"Small" Wheat Grower Registration Explained

Just why "small - farm" wheat operators are being asked to register at the Briscoe ASC County Office more than 7 days in advance of the 1964 wheat program referendum was clarified today by Louie Kitchens, Chairman of Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation County Committee.

"Small farms" are those with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres. All growers on such farms will be eligible to vote in the May 21 referendum if the operator of the farm indicates in advance an intention to participate in the program as an allotment grower if the program is approved. This choice has to be made at the county office by May 13.

According to the Chairman, voter eligibility for the 1964 wheat referendum is established by law, much the same way as State law provides that voters be legal residents of the State, subject to State laws, and registered to vote at a prescribed time in advance of the election.

No one is being told how to vote, Mr. Kitchens emphasized. The referendum ballot is secret, and the producer does not have to declare in advance how he will vote in the program. The small-farm operator—like other wheat growers—may vote "yes" or "no"—as he chooses.

What the small farm wheat operator indicates on the form Mq-24, which he files at the county office by May 13, is that, if marketing quotas are approved, he wants his farm to be eligible for wheat price support, for marketing certificates, and for acreage diversion payments. He is aware that these various parts of the wheat program will be available to growers who keep within their allotments and meet other program provisions. The "small grower" is merely "choosing to participate as an allotment grower" in advance of the vote.

The Chairman explained that former legal provisions, under which any farm could produce as much as 15 acres of wheat without being subject to marketing quota penalties, have been terminated by the new law. The new law also removed authorization for production of up to 30 acres of wheat for feed or other use on the farm where it was produced.

For 1964, each participating small farm will have an allotment which will be the larger of (a) the farm's allotment based on the national allotment, or (b) 90 percent of the farm's average 1959-61 wheat acreage—but not more than 15 acres. All the production from the participating farm's allotment acres

GOOD NEIGHBORS DO A LOT OF PLOWING

Some people might feel that the number "13" is an unlucky number. Such was not the case here in our community Monday because thirteen men showed up with thirteen tractors at the home of Glenn Morrison and when the dust had settled those good friends and neighbors had plowed 200 acres of land for Glenn.

Glenn returned home last Friday after surgery on his nose to stop a nosebleed, but he had lost so much blood that he was ordered to remain in bed for awhile in order for his body to build back what was lost.

Those who took part in the plowing job were Murry Morrison, Bruce Price, John King, Vernon Cagle, Henry Finney, Leo Reed, Johnny Helms, Bill Helms, Johnny Brummett, Charlie Gowin, Ralph Carter, Babe Chandler, Earnest Reagan.

The men finished plowing the home place by noon, and four of them went to a field Glenn has rented from Bob Ham and plowed that one. The last acre was plowed and the tractors pulled out of the field at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

After finishing with Glenn's field Monday morning, several of the men pulled into A. B. Ramsey's field and helped plow his land. A. B. has spent several days in the hospital, too, and only returned home last week-end.

It is good to live in a neighborhood where neighbors and friends will pitch in and help at a time of need.

Mrs. Jean Grundy, and Mrs. Reed Bethel of Lamesa and Christie Baird of Silverton visited Mr. N. L. Bedwell Saturday and they spent Saturday night with Mrs. Jess Grundy.

may be marketed free of quota penalties.

Under the wheat program, a farmer with a small farm allotment who did not choose to participate in the program would be able to plant the larger of his allotment or his 1959-61 average acreage (but not more than 15 acres) without a marketing quota penalty. However, he would not be eligible to vote in the referendum, and he would not be eligible for diversion payments or price support. Wheat produced on such farms could be marketed or used as seed or feed.

Let 'er Buck!

Many cowboys will be pulling leather and biting the dust after the chutes open on the annual Quitaque High School Rodeo which runs Saturday and Sunday with performance time at 2:00 P. M. each day. Each performance will be preceded by a Grand Entry and the Silverton Riding Club will set the pivots.

