CONTINUING PROBLEMS FOR CATTLEMEN

Proposals are being formulated in the Congress to legislate quotas on beef and meat imports in the wake of unsatisfactory negotiated agreements with the two major foreign suppliers of meat to U. S. markets, Australia and New Zealand. Announced this week by the Departments of State and Agriculture, the new import agreement affecting Australian and New Zealand shipments does nothing in my view but maintain the United States domestic cattle at the brink of economic disaster.

Although the volume of meat coming from Australia and New Zealand is reduced below last year's record level, the agreement helps to make permanent the conditions which have resulted in dangerously low prices paid for U. S. cattle in our own markets. The decline in prices paid for choice steers at Chicago reflects the current unhealthy situation: November, $23.51 (per hundred pounds); December, $22.30; January, $22.61; the first two weeks in February, $21.73. These are averages. While economists in the Department of Agriculture expect a price rise in the spring, no one can be sure of the future.

Under the terms of the agreement, imports received this year, from Australia and New Zealand of beef, veal and mutton will be limited to approximately the 1962-63 average level—or about 773 million pounds (the great portion of which will consist of beef and veal). This total is only 48 million pounds below the total imported by the United States from these two nations in the record 1963 year.

The Agriculture Department announcement noted that future expansion of beef and veal imports, limited by the agreement to 3.7 percent annually of the total received the preceding year from Australia and New Zealand, will be "far below recent levels." This means next to nothing, however, because of the skyrocket rate at which imports from these countries have been increasing. Exports of beef and veal from Australia to the United States jumped 29 times in only six years—from 18 million pounds in 1958 to 517 million pounds in 1963. Therefore, a reduction in the rate of expansion would have to be "far below recent levels" or every cattleman in the United States would be facing bankruptcy in a matter of months.

While expansion has been checked—and for that I suppose we should all be glad—the 3.7 percent annual rate of expansion coupled with the high-volume import base on which it is calculated will mean that our domestic cattle industry will continue to be poised on the edge of a precipice. I ask this: How much of an economic recession would be required, how much of a decline from the current rate of consumer spending would be necessary, to plunge the U. S. cattle industry to destruction? With imports continuing at dangerously high levels, a cutback of consumer purchasing in U. S. supermarkets could indeed be all that is required to seal the cattleman's doom.

Panthers Drop 1-Point Decision

QUITAQUE SENDS PANTHERS TO SEE TOURNAMENT

Quitaque citizens, to show their pride and appreciation of the fine basketball team of QHS, got busy Thursday morning and quickly made up enough money from gifts from the local citizens to send Coach King and the entire Panther squad to Austin to see the State Basketball Tournament.

The group will go in three automobiles driven by Coach King, James Barefield and Morris Stephens. They will leave about 5:00 P. M. this (Thursday) afternoon and will arrive in Austin to see McAdoo in action for the first time in the tournament. They will meet the Frankston-Celeste winner at 9 o'clock Friday.

The Panthers will probably be rooting for the Eagles to win since it would make the Panther season record look even brighter.

The basketball season has ended for Quitaque as McAdoo took a one-point decision over Quitaque Saturday night.

The Quitaque Panthers were nudged 54-53 in the finals at the Regional Basketball Tournament at Canyon last Saturday night, but only after they had put up a terrific battle. In fact the Panthers scored first in the game, were tied briefly at 2-2, then led the highly-touted crew from McAdoo until 4 minutes deep into the third period, on two occasions by 13 points. It took all the breaks of the game for the defending champion to pull the game out and most Quitaque fans believe that the Panthers should have won and are indeed the better team.

There were a lot of people who did not believe that the Panthers were in the same class with McAdoo, in spite of the fact that Quitaque beat the Eagles early in the season. The fact that the Eagles slammed the Panthers by a 40 point margin the following week at McAdoo probably was the reason for their doubt. Many of the doubters did not know that the Panthers were making a run-away of the game in their own behalf before running out of gas.

The Panthers came very near not making it to the finals of the tourney by almost being upset by the Shallowater Mustangs in their first game Friday after trailing for over a half. The Mustangs jumped out in front of the Panthers at the beginning of the game and led by 8 points at one time during the second quarter. In the late minutes of the second quarter the Panthers trailed by 10 points but whittled the lead to four points, 28-32 at half time. The Panthers began playing catchup in the third quarter and tied the count at 44-44 at the end of the third period. The Panthers finally went ahead for the first time midway of the final period and hung on to win 54-51.

Quitaque met the Meadows

Brochos in the semi-finals on Saturday morning and had an easier time, knocking the South Plains boys out of the running with a 61-44 decision. Quitaque built up a 30-10 in the second quarter and from there the Panthers started to coast and won the game with ease. Jack Johnson popped the nets for 21 points in this game to lead the scoring parade. Jim Saul was next with 20, Butch Brown notched 14, Terry Woods 5 and Phil Barefield 1.

