Carter offers Iran incentives for hostages

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter is offering Iran billions of dollars' worth of incentives for the release of the American hostages, an issue the Iranian parliament reportedly is moving closer to resolving.

With the presidential election and the first anniversary of the tak- DAY 353 ing of the 52 Americans both two weeks away today, Carter made this offer Monday while campaigning in Youngstown, Ohio:

m"If Iran should release the hostages, then I would unfreeze their assets, which are several billions of dollars...I would drop the embargo on trade with Iran and work toward a resumption of normal commerce with Iran in the future.'

The president said it is to the advantage of the United States "to have a strong Iran. It's to our advantage to have a united Iran."

Even before Carter spoke, the speaker of the 270-seat Iranian parliament, Ayatollah Hashemi Rafsanjani, told The Associated Press in a telephone interview that a decision on the conditions for release of the hostages would be made "in the next two or three days."

would be the same as those listed by the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini last month. Those include return of the late shah's wealth, cancellation of U.S. financial claims against Iran, release of Iranian funds in the United States and guarantees of non-interference in Iranian affairs.
Only a month ago Rafsanjani in-earlier demand - that the United States apologize to Iran. But he made no mention of that demand Monday.

Carter last month criticized his Republican opponent, Ronald Reagan, for saying publicly that he would accept Iran's demands that the frozen assets be freed, that financial claims against Iran should be withdrawn and that the United States should pledge not to interfere in Iran's internal affairs. He said at the time that Reagan shouldn't negotiate through the news media.

Reagan, campaigning in Louisville, Ky., made passing reference to the hostage situation Monday, saying only that, "I don't understand why 52 A/for almost a year now."

Carter's conciliatory remarks Monday were echoed by public statements by Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie. Both expressed concern over Iran's situation in its war with neighboring Iraq.

"We are opposed to the dismember-ment of Iran," Muskie said in Chica-go. "We believe that the cohesion of Iran is in the interest of the stability of the region as a whole. The integrity of Iran is threatened by the Iraqi invasion.

He did note that Iraq has said it has no claims to Iranian territory.

Muskie also expressed concern about Soviet intentions in the volatile Persian Gulf region. "In light of Afghanistan, we must also be concerned about the possibility of new intervention presented by any insta-bility in the region," Muskie said, without mentioning the Soviet Union by name.

He said the war must be ended through settlement of disputes by peaceful means and with respect for the principles of non-interference in the internal affairs of other coun-

"If Iran and Iraq are prepared to respect both of these principles ...it should be possible to bring this needlessly prolonged conflict to an early end. It should be possible to do so in a way which does justice to the legiti-mate concerns of both sides," he said.

In another development Monday, Defense Secretary Harold Brown said the United States will not withhold arms shipments to Jordan, despite Iranian complaints that such shipments represent an obstacle to the release of the hostages.

"So long as others do not join actively in the war we intend to go along with our relations to them," Brown said, referring in part to Jordan, which is scheduled to get 100 new M-60 tanks beginning in 1983. Although Jordan has helped deliver supplies to Iraq, it has not taken any overt action in the Iraq-Iran conflict.

Iraqi tanks reported at Abdan's main gates

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Iraq said its tanks hammered the main gates of the Iranian oil refining city of Abadan today and that Iraqi soldiers killed 38 Iranians in house-to-house fighting in the neighboring port of Khorramshahr.

Iran said its hard-pressed garrison in Abadan repulsed repeated enemy attacks at the city's main entrance at the Bahmanshir River bridge and claimed Iranian troops recaptured two districts at the northern edge of the town, killing 150 Iraqi troops.

According to an official communique issued by the Iranian news agency Pars, residential areas of Abadan along the Shatt al-Arab estuary, "came under intense Iraqi mortar fire" late Monday and early today. Iran said its troops were "still continuing their epic resistance," but admitted the defenders needed rein-

Baghdad Radio said the commander of Iraq's forces at the southern end of the 300-mile invasion front told the Iraqi News Agency his forces were "tightening their control over the approaches to Abadan, while our artillery and air force continue to pound enemy positions and destroy armor and vehicles. The state of the enemy in Abadan is extremely bad, and our forces are tightening the noose.

