ODESSA — The gates will swing open at 10 a.m. Wednesday for the 40th anniversary edition of the mammoth Permian Basin Oil Show at the Ector County Coliseum complex in Odessa.

Attendance for the four days of the bienniel oil and gas industry exposition has been predicted at 600,000 by show officials. The attendance record was set in 1978 when 557,521 persons attended.

The final two days will be open to the public.

The grounds will open at 10 a.m. Wednesday. Thus

The grounds will open at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Thurday, Friday and Saturday. They will close at 8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, at 6 p.m. Friday, and 5 p.m.

The oil show parade will begin moving at 10 a.m. Friday in downtown Odessa.

Formal opening ceremonies will be conducted at 1 p.m. Friday at the entrance to the showgrounds, with the public invited to take part.

The opening ceremonies will include the presentation

The opening ceremonies will include the presentation of Alex H. Massad of New York City as the 1980 Oil Show Honoree. He is a director of Mobil Corp., a director and executive vice president of Mobil Oil Corp., and is president of the Exploration and Production Division of Mobil Oil.

Massad completed two tours for Mobil in Midland. He came here in 1958 as division engineer. After working in Louisiana and Oklahoma he was moved back to Midland in 1965 as production manager.

Joe Womack of Midland, president of the oil show, said Massad will not only be honored for his own accomplishments in the oil industry, but also "as a representative of the major oil companies."

The final event of the oil show will be at 5 p.m. Saturday when the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang will lay out one of its famous barbecue dinners in the oil show parking lot. Tickets can be purchased on the show grounds.

The oil show, the oldest of its kind in existence, will feature everything mechanical and electrical used in exploring for and production of oil and gas.

There will be giant drilling rigs, huge oilfield pumps, trucks of every description and many items no larger than a dime on exhibit. And, there will be experts in each of the 534 booths, a show record, to explain the thousands of items on display.

Many of the companies will have gifts for persons visiting their booths.

Twenty-four states, including Texas, will be represented at the show, and a company from Montreal, Canada, will lend an international air to the show.

Civilians wounded in raid on Baghdad

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iranian Phantom jets raided Baghdad today and Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's regime in Tehran said it crushed an Iraqi-backed breakaway Kurdish rebellion in northwestern Iran.

Iraqi forces threatening Abadan moved more armor and artillery across the Karun River but appeared to be preparing for a siege rather than an assault to overrun the Iranian oil city and its giant refinery.

New mediation efforts to end the war reportedly were under way as the Iraqi effort to win complete control of the Shatt al-Arab estuary went into its 23rd day.

An Iraqi communique said three Iranian fighter-bombers struck at residential neighborhoods in Baghdad, the Iraqi capital, wounding 12 civilians. The communique said Iraqi air defenses drove off the attacking jets in the first air raid on Baghdad in eight days.

Iran claimed it shot down six Iraqi MiG jets in raids on Abadan and Kharg Island, off Iran's southwestern Persian Gulf coast. It claimed six other Iraqi jets were downed in raids Monday over the same area. Iraq said all its planes returned safely from both raids.

Iran said it had crushed the rebellion by autonomy-seeking Kurdish insurgents in northwestern Iran near the border with Turkey in two days of fighting. The Pars news agency said 80 rebels and 20 Iranian security forces had been killed.

Habib Chatti, secretary general of the 40-nation Islamic Conference organization, prepared to begin a fresh mediation effort with visits to Baghdad and Tehran. Both Iraq and Iran have ignored past appeals by the United Nations for an to the fighting. A Kuwaiti newspaper, Al-Wattan, quoted Saslah Khalaf, a leader in the Palestine Liberation Organization, as saying the PLO is about to propose a new formula for ending the war. Under the proposal, Iraq would agree to return to its border and Iran would agree to negotiate with Iraq in another country under the auspices of a third party, he was quoted as saying.

Iran's official Pars news agency said the Iraqi invaders put two more pontoon bridges across the Karun northwest of Abadan, giving them three crossing points on the approaches to the threatened city.

A British reporter who visited the Abadan area said he saw tanks, amphibious vehicles and artillery moving across one of the bridges "in a leisurely manner" and that the Iraqi troops were relaxed and confident. He said the Iraqis were shelling Abadan and the Iranians were replying with "inaccurate" fire but were getting no air support.

Iraqi officials claimed their forces advanced three to five miles toward Abadan, but the Western reporter said it appeared that the Iraqis were planning a siege of Abadan and Iranian-held parts of the port city of Khorramshahr, on the west side of Karun River's juncture with the Shatt al-Arab.

Palestinians offered voice in land policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israel has offered to give Palestinians a voice in determining land policy in the West Bank of the Jordan river and in Gazain a move described by U.S. officials today as constructive.

Diplomatic sources said Israel has also reaffirmed that it plans no further settlements in the occupied territories beyond the four it previously announced, but the issue of whether existing settlements may be "thickened" has not been resolved.

The Israeli position was outlined in a document brought here from Jerusalem by an Interior Ministry official, Chaim Kubersky. According to the sources, who refused to be identified, it reiterates the Israeli stance that only four more settlements will be built on the West Bank.

The settlements issue is considered one of the major stumbling blocks to an agreement on the future of more than 1 million Palestinian Arabs living in Israeli-held territory.

Formal talks were scheduled to begin later today.

Meanwhile, American mediators met with Egyptian negotiators to try to work out an Egyptian position. The original draft apparently reflected no substantive change in policy.

U.S. officials appeared encouraged by Israel's views, but sources suggested the settlements question was far from resolved because expansion of existing outposts was left open.

Prospects for progress seemed limited until a summit meeting is held following next month's U.S. presidential elections.

Today's session hosted by U.S. mediator Sol M. Linowitz opens two days of talks that seem intended mainly to keep alive hopes for an eventual agreement.

Although the Israeli position might reduce differences with Egypt, U.S. officials said it seems highly improbable that all of them can be resolved in two days.

Already, plans are being made for President Carter to hold a summit meeting after the Nov. 4 election with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin.

Their three-way summit in September 1978 cleared the way to a peace treaty between Egypt and Israel and laid the groundwork for the current negotiations over the Palestinians.

negotiations over the Palestinians.

Sadat broke off the formal autonomy negotiations in May but then allowed his foreign minister, Kamal Hassan Ali, to meet here in July with Linowitz and Israeli Interior Minister Josef Burg. Ali and Burg are heading their respective delegations again this week.

To get around one obstacle, they agreed to defer consideration of the future of Jerusalem until the summit, or possibly later. Israel annexed the largely Arab sector of the city after the 1967 Mideast war.

Other major items, including the powers of the council to be elected by the Palestinians, also are expected to be reserved for the summit.

Meanwhile, Carter was scheduled to receive a message from Sadat that was to be delivered in mid-afternoon by Egyptian Vice President Hosni Mobarak.

Egyptian sources called it a world review, with particular focus on the Iran-Iraq war and other developments that Sadat finds disturbing. These include a recent pact between Syria and the Soviet Union as well as Libya's support of Iran.

The Begin government reportedly is reluctant to make negotiating concessions at a time when the Israelis are concerned that the Iran-Iraq war could spread to Jordan and Syria, which adjoin the West Bank.

Absentee voting period to begin

Absentee voting in the Nov. 4 general election will begin at 8 a.m. Wedesday for a 2½-week run in the Midland County Clerk's Office on the first floor of the downtown courthouse.

"Oh, it's going to be heavy," County Clerk Rosenelle Cherry said of the turnout. "That's indicated by the requests that we got by mail."

As of this morning, Ms. Cherry has received 844 mail-out requests, including 183 from outside the United States, for absentee ballots.

In the 1976 presidential election, 4,418 absentee ballots were cast in Midland County, she said. That year, 37,393 Midland Coun-

That year, 37,393 Midland Countians were registered to vote, noted Janeice Builta, the county's deputy voter registrar. And two-thirds — 27,369 — of that number voted in the general election, which was headlined by then President Gerald Ford, the Republican candidate, and the Democratic Party's challenger, Jimmy Carter.

This year, approximately 42,200 are registered to vote in the general election in Midland County, Ms. Builta said. Gov. Ronald Reagan, the Republicans' choice for president, this year is making his bid to take the presidency from Carter.

Absentee balloting will be held weekdays until 5 p.m. on Oct. 31. Votes in the County Clerk's Office will be cast by voting machines. However, those who wish to vote by mail-out paper ballots must request those ballots by mail during the absentee voting period, according to the Texas Election Code, Ms. Cherry said. Until 5 p.m. today, those requests could have been made in person in the Clerk's Office.

County residents 'stuck' with muddy roads

Midland County commissioners extended their sympathy but said they could do little else to help about 50 rural people out of their rut.

They were literally "stuck in the mud" or waterbound following September and October rains that flooded their Rotan subdivision in a low-lying basin about 3½ miles southeast of Midland's city limits.

of Midland's city limits.

And petite Vicke Golden, spokesperson for the group, on Monday presented the commissioners with a petition, bearing 51 signatures, in a plea for help.

"We're petitioning," said Mrs.
Golden, "so that we can get our roads passable. We want passable roads.

passable. We want passable roads.
"I got stuck in the middle of the road the day before yesterday, and Mr. (Charlie) Welch sent somebody out to get me out." she said. "We've been trying for four years to get the roads fixed, but we get no cooperation."

THEY GOT VIRTUALLY no relief from the commissioners, who, firsthand, had seen the plight of the Rotan mobile-home subdivision, which Commissioner Welch said he surveys most every day, particularly when it

"We went out there today, and we certainly do sympathize with you," said County Judge Bill Ahders, "It's a difficult situation." However, he told Mrs. Golden that he was "sure you realize that the cost would be prohibitive to pave (the dirt roads out there).

You understand that."

Mrs. Golden indicated that she could sympathize with the commissioners' predicament.

"I have been stuck many times when it rains," she said. "Not just this rain, because it was so unusus

In the wake of the last rain, she said, her 11-year-old son, Carl, moved around their flooded front yard in a boat. And, she said, there are 47 school-age children out there who miss school when roads become impassable by the school bus, and the Midland Independent School District in turn loses $216 per day when the students aren't in classes.

Judge Ahders turned to the fourcommissioners for suggestions. "What can we do that's not prohibitive?" he pleaded matter-of-factly.

"If I knew," said Welch, whose Precinct No. 2 includes the Rotan subdivision, "I would have already done it."

Welch is having road-and-bridge crews, supervised by Superintendent Albert Stewart, fill in the dirt roads with more dirt and grading the roads. And the commissioners have considered putting in a drainage system, but with that, they would have the added problem of finding a place to dump the water. And the U.S. Soil Conservation Service can do nothing, the commissioners indicated.

IN A PASS-THE-BUCK resort, the commissioners are asking engineers of the Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to survey the Rotan area and offer some recommendations.

Mrs. Golden still was urging the commissioners to do something such as cover the roads with caliche — about the roads' condition.

"We've got them in better shape than they were," said Welch. "It's just a real difficult situation to get something done."

Too, the commissioners noted that

Wednesday's temperatures don't look like they'll be record-breakers either, but they do continue to show the cooling, fall temperature trend begun a few weeks ago in Midland.

Man, woman jailed here for possession of drug

A man and woman were in City Jail this morning on charges of possession of a dangerous drug.

Officers observed two people sitting in a parked car at Industrial Avenue and Terrell Street at 1:14 a.m. today As the officers approached, they said they saw the passenger hide something in the floorboard near the gearshift. The two officers searched the car and, according to reports, found a pill bottle prescribed to the woman in the car, a spoon containing a liquid soaked into a white filter, a syringe with fresh blood and a blue capsule with a white substance. When the man was searched, officer said they found a test tube with a trace of white powder in it.

