NEWS FROM OUR CHURCHES

The Women's Society of Christian Service met in the Flomot Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon, November 21 for Bible Study. The president, Mrs. Wade Martin, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Joe Deagan, secretary-treasurer, gave her report, and plans were discussed for the sub-district meeting of the W.S.C.S., to be held here January 25th.

The program opened with a prayer, led by the Rev. Mrs. Ruth Cooper. Prayer cards for intercessory prayer were presented and signed. After a hymn, the Bible Study, "Meaning of Suffering", was taught by Mrs. Wilburn Martin. The values of suffering as discipline, growth, resourcefulness, understanding, assurance and helpfulness were pointed out.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer and a reminder that the next meeting will be Tuesday, November 28th, at 2:30 P. M. at the church.

Pastor and Mrs. Jack Terrell of First Baptist Church and their young daughter, Elizabeth Ann, are now residents of our community. With the assistance of the deacons of the church, they moved into the parsonage Saturday.

Plans for the church program are for the Foreign Mission Week of Prayer observance, November 27, through December 1st. "Good Tidings to All People" is the theme of the entire program and the first observance will be Monday morning, November 27 at 9:30. The women will meet and pray for Foreign Missions. The hymn "Silent Night" will set the mood for the program. Scripture will be Luke 2:8-11. The Call to Prayer will be

TREAT FOR TEENS

Honey-coconut topped doughnuts will make perfect partners for big cups of steaming hot tea. So easy to "top" them, too: the hostess simply frosts the doughnuts, one by one, dips them into the flaked coconut, and they're ready to eat and enjoy.

HONEY-COCONUT BUTTER FROSTING

1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sifted confectioners' powdered sugar (about)
1 tablespoon light cream
2 tablespoons honey
1 1/2 cups (about) Baker's Angel Flake Coconut

Cream butter; then add part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add remaining sugar, alternately with cream and honey, beating after each addition until smooth. Spread on doughnuts; then dip into coconut while frosting is still soft. Makes 1 1/2 cups frosting or enough for 12 to 14 doughnuts.

led by the Prayer Chaisman, Mrs. F. S. Bourland. "Tidings of Great Joy" will be presented by Mrs. L. D. Bilberry and a period of prayer will be directed by Mrs. Earl Whitaker. "Peace Out of Heartache" will be the topic of Mrs. J. C. Franks. Mrs. Ernest Fisher will bring the meditation and lead the closing prayer. At 7:00 P. M. of the same day in the Fellowship Hall, there will be a covered dish supper with a continuance of the program on Foreign Missions.

The program will be as follows: Meditation music, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" with a call to Prayer by the pastor, followed by a pantomime, "The Dreamer", with each group having a part on the program, which will be climaxed by a Missionary Message in words, illustrations and in singing of spiritual hymns. The entire program will be concluded with a church-wide offering in December for the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions.

Mr. and Mrs. Euel Dean Turner went to Amarillo Tuesday, where he took his physical examination for military service. While there they visited his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Turner and his grandmother, Mrs. Estelle Turner and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Green and family had as their guests Sunday, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rice of Plainview.

A number of people of our community are sick or have been the past week. Among them are Mrs. H. S. Gilbert, who had surgery in the Plainview Hospital Thursday morning; Mrs. Bert Cloyd became ill at her home Friday morning and Dr. Albert Traweck was called to her home; Rex Johnson was injured while on the job at the H & H Gin last Saturday afternoon. The injury was to his left hand, requiring hospitalization and several stitches to close the wounds. Each patient is reported to be on the road to recovery.

PINK & BLUE SHOWER HONORS MRS. DON MONK

Again the Flomot Home Ec room was the scene of a shower, this one complimenting Mrs. Don Monk. The serving table bore a decoration of a farm scene, snow covered white house and yard, and out front, near the road was a mail box bearing the name Sharon and Don Monk. Directly in front of the miniature house was a familiar bird, and nearby was a snow covered tree with Santa Claus underneath the branches awaiting entrance.

