Anderson will seek office 'unfettered'

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois dropped out of the race for the Republican presidential nomination today and announced he would run as an independent candidate "unfettered by party positions.

"I have chosen this course of action because it is now clear that I cannot attain a majority of the delegates who will be attending the Republican National Convention in July," Anderson said.

While he will remain a Republican, Anderson said he is convinced there is enough voter dissatisfaction with President Carter and the Republican front-runner, Ronald Reagan, to allow him to become the first independent candidate ever to win a presidential election

His first campaign trip as an inde pendent will begin Saturday with stops in New York City, Washington, Atlanta, West Virginia, Detroit, Lansing, Mich., and Boston.

In a prepared statement, Anderson said he was releasing all convention delegates pledged to support him at the GOP convention in Detroit this summer. In his 10-month campaign as a Republican, Anderson had gained only 57 delegate votes, trailing Reagan and George Bush, and had never won a primary

But of those Republicans who have backed him so far, he said, "I am inviting their continued support of meand my independent candidacy.

He acknowledged there are serious legal obstacles that could prevent him from getting his name on the ballot in some states for the November general election

But Anderson said he is confident the obstacles will be overcome and that "I will remain as an independent candidate through Election Day.

Anderson noted that some public opinion polls show he would receive. between 18 percent and 21 percent of the vote if the election were held today, with Carter and Reagan splitting the rest.

Anderson said half the American voters know little about him

"I can reach out and touch those people," he said, "and that is where my campaign will succeed."

Anderson said his campaign will return $307,000 in federal matching funds which have not yet been spent and that henceforth his campaign will be financed with private contributions As of March 31, according to a report filed recently with the Federal Election Commission, Anderson had raised $5 million and spent $4.47 million on his GOP campaign.

Despite his inability to attract enough Republican votes to become a serious challenger to Reagan. Anderson said the reasons that led him initially to run for the White House "have been reinforced."

Less than an inch of rain recorded

Rain-starved Permian Basin communities received welcome showers from late-night thunderstorms Wednesday and early today, but the measurements generally were less than an inch-

Small hail also peppered most communities - including Midland - as the thunderstorms roamed the area. There were no reports of damage.

Midland received 67 inch of rain and quarter-inch hail between 11:45 p.m. Wednesday and 1:45 a.m. today, according to the National Weather Service office at Midland Regional Airport

The rain boosted the total this month to 86 inch and the yearly accumulation thus far to 1.64 inches

Most measurements reported in Midland ranged from .51 inch to .61 inch. In the area immediately outside the city, measurements ranged as high as 75 inch

The Midland Farmer's Coop, located just east of the Midland city limits, reported receiving 5 inch and some small hail, though not enough to cause damage The Warfield community, about 15 miles southwest of Midland, received 5 inch of rain and small hail

Greenwood, located 10 miles east of Midland, received 3 inch of rain, but no hail, and Midkiff, 35 miles southeast of Midland, received light show ers both Tuesday and Wednesday nights

All area communities reported receiving light showers or thunderstorms Wednesday night, but the largest measurement was 5 inch at Big Spring, accompanied by small hail.

Stanton received 25 inch of rain and Lamesa and Garden City each reported receiving 2 inch. Stanton also received marble size hail and Garden City received small hail Rainfall measurements from Odessa ranged from 3 inch to 7 inch. according to the weather service office.

Meanwhile, the weather forecast for Midland for today was calling for increasing cloudiness with a chance of thunderstorms, a few possibly severe, this afternoon. It should become partly cloudy tonight and Friday with a slight chance of showers.

School, found the bird on the school grounds - to Midland bird expert Midge Erskine (Staff unable to fly. The young man said he would - Photo by Bruce Partain) either care for the bird himself or turn it over

Today's 50 percent probability of rain will diminish to 20 percent tonight and Friday

Low temperature tonight should be near 50 and the high on Friday should only reach the upper 60s

Wind tonight should blow out of the southwest at 10-15 mph

Wednesday's high temperature was 87 and this morning's low reading was 31 Record for Wednesday's date is 95 degrees, set in 1965. Record low for today's date is 37 degrees set in 1968.

Midland's market suffering, but some relief seen

Staff Writer

The declining real estate market that has been spreading across the rest of the nation for several months has hit Midland according to Joan Rames who is president of the Midand Board of Realtors

Mrs. Rames, a member of the Midland Chamber of Commerce board of directors, presented her not so cheers report Wednesday during the board s monthly meeting in the chamber building

January and February showed strong sales in the housing market she said, but attributed it to low interest home mortgage money from a bond program which began in late November 1979

Money from that program is gone. and people are not busing older bottles of having new ones built she

IN MARCH 1979, 193 units were sold for more than $9 million. This past March only 135 units were sold for about $6 million Mrs. Ramey cited figures from April 1979 in which 129 units were sold for about $6 million So far this month, only 76 units have been sold for about $3 million

Local people are not making soluntary moves at this time she noted. People moving in here that are able to buy a home are doing it. with their company subsidizing part of the interest rate.

The maximum interest rate of about 16.5 percent for a home loan is

adsing other problems for home. hurry

About 1 - years ago if someone wanted to buy a $50,000 house, the monthly payment was about $519 Now that payment is $773.58, she and That higher payment means it takes more income to qualify for the house

For example, 1 - years ago, a fami wanting a $50 000 home would have make $25,000 a year. Now, for that ame price the family must have $17.131 a sear

People are having to reduce their tandard of living 30 percent to qualify for home mortgages. Mrs. Ramey

People who have sold their homes in ther cities to move here are holding back on buying a house. The Realtor pointed out those people have 18 months to reinvest their money be fore the government will begin taxing it subsequently, these people are hoping interest rates will drop by the time they must reinvest.

And Midland County Commission ers' work on a low interest home. mortgage program - similar to the one undertaken by the city in 1979 has stopped some people from buying a house in the hopes they can get this. hond money

However, relief may be in sight, she pointed out. Major banks in the country have started dropping the prime interest rate and FHA announced it is dropping its interest rate from 14 percent to 13 percent with three points

She later commented that she expects the interest rate to level out by the end of the year and the housing industry to see an upswing. However, I don't think we'll ever get below a double digit interest rate. We will always have 10 percent or more

Ray Moudy, president of Citizen Savings and Loan Association and the Midland Chamber, added that legisla tion recently passed by Congress authorizes variable rate mortgages and re negotiable mortgages and should boost the housing market

One homebuilder, Bill Hickey. pointed out that Mrs. Ramey's sales figures were for existing homes and that the new home industry "looks even bleaker. They're (figures) still way down for new homes

That drop in real estate hurts Mid land economically. Moudy said "We can't get the people to come here and stay with the high cost of housing.

"THE LACK OF housing here will choke us to death if we don't do something," noted Decker Dawson.

Bankers are looking at ways to relieve the situation, said Bill Malone of Commercial Bank & Trust Company We're working on a program for new homes that are $67,500 and below to try and keep the housing industry going here

Moudy added that two housing factories are looking at locating in Midland They are similar to one in Lubbock They're (the houses) small, but adequate housing.

Soviet Union drawing closer to Iran's economy

By The Associated Press

The Soviet Union, drawing closer economically to revolutionary Iran. announced today it will soon reopen negotiations on buying Iranian natu ral gas. The Soviets also confirmed they will open their highways to more Iranian commerce in an emergency meaning a U.S. sea blockade of Iran

Heavy casualties were reported. meanwhile, in new fighting in rebellious Kurdistan. A Turkish newspaper said Iranian jet fighters killed 200 women and children in an attack on one Kurdish village

In Tehran, the 50 American hos tages were spending their 173rd in captivity at the U.S. Embassy

Iran stopped piping natural gas to the Soviet Union in mid-March when negotiations for a new contract broke down. The Soviets had offered to pay-$2.20 per thousand cubic meters, but the Iranians reportedly sought a price just below the current world level of $4 In their last contract the Soviets had paid 60 cents

Radio Moscow said today the negotiations would resume soon

It was unclear whether the Soviets had agreed to bargain at the higher price, or the Iranians had lowered their demands. But the Western economic pressure building on Iran including the cutoff of oil exports to Japan - may have forced the Irani ans into a conciliatory position

The gas had been shipped through a 1

690 mile pipeline from southwestern Iran's petroleum region to Soviet Ar menia and Azerbaijan

The Tehran government said ear lier this week the Soviet Union had agreed to let Iran increase use of its roads if the United States blockades. its southern water route. Moscow Radio confirmed the report today. saving. The two nations have reached an agreement for Iran in case of emergency to use Soviet territory to import various goods

A railroad runs through Soviet Azerbaijan into Iran, and Moscow announced earlier this month that it was completing a trucking center on the Iranian border that would "dramatically increase" the volume of Iran bound freight shipped through the Soviet Union

Iran this week announced new trade agreements with other East bloc nations. It said it was increasing oil sales to Romania to 100,000 from 60,000 barrels daily under an agree ment signed Sunday, and an agree ment was signed with East Germany Wednesday on developing cooperation in industrial, agricultural, en ergy and trade matters

Alireza Nobari, governor of Iran's central bank, said Iran is moving its petrodollars out of banks in Common-Market countries and Japan as the threat of an export embargo by America's allies on May 17 drives the Tehran regime closer to the Soviet bloc

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a two-part series on the candidates for justice of the peace place 1 in the May 3 primary.

Three Republicans seek justice of peace post

By DAVID CAMPBELL Staff Writer

The three Republican hopefuls in the May 3 primary for justice of the peace place 1, currently held by John Biggs, stated several different reasons why they decided to run for the post

However, Charlie Sprayberry, Al Sisk and Luis Salinas agreed the age and health of the incumbent and the need for a younger person in that position were primary reasons for throwing their hats into the political ring

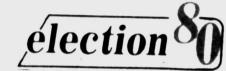

After consulting with and receiving encouragement from several friends, Sprayberry said the present justice of the peace has lost the personal aspect of the court.

'In Midland County, both justices of the peace have been there a long time (Because of that) the position has become routine and mundane," he charged

"It's hard to get a fair and impartial hearing when the interest in the individual has been taken away." Sprayberry said.

Sisk said his concern for the rights of the Texas citizen caused him to get involved. "The rights of the criminal are being protected." he stated. However, the law is designed to protect the rights of all."

Salinas said he always wanted the post noting he ran against Peace Justice Robert Pine four years ago. Since 90 percent of the justice of the peace's work deals with law enforcement, his 24 year experience with the Midland and Raymondville police departments should give him an insight to the process, he said.

But, this experience would not lend bias in providing a fair and impartial hearing to all, he stated.

"I believe in fair, firm and equal justice," Salinas said. "Just because I have worked for the police for 24 years does not mean I will favor the police.

'I have an interest in the community and (must) answer to the citizens of the community," he continued. "I just can't throw it away and go strictly with law enforcement.

The most important duty of the justice of the peace, according to Sprayberry, is to hold an impartial court within the guidelines of the law. "One can not over- or under-sentence anyone," he said. "You have to look at both sides and render a fair judgment," he added.

Being available is considered the most important task by both Sa-

Nostalgia big air show draw

By ED TODD Staff Writer

ODESSA - Classic, antique, aerobatic and warring aircraft of World War II vintage will be flying, rumbling, streaking, rolling and looping over Odessa's skies Saturday and Sunday in the fourth annual Roy Schlemeyer Memorial Air Show at Schlemeyer Field.

"It's going to be, obviously, a bigger show (than previously) because we've got more events and more participation by the Confederate Air Force," said Bill Wicks, air show coordinator who's a CAF colonel and an aerobatic pilot.

The two-day aerial event is being jointly sponsored the Experimental Aircraft Association's Chapter 123 and the Midland-Odessa-based Desert Squadron of the CAF's West Texas Wing.

Attraction to the show, which is expected to draw 10,000 to 15,000 paying spectators, largely is based on the thrill of watching precision fliers put agile aerobatic aircraf, through 'spectacular' maneuvers and the nostalgic sight and rumbling sound of piston-powered radial and in-line-engine airplanes from the 1939-45 era.

"I THINK PEOPLE are going into the nostalgia of World War II airplanes," Wicks said of the apparently increasing appeal of old warbirds. We have the most active of any CAF wing (in the country.)'

The CAF is dedicated to the preservations and respect of the relatively few remaining flyable World War II aircraft from both sides - the Allies and the Axis Powers.

To date, 28 World War II and earlier warbirds and approximately 15 aerobatic airplanes will be taking to the air this weekend. And a sky-diving team, directed by masterchutist Jim Fowler of Crane, will be jumping and flying through the air on their air-foil chutes

FLY-OVERS BY CAF and EAA aircraft from 8 to 8:30 a.m. Saturday and Sunday will signal beginning of the weekend airshow. Aerobatic competition will get under way late on Saturday and Sunday mornings, and other flying activities will take place both afternoons.

Aircraft to be flying in the show and their pilots include

Exiles defying orders, refugee count at 1,000

KEY WEST, Fla (AP) - The we don't expect any to be," said Coast stream of Cuban refugees was devel oping into a flood today, with 200 more arriving here at daylight and at least another 1,000 reported on their way in a flotilla of hundreds of boats

The refugees are crossing the Straits of Florida in boats piloted by Cuban exiles and others willing to defy U.S. State Department orders

When the 40-foot Surgidero named for a city in Cuba - dropped off 55 Cubans here at 9 a m. it brought the total number of refugees to about 1,000 since the Cuban government began encouraging the "boatlift" on Sunday

Boat captains arriving today said they passed hundreds of boats crossing the 90 miles between Cuba and the tip of the Florida Keys.

"There's got to be 500 or 600 boats out there. There're lots of little ones. some with 55-gallon drums (of spare fuel) in the back," said Tony Ravello, captain of the Surgidero.

'There are still continuous launchings. We know that there are at least 300 en route to Cuba. It's going to get a lot busier," said Key West Coast Guard Cmdr. Samuel Dennis

Granma, the Cuban Communist Party newspaper, said 444 "antisocial elements" left the port of Mariel on Wednesday, and that 94 boats from the United States were in Mariel at the end of the day, waiting to be loaded.

The exodus continued despite harsh warnings that bringing in illegal aliens was a crime. The boatlift also undermined international efforts to evacuate the thousands of Cubans who sought refuge at the Peruvian Embassy in Havana, U.S. State Department spokesman Thomas Reston said.

However, local Immigration and Naturalization Service and Coast Guard officials weren't showing any inclination to stop the boats.

"My boss told me, don't you dare arrest anybody," one unidentified immigration officer was quoted by The Miami News.

"I have no messages or information about any boats being detained, and

Guard spokesman Mike Kelty He said the Coast Guard was advising returning boats to proceed directly to U.S. Customs docks

Duty officer Robert Flynn said the Coast Guard had eight search and rescue operations under way this morning, as boats became grounded or stalled. The 95-foot cutter Cape Shoalwater was patroling off the Coast to help boats in distress

Vessels were putting to sea from Key West Marina every five minutes Wednesday as bidding for charter boats reached as high as $10,000 Some 495 refugees docked here Wednesday aboard six boats A boat also slipped into harbor at Miami with 65 refugees aboard.

