Carter campaigns for Kennedy's support

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG

NEW YORK (AP) - President Carter, his path to renomination cleared in a convention floor battle, is playing ardent suitor to his vanquished rival, Edward M. Kennedy, in hopes of achieving a reconciliation that could energize his re-election campaign.

Carter and Kennedy aides met early today to discuss procedures for negotiations that White House press secretary Jody Powell said would be held today to try to resolve remaining platform issues.

But even while professing opti-tion, two top Carter aides reiterated that there were still serious differences between the two sides.

Hamilton Jordan, the president's campaign manager, said in an interview on NBC-TV's "Today" show he is confident that "with hard work in the next few days," the party will come out of the convention unified. But he said of Carter:

"Both he and Sen. Kennedy realize that some of the real differences between them cannot be lightly glossed

And Jack Watson, who succeeded Jordan as Carter's chief of staff, said the administ ation was still adamant about rejecting Kennedy-backed mi-

Today's convention session, starting at 11 a.m. EDT, was being devoted almost entirely to debating the platform.

Kennedy's long-shot hope to take the nomination from Carter ended Monday night when the convention supported a rule binding delegates to abide by the results of state primaries and conventions. "The effort on the nomination is over," Kennedy told a news confer-ence at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel shortly after that vote.

"I have called President Carter and congratulated him," said Kennedy. "My name will not be placed in nominority platform planks calling for a $12 billion job program and wage and price controls.

However, former United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young hinted in a CBS-TV interview that the Carter forces might be willing to go ahead with a compromise that generally supported a massive jobs program but without specifying Kennedy's $12 billion price tag.

Kennedy, meanwhile, made it clear in ending his presidential bid that he would continue fighting to put his mark on the platform and was going ahead with plans to address the Democratic National Convention tonight during the debate on the economic Powell said the telephone conversation was "a very positive and very productive conversation .... They agreed the task now is to get this party together and to deal with the threat that the new Republican leadership poses.'

Even before the telephone call, White House staff chief Jack Watson told reporters, "I will say to you unequivocally that the Carter-Mondale people at this convention want to unite the party. We want the senator's support. We need the senator's sup-

The key to getting Kennedy's support was the platform.

"I continue to care deeply about where this party stands," Kennedy said in his withdrawal statement. "And I hope the delegates will stand with me for a truly democratic plat-

"I will speak to the convention about the economic concerns that have been the heart of my campaign and about the commitments in the future of the Democratic Party. "I will speak again for the people I have seen and the cause I have carried across this country."

Under an agreement reached last week, Kennedy will lead his fight for changes in the economic planks of the platform in a convention debate.

Fifteen days are left in the summer vacation before that day of reckoning. School opens Aug. 27.

Students in kindergarten, first, second and third grades should be in their classrooms by 8: 40 a.m. and will be leaving their desks by 2:55 p.m. Kindergarten students enrolled in the half-day programs will start their classes at 8:40 and will be dismissed at 11:30 p.m. The afternoon program will start at 12: 15 p.m. and end at 2: 55 Fourth and fifth grade students will enter their schools at 8:40 a.m. and dismiss at 3:40 p.m. Sixth graders are expected to be in their seats at 8: 10 a.m. and will leave the campuses at 3:10 p.m. All three junior high schools and Midland Freshman school will start classes at 8:30 a.m. and end at 3:30 school begin at 9 a.m. and should end at 3:50 p.m. Both high schools will have their first period classes begin at 8: 10 a.m. with dismissal at 3 p.m. Students taking zero hour classes should be in their classrooms by 7:05 a.m. Although Midland College does not start fall classes until Sept.2, registration for those classes will be Aug. 27 and 28 in the Physcial Education Building.

Transportation for public school children will be provided. Training sessions for drivers began Monday and will continue until Aug. 21. Each driver will spend as much 20 classroom hours preparing for the Aug. 27 with breakfast prices set at 40 cents. Secondary students can purchase lunch in their school cafeterias for 80 cents without dessert.

Parents wishing to eat lunch with their youngsters can buy their meal, which includes the desert of the day, at the school cafeterias for $1.75.

Preparing for Aug. 27 isn't exactly a bed of roses for school administrators and teachers.

Presently, a series of meetings with administrators and teachers are being held at different schools during August to prepare teachers for the opening day ritual.

Elementary students and parents new to the campus can pre-register Aug. 18 and 19 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the school they will be attending in the fall.

If they can't pre-register that day, registration must be completed before the Aug. 27 opening date.

Director of Pupil Services, Payton Cook, defines a student new to campus as one who is beginning school as a first grader or in kindergarten; or the elementary student who is transferring from another Midland school or a private school after completing the first grade.

Also, students who have moved to Midland during the summer from another school district need to register in their area school. These students and those from a local private school

'Our great strength is that we (the party) have every conceivable political view. While the Democrats are more conservative today than they were a few years ago, Kerr said the party symbolized by the donkey - encompasses a wider spectrum of the population, and minorities have more of a say than in the Republican Party.