The artistic centerpiece was the creation of the hostesses. Mrs. Lottie Gilbert registered the guests and the gifts, while Mrs. Harmon Moseley and her daughter, Barbara served at the punch bowl. The many attractive and useful gifts were displayed on a long table.

Those attending were Mmes: Pat Beane and daughter Sharon Kay and Elbert Speery of Lubbock; Jeff Speery, James Monk, F. S. Bourland, M. J. Pyron, W. T. Ross, Alfred Martin, L. B. Turner, Clayton Bond, Raldo Martin, L. E. Shorter, Leon Cloyd, and Judy, Joyce and Lewis Shorter, Dickey Cloyd and Kelly Ann Green. Hostesses were Mmes: Teddy Bedwell, Wilburn Martin, Gracy Jacobs, Lois Martin, Joe Edd Helms, Ikie Gilbert, Ernest Fisher, C. W. Starkey, L. D. Bilberry, Art Green, H. Moseley and Tommie Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Gunn and Mr. and Mrs. Raldo Martin visited with Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Gunn of Levelland recently. Mrs. B. W. Gunn had surgery at a Lubbock hospital on the 9th of this month.

LUBBOCK CHRISTIAN COLLEGE SEEKS COTTON DONATIONS UNDER COMMODITY GIVING PLAN

Lubbock — (Spl) Lubbock Christian College is conducting a distinctly different campaign among farmers this fall to obtain 2000 bales of cotton as gifts to meet the financial needs of the expanding college.

F. W. Mattox, president of LCC, said, "Cotton, rather than cash, is being solicited from farmers under a 'commodity giving' provision of the Farmer's Tax Guide (1961 Edition) Publication No. 225 published by the Internal Revenue Service which allows a farmer to save on his income tax by donating a commodity directly to an educational or charitable institution.

"We have checked our suggested procedure with tax consultants and certified public accountants in Lubbock and other towns, and they have found the program to be acceptable in every way.

"The U. S. Government is interested in the progress of private educational institutions because they train about half of the professional talent of the nation. The government has made extra income tax benefits possible for persons who contribute to educational, as well as benevolent institutions, Mattox said.

The college president explained

Ready-To-Use Onion Perks Up Biscuits

"Jiffy Onion Biscuits" to go with soups and salads are made in moments, thanks to ready-to-use instant minced onion and ready-to-bake packaged biscuits. Their topping of crunchy onion and butter adds delightful flavor appeal to fluffy biscuits. Instant minced onion enhances countless salads, entrees and sandwiches, providing the true, sweet flavor of freshly-harvested onions but eliminating the tiresome, tearful chore of peeling, slicing and chopping.

JIFFY ONION BISCUITS

2 tablespoons melted butter
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 (8 oz.) package ready-to-bake refrigerated biscuits

Combine melted butter and instant minced onion; let stand a few minutes. Arrange biscuits on ungreased baking sheet. Using the flour-dipped bottom of a jelly glass, make a depression in the center of each biscuit. (Biscuits will flatten and rise up around edge of glass to make a low "rim".) Fill each depression with onion-butter mixture. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes, or until biscuits are done and onion is toasted. Serve warm. Makes 10 biscuits.

that in cases where the farmer is in a high tax bracket, he can actually make more money (within his 30% limitation on contributions) by "giving" his commodity than by "selling" it for cash and paying his income on the sale.

"When a commodity is given instead of cash," Mattox explained, "the farmer does not declare the gift as income, yet he has the benefit of deducting the fair market value (less the raising cost) as a contribution on his income tax return. This enables him either to give more or to save on his income tax by making his charitable contributions with commodities."

"Lubbock Christian College, only five years old, has grown to be the largest of the eleven private junior colleges in Texas. LCC needs the income from 2000 bales of cotton to make payment on its expanded campus and to pay on its new administration building and women's dormitory," Mattox said.

