THE YEAR'S FIRST BIG MONEY BILL

The first major appropriations bill of the Session, the fiscal 1964 appropriation for the Department of the Interior, came before the House last week. The Appropriations Committee had done its work well in paring the original departmental requests. As the bill reached the floor for debate, the committee had cut the requested amount by $92 million to $935 million, a total that stood $21 million lower than the sum advocated by the fiscally-conscious U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

That $935 million amount was cut still further. I offered one amendment that pared another $5.5 million from the appropriation. Another Democrat, Rep. Sam Gibbons of Florida, successfully pressed an amendment paring another $1.6 million.

My amendment eliminated from the bill a sum earmarked for remodeling the Old Patent Office Building in downtown Washington for use as a gallery to house valuable portraits and other art works. I noted in presenting the amendment that I hesitated to do so because I might be branded as lacking in cultural appreciation. But I declared that considering the financial pressures of the nation, the building could better be used to house essential government operations. When the vote was tallied, my position prevailed by the close margin of 112 to 106. Mr. Gibbons' amendment, passed by voice vote, eliminated a proposed $1.6 million in architects' fees and planning costs for a National Air Museum to house and display historic aircraft.

Another amendment, one offered by that great Democratic Party Conservative from Virginia, Rep. Howard W. Smith (chairman of the House Rules Committee), would have cut another $10 million from Interior's request. It would have eliminated the purchase of what Howard Smith, in his usual good-humored way, described as "marsh land for the use of migratory ducks to go back and sit down on and spend the winter." He said, "The ducks have been right patient with us. I wonder if they would be willing to wait a year or two. I do not think it would do the ducks much harm." However, despite the efforts of those of us who joined in advocating patience among ducks and duck hunters, the amendment failed of passage by one vote, by 122 to 121.

I'd like to emphasize this point: All over the United States there are groups that advocate Federal expenditures for favored projects. The budgetary items cited to you above were backed by well-organized groups of Americans - art lovers, airplane enthusiasts, duck conservationists. The art lovers and the fans of old airplanes suffered setbacks; the friends of ducks won their round. You can count on the art airplane people to be back next year for another try at the Federal treasury. Most Americans, being natural joiners, are members of one group or another that has its eye out for Federal assistance of some kind, and the result is difficult pressure on the Congress.

At any rate, those of us who are working within the majority party to keep spending down did meet with some success last week. Our efforts, I assure you, will continue.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Stevens and Kristie of Childress spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Paul Bailey and family.

MR. ROGERS DOES NOT THINK CONGRESS WILL PRODUCE A NEW WHEAT PROGRAM

There is the feeling in some quarters that if wheat producers turn down the 1964 Wheat Program in the May 21 referendum Congress will produce another wheat program this year. I am convinced that this will not be the case. I quote from the remarks of the House Majority Leader, Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, who discussed this prospect Monday, April 1, on the House floor: "The 1964 Wheat Program provides wheat growers with clear and unmistakable economic choices in this referendum. . . . The wheat farmers have a choice under the law, and in my judgment the Congress will take them at their word. I am convinced that there will be no new wheat legislation this year." On the same day, the Majority Leader of the Senate, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, said this: ". . . I see no need to consider new legislation on wheat this year." And the Majority Whip of the Senate, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, said, "It seems to me the prevailing attitude of Congress is if wheat farmers reject the 1964 Wheat Program it is because they prefer the alternative in the law."

I have access to a limited number of copies of the House Agriculture report issued when it passed the feed grain bill along to the full House. As long as they remain available, I will be glad to send along to anyone who writes or them copies of the committee report on this important agricultural legislation.

Faculty Rehired

Only 34 votes were cast in last Saturday's School Trustee Election in a very light turnout.

Only two names appeared on the official ballot, incumbent Clyde Saul and Bill Griffin. D. J. Anderson received one write-in vote.

The School Board met in an organizational meeting Monday night and the following officers were elected for the next school year: Clyde Saul was installed as Board President; P. John Monk, Vice-president and Bruce Price Secretary. These men have served in the same capacity this year.

The Board also re-hired all of the present faculty for the coming year. Jarrell Rice was re-hired as Junior High coach at the same salary and Gene King was re-hired as High School coach and was given a $200.00 raise in salary.

The contracts of Glen Sanders, Grade School Principal and High School Principal George Ray Colvin still had a year to run but the Board extended their contracts to run through the 64-65 school year. Supt. Johnny Mason reminded parents and students that classes will be resumed Tuesday morning following the Easter holiday.

Mrs. Letha Mae Jacobs spent from Thursday through Sunday in Amarillo visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Rudell James and family. Grady Lee Jacobs, student at West Texas State, joined his mother in Amarillo for a visit.

