Dance Yielded $200 For Fund

About $200 for the fight on infantile paralysis was cleared at the annual President's Ball held at the Gus Priboth Roller Rink Wednesday night, said R. L. Brown, county campaign director for the March of Dimes and with Mr. Priboth in charge of the dance.

He said cold weather probably kept many who live at a distance from attending, but a fine crowd, mostly of this immediate territory, was in attendance.

Tonight at the high school gymnasium there will be 42 and card party to raise more funds for the drive. Meanwhile Bailey county citizens are asked to continue to put coins in the little jars they will see in public places.

Other events over the county also are being held.

Low Jenkins In Comeback Victory

Completely out-passing his opponent, Low Jenkins, who now calls Muleshoe his home, on January 16 took a long stride along the comeback trail.

Low knocked out Jerry Zullo of Chelsea in a bout at Salem, Mass. Zullo had gone down for the count of nine before the bout lasted a minute. The knockout came in the second round. Low weighed in at 120½ and Zullo weighed 140. Jenkins, who formerly was lightweight champion of the world, has a brother and sister in Muleshoe.

Some of the students from Texas Tech are here visiting in the home of their parents. They are: Bryan Linnell, Bob McReynolds, Geraldine Taylor, Barbara Mae Morris, Mary Frances Jordan, Mary Sue Osborne and Edward Hoover.

It was about the heaviest snow in the history of the county, for ten inches were recorded here. At some points north of town an even heavier fall was reported. Snow on the ground around Muleshoe for nearly a week.

LOOK AT THE DATE ON YOUR MULESHOE JOURNAL

Mr. and Mrs. Subscriber, look at the date which appears opposite your name where it is stamped on the Journal each week. We cannot afford to continue to send the Journal to those who do not renew, because often the subscriber does not care to continue his subscription but does not notify us to that effect. And the shortage of newspaper forces us to send the paper only to those who actually want it. We thank our subscribers for their fine cooperation in the past; no paper ever had a better or more loyal group of patrons.

Miss Mattby Is Home For Visit

Miss Maurine Mattby, Cadet Nurse, is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Mattby, of the Progress community.

Miss Mattby attended Muleshoe high school and graduated at Sterling, Colorado in 1944. After graduation, she entered Los Angeles County General Hospital for training in the Cadet Nurse Corps in August, 1944, and has been there for 16 months.

Muleshoe Boy Scouts Plan Program In Celebration Of 36th Anniversary

Since the Boy Scout movement was organized thirty-six years ago it has been the custom of the Boy Scout troops all over the country to celebrate the week beginning with February 8 through 14 as National Boy Scout Week. The Muleshoe troop has a varied plan of activity which they will follow through this week.

On February 8 there will be a Court of Honor in the high school gymnasium in which the boys will receive their promotions and badges. The speaker for this court of honor will be Pat Louis, the field executive for the South Plains council. The public is cordially invited to hear this speaker and see the court of honor and ceremonies which the Scouts will give.

On February 9, Saturday, the Scouts will patrol the streets of the town and take over county and city offices. A complete list of fines and rules and regulations will be run next week in The Journal. The principal officers of the day will be: Judge, Raymond Bass; District Attorney, Bill Sybert; Police Chief, Bobby Goss; County Clerk, Johnny Crow; Sheriff, Bill Doyle Lane; Deputy, Joe Bob Horsley; and Jack DeShazo, County Attorney.

The public is asked to cooperate in this endeavor in every way possible, for this is not just an activity for which a group of boys will have some fun but an activity for the welfare and safety of the city and an endeavor to raise funds for the betterment of the troop, which every one will agree, is a good cause.

On Sunday the Scouts will attend church in a body at the Methodist church in the morning and the First Baptist church in the evening.

On Tuesday, Feb. 12th, the Scouts

Loans are now being made to finance 1946 crop production in Bailey County, according to W. E. Anderson, local field supervisor for the Dallas Emergency Crop Loan Office of the Farm Credit Association.

Application for these loans are being taken in Muleshoe at the Courthouse in the District Court room each Thursday morning. The security required is a first lien on the crops to be financed. The loans are available only to those farmers unable to secure loans from banks or other sources.

These loans, generally known as "The Seed Loans," have been made in Texas since 1931 and have proven of great benefit to farmers whose cash requirements are small. Repayment of the loans has been high. Borrowers are required to plant large gardens for home use and a balanced program of feed, food and cash crops is encouraged.

A loan to finance the purchase or production of feed is also made on livestock by this agency. The maximum loan to an individual is $400.00.

The seed and feed loans are administered in Texas under the direction of W. E. Farwell, manager of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan office, 405 U. S. Terminal Annex Building, Dallas 2, Texas.

and their fathers will have a chance to get more closely acquainted in a Father and Son Banquet which the Scouts will give. A speaker has been invited for this occasion. He is Mr. G. Unger of Lubbock, who is the Scout executive for this area.

