U.S. cast mistaken U.N. vote

Carter says we misunderstood anti-Israel resolution

WASHINGTON (AP) - An American mixup over a United Nations resolution U.N. Ambassador Donald McHenry said today.

In an unusual clarification statement Monday night, the president said the United States mistakenly voted Saturday for a U.N. resolution against Israeli, which is Israel's capital and which the Jewish state refuses to see divided settlements in occupied Arab territories because of a misunderstanding about again

Marxist elected by black voters in Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Britain's interim governor in Rhodesia, Lord Soames, today asked Marxist guerrilla leader Robert Mugabe to form the country's first internationally recognized black government. Mugabe's party scored a landslide victory in parliamentary elections.

Blacks hailed Mugabe's capture of 57 seats in the 100-member parliament, with singing, dancing and rooster-like crows of victory, but whites reacted with shock, anger or resignation. Results of last week's three-day elections were announced

Soames met Mugabe privately for 45 minutes, then for another 45 minutes with his advisers during which time he asked Mugabe to form a government. British sources said Mugabe and Soames agreed on the need for stability, reconciliation and transition were discussed and Soames party on the ballot. assured Mugabe of British willingness to do everything to ease the transition and build an enduring relationship with an independent Zimbabwe, the African name for Rhode-

Before the meeting, Mugabe said of deserved it." He also reiterated he would invite rival guerrilla leader Joshua Nkomo into a coalition government and would seek to bring Ian Smith's white minority party into the administration.

Nkomo said he had not received an invitation but welcomed the idea, saying it would contribute to stability There was no immediate comment from Smith.

Registrar-General Eric Pope-Simmonds announced Mugabe's Zimoabwe African National Union (Patriotic Front Faction) won 57 of the 80 black seats in the country's 100-member parliament, a majority of 14, and 63 percent of the 2.7 million votes cast by more than 93 percent of the eligible black voters. Nkomo and his Patriotic Front party won 20 seats, while former Prime Minister Abel Muzorewa's United African National Council won only three. Six other black parties that put up candidates were shut

The other 20 seats were reserved for the 230,000 whites and were won by former Prime Minister Smith's Rhodesian Front in an election two weeks

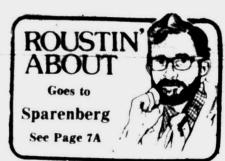

Muzorewa, who had bitterly attacked Mugabe during the election campaign as a Marxist who would destroy the country, said he was 'shocked and puzzled" by the election results but said he wished him "the very best luck." He also said he would not challenge the election re-

Following the broadcast announcement of the election results, jubilant blacks ran through the streets, singing, dancing, crowing and flapping their arms in emulation of the rooster They said arrangements for the that was the symbol of Mugabe's

Whites, however, reacted with shock, anger or resignation. Some said they would join the 1,200 whites a month fleeing the country, and one pulled a revolver on Mugabe supporters in the downtown area.

"It's incredible that he's won with his victory, "I feel jubilant. I think we the ballot what he didn't with the bullet," a Western diplomat said of Mugabe's win.

Most observers expected the 55year-old guerrilla leader to win no more than 40 seats and be forced into heading a coalition government for Zimbabwe, the name that will replace Rhodesia.

Suit filed here requests $7 million from Marathon

An oilfield worker paralyzed after a fall two years ago filed a $7 million negligence suit against Marathon Oil Co. in federal court Friday. Nicholson Lee Farrell, who was employed by Otis Engineering Co., contends he was overcome by hydrogen sulfide gas and fell some 35 feet while working on a location near Pecos owned by Marathon March 9,

As a result of the fall, the suit contends, Farrell, currently of Dallas, sustained "a serious and permanent injury to his spinal cord which has resulted in paralysis from his chest down.

The suit contends Marathon was negligent in not having automatic hydrogen sulfide detection and alarm equipment at the work site and in not warning Farrell of the existence of the gas.

The suit requests $4 million for loss of earning capacity and medical and other expenses plus an additional $3 million for punitive damages. The punitive damages were requested, according to the suit, because Marathon employees had removed the automatic detection systems and alarms several days before Farrell's accident.

That removal, the suit claims, constitutes gross negligence and "a willfull and wanton disregard for the rights of the plaintiff." Marathon's local attorney, Harrell Feldt, had no comment on the suit when contacted Monday, noting he had "just become aware of the law-

The approximately 50 U.S. Embasist group Forghan, Baylor flap now 'beyond Playboy'

By the Associated Press

The firing of three Baylor University student editors over editorial policies has angered their Southwest Conference colleagues, who insist the issue has now grown beyond the question of students posing for Playboy magazine.

"The Playboy photographs are nonissues," said Roy Bragg, editor of the Texas A&M Battalion. "Now it's a question of whether Baylor administrators want a newspaper or a p.r. publication.

"If it's the latter, maybe Baylor should hire a staff of professionals and really do it big," Bragg said.

Baylor's Board of Publications voted in an emergency meeting Monday to remove Jeff Barton, Cyndy Slovak and Barry Kolar from the staff of The Baylor Lariat. The board also suspended publication of the campus newspaper for the rest of the week.

The firing culminated a threeweek-long dispute between the editors and school administrators that began when Playboy announced plans for a pictorial feature, "Girls of the Southwest Conference. University President Abner McCall threatened to expel any Baylor female who posed for the magazine, and the Lariat editors opposed him in

"I thought the battle could be fought on moral grounds," said Barton, Lariat editor-in-chief, after the meeting. "I'm very disappointed in the newspaper, and today, I'm embarrassed to say I'm a fifth generation Baylorite.

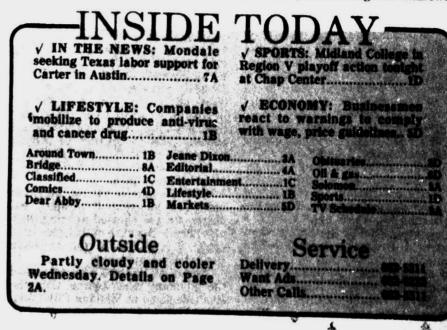

Board members refused to comment on the decisions.

Walter Borges, managing editor of The Daily Texan, the student newspaper at the University of Texas at

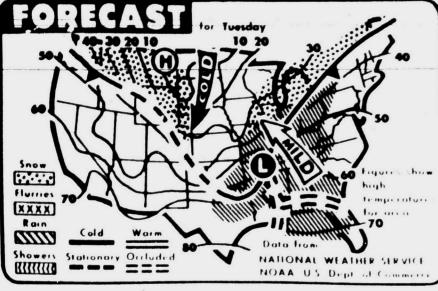

Austin, attended the two-hour session Monday

"The Playboy angle has become a false issue," Borges said. "The question instead has been how free the editors were to publish what they wished. Today, it was ruled they were not free. It was ruled the paper was to be an organ of McCall and his views." Borges said.

After McCall threatened disciplinary action, the Lariat ran two editorials side-by-side, one advocating personal choice in the matter, the other advising women not to pose.

Planning begun for big 'oilcade'

DALLAS (AP) - About 75 independent oilmen and royalty owners assembled in Dallas Monday to plan a march on Washington to protest the windfall profits tax.

Groups will leave Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana in a caravan of buses and drilling equipment Wednesday for a four-day trip to the capital. U.S. Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., came up with the idea.

"No one is making any guarantees that we can stop this thing," organizer Bud Stewart told the Dallas group. But we have got to be heard.'

Stewart favors exempting small independent operators and royalty owners from the bill. A similar exemption clause was dropped from the legislation two weeks ago.

Organizers, led by the Energy Consumers & Producers Association in Seminole, Okla., say they will charter one or two buses in Dallas. Other groups will leave Tyler, Midland, Corpus Christi, Oklahoma City, Shreveport and Lafayette, La.

the request. The permit, which had been denied in a similar hearing last fall, was denied again by the commission.

In the suit filed Monday in district court, Charles E. Washington, Bennie Jackson Jr. and Donald Allen, owners of Phase I, contended Dorn "intended to injure the plaintiffs and their business and to deprive them of their good name, fame, credit, business and reputation.

The suit denies absolutely the charges and claims the three had "enjoyed not only the confidence of the city officials that they were dealing with but the esteem and respect of the community in general.'

The suit contends Dorn knew the charges to be untrue "but uttered them...maliciously and in complete disregard of the rights of the plain-

Dorn could not be reached for comment by press time. Under its current zoning, the disco can't sell alcoholic beverages, but customers are allowed to bring their own drinks. Because of this, the disco can't be regulated by the Alcoholic Beverages Commission.

Owners of Phase I plan to appeal the Planning and Zoning Commission's decision to Midland City Council on March 11.

