"LITTLE MISSIONARIES"

How many cans of Campbell's soups and pork and beans do you use in a month? In a year? Did you know that the labels from these cans are valuable?

Derrell and Ruth Hyde, missionaries at the Southwest Indian School in Peoria, Arizona, explain that the Indian School is allowed to redeem Campbell's labels much as we do trading stamps. The school has purchased overhead projectors, slide projectors and other educational equipment with the labels.

Southwest Indian School is a christian boarding school that serves 180 students, grades 1-12 from 16 different American Indian tribes. The students live at the school for nine months each year and receive instruction in the three R's, many additional subjects and extra-curricular activities and in the christian faith.

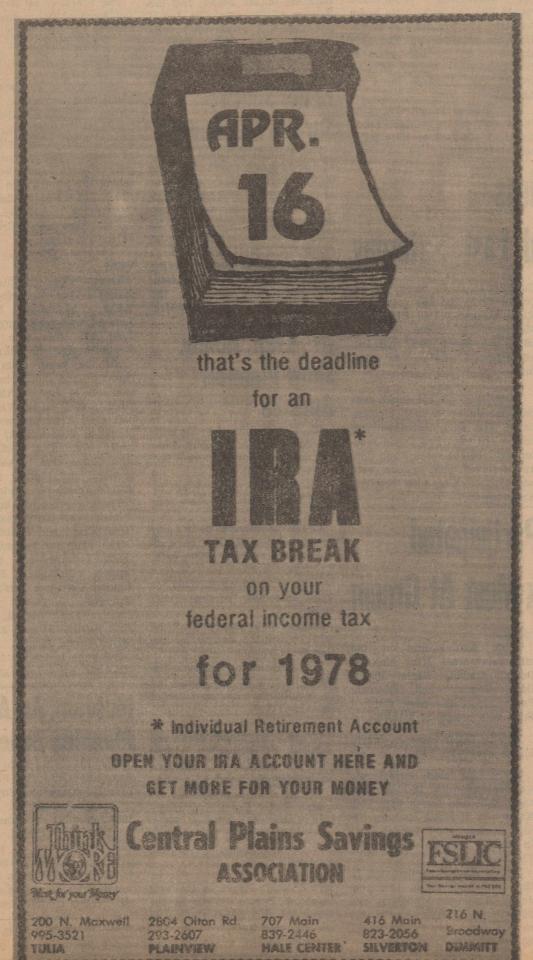

While Derrell and Ruth visited in Quitaque during March, they asked that the public save Campbell's labels for the school. Posters will be placed in the stores in Turkey, Quitaque and Silverton. They will read "Campbell's Labels for Southwest Indian School," and will have large envelopes attached to put your Campbell's labels in the envelope. By saving the Campbell's labels, you will be helping an American Indian child receive a christian education.

Danny Barrett drove to Tulia Sunday to meet his cousin, Mike King of Amarillo. Mike and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gary King of Amarillo, drove to the El Camino for lunch and Danny joined them there. Mike is spending this week visiting Danny and other relatives in Quitaque.

It was also noted that 100% of the plants that came up in five days produced cotton; only 46% of the plants that took eight days to come up produced cotton; and only 29% of the plants that took 12 days to come to plants that were not damaged by weather, mechanically or chemically.)

Studies have also shown that the peak emergence of the overwintered boll weevil is about June 1, and most overwintered boll weevils have emerged by June 15. Tests also show that overwintered boll weevils can live 10 to 22 days before they die. During this period they the ambulance with several must lay eggs if an early boll weevil outbreak is to occur.

To tie the growth habit of cotton in with the boll weevil activity, the following should result: Cotton planted by May 20 should come up May 25th to May 27th. Normally it takes 32 to 40 days for squares to form after the cotton plant comes up; therefore, squares should be present July 1st to July 8th. It normally takes squares 21 to 24 days to develop full growth, therefore onethird square growth should occur by July 8th to July 16th.

As peak boll weevil emergence is June 1, these boll weevils should be dead by June 23, and the boll weevils that emerge later, on June 15, should be dead by July 7. If this holds true. there are no squares large enough for the boll weevils to lay eggs in that are large enough to support the growth of the boll weevil larvae by the time the overwintering boll weevils die.

It is recognized that these figures are average and there are exceptions to the average, but it is a known fact that the warmer the soil, the quicker the emergency of the plant. There will be exceptions to the dates that boll weevils emerge. and the time for growth cycle of cotton to be completed, but by following this guideline, producers should give their crop a better chance to be profitable. Help your neighbor manage the boll weevil. Be present at

Roycee Monk Is Bride Of Kevin Miller Kerr

On Saturday evening, March 10, Roycee Irene Monk and Kevin Miller Kerr were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church in Uvalde. Rev. P. J. Newsom, jr. pronounced the couple husband and wife.

The ceremony began with several piano selections played by Mrs. Stan Hull. The "Theme from Love Story," "Theme from Romeo and Juliet," "Evergreen," and the "Theme from Mahogany" were among the pieces chosen.

Gold candelabra holding white candles and draped with magnolia leaves and white mums formed a background for the ceremony. Ushers Jack Marsh and Chip McElroy lit the candles.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Roy seat by Gary Wallace. Mrs. Monk wore a floor-length dress of mauve knit lace over satin. Her dress was designed with a mockcowl neckline and raglan sleeves.

