Polls show Reagan with sizable lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — With just four weeks left in the presidential campaign, surveys by five major news organizations show Republican Ronald Reagan well ahead in the electoral votes that actually decide the presidential contest.

In three of the surveys, Reagan had more than the 270 electoral votes needed to win the presidency.

However, the survey by The Associated Press showed tossup states still hold the balance, meaning Carter could reverse the trend. And The Washington Post, whose own survey shows Reagan with more than the needed electoral votes, also said the president could still pull off a victory.

The AP survey of political leaders, campaign strategists and state public opinion polls showed that the outcome hinges on tightly contested states in the Northeast and upper Midwest and in Texas.

All three major candidates were campaigning today in the Midwest and Northeast. President Carter was to be in Wisconsin and Illinois, Reagan in Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and independent John Anderson in Illinois and Massachusetts.

The AP survey showed Reagan the leader in 25 states with 236 electoral votes, 34 short of the majority that would install a new Republican administration.

It showed Carter leading in 11 states and the District of Columbia, for a total of 131 electoral votes.

Neither the AP survey, nor any of the others, shows Anderson winning any electoral votes, though it's possible he could tip the election one way or the other in some states. That means there is virtually no prospect Anderson can deadlock the election in the Electoral College.

Under the Constitution, the presidential vote is decided in the Electoral College which means — though it has rarely happened — that the man elected need not necessarily win the popular vote.

There are 538 Electoral College votes, cast by representatives of each state and the District of Columbia. The winner of a majority in a state is given all its electoral votes, and the candidate who gains a majority, 270 votes, wins the presidency.

The state-by-state figures at this point, however, provide no clear omen of the results one month away. In the AP survey, 14 states with 171 electoral votes are rated tossups, with no clear leader. And close contests loom in virtually every battleground state.

The new survey compares with one Sept. 5 that showed Reagan ahead for 212 electoral votes, Carter for 90. That means both candidates made gains, but Reagan's margin held pretty steady during the past month.

Reagan now is rated the leader in Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey, all three of which were judged tossups in the earlier survey. The three states have a total of 63 electoral votes.

Carter gained the upper hand in New York. That state's 41 electoral votes are second only to California's 45 and are crucial to a Democratic electoral majority.

An early Reagan lead seems to be waning in Illinois, and its 26 electoral votes now are rated a tossup. So are the 26 votes of Texas, and 17 in Florida, both Democratic four years ago and both hotly contested now.

Florida is a prime target in Reagan's campaign to crack what was Carter's solid South. Reagan also appears to hold the advantage in Mississippi, with Louisiana and Alabama among the tossup states.

The other surveys showed the following:

—Washington Post: Reagan leading in 28 states with 283 electoral votes; Carter ahead in 14 states and the District of Columbia, with 151 electoral votes; eight tossup states with 104 votes.

Bush to stop here for rally Tuesday

George H.W. Bush and his wife, Barbara, will be dropping in on their former hometown Tuesday for a political rally to stir up the votes for the Republican party. Also stepping in town for the rally will be Gov. Bill Clements and his wife, Rita.

The Republican vice presidential candidate will arrive at Midland Regional Airport at the El Paso Products terminal. The 11 a.m. arrival will allow media time for questioning.

Bush, who lived in Midland during the 1950s, will speak for 20 to 30 minutes at a rally in Midland Center.

This will be preceded by a catered barbecue starting at 11:30 a.m. which will cost $4 a head. Ticket sales for the barbecue were limited and tickets should already have been purchased from the Midland County Republican campaign headquarters, 700-B Andrews Highway. Tickets will be on sale at the door, according to a spokesman with the headquarters.

However, for those who don't want to eat but do want to hear the rally, there will be standing room in the center, and the public is invited.

Ernest Angelo Jr. of Midland, state campaign manager of the Reagan-Bush campaign, said the principle feeling is that Bush "is coming back home again. We expect to have a good crowd and a lot of enthusiasm for him. His appeal in Texas has already been demonstrated. I feel the Midland visit will help ensure a big turnout for the Republican ticket."

Angelo has been working in Austin on the campaign and will be coming home also for the rally.

He pointed out the rally is exactly four weeks before the Nov. 4 election. "Yes, I'm counting the days," he laughed. "I'd be quite happy if the election was this Tuesday. I feel we (Texas) would carry Reagan."

This probably will be the last chance for Midlanders to hear one of the major GOP candidates, Angelo said.

He explained Reagan will be in Texas only one, and possibly two more times before the general election. Bush is scheduled to return to the Lone Star State twice, maybe three times, before November.

Bush, who is coming in from Washington, D.C., will be flying to Plano after the Midland rally to dedicate a new city hall, said Angelo. From there he will go to Houston for a meeting with black leaders who have endorsed Reagan.

The Bushes moved to the Permian Basin in 1949 and Bush eventually became an independent oil operator while in Midland. He became involved in numerous civic organizations, and the family moved to Houston in the late 1950s.

His son, George W., lives in Midland and is an independent oil operator.

Hogan Park 'gang fight' leaves one man dead

A 22-year-old Midlander was killed and two others were injured Sunday afternoon at Hogan Park in what Midland police describe as "a kind of gang fight."

Jose Natividad was fatally shot about 4:30 p.m. when a man fired three shots from a pistol into a crowd at the park, according to investigating officers. Manuel Moreno, 20, of Midland and Isidro Galindo, 21, of 905 N. Dallas St., were injured in the incident.

No charges had been filed by early this morning, but Sgt. Frank Bartlett said two men had been taken into custody for questioning in connection with the incident.

Natividad, 2405 W. College Ave., was rushed to Midland Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment following the shooting incident, but he died about 1:15 a.m. today. He had been shot once in the crotch area.

Moreno received a superficial gunshot wound to the back and Galindo was shot once in the calf, Sgt. Bartlett said. Both were treated at the emergency room and then released.

According to Sgt. Bartlett, about 30 people were involved in what he described as a "brawl" at the park. "It was just a kind of gang fight — that kind of a situation," the sergeant said.

He said the people involved in the incident apparently are "low riders."

The two men taken into custody were about 20 years of age, Sgt. Bartlett said. One was arrested about 8 p.m. Sunday and one about 12:30 a.m. today.

Early today officers still were attempting to piece together details of the shooting incident.

No motive was known immediately.

Fighting continues to rage

War enters its third week

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Fighting was reported all along the 300-mile invasion front today and Iraq claimed the embattled Iranian port city of Khorramshahr had become "an advance stronghold" for Iraqi troops. Iran said the Iraqi penetrations had been halted in several areas and Iranian forces had forced the Iraqis to retreat in other sectors.

Jordan's prime minister ordered a mobilization of all transport vehicles to carry food and supplies to the Iraqi army. The mobilization and the reported loan of Jordanian air bases appeared to move Jordan closer to full-scale involvement in the war, and came after a visit by Jordanian King Hussein to Baghdad.

The Iraqi news agency carried a dispatch from Khorramshahr saying "the heroes of the battle are loftily standing" in the city and its port. It said Iraqi forces were rendering various services to the people of the area.

An Iranian military communique said Iranian jets raided military targets inside Iraq, "including air bases, radar installations, troop columns and military garrisons as well as oil and military-industrial installations." The communique denied that the Iranian jets attacked civilian areas, although it said they had dropped leaflets over Baghdad. The Iranian air attacks ended a unilateral Iraqi cease-fire moments after it started.

Another Iranian communique said four people were killed and 25 WOUNDED WHEN Iraqi jets bombed the town of Kouhdasht, in Lorestan province. Kouhdasht is about 100 miles from the Iraqi border, in the central sector of the war front.

Iranian radio and television broadcast an interview with President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr in which he said Sunday's Iraqi air raids involved one or two planes, adding: "They were not considered to be attacks. Such raids are simply intended to restore the morale of a misled army."

An Iraqi spokesman said earlier Iranian warplanes made two raids on the Baghdad area and other Iraqi cities beginning at dawn Sunday, when Iraq had said it would stop fighting if the Iraqis did likewise. Iraq said it retaliated with raids on the Tehran airport and oil installations elsewhere and would continue the war "in view of Iran's non-response to the cease-fire."

The Iranian communique said its forces at the northern end of the front, near Qasr-e-Shirin, were resisting concentrated Iraqi attacks, halting an Iraqi penetration there.

Employee traces hospital nosedive to April 1979

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of five articles dealing with financial problems at Midland Memorial Hospital. This section examines specific accusations of wrongdoing on the part of hospital officials.

By SUE FAHLGREN
Staff Writer

A former employee at Midland Memorial Hospital said many of the financial problems the hospital is experiencing are the result of poor lower level administrative actions and that the current administration was attempting to use former hospital administrator Wayne Ulrich as a scapegoat.

The employee, formerly close to the financial dealings of the hospital, asked not to be identified.

Specifically, this source said the financial dealings of the hospital began taking a nosedive in April 1979 — when Robert Abernethy, assistant administrator of finance, was employed at MMH. "Since April 1979, the management of that department (finance) has not been as efficient," the source said. "I have a feeling that the person employed was not qualified in having the trative slot in April 1979. Prior to that time, finances were headed up by a comptroller and two full-time and one part-time persons.

SINCE THEN, the spokesman said, financial personnel has increased to include a whole department (data processing) and several additional executive slots.

"Ever since April 1979 — with the new person as head of the department — we've had to have more employees," the source said.

The source — who echoed what other hospital personnel, former personnel and others also said but were unwilling to go on record — said present employees would be unlikely to speak out against the hospital because of loyalty or fear of retribution. However, the source stated opinions bluntly.

"In my opinion," the source said, "I can say nothing good about the assistant administrator of finance (whom) I have observed since April 1, 1979." The source continued, "I cannot say anything positive because I have found nothing positive about the assistant administrator of finance.

"It seems to me," the source continued, "over the year and a half (in which Abernethy has been employed), the assistant administrator of finance did not choose to make himself knowledgeable of the inner workings of the finances of the hospital. I feel very strongly that part of our problems are due to the lack of expertise in the field of hospital finances."

Specifically, the spokesman cited examples as Abernethy's not knowing which items were paid for out of which funds, where specific donations were forwarded, and what financial interests the hospital had in the community — including the names of large contributors to the hospital.

ABERNETHY, WHO HAS A BBA in accounting from Texas Tech University and worked with Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Texas in the provider reimbursement department for three years prior to becoming comptroller at St. Mary's, denied the charges.

"About all I can say to that is I've been in the business since 1972 and I do the best job I know how," Abernethy said. "I was not hired to conduct a popularity contest; I was hired to do a job. And I do it the best I know how."

Abernethy continued, "I don't know who said that — maybe somebody who works for me said it — that's their problem. They don't see the whole picture. They're seeing one little isolated deal."

"I think they're taking a look at a very narrow perspective," Abernethy added. "And they're not taking a look at the entire, whole picture. Whether it be fortunately or unfortunately, decisions I've made maybe have not been popular. Although, like I say, I'm not here for a popularity contest. What else can I say?"

In addition, the source said a greater number of employees were added to the financial staff to do basically less work.

The hospital has had three major computer conversions between 1967 and 1980. In 1967, a switch was made from the "pen and pencil method" through a small computer service in Dallas, MIR Computers.

The next major conversion was to the Eagle computer system through the First National Bank of Midland. The hospital used this system until July 1979 when it switched to the current in-house McAuto system.

THE MCAUTO SYSTEM is used by many large hospitals nationwide. It provides detailed billing and substantial automation of accounts.

During the first two of these conversions in the type of accounting and billing system the hospital used, there were few, if any additions to the personnel handling these accounts.

According to the source, the comptroller's staff remained at an assistant, a full-time accounts payable clerk and a part-time aide. These 3½ employees maintained all the ac- (See HOSPITAL EMPLOYER, Page 2A) counts, financial, budgeting, medicare and medicaid figurings.

During the actual conversions, the source said, the hospital hired temporary keypunch operators. However, once the switch was made, the person said, the staff would return to the same number of personnel.

