Lions Club Is Sponsoring Drive

Boy Scouts is one of the finest organizations for work with boys that we have. It is one of our best organizations whose purpose is to guide growing boys in the direction of responsible citizenship. We have our churches and our schools, but we need the help of Scouting to aid in character development.

One of the facts that civilization has taught is contained in one of the Scout slogans, "Building Boys is better than Mending Men." And, it takes finances to run this organization just as any other.

The South Plains Council has requested that we share the budget needed to serve this area. Oscar L. Crain, Council President, reports that the Executive Board of the South Plains Council carefully studied the finances needed to serve this area and unanimously adopted an operating budget of $149,577 for 1967. This amount is needed to pay for camping and other activities, 11 professional staff members, office service and records, training of volunteer leaders, organization and extension.

Quitaque has been asked to raise $400 of this budget and this is not too much for us to raise. In the near future we will be calling on you to sign on the dotted line.

The following men have been appointed to conduct this drive: Wilburn Leeper, Chairman; Morris Stephens, Deloy Myers, James Cathey, Al Jennings, and J. M. Davidson, Scout Master.

We are emphasizing a draft authorization instead of cash. We would like for you to give us this because of the kind of work involved in a task like this. You can authorize the South Plains Council to draw a draft on your account in whatever amount you desire, and this may be done annually, quarterly or monthly. This will insure a stable financial income through the years. You can cancel any time you feel it necessary.

Please help us with this drive. Remember Scouting is strictly voluntary; there is no government subsidy. The funds must come from you!

He moved to division headquarters at in 1951 from Tulsa, where he had served as an engineer in the Corps' district office since 1939. He previously had been with the Oklahoma State Highway Department.

COTTON TALKS

From Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Beginning February 1 those farmers on the High Plains and elsewhere who used 500 or more man-days of hired agricultural labor in any calendar quarter of 1966 will for the first time be required to pay a $1 per hour minimum wage.

The minimum will go to $1.15 an hour on February 1, 1968 and to $1.30 per hour in February 1, 1969. There the escalation stops—unless Washington legislators succeed in their efforts to pass additional legislation.

Despite the proximity of the new minimum wage law's effective date, Ed Dean, Labor Relations Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says explanation of exactly how it will work, and issuance of the extensive administrative regulations that will be necessary are far from complete.

"But there are some unofficial indications filtering down from Washington as to how the law will be administered," Dean says, "and from these producers can get some idea of what to expect."

The most important consideration of farm employers at the moment is the keeping of employment records. Dean advises that any farmer who thinks he may have even come close to using 500 man-days of farm labor in 1966 or who may come close to that figure this year should be keeping complete and accurate records.

The law does not prescribe a special form of record, but specifies only the items which must be included and that the records must be accurate. So records kept for other purposes will suffice if they contain the necessary information.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB TO SERVE CHILI SUPPER

The Quitaque Home Demonstration Club will serve a Chili Supper just before the last home basketball game of the season, which will be played here on Tuesday night, January 31.

Serving will start at 5 o'clock and will last until 6:45. The proceeds from the supper will go to the school Homemaking Department. Make your plans now to eat out the night of Tuesday, January 31, then plan to see the final home high school basketball games of the season. The QHS teams will play Lakeview that night.

Pantherette-Bearettes Tangle Friday Night

Another day of reckoning has come for the QHS Pantherettes as they take on powerful Estelline Bearettes Friday night, this time on the Bearettes' own floor.

Friday night, however, the shoe is on the other foot and the pressure will be on Estelline for the Pantherettes flogged the Bearettes 72 - 49 a couple of weeks ago when the two teams met here.

A win for the Pantherettes would probably mean the undisputed round robin championship of the district for they would have only two games left to play before the district tournament. If Estelline wins over the Pantherettes Friday night, a playoff game might be necessary, as happened two years ago. The Pantherettes will be slight favorites to win Friday night, but they will have to play as well as they did here in the first meeting of the two in district competition. Estelline has won over the Pantherettes in early season play, the only team owning a win over them this season.