Mrs. Ted Hester returned to her home Wednesday from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock following recent surgery. She reports that she is feeling fine.

and Mrs. W. W. McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby King, McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson McGuire and Mrs. Helen Yates of Plainview;

Mrs. Leota Holcomb and family of Carlsbad, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby King, McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Degam, Flomot; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. FLOMOT HAS RECORD VOTE IN SATURDAY'S TRUSTEE ELECTION

FLOMOT - One hundred and one school patrons voted in the Flomot School Trustee Election, and in the memory of local citizens, a record turnout. Usually, from 40 to 50 vote in these elections and as few as 11 has been recorded.

Five names, O. D. Calvert, Joe Degam, Billy Meyer, Leon Cloyd, and L. W. Crowell, were petitioned to run for the Board of Education. Mr. Calvert and Mr. Degam both requested that their names not be placed on the ballot, giving their reason as having served several years on the School Board and that they thought that it was time to elect someone else. Mr. Crowell said that he could not serve because of sickness in the family and requested that his name not be placed on the ballot.

A great deal of interest developed in the election. Since only Billy Meyer and Leon Cloyd were listed on the ballot and two members were to be elected, it became necessary to write in names.

When the votes were tabulated the results were as follows:
O. D. Calvert 52
Leon Cloyd 47
Billy Meyer 31
J. C. Franks 30
Sam Ross 2
O. D. Calvert was re-elected and Leon Cloyd was elected to the Flomot Board of Education.

In 1963 Flomot cast more votes in the school election than any district in the county. When that number of people are interested enough to come out and vote, it means that the people are interested in their school and willing to support it. The Flomot community has a right to be proud of their community and school.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe King and family of Cactus, Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Barrett and family of Amarillo, and Mrs. H. G. Boyles and children of Silverton visited relatives here over the week-end.

The American Cancer Crusade will open its annual Crusade here next Tuesday, April 16, Bill Griffin, who is directing the Briscoe County drive this year has announced.

An increasing number of people throughout the country have become living proof that the countdown for cancer is on.

In 1937, only one cancer patient in seven was saved. A few years ago, it was one in four. Today, it is one in three. It could be one in two. This is the countdown that saves lives.

Today there are more than one million men, women and children saved from cancer, and there is hope that even more substantial gains will be made soon.

There is no Cape Canaveral for the cancer countdown. Instead, there are thousands of scientists in hundreds of laboratories, hospitals, and medical schools searching for the final solution to the cancer problem.

Their task is just as challenging as placing a man on the moon. What causes cancer? Is cancer a virus? Why do some people get it and other do not? From these questions will come the answers that will lead to cancer's ultimate conquest and to the saving of millions of lives.

There is an opportunity for all to help speed up the countdown. Generous contributions will assure the American Cancer Society that every promising research project can be supported.

We are reminded to take personal protection against cancer. Annual health checkups are the best immediate assurance that more lives will be saved from cancer.

The talk about cancer is rightfully filled with optimism. The countdown is on. Through our contributions, all of us can have the satisfaction of being an active part of it.

Each dollar collected for cancer fight in Texas will be spent as follows: 33 cents for research, 20 cents for professional education, 23 cents for public education, 11 cents for service to patients, 5 cents for program development and administration, and 8 cents for campaign and materials.

Mr. Griffin announced that the co-workers here in Quitauque this year will be Mary Pittman, Myrtle Gillespie, Mable Griffin, Dorothy May, Jean Bailey, Lela Mae Hutchesson, Lula Morris, Lela Overstreet, Roberta Farley and Jifmy Davidson.

Fine Foods Cafe

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ferguson are always on hand to serve as friendly hosts to the patrons of Fine Foods Cafe—going to great lengths to assure their comfort and catering to their individual tastes in food.

Working day after day, through long hours to take care of the many duties necessary in operation of a restaurant, is this friendly group at the Fine Foods Cafe. Pictured, left to right are, Mrs. Delbert Phelps, Mrs. N. B. Herrington, Ray Ferguson, Velma Ferguson and Wanda Myers. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson are planning to be closed next Sunday, so that they and all the crew may have Easter Sunday free.

Mrs. Ray Ferguson, who with her husband operates the Fine Foods Cafe, is pictured in familiar surroundings that will easily be recognized by people of this area who like good food and friendly service.

High on the list of business establishments in regards to public service are your restaurants. And helping to keep these public eating places in this high position in quality of food service and standards are people like Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ferguson, who own and operate the Fine Foods Cafe.