The refugees were bused from Key West to a community center in Miami's Little Havana district, where they were processed by INS agents and greeted by a crowd of exiles. hoping to find relatives.

Silvia Camarazo, who was not expecting relatives, said, "They are all my brothers, poor things. Welcome!"

Is there anything that can be done about our apartment complex? We haven't had any heat or air conditioning in two and one-half weeks. This is not the first time either.

We have also requested some other maintenance work be done in our apartment, but the manager seems to always to forget us, until she wants to

By the way, the whole complex is out of heat and air conditioning. The people who own it are in Minneapolis, Minn. - K.H.C.

ANSWER: You might try contacting Jetta Shoemate at 694-6460.

She is president of the Midland Apartment Association and possibly can be of some assistance to you.

If my mother marries again, will she still get my father's Social Security?

She gets around $400 a month. Thanks. - R.F.

ANSWER: Answer Line contacted the Social Security Administration office, 683-3396. This office is located at 200 E. Wall Ave.

We were told there are many "ifs and buts" in such a situation, and you might want to contact the office yourself.

However, in general, if a widow, 60 years of age or over, remarries there is no loss of her Social Security benefits. There also is the possibility she will receive more benefits if the new husband has earned more through Social Security than the previous husband.

I would like more information on the Postal Alert Protection System I have been hearing about. Could you help? - Mrs. M.F.

ANSWER: Courtesy of The First National Bank's publication, "Bank Notes," this system is a free service offered to the community.

All singles (living alone), senior citizens and all handicapped individuals are eligible for the program.

Interested individuals should contact Senior Services at the First Christian Church, 682-7577 or 682-1451.

An information sheet should be completed by personal interview regarding name, address, phone number, etc., of the participant.

Similar information regarding relatives, neighbors and close friends also will need to be obtained.

A Postal Alert sticker will then be placed on the inside of the mailbox to alert the mail carrier to that individual's participation.

In the event a disturbance or illness is noted, the letter carrier will contact his supervisor or the Senior Services office, who will then notify the designated name on file.

To ensure your participation in the program, contact Pat Faulkner at the Senior Services office or the Rev. Steve Edwards at First Christian Church, 682-2541.

New MC short courses to start next week

Midland College's short course offerings starting next week range from learning to drive and redoing bathrooms to cooking and entertaining.

These are being offered to Midland area residents through the MC Department of Community Services.

Defensive Driving, taught by Mike Butler, will explain and illustrate various preventative techniques designed to improve driving skills. Instruction will be done through the use of audio and visual aids and a written text Classes are limited to 35 students who will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Wednesday. Course fee is $15.

Creative Designs for Bathrooms will deal with methods of renovating outdated or dull bathrooms with emphasis on working with what is available. Ellon Hinson, course instructor, will show students how to make the room attractive without incurring major expenses. Classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday. Course fee is $6.

Microwave Cooking II is designed for advance students who would like to use the microwave to its fullest potential. Jennifer Cochran will offer hints on meal preparation, and will cook three full meals and party snacks during the one session to be held from 7 to 10 p.m. May 1.

Course fee is $5 and the class is limited to 35 students.

You're Invited is the title of a new course which will explain behind-the-scene preparations that make a party successful.

Instructor Lola Igou discusses ways to prepare a guest list and time schedule and how to select the proper menu. She will give information about table settings and buffet arrangements and demonstrate party tray decorations.

Classes will meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Monday and May 5. Course fee is $6.

Students may pre-register for these courses in Room 156 of the Midland College Administration Building. The office will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. More information may be obtained by telephoning the college, 684-7851, extension 147 or 216.

Roses and politics

It gets weary, this Rose Garden seclusion of Jimmy Carter's.

That isn't to say it's all bad. It isn't, we don't think. But it isn't all good, either.

President Carter has said he won't hit the campaign trail as long as the 50 Americans are held hostage in Tehran. He's stuck to his word and, probably, gained some political points for refusing to engage in politics.

But it's hard to understand exactly why President Carter refuses to come out of the Rose Garden.

During the first three or four months of the hostages' captivity, we could understand President Carter's reasoning. He probably was deeply involved in delicate negotiations and needed to stay close to Washington.

But does he need to now? The United States appears to have been foiled at every turn by Iran and now diplomatic ties with that country have been broken.

Certainly we would rather see Jimmy Carter staying in Washington taking care of the business at hand rather than stumping around the country trying to pick up votes - if it was doing some good. But apparently it isn't. Perhaps the president simply doesn't feel the need to become involved in political rhetoric. Sen. Edward Kennedy is the only Democratic contender who has even come close to mounting a serious challenge to Jimmy Carter's bid for renomination.

JAMES N. ALLISON JR. (1931-1978)

But it could also be argued that President Carter is hesitant to hit the campaign trail because of the tough questions awaiting him regarding his domestic policy questions of spiralling inflation, record high interest rates and domestic aid programs.

The American people want the answers to some of those questions and as long as President Carter stays off the campaign trail he won't have to provide those answers - or try to.

But it's getting down to the wire now. Time is starting to run out for the president.

It's almost a foregone conclusion that President Carter will win renomination. But some candidate also will be nominated from the Republican Party.

And, of course, political campaigning will get under way for the November general election.

That's when Jimmy Carter will have to face the voters in this country and start providing some answers to the questions - if he knows those answers.

allies will agree to boycott the country. It is possible that such a move would secure the release of the hostages being held in Tehran. Iran's supposed oil-supply stranglehold on Western Europe and Japan is actually no more than a minor inconvenience, the CIA has reported. Japan's and Europe's need for Iranian oil is far less than Iran's need for foodstuffs bought on credit. Ayatollah Khomeini and the Revo lutionary Council insist that Iran is self-sufficient, but this

Watergate alumni honor talkative Gordon Liddy

WASHINGTON - This month the Watergate Alumni Assn. honors one of its most prestigious members, G. Gordon Liddy. Mr. Liddy is a cult hero to those who thought Watergate was a noble endeavor, distorted by the press. Liddy's reluctance to speak out, or blow the whistle on other members of the Nixon team, gave him the image of a brave soldier who could not be broken by the forces of evil which were investigating the conspiracy.

It now turns out that the reason Liddy held his silence during all these years is that had he spoken out earlier he would have not been protected by the statute of limitations concerning crimes he advocated when he was one of John Mitchell's most trusted election advisors.

According to his book, Liddy advocated killing columnist Jack Anderson, and made preparations to knock off Howard Hunt, set up a floating brothel at the Democratic National Convention, and organize a Cuban commando team to sabotage the air conditioning system at Miami Convention Hall. His imagination and devotion to President Nixon's re-election has never been questioned, and the only thing that stood in his way was foot dragging on the part of the Nixon White House staff as well as a lack of money

As with all Watergate heroes, Liddy is now a hot media property

He was given more time than any author is ever allotted on the "Today" show. Time Magazine bought excerpts from the book, and put his picture on the cover. Talk show hosts from all over the country have been calling his publisher day and night to get him to appear on their programs.

I'm sure there is now bidding on the TV rights, and if Mr. Liddy follows the careers of other Watergate alumni he will soon be busy on the lecture circuit

I believe he deserves it. A convicted criminal who believes in murder, illegal breakins, and sabotaging the election system in this country should be given the media recognition he deserves and also be compensated for his inspiring story. There are so many people in prisons now who never get any applause for the crimes they commit, that it is heartwarming to see one of them cash in so handsomely on his criminal endeavors

Those who still believe that President Nixon was guilty of condoning his staff to act the way they did, are urged to read Liddy's memoirs. They will discover, much to their surprise, that the tragedy of Watergate was not that people like Liddy were caught, but that he didn't succeed in wiping out the enemies of the State

We should all be grateful to St. Martin's Press (which had a first printing of 100,000 copies) for making it possible for G. Gordon Liddy to tell his side of the Watergate story. Without the book, we would still believe that Liddy was a nut, and probably the fruitiest of all the fruitcakes in the White House. Now we can see him on television in living color, and realize he was just as sane as President Nixon.

The only thing that saddened me when I read this joyous book was that Liddy had been caught and sent to the slammer. I like to believe that if Watergate had not surfaced, Liddy could have been the next director of the FBI.

Iran must still import vast quantities of food, and many of the countries that supply the needed food are not particularly friendly to the Iranian government. They are likely to cut off credit any day, according to intelligence sources

What makes matters worse, from the Iranians' point of view, is that the country's food imports depend on its oil exports - and many of its biggest oil customers don't need Iranian oil just now

Iran's biggest oil customer at present is Japan, which imports 520,000 barrels a day. But what the ayatollah doesn't realize is that Japan has been buying oil from other producers to the point where it could last more than 110 days if it didn't get another drop of petroleum from any source.

Another big Iranian customer, West Germany, has stockpiled enough oil to last three months, according to CIA sources. In fact, Germany, Japan, France and Italy are now getting a lokyo noted that Japan rejected Iran's recent price hike of $2.50 a barrel - and got away with it.

The important point is that Iran's economy depends on its oil exports. It must sell 1.6 million barrels a day just to stay alive - and most of its sales are to U.S. allies, according to intelligence analysts.

"There's no way they could buy adequate amounts of food if credit isn't extended," a CIA analyst told my associate Dale Van Atta. In fact, he said, a boycott of Iranian oil would "bring Iran to its knees in less than two months unless they get charity from Arab countries."

What puts Khomeini in such a vulnerable position - undeniable even by the Arab oil moguls - is that there is now a worldwide glut of oil. The surplus hasn't brought any price reductions, but it does give Iran far less clout in its dealings with the nations that buy Iranian oil. It's not a buyer's market as far as price is concerned, but the oil-consuming industrial na-tries to see this for himself." Yamani added: "The free world's oil supplies in 1979 increased 4 percent over 1978 despite the fact that one of the major Middle Eastern oil-producing countries (Iran) reduced its production that year."

In other words, as expert sources have concluded, the circumstances couldn't be better for a squeeze on Iran.

.TOO OILY: Although Jimmy Carter's people claim Ted Kennedy's challenge is already dead, they're still not going to give him any live ammunition. At a recent Energy Department staff meeting, for example, a regulation was proposed that would mean more money for oil refiners. Hazel Rollins, a presidentially appointed official, decreed that the politically risky proposal would be shelved "until August" - when, coincidentally, the Democratic National Convention and Kennedy's bid will be over.

DON'T CALL US: The Robert A. Fletchers, a retired couple in Cheltenham, Md., have a problem that's unique to the Washington, D.C., area: They keep getting phone calls intended for a member of Congress. The trouble is that their suburban home's phone number is similar to one in the government's internal telephone system. As a result, when people try to call Rep. Howard Wolpe, D-Mich., at his Federal Telephone System number - but from a phone outside the system - they get the Fletchers in-

Although the big shots pay for their accommodations, the Park Service pays about $27,000 to maintain the places.

Then Liddy ran across town to 'Good Morning America'' and said he had been prepared to murder Jack Anderson. Then Anderson came on and shook Liddy's hand - which was very painful because Liddy was holding a flame under his hand at the time.

Liddy's image of brutality has been overplayed. Actually he likes nothing more than to relax with a good book by the fire - make that IN the fire.

government have a right to call themselves "Sandinistas.

That, of course, could be taken to mean that the three civilian members of the junta - Mrs. Violeta Barrios de Chamorro, widow of the murdered newspaper editor, Pedro Joaquin Chamorro, and Sergio Ramirez and Alfonso Robelo - are not really Sandinistas, despite the fact that they actively opposed the Somoza regime over a period of many years.

To head off the possibility of being left in the lurch, Robelo already has formally announced that the Nicaraguan Democratic Movement (NDM) that he founded in 1972 is becoming a political party.

Robelo argues, as do many other Nicaraguans, that the revolution that toppled the Somoza dynasty belongs to all Nicaraguans, not just to the Sandinistas.

Most Nicaraguans would agree with him. Opposition to Somoza was not limited to one sector of the population. Rather it cut across ideological, social and economic lines

Robelo himself is illustrative of that.

A 41-year-old, U.S.-educated chemical engineer, a 1961 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., Robelo is a wealthy man

Not all the damage in Nicaragua was caused by quake

Clearly, Robelo, like many other Nicaraguans, opposed Somoza without favoring a Communist or Marxist solution to the country's problems. But it is a Marxist solution Nicaragua is getting

The Sandinistas already control the embryonic army and the police force. They hold all strategically important government offices. They are trying to set up their labor organization. They control education. Their economic policies and management of the banking system are throttling business, industry and agriculture.

Now that it is obvious that the Marxist-led Sandinistas are tightening their stranglehold on Nicaragua, Robelo has started speaking out, demanding that the private sector be given due credit for the part it played in the successful struggle to bring Somoza down.

This, of course, does not sit well with the Marxists. They would like, the world to think that they toppled Somoza all by themselves.

"The Sandinista Front of National Liberation (is) the sole trustee of the struggles, historical heritage and revolutionary leadership of our people," the organization declared in a lengthy statement printed in Barricada, the daily newspaper that is its official organ

The front then went on to affirm that it is nationalist and that "a nationalism that is not anti-imperialist cannot favor the interests of the peo-

It declared that the controversial "literacy crusade is not only going to free the large illiterate peasant population, but also the thousands of youths who yesterday were being domesticated to accept like sheep the trade unionism' and 'ideological pluralism' (which) hide the interest of the enemies of our workers by keeping them divided and preventing their monolithic, organic and political individual values," the front's statement affirmed, but added that "We would never permit that in the name of freedom of religion, of beliefs, and religious values counterrevolution be waged."

That sort of talk, and the Sandinistas' obvious determination to make the words deeds, confirmed the worst

Robelo was the first prominent figure to capitalize on the concerns of his countrymen. He obviously entertains political ambitions and has told interviewers that he may be a candidate for the presidency, when elections are held in three or four years.

But many observers in Nicaragua think that things will come to a head

WORLD BRIEFS Police arrest four Israelis

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Police today arrested four Israeli settlers, armed with stones and hammers, after Arabs in two West Bank towns north of Jerusalem complained that their car windows had been smashed, Israel's West Bank military government said. Israel Radio said as many as 100 cars and several houses may have been damaged in the towns of Ramallah and El Bireh.

Arab youths retaliated by stoning two Israeli cars on a main road near Ramallah, a military government spokesman said. Troops chased the youths into the a school, where one was apprehended, he said

'Some shots were fired'' during the chase but no injuries were reported, the spokesman said. Ramallah Mayor Kerim Khalaf said more than 200 persons were arrested.

"As they attacked our cities, we are planning to attack the settlements with stones," Khalaf told The Associated Press in a telephone interview. "We are ready to face their bullets."