The Estelline boys were not able to offer much competition for the Panthers in their earlier meeting.

Last Friday night the two teams drove over to Flomot for a pair of district games with the Pantherettes winning 64-32 and the boys taking a 107-58 win over the Longhorns.

Scoring honors in the girls game went to Patricia Brunson, who notched 44 points. Pam Morris was high for Flomot with 16 points. Other scoring for Quitaque was as follows: Stark, 8; Johnson, 8; Carol Myers 2; and Jackie Cheatham, 2.

Scoring honors in the boys game went to the Longhorns' George Calvert, who dumped in 26 points. For the Panthers, Dale Ramsey hit 25 points; Bobby Cochran 22; Monte Stephens 16; Roland Hamilton, 11; Lyn Payne and Johnny Pointer, 10 each; Jimmy Pointer 5 points; Pablo Leal, 4; and Bill Loudermilk, 2.

Tuesday night the local teams drove to Turkey for a double-header and won both of them, the Pantherettes by a 61-34 count, and the boys by a 94-43 margin.

For the Pantherettes Brunson scored 33, Stark 14, Carol

He was in surgery for three hours, but his parents called the local relatives Tuesday night and said they did not have to remove his kneecap but put a brace inside to keep it in place.

Geraniums From Seeds

You can grow geraniums from seeds for indoor flowering in winter or for bedding outdoors in spring. Buy only the best seeds such as Floradale Fancy Mixed, a bloom of which is shown.

You can grow the geraniums for next year's bedding outdoors from seeds sown during winter. It's easy and it's fun for the results are quite unpredictable. You know in advance if you sow fine geranium seeds from a reliable seedsmen that all the plants will be beautiful ones but the flower colors and the exact leaf coloring will vary from plant to plant.

Geranium seeds are very fine. If you scatter them over the surface of a flower pot filled with 1/3 sand, 1/3 granulated peat moss and 1/3 good garden soil you can sprinkle over them a thin layer of sand to cover. Then, with the palm of your hand, firm them gently to the soil.

Water after planting and as often as is needed by setting the planted pot in a container of water and allowing the moisture to permeate to the soil surface. Don't allow the soil to dry until after seeds have sprouted — from 2 to 8 weeks time of sowing.

The pot should be covered with a sheet of glass or popped into a plastic bag and set in a shady place in a 60 degree temperature until seeds sprout. After that remove glass or plastic.

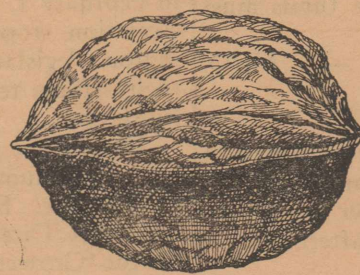

As soon as seedlings are large enough to handle, plant each in a 2-inch pot in a mixture of half granulated peat moss and half good garden soil. Shift to larger pots as needed.

Four months are required from seed to flowering so time the planting of seeds according to your needs. Geranium seeds may be sown at any time of year and growing the plants from seeds is a real adventure.

Mrs. Buster Chadwick and Stephanie were in Flomot Sunday afternoon where Stephanie took part in a recital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Starkey of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Ramsey Sunday afternoon.

HOME NOTES (By Becky Hall) Briscoe County Home Demonstration Agent

The new year is here, and it is time to dust off the old crystal ball and peer into the food future, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A & M University consumer marketing specialist.

There will be more food in 1967 and also more people to eat it. Incomes will be higher so that even though more money will be spent on food, and food prices will be a little higher, food will take the same or a smaller percentage of the average family's take home pay. In 1966 about 18.2 percent of the family income was spent on food; ten years ago almost 25 percent was spent.

The fresh fruit and vegetable picture depends upon the weather. You can look for favorable prices for citrus products into mid-1967. Both orange and grapefruit crops are large. Expected increases in the packs of peaches, pears, and fruit cocktail will likely mean steady prices for these items. Small supplies of apple products may result in increased prices.

