District BB Tourney This Week-end

The District 11-B Basketball Tournament gets underway this afternoon with all teams, both boys and girls taking part in the tourney.

Going in to Tourney play the Panthers are sitting on top of the standings undefeated and appear to be a shoe-in. The Pantherettes are in second place with three defeats against their record in District competition. Matador is in first place in the girls division.

Neither of the Quitaque teams get into action until Friday.

Here is the schedule of games as they will be played at the District Tournament at Matador this week-end:

GIRLS DIVISION
Thursday
4:30	Flomot vs Turkey
7:10	Estelline vs Lakeview
Friday
4:30	Quitaque vs winner of Estelline-Lakeview game.
7:10	Matador vs winner of Flomot-Turkey game.
Saturday
7:00	Girl's Finals
BOYS DIVISION
Thursday
5:50	Lakeview vs Flomot
8:50	Turkey vs Matador
Friday
5:50	Quitaque vs winner of Flomot-Lakeview game.
8:30	Estelline vs winner of Turkey-Matador game
Saturday
8:30	Boys Finals

The High School basketball teams could only break even in games played the last two outings. The Pantherettes lost two games, to Matador and Happy while the Panthers again rolled to easy lopsided wins.

The Pantherettes lost both the ball game and the battle to the Matador High School girls here last Friday night. The final score was 45-41. In addition to coming out on the short end of the scoring, Janice Dudley received three cracked ribs, Chlonez Woods was kneed in the stomach and Jimmy Mayfield was punched in the nose plus other bruises suffered by the local girls. The Pantherettes put up a game fight and almost pulled it out of the fire. The ovals led 12-10 at the end of the first period but fell behind 15-23 at the end of the half. At the end of three periods the Pantherettes trailed 25-34, then in the final quarter outscored the Matadors 16-12. It is doubtful that Janice Dudley will be able to play during the District Tournament this week end and that will just about kill any chances the Pantherettes have of winning since she is usually the top scorer for the locals. Her presence was missed in Tuesday night's game with Happy. The Pantherettes dropped that one to the tune of 31-60. The Happy Cowgirls had beaten the Pantherettes earlier in the season, but not by such a wide margin.

In the Matador game Janice Dudley managed to drop in 29 points before being clobbered; Jennifer Whittington and Jimmy Mayfield each made 6 points to round out the scoring for the locals. In the Happy game Jimmy Mayfield led the scoring with 11 points, closely followed by Whittington with 10. Ethel Auston, playing at an unfamiliar forward position, chipped in with 6 points and Judy Colvin made 4 points. Jerry Elliott and Brenda Whittington fouled out of the game to further hurt their chances.

The Panthers continue to roll without being tested, which might hurt them in the playoffs. Last Friday night the locals plastered the Matadors with a 92-26 shellacking and Tuesday night they rolled over the Happy Cowboys 83-56. Little can be said for either game other than that they were no contest. Dellis Monk captured scoring honors in the Matador game with 22 points and in the Happy Game Sammy Johnston canned 18 points to lead the scoring parade. Talk about scoring being divided evenly—the five starters' scoring went like this: Sammy Johnston 18; Robert Phelps 16; Dellis Monk 15 and James Starkey 14 and Jack Johnston 14. That pretty well reflects the ability of the Panthers we think.

The teams are both playing in the District Tournament at Matador this weekend and we think the Panthers stand a pretty fair chance of winning. The Matador girls, of course have the inside track in the girls division. Provided they win District, Coach Roberts is trying to schedule a game with someone for next week, the time and place to be announced later. Coach Roberts said that the Bi-District game probably will be played on Tuesday night, February 20. This official announcement will come later.

Going into the District Tournament the Panthers are sporting a gaudy 27-2 record for the season, with a 74 point per game average.

Doing a little figuring the other day we came up with this interesting figure: the starting five, who have sat out half the game time on the bench, still have a 59 point per game average.

The box scores:

Less Than One-third Of Vehicles Safety Checked

Less than thirty percent of the 100,000 vehicles in this area have been safety inspected for the year ending in February according to Patrolman Gwin Motos Vehicle Inspection of the Texas Department of Transportation.