The Quitaque-McAdoo game was played before almost a full house in the big West Texas State U. field house.

The Panthers controlled the opening game tipoff but missed on their first try at the basket. McAdoo took the rebound and gave the ball to their celebrated Larry Morris for their first try at scoring. Morris missed his shot, the Panthers took the rebound and brought the ball down court and tall Jack Johnson scored the game's first points. The Eagles promptly knotted the count at 2-2 but the Panthers, playing McAdoo perfectly with a slowed-down offense, went to work and built a 13-8 first quarter lead. The second quarter was more of the same with the Panthers in control of things. The Eagles narrowed the gap to 27-23 at intermission. The Eagles went ahead midway of the third period but the Panthers refused to fold and trailed only 38-40 at the end of the third period. Some heartbreaking breaks allowed the Eagles to build a 5 point bulge with two minutes to go. Still the Panthers refused to give it up and Robin Brown and Jim Saul hit jump shots to match the Eagles and keep the margin to a single point. The Panthers had two chances in the fading moments to go ahead but missed. Jack Johnson had the last shot from about 30 feet out, but the ball hit the rim and bounced away as the buzzer sounded.

The game was a very fine team effort with every one of the Panthers sharing equally in the contest. Coach King had a game pattern set for the boys to follow and they followed it.

The Panthers ended a very fine season with 32 wins and 4 losses. Those four losses came at the hands of McAdoo, Floyd, Midland Lee. The Panther won over McAdoo one, split games with Floyd and had only once chance at Lee. They probably could have taken them had they been given another chance.

ROCKET CITY is located halfway between Orlando and the Cape Kennedy Space Center, will supply living space for 150,000 amidst Florida's growing space-age complex.

New Space-Age City Rising In Florida

There's a new city rising in Central Florida. A city that will cover 36 square miles, have 150,000 residents and feature all-electric living.

Rocket City is the newly planned billion dollar urban/suburban complex now rising between Orlando and the Cape Kennedy Space Center. It's filling the gap by providing land and housing for the people who will be working the 300,000 new space-age-created jobs expected in this area between now and 1970.

Within eight years, 65,000 will be living at Rocket City in 15,000 all-electric homes and 3,000 all-electric apartments in the 7,000 acre "central city".

The new community will be erected by several builders under the supervision of Rocket City's developer, All-State Development Corporation of Miami.

All dwellings will be built to Gold Medallion standards to make sure that each resident has today's most modern appliances plus adequate wiring to handle electrical conveniences of the future.

The first homes, already built by Ace Craft Homes of Fort Meyers, have the latest Hot-point electric range, garbage disposer, dishwasher and water heater and G-E heating and air conditioning.

Rocket City land was first offered for sale last year and sales quickly soared to over $1 million per month indicating that the project will certainly reach its goal of 65,000 people within seven years.

It's just good sense to wash and dry electrically with FRIGIDAIRE

The 1964 flameless electric Frigidaire washers and dryers offer complete freedom from washday drudgery. They're completely automatic and virtually maintenance free.

The washer is equipped with a unique 3-ring agitator which keeps clothes in the under water "Action Zone," removes lint, guards against tangling, and unfolds every piece to clean them inside and out. And by the way, the washer automatically dispenses bleach and detergent, whether liquid or powder.

The Flowing Heat dryer tumbles clothes gently on a cushion of air, pampering the finest fabrics. And the Automatic Dry control shuts the dryer off when clothes are 'just-right' dry.

No other washer and dryer approaches Frigidaire for quality, advancement, and performance.

existing crops through variety and strain testing, fertilizer usage, and cultural practices.

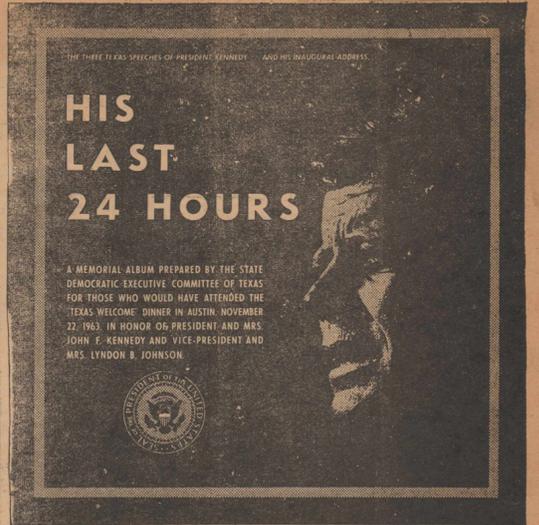

2. Evaluate and develop new crops that can be used to strengthen the agricultural and industrial economy of the High Plains and West Texas.

