Auto Was Stolen Here Friday Night

Nothing had been heard today of whereabouts of a 1942 Model Pontiac Torpedo five passenger coupe stolen last Friday night from Mrs. Hattie Ray Jones.

License number of the vehicle is AB-8079.

It was taken from the Griffins home as members of the family slept, and as there was no ignition key in the car, it is presumed that the thief took the car away.

The same night Sam Fox, popular with the light fingered gentry, it seems, was visited again. His auto was rolled into the street out of his driveway and left there for some reason. Previously, someone had removed a wheel from his car to get a grand new tire. At that time J. T. Gilbreath lost a wheel and new tire from his automobile.

Law breaking has been noted in many towns of this section. Plainview and Lubbock officers Sunday had four men behind bars awaiting arraignment on charges of burglary of business houses there.

Veterans Can Borrow Entire Cost of Farm And Improvements Thru FSA

Servicemen of Bailey County returning from military duty and interested in establishing themselves on family type farms may apply at the Farm Security Administration office for a government loan covering full cost of land and improvements, according to Charles L. Baker, FSA Supervisor. A limited number of such loans may be made in this county as a result of a new 25 million dollar appropriation that Congress has voted FSA for a farm ownership program for veterans.

For 1945-1946 Congress voted FSA more than three times as much money as it did in the last fiscal year for loans to farmers under provision of the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Purchase Act. The agency will have 50 million dollars as compared to 15 million for last year. One-half of this has been set up as a program specifically for ex-soldiers.

Veterans will have the same terms as other farmers. Loans may run for 40 years and bear 3 per cent interest. Only those who are unable to obtain adequate financing from other sources are eligible for an FSA loan.

Applicants are invited to visit the FSA office at Muleshoe, Texas, after locating the farms that they want to buy. Each farm is appraised in line with its actual value based on its long-time earning capacity.

Mr. Baker declared, "Under the rural rehabilitation program FSA is able to make operating loans for purchase of equipment, livestock, feed fertilizer seed and minor improvements."

Veterans also will be eligible to share in the 25 million dollars appropriated for the regular farm ownership program. To date FSA has assisted more than 3,000 Texas farmers to become landowners. Taking advantage of the variable payment plan which enables the borrower to make large payments in good years, hundreds of these farmers are three to five years ahead of schedule on repayments.

Month's Total Here 1 35 Inches

Bailey County planters got off to a mighty late start, but they were going early and late in many parts by the first of this week, some having been noted running Sunday.

On the night of July 4 some parts of the county received showers, and this inaugurated a series of showers that fell in spots during the next ten days.

It was the latest start of planting in the memory of the oldest citizens. On dry land farms, no cotton will be grown this year in Bailey County, and there is very little irrigated cotton.

Signs point to an unusually large acreage to sorghum grains. Most farmers feel there is ample time to make grain provided the balance of the growing season is favorable.

T. C. Wiseman, living east of Fairview, reported about a quarter inch rain fell at his place Thursday night of last week. It was not sufficient to plant, and he has nothing planted yet.

John Blackman, of Bula, said a light shower fell at his place Friday night.

Joe Jarman, residing 10 miles northeast of Muleshoe, in the Lazduvich community, reported a lake filling rain there Friday night, with the fall in some places amounting to three or more inches.

C. A. Lucas reported a half inch rain fell at his farm Friday night. The Lucas place is 16 miles northwest of Muleshoe in Oklahoma Territory.

Lucas planted his feed about three weeks before in the hopes of rain, and received enough in this shower to sprout the seed.

Bill Foster, in the same neighborhood, estimated the rain Friday night at his farm amounted to about an inch.

Clarence Christian, north of the Oklahoma Lane neighborhood, said no rain fell at his farm, the cloud drifting by to the east of him.

The Young, farming six miles northwest of Muleshoe, started the planters to going Monday after receiving another nice shower Friday night.

Here in the county east of Friday night was a shower of 29 inches on Saturday night.

The rain fell slowly Saturday night and seemed to have been nearly general than any to date. It rained, heavy in places, all the way to Plainview, and water still stood here and there Sunday afternoon.

Many farmers around Maple are planting, said G. A. Davis, a visitor in The Journal office Tuesday. Much of the community has had sufficient rain to bring up seed.

In fact, one of the county's first showers fell north of Maple, the farmers planted next day and now have their crops up.

To the east of Maple, toward Enoch, Mr. Davis reported there is an area where it is still too dry to plant.

MISS PATTERSON DESCRIBES NEW METHOD OF MAKING VELVA FRUIT

Working with the original discoverer, the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics has adopted the commercial method of making Velva Fruit to home use, says Grace L. Patterson, county home demonstration agent. Directions follow for making the fruit puree from fruit in the summer, and keeping it frozen for making it into Velva Fruit months later in winter.

Peaches and Apricots—Select fully ripe, rich flavored fruit. Peel, remove any bruised portions. Cut into quarters and place in a boiling syrup (1 cup sugar to 8 cups water) for 3 minutes to keep fruit from darkening. Remove, drain, and press through sieve or fine colander, cool. Six pounds whole fresh fruit make about six cups puree.

Fruit puree may also be made using strawberries, berries, cantaloupe, grapes and rhubarb. Directions for preparing these may be obtained by calling by the home demonstration agent's office.