The April 15 deadline, for vehicles checked, rapidly approaching, this means there are still 1500 vehicles in this county remaining to be inspected by the four approved stations available.

Motorists are going to waiting lines as the deadlines nearer, due to the inspections not being able to keep up with this large number.

The patrolman urges drivers to get their vehicles inspected as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush. In addition, he advised drivers that this time of year is noted for adverse weather conditions which prevents inspection stations from checking vehicles.

Foreign cars are inspected, lights, reflectors, horn, shield wipers; while domestic vehicles are inspected for plus additional items required by law." Patrolman Fowler

All motorists not displaying a valid 1962 inspection sticker by 15 will be in violation of the law."

There is only one Official Inspection Station in Quitaque, that being the One-Stop. In Silvertown there are three stations. They are Motor Co., Simpson Chevrolet and Womack Auto Service.

DENTAL HEALTH WEEK

(This week, February 4 through 10 is the 14th annual National Children's Dental Health Week. As part of the observance, The Tribune, in cooperation with the Panhandle District Dental Society, brings you some typical questions asked about dental health, and the authoritative answers.)

Is thumbsucking harmful? My daughter is two years old and sucks her thumb when she is going to sleep.

Dental and medical authorities generally agree that thumbsucking in the young child in itself is not bad. There is a strong basic instinct in the infant for sucking. This instinct is one of the larger factors in the start of thumb and finger sucking. Because of this, when a young infant starts to thumbsuck after a feeding, the usual suggestion is to prolong the feeding — by using nipples with smaller holes, for example, in the case of bottle-fed babies. A pacifier may be of help in this respect. Thumbsucking can be harmful when it is practiced (1) vigorously and (2) during the eruption of the permanent incisors — from the age of about six to nine years. Under these circumstances malocclusion or protruding teeth can result.

My child is six months old and does not have any teeth yet. Is there something wrong with him?

No. Eruption of the first teeth may start as early as the fourth month and as late as the eighth and still be considered normal. Some authorities believe that teeth erupt and are shed earlier in slender than in stocky children, but even here there are exceptions.

The first teeth to erupt are the lower incisors. The first molars erupt about the time the child is a year old. All of the 20 deciduous (first) teeth are normally present by the time the child is two and a half or three years old. This is when the first visit to the dentist, for an inspection, should be scheduled.

It should also be noted that eruption of the teeth has no relationship to intelligence, old wives' tales to the contrary.

When the dentist cleans and scales my teeth, doesn't that scrape off enamel? Can't the teeth be damaged this way?

No... to both questions. There is no evidence that dental prophylaxis is harmful to teeth. On the other hand, there is very definite evidence that it is beneficial. Cleaning of the teeth in this way prevents a dangerous accumulation of calculus on the teeth. In this cleaning the most important factor is the careful removal of deposits (sometimes called tartar) from around each individual tooth. This is an important measure in preventing periodontal (gum) diseases.

My son is eight years old. Several of his teeth, which just came out, have saw edges on them. Is some treatment necessary for this?

No. As a rule when these teeth are in proper position, the saw-tooth edge gradually wears down, leaving a smooth edge. Ask your family dentist to check the teeth at your son's next appointment.

My father has had full dentures for six years, and he says they are fine, but I think he should see a dentist after all that time. Which one of us is right?

You may be both right. Your father should see a dentist, but he may be right in feeling that his dentures are fine. The important point is that a patient with dentures needs regular dental check-ups just as a patient who has all of his natural teeth does.

The ridges on which the dentures are supported change as time passes. In a large percentage of cases, the ridges recede or shrink away, causing a loosening of the dentures and a change of facial expression. When the ridges shrink, the jaws come closer together giving the wearer's face deep lines and wrinkles. The lips become compressed, the chin moves forward and upward and the cupid's bow loses its shape. The lipline straightens and pouches become pronounced on each side of the lower jaw.

To avoid these old-age expressions, dentures should be rebuilt or new ones constructed periodically by your dentist.