When the switch to the McAuto system was proposed, the comptroller budgeted for an additional full-time employee. Since then, however, several more persons have been added.

There are four employees in the Data Processing Department — one full-time and three part-time — and five full-time positions in accounting. In addition, there is an assistant administrator of finance instead of a comptroller, and an assistant administrator of quality control.

According to the source, in 1972 the Hospital Services Agency — a governing body — suggested that each hospital should have an administrator and one assistant administrator for each 100 beds. With the recent renovations at MMH, the hospital now has 195 beds and five persons: three assistant administrators, an administrative assistant and an administrator.

"MAYBE THAT tells you something," the source said. "In business today — any business," the source added, "we're doing less and less as employees."

However, Abernethy said these charges were not necessarily valid. He said the first two computer conversions affected only the patient accounting system; whereas, the McAuto system included all four major accounting systems: accounts payable, payroll accounts, accounts receivable and patient accounts.

Further, Abernethy said, the prior conversions included "just a change in the area where that data was collected and stored," whereas, "the McAuto system was all-inclusive."

The McAuto conversion in July 1979 has been blamed for many delays and account discrepancies since that time.

"I don't think most people understand the magnitude of the conversion to McAuto," Abernethy said. "That's not to say that I didn't make mistakes along the way; I did and I freely admit that."

One of the problems, he said, was "we didn't give ourselves enough time to learn and really know the new system — much less know the old system." Abernethy said both he and H. Dean Williams, department head of the business office, were new employees to be heading up the McAuto conversion. In addition, all the employees in the data processing department were new at the hospital.

"You have to go back and see the attitude there of 'we've gotta do it now,'" Abernethy said. "There was an attitude of urgency" about starting the new system which persuaded the new employees not to ask for a delay.

ABERNETHY SAID he was pleased with "what we have accomplished. We started May 1 (1979) with nothing as far as the data processing department with no people or nothing. We now have a system that's working extremely well in my opinion."

Abernethy said, "As a general rule, all the bugs (in the system) are worked out. If there's major problems left," he added, "I'm not aware of them."

The unidentified source went on to say that the current administration was unfairly trying to use former administrator Wayne Ulrich as a scapegoat for the financial problems of the hospital.

"When Mr. Ulrich was first employed (in 1968), the hospital was in financial straights," the spokesperson said. "And fund-raising became part of his job."

Ulrich obtained almost $8 million worth of donations for the hospital over the years, in addition to the annual contributions from Midlanders for the maintenance of the hospital, and over-and-above the private sale of $10 million in revenue bonds for the hospital's improvement.

The source's remarks stemmed from explanations from the current interim administrator Robert Bash for the hospital's financial problems, which included a statement that Ulrich was basically a fund-raising administrator and not an operational-oriented one. Bash continued to say Ulrich's abilities as a fundraiser were needed at the time of his employment, but now the hospital was looking for someone more qualified in the operational aspects of the hospital.

When contacted, Ulrich refused to comment on anything related to the hospital on the advice of his attorney.

But, the unidentified source disagreed with Bash's statements. "I don't think that anyone can say that Wayne Ulrich's main objective as administrator and chief executive was fund-raising."

THE SOURCE, WHO was close to the former administrator, further said that Ulrich was not forced from his job, but that there were mounting pressures there.

"As in any such position," the source said, "there are always pressures from the job. There were pressures of his job."

"Any time that the financial picture of any organization makes a turn-around as this organization has made," the source continued to say, "— and since April 1979, the financial picture of Midland Memorial Hospital has made a turn-around — the man at the top is going to have pressure — not pressure to leave — just pressure. It's true of any organization."

Abernethy, too, disagreed with criticism of Ulrich.

"I think blaming Wayne Ulrich for anything as to where we are today is wrong," he said. "Any person — regardless of whether they are within the institution or outside the institution — that is trying to use Wayne Ulrich as a scapegoat is trying to bury something alive as opposed to bury something dead."

"As far as I'm concerned," Abernethy continued, "yesterday: let's bury the dead. Today's today and tomorrow's tomorrow. Wayne Ulrich made a helluva contribution to this institution and I think anybody that tries to take that away from him — whether it is within the institution or the townspeople — they're perpetrating a real injustice on him. There's no doubt in my mind that he made a real contribution to this institution and to this town where this hospital's concerned."

Funds also came in numbers in the form of memorials for the hospital, the source said. However, now, the person said, with the unfavorable image the hospital has developed, the donations are slower in coming.

"THE RAPPORT AND communications with our patients is not what it was six months ago, or a year ago," the person said.

"There's not that feeling of assistance and accommodation to the patient that there was," the person continued. However, the source was hopeful the situation could be eliminated.

"The organization has got to be brought back to an emphasis on 'what is best for the hospital is what is best for Midland'; not 'what is best for the hospital is what is best for me — the newly-hired employee.'"

The source explained, "If we do for our patients and make it a good hospital, then the money will come in."

State charges may be filed in slayings

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Authorities say they are considering filing state charges against Joseph Paul Franklin, a fugitive who faces federal counts in the killings of two black joggers and is wanted for questioning in slayings of blacks across the country.

Among the shootings that police want to question Franklin about is the May sniper attack on civil rights leader Vernon Jordan in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Franklin also is wanted for questioning in the deaths of a white woman and a black man in Johnstown, Pa., two black youths in Cincinnati, and a black man and white woman in Oklahoma City.

Federal warrants filed in Salt Lake City on Saturday charge Franklin with violating the civil rights of Ted Fields, 20, and David Martin, 18. They were killed Aug. 20 as they and two white girls left Liberty Park after jogging. The girls, both 15, were not shot, although one suffered a minor wound from a bullet fragment.

Salt Lake City Police Chief Bud Willoughby said Sunday that new evidence would be presented to the county attorney today, and that charges "may be considered." He would not elaborate.

Franklin, 30, has been tied to the American Nazi Party and the Ku Klux Klan. A Mobile, Ala., native, Franklin changed his name four years from James Clayton Vaughn.

The federal complaint quoted a Salt Lake City woman as saying she visited a motel with a man who told her he hated blacks and belonged to the Ku Klux Klan. He "indicated he had killed blacks in the past and asked (her) to make him a list of black pimps in the area so he could come back and kill them," the complaint said.

The complaint said the woman identified Franklin from a picture as the man she'd met. Franklin's aunt, Evie

Vaughn, interviewed Saturday in Mobile by the Los Angeles Times, said she last saw her nephew in 1969, coming "with a Bible in his hand, telling my husband how excited he was about joining (evangelist) Garner Ted Armstrong's bunch."

"The next thing I knew, one of his sisters told me she had heard he'd joined the American Nazi Party and that she was scared to death of him."

She said his mother, who died eight years ago, had raised him too harshly.

"That boy was a smart boy, I know that. There's no telling what he might have become if only his mother had treated him right and his daddy hadn't gotten ill and started drinking," Mrs. Vaughn said.

Another aunt, Jessie Vaughn of Chicksaw, Ala., told the Mobile Press that she saw Franklin about a year ago. "Funny, the last words he said to me before he left was, 'Remember how Momma used to beat and starve us kids?'"

Relatives in Mobile said a cousin close to Franklin, Eugene Rau, was shot to death Jan. 1 in an argument with four black men following a near accident.

Franklin was arrested Sept. 25 in Florence, Ky., on an auto theft charge but slipped out a police station window and escaped. Police later learned he owned the car he was accused of stealing and dropped the charges.

The only other charge that had been outstanding against Franklin was one of defrauding an innkeeper in Salt Lake City.

Willoughby said there was no evidence that Franklin had ties in Salt Lake City with the Klan or the Nazi party.

He said Franklin's Klan membership was believed to have been in 1972-73, and with the Nazis "a few years back."

Indianapolis homicide detective Donald Patton said he wanted to question Franklin in the Jordan shooting. Police said Franklin resembled a man seen in a motel lobby the night the Urban League director was shot at the motel parking lot.

But FBI agent Wayne Davis said the only link was both Franklin and the man in the lobby wear thick glasses.

Beauty of America

The long wait finally has ended for 653 Mennonite families, many of them living at Seminole. Their prayers have been answered; they may remain in the United States permanently.
 For the most part, the fight to gain permanent alien status for the Mennonites, a religious sect, was waged by U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas. He ushered the bill granting them that status through the Senate. But it got tangled up in the House and failed to pass last year. This year it made it.
 In the three-year wait the Mennonites have endured, their dream of this promised land has been tarnished somewhat. They came to Seminole and bought 6,400 acres of land on the belief that owning the property would make them eligible to remain in the United States.
 Then they lost their land. They discovered they had only bought water rights to 2,340 acres, not 6,400. Without water for irrigation, the crops they grew did not produce enough money to make the annual payments on their land.
 To make matters worse, it appeared for awhile as if the Mennonites would be deported. Fortunately, however, Sen. Bentsen worked out an agreement with Leonel Castillo, then head of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, to allow them to remain in the United States temporarily free of prosecution.

 Many people would have been physically and mentally shattered by the hardships suffered by the Mennonites during the past few years. But their faith remains strong; their resolve to remain in Seminole undaunted; their belief in the goodness of America unaltered.
 Not all Americans can claim such unwavering loyalty and blind faith. All too often when hardships come our way, we surrender to our weaknesses, our resolve shaken.
 Perhaps we can all learn from our new neighbors. Perhaps their good fortune will help to make each one of us a better American citizen, stronger in our patriotism and stauncher in our loyalty.
 Many times all of us lose sight of the true beauty of this great land. It takes only a moment for us to be reminded. One of those reminders came when the Mennonites were allowed to stay.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Libyan pilots ordered to fire on U.S. planes

WASHINGTON — While Billy Carter was being investigated for pocketing petrodollars from Libya, that country's pilots were overheard receiving orders to shoot down U.S. reconnaissance planes over the Mediterranean.
 At least seven of the slow-flying RC-135s were menaced by Libyan jet fighters in international airspace. Some American aircraft had to take evasive action and use electronic trickery to avoid being blasted out of the sky.
 Libyan dictator Muammar Qaddafi earlier demanded that U.S. Navy ships also keep out of the Gulf of Sidra, where naval exercises had been scheduled off the Libyan coast but beyond his jurisdiction.
 It was no secret in the Pentagon that Qaddafi was a friend of Billy Carter and that the president's brother was trying to get the ban lifted on the sale of transport planes to Libya. Whether this influenced the Joint Chiefs' decision is not known. But, in June, during a three-day period when the Air Force's Gen. Lew Allen Jr. was presiding, the naval exercises were obligingly diverted out of the Gulf of Sidra into the middle of the Mediterranean.
 This upset the Pentagon people who felt that a petty, if unruly, tyrant was pushing America around. They were all the more galled because Qaddafi has permitted the Soviet fleet to sail in the Gulf of Sidra. So the Joint Chiefs have planned new naval exercises, which they may hold in the forbidden Gulf.
 Meanwhile, the details of the Libyan-American air encounters, suppressed by the Carter administration, deserve to be told. A top-secret Pentagon report describes the reconnaissance planes in these words:
 "The RC-135, with long endurance and an air refueling capability, operates along the periphery of foreign countries to collect communications and electronic intelligence."
 Offensive as this may be to Qaddafi, it is perfectly legal. Yet he sent fighter pilots with itchy trigger fingers to intercept several of the planes.

Jack Anderson

 On Aug. 2, for example, a lone RC-135 was sampling the air waves about 200 miles off the Libyan coast when its radar showed a squadron of MIG-23s closing in. The attackers "gave chase and went into the afterburner stage behind the 135," a Pentagon source told my associate Dale Van Atta.
 The electronic gear aboard the U.S. plane showed that the Libyan fighters were "locked onto the 135 and were armed and prepared to fire." The Americans escaped by pulling an electronic switch, which can disrupt and deceive pursuing supersonic fighter planes.
 "The ECM (electronic countermeasure) snowscreen kicked in and suddenly the MIGs had 16 targets on their screens. They didn't know which was the real one," said the source describing the narrow escape.
 On Sept. 16, another RC-135 detected the swift approach of two MIG-23s, whose pilots were overheard receiving instructions to fire air-to-air missiles. Again the Americans threw the electronic switch and plunged the plane into a crash dive.
 There were other similar incidents. On Sept. 21, for instance, four Libyan Mirage jets, two MIG-23s and two MIG-25s chased a reconnaissance plane until three Navy F-14 fighters showed up and frightened the Libyans away.