This attraction to a larger part of the population is what will get Jimmy Carter re-elected, Kerr contended, despite the criticism about the president's first term.

Houston man sentenced after guilty plea in police shoot-out

Reese Bernard Ray of Houston pleaded guilty Monday afternoon to the charge of attempted capital murder of a peace officer in the Feb. 2 shoot-out with city and county law enforcement officers. 142nd District Judge Perry D. Pickett sentenced Ray, 43, to 15 years imprisonment at the Texas Department of Corrections. And it is possible that Ray could be a witness for the state in the trials of Johnny Darwin Eads, 38, of Irving and Ray Edward Hines, 50, of Woodlands, who were allegedly with Ray during the February incident.

The hour-long session ended all rumors that Ray's attorney, Percy Foreman of Houston, would try to show that Midland Police Officer Ron Gray and Ector County Sheriff's Deputy Gary Clingman provoked the shoot-out which occurred inside Midland and in the county.

The incident started in the early morning hours when Gray stopped and approached a 1972 Oldsmobile on Oak Street with Ray and the two other men inside the car, Gray testified.

Ray, driver of the vehicle, rolled down the car's window and produced a blue-steel automatic weapon, Gray

The policeman testified that after seeing the produced weapon, he returned to his police car and one of the three men jumped out of the passenger's side of the car and opened fire on Gray.

The city police officer returned fire five times with his service pistol when the vehicle left the scene and Gray began pursuit of the vehicle.

The chase led city and county law enforcement officers into a trailer park where the three men changed cars and drove off in a yellow 1979 Continental.

Clingman, then Midland County Sheriff's deputy, testified that while he was in pursuit of the 1979 vehicle, he saw Ray open fire with a pistol at him. The Midland County deputy returned fire four times with a shot

One of Clingman's shots broke the car's rear window which ended the chase.

After the arrest, while Clingman was transporting Ray to Midland County Jail inside the courthouse's elevator, Ray asked Clingman, "Are you sure you saw me fire at you?"

Clingman replied, "Yes, I did." Ray — "Are you sure you don't want to change your mind?" Clingman, "No.

Ray —"Well, we'll see what Mr. Percy Foreman will say about that." However, Foreman, who is noted for taking difficult cases and winning them, said very little and asked no questions regarding the law officer's testimony of the incident.

Estes now at Big Spring facility

BIG SPRING, Texas (AP) - The minimum security federal camp at Big Spring received a new inmate last weekend - Billie Sol Estes.

Estes was granted a transfer from La Tuna federal prison near El Paso to the former Webb Air Force Base facility so he could be nearer his family, who live at Abilene, 110 miles to the east, officials said.

Estes arrived Saturday afternoon, a camp official said, with a busload of other inmates who have been assigned to "the proper institution for their level of incarceration."

John W. Allman, camp superintendent, said the convicted swindler will share a room with another inmate in the airmen's quarters at the former air base and will be assigned a job this week. "He will work an eight-hour day, five days a week," Allman said. The Estes family was on hand Sunday to visit him.

Roger Benefiel, La Tuna public information officer, said Estes "was no problem to us" as a minimum security prisoner. Benefiel speculated that was why Estes was allowed the trans-

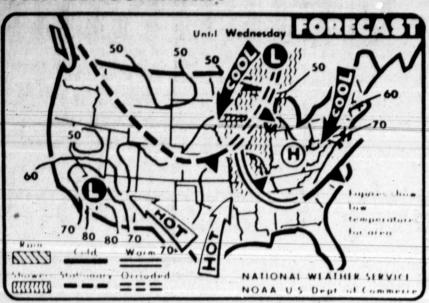

Estes was convicted in 1965 and sentenced to federal prison on a federal fraud charge involving mortgages he obtained on nonexistent fertilizer tanks. After six years of serving time in Kansas, Minnesota and La Tuna, he was paroled in 1971 to Abilene, where he lived with his family and ostensibly worked and farmed on his brother's ranch.

But he got in trouble again and was convicted in July 1979 in federal court in Dallas of mail fraud and conspiracy to conceal his assets to avoid income taxes.

Estes received a 10-year sentence, his previous probation was revoked upon the 1979 conviction and he was immediately imprisoned. He will be eligible for parole on Dec. 1541983.

Hot weather is expected in the forecast period, today until Wednesday morning, from the Southwest to Oklahoma. Cooler weather is forecast for the Great Lakes and New England. Other areas will be warm. Showers are expectd from Arkansas to the upper Great Lakes. (AP Laserphoto Map) today and which every American must face.

"It's destroying the security of people on fixed incomes and eroding the sense of confidence in institutions. And government on all levels - local, state and national - have been contributing to inflation.

The Republican Party is proposing a 10 percent income tax cut for three consecutive years as a way to get the country back on its feet financially. But Kerr condemned that idea and sided with Carter who doesn't want "an easy tax cut."

WHILE THE GOVERNMENT needs to slash spending, Kerr said the American citizenry also need to start conserving. And they already have started by cutting down on oil consumption and credit charges.

