, but clear—a good day for riding. The spectators, numbering about 50, seemed to enjoy the afternoon.

Thanksgiving Service Set For Sunday Night

(By James C. Holman)

The churches of Quitaque have a united Thanksgiving Service for the entire community each year the Sunday night before Thanksgiving. Next Sunday night, November 19th, the service will be at First Methodist Church with the Rev. Robert J. Beck of First Baptist Church as speaker. The Rev. James Smith, pastor of The Assembly of God Church will read the Scripture and the Church of Christ will be represented by James Brunson.

A Community Choir is going to furnish the music. People of all churches are urged to attend. It seems most fitting that we should unite in praise to the Lord God Almighty in a service of adoration and thanksgiving once a year. The Pilgrim Fathers gave thanks even though they had experienced a most trying year. They had stepped off the "Mayflower" onto a land that gave them a cold reception. They were not greeted with the Statue of Liberty to symbolize the protection and freedom the new world would give. Nor did the ship find a well-equipped dock on which to unload passengers. There was no Federal Housing Administration to help them to build their homes. During the first winter food became scarce and sickness took a toll of half the population, yet there was no Federal Welfare Agency to give aid. Spring found them tilling the soil and planting their crops. Their dependence for a harvest was completely upon God, for there was no government provisions to subsidize their income. If a man was permanently disabled while at work, the existing government had no Social Security program to give him financial aid. The first American Thanksgiving was born out of death and privation. At their first Thanksgiving service, they chose the 24th Psalm—"The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein."

Their Thanksgiving did not depend so much upon material blessings; their emphasis was rightly centered upon God. We of Quitaque need to forget all else and center our thoughts upon God. O come, let us worship together. Let us magnify His holy name!

An offering is received each year at the Community Thanksgiving Service for the material needs that might arise during the year. A committee administers the funds, composed of M. L. Roberson and Pete Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Finney were in Plainview last Thursday on business. Mrs. Finney has developed bronchitis and has been going to Matador for treatment every day since that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lambert and children of Colgate, Okla. came Saturday to bring her mother, Mrs. Stella Wells, to spend a few weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. W. J. Carter and Mr. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gardner of Childress visited her sister, Mrs. C. H. Hamner and Mr. Hamner Sunday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Morris of Tulia.

Mrs. L. J. Bedwell and Mrs. Joe Bedwell were in Tulia Tuesday to see the dentist.

Eighty-two members were signed up as members in the Quitaque Parent Teacher Association at the first meeting of the current year Monday night at the school auditorium.

George Ray Colvin, High School Principal was in charge of the first meeting. After his opening remarks, the invocation was led by John Fulton.

The First, Second, Third and Fourth Grades, under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Gragson, entertained the assembled group for 15 or 20 minutes with a sing-song, which was enjoyed by everyone.

The nominated officers of the PTA were presented to the group and all were elected by acclamation. Paul Bailey is the new president for the new year; Mrs. G. R. Colvin and O. R. Stark are vice-presidents and Mrs. Grady Tyler is the Secretary.

Rev. James C. Holman spoke to the assembly on "The Value of the P.T.A." He pointed out that teachers and parents have a joint responsibility in educating our young people and the interest of parents should extend beyond merely paying taxes, teacher's salary and feeding the youngsters. He stated that the P.T.A. should bring a close cooperation between the school, the teacher and the parent. The P.T.A. should promote close cooperation between home and school. Rev. Holman stated that P.T.A. meetings can and should be educational and inspirational and should not just meet for the sake of meeting but should be attended for the purpose for which they are intended.

The P.T.A. also can provide many useful things for the school for which the state does not provide.

After the Rev. Holman's address, new officers were installed by the Rev. Robert J. Beck.

P.T.A. projects for this year were discussed, and it was pointed out that new curtains were needed for the stage, new window curtains for the auditorium and it was also pointed out that playground equipment was sorely needed.

The next meeting date for the P.T.A. will be Monday, December 11. The second Monday of each month is the regular meeting time.

TEXAS TAXPAYERS GET AID FROM INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

Texas taxpayers will get a break in claiming Texas sales tax payments on their federal income tax returns for 1961. This was announced today by B. Frank White, Internal Revenue Service Regional Commissioner for Texas and four other southwestern states.

The IRS has devised a Texas Sales Tax Table to help the Texas taxpayer calculate his state sales tax deduction at a glance and without troublesome record keeping.

According to Mr. White, Texas taxpayers who itemize their deductions on Form 1040 will not have to keep their sales tax records, providing their Texas sales tax deductions do not exceed those on the Tax Table.

