Girls Won 2 Games Boys Lost A Pair

Quitaque's High School Panthers are winless in the last two outings while the Pantherettes won both of their games.

Saturday night the locals drove to Canyon to take on Channing High in the West Texas State Fieldhouse and won one and lost one game in the double header.

The Pantherettes, gathering momentum with each outing, took an easy 57-36 win over the Channing girls. In the second game of the evening, however, the situation was reversed and the Panthers took it on the chin, 78-39, from a big, tough Channing crew.

Tuesday night of this week the local teams hosted the Hedley High teams and split a double-header with them, the Pantherettes winning 50-42, and the Panthers again dropping a close decision to the Owls, 67-70.

Patricia Brunson won scoring honors in the Channing game with 28 points while Jill Johnson, who divided her time at forward and guard, was runnerup in that department with 13 points. Jo Beth Merrell scored 6 points, Cheryl Mason 4, Billie Cheatham, Carol Myers and Barbara Chandler each added 2 points to the final total.

Bobby Cochran was the only Panther able to score in double figures against the big Channing team, who proved to be about as good as they were reported to be. Bobby racked up 20 points while Tipton scored 6 points, Stephens and Harmon managed 5 points each and Johnny Pointer added 3.

Tuesday night's games were both close hard fought games.

In the Pantherette-Owlette game the score was tied at the end of the first quarter, 11-11 and again at the half 21-21. In the third period the Pantherettes started to pull away and owned a 36-30 lead at the end of the third period of play.

The Owlettes refused to fold and battled back to tie the score at 42-42. At this point, however, guards Shirley Dowd, Jill Johnson and Lynette Taylor shut the Owlettes out from the scoring column while the Pantherettes went on to score 8 points to win 50-42.

Once again Patricia Brunson led the scoring attack with 21 points. Freshman Barbara

Pam Curtis and Don Brummett won the high school King and Queen contest. They are Juniors. Pam is the daughter of Geneva Curtis and Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brummett.

Price, Dinana Purcell, Alvin Ivory and Suzie Hendrix, Verticand Rice, Lynette Taylor, Jerry Monk and Wanda Ramsey.

Chandler scored a total of 18 points in this one. Carol Myers hit for 10 points, and Jill Johnson added a free toss.

The Panthers were beaten at the free throw line in their game with the Owls, which was also a nip and tuck affair all the way. The count was knotted in this one 16-16 at the end of the first period and at half-time the locals led 38-35. At the end of the third quarter, Hedley was ahead by one point, 55-54. The Owls led by 7 points with less than 2 minutes of play left and the Panthers never quit but just weren't hitting well enough to pull it out. It was the second loss of the new season to the Owls, who seem to be a bit of a jinx to the Panthers in early season play.

Tuesday night's win over Hedley left the Pantherettes with 5 wins and 2 losses for the current young season while the Panthers own a 4 won and 3 loss record and it marks the first time in several seasons that the Pantherettes have managed to go ahead of the Panthers in the win column.

The Pantherettes might even improve their margin of wins for they have a game with the Silverton Owlettes Friday night while the Panthers are idle, because the Silverton boys are still playing football.

The Pantherettes have been unable to beat the Owlettes the past several years and would dearly love to knock off the Owlettes. This might be the time.

There will be two games on tap, the B teams playing at 7 o'clock and the A teams squaring off following that game.

Next Tuesday night is an open date for the local teams but next Friday night the Paducah Dragons will invade Quitaque for a pair of games.

USDA Announces Skip-Row Planting Rules For 1966 Crop

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced revised rules for measuring cotton when planted in skip-row patterns for compliance with acreage allotments. The new rules will become effective beginning with the 1966 crop of cotton.

On April 23, 1965 the Department announced proposed changes in the skip-row planting rules and invited comments by interested persons.

The rules announced are less restrictive than those included in the April 23 proposal, but somewhat more restrictive than current rules.