But some citizens still recall wistfully the large tax cut in California as a result of Proposition 13. This, claims Kerr, has caused more problems than it has solved. It has cut down on services, such as police protection, provided by the cities. Junior colleges - which once were rated tops in the country - no longer offer numerous community services. And students in public schools who want to play sports must pay a charge, according to Kerr. The attorney doesn't want to see the same results applied to the national level, afraid that basic services would be eliminated.

The 52 hostages in Iran could help or hinder Carter, Kerr said. If the hostages are released right before the election, it could be seen as Iran's manipulation of the presidential election and could hurt Carter. Although the president has been sharply criticized for his handling of the Iranian situation, Kerr supported Carter's actions. "We're dealing with an irrational group of people. The president has tried everything in his power to get release of the hos-

Releasing hostages, no matter where they are in the world, is difficult, in Kerr's opinion.

REPUBLICAN presidential nominee Ronald Reagan has charged the U.S. has fallen in its role as a powerful world leader. But Kerr said that physical force doesn't mean what it did to other countries 20 or 30 years

"I question who we're going to threaten today," he said. "With irrational peopel, no threat is good enough. With rational people, the nuclear threat is enough.

The Olympic boycott, he said, had more of an effect upon the Soviet Union than if the U.S. had taken military action.

Kerr would like to see an increase in the military budget and is in favor of re-instituting the draft sign-up for the country to be ready in case military action is needed.

Kennedy's proposal of providing 200,000 jobs to cut the unemployment rate will fail in the long run, Kerr

"I'm all for more jobs," he began. "It increases productivity and the country's economy. But private enterprise is the place to create jobs; not the federal government." Even before the vote was taken on the open convention, Kerr said he believed Kennedy would lose, but would turn around and support

"He believes Carter is better than Reagan," Kerr explained. And when it comes to the November election, "I doubt is you see a lot of Americans voting for Reagan.

New prime minister says hostage debate could begin in 10 days

By The Associated Press

Iran's new hardline prime minister, Mohammad Ali Rajaie, said he should be able to form his Cabinet in 10 days, removing the last obstacle to parliamentary debate on the American hostages.

But he indicated no softening in attitude toward the 52 Americans, who spent their 283rd day in captivity today, saying his government would give unbending loyalty to Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini Rajaie told reporters after receiving the approval Monday from the Parliament, or Majlis, that according to the constitution he has 10 days to form and introduce his Cabinet and that this period would be sufficient. The Majlis, which meets again Saturday, must approve the Cabinet just as it did Rajaie, and little opposition is expected. 'In forming the Cabinet, I would seek assistance and cooperation from all revolutionary foundations and rely on these institutions," the official Pars news agency quoted Rajaie as

He said so far he has not chosen any Cabinet member, but that the criteria for such selection would be those stressed by Khomeini, Iran's revolutionary leader and Shiite Moslem patriarch who has said the hostage debate cannot begin until a government is installed

'The only condition I add is that a person who is appointed should accept the religious leadership of the Imam," Rajaie said. "In the private session of the Majlis this morning, I talked briefly about my programs and policies and said that I follow the Imam and this would mark one of the characteristics of my government."

He said President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr — pressured into nominating Rajaie by the Moslem fundamentalists who dominate the Majlis -"has no opinion on the selection of the Cabinet ministers and has given me freedom of action in this respect.' But Rajaie insisted, "I belong to the masses and am brother with the president and together we will serve the nation."

Bani-Sadr last month was forced to withdraw his first nominee for prime . minister because of objections from the fundamentalist Islamic Republic Party which dominates the Parliament. The IRP then appointed a select committee which came up with Rajaie's name, which Bani-Sadr reluctantly accepted.

One committee member, Mohammad Yazdi, told the Majlis Monday that Bani-Sadr strongly objected to Rajaie and that he made two points about the nominee before accepting him.

"One is that if Mr. Rajaie accepts a decision, he will in practice implement his own thoughts," Yazdi quoted Bani-Sadr as saying. "Of course, I am not trying to say that he is self-willed, but he does believe in his own ideas. The second point is that Rajaie's information about Iran's affairs is not two high schools are invited to attend an orientation session at 7 p.m. Aug.

SEVERAL NEW programs will also be initiated when school opens Aug. The Bunche Early Childhood Center in the old Bunche Elementary School at 702 S. Jackson St. is one such program. The center will house Head Start classes, classes for migrant 4-year-olds and kindergarten classes from Travis and South elementary Emphasis in the center's programs will stress physical education, verbal, social, emotional and conceptual development. Those children who are eligible for entrance to the center must meet criteria as established by the Head Start, 4-year-old migrant education and kindergarten programs. Also, the district will be opening two on-campus suspension centers at the two senior high schools. This fall is the first time the district will be operating the centers with most of the funds coming from a Texas Criminal Justice Division

The two centers will allow "problem students" to continue their education without disrupting regular classes. Each center will have 20 individual study carrels. A director and a truant officer will staff each center. Besides new programs, students returning to Midland High School should expect to see repair and renovation construction continuing. This renovation, as well as repairs to other schools, are part of the $3 million repair and renovation bond passed by Midlanders April 5.