Footnote: Both White House and Pentagon spokesmen refused to discuss any actions taken by the Joint Chiefs.

CHANGING TUNES: John Sawhill, chairman of the newly created Synthetic Fuels Corporation, is highly skilled in the bureaucratic art of sniffing the political winds and following the current party line — no matter which party is directing the ship of state.

In 1974, when he was head of the Ford administration's Federal Energy Administration, Sawhill pooh-poohed the need for government subsidies to encourage development of synthetic fuels. Capital was no problem, he said, explaining that "the money will be there if the government permits industry to earn an adequate rate of return."

Sawhill at that time was counting on oil prices settling at $7 to $9 a barrel. "If prices stay at this level, there's no need for any subsidy," he said.

Well, times have changed, and Sawhill has changed with them. Oil prices have quadrupled in the past six years, which you might think would constitute "an adequate rate of return" to encourage private industry in syn-fuels development.

But Big Oil, sulking in its tent over the windfall profits tax, is demanding government subsidies for its research and development of synthetic fuels. And the obliging Sawhill — who supported the windfall tax — agrees with the oil men. His corporation will encourage the reluctant oil dragons with $88 billion of the taxpayers' money in subsidies.

BEAN UPDATE: On Sept. 18, I reported that L.L. Bean, the king of the outdoor clothing firms, had contributed to the pro-nuclear forces in a recent referendum on the Maine Yankee power plant. In fairness, I should point out that the company's president, Leon Gorman, has also contributed to such causes as the preservation of black bears, Atlantic salmon and puffins. I also reported that the Bean company had threatened to withhold funding from the Natural Resources Council of Maine if it supported the anti-nuclear referendum. But Rob Gardner, director of the council, has assured me that Gorman had merely expressed concern that the nuclear issue might jeopardize their "ability to work together in the future."

Charley Reese

CHARLEY REESE Tactics of subterfuge eroding Polish agreement

There is growing evidence the Polish government, urged on by Moscow, is renegeing on its agreement to allow independent trade unions.

Only the naive outside of Poland believed they had an agreement. The valiant Polish strikers had no choice but to accept it and then hope it would be honored. They may yet rebel again when it is not, but if they do, they will be crushed by the Soviets.

You do not have to be an expert in East European affairs to understand why the agreement was doomed from the start. All you have to do is understand the nature of communism.

Communism and the states it rules are built entirely on a structure of lies. Communism is malignant, not benign; the party owns the means of production, not the workers; party members live as a privileged elite on the sweat of the people. In short, communism is a new name for an old form of tyranny, rule by oligarchy.

Because communism is a lie from start to finish, it cannot tolerate even one percent truth, for one percent truth would be like a hole in a mud dike that would soon erode the whole structure.

Free trade unions would tell the truth and that's why they cannot be allowed.

Okay, then why agree to them? Tactics. Seventy percent of the ships built in Poland and nearly all of its coal flow into the Soviet Union. The Soviets themselves are having trouble with dissidents. They have their hands full in Afghanistan. To crush the Polish workers with tanks at this particular time would have disrupted Soviet industry at a time it is feeding a war machine.

So, tactics of subterfuge were ordered. Party leaders were replaced. The new leaders made the agreement. The workers went back to work. The strike leaders and the intellectuals who supported them are now able to be isolated and dealt with. You can bet a month's pay, each one of them is being squeezed.

This is exactly what happened several years ago when Polish shipyard workers struck. Concessions were made. The workers went back to work. Then gradually misfortune befell their leaders. By pure coincidence, some of them were murdered by common criminals. Others went insane and had to be confined to mental institutions. The concessions were withdrawn.

This is the game the communists are playing and it will probably work, but if it doesn't, then force will be used no matter what problems it causes because the true alternative, which the Kremlin recognizes, is free trade unions or a communist dictatorship. The Soviet Union will pay a high price to keep Poland enslaved.

We should learn from this tragedy. We should recognize the truth that communism is an inherently evil system, a scourge of man, and cannot be trusted or lived with. Either free men will destroy communism or communism will destroy freedom. The Soviet Union's leadership recognizes this truth; it's about time our leaders face it too.

We should also recognize that the Polish workers and other dissidents are sending us a message. Stand up to communism, they are telling us, and we will stand with you. The people of Eastern Europe who have retained their dream of freedom are a great deterrent to Soviet aggression. More than any weapons in our arsenal, these people make the Kremlin hesitant to unleash the dogs of war in Western Europe.

The third point we should recognize is that the present leadership in the United States has betrayed them. American unions responded to the Polish workers. The American government did not. Instead, the American government helped arrange new bank loans to the communist government.

This is a sad fact. The power structure in the U.S. is committed to appeasement. The infamous Helsinki Accords amount to official recognition of Soviet enslavement of Eastern Europe.

Unless we vote the appeasers out of office in both the White House and the Congress this November, this appeasement of evil will lead to our own destruction.

INSIDE REPORT:

Carter relying on 'minority politics' to garner Texas

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

AUSTIN, Texas — Even though his esteem in Texas has dropped lower than any earlier Democratic president, Jimmy Carter may yet win this state's 26 electoral votes — and save his second term — with a flood of Mexican-American and black voters Nov. 4.

Identification, registration and turnout of minority voters have become the beginning, middle and end of Carter's strategy in Texas. It is too late to repair the president's policies that antagonize Texans. Partly thanks to the evangelical political movement, Carter's rural base is eroded. The state's "Anglos" — non-Hispanic whites — run 65 percent or more for Ronald Reagan.
 In Texas-sized proportions, this is the problem faced by President Carter throughout his Southern base. Thus, slurs about Reagan's "racism" are not just the politics of excess but a deadly serious effort to energize minority voters. What antagonizes editorial writers and cartoonists may impel blacks and Hispanics to vote.

The need is imperative in Texas. Only three Democratic nominees — Al Smith, Adlai Stevenson and George McGovern — have lost Texas. No Democrat has been elected without carrying Texas. But Carter's presidential record would have doomed him in the old Texas, where "Anglos" ruled.

"I have never seen a president so poorly regarded," confided one veteran Democratic politician here. "Nobody has a good word for him." Yet, this old pro predicts Carter, now trailing in all polls, will carry Texas. One of his reasons is Reagan's anemic campaign. A better reason is the black-brown vote.

Evans

The politically critical arithmetic of minority voting depends on vague approximations. In 1976 when Carter won Texas with 53 percent, the black-brown vote may have been 550,000 (out of 4 million.) Carter won an estimated 87 percent of the browns and at least 93 percent (Republicans say 98 percent) of the blacks.

For Carter to carry Texas this year, he must dramatically expand the 1976 minority-voter volume and not fall too far below his share of it then. That is the job of Bob Beckel, a skilled political technician from Brooklyn who left the White House staff (where he had been selling SALT II to Congress) early this year and came here to sell Carter to Texas.

Beckel's registration efforts were expected to yield 800,000 Mexican-American voters (compared with 460,000 in 1976) by the Oct. 4 deadline. New black registration is less robust and less measurable. If Beckel can actually get the new voters to the polls, Texas may well be Carter's.

That is why Beckel had no time for much more than lip service responding to complaints from traditional Texas Democratic politicians that the president's record flagrantly offends Texans: Carter's energy policy seemingly favors the Northeast; his oil windfall profits tax enrages small royalty owners even more than corporate titans; the Carter administration is demanding new school busing in Houston.

Li. Gov. William Hobby and state Attorney General Mark White, two moderately conservative Democrats supporting Carter, have warned the president that his railroad deregulation bill is ruining him politically among lower-to-middle income non-minority Texans. Boosting freight rates for Wyoming coal, they warn, will drive sky-high utility bills still higher and alienate faithful Democrats.

It is among disaffected Democrats that Republican Gov. Bill Clements, calling Carter a "phony" and "liar" spreads the Reagan gospel. Accompanied by former Gov. John B. Connally, Clements spent the past month setting up Reagan organizations in formerly "brass-collar" Democratic country (so-called because the Democratic Party had a brass collar around voters' necks.) Clements' auxiliaries there are fundamentalist Baptist ministers including Carter supporters of 1976 who preach for Reagan this time.

Hill County in central Texas is one such Bible-belt, brass-collar area which gave Carter 66 percent of its 1976 vote. Carter strategists acknowledge that is impossible this time. If the county's vote falls below 61 percent, they fear a statewide drop in the rural vote that will require a heroic minority turnout to save Carter.

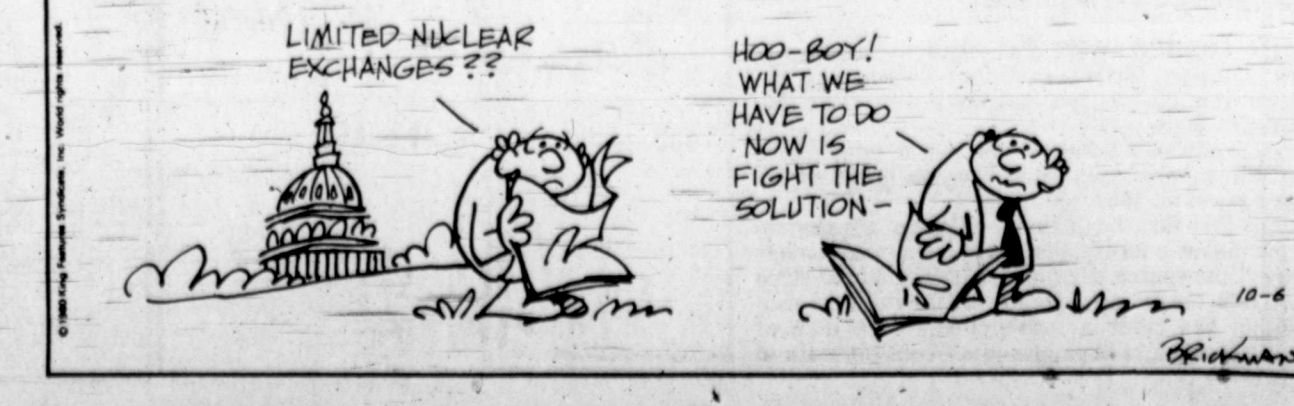

That is why Sen. Edward M. Kennedy will visit the Rio-Grande Valley late this month to ask his Mexican-American following to support Carter. "I wish Teddy Kennedy would come live in Texas all year," Clements told us, meaning his presence will lose more Texas votes than it wins. Considering Carter's total reliance on minority politics, he has no choice but to take the risk.

Cason speaks to teachers

ODESSA — Lée High School Latin instructor Ben Cason spoke recently to college and secondary teachers who are members of the Classical Association of the Southwest at an annual meeting of the group at The University of Texas at the Permian Basin.

"The Etymological Approach to Vocabulary Augmentation" was the topic of the paper Cason presented to the group.

Seven years ago a program was begun so that secondary schools, colleges and universities could maintain communication about classical languages and such courses as etymology which build vocabulary from Greek and Latin root words.

The group was hosted this year by Gertrude Terrell, Latin teacher at Permian High School in Odessa. The association will meet next year at

The University of Texas at El Paso.

Cason and Latin teacher Linda Tervooren at Midland High School teach a total of 298 students in their courses in Latin and etymology.

"We have a very high number of students in our courses," says

Cason, "because we have a strong program and many students in Midland are working hard to build vocabularies so that they can score higher on the Scholastic Aptitude Test and compete better at the colleges and universities of their choice."

"Losing Hair? Try This At No Risk"

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss...and grow more hair!