Mattox further explained, LCC is a private, standard Liberal Arts Junior College emphasizing academic excellence in a wholesome Christian environment. Although Lubbock Christian College is not a seminary and no theological degrees are given, the Bible is believed to be God's inspired word and is required study as the world's greatest text book and civilizer of mankind.

"Lubbock Christian College is guided by a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees, who are businessmen living in the West Texas, New Mexico area. LCC has no subsidy or guaranteed amount of financial support from any religious group or society. However, its primary source of support comes from individuals who are members of the churches of Christ. All religious faiths are accepted and many are represented in our student body.

Representatives of the LCC Development Office are presenting the "commodity giving" program, using slide projectors and view-graph equipment, to groups of supporters and friends of Lubbock Christian College.

Interested persons who desire more information concerning "commodity giving" may obtain it by contacting the Development Office, Lubbock Christian College, 5601 W. 19th St., Lubbock, Texas. A brochure explaining the details and procedure of "commodity giving" will be forwarded along with a booklet entitled "Contributor's Tax Guide" by J. K. Lasser Tax Institute. Collect calls may be made by calling F. W. Mattox, president, or Dale Simpson, director of development at SW-94301.

Note: The following article appeared first in the September 26, 1902 issue of the DeLeon, Texas, Free Press. It was again printed in the Free Press on August 10, of this year. The article was written by a Mr. R. S. Rich. The Rev. Reubin D. Ross, about whom the story was written, was Mrs. Elmer Tibbetts' grandfather.

Rev. Reubin D. Ross, whose portrait accompanies this sketch, was born in Lauderdale County, Alabama, of English and Dutch parents, September 26, 1824, being now in his 78th year. He received a good English education in the schools of the country. He was married to Miss Martha Thompson May 20, 1849. By this union there were nine children, viz: George, Martha, James R., R. B., Jacob M., John T., S. C., Rachael and Partia E. Married the second time to Miss Anna Howell of Texas in 1876, and by this marriage came five children, viz: Grover L., Howell, Mergo, Vergie and Bertha, the latter now living under the parental roof, and the former living near about in Comanche and Erath Counties, and are reckoned among the best citizens of either county.

Mr. Ross moved from Alabama to Hot Springs County, Arkansas, in 1851, which was then a new country. Schools and churches were scarce and far between. He began his ministerial career in 1857, was ordained a Baptist preacher in 1858, and in this new country he commenced the work to which he has for 44 years devoted his best energies, that of proclaiming the realities of the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the new country his labors were rewarded by the conversion of hundreds of souls. He organized a strong Missionary Baptist Church at Fairplay, Hot Springs, County, which was his first pastorate, and the church remains yet one of the strongest churches in the state. In 1862 he moved to Harrison County, Texas, where he immediately took charge of two churches, and under his faithful ministrations many were converted. In the summer of 1865, he again moved to his present home in Comanche and Erath counties (his home being straddled the line of both counties). Soon after his arrival in his then frontier home he was chosen pastor of the church at Dublin which he served continuously for 14 years. The country was sparsely settled and infested with wild and savage Indians, who terrorized the settlers for a number of years, and as a matter of self protection, the preacher, as well as other people, had to go armed even to his appointments, not knowing at what time they would come in contact with the Indian or renegade, with whom might made right, and who delighted to dangle the scalp of the white man as a trophy at their belt. But amid the dangers seen and unseen, he made his regular appointments, 10 miles to Dublin and 18 miles to Stephenville, never faltering or shirking from his duties, that of proclaiming the realities of the Christian religion. He went about his work in a meek and unassuming, yet conscientious manner, whereby he won the confidence of his congregations to the extent that scores were converted, many of whom became active co-laborers in the transformation of a semi-civilized country to one that is the pride of a great commonwealth, being superabundantly blessed with those Christian virtues that adorn the higher order of civilization.