Most of the repairs were devoted to re-roofing elementary schools among other projects. However, the largest portion of the bond issue went to renovate Midland High School.

St. Ann's school and Midland Christian school are the only two private schools that will open Aug. 27.

Hillander, Oaklawn Baptist and Trinity will officially open their doors to their students Sept. 2.

Israel urges Egypt to resume autonomy talks

Israel called on Egypt to resume stalemated Palestinian autonomy talks because of "the urgent need of solving the problems." Egypt said it was preparing a formal reply but claimed the Jewish state was creating "almost impossible" conditions. Osama el Baz, Egypt's undersecretary for foreign affairs, spelled out Egypt's terms for renewing the talks, urging Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin to halt moves aimed at further unification of Jerusalem and to declare a moratorium on the creation or expansion of Jewish settlements on the occupied West Bank of the Jordan

These would be considered "corrective acts" conducive to reopening the U.S.-mediated autonomy talks, El Baz told a news conference Monday. He spoke only hours after Israel released the text of a letter from Begin to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat urging resumption of the autonomy talks. Sadat suspended the slow-moving negotiations on home rule for the 1.2 million Palestinians living under Israeli rule after the Israeli Knesset, or Parliament, adopted a law declaring Jerusalem "in its entirety is the capital of Israel.'

River and the Gaza

Egypt sees that law as ruling out proposed future negotiations on the status of predominantly Arab East Jerusalem. Israel captured the Arab sector from Jordan in the 1967 Mideast war and has vowed it will never return the area to Arab

"I have never misled you, nor anyone else," Begin said, referring to Jerusalem in his letter to Sadat. "Time and again I repeated that Jerusalem, in its entirety, is the capital of Israel, a city reunited and indivisible for all generations." Begin also took a hard

Proposed text is target of hearing

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Some textbook critics apparently take humor columnist Art Buchwald seriously.

A proposed sociology text that includes a Buchwald column on hospitals was the target Monday of the Texas Medical Association, a doctor and a hospital official.

Written objections to "Sociology: People in Groups" were made available on the first day of a week-long hearing on $29.7 million worth of proposed public school textbooks.

Protests have been filed against 30 of 33 national publishers who submitted materials for adoption, including Science Research Associates, Inc., publisher of the sociology book

Buchwald's column said to cut down on surgery and improve hospital cooking, surgeons should be taught how to cook so they could make hospital cuisine the "best in the

By doing this, Buchwald said, patients would "extend their stay in their rooms as long as their Blue Cross would let them.'

"Empty beds are no more the problem of hospital prices than wet streets cause rain," said John Gravas, president of the Dallas-Fort Worth Hospital Council. "To keep hospital beds full will not decrease prices and is not the practice of hospitals."

R.F. Beston, vice president of Science Research Associates, responded that Buchwald's column should not be taken "literally or seriously." He said students had ample clues to realize "The entire book is a biased diatribe ignoring history and current reality, discrediting almost every aspect of American heritage and traditional values we have as a people," said Dr. Reginald McDaniel of Grand Prairie.

One passage in the book states: "Access to adequate health care, as well as to education and legal counsel, often remains the right of only the prestigious and powerful groups.'

McDaniel said the "author is ignorant to the fact that the poor classes and the wealthy combined have the best access of all the populations in the world to receiving health care. They wealthy can pay any price - the poor can get if free ...

not controlled by the McDaniel said the book contains "dismal pessimistic bleeding for the oppressed poor" and pleads for "their lack of opportunity in this country." "I am particularly incensed by it for I am the son of a man who never made over $1,100 in one year," said McDaniel. He said he worked his way through high school, college and med-

Beston said the author "is simply making the observation that expected class behaviors tend to operate against change in social position. In no way is it the intention of the writers to suggest that such changes are not possible in the United States."

The proposed textbooks include three elementary subjects and eight at the high school level.

What if someday a dangerous new life form is created in a scientific laboratory? What if, by way of an error, the wrong material is cloned and somehow escapes the laboratory?

Such is the kind of stuff of which horror movies are produced, right? Perhaps so, but could it also be a future news story if the proper precautions are not taken at this time?

On the one hand we recognize the fact that scientists must be given a maximum amount of freedom for research. After all, it is through such research that most of the modern-day medical breakthroughs have occurred. We do

Castro's praise won't get Carter votes

NEW YORK - Poor Jimmy Carter. With friends like his, he hardly needs enemies. Now secret State Department documents and reliable intelligence sources reveal that the latest volunteer to board the Carter bandwagon is none other than Cuban President Fidel Castro, who has endorsed Carter for re-election.

So far, to the intense relief of Carter's campaign staff, the Marxist dictator has refrained from a strong public endorsement. The closest he has come was a blast at the Republican platform.