For years "they said it couldn't be done". But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss...but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment for 32 days at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

HOUSTON, Texas—baldness and cannot be helped.

But if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in the family", it is certainly not proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family and many other conditions can cause hair loss. If you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair...now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days—at their risk—if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered—confidentially, by mail, Adv.

Doctor unable to predict recovery for McQueen

SANTA MARIA, Mexico (AP) — A doctor who has been using the controversial drug Laetrile to treat actor Steve McQueen for cancer says there is no way of predicting when — or even if — McQueen will recover.

But Dr. Rodrigo Rodriguez said Saturday that McQueen was showing steady signs of improvement. McQueen issued a statement last week through his publicist acknowledging that he has a rare and generally incurable form of lung cancer, mesothelioma, that is generally associated with exposure to asbestos. McQueen had previously denied he had cancer.

Christo looking at Central Park

NEW YORK (AP) — Christo, the man who brought his unorthodox curtain-like art to the coast of Australia and the hills of California, now has his eye on a new site — the heart of New York City.

Christo, who uses just the one name professionally, is lobbying the city to let him to erect a series of 11,000 steel frames along 27 miles of walkway in Manhattan's Central Park.

Each frame, 11 feet high and nine-to-15 feet wide, would hold a free-flowing panel of woven nylon the color of apricot or saffron. A bird's eye view would render the park a waving river. Park strollers and joggers would see a golden sky.

And when 14 days have passed — the target date is October 1983 — the park would return to normal without a trace of what has been.

In 1969, the Bulgarian-born New Yorker wrapped a million square feet of the sea coast outside of Sydney, Australia. In 1972 he built

The 50-year-old actor said he was recovering under a nutrition-based therapy devised by a one-time dentist, Dr. Donald Kelley, who is associated with the International Health Institute in Dallas. General Hospital Santa Maria, where McQueen has been staying for 2½ months, is afflicted with that institute.

McQueen already has been at Santa Maria, about 75 miles south of San Diego, more than twice the usual stay, Rodriguez said, "but it is impossible to say how long he will be here."

Rodriguez, medical director at the hospital, refused to offer any prognosis for McQueen's recovery. "I don't believe in giving the patient a date. There is no way anyone can know that," he said. Rodriguez said he could not even say with assurance that McQueen would recover.

McQueen came to the hospital out of desperation after American doctors had given him "a death sentence," Rodriguez said.

"They had told him he only had a few weeks to live," he added.

Rodriguez said the cancer had spread to McQueen's chest, neck and abdomen, and doctors in Los Angeles had decided that surgery or chemotherapy would be useless.

But McQueen has responded well to the unconventional therapy — including Laetrile, an organic diet and psychotherapy — offered at Santa Maria, Rodriguez said.

"He is more animated," Rodriguez said. "When he came here, he was in a great deal of pain. He could hardly move from the bed to the chair."

"But he is not in such pain, now. He walks through the gardens and drives his car around the grounds," the doctor said, adding that McQueen also swims occasionally. The hospital, which was a resort until last year, features tennis courts, a swimming pool and a fancy restaurant.

Injections of Laetrile "have been used from time to time," Rodriguez said.

Laetrile is a trademark for a substance derived from apricot pits. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has said there is no evidence that it is useful in treating cancer and has banned it from interstate transportation.

Q.1 - Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠10854 ♠AJ96 ♦Q ♠AQ82

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♦ ?

What action do you take? A. - Whenever you have to trust someone in the auction, believe your partner. Despite the fact that both opponents were bidding, he entered the auction at the two-level even though he was vulnerable. It looks as if West bid out of fright, so you should not let the opponents off the hook. Double, and keep doubling wherever they alight.

Q.2 - Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A9652 ♠A7 ♦KJ103 ♠J5

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take? A. - Considering the fact that partner is a passed hand, it is most unlikely that your hands will stretch to game. Therefore, you should settle for the safest partner score. You know that partner has at least five hearts for his two-level response; you don't know whether he has any spades at all. Pass - anything else courts disaster.

Q.3 - As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ762 ♠8 ♦KJ53 ♠K82

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 NT Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now? A. - You have 12 points in high cards; partner has shown a balanced hand with values in your short suit. Therefore, if you have a game on this hand, it can only be in no trump. So why not make the descriptive bid of two no trump, giving partner the option of going on to game if he has something in reserve. Your hand is not worth a more aggressive action. Take a demerit if you rebid two diamonds - a bid that does nothing to encourage partner.

Q.4 - East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠6 ♠AQ92 ♦8754 ♠K982

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South 1 ♠ 2 ♦ ?

What action do you take? A. - Your hand could easily produce four tricks on defense - even more if partner has the right hand. With the vulnerability such as it is, a double is a standout. If the opponents should, perchance, make their contract, you will have done no serious harm, for you will not have doubled them into game. But if the cards are favorably placed for the defense, you could easily collect 500 or more.

Q.5 - Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠9542 ♠7 ♦AK873 ♠KQ6

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♠ 2 ♠ Dble. ?

What action do you take? A. - Fie on you if, for even a moment, you considered rescuing partner. Unless partner has taken leave of his senses, you should be delighted by the turn of events. Partner has made a vulnerable overcall at the two-level and you are presenting him with three or four tricks. Even with trumps stacked against him, partner should have a good shot to fulfill his contract. Pass.

Q.6 - As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ82 ♠A965 ♦83 ♠A76

Partner opens the bidding with one diamond. What do you respond?

A. - The one bid you should not make is two no trump. Despite your balanced 13 points, this hand with its plethora of "aces and spaces," is better fitted to a suit contract - if you can locate a 4-4 major-suit fit. The most flexible way to accomplish that is to respond one heart. If partner has four hearts, he will raise you. If he has four spades, but not four hearts, he will introduce his spade suit at the one-level, and again the fit is found. Should none of these possibilities materialize, you can then opt for no trump.

Astros blow cushion as Dodgers force one-game playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Houston Astros came to Los Angeles leading the National League West by three games and promptly lost that cushion by dropping three games to the Dodgers.

So, after each played 162 games, the Astros and the Dodgers had to play one more today for the title. Both finished the regular season with 92-70 records.

Three times home runs have been made the Dodgers winners — first by Joe Ferguson last Friday night, then by Steve Garvey Saturday and finally by a crippled Ron Cey on Sunday.

The scores have been 3-2, 2-1 and 4-3, respectively, with the homers deciding each game.

Heroes in the third game of the series and last of the regular season were many. Cey, who ignored a bruised foot suffered when hit by his own foul, was No. 1. On the 10th pitch to him from Frank LaCorte in the eighth inning, Cey slammed the ball over the left field fence.

Actually, he had started his time at bat trying to bunt with Steve Garvey at first base, nobody out and the Astros leading 3-2.

Asked if he thought LaCorte might throw an offspeed pitch, Cey said: "No, his fastball is his main pitch and I didn't think with a 3-2 count he would throw something else."

Cey fouled a ball off his foot on the seventh pitch to him in the show-down. He hobbled and then decided to continue.

He already had unwrapped the bandage from his injured right leg (hamstring) and discarded it so he'd have more motion at the plate.

The next two pitches were fouled off and then he hit a 390-foot drive over the fence, putting the Dodgers into their 4-3 lead. Cey was also the man who knocked in the ninth-inning tying run in the opening game which the Dodgers won on Ferguson's 10th-inning homer.

Manny Mota, the pinch hitting star turned coach and back to pinch hitter, also was among the stars. The 42-year-old ageless wonder singled in a run in the seventh to narrow Houston's lead at the time to 3-2.

Pitcher Don Sutton, the starter in Friday's game, took Mota's place in the first base coaching box temporarily. Sutton's activities weren't over because with two out in the ninth and Astros at first and third, he came on for his first relieving effort of the year.

Facing pinch hitter Denny Walling, the 35-year-old Sutton threw a strike and then got the batter on a grounder to second base.

The pitching starters for today's 1 p.m. PDT nationally televised (ABC) start are Joe Niekro (19-12) for the Astros and Dave Goltz (7-10) for the Dodgers.

"That kind of a pitching matchup has got to be an advantage for us," commented Astros' Manager Bill Virdon, whose team will be facing a pitcher whose earned run average is 4.25.

Houston scored first in Sunday's game as Cesar Cedeno and Art Howe surprised starter Burt Hooton with bunts to open the second inning. Hooton misplayed the second one and by the time the inning was over two runs had scored and Hooton was heading for the showers.

Terry Puhl knocked in a run in the fourth and the Astros led 3-0.

Back came the do-or-die, patched-up Dodgers. They scored a run in the fifth and then Pedro Guerrero opened the seventh with a single and Ferguson advanced him with a hit before Mota drove in the run.

Manny was lifted for a pinch runner, went back to the bench and then became a coach again, relieving Sutton of those duties.

Reggie Smith, who had started for the club until a shoulder injury required surgery, had a little talk with Sutton late in the game.

"Can you pitch an inning?" Reggie asked Don, who had pitched eight innings Friday night. When the answer was yes, Reggie went to Manager Tom Lasorda, who promptly sent Sutton to the bullpen, perhaps the first starting pitcher to work the first base coaching box, the bullpen and the pitching mound late in the same game.

"All I had to do was make two pitches," Sutton said. "What those other guys did was a lot more than I did."

Defense keys Dallas victory

IRVING, Texas (AP) — The New York Giants fumbled away the opening kickoff Sunday and the Dallas Cowboys proceeded to whip their favorite National Football League patsy like they usually do, 24-3.

Quarterback Danny White threw two touchdown passes and defensive tackle John Dutton provided the 59-125 fans with their biggest thrill by returning an interception 38 yards for a touchdown.

The victory kept Dallas tied with Philadelphia atop the National Conference Eastern Division standings with 4-1 records.

"Our defense played better than it has all year," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "It was obvious that we just weren't concentrating on offense. You can't play this game unless you concentrate. We took New York very lightly."

Landry said, "We kept trying to go deep on them and hit two of them. But we really didn't get going—we can't afford to keep playing like this on offense."

It was Dallas' 12 consecutive victory over the Giants and 27th in 38 games against them.

"We're just not with it yet, that's the sad thing about it," White said. "I really don't feel like I had a very good game... we've got to be glad we were playing who we were playing."

Dallas held the Giants to two first downs in the first half and quarterback Phil Simms departed in favor of rookie Scott Brunner midway of the third quarter with only four first downs on the board.

Simms finished the day with only 4 completions in 15 attempts for 87 yards and one interception.

White, the leading passer in the conference, made a connection with his favorite receiver, Tony Hill, on the first touchdown pass. Hill leaped high to outmaneuver a Giant defender on the 46-yarder.

The Cowboys scored with only 16 seconds left in the half for a 17-0 lead on a masterful 86-yard drive. White found wide receiver Butch Johnson behind two Giant defenders on a 29-yard scoring pass.

Dallas scored in the first period on Rafael Septien's 38-yard field goal after Septien recovered a fumble on the opening kickoff.

Giant placekicker Joe Danelo finally got New York on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter with a 51-yard field goal. He missed two kicks earlier in the game.

With slightly more than two minutes left in the game, Brunner was hit by Ed "Too Tall" Jones as he tried to throw and Dutton found the ball in his lap. He rumbled 38 yards untouched for his first NFL touchdown.

White completed 22 of 33 passes for 266 yards.

The game began disastrously for the Giants when Alvin Garrett fumbled the opening kickoff and Septien recovered at the New York 24. New York held and Septien kicked a 38-yard field goal.

The Giants threatened on their second possession when Simms completed a 43-yard pass to newly activated Billy Taylor at the Dallas 23. The Cowboys held at the 16 and Danelo hooked a 33-yard field goal try left of the uprights.

White began to probe the weak Giant secondary in the second period.

The Cowboys drove to the Giant 10-yard line on passes of 21 yards to Hill, and completions of 13 and 10 yards to Preston Pearson. However, Septien suffered his first field-goal miss of the year from 27 yards when the ball hit the upright and fell away.