Professor's dream taking shape

ODESSA — Dr. Roger Olien of Midland, associate professor and chairman of history at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin, wanted more than a teaching job when he accepted the post at UTPB in July, 1973.

Olien, recipient of the "J. Conrad Dunagan Fellow in History," was interested in researching and writing a story which had not been told, and he found the Permian Basin an ideal place for searching out that story.

'I had an interest in West Texas and in oil before I came here," he said, noting he had begun researching the scant material on the area while he was teaching at Southern Methodist University. 'Given the economic importance of the Permian Basin, it occurred to me that little had been done from a historical point of view. Except for the areas of petroleum engineering and geology, little had been written," he

Olien said he was considering three locations — Houston, Tyler and the Permian Basin — for his prospective of oil when the teaching position

This part of the country looked good to me and Dr. V.R. Cardozier (UTPB president) was interested in someone who was interested in the region's history. Things just fell in place," he said. As the "J. Conrad Dunagan Fellow in History," Olien is the holder of the university's first endowed professorship, made possible by a recent $100,-000 gift from J. Conrad Dunagan of Monahans. Dungan is chairman of the board of the Permian Coca-Cola Bottling company and a member of the UTPB Development Board. Olien, who received his Ph.D. from Brown University, collaborates with his wife, Diana, in researching and writing the history of the petroleum industry in the Permian Basin.

"Once we arrived in Odessa, we settled on a plan to study the region in some depth," he said. "The oil industry is probably more complex than any of the older industries," he said.

'We decided to begin with a study of boom towns. We both had a background in social history and there was a common interest," he said. Aided by a grant from the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum in Midland, the Oliens have completed a manuscript on boom towns. Included is a look at the Midland-Odessa booms in the '20s and '50s, Wink in the '20s, McCamey in the '20s and Snyder in the late '40s, he said. The manuscript is currently being considered for print. Next the Oliens wanted to look at processes — how work was done — so they settled on the working man in the oil field as the topic of their second book. 'We did some archival work, but depended mostly on interviews with workers and employees," Olien said. A third book centering on the independent oil operator is now in the research stage, he said. "Midland is one of the major centers for independent oil operators in the country," Olien added. The recent fellowship, he noted, will facilitate his research by providing some travel time which would not otherwise have been possible "By the beginning of the next school year, the writing of the book on the independent oil operator will have begun," Olien said. 'We are where we want to be, doing what we want to do and now we have the help to do it," he said.

Texas of the Permian Basin and recipient of the "J. Conrad Dunagan Fellow in History," continues his research into the early days of the oil business. Olien is the holder of the university's first endowed professorship.

Ice coated the unharvested early and mid-winter orange crop, amounting to 15 to 20 million boxes And rapidly maturing Valencia oranges, about 85 million 90-pound boxes ready to be harvested for frozen concentrated orange juice, froze on the trees in 20-degree temperatures Sunday and Monday.

"We are in serious trouble," said Herb Riley of the Florida Fruit Inspection Service as growers and inspection teams checked millions of acres of groves from the Gulf of Mex-Midland's economic barometer for January dropped slightly from the previous month's indicator. But when compared to the same month a year ago, Midland's economy is on the rise, according to the report prepared by the Area Development Group at The First National Bank.

for city down, but up

The economic barometer was 150.23 in January, a decline from the record 164.11 set in December 1979. But it was up from 125.26 set in January 1979.

Biggest increases were reported in building and residential permits, bank deposits and postal receipts.

In January, $5,797,145 was recorded in total building permits; $2,611,150 for residential permits; $529,730 in postal receipts; and $937,207,000 in bank deposits. For the same month a year ago, the figures were $2,855,825 in building permits; $1,110,900 in residential permits; $466,497 in postal receipts; and $783,361,000 in bank deposits. Airline boardings increased in 1979. In January 1979 the number was 29,529, and in January this year it had jumped to 30,398. Looking at the decade of the 1970s, figures reveal Midland's work force has gone from 29,295 in 1970 to 44,486 in 1979, accounting for a 52 percent jump in employees.

Manufacturing employment has risen 195 percent, going from 1,210 in 1970 to 3 571 in 1979 Single family construction in 1979 dropped from 1978 which had 561 housing starts compared with last year's 482. But, multi-family construction ballooned with 1,092 apartments and duplexes recorded in 1979. The previous year only saw an increase by 558 units. During the past five years, three indices for Midland have almost doubled. Airline boardings went from 232,256 in 1975 to 444,720 last year. Bank deposits started at $544 million and increased to over $1 billion by the end of that period. And postal receipts grew from $2,130,864 in 1975 to $5,639,422 last year.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The leftist guerrillas holding U.S. Ambassador Diego Asencio and some 26 other hostages in the Dominican Republic's embassy for a week vowed that they would not reduce their demands as they prepared for negotiations with the Colombian government today 'We won't give in on anything," said the leader of the 30 guerrillas who invaded the embassy during a diplomatic reception last Wednesday. But "we have given no ultimatum," he added in a telephone interview. One of the guerrillas was killed in the takeover, and the leftists have released 23 hostages, including 15 women. Those still held include at least 20 foreign diplomats, two protocol officers from the Colombian Foreign Ministry and at least four other

The guerrillas, members of an organization called M-19, are demanding $50 million, freedom for 311 other M-19 members they claim are under arrest, worldwide publication of an anti-government manifesto and safe conduct out of Colombia.

M-19 stands for the April 19 Movement. It takes its name from the date of the 1970 presidential election, which the organization claims was rigged. Mexican Ambassador Ricardo

Galan, one of the hostages, said

everything was calm inside the em-negotiations would resume today.

Galan sat in on the first negotiating session Sunday, a 90-minute meeting between a masked woman guerrilla and two deputy foreign ministers held in a panel truck outside the embassy. The guerrillas' representative outlined their demands, and a Foreign Ministry source said the government proposed the release of all hostages except the diplomats and Foreign Ministry officials.

After the meeting, the guerrillas freed a doctor and four waiters but continued to hold at least four other persons in addition to the diplomats and the two Colombian officials.

Last Friday, when the government was refusing to open negotiations with the guerrillas, they threatened to kill two hostages that night. Within 90 minutes, the government announced agreement on a time and place for the first meeting.

A government source said President Julio Cesar Turbay Ayala was spending all day and most of the night with members of his cabinet receiving information on the situation at the embassy and discussing possible courses of action. Spokesmen emphasized that a peaceful solution was the government's first aim.

Hiking grain price would improve trade balance, Farmers Union told

DENVER (AP) - The outgoing president of the National Farmers Union says the U.S. balance of trade could be improved by as much as $5 billion annually if prices for grain sold in world markets were raised to the cost of production.

Peace Justice John Biggs Monday afternoon set bond at $3,500 for Charles Elliott, owner of The Handy Spot Grocery, 1100 N. Dechant, who is stepping down as NFU president after 14 years, called for 100 percent parity for farmers and said it costs 6 cents more per pound to produce cotton today than one year ago, $11,80 more to produce one hundred pounds of beef cattle and $7.20 more to produce one hundred pounds of hogs.

When farmers speak of parity, they are referring to a government formula designed to compare their current purchasing power with the purchasing power farmers enjoyed during a period of relative prosperity early in this century.

'The most obvious thing is that we can't pay today's costs with prices of a year ago," he said.

Collins said he reviewed the law in the light of Supreme Court

After three months, when abortion is more of a medical Arab-Israeli dispute. It's a stupid mistake because the Palestinian problem will never be solved, primarily because the Palestinian problem does not exist except in Arab propaganda.

against Soviet aggression to the Palestinian Arabs are not a homeless people. They already have their own independent nation. It is called the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan. It is an Arab country run by Arabs located entirely on the land historically known as Palestine. Sixty percent of its population, a majority, call themselves Palestinian Arabs. Furthermore, it is free of Jews since by law no Jew can live there (in some ways, "moderate" Arabs are no different from extreme Nazis).

A Palestinian, you see, is anybody who was born in or immigrated to the area carved out of the Ottoman Empire by the British at the end of World War I and called the Palestine Mandate. That includes Jews, Circassians, Syrians, Bedouins, Lebanese Druse and who knows what other group which either was already there or later moved in. According to British census figures, the Arab population increased by 75 percent from 1922

In 1922, the British, ignoring the romise to establish a Jewish homeand in Palestine, whacked off twothirds of the country, dubbed it Trans-Jordan, and stuck one of their Arab toadies on the throne. He was the grandfather of the present king, Hussein. His Royal Highness, King Hussein, like his grandfather and father before him, lives off the foreign dole and by bribing tribal chiefs to support his regime. It is not Israel's fault that the ruler of Palestine is not a Palestinian, but a Hashemite. In fact, it was Hussein's grandfather who invaded the West Bank in 1948 and annexed it, and it was Hussein who rejected Israeli pleas to stay out of the war in 1967 and consequently lost it. Anyway, prior to the 1967 War when Israel took the West Bank, there was no hue and cry to establish a Palestinian state. The game then was the same game they are playing now: let's drive the Jews into the sea and destroy the State of Israel.