But in private conversations with American and Nicaraguan officials last month, Castro expressed support for Carter that was as positive as it was unsolicited. He indicated that he'll do nothing that would put Carter on the spot before the November elec-

One conversation was between Castro and Carter's United Nations ambassador, Donald McHenry, at an informal reception July 18 in a former Managua country club. Delegations from 30 nations had arrived in the Nicaraguan capital for ceremonies the next day marking the first anniversary of the successful Sandinista revolution.

One of those present at the reception said the 45-minute Castro-McHenry conversation was not planned - or at least appeared not to be. "People were mingling, and Castro and McHenry were at different sides of the room before they found themselves together," the source CHEMICAL CASUALTY: Chris Johnson joined the Army on graduation from high school in Rapid City, S.D., and was shipped out to Vietnam to fight his country's enemy. Today one Bronze Star, one Purple Heart and 11 years later - he is fighting his country for justice. He is pushing the government for health-care aid for Agent Orange victims.

"I took shrapnel in the arm and hip and lost a leg," Johnson said. "I just figured that was the price I had to pay. I used to think I was lucky.'

What changed his mind was the effects he is convinced he suffered from exposure to Agent Orange, the Dow Chemical defoliant used in Vietnam. Years after his return, he showed the classic symptoms of Agent Orange poisoning: weight loss, blurred vision, dizziness and severe skin eruptions.

The real horror came when Johnson's son was born with 26 different deformities. "He had club feet, a hole in his heart, a flat top of his head, fingers overlapping, his intestines hanging out of his body," Johnson said, adding: "Thankfully, he didn't

BORN-AGAIN BREZHNEV? According to Karl Marx, religion is the opium of the people. But the pragmatic atheists in the Kremlin don't boggle at the use of religion to serve their purposes when all else fails. According to intelligence sources, the Soviet bosses are believed to have employed an itinerant Syrian faith healer to work whatever magic he can on aging, ailing Party Secretary Leonid Brezhnev.

UNDER THE DOME: Rep. Elliott Levitas, D-Ga., has made a personal crusade out of the Environmental Protection Agency's "phantom cafeteria." This is the facility that was promised but never built for EPA's 4,000 employees in Southwest Washington nearly 10 years ago. But the congressman faces a formidable bureaucratic obstacle: The space earmarked for the pollution fighters' cafeteria has somehow been occupied by the Census Bureau.

- Terrible-tempered Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., has reportedly been using strongarm tactics on several colleagues in hopes of deflating legislation that would require airbags in automobiles. He has let it be known that he won't appoint any subcommittee chairman who favors airbags after he becomes Commerce Committee chairman next year.

So, too, with government. It's too late after you have turned over the armed forces and federal police power to an individual to say, "Heck, wish I hadn't done that." So far we have been lucky although our poor old Constitution has been battered and ment power to a pretty irresponsible if not evil lot and that's not smart. In our system, to keep the analogy going, politicians aim the gun of government and the bureaucrats pull the trigger. Lately, they've been shooting us in the foot with it. The professional politician is the wrong guy to hand over government power to because he can't resist the temptation to use it for his own benefit. He is a man infatuated with the next election. He has his eye so firmly fixed on winning the next election that too often he can't see the country or the constitution.

The professional politician has a tendency to tell the voter in front of him what he wants to hear, to indulge in eyewash legislation, to go to the bathroom on tough issues, to seek scapegoats, and to tell whoppers. He quickly joins a new party called Them which excudes us.

son with a business or profession who doesn't care if you re-elect him or her or not is more likely to tell you the truth and to stand on principle than a person whose life's ambition is dependent on winning 51 percent of the next

Because the professional politician is a careless legislator, the professional bureaucrats multiply. The bureaucrat seeks an ever-expanding caseload for that is the stairway to promotion and perks. That's why when you set up a bureaucracy to solve a problem, the problem gets worse, not better. Nobody in his right mind paid $40,000 to solve a problem is going to solve it. Instead, he is going to pick at it, worry it, fester it, expand it, and prolong it.

WASHINGTON - Despite President Carter's self-defense in the Billy Carter scandal that freeing the hostages was an "absolute, total obsession," his administration rejected help offered by maverick Republican Rep. George Hansen of Idaho who was in Tehran and saw the hostages shortly after their seizure Nov. 4.

On Nov. 22, Hansen telephoned two high Carter officials: White House aide Frank Moore and Assistant Secretary of State Harold Saunders. He explained his success in having talks with then-Foreign Minister Bani-Sadr (now president) and establishing contact with both Ayatollah Khomeini and the revolutionary council. He asked if the administration felt he could be "helpful" in any way.

Not for 24 hours was there any answer. When it came, Hansen was simply informed by Saunders: We won't give up the shah; we want the hostages back, period. In light of that. President Carter's explanation Monday of using brother Billy in that long-shot intercession with the Libyan government is harder to understand. The president's "obsession" seemed to be considerably less than "total," considering the brush-off for Han-come flames.