White orchestrated an 85-yard scoring drive in seven plays with the payoff the 46-yard bomb to Hill, out-jumping defender Terry Jackson for the ball.

In the closing seconds of the first half, White engineered an 86-yard drive to give Dallas a 17-0 intermission lead. The payoff came on a 29-yard scoring pass to Butch Johnson with 11 seconds to play.

The Giants' only offensive surge in the opening half carried them to the Dallas 26. But a holding penalty set them back and Danelo hooked a 33-yard field goal attempt wide left. New York only got two first downs in the first half and a paltry 37 yards rushing.

McCullum sensed Seattle upset bid

HOUSTON (AP) — Seattle wide receiver Sam McCullum sensed the Houston Oilers were ripe for an upset in the first quarter Sunday and nothing happened in the game to change his opinion.

Seattle quarterback Jim Zorn hit McCullum all alone in the end zone for touchdown passes of 22 and 24 yards and the Seahawk defense came alive with five interceptions to shock Houston 26-7 and knock the Oilers out of a share of the AFC Central Division lead.

"The Oilers are still a good football team but they were nonchalant," McCullum said. "When they stopped our first screen (in the first quarter) they were confident as if to say, 'We can beat you Seahawks.'"

"In other words I think they were over-confident," said McCullum. "Then we got into our rhythm and were perking."

The Seahawks never perked better than during a 3:16 span of the second quarter when they scored 17 points, including the two touchdowns passes to McCullum and the second of four field goals by Efen Herrera for a 23-0 halftime lead.

The sudden surge put the Oilers, 3-2, into a hole they couldn't climb out of and the Seahawks boosted their record to 3-2.

McCullum also had an opinion on Oiler safety Jack Tatum, whom he burned on his first touchdown reception in the second quarter.

Herrera had other field goals of 32 and 50 yards in the first half and a 44-yarder early in the third quarter.

Houston Coach Bum Phillips said he was embarrassed by the Oilers' performance but didn't think the Oilers were flat.

"I've never had a team make as many mental and physical errors as we did today," Phillips said. "We were not flat. That would take away from their victory. They executed their game plan and we didn't. It is as simple as that."

Houston running back Earl Campbell, who gained 50 yards on 12 after missing two games with a groin injury, said, "We couldn't get started in the first half and we never seemed to recover. I guess it was just one of those days when you are flying high and you get shot down."

The Seahawk defense, which shut out Washington 14-0 last week, shot down Houston quarterback Ken Stabler with five interceptions. Stabler completed 23 of 50 passes with his final completion going 22 yards to tight end Mike Barber with 1:23 left in the game for a touchdown.

Bills keep pace, Lions fall

By The Associated Press

The surprising Buffalo Bills became the only remaining unbeaten team after five weeks of the National Football League season when they rallied from a 12-point fourth-quarter deficit Sunday and edged the previously undefeated San Diego Chargers 26-24.

The Detroit Lions, the only other team that had won its first four outings, lost to the Atlanta Falcons 43-28 as Buddy Curry and Joel Williams returned fumbles for Atlanta touchdowns and Frank Reed ran back a blocked punt for another Falcons score.

Meanwhile, the New Orleans Saints and New York Jets remained winless, but the Kansas City Chiefs posted their first victory of the season. The St. Louis Cardinals posted the Saints 40-7 and the New England Patriots beat the Jets 21-11, but the Chiefs defeated the Oakland Raiders 31-17.

Elsewhere, the Baltimore Colts beat the Miami Dolphins 30-17, the Green Bay Packers edged the Cincinnati Bengals 14-9, the Denver Broncos trimmed the Cleveland Browns 19-16, the Pittsburgh Steelers downed the Minnesota Vikings 23-17, the Seattle Seahawks surprised the Houston Oilers 26-7, the Philadelphia Eagles defeated the Washington Redskins 24-14, the Los Angeles Rams outscored the San Francisco 49ers 48-26 and the Dallas Cowboys whipped the New York Giants 24-3.

Joe Cribbs scored the winning touchdown for Buffalo on a 3-yard run with 7:28 to play. It was set up by linebacker Jim Haslett's interception of a Dan Fouts pass.

Buffalo had closed to within five points on a 9-yard touchdown pass from Joe Ferguson to Mark Brammer with 10:43 to play. That TD came after San Diego punter Rick Partridge was tackled on his own 16-yard line while attempting to run following a high snap from center.

The three scores by its defensive unit helped Atlanta roll up a 34-6 halftime lead with its highest scoring half in history. Gary Danielson threw three touchdown passes for the Lions, but rookie star Billy Sims rushed for just 21 yards on 14 carries.

Ottis Anderson rushed for 126 yards and Wayne Morris bulled for three touchdowns to lead St. Louis over New Orleans.

Cornerback Mike Haynes, making his first start since rejoining New England 1½ weeks ago following a contract dispute, ran back a blocked field goal attempt 65 yards for a touchdown late in the first half as the Patriots beat the Jets.

Linebackers Gary Spani and Whitney Paul recovered fumbles and turned them into touchdowns as Kansas City raced to a 31-0 lead and held on to beat Oakland, which lost quarterback Dan Pastorini in the first half because of a broken bone in his right leg and ligament damage to his right knee.

Bert Jones completed 18 of 26 passes for 282 yards and three touchdowns — and ran for another score — as Baltimore beat Miami despite 272 yards passing by the Dolphins' Bob Griese.

Green Bay's Lynn Dickey also completed 18 of 26 passes, throwing for 203 yards and two TDs in the Packers' triumph over Cincinnati.

Fred Steinfork kicked four field goals and Randy Gradishar intercepted a Brian Sipe pass and ran 93 yards for Denver's only touchdown as the Broncos edged Cleveland.

Mainstays Terry Bradshaw and Franco Harris led Pittsburgh over Minnesota, Bradshaw passing for 236 and Harris running for 102.

Ron Jaworski threw two touchdown passes and Wilbert Montgomery scored the go-ahead TD with a 3-yard run in the second quarter as Philadelphia dealt Washington its fourth loss in five starts and raised its own record to 4-1.

Vince Ferragamo completed 20 of 27 passes — including 11 in a row — for 304 yards and four touchdowns as the Rams pulled into a tie with San Francisco and Atlanta atop the NFC West at 3-2.

Bell seeks trade after Rangers give Corrales axe

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Third baseman Buddy Bell, angered at Sunday afternoon's firing of Texas Ranger Manager Pat Corrales, demanded to be traded to another organization.

Majority stockholder Eddie Chiles announced in a news conference immediately following the Rangers' season-ending 3-2 victory over Seattle, that Corrales would be offered a new position as assistant to Eddie Robinson. Club president Robinson's new title as executive vice president with total responsibility for baseball also was announced at that time.

"I'm not going to change my mind about wanting out of here," Bell said. "I'm not saying anything about Eddie Chiles, but I think the people on the board are unqualified to make decisions about baseball, especially when they've got unqualified people making decisions for them," Bell said.

Robinson said Bell will not be traded.

"It's only natural that players who felt close to Pat would feel disappointment and probably anger at his being replaced. I'm hoping time will take care of that," Robinson said.

"But I'm not trading Buddy Bell. He's one of the most important parts of our team. What he indicated to me was that he wanted to play for a winning team, and I told him that's what we're going to try to have."

Other players expressed disappointment over Corrales' firing and said they were saddened to learn the coaching staff also has been told to look for other positions.

"Our coaches have been informed they are free to negotiate with other clubs pending the naming of a new manager," Chiles said.

"We are not trying to make anybody a scapegoat. We are not trying to fix the blame on anybody. I think Pat, for a second-year manager, was very good," he said.

Chiles said Robinson, in charge of all on-field operations, will have free rein in picking a new manager for next season, but said the process could take several weeks.

Chiles said the Rangers' six-man board of directors has worked out a new organizational chart to get the team's operations on a "sound, businesslike basis."

A second executive vice president's position, responsible for marketing, finance and administration, was created but has not been filled, Chiles told reporters.

"In giving Eddie Robinson the total responsibility over baseball operations, it is not our prerogative to try to select a manager for him," Chiles said.

"We will not have any say over who the new manager is. Eddie can hire anybody he wants. His only limitations will be budgetary ones."

Corrales, 39, took over the Rangers on the final day of the 1978 season after Billy Hunter was fired. The Rangers won that game and the first six games of the 1979 season, and Texas was only two games out of first at the All-Star break of his rookie season as manager.

But the club fell apart, losing 30 of its next 40 games, burying its pennant chances.

Corrales called the experience frustrating, but said: "Nobody ever told me it would be easy, but if we stay reasonably healthy this year we're going to have a lot more fun."

However, Bell, John Grubb, Rusty Staub and Bump Wills all were sidelined with injuries in 1980, as were pitchers Steve Comer, Jim Kern and Danny Darwin.

Corrales calls the collapse of Kern and Sparky Lyle in the bullpen the year's biggest disappointment.

Corrales played in the majors for nine years with Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati and San Diego. A catcher, he spent four years as an understudy to Johnny Bench, his roommate.

Davis takes MTC crown

Californian Marty Davis cruised to an easy win in the singles final of the USTA/Penn tennis tournament Sunday and then teamed with former UC-Berkeley teammate Chris Dunk to take the doubles final.

The matches at Midland Racquet Club wrapped up a week of top quality tennis in the $7,000 Midland Tennis Club Fall Tournament.

Davis, the No. 9 seed, had little trouble with an ailing Juan Farrow in the singles finale. Farrow, after breaking Davis' serve in the third game of the first set, could do little but watch the match slip away in the face of his opponent's formidable serve and volley game and a rapidly developing stomach virus.

Davis allowed Farrow only three of the last 14 games to take the match, 6-3, 6-2. Farrow had to be treated by a doctor immediately after the match.

Farrow and Davis had met in two previous USTA/Penn finals this year. Farrow had defeated Davis at New Haven, Conn., in July, 7-5, 1-6, 7-5. In August, Davis turned the tables on Farrow at Wall Township, N.J., winning in two tiebreakers, 7-6, 7-6. Both players are three-time All-America selections.

In the doubles final, Davis and Dunk defeated Great Britain's Rohan Beven and New Zealander Jeff Simpson in a somewhat more closely contested match, 7-6, 6-3.

After breaking Beven's serve in the fifth game of the first set, Davis and Dunk held serve until the tenth game. Again threatening to break serve of Beven, the Californians held two set points at 15-40. Simpson and Beven gamely fought back to win the game and after breaking Davis' serve, evened the set at five games all.

Both teams held serve to take the set to a tiebreaker. Davis and Dunk squandered two more set points before taking the tiebreaker, 8-6, and the first set.

In the second set, both teams traded service breaks to take the set to 3-4 with Simpson serving. Simpson lost his serve and with it any chance of saving the second set. Davis used his powerful serve to take the last game and the match.

Davis won $1,120 for his singles performance and split the doubles prize of $448 with his former University of California teammate. Farrow took home $560 as runnerup in the singles final.

Expos finally trip Phillies

In NL games on the final Sunday, Jerry White slammed a three-run home run with two out in the 10th inning to lift the Montreal Expos to an 8-7 victory over the East champion Philadelphia Phillies.

Don Robinson pitched a four-hitter.

Pinch-runner Ty Waller scored on a wild pitch by Pete Falcone in the sixth inning to break a 2-2 tie and give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets.

Bill Fahey knocked in three runs with a two-run double and a single to power San Diego to a 7-3 victory over San Francisco in the final game of the American League closing-day action, rookie Tim Lollar, making his first major league start, allowed two hits in six innings and Eric Soderholm slammed a two-run homer, as East division champion New York took a

2-1 victory over Detroit. Paul Splitteroff and Rich Gale combined on a one-hitter and Hal McRae hit a three-run homer as West-winning Kansas City beat Minnesota 4-0.

Scott McGregor notched his 20th victory, the 22nd Baltimore pitcher to reach that plateau in 13 years, and hurled the Orioles to a 7-1 decision over Cleveland. Roy Howell and Willie Upshaw had three hits apiece and Jackson Todd pitched a five-hitter as Toronto edged Boston 4-1.