Twenty-four Arab car owners complained that their windshields were smashed during the night, the military government spokesman said.

The settlers, who were not identified, were arrested after police in Ramallah stopped their car at about 1 a.m. and found a box of stones and several hammers in the vehicle, the spokesman said

"We regard incidents such as this very seriously and will act to prevent them," he said

Liberian army orders 13 to be executed

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) - Ignoring Western appeals for clemency, the army enlisted men who seized power in Liberia two weeks ago ordered the executions of 13 members of the deposed government although an officers' tribunal sentenced seven of them to life imprisonment and acquitted two of them.

The president of the military court, Col. Frank P. Senkpenni, told reporters his tribunal was overruled by the 17-man People's Redemption Council headed by President Samuel K. Doe.

Doe, a 28-year-old master sergeant, led the April 12 military coup that overthrew President William R. Tolbert's government. Tolbert died in the coup, reportedly slain by Doe.

The dead president's elder brother, Edward, chairman of the Senate, was among the 13 men executed Tuesday on a Monrovia beach while thousands cheered. He also was one of the four

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Now that the people of Starr County have made it clear they don't want a state prison in their neighborhood, Gene and Merle Lutrick want to re-extend their invitation to come to Dell City

Gene Lutrick is the president of the tiny West Texas city's chamber of commerce and his wife, Merle, is the mayor. They both think a prison would do economic wonders for the 600 residents of the city 90 miles east of El Paso.

The State Board of Corrections ended its quiet land negotiations Tuesday by voting to buy La Casita Farm in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for $7.8 million. However, the Approval Board which reviews said Tuesday the area is too isolated. Wrong government is sued

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - A local realty company has sued the wrong government, according to a lawyer representing Iran. Uncle Sam, not the Ayatollah, is responsible for the trouble Associated Builders Realtors Inc. has had trying to sell the former Lubbock home of the Iranian Crown Prince.

"If plaintiff has a cause of action against anyone, it would be against the president of the United States, the secretary of the treasury, the United States government or its various agencies and instrumentalities," contended Dallas lawyer Louis P. Bickel Wednesday.

Bickel made the argument in his answer to an April 15 suit brought by the real estate company, which said that the taking of hostages and subsequent freeze of Iranian assets in the United States breached the contract between the company and the Iranian government.

The inability of the realty firm to sell the house, Bickel argued "is a result of the freeze of Iranian assets within the United states and said freeze was ordered by the govern-203 W. Wall ment of the United States and not by the defendant."

Bickel also asked that the suit be dismissed for lack of venue and jurisdiction, and because the Iranian government is entitled to "foreign sovereign" immunity from lawsuits.

Texans want to know about recommendations

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Attorney General Mark White says Texans have a legitimate interest in knowing who is recommending whom for appointment by the governor to state boards, commissions and courts.

White said the governor's files of memos and letters concerning appointments are subject to disclosure. He said the only exceptions allowed under the Texas Open Records Act are documents that contain derogatory information. Gov. Bill Clements requested the open records opinion after his staff denied The Associated Press and KTBC-TV of Austin access to letters and memos about appointments.

The requests were made while Clements was deciding whom to appoint to fill vacancies on the Texas Public Utility Commission and the Texas Supreme Court last summer. White noted that former Attorney General John Hill had told then Gov. Dolph Briscoe in 1978 that letters recommending persons for gubernatorial appointments were subject to disclosure.

Clements contended such disclosure would invade the privacy of persons making recommendations and that there was no legitimate public concern over appointments until the governor made them.

"At least insofar as the person making the recommendation is concerned, the chance that an invasion of privacy might exist is substantially diminished since no recommendation submitted after the issuance of (Hill's 1978 opinion) could have been made in the expectation that it would be private," White said.

He went on to say, "We cannot agree with the position that the public has no legitimate interest in knowing who has been recommended by whom for appointment to state offices prior to the time a decision is made by the governor." Says he wants to rid Iran of foreign domination

EDITOR'S NOTE: Alexander G. Higgins was an Associated Press correspondent in Tehran, Iran, until Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolutionary regime expelled American correspondents in January and closed the AP bureau. Higgins is now stationed in Cyprus.

By ALEXANDER G. HIGGINS

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini says he is leading a holy war to free Iran of foreign domination. But Iran's ethnic minorities and leftist students are fighting to free themselves from his domination.

According to the official Iranian media, more than 400 persons have been killed in clashes between government troops and Kurdish rebels in northwest Iran in the past week. Turkey's largest independent newspaper, Hurriyet, reported Iranian troops killed at least 500 Kurds in other recent fighting.

Along with border skirmishes and a war of words between Iran's Persian rulers and Arab Iraq, Tehran Radio reported seven killed and 51 injured in two bomb explosions in Abadan, Iran's oil capital in Khuzestan Province, on the Iraqi border. The ethnic Arabs of Khuzestan, the province's biggest population group and the work force for the oil industry, have been accused of blowing up pipelines and other oil installations repeatedly.

The Turkish-speaking Azerbaijanis in northwest Iran and the Baluchis in the southeast, who fought government forces during the winter, have been quiet. But the governor of Mazandaran Province, below the Caspian Sea, indicated he expected trouble from "armed groups claiming to be supporters of the Turkoman people," an ethnic group of about 600,000:"

Trouble on the campuses is the latest addition to the Khomeini regime's domestic woes. The government admits to 24 killed and hundreds injured in clashes since last Friday at universities in Tehran, Rasht, Ahvaz, Zahedan and other cities. The fighting between Islamic fundamentalists and leftist students, with the revolutionary guards backing up the fundamentalists, was touched off by a ban from the ruling Revolutionary Council on campus political groups. It is the first step in an Islamic purge of the universities.

Khomeini and President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr accuse the United States, the Iraqi government, other "foreign influences" and former agents of SAVAK, the shah's notorious secret police, of stirring up the minorities. Observers speculate that the revolutionary leaders are trying to unify the nation by arousing it against a common enemy.

Iran has always been difficult to govern because of the mountainous terrain, nomadic tribes, different ethnic groups and lack of a common language. There are 11 linguistic groupings, ranging from the Persians, about 50 per cent of the 36 million people, to the Armenians and Assyrians, less than 1 percent each.

There are between 2 million and 4 million Kurds in northwest Iran. Part of them want to unite with the Kurds in Iraq, Turkey and the Soviet Union in a free Kurdistan. Others are fighting for local autonomy, or home rule.

There are about 750,000 Arabs in Khuzestan, along the Iraqi border and the Persian Gulf. Some of them want to secede from Iran, taking the oil fields with them, and the government accuses Iraq of stirring them up. Iraq calls the province Arabistan.

The Turkish-speaking Azerbaijanis in the northwest total 7.4 million and are the second largest ethnic group, after the Persians.

Doctors' opinions differ on role in drug execution By DANIEL Q. HANEY

BOSTON (AP) — Doctors swear to heal the sick. But should they kill the condemned?

Three months ago, two Harvard professors argued that if physicians help with executions by drug injection, they will be taking part in "a corruption and exploitation of the healing profession's role in society." Now it appears that the nation's doctors — at least the ones who feel strongly enough to write letter.

strongly enough to write letters — are evenly split on the question. In today's issue, the New England Journal of Medicine publishes a sampling of the reaction it received to the controversial stand taken by the two experts in its Jan. 24 edition.

William J. Curran, a lawyer who is head of the medical ethics program at Harvard Medical School, and Ward Casscells, an internist on the school's faculty, argued then that physicians will violate their Hippocratic Oath if they oversee the lethal drug injections, which is America's newest form of capital punishment.

Virginia Bates, the journal's letters editor, said the article prompted 40 letters; an unusually large number, and they were evenly divided between doctors who agree and those who say participation in executions should be an individual decision.

Not everyone took sides. Dr. Pamela Hemphill of San Francisco, for instance, argued that the Harvard men muddied the capital punishment issue by acting possessive about the means of death.

"The electric chair and the gas chamber have been used for years, and I have not heard electricians' unions or plumbers' unions decrying the use of their tools," she declared.

Auto sales drop

DETROIT (AP) - The spring car-selling season is in shambles, with sales of domestic makes slumping to the recession pace of 1975.

Reports from the five U.S. producers Wednesday showed mid-April deliveries of only 147,371 cars against 244,379 in the same period last year.

That was a decline of 32 percent, taking into account the extra selling day in mid-April 1979 - the steepest drop since the industry's slump began a year ago.

The daily sales rate, 18,421, was the worst since the 1975 recession. The 1975 figure was 18,336, including a few hundred vans no longer counted as cars.

Burglars damage car steal stereo equipment

Approximately $1,490 in damage and stolen equipment were reported to police Wednesday.

Bryan Boyd told officers he parked his car in the Lee High School parking lot, 3500 Neely Ave., around noon. The car was locked.

When Boyd returned to his vehicle around 3 p.m., he found a cassette stereo, equalizer-amplifier, 23channel CB radio, Fuzz Buster II, tape case and assorted tapes missing, he told officers.

Officers were unsure how entry into the vehicle was gained, but said a crowbar in the car was used to pry the equipment from the dash and console, causing considerable damage.

Methodists to begin hiring quotas

Predominantly white church hopes to wipe out racism

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - The predominantly white United Methodist Church, declaring "we have sinned against our sisters and brothers of other races," is introducing hiring quotas for its clergy and lay ministries as part of a drive to wipe out racism in America.

Saying the nation's second largest Protestant denomination has shared in the "racist system in the United States," the church governing conference approved the quota system Wednesday as part of an eight-point program

The 9.6 million member church is one of the first denominations to fol-low the example of the National Council of Churches in adopting measures to assure minority representation.

The drive is aimed at wiping out discrimination against American Indians, blacks, Asians, Hispanics and Pacific islanders.

The church governing conference ruled that hiring of non-whites must be done, in proportion to their representation in society, at all levels of clerical and lay work "until...our voluntary performance makes that practice unnecessary.'

It also called for national and local church programs to "increase the appreciation of other heritages" among its members and to work for equality in housing, education and medical care for non-whites.

The United Methodist Church, second in size to the 13 million member Southern Baptist Convention, is 95 percent white.

Its quadrennial conference also approved a new confession. It says: "We have sinned against our sisters and brothers of other races in thought, in word and in deed.'

Delegates to the meeting, which ends Friday, derived that while ra-cial discrimination has been officially outlawed in the United States, "so-cial, economic and political institutions still discriminate. "The racist system in the United States today perpetuates the power and control of those of European ancestry," they said.

The church said it has shared in that system, even while believing that

"racism is a rejection of the teaching of Jesus Christ" and that all people are "equally valuable in the sight of God."

Coincidentally, a black minister scheduled to speak at a three-day convoca-tion of a United Methodist Church congregation in Laurel, Del., last weekend said he was asked not to attend after the congregation had learned of his race

The Rev. Randolph Jones, pastor of the Southside Church Center in Phila-delphia, said the action "stunned" him. "I know all kinds of racism, but I thought that overt thing was about over."

Jones said the pastor of the rural congregation told him he could not participate because some of the church members "would be upset at having a black in the program."

The 125-member congregation comprises three rural Delaware churches. Meanwhile, in Indianapolis, delegates awaited a report today from an eight-member group which traveled to Washington to urge President Carter to exercise "patience and restraint" in the Iran crisis.

Study reveals blacks more likely to be shot

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) - Blacks in the United States are six times more likely to be shot to death than white people, a University of Michigan professor reports.

Reynolds Farley, a demographer with the Population Studies Center and sociology department, says the risk is highest between the ages of 25 and 34 when homicide accounts for more deaths than any other cause.

"Unlike most causes of death in this country, homicide rates have risen steadily, especially since the mid-1950s," he said. "The increase is evident for both blacks and whites, but it is highest among blacks.

Farley detailed his findings in the May issue of Demography, the journal of the Population Association of America.

"Almost all of the rise in black homicides and much of the rise in white homicides has resulted from gun killings," Farley said. "There is a clear correlation between the increased availability of firearms and the increase in murders."

Analyzing data from the National Center for Health Statistics and other sources, Farley reported:

"We implore you...not to give in to those who counsel military intervention, nor to take steps which will eventually lead to war," the church representatives told Carter on Wednesday.-

The group also delivered to Iran's United Nations Ambassador Monsour Farhana a message voicing sympathy over past foreign domination of the country and urging release of the hostages. It was addressed to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr.

Church representatives also went on record against a peacetime military draft, saying it could lead to "unauthorized wars."

Delegates quickly voted down a proposal to refer to God as "Creator" instead of "Father" in the preamble to the church's Social Principles. The Rev. Ernest K. Emurian of Arlington, Va., said Jesus called God "Father" and so should Methodists.

Jack Leonard is working every day to improve the roads in Precinct 3. As was stated in an interview, he hopes the County will soon receive a tax rebate from the 5% State sales tax that we now have.

Presently, the Commissoner's Court is striving for a tax rebate similar to the one the City now receives from the sales tax. This 1% sales tax rebate from the State tax would be allocated to the road construction budget.

Let's keep a County Commissioner who is working hard for you.

-In 1954, 8,000 Americans were murdered and 17,000 committed suicide, an average of one death in 60. In 1978, those had increased to 21,000 murders and 27,000 suicides or one death in 40.

-Deaths from homicides rose even as those from all other causes, particularly infectious diseases, were falling. For black males, the mortality rate from all causes except homicide declined from 17 deaths per 1,000 in 1940 to 10 deaths per 1,000 in 1978. The homicide rate was 57 per 100,000 in 1949, declined in the 1950s and climbed to 83 per 100,000 in 1972.

"At present the life span for black men in the United States is about five years shorter than that of white men," Farley said, "The higher homicide rate among blacks accounts for about one-fifth of that difference. Among women, homicide accounts for about one-eighth of the four-year difference in the life span.

"Homicide is now the fourth most common cause of death for black males after heart disease, cancer and cerebrovascular disease. And unlike most causes of death, it is on the increase.

The rising murder rate was attributed to a number of causes, particularly socio-economic and cultural conditions.

Several studies have shown that homicides are impulsive acts and that the majority of them emerge from a minor dispute between spouses, lovers or friends, Farley said.

"As tempers flare, one of the parties seeks a weapon," Farley said. "If this is a book, a brick or a table knife, there may be an injury, but if the choice is a gun, the odds are much higher that it will result in a fatali-

Peaceful demonstration staged at Wrightsville

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga. (AP) - The first racial demonstration following last Saturday's shooting of a 9-year-old black girl was held peacefully at the Johnson County courthouse, authorities say.

Approximately 35 protesters were ringed Wednesday night by nine state troopers. Protesters said they will be back at the courthouse again at noon Saturday for a major march and rally. About 15 whites quietly watched the protest.

The Rev. Ted Clark of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference told the group that the Wrightsville protests represent the "birth of a Georgia movement" in which blacks will elect black sheriffs and black probate judges in 47 counties that have more than 45 percent black population.