In 1871, he organized Round Grove Church near his home. He was chosen pastor and has continuously served as pastor to the present day, and in all these years of his ministry, notwithstanding many times he had wild and vicious characters in his congregations, he never had occasion to reprimand anyone, nor was there ever man or woman prosecuted for disturbing religious worship where he was preaching. Thus it has transpired that this faithful and devout man of God has lived to see the wilderness he helped to clear, blossom as the rose, peopled by law-abiding and God fearing citizens.

Uncle Rube is too feeble to preach now, except his flock at Round Grove, where once in every twelve months the anniversary of the organization of the church is celebrated, when he is tributed.

Children, grandchildren and numbers of old church members with scores of others assemble to do him honor, and offer up their devotion to a true and living God. His great success has been obtained by preaching and appealing to the senses of men, not to their emotions, hence those converted under his ministry have held out faithful.

Being industrious and frugal, he has gathered around him a competency of this world's goods, and now in his declining years, in the evening of his life, he has the satisfaction of looking back on a well spent life, and of knowing that he commands the respect and confidence of his countrymen and especially of the writer hereof.

PLAINVIEW CITIZENS PURCHASE MEMORIAL TO DR. McDONALD

Plainview — (Spl) — As a memorial to Dr. G. W. McDonald, long-time West Texas educator and president emeritus of Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, local businessmen have donated approximately $6000 for the purchase and installation of the "Coronation" Carillon to be located on the roof of historic Gates Hall.

Dr. McDonald, who came to Plainview in 1918, died in September. He and his wife were teachers at Wayland when the growing city still had a population of only 1500. He later became dean and then president of Wayland in 1923, an office he held until his retirement in 1947. He was a graduate of Baylor University, Waco, and had also served as superintendent of schools at Santa Anna and as Coleman County superintendent.

The modern carillon given in Dr. McDonald's memory will be installed by Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., Sellersville, Pa. The chimes are designed to provide the music of 25 English-type melody bells, the tonal equivalent of 79,462 lbs. of cast bells, ranging from G below middle C to the second G above. The Wayland instrument will have electrically operated chimes which will strike on the hour, and play hymns to summons the community to chapel and to vespers. The "Alma Mater" has been arranged for playing at additional cost, according to Dr. A. Hope Owen, Wayland President.

A keyboard will be attached so that Wayland musicians on occasions will be able to play any special music. The keyboard is complete with controls to turn the bells on and off for reproduction of bells outside. It is constructed to A.G.O. spacing specifications and standard organ-type keys permit proper fingering.

A bronze plaque carrying a profile of Dr. McDonald and biographical data is also being given by the McDonald family and will be placed on first floor of Gates Hall, in which he taught and had his office from 1918 to 1947.

SUNDAY, DEC. 10 DESIGNATED AS SAFETY SUNDAY

Sunday, December 10, has been designated as "Safety Sunday" to mark the opening of the annual Statewide Christmas—New Year's traffic safety campaign.

In a special proclamation, the Governor said that "experience . . . indicates that the solution to the traffic problem lies in the hands of the individual driver," and urged all citizens "to join in a united effort to awaken the conscience of every driver."

The Governor urged pastors of all Texas churches to "remind their members of their personal and moral responsibility to drive carefully, obey traffic laws and to protect the sanctity of human life in our State."

"Safety Sunday" has been observed by a steadily increasing number of Texas churches and church organizations since it was first proclaimed by Governor Daniel in 1958.

The idea originated with the Safety Committee of the McAllen Rotary Club and the McAllen Chamber of Commerce in 1958, both headed at that time by a McAllen civic and traffic safety leader, L. D. (Hoot) Harris. At his suggestions, the Governor designated the annual "Safety Sunday" on the second Sunday before Christmas in each subsequent year.