Police are also investigating the reported theft of a five-gram gold ingot and gold chain, valued at $275. Kim Cronk, 2316 N. Midland Drive No. 109, told officers she left the ingot and chain on her kitchen table and left her residence at 8 a.m. Friday. When she returned it was gone.

The Fire Department was called to a fire at the Midland Hilton at 1:55 a.m. today. When they arrived, they were told a cigarette had set a couch afire in the Discovery Lounge, but the fire was already out.

BIG SPRING - Investigators in Big Spring are looking into the possibility that two separate incidents early today may be connected and related to a "family feud" here.

The passenger side window of Sgt. Jimmy Wallace's patrol car was shot out about 1 a.m. today, according to Lt. George Quintero. Wallace and five other officers had completed the investigation of an earlier incident and Wallace was patrolling the area around Lancaster Street, 5th Street and Gregg Street when the shooting incident occurred. Sgt. Wallace was not injured in the incident, Lt. Quintero said.

Ray takes stand to tell his story

HOUSTON (AP) - Donald Ray, one of three defendants in the Texas Brilab trial, took the stand today to tell his side of the story that led to his indictment by a federal grand jury.

Dirt roads will be graded and maintained as dirt roads; caliche roads will remain caliche roads; and hard-surfaced paved roads will be maintained and repaired. In most cases, it's up to the developer or landowners initially "to put in roads.

Welch indicated that the caliche route Mrs. Golden suggested wouldn't be practical.

"Caliche roads 'go' (get washed out) first in rains," said Welch. "The roads start to get wetter and wetter and softer and softer. We're working on the roads."

"I know Charlie is trying to do something, and we have only so much money to spend on county roads." Even Commissioner Durward

Wright, perhaps the most analytical of the commissioners, was boxed in. "I don't know the answer," said Wright. "I know the problem; it's a pretty big problem.'

Mrs. Golden, who has been familiar with the problem for four years, said when it rains, Rotan residents can get around in four-wheel drive vehicles, pick-up trucks or boats when the water is high.

"We sympathize with you," again said Welch "So, we're stuck?" asked Mrs.

"I don't know what we can do,"

Welch again told Mrs. Golden. "As a matter of fact, you were the first on our maintenance list. I'll do what I can.

Wright brought up a suggestion for a drainage canal but immediately nixed the idea.

"It would be a prodigious amount of money," he said.

"All I can do is sympathize with you. Hopefully, they (highway engineers) can find a solution to the problem without sending the county into bankruptcy," Wright said.

But after the session with the commissioners, Mrs. Golden said she really didn't expect any relief from the county commissioners.

"We're not going to get anything done," she said. "But we had to tell our side of it. I had a feeling before we came that nothing would happen."

Texas voters will fill two vastly important positions each on the Railroad Commission and the state Supreme Court when they cast their ballots Nov. 4.

The Reporter-Telegram's choices for the Railroad Commission are James E. "Jim" Nugent, for the unexpired term, and Henry C. "Hank" Grover for the Nugent has been drawing rave reviews from those in his party, the Democrats, and Republicans alike since he was appointed to the commission a year ago.

Some say, in fact, that he is currently the strongest and most capable member of the commission.

Nugent formerly was a state representative, serving 18 years in the Legislature prior to his appointment to the commission.

Voters would be wise to return Nugent to his post.

Grover, the choice for the full term, also is described by those who know him as a hard worker and capable.

Most voters will remember Grover for his 1972 gubernatorial race against former Gov. Dolph

Grover should bring to the commission a conservative voice.

The Reporter-Telegram's choices for the two slots to be filled by voters on the state Supreme Court are James P. "Jim" Wallace and Will Garwood, respectively.

Carter attacking Reagan because his record hurts

Last symmer in Detroit, John Sears, the campaign professional Ronald Reagan fired, observed between bites of a hot dog that Jimmy Carter had two choices: Run on his record or attack Reagan.

Well, Carter is no fool. He's attacking Reagan and with Carter's record, you can't blame him for trying to hide it. In case you have forgotten it, I would like to briefly summarize it for Carter's greatest accomplishment, from the Soviet point of view, has been to wreck our defenses. He cancelled the B-1 bomber, refused to produce the neutron warhead needed to offset Warsaw Pact superiority in tanks; cut the Navy shipbuilding program in half; vetoed a nuclear carrier; delayed development of the cruise missile and production of the Trident submarine; delayed making a decision on the MX missile; shut down our last missile production facility (Minute Man); and refused to authorize a new communications system which would allow our Polaris subs to cruise deeper and avoid trailing a surface antenna.

He has been no kinder to the conventional forces. He has been so niggardly that our forces are dangerously short of manpower, fuel, ammunition, medical personnel and spare parts. At a time when nearly 50 percent of the recruits come from the lowest mental category, training has been cut back. He robbed the reserves and national guard of equipment to make up for shortages in Europe. He has pulled back 7,000 NCOs from Europe and Korea to make up for shortages in the United States.

When Carter took office, the 10 army divisions based in the United States were all rated fully combat ready. After nearly four years of Carter, seven out of the 10 are rated not combat ready; two are rated marginally ready with major defi-ciencies. That's a heck of a decline. But the same decline has occurred in the Navy and the Air Force. They are short of ships, planes, pilots and skilled technicians. We couldn't win a war with the Soviet Union and quite possibly not even one with Iran, given our deficiencies in airlift and sealift capability.

In nuclear terms, we have 1,000 aging missiles vulnerable to a first strike, 350 very old B-52s and 41 aging nuclear subs. We have no air defense and no civil defense.

For what Carter has done and not done in the area of defense he deserves to be impeached, not just defeated at the polls, although you had better pray to God he is if you value this country's existence.

In the area of diplomacy, Carter has again made some outstanding moves - from Soviet viewpoint. He has left the Soviet Union alone in Africa so that Mozambique, Angola, Zimbabwe and Ethiopia are all controlled by Marxists. He is backing SWAPO, a Marxist outfit trying to take over Southwest Africa and he has harrassed and alienated South

In Latin America, he alienated Chile, Argentian, Brazil and Bolivia. He encouraged the overthrow of Somoza in Nicaragua. Indeed, it is a good thing Carter has gone on record as saying the Caribbean is not an area of vital interest to the United States because it is fast becoming a Soviet

Carter has allowed the Soviets a 3,000 man combat force in Cuba as well as MIG-23s capable of carrying nuclear weapons. He has let Fidel Castro run free in the area so that Grenada, Guyana, Jamaica and Nicaragua are controlled by Marxists and practically every other country is under siege

He has given no support to Afghan freedom fighters; he allowed the Shah to fall and be replaced by a madman. He has flirted with the PLO and put unfair pressure on Israel to make dangerous concessions. He dumped Taiwan for the sake of arming Red China on credit when it is public knowledge that Red Chinese strategy is to help precipitate a war between the United States and the Soviet Union.

I'm sorry I don't have the space to cover his domestic record which has also been spectacular, though you can see the effects of it in your taxes, the inflation, the unemployment lines, the price of gasoline and the number of aliens wandering about.

To sum it all up, Carter has been the best president the Soviet Union ever. had and if he is re-elected, I predict he will be the last president the United States ever has.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

'Silverfinger' Hunt corners a congressman

WASHINGTON - Nelson Bunker Hunt, the Texas tycoon, has invested heavily in silver, sugar, soybeans and congressmen. He almost cornered the silver market, tried to manipulate sugar and soybean prices, and succeeded in cornering at least one congressman.

Hunt's man on Capitol Hill is Rep. Steven Symms, who is supposed to represent Idaho, not Texas. But if Hunt needs any legislative favors, he can usually count on the obliging

The eyes in his round face are small, or perhaps they only seem small, encroached upon as they are by great cheeks tending to the rubicund. But he works his will in the world of finance with the finesse of one of his prize bulls.

This disparate pair first met in 1976, and Symms has been looking after Hunt's interests ever since. In 1978, Symms co-sponsored legislation to prevent the Commodity Futures Trading Commission from punishing commodity law violators whose cases had been dismissed by the courts for technical reasons. The bill was tailored to order for Hunt, whose firm had been accused of trying to rig the soybean market.

But the bill was quietly drafted by an attorney for the Great Western Sugar Company, which is not an Idaho enterprise at all but a firm located in Colorado and controlled by the Federal Elections Commission records show that prior to both actions, Symms received a total of $2,500 in campaign contributions from Nelson Hunt, his brother Herbert, and a Hunt brother-in-law. At present, Nelson Hunt is a member of Symms' campaign finance committee, and is helping Symms in his effort to unseat Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Last year, Symms co-sponsored a measure that would have required the government to buy $513 million worth of silver for the strategic stockpile. This would have reduced the silver supply and sent silver prices skyrocketing. Guess who was then the nation's biggest silver holder: Nelson Bunker Hunt, known in the trade as Silverfinger.

It may be merely an added coincidence that Symms sits on the subcommittee that oversees silver mining. This gives him an inside seat on silver matters

But Symms hasn't been content merely to collect campaign donations from the silver king. Symms has also invested in silver himself. Shortly before he co-sponsored the silver legislation, he purchased some silver at prices that ran from $8.63 to $8.66 an ounce. After the bill was introduced, silver prices began climbing. He sold his silver in two separate transactions while prices ranged between $9.38 and $9.58 an ounce. His total take from his silver investment in 1979 was $9,636. He lost money on other commodi-

Footnote: A spokesman for Symms put the best face possible on these facts, minimizing the relationship with Hunt and attributing it to a personal friendship that had nothing to do with politics or legislation. The spokesman told my associate Tony Capaccio that Symms has been trading in silver since the 1960s, that he accepts no financial advice from Hunt and that "he never thought about a conflict" when he co-sponsored the silver legislation.

The letter is the work of Rep. Richard Schulze, R-Pa., who heads the Mushroom Caucus on Capitol Hill. In honor of "Mushroom Day" (you missed it, didn't you?), Schulze also presented one-pound boxes of fresh mushrooms to his colleagues.

LABOR LAPSE: There are hundreds of federal regulations on the books designed to ensure equal job opportunities for women and minorities, but the job counselors in the Labor Department's U.S. Employment Service apparently haven't read them. A recent government audit reveals that the federal placement experts are putting whites and males in better and higher-paid jobs while women and minorities are getting low-prestige positions.

WATCH ON WASTE: Twelve years ago, the Navy went overboard on a centralized payroll center in Cleveland, Ohio, which cost $150 million in public funds to design and operate. The computerized system has proven hopelessly error-prone and exceedingly slow, and the Navy has poured $3.4 million a year down the drain to pay some 150 clerks to check the results by hand. Now the Navy bureaucrats have instructed each local disbursing officer to check the paychecks one-by-one - at still further cost to the taxpayer.

INSIDE REPORT:

Rep. Chisholm considering unexpected Reagan endorsement

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - Rep. Shirley Chisholm, the firebrand congresswoman from Brooklyn, has tentatively decided to back Ronald Reagan for president on the strength of private assurances that a Reagan administration would give full backing to the Bedford-Stuyvesant project started in her district by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A final decision awaits a head-tohead meeting between Reagan and Chisholm. The highly-unusual union could still die aborning. Go-between for Reagan is former Ohio Rep. Buz Behind Chisholm's likely desertion of President Carter for the candidate whom Carter has publicly derided as racist lies deep antipathy for the president. For Chisholm, a compact with Reagan would not only guarantee financial help for "Bed-Sty," but also put her on the ground floor as Rea-gan's leading black operative. For Reagan, a Chisholm alliance would stunningly rebut Carter's racist allegations, and could ease his problem with women voters.