The Scouts think that they have a varied list of activities, other than the ones mentioned here, which will include all phases of Scouting. They also wish to urge that the public cooperate in every way to make their birthday celebration a better and more efficient celebration than ever before.

The present officers and junior leaders of the troop are O. E. Bowman, Scoutmaster; Eddie Lane, assistant Scoutmaster; Raymond Bass, Junior assistant; Scoutmaster; Bill Sybert, Senior Patrol Leader. Members of the troop committee are chairman, David Bates; A. S. Gardner, Sam Fox, Earl Sybert and Arthur Crow. Please work with these leaders and the Scouts to make the Scout anniversary a good one.

Red Cross Will Receive Clothing For War Relief

The Red Cross will receive and ship clothing and bedding for War Relief until February 15, Mrs. J. C. Mardis informs The Journal.

All articles must be clean and useable. Bundles may be left at the Madris home.

The Red Cross is hopeful that many articles will be turned in for relief of people in the war ravaged countries.

Hog cholera, the most serious disease of hogs, may be the cause of recent losses of hogs in Bailey county. Pending the establishment of diagnosis, it may be wise for all owners of swine to learn for themselves the proper precautions to take to protect their own livestock in event of cholera outbreaks in their own community.

U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin No. 834, available in my office, will furnish much valuable information concerning Hog Cholera. General precautions include avoiding premises where sick hogs are to be found. Stray dogs and flocks of pigeons should be kept from the premises of healthy hogs.

If sick hogs are to be found in the near vicinity of healthy hogs, simple treatment with serum alone will possibly give immunity until it is found that contracting the disease has passed. The serum treatment will give immunity for from 3 weeks up to two or three years.

If long-time immunity is desired, it will be necessary to resort to the virus and "serum" double treatment. Since the virus is actually the disease agent itself, it is not recommended that it be used except by licensed veterinarians. Sick or dead animals should be destroyed. The carcasses should be burned.

Sidelights From Washington

By Congressman Geo. Mahon

I think the following note regarding the chances for heavy export of surplus American cotton will interest West Texans:

Last September, during a conversation with Lt. General Lucius Clay, U. S. Deputy Military Governor of Germany, I learned to my surprise that plans were being considered to permit a revival of the synthetic textile industry in Germany but that no definite plans were under way to permit a revival of the German cotton textile industry.

I urged upon General Clay that this plan be reversed and that the utilization of American cotton by Germany be encouraged and that the synthetic industry—capable of quick conversion to war—be discouraged. General Clay was not unfriendly to the idea.

Later in Washington I went to the White House and presented the matter to President Truman, and thereafter to Secretary of State Byrnes and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson. Other members of Congress joined in the effort.

My point was that we should encourage the purchase and use of surplus American cotton not only by Germany but also by Japan, and in fact, all nations that might afford a market for American cotton.

The President and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and their assistants have worked diligently on the idea and as this is being written the chances are that an early announcement of considerable success will be made.

If these plans for the disposition of surplus cotton abroad work out, and they have already worked out in part, it will mean millions of dollars to the cotton growing south, particularly to West Texas where shorter staples are grown and a large part of the surplus exists.

It is too bad that American textile mills are not doing a better job of providing badly needed cotton fabrics. But there is no danger of a shortage of raw cotton for American mills.

Tex Easley of the Associated Press asked me the other day what I thought of the proposal of OPA for a ceiling price on the 1946 cotton crop. I branded the proposal as an unwarranted and unjust attack on the cotton grower and told him of my efforts in opposition to the plan.

There is no possible justification of ceiling prices on commodities of which we have vast surpluses, such as is the case with raw cotton. We may have as of August 1st, a carry over of American cotton of as much as nine million bales. We need to bend every effort to holding up the price of cotton, not beating the price down by OPA threats. Fortunately, we have provided by law for a floor or support price on cotton of 92½% of parity for the next two years. But the support price is not adequate because in determining parity the tremendous increase in farm labor costs are not fully considered.

The OPA threat of a ceiling of 24 cents per pound is misleading because the 24 cents is for 15 1/8 middling at the mills. The ceiling on some of the shorter staples and lower grades at points remote from the mills would be little more than one-half the top ceiling price announced.

Some of us in Congress who are interested in this vital matter have met with Administrator Bowles of OPA and the Secretary of Agriculture and requested that they issue a public statement to the effect that no ceiling prices would be fixed on the 1946 cotton crop. To date our request has not been granted. The mere threat of ceiling prices on raw cotton is damaging to the cotton grower.