The rodeo will again be held at the Stephens Ranch Arena which is located north of the Caprock Grocery. Directional signs have been placed at strategic points so that fans will have no trouble locating the rodeo grounds. Morris Stephens has again donated the stock that will be used in the events.

This year's rodeo promises to be one of the finest ever staged in Quitaque. To date 55 contestants have sent in their entries and more are being received every day. The books will be open until 10:00 A. M. Saturday, April 27, so it is not too late to enter. Anyone desiring to enter the events can get an entry blank from SeReatha Stephens.

Events to be runoff in the rodeo include Bareback Riding, Calf Roping, Ribbon Roping with girls running the ribbons, Junior Breakaway Roping, Bull Riding, and Girls Barrel Race. In addition to the above named events, a Rodeo Queen will be selected. The only qualification to enter this contest is that she must be a Quitaque High School girl, and she must ride in the Grand Entry each day. She will be judged by the way she sits a horse. It is not too late to enter the contest and the more contestants, the better.

J. M. Brannon, Jr. a Panhandle High School teacher will again serve as the announcer and his wife, Evelyn, who also teaches at Panhandle, will be a time-keeper. This is the fourth year that these two have offered their services and it is very much appreciated all concerned here.

For the youngsters there will be a Boot Scramble and each participant will be given a prize.

Participants in the rodeo will be vying for a handsome lot of trophies. First place in each event will be awarded a sterling silver belt buckle with gold figures worth $75; Second place award will be a $50 buckle of the same description; the second place All-Around Cowboy will receive a 2 1/2 ft. trophy presented by the First National Bank and valued at $65.

The best All-Around Cowboy will receive a $350 hand-made trophy saddle.

The Best Dressed Cowboy will be given a billfold and the Best Dressed Cowgirl a purse, both hand-tooled by Mrs. Katherine Stephens from the Indian Creek Ranch. The Rodeo Queen will receive a hand-made lamp, made of native wood by Donnie Hester.

So put on your "glad rags" and western clothes and Y'ALL COME to the rodeo Saturday and Sunday at 2 P. M. at the Stephens Ranch Arena.

All the kids are urged to get their ponies ready and get Mom and Dad to let you ride in the Grand Entry. Advance tickets can be bought from any member of the Senior Class. Admission will be $1.00 for adults and high school students; eighth graders and under tickets will be 50 cents. Pre-schoolers will be admitted free. Proceeds from the rodeo and dance will go to the Seniors to pay for their Senior Trip.

The Senior Class this year will go to the Mayan Dude Ranch at Bandera, Texas for 5 days. Coach and Mrs. Gene King and Mrs. Billie Wise will go along on the trip as sponsors and parents to also accompany the class will be selected later.

So put on your "glad rags" and western clothes and Y'ALL COME to the rodeo Saturday and Sunday at 2 P. M. at the Stephens Ranch Arena.

Quitaque Business Review

Ross Herrington, farmer himself, has been manager of the Paymaster Gin in Quitaque since 1956, and is well qualified for coping with the problems connected with the management of this modern gin plant. Ross started his service with the gin as bookkeeper in 1946. He and his ginner, Lon McKay, keep busy between ginning seasons, working to see that all machinery is in A-1 shape before the start of the next season.

Equipped with Moss Lint Cleaners in Tandem, Mitchell Tower Dryers, and other modern machinery, the Paymaster Gin typifies the modern gin plant, which has undergone man modifications to keep abreast of fast changing agricultural methods. This plant, owned by the Anderson - Clayton Corp., which has contributed so much in bringing about increase in the production and processing of cotton, is constantly alert to the needs of local farmers.

A generation ago cotton harvests in West Texas usually lasted from about the first of October until well in January or February. Now with fast harvesting methods and more efficient ginning our fall harvests are not much more than two months long.

Today's gin plants, representing several hundred thousand dollars in equipment, has made it possible for the farmers to turn to the more economical and faster machine harvesting to gather their cotton.

Modifications to meet the ever changing needs of the farmer have occurred in the past 30 years and have brought the American gins to a high standard of efficiency. This high standard of U. S. gins is recognized the world over. They have certainly kept pace with rapid changing agricultural methods.

