THE CASE OF THE HUNGRY COWS

When I first received word that a blizzard had begun in the Panhandle, I knew that human lives might be endangered and that thousands of cattle might be stranded without feed in the driving, drifting snow. I telephoned my friend Major General Selden Simpson in Amarillo and offered my help should the National Guard Division he commands—the famous 36th Division—require the help of the U. S. Army or Air Force in alleviating distress. General Simpson said he would keep me advised of the situation. We both recognized that an air drop of cattle feed might be necessary before the storm abated.

Late Thursday night, Gen. Simpson called me to inform me that Panhandle ranchers, particularly in Gray County, feared their herds would suffer heavy losses unless feed could be delivered to them. Blizzard-bound cattle had been without feed since the previous Monday, and General Simpson said losses would mount rapidly unless feed could be gotten to them within 36 hours. An "air drop" of feed—a "hay drop"—appeared necessary, he said. He suggested that cargo helicopters might be employed and said that men from Panhandle units of the 36th Division stood ready to load the aircraft and mark drop zones.

I then conferred with Lt. Gen. Carl H. Jark, the commanding general of the 4th Army at Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio. General Jark well understands the problems that can develop on the plains when a heavy snow storm strikes, and he promised immediate assistance in planning and organizing a hay drop to the stranded cattle. The general assigned the job of working out the details to the 4th Army's young operations officer, Major Conrad K. Hausman. This was a job for the Army and the Army area command because the Defense Department has designated the Army as the "action agent" for coordinating the emergency assistance of all services when problems arise in the Continental United States.

Major Hausman obviously relishes such assignments—not only because they provide a means by which the Army can be of direct assistance to American citizens but also because planning and executing such operations provide good training for more warlike emergencies.

Working closely with General Jark, Major Hausman quickly determined that the Air National Guard in Texas was not equipped for such a task. The Texas ANG has fighter aircraft and a few reconnaissance helicopters but no cargo aircraft. Major Hausman contacted the 4th Air Force Reserve Region to determine the status of reserve air crews which might be coming on active duty for training or which might be on emergency call. He and General Jark had determined that the most suitable aircraft for the purpose were the C-119s, the old flying boxcars, and such planes were stationed at Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, and Ellington Air Force Base, Houston. Major Hausman lined up crews for four C-119s at Ellington AFB, the home base of the 924th Squadron of the 446th Troop Carrier Wing. They were alerted and Major Hausman messaged headquarters in Washington for the necessary high level approval. That was quick in coming, and at the Pentagon the people who knew of the plans for the operation dubbed it "The Case of the Hungry Cows."

Meanwhile, General Jark's staff members were in contact with General Simpson and with me and with Major General D. O. Monteith, the commanding general at Amarillo Air Force Base. All was in readiness for the planes to fly from Houston to Amarillo to begin loading hay—but as of Friday afternoon not enough hay had been rounded up. While waiting for the hay to be accumulated, General Simpson reported to me, he was dispatching National Guardsmen in trucks to go to the ranches to see if they could push through to the pastures.

At noon Saturday, the four planes of the 924th Squadron reached Amarillo Air Force Base and hay was loaded. Through that afternoon and on into Sunday afternoon, the wonderful crewmen of the 924th flew sortie after sortie over five Panhandle counties, dropping more than 2,200 bales of hay to the cattle below. So hungry were the cattle that as the planes swung around for a second "pass" over the fields, the men aboard could see the cattle beginning to eat hay dropped to them minutes before. General Simpson reported to me that the operation was highly successful. "The ranchers were 100 percent enthusiastic about it," he said. "It saved their necks."

The good news that came this week was that the air drop helped reduce cattle losses far below the loss experienced in the 1957 blizzard.

To General Jark and Major Hausman, General Simpson, General Monteith, and their staffs—and to the flying crewmen of the 924th Squadron at Ellington—my heartiest congratulations and thanks for a job well done.

