CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGER'S WASHINGTON REPORT

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

GOVERNMENT BY LAW NOT MAN

There has been much disturbance throughout the land about the decision of the Supreme Court in the New York School Prayer Case. I think it would be well for all people in this country to read the decision very carefully and to digest it. Many take the position that it was for the preservation of complete separation of Church and State. Others argue that it was encroachment upon the States' rights, that it was anti-religious, and that the decision was more unconstitutional than the New York law and practice involved. The familiar cry of "impeach the Supreme Court" has come from many quarters. Of course, this means impeachment of the men themselves and not the Court. If this suggestion was followed on each occasion that a decision is handed down that was controversial, there would probably be a continuing impeachment proceeding, which would accomplish nothing insofar as correcting any possible defect in the governmental structure of this country. The fact is that our forefathers recognized the shortcomings of men and established a government of law, as opposed to a government by man. They envisioned a representative form of government in which the will of the governed would adhere to in accordance with laws adopted under rules of parliamentary procedure designed to protect the rights of all. The Constitution has withstood many onslaughts through the ages, and in my humble opinion, will continue to support a government of free men in this great country. I have said before, and I here repeat, that if there is any one major defect in the structure which could be the Achilles' heel, it is the unlimited power of the Supreme Court on the question of constitutionality of statutes adopted by the legislative branch of government. Several years ago, I wrote a newsletter on this subject in which I related the story that occurred early in our Republic that brought into focus the problem that could prove to be the major difficulty in our philosophy of political science.

The decision in the case of Marbury vs. Madison, which was rendered by Chief Justice John Marshall at the time Thomas Jefferson was President of the United States, set the precedent that the Supreme Court had the power to declare the Acts of Congress unconstitutional. John Marshall was President Adams' Secretary of State. President Adams was defeated by Thomas Jefferson in the December 3, 1800 election. As a lame duck Administration, attempts were made to fill all open offices with followers of Adams and Marshall before Jefferson took over. President Adams appointed John Marshall to the No. 1 post, that is, the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. He appointed many others, including a man named Marbury to the office of Justice of the Peace. Marshall, in the confusion of closing out the Administration, failed to issue a commission to Marbury. Hence, Marbury filed suit against James Madison, who had been appointed Secretary of State by Jefferson. The suit was filed in the Supreme Court, although there was serious question about the jurisdiction of the Court. The usual procedure would have been to dismiss the case for want of jurisdiction, however, John Marshall resorted to the Judiciary Act of 1789, which was an Act to control the procedures in Federal Courts. He indicated that, although the Supreme Court could not hear the Marbury case under constitutional restrictions, there were provisions in the Judiciary Act, a statute passed by Congress, that

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Kenneth Metzger and Mark, wife and son of Methodist pastor Kenneth Metzger, arrived home last Thursday evening. She received a rocky start in Quitaque by having to go back to the hospital in Wichita Falls the day they moved here. After undergoing major surgery, we are happy to report that she is recovering satisfactorily. Marilyn Amprister of Vernon came home with Mrs. Metzger to help care for baby Mark. We welcome Mrs. Metzger home and hope that she will enjoy her residence, and her work as the pastor's wife in Quitaque.

Board To Call School Election

The Board of Trustees of the Quitaque Independent School system has started proceedings to call an election to abolish the "Dual System" now used in the Quitaque schools.

This will be done first by petitioning at least 20 per cent of the qualified voters in the school district, then the calling of an election within 60 days after the filing of the petition.

It is estimated that the Dual system of education in our district is costing tax payers about $7,500 annually.

Charles Daniels of Spur spent part of last week in Quitaque, overseeing a renovation job on the Funeral Home building. Mrs. Daniel accompanied him for a visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Mary Pittman was in Tulia twice last week for dental work.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Johnston returned last Wednesday from a week's visit with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. George, in Wagner, Okla. They drove by Lefors and Mr. Johnston's mother, Mrs. Mary Johnston, accompanied them to Wagner. They enjoyed fishing while they were there and had good catches.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Persons and Tommy Lee of Plainview spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Persons.

Ray Gene Hutcherson came home for the week-end from Camp Post. Eric Kramer of Aiken accompanied Ray Gene for the week-end. They are both working as Instructors at Camp Post this summer.

Johnny King and Mrs. Jerry Price of Ft. Worth arrived Saturday for a vacation visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John King, Danny and Kim, and with other relatives and friends.