Palestinian nationalism is a relatively recent invention and the desire for an independent Palestinian state is an even more recent invention. Whether an Arab is a Palestinian is largely a matter of what he chooses to call himself.

The PLO, the self-appointed spokesman for Palestinians, is a gang of thieves and murderers who have killed far more Arabs than they have Jews. Like many terrorist outfits, nationalism is only a cover for their criminal activities.

Our problem is that Arab hostility toward Israel is not going to evaporate. The Arab leaders really do not expect us to cave in to their demands on this subject, though they are certainly willing to try. Only the Carter Administration has been dumb enough to take their demands seriously.

By doing so, the Carter Administration has greatly increased the danger of war. There is only one way to help peace in that area. That is to convince the Arab leaders that their dream of severing U.S. support from Israel will never be realized. Only when they are convinced, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that U.S. support for Israel is unbreakable will they even consider serious negotiations.

By flirting with the PLO, President Carter is undermining the Egyptian-Israeli peace which he has taken credit for even though it was really an Egyptian-Israeli initiative.

In the meantime, don't be taken in by Arab propaganda. They don't believe it so why should you? In 1973, when Hussein's largely Palestinian army began to slaughter the PLO's Palestinian army, guess where the PLO terrorists fled for refuge. That's right, Israel. Israeli prisons may be horrible in PLO press releases but the men who write the propaganda know they are paradise compared to those run by their brother Arabs.

As for Arab demands that we coerce Israel into making concessions before they allow us to save them from the Soviet Union, there is only one word to describe that but, alas, it's unprintable.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Church leading reorganization drive

By JACK ANDERSON

Senate Foreign Relations Committee has been a faint echo of the White House. Presidents have proclaimed foreign policy, and the committee has bounced back constant blips of approval from its lofty heights on Capitol Hill

Tonkin resolution to legitimatize a disastrous war in Vietnam, the committee provided the rubber stamp. If Richard Nixon wanted to bomb Cambodia in secret, there were few rumbles of protest from the committee.

But under Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, the committee is no longer the spavined thing of the past. He has reorganized the staff into a crack foreign policy team and has transformed the committee into a bulwark

In the White House, Jimmy Carter has been guided by a hidden compass of his own divining. He has moved from a diplomacy of conciliation and detente to a policy of ultimatum and showdown, wobbling all the way.

Church has volunteered sound, secret advice to keep the ship of state from running aground. He has encouraged the growth of amity between the United States and the Soviet Union, but he is not deceived by a false amity that is merely a cover for

He quietly encouraged the president to stand firm in Cuba, which has become a base for Soviet military operations. Carter at first declared that the presence of a Soviet combat brigade 90 miles from our shores was "take appropriate action."

Then he waffled, saying, "the brigade issue is certainly no reason for a retreat to the cold war." His backdown not only failed to prevent but helped to precipitate a renewal of the cold war. His failure to challenge the Soviets in Cuba, where they are violating our 156-year-old Monroe Doctrine, encouraged them to invade Afghanistan, intelligence sources

Church anticipated the Afghanistan assault and tried to warn the administration. He issued a secret analysis, entitled "Developments in Afghanistan and Possible Increased Soviet Intervention," which virtually predicted the invasion three months in ad-

LAST VICTIM: A weary Paul McCarty, one of the latest victims of the Red Scare, has won his 27-year battle to clear his name

Outside of his native Cedar City, Utah, he might be overlooked as no one in particular from nowhere in particular. But he is proud of the McCarty name, which anonymous acd in 1952

They picked him out of a faceless crowd and accused him of communist sympathies. The charges were nebulous and unsubstantiated. He had grown up on an Iowa farm, which he left during World War II to help the war effort. He dimly recalls attending a meeting with a fellow maritime worker in 1943. The meeting may have been communist-sponsored, but McCarty didn't stay to find out. He got bored and walked out early. But his name turned up on some suspect list. And the apoplectic wing of the FBI, ever chasing phantom communists in a world abounding in real ones, began an investigation of him that went nowhere. Besmirched and bewildered, he tried at first to live with the stigma of being labeled a security risk. He told no one about it, not even his family. But he could not abide the challenge to his patriotism. So he set out to clear his name. He stumbled through the bureaucratic maze for nearly three decades.

Then last year, he appealed to us for help. We examined his confidential FBI file. One of his unidentified accusers, according to the file, was "of unknown reliability." The other, noted the FBI, "was not personally acquainted with McCarty and could furnish no additional information concerning him." The file did not explain how an Iowa farm boy, who worked in a West Coast shipyard during the war years and wound up in Cedar City, Utah, could have damaged the nation.

My report on his plight was read by Theodore J. Jacobs, an attorney for the Project for Open Government. He took up McCarty's case and petitioned the Justice Department to cleanse his file.

Finally last month, the government gave up and agreed "to destroy the FBI's entire investigative files concerning (McCarty) if such action meets his approval.'

Purge of John Sears didn't solve Reagan's problem

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - The purge of John Sears coupled with the New Hampshire landslide, while renewing the conservative faithful's vitality has neither solved Ronald Reagan's hardcore political problem nor ended brutal infighting within his presidential campaign. The problem: stubborn belief by substantial numbers of Republicans that Reagan, for reasons of age and ideology, is a sure loser to Jimmy Carter, Campaign manager Sears' efforts to solve that problem contributed to his alienation from the Reaganite grassroots, which finally led to his dismissal by Reagan on primary day in New Hampshire. But sacking Sears has brought neither a solution to the problem nor peace to his campaign. Rather, the internal struggle has merely changed its focus to economic policy, and the departed Sears is being replaced as the center of intrigue by an equally controversial figure: former Treasury Secretary William Simon. Our spot check of Republican Party leaders across the country showed few skeptics were convinced by Reagan's 27-percentage point thrashing of George Bush. "I'll say now what I said to you six weeks ago," one big-city Republican leader told us. "If we nominate Reagan, we lose in November." Such Republicans may now doubt Bush's viability but have not softened their pessimism about Rea-

Indeed, Reagan's 1980 New Hampshire vote was about the same size as his 1976 vote: The big difference was one opponent four years ago and a divided opposition this time. Thus, the New Hampshire returns did little to charm Republicans desperate for an alternative to Reagan.

Attempting to win over such critics was first among Sears' strategic objectives. But while planing down Reagan's cutting edge, Sears could not sell him to the non-Reagan half of the party. Consequently, the suave Washington lawyer became the bogeyman for Reagan's true believers. Among conservative members of Congress who support Reagan, only two at the end had a good word for Sears: Sen. Orrin Hatch of Utah and Rep. Jack Kemp of New York.

Over the last six months Kemp assumed Sears' old mission of trying to make Reagan credible to the nonideological man in the street. Kemp talked Reagan into backing his tax reduction policy, which became the basis for Reagan television spots in the New Hampshire campaign. The end product: those voters who told polltakers as they left the booths Tuesday that they backed Reagan because he would cut their taxes. But, somehow, Reagan's scheduled economics speech on this theme was never made. A statement on gold convertibility, prepared by Washington business writer Richard J. Whalen and backed by Kemp, was killed on the advice of super-conservative economist Milton Friedman. Urgings by Kemp and Whalen to shift the campaign theme to the average American's economic distress have not been followed.

The closest Reagan came was in the Saturday night two-man debate when he condemned Bush's acquiescence in the Carter budget's income tax increase. Yet, such debating points were drowned out by the Sears-engineered coup that isolated Bush as the culprit who kept the other candidates from debating.

On nationally televised morning programs Wednesday, a triumphant Reagan ignored conservative-populist economics as his questioners dwelled on the Sears affair. Moreover, distinguished Manhattan lawyer William Casey replacing Sears raises questions about Reagan's eco-

Casey, a former Securities and Exchange Commission chairman who at age 67 is two years Reagan's junior, is closely associated with the dynamic Bill Simon. Simon not only was among Reagan backers most critical of Sears but is a long-time critic of Kemp-style deep tax reductions and an advocate of heavy budget cuts. Whether or not Kemp and Simon end up as rivals to be Reagan's vice presidential running mate, they are clearly antagonists over economic policy.