Located near the center of activity in Quitaque, the Fine Foods Cafe is distinguished for its efficient service, fine foods and drinks. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, who are helped in the operation of the cafe by their daughter, Velma, purchased the business from Gus Gibson in April of 1962. Since this time they have built a fine reputation for personalized service — going to great lengths to satisfy individual tastes in food service.

A full menu, from short orders of all kinds to dinners, steaks and other special foods assure patrons of Fine Foods Cafe a satisfying meal. A complete fountain service offers further inducement for local people to trade at this cafe.

Managing and operating a Cafe is no easy chore. There are hundreds of tasks to perform in a regular days operation. The Fergusons are aided in the operation of the cafe by Mrs. Delbert (Ruth) Phelps, Mrs. N. B. Herrington and Wanda Myers — and as mentioned, their daughter, Velma—and the Fergusons are always on hand to serve as hosts and assure that all customers are comfortable.

The Fine Foods Cafe is not only a good place to go at meal time, it's also—as many have learned—an excellent place for that morning and afternoon break. Here over a cup of coffee there's no telling just how many different business deals are discussed and completed.

For 9 year previous to the purchase of the cafe, Ray Ferguson farmed two miles south of Quitaque, and therefore has much in common with many of the people who visit his cafe, who are mostly farmers and ranchers as well as local business people.

Originally from Arkansas, Ray finished high school at Umpire, Ark., and married Fanny Wilcher before moving to Texas. The Fergusons have six children, three boys and three girls. The boys are Kenneth of Houston, Billy Dee of Lubbock, and Vernon of Denver, Colo. Vernon, who is with the U. S. Fodestry Service, only recently visited his folks in Quitaque.

The daughters are Bobbie, who is Mrs. J. T. Rivers of Amarillo; Barbara, Mrs. C. A. Jobe, also of Amarillo and Velma of Quitaque.

The Fergusons are members of the First Baptist Church where Ray is a deacon.

Wipe Off Dew, Brush On Water Thinnable Linseed Oil Paint

With the advent of Spring, the traditional time to spruce up around the house, comes a reminder to homeowners from one of the nation's oldest paint manufacturers not to overlook exterior water thinnable linseed oil paint which offers many unique advantages.

Not the least of these, points out a spokesman for Pratt & Lambert-Inc., is the fact that this newly developed product permits painters to put in a full working day. That's right — early morning dew no longer need delay that painting job! Simply wipe off the dew and brush on the paint. Pratt & Lambert, which was first on the national scene with "6-T-1," a water thinnable linseed oil house paint, says "6-T-1" also offers oil durability and gloss finish, plus quick clean-up of brushes and equipment with soap and water.

It retains its high blister resistance even when applied over damp surfaces and dries with an even film that becomes impervious to water in 2 to 4 hours under normal drying conditions. Like quality linseed oil paints, the film becomes progressively more durable and weather resistant as the oil oxidizes.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By — Vern Sanford
 Most bass fishermen spend too much time changing baits. Drawbacks to the try - one - now, a different - one - later, system are many. But the primary objection is that the lure doesn't get a fair enough test to actually tell whether or not it will produce.

It is much better to stick with one or two lures, letting them have the time to make a true test.

But what lures? That's the perplexing problem. Today there are so many artificial baits in different sizes, shapes and types that it con-fuses the average fisherman.

Most of the better anglers have one thing in common. They concentrate their efforts either on the top, or at the opposite extreme,
 right on the bottom.

There's a good reason for this thinking. Much of the bass' food supply is concentrated in these regions.

Probably the one big exception is small bait fish like minnows and sunfish. But a hungry bass usually will come to the top to take a frog-looking popper or a worm crawled along the bottom, as readily as he will a perch-type lure.

A lure that operates either right on top or right on the bottom has an advantage over the other lures
 in that it can be worked at the ultra-slow speed needed to tempt
 big bass.

Most lures which show up in sporting goods stores have a definite place in fishing. But they are specialized tools and work only in certain situations. Knowing how to recognize these situations requires much experience.

Most weekend anglers simply haven't encountered enough situations to pinpoint clues which will tell them which lures to use.

In this respect water depth is very important. Lures with metal lips are designed to run at certain depths. A lure built to run 10 feet beneath the surface will, for example, be halfway down in 20-foot water, near bottom in 12-foot water, but close to the surface in 40-foot
 water.

Unless the angler knows the depth of water he's fishing, this type lure will be practically useless.

But if he sticks with the top-water bait or the bottom - bumper, the water depth is not as important.
 He'll still have his bait in the vicinity where bass hang out.

Only within the past few years
 have fishermen been able to apply
 this formula successfully.