Sammy Wilson of Springdale, Ark. spent the week-end in the L. J. Bedwell, Jr. home.

Cottonwood Lake

The dam across Cottonwood Creek was finished about 18 months ago and about three weeks ago during the heavy rains, the lake went over the spillway for the first time.

Cottonwood Lake covers about 20 surface acres, or 200 acre feet and is around 26 feet deep at the deepest point in the lake.

The lake has been stocked now for about a year with bass, crappie, channel cat and some perch. Fish measuring around 12 inches in length are being taken from the lake at this time.

Fishing in Cottonwood Lake is limited to those who lease cabin sites on the east side of the lake. Leases sell for $100 per year. At the present time there are no cabins on the lake front, although there are four trailer houses sitting on leases. Duward Brown of Plainview, Pierce Hawkins of Quitaque, Joe Mercer and Charles Sarchet of Silvertown are the owners of the trailer homes.

Cottonwood Lake is the second fishing lake being in use at the present in our immediate vicinity. Burson Lakes, located 15 miles north of Quitaque was the first fishing spot to be developed.

Two lakes, one of them already finished and with a lot of water backed up, and the other dam still under construction are located north of town on the Theo Geisler land. The first of Twin Lakes, as they will be called, is a C. A. Hawkins and Theo Geisler project and is across Dry Creek while the other is located on Holmes Creek.

When these two lakes are opened for fishing, they will be open to the public for day fishing.

Another lake will be formed just above Cottonwood Lake on the Walter Graham place, with work due to start in the near future. Several others are talking of building dams in our area in the near future. The dam on Johnny Cagles place west of town that washed out for the second time recently has been rebuilt and once again is backing up a nice pond.

It could be that this valley might become to be known as the "land of lakes" something that few, if any, would have thought possible until recently.

Can We Wave the Flag Too Much?

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much? The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, exchange and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough. ☆ It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the Stars and Stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day in America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us . . . for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy ☆ Isn't our flag the synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired? ☆ Ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is time for us . . . for the mad, rushing Twentieth Century American . . . to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded ☆ Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other such occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Paul Revere, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage. When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor, The Merrimac, Wake Island, and Korea? Lest we forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag ☆ It is a symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education and commerce. Millions of fertile square miles, wheatlands, coal mines, steel plants. Our great republic, the chosen infant destined to be mans last and remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to mankind ☆

That is what the flag means to me. Can we wave it too much? I don't think so.

Reply of S. L. DeLove on the Know Your History Hour, December 30th, 1956, to a listener who wrote as follows: "Your programs are wonderful — especially the no commercials — but you are waving the flag too much."

The above has been reprinted annually in many national magazines, newspapers and radio stations, and is a part of the Congressional Record.

Dr. DeLove is the author of The Quiet Betrayal and president of Independence Hall of Chicago.

MERCURY SPACECRAFT ON DISPLAY AT LUBBOCK

A duplicate Freedom 7 Mercury Spacecraft will be displayed in Lubbock on July 4 and 5, according to John Whitcomb, Chairman of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Committee.

The capsule will form part of a Savings Bonds exhibit that is touring the nation during the Freedom Bond Drive this summer. It is being sponsored by the Lubbock Freedom Bond Drive Committee and the Lubbock Downtown Merchants Association.

The Freedom 7 Capsule is identical to the one that carried America's first astronauts into space and will be on exhibit at Broadway and Ave. H. by the courthouse. It is mounted on a red-

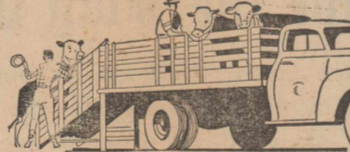

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

Just ahead is one of the most important periods for farmers who want to prepare livestock for competing in county, state and regional fairs.

Most farmers and farm boys and girls know what it takes to get a good animal or herd fitted and ready for competition.

But there is one important aspect of fitting livestock for fairs of which some owners may not be sufficiently aware. That is the health hazards involved in preparing, transporting and showing the animals.

First and foremost, all fairs have certain health requirements and owners planning to show livestock should check those regulations now. Vaccination is usually required against some of the common transmissible diseases.

Observing health safeguards in preparing livestock for fairs is doubly important.