In skip-row plantings, strips of cotton rows are generally alternated with strips of idle land. Under present rules, the idle land beyond one-half of the normal width of a row is not counted as cotton when computing the acreage of cotton in a field. This, in effect, spreads the allotment over more acreage. Under the new rules, a part of the idle land will be cotton acreage for allotment purposes, except where cotton is planted in a pattern with 4 or more rows skipped. In a change from last spring's proposal the rule for plantings with 4 or more rows skipped will remain the same as it has been for many years. For other skip-row plantings where the row width is 40 inches, not only the land planted to cotton but also the 32 inches (an additional 12 inches over the 20 inches now counted) beyond the outside rows next to the idle land will be charged as cotton acreage under the allotment program.

The following examples illustrate various skip-row patterns, the amount of the planted area counted as cotton under present rules and the amount which would be counted as cotton under the revised rules. For example purposes, it is assumed that the cotton row width is 40 inches. Different row widths would mean additional adjustments in acreage.

Pattern	Charged as cotton under present rules (percent of area)	Charged as cotton under revised rules (percent of area)	Percentage Increase (Col. 3 over Col. 2)
rows cotton row skipped	66-2/3 percent	86-2/3 percent	30 percent
rows cotton rows skipped	50 percent	65 percent	30 percent
2 rows cotton 4 rows skipped	33-1/3 percent	33-1/3 percent	0
4 rows cotton 2 rows skipped	66-2/3 percent	76-2/3 percent	15 percent
4 rows cotton 4 rows skipped	50 percent	50 percent	0

Here is how skip-row planting works: a farmer with a 50-acre cotton allotment uses the skip-row pattern of 2 rows of cotton and 2 rows skipped. Under the present system the farmer would be considered to have half (50 percent) of the total area planted to cotton. This would permit him to utilize 100 acres of land and still be considered as being in compliance with his 50-acre cotton allotment. Under the new rules, 65 percent of the land would be considered as planted to cotton. Therefore he would be able to plant no more than 77 acres under the 2 and 2 pattern and still be in compliance with his cotton acreage allotment.

In authorizing continuation of skip-row planting under the revised rules, the Department has accommodated the interests of both cotton producers and the government. Planting on this basis is a desirable practice on many farms. However, wide spread use of skip-row planting has contributed materially to the substantial cotton surplus buildup in recent years.

Many farmers will continue to plant cotton in skip-row patterns under the revised rules. Other farmers will return to the practice of planting fields on a solid basis.

These changes which affect yields per acre and the adjustments in planted acreages expected in 1966 under the new legislation should result in reducing carryover stocks, which will reach a record-high level of 15.7 million bales in August 1, 1966, by about 1.3 million bales.

SENATOR RALPH YARBROUGH ADDRESSES FARMERS UNION MEET

The following is part of a speech by Senator Ralph Yarbrough, before the Statewide Convention of the Texas Farmers' Union at Abilene last Saturday, November 6:

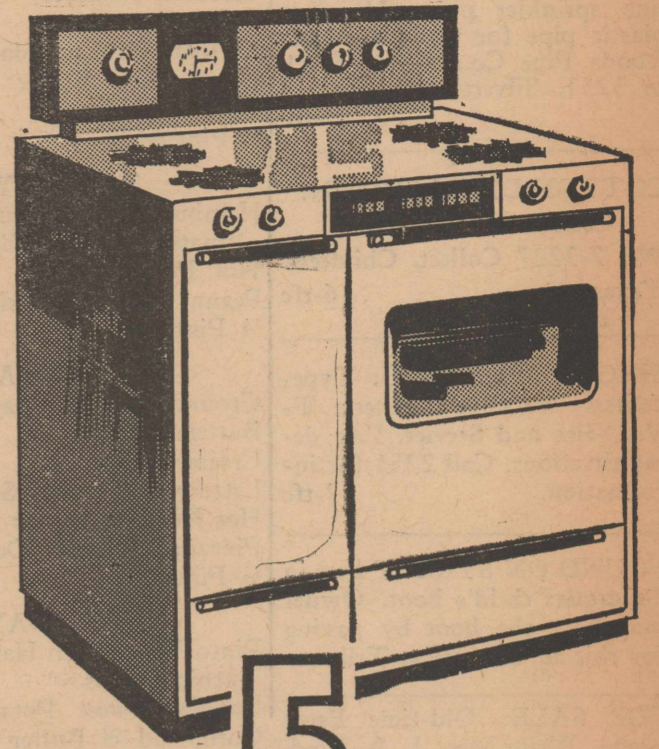

Earlier this year we were considering the extension of the War on Poverty. The Texas Farmers' Union had proposed one of the most highly regarded programs to improve the life of rural youth. This was an eight - county project covering Atacosa, Bexas, Comal, Frio, Guadalupe, Karnes, Medina, and Wilson Counties and would have provided work training opportunities for rural youth and better rural living in the entire nation by the Department of Labor—yet it was vetoed by the Governor because it was claimed the youths might earn too much money. If they got $1.25 an hour, they could go to school and not be forced to be school dropouts.