3. Conserve soil and water through the recharging of surface water and development of sound conservation practices.

4. Determine more efficient methods of soil and water management.

A list of accomplishments chalked up by the Foundation in these areas is already extensive. Acquisition of the new acreage 10 miles southwest of Halfway will enable the program to be broadened with new emphasis on cattle, grasses, and large scale demonstrations of proven laboratory methods.

The farm was purchased from J. Frank Triplett of Amarillo. Harold Hinn, Chairman of the board of trustees of the Foundation, announced the significant meeting of the regular semi-annual meeting of the trustees last Saturday.

With the new acreage, the Foundation will have a total of 814 acres with which to work to put dollars into the pockets of High Plains farmers and agribusinessmen.

Dr. Earl Collister, Foundation Director, said following Hinn's announcement of the purchase, "The addition of the Triplett farm will enable us to demonstrate on a large scale many research programs which have been proven in the laboratory, small field and test plots."

"We will be able to put into operation new research in soils, crops, and cultural practices," he added. "The lake on the property will be used to further the work in lake water recharge, and research will be conducted in the area surrounding the lake to demonstrate the advantages of soil and water conservation through bench leveling and terracing."

"The Triplett farm will be set up as the best example of well-rounded diversified agriculture on the High Plains," Dr. Collister said.

Soils on the farm will enable research in land representative of that found as far south as Midland. Previous research at the Halfway farm has been limited to Pullman clay loam and Amarillo clay loam found in much of the High Plains north to the Oklahoma Panhandle.

It is significant to note that the Triplett farm has already played an important part in High Plains agriculture. J. Frank Triplett said his father, L. H. Triplett, grew the first crop of grain sorghum in Texas on the farm in the early 1890's and cut the first crop of wheat on the High Plains there in 1898.

Mr. and Mrs. Triplett donated $25,000 toward the purchase of the land by lowering the purchase price $50.00 per acre from its estimated value. Both voiced their approval of the fact that in the future the farm will continue to play a vital role in improving the agricultural economy of the High Plains.

HEALTH HINTS

SAFEGUARD CHILDREN'S TEETH

For years, harassed parents have been worrying about the state of Johnny's teeth, and with good reason. Half of all two-year olds have one or more decayed teeth; half of all first-graders have three or more.

That's the situation if they haven't been drinking fluoridated water. If they have, as research with hundreds of thousands of children shows, tooth decay can be reduced by as much as 75 per cent.

The American Medical and American Dental Associations unqualifiedly endorse fluoridation. Yet a majority of the 20,000 U.S. communities with public water supplies are without it.

What, then, can parents living in these areas do if they want to safeguard their children's teeth with fluoride? Fortunately, individual protection — through dental treatments or fluoride supplements — is available. Now, since most physicians recommend vitamin supplements for pregnant women and young children, vitamin-fluoride combinations like Adeflor, have been developed for use in unfluoridated areas.

For free booklet on family fluoride protection, write to John Peyton, Room 914, 342 Madison Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGER'S WASHINGTON REPORT
world by a too-generous Uncle Sam, accounted for 67 per cent of the 1,750 million pounds of beef and veal imported by the United States last year. That total of 1,750 million pounds was 11 percent of all the meat consumed by our people. And 1,750 million pounds is a lot of beef. Calculations vary, but it is the equivalent of between 3,500,000 and 4 million cattle on the hoof. Had this number of cattle been produced entirely in the United States, the animals would have consumed some 20 billion pounds of feed—most of it now in surplus. I cite this fact to point out that the problem facing the U. S. Cattle industry is a problem facing all of American agriculture.

THE QUITAQUE TRIBUNE — THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1964

But cattlemen and American agriculture generally now must face a fact of life that is becoming ever more apparent. Where once a "farm bloc" held considerable power in the Congress—a group of Congressmen representing primarily rural areas—the shift of Congressional power has been to the metropolitan areas of our country. It is estimated that 7 out of every 10 seats in the House of Representatives are held by Members from mainly urban constituencies. The decrease in the "farm bloc" power makes it increasingly difficult for myself and others from farm and ranch areas to enlist the aid of City Members, whose constituents are clamoring for cheaper beef prices. Import quota legislation does not appeal to many of them.

Foreign sources are being permitted to supply too much of the United States market—a market our own people are perfectly ready to serve. Just as beef imports are too high, so are imports of sugar, petroleum products, lumber, and a variety of other raw materials and manufactured goods. In order to export, we must import. But surely a less damaging balance CAN be found.