For example, it is likely that as a result of the current drive to eradicate hog cholera, vaccination against this swine killer will be required. Some fairs require similar vaccination against erysipelas and also may require cattle to be certified tuberculosis free.

In most cases the vaccinations will be done by the farmer's own veterinarian. A certificate by the veterinarian usually will be accepted by fair officials.

It is important to remember that the protection provided by vaccination may take some time to develop. And tests for some other diseases may take a week or more.

These health safeguards protect not only the individual animal or herd, but also the hundreds of other animals being exhibited. Animals should be given the same kind and quantity of feed as they received at home and allowed to rest and become acclimated before being washed or groomed.

After the show, when the animals are returned home, it is a good idea to isolate them for about three weeks to give latent disease a chance to develop without endangering the home herd.

white-and-blue trailer, flanked by two American flags. The public will be able to examine the spacecraft at close hand.

Marines of the 40th Rifle Co., USMCR, Lubbock, will form an honor guard for the capsule while it is parked overnight. They will also help set up the exhibit.

Whitcomb said that the exhibit will include a public address system over which will be played tape recordings of documentary material related to America's first manned space flight, patriotic music and information about the Freedom Bond Drive.

"It is appropriate that this spacecraft be exhibited in connection with the Freedom Savings Bond Drive," Whitcomb stated. "Our explorations in space over the years will require substantial sums of money. The success and extent of this program ultimately rests upon a strong and growing economy. The continued sale of Savings Bonds—and extra sales during this Drive—is an essential ingredient of a healthy economy." Details of the exhibit's visit here will be announced later by the Savings Bonds Committee.

AGRICULTURAL BRIEFS

Water is the cheapest item in milk production, but is all too often a limiting factor because dairy cows don't get enough of the right kind, says Arch Meekma, extension dairy specialist. He adds that the average dairy cow in production will drink from 12 to 15 gallons daily but that some very high producing cows will consume up to 35 gallons or more. Don't make the cows walk too far for their water or they may not get it, he says.

Research studies by members of the Department of Entomology at Texas A&M College show that even light infestations of bollworms can cause sizable cotton yield losses.

Now why would Martha put laundry in the freezer?

Flameless electric living is a way of life, nowadays.

Sometimes this wonderful way of life in the world of women brings about strange sights—sights that are incomprehensible to the mere man. Often, a man sees things more marvelous, even, than laundry in the freezer.

That's because Martha . . . and all the Marthas served by West Texas Utilities Company . . . knows better than anyone (even us) the many ways to live better, electrically.

All right, Mister—why does she put laundry in the freezer? Ask the inventor; she will also show you other ways her family uses flameless electricity for a better life.

MRS. W. E. SCHOTT, JR. IS COUNTY MEMORIALS CHAIRMAN

At a recent meeting of the Briscoe County Unit of the American Cancer Society, Mrs. W. E. Schott, Jr., of Silverton, was named to head the Memorial Committee for the coming year.

In response to numerous requests from families and individuals, the American Cancer Society has inaugurated a memorial fund to which families and friends of cancer victims and others may contribute, according to Mrs. Schott, who has served the local unit as County Chairman for the past two years.

"The memorial fund has been established because so many families and individuals have sought to commemorate loved ones who have died with living memorials. Contributions made in memory of a friend or a member of the family are acknowledged by the American Cancer Society, and a memorial card is sent to the family stating that a memorial has been received and giving the name of the donor. These contributions may be in any amount," Mrs. Schott added, "and the amount of the donation is not shown on the acknowledgement."

"Memorial funds are used to support the Society's three-fold attack on cancer through research, education and service. "Although the major source of funds for this program comes from the Society's annual April Crusade, memorial funds received throughout the year are becoming of increasing importance to the Society as more families and individuals become aware that they contribute in the name of a loved one to the ultimate victory over this dread disease," Mrs. Schott said. "The American Cancer Society is deeply grateful to individuals and families throughout the county who are using this practical means of assisting the Society to carry on the fight against cancer."

Memorial funds may be sent to the American Cancer Society, Briscoe County Unit, in care of Mrs. W. E. Schott, Jr., Silverton, Texas, or in care of W. A. Griffin, Quitaque, Texas.

Barbecued turkey meat is excitingly new and tasty, and when cooked right it all but melts in your mouth, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Because supplies of turkeys are plentiful, he suggests their use for the next family or community picnic.