Reagan today may be only dimly aware of these struggles in his obvious joy to be rid of John Sears. They had clashed frequently in the tense as following Reagan's defeat in Iowa. Even those Reagan backers who thought Sears was pushing Reagan in the right direction believe the candidate ought to feel in control of his own campaign, although (in the words of one adviser) "It means dragging out the same old speeches and phrases.'

Reagan frequently dragged them out in New Hampshire, even exhuming the Chicago "welfare queen" who had been a staple of his 1976 oratory but was banned by Sears for 1980 in efforts to broaden Reagan's appeal. With Reagan's party critics stubbornly attempting to revive George Bush or resurrect Gerald Ford, it may be too late for such broadening now but not for more bloodletting inside the Reagan camp.

Colorado River Municipal Water District ready for 10th weather modification year

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is ready to begin its 10th year of weather modification operations this week — all it needs are rain clouds.

Realistically, the clouds aren't expected in substantial number until the latter part of March and possibly until mid-April. The CRMWD effort, however, became operational March 1 and will continue through Nov. 30.

The network of 96 recording and 85 non-recording rain gauges will be put in place this week within the cloud-seeding target area, according to meteorologist John Girdzus. The target area is bounded roughly on the west by a line from the Howard County line north to Lamesa and O'Donnell, east to US 180 below Post and south through Snyder and Sweetwater and northern Coke County. This is essentially the drainage area for Lakes J.B. Thomas and E.V. Spence.

The district has two planes used in basal and top-seeding of clouds with silver iodide crystals which form the nuclei of ice crystals within cloud masses. This enhances the coagulation of moisture to the point of precipi-

A Sky Water Ratat-75 unit, located on a 45-foot mobile structure, will be dispatched here from California March 15. Images on the radar screen will reflect cloud densities in color to facilitate more accurate seeding

The information also is recorded magnetically so it can be called up for review, or for use in daily briefings.

In early April, CRMWD also will help prepare for the federally-funded HIPLEX (High Plains Experiment) weather modification research project. Twenty-five stations will be located within the network to transmit data every minute, if desired. The signals are beamed to a satellite, bounced to Wallops Island in the Atlantic and then eventually relayed to Denver, Colo., from whence the Big Spring operators can call up the data.

Also, the P-Navajo airplane will be sent to Boulder, Colo., April 10 for intallation of cloud physics equipment to measure temperature, humidity, wind direction and velocity, iodide and moisture particles. A companion package also will measure the density and distribution of ice crystals within clouds. Later, the National Center for Atmospheric Research will send an airplane to Big Spring to seed clouds with inert material so that the movement and distribution of particles in a cloud's updraft may be traced.

The HIPLEX period is from May 15 through July 15, and technicians from Texas A&M and Texas Tech Universities will join other scientists in monitoring seeding operations.

The district's network of rain gauges in designed so that a recording gauge is set at every 10 kilometers within the target area, and within the Prime rate rises above 17 percent

NEW YORK (AP) — Chase Manhattan Bank today raised its prime lending rate to a record 171/4 percent, continuing the rapid rise in interest rates that has followed new efforts to tighten credit.

Chase Manhattan, the third-largest bank in the country, said that the demand for loans was "very strong" even at a prime rate of 16% percent, which was adopted only last Friday by major banks.

Chase also cited the spiral in other interest rates, which has pushed rates on both home mortgages and money market certificates to record

The prime lending rate, which banks charge on loans to their most credit-worthy corporate customers, has now risen two percentage points since Feb. 15, when the Federal Reserve made its latest move to tighten

The move was promptly matched by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, the fifth-largest bank, and by No. 9 First National Bank of Chicago. Other banks were expected to follow.

The prime rate does not directly affect other rates, but it is widely followed as an indicator of short-term interest rates. Many commercial

Dear Dr. Solomon: Why are some people given polio vaccine orally while others are immunized by injection? Which is preferable? - Kay

Dear Kay: There are two different polio vaccines - the oral and the injectable. The oral vaccine is absorbed into the bloodstream after it is swallowed and provides immediate protection against the disease. Within two or three weeks, long-lasting antibodies build up in the body. Most experts in the field regard the oral vaccine as the most effective way to

Although extremely rare, there is a small risk (one in every three to five million vaccinations) of serious side effects to persons taking this vaccine or who come in contact with someone recently vaccinated with it.

The Public Health Servicde recommends that all persons between six weeks and 18 years of age be given an oral polio vaccine, except for those with cancer, with leukemia, or with lymphoma, those with any disease that reduces their ability to fight infection, and those who live with someone who falls into any of these categories.

For people who should not get the oral polio vaccine, and for those for whom the oral vaccine is recommended but prefer the shots, the injectible vaccine is adequate. This, of course, is far preferable to remaining unvaccinated.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I am 63 years old, and at my last physical examination, my doctor told me that my blood pressure was 150 over 95; he said he wants to check it again in a few months. What do the figures mean, and why should he want to check it again? -Mr. T.J.O.

Dear Mr. O.: The two figures, usually written 150/95, represent your systolic and diastolic blood pressures, respectively. They indicate the rise (measured in millimeters) in a column of mercury because of the pressure that occurs when an artery is squeezed with an inflatable cuff. Systolic pressure (the upper figure) is measured when the heart contracts and sends blood rushing through the arsured when the heart relaxes after a beat.

While "normal" pressure can best be defined by a range rather than by a specific figure, your blood pressure appears to be in the upper limits of normal. And since untreated high blood pressure (or hypertension) is a potentially dangerous condition which may cause no symptoms until it has done some damage, your physician undoubtedly wants to monitor you so he can institute appropriate treatment should it become necessary.

'Fat' couple OK'd to adopt

MADISON, Wis. (AP) - Barred from adopting a child last year because they were overweight, Gordon and Barbara Ray say they finally have been approved as adoptive parents under new state rules.

Celebrating their eighth wedding anniversary, the Rays, both 29, said Monday they hope to have a child by the end of the year.

"We asked for a boy in the 5- to 10-years-old range," said Ray, a 6foot-2, 215-pound University of Wisconsin shipping clerk.

Publicity from a story about the couple's dilemma a year ago helped prompt the state Department of Health and Social Services to revamp its adoption rules.

The new rules, in effect but awaiting formal approval, give preference to married couples, bar couples with two or more children or those more than 40 years older than the child they want to adopt. But they dropped most other restrictions, such-as weight guideOne plan can provide Life Insurance. Cash Accumulations.

Cooperative bank head poses threat to existing methods of marketing

WASHINGTON (AP) - The head of a new federal agency, the National Consumer Cooperative Bank, says she wants to pose a threat to existing methods of marketing.

Carol Greenwald, who took office Feb. 1 as president of the bank, said existing marketing practices often are "not very imaginative."

For example, she said, food retailing has changed little "since the big breakthrough of the 1920s, the supermarket." for a single quarter was The federal bank was established by Congress to 2.1 percent, set during encourage, largely through loans, the growth of consumer cooperatives. The co-ops can be formed by groups of consumers who choose not to patronize traditional stores and instead band together to provide goods or services for themselves. There already are consumer co-ops offering groceries and such services as medical care and automobile repair. Some non-profit co-ops have lower prices than profit-making stores, and others offer services or products not available elsewhere. But getting a co-op going requires managing and financing know-how beyond the capacity of most consumers. Consumer co-ops now make up only a tiny part of American marketing. Ms. Greenwald wants to change that. "If you ask me my goal, it is that in three years, a lot of groups will feel threatened by us. At this point, retailers can nutes in a supermarket ignore co-ops because we don't compete with them in check-out line. any major way. But I would like us to grow to where we are a threat to the established way of doing things, which are just an inflation of prices all along

She said the Co-op Bank will emphasize service to co-ops that develop innovative methods of market-

When you take your car into a traditional repair shop, those people appear to rip you off at every opportunity. They have a book that says how many hours it could take a mechanic to do a certain job and they multiply that by their hourly labor charge even if it doesn't take them that long.

"At an auto service co-op, the mechanic who works on your car has it in mind that he is working for you and that you should pay only for what you get. It is a whole different mental set," she said.

Congress created the new agency after consumer advocates argued that co-ops find it difficult to borrow the money needed to begin operation. Financial institutions prefer to give loans to traditional businesses, they said.

Mondale was expected to announce

News that Armstrong, Lebermann and Guest would run the presidential re-election effort in Texas drew an angry blast from Marc Campos, chairman of Mexican-American Democrats of Texas.

"Frankly, I'm fed up and tired with white boy first politics.... Texas delegates to the Democratic national convention this summer will be chosen in a state convention on the basis of candidate strength shown in the precincts.

An AFL-CIO source said Mondale's visit to the COPE convention could make a difference in Carter's delegate strength from Texas.