This was the act which was responsible for all governors losing the power of absolute veto on poverty projects, because the Congress saw the danger of such dictatorial power. It was through the Farmers' Union help that the Congress was able to take away this absolute veto power which had already been used against the rural youth of Texas. The Anti-Poverty Act was amended to end the absolute governors' veto and give the local people a bigger hand in their local projects—it was a return to local self-government.

Earlier this year, the Farmers' Union also helped when we were fighting the change in regulations of skip-row planting. With your help we made the Department of Agriculture reverse its stand.

In the debate over the present Agriculture Bill, we were given a promise that before any changes were made in the skip-row provisions, that there would be hearings. However, on October 27, the Department of Agriculture violated that promise and announced that there would be a reduction in the allotment for skip-row planters. I have protested strongly to the Secretary of Agriculture because I think this is a direct slap at our Texas cotton growers on the Rolling Plains and Blacklands, because Texas is the primary user of the skip-row technique. This skip-row cotton planting technique is a dry land farming method developed and in use many years before anyone ever heard of a cotton allotment. I assure you that I will pursue this fight to the end, and I appreciate the support that the Farmers' Union has given in the past.

of Texas farms now have telephone service, compared with only about a fourth in 1949.

The Farmers Home Administration is also continuing to do a remarkable job for our rural people. Over 200 rural Farmers Union Meet Cont.... water systems in Texas have been built through loans from the F.H.A.—over one-fourth of all the 777 systems developed nationwide, and there are hundreds of more applications pending. The farmers Home Administration in my opinion is one of the best departments of the Government. It aids the farmers in many ways.

All of these programs have had the support of the Texas Farmers Union. The Farmers Union is a great organization for rural Texas and rural America, and I hope you grow in strength. Together we have fought to keep these programs going for our farmers in this great state. Through these programs, farm life will soon have the advantages of city life without the disadvantages—when this has been accomplished, then we will have answered the challenge of John F. Kennedy when he said:

"The economic dangers (facing the farmers) must be met and conquered boldly, constructively, and effectively."

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Reed, E. G. Reed, George Reed and Doyle Shannon attended the Convention from the local union.

We have also encountered another problem with the Department of Agriculture in its decision announced a few days ago to grade cotton by micronaire. This is also an unjust action, because part of this year's crop will be graded by one method, and another part by another method. I support the position that all cotton should be graded by the same method as a matter of justice.

But all has not been bad this year for farmers. We have taken great strides forward to make sure that the farmers of this nation are included in the Great Society.

We continued the great programs of the Rural Electrification Administration, under which 97 percent of the Texas farms are now receiving electric service compared with 2.3 percent in 1935.

1966 WHEAT PROGRAM PROVISIONS HAVE BEEN ANNOUNCED THIS WEEK

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said yesterday that the 1966 Wheat Program will provide wheat farmers with the opportunity to earn better incomes than in 1965.

He said the farmers who participate in the 1966 Wheat Program will receive a higher return per bushel in the new program than they did under the 1965 program.

The Secretary made the statement in announcing details of the wheat program which the USDA intends to follow in 1966. The new program is part of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 recently enacted by the Congress. The legislation now awaits the approval of President Johnson.

Secretary Freeman said the announcement was being made in response to numerous inquiries from farmers who need the information in making crop plans this fall. He said the details on all commodity programs will provide a higher domestic certificate value for the farmers than in 1965, and pointed out that export certificates will not be issued to producers.

Wheat farmers have already been notified of their farm allotments for 1966, based on a national allotment of 47.8 million acres. These are the official farm allotments.

Provisions for substitution of wheat and feed grain acreages are continued, and farmers may divert additional allotment acreage for payment.