Those who have had no opportunity to investigate the proposed plan for ceiling prices on raw cotton, perhaps, do not realize the extent of the injury that would be done the cotton grower should such a plan actually go into effect. Moreover, the red tape and confusion involved in trying to put such a program into operation would be intolerable. We are determined to defeat the proposal.

Sam Johnson surprised everyone Sunday by flying to Muleshoe in an Army-450 HP BT-13. He purchased the plane at Lamesa from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which is the government agency for handling surplus GI equipment. Sam has approximately 125 hours of flying but has never flown a plane as large and as powerful as a BT-13.

Immediately after he purchased the plane, he asked many questions about the craft and without any flight instruction took the plane off, shot a few landings and took off for Muleshoe. Nice flyin', Sam.

On Tuesday afternoon, Quinn Henry of Littlefield was at the Muleshoe airport giving demonstrations in the new two control coupe. The plane is very simple to control on the ground as well as in the air. It is a two-place tri-cycle landing gear, all metal, low wing monoplane. The price is set at around $3,200.

Several people tried its flying characteristics and found it to be very easy to land. Pat Bobo was so enthusiastic about the plane that he probably will be the first in Muleshoe to own one.

Did you know plans are being drawn up for the 1946 Bendix National Air Races at Cleveland, Ohio. Some of the old piston twisters of pre-war days, as you will recall, are Roscoe Turner and Jimmie Doolittle.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR PEGGY JO ROBISON

Peggy Jo Robison was honored with a birthday party January 25 at her home. After many games were played refreshments were served to the following:

Sondra Wagon, Carolyn Dennis, Janice Jordan, Winda and Donna Kimbrough, Marion Davis, Dixie Jennings, Margaret Beller, Bobby Wallace, Herbert Griffiths, Billy Don Harbour, Bernie and Billy Beller, Bobby Goss, H. C. Elliott, Joe Bob Horsley, Carter Taylor, Rex Robison, the honoree and the hostess.

Peggy Jo received many nice gifts.

Baileboro Sale Very Successful

The auction sale of the Baileboro store of Floyd McCain Monday was very successful, reports Col. W. D. Wanzor, Muleshoe auctioneer, who conducted the sale. All merchandise was disposed of promptly.

Furniture and equipment also were sold. Mr. Shafer bought the building and an acre of ground, and will soon open for business at the same location, it was said.

Savings Bonds Now Presented By Treasury

War and Victory Bonds will now be known as United States Savings Bonds, Nathan Adams, chairman of the Texas advisory committee, Savings Bond division, U. S. Treasury Department, said recently in announcing that the program for selling government bonds and stamps will continue.

He added, "we can be sure that these bonds are still the best and safest investment in the world, and if we consider only one benefit derived from the war financing program, this being the habit of saving, it would merit the continuation of the program."

Formation of the committee was decided upon as a result of the thousands of requests from employee groups, industry, and the general public, all asking that the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds be continued following the close of the Victory Loan Drive.

The chairman added, "The benefits of the war financing program are many, and in addition to creating the habit of systematic saving, it taught many of our citizens the value of personal security, and has helped combat the rising inflation."

Favorable reaction to the continuation of the savings bond program is reflected in letters received by the state headquarters from employers throughout the state of Texas. The same reaction has been found throughout the nation in a survey conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll).

Secretary of the Treasury, Fred M. Vinson, said recently in addressing employers and employees, "I am pleased to tell you that the treasury will still issue and sell savings bonds. As both management and employees have enthusiastically endorsed the continuation of the Payroll Savings plan, we are urging all companies to facilitate the sale of bonds to their employees through this convenient pay-as-you-go method. The bonds and stamps will also continue to be in sale in most schools, banks, post-offices and other issuing agencies."

Can you imagine receiving orders to stay out of your own basement? Well, that's exactly what happened Friday night for a week ten-year-old Peter and his Dad took themselves off to the basement where they were joined by the neighborhood handy man. Mysterious noises and much masculine talk drifted up to me. Were they building a yacht? Why all the secrecy? At last I was invited down. Two pairs of sparkling brown eyes observed my joyful astonishment when I gazed upon the most beautiful and practical laundry imaginable.

The laundry area had been partitioned off from the rest of the basement when we created our "rum-pus room." Washing and ironing in this dreary section of the basement just wasn't pleasant. But now, the grab concrete walls and the raftered ceiling were covered with fire-proof gypsum wallboard painted a sunny yellow. Strips of wood, used to conceal the wallboard joint, had been painted green giving a manifold effect which young Peter utilized to display his budding artistic talents, aided by decals.

Exit Blue Monday
Remember the old nursery rhyme "This is the way we wash our clothes, so early Monday morning?" Well, on one panel near the stationary tub was a gayly dressed woman singing those words. Near the ironing board was another version of the same character plying an iron "early Tuesday morning." And in the section, where my sewing cabinet stood in a new coat of green paint, Peter had his housewife darning a sock "so early Wednesday morning."