A footnote: Chisholm ran for president in 1972 as the "black candidate," but supported Sen. George McGovern after the Democratic convention that

STRAUSS WOOS KENNEDY The latest SOS from Jimmy Carter to Teddy Kennedy for help in his campaign against Ronald Reagan was a secret trip to Sen. Kennedy's office last week by none other than Robert Strauss, the president's campaign chairman and top strategist.

Novak

Although no eyewitness was present at the meeting in Kennedy's Capitol Hill office, the fact that this was Strauss' first serious chat with Kennedy since the president's hard-nosed anti-Kennedy primary campaign assault gave the visit a dramatic setting. Strauss had been reported in the press as calling Kennedy "spoiled" at one point during the Carter-Kennedy

Kennedy allies say Strauss was prepared to tell the senator he never really did call Kennedy "spoiled." The purpose of the Strauss journey down Pennsylvania Avenue was to nail down more Kennedy help for Carter's uphill re-election campaign. Like it or not, Kennedy agreed to expand his activities — including cutting TV commercials for Carter, as we reported last week.

HOSTAGE DEALINGS Despite evidence of heightened anti-Americanism from Ayotallah

Khomeini and other revolutionary extremists in Iran, secret negotiations for return of the hostages before the election are proceeding. Reports of new Iranian flexibility have proved to be premature time and again since the Americans were seized Nov. 4, 1979 - exactly one year before next month's election.

The new hope is based on speculation that Iranian authorities are terrified of what may happen if Reagan wins the election. However erroneous that sentiment may be, U.S. diplomats are subtly playing on it to pry the hostages loose. Success could give Carter an immense political lift just before voters go to the polls.

REAGAN AND POLLUTION

When Ronald Reagan in Steubenville, Ohio, seemed to be praising the virtues of pollution, the aides traveling with him to protect him against gaffes did not send up a warning signal.

Meeting with businessmen in economically depressed Steubenville, Reagan stuck to his widely-ridiculed statements that much air pollution comes from natural sources. It was no gaffe politically. His advisers wanted him to hit hard against environmentalists - particularly in Ohio, where federal regulations are blamed for shutting down steel mills.

Reagan's protective aides were not even concerned with the impact on the California vote by his statement in Steubenville that 80 years ago people believed that winds off oil slicks were good for your health. "No problem," one adviser told us. "Californians have had it up to here with the environmentalists.

DEAR ABBY

America's hosts shout get out!

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the hostess who didn't know how to get rid of her late-staying guests, how do you like this for a remedy? A friend attended a party where she and other guests had overstayed their welcome. The hostess was obviously exhausted and eager for them to leave. Then, as one of the guests halfrose from her chair to adjust her skirt, the weary hostess rushed over to her and blurted out, "My dear, must you stay? Can't you leave?"

The guest left immediately.—
R.C.W., BURBANK DEAR ABBY: Add this to your list of diplomatic ways to get rid of guests who overstay their welcome: Good-humoredly rise and say, "Well, we are going to bed so you nice people can go home."—JOAN DEAR ABBY: The last time my guests stayed too late, I excused myself, went to the bedroom and quickly changed my dress to my bathrobe. When I returned they immediately took the hint and left. No hard feelings.—SAN FRANCISCO SLICK

DEAR SLICK: That may work with several guests, but I wouldn't recommend it for a lady who is entertaining a gentleman. He might interpret it as an invitation to stay all night.

DEAR ABBY: When a guest stays too late, I always stretch out on the couch, or curl up in a big chair, close my eyes and "pass out." To make it even more realistic, I snore a little. It has never failed.—FOXXY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass (AP) - Low-tar, low-nicotine cigarettes have become for young girls the "pharmacologic equiva-lent of a training bra," leading women into tobacco addiction, a Harvard University researcher says.

Dr. William Bennett said new studies show women are more sensitive than males to the effects of nicotine overdose, and in the past the high nicotine in regular cigarettes deterred women from smoking.

"The new, low-tar brands have removed that deterrent," Bennett wrote in the current issue of Harvard Maga-

Giant aftershocks plague, terrify quake rescue teams

By MARTINE ROSSARD

AL ASNAM, Algeria (AP) - The rescuers knocked on a steel girder and listened. Moments later, they heard a feeble scratching, proof that someone was still alive nearly four days after Al Asnam's killer earthquake buried him beneath the wreckage of the office building.

Suddenly, the rescuers dropped their tools and ran into the street. The ruins had been shaken by another of the dozens of daily aftershocks. A concrete wall directly overhead, leaning at a 30-degree angle, threatened to bury the diggers.

The aftershocks Monday, some measuring up to 5 on the Richter scale, caused a panic among the tens of thousands of homeless survivors receiving food and medical aid in temporary tent cities. Terrified men, women and children poured into the open air.

The official Algerian news agency said there was no further damage or casualties Monday in Al Asnam, where 1.600 bodies have been recovered and the Red Crescent relief organization estimated 5,000 to 20,000 people were killed, 80 percent of the city of 125,000 people were destroyed, and 250,000 of the province's 1 million people were made homeless.

As each aftershock subsided, the thousands of Algerian searchers and French and Swiss alpine rescue teams with trained search dogs returned to the rubble. More victims were brought out, alive but badly The scratching was believed to be coming from the watchman at the building's underground parking lot. "Last night, we heard him crying for help," said one of the searchers. 'This morning one of our avalanche dogs confirmed his presence, but now his cries have stopped.

Then they heard the faint scratching from below. 'Every day there is less and less hope for those buried in the ruins," said a doctor standing by.

"But I think this man down here is getting enough air to survive long enough for us to reach him. It's a matter of time. ... I am waiting in case I have to give an anesthetic and perform an emergency amputation of a limb trapped in the ruins.

Prior to the Midland engagement, the team will trod through College Park Shopping Center in Big Spring from 2 to 6 p.m. Wednesday.

In addition, the team will participate in the Oil Show Parade in Odessa on Friday. The parade, which officially opens the Permian Basin Oil Show, begins at Third Street and Grant Avenue in Odessa at 10 a.m.

Finally, the Clydesdales will be at Permian Mall in Odessa Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Clydesdales' visit to West Texas was made possible through efforts of the Standard Sales Company of Odessa, area distributers of Anheuser-Busch beers. While in the area, the horses will be stabled at Graham's Farm, courtesy of Herbert

The Clydesdales travel some 40,000 miles annually for over 400 public events like the Oil Show to national events like the Tournament of Roses and Orange Bowl parades.

Each Clydesdale weighs over two tons and stands at least 18 hands high. The gentle horses are characterized by their bay color, four fleecy white stockings and feet, a blaze of white on the face and a black mane and tail. Each wears a custom-made black and brass harness, valued at $30,000, and custom-forged shoes, each weighing four pounds.

The Brownsville Independent School District halted the enrollments Monday, becoming the first Texas district to do so less than two weeks after a federal judge ruled the children of illegal aliens had the right to a free education in Texas public schools

U.S. District Judge Filemon Vela issued a temporary restraining order here Friday barring such enrollments for 10 days — until a hearing Oct. 21 on the district's request for a permanent injunction against free schooling for the youngsters.

The order will not affect the 557 undocumented children already in school, said Tony Martinez, lawyer for the district. Up to 1,000 more such children were expected to enroll in the district, which now has about 27,000 students.

Brownsville, like the state and other Texas communities, is fighting a federal court order to educate children of illegal aliens — most of them offspring of Mexicans who cross the border to work.

School officials say the children are creating a financial strain, swamping bilingual programs and overcrowding classrooms.

Accommodating the alien children could lead to half-day sessions, officials say. The number of children of aliens had been increasing by about 20 to 30 per day, said attendance officer Alonzo Perez.

The school district's request filed with Vela said more such students would leave the district "unable to adequately provide the standard of education it Until this summer, Texas was the only state denying free public education to children of illegal aliens. The part of the Texas Education Code allowing school districts to deny education to the children or charge tuition was struck down in July by U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals in Houston. On Oct. 2, U.S. Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell refused to waive that ruling.

The state has appealed Seals' order to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, and Brownsville apparently was the first district to seek and win a temporary exemption pending the ap-

Seals' ruling followed a trial on a lawsuit filed against four Houston-area school districts. Most districts then voluntarily complied and began enroll-ng children of undocumented aliens. The Brownsville district, however, appealed to Powell, who told the South Texas district to seek relief in local federal courts. Admitting the children, the district said in its request, "would force the plaintiff to seek remedial avenues such as one-half day sessions; and the utilization of more portable buildings which the plaintiff is not capable of producing at the rate they are required.' As in other border school districts, Brownsville officials expect the number of undocumented children to increase later this year as migrant workers follow crop harvests south to the Rio Grande Val-

Texas Attorney General Mark White has argued the cost of educating illegal alien children should be paid by the federal govenment.

Federal officials have failed to enforce immigration laws, and it is unfair for Texas schools to pay for that failure, he says.

Gaiter had asked residents of this city of 357,000 to mourn the victims by wearing armbands or ribbons. He said more than 5,000 armbands and ribbons, twice as many as expected, were passed out Monday, many to "a surprisingly large number of whites.

Among those who testified Monday at the end of more than three weeks of defense testimony was a friend of one of the slain Communist Workers Party members, who said the CWP was ready for violence at any time.

Rex W. Stephenson, who said he worked for six months at a sewage treatment plant with slain CWP member James Waller, said Waller told him the group had guns and was ready to use them

But under cross-examination, Stephenson said Waller never discussed plans for the Nov. 3 "Death to the Klan" rally at a Greensboro housing project. He speculated that if Waller had a gun, he might have used violence to carry out his political objec-tives. Waller, he said, was "trying to pattern himself after Lenin by organizing labor parties to take over

Stephenson quoted Waller as saying that the CWP needed a martyr, adding that Waller told him the group "was not getting enough attention" and it needed "national TV coverage so they could organize the party for more members."

Big Spring asks renewal of wastewater permit

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - The city of Big Spring has applied to the Texas Water Commission for renewal of its permit to discharge wastewater.

The permit authorizes the discharge of up to 125,000 gallons of wastewater daily from a water treatment plant located at 16th Street and Virginia Avenue in Big Spring.

The effluent is discharged into a trainage ditch, then to Big Spring Creek, then to Beals Creek and then to the Colorado River. No public hearing will be held on the application unless one is requested by an affected party.

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN - Chaparral Disposal Co., Odessa, has applied to the Texas Water Commission to amend a permit authorizing disposal of commercial wastes.

The permit allows the disposal of acid and alkaline solutions, clean-ing solutions, chlorinated and non-chlorinated solvents, waste oil, coolants, pesticides and other wastes through an injection well located on Chaparral property about 0.75 miles east of Odessa in Ector County. Disposal of the wastestreams is into the San Andres formation in the subsurface interval from 4,900 and 5,750 feet. The monthly average injection rate is 180 gallons per minute.

Cosgrove foresaw "no arrests around the corner" in the slayings and in the assault on Collin Cole, 37, a black former Attica prison inmate who was being treated for a drug overdose Friday when a man tried to strangle him in his Erie County Medical Center

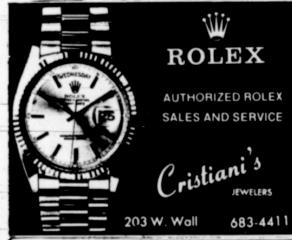

Cosgrove said Cole's condition was improving and that investigators hoped to talk to Cole again soon. The FBI composite drawing will depict the socalled ".22-caliber killer" who gunned down four black males in Buffalo and nearby cities during a 36-hour period Sept. 22-24.