GOVERNOR CONNALLY PROCLAIMS PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK IN TEXAS

Special observance of increased emphasis on our education system has been marked annually for fourteen years by a Public Schools week in Texas.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of March 2-6, 1964, as Public Schools Week in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 16th day of December, 1963.

Signed John Connally
Governor of Texas

Teachers Need Help
Grade School Prin. Glenn Sanders asks that all parents who can spare an hour or more of their time to come to the school house and help with the Interscholastic League try-outs. If some can read the stories in Story Telling and listen to the students tell the story back or listen and help in Picture Memory or help in the spelling contest, it will relieve the teachers and they can put more time into their regular lessons.

The Second Grade won the High Attendance award for the night.

Basketball Fever High Here

Basketball fever is high here in Quitaque as the Panthers are waiting for the bi-district playoff next week against an opponent not yet decided and the Pantherettes start their district tournament tonight (Thursday) at 8:15, going against Lakeview, a team they have defeated twice in the round-robin part of the schedule.

The Panthers breezed to the district championship last week-end in the district tournament at Estelline, just about the way everyone expected, but were not too impressive in their two outings. A lot of the local fans were a bit worried because the Panthers did not look very sharp in the tourney but most of those worries were laid to rest on Tuesday night after the Panthers beat the Wellington Rockets, a Class A team 77-65 on the Rockets' home floor.

The Pantherettes were beaten by a very fine Rockette team, 63-36.

The Pantherettes must win tonight to remain in the race for the district championship. If they beat Lakeview tonight they will meet Estelline, who drew a bye into the second round of play, Friday night. The Pantherettes split with Estelline in the round robin, each team winning at home.

DR. HALL'S OFFICE TO BE CLOSED FEB. 20-23

Dr. Richard M. Hall of Turkey will attend the Texas Surgeon's Convention and Post Graduate School at Austin, and his office will be closed Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 20 through 23 of this week.

Jim Woods Died Recently In California

Funeral services were conducted in the Memorial Chapel at Greenlawn Mortuary in Bakersfield, Calif., Wednesday February 5, for James Alton (Jim) Woods, 55, a former resident of Quitaque. A resident of Punkin Center, Calif., he died February 2 in a Bakersfield Hospital.

The Rev. H. William Fleming, minister of Kern Union Church officiated. Interment was in the Garden of Roses section at Greenlawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Woods was a native of Anson, Texas. The family also lived in Melrose, N. M. and Cedar Hill before coming to Quitaque. He was employed in highway construction work in this area. He was married to Laverne Woods, daughter of the late P. O. and Mrs. Woods in 1941 and they have resided in Kern County, Calif. most of that time, where he has been self employed as a livestock dealer. He was a member of the First Methodist Church, Quitaque, and of the South McAlester Masonic Lodge 96, F&M.

Survivors include his widow, Laverne; two sons, Leonard of Pumpkin Center, and Lynn of Greenfield; two daughters, Mrs. Bonnie Lundin of Utah and Mrs. Linda Byrd of Oxnard, Calif.; three brothers, Robert, Floyd and Jack, all of Bakersfield; three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Northcott of Terra Bella, and Mrs. Lou Ava Walker and Mrs. Willie McLaren, both of Bakersfield; and 13 grandchildren.

GASOLINE FARMERS UNION TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT

The Gasoline Farmers Union will meet in regular session next Monday night, February 24, at 7 o'clock.

The public is invited to attend.

Flomot and Matador are playing tonight but Flomot girls cannot claim a victory even if they were to beat Matador, so Matador will play Turkey on Friday night. Turkey was the winner of the round robin part of the schedule and if someone other than Turkey wins the tournament, a playoff will be necessary. The Pantherettes stand a good chance of winning the tournament, since they have beaten everyone in the district at least once except Turkey. The locals beat Fomot, Matador and Lakeview twice, Estelline once and lost twice to Turkey. However, Coach King has juggled his lineup a bit since playing Turkey and the Pantherettes have improved considerably in the latter part of the season.