Wayne Nordhagen and Harold Baines delivered key hits to lead Chicago to a 5-3 victory over California. John Grubb's double scored Jim Norris from first base in the ninth inning to give Texas a 3-2 victory over Seattle, then Pat Corrales was fired as Rangers manager. Vic Harris slapped an RBI single in the 15th inning to lead Milwaukee to a 5-4 victory over Oakland.

Low blood pressure not cause for concern

Dear Dr. Solomon: I am 32 years of age and in good health. At my last annual physical examination, my doctor told me that my blood pressure was low, 105/75, but he didn't do anything about it. I don't want to neglect my health, and I would appreciate your opinion about the need for treatment. — Doris

Dear Doris: A slightly low blood pressure — that is, one below 120 (systolic)/80 (diastolic) — in a healthy person generally is not a cause for concern. In fact, it may even be considered desirable since the reduced blood pressure puts less strain on the heart and arteries. If, as you say, you are in good health, there is no reason for treatment based on your blood pressure reading.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Although I support the ideas of the United States providing a haven for refugees from persecution in foreign countries, I am concerned about the health problems they may be bringing with them. Do you have any information on the extent to which the arrival of the thousands of Cuban refugees has resulted in such problems? — Ernie

Dear Ernie: Apparently there is little cause for concern about an increase in public health problems resulting from the influx of Cuban refugees. According to Dr. James W. Smith, professor of internal medicine at the University of Texas Health Science Center at Dallas, Cubans show none of the problems with infections usually found in refugees. In fact, Cuba has the lowest incidence of tuberculosis in the Western Hemisphere.

Unlike other refugees, such as those from Southeast Asia, who frequently are found to be suffering from malnutrition, malaria, syphilis and tuberculosis, these problems are not significant among the Cubans. The most common problem requiring hospitalization has been asthma.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I have been told I have angina. My doctor has placed me on medication and told me to lose several pounds. Aside from getting down to normal weight, are there any dietary precautions I should be following? — Max

Dear Max: As you suggest, it is important for angina patients to keep their weight at a normal level. In some cases, the simple act of losing a few pounds is sufficient to cause the symptoms to disappear or to lessen in intensity. It also may be advisable for you to check with your doctor about the need to control your cholesterol level and the amount of saturated fats you consume.

You probably have noticed that angina attacks tend to occur during exercise, since physical exertion makes the heart work harder. By the same token, heavy meals also place a strain on the heart. It is therefore advisable to avoid huge meals and rich foods, especially at night. Instead, eat more often — say, four times a day rather than three — but eat lightly.

Inform your doctor if eating precipitates angina. Some patients are successful in avoiding these attacks by taking a nitroglycerin tablet before or immediately after eating.

NEWSPAPER BIBLE

Are you out to win?

When I am with the Jews I seem as one of them so that they will listen to the Gospel and I can win them to Christ. When I am with Gentiles who follow Jewish customs and ceremonies I don't argue, even though I don't agree, because I want to help them.

When with the heathen I agree with them as much as I can, except of course that I must always do what is right as a Christian. And so, by agreeing, I can win their confidence and help them too.

When I am with those whose consciences bother them easily, I don't act as though I know it all and don't say they are foolish; the result is that they are willing to let me help them. Yes, whatever a person is like, I try to find common ground with him so that he will let me tell him about Christ and let Christ save him.

I do this to get the Gospel to them and also for the blessing I myself receive when I see them come to Christ.

In a race, everyone runs but only one person gets first prize. So run your race to win.

To win the contest you must deny yourselves many things that would keep you from doing your best. An athlete goes to all this trouble just to win a blue ribbon or a silver cup, but we do it for a heavenly reward that never disappears.

So I run straight to the goal with purpose in every step. I fight to win. I'm not just shadow-boxing or playing around.

Like an athlete I punish my body, treating it roughly, training it to do what it should, not what it wants to. Otherwise I fear that after enlisting others for the race, I myself might be declared unfit and ordered to stand aside.

Schmidt's majority quadrupled in vote

BONN, West Germany (AP) — West German voters quadrupled Chancellor Helmut Schmidt's majority in the lower house of Parliament, giving his leftist-liberal coalition four more years in power.

Schmidt's victory over his conservative foe, Bavarian Premier Franz Josef Strauss, had been forecast by opinion polls before the national election Sunday. But the size of his majority, which jumped from 11 to 45 seats, was a surprise and resulted from gains made by his junior coalition partner, Hans-Dietrich Genscher's moderate Free Democrats.

Schmidt said he was "very satisfied" with the outcome of the national election Sunday, adding that it also "pleased the neighbors" of Western Europe's most prosperous and populous nation. "Germany remains returns gave Schmidt's Social Democrats 42.9 percent of the 38.3 million votes cast and 218 seats in the Bundestag, a gain of four. But the Free Democrats upped their share of the vote from 7.9 percent in 1976 to 10.6 percent and took 53 seats, an increase of 14.

Christian Democrats and his own Bavarian Christian Social Union held its position as the single largest faction in the Bundestag with 44.5 percent of the vote and 226 seats. But this was 17 less than it had in the last house.

Strauss conceded defeat but vowed he would not disappear from the political scene.

"I am and will remain Bavarian premier," he said in a television appearance. "I will still have a place in West German politics."

But it was a decisive setback for the burly, bull-necked conservative leader, who has been angling for a chance at national leadership since he rose to cabinet posts in the mid-1950s. An opinion survey taken on election day found 28 percent of the Christian Democrat-Christian Social Union voters question would have preferred another candidate.

Sa Carneiro wins in Portuguese voting

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Center-right Prime Minister Francisco Sa Carneiro won a stunning victory in Portugal's parliamentary elections and said it meant the downfall "by consensus" of leftist-backed President Antonio Ramalho Eanes. But Eanes is still expected to win re-election in December.

Returns from 99 percent of the nation's 4,042 precincts gave Sa Carneiro's coalition of Social Democrats, Conservatives and Monarchists 47.3 percent of the popular vote Sunday, indicating a majority of possibly 18 seats in the 250-seat National Assembly.

Former Prime Minister Mario Soares' Socialists, the biggest party in the first post-revolution election four years ago, trailed with 28 percent, and the Communists got 16.7 percent. The rest of the votes went to minor parties and independents. Sa Carneiro's coalition got 42.5 percent of the vote and a three-seat majority in interim elections last December. The prime minister pledged during the campaign to resign if Eanes, a five-star general supported by the Socialist and Communist parties, was re-elected in December. He told a news conference early today that his election win "signifies the defeat of Eanes."

Sa Carneiro accused the president of politicking for the left during the campaign. "We didn't fight Eanes," he said. "He put himself in the campaign on the side of the Socialists. It was he who fought us."

There was no immediate comment from the president, but his reelection in December is considered certain. The two men have clashed repeatedly over military influence on the civilian government, and they

A hoist basket from a hovering Coast Guard helicopter is held by occupants of a life boat from the burning cruise ship Prinsendam Saturday. At the time this Coast Guard photo was taken, approximately half of those who had originally been aboard this lifeboat had been airlifted to safety aboard the supertanker Williamsburgh. (AP Laserphoto)

Unidentified passengers rescued from the burning cruise ship hold their wet clothes and peer off the deck of the Coast Guard cutter Boutwell as it docks in Sitka Sunday. The crew members look on at right. (AP Laserphoto)

Passengers feared death

SITKA, Alaska (AP) — Cruise ship passengers who spent an entire day bobbing in 25-foot waves aboard a fiberglass lifeboat with a dead motor and radio began to worry as darkness approached and feared they would not be found.

"Rain was pouring down and it was really rough," said Len Bennett, 69, of Perth, Australia. "The wind was blowing the spray. There were tremendously high waves. We were settling down for the night and sure nobody would ever find us. Then suddenly at 4 or 4:30 a big yellow Chinook (helicopter) appeared above us."

Bennett was on one of last lifeboats to be rescued after the passengers and crew abandoned the burning Prinsendam at 6:30 a.m. Saturday in the Gulf of Alaska.

David Goodwell, a 59-year-old recreational sailor from Palos Verdes, Calif., said the helicopter pilot told him the waves were 40 feet, but he said from the boat they looked to be only about 25 feet high.

Bennett said two women on the lifeboat and two or three men who were very seasick were taken off first.

Goodwell said the distance between the lifeboat and the helicopter varied from 10 to 60 feet as the boat jumped in the waves and the helicopter maneuvered to lift the passengers.

Goodwell said he also feared the boat and its 20 occupants would not be found in the thickening fog. Goodwell said he knew that there were large ships searching for them, but was concerned that the fiberglass boat had no metal objects that would reflect radar. He said they found some aluminum foil and held it up. He said they also hoisted the inoperative metal radio hoping it would reflect radar.

Goodwell said the engine worked just fine as the lifeboat was hanging in the davits. When the boat was lowered into the water and the engine was put into gear, it quit, Goodwell said. The crew members aboard managed to get it started one more time but again the engine stopped when the gear was engaged and they never managed to get it started after that, he said.

"It was a nightmare; I don't know what else to call it," said Sonna Criss, 48, of Toronto Canada, who was on the cruise to celebrate her 30th wedding anniversary with her husband, William, 53.

"We were in the water for 12 hours and every wave seemed to get bigger," she said. "They were so big that they told us we couldn't get close enough to the Coast Guard cutter to be taken aboard."

By the time they were evacuated by helicopter to Yakutat they had almost given up hope of being saved, she said. "We were so cold. I don't believe we could have survived a night in the boat."

"Those fellows on the Coast Guard helicopters, I can't say enough good things about them," Mrs. Criss said. "They were wonderful. And the people who met us in Yakutat, who gave us clothes... How can you say thanks to people like that?"

Goodwell shared the consensus of most of the passengers that the evacuation from the ship was the most part quite orderly, with the women and the elderly men evacuated first.

Upon arrival in Sitka, the passengers were taken to the best hotels in town and told they could make as many phone calls as they wished at the expense of the ship owner, Holland America Cruises. Men's and women's clothing stores in Sitka were opened up and the passengers and crew were allowed to pick whatever clothes they wanted at the company's expense.

Bennett said he appreciated "the fantastic treatment we have been given."

"I'll never stop talking when I get back to Australia. It's been unbelievable," he said.

Iraq gives journalists tour of front

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The 300 foreign journalists on the Iraqi side of the Persian Gulf war get escorted trips to selected battlefronts, occasional frank interviews with Iraqi officials and frighteningly close looks at Iran's Phantom jets bombing Baghdad.

The Iraqis have allowed only a few Western correspondents into their country, and no reporters from U.S. organizations are permitted to report from Tehran. Radio Tehran and Pars, the Iranian news agency, are the chief sources of information on that side of the war.

In Baghdad, the representatives of the international news agencies, big foreign newspapers and television networks all stay at the Mansour-Melia Hotel, an 11-story building in downtown Baghdad that veteran war correspondents believe the Iraqis use as a landmark.

From the balconies of their rooms, the reporters can watch the Iranian jets screaming down a few hundred feet above the building.

Reporters have been taken by bus to Basra several times for visits to frontline positions at Khorramshahr, Ahwaz and Dezful.

Not long after both governments claimed control of Khorramshahr, Iran's chief port, Zuhair Saade of The Associated Press entered the city and found street battles were still raging.

The Iraqi Information Ministry hustled the foreign press off to the Iranian border city of Mehran Friday after President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr claimed it had been recaptured. The journalists found the Iraqis in full control of the almost deserted city.

Foreign reporters also were taken to the sites of bombing raids on civilian targets and to the Rachid Military Base southeast of the city and the international and military airports to the west after raids on them.

But there have been no press tours to Kirkuk and Mosul, both oil producing and refining centers that have been repeatedly hit by Iranian air strikes.

The touring reporters have come under artillery fire and the bombs of Iran's U.S.-made Phantoms.