Cosgrove has said he believes the person who fatally beat and stabbed two black cab drivers and then cut out their hearts last week was not the same person who shot the first four victims.

Dr. Michael Baden, New York City deputy medical examiner, examined the bodies of the cab drivers Sunday and Monday, Cosgrove said, addng that Baden determined the attacks began from the rear and that both men were probably killed outside their cabs

Baden said there was "a certain mutuality in the weapons used" and that both victims' hearts were removed after death, Cosgrove reported.

The district attorney acknowledged that a white man arrested Saturday in suburban Amherst for drunk driving and resisting arrest was not a suspect. The man, who police said had a history of mental problems, had confessed, sources said.

Hotel fire in Boston leaves 350 homeless

By JOANNE D'ALCOMO

BOSTON (AP) - Fire swept through a Beacon Hill residential hotel - the second blaze there in five days - leaving 14 people injured, some 350 men homeless and the Red Cross saddled with its largest relocation effort in six years.

"Unless you have money, you have no place to go," said Richard Keene, 45, who escaped the heavily damaged Beacon Chambers hotel Monday. "I have no idea what I'm going to do."

In the area's largest relocation effort since fire destroyed much of the nearby Chelsea neighborhood in 1974, the Red Cross was working to find homes for the residents of the old hotel and temporarily housed them at a nearby mental heath clinic.

Fire and smoke traveled through three floors of the eight-story, brick and concrete building behind the statehouse Monday, heavily damaging the hotel. Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Clougherty declared it uninha-

Monday's blaze was the second in five days at the building, described as a "residential hotel for older men."

The first fire, which began in a closet, was a small blaze that did little damage, authorities said.

Both blazes were under investigation by the arson squad, firefighters said. There was no immediate indication how the second fire began.

Fourteen people, including three firefighters, were injured in the fire and taken to local hospitals. Seven were admitted, five suffering from smoke inhalation, according to au-thorities. All seven were listed in fair condition early today.

"I was on the eighth floor and I was scared," said Keene, as he watched firefighters rain water onto the build-

"We've had mattress fires and garbage fires, but it never came on like this before. Today the smoke came on black and heavy.

Keene said he ran downstairs until he found a room with an open door that led to a fire escape. Many other residents were rescued from fire escapes and others said they groped through smoke-filled corridors and walked down a back stairway to safe-

Polish council plans to dismantle independent still retained their close ties to the WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland's independent trade union movement won another round today as the official union council prepared to dissolve because all its branch unions have quit it to become "independent."

Representatives of the independent movement charged that some of the breakaways were still controlled by the Communist Party.

Mieczyslaw Grad, secretary of the once-mighty Central Council of Trade Unions, said a "liquidation commission" probably would be formed soon to dismantle the council formally and that some of the 150 political officers on the councill staff have quit, the official PAP news agency reported.

Grad said all the branch unions quit to become independent unions under the Gdansk settlement six weeks ago that ended the nationwide summer strikes. The walkouts began when the government withdrew meat price subsidies on July 1. As part of the settlement two months later, the communist regime agreed to allow formation of unions free of party control for the first time in the Soviet Bloc.

Representatives of the Solidarity union federation, the offspring of the summer strike committees, said

Janusz Onyszkiewicz, an organizer for the Warsaw branch of Solidarity, said there are now three types of unions; the true independents forged from the strike movement, the old unions now out of the council and new "bogus unions set up by management to co-opt the movement."

He said some of the old unions are sincerely trying to get greater autonomy from party control. But others, he said, tried to adopt the guise of independence before organizers could form a truly independent union that would lure away the old unions'

Solidarity officials have helped organize hundreds of independent local unions divided into 49 regional branch organizations, said a spokesman in Gdansk, the Baltic port that was the headquarters for the summer strikes. He said the new unions represent 7 million of Poland's 13 million unionized workers.

But the unions won't become legal until Solidarity's charter is approved by the Warsaw district court. The court has approved 12 charters so far and another 16 are pending, including Solidarity's.

One point of contention is Solidarity's provision some of the old unions now calling themselves barring officials of political parties and the government from leadership posts in the new unions. This is designed to assure freedom from party control, a Solidarity lawyer said.

The organization, headed by strike leader Lech Walesa, is aware that past promises of reforms following riots or strikes have proved hollow. In 1956, after serious rioting in Poznan, factories across the country set up worker councils elected by secret ballot. Two years later the councils were merged with another body under the party's control that quickly fell back under the Central Council of Trade

In 1970, after riots on the Baltic coast, there were promises of reforms in the trade unions, but again there were no lasting changes

When Walesa signed the Gdansk settlement on Aug. 31, he said this time the workers would have tegal independent unions to guard their gains.

The Central Council of Trade Unions was formed in 1949, subordinate to the party. British historian R.F. Leslie in a new history of Poland said the first chairman, Alexander Zawadski, told the first union congress that "the traditional role of unions as defenders of workers' interests ceased to exist in a people's democracy controlled by the working class. He said their function was to mobilize their members to increase production.

Search for grizzly bear ended

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — The intensive search for a grizzly bear that killed a Texas hiker has been ended but periodic foot patrols into the backcountry area will continue to see if there are any other bears in the area, a Glacier National Park official said Monday.

Al Trulock, an acting management assistant, said the foot patrols would be seeking evidence of any grizzlies frequenting the Elizabeth Lake region where the incident occurred but rangers would be particularly concerned with bears exhibiting "any aggressive tendencies."

An autopsy on the carcass of a male grizzly shot in the area the weekend after the body of Laurence Gordon, 33, of Dallas was found did not show conclusively whether that animal was the one that killed the man and ate most of his remains, officials said. Gordon's body was found Oct. 3 but it was unknown when he was killed.

Trulock said the trapping of other grizzly bears in another end of the park near the community of West Glacier was continuing. Three bears were trapped live last week and sent to the University of Montana as part of a grizzly study. A fourth animal was caught early Monday, Trulock said.

McGann, bodyguard are killed in Jamaica

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) - Roy McGann, parliamentary secretary in the ministry of national security and a government candidate in the Oct. 30 election, was shot and killed in his car during an exchange of gunfire between his police bodyguard and police security forces, Radio Jamaica said police sources reported. The report said McGann and his bodyguard were killed shortly before midnight Monday in the area of Gordon Town, part of the district of East St. Andrew in which he was a candidate in the parliamentary election. There was no immediate official police Radio Jamaica, one of the two government radio stations, said heavy police and military reinforcements were sent to the area. It said the police station in August Town, six miles to the south of Gordon Town, was fired on about 21/2 hours after the killings. It was not known if the two incidents were connected. News of McGann's death, which came on the eve of

Nomination Day when all candidacies are officially declared, raised fears of a resurgence of political violence on this 146-mile-long Caribbean island south

Violence subsided in mid-July after Prime Minister Michael Manley, head of the People's National Party, and Edward Seaga, leader of the opposition Jamaica Labour Party, issued a joint statement calling for an end to a growing wave of political killings.

According to government statistics, 125 people were shot to death in July and a total of 380 in the first nine months of this year.

In separate Nomination Day messages issued Monday, both the socialist-leaning Manley, a close friend of Cuban President Fidel Castro, and the pro-Western Seaga called for peaceful elections.

He said the sow, like the others, was taken near a county-operated dump outside the park boundary. Officials said previously that the numerous grizzlies in the area apparently had become addicted to human food and would be eventually released in remote areas where artificial food supplies would not Trulock said it was likely there were other bears, either cubs or yearlings, in the area and he anticipated the trapping effort by the state Department of Fish, Wildlife and Parks would continue. Although the bears have become unusually visible in the West Glacier area, Trulock said there had been no incidents and none of the animals showed "any aggressive behavior at all.'

Rookie, vet clash in Series opener

The Midland Reporter-Telegram

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1980

By JOHN NELSON
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Darrell Porter, the Kansas City Royals' All-Star catcher, contends he is not much of a baseball fan, but he knows what makes a pitching rotation go around.

A consummate handler of pitchers, Porter believes the bulk of the work in the 1980 World Series against Philadelphia will have to be assumed by right-hander Dennis Leonard and lefty Larry Gura.

'We've got to rely on Gura and Leonard simply because of what they have done for us all year long,

LEONARD, the Royals' only 20-game winner, will oppose Philadelphia rookie Bob Walk, 11-7 during the season, in the opening game of the best-of-seven World Series here tonight (starting time 7:30 p.m.).

Royals Manager Jim Frey tabbed Leonard in an effort to negate the Phillies right-handed swinging power of Mike Schmidt, Greg Luzinski, Garry Maddox and Bob

"Dennis is probably the hardest thrower consistently on the club," Porter said. "His fastball is the key. He throws a hard slider, a curveball and a changeup. His slider and curve are both good pitches when he's on."

Porter said Leonard gets into trouble if he gets in a groove, spotting his fastball in the same place all the Gura, 18-10 with a key victory in Game One of the American League Championship Series against the New York Yankees, probably will start Game Two of the Series, with Rich Gale starting the third game, Frey said. Paul Splittorff, Kansas City's fourth starter, will be used as an emergency starter.

"Gura is not an overpowering pitcher," Porter said. "He relies more on finesse, control and mixing speeds. Gale is a power pitcher with good movement on his fastball. It moves either way, and it's not straight too

PHILADELPHIA Manager Dallas Green more or less was forced to go with the 23-year-old Walk in Game

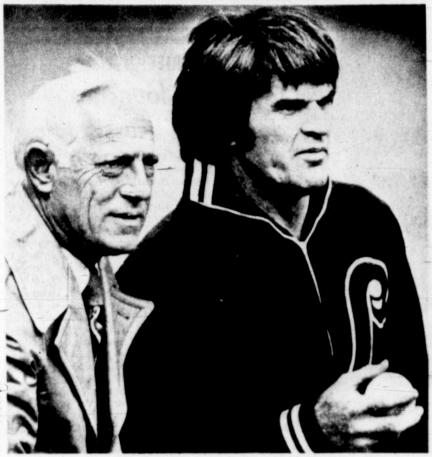

"You people asked me last night if I was going to start, and I thought, 'Why me?'" said Walk, who did not learn he would start today until Monday afternoon. "Then, all of a sudden, it dawned on me. We had used all our other starting pitchers in the last game of the

In order to win Sunday night's game in Houston 8-7 in 10 innings, Green had to use starters Marty Bystrom, a rookie, Larry Christenson and Dick Ruthven. Only left-hander Steve Carlton, who pitched the night before, and Walk were unused. Carlton will start Game Two of the Series here Wednesday.

Walk also is a power pitcher with a slider, curveball and straight changeup, which he says he probably does ing playoff against Houston. Thanks, Skip," replied Rose, his face breaking into a wide grin. "It felt like the good old days.'

Then the pair went to a private corner to reminisce about their four World Series together when Sparky was the pilot and Rose the main sparkplug of the "Big Red Machine" of the Cincinnati Reds.

From Cincinnati they separated and took different forks in the road, Anderson to become manager of a developing Detroit Tigers team and Rose to Philadelphia to resuscitate a team pennant-less for the last 30

"WHAT an amazing guy," Sparky said to newsmen later when Rose went out to first base at Veterans Stadium to prepare for tonight's World Series opener against the Kansas City Royals.

"There never has been — and never will be — a man who gave more to the game than Pete Rose. I am not talking about what he has done. There have been many guys with greater skills who have never made it:

"I am taking about the intangibles - the effort and enthusiasm he puts into every game. He loves it. He never thinks of his million-dollar salary. Put a glove and a bat in his hand and he's like a little kid again.