The sector commander also reported his troops in Khorramshahr, 10 miles northwest of Abadan, "continued operations to purge al-Muhammarah (the Iraqi name for the city) and to completely eradicate pockets of resistance," the broadcast said.

There was no way to check the validity of the conflicting claims since Western reporters were barred from the battlefronts. It appeared the Iraqis were maintaining their pressure on Abadan and Khorramshahr but the Iranians still were able to keep the invading forces out of Abadan itself.

On the diplomatic front, Iran said it rejected a tentative U.S. offer to exchange spare military parts for a negotiated settlement on the 52 American hostages

"So I think the severe recession that we anticipated ... has not been nearly so severe as we thought. And we are well on the road back to recovery," Carter said Monday on a televison program in Youngstown, Ohio.

Carter also likened the problems of unemployment and inflation to "temporary inconveniences" and said he saw marked improvements in both

Reagan, in neighboring Kentucky, told a crowd, "You know the president has decided that I'm busy starting a nuclear war, and I just want everybody to know that I absolutely refuse to do that." Independent candidate John Anderson, meanwhile, took off after both his Democratic and Republican rivals.

Referring to Carter's statement Sunday that he had a "passion for peace," Anderson said he would prefer more "competence" and less 'passion.'

He also criticized what he called Reagan's recent "ill-timed announcement to the people of Los Angeles, literally gasping after eight days of smog, that the problem of air pollution has been overcome."

All three candidates were on the campaign trail today with the election just two weeks away. Anderson was following a TV interview in New York with stops in New Jersey; Carter was on a two-day trip to Flordia, Louisitraveling through Illinois, Missouri and Louisiana. On Monday, Carter was asked on the Ohio television program why the nation can't solve its unemployment and inflation problems, "You know, people tend to dwell on the temporary inconveniences and the transient problems that our nation faces," he said as he listed such 'great challenges" the nation has faced as war and depression.

Among the improvements Carter pronounced in the economy: an average of 4,000 laid off auto workers return to work each week, the new 1981 U.S. cars are "selling like hotcakes," and the index of leading economic indicators is up sharply.

Reagan, both in Louisville and in Ohio, defended himself also against Carter's charges he would dismantle Social Security and against continuing taunts from demonstrators proana and Texas; and Reagan was testing his opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment.

At a campaign rally in Louisville, he shouted back at two-dozen hecklers supporting the ERA and added: "They can continue hollering all they want to, but they can't do as well as this microphone can do.

He told the rally that he, not Carter, was the peace candidate in the 1980

"The matter of fact is, I think his foreign policy, his vacillation, his weakness, his allowing our allies throughout the world to no longer trust us ... there is far greater danger of that unwanted, inadvertent war through that kind of a weak policy,"

"I will restore and maintain the integrity of the Social Security system," he also said.

target of the plot, the latest in a series of threats plaguing casinos here, in Reno and in Las Vegas since a Stateline casino was bombed Aug. 27.

Counties, timber firms sue over status of rivers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Several counties have joined forces with timber firms in filing a federal suit to prevent the designation of five northern California rivers as part of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers Sys-

And another suit filed Monday in Sacramento County Superior Court has asked that Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.'s request to include the Klamath, Trinity, Smith, Eel and American rivers in the system be denied.

Del Norte, Siskiyou, Trinity and Humboldt counties claim in the federal suit that if Brown's request is approved, they would lose more than $1 million annually in taxes received from timber firms.

Del Norte Unified School District also claimed it would be deprived of tax revenue, and the Eureka Chamber of Commerce members said they would lose revenue because timber firms would be adversely affected.

Joining in the federal suit were

Miller Redwood Co., Pacific Lumber Co., Big Flat Lumber Co. and members of Western Timber Association and California Forest Protective Association. They also contended they would suffer losses because of the designation.

Rivers may be designated for preservation as free-flowing streams after meeting certain criteria. They also must be permanently administered as wild, scenic or recreational rivers by an agency or subdivision of the state without expense to the federal government The federal suit said once the designation was made, economic activity like mining, dam construction and timber harvesting in the area would be severely regulated or prohibited entirely.