Above the tubs was a series of small cabinets with rainbow-hued knobs—perfect for storing soaps, starch and all the other small wash-day needs. Two broad shelves were waiting to receive freshly ironed linens, while a row of shiny hooks invited dresses and other "unfolds-ables."

Washing, ironing and mending for one of the most thoughtful families in the world is going to be fun from now on.

Grass Seed Is Made Available

COLLEGE STATION. Pasture grass seed may be purchased under the conservation materials program of the Production and Marketing Administration, B. F. Vance, State Director, PMA's Field Service has announced.

Through this program, eligible farmers can obtain a seed purchase order from the county ACA office, where the purchase order plan is in operation. When he buys his seed, the farmer pays the difference between the cost of the seed and the conservation practice payment and turns the purchase order over to the merchant for the balance. For example, the practice payment rate for the use of bermuda grass seed is 68 cents per pound. With an approved fair price of 75 cents per pound under the purchase order plan, the merchant must look to the farmer for 7 cents per pound and PMA will pay the merchant 68 cents per pound. The merchant selling the seed can then present the purchase order to the county ACA office, and will receive a check for the PMA's part of the seed within approximately two weeks.

Generally speaking, the conservation practice payment amounts to about 80 per cent of the cost of the seed, Vance said. Perennial pasture grass seed qualifying for payment under the program include bermuda, rhodes, weeping lovegrass, created wheatgrass, blue panic, and buffalo. Of these seed, purchase orders can be issued for bermuda, rhodes, and blue panic. The other varieties must be paid for in full by the farmer who will receive the amount of the conservation practice payment when his application for payment is approved.

RIBBLE'S RIPPLES

The churches of Christ make it their distinct aim to further a movement comprising churches and individuals, for a complete return to Christianity as it was at the beginning.

To accomplish these aims it becomes necessary that we recognize the Bible as the all-sufficient standard of faith and practice, recognizing that what God required of His ancient people Israel, is found in the Old Testament Scriptures, and what he requires of all now is found in the New Testament Scriptures. "Another step in accomplishing these aims is the union of all believers on the New Testament basis. Our Lord prayed that they might 'all be one . . . that the world may believe.'" This prayer makes the union of His people essential to the salvation of the world, and can only be answered when there is a return to faith, ordinances, and order of the church of the first century.

Another step in the accomplishing of the worthy aim is for the rejection of all human creeds, confession of faith, doctrines and commands, and the acceptance of the divinely revealed creed, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God," believing that a real heart-grip of that, with all it implies, will lead to a complete surrender of life and will to Him.

Of the ordinance of baptism as delivered by Christ and kept by the first Christians, the Scriptures show clearly that an immersion in water of a penitent believer for the remission of sins, will meet all requirements of Bible readers and believers in the gauge of the Scriptures. Of the Lord's Supper, that if Christians meet meekly and partake of the bread and wine as did the ancient Christians, this will be acceptable to the Lord's worshippers of the New Testament type and class. Jesus ordained this should be kept till he come again.

For the ministry of all the church—that every member, in different spheres, doing that for which he is fitted, limited by their ability to edify the church. For the support of the church—that the church be supported by its members alone. No one else being expected or even asked to assist. Church buildings should be erected by the membership, each giving according to ability to give. According to willingness to give. No assessments, taxing, or any other form of duress being used to obtain money.

Such aims demand the abandonment of sectarian names and ecclesiastical titles and should be called by such names as are found in our common translations of the New Testament. These to be more acceptable than any of human origin or devising.

Housewives Can Help Alleviate Fat Shortage

Housewives can help offset one of the most serious post-war shortages by conserving and turning over to meat dealers all used fat from their kitchens. A. E. McBride, district officer for marketing, announced.

Unless this consistent collection continues, there will be even greater shortages of laundry soaps, packaged soaps, as well as other needed products, he warned. During war years, housewives accounted for 10 per cent of the inedible production and collections must continue at this rate if we are to get the essential items we need.

"World export supplies and not imports of inedible fats and oils into the United States are not expected in pre-war volume until later this year, perhaps in 1947," McBride explained. Meanwhile, he added, the national larder must be supplemented with used kitchen fats, the last remaining source of supply.

Word has been received by Mrs. W. W. Smith that her aunt, Mrs. Mabel Richards, of La Junta, Colo., died January 15.

WELL

There has been a few wise men that read this ad last week and got busy in fixing up their tractors—and sure enough, we had to order some of the parts.

But they will be ready to plant when that time comes. Now why don't the rest of you do likewise and fix 'em up. Parts shipments have slowed up 50 per cent already over the strikes and were already critical. Just use your head now and get busy.