The special Statewide proclamation was requested by J. Lloyd Evans of Dallas, State vice-president for religious activities of the Texas Safety Association. This year, Mr. Evans will formally present the Governor's proclamation at a series of regional conferences on "Religion and Traffic Safety" to be held in Abilene, Midland, Lubbock and Amarillo. The Association and the Governor's Highway Safety Commission will make a Statewide effort to secure the cooperation of as many Texas churches and pastors as possible.

CHURCH BOARD MEETS MONDAY NIGHT

The monthly meeting of the Official Church Board of First Methodist Church will be this Monday night at 8 o'clock. All Commission members are asked to be present for a preliminary meeting at 7 o'clock. It is possible that plans will be discussed concerning paying off the balance owed on the new parsonage.

PLAINVIEW DISTRICT CONFERS MEETS WEDNESDAY

The Plainview District of the Methodist Church will convene next Wednesday, November 29th, at 9 A.M. in the First Methodist Church, Hale Center, with District Supt. Dr. J. E. Shevbert, presiding. Reports will be made, plans presented, and the first half of the church year reviewed. Mr. John Ewing is the elected delegate from Quitaque, with M. L. Roberson the alternate. The following are delegates ex-officio, because of offices held in the local church: J. M. Davidson, Minnie Mae Roberson, Mrs. I. L. Edgar, and E. J. Hamilton.

WHILE GIVING THANKS

We have just experienced another wonderful Thanksgiving season, and have given thanks for many blessings. Let us not forget to give thanks for the "lady of decorations," Mary Pittman. Our lovely Thanksgiving occasions would never have been so colorful and exciting had it not been for the hours of work, freely given, in creating and arranging the beautiful, appropriate decorations. The Churches of Quitaque, the Methodist Youth Banquet, the Boy Scout Banquet, and the Community Thanksgiving Service, all owe much to the artistic touch of this devoted person.

However, it is not only at Thanksgiving that we receive from Mary, but the whole year around. Hardly an event but that she plays an important part in making it beautiful. Many are the Sundays that she thoughtfully arranges and delivers flowers to the Churches, her reward the increased loveliness of the Sanctuary of Worship. When sorrow comes through death Mary Pittman does more than prepare the floral arrangements; she gives the personal touch of one who "feels with" those who mourn. At the joyous times of wedding preparations, she goes beyond expected duty and adds the many little touches that make the difference. So while giving thanks, we surely do remember with much appreciation that "lady of flowers and decorations," Mary Pittman.

FIRST BAPTIST NOTES

Training Union met at 6:30 Sunday evening and at 7:30 we dismissed and went over to First Methodist Church for a wonderful Community Thanksgiving service. The various churches participated, with one pastor, Rev. James Smith, of First Assembly of God Church reading the Scripture, James Brunson, representing the Church of Christ, leading the Thanksgiving prayer and Rev. Bob Beck doing the preaching. Rev. James Holman led the benediction. An offering was taken for the community fund, totaling $216.46, to be used assist some of the families who have had prolonged illnesses in their homes recently.

The program included some beautiful music by a community choir. Organ music was furnished by Mrs. James C. Holman.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bob Beck were in Spur last Tuesday night for the monthly meeting of the Caprock Association at Bethel Baptist Church. Theme for the evening was "Jeremiah Speaks for Our Day". This will also be the theme for our January Bible study. At the Associational meeting, Bro. H. T. Harris of White Flat, who is retiring from pastoring after 47 years in the ministry, sixteen of them spent at White Flat, was presented with a framed resolution, signed by members of the Executive Board of Caprock Baptist Association. Bro. Harris has baptised over 4400 people. He and Mrs. Harris will move to Childress. He has a son and a grandson who are Baptist ministers.

Twenty-nine requests for awards on the book, "These Things We Believe" were sent off this week.

Our prayers are for all those who are ill, that they may soon be well again.