It used to be that the only baits which dug deep down, where the big bass are most apt to be found were those with long metal lips.
 These baits require a fast retrieve to make them dig deep, too fast to make them really effective on a lazy old bass.

Also they are not too effective at depths exceeding 30 feet, and often the truly big bass are found at extreme depths of 40 to 50 feet.

Lifelike lures made of limp
 plastic can be worked very slowly, crawled right along the bottom, yet
 they have enough action to tempt bass.

Many anglers carry two rigged
 outfits in their boats, one equipped with a top-water lure, the other with a bottom - bumping bait. They try one for 25 to 30 casts, and if by then they haven't inveigled a strike
 they switch to the other outfit.

Often it pays off to try the top-water baits for the first couple of hours after daybreak when bass migrate into the shallows to feed on things found along the surface;
 then use the bottom-bumping baits
 during the remainder of the day when the fish have drifted back into deeper water.

As to the color of a lure it has been proven that the color shading is more important than the actual color itself. If a person stays with two basic type lures — topwater
 and bottom-bumping — and two basic colors, light and dark, he'll be right 99 times out of 100.

And in the unpredictable sport of bass fishing, those are pretty good odds, indeed.

Mrs. Prayer Meeting died recently in the First Neglected Church on Wordly Avenue.

Born many years ago in the midst of great revivals, she was a strong, healthy child, fed largely on testimony and Bible study, soon growing into worldwide prominence. She was one of the most influential members of the famous Church family.

For the past several years Mrs.
 Prayer Meeting has been failing in health, gradually wasting away until rendered helpless by stiffness of knees, coldness of heart, inactivity and weakness of purpose and will power. At last she was but a shadow of her former happy self.

Experts, including Dr. Works,
 Dr. Reform, and Dr. Joiner, disagreed as to the cause of her fatal illness, administering large doses
 of organization, socials, contests,
 and drives, but to no avail.

A post mortem showed that a deficiency of spiritual food, coupled with the lack of faith, heartfelt religious, and general support were contributing causes.

A few were present to weep over her past beauty and power.

Irish Soda Bread

Bursting with currants and checkful of good flavor is this traditional Irish Soda Bread. The colleens and laddies in your family will love slices of this light, tender bread plain or toasted anytime of the day.

Irish Soda Bread fairly bursts with nutritional benefits, too.
 Essential nutrients needed by you and your family have been added to all-purpose flour by the miller so you get this bonus at no extra cost to you. "Enriched" labeling on all flour and baked products you buy is your assurance that three B-vitamins — thiamine, niacin and riboflavin — and the mineral iron are inside.
 It takes no "blarney" to prepare this delightful quick bread.
 Irish Soda Bread is made by the easy muffin method of mixing and takes just minutes from mixing bowl to oven.

Cool the baked loaf thoroughly before cutting into thin slices.
 For a touch of Irish whimsy that would do a leprechaun justice, serve the bread with little "shamrock" butter pats cut with a canape cutter.

IRISH SODA BREAD

- 3 cups sifted enriched flour
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups currants or dark seedless raisins
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1½ cups buttermilk
- 2 tablespoons melted shorten- ing or oil

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt together into large bowl. Stir in currants or raisins. Blend eggs, buttermilk and shortening or oil. Add liquid all at once to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Turn into greased 5 1/4 x 9 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) 1 hour and 10 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.
 Cool 10 minutes before removing from pan. Cool on rack completely before slicing. Makes 1 loaf.

QUEEN TRYOUTS

Saturday are scheduled for 2 P. M. and 8 P. M.

Three or four scholarships are offered each fall to fill slots on the team left by graduating seniors. This year four Flying Queens will be graduated.

"Girls already planning to attend Wayland in the fall are not required to attend the tryouts," stresses Redin. "It is very difficult to judge a player's ability on the strength of two practice sessions and we would much rather have them enroll at the college for their freshman year and then come out for basketball."

Scholarships are awarded for one-year on basketball ability and academic record compiled each year. They are renewable each spring on that basis.

Girls planning to tryout either April 13 or April 20 may stay in a college dormitory and eat in the dining hall as guests of Wayland College, but reservations must be made as quickly as possible. Those who will stay must bring their own linens and practice equipment.

MY GET UP AND GO HAS GOT UP AND WENT

Several months ago, one of our favorite columnists, Glenn Shelton, the Hired Hand of The Wichita Falls Record-News reprinted this old ditty in his column. We've sort of waited for an opportune time to print it ourselves. This late Thursday night it pretty well fits this editor. Perhaps everyone remembers it but we always get a kick out of it.

When I grew older my slippers were blue

But still I could dance the whole night thru.

Now I am old, my slippers are black.