In last week's action in the boy's division of the district tournament, Flomot took an opening night victory over the Lakeview Eagles and Estelline sidelined Turkey on Thursday night. In Friday night's action the Panthers took a 69-31 win over Flomot in the opening game of the night and Matador won over a cold shooting Estelline crew.

In the battle for third place on Saturday night, Estelline edged the Fomot Longhorns by a 41-33 margin. The Flomot lads couldn't find the scoring range in this one, otherwise they could have won third place. The Longhorns missed 19 free throws, many of them one and one, which would have given them a win if they could have sunk a good majority of them.

In the championship game the Panthers won over the Matadors 69-33 in a game that was never much of a contest.

The Matadors led one time very briefly at 2-0, only to see Quitaque tie the score and then go ahead and lead 16-6 at the end of the first period. The second period was played on even terms with the Panthers leading 26-16 at half-time.

The champs stepped up the pace in the third quarter and won going away.

Jack Johnson led the scoring attack in the Flomot game with 26 points, while Bobo Morrison almost matched that with a 25 point performance in the championship game with Matador.

This is the fourth straight year for the Panthers to win the district championship.

Tournament officials named an all-tournament team following the games Saturday night. Three Panthers were named to the team, one from Matador and one from host Estelline. For the third straight year Jack Johnson was named to the honor team, Jim Saul was picked for the second time and Bobo Morrison was the other Panther named. Rattan of Matador and Albert Cuppell of Estelline were the other selections.

In Tuesday night's action at Wellington the Pantherettes were matched against one of the better teams they have faced this year. They stayed within striking distance until mid-way of the third quarter when they began to tire on the big floor. At one time in the second period of play the Pantherettes pulled to within 2 points of the Rockettes but could never even the count. One of the highlights of the night was the torrid free shooting by both teams. The Pantherettes made 18 of

Vehicle Inspections Still Lagging

Motor vehicle inspections are lagging behind with less than thirty percent of the required vehicles in Region 5 displaying a 1964 inspection sticker, according to Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection supervisor of this area for the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"With the deadline for obtaining inspection sticker drawing near only 32 percent of the vehicles in Briscoe County have been inspected," the Captain said. "If this trend continues, vehicle owners can expect to have to wait in line in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline."

Some 5,000 official inspection stations over the state are ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles without delay if owners will not wait until just a few days before the deadline.

Captain Johnson called attention to the fact that since the beginning of the inspection program, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13 percent to 4 percent. "The purpose of the motor vehicle inspection program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident and by removing the link, prevent the accident," the DPS supervisor said.

The Captain reminded us that we as Texans experienced our worst traffic fatality record in history last year. The count has already exceeded 2700 lives lost, by far the greatest toll in history, and is expected to go some higher before the books are closed on the official 1963 traffic fatality count. Vehicle defects were involved in some of these fatal accidents; therefore, to eliminate this type of accident drivers need to see that their vehicles are safe to operate and keep them safe throughout the year. He added that vehicles involved in traffic accidents should be re-inspected after repairs have been made.

"Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1964 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," Captain Johnson said.

23 free tosses while the Rockettes dropped in 14 of 16.

The Pantherettes Janice Dudley won scoring honors for the night with 28 points. The Rockettes Courtney wound up with 26 points.

The Panthers, who had not been really tested in several weeks, met a real fine team in the Rockets and the win was a good one for the Quitaque lads had to work for the win. The Panthers led most of the way, although the Rockets tied the count on five occasions during the first half and led the Quitaque crew briefly three times.

The Panthers led, however at all quarters, 21-16 at the end of the first period of play, 42-37 at half time and 63-51 at the end of three periods. At least twice in the fourth quarter the visitors led by 15 points but managed to keep their margin at a comfortable 12 points during the last half of play.

One of the brighter spots in Tuesday night's game was the performance of Jamie Johnson, who filled in for Robin Brown after he got into foul trouble in the second period. This was the first time Jamie had been called upon in a close spot but he performed like a veteran and turned in a fine game and also made a couple of field goals when they were needed.

