Both HS Teams Win Third At Silvertown Tournament

Quitaque's Panthers and Pantherettes each brought home a Third Place trophy from the basketball tournament held at Silvertown last week-end. The Silvertown Owlettes took a close victory over the Hedley Owlettes to win the girls championship and the Hedley boys reversed that procedure by winning a 2 point victory over the Silvertown crew.

The Pantherettes defeated the Dimmitt "B" team 61-39 to win the third place trophy.

The Quitaque girls beat Flomot 56-14 in the first round last Thursday night, breaking a season-long losing streak in the process. The win put the Pantherettes against the Silvertown Owlettes in the second round of play on Friday night. Silvertown stopped the Pantherettes 50-34, catching the Quitaque girls having another cold night shooting. The Owlettes ran up a 13-3 advantage in the first period and that was too much for the Pantherettes to overcome.

In the game for third place on Saturday afternoon Coach Gene Kings charges found the range and went on a scoring spree and topped the 60 mark for the first time this season.

Jill Johnson topped the scoring parade in this one with 29 points, a season high for her. Patricia Brunson canned 24 points to win runnerup honors.

The Panthers also took on the Flomot Longhorns and found that team a bit stubborn, but managed to win 60-47 to go into the second round of the tournament, their Friday night opponent also being Silvertown.

The Panthers were not hitting very well in this one and got off to one of their typical slow starts, trailing 12-19 at the end of the first quarter and 30-38 at halftime. The lads from Quitaque kept nugging away and finally caught with the Owls midway of the third quarter and went ahead 43-42, the only time during the ballgame the Panthers were ahead. Silvertown again took the lead and the Panthers still refused to fold and evened the score 49-49 and 51-51, but the Owls hung on for a 53-51 win and a finals berth against Hedley.

Jamie Johnson led all point-makers with 26 points but was not hitting with his usual accuracy.

JOE SEAY RECEIVES PROMOTION

Karlsruhe, Germany—Richard Joe Seay, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Persons, Quitaque, Texas, and husband of Mrs. Mary Lou Williams Seay, of Whiteville, North Carolina, was promoted to Specialist Four, November 25, 1964 while serving with Headquarters Co., 78th Engineer Battalion (C) stationed in Karlsruhe, Germany.

The 78th Engineer Battalion (C) is a Seventh Army Combat Unit which builds and maintains bridges used by other Seventh Army Combat Units assigned to the control center of Europe in the NATO Defense Pattern.

Seay is an Administrative Clerk in the Battalion Headquarters Operations Section (Battalion S3) and maintains the Files and Functions of his Section.

Karlsruhe is located on the Rhine River and is noted for being the home of West Germany's Highest Court. Karlsruhe also has many historical spots which attract many visitors yearly.

curacy. Towe hit 18 for the Owls for scoring honors. The winning score for the Owls was made by Curby in the closing seconds and was the only point he made during the ballgame.

The third place game between the Panthers and Plainview's "B" team, was like no other this reporter has ever witnessed. The Panthers, typically, couldn't get off the ground in the first period and trailed the tall Bulldogs 13-23 after the first quarter of play. With a minute left in the second quarter the lads from Quitaque finally caught up at 33-33 but fell behind 33-35 at the half. The score was tied 6 times in the second half and neither team could put together a real rally and the Panthers finally pulled out a 60-56 win. The Panthers shot and missed - shot and missed, and blew any number of lay-up shots. But, what made the game odd was this—during all the time the Panthers were shooting and missing and running up and down the court, the Plainview lads were committing fouls — and the Panthers were hitting a pretty good percentage of them. The Quitaque team made only 13 field goals in the game, but hit 34 free throws! The Plainview team, by the way, is coached by Bill Mayfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mayfield. Bill is a former Panther himself.

Jill Johnson of the Pantherettes was selected on the all-tournament team, and Jamie Johnson and Monte Stephens of the Panthers were placed on boys all-tournament team.

The honor was the second of the season for Jamie and Monte, having been selected, along with Warren Lee Merrell, (Continued on Back Page)

Jr Hi Tourney Begins Today

Quitaque's Junior Hi basketball tournament gets underway here this afternoon (Thursday) with eight teams entered in both boys and girls divisions.

The Tulia - Lockney girls teams will start the tournament off with play scheduled to begin at 4 this afternoon.

Three trophies will be given in each division, for First, Second and Consolation.