They said they will launch an intensive voter registration program and called for a boycott of downtown businesses in Wrightsville.

Meanwhile, Constance Folsom, who was wounded in the face and neck by shotgun pellets fired into her mobile home, will be hospitalized at least another week, her father, Robert Folsom, said. Two white men have been arrested and charged in that attack.

Johnson County Sheriff Roland Attaway, primary target of black protests, said Wednesday he believes a biracial committee will be formed soon, but he will not serve on it.

Four city bands win sweepstakes

Four of six Midland high school bands won sweepstakes with their best performances of the year in the University Interscholastic League Concert and Sightreading contest held Tuesday and Wednesday in the Lee High School auditorium.

The Midland High School Honors band directed by Clyde Wilson won sweepstakes for a Division I rating in concert and sightreading. The band performed three selections for concert competition — "Florentiner March," "Fiesta Del Pacifico" and "Scherazade-Festival at Bagdad."

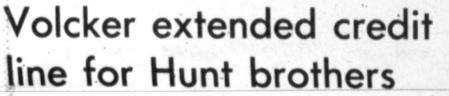

The Lee High School Honor band directed by Van B. Ragsdale also won sweepstakes with Division I ratings in concert and sightreading. The band played "March-Symphonio Metamorphosis," "Suite Francaise" and "Savannah River Holiday Overture" for concert competition.

The Midland Freshman High School band directed by Melvin Scott took sweepstakes honors with Division I ratings in sightreading and concert for its performance of "The Minnesota March," "Court Festival" and "Incantation and Dance".

The Lee Freshman High School band directed by Russ Standefer received sweepstakes with Division I ratings in concert and sightreading for its performance of "March Juno," "Bold City" and "Masque."

Midland High School Honor band, Lee High School Honor band and Midland Freshman honor band also won the three-event sweepstakes because they received Division I ratings in the fall marching contest.

Midland High School's second band directed by Chuck Hazlewood received a Divison II in concert and a Division III in sightreading with its performance of "March Winds," ing w "Black Canyon of the Gunnison" and

"Concert Variations.

Lee High School's second band directed by Larry R. Hess received a Division II in concert and sightreading with its performance of "Orange Bowl March," "Chant and Jubilo" and "Devonshire Overture."

Attempted rape reported

A 30-year-old Midland man was in City Jail this morning in connection with the Wednesday afternoon attempted rape of a 16-year-old.

Fast action for 108 needs. Dial WANT AD power. 682-6222

The incident occurred around 8:30 a.m. in a central Midland home. The woman told officers her husband had gone to work and she was standing in the bedroom when she heard her dog barking in the front room.

A man entered the bedroom and asked where her husband was. She said he was at work, and when the man asked when he would return, she told him, according to reports.

The man said he would return later and walked into the living room. The woman followed him and sat down on the couch. Shortly thereafter, she told officers, he tried to attack her.

A warrant was later issued by Peace Justice John Biggs for the arrest of a Midland man. He was taken into custody at his residence around 10:52 p.m. Wednesday.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Federal Reserve Chairman Paul A. Volcker oversaw the extension of an $800 million credit line to the Hunt brothers of Texas to avoid an economic panic after a margin call was made on the Hunts' vast silver holdings, the Los Angeles Times reported today.

A group of the nation's largest banks agreed to the loan after details were worked out by Volcker and other top government officials with the heads of the banks, unidentified sources told the newspaper.

A spokesman for the Federal Reserve refused Wednesday to "confirm

H. Stanley wins merit scholarship

Herbert M. Stanley, a Midland High School senior, is a National Merit Scholarship winner and an alternate in the National Honor Society Scholarship competition, it was announced today.

Stanley is among the 1,125 winners of the National Merit $1,000 Scholarships

Norris Industries, of Los Angeles, is the sponsor of the award.

The mechanical engineering student received the award on the basis of scholarship and participation in various school activities.

He is the president of the Junior Engineering Technical Society (JETS) and National Honor Society. Stanley was also vice president of the Catholic Youth Organization.

He is also a member of the National Forensic League, Junior Council, Student Council, varsity gymnastics and is a co-director of the Young Republicans.

He is a recipient of the Century III leadership award and a winner of the "Voice of Democracy" contest. According to Bill Wells, Midland High School counselor, Stanley is second in a class of 490 and carries a 4.603 grade point average. or deny" Volcker's role in the $800 million credit arrangement.

The brothers — Nelson Bunker and William Herbert Hunt — so far have borrowed $300 million to pay off maturing debts on silver, the newspaper said. In future months, as more of the Hunt's past contract promises to buy silver come due, they are expected to use much of the rest of the credit line, it said.

'Silver is bought in contracts of 5,000 ounces each for future delivery at a specified month and a specified price.

The Hunts are understood to hold contracts with prices higher than today's market, having bought them while silver prices were rising from $10 an ounce to $50 an ounce early this year.

Then silver prices began falling, and on March 27 plunged $5 an ounce to $10.80, partly on rumors that the Hunts couldn't meet a massive call for funds to support loans from their brokerage houses, principally Bache Halsey Stuart Shields Inc. of New York.

The uproar in the silver market set off a chain reaction of wild gyrations in other markets as well.

The price of silver for current delivery closed Wednesday on the New York Commodity Exchange at $13.64.

Federal officials and bankers didn't fear that the Hunts were broke, the newspaper said, but that they couldn't come up with cash quickly enough to satisfy their contracts to buy the metal.

That would have depressed the price of silver even further, and defaults could have caused financial difficulties for brokerage houses through which the silver contracts were made.

Federal officials feared that the financial condition of some banks would be placed in jeopardy and panic would spread on Wall Street if the chain of events continued, one of the sources told the newspaper. "

DEAR ABBY Make day count

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am enclosing a card I came across in my doctor's office. It advertises an organization called MTC (Make Today Count), dedicated to improving the quality of life of those who have been touched by serious illness.

I personally have Hodgkin's disease, but due to the excellent care I have received from my doctor, family and others, I have felt no need for help in coping with it. However, others among your readers may not be as lucky as I; so I am enclosing the 10 pointes entitled "How to Live with Illness." I hope you feel it merits space in your column .- J.C.S., SALEM, OHIO

DEAR MR. S.: I do, and here they are

HOW TO LIVE WITH ILLNESS By ORVILLE KELLY

1) Talk about the illness. If it's cancer, call it cancer. You can't make life normal again by trying to hide what is wrong.

2) Accept death as a part of life. It

3) Consider each day as another day of life, a gift from God to be enjoyed as fully as possible.

4) Realize that life is never going to be perfect. It wasn't before, and it won't be now

5) Pray! It isn't a sign of weakness. it's a sign of strength.

6) Learn to live with your illness instead of considering yourself dying from it. We are all dying in some manner.

7) Put your friends and relatives at ease. If you don't want pity, don't ask for it.

8) Make all practical arrangements for funerals, wills, etc., and make certain your family understands them

9) Set new goals; realize your limitations. Sometimes the simple things of life become the most enjoyable.

10) Discuss your problems with your family as they occur. Include the children if possible. After all, your problem is not an individual one. HAVE A GOOD DAY...

Master Yoo Sun Lee of Midland, seventh degree black belt, demonstrates a flying kick. He will demonstrate his technique at the second annual Tae Kwon Do tournament Saturday at Midland College. Events will include demonstrations on the martial arts and yoga from 7-8 p.m. and the Tae Kwon Do finals from 8-9 p.m. Competition is scheduled throughout the day in the Physical Education Gymnasium. The event is sponsored by the Department of Community Services at Midland College.

SLEEP occupies, for most of us, third of our lives...which means that of all the furnishings in our es, the one we use most i the mattress on our beds, the one we use most is the mattress or our bed, along with its companio box spring.

That makes the selection of good mattress and box spring one your most important purchases for the home, not just because of hours of daily use, but because in contributes so much toward your feeling of health and vitality coming from restful sleep.

A sleep set is just about the only purchase you makes in home fur nishings where you need to be concerned only with service. Ap-pearance has little if anything to do with it. You want a quality ticking because it will last longer...but the pretty pattern isn't any reason for buying. Mattress comfort, and the choice of a good innerspring or foam rub ber mattress, is largely an in-dividual matter. Many experts recommend mattresses more toward the firm side than the overly soft, but a light person might prefer the softer mattress. Your best bet is to stop in at ou bedding departmant. You'll find a full selection of sizes and types in quality name brand sleep sets. Test them for comfort, and remember: a good mattress and box spring are one of the best in s you can make.

Beef is getting higher, but it is legal to steal steaks from roasts!

By MERLE ELLIS

Chances are, beef for the barbecue is going to be a bit high this summer. Fortunately, pork and poultry prices are likely to remain pretty steady, perhaps even come down a little, so there will be something to sizzle on the barbecue grill all summer long. But, before long — if all of you are anything like me — we'll all long for steak. Steak on the barbecue is hard to beat, but at the price of good steak these days, it's also hard on the pocketbook.

Before you strike steak from your list of summer meals, let's examine the subject. If you know something

... broiling,

THE MOST TENDER part of the beef carcass lies right in the middle of the back - the short-loin. From there, we get the most tender steaks the beef has to offer - the T-bone, Porterhouse and Club steak, the strip steak and the tenderloin. They are also the most expensive!

As you move away from the shortloin in either direction, the meat becomes increasingly less tender. But it's a gradual thing. Right behind the short-loin, for example, is the sirloin.

tion of the same tender muscles that run through the more traditional steak cuts.

The best roast for turning into steaks is the rib roast. It is, in fact, the same cut the butcher would use to make rib steaks, but you'll save money by buying the whole roast and cutting your own.

THE SIRLOIN-TIP ROAST comes off the carcass right next to the sirloin and is often sold as "London Broil" or "Bar-B-Q" steaks. You'll save money and have just as tender a steak if you buy a sirloin-tip roast and cut your own.

The "arm pot roast" comes off the carcass a long way from the shortloin, but there is one muscle tender enough to make a fair steak if you use a little commercial meat tenderizer on it. The large solid muscle of the "arm" is what we call the "shoulder clod" in the trade. Because it is a nice solid muscle without a lot of connective tissue, it can be used for steak some markets sell it as such. Again, you'll save by buying the whole arm pot roast. Cut out a couple of steaks and pot roast the rest.

The best steak buy in the roast section is apt to be the "first cut blade chuck." This cut of the chuck comes off the carcass the thickness of knife blade from the tender rib and contains a large continuation of the tender rib'eye muscle.

When you're looking for a "slice of meat, usually beef, for broiling, frying, etc.," keep in mind the location of the tender cuts on the carcass, but look in the roast section. You may be able to steal a steak.

'I am the one who raises the dead'

When they arrived at Bethany, they were told that Lazarus had already been in his tomb for four days.

Bethany was only a couple of miles down the road from Jerusalem.

And many of the Jewish leaders had come to pay their respects and to console Martha and Mary on their loss.

When Martha got word that Jesus was coming, she went to meet Him. But Mary stayed at home.

Martha said to Jesus, "Sir, if You had been here, my brother wouldn't have died.

And even now it's not too late, for I know that God will bring my brother back to life again, if You will only ask Him to."

Jesus told her, "Your brother will come back to life again.

"Yes," Martha said, "when everyone else does, on Resurrection Day."

Jesus told her, "I am the one who raises the dead and gives them life again. Anyone who believes in Me, even though he dies like anyone else, shall live again.

He is given eternal life for believing in Me and shall never perish. Do you believe this, Martha?"

"Yes, Master," she told Him. "I believe You are the Messiah, the Son of God, the one we have so long awaited."

Then she left Him and returned to Mary and, calling her aside from the mourners, told her, "He is here and wants to see So Mary went to Him at once. you."

Service news operation keeps hometowns informed

By R.D. GERSH

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) - Behind the unpronounceable acronym of FHTNC is an operation that for 35 years has been keeping the hometown folks in touch with their boys in blue.

But by now it's men and women in blue, green and khaki. The Fleet Hometown News Center sends more than a million news releases a year on Navy, Marine and Coast Guard personnel.

Navy Capt. Vincent L. Knaus, director of the Norfolk-based operation, presides over 35 military and civilian personnel who in almost assembly-line fashion send out announcements of deployments, graduations, awards, promotions and exercises to some 10,000 newspapers, magazines, broadcast stations and college periodicals.

Into the office come thousands of signed forms from individual sailors, Marines and Coasties, authorizing the FHTNC to release the information. Out go neatly folded, computer-typed releases of a few paragraphs to the news media in the parents' and spouses' hometowns.

A computer stores 500 canned stories into which name, rank and a few other variables are inserted. Those more complicated are written by the center's lone editorial writer, Marine Sgt. Charles Lakins.

Releases on any one person will go to all the subscribers serving the family's hometown - on an average about five, Knaus said.

The service is voluntary for military personnel and free to the subscribing media. For the taxpayers, it costs a little more than $300,000, not counting what comes out of the Department of Defense's postal-

Spring fever's taking its toll

Those lazy days of spring have hit. And along with warm weather comes a great epidemic of spring fever. It seems this dreadful clisease has crept into every nook and cranny of MIHS, bringing a few changes here and there.

In the spring a young man's fancy used to turn to love, but this year it seems as though sports are out-rating girls as the number one favorite.

BASEBALL: Our Billdogs struck out against Abilene Saturday, but that streak didn't last; they whopped San Angelo Tuesday. Come watch them Saturday as their winning streak continues.

Our one-act play, "The Private Lives of the Master Race," won again. Yes, they are going on to win the state crown in Austin next week. Those Bulldog stars have really been shining for MHS, and we are behind you all the way.

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM was a big success. Everyone showed up all spiffed up in their tuxes and Sunday best to dance to the fantastic tunes of Shadetree. Our dance beat a crosstown party into the ground.

Two new scholarships have been psted this week. One is the Bulldog Booster Club Scholarship, and the other is the Fasken Foundation Grants to Midland College. Check to see if you are eligible to apply.

SENIORS: Your graduation invitation orders will be delivered Tuesday and Wednesday (April 29-30) in the Student Council office. A list is posted in the trophy room to show how much money you still owe. Bring your balance due and pick up your order. These are the only days they will be delivered here at school.

Friday is the last day to turn in Senior Expressions. Only $1.

Public schools set summer signup day

Registration for Midland public schools' first summer session will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. June 2 in Lee High School cafeteria.

Classes for the first quarter session will start June 3 and conclude June 20. Registration for the second session will be June 23 and classes will end July 11. Registration and first day of classes for the third quarter will be July 14 and end July 31. Each session will run for 14 days.

Offerings include reading, math, study skills on the elementary level, distributive education, driver's education and academic subjects on the secondary level. Any required or elective subject will be offered at the secondary level when as many as 15 students enroll.