"Texas taxpayers making state sales tax payments in excess of the amounts shown on the Table may take such deductions to which they are lawfully entitled," Mr. White said.

However, these taxpayers must keep sales tax records and be able to prove their deductions in the same way as they would be required to verify any other deductions on their federal tax return.

"Taxpayers using the standard 10 percent deduction would not be entitled to deduct the Texas Sales Tax payment," Mr. White said.

The Tax Table, shown here, gives average amounts spent by Texas residents for sales taxes and is arranged according to various adjusted gross income brackets. Since the Texas Sales Tax Law did not go into effect until September 1 of this year, the IRS Tax Table covers the period between September 1 and December 31, 1961. A new Table will be published for 1962.

Mr. White explained that estimates of average Texas general sales tax payments are based on two kinds of information — state sales tax laws and a statistical analysis of consumer spending. When new spending patterns are established or substantial changes are made in the Texas Sales Tax Law, the Table will be revised.

The Table does not include such deductible items as the Texas state tax on gasoline, which is five cents a gallon, or the state tax on cigarettes, eight cents a pack, which was effective August 28, 1961.

Mr. White said that the time saving Texas Sales Tax Table will be off the presses and available for general distribution at IRS district offices in Austin and Dallas by December 6.

Newest Decorating Craze

Sew-Your-Own Smocked Pillows

Ironing on smocking marks to fabric with Multi-Blue Transfer. McCall's instructions for smocking are easy-to-follow.

Smocked decorator pillows—round, square and bolster are arranged on a Victorian sofa.

A new craze in decorating is sweeping the country. Women from New York to New Orleans, from San Francisco to Miami have taken to sewing their own smocked pillows. McCall's pattern includes three shapes—round, square and bolster. Fabric and color choices are varied and the cost is unbelievably low when you sew-it-yourself for your home or to give as gifts.

Silk, satin and velveteen would be lovely and for less formality fine corduroy and soft cottons make pretty pillows. Both round and bolster pillows require three-quarters of a yard of fabric. One to one and one quarter yard of fabric is needed for the square pillow. Smocking lines are ironed on to the fabric by placing and pinning the Multi-Blue transfer sheet printed side down to the wrong side of the fabric. Then press on lines with a warm iron. Full instructions for easy smocking and completion of the pillows are in McCall's pattern envelope #2467.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS —

What if some glib salesman signs you up for an encyclopedia, or a set of pots and pans. Next day you change your mind. Can you cancel the order? Chances are you can't.

The typical pattern runs thus: The salesman fast talks poor Joyce Jones into signing an order for a set of cooking ware, silver, or whatever you. She pays a nominal amount down, the balance to be over a long term. The price is high enough, plus a big carrying charge, but the installments run for a long time and at first look reasonable. When the shipment arrives, Joyce decides she doesn't want it or can't afford it anyhow, so she refuses to accept it and tells the company she is cancelling the order.

But poor Joyce is out of luck. The company promptly tells her that they "sold" her installment contract to a bank or financial institution, and she must now deal with them, not the company. The company thus got its sale price in full. Sorry, but it is too late to cancel the order. This is not at all like buying from a local store, where you can usually return the goods if they are unsatisfactory or if you change your mind. If Joyce ships the merchandise back, the company will most likely refuse to accept it.

Moreover, the companies buying such contracts are hard-boiled about their collections. If Joyce doesn't pay, they will not hesitate to report her to a credit rating agency, or even sue.

The moral is, be sure you know who you are dealing with, and be sure you know what you are signing and the consequences.

Last Wednesday night the youth of First Methodist Church had their annual Thanksgiving banquet. Rev. Dan Solomon, assistant pastor of First Methodist Church in Plainview, was the speaker. The menu consisted of Turkey with all of the trimmings.

THANK OFFERING

This Sunday the members of First Methodist Church are asked to bring a "Thank Offering" to apply on the Benevolences of the church. This is an offering for others. All of it goes beyond the needs of the local church. Some of the causes supported through this are Missions Education, Evangelism, Hospitals and Homes, American Bible Society, Searritt College for Christian Workers, Retired Ministers, and other Kingdom Causes. The total goal for the year is $2400.00. It is the plan that in this offering at least half the total need will be met and as much beyond as possible. God has been good to all of us; what better way to express thanks!

JUNIOR SOCIAL AT FLOMOT BAPTIST CHURCH

Thursday evening, Juniors and their teachers and sponsors gathered in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church for a social that was planned by the Social Committee of the Class.