Quitaque's teams both take on Lakeview Junior High tonight, the girls games slated to start at 8 o'clock and the boys at 9 o'clock. Other Thursday games match the Lockney-Tulia boys at 5 o'clock; Flomot and Roaring Springs girls at 6 and Flomot Roaring Springs boys at 7 o'clock.

Eight schools have teams entered in the tournament in both boys and girls divisions. They are Matador, Turkey, Tulia, Lockney, Lakeview, Flomot, Roaring Springs and host Quitaque. Friday's games will start at 4 o'clock and on Saturday, games will start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Girl's Consolation finals will be played at 5:00 p. m. Saturday and the boys Consolation final will be at 6:00 p. m. Saturday.

The girl's championship game is slated for 7:30 Saturday night and the boys will scrap for the big prize at 8:30.

Basketball fans are sure to see some good basketball played during the three-day affair.

Quitaque's Jr. High teams are currently undefeated for the season and Coach Ted Schwarz's youngsters brought home both first place trophies from Roaring Springs tournament two weeks ago but they could meet their match in this one. Tulia and Lockney probably will enter strong teams, or one of the other teams could upset them.

The young Pantherettes had a narrow escape in their game with Flomot in the Roaring Springs tournament.

WHO WILL BE THE LOSERS IN THE "MONKEY WAR?"

(A great deal of controversy and protest has been stirred up here in Texas recently and has gotten quite a bit of unfavorable publicity, though in our estimation, not nearly enough of the latter. It started when the Texas Education Agency's textbook committee recommended three high school biology text books that treat Darwin's theory of evolution as fact rather than a mere man's idea. Supt. Johnny Mason has some strong ideas about these theories and the way the school should handle them. In fact he felt so strongly about this subject that he wrote the following article, which the publishers of this newspaper is proud to pass on to our readers and all school patrons. We think that we are fortunate to have a man of Mr. Mason's character, one who is not afraid to speak out against such a theory that is contrary to so many things sacred to most of us. The pages of The Tribune are always available for use against such a teaching. The Editors.)

By Supt. of Quitaque Schools Johnny Mason
An old skeleton has recently been exhumed—and thrown squarely at your feet. The skeleton that was dug up recently is one for which there is little ready scientific grounds of proof, one for which there are too many converts already. The skeleton? "Did man evolve from an amoeba, the monkey, or just happen?" This ghost has been haunting people ever since Charles Darwin insinuated that people evolved from a lower being or form of life.

Since it is easier to grasp, most people who hold to this theory clutch frantically at the monkey theory—hence, the "monkey war" tab. Apparently one writer thinks that this theory insults the monkey race:

THREE MONKEYS
Three monkeys sat in a cocoonut tree
Discussing things as they're said to be,
Said one to the others, now listen you two
There's a certain rumor that can't be true
That man descended from our noble race:
The very idea! It's a dire disgrace!
No monk ever deserted his wife,
Starved her babies and ruined her life.
And you've never known a mother monk
To leave her babies with others to bunk
And pass them on from one to the other
Till they scarcely know who is their mother.
And another thing you'll never see
A monk build a fence around a cocoonut tree:
Starvation would cause you to steal from me:
And here's another thing a monk won't do—
Go out at night and get on a stew,
And use a gun or club or knife
To take some other monkey's life!
Yes! Man descended, the onery cuss
But, brother, he didn't descend from us!

In Texas it all began anew when the Texas Education Agency's textbook committee recommended three high school biology books for consideration on the adopted list. (These books have since been adopted over strong protests, along with two others not protested, by one or two religious groups.)

What is the problem, and who and what is involved?

We have a problem here that will be hard to resolve because we can refute any theory and the theorist will not be defeated due to the fact that he has not based his ideas upon any known scientific fact, but rather on scientific hypothesis. And the problem involves more than most of us understand, or want to understand. It involves high school students who have not yet taken biology, students in grade school who will soon be taking it, and children not yet in school, and all posterity. Of course, we can console ourselves by saying that we don't believe it, our children won't believe it, and feel reasonably sure that our teachers know better than to teach it. But this is not the constructive way to approach the problem.

We can try ridicule! But this is not the answer either. For ridicule has been used to a great extent in the last 50 years, yet the "monkey" drum-beaters have gained ground.

The problem must be met head-on with sound, constructive thinking and teaching by parents, teachers, and by the church.