Title 1 summer reading classes will be offered to grades 1-6 at Crockett Elementary June 9 through July 3. Admission will be based on teacher assessments and include only children from Crockett, South, Travis, Washington, DeZavala, Milam, Pease and West elementary schools. Students will be bussed from their base schools for daily classes which will be held 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Cost for high school academic and distributive education courses will be $25. Tuition for reading, math and study skills will be $30.

All elementary classes will meet for only one hour a day in the morning. Secondary classes will meet each day from 8 to 11:50 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. Each class equals one quarter unit of credit.

Royce Austin, Bonham Elementary principal, will be elementary summer school president. Lee High School Assistant Principal Jimmie R. Kelly will head the secondary school.

Midland College slates student talent program

Speech, communication and dramatic arts students from Midland College are slated to present a "Showcase of Student Talent" at Theatre Midland Sunday at 2 p.m. in Theatre II.

The public is invited to attend the event without charge.

Many of the students represented Midland College at the recent Texas Junior College Speech and Theatre Association's State Forensic Tournament in Galveston.

Students representing the acting class will have five presentations: Monty Connally, Stephanne Browne and Linda Fischer will perform a scene from "Blithe Spirit"; Tina Carroll will do a scene from "Antigone"; David Kloesel and Jim LaFontaine will do a scene from "All My Sons"; Pat Thomas and Darlynna Rush will perform a scene from "A Death in the Family"; and Jodi McElligott will present a cutting from "The Belle of Amherst."

Representing the forensic squad will be Cyndye Camarillo, demonstrating story-telling with her version of "What Do You Do With a Kangaroo?"; and Rayford Graves and Katie Waterman doing original orations. The entire forensic squad will do a reader's theatre version of "Charlotte's Web."

Tyler Tindall and Jerry Watson are Midland College instructors for the students.

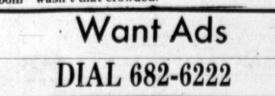

Young violinist makes debut in White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young violinist has made her debut in Washington, but there is no critical reaction on her performance.

Twelve-year-old Amy Carter performed with a group of six young students of the Suzuki method at the conclusion of a White House lunch for the king and queen of Belgium.

Reporters and photographers normally are escorted into the East Room for the entertainment that follows such state affairs, but only photographers were allowed in Tuesday.

While the official White House explanation for the exclusion was a lack of room, witnesses said the room "wasn't that crowded."

For the embryo bridge player, life must be full of contradictions. One day we tell him not to draw trumps until his losers have been ruffed in dummy. The next day we advise him to refrain from ruffing his losers in order to draw trumps and set up his side suits for discards. Then we tell him that missing five cards headed by the queen, the percentage play is to take the finesse and not to play for the drop. Next, we produce a hand where it's right to bang out the two top trumps and then proceed with the business at hand. The reason for all these conflicting bits of advice is that no card combination is an island unto itself. The overall consideration of the hand dictates the course of action more often than does any single holding in a suit. There is no formula that can serve as a panacea for all bridge ills. General principles can be postulated, butthere is no substitute for clear thinking.

South became declarer at four hearts after a normal auction. West led the queen of spades, won in dummy. Declarer tried the trump finesse, which lost to West's queen. It required no deep thinking on West's part to 49

Two spectators were killed and about 50 injured before Attebery killed himself. Maldonado, who took three shotgun blasts then was hit by bullets from Attebery's semi-automatic carbine, has had three operations and still carries about 100 shotgun pellets in his body.

He recalled those moments in an interview:

Pain, sadness linger in San Antonio

By GREG THOMPSON

perfect day for the Battle of Flowers parade, the most festive of Fiesta. As fine a day as last year - before the shooting started.

Last April 27, Ira Attebery — a 64-year-old recluse with a history of mental problems — fired from his parked motor home into a crowd of about 5,000 gathered for the start of the parade.

Six police officers fell seriously wounded as Attebery emptied his 12-gauge shotgun. Dozens of other startled spectators were hit by spraying pellets.

Attebery switched to a semi-automatic military rifle, killing Ida Dollard and Amaila Castillo and wounding other bystanders before the carbine jammed on the second clip of ammunition.

Then, as police threw tear gas and riddled his motor home with bullets, Attebery selected a revolver from his 15-gun cache and pumped a single fatal shot into his brain.

Three dead and 50-odd injured, more than 30 by gunfire. The drama at the corner of Broadway and Grayson lasted 90 minutes.

Some of the wounded still have nightmares. Others face lifetimes of pain from the shotgun pellets they still carry in their bodies.

Some people - such as Gus Burggraf, owner of the tire store where Attebery parked - refuse even to talk about it.

Last week, Mayor Lila Cockrell appealed to local news media to focus attention on this year's 10-day Fiesta, not on last year's horror. She ended the letter, "Viva Fiesta!

But the sadness and pain linger:

"We can't control what other people might do, but it sure did change a lot of lives. I don't think any of us will ever forget it," said Bob Walker, whose liquor store is across the street from the scene of the shooting.

"Not a day goes by that I don't think about that day and what it did," said one of the wounded officers, Sgt. Gary Nagy, 33, whose wife was also hit by gunfire as she ran to his side. "Something, anything, reminds me of it. Then I think what that day did to me, and what's to come in the future.'

Isabel Hernandez is a constant reminder to her parents of that spring afternoon.

On April 27, Isabel was a week overdue. Armando Hernandez tried to shield his pregnant wife, Irene, from Attebery's bullets, but she fell wounded, shot in the thigh. Isabel was born three days later, without complications. Her parents are saving news clippings for her.

'Just about every night, I get the chills," said Mrs. Hernandez, 20. "And then I thank God I'm OK and my baby is all right.'

A rifle bullet tore through Kathi Lapping's neck. They said that if it had been an eighth of an inch over, I wouldn't have made it," she said. For a long time, Mrs. Lapping, 32, and her 9-year-old son, T.J., wouldn't stand near the windows at home. T.J. still doesn't like to stay alone.

Diane Wick, 29, Mrs. Lapping's sister from St. Louis, had come to Fiesta to visit. She suffered superficial pellet wounds to the face. "I have occasional nightmares even now," she said.

Hazel Brown struggles not to weep when she thinks about the day her oldest daughter, Ida Dollard, died: I just keep praying that I can keep on, for the children's sake. But you know, it's really hard to pretend there's nothing wrong when you really feel like crying all the time."

The scars on his legs look like measles.

Maldonado once jogged regularly, gardened and SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - Friday should be a played racquetball and golf. Now he can't run or even bend over to pull weeds.

> "I landscaped my house, and it's beautiful. I haven't been able to work on it since this happened. That's one of the things I miss," he said. "Physically, I'll never be the same.'

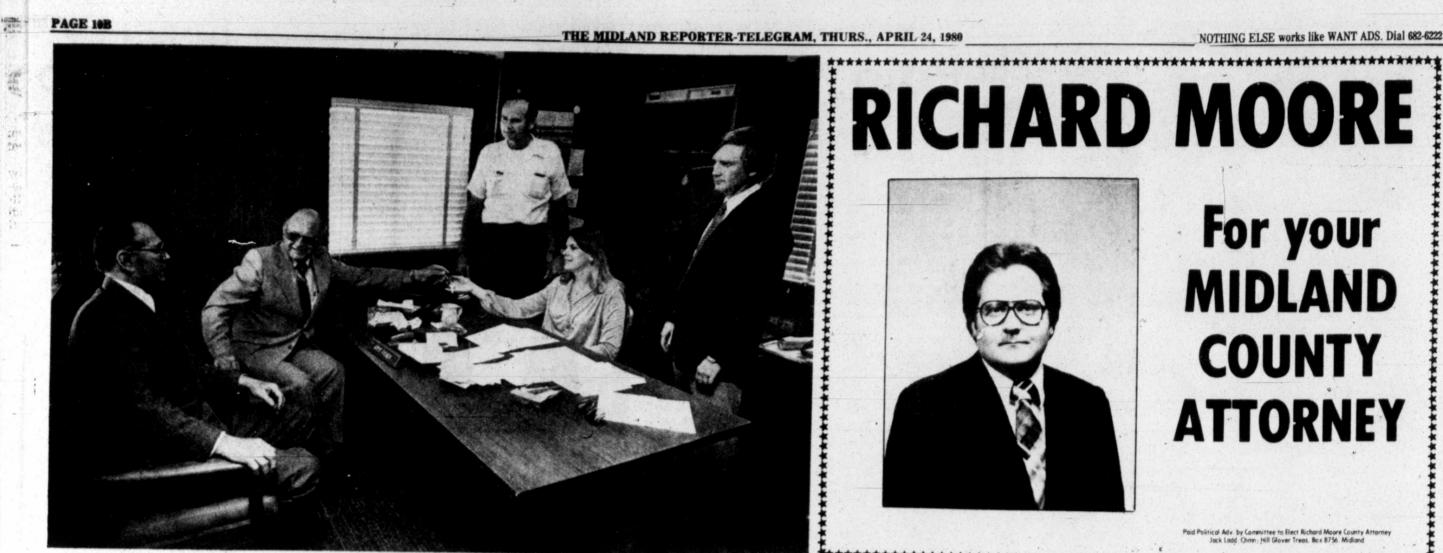

Howard Attebery, 67, of Poplar Grove, Mo., often drives past the cemetery where his brother is buried but hasn't visited the plot since the funeral.

"I think about it every once in a while, mainly when I go past his grave," Attebery said by tele-phone. "There's nothing that can be done about it. It was one of those things. I can imagine the hurt and the pain those other people have been feeling. I wish it hadn't happened."

Americans growing pessimistic

NEW YORK (AP) - A growing number of Americans hold a pessimistic outlook for the nation's economy, two separate studies released this week show.

The Conference Board index reached a five-year low of about 61 percent last summer during the gasoline shortage before rising to a peak of about 84

ON MARCH 17, 1980, Zinder-Witte, Inc. offered to the City to handle this matter with DOE and the fuel supplier. Midland officials accepted. We advised them the problem should be resolved within three weeks.

EXACTLY THREE WEEKS later-on April 7, 1980-in a conference call with our Washington, D.C. office, a Midland official was informed that a new fuel allocation base was established for MIDTRAN and that gasoline would be available to the City within five days. A call from Midland's fuel supplier confirmed this.

REMARKABLE? No-not really. After all, we have been solving regulatory matters for clients since 1946. Incidentally, this story is printed with Midland officials' permission.

Budget work now at classic debate

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House, having effectively guaranteed its approval of a balanced 1981 budget, now must decide whether to give top priority to guns or butter.

The classic choice between military spending or domestic programs was expected to pit conservatives and liberals in the one of the sharpest battles of the House budget debate.

House Democratic leaders were clearly concerned that conservatives might prevail on one amendment that would shift $5.1 billion from social programs to defense outlays.

The House was to begin voting today on a series of amendments after deciding Wednesday to consider only 11 possible changes to the House Budget Committee's proposed $611.8 billion spending package. Those amendments — six by Democrats and five by Republicans — differ on spending priorities but agree on the overall need to balance the budget for fiscal 1981, which begins Oct. 1.

Meanwhile, Democratic liberals received a boost when President Carter told a group of farm state congressmen he favors one of the liberal proposals to raise domestic spending.

Carter, while generally supporting the budget committee's plan, said he would back an amendment by Rep. David R. Obey, D-Wis., that would add $500 million in "transitional" aid to cities hurt by the loss of the state portion of federal revenue sharing.

Obey's proposal would pay for the urban aid and $700 million in other domestic hikes by cutting $425 million from other programs and by generating $800 million in additional revenue through reduction of the oil industry's foreign tax credits.

The Obey amendment, which also is backed by House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., is regarded as the liberal alternative with the best chance of approval. However, O'Neill has said he does not expect it to carry.

County grand jury nobills Saturday stabbing case

The Midland County grand jury Wednesday no-billed the case of a 26-year-old Midland man involved in the Saturday stabbing death of 22-year-old Jay Waldman.

The Saturday incident, which began around 3:30 p.m. on Garfield Street by Dennis the Menace Park, apparently started as an argument over a green light

Police said the two cars pulled side by side on Garfield, and a verbal argument began. Waldman then reportedly pulled his car in front of the other, forcing it to stop, and ran back to the other

A few minutes later, Waldman walked back in front of his car and down College Avenue. A passenger in Waldman's vehicle said Waldman had blood all over him.

The passenger turned the car around, picked up Waldman and took him to the hospital, where he later died.

Shortly after the stabbing, a 26-year-old man turned himself into police. He was released later Saturday night without bond on the authority of the district attorney.

Maddox wildcat flows; GMW Lea explorer opens field

Maddox Energy Corp. of Midland No. 1 Frost National Bank-State, deep wildcat in Pecos County, 24 miles west of Fort Stockton, has reported a flow of gas on a drillstem test in the Devonian.

The zone tested was from 17,350 to 17,458 feet. Tool was open 19 hours and 39 minutes. The project flowed gas at the rate of 2 million cubic feet per day on over an 11-hour and 45-minute period through a one-inch opening. Flow pressures ranged from 1,347 to 2,290 poinds, and eight-hour final shut-in pressure was 7,365 pounds.

The wildcat is 3.5 miles east of 15,831-foot Devonian-Fusselman gas prdouction in the Hershey field.

More hole was being made below 17,500 feet.

Locaton is 1,493 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of secton 11, block 50, T-10, T&P survey.

LEA COUNTY

Gifford Mitchell & Wisenbaker of Midland No. 1 White Eagle has been completed as a Pennsylvanian gas discovery in Lea County, N.M., eight miles southwest of Jal.

The new field opener finaled for a calculated absolute open flow potential of 13,423,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 12,505 to 13,196.

Total depth is 18,577 feet and the plugged back depth is 15,180 feet.

On four-point gauges, each of onehour duration, the project flowed at the rate of 663,000 cubic feet per day through 4/64-inch choke; flowed 1.23 million cubic feet per day through 6/64 choke; flowed 2.46 million through 10/64 choke, and 5.28 million through 15/64 choke.

The first hour the flowing pressure was 5,745 pounds, the second hour 5,670 pounds, the third hour, 5,504 pounds, and the fourth hour 5,150 pounds.

pool of Ward County, three miles southeast of Wickett. The operator reported a daily flowing potential of 289 barrels of 38.2gravity oil, through a 15/64-inch choke and perforations from 8,018 to 8,528 feet. The pay was acidized with 10,000 gallons.

Total depth is 8,900 feet, 5.5-inch casing is set at 8,899 feet and plugged back depth is 8,316 feet.

The gas-oil ratio is 1,730-1. The pay was topped at 8,018 feet on ground elevation of 2,529 feet. The flowing tubing pressure was 660 pounds.

The well is one location northeast of other Pennsylvanian production and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 4, block O, G&MMB&A survey.