Teachers of the Sunday School and leaders of the Training Union and several of the parents were on hand to make the entertainment more enjoyable. Members of the group brought one or more articles of food to add to the refreshments.

An Indian Powwow was the theme carried out with table interest, a Pilgrim setting with a miniature scene of the Mayflower in the distance near Plymouth Rock. An Indian village of teepees and wild turkeys surrounded the Pilgrims.

Guests were each given a feather and an Indian Chief was selected by counting out the person with the black marble. Jan Whitaker was designated as Chief and in traditional Indian fashion the Peace Pipe was smoked before the evening was over. Bible games and quizzes were a part of the entertainment and a story of Indian lore, "The Sheep Herder" was told by Mrs. L. B. Turner, followed by the reading of the 23rd Psalm by L. E. Shorter, with a prayer of devotion.

Refreshments of popcorn, sandwiches, apples, iced punch and goodnight candy kisses were served to those present.

Attending were Mrs. Joe Smith, Judy and Jim Tom; Mrs. Earl Whitaker and Jan; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Shorter, Judy, and Lewis; Loretta, Jerry and Linda Waters; Pam Morris; Barry Myers; Barbara Moseley, Tommie Anderson; Mrs. L. D. Bilberry and Mrs. L. B. Turner. FLOMOT H.D. CLUB STUDIES LOW CALORIE FOODS

The catchy phrase in the Home Demonstration Club year book for November is "He who indulges, bulges". This is in keeping with the program for the first meeting of the month "Low Calorie Foods." The Flomot Club carried the program out almost to the letter as Mrs. Ray Cruse presided and brought some helpful hints on the subject. Mrs. Raldo Martin gave a list of the low calorie foods and Mrs. O. D. Calvert mentioned some low calorie salads. The happy ending was a scant refreshment diet that climaxed the events of the day's meeting.

In the business meeting of the club Tuesday, it was announced that the next regular meeting will be Nov. 21st in the Club Room. At that time plans will be made for the combined Thanksgiving Supper and Christmas Party in the club room with the date being announced at the next meeting. At the meeting Nov. 21st, club members are asked to bring a gift to the one you think is your secret pal. Secret pals will not be revealed until the Christmas party and supper.

FARM BUREAU OFFERS SUGGESTIONS FOR BENEFIT TO AGRICULTURE

Galveston (Spl)—"A better way" to bring prosperity to agriculture was outlined here by the head of the nation's largest general farm organization.

At the same time, he hit hard at the federal government's futile attempts to improve farm income through controls and price fixing. Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation and an active Illinois grain and livestock farmer, was the featured speaker at the Texas Farm Bureau annual meeting in the Moody Center.

"During the past 30 years, Congress has tried almost every conceivable method of controlling farm production and fixing prices," said Shuman.

"With few exceptions, these schemes have failed miserably to the detriment of agriculture and our economy generally."

Shuman listed these "better ways" to give farmers a chance to improve their farm income:

- (1) Accept the market price system as a guide for production.
- (2) Expand foreign markets.
- (3) Improve domestic markets.
- (4) Fight inflation.

"The sound way to help farmers produce what the market can absorb is to make our competitive market price system work better," Shuman said.

"The market price system is the only satisfactory way to adjust farm production to the needs of the consumer. I realize that it does not work perfectly but its operation can be improved.

"After 30 years of government meddling in agriculture, it is time we realized the only thing federal government interference with prices can do is make things worse."

An example of how Farm Bureau is trying to improve the market price system was given by Shuman. He cited the organization of the American Agricultural Marketing Association by Farm Bureau as a step towards sound farmer-controlled "supply management".

The Association was organized to help coordinate activities of state and regional farm marketing-bargaining associations and improve farmers' bargaining power.

"With the concentration of the marketing and distribution of agricultural products in the hands of fewer buyers, and the resulting dangers of monopolistic practices from such concentration, it has become apparent that it is not only in the best interest of farmers but also in the best interest of our entire national economy that the marketing powers of farmers and ranchers be strengthened."

He said the wider use of contract marketing also has created a greater need for strengthening the bargaining position of farmers.

"It is obvious that the market power of farmers will be organized by someone. Farm Bureau believes it can best be done by farmers operating their own voluntary marketing associations, not by labor, government or some other group."

DARRELL PAYNE WINS AWARD LAST WEEK

The winner of the trophy for the Eighth grade last week was Darrell

Payne. He came up three percent, tying two other pupils, Pinky Price and LaFrieda Hawkins, but Darrell's average was the highest.

Two weeks ago the eighth graders started this percent contest, and it has helped bring better grades considerably. The winner week-before-last was Pinky Price.