This same theory has been taught by Darwin's follower's since his publication of the "Origin of Species" early in 1900. This same theory is alluded to in our new texts as FACT and not THEORY. Now what, you ask, is the difference? Webster says that fact "is an actual occurrence, event, of quality, or relation." By example, it is a FACT that 2 plus 2 equals 4. A THEORY is defined as "A more or less plausible or scientifically acceptable general principle offered in explanation of observed facts—loosely, a hypothesis, or a guess." By example, we might offer the accepted principle that monkey walks upright sometime, and so does man, most of the time, therefore, the monkey evolved from man. Therefore it may seem plausible from the facts observed, that monkey evolved from man.

Hitler used the same theory set forth by Darwin, to create a new super-race by "selective" means, or "survival of the fittest." In essence, this means that the strong will ultimately dominate the weak and eventually the weak will die off and leave only the strong or super-race. Hitler tried to help nature along by murdering millions of people and almost accomplished his goal in Europe.

To accept this "Monkey Business" is to actually deny the very Creative Force behind the creation of man. That force is God. One can easily get the facts by turning to the first chapter of Genesis and reading through the entire creation as it actually happened. But in the public schools of Texas, we cannot use the Bible as a text, therefore, our hands are almost tied in this matter. Therefore, from the religious standpoint, the home and the church should—must—exert their influence upon the children's minds more than ever. For the belief in evolution as our creative medium very definitely undermines faith in God, which is essential to one's salvation.

From the teacher's standpoint, much can be done. When I taught biology, I always presented the "Darwin Theory" of evolution in simple form, as I knew it. But I always tried to make it very clear to the students that it was "theory" and not a "fact" that man evolved from a lower form. But there are teachers, especially in colleges, who claim to be Christians, yet by their teaching, actually deny the existence of Deity!

One University of Texas professor stated publicly that "High School biology teachers may be taking wrong approaches to evolution."

Allotments Set For Peanuts For 1965 Crop

Texas has received an allotment of 356,805 acres for production of the 1965 peanut crop. Bill Helms, Vice - Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Briscoe Co. Committee has announced. This represents the State's share of the 1,610,000 national acreage allotment, recently announced by the Secretary of Agriculture. This minimum national allotment is the same as the original allotment announced for the production of the 1964 peanut crop; later in the marketing year, 1964-crop allotments for States producing Valencia-type peanuts were increased by 2,612 acres, in accordance with legislation providing for such increases for types of peanuts in short supply.

The Vice-Chairman explained that the 1965 State allotment will be apportioned among individual peanut - producing farms within the State in accordance with provisions of governing legislation. Notices of farm allotments will then be mailed to growers.

Farm allotments for the 1965 crop of peanuts in Briscoe County are expected to be about the same as allotments for the 1964 crop.

Peanut marketing quotas have been in effect each year since 1949. The last referendum was held in December 1962, when a record 96.9 percent of the growers voting approved marketing quotas for the 1963, 1964, and 1965 crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bingham, Rhonda and Lori of Montgomery, Ala. arrived Sunday afternoon to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Barefield and boys and with his mother at Turkey.

Willson & Son Lumber Co. was hit by thieves Friday night, carrying off from $50 to $100 worth of loot, according to Alton Johnson, local manager of the firm. He said it was impossible to tell exactly what the burglars made away with. Entrance was gained in the rear of the building.

The robbers used a type-writer case in which to gather up their loot, but evidently became frightened after getting outside and across the street with it for it was found the next day. Mr. Johnson said it contained around $100 worth of items.

The only items they know were taken were three wrist watches and some change, but Manager Johnson said that he is sure there are other items that are gone.

WHO WILL BE THE LOSERS IN THE "MONKEY WAR"?

urged high school teachers to place evolution in "its proper context—not to omit it, not downgrade its importance, for many teachers have too long done one or the other—but, as he said, do place it in its proper context." Lee added, "The negative way of saying the same thing is 'don't overdo it—no one has ever seen an amoeba evolve into an elephant.'"

I might add, this approach is a good way of explaining the difference between "fact and theory" that I mentioned previously. To see a thing happen is one thing, to think it highly possible is entirely another story—

Therefore, we cannot stand back and shout "hogwash" and hope our children will not believe this "unproved fact" of Darwin's. The child in the first grade cannot hope to be well enough grounded by parents and the church to cope with this theoretical idea—especially from a teacher who believes and teaches it.