And, of course, your dentist will also check on the health of your gums and other oral tissue at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Bolton visited his aunt, Mrs. Dula Woods, in McLean last week. They also visited Mrs. Woods son, June Woods and his family.

Mrs. Reg Cushenberry, Mrs. Murry Morrison and Mrs. Wayne Whittington spent Monday visiting in Amarillo.

Mrs. Buddy Morris and Mrs. Lela Overstreet spent last Monday in Flomot.

Mrs. Scott Bolton and Mrs. U. C. Purcell were in Turkey Saturday for medical attention.

HOW ABOUT DE-URBANIZATION

Much has been said and written about the problems and difficulties of the urban (city or town) population. It has been repeatedly pointed out in economic reports that the decrease in our farm population means that there is a corresponding increase in the city areas. I believe it is now estimated that 70 percent of our population resides in the urban or metropolitan areas of the country. This trend has been obvious for years to statisticians, but its physical impact on the economy of the country and on the political makeup of the country is just now beginning to be felt. It is an assumed fact of human nature that a great many of Man's problems are caused by over-congestion. The social ills of the past were primarily the result of overcrowding in Eastern cities. It provided a fertile field for the exploitation of Man by Man on an economic basis. It was the breeding place for crime that subsequently developed into national and international syndicates of crime. It created innumerable other problems associated with the greed of man. As the population continues to increase at the rate of some three-plus million per year (an increase which will in itself increase), the problems become accordingly greater. The migration from the rural areas into the metropolitan areas has not ceased but, in fact, appears to be increasing.

Only recently it was estimated that by 1980 our population will have increased by 65 million people. This means that we will have some 240 million people in the United States. Yet, in 1950 the experts estimated that by 1975 we would have 175 million people. They also estimated that it would be almost impossible to feed that many people. It shows how wrong experts can be. The fact is that the migration from the farms to the cities is caused by the increasing difficulties encountered by farmers in making a living, especially small farmers trying to operate family-sized farms. It is presently estimated that although the population will increase to some 240 million by 1980, 50 million less acres will be required to feed the population. Some argue that the farmer has advanced technologically so fast and so well that he has virtually put himself out of business. Be that as it may, the more rural people who move into the cities, together with the natural increases in the populations of the cities, the more social problems we are going to be faced with in this country, and the more and greater demands for legislation to solve them. It will necessarily follow that the demands for such legislation will be to the Federal Congress in most instances, rather than the State Legislatures. The reason being that most States undertake to meet the problems posed by this great influx of the population to the metropolitan areas are now bankrupt or on the verge of it. They do not have the tax resources from which to acquire the funds to meet the demands. Most of their taxing powers have already been stretched to the breaking point. Hence, these cities are turning more and more to the Federal government, as a number of them have done in the past, and as others will do in the future. The end result will be complete centralization of the government of this country. It will mean the destruction of the dual sovereignty form of government and could well do much damage to the basic separation of powers theory.

Several years ago a group of us in the Congress undertook to place a 'dispersal amendment' on authorization and appropriation bills for defense expenditures.

This would have set up machinery for expenditures by the Federal government to be spread out thru the country and contribute to the dispersing of the population. This amendment was repeatedly defeated because of the greater number of representatives from the areas designated as industrial areas, or perhaps their children, would have been much better served. Although it may have been necessary for them to have been removed from one geographical location to another geographical location within the United States, it could be assumed that this would have been to their benefit rather than to their detriment. Certainly it would have avoided the declaration of many of these areas as distressed areas, to be the recipients of negotiated contracts to keep employment up, and Federal welfare grants.

In short, it is me feeling that emphasis should be placed on deurbanizing our population if we are to solve the problems of health, social justice, of freedom from exploitation, of crime, and create an opportunity for the freedom from which many of the people have never tasted. They might like it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tracy of Amarillo spent Saturday at the home of his brother, the Marvin Tracys.

Mrs. J. W. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gowin, Mrs. A. C. Barrett, Mrs. Sid Bogan and Mrs. Pete Clarke recently while she was ill.

The Boy Scouts of America has performed numerous Conservation Good Turns throughout this country, related to soil, water, forests, wildlife, and others.