Morton, Upchurch rally Broncos, 20-17

The speedy Upchurch worked behind the Washington secondary Monday night and hauled in a 32-yard touchdown pass from veteran Craig Morton with 3:08 remaining, lifting the Broncos to a 20-17 National Football League victory over the Redskins

The triumph was the Broncos' second in a row and squared their record at 3-3, leaving them just one game behind AFC Western Division leader San Diego. Washington, meanwhile, slumped to 1-5, four-games behind NFC East co-leaders Dallas and Philadelphia

Upchurch had only 12 receptions entering Monday night's contest, and in some games hardly worked up a sweat as Denver used a two-tightend alignment which kept him on the bench.

But he was a key performer against the Redskins, catching two passes on Denver's first touchdown drive and hauling in a 35-yarder on a march which produced a field goal, in addition to the clincher.

"It was a picture-per-fect pass," said Up-church of the game-winner. "The safety clamped on me as I was coming across. When I saw Craig coming out to the side I took it up the field." He said he felt Morton sensed the touchdown coming. "When he's feeling it, you've got to feel it with him," Upchurch said. Morton, who came off the bench in relief of starter Matt Robinson for the third time this season, said the route was "a crossing pattern against a man-to-man defense, and I knew exactly where Rick was going to be.'

Washington never led until midway through the final quarter after a bizarre exchange of fumbles. The Redskins had driven deep into Denver territory when fullback Clarence Harmon took a short pass from Theismann and fumbled the ball away at the Denver 7yard line. But two plays later, Denver running back Lawrence McCutcheon coughed up the ball at the 5.

Redskins quarterback oe Theismann capitalized this time, hitting a leaping Art Monk in the corner of the end zone for a 1-yard scoring pass and a 17-13 lead with 7:30 to

For Baylor-SMU, another ho-hum finish

It was deteriorating into another ho-hum Baylor-SMU finish. Sure, they made a game attempt at camouflaging the outcome. SMU went ahead early, 21-0, in the first half and anyone who hadn't been through one of these things before suspected the rout was on.

But for the sage observer of these Mustang-Bear circuses, it was a ploy that wouldn't work, a mere variation of the 1978 Waco script in which Baylor jumped head 21-0 and SMU wound up winning 28-21.

Few were deceived by SMU's early lead. In fact, before half, Baylor had whittled the lead to 21-14 and Grant Teaff chortled, "We went in at half time with the momentum and I felt good."

A blocked kick set up an easy SMU touchdown early in the third period and Grant pointed out it was a blow. "We lost the momentum we had before half and had to regenerate it all over again. But I never felt we wouldn't win, not when it was 21-0 and no when it was

ONE REASON was that Baylor made some defensive adjustments. "We disguised our defensive coverage in the second half. We knew they would try to pick on safety Scott Smith because he doesn't have the speed of some of our other defensive backs, but all he did was intercept

It not only worked, but after that 21-yard drive early in the third period, it was all Baylor, whittling away at the Mustangs, first with a field goal and then a touchdown on a two-yard keep by quarterback Jay Jeffrey, one of three he scored from up close on the same play after freezing the defense with a fake to running back Walter Abercrombie straight ahead.

That made it 28-23 and Teaff said there was no decision to make. "Three or four people have asked me about going for two, but I have a handy computer I keep track of these things with," he said pulling crumpled piece of paper from his pocket. "Now let's see, if they have 28 and we have 23, one point will only make it 24 and a field goal still wouldn't tie it. But a touchdown will win it whether

THE PLAY was a little flare pass to halfback Phillip Ward, trailing out behind the split receiver who slants inside and takes the defensive man with him. "It works every time," said the junior from Midland, "It's always open and it's just a question of getting the ball to the

Baylor went ahead 32-28 with 9:07 left in the game, but Baylor-SMU just don't settle their differences that

So, when SMU lined up at the Baylor eight with fourth and one and 21 seconds left after coming some 66 yards, the outcome was a foregone conclusion.

SMU quarterback Mike Ford would simply step back and throw a touchdown pass to pull it out in predictable SMU-Baylor fashion.

But they put an unexpected twist on this one. When Ford stepped back, he didn't have the ball and had to fall on it just to maintain possession. The game was over. Ford sat on the ground stunned. The Mustangs' unbeaten season had evaporated in the cool night air of

THE TEAMS leave the field at the 50-yard line, through a tunnel separated by a wall and as they mount a stairway they come together once again for about 10 yards, only a rope separates them. The Baylor players go right into the their locker room while the SMU players turn and climb another flight of stairs.

As SMU wearily mounted the first stairs, they were a silent, somber group, still in a state of shock. On the other side of the rope, Baylor players were bubbling boisterously out of the stair well, their unbeaten 5-0 record having survived impending disaster, but there was one exception as a green-jersied No. 32, Thomas Earl Young, came up the stairs."

He had a worried look as he scanned searchingly the stream of white-jersies across the rope for someone. He spotted him on the second flight of stairs and shouted, "Hey, get your head up. You've got nothing to be ashamed. You played a good game. Come on, don't hang

But Mike Ford was crying as he mounted the stairs and didn't hear Young. After all, he had just lost the game and the world had ended, temporarily, for him.

It was a strange scene, a cornerback showing genuine concern and compassion for his mortal eneny, the quarterback, whose intent it is to exploit his deficiencies for 40,000 people to see. The cobra should receive such treatment from the mongoose.

Young, perhaps, could afford to be charitable. He had returned an interception 20 yards to set up Baylor TD just before half. "We switched our defense at half," said the Houston senior. "I was going more man-toman and giving Vic Vines more help on the out. We kept switching, so Ford couldn't read our defense like he could the first half.'

But when Young saw Ford going up the stairs, "I knew how he felt. I've been there. But he should have left it out on the field. He played a helluva a game. He had no reason to feel reponsible for losing. He's one of the best quarterbacks we've played. He put 28 points on the board. That should be enough to win. He had no reason to

Stabler, Pastorini? No one is happy

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

Scouts, coaches and general managers scan the rosters. Who can we get, they wonder, and how much will it cost us?

The trade. That's the real gamble in the National Football League. Compared to the dealing for "proven" talent, the college draft is child's Every year, a few big names or top draft picks change hands. This year was no exception. And, as in year's past, they haven't all come up cream for the swappers. Six weeks into the season, it's worth taking a look at some of the deals on which teams staked a bit of their future The biggest trade, without question, was the great quarterback swap, sending Kenny Stabler from Oakland to Houston and moving Dan Pastorini in the opposite direction THE OILERS were ecstatic to get the Snake. They envisioned he would be the final cog in the machine which would propel them past the Pittsburgh Steelers and to a division title and maybe more. The Raiders, although less enthusiastic about the trade, were nevertheless pleased at the prospect of having Pastorini, who could throw long instead of relying so heavily on the dump-off passes Today, Stabler sits near the bottom charts and Pastorini, not much better statistically, sits glumly on the sideline with a broken leg.

Stabler has completed 64.8 percent of his passes (125 of 193) but, as it was with Oakland, so many of them have been the out-of-the-backfield variety. What's more, he has thrown only three touchdown passes while an embarrassing 14 throws have been intercepted, the primary reason he's 14th out of 15 AFC passers. We'll get to No.15 in a moment.

PASTORINI, who went down for the count (for this season, at least), about a week ago, is 12th in AFC passing these days, having hit on 50.8 percent of his attempts (66 of 130) and his TD-to-interception ratio falls below .500, too, with five going to teammates in the end zone and eight to the guys in the different colored jerseys.

Now for No.15. He's Matt Robinson. You remember, Robinson, don't you? The savior, the guy who was going to give Denver some mobility, wake up the Broncos' stagnant offense and turn them back into Super Bowl contenders. It hasn't quite worked out that way.

After Monday night's game against the Washington Redskins, Robinson had thrown just one TD and had given up nine interceptions. That helped put him not only last in the AFC but last in

That, and New York's victory Sunday in Atlanta, shut up some of the Big Apple boo-birds who hollered that the Jets should've kept Robinson and traded Richard Todd to Denver - not that Todd has been all that impressive. He's 11th in AFC passing with, among other things, six TDs and 10

WHICH brings us to Johnny "Lam" Jones, the Jets' speed burner, the guy who - with Wesley Walker - was supposed to turn the Jets into another San Diego (Jefferson and Joiner), another Pitttsburgh (Stallworth and Swann), another New England (Morgan and Jackson), another team with the potential for game-breaking bombs on every down.

To get him, the Jets traded their two No.1 draft choices to San Francisco. In exchange, the Jets wound up (so far) with a major disappointment. Walker has been hurt most of the season while Jones has dropped more than his share of passes and, in six games, has caught just 10 for 177

Oh, yes. With one of those draft choices, the 49ers chose running back Earl Cooper, who happens to be fourth among NFL receivers with 32 receptions and two touchdowns and is 14th in National Conference rushers with 256 yards and three more TDs.

SPEAKING of rushers, consider Chuck Muncie. He was considered a disruptive factor in New Orleans. So in exchange for a draft choice, the Saints pitched him to San Diego, a team still in search of a ground game. Since hisharrival, he's done nothing for the Chargers - except give Oakland a touchdown with an end zone fumble last Sunday - and they're 0-2 with him on the roster. And remember Thomas Henderson? En route from Dallas to San Francisco (where he was a bust) and thence as a free agent to Houston, the 49ers somehow relinquished a fourthround draft choice to the already draft-rich Cowboys. Hooray for Hollywood.

Cowboys' White ready for worst

White knows the Cowboys will be walking into a hornet's nest at Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia Sunday but says the team in the silver and blue will be playing with some emotion itself.

"They (the Eagles) were cocky when we walked in there last year,"said White. "Just because they beat us in Dallas they thought they had it won before we went up there. They thought they were the division champions just because they had embarrassed us. It didn't turn out that way.

Pattic Lyons Catalano is all smiles after setting record in 10,000 meter Columbus Day road race at Boston.

Horns pick Johnson, Little as most valuable

Texas Coach Fred Akers said the Longhorns' fourth-quarter rally to defeat Oklahoma, 20-13, "was one of the highlights of my career, and I'm sure one of the highlights of the Texas-Oklahoma series." "The game was won by the play of our defensive unit" and the late drives, said Akers. "Our defensive secondary played by far its best game. ... It's a great thing for our defense to be able to stop a very fine Oklahoma football team, with the opportunities we gave them - six turnovers, way too much. Our secondary has been labeled suspect every week, and it just played a tremendous, heads up football game,' said Akers.

Longhorn coaches had selected safety Bobby Johnson, brother of former Longhorn Johnnie Johnson, now a rookie starter with the Los Angeles Rams, as the MVP on defense after 12 tackles, two behind the line of scrimmage, intercepted a pass, broke up two passes and caused a fumble. Quarterback Donnie Little, who had a career-high 110 yards rushing and 99 yards passing against the No. 12 Sooners, was chosen as the best offensive player...

Sugar Ray Leonard chose his words carefully and said nothing inflammatory, but Roberto Duran picked up the slack and did his best to arouse some interest in their Nov. 25 rematch. "All the hype is not necessary this time," said Leonard, who lost a 15-round decision to Duran on June 20 after earlier promising to "kill" the WBC welterweight champion. "I'm not going to say I'll knock him out in the first round, the second round, the third round," Leonard added. "All I'll say is that it will again be one of the greatest fights you'll ever see.'

Duran was not so sedate. The Panamanian champion leaned over to Leonard and said, with a deadly serious look on his face, "I'm going to knock you out. I don't like you."...