Wheat farmers who participate will be eligible for a national average price - support loan of 81.25 per bushel on all production of their allotted acres plus domestic certificates on 45 per cent of the projected yield for the farm allotment.

The domestic certificates to farmers will be valued at the difference between the national average loan rate of $1.25 per bushel and parity as of the beginning of the marketing year July 1, 1966. Parity for wheat for October was $2.56.

Participating farmers have several options to select from in deciding on their operations for 1966. These options include:

Substitution of wheat for oats and/or rye, however, an adjustment will be made on a state-by-state basis to allow for the difference in feed units produced per acre. The farmer also must be participating in the feed grain program.

Overplanting allotments up to 50 percent and storing the excess production under bond.

Producers may sign up for voluntary diversion of up to 50 percent of the allotment to conserving uses with a payment rate to be announced at a later date. Farmers with 1966 allotments of 21.7 acres or less may divert their entire allotments for payment. (In 1965 the maximum voluntary additional diversion for payment was 20 percent of the 1965 allotment or 13.5 acres, whichever was larger.)

The secretary said the cost of domestic certificates to processors will be 75 cents per bushel, the same as in 1965.

While export certificates will not be issued to farmers, there will be a variable export certificate to be valued daily at an amount necessary to make U. S. wheat available at prices comparable with world market prices.

If world prices are above world market prices, certificates will have no value and an export subsidy reflecting the difference between the U. S. and world price levels will be paid to exporters.

If world prices are above the U. S. Prices, the certificates value will be the difference between the U. S. and world prices, and will be collected from exporters.

There will be no fall sign-up period for winter wheat growers. The sign-up period for all wheat will be conducted by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) county office concurrently with sign-up for the feed grain program after the first of the year.

Durability, Beauty To Spur '66 Trend To Aluminum Siding

More new styles and colors of tough aluminum siding are on tap for 1966.

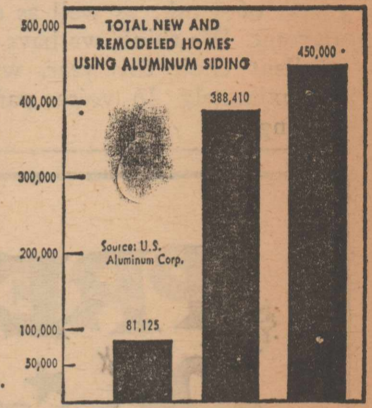

White continues as the color preference of homeowners, followed by blues, tans, pinks and greens — mostly pastel shades. Finishes and patterns have improved, too. Ten years ago the standard aluminum panel had a smooth exterior, but today the homeowner can choose from simulated wood grains, striated patterns and stucco and embossed textured designs, according to Harry J. Nassan, board chairman of U. S. Aluminum Corp., Franklin Park, Ill.

Aluminum siding exteriors have proved so durable and attractive in home remodeling, that they are being increasingly used in new home construction.

"Factory-finished aluminum has jumped five times in popularity among home sidings in the past decade," Nassan said. "Over 80,000 homes were sheathed in aluminum in 1965. Production this year will provide enough siding to cover 450,000 single-family dwellings. About 85,000 of these homes will be new ones, and the remaining 355,000 will be modernized houses," he said.

Nassan cited the following reasons for the continuing upsurge in the use of aluminum siding in home modernization and new house construction:

- 1) Several quality aluminum sidings now carry a lifetime guarantee that is transferable. This warranty covers cracking, chipping, blistering or peeling of the exterior surface of this rustproof siding.
- 2) Time proven acrylic enamel and polyvinyl chloride finishes practically eliminate expensive house painting. According to the Aluminum Association, alkyd paint will last up to 15 years, vinyl paint up to 20 years and acrylic enamels should last up to 25 years or longer.

3) The virtually maintenance free feature of aluminum siding. Aluminum home exteriors need only be cleaned once a year with a mild dish-washing detergent and water.

4) Nationwide average installed costs for insulated aluminum siding on new homes run from $70 to $100 per square, which constitutes an area 10 by 10 feet. This is contrasted to the average cost of $200 to $500 incurred for painting conventional house exteriors every three to five years.

5) Increased fuel savings of up to 30 per cent. Aluminum panels cut down heat loss in winter and reduce inside temperature in summer.