PECOS PROJECT

C. F. Lawrence & Associates Inc. of Midland No. 1 Wright has been spotted as a 1/2-mile west stepout to production in the seven-well Fort Stockt, South (Queen) field of Pecos County, 15 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

Drillsite for the 2,900-foot test is 1,170 feet fromnorth and east lines of section 7, block 131, T&StL survey.

PECOS WELL

John H. Hendrix Corp. No. 2 ARCO-IRT has been completed as the fourth well in te Peos Valley (Wolfcamp) field of Pecos County, seven miles southwest of Imperial

The operator reported a daily flow ing potential of 30 barrels of 38-gravity oil and two barrels of water, through perforations from 5,184 to 5,461 feet after a 5,700-gallon acid treatment.

Gas-oil ratio is 1,900-1.

Total depth is 5,880 feet, 4/5-inch pipe is set on bottom, and hole is plugged back to 5,556 feet. Wellsite is 660 feet from northeast and 1,980 feet from northwest lines of section 36, block 3, H&TC survey.

Carter claims energy policy victory

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter, who already has signed a $227.7 billion "windfall profits" oil tax into law this year, now has another major congressional victory for his energy policies. A House-Senate conference committee completed work Wednesday on Carter's proposed energy mobilization board, which would cut red tape and speed construction of high-priority energy projects that frequently are blocked by opposition of local residents or environmentalists.

The compromise still must be approved by the full House and Senate, but the administration was optimis-

"It now appears that a sound and workable bill will soon be on the president's desk," said a White House statement Wednesday night. "The tentative conference committee agreement meets the criteria the president set forth.'

Still pending before a separate conference committee is Carter's proposal for a synthetic fuels corporation which would help develop alternatives to imported oil.

The energy mobilization board, first proposed by Carter last summer, had been stalled for two months by proposals to waive federal environmental laws that might block construction of synthetic fuel plants, oil refineries or other projects that might pollute the air or water.

bers of the conference panel accepted a House formula for applying the waiver. Under that provision, the five-mem-

Court challenges delaying drilling

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) - Despite predictions that offshore oil exploration in the ecologically rich Georges Bank could start late this summer, drilling apparently won't begin until spring 1981 and may be delayed even further by new court challenges.

"The initial forecasts of drilling late this summer were just a little optimistic," said Dante Ionata, a state official who supervises the Quonset Point-Davisville area where the offshore oil support facilities are based.

"There are so many permits to be obtained that the industry has-ruled out any drilling until at least next spring," Ionata said Wednesday.

The summer 1980 starting date was cited by oil company executives last December during the sale of drilling leases for 63 tracts in the Georges Bank, a major fishing ground 100 miles southeast of Cape Cod.

"We're looking at least a year from now before any drilling would start, maybe 16 months," said Paul Keough, a spokesman for the Environmental Protection Agency, which issues one of the needed permits.

The state of Massachusetts, the Conservation Law Foundation of New England and other groups succeeded in delaying the lease sale from January 1978 until December 1979.

"Our case is still active in District Court in Boston. All that's required is for the (Massachusetts) attorney general, or us, to march in and ask for a date," said Ken Hoffman, a foundation attorney.

He said the group would argue the drilling violates the National Environmental Pollution Act and the Endangered Species Act.

Hoffman said his group would spend the next several months building a case against the drilling. then reactivate the suit.

Mobil and five other companies have applied to the Army Corps of Engineers for clearance on whether the drilling rigs would interfere with navigation or national security. Mobil also has applied to the EPA for a pollution discharge control permit.

The companies still must submit a drilling plan to the U.S. Geological Survey, including certification by Massachusetts and Rhode Island that the plans are consistent with the states' coastal goals.

Lee, Midland ready to compete in regional track

By TERRY WILLIAMSON Sports Writer

LUBBOCK - The Region I AAAA track meet will be held on the campus of Texas Tech University Friday and Saturday with 12 local athletes dreaming of state berths that can be earned here.

The top two finishers in each event will move to Austin in two weeks for the state meet. Finish lower than second and the track season is over. Both Midland High and Midland Lee athletes are among those dreaming of second or better. The top two finishers from each of the region's district meets will make up the field. Midland High has qualified four individuals in three events while Lee has qualified three individuals in three events and two relays.

Lee, due to both relays being the field, will have a shot at winning the team championship. However, Killeen is the heavy favorite to run away with that crown. Lee placed second a year ago in the region meet to the Kangaroos

Midland High's David Simmons could be the best bet for a state berth on Friday when the discus event opens the two-day meet at 11:30 a.m. Simmons owns the best throw of the year in the state with a toss of 187-8 and is given a good chance of winning a state title.

Midland High's James Lary will also be in the discus after qualifying for the regionals with his best toss of the year, a 164-11. It will be Lary's second appearance in the regional meet.

Simmons will also be in the shot put Saturday at 10:30 a.m. He has a throw of 60-4 this year and MHS coach Johnny Williams says that he has been looking very good this week. If he can stay over 60-feet, he could have another shot at state.

Running preliminaries Friday will begin at 1:30 p.m. and the top eight in each event will move to Saturday's finals at 1:30 p.m.

Midland Lee's sprint and 1600 meter relay teams are both given a good shot at a state berth, but Killeen is favored in both events and has beaten Lee in both events this year at San Angelo.

Lee's sprint relay team will be composed of Darrin Williams, Arthur Williams, Steve Waldron and Phil Carleton. The 1600 meter relay will be made up of Waldron, Gary Butler, Keevin Harper and Carleton. Lee's best time in the sprint relay this year has been 42.6 while the best in the 1600 relay has been 3: 21.8. Lee will have to improve on those times to beat Killeen and they will probably have to equal those times at least in order to earn a state berth.

Lee will also three individuals in the meet with Harper in the 800 meters, Robert Schooler in the 1600 meters and David Piccolo in the 300 meter hurdles.

Harper, who owns the Lee school record with a 1:56 this year, is probably in for a rugged race. The El Paso schools are strong in this event and San Angelo's Frank Rodriquez, who has beaten Harper several times, is also in the field. However, Harper upset Rodriguez in the 5-4A meet.

Schooler will also face a tough field from El Paso in the 1600 meters and it is almost certain that he will have to improve on his best of 4:24 to gain a state berth. Schooler, however, got one break in the district meet when San Angelo's Dirk Davis finished third in the event he was expected to win. Abilene High's Greg Carter was second to Schooler, a big upset winner in the district faceoff.

Piccolo, who was another upset winner in the 5-4A meet, may be coming on strong in the 300 hurdles after posting his best of 39.84 at the wind He will need nore i likely with solid performers from Amarillo, Lubbock and Killeen in this event Midland High's Jeff Robnett, a second time around regional performer. hopes that pressure experience will be to his benefit in the 100 meters. Robnett was third last year in the regionals and has been slowed by a severe foot injury this year. Killeen has strong runners in this event also. Robnett will have to improve his 10.8 time for a state berth. Robnett qualified by placing second in the district meet, the same as last year. Midland High's Jerry Zachery is another second place finisher at district with a 14.28 in the 110 meter hurdles, but at least, he has seen his major competition at work. San Angelo's Dennis Nolder is the favorite and he defeated Zachery by a wide margin with a 13.82 in the district meet. Zachery, however, could be in the running for a state berth with a strong race.

the second and sixth.

By The Associated Press

Dave Goltz, one of baseball's wealthy free agents, has finally begun to pay dividends for the Los Angeles Dodgers, and he admits it was an ingot-sized weight off his mind.

Goltz, acquired by the Dodgers this fall after he fled the Minnesota Twins, scattered six hits and shut out the San Francisco Giants 4-0 Wednesday night. He yielded only one extra-base hit, a double by Rennie Stennett.

It was his first victory after losing 4-2 and 7-4 to Houston in his first two outings while being shelled for 19 hits in 132-3 innings.

"It's a very good feeling," said Goltz, who will earn $500,000 a year for the next six seasons. "Naturally I was unhappy with my first two starts

Whitson to bounce out. In the S.A..., Goltz faced the same kind of jam, but Stennett hit into a force. In each inning, Goltz walked one man.

"I don't rely on any one pitch," Goltz said. "I'm lucky enough to have an assortment of pitches."

The win was Los Angeles' fourth in a row and the Dodgers' second straight shutout against the Giants. Don Sutton stopped San Francisco on four hits Tuesday night.

"The momentum of the club winning and being around the guys more and more certainly helped relaxed me," Goltz said. "Of course, I wanted to go out and do a good job.'

In other National League games, Cincinnati edged Houston 3-2 in 12 innings, Atlanta got by San Diego 2-1, the New York Mets clipped Philadelphia 3-2, St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 3-1 and Montreal downed Pittsburgh 3-2.

Reggie Smith gave Goltz all the support he needed in the first inning when he brought Derrel Thomas home with a sacrifice fly. Steve Garvey singled in a run in the third and the Dodgers scored two unearned runs in the fourth after an error by Giants first baseman Mike Ivie. Rookies Mike Scioscia and Rudy Law got the RBI.

Reds 3, Astros 2

Dave Concepcion slapped a single to right field, scoring Harry Spilman from third base, to boost the Reds over Houston in their 12-inning game. Spilman, a pinch hitter, led off the inning with a double off Astros reliever Joaquin Andujar and went to third on a grounder by second baseman Junior Kennedy

Tom Hume got his second win without a loss with three innings of scoreless relief. He got out of jams in both the ninth and 11th innings when the Astros loaded the bases with two outs but each time failed to score when Craig Reynolds grounded into fielder's choices.

"It was a tough game to lose,' Reynolds said. "We had a lot more chances to win than they did. The first time (in the ninth), I thought I had a hit. Kennedy shouldn't have been playing there.

Braves 2, Padres 1

The Braves came up with their second straight victory after a 1-9 start with Chris Chambliss providing the firepower with a sixth-inning

The Class AA runners will also be running in the same meet.

The AAA-A meet will be held Friday and Saturday in Odessa's W. T. Barrett Stadium. That meet could be called the Van Pearcy show. Pearcy of Andrews qualified in the long jump, 400 meters, 200 meters and 1600 meter relay. He has a chance to be a four-event performer at state.

Travelers, Drillers Dodgers capture wins in Texas League action

By The Associated Press Frank Hunsaker's single to center field drove home the winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning as the Arkansas Travelers took a 2-1 Texas League baseball victory over the Jackson Mets Tuesday night.

Trophy winner

DETROIT (AP) - Right wing Al Dumba of Fort Wayne has won the Gatschene Trophy as the International Hockey League's most valuable player for the 1979-80 season, the league announced Wednesday.

Dumba, 23, is a four-year veteran of the IHL and was its leading scorer during the regular season, leading the Komets to first place in the South Division. The 5-foot-11, 180-pounder scored 47 goals and had 72 assists to capture the scoring crown.

He was chosen in voting by the league's 10 general managers. Goalie Larry Lozinski of Kalamazoo was runnerup and defenseman Claude St. Sauveur of Milwaukee was third.

Slow Pitch Tournament set for Odessa in May

ODESSA - Country Burger will sponsor a 3-2 slow pitch softball tournament May 3-4.

Entry fee is $65. Trophies will go to the first four teams, while individual trophies will be given to 15 players on the first three teams. Also, there will be 10 all-tournament awards and one most valuable player trophy. First and second league teams and players are not allowed to enter. For information, contact Pete Slack, 367-0004, or Arthur Molina, 333-2459, after 6 p.m.

In other Texas League action, Tulsa beat Shreveport, 6-1, San Antonio edged Amarillo, 6-5, and Midland beat

El Paso, 10-4. Hunsaker's single drove home Fred Tisdale, who walked. The ninth inning heroics by Arkansas spoiled what been an excellent pitching performance by Tim Leary, 0-3, who struck out 11 Arkansas batters and allowed only the one walk, the walk that cost him the game.

Jackson took a 1-0 lead in the first on doubles by Ed Cuervo and Mike Howard. The Travelers tied the game at 1-1 in the fourth when Mike Dimmel reached first on an error by Cuervo, stole second and third and came home on a balk. The game remained tied until Hunsaker's single.

Luis DeLeon, 1-1, pitching in relief, picked up the victory. Wayne Tollison's hitting and Jerry Don Gleaton's pitching enabled the Tulsa Drillers to take a 6-1 victory over the Shreveport Captains. Tollison drove in three runs and scored another. Tollison tripled in two runs as the Drillers scored three in the second inning and his RBI single topped off a three-run outburst in the third inning.

Jerry Don Gleaton, 3-0, went the distance in picking up the pitching victory. He had a no hitter going through five innings, but gave up 7 late hits. He also struck out 6 and walked 4.

Jeff Stember, 1-2, was the losing Shreveport pitcher.

John Shoemaker's two-run double highlighted a three-run ninth inning rally to allow the San Antonio Dodgers to come from behind and take a 6-5 victory over the Amarillo Gold Sox.

Brad Thorpe was the winning pitcher. The loser was Dan Boone.

Tickets now on sale for Cowboy basketball

Tickets for the Dallas Cowboys-Midland College faculty basketball game Friday night at the Chaparral Center are on saleat the Chap Center, Midland National Bank, First National Bank, Stadium Sports, Fisher Adams Insurance Agency, Mr. Ruben's restaurant, #1 Sports Place, Lee High Key Club and Casita Gerado.

By The Associated Press For Bruce Kison, it was an "instant replay" one year later.

Kison, the former Pittsburgh Pirates' right-hander who signed a free agent contract with the California Angels for $2.4 million during the offseason, got his first American League victory Wednesday with a sparkling one-hitter.

'A no-hitter would have been nice, but if you've got to lose one, that's the way to lose it," Kison said of a oneout, ninth-inning double into the left field corner by Minnesota's Ken Landreaux.

"It was the only bad pitch he threw all afternoon," said Angels catcher Tom Donahue. "His sinker was awesome

Last year, Kison missed a no-hitter against the San Diego Padres on a controversial call. The hit, by the Padres' Barry Evans, also came with one out in the ninth inning.

"This situation was a lot easier to handle (than last year's) because it was a clean base hit," said Kison, now 1-2. "Both one-hitters were similar. I stayed ahead of the hitters and got them to hit a lot of ground balls." It also didn't hurt that Kison had a 17-0 lead.

In other American League games Wednesday, Cleveland stopped Milwaukee 7-3, the New York Yankees edged Baltimore 6-5, Detroit nipped Texas 5-4, Kansas City beat Toronto

Too Tall may rejoin Pokes

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) -Football player-turned-boxer Ed "Too Tall" Jones is negotiating a new contract to return to the Dallas Cowboys, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today

The copyright report was based on interviews with Cowboys officials and Jones' manager, Dave Wolf.

But Jones, who has insisted he intends to stick with boxing, was quoted in the Dallas Times Herald as saying he had "thought about" returning to football but "I haven't gone as far as three doubles. considering it."

Wolf cited many reasons for advising Jones to enter negotiations to return to the Cowboys, where he was a star defensive end.