A lobbying campaign for former Treasury Secretary George Shultz to be secretary of state in a Reagan administration is being conducted by former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, a formidable political figure in high Republican circles. Laird, now a Reader's Digest senior editor, has never been close to the Reagan camp. Nevertheless, he retains influence among congressional Republicans, where as a Wisconsincongressman, he was once the dominant power broker. He also became a close friend of West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt while serving as Richard Nixon's defense secretary.

Laird's support for Shultz is closely linked to his worry about the declining U.S.-West German alliance and his conviction that security of the West depends on re-establishing the Western alliance. Although Laird would find the widely-mentioned Gen. Alexander Haig suitable as secretary of state, he is aggressively pushing Shultz for the job.

Stock market rallies

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market, paced by data processing and computer stocks, extended its rally for the fourth consecutive session Monday in moderate

In doing so, the market overcame a weak start. Most of the day's gain came in the final few hours of trading.

The Commerce Department late in the session reported that retail sales rose 2 percent last month from the level in June. That news, while expected, tended to reinforce a market perception that the worst of the recession may be over.

Analysts have pointed to that optimistic view as a major force in the market's recent rally.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks which showed little change through the early hours of trading began to climb during the afternoon and closed with a 9.39 point gain at 964.08. That was the average's highest close since March 17, 1977.

Other averages topped records set only last Friday. The New York Stock Exchange's composite of all listed stocks rose .64 to

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index reached a record 322.25, up 2.84 from Friday's previous high mark.

Bond prices fell sharply Monday and that may have promoted further stock trading. A shift of funds from interest bearing investments to stocks has helped pushed the market forward, analysts said.

Trading volume, however, slowed from its recent heavy pace. Big Board volume came to 44.69 million shares Monday down from 58.86 million in the previous session. Gainers outnumbered losers by nearly a 9-to-5 margin on the NYSE.

Data processing and computer stocks were among the best performers.

International Business Machines gained 11/2 to 66% and National Semiconductor rose 2% to 37% in active NYSE trading. Among less actively traded issues, Texas Instruments jumped 5½ to 120¾; Motorola gained 1% to 56% and Xerox added 1% to 61%.

nounced a new small-to-medium sized computer system Monday, gained 3% to 701/2. Warner Lambert gained 1 to 20% as the most actively traded issue as of the 4 p.m. close of the NYSE.

Standard & Poor's 400 industrial index gained 1.47 to 141.73. The S&P 500-stock composite rose 1.17 to 124.78.

In over-the-counter trading, the NASDAQ composite index gained 1.23 to 177.11.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON MS cause unknown

Dear Dr. Solomon: Although my mother has mul-tipe sclerosis, she has never been severely incapacitated. I would like to know what causes the disease, nd what the prospects are for a cure. — Donna

Dear Donna: Multiple sclerosis is a neurological disease in which a substance called myeline, which insulates the nerve fibers, disintegrates. Scar tissue, which forms in its place, distorts or blocks the nerve impulses that affect walking, talking and other body

Most often the disease is progressive although, as in your mother's case, symptoms may be mild. The patient usually expereinces periods of exacerbation (worsening of the disease) alternating with periods of remission (stability or even improvement) that may last for months or even years. However, each time the disease worsens, the patients may suffer increased disability. Although research is continuing, there currently is no method of preventing or arresting the disease.

MS affects women more often than men, usually striking between the ages of 20 and 40. For some reason, it is much more prevalent in Northern than Southern states.

Since there is no cure for the disease, treatment aims at controlling the symptoms. Braces may be used to help stabilize limbs, and physical therapy may help maximize the patient's ability to use his or her remaining capabilities. Excessive fatigue and amotional or absolute largest should be available to emotional or physical stress should be avoided to the extent possible.

Dear Dr. Solomon: What causes bunions and what are their significance? - Mae

Dear Mae: Bunions have a number of causes, ranging from the shape and bone structure of the foot to joint disease, such as rheumatoid arthritis. The most common cause is wearing shoes with pointed toes, especially shoes that are short and have high heels. This combination causes a great deal of pressure to be exerted on the joint were the big toe

Long-term pressure of this kind can lead to a partial dislocation of the toe joint and a build-up of the surrounding tissue and bone. The area becomes swollen, red and tender, and eventually a bunion is formed. Although bunions may make it difficult to fit shoes properly, they usually cause no more than cosmetic problems.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Since when has marijuana been considered useful for medicinal purposes? I had thought this was a recent development, but now have been told its use goes back a hundred years. Is

The trial will involve 25 "representative" claims and the outcome will establish the technical basis for

Better view of reactor sought in second entry

HARRISBURG (AP) - Technicians at the Three Mile Island nuclear plant hope to get a better view of the outside of a damaged reactor on Friday during a second foray into the reactor's containment

A four-man team will spend about 40 minutes inside the damp and dark building to gather radiation data and other information, the plant operators said in a statement Monday. From their vantage point, one floor above the level where two engineers entered July 23, team members will be able to see the top of the reactor vessel and the control rod mechanisms.