In the early thirties bur extracting machinery were being added to most West Texas gins, enabling the farmers to step up the harvest pace to as extent. Later, dryers were added to the already complex ginning systems, solving another persistent problem for the farmer and ginner. Then a few years ago—to bring top efficiency in ginning to West Texas plants—the Moss-Gordon lint cleaners were perfected and are now being used extensively throughout the cotton belt in the U. S. and abroad.

The Paymaster Gin in Quitaque typifies the modern, highly efficient ginning plants. Nothing that will provide cleaner, faster ginning service and better turn-outs has been left out of this gin. The gin, owned by Anderson-Clayton Corporation—a company that has played an important role in bringing about revolutionary changes in cotton production and ginning—is constantly alert to the needs of the farmers of the area which it serves.

Quitaque's Paymaster Gin is under the management of Ross Herrington, who will certainly need little introduction to readers of The Tribune, as Quitaque has been his home most of his life. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Herrington, who moved here from Memphis in 1928, and he is a graduate of Quitaque High School.

Ross began farming in 1943 and, in consequence, has a firsthand knowledge of farmer's problems. He went to work for Paymaster Gin in 1946 as bookkeeper, and in 1956 was made manager.

Ginner at Paymaster Gin for the past two years is Lon McKay, whose background in the ginning business certainly qualifies him for the job.

McKay and Herrington keep busy from the end of one season to the opening of the next.

"We work from the end of one season to the start of the next one—replacing or repairing worn machinery," Ross stated.

The results is a trouble-free highly efficient ginning plant for each harvest season.

Running a gin is not an easy chore. A complex bookkeeping system has to be kept up to date and reports made at regular intervals. Gins, like other businesses, faces competition. In order to keep gins running at top efficiency and to best meet competition, a gin manager must not only keep a bunch of ex-

TURKEY BUTANE CO.
RECOMMENDS
FLAME CULTIVATION

FOR WEED-FREE CROPS
Time-tested and proved, AFCO Flame Cultivation is the best answer yet for complete weed, grass and vine control in rowcrops.
Weed control means higher yields - flaming means less weeds. Gas costs average less than $1 per acre. Crops can be flamed at 4 to 10 acres per hour. And flaming does not harm the crop when used as recommended.
You owe it to yourself to learn more about AFCO Flame Cultivation. Let us discuss flaming with you, or better yet we can arrange a demonstration.

Homemakers will find in this book the most complete collection of dessert recipes ever printed. It contains over 2,000 recipes submitted by home economics teachers in every section of the United States. The recipes are very practical and are suitable for everyday meals as well as creative gourmet attractions.

The "Desserts Edition" contains a separate section for cakes, cookies, pies and candies. Cooking tables charts, and helpful pointers plus many photographs make these sections very useful. A dessert calorie chart, frozen dessert section and dessert spice charts are included.

Other sections feature frostings and fillings, puddings and custards, frozen desserts, fruit desserts, dessert sauces and toppings, desserts for large groups and many others. Low calorie, foreign, and convenience recipes contained in separate sections are worth the $2.95 price alone.

Party beverages occupy a position of importance in this grand collection of recipes. An entire section is devoted to recipes on party punch and beverages.
"Favorite Recipes of Home Economics Teachers" make an excellent gift for weddings, showers, graduations, etc. For information on how to obtain this book, contact the Home Economics teacher at the Quitaque High School.

GENERAL TELEPHONE TOWNS ON THE MOVE

Bonham Initiative Saves mill Payroll

When the Bonham Cotton Mill announced it would close its doors finally in early 1962, that North Texas city stood to lose a 61-year old industry with a $14,000 weekly payroll.

Bonham's vigorous enterprise in the face of crisis is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

Aggressive citizens of the 7357 population community arose to the emergency. Today, little more than a year later, Red River Textile Mill, Inc., is not only continuing the operation of its predecessor, but is talking plans for an eventual major expansion.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.