Patti Lyons-Catalano set an American women's record for a 10,000-meter road race in Boston, winning the Columbus Day event in 32 minutes, 24 seconds. The old record was

Midland Coach Pat Culpepper will show the film of the 25-12 victory over Big Spring and give a scouting report on Abilene, the Bulldogs' homecoming opponent this Friday in Memorial Stadium Meanwhile, over at Lee, Coach Spike Dykes will show the 28-0 whitewashing film of the San Angelo Central Bobcats and give a scouting report on the unbeaten Abilene Cooper Cougars, the Rebels' oppo-nent Friday night in P.E. Shotwell Stadium in Abilene. Tickets for that game will also go on sale at the booster meeting.

Lee wins at Penwell

PENWELL - Midland Lee won the special high school racing division at Penwell Raceway over the weekend by scoring 67 points. Odessa Permian was second with 58 while Midland High placed third with 57. Odessa High was fourth at 43

Permian's Jay Taylor won individual honors while Midland High's Doug Cotton was second. If Cotton had beaten Taylor in the last race, Midland High would have won the team title.

In the Bracket I competition, the fastest class of racers, Midland's Wendell Pole took top honors and the $500 first place prize.

This past weekend proved most enjoyable for most of the area schools. Crane and Lamesa were the only squads to feel the sting of defeat. Lameas was unable to contain Snyder's Mike Roemisch as he tossed a 26-yard TD pass and ran seven yards for another in leading Snyder to a 28-14 win. The loss dropped the Tors to 1-3 in District 2-4A and 2-4 overall. Snyder won for the first time in six outings.

In Crane a dreary football campaign continues. Sonora dumped the Golden Cranes 27-7 for Crane's fifth, straight loss of the season. Crane did manage to break a three week scoring drought when Darry Burton hit Kevin Putty with a 13-yard TD pass in the second quarter.

District 6-A continues to be headed by Rankin, outstanding game Friday in leading Rankin to its sixth win of the season. All Black, 5-7, 140 pound sophomore, did in the 41-7 win over Wink was run for TDs of 46 and four yards, throw a 26-yard scoring strike, return an intercepted pass 45 yards for a score, and carry a punt back 64 yards into the end

Greenwood clung to the heels of Rankin with a 13-0 verdict over Grandfalls. Big gun for the Rangers was Mickey Somer who rolled up 128 yards on 29 carries and scored two second quarter touchdowns.

McCamey was host to Eunice, N.M. and proved to be a very ungracious host. The Badgers held the visitors to 87 total yards while churning out 357 total yards of their own. Just as dominating was the scoreboard, 35-0, in favor of McCamey.

Stanton, only unbeaten club in District 5-2A, continued on its merry way with a 36-0 thrashing of undefeated and state ranked. Dennis Black had an Forsan. It could have been worse but the Buffs had two scores called back.

After holding a 7-0 lead at half, Stanton exploded for 29 second-half points to salt the game away. Louis Henry lead the way with two scores in the fourth

Odessa Ector celebrated Homecoming Friday night but Andrews didn't want any part of the festivities. As a result the Mustangs rode over Andrews' attack was lead by Keith Brooks and Van Pearcy, both over 100 yards rushing, and a stiff defense. Ector was unable to dent the Mustang defense for a first down in the second half. The Eagles could only generate one yard passing and none on the ground against the undefeated, 6-0, and state-ranked Mustangs.

Reagan County, 1-4, enjoyed a weekerld off.

Series time...time tor some trivia

Associated Press Writer It's that time again.

October Madness. The Fall Classic. Or, in more fundamental terms, the World Series.

Time for Brett, Leonard, Schmidt, Carlton and company to join the Brocks and Stargells and Garveys and Koufaxes and Reggies of the baseball world and shine like polished diamonds before a worldwide audience of worshipers. Time, too, for the likes of Ginger Beaumont, Nippy Jones, Hal Smith, Clyde McCullough and Harry Bright, players who would otherwise exist only as small entries in the Baseball Encyclopedia, to step up and play a major part in baseball lore. That's one of the beauties about the Series. Be you superstar or superscrub, there's no escaping that spot-

TAKE GINGER Beaumont. Ginger who?

Clarence "Ginger" Beaumont hit .311 over a 12-year major league career. But nobody remembers him for that. What's important is that the very first batter in the very first World Series game in history was none other than Ginger Beaumont.

It was Oct. 1, 1903, and Beaumont's Pittsburgh Pirates teammates were taking on the American League champion Boston Pilgrims (now the Red Sox). Beaumont strode up to the plate, faced Boston's immortal Cy make news in October. It could be Jones. As in Vernal "Nippy" Jones, a journeyman first baseman who learned the true value of a freshly-shined pair of shoes. The New York Yankees had taken two of first three games on 1957 from the Milwaukee Braves. Now, Jones led off the bottom of the 10th inning of the fourth game after the Yankees had taken a 5-4 lead and stood only three outs away from leading the Series, three games to one. A Tommy Byrne pitch made Jones skip rope. Nippy argued that the ball hit him, but home plate umpire Augie Donatelli said no ... until Jones produced the baseball, complete with a fresh smudge of black shoe polish. Donatelli waved Jones to first. Three batters later, Eddie Mathews smashed a home run for a 7-5 Milwaukee victory. Jones' shoe polish play was the turning point of the

THE 1960 classic was another seven-game set, won by the Pirates on Bill Mazeroski's Series-ending home run. But Hal Smith, who would not hit higher than .241 in his remaining four years in the majors, struck his own resounding blow just one inning before Mazeroski's.

Series. The Braves won it in seven

The Pirates were trailing the Yankees 7-4 in the eighth inning of the deciding game. Singles by Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente each brought home one run, then came Smith's golden moment: a monsterous threerun homer off Jim Coates that put the Pirates in front 9-7 and sent old Forbes Field into a frenzy. The Yankees tied the score in the ninth, setting up Mazeroski's homer. But had it not been for Hal Smith, the New Yorkers would have been popping the champagne in a winner's clubhouse.

Clyde McCullough was a winner of a different kind. A Chicago Cubs catcher of the early 1940s, McCullough missed the 1944 and 1945 seasons while in the service. He returned home in the fall of 1945, just as his teammates were wrapping up the National League pennant.

In a unique footnote to that final wartime season, McCullough sought, and received, permission to play in the World Series against Detroit. When he struck out as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning of the seventh game (won by the Tigers 9-3), McCullough became the first and only man to appear in a World Series game without having played in a single regularseason game.

INFIELDER Harry Bright found his way to five major league teams in an eight-year career, compiling a lifetime batting average of .255. He amassed a career-total 841 at bats, but one stands out far ahead of all the

Facing the Yankees in the first game of the 1963 classic, Los Angeles Dodgers fireballer Sandy Koufax needed just one more strikeout to break Carl Erskine's Series mark of 14. With two out in the ninth, up came Harry Bright to pinch hit for pitcher Steve Hamilton. Seconds later, Bright trudged back to the dugout, bat in hand. Koufax had his 15th strikeout (a record that would be broken by Bob Gibson) and a 5-2 victory, setting the tone for a four-game Dodger sweep.

Oklahoma's Stanley Wilson (36) causes Texas fans some anxious moments as he breaks this 36-yard touchdown run in annual Battle of the Red River at Dallas.

Vitamin pep pills suspect

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP) - High school football players on the unbeaten Lake Worth team say they have been using the same vitamin "energy pills" that were blamed for the collapse of six players on a Fort Lauderdale team last weekend.

Meanwhile, parents and officials at Dillard High School in Fort Lauderdale called for an investigation into the practice of giving pills to play-

Two Lake Worth players said the team started taking the vitamins about two weeks ago, although their coach, Bruce Trent, would neither confirm nor deny the report. "I'd rather not make a comment on that," said Trent, coach of the state's seventh-ranked Class 4A team. The school's athletic director said he would stop the practice if the pills were in use. A player who asked not to be identified told The Fort Lauderdale Sun-Sentinel, "We just started. We heard a lot of other teams are taking them. I think they help.'

Six players for Dillard High School suffered convulsions and collapsed, dizzy and vomiting, after a game against Coral Springs Friday night. Three were hospitalized overnight.

A multi-vitamin tablet called "Fosfree" had been administered at halftime by coaches.

Broward Schools Superintendent William McFatter contacted School Board members individually and promised to have a report ready for Tuesday's board meeting. Dillard school officials, the coaches and trainer met Monday to discuss the

"Sometimes I try to overpower the hitters - I try to pitch them too fine, and that's when I get into trouble, said Walk, who saw no playoff action. 'I'm nervous and excited about starting the World Series, but no more than games I've started before. I don't know how I'll feel tomorrow, though."

THE ROYALS arrived in Philadelphia from New York early Monday morning after taking a day off from travel and then awaiting the outcome of the Phillies-Astros game at Newark Airport. Porter said he had not seen the scouting reports on Philadelphia and didn't know too much about

"I'm not really a baseball fan. I like to play the game, but I don't know much about the National League,' Porter said. "I have to rely on the television and scouting reports." Frey did not want to watch Sunday night's NL finale at the airport, so he played cards. 'I played hearts with a bunch of cowboys - Jamie Quirk, Dave Chalk and the two Bretts (Ken and George)," the Royals manager said. 'I didn't want to root for either team. I'm too superstitious. I thought it might come back and bite me.'

Kansas City went through a flies, meanwhile, didn't get back into town until about 3 p.m. Monday, came straight to the ballpark and worked out for only about a half hour after Kansas City.

A sparse but boisterous group of fans gathered at the stadium to greet their Phillies, who are participating in their first World Series since losing in five games to Boston in

The Royals, born in 1969, are in their first-ever World Series.

"It's going to be a good one," said the Royals' AL batting champion, George Brett. "I can tell you that."

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) - University of New Mexico football Coach Joe Morrison says he has not decided yet on who will replace injured quarter-back Brad Wright in this week's Western Athletic Conference game with Hawaii. Wright suffered a broken collarbone in last Saturday's 31-26 loss to Colorado State. Junior college transfer Robin Gabriel played well after taking over for Wright, but Morrison said he expects both Gabriel and sophomore David Osborn to play against Gabriel, the son of former pro quarterback Roman Gabriel, transferred to New Mexico this fall after passing for 1,300 yards at College of the Desert Junior College in California last year.

Osborn is considered a better runner and saw considerable action last season after Wright was injured and forced to sit out much of the 1979 season. Wright is again expected to be out for the remainder of this year.

The loss to CSU dropped New Mexico out of the WAC lead. Morrison blamed the loss on several mistakes by the Lobos.

"We just made too many mistakes," he said. "We dropped the ball a couple of times and that hurt

Worried About How You'll Look With A Hearing Aid?

Chicago, Ill.-A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

True, all hearing problems are not alike . . . and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this free model now, and wear it in the privacy of your own home. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 52933, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

See the all-new GM Detroit Diesel 12V-92.

Shown for the first time at Stewart & Stevenson's booth 59 & 60.

GM Detroit Diesel's remarkable new 12V-92 delivers from 487 to 604 horsepower in the naturally aspirated model and from 600 to 675 horsepower in the turbocharged model.

Yet the basic engine weight is only 3500 pounds, making it one of the most portable prime movers available to the oil field drilling industry. The 12V-92 has the same rugged design features as other GM Detroit Diesels. Its performance characteristics exceed anything else in its class. It was designed for greater durability and maximum operating hours between overhauls. And it's backed up by Stewart & Stevenson's round-the-clock service.

Come by our booth at the Permian Basin Oil Show and look it over. You're going to be seeing a lot more of it the years ahead.

Sharpshooters rescue hostages, capture hijackers

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) - Army sharpshooters cut through the rear door of a hijacked jetliner in southeastern Turkey early today, stormed in shooting, rescued more than 100 hostages and captured five Turkish hijackers who smuggled pistols aboard in hollowed-out Korans, the semi-official Anatolia news agency reported.