'Just Mondale walking down the aisle can make a difference in the delegate votes. He will definitely get some delegate votes for them (Carter-Mondale) at the state convention," the source said

SPARENBERG - The red-brick school house ain't what it used to be.

Not much is. The building, which today keeps farming equipment and supplies -instead of children - out of the weather, has been shut down since 1948. That's when Sparenberg became part of another rural Dawson County school system, Klondike, in a

with consolidation move more than three

On a wall in one of the side rooms adjoining the sloping auditorium appears lettering, mostly names of students and class years, but nothing crude, such as graffiti.

The date on the wall is May 19, 1948.

There are six classrooms in the school house, which is crowded with cottonseed and some grain, old farm tools, equipment, tires and the such, which belong to J.E. and Pearl Airhart. Their farm house is just a short

Most of the school's old blackboards are missing; blank spaces are in the wall where once the teachers' chalk formed diagrams and conjugation, multiplication tables and plotted the geography of the world. Remnants of learning remain:

Looking back to see you here.

The grammatical message — if there is one — is obscure. On another blackboard in yet another room is a study in mathematics, and somebody, perhaps a pupil doomed to the corner with a coned dunce hat atop his noggin, missed the mark:

But whoever learned without first making imperfect scores?

Sparenberg, like many rural schools, had a strong dose of something often lacking in larger urban schools: discipline.

Jimmy Airhart, who went to school there back in the '40s, partook of that stringency. He recalls in particular a teacher by the name of Mrs. Venable, who wouldn't put up with any tomfoolery in the classroom. She was there to teach, and the students were there to learn.

'She was very firm," recalled Airhart. "She expected discipline and got it. She had a razor strap and used it.

'The parents didn't holler (about their children getting whippings at he said. "If you got a busting at school, you usually got one at Perhaps some of that Mrs. Venable discipline rubbed off on Airbart, who himself is a school teacher at Lamesa. "I expect control," Airhart said, "and I get it."

And some of that old Sparenberg discipline remains, though the old red schoolhouse has changed.

About 40 students will be enrolled in Junior Achievement Dale Carnegie courses conducted by Paul Straughan, left, area manager of the Dale Carnegie courses, and Mark Cox, instructor. About $20,000 was donated to provide the program to JA'ers. Students will learn how to increase control over worry, greater self-confidence, better human relations skills, improved memory and increased competence in speech making.

Kidnap victim again with family

By DAVE EINSTEIN

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) - Kenneth Parnell, a lonely ex-convict who police say created a family for himself by kidnapping children, was being arraigned today as police studied the possibility that he had an accomplice in the abduction of Steven Stayner seven years ago.

Meanwhile, Stayner, 14, who lived with the quiet hotel clerk for seven years before turning up over the weekend with a second abduction victim, was getting to know his family

He said he was "sort of nervous" at the reunion with his parents and siblings - two brothers and two sisters. "It's the greatest thing that has ever happened," said his father, Delbert.

Kay Stayner, the youth's mother. said the family never moved from their modest Merced home, about 200 miles southeast of here, because they were "waiting for Steven to return."

Stavner told reporters he had been thinking about leaving Parnell for two years, and some officials speculated Stayner didn't return earlier because he'd grown fond of his abductor even calling him "Dad" - and didn't

"Apparently the man was kind to him and treated him decently," said Mendocino County District Attorney Joe Allen. "At some point, he decided to stick with what he had."

Parnell, 48, has been charged with the Feb. 14 kidnapping of Timmy Lee White, 5, of Ukiah. He is being held on $7,000 bond, and was to appear today before Justice James Luther in Ukiah Justice Court.

The youngster hitchhiked to freedom Saturday with Stayner, who was abducted in 1972 on his way home from school and later told he had been adopted. Stayner said he had helped free the younger child because he didn't want White to face his fate.

"He realized it was not good for Timmy to be there and arranged to get Timmy safely returned to Ukiah despite the fact that in the process he was going to destroy the only world he had ever known in seven years," said

"He knew it would mean the arrest of the man who became a foster parent, if you will."

Charges are pending in the Stayner case. "We're investigating the possibility of a second individual being

Altrusa Club of Midland hosts International leader

was the opening question of Jen Han-son, president of Altrusa International, when she recently addressed local Altrusans and guests at a dinner held in her honor at Ranchland Hills Coun-

Emphasizing her biennial theme of "Rise to Human Needs," Mrs. Han-son pointed out that friendship is the only cement that will hold the world together and that Altrusans need to listen with their ears, their eyes and thier hearts to the world in need, from the neighborhood level to even the third world people. "We need to touch peoples' lives and to let them know we care, that we want to help them," she said. "It is through the local clubs and its interested members that these needs can be met," she added.

Outlining three things of greatest importance for her two-year term of office, which began in July of 1979 at the International Conference in Kansas City, Mrs. Hanson listed membership as the first priority. "We need to grow in dedication as well as numbers." said Mrs: Hanson, as she outlined her aim for a 25 percent increase in membership for the two-year period ahead. "New members not only bring in new people, but new ideas, new enthusiasm. Her second goal is the increase of Astra clubs, an organization for young girls, future Altrusans who will carry on the work of their mothers and grandmothers.

Then follows the emphasis on supporting national projects, the Founders Fund Vocational Aid and Grants-in-Aid programs and the clubs' fight against illiteracy, the latter coming under Altrusa's rise to human need - not only helping children learn, but helping the adults who did not receive an education.

Altrusa, the first women's classified service club, was organized in Nashville, Tenn., in April, 1917. It became International in 1935 and now boasts a membership of over 20,000, in Australia, Bermuda, Canada, England, Guatamala, India, Ireland, Mexico, New Zealand, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Scotland and the United States.

The Midland club was chartered in October, 1948, with Mrs. Katherine Knox Shriver as its first president. It has grown from 25 charter members

Altrusa International's two main projects are its Founders Fund Vocational Aid (FFVA) for training or retraining women to enter the business world, become professional or set up their own small business to support themselves and their families, and Grants-In-Aid (GIA) to foreign women for graduate study in a college or university in the United

You should have told her to speak up. Sometimes elderly people need to be reminded of the favors people do

DEAR MRS. A.: A reader in Rock-ville, Md., feels that my advice was on target as far as it went, but that it didn't go far enough. Read on:

Shades of opportunism! Echoes of greed! Don't you think your advice should have included something like the following: "Congratulations, dear. Mrs. McKinley gave the biography of Estes' life, saying he was born in Franklin County, Tenn., and moved to Missouri after marrying Elizabeth

They left Missouri for Texas in the early 1840's in an oxen-drawn wagon. They settled in Navarro County where Estes helped organize the first public school in the county and in 1854 was elected a trustee of District Four in the first school election.

Balancing the checkbook

By ERMA BOMBECK

In January of this year, I made a resolution to balance my checkbook every month when the statement

In years past, I have resolved the problem by switching banks every time I don't balance. No error was too large or too small for me to close out the account and take my business down the street.

Phoenix is a big city. In the telephone directory, there are five yellow pages listing banks and three and a half pages of savings and loans. I'm down to my last two banks. Last month when I tallied up my deposits, withdrawals, and outstanding checks was off 19 cents . . . in the bank's favor, of course.

I would rather be off $500 than 19

Try that with 19 cents and they'll laugh themselves into a hernia repair. The only way you can find a 19-cent error is to devote the rest of your life to it, like the fella who slip-covered the Grand Canyon or rode a bicycle across the United States backwards.

It's a situation you either accept or fight. I chose to pick up the gauntlet. Every night after dinner for the last three weeks I have trudged to the dining room table, turned on the calculator, and gone over every figure from the beginning.

For all of you bookkeeping quarterbacks, I did not:

(a) Make a 7 like a 9. (b) Forget to deduct a bank (c) Record a check on a breath mint

(d) Subtract instead of add a 19-(e) Forget I couldn't subtract nine

It's a rather unique institution. There are no wine glass premiums. The tellers are all men and have cotton stuffed in their cheeks. The entire bank is on wheels attached to a

Victor(y) comes to Amarillo via Mitchell's 55 points

By TED BATTLES Sports Editor

Victor Mitchell, the 6-10 package who comes in the large economy size, broke the Region V single-game individual scoring record with a 55-point performance to lead Amarillo College to a 114-100 win over Hill College, but if he wants it to count, he'll have to do it all over again. Mitchell's basket binge, which eclipsed the 49 points scored by San Angelo's Bill Barker back in 1954, came in one of the two playoff games between the fourth and fifth place teams of the Western Junior College Conference and the Northern Conference Monday night to see who qualified for today's quarterfinals, considered the official opening of the tournament. And tournament officials said records set in such playoffs don't qualify as bonafide tournament rec-

In the other game, Frank Phillips yawned its way to a 65-55 victory over

Cisco Junior College to complete the pairings for today's two-game afternoon and night sessions at the Chaparral Center.