Velva fruit recipe: Makes 1 gal. approximately. 6 cups fruit puree, 1 1/2 to 2 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1 1/2 cup water. Mix fruit puree, sugar, lemon juice if used, and salt. Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes to soften then dissolve by heating over boiling water 10 minutes.

Fruit puree should be cool, 70 degrees F., when added to gelatin. If poured too much when whipped in the freezer.

Add puree mixture slowly to the gelatin, stirring continuously. Pour into ice cream freezer. Using a mixture of 8 parts ice to 1 part salt, freeze 20 minutes or until crank turns hard and the mixture is firm and clings to dasher. Remove dasher. Velva Fruit may be served soft-frozen or after hardening several hours.

Cover container closely, drain water from freezer, pack with more ice, using 3 parts ice to 1 part salt.

Or pack Velva Fruit at once into moisture and vapor resistant cartons. Place at once in freezer cabinet so dessert won't soften and lament for coarse ice crystals.

Or turn frozen fruit into trays of mechanical refrigerator for a few hours to harden before serving. Set temperature control at the lowest point.

While many people enjoy the fruity flavor of Velva Fruit made in a mechanical refrigerator, it will not be as velvety nor increase so much in volume as when frozen in an ice cream freezer. Place fruit mixture in trays, turn temperature control to lowest point, and freeze until firm. Turn into chilled bowl, and beat with a wooden spoon or electric mixer until mixture lightens in color, increases in volume, and has a smooth texture. Work quickly so mixture does not completely melt. Return Velva Fruit to refrigerator trays a few hours to harden.

Instead of making fruit puree immediately into Velva Fruit, you can preserve it up months later, as follows:

Mix 6 cups fruit puree with 1 1/2 to 2 cups of sugar, depending on sweetness of fruit. Stir until sugar is completely dissolved. Seal in glass jars or tin cans to preserve fresh fruit flavor. R-enamel cans for red or dark purple. Leave one inch head space for swelling. Freeze and store at 0 degrees F. or lower.

When using frozen sweetened puree to make Velva Fruit remove puree from freezer. Put sealed container in cold or lukewarm water, (not hot), shake occasionally to speed thawing. A quart of puree will thaw in about 2 hours. When puree reaches room temperature, about 70 degrees F., add salt, and lemon juice if desired. Then add puree to the melted gelatin and continue as directed in the basic recipe.

Sidelights From Washington

By Congressman Geo. Mahon

In the early days of the war, nearly all combat airplanes were covered with camouflage paint. The practice has now been abandoned on most planes. The B-29s which are used in bombing Japan carry no camouflage. The camouflage would add weight and wind resistance and reduce the speed of the plane by 8 miles per hour. Pilots prefer the extra speed.

It is hard to devise a camouflage that is suitable for all types of weather conditions; the natural aluminum is about as good as any, especially for daytime flying.

James Byrnes, the new Secretary of State, and Fred Vinson, soon to become Secretary of the Treasury, are former members of Congress and are sure to understand the Congressional viewpoint and know how to get along with Congress in foreign policy matters and in tax matters—problems with which they will deal as members of the Cabinet.

The Fair Employment Practices Committee, the so-called FEPC, is rapidly becoming the number one source of discord, bitterness and disunity in Congress. Certain elements in Congress are trying to force passage of a bill which would make the FEPC permanent, continuing it after the war and giving it extraordinary power to compel employment without regard to race, or color and without consideration of the wishes of employers or employees.

I join with those who take the position that the present FEPC should be abolished and the permanent bill defeated, feeling that such a committee endangers our freedom, creates unnecessary frictions, and bids fair to produce an intolerable racial situation.

Despite our efforts to the contrary, however, continuation of the FEPC for another year was pro-

Did you know that Babe Ruth hit 114 home runs in two years (1927-28) a number which exceeded the total Yankee output in each of four seasons following 1935, when they boasted plenty of heavy hitters?

We all know that Ruth was the best left-handed home-run clouter, but can you name the right-handers who hold jointly the major league home-run record production in one season?

Our Country Needs Still More Used Fats... And We're the Folks to Save them!

IN between the good news about the war these days, careful readers of the paper will see grave words about a serious national shortage that has a direct bearing on military and civilian production schedules.

Our domestic supplies of fats and oils will be approximately one and one-half billion pounds less than last year. Yet thousands of tons of fats are still needed to help make countless essentials for the battle- and home-fronts.

While country people have been doing an even better job of saving fats than the city folks, we must remember that, because of the meat situation, we are in a better position to save. That's why we can't afford to miss a trick.

So, let's save not only the big amounts from frying and roasting, but also meat trimmings, plate scraps, and scrapings. Melt them down once a week and add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Skim soups and gravies. Scrape every pan. Every drop is important.

When your salvage can is full, take it to your butcher, and get 2 red points and up to 4¢ for each pound. If you have any difficulty, call your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent.

vided for by Congress last week. The bill to set up the permanent FEPC is temporarily blocked, but the end of the controversy is not in sight.

The House of Representatives has agreed to recess for several weeks and I plan to be back in the District within a few days. My office in the Federal Building in Lubbock will be open, but I hope to spend the greater portion of my time visiting among the people of the District, informing myself of local conditions and seeking to be of service wherever possible.