Fresh vegetable prices should be some lower than in 1966. The supply of canned vegetables is about the same as last year and some increase is expected in average retail prices. Prices for frozen products likely will again increase slightly.

Per capita consumption of all meats for 1967 is expected to be 167 pounds per person, one pound less than the estimates for 1966.

Prices on eggs are expected to decline from now through spring. The normal seasonal decline that occurs at this time may be accentuated by a production increase already underway.

Milk production in 1967 is likely to increase but not nearly as sharply as in 1966.

Although fryers are featured this week, prices are expected to average a few cents above December levels during January. However, these will still be lower than a year ago. Whole, cut-up birds and fryer parts are excellent values.

Fruit counters are well stocked with Rio Grande Valley Oranges and grapefruit. Temple oranges are available at lower prices. Tangerines and Tangelos, apples, bananas, avocados and pears are attractively priced. Light supplies of fresh Mexican strawberries are relatively high priced.

Adverse weather in some growing areas make fresh vegetable supplies uncertain. Carrots, hard shell squash, rutabagas, loose turnips, potatoes and dry onions are among the best values. Head lettuce is plentiful but quality varies. Cauliflower, broccoli, cabbage, brussel sprouts and eggplant are mostly moderately priced.

Diet-watchers who want to cut calories after the heavy holiday menus will find lots of cottage cheese in the dairy counter, along with a variety of sliced cheeses.

Million Mothers Fight Birth Defects In Traditional March of Dimes Drive

Famed actresses Jane Wyatt, Angela Lansbury and Gigi Perreau share a secret—they have learned there can be a great deal more to life than the glamour and glitter of stage and screen stardom.

Behind the scenes these stars are among the more than one million American women who have become March of Dimes volunteers so that countless millions of infants, yet unborn, may have the chance to lead normal and useful lives.

For the fourth consecutive year, Miss Wyatt is national chairman of the March of Dimes Mothers' March on birth defects. Miss Lansbury is chairman in New York City, and Miss Perreau is chairman in Los Angeles, Calif.

As the world of stars helps the 1967 March of Dimes, so does the world of space. The Mothers' March chairman in Houston, Tex., is Mrs. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., wife of the famous astronaut, while the mother of astronaut Wally Schirra, Mrs. Walter Schirra Sr., heads the Mothers' March in San Diego, Calif.

These well-known women and the many other equally dedicated Mothers' March volunteers across the nation seek their neighbors' support and contributions for the 1967 March of Dimes because the need is so vital and immediate.

Each year more than 250,000 American babies are born with birth defects, many of which can disfigure, disable or kill. That's about 700 infants born each day with a physical or mental defect. Birth defects each year destroy an estimated 500,000 infants before they are born.

"On their Mothers' March from door to door, volunteers will have two main goals," Miss Wyatt explains.

"These women want to educate parents and parents-to-be about birth defects and what is known about how to prevent them. They will also try to raise funds to support the fight on birth defects."

The educational leaflet, "Happy Birth Day," will be distributed during the Mothers' March. It explains what to do if you are about to be married, if you are expecting a baby, if a birth defect occurs in your family or if you have friends with a defective child who needs assistance.

Contributions to the 1967 March of Dimes will help the fight on birth defects by supporting:

- The growing nationwide network of 77 Birth Defects Centers for diagnosis and treatment.
 - A scientific research program aimed at finding the causes and methods of preventing birth defects.
 - A Professional Education Program for scientists and medical personnel.
 - A nationwide Public Education Program to distribute authoritative information about prenatal care and birth defects treatment and research.
- The million mothers who march this month will share the certain knowledge that they will indeed be marching to help generations of babies yet unborn.

than 500 man-days of agricultural labor in any calendar quarter of last year will have to record for each employee to whom the minimum wage provisions apply the hours each day and each week, the wages paid and additions to or deductions from wages.