"I went to Khorramshahr and found myself lying on my stomach as the Phantoms came over and bombed Iraqi positions," said one American. "Then I went to Ahwaz and they were there again. Later I was at the Shatt al-Arab Hotel in Basra when they tried to hit a key bridge just in front of the hotel. Those Phantoms were everywhere."

Iraq's defense minister and deputy chief of staff, Gen. Adnan Khairallah, who is President Saddam Hussein's brother-in-law, has held two news conferences and surprised reporters by his frankness.

Jamaica's parliamentary election Oct. 30

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — Jamaica's parliamentary election will be held Oct. 30, Prime Minister Michael Manley told a group of wildly cheering supporters.

His announcement Sunday night ended months of suspense about the date.

Under the constitution the election was not required until the end of 1981, but Manley said on March 3 it would be held this year so the people of Jamaica could decide on a path for the country's future.

Both Manley, head of the People's National Party, and Edward Seaga, leader of the the Jamaica Labor Party, have said the election will be the most important this century for Jamaica.

The key issue in the campaign has been the national's economy, which observers say is on the brink of bankruptcy.

A quarter of the work force is unemployed, consumers' purchasing power has been cut 40 percent by skyrocketing prices and devaluation of the Jamaican dollar, and there are widespread shortages of basic products and foodstuffs caused by the lack of enough foreign exchange earnings to import goods.

Seaga's party blames the crisis on mismanagement and Manley's socialist rhetoric and close ties with Cuba and other socialist and communist regimes.

Manley drew wild applause Sunday when he called Seaga's charges "lies and propaganda"

He cited a list of his administration's accomplishments since 1972, including the building of superhighways, the construction of more than 40,000 homes, raising the minimum wage, and the imposition of the bauxite levy, asking whether each was mismanagement or management.

The tens of thousands of people gathered in the central square of this city in the center of Jamaica's tourist region roared "management" to each.

Manley acknowledged

Jamaica's economic problems, which he blamed on worldwide inflation, oil price increases and problems inherent in the capitalist world.

"We see a time of struggle and great difficulty in the future," he said, but added that his administration had arranged for nearly $1 billion in new investment in the bauxite industry to help turn the situation around.

Tourism just had its best winter season ever last year, he said, and all that was needed for even greater success was to "solve the problem of the wicked terrorism" the opposition has unleashed.

The current campaign has been one of the most violent ever. Police say more than 300 people have been killed so far this year.

Communists denied role in government

ROME (AP) — The dominant Christian Democrats on Sunday flatly refused to give the Communist Party any role in the next Italian government, and accused them of sabotaging the previous government.

"It is impossible to collaborate in the government with a party full of contradictions," declared Flaminio Piccoli, secretary of the Christian Democrats, in a major policy speech at a party festival in Salerno, south of Naples.

He charged that "a grave political ambush" by the Communists, Italy's second largest party, brought down the three-party coalition government of Christian Democrat Premier Francesco Cossiga last week.

"This is not the kind of maneuver one expects from a party which pays lip service to the cause of democracy all the time," Piccoli said.

Cossiga and his government of Christian Democrats, Socialists and Republicans resigned after the Chamber of Deputies rejected his austerity program to salvage the economy. The Communists had attacked the government's handling of labor troubles at the giant Fiat auto works and promised workers there "moral and material support" should they decide to take over.

Workers have idled Fiat plants in the Turin area since Sept. 11 in an attempt to prevent management from temporarily laying off 24,000 workers. The unions have told the workers, including those slated for layoffs, to report to work Monday.

Piccoli said Christian Democrat Premier-designate Arnaldo Forlani will try to form Italy's 40th post-war government by fashioning a four-party coalition of the present three partners and the tiny Social Democrats.

On Friday night, Socialist Party leader Bettino Craxi also accused Communist Party leader Enrico Berlinguer of conducting a "myopic siege" against the Cossiga government. Craxi was later re-elected as secretary of the third-ranking Socialist Party.

The Communists long have sought a formal role in the Italian government, but have seen their demands rejected by the Christian Democrats three times. There have been no Communists in the Italian Cabinet since 1947.

French police draw criticism from Jews

PARIS (AP) — French police are coming under increasing fire for their failure to track down those responsible for a rash of anti-Semitic attacks in Paris, including a bombing outside a synagogue that killed four people.

Jewish organizations and various political leaders called for the creation of a parliamentary committee to investigate the police. They also demanded the resignation of Interior Minister Christopher Bonnet, whose ministry runs the police department.

Criticism of the police was intensified by the disclosure that 30 of the 150 members of the European Nationalist Action Federation, a neo-Nazi group ordered disbanded by the government on Sept. 3, were Paris policemen. A police official refused to say if any action was being taken against the 30.

As complaints against the police grew, Justice Minister Alain Peyrefitte announced that the State Security Court, a body under his ministry, would take over the investigation of the synagogue bombing from the Police Department.

Police have questioned dozens of right-wing militants in connection with the blast Friday night outside the Jewish temple near the Arc de Triomphe. But no charges have been filed in connection with that attack or other anti-Semitic violence.

Three passersby outside the synagogue were killed instantly by the powerful bomb. A fourth person died Sunday, and 10 of the 11 other persons injured are still hospitalized.

The bombing was the sixth anti-Semitic attack in Paris within a week and the first to cause casualties. In the earlier attacks, two synagogues, a Jewish day care center, a Hebrew school and a monument to French Jewish victims of the Nazi concentration camps were sprayed with automatic weapons fire.

The police were also trying to determine if a car bombing Sunday in the Latin Quarter that cost a Dutch tourist her legs was connected with the anti-Semitic attacks.

An anonymous caller told the French news agency Agence France Presse the bomb was set off by the Revolutionary Nationalist Movement, an extreme right-wing group, to protest the "foreign invasion" in Paris Saturday. The caller was believed referring to demonstrations by an estimated 20,000 people protesting the rash of anti-Semitic attacks and the failure of the police to stop them.

Another caller to AFP denied the Movement was responsible. France's two largest labor movements are organizing another mass protest for Tuesday and called for a two-hour general strike so workers could take part.

The injured woman, 33-year-old Carmelia Van Pusselen, was in serious condition. Her husband said they were not Jews and had driven to Paris from the Netherlands for a weekend holiday to celebrate his birthday. Their car had Dutch license plates.

Meanwhile, a militant rightist group known as FNE, the European Nationalist Fascists, said its Paris office was ransacked early Sunday. An anonymous caller told the French news agency that FNE, which claims to be the successor to the banned European Nationalist Action Federation, was responsible for the synagogue bombing, but a second caller denied this.

PHYSICAL INVENTORY COORDINATOR

Knowledge of oilfield equipment could mean solid career prospects with rapidly expanding company

Do you have an oilfield equipment background gained in a supply store or as a warehouseman in a supply company?

Are you familiar with the sizes of pipes, pumps, valves, rods and other pieces of drilling equipment?

Would you enjoy spending a great deal of your time traveling to gas plants, refineries, oilfield equipment storage plants and well sites in Colorado, Arkansas, Texas, Mississippi, Montana and Louisiana as a way to earn while you learn more about the oil business?

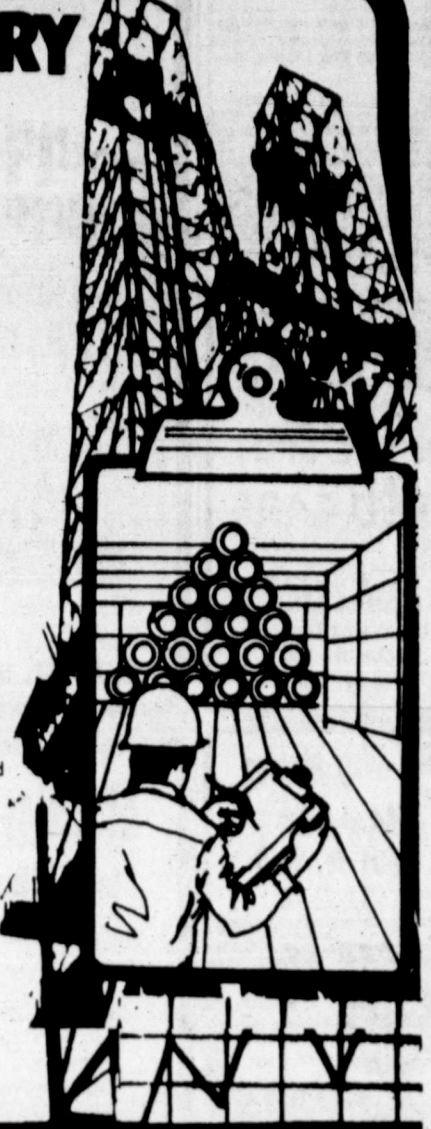

If you can answer "Yes" to these questions, you may be the ideal candidate for an excellent opportunity with the Fixed Assets Accounting Department of Crystal Oil Company of Shreveport, Louisiana—a young, aggressive independent involved in the exploration, production and processing of oil and gas products. Some college education would be helpful.

You'll be visiting oilfield equipment sites to conduct physical inventories of equipment on-hand and to find replacements for missing materials, reporting your progress to headquarters on a regular basis. It's a position that offers a good starting salary, comprehensive benefits including tuition aid, and significant opportunities for professional development and career advancement in a successful and rapidly expanding independent.

For prompt, confidential consideration, send your resume with salary history and current requirements to:

DEAR ABBY

Straight talk about VD

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl who never misses your column. I read those letters about VD and have a few questions I want to ask you:

1. In which states can doctors treat minors for VD without telling their parents?

2. How old does a person have to be before he is no longer considered a minor?

3. Will you please come right out and describe some of the symptoms of VD? I have heard so many stories, I am confused. For instance, I have heard that if a sore on the lips, in the mouth or on the private parts doesn't heal up, it is probably VD. I've also heard that a person can have other signs of VD—like a burning sensation when urinating, or an unusual discharge from private parts; also that these signs sometimes go away without treatment, but the disease is still there and keeps on getting worse. Is that true?

4. Can VD really cause crippling, blindness and insanity, or are these just stories adults made up to scare kids?

5. Is it true that once a person is treated for VD he can never get it again?

6. One last question which I hope you won't think is too dumb to answer. Can a person get VD without going all the way?

With questions like these, I can't have a letter from you coming to my house, so will you please answer this in the paper? I am sure there are lots of other kids who would also like to know. Thank you very much—NEEDING ANSWERS

DEAR NEEDING: 1. If you want to know whether the physicians in your state are required by law to have parental consent before treating minors for VD, telephone the VD hot line. The toll-free number is 1-800-227-8922 for all states outside California. In California it's 1-800-982-5883.

2. The age of a minor differs from state to state. It differs also for particular purposes. And in some states, the age of a minor is not the same for a male as it is for a female. The VD hot line will inform you.

3. All the symptoms you describe can indicate VD—but these symptoms can also be present where there is no VD, so the only way to determine positively whether or not you have it is to be examined by a physician.

4. Yes. But the conditions you describe are found only in advanced cases.

5. Absolutely not!

6. Positively yes! And may I add, no questions that is asked in sincerity is "too dumb" to answer. I urge any minor who suspects that he (or she) has VD, and cannot face his parents with the problem, to telephone the local department of public health and ask to see a doctor. Don't be afraid. You won't be lectured and you won't be punished. And if you don't have the few dollars to cover the cost of the examination, it will be free.

VD is curable, and the earlier it is treated, the better. If anyone has any questions related to this subject, write me. I promise you a prompt, straight and confidential answer.

P.S. Mario Thomas has made a 30-minute special titled "Facts for Girls," in which girls, ages 10, 12 and 14, talk openly about their feelings, their changing bodies and their emotions. It airs tomorrow, Tuesday, Oct. 7 at 4 p.m. on CBS-TV. It's wonderful! I've seen it and urge you and all girls between 10 and 16 to watch it.

Painting to be sold for charity projects

Zeta Tau Alpha sorority in Midland is sponsoring a fund-raising campaign to build a sorority house at Texas A&M University and for its charity projects.