Jim Saul had a good night, scoring-wise, with 26 points; Jack Johnson was runnerup in the scoring department with 21, Terry Woods 14, and Bobo Morrison was next with 12 as Jamie Johnson rounded out the scoring with his 4 points. Joe Hamilton played briefly, but injured an ankle just a very short time after entering the game. Phil Barefield also saw action and everyone of the 8 who played turned in a good performance.

Quitaque's opponent in bi-district play will be determined this week-end and the day and site of the playoff will be selected after that district has decided the winner.

In the meantime, give the Pantherettes your support and help them win a district championship this week-end.

to visit the ladies' brother, W. L. Graham and his family in Denver, Colo. They had a good trip to Colorado and on Sunday the group rode a special ski train up to Winter Park to see the Ski Run, which had attracted many entries. This was the first time that Mrs. White had seen any one ski except on TV or in the movies. The weather was so bad that they had to watch the skiers from inside the lodge, which was mostly glass and afforded a good view of the slopes. They went on by train to Frazier, Colo., which is the coldest place in the United States the year round. The snow was so deep they couldn't see the houseposts. On their return trip they arrived in Dumas on Thursday night (the week of the snow storm, here and spent the night. They drove to Amarillo the next morning, where they left the Hiltons, barely getting through before the Highway between Amarillo and Dumas was closed. The Hiltons were fortunate enough to get a train out of Amarillo that night to their home at Pampa and the Whites drove on home to Quitaque. The Whites report a very enjoyable trip, although cut a bit short by the storm.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

TOURISM ... its value to you

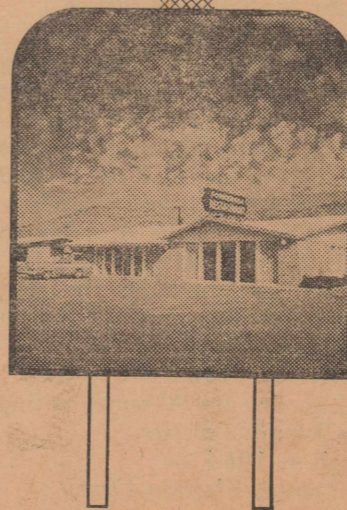

America is on the road ... going places ... seeing things. Texas had 9.6 million out-of-state visitors in 1963 who spent $471 million plus $25 million in direct state taxes. As an example in WTU territory, more than 100,000 last year visited Big Bend National Park (pictured above).

A mere eight tourist cars a day that stop in a community is the equivalent of an added $100,000 annual payroll. Travel and tourism in Texas will grow even faster because of vastly increasing tourist promotion on both the state and local level. This makes tourism of value to every community in the WTU service area, and one of our major economic factors.

Many communities are benefiting from tourism as one of the important PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS. These communities are:

1. Developing tourist attractions (even a rodeo or county fair is a "tourist attraction").
2. Building facilities to care for tourists and other travelers no matter where they are headed (Alpine's Ponderosa Restaurant, pictured left, is one of many such facilities).
3. Creating facilities for the growing number of business and family non-vacationing travelers who fill the highways day after day.

That is why we suggest that you evaluate the importance of tourism to you, and consider seriously how your community can benefit from it.

 Wednesday Evening 7:00

He is to be with us beginning with the evening service of the first Sunday in April and continuing through the morning of the Second Sunday. In addition to the evening services during the week, he will also preach during the early morning. Rev. Boswell urges that visiting be done in connection with the revival, and that during the revival there be discussion groups following the evening worship.

These activities and others are to be subjects of discussion and action as the commissions and the official board meet next Monday evening, Feb. 24, this time one hour earlier than the regular time as carried in the standing announcements. Due to a misunderstanding, we are changing the name of the regular mid-week service leading up to the revival. It is now known as "Mid-Week Steady."