The only other view of the area since the March 1979 accident which crippled the plant was through a remote controlled videotape camera. There was no evidence of damage when that view was taken in

The team will also retrieve some items, including pieces of broken glass. Plant officials said last week that glass absorbs radiation and the fragments will provide clues as to how much radiation was released in the building during the accident, the worst in U.S. commercial nuclear history.

Members of the team include William H. Behrle III and Michael L. Benson, the two engineers who made the initial reconnaissance last month. They will be joined by Martin Cooper, shift foreman for the plant, and Sam Griffith, a health physicist employed by Nuclear Support Services Inc.

WASHINGTON (AP) - As part of a study of U.S. nuclear capabilities, President Carter has ordered new methods of protecting top government and military officials should a nuclear war begin.

Defense Department sources said Monday that the goal of the changes are to ensure that top leaders are protected as much as possible from a Soviet at-

The sources, who declined to be identified, said the new procedures include another look at plans to move top leaders out of Washington in case of attack and more secure communications facilities.

The "faithful delegate rule" or the "captive convention rule," depending on your bent, was adopted by the convention Monday night under the tight rein of Carter floor leaders.

The roll-call vote followed strict partisan lines with Carter's delegates falling in solidly behind him in support of one of the most acrimonious splits in recent Democratic Party history and could carry over into the OAK SMOKED tial nominee, Ronald BARBECUE Reagan.

Delegates among last to know

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

NEW YORK (AP) - While the rest of the nation learned from Edward M. Kennedy's own lips that he was out of the presidential race, the delegates at the Democratic National Convention sat blissfully ignorant, half listening to yet another speech.

Only an hour earlier, the delegates, alternates and guests who filled Madison Square Garden to the cheap seats had expended all their fervor on the rules voting that effectively sealed off the senator

At 10 o'clock, when Kennedy marched into a room at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to announce he was out and it was over, many delegates who had been in their seats for six hours had wandered off.

The news took a surprisingly long time to dribble across the floor and even then the hour and the evening's exhausting fight had taken their toll. There was no crying by the Kennedy supporters, no jubilation from the Carterites.

And another hour went by before a speaker, Arizona Rep. Morris Udall, announced it from the podium.

When Udall finally got around to delivering the keynote address, he started by congratulating Kennedy on fighting the good fight and by joshing Ronald Reagan, the Republican nominee.

"You remember Gov. Reagan telling the Young Americans for Freedom that he'll carry every state — all 13," Udall said. "And if we have a nuclear attack, he'll ask Michael Landon to pull the wagons in a circle." Landon stars in the TV show "Little House on the Prairie," a turn-of-the-century dramatic series that is Reagan's favorite.

Udall also talked about "Reagan's newest movie contract - with 18th Century-Fox."

While the roll of the states was being called in the faithful-delegate rule voting, an optimist made his way through the Arizona delegation passing out large "Udall '80" signs, apparently in the vain hope that Arizona Rep. Morris Udalld benefit from a Carter-Kennedy standoff.

When Kennedy withdrew, one delegate quietly crossed out the zero and with a pen changed it to a more realistic "84."

Guess who is the only man in America to address both the Democratic and Republican national conventions this year.

Clue: He is a Democrat. Clue No. 2: He is from Detroit. That's right, Coleman Young, the mayor.

Mayor Ed Koch, greeting the convention, recalled his own days serving in a Congress that was sometimes indifferent to the plight of the cities. He said every member of Congress should look at the problems and make a contribution to solving them.

Kennedy expected to support Carter

By PEGGY ANDERSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — The "open" convention battle behind them at last, Democrats at the party's national convention say they believe even Sen. Edward M. Kennedy will unite behind President Carter for the fall war against Republican Ronald Reagan.

Kennedy has not said he will support the president but after he lost the rules fight by a decisive margin of more than 500 votes, he called to congratulate Carter.

The Massachusetts senator then announced his decision to withdraw from the race. Work began immediately to mend fences between the two camps, said Carter campaign manager Robert Strauss.

Kennedy's withdrawal was "a magnanimous gesture on his part," said Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona, a Kennedy supporter named by Carter to keynote the convention. He called the move a "giant step toward the kind of unity I think we need to win."

Vice President Walter F. Mondale said he believes Kennedy will become one of Carter's strongest sup-

Convention focus turns to platform

By OWEN ULLMANN

NEW YORK (AP) - They say Democrats love a good convention fight.

Now that the battle for the presidential nomination is over, the delegates to the party's national gathering - many of them enthusiastic members of one special interest group or another - can squabble to their hearts' content over the party's 1980 plat-

The next day-and-a-half promise to be filled with passionate platform debate — and to provide the last bits of likely suspense in Madison Square Garden.