THE VICTORIES by Amarillo and Frank Phillips mean five of the quarterfinal teams will be from the WJCC. It also means that the Badgers from the Panhandle, playing their third no-tomorrow game in three days, must beat Western Texas College, the nation's No. 1 team, in today's 7

Tonight's action also will feature the first tournament appearance of Midland College, which faces the Northern Conference's Ranger at 9.

Frank Phillips, meanwhile, meets McLennan, the NC winner, at 4 p.m., but the day's best match up may be the 2 p.m. tussle between Odessa College, No. 3 in the WJCC, and Cooke, No. 2 in the NC.

But Mitchell's performance was the talk of the Center Monday night as he prompted college coaches and recruiters in attendance to take a long hard look at the big sophomore while daintily dabbing at the edges of their mouth with handy hankies to keep from giving themselves away.

MITCHELL was virtually dormant in the first half, scoring only 13 points, but he got going in the final 20 minutes with a 42-point effort.

All of this may have started back in December when the Badgers lost both of their point guards. "They left school and I had to revamp my offense," relates coach Jim Calvin, and since Mitchell is a 70 per cent field goal shooter, we just try to get the ball to him.'

The Badgers have two methods, either the direct pass inside or a shot from outside, if it's missed chances are good Mitchell will just stuff it back in the basket.

Against Hill, which tied with Ranger for third in the NC and finishes with a 15-13 record, Mitchell was 24 of 32 from the floor and as proof he's not just a basket stuffer, he hit seven of eight from the line. That, along with 19 rebounds, isn't a bad night's work so it will be interesting to see how Western Texas defenses him tonight.

David Bradley, who was 11 of 17 from the field in a 25-point performance in the Badgers' win over Howard Sunday, wasn't that deadly from the field Monday, sinking eight of 24 on the way to a 19-point night, but the figures are a bit deceiving. Thanks to Mitchell, most of his seven second-half misses wound up in the net anyway. Also in double figures was Don Seaman, 14 points and 11 assists, and Mark Summers, 10.

Hill's Stan Branch might have been the star of the game on any other night, sinking eight of 11 field attempts in a 23-point performance.

Amarillo led 45-38 at half and with the score 84-74 midway through the second half, really began to open up

FRANK PHILLIPS' victory leveled its season's record at 13-13 while Cisco winds up 14-17. Cisco led early 13-6, but the Plainsmen crept to 19-14 just past the 10-minute mark in the first half and then reeled off 10 points in the next three minutes to take a lead that was never seriously challenged, only because Cisco couldn't hit the broad side of a backboard from the free throw line. The Northern Conference team made only 15 of 30 attempts and most of the misses were at the front end of one-and-ones.

Bobby Allen, going nine-for-10 from the field led FPC and lanky Lance Tomlinson, hitting his first seven shots, wound up with 14. Greg Sparkman's 15 were high for Cisco.

FROM THE LINE—Odessa College Coach Ron Mayberry feels that although McLennan may have won the NC, Cooke was actually the stronger team at the season's end. "McLennan got off to a very fast start." Of course,

Mistakes hurt Bulldogs as Whalen's debut is spoiled in 4-0 setback

SNYDER - Coach Tim Whalen made his coaching debut here Monday as his Midland High Bulldogs dropped a 4-0 decision to the Class AAA Snyder Tigers in the season baseball opener for both teams at Terry Degrate, big righthander for the Tigers, struck out 10 Bulldogs and threw a two-hitter.

"Naturally I was disappointed over the loss, but really, Mark Hewitt and Paul Cox also threw well for us, giving up just four hits, " said Whalen afterwards. "We just need to go to work more and really get after our fundamentals."

All four of Snyder's runs were unearned because of three MHS errors.

Hewitt and David Zarate had the only hits for Midland off Degrate who was throwing hard, according to Whalen. "Degrate is a fine prospect and should be able to throw in college " added Whalen.

Midland doesn't play again until Friday in the Tournament of Champions at Cubs Stadium.

Joining those two gifted frontcourt players on the first team were guards Darrell Griffith of Louisville and Kentucky's Kyle Macy, along with forward Albert King of Maryland.

The 7-foot-1 Carroll was a Third Team selection last year, while the others made their first appearance among the nation's top 15. Duke's Mike Gminski was the Second Team center for the second straight season, flanked by LaSalle's Michael Brooks and Washington State's Don Collins at the forward positions and St. John's Reggie Carter and Oregon State's Ray Blume in the backcourt.

The Third Team included Ohio State's Herb Williams at center, Mississippi's John Stroud and Drake's Lewis Lloyd at forwards and Marquette's Sam Worthen and Kansas State's Rolando Blackman at the

The team was selected by a nationwide panel of AP writers.

The 6-foot-7 Aguirre, the only sophomore on the First Team, was the heart of a DePaul club that rolled up a 26-game winning streak and sat atop The AP poll for most of the year. Coach Ray Meyer describes the beefy Aguirre, who also has played some guard this year, as his "O-ffensive Machine" and is quick to point out: "He may be the best all-around ballplayer to come to DePaul." That includes, of course, the great George Mikan, one of the sport's premier big men in the 1940s. Aguirre averaged 27 points, eight rebounds and three assists a game.

The 240-pound Carroll is a latebloomer who came into his own in his junior year last season. His talents are multifaceted: he shoots as well as any big man in the college game, blocks shocks with elan and rebounds with uncommon ferocity. The player they call "Rocky Mountain High" for his Denver origins, was among the Big Ten's leading scorers all season, averaging 22 points in addition to 10 rebounds a game.

For the self-effacing role of playmaker, Macy has one of the highest profiles in the country. He has set school records for number of assists in a season, not a small accomplishment considering the class of players at Kentucky through the years. But Macy's true value cannot be

King, in his junior year, finally achieved the greatness many had predicted for him. The straight-shooting forward averaged 22 points and seven rebounds a game and was largely instrumental in turning Maryland from an also-ran into a champion this year.

The Most Valuable Player in the just-concluded Atlantic Coast Conference playoffs, the 6-foot-6 frontcourt star fit perfectly into the Terps' unselfish team concept this season.

"I don't consider myself a one-onone player," said King, who shoots 55 per cent from the field and 84 percent from the foul line. "I consider myself a team player."

DePaul secures

By TOM CANAVAN Associated Press Writer

DePaul, which saw its quest for an undefeated regular season stopped by Notre Dame 76-74 in double overtime last week, nevertheless maintained the No.1 ranking in the final Associated Press college basketball poll for the 1979-1980 season.

The Blue Demons, who had held the top spot the past seven weeks — six times as the unanimous choice — collected 54 of 59 first-place votes and 1,173 points out of a perfect score of 1,180 in the balloting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters: DePaul closed out a 26-1 regular season with a 97-81 victory over intrastate rival Illinois State in its other game last week.

Louisville, which captured the Metro 7 Conference tournament last weekend, edged newly crowned Southeastern Conference tournament champion Louisiana State for the No.2 position. The Cardinals, ranked fourth last week, were tabbed twice for first place and received 1,030 points - 12 more than the Tigers, who picked up one first-place vote in advancing two notches in this week's Kentucky, regular season SEC champs but beaten by LSU in the SEC tournament title game, collected the final two first-place votes and 956 points in slipping from No.2 to No.4. Oregon State, the Pacific-10 champion, moved up one place and took over the No.5 position with 872 points. Syracuse, ranked third last week when it was surprised by Georgetown, D.C., in the Big East Conference tournament title game, fell to sixth with 785 points.

Preseason favorite and Big Ten champion Indiana, unranked three weeks ago but peaking with the return of forward Mike Woodson, jumped from No.13 to No.7 with 746 points. Maryland, No.7 a week ago, was next with 722 points while Notre Dame and Ohio State rounded out the Top 10.

The Irish, ranked 14th last week when they upset DePaul, collected 594 points in edging the Buckeyes for the No.9 slot by eight points.

Georgetown made the biggest move in this week's poll, jumping from No.20 to No.11. Brigham Young nipped St. John's, N.Y. in maintaining the No.12 position. Atlantic Coast Conference tournament champion Duke was 14th followed by North Carolina.

Robey is no ordinary sub

BOSTON (AP) - For years the Boston Celtics had nothing more than mediocre substitutes for Dave Cowens. But that has changed with Rick Robey, who stepped in two months ago when the veteran center went on the injured list.

Robey started at center on Jan. 22 when Cowens injured a toe. Boston won that game and 15 of the next 18 with Robey in place of Cowens.

Before the injury, the Celtics were 34-12. Now they are 50-15, the best record in the National Basketball Association.