The fifth and final session of the junior missionary study on India was being held on Monday of this week. This is to be succeeded on the next four Monday afternoons with similar arrangements as to refreshments, by a "Methodist Membership Class," which is designed for juniors, for older primary children, and even for junior highs who wish to take it. Although Palm Sunday, March 22, is designated as "Membership Sunday," no child will be pressured to join the church at all, but this class will furnish information and inspiration for church membership, and is open not only to those who already officially Methodists, but even to those who might like to take the work while retaining connections with other churches. In other words, there are no "strings" attached.

The study of OUR MISSION TODAY continues next Sunday evening with the subject being, "The Kingdom of God

Is Present and Coming," the text being "He went about doing good," Acts 10:38. For the morning sermon on this second Sunday in Lent the title is "The Goal of Life," from Rev. 19:5-10.

Look to The Church For Your Help

Look to Sunday, February 23rd for the blessing you need, to give you what will enable you to cope with the circumstances of life, and conditions into which you will come in the processes of activity that is just out ahead.

There is room enough for all the citizenry of our community in the churches of our commonwealth and your presence in one of them next Sunday will mean two wonderful things: First, the active members will be encouraged and blessed by your presence; Second, you can receive all the needs of life, fully and complete. Search out one of the several churches here in Quitaque and cast your lot with them and look to Jesus for Salvation and all its benefits. Our little church offers you a hearty welcome and whatever of Grace Benefits you are in need of and hungry to receive. Our special for next Sunday is. Our morning Sunday School lesson, with both morning and night sermons and songs built around the theme "In what way is Jesus denied by his church today?"

The Rev. Bashford Bishop, in our Pentecostal Evangel Sunday School lesson for Feb. 23, On Peter's Denial, said: "Instead of condemning Peter, let us sympathetically and carefully examine his experience and thus fortify ourselves against a failure which in principle may be the same as his." And he gives the cause for denial: Too much self-confidence, expressed in prayerlessness; rashness; wrong associations; ungodly conduct; and as lessons learned from these, Five Point Victories: (1) Recorded for our warning, (2) "If you feel sure, beware lest ye fall," (3) Testings come, but cause us to grow, (4) To overcome and be victorious, (5) The Spirit filled life, becoming fearless and courageous.

Come Hear Some Good Special Singing in both morning and evening meetings.

HIGHWAY PATROL REPORT FOR MONTH OF JANUARY

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 2 accidents on rural highways in Briscoe County during the month of January, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for three persons injured and an estimated property damage of $2975.00.

The Sergeant reminded motorists that Texas along with every other state in the nation many years ago enacted a safety responsibility law to meet the problems created by irresponsible operators of vehicles on our streets and highways. This law is intended to encourage all motorists to become financially responsible and to promote highway safety by identifying those drivers and owners of motor vehicles who will not assume their moral and legal obligations to society and therefore should be removed from the highways.

"More stringent provisions of this law—requiring drivers and owners to be able to pay for damage to others in traffic accidents—became effective on January 1, 1964," the Sergeant said. "In any accident in which damage amounts to at least $25.00 or more, the operator of every motor vehicle is required to report the accident in writing to the Texas Department of Public Safety. If the accident involved death, injury or damage to one's property of at least $100.00, the accident then comes under the Safety Responsibility Act and its requirements must be met," he explained.

"The Department of Public Safety is required by the new law to suspend the driver licenses and all motor vehicle registration plates of both the operator and owner of vehicles involved in accidents coming under the Safety Responsibility Law unless the owner and operator meet one or more of the following requirements."

1. Liability insurance coverage in minimum amounts of $10,000.00 for one injury or death, $20,000.00 total injury and death and $5,000.00 property damage.

2. A release signed by the damaged parties.

3. Signed installment agreement for damages.

4. Operator and owner found not to be liable in a court of jurisdiction.

5. Operator and owner posting cash or bond security in amounts sufficient to cover liability incurred.

"If in doubt as to the amount of damage send a report and be on the safe side, or if additional information is needed contact any member of the D.P.S." the Patrol Supervisor concluded.