There will be the long-anticipated showdown between the forces of President Carter and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy over economic policy. Women's groups will be pushing a strong plank in support of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment. Pro- and anti-abortion forces will tangle over two abortion planks. Delegates will try to repudiate Carter's support for deployment of the MX missile. And that's

With so many issues in dispute, the Democrats found they had to set aside part of Wednesday as well as today and tonight to squeeze in all the debate. By contrast, delegates at last month's Republican convention needed only one evening to adopt their platform. They didn't have a single floor

For Kennedy, his presidential campaign is over, but his fight to reshape the platform is not. So, he still planned to address the convention tonight to rally support behind an economic program that includes wage-price controls to fight inflation, a $12 billion jobs program to fight unemployment and an absolute pledge to oppose any government action that causes a significant rise in joblessness.

I continue to care deeply about where this party stands, and I hope the delegates will stand with me for a truly Democratic platform," Kennedy said as he conceded a race he had initiated out of opposition to Carter's anti-inflation and other economic poli-

Carter plans to rebut the Massachusetts senator by sending several top administration officials to the convention podium to defend White House economic

"If every roll call takes this long, no telling when we'll get home," the secretary finally said.

Every speaker, it seems, tries to outdo the others in contrasting the Democratic convention with the one held in July by, as one speaker put it, "Our wealthy brothers who met in Detroit."

The theme is that half the delegates are women and that blacks are well represented too.

California assemblyman Willie Brown may have put it best: "We have reformed the hell out of our party," he said.

IRION EXPLORER

Tuthill & Barber of Amarillo spotted No. 1 Winterbotham as a 7,500-foot wildcat in Irion County, 8.5 miles southeast of Mertzon.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 3. GC&SF survey.

Drillsite is 11/4 miles northwest of the Las Perlas (Canyon sand) field and 1% miles east of the Crash (Canyon and San Angelo) field.

The Las Perlas pool gets its production from average depth of 6,397 feet, while the Crash (Canyon) pool produces at 6,274 feet.

TOM GREEN EXPLORER

NRM Petroleum Corp. of Midland will drill its No. 1 Barrows "A" as a 6,250-foot wildcat two miles northeast of Knickerbocker in Tom Green Coun-

The prospector is 4,058 feet southwest of NRM No. 1-2 Barrows, a one-mile southeast extension to the XQZ (Palo Pinto) field.

CROCKETT WELLS

J. Cleo Thompson of Dallas No. 1-22 University has been completed as the third well in the University 31 (Strawn detrital) field of Crockett County, 11½ miles west of Ozona. It completed for a calculated absolute open flow potential of 2,700,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 8,290 to 8,436 feet after a 10,000-gallon acid treatment. The well is 134 miles northwest and

1% miles southwest of other Strawn detrital production. The site is 1,320 feet from north and east lines of section 22, block 31, University Lands survey.

Last week, J. Cleo Thompson completed No. 1-35 University as the second well in the University 31 (Strawn detrital) field.

It completed for a calculated absolute open flow potential of 2,800,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 8,289 to 8,325 feet. The gas-liquid ratio was 54,080-1, and gravity of the fluid is 61.2 degrees. Completion came after a 500-gallon acid treatment and a 10,000-gallon fracture job.

The well is two 1,501 feet from north and 1,474 feet from west lines of section 35, block 31, University Lands survey and 10 miles west of Ozona.

The Weger, Southwest (Grayburg-San Andres) field of Crockett County gained its fifth producer with comple tion of W. H. Hudson of Dallas No. 1-13 University Lands, 13 miles south of Big Lake.

On 24-hour potential test it pumped 12.24 barrels of 35.2-gravity oil and no water, through perforations from 2,-258 to 2,475 feet after 1,250 gallons of acid and 10,000 gallons of fracture solution.

Location is 467 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 13, block 50, University Lands survey and done location east of other Grayburg-San Andres production.

Guard awaits results

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) - Coast Guard officials were waiting today for test results to tell them if a second ship could be allowed through the Mississippi River-Gulf Outlet, closed since a deadly chemical spill July

The tests were expected to show how much pentachlorophenol, or PCP, was stirred up by the propeller of a Liberian cargo ship that crept through the channel Sunday. The freighter Orkney was the first deep-draft vessel allowed through the shipping channel since 121/2 tons of the chemical fell into the channel three weeks ago. If the tests show acceptable levels of PCP, a second ship will be allowed through the channel, said Coast Guard Lt. Jim McDowell. More tests will be taken after that, he said.

The Orkney, arrived at New Orleans about 9:30 p.m. Sunday, nine hours after it entered the 40-mile shortcut linking industrial eastern New Orleans with the Gulf of Mexico, said Lt. Wayne Raabe.

The trip took about three hours longer than normal, he estimated. The PCP, used as a wood preservative and to kill bacteria, weeds and fungus, was lost when the West German container vessel Testbank and the Panamanian ore carrier Sea Daniel collided.

Since the accident, all shipping, fishing, and recreation has been vaccumed the bottom of the canal in an effort to pick up the PCP. The Orkney's passage was timed to have it cross the spill site when the tide would be going out, pushing any PCP stirred by the vessel out to the