A second-year man from Kentucky, Robey has been more than a mediocre substitute, having averaged 17.4 points and 8.8 rebounds per game since moving in to the middle.

"The Celtics' style is very similar to the style we played at Kentucky. It's been fairly easy to adjust to starting," said Robey, 24, who was captain of the Wildcats when they won the NCAA title in 1978.

He came to the Celtics from Indiana on Feb. 12, 1979 in a trade for Billy Knight and filled in for Cowens, who missed the last month of that season with a twisted ankle.

"I felt I could go in and do the job they wanted last year when Dave got hurt the last 15 games. I thought I did well," Robey

"I think that when you start you go in with a different outlook mentally. You have to be ready to play 35 to 40 minutes," he added. But he doesn't pace himself, he said.

"I just go. That's my style. Just run and bang, run and bang and try to get things done," he said. "My legs are much stronger now because I'm playing more. I've reached that point where I can catch my second wind easier."

Cowens returned to action last Tuesday and has scored 22 points in four games as a substitute while rounding into shape.

"After Dave is starting again I really feel like my playing time will pick up from where it was before," Robey said. "It might even be playoff time before he's in the form he has to

"In the playoffs, there'll be big, physical teams and they'll need all of us."

Seven boxers defend titles in state Golden Gloves meet

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Seven champions have returned to defend their titles at the 44th State Golden Gloves tournament that begins Tuesday for a five-night run.

San Antonio's Tony Ayala, a 17-year-old middleweight who won a national Golden Gloves championship last year in Indianapolis, heads the list of returnees Others are light flyweight Richard Pastran, San Antonio; flyweight Sammy Fuentiz, Houston; light-welterweight Tyrone Cotton, Dallas; light-middleweight Cheto Ramos, Odessa; light-heavyweight Jay Strickland, Fort Worth, and heavyweight Charles Hostetter, Odessa.

Ayala is one of two boxers in the tournament ranked No. 2 in their weight divisions by the Amateur Athletic Union. The other is Fort Worth welterweight Do nald Curry, a two-time national AAU champ who sat out last year's Golden Gloves competition.

Another welter weight returning after a year's layoff is Ronnie Shields of Houston, a three-time state and national Golden Gloves champ. Seven of the competitors - Ayala, Curry, Shields, Strickland, bantamweight Steve Cruz of Fort Worth; light-flyweight Gilbert Castillo of Lubbock and Wichita Falls featherweight Pat Duran, are ranked in the top 10 in the latest AAU rankings. Winners in the 1/1 weight divisions here will advance to the national tournament March 25-29 in Shreveport, La.

Revamped Yankees one big happy family

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) The credo of the revamped 1980 New York Yankees: Cool it.

The low-key, don't-rock-the-boat philosophy was reflected in the feathery, tentative fashion the club handled the first irritant to surface in the new season: the late arrival of Reggie Jackson, super star, catalyst, by self description "the straw that stirs the

The Yankees' bright, new front office wrestled with the dilemma like a flock of fussy hens and then took the mild road.

When Reggie checked in Monday, three days late, after fulfilling a backup of outside commitments, he was let off without a fine. For recompense, he could write a check to his favorite charity

Reggie picked the Public School Athletic League, a group that has supported him in the past: The best guess is he will shell out $2,000.

And it didn't hurt a bit. There was, according to General Manager Gene Michael, no sharp directive from owner George Steinbrenner, sitting in his boat building offices in Tampa. There was no grousing in the lockerroom.

"It came out good," said the beaming Jackson. "I am happy with what happended."

"Reggie should have been here on such volatile characters needed only time," insisted Michael. "We were forced to take action for the sake of team morale, the feeling of the other

This is the lockerroom that the ex-Yankee Sparky Lyle, in his literary expose, labled "The Bronx Zoo."

No more. The only animals are love birds. Even with the arrival of the controversial Reggie, the lockerroom is so serene it is almost digusting.

Howser, the boyish-faced pleasant skipper who sits in Billy's old chair, resembles a more mature John Boy of "The Waltons" TV series. He never snaps or yells. He can be firm. He is rarely around. "I talked to George several times over the winter," said Reggie, once in Steinbrenner's doghouse. "I told him he was so nice he must be preparing to trade me. 'I don't want to trade you,' he told me. 'I want to get along.' Me, too," said Reggie.

Unsung Long Beach opens NIT action tonight

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - Long Beach State, happy to be included in the National Invitation Tournament but disappointed by an NCAA snub, takes on Pepperdine tonight in a firstround NIT game at the Anaheim Convention Center.

"We've beaten four teams who are going to the NCAA - Marquette, BYU, Lamar and San Jose," said Long Beach Coach Tex Winter. "UCLA (invited to the NCAA tournament) has beaten only two...it's an injustice.

Still, Winter doesn't want to take anything away from the NIT.

"We are happy to be going to a postseason tournament," he said. "I think we are very well matched with Pepperdine.

We played early in the season and lost by one point, 95-94. The NIT provides all the teams with a real opportunity and should be quite a motivating factor for all the athletes involved.

"There are a lot of good ball clubs who will be in the NIT," Winter said, adding caustically, "some of them better than the teams who will be in the NCAA.

Winter is unhappy that only two clubs from the Pacific Coast Athletic Association - San Jose State and Utah State - were chosen for the NCAA tournament. Long Beach had finished second in both the regular PCAA season and in the league tournament.

Pepperdine is led by Ricardo Brown, one of the nation's top guards, and the Waves boast a 17-10 record.

Long Beach State, led by forwards Michael Wiley and Francois Wise, is 21-11. Wiley is averaging 20.6 points a game and Wise 16.

Play in the NIT begins with the Pepperdine-Long Beach game and ends with semifinals and finals in New York's Madison Square Garden on March 17 and 19.

Sixteen more teams get into action in the NIT Wednesday, with St. Peter's at Connecticut, West Texas State at Illinois State, Lafayette at Virginia, Loyola, Chicago at Illinois, Penn State against the University of Alabama in a game to be played at Birmingham, St. Joseph's, Pa. at Texas, Murray State at Jacksonville and Bowling Green at Minnesota. The latter contest was originally scheduled for Thursday.

British government, which has been trying to persuade athletes to stay away from the Games as a protest against the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. HOCKEY - John Ziegler, president of the National Hockey League, said that he is investigating a potential conflict of interest in Bobby Hull's playing for the Hartford Whalers while retaining 12.5 percent ownership of the Winnipeg

Witness says youths broke windows

A witness told police that two youths approximately 12 years old Monday ran from Goddard Junior High School, 2500 Haynes Ave., shortly before police discovered five broken windows. The windows were valued at $100 each.

Police said they received a call on a possible burglary shortly after noon Monday. When they arrived at the school, they checked with a Ronald Nemeth, who helped them search the school grounds and building.

According to reports, the youths gained entrance to the school by climbing the stairs on the outside of the building on the north side. They then entered through an open air conditioner room.

The witness told officers the two carried large rocks with them, and rocks were used to break the windows, according to police.

Stock market oses

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market declined broadly today as hopes continued to fade on Wall Street for any strong new government measures against inflation.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 5.46 at 848.89.

Losers outnumbered gainers by more than a 3-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues. The market rallied late last week amid speculation that the Carter administration was planning some new anti-inflation actions, such as credit controls. But as the weekend, and then Monday, passed without any announcement of such measures, selling pressure intensified in both the stock and bond markets This morning, several large banks raised their prime lending rates from 16% to a record high of 1714.

Squibb led the active list, off 11/8 at 323/8. A 486,600share block traded at 32.

The NYSE's composite index lost .52 to 63.83. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off 4.17 at 297.21.

Volume on the Big Board totaled 19.27 million shares at noontime, against 16.10 million at the same point Monday.

BUSINESS MIRROR Businessmen react mildly to warnings from government

By KRISTIN GOFF AP Business Writer

Many of the nation's big businesses, saying they were already in compliance with the Carter admir istration's voluntary wage-price guidelines, have reacted mildly to telegrams warning of intensified "monitoring activities" on wage and price in-The telegrams sent over the weekend by Treasury

Secretary G. William Miller and Alfred Kahn, chief of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, also reiterated Carter's opposition to imposing mandatory wage-price controls. Government officials have recently expressed concern that companies may be raising prices now in anticipation of a mandatory price freeze that would prevent hikes later.

"We haven't raised any prices in anticipation of mandatory controls, nor do we intend to. The bottom line is we intend to live within the guidelines," said a spokesman for Westinghouse Electric Corp., one of the 500 largest businesses in the nation to receive a Hewlett-Packard Corp., in response to the telegram, sent a letter commending the administration for rejecting mandatory controls that it feels "are an ineffective mechanism to restrain inflation," according to spokesman Peter Nelson.