The hijackers and some of the passengers were reported slightly injured in the assault, which began at 5: 25 a.m. and ended a minute later, about 11 hours after the quintet took over the Turkish Airlines

The hijackers, who posed as Iranian followers of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and his Islamic revolution, were flown to Ankara.

Anatolia said they included two journalists, an escaped convict who had been serving a 20-year sentence for left-wing terrorism and an engineering student. No information about the fifth man was given except his name.

The journalists were Yilmaz Yalciner of an Ankara economic weekly, reportedly a member of an Islamic fundamentalist organization, and Coskun Aral, an employee of a Paris photo-news agency, Anatolia said. It said the ex-convict was named Mhemet Ahlak and he was a member of the leftist Turkish People's Liberation Army.

The plane was on a flight from Munich, West Germany, to Ankara, the Turkish capital. Anatolia said the hijackers smuggled two pistols aboard in hollowed-out editions of the Koran, the Moslem holy book, and commandeered the aircraft shortly after it took off from Istanbul at 6:15 p.m. Monday on the last leg of the flight. Other sources said there were 148 persons aboard, all of them Turks.

'From now on the law of Islam prevails in this plane and therefore we want to go to Tehran or Jidda (in Saudi Arabia)," one of the hijackers told a woman passenger. But the pilot said he did not have fuel and landed at Dyarbakir, in southeastern Turkey, where Turkish army troops surrounded the plane. The troops included sharpshooters in the area for military maneuvers. The hijackers threatened to blow up the plane unless it was refueled by 9:30 p.m., but the government refused to comply and the threat was not carried out. Shortly after the deadline, however, 39 women, children and aged passengers were reported released.

Negotiations with the hijackers went on for several hours, but the airport was blacked out and preparations for an assault on the plane were made. The Turkish news agency said after an unsuccessful rescue attempt was made at 2 a.m., negotiations were broken off an hour later and the successful attack was made at 5:25.

Gen. Kenan Evren, who led the military coup on Sept. 12 and now heads the ruling National Security Council, was in the Diyarbakir area for the military maneuvers, but there was no immediate comment from him or the rest of the five-man council.

However, the quick resolution of the hijacking was in line with Evren's pledge to restore law and order and end the political terrorism which resulted in 2,000 deaths this year before the coup. Last week the new government hanged two convicted criminals, carrying out the death penalty for the first time in

Jenrette will stay in race

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP) — Despite the Abscam conviction for taking a $50,000 bribe that admittedly scars his candidacy, Rep. John Jenrette says he will stay in the race for re-elec-

"This office is too valuable to allow anyone to win by default," he said at a news conference Monday, when his lips trembled and his voice broke at times.

He has appealed his conviction and promised to resign from the seat, representing South Carolina's 6th District, if his appeal fails. Jenrette has served three terms in the

"The Democratic Party is stuck with a candidate with many scars and little time for healing," said the 44-year-old Democrat, referring to the time remaining before the Nov. 4 election in which he faces GOP candidate John Napier.

Meanwhile, Gov. Dick Riley said his aides tried to get Jenrette to withdraw and allow the state Democratic Party executive committee to name a candidate. Riley said of Jenrette's decision: "I think what he did was better than nothing."

"I am innocent of the crimes for which the government has convicted me," Jenrette said. "If there's any justice left, I will be exonerated." He was convicted in Washington on federal charges of taking a bribe from a fictitious Arab. The charge stemmed from the FBI's covert Abscam inquiry.

Jenrette left after making a five-minute statement. He did not answer reporters' questions.

Associations fight 'winfall' tax

CASPER, Wyo. - The Independent Petroleum Association of America, headquartered in Washington, D.C and 30 national, state and regional associations of oil and gas producers and royalty owners have filed a legal action challenging as unconstitutional the crude oil Windfall Profit Tax Act.

In addition, several individual producers and royalty owners who are directly subject to the tax joined the action as plaintiffs.

The Permian Basin Petroleum Association, headquartered in Midland, is one of the organizations joining in the suit as a plaintiff.

Arden Grover, president of the PBPA, stressed this morning that "the so-called windfall profits tax act ironically defeats the very purposes for which it was adopted by providing less money for domestic exploration and therefore making us more vulnerable to foreign oil sources.'

The suit was filed this morning in the Federal District Court for the District of Wyoming at Chey-

The suit was filed in that court, according to an IPAA spokesman, because producers and royalty owners in the Rocky Mountain states, including Wyoming, were among the first to call for legal action.

And, another action challenging the tax already is pending in Oklahoma which, along with Wyoming, is in the 10th Judicial Circuit, and there is a need to avoid filing actions in more than one circuit. The IPAA also said the suit was filed in Wyoming because the case load in the Wyoming District will permit consideration of the issues and arguements to be deliberate and yet expeditious, the IPAA said. According to the IPAA, the suit Crude Oil Windfall Profits Tax Act violates several fundamental principles of constitutional protection, and the tax constitutes a significant threat to national security and energy The spokesman also said the tax legitimizes the confiscation of a politically unpopular minority's property and rights by a majority, a dangerous precedent which, if allowed to stand, would constitute a threat to every minority that falls into public disfavor. Another reason for filing the suit, according to the IPAA, is that the tax strikes at the foundation of personal freedom, the ownership of private property.

In general, the IPAA said, the tax is bad energy policy, bad social policy and bad economic policy. The IPAA pointed out that three legal issues are the essence of the legal action:

-Article 1, Section 8, Clause I of the United States Constitution requires that excise taxes be levied uniformly. This has been held by the courts to require geographic unifirminity, that is, the thing taxed must be taxed in the same manner wherevere it occurs. The Crude Oil Windfall Profit Tax Act, in violation of that requirement, exempts from taxation certain crude oil production in Alaska.

-The promotion of "energy independence" and the reduction of the U.S.'s dependence on imported crude oil have been citied repeatedly as the fundamental purpose for adoption of the tax. However, every economic analysis of the tax, whether by the government or by the private sector, concludes that the tax will decrease domestic production and increase the demand for imported crude oil. The tax ironically defeats the very purposes for which it was adopted, and therefore fails to meet even the most minimal standard of due process as required by the fifth amendment to -The fifth amendment to the Constitution prohibits the taking of private property for public use without just compensation. This is one of the most fundemental constitutional protections afforded a minority which may at some time be politically unpopular from the tyranny of a majority. The tax constitutes a blatant confiscation of private property for which no compensation is offered, and therefore violates the fifth Legal counsel in the action include H. B. "Bud" Scoggins, general counsel of IPAA, with William H. Brown and Michael J. Sullivan of Brown, Drew, Apostolos, Massey and Sullivan of Casper as co-counsel.

Other Texas-based organizations joining as plaintiffs are the North Texas Oil and Gas Association, the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association, the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, and the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association.

Other major petroleum associations joining in the suit include the American Association of Petroleum Landmen, the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contrctors, and the National Stripper Well Association. State associations from California, Illinois, Indiana,

West Virgina, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, New York, New Mexico, Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvanian, Tennessee, and Virginaia also have joined in the suit as pipeline stretching from Canada to New York and New England could help reduce the high cost of home heating for energy-poor residents of the Northeast, Massachusetts energy officials say.

The pipeline, which requires approval from state, federal and Canadian agencies, would assure gas supplies and could help take the place of imported oil - a fuel the region now depends on for much of its energy said Larry Carpman, an aide to state Energy Secretary Joseph Fitzpa-

Fitzpatrick said the Canadian gas would be cheaper than imported oil or domestic gas from the Southwest. New York and New England consumers paid the highest natural gas prices in the nation last winter.

"One of the major effects of this is that our natural gas supplies will be more secure," Carpman said Monday. "It's Canadian gas. They are our (the Northeast's) closest neighbors."

Utilities planning the $200 millionpipeline hope to have it place by late 1981, said Carpman. The project would supply 185 million cubi Canadian gas daily.

The gas could amount to a saving of about 378 million gallons of oil annually in New England and New York, the energy officials said about 126 million gallons in New England, and about 252 million gallons in New York.

New England now uses 421 million barrels of oil a year, more than half of it in Massachusetts, said Fred Nemergut, the state's assistant energy secretary. Plans call for 14 Northeast utilities, nine of them in New England, to distribute the gas, with Boundry Gas as purchasing and importing company. Boundry is run by Northeast Gas Markets Inc. of Boston.

At a news briefing today, Gov. Edward J. King was to discuss the plan, under which Massachusetts would receive 29 percent of the gas and three utilities in the New York City area would receive the rest.

The project must be approved by Canada's National Energy Board, the U.S. Energy Regulatory Commisssion and several state agencies, Fitzpatrick said. The pipeline would run from Niagara Falls on the New York-Canadian border to Albany, N.Y., and sachusetts, he said.

counted for only 4 percent of the government's purchase of more than 340 million gallons of fuel for the federal vehicle fleet last year. "We are concerned that the federal government needs to ensure a continued market for gasohol," the House and Senate members of the National Alcohol Fuels Commission stated. A commission spokesman said the letter could not be circulated to the panel's public members before it was sent to Carter last week About 10,000 service stations across the nation now sell gasohol, which accounts for between 1 percent and 2 percent of all gasoline sales.

Despite that progress, the commission members, led by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Rep. Robert Roe, D-N.J., said the government should be making a greater effort to increase its own use of gasohol.

Although the Energy Security Act of 1980 requires the president to mandate use of gasohol in federal vehicles, the commission members said federal procurement laws still need to be clarified for that mandate to be implemented. "It is clear to us that the federal

Your horoscope By JEANE DIXON

Wednesday, Oct. 15, 1980 YOUR BIRTHDAY TO-

DAY: Actress Penny Marshall, who co-stars on TV's "Laverne and Shirley," was born on this day. In the year ahead, a special appreciation for the arts will affect various career, business decisions, and it could also influence the direction of romance. Love relationships should shimmer with extra brightness next April and May! Old friends will prove their loyalty time and time again, but someone new could try to exploit your success. Be cordial but distant.

Stock market gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices rose in fairly active trading today extending gains of the previous ses-

Analysts cited no specific news behind the rise. But hopes that interest rates may soon decline have been cited as one factor.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks which gained more than 9 points Monday, was up 6.31 to 966.21 as of midday.

Oil and high technology stocks were generally higher for the second consecutive session.

One of the most dramatic examples of bidding for high technolgy stocks came in the over-the-counter market where a new offering of one million shares of Genentech more than doubled from its initial 35 a share price. Genetech, a small company involved in genetic engineering, leaped 511/4 to 861/4 bid about midday.

On the New York Stock Exchange, gaining issues outnumbered losers about 2-to-1. Big Board volume came to 22.67 million shares by noon.

Among oil stocks, Getty Oil gained 1¼ to 94¼; Exxon rose ¾ to 77¼; Standard Oil California jumped 2¼ to 90. Occidental Petroleum which reported sharply lower third quarter earnings today, fell 1% to 321/4 as the most actively traded NYSE issue as

The NYSE composite index rose 0.38 to 76.66 On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained 1.36 to 354.67.

AFL-CIO backs Dallas bus drivers

DALLAS (AP) - Striking bus drivers have gained backing from the AFL-CIO in their 14-day-old walkout that has crippled Dallas' only public transit system.

Leaders of the Dallas Council, AFL-CIO, said Monday that their 35,-000 county members would be asked to distribute leaflets, contribute to an informational campaign and ask City Council members to reinstate fired employees and hear grievances.

The Dallas Transit System, meanwhile, operated under a new, scaleddown schedule for the first day Monday. DTS spokeswoman Claudia Good said 122 buses were on the streets, about one-fourth the number operating before the Oct. 1 walkout began.