PARALLEL TERRACES

By Dan C. Huckabee
Area Engineer, SCS
New terracing techniques are being introduced to farmers in the Texas Panhandle. Many farmers who need to terrace their land because of erosion or water loss will be interested in some new terrace layout and construction methods offered by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service.

A system of terraces run parallel to each other is fast gaining popularity among farmers who have seen them in operation. While these terraces are fairly new in the Texas Panhandle they have been thoroughly tried and proven in other parts of the State.

Parallel terraces have many advantages. For one thing, they eliminate point rows. This is a

CARDS OF THANKS

We want to say "thanks" to all our good friends who have been so thoughtful of us since I have been sick. All the lovely cards with love in every one of them, the letters, good wishes, the visits, all the delicious food and candy, and the beautiful flowers from the church and City Council. Your prayers have helped so much. May God bless every one of you.

big advantage to High Plains farmers who use 6 and 8-row equipment. Crop damage is greatly minimized when all turning is done on turn at the end of the field. Another big advantage is that it facilitates supplemental irrigation between terraces. When all rows run the entire length of the irrigation row, furrow irrigation can be accomplished by laying gated pipe along the terraces. Each row can then be expected to carry the furrow stream all the way through.
In general, when parallel ter-aces are installed, a waterway must be provided in all significant depressions across the slope. This provides for excess water disposal at points where water would normally collect and break across the rows. In some cases farmers have gone to the expense of eliminating some minor depressions by filling them in before the terraces are laid out. In more extreme cases they have even gone so far as to level land between parallel terraces. Often this expense is well justified. Leveling between terraces on land with 0.5 to 2.0 percent slopes greatly improves moisture distribution and penetration. More timely tillage practices are possible and crop growth is more uniform as a result of uniform field drying.

Where leveling is too expensive, some improvement in moisture distribution can be made by constructing terraces from the lower side. In this case the fill material for the terraces should be taken from a thin layer as much as one-third to one-half the distance downslope to the next terrace. This will give some leveling of slopes between terraces.

Not all fields can be terraced parallel. Some fields have slopes which break in several directions, or even have several isolated little knolls within the field. It can readily be seen that terraces could not be made parallel on these fields. Even so, there may be cases where a portion of the terraces could be made parallel, and the rest of the field terraced with conventional terraces.

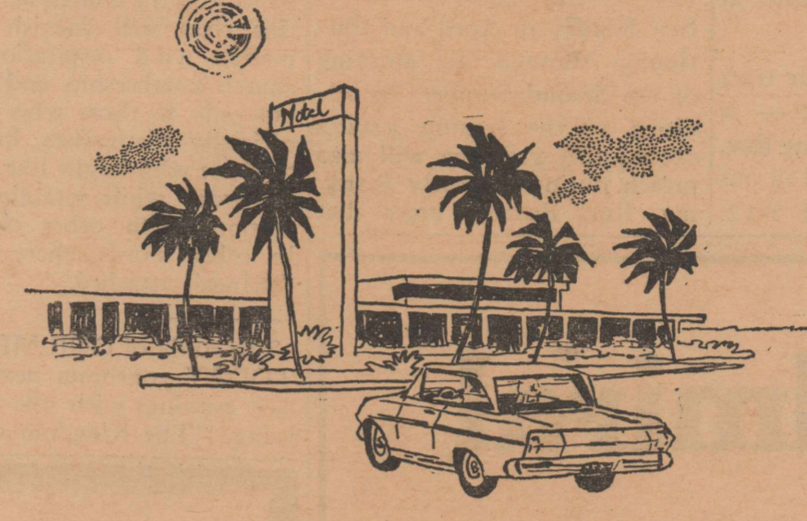

Each field needing terraces will have to be individually evaluated as to its suitability for parallel terraces. For more information on parallel terracing, farmers can contact the office of the Soil Conservation Service in Silvertown.