Employers who are likely to utilize more than 500 man-days this year are only required to keep a record of each employee's name and address and a count of the man-days of labor in the overall operation. But should the year's man-day count reach 500 it will be to the farmer's advantage if he has accurate records showing hours worked and wages paid.

A "man-day" is defined in the law as any day during which an employee performs as much as one hour of agricultural labor.

Excluded from the man-day count are the employer's wife, parents, children or other members of his immediate family, and local, daily commuting hand-harvest pieceworkers who worked in agriculture less than 13 weeks in the preceding calendar year.

For the purpose of determining what counts toward this 13-week test, each period of seven consecutive days in which any individual was engaged in any agricultural labor on one or more days is included.

In a situation where custom work or contract labor is involved, the key is the employment relationship. A crew leader who merely assembles a crew and brings it to the farm to be supervised and paid directly by the farmer is considered an employee of the farmer and both he and members of his crew are counted in determining whether or not the farmer used 500 man-days of labor.

The same situation would apply if, under the same circumstances, the crew is hired at so much per acre for their work.

In meeting the $1 per hour minimum wage, employers will be permitted to include the reasonable cost of furnishing employees with board, lodging or other facilities. The "reasonable cost" will be determined by the Secretary of Labor through the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, which will administer the law.

However, reasonable cost is the actual cost to the employer without a profit, and would include the cost of operation and maintenance, depreciation, and not more than 5½ per cent interest on depreciated capital, but in no case more than the fair rental value or fair price of the facilities provided.

Another point to remember is that the facilities must be provided for the benefit of the employee and not for the benefit or convenience of the employer.

The Act takes a single work week as its standard and does not permit averaging of hours over two or more weeks. An employee working on a farm subject to the minimum wage must be paid not less than $1 for every hour worked in each week.

Thus an employer who has customarily paid a straight weekly or monthly salary may need to make some changes if it appears he will use as many as 500 man-days.

On the High Plains it is a common practice to pay year-round workers a straight weekly salary, supplemented with a crop or bonus arrangement at the end of the year. But present interpretations indicate that this year-end income to the worker can not be counted toward meeting the $1 per hour minimum wage, because the worker will be required to get $1 per hour for each hour worked at the end of each normal pay period.

On farms covered by the minimum wage law employers are covered by regulations on equal pay as well. These regulations require that employees of either sex must be paid at the same rate if both are doing the same work for the same employer under similar working conditions.

Dean said that, basically, these are the rules and the interpretations which the Labor Department to date has indicated will be in effect. Most of them have been published in the Federal Register with public comments accepted by the Department until February 6.

Plains Cotton Growers has filed vigorous protests to such provisions as those which prevent bonuses and crop income from being counted as wages, but there is no indication as to what effect these may have on the final regulations.

There are a multitude of other questions which have arisen concerning the new law, but Dean says satisfactory answers are yet to come on many of them. But he invited Plains farmers to consult him on any individual problem, which arise, and promised that additional information would be disseminated as it is received.

23,000,000 Jobs in Agribusiness Must Be Filled If We Are To Eat Tomorrow

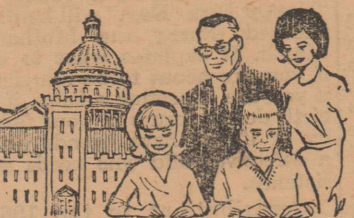

There are 23,000,000 jobs in agribusiness (farming and related fields) — 7,000,000 on the farm, 16,000,000 off the farm. Many of these are going begging.

Why? Because young people are settling for jobs below their highest capacities, and because not enough high school graduates are studying agriculture in universities.

Yet what you eat tomorrow may well depend upon filling all these jobs with trained, competent men and women who can produce and process the food requirements of an exploding national and world population.

What to do about it? If you are a student or a parent, write your nearest college or school of agriculture, or the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington. Learn how you can prepare for an agribusiness career, and have a top position and high pay.