She said 15 employees terminated after five days of absence in the walkout have been rehired after returning to work, but dismissal letters were sent to another 48 strikers, raising the total number fired to 504. There were 598 bus drivers when the walkout

THE NEWSPAPER BIBL!

...To remember me by'

For this is what the Lord Himself has said about His Table, and I have passed it on to you before: That on the night when Judas betrayed Him, the Lord Jesus took bread.

And when He had given thanks to God for it. He broke it and gave it to His disciples and said, "Take this and eat it. This is My body, which is given for you. Do this to remember

In the same way, He took the cup of wine after supper, saying, "This cup is the new agreement between God and you that has been established and set in motion by My blood. Do this in remembrance of Me whenever you drink it.

For every time you eat this bread and drink this cup you are re-telling the message of the Lord's death, that He has died for you. Do this until He comes again.

So if anyone eats this bread and drinks from this cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner, he is guilty of sin against the body and the blood of the Lord.

That is why a man should examine himself carefully before eating the bread and drinking from the cup.

For if he eats the bread and drinks from the cup unworthily, not thinking about the body of Christ and what it means, he is eating and drinking God's judgment upon himself; for he is trifling with the death of Christ.

That is why many of you are weak and sick, and some

But if you carefully examine yourselves before eating you will not need to be judged and punished.

Yet, when we are judged and punished by the Lord, it is so that we will not be condemned with the rest of the world.

So, dear brothers, when you gather for the Lord's Supper -the communion service-wait for each other;

If anyone is really hungry he should eat at home so that he won't bring punishment upon himself when you meet to-

I'll talk to you about the other matters after I arrive.

Five technicians scheduled to enter TMI reactor containment building

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP) - A team of five technicians was scheduled to enter the contaminated reactor containment building at Three Mile Island on Thursday, the plant's operator said.

The entry would be the third since one of the two reactors at the plant was crippled March 28, 1979, in the nation's worst commercial nuclear

It was initially set for last month but the plant operator, Metropolitan Edison Co., canceled the project after the state Public Utility Commission barred the use of customer payments for uninsured cleanup costs.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission subsequently ordered Met Ed to continue with cleanup operations necessary to insure public health and safety. The issue is pending in U.S. District Court in Harrisburg.

"We reviewed the PUC order and concluded that it was appropriate to go ahead with the entry," Met Ed spokesman John Fidler said Monday.

"The decision to go ahead was also influenced by public statements made by PUC officials who said they saw no reason why we couldn't proceed with the operation," Fidler added.

The first manned excursion into the containment was made on July 23, and the second on Aug. 15.

Inmates seize prison bus

HARTFORD, Ky. (AP) - Inmates overpowered and shot two guards as they seized control of their prison bus in western Kentucky, and two were at large today after the takeover ended in a fiery crash, state police said.

Three of the 13 prisoners were injured, one seriously, during the incident Monday, which began as a trip from Kentucky State Reformatory at La Grange to the state prison at Eddyville.

The guards, J.B. Owen, 61, who was shot in the face, and Sidney McDaniels, 30, who was shot in the stomach, were hospitalized in Police continued their search this morning for the two inmates who fled the bus during the uprising, said State Penitentiary Superintendent Dewey Sowders.

The bus left the reformatory with two guards accompanying the 13 inmates, and another guard, Freddie Richardville, 28, following in a van, he said.

With war you must be, but there really is no cure except time. and the threat of war all around us, and with starvation and disease the norm in many parts of the world, it sometimes seems that a person has to be crazy not to be disturbed by these events. Since I imagine you've seen at least a part of the problem, both as a physician with a private practice and as the head of a state health agency, I'd be interested in your observations. How serious a problem is mental Dear Pat: There's no doubt that mental illness is a significant part of the total health problem in the United States. Some indication of this is contained in a report by the President's Commission on Mental Health. The report noted that almost seven million people were treated by mental health specialists in 1975, and between one and two million required hospitalization for mental problems in the same year. The commission also estimated that at any one time, as many as one-fourth of the population of the United States may be suffering from mild to moderate depression, anxiety or similar emotion-

I'm not certain about the Catch-22 situation you suggest - or, as you put it, that you've got to be crazy not to be disturbed in today's world - but mental illness certainly does contribute to the suffering experienced by vast numbers of people in this

Dear Dr. Solomon: I am 17 years of age and plagued with acne. Although I wash my face three times a day, I can't get rid of those horrible blackheads. Why won't soap and water wash them away?

Can you suggest some things I can do (besides the use of medication) that would help alleviate the condition? I'd be willing to try anything. - Doris Dear Doris: In the first place, the dark tip of a blackhead is not dirt and therefore will not wash away. The discoloration that gives a blackhead its name is caused by a buildup of melanin, the dark pigment of the skin. All you will accomplish by rubbing your face is to irritate the condition. For the same reason, don't squeeze your blackheads since you may injure the skin and underlying tis-

'Be there. Excitment started last Thursday night in the Rebel gym when our mighty varsity volleyball girls took on Odessa's Bronchos. The girls got off to a good start in the first game, played hard, but lost, 15-12. In the third game, our girls came out on top by a score of 16-14. Congratulations, girls.

The JV had a tough battle and fell to the Broncos, but will come back strong next week. Last Thursday the Student Council gave a covered dish dinner in honor of the Rebel faculty. It was a big success and thanks go to the Origin, the Sweet Adelines, and Mr. Nutter and Mr. Walker. Everyone enjoyed themselves and are looking forward to it

Everybody's talkin' about Carter's new tactic, Anderson's old refrain

By The Associated Press

President Carter is talking economics, Ronald Reagan is talking conservatism and John Anderson is talking about how he can still win despite a further drop in his national opinion poll standings. Carter, who has toned down his attacks on Republican Reagan, is speaking today in Washington on his economic proposals, while Reagan is making western campaign stops to support conservative efforts to unseat liberal Democratic Sens. Frank Church of Idaho and George McGovern of South Dakota, the Democrats' presidential nominee in 1972.

Independent candidate Anderson, after gaining some celebrity support from former backers of Democrat Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, is campaigning in Chicago.

Both Carter and Reagan courted Jewish votes on Monday. Carter said in New York that he will never shift his support of Israel, and Reagan told a group in a suburban Los Angeles temple that recent signs of anti-Semitism, particularly in France, show it's time for the U.S. government to forcefully speak out.

A new Associated Press-NBC News poll finds, meanwhile, that Reagan is maintaining his lead over Carter, while Anderson's support is slipping.

Reagan was chosen by 43 percent of the likely voters, Carter by 35 percent and Anderson by 10 percent. One percent mentioned others and 11 percent of the 1,548 likely voters interviewed Wednesday through Friday were not Both Carter and Reagan have gained support since the previous AP-NBC News poll taken Sept. 22-24. At that time, Reagan stood at 42 percent, Carter at 33, and Anderson at 13 percent.

Reagan's added strength came in the suburbs, perhaps from former Anderson supporters. He now has the support of 47 percent of suburban residents, up from 42 percent. Carter was at 29 percent in both polls, while Anderson dipped from 17 to 11 per-

But Carter is doing better among blue-collar workers, a traditionally Democratic group that has been one of Reagan's main targets. Carter is now the choice of 43 percent of the blue-collar workers, while Reagan is backed by 37 percent. Last month, the AP-NBC News poll gave Carter 35 percent of the blue-collar vote to Reagan's 41 percent. The number of likely voters who say they have made up their minds how to vote has risen in the latest AP-NBC News poll. Sixty-eight percent said they had made up their minds whom to vote for Nov. 4. That's up from 61 percent in the previous poll. At a news conference in New York on Monday, Anderson said he expects that millions of voters who have not made up their minds will swing to him before Election Day, especially when his campaign begins running televi-sion ads in the two weeks before the Nov. 4 balloting.

At the news conference, Anderson picked up the support of such former Kennedy backers at historian Arthur Schlesinger Jr., actors Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Paul Newman and Jason Robards, writer Kurt Vonnegut, and singer James Taylor.

Anderson marched in New York's Columbus Day parade, as did Carter and George Bush, Reagan's vice presidential running mate.

Reagan campaigns for other candidates

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Ronald Reagan is trying to give a boost to Republican candidates challenging two Senate liberals - Frank Church and George McGovern — who have been targeted for defeat by 'New Right" groups.

After a news conference today in Los Angeles, Reagan heads for Idaho Falls, Idaho, to campaign for Rep. Steve Symms against Church, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

His schedule calls for Reagan to be in the state less than two hours. His next stop was in Sioux Falls, S.D., to stump for Rep. James Abdnor, who is trying to oust McGovern, the second-ranking Democrat on the Agriculture Committee.

Church and McGovern are among a handful of Senate Democrats singled out by conservative groups, such as the National Conservative Political Action Committee, whose members are helping the Republican candidates with money and advertis-

Both Senate races are believed to be too close to call, and Republicans hope Reagan's visit will help Symms and Abdnor. In the presidential contest, Reagan is believed to be leading in the two states, which together have eight of the 270 electoral votes he needs to win the White House

The Republican presidential candidate, campaigning for California's 45 electoral votes, told a Jewish group Monday that President Carter's statement that Reagan would separate Jews from Christians had "suggested beliefs on my part that I consider abhorrent.' Reagan said he hopes Carter's promise not to attack him personally signals "a change of heart and not just a change of tactics.' Sepaking in a Jewish temple, wearing a white yarmulke, Reagan said there is evidence in the world, and particularly France, of "the ugly signs of the virus tht brought us the Holocaust.

Anderson reveals cost of promises, proposals

CHICAGO (AP) - John B. Anderson said today he is the only one of the presidential candidates to provide estimates on how much his campaign proposals and promises would cost the American Releasing a detailed budget analysis of his campaign platform, the independent candidate said pro-posed budgets by President Carter and Republican Ronald Reagan "are constructed with mirrors...and knowingly obscure the hard choices we face.' However, Anderson's analysis of his own platform includes no estimates on how he might control inflation if he were president.

And although his proposals might balance the federal budget by fiscal year 1983, the analysis released today said the Anderson campaign makes

"no such pledge." In a speech prepared for delivery before the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, Anderson said every presidential candidate "now has a duty to say what his policies are going to cost and how he is going to pay for them.'

Among the specifics of a budget impact statement also released today were:

- A national defense budget of $158.9 billion for fiscal year 1981, going to $262.3 billion in 1985. This would involve real increases in defense spending of a little more than 3 percent a year above inflation, mainly to improve pay for the volunteer Army and upgrading of the country's conventional military

Carter trying out new campaign approach

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — In keeping with his resolve not to get "carried away" with personal attacks on his Republican opponent, President Carter is trying out a new campaign speech and says he's going to "bend over backwards to be fair" to Ronald

Aides say the new strategy talked about last week but put into effect on a campaign swing Monday is to focus on what Carter sees as the stark differences between himself and Reagan, while mentioning his opponent less and stopping short of the war-orpeace comparisons Carter drew on earlier campaign

Thus, when Pam Huggins of Clayton, Mo., asked him at an hour-long question and answer session here Monday night to speculate on where in the world Reagan might use military action should he be elected, Carter drew laughter and cheers when he told her, "I've got a very strict policy of being careful of what I say. And I'm going to bend over backwards to be accurate and fair.

"I don't believe our nation is likely to be brought into a war just because of a change in administra-tions," the president added. "However, there are some trends put forward by my opponent that concern me.' He went on to reiterate his contention that Reagan's stated desire to scrap the SALT II treaty and renegotiate an arms limitation agreement from a position of strength would break the pattern of U.S. arms control adhered to by every U.S. president since Harry Truman.