Many farmers and ranchmen are finding fertilizers a good production item buy. Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, says the price of fertilizers has not increased since 1951 and Texas farmers have increased their use by 23 percent during the period. He says there is room for additional usage but suggests that a soil test be used to determine the amount needed.

NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

Mr. Barry Love joined the Staff at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway on July 1st as Assistant Agronomist, a new position created by the Board of Trustees this year.

Mr. Love received his Associate of Science Degree at Murray State Agricultural College, Tishomingo, Oklahoma, in June, 1958, he was the top honor student in his class. His degree was in animal nutrition. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture, at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Oklahoma, in August 1960. His work at Oklahoma State included Animal husbandry, Agronomy, Chemistry and Biological Sciences. Mr. Love was awarded a Master of Science Degree at the University of Illinois in Animal Science in June of 1962.

Prior to completing his College training, Mr. Love worked on his father's farm at Colera, Oklahoma, he worked for two years in an airplane factory in Dallas and spent three years in the U. S. Army. A portion of his Army service was in Germany.

Dr. Earl H. Collister, Director of the Foundation, in announcing Mr. Love's selection for the position stated "Mr. Love has the training and background to qualify him for the research work he will be assigned at the Foundation". One of his assignments will be the development of the new grass-legume program at Halfway on core-lating both dryland and irrigated projects. This new program is designed to: (1) find a better dryland legume; (2) a grass selection program of variety testing and breeding for the High and South Plains to secure a high protein grass, easily eradicated, that will rebuild the soil humus.

Tests at the Foundation indicate a need for a restoration of the ability of our soil to provide better aeration for crops and more easily absorb water. A rotation system in farming is needed to make more effective use of rainfall as well as greater irrigation efficiency. Water conservation is considered one of the most important research projects at the Foundation. Using cattle for income on these grasses will provide the needed income and at same time the soil is being rebuilt. Mr. Love's experience and training in these fields will be valuable.

Dr. Collister stated that Mr. Love will also assist in crop research, and the soybean and sesame breeding work. He will also eventually have the responsibility for off station testing of these research projects throughout the High Plains from Perryton, Texas, Guymon, Oklahoma, to Levelland and Muleshoe. His assistance will fill an economic need for this area.

would permit the Supreme Court to hear the case. He then proceeded to hold that because the Judiciary Act was in conflict with the Constitution, such Act was unconstitutional and void. This action on the part of John Marshall has been interpreted as a master stroke of a devoted advocate to centralize government. It created the doctrine that the Supreme Court had the power to declare Acts of Congress unconstitutional, a power which was bitterly opposed by Jefferson's followers. It is interesting to note that John Marshall served on the Court for 35 years, yet never again declared an Act of Congress unconstitutional.

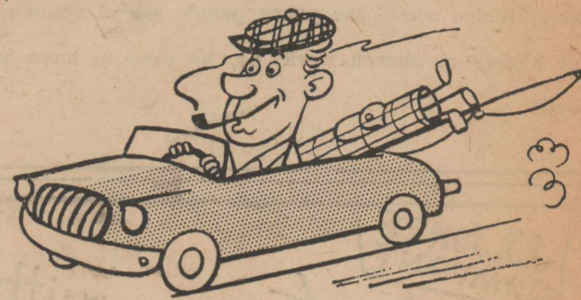

All of this simply means that whatever Act is passed by the Congress, or a State Legislature, the Supreme Court has the power to declare unconstitutional. Should a corrective Act be passed, the Supreme Court has the power to declare that Act unconstitutional. The question is not as to the probability. Under the circumstances, I have long supported the contention that the Constitution should be amended so that the selected representatives of the people might have the same power to overrule a decision of the Supreme Court declaring a statute unconstitutional as the legislative branch has to override a veto of the President.

On January 3, 1961, I introduced H. J. Res. 70 proposing an amendment to the Constitution, the pertinent part of which reads as follows: "Section 1. The Congress shall have power, by statute passed by two-thirds of each House of Congress, to limit the authority of courts of the United States to determine that statutes of the United States or of any State are repugnant to the Constitution of the United States."

Should the time come that this amendment is approved, any controversy as to a situation such as the decision in the New York Prayer Case, could be promptly argued and debated on the Floor of Congress, and such action taken as may be warranted by the true facts. It has been my feeling that this would provide a proper means of true representative government.