"It was the venom with which the (Nevada boxing) commissioners attacked Ed that hurt the most," he told the Star-Telegram. "They said the (proposed Jones vs. Raoul Gorsito) fight would be a farce. We learned from that incident that Ed was going to have a serious problem in some states to get a fair chance to practice his trade. Shortly after that, we concluded that football might be a good idea. Cowboys Coach Tom Landry told the newspaper, "If he is going to play football, we need to get him back fairly quickly. He would need to get back into it. As much as he trains, I know he is in good shape, but he needs to get himself prepared to play football again."

7-4 and Oakland toppled Seattle 5-2. The Chicago White Sox at Boston game was rained out.

"I tried to get Landreaux out on a slider," said Kison. "It got up and away.

"He overpowered us with his off-speed stuff," Minnesota Manager Gene Mauch said of Kison.

The 6-foot-4, 173-pound Kison said the no-hitter was on his mind throughout the game.

"It's pretty hard not to be aware of it," he said. "I was aware it was broken up and didn't dwell on it long when I knew I had another batter coming up.

Kison struck out one and issued four walks - both Roy Smalley and Mike Cubbage walked twice - while Hosken Powell reached on an error

Al Cowens and Fred Patek had three hits each to pace the Angels' 17-hit barrage off five Minnesota pitchers. California was aided by four Twins errors.

Tigers 5, Rangers 4

A two-run double by Jason Thompson capped a three-run first inning and the Detroit infield pulled off double plays to kill two Texas rallies as the Tigers downed the Rangers.

Detroit starter Jack Morris, 3-1, hit Al Oliver in the foot in the third inning and both benches cleared when Texas pitcher Steve Comer, 0-2, hit Champ Summers in the shoulder on his first pitch of the fourth inning.

Indians 7, Brewers 3

Rookie Joe Charboneau slammed a three-run homer and Toby Harrah singled home two runs to pace Cleveland's victory over Milwaukee. Don Money homered with a man on

Yankees 6, Orioles 5

A mammoth two-run homer by Reggie Jackson in the fifth inning snapped a tie and lifted the Yankees to their victory over Baltimore. It was only the second home run of Jackson's career off Orioles starter Jim Palmer, 2-1.

Oscar Gamble and Jim Spencer also homered for the Yankees while Ed Murray belted a pair of solo homers for Baltimore. The two teams also combined for three triples and Jackson's smash, the 372nd home run of his career and third of this season, landed in a rarely reached area more than halfway up the rightcenter field bleachers.

Baltimore tied a major league record by not leaving a single runner on base

Royals 7, Blue Jays 4

George Brett's bases-loaded triple with two out in the eighth inning boosted Kansas City over Toronto Brett, hitting just .205 when the night began, also singled and doubled while driving in four runs.

Rick Bosetti had a three-run homer in the top of the eighth to give the Blue Jays a temporary 4-3 lead.

A's 5, Mariners 2

Mario Guerrero had four hits and drove in two, runs to pace Oakland's victory over Seattle. Guerrero delivered a run-scoring single in the ninth inning as the A's exploded for three runs to snap a 2-2 tie.

homer

Chambliss connected on his third homer of the season off lefty Randy Jones, 1-2, and gave the Braves a 2-0 lead.

Rick Matula, 2-1, went 61-3 innings for Atlanta, yielding four hits and one run in the seventh on an RBI single by Jerry Turner

Mets 3, Phils 2.

Joel Youngblood drove in two runs, including the game-winner in the eighth inning, and Mets rookie righthander Mark Bomback picked up his first major league victory.

Bomback went seven innings, scattering eight hits. Reliever Jeff Reardon got the save when he struck out pinch-hitter Randy Lerch with the bases loaded in the ninth. Phils Manager Dallas Green was forced to send Lerch to the plate when he ran out of pinch hitters.

Green said he had both Lerch and another lefty pitcher, Steve Carlton, warming up their swings to bat against the right-handed Reardon, and I went with Randy because he has a better possibility of beating one

Cards 3, Cubs 1

Silvio Martinez tossed a three-hitter and St. Louis scored three unearned runs in the eighth inning to defeat Chicago.

Tony Scott opened the eighth with a single. On the next play, Martinez bunted and Scott was safe at second on a throwing error by Bill Buckner. Gary Templeton singled to score Scott. Ken Oberkfell then bunted and was safe when Mike Krukow, 1-1, threw wild past first, allowing Templeton to score. Bobby Bonds drove in the third run with a sacrifice fly.

Martinez, 1-1, walked two and struck out eight.

Expos 3, Pirates 2

Larry Parrish and Tony Bernazard belted solo homers to back the five-hit pitching of right-hander Steve Rogers, 2-2. Rogers struck out seven and didn't walk a man.

Dave Parker homered for the Pirates. Bert Blyleven was tagged with his second loss without a win.

Rebs, Goddard play two today

The Midland Lee Rebels were set to square off today with the Roswell, N.M. Goddard Rockets in a doubleheader at the Lee diamond starting at 2 p.m.

Lee took a 12-10 record into the game and Coach Ernie Johnson planned to start all seniors in one game and all juniors in the other contest.

In other baseball action today, Abilene Cooper tangles with San Angelo Central in a District 5-4A makeup game. A win by Cooper would move the Cougars into a four-way tie for first place with Midland, Midland Lee and Abilene in the second half of the race.

Admission is $3.50.

Smith, LePore return to Midland

Norm Smith and Herb LePore have survived the jogger's equivalent of being staked out in the hot Arizona sun on a bed of red ants and receiving the kind of relief maple syrup poured over their blistering bodies might provide. And they did so well that both earned the privilege of doing it again next year.

Both are back in Midland after participating in the 26-mile, 385-yard jaunt from Hopkinton, Mass., to Boston earlier this week and since both finished in the top 49 percent of the field of 5,000 or so machoists, they are automatically eligible for next year's fun.

For someone who's idea of exercise is walking the dogs around the block, the Boston Marathon might sound like cruel and unusual punishment, above and beyond the call of duty, so it might surprise them to learn that folks not only volunteer for the Patriot's Day jaunt, but fight to earn a qualifying spot.

SMITH, 33, ran the distance in two hours and 53 minutes while LePore, wearing V 289, made it in three hours and 10 minutes

"This was the toughest Boston Marathon in a long time," advises Le-Pore, "because of the heat." It was 65 degrees as some 8,000 runners, including free lancers, created a mob scene at the starting line and by the time they straggled into Boston behind Bill Rodgers several weary hours later, the mercury was in the 70s. To West Texans, that may sound delightful, but to proper Bostonians, a summer day in the 70s precipitates a flight to the Cape for relief before they die of discomfort. Something to do with the humidity.

This was LePore's second straight year for the Boston and thoughts of breaking three hours were quickly dispelled by the weather.

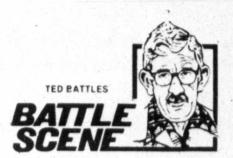

'I kept an even pace," he said, 'That's the thing that saved me."

Maybe in cooler weather, five water stops is sufficient, but Monday they were totally inadequate

"I ran seven or eight miles before I had any liquid. Someone thrust a beer at me. In fact, later on someone else handed me a beer," LePore, a Brigham Young University graduate and former college professor related.

THAT dispelled the thought that those good samaritans along the route were giving the runners cups of refreshing water. "The beer was a lifesaver. It restored the carbohydrates," he informed.

'The field was so large that it took me two and a half minutes to reach the starting line after the race began," LePore explained.

"I ran at a seven-minute mile pace and wound up running well for my age group," LePore, who has participated in 14 marathons said.

Of course, the toll-taker is Heartbreak Hill in Newton. "It's not so steep, but rather a gradual incline, but what makes it so tough is that it comes so late in the race.

"I saw a couple of guys pass out right in front of me and in the last seven or eight miles I must have passed 300 people."

ALMOST as much as the run, Le-Pore is impressed by the gracious hospitality of the people in the area. "And as much as the competition, I enjoyed the opportunity of meeting so many people...from all over the U.S. and the world.'

And while women weren't forced to jump out of the bushes to compete, as the first woman marathoner who completed the race did back in the 1960's, a lot of folks suspect that's what women's winner Rosie Ruiz did. LePore feels it's up to meet officials to decide that issue, but he's among the suspicious, pointing out that no one at any of the check points, or competitors, remembers seeing her.

"I've walked a few times, but never cheated. That would defeat the whole purpose of the marathon. In a run like that, you feel like you were a winner if you just completed the distance."

The fact that he received a cup of yogurt and some liquid rather than the traditional stew at the finish line isn't the reason LePore feels like he'll skip next year's run. "At the finish, it doesn't matter what nourishment they give you. You aren't in condition to notice what it is anyway. It's just that after two Boston Marathons, that's enough."... Of course, in another month, red ants, maple syrup and a stakeout in the Arizona sun might sound pretty good again.

In any case, Herb isn't hanging up his shoes. "There's a marathon in New York in August and I just might.

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, THUR., APRIL 24, 1980

Houdek, Armstrong set for regional tennis play

LUBBOCK - More than one time this prep tennis season, Richey Houdek and Lance Armstrong have found themselves matched-up in the singles' finals of a tournament.

That Richey Houdek and Lance Armstrong are Midland High teammates, really doesn't bother their coach, Pete Barizon.

In fact, Barizon would like nothing better than to see his two junior standouts fighting for the Region I singles' title Saturday.

"The best thing I can hope for," said Barizon, "is for both of them to be in the finals. That way, they'll both go to the state meet.

Realistically, Armstrong and Houdek, each of whom has won at least one tournament this season, have a good shot at reaching the finals, according to Barizon.

The first-year Midland taskmaster believes there's a "strong possibility" Armstrong will be seeded first and Houdek second.

But, as is sometimes the case at a region meet, the opposition can be extremely tough.

'Some of our strongest competition should come from the Lubbock schools and those from the Waco-Bryan area," said Barizon:

Still, Barizon has high hopes for his hard-working duo. "Both boys are very even in talent and ability, and they've put in extra time on their own.

Marathon officials checking on Ruiz

BOSTON (AP) - Boston Marathon director Will Cloney says there are lists of women runners taken at various race checkpoints that should indicate whether Manhattan office worker Rosie Ruiz ran the 26 miles in record time or "stumbled" onto it a mile from the finish.

And in Manhattan, Fred LeBow, director of the New York City Marathon, said Ruiz never should have qualified for the Boston race because: her New York time of 2:56.29 cannot be verified by a continuous film of the finishers.

Meanwhile, the New York Daily News offered her money, to be donated to charity, if she will run the New York City marathon course.

Since Ruiz crossed the Boston finish line Monday in 2:31.56, a record time for women, controversy has swirled around the 26-year-old. She has scoffed at growing doubts that she didn't run the entire course, doubts that came even from the overall winner, Bill Rodgers Cloney said Boston race officials had spotters at various checkpoints taking down the numbers of women runners. "We have three or four very credible lists," he said.

"I just don't want to say at this time what the lists indicate," Cloney said. "We're still trying to fit together all the pieces of a giant jigsaw puzzle I'm hopeful of having this cleared up by the end of the week ... We won't get to a decision unless we're sure it's a Larchmont, N.Y., and Sola Mahoney of Gambia, West Africa, say they saw Ruiz slip into the race less than a mile from the finish.

Brooks predicts Russian pull out

DENVER (AP) - Coach Herb Brooks, whose U.S. Olympic hockey team won the gold medal at the Winter Games, says boycotting the Summer Games in Moscow "would hurt the Russians so bad that they'd pull out of Afghanistan in a month."

Brooks was in Denver on Wednesday and spoke to University of Denver alumni about sports and patriotism.

He acknowledged that his belief that the Russians would withdraw from Afghanistan in the face of a boycott may be wishful thinking, but he said that athletes should sacrifice.

"Many people in many different uniforms have made sacrifices over the years, and now it's the athletes' turn," Brooks said. "I'm an American first and involved in athletics second. I know I'll get hate mail."

Discussing his team's winning the first U.S. Olympic gold medal in hockey since 1960, Brooks said that he tries to keep things in perspective, even though he has been in the public

Olympic officials hope face-to-face meetings will help settle things

By The Associated Press

National and international Olympic officials have called for face-to-face meetings that they hope would help settle conflicts related to the crumbling Moscow Summer Games.

Lord Killanin, President of the International Olympic Committee, offered Wednesday to meet with President Carter and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev in a bid to salvage the Games, which are threatened by a multi-country boycott.

Meanwhile, Col. F. Don Miller, U.S. Olympic Committee general secretary, said in Lausanne, Switzerland, that he hopes to meet with some of the 19 athletes who Wednesday filed a federal court suit in Washington, D.C., against the USOC.

The athletes contend the committee illegally bowed to pressure from the Carter Adminstration when it voted April 12 to boycott the Olympics because of Soviet intervention in Afghanistan. They said the USOC charter demands that athletes be allowed the opportunity to compete in the Games.

Miller said: "They know when I am arriving in Washington and have said they will come to see me there. I hope we shall have the opportunity to talk things over.

USOC President Robert Kane said the athletes who filed the suit misinterpreted the USOC Constitution.

He said that this rule means is the committee should not discriminate against any athlete for any reason when selecting when selecting a team for the Games. But no national Olympic committee is compelled to enter a team in the Olympics," Kane said.

The IOC, after three days of talks in Lausanne told each national Olympic committee that athletes could be sent to the Games without using their national flags.

Killanin sent telegrams to Carter and Brezhnev after receiving a message from Carter praising the value of the Olympic movement.

"I cannot make peace, but at least I can't make things worse than they are," the Irishman said.

The IOC announcement on national flags apparently came after Soviet Olympic officials adopted a conciliatory attitude at the meeting in hopes that it would help as many athletes as possible come to Moscow for the Games.

In other Olympic developments Wednesday:

-The West German government called on its Olympic committee to boycott the Games. "Sport needs peace," declared Chancellor Helmut Schmidt.

-The Japan Olympić Committee confirmed that it favored "in principle" that the country compete in the Games. The JOC's temporary stand, which could be reversed when a final decision is made by the middle of June, contradicts the government's.

-The South Korean government told the Korean Olympic Committee it would be advisable for Korea to boycott the Moscow Games.

The IOC is a private body, without ties or responsibility to any government. Its sole mission is the presentation of the Olympics every four years both winter and summer.

The committee is made up of representatives from the various nations whose athletes compete in the Games. Those representatives are selected by the IOC itself, not elected by persons in their own countries

In addition, each of those nation's has its own national Olympic committee, which is responsible for training programs for its nation's athletes and for sending teams to the Games. The officiers of the various national committees are elected by their own constituents

Technically at least, governments do not send teams to the Olympics national Olympic committees do, and the Olympic Charter requires them to resist any sort of pressure from governments. In the United States, Britain, West Germany, France, Australia, Canada, Japan and some other western nations, the national Olympic committees are distinctly independent of their governments. And in some cases, the nations' athletes plan to go to Moscow in spite of their governments' disapproval.