Dallas, the groom's parents, were seated by Chip McElroy. Mrs. Kerr chose a long caramel-colored chiffon gown for the ceremony. Her empire waistline was

The processional began with the pianist playing "Here Comes the Bride" while bridesmaid Robin Dochen was escorted down the aisle by groomsman Mike Coon.

Kristi Kerr, the groom's sister, followed accompanied by Kevin Lerner. Bridesmaid Susanne Holland and her escort Robert Hicks continued the processional. Roxana Monk, sister of the bride, was maid of honor for the wedding and followed Miss Holland and Mr. Hicks. Best man was Charles Butler.

The bridesmaids and maid of honor were attired in dresses of rust qiana. Their fitted bodices featured sweetheart necklines ble featured the three-tiered pleated skirts were attached to their empire waistlines. She wore a long white dress and carried a white wicker basket filled with roses. Amy was accompanied by the ring bearer, Kirk McDonald, also the bride's cousin. Kirk wore a tuxedo which Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Kerr of matched those of the groomsmen and carried the two rings on a satin pillow made by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Jack Porter.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, Roy D. accented with a matching chiffon Monk. For her wedding, she chose a gown of white qiana. Her elegant Queen Ann neckline was outlined with silk venice lace. The silk lace also formed insets in the long fitted sleeves of her dress. From the lifted waistline, her pleated skirt fell to slipper length. Her watteau train fell to chapel length. Her fingertip veil was embroidered with matching lace. Her bouquet was of white roses in sweetheart design.

As the bride and her father approached the front of the sanctuary they were joined by the bride's mother who accompanied them to the altar. The bride was given in marriage by her parents.

Miss Susan Walton, accompanied by Mrs. Hull at the piano, sang a Carly Simon and James Taylor song, "Devoted To You." Following the solo, the bride and groom said the vows which they had written to each other. The couple knelt while Miss Walton sang the benediction, "The Irish Blessing." To symbolize becoming one, the bride and groom lit a unity candle.

Special guests at the wedding included the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mc-Donald of Quitaque; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Porter, the groom's grandmother from Dallas; the groom's great-aunt, Mrs. Lois Neal, also of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Butler of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Rudd of

A reception followed the ceremony at the Uvalde Country Club with Mrs. Douglas Dunlap, jr., registering the guests. Miss Raydean Carrasco served punch to the guests as they arrived.

Two floral nosegays decorated the cake between layers and from rust and beige silk roses it was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was served with an engraved silver spatula and knife by Mrs. Robert Jacobs, jr. and Miss Lisa Kruse. A silver coffee service was to the left of the cake, and coffee was poured by Mrs. Kevin Lerner of Dallas. To the right, Miss Brenda Levine of Austin, served punch from a silver bowl.

Miss Gwen Huskey of Houston served the german chocolate groom's cake to guests. Coffee was poured from a brass samovar on the groom's table by Ms. Pam Barras of Houston. The table was decorated with brass scales from which dinner mints and nuts were served.

Guests enjoyed a hors d'oeuvre buffet and danced to music by

> by Mrs. Adam Andel Perry, Georgia

On February 22, I stood at the foot of the Capitol of the United States and looked down the mall toward the Washington monument. It reminded me of Andersonville, the Confederate prison in Sumpter County, Georgia, during the war between the states.

Completely surrounding the long, broad mall were metrobuses and other vehicles, bumper to bumper, with one outlet on Constitution Avenue guarded by police. The mall was a mass of confusion of tractors, campers, pickups and support equipment from Georgia to Michigan and from Oregon to Virginia. Snow and ice mixed with mud covered the grass, streets and walks. There were some damaged park benches and signs where machines, unaccustomed to narrow confines, pushed them down. Ruts were in many of the grass areas.

to the Mississippi Delta where the cotton picker moves slowly through the fields of white fluff; on further to the Texas range where a handsome young Texan gently herds the slick, fat steers into the waiting pens; and on beyond to the broad flat plains of the Dakotas, where acres of golden grain fall to the sturdy rhythm of a farmer's combine. Food and fiber for America-for you

The grass on this mall will grow green again, the trees will leaf, the benches will be replaced, signs righted, order restored. Most will be glad to see the farmers go, these men and women who traveled so far through adverse conditions, some weeks on the road, riding the tool of their trade—the tractor—unarmed and with hundreds of American flags flying, for this is a group that

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks to the ladies who surprised me with a birthday party. Thank you for the cake you brought and the good fellowship. May God bless each of you. Mabel Griffin

The City of Turkey has been notified by the Texas Department of Health that the water being supplied by our system exceeds the maximum constituent level for Nitrate specified by the Department's "Drinking Water Standards" which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act;" Public Law 93-523 (U.S.)

The limit is set at 10 milligrams of Nitrate (as nitrogen) per liter of water. The amount of nitrate (as nitrogen) in the water we supply was reported to be 14.9 milligrams per liter.

Adults and children over the age of six months need not be concerned about drinking water from the tap. An excess of Nitrate intake by an infant under the age of six months may reduce its available oxygen supply and possibly produce "blue baby" symptoms. Parents are advised to find other sources of drinking water, such as bottled water, for their infants under six months of age. All doctors and hospitals in the area have been notified of this situation.

Caution: DO NOT BOIL YOUR WATER. Boiling the water will increase the concentration of Ni-

The City of Turkey has applied to the Texas Department of Health for an exemption from the Nitrate requirement while we search for alternate sources of supply and investigate available treatment techniques which would lower the Nitrate to an acceptable level. In the meantime, please follow the precautions mentioned.