CARD OF THANKS
We want to express our thanks and appreciation to everyone for the many cards, flowers, visits, and every kind deed shown us, and for your prayers said in our behalf during our illness. May God bless you.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holcomb

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to take this way of thanking each of you for the visits and card while I was in the hospital, for the visits, and the food you have brought to the house since I came home. May God bless each of you.
Mrs. Wendell Farley

being forced to the use of nuclear weapons under such circumstances, thereby risking the possibility of triggering an all out nuclear conflict.

Also included in the defense program is the Civilian Defense field which is receiving special attention under the guidance of the Department of Defense rather than as a separate uncoordinated agency.
I repeat, "Don't do it, Mr. Krushchev!"

HI-PLAINS HI-LIGHTS

New facilities soon to be under construction at the High Plains Research Foundation will permit an increase in scientific studies in many fields. Two years of research in one will be made possible through the use of the new greenhouse given by the Jim Hill Estate of Hereford. The laboratory, meeting room and office space given by the Kilgore Foundation will expedite tests and aid the efficiency of the operation of the Foundation, Dr. Thomas C. Longnecker said this week.

The greenhouse has been purchased and is being manufactured to the specifications and will be delivered in December. It will be seventy-four feet long and twenty-five wide and consist of two thirty-two foot sections and a twelve foot headhouse that will contain heating and other equipment for its operation. The office building will include a laboratory joining the greenhouse and a meeting room with a capacity of sixty and eight offices for the staff.

The building committee from the Board of Trustees appointed by the Executive Committee is composed of Dr. Harold Loden, Aiken, Director of Research for the Anderson Clayton Company; Jimmy Willson, Jr., owner of the Builder's Mart in Floydada; and Gene C. McLaughlin, Vice-president of the Security State Bank and Trust Company of Ralls. Kerr & Kerr are the architects and Willard Tisdale is the contractor.

CAPROCK SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

(By Virgil Henson)

With the good cotton crop this year, large amounts of burs and gin trash are available for application to the land. Of course everyone knows the value of burs as a soil improving practice. Burs will increase organic material, improve soil condition and increase fertility especially if fertilizers are added following bur application. There have been questions, especially in the Quitaque area, as to whether or not to apply burs this year since boll weevil was in the area this summer. Both Mr. Gunther, with the Extension Service in Lubbock, and Mr. Owens with the Experiment Station in Lubbock, feel that the advantages of burs applied to the land far outweigh danger from boll weevils. In fact they question whether or not weevils can ever winter in this area. Certainly we concur in Gunther and Owens' recommendations. If weevils can over-winter in this area, they will be present next summer whether burs are applied or not. Several people, including E. J. Hamilton and J. P. White have already applied large amounts of burs. It is hoped that all available burs will be applied to the land for soil improvement.

"Not Peace, But Liberty"

(The following clipping from the Amarillo Daily News was handed to us the other day. Somehow we failed to catch it, but think it is worth reprinting):

I will first introduce myself as a 17 year-old senior who reads the "A to Izzard" column.

Enclosed is a poem that I wrote after reading the part of the "A to Izzard" column which stated: "Peace isn't the most important word of all because liberty comes ahead of it."

If we as loyal Americans would only take this as our motto in our great struggle with Communism, we could not be beaten.

I only wish I could get this poem, titled "Not Peace But Liberty" before the eyes and in the hearts of the American people and our leaders in order that we might stop this absurd backing away from Communism.

My poem:
Is "peace" the most important word

That Americans have ever heard? Is peace so important to you To let your freedom be knocked askew

Just to live in false tranquility? Any American can plainly see That our great country was built Because many drops of blood were split

By men, who, at whatever the price might be, Had rather, instead of peace, have liberty!

SCREWORM CONTROL PROG. LAUNCHED IN TEXAS

A 100-million dollar problem is the immediate target of an aroused group of Texans who recently banded together to form the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation. Though its long range goal is the study of all animal health problems, the Foundation's first campaign will be launched against the screwworm, generally considered Public Enemy No. 1, by livestock producers throughout the southwest.