James Johnson and his wife Jocille, an alumnus of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, have donated the painting to the sorority. The national charity effort is directed toward mental health and mental retardation.

Artist is James Harvey Johnson, DVM, formerly of Midland, who currently resides in Bryan. Johnson is a graduate of the College of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M and is currently directing his full-time efforts to his career as a professional artist. He is the son of Drs. A.V. and Virginia Johnson of Midland.

The painting, depicting the artist's veterinary training and knowledge of animals, will also be exhibited at the annual Candle Coffee Nov. 13 at 1202 Community Lane. The event is hosted by the Midland Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae group. For the past several years, funds generated from this activity have been donated to the local Cerebral Palsy Foundation.

During this assignment, he was sent to Tunisia to observe oil exploration in a remote country. His topic will present an outline of the history of Tunisia as well as something about the people, customs, religion, and problems.

Deadline nearing

It's time to dig up that favorite recipe for The Midland Reporter-Telegram's annual recipe contest and cookbook section, "Recipes '80."

Victor W. Rogers will be the guest speaker at the American Association of University Women World Affairs Group at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the First National Room in the First National Bank.

Great-grandmothers deserve to look nice, too—I lost 41 pounds at Pat Walker's!

Mary Hoke's True Story: I love to cook for my family. My two children, three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren really enjoy my specialties, like biscuits and sausage. But over the years, I'd sampled a little too much of my own cooking, and it was showing on my figure. When I started at Pat Walker's, I weighed 171 pounds (I'm 5'4"). My main figure problem was my big stomach—I looked about eight months pregnant. Although I'd exercised all my life, nothing had made that stomach disappear, until my treatments on Pat Walker's passive exercise unit. Those sessions are so easy that I don't even muss my hair. And they sure get results. Of course, Pat Walker's counselors helped me plan the way I eat, too. Their program actually lets me go out and eat anywhere, anytime, and eat what I want! Now that I've lost 41 pounds and 60 1/2 inches, I love not having to wear a girdle anymore. Let me tell you how much Pat Walker's means to me: I drive my gas guzzler 60 miles a week to and from the salon nearest my home in Stone Mountain, Georgia. And it's worth it.

Notice how I held my jacket closed to hide my stomach.

Free Figure Analysis Make an appointment now for a free no-obligation consultation at Pat Walker's. We'll explain how our program works, from the no-muss, no-fuss passive exercise treatments to our belief in your right to privacy. We'll tell you how much you need to lose, how long it will take, and the total cost of your complete figure correction, based on four dollars per thirty-minute treatment. CALL NOW! 683-6278

Turkey leftovers a boon to food budget

By TOM HOGE AP Wine and Food Writer With the prices of most meats and fish soaring out of sight, turkey, once limited to holiday feasts, is one of the few bargains left. But the problem has always been what to do with the leftovers. Kathi Chapman, a resident of Hawaii, has been mulling over the question since she served a turkey banquet for Thanksgiving five years ago and was confronted with an enormous amount of leftovers. She decided to do something about it with the spare time she had left after serving as manager of a theater in Honolulu and as sales representative of a sportswear line. There are also a number of offbeat dishes like Turkey Scarpape and Turkey Crepes. One of my favorites in this category is Turkey Goulash, which can be made in about 25 minutes. Here is her recipe:

- 1/4 cup butter
 - 1 small onion, sliced
 - 1 can (about 4 ounces) mushrooms, sliced
 - 2 cups turkey stock
 - 1 cup uncooked rice
 - 2 cups cooked turkey, cut up
 - 1 green pepper, cut into thin strips
 - 1/2 cup diced celery
 - 1/4 cup light cream
 - Salt and pepper to taste
- Melt butter in large skillet. Sauté onions and mushrooms in butter till onion is tender. Add turkey stock. Heat till boiling. Stir in rice. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cover and cook till rice is done, about 15 minutes. Season. Serves 3-4.

Hearing set on waste dumps

100,000 barrels of nuclear waste submerged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One hundred thousand barrels of nuclear wastes lie off the nation's shores, and scientists and politicians are meeting here to debate whether the debris poses a health threat to fish and the people who eat fish.

On one side is a group that says the barrels are leaking and radioactivity has entered the food chain through contaminated fish.

The other side says that because of the ocean's vastness, the wastes in effect are no "hotter" than a 40-watt lightbulb.

A congressional Subcommittee on Environment, Energy and Natural Resources meets here Tuesday to sort out the two positions.

The biggest dump lies about 150 miles off Delaware. There are some 50 dump sites in all, and one barely 40 miles off the Golden Gate, near the Farallon Islands, has drawn the most attention.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. has ordered the state Department of Health Services to monitor leaks by testing fish and shellfish. So far, samplings have shown no significant radiation levels.

The dumping, which began in 1946, ended in 1972.

"It began as an infrequent, garbage-disposal type of operation," says a 1957 report by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, the forerunner of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. "Drums of low-level, contaminated trash simply were taken out to a convenient location and put overboard."

One of the chief opponents of the dumping is W. Jackson Davis, a biologist and head of psychology at the University of California at Santa Cruz.

Davis says federal surveys "furnish compelling evidence that radioactive contamination ... has entered edible fish and now presents a measurable health hazard."

Davis maintains that leaking barrels found by the Environmental Protection Agency off the Farallons several years ago pose an "intense, localized source of radiation." Among the substances present are plutonium, cesium and strontium.

The EPA has said, however, there is "no evidence ... that there is cause for alarm."

Jerry J. Cohen and Craig F. Smith of the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, both specialists in risk assessment, say, "From a radiological standpoint, it would be inconsequential whether the drums leak or not."

The two, replying to one of Davis' studies, say naturally occurring and background radiation makes "the waste trivial in comparison, from either a radioactivity or a hazard viewpoint."

Stolen jewelry recovered; Body of merchant found

ARLINGTON (AP) — Jewelry stolen in the May robbery-murder of an Arlington diamond dealer was recovered Saturday, police said, and two men arrested in the case were ordered held without bond in the Tarrant County Jail.

Officers found the body of diamond merchant Steve Smith, missing since he left on a May 12 sales trip to West Texas and New Mexico, buried in a shallow grave in Southwest Arlington after an informant led them to the gravesite Thursday.

Police made the two arrests Thursday but did not file charges until the next day.

The police report said Smith was shot four times in the head with a small caliber firearm as he drove to Fort Worth with two men May 12, the day he departed for his business trip. His wife, Addie, reported him missing May 17, police records show.

Lioness killed

MORGAN HILL, Texas (AP) — The owner of a 2-year-old lioness had the animal shot and killed after the declawed cat escaped from her cage.

Jim Halbert said he asked a sheriff's deputy to kill the lioness because "I was afraid she might get excited and hurt somebody."

He said the feline dug a hole in the dirt next to her cage, escaped and roamed around the Erath County community for about 15 minutes Sunday before Halbert and Deputy Sheriff Cal Ferguson found her about a quarter mile from home.

Halbert said the cat recognized him and playfully approached him. He took her home and asked Ferguson to shoot her.

A neighbor said the lioness was "friendly as a puppy when it got out."

Halbert said he plans to make a rug of the animal's skin.

DPS trooper shot to death

SLATON, Texas (AP) — A Department of Public Safety trooper who had stopped a car for investigation was found shot to death late Sunday on U.S. 84 near here, DPS officials said.

The officer was identified as Jerry Don Davis of Slaton. Fellow officers found him slumped over the steering wheel of his patrol car, holding a driver's license in one hand. He had been shot once in the head, said DPS spokesman Larry Todd in Austin.

Lubbock County officials issued a capital murder arrest warrant early today, naming a Lorenzo man in connection with the shooting incident. Within an hour, DPS officers reported arresting two men in connection with the case, but the man named in the warrant remained at large.

Davis notified his dispatcher by radio that he had stopped a vehicle about 11:20 p.m. Sunday, and "that was the last contact," Todd said.

The dispatcher ordered another patrol unit to the area, southeast of Lubbock, after Davis failed to check in, he said.

Todd said the vehicle Davis stopped may have had stolen license plates.

Cheaper version of K-car coming

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. will introduce less expensive versions of its new K-car earlier than planned, the nation's No. 3 automaker said Saturday.

The announcement was the second time in as many weeks that Chrysler has unveiled "miser models" of its small cars — this time, stripped-down versions of the Plymouth Reliant and Dodge Aries.

Chrysler said the newest of its six-passenger K-cars would be priced at $5,880, compared with a tentative price of $6,192 on its standard K-body models.

the same as the standard Aries and Reliants, but will not have the AM radio, cigarette lighter, glove box lock and hood moulding that is standard on the more expensive versions, said Gar Laux, Chrysler executive vice president for sales and marketing.

"These coupes were originally scheduled for next spring," Laux said Saturday. "But, we are introducing them now as part of Chrysler's strategy to put fuel efficient, front-wheel drive technology within the reach of every car buyer and to provide low-price alternatives to the imports."

Production of the new coupes will begin in mid-October at Chrysler's Jefferson assembly plant in Detroit, Laux said.

On Sept. 24, Chrysler announced it was adding less expensive models of Dodge Omni and Plymouth Horizon that would sell for $5,299.

Struggling financially, the company is pinning its hopes for success on its small car line, including the Omni-Horizon and K-series Aries-Reliant models.

The automaker has said it expects to sell more than 1 million of those models, along with the Dodge 024, Plymouth TC3 and the Colt and Champ, made by Chrysler's Japanese affiliate, Mitsubishi Motors.

Get most vital liability coverage at Bill Dillon's

Many people still carry the same liability insurance protection on their automobile insurance policy that they carried 20 years ago. Your insurance company need not pay more in damage to the victim of an accident for which you are held liable than the dollar amount of the liability coverage provided for in your insurance policy.

If you have $10,000 in auto liability insurance and the court awards $50,000 in medical expenses and other compensation to the person injured by your car, you must pay him the additional $40,000 out of your pocket — which could ruin you financially. It makes sense to protect your assets, says Bill

Dillon. If your net worth or assets total $100,000, you need liability on your automobile, home, boat, and business to cover you for this amount or more. Automobiles cost roughly four times more than twenty years ago, yet people continue to ask for and agents continue to sell $5,000 in property damage liability on an automobile policy.

Bill Dillon points out the pitfalls of the minimum property damage liability limits of $5,000. Most applicants for automobile insurance will take increased limits of liability when I point out the cost of auto repairs and replacement of many cars on the road today may cost above $20,000. In a multiple car accident in which you are liable, property damage can be staggering. Cost of increasing the bodily injury and property damage liability limits is surprisingly small. Bill believes that the average middle income household should carry $100,000/300,000 on bodily injury and $50,000 property damage.

Draft predicted after election

BOSTON (AP) — Anti-war activist Daniel Ellsberg told a group of 1,200 protesters Saturday that the United States would resume the military draft soon after the November presidential election — no matter who is elected.

Ellsberg, the featured speaker at an anti-draft rally on Boston Common, said only an immediate outpouring of popular opposition could stop a re-summation of the draft.

"The meaning of this draft (registration) is to support the current administration, through the election, in the threat to use nuclear arms in the Persian Gulf," Ellsberg said at an informal news conference. "These people are being asked to sign up and be willing to be the nuclear tripwire."

U.S. sues to halt sale of venom-based drug

MIAMI (AP) — The U.S. government has gone to court to halt production and sale of PROven, a snake venom-based drug used by thousands to treat multiple sclerosis, arthritis and other incurable afflictions.

The suit, filed Friday in U.S. District Court here, says one user of the serum developed uterine bleeding and another died of a brain hemorrhage. But the government's affidavits offered no proof of a cause-and-effect relationship between the drug and the ailments.

The drug is produced by Bill Haast, owner of Miami Serpentarium. Haast said more than 5,000 people use PROven, sold in $80 vials. The serum is a blend of cobra, krait and water moccasin venom. Of the suit, he said: "As I said before, if it comes down to a cease-and-desist order and we do not turn it around, that probably would force me to live up to my commitment to these
