ARE YOU 'NORMAL'?

Lately we have heard con. flicting claims about who needs supplemental vitamins and who doesn't.

Without much doubt, the healthy, average adult eating a well_balanced diet sees little need to add vitamins to his daily intake.

But how about teenagers on the go, burning calories like a furnace-and living on hamburgers and soft drinks? Or finicky tots who pick at what foods they dislike—and going heavy on forbidden sweets? And the elderly, often living alone, never feeling quite up to par -eating a narrow - range choice of foods