Incorporated as a non-profit organization by the State of Texas, the Foundation will be supported by voluntary contributions and governed by a 15-man board of trustees. Initial board members are Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Uvalde; T. A. Kincaid, Jr., Ozona; C. H. Devany, Coahoma; Marvin Bridges, Buffalo, and C. G. Scruggs, Dallas.

Foundation spokesmen said they would employ the sterile-fly technique so successfully used in Florida and the Southeast where screwworm control now is almost complete.

County agriculture agents and vocational agriculture teachers have taken the lead in presenting details of the screwworm control program to livestock producers in each Texas county. Action committees have been formed in 10 counties and preliminary meetings are underway in many others. Already, more than 70 percent of the livestock producers in Crockett county have made contributions totaling $27,346. Wayne West, chairman of the Crockett county committee, said that many retired ranchmen also had contributed.

Complete information regarding the foundation and its objectives can be obtained by contacting any county agent or vocational agriculture teacher, or by writing directly to the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, 546 Rio Grande Building, Dallas 2, Texas.

DATA CENTER AT A & M COLLEGE AIDING IN TREATMENT OF CANCER

College Station, Texas — The Data Processing Center at Texas A. and M. College is assisting the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston with computing problems involved in radium treatment of cancer patients.

Robert I. Smith, Jr., director of the A. and M. Data Processing Center, labeled the work a cooperative effort in treatment of one of the world's most dreaded diseases.

Information from the famous cancer research hospital in Houston is sent to the Texas A. and M. College campus in a card form to be computed. The Center returns a set of printed calculations showing the radiation pattern in the treated area.

"The basic problem," Smith said, "is the calculation of the level of radium dosage in the affected area to give the radiologist a complete picture of the current treatment. On the basis of this information, he will prescribe further treatment."

Robert J. Shalek, a physicist with M. D. Anderson, said several years may be needed to evaluate the usefulness of the added information made available by the center's computer.

"One of the difficulties of the profession," Shalek said, is that a long evaluation time, sometimes as long as five years, is required to evaluate an innovation."

The hospital staff rushes information on radium needle implants to the A. and M. College computing center. The Center then returns listings of radiation doses for the affected area as well as isodose plots of the dosage levels.

The Center's role involves, among other things, assisting the radiologist, by full information about treatment intensity, to provide maximum radiation dosage for the cancerous area and minimum dosage for the healthy area surrounding the cancer.

"The math associated with the treatment," Smith said, gets highly technical." The technique for doing these calculations at computer speeds was developed at the center.

The electronic computers solve the problem, providing accurate data to determine how far the treatment is extending and to detect any possible overlap of treatment.

The A. and M. College Data Processing Center has some $2-million worth of machinery, including an IBM 709, which is as large as any computer currently used in any university in the United States. Its system has the ability to read, write and compute simultaneously, speeding up the computation process.

Each case sent to the Center requires from 5 minutes to 2 hours of computer time worth $300 per hour. These calculations are done at no cost to M. D. Anderson, Smith pointed out.

REX HARMON WINS SCIENCE AWARD LAST WEEK

Rex Harmon was the winner of the Science Award last week with a 3 percent increase in his grade average.

The Gaston Owens attended Homecoming basketball games at Wayland College Saturday night. The Wayland-Southeastern Oklahoma game was a real thriller. The teams ran neck and neck the last quarter and were tied at the end of the game and had to play an overtime period. The Pioneers won finally, 72-68.

Perry Vines and son, Kenneth visited Mr. Vines' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Vines in Brice Sunday.

If it hadn't been for a strong wind, the Pilgrims might have celebrated Thanksgiving in New York. World Book Encyclopedia explains that they probably expected to settle somewhere near the Hudson river. The wind and the shoals off Cape Cod forced them to turn north.

The first deed of Indian land to an English colonist is believed to have been made by Somaset, a chief of the Pemaquids. According to World Book Encyclopedia, he transferred 12,000 acres of his tribe's land to the Plymouth colonist John Brown in 1625.