He said the Palo Alto, Calif., computer company recently adopted a new pricing timetable, calling for price reviews quarterly instead of semi-annually. But the policy stemmed from rapidly escalating prices of some materials, particularly gold and silver used in semiconductors, not in anticipation of wage-price controls, he said.

Few companies contacted by The Associated Press were willing to make promises about pricing policies in the future. But several, including General Motors Corp., American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Rockwell International Corp. said they currently are in compliance with the government's pricing poli-

Some business leaders, remained skeptical about the administration's pledge.

"I think there is a widespread feeling in the business community that, despite statements to the contrary by the administration, if there is a continuation of inflationary pressures, wage and price controls become inevitable," said Arthur Levitt Jr., chairman of the American Stock Exchange and head of the White House Commission on Small Business.

Controls "will have to be recognized as a possibility in an intensely political year like this one," said George Hagedorn, who follows wage-price policies for the National Association of Manufacturers.

Carter considering more program cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration is considering deep cuts in jobs programs, highway projects and urban aid as part of a sudden effort to combat surging inflation by slashing up to $20 billion from the proposed 1981 budget. Under orders from President Carter's budget of ce, federal agencies submitted lists of new spend ing reductions Monday that could help the administration balance the budget for the year that begins Administration sources said almost every agency except the Defense Department was required to submit spending cuts. On Jan. 28, Carter sent Congress a proposed 1981 budget calling for $616 billion in spending and a $15.8

billion deficit. But less than two weeks ago, the government's consumer price survey showed the largest monthly jump in more than six years, boosting the inflation rate to an 18 percent annual rate. That prompted Carter to order an immediate review of the administration's anti-inflation policies.

Budget cuts emerged as the chief alternative, with the possible goal of cutting enough to balance the budget. One administration official said between $18 billion and $20 billion is the latest estimate of cuts needed to achieve that goal. The administration also is known to be considering some form of mandatory credit controls, but offi-cials continue to insist they will not seek mandatory wage and price controls.

wage and price controls.

The drive for a balanced budget is gaining support in Congress. But an administration decision to make deep cuts in social programs — while letting defense spending rise — is certain to anger labor leaders, civil rights advocates, urban coalitions and other supporters of those programs.

Administration and congressional officials concede that reducing the 1981 budget will not do much about the current inflation rate, although it could about the current inflation rate, although it could have a "psychological impact" on businesses and consumers whose behavior is based on the assumption that inflation will continue to rage beyond government control. government control.

One of the largest areas targeted for possible cuts is in the jobs and training programs run by the Labor Department, which proposed $1.6 billion in savings.

Labor's proposal would eliminate 70,000 of 450,000 public service CETA jobs initially budgeted for unemployed adults. It also would cut summer jobs for poor teen-agers in half, from 1 million to 500,000, and scrap a program to provide 21,900 jobs for underprivileged youths in national parks. The Transportation Department proposed $895 million in cuts, with about half coming from the highway construction budget and most of the rest from airport runway and railroad track improvement projects. The Department of Housing and Urban Development suggested trimming $75 million, mostly from a grant program for community development projects.

The Agriculture Department is considering cuts in some loan programs.

Long distance rates will go up if Bell gets hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Long-distance telephone rates would go up if the Bell Telephone System wins its request for a 10.5 percent rate increase.

Officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. said Monday they need the across-the-board increase because inflation is wiping out Bell's efforts to cut costs. The increase would generate $1.2 billion a year in additional revenue, Bell said in its request to the Federal Communications Commission. Bell wants a 5.6 percent increase in June for overseas and out-of-state calls and an additional 4.9 percent jump in October.

Earlier this month, AT&T announced record earnings of $5.7 billion in 1979, the largest annual profit ever reported by a single company.

drop in toll revenues, taxes the traffic decline, while roads with heavy commuter and commercial

By WILLIAM GNASGALL AP Business Writer

Many states and highway authorities across the nation were hit with a drop in fuel-tax and toll revenues in 1979 as gasoline shortages and sharp price increases combined to keep U.S. motorists off the road.

State officials and Wall Street bond analysts say the revenue slowdown could lead to delays in highway maintenance and to boosts in tax and toll

The slowdown has hit as soaring interest rates are forcing states to pay more for the money they borrow and as spiraling crude oil prices have pushed up the price of petroleumbased asphalt paving by nearly 31 percent over the past year. U.S. gasoline use fell 5 percent from 1978 to 1979. The Energy Department predicts gasoline use will fall 2.4 percent more in 1980 as prices continue to rise and as new-car fuel mileage im-

A doubling of foreign crude oil prices and other factors pushed the average price of a gallon of regular leaded gasoline up by nearly 40 cents last year to $1.06. The price could hit $1.52 by the end of 1980, according to the Energy Department.

The Federal Highway Administration estimates state fuel tax collections nationwide totaled $9.8 billion last year, a slim 0.9 percent ahead of the $9.7 billion collected in 1978.

REVENUES FROM state fuel taxes, which now average about 14 cents a gallon, had been rising at a 5 percent-a-year rate in 1976-78.

The slowdown also is affecting revenues from the 4-cents-a-gallon federal levy on gasoline and diesel fuel, with collections in the fiscal year ended last Sept. 30 of $4.86 billion — 2.2 percent ahead of those for fiscal

Duncan reports on Saudis

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Energy Secretary Charles W. Duncan ended a three-day visit to this oil-rich kingdom today assured the Saudis are "determined to be statesmanlike in their energy policies," a U.S. Embassy spokesman said. The spokesman, speaking after Duncan had left for Washington, said the secretary's talks with Crown Prince Fahd, Oil Minister Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani and other Saudi officials were of a "rather general nature. Saudi Arabia, which provides 20 percent of the more than 8 million barrels imported daily by the United States, has often acted as a moderating force within the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries. Its current $26 per-barrel price is lower than that charged by many oil-producing nations.

"No specific requests were made of either side. There was general agreement that continuing, more regular discussions be held between the parties on energy issues worldwide," the spokesman said. He added there had been "no specific discussion of numbers - either of production levels or price."

There have been reports that Saudi Arabia was preparing to cut back production levels from 9.5 million barrels a day to its official ceiling of 8.5 million barrels. The kingdom increased production following cutbacks in world oil supplies caused by the 1978-79 Iranian revolution.

Rivadh had argued that, by exceeding its official ceiling, it was supporting world economic stability. At the same time, Saudi officials said the United States should not put added pressure on the international market by building up its strategic reserves.

That buildup has since been stopped and Washington has said it would not resume reserve purchases without first consulting its allies and oil-producing countries.

The U.S. spokesman said Duncan sought to impress on the Saudis that the Carter administration "is determined to reduce consumption through various methods." Saudi officials have in the past expressed concern over what they consider excessive oil consumption in the United States.

"It was clear to the secretary that the Saudis also are determined to be statesmanlike in their energy policies in view of the world needs and the importance of the Saudi role in the world economy as concerns energy," Duncan arrived in the Saudi oil center of Dhahran on Saturday. He

The Pennsylvania Turnpike logged a 6 percent drop in traffic last year. In Illinois, traffic on rural and interstate roads was down by about 10 to 20 percent last summer from levels of a year earlier, while city traffic was off by 6 percent.

Toll revenues on the New Jersey Turnpike, a major truck and commuter route linking the New York and Philadelphia areas, rose about $47,000 last year to $100.9 million.

BUT ON NEW Jersey's Garden State Parkway, which over much of its distance is restricted to passenger cars only, collections fell $156,000 to $65.3 million.

Toll revenues fell 1.1 percent last year to $79.9 million on the New York State Thruway, and spokesman David Alexander said the road is "seriously considering a toll increase" to help pay for a $150 million rehabilitation program.

"We've got to get some new dough," said Alexander, who added the Thruway does not "expect to get back to present revenues until around 1981 or 1982." Ten states raised fuel taxes last year, said Gladstone, while others are planning boosts in 1980. In Florida, a gubernatorial commission has recommended raising the state's 8 cents-a-gallon gasoline tax by 4 cents. It said the new tax rate should be allowed to rise with climbing prices to keep revenues from dropping as sales fall.

But last year's increases didn't always work as intended.

PENNSYLVANIA HAD hoped a 2cent boost to 11 cents a gallon in the state's gasoline tax would add $100 million to the state's coffers. Officials now believe that the state will fall $60 million short of its $569 million gasoline tax revenue goal for the year ending June 30. "The public has now realized that not only Pennsylvania but the entire nation will never again have the abundant supplies of gas they were once used to," said a spokesman for Gov. Dick Thornburgh's Energy Council.