Truly — a Scout's obligation begins and ends with "duty to Good".

Literally billions of Good Turns—little ones and big ones—have been done by individual Boy Scouts since the first one in 1910.

There are 731 Scout Units in the U.S.A. serving handicapped boys and over 111,100 boys are in these units.

More than 625,000 Boy Scouts have spent a week in Scout Camps during the year 1961.

A total of 2,726,800 merit badges in specific fields related to physical fitness have been earned by boys since the early days of the movement.

Over $72 million has been invested in Scout Camps throughout America to help boys have the opportunity for Scouting, Camping and physical fitness.

Co-ordination of Body Is God's Gift

The human body is an example of perfect timing and co-ordination. No machine or instrument on earth is so complicated or so perfectly timed and co-ordinated as the human body. Like any great factory the human body must have a controlling center; the brain is that center.

If we eat a meal the brain immediately sets up muscular, as well as glandular, action, which secretes fluids and chemicals necessary for assimilation. The brain controls these activities over the nerve system, which is similar to a great telephone system, only far more complicated. If we go out into the cold, the brain controls the heat of the body. The brain is always balancing the body chemically and in other ways, compensating for changes due to outside influences.

A body becomes sick or out of balance due to an interference with the nerve system. If there is an interference of pressure upon nerves the brain does not have complete control of the body. An organ or gland gets out of time, which results in inco-ordination all down the line. The stomach may secrete too much of one chemical and not enough of another, resulting in indigestion, gas formation, causing pain, intestinal trouble and many other ailments, all because of nerve interference.

The place of this interference usually occurs in the spine, where nerves make exit between spinal segments. If these segments become slightly misplaced, due to falls and strains, pressure is produced on nerves - result - bodily inco-ordination and varied ailments. The Chiropractor locates spinal misplacements, restoring co-ordination between the brain and body.

A body free of nerve interference, or nerve pressure, is a healthy body.

If you are ill, see a Chiropractor today.

He said that without a doubt the tuberculostatic factor, his name for a combination of proteins and peptides, can kill the tuberculosis bacilli in the blood stream and rid the world of the dread disease.

"This is the way," he said. "I would not be spending my life in it if it were not."

During more than seven years of research on the cure for tuberculosis, Dr. Kochan discovered that about 90 per cent of the people have the tuberculosis factor in their bloodstream that prevents them from having the disease.

Research showed that persons who are susceptible to tuberculosis do not have enough of the proteins-peptides combination in their blood stream.

His proposed cure would be to take peptides from persons who have a high tuberculosis factor and inject the peptides into the bloodstream of the susceptible persons. He explained that taking the peptides from the donor would cause no danger of the donor's getting the disease because his cells would produce more peptides.

Sure that the factor will kill the tuberculosis by starving it to death, Dr. Kochan must next determine the dosage necessary to kill the bacillus once it is engulfed in a "protective cell." The tuberculosis bacilli, tough, rod-shaped bacteria often are absorbed by protective cells called macrophages. The macrophages reach out and engulf the tubercle bacilli but cannot kill them. Once inside the macrophage, the bacterium is difficult to kill.

When the proper dosage has been determined to kill the germ inside a protective cell, the discovery will be put to active use at TB sanatoriums.

Twelve students in the Baylor graduate program have worked with Dr. Kochan in finding the cure.

The Baylor Research Institute is a part of the J. K. and Susie L. Wadley Research Institute and Blood Bank. The institute has produced 22 Baylor graduates, five of them obtaining doctor of philosophy degrees in chemistry and microbiology.

Dr. Kochan, 38, was born in the Ukraine where he obtained his high school education and first studied medicine. He is now a United States citizen.

He has also studied at the University of Munich, Germany and at the University of Manitoba, Canada where he received his master of science degree in 1955. He received the Ph.D. degree from Stanford University in California where he worked as research associate of the school's medical microbiology department.

He came to the Baylor Research Institute in 1959 and has been investigating the cause and cure for tuberculosis on a three-year, $60,000 grant from the National Institute of Health awarded in 1960.