KENNY REDIN'S Fin & Feather

One artificial largemouth bass bait outshines them all. Professionals, bass experts and charter guides swear by it. Those who know little about fishing this particular bait just shake their heads The all-time fish catcher and most dependable largemouth bait is the plastic worm. Ninety per cent of skilled and experienced anglers say the plastic worm is their favorite.

Why? First, the old earthworm is the best all-around freshwater bait so an artificial bait designed in shape, size and color would be the most dependable to toss at a cagey old largemouth.

There's no way you can convince the worm fisherman that any other bait will outproduce the plastic wiggler. But, when you come to talking to novice worm fishermen or those not familiar with the plastic worm, it's a chore to make them believe a plastic worm is so good.

It takes more time, patience and skill than fishing another bait. And if you don't believe it, talk to one of those anglers who has not quite got the hang of worm fishing yet, but knows the worm is a good bait.

The plastic worm can be fished in so many ways and that makes it good. The worm can be crawled at a snail's pace across the brushy or rocky lake bottom. The angler can also bounce the worm in short jerks, clearing the bottom by several inches before fluttering back to the bottom. The worm can also be fished in the middle of a bush without much danger of hanging up. The worm can be fished vertically just below the boat. It can be tossed upon lily pads or other vegetation without much chance of clinging to the pesky water weeks. And it can be fished with a steady retrieve back to the boat. No bait can be fished as many different ways as the plastic worm

Now that we've determined "the versatility of this little bass teaser, let's look at how to fish the worm.

This is the most difficult part. It's not just toss and crank. You must know how to crawl the worm, which usually is the best way to fish the worm. You must also know when a fish hits the slow-moving bait. Then, you must know how to set the hook.

We'll get to the rigging next, but first you must know how to fish the worm. Take an average Texas Lake. Rocks, brush piles and gravel bars. That's where the bass are. Toss the worm to a fishy-looking spot. Let the worm sink to the bottom. As the line goes slack, reel up the slack and bring the rod tip into a 12 o'clock position. During this learning period, a bass might inhale the worm. When a bass inhales a worm, it's only a slight tap for the most part. The bass tap on the plastic worm feels like a bream nibbling at a live worm or a crappie tapping on a live minnow.

Once you feel the tap, reel in the slack to the point of not tightening the line. Drop the rod, with rod tip pointing directly to the line's entrance into the water. Do not let the fish feel pressure. Secure a good grip and then bring the rod back towards your head. You are now setting the hook.

It sounds easy, but you've got to learn when a bass has inhaled the bait, when to set the hook and how much power is needed. After all these things have been done, you must not let the bass have any slack line for the first few seconds after the hook setting.

To rig the plastic worm, there are several choices, but the most promising is Texas Style.

Texas Style worm-rigging is simple and a sure fire means of enticing bass to strike. Take a 3/0 or 4/0 worm hook. Not any hook will work. Talk to your tackle dealer or read on the hook package and make sure it reads 'worm hooks''. Next come worm weights. Bullet-shaped weights are required. Then comes the plastic worm. Slip the weight on the line with the blunt end directing itself toward the end of the line. The weight's bullet-shaped nose must be facing you. Tie on the hook. Then take the worm in hand. Insert the hook tip into the worm's head. Thread the worm on the hook. Bring the hook point out about one-quarter inch from the worm's head, Slide the remaining portion of the upper portion of the worm until you reach the worm's midsection. Turn the hook point back around and insert it into the worm's mid-section. Now lyou have a weekless bass fishing rig.

Worms come in all sizes, shapes and colors. This is really not too important. For beginning fishermen, it's wise to purchase the shorter worms, four, five and six inches. They tend to receive more strikes.

From here on it's up to you to learn the technique. It's not simple, but once you've learned to ddetermine a bass tap, how to rig and set the hook. it will stay with you as long as you chase bass.

North Stars return to ice

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) -The Minnesota North Stars return home tonight hoping to stay alive in their quarterfinal National Hockey League playoff series against the defending Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens.

Just a week ago, Minnesota had all the answers. The North Stars had defeated the Canadiens twice on Montreal's ice. And there were even some fans who had the audacity to suggest a 4-0 Minnesota sweep.

But the North Stars have lost all three games since. One more and they're out.

"It's time to see how deep we can dig," said Minnesota defenseman Brad Maxwell. "We have to try to go a little harder. We're fighting for our lives and we sure want to do our best in the sixth game."

"We'll come back in front of our home crowd," said North Stars Coach Glen Sonmor, who has watched his youthful team fall behind 3-2 in the best-of-seven series.

However, the Canadiens' Steve Shutt doesn't buy any home-ice advantage for Minnesota

"We play differently at home than we do on the road," said Shutt. "On the road we play a more disciplined style. It has always been that way."

Shutt said Montreal's two playoff victories in Minnesota were "the best we played all season."

Several mistakes in their own zone proved costly to the North Stars Tuesday night as Montreal beat Minnesota for the third straight time, 6-2, to take have been satisfied with his firstplace finish in the Drake Relays decathlon.

But when he learned his score was high enough to send him to the NCAA meet, Bastien let out a whoop, threw his shoes into the air and hopped across the track.

"That's just great!" the junior from Eastern Michigan University exclaimed Wednesday. "That really takes the pressure off. I didn't have any idea I was that close.'

Bastien, competing in his first decathlon since undergoing ankle surgery last summer, compiled 7,406 points in the 10 events. He needed 7,400 to qualify for the NCAA meet at Austin, Texas, in June.

Local favorite Rex Harvey of nearby Redfield, who at 33 was the oldest competitor, was second with 7,315 points and Rex Town of Kitchener, Ontario, was third with 7,297. The decathlon was the first event of the 71st Drake Relays, which gets into full swing Friday. The first-day card features four-time Olympic gold medalist Al Oerter, who will duel young Michael Carter in the discus.

Minnesota General Manager Lou Nanne, meanwhile, was thinking po-

Other top events Friday will be the invitational 200-meter dash, the invitational 5,000 and the pole vault.

Bastien won the decathlon with strong performances in the pole vault and 1,500 meters. Only 12 points separated Bastien, Town and Harvey after nine events, but Bastien broke the logjam by winning the 1,500 in 4:25.3.

Bastien and Harvey tied for first in the pole vault, clearing 15 feet, 11/4 inches. Town won the javelin (196-5) and discus (146-5) and Steve Kemp won the 110-meter hurdles in 15.3 seconds

Kemp finished fourth overall with 7.191 points.

DePaul's Aguirre making decision

CHICAGO (AP) - The college basketball player of the year, Mark Aguirre of DePaul, will announce today if he will remain in school instead of declaring himself eligible for the upcoming National Basketball Association draft.

DePaul officials set a noon news conference to announce the decision. Aguirre, a sophomore, said last week that he would turn pro only if he could be guaranteed that he be picked among the first three draft choices and if the terms of a contract could be guaranteed before he announced his decision.

Boston, Utah and Golden State have the first three selections in the June 10 draft and only Golden State has expressed interest in the DePaul forward who averaged 26.8 points and 7.6 rebounds per game in leading the Blue Demons to a 26-2 record. Charles Tucker, a Michigan State psychologist who served as an advisor to Earvin "Magic" Johnson a year ago, said Wednesday that he thinks Aguirre is leaning toward remaining in school.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - It's homecourt advantage, sort of, to the SuperSonics as their National Basketball Association playoff series with the Los Angeles Lakers shifts to Seattle.

The Sonics may wander around looking slightly lost when they take their "home floor" for Friday night's third game of the best-of-seven playoffs, tied 1-f following the Lakers' 108-99 victory Wednesday in Los Angeles.

Down to their third choice of an arena after being preempted from the Kingdome by the Seattle Mariners and from the Seattle Coliseum by an ice show, the defending NBA champion Sonics will host Game Three in the University of Washington's Hec Edmundson Pavilion.

"We haven't played in Edmundson in 10 years," said Seattle Coach Lenny Wilkens. Sunday's fourth game of the Western Conference finals will also be held in Edmundson, That's what happened Wednesday night as "Dr. J" scored 28 points, 22 in the second half, to trigger the 76ers' 97-90 victory over the Boston Celtics in a National Basketball Association semifinal game.

The next game will be played here Friday night, with the Sixers leading the playoff series 2-1. Erving had a subpar first half, scoring just six points. He spent some time on the bench as the Celtics took a 47-45 halftime lead.

In the dressing room during intermission Erving gave himself a silent pep talk.

"I'm going out there and give it my best shot," Erving said he told himself. "I'm going to play with reckless

The Lakers looked much sharper in the nationally televised Game Two than they had in the opener, managing to cut down dramatically on mistakes. They turned the ball over just 12 times, including twice in the second half and none in the final quarter. The Sonics, who rallied from an 11-point deficit at the end of three quarters to within three before the Lakers pulled away again, had 24 turnovers.

"We finally got our fastbreak going," said Westhead. "I thought it was a better game than the first one. Believe it or not, I think Seattle played better.

The fifth game is scheduled in Los Angeles next Wednesday. If necessary, Game Six will be played May 2 in Seattle, with the final game in Los Angeles on May 4. The winner plays the Boston-Philadelphia series winner for the NBA championship.

Death toll rises, includes one American woman

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The death toll rose today to at least 116 in the collision of a ferry-freighter and an oil tanker, and one of the dead was an American woman of Filipino descent, rescue officials said. An official count showed 896 survivors.

Officials identified the American as Hanna Fenner of Lakewood, Calif., a nurse. Relatives of Mrs. Fenner said she was on holiday and was traveling with two grandchildren who live in the Philippines. Both girls, aged 7 and 8, were still missing, they said.

They said searchers found 20 more bodies today. A final toll in the collision in the Tablas Strait will probably never be known because an accurate account of the number of persons aboard the inter-island motorship is not likely, they said.

The Negros Navigation Company's 330-foot Don Juan had a crew of 87 aboard Tuesday night when a Philippine tanker rammed it in the Tablas Strait, and 890 passengers were on the manifest, accoring to a source at the shipping company. That was 31 less than the total of the bodies and survivors reported, and the source explained that on all such trips there were always a number of passengers who boarded at the last minute and were not listed on the manifest.

Philippine air force pilots spotted what appeared to be more bodies floating in the strait in the central Philippines Wednesday night. Surface ships were still searching the area 130 miles southeast of Manila today.

The 1,372-ton Don Juan was struck amidships by the 1,943-ton tanker Tacloban City and sank in 14 minutes on a run from Manila to Bacolod City, 330 miles southeast of the capital. The captains of both ships filed protests with the coast guard, and each blamed the other for the collision.

The tanker, which was returning to Manila after making a delivery in the central Philippines, was damaged in the bow

Coast Guard says budget cuts 'would mean disaster'

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Coast Guard, trying to rescue proposed cuts in its budget, is telling Congress the reductions would mean less manpower and fewer operations and "would be a disaster for us."

And Commandant John B. Hayes said many people might not buy the idea, put forth by the House, of charging for some services.

The Senate Budget Committee has recommended the Coast Guard budget for the 1981 fiscal year, starting Oct. 1, be sliced by $165 million. A House committee has called for a $150 million cut, while President Carter proposed a $12 million reduction.

Hayes said Wednesday the Coast Guard could handle the smaller cut recommended by Carter, but he said finding more money to meet the congressional proposals would be "kind of bloody for us."

If forced to accept the congressional plan, Hayes said safety and protecting the environment would continue to get priority, but there would be a "major reduction" in other operations and services.

Several thousand Coast Guard personnel also would have to be cut, he said.

Hayes said there is some merit in the House plan to compensate for the budget cut by charging or some services, but he added that many people might consider that inappropriate for such services as saving lives at sea.

"I think it is kind of nice that our nation is concerned enough about the safety of people at sea" to provide Coast Guard rescue services in many instances, he said.

Residents return home

FORT HALL, Idaho (AP) - All but a handful of the more than 300 residents driven from their homes by a chemical warehouse fire have returned to their homes, officials said. Ed Barrus, county disaster services director, said Wednesday the town serving the Fort Hall Indian Reservation has been divided into three areas: a least hazardo us area including homes, an area limited to law enforcement and regulatory personnel and the "extremely hazardous" area near the burned warehouse.

The fire and explosions that ripped through the Russet Chemical Co. Warehouse early Tues day sent 29 persons to the hospital, but only two remained hospitalized Wednesday. There were 58 chemic als stored in the warehouse, mostly fertilizers and pesticides, said Blackfoot Fire Chief Parley Wynn.

The town's trading post is to reopen today but the el ementary school is expected to be closed until Friday.

study shows. People with chest pains are routinely put in intensive care until doctors figure out whether they really have had heart attacks. These people make up 39 percent of all admissions to intensive care units, the most expensive wards in the hospital.

A team at Massachusetts General Hospital concludes that a few simple tests can quickly identify people who have not had attacks and are in little danger. And these patients can be transferred out of intensive care within 24 hours instead of staying there two days as they do now.

This change alone can cut hospital hills 26 percent for these patients,

Are heart patients getting too much intensive care?

It would also mean substantial savings for hospitals. Some spend as much as 20 percent of their budgets on intensive care, and the researchers said the early transfer of these people would let hospitals cut the number of intensive care beds reserved for heart victims by 9 percent.

Two studies on the use of intensive care units, directed by physicians Albert G. Mulley and George E. Tibault, were published in today's New England Journal of Medicine.

Shu was performing alone there when "she (Savannah) came in by accident one night. She had been looking for a piano player for two years. I had her sing and the manager hired her.'

The bar was a small piano bar and Shu's piano was special.

"I brought the first psychedelic piano to Midland," he explains proud-

High-backed and painted black, with the front off, it was possible to see the interior workings of the piano through a black light.

This was where so many who came for a drink, alone, stayed to dance, together; where many found, in the easy sway of their music, a partner for longer than the evening.

Sketches, paintings displayed

LUBBOCK - Original sketches and paintings from the Maximilian-Bodmer Collection, produced on a western expedition in 1832-34, are on display through May 11 at the Museum of Texas Tech University.

The collection records the sights seen by Prince Alexander Philip Maximilian (1782-1867) of Wied-Neuwied, Germany, and the recording artist who traveled with him, Karl Bodmer, 1809-1893. Included are Bodmer's original sketches and water color paintings, Maximilian's diaries, contracts, account books, maps, handwritten texts of the prince's travel books and the first edition printings of his travels in French, German and English.

Bodmer painted the only known picture of Fort Benton, Montana. The artist was particularly interested in the Mandan and Hidatsa Indians whose villages were near Fort Clark, about 45 miles from present-day Bismarck, N.D.

Only a few years after their visit, the Mandan tribe was decimated by smallpox, the great buffalo herds began disappearing and the soil in this area was broken by the plow.