Perhaps you are one of the parents who have had this most educational experience. Billy comes home from school and says, "The teacher said, 'Thus and so.'" But you try to tell him that it was some other way. Your child will be quick to tell you that it is the way the teacher said it, "Because the teacher said it was that way." It is a fact, believe it or not, the teacher has more influence on your children than you do.

I believe, that should your child be taught from his first day in school that man evolved from monkey, when he graduates he will be a staunch follower of Darwin, or a confused convert who will be easy prey for some college biology professor.

So, mother, father, and minister, you have your work cut out for you.

To the best of my knowledge, we have no teachers in this system who follow this preposterous demagoguery. And I can say, that as long as I am superintendent here, it will not be taught as fact. We will teach it as theory and ONLY as theory so that your children will better understand and be able to discern between fact and theory.

What are its implications? The toe of the Monkey Theory is already in the door and it will never be removed. It has been in our colleges since Darwin introduced it. It is now seeking more fertile ground—the receptive high schooler's mind.

What can be done about it? Nothing, from the standpoint of the books. They were heavily protested, but were passed over the protest with the remark, "That no minority religious group should be allowed to say what shall or shall not be taught in state-supported schools."

This protest was brought about last summer when three petitions were circulated in at least six Texas cities against the approval of the three high school biology textbooks up for adoption. At least two religious groups protested on the grounds that "the books make too strong a case for the evolutionary descent of man from lower forms of life."

The three books objected to make up a series known as the Biological Sciences Study (BSCS). Dr. Irwin Spear, Prof. at the University of Texas biology department, helped compile the texts. He said the books were superior to any of the other books up for adoption, and felt "it would be a great tragedy if the students of Texas were denied access to them." That brings to mind and old saying, "He that tooteth not his own horn, the same shall not be tooted."

To substantiate the state's case, it was claimed that these books have already been used by some 240,000 students in the nation's schools as a pilot study. That is to say, an introductory use study to try and determine its value under actual classroom conditions. These studies are sponsored by the Texas Education Agency and they are a definite asset in the study of new subject matter and new texts. But to say that they ALWAYS come out positive is to seemingly stretch the experiment too far. No experiment will be positive every time. We must, out of necessity fail sometime!—or at least most of us do. Therefore, just because a quarter-million students used these texts does not necessarily PROVE that they are the ones for Texas students.

Nevertheless, these protested (but adopted) biology books will arrive at the Quitaque schools sometime this month. They will be open for your inspection. Then they will go to the local textbook committee after Christmas for their review. Upon complete inspection and consideration, their recommendations shall be made to the superintendent. We must choose one of the five offered. Two of the five are not considered controversial in context.

The textbook committee approved by the Board of Trustees at their last meeting are: Mr. Mason, Chairman; Mr. Colvin, Mr. King, Mrs. Merrell, Mr. Burris, Mr. Sanders, Mrs. Tipton, Mrs. Hawkins, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. Novelle Wise, Mrs. Betty Wise, Mr. Leeper and Mr. Schwarz.

this season, local basketball fans were treated to a triple win as Quitaque won three games from Matador.

The first game of the evening was between the boys B teams. The Panthers won this one 37-31 with Joe M. Jacobs hitting for 13 points and Nestor Cavazos notching 12 to lead the Quitaque team.

CARD OF THANKS—

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all our friends!

Mrs. Charles Gowin

The Pantherettes were having trouble again finding the scoring range until midway of the second quarter when Coach King sent Carol Myers, speedy little freshman forward, into the game and that young miss put a spark into the Pantherettes that did not die until the game was won. While the Pantherette forwards were doing some scoring, down on the other end of the court guards Donna Bedwell, Shirley Dowd, Lynette Taylor and for the final minutes after Shirley Dowd fouled out, Gwen McKay, were doing a good job on the Matador forwards, keeping them out from in close where they did their scoring. The win was a sweet one for the Pantherettes—their very first one of the season here at home. The long dry spell has been broken. They have found out they can win and they like to win!

The Matadors were sort of expected to perhaps replace the Panthers as champions this season since the Panthers lost all of last year's starters and the Matadors, who finished second to the Panthers last year, returned most of last year's team.

However, this bunch of fellows who are the Panthers this year apparently have ideas along this line too, and they went out and knocked off the Matadors 61-48. Now Matador is still working some football out of their system and will be better later on, but the Panthers think they will too. So