The counties and lumber firms contended that because the Legislature hasn't approved a compehensive management plan for the rivers as required by law, the waterways cannot be incorporated into the system.

Two extortion notes demanding $10 million and threatening to poison Caesars" water supply were found late Sunday, one at the hotel-casino and another at the Sahara-Tahoe across the street

The notes led officials to a sample of poison sprayed on a bathroom ceiling at Caesars. It was analyzed as a mixture of a herbicide, possibly 2-4-D with Silvex and barium cyanide. No injuries were reported. Testing Monday for cyanide in Caesars' drinking water was "negative," said Nevada Health Officer Dr. John Carr. He said he felt "the pressure's off" with regard to any health threat at the club, but protective measures were still in force. The club's water tank was untouched, said Sheriff's Sgt. Ross Chichester. "There were still spiderwebs on the ladder of the tank," he added. No casino operations were curtailed because of the threat, and Caesars spokesman Phil Weidinger said business was "the same."

Silvex is a herbicide containing a byproduct of Agent Orange, a defoliant used in Vietnam. The federal government had ordered Silvex off the market, but Carr said it was possible that amounts of the herbicide could be stored somewhere

Douglas County Sheriff Jerry Maple said he wanted to question a man who reportedly was arrested in San Jose last year in connection with fish pond poisonings that involved herbicides. Charges against the man had been dropped because of insufficient evidence, Maple said. The extortion note said the $10 million "is nothing against a billion lost to damage and decreased property values when the water supply is poi-

"Caesars' profits go to skimming and lining underworld pockets," the letter added. "My pockets are next." Kjer warned that if extortionists

"think we're an easy target, they better think twice." The job of protecting the clubs and their patrons from extortionists is "very costly and very nerve-wracking - but we're doing it," he said.

Carr said it would take 7,000 pounds of the compound found on the bathroom ceiling to contaminate Caesars' 1.5 million-gallon tank to the point that a quart of water would produce a lethal dose.

Authorities said the one-page Caesars' extortion notes did not resemble the three-page letter found at Harvey's, where a huge bomb exploded in August causing $3 million in damage. No arrests have been made in that

Military fringe benefit

One of the fringe benefits of the 1980 presidential election may well be a better armed, more secure United States.

There has been plenty of bad news recently regarding this nation's ability to respond to challenges and its readiness from the standpoints of both defense and aggression. The presidential campaign has focused attention on that area.

To put it bluntly, the picture painted by numerous government officials and military specialists has not been a pretty one. The all-volunteer forces concept the United States military has operated under the past several years has proven to be a disaster. Recruits generally have been too few with too little skills and, sometimes, only minimally acceptable from a capability standpoint.

Aggravating the manpower crisis for the military is the fact that competent, qualified men and women, trained at the government's expense, have been leaving military service recently because pay in the military is simply so bad.

Those aren't the only problems. The nation also has suffered something of an equipment crisis. A shortage of spare parts has resulted in problems and military experts say the nation needs more Remedying the situation is going to take time and a vast expenditure of funds. The nation's people and leaders apparently just went to sleep for awhile and let our investment in our military machine deterioriate.

The recent surge of concern over the state of the nation's defenses and military capability is a topic that has drawn comment recently from several people including U.S. Sen. John Tower.

Writing in his weekly column "Capitol Update," Sen. Tower recently noted his belief that this concern is good because it focuses attention on a potential problem area and gives us all cause for contemplation.

"People are demanding answers to tough questions about our nation's ability to defend its interests in the world," writes Sen. Tower. "The very fact that you are asking the questions has led to a change in attitude in Washington. Defense has moved off the back burner as an issue and a priority."

That's good. We've been nodding too long. Now we can all take a critical look at where we are militarily and take the necessary steps to make improvements that will continue to ensure our free-

Nicaragua was betrayed by design or accident

There is a book you ought to read before you vote in November. It's called "Nicaragua Betrayed," and it was written by a former Texas newsman, Jack Cox, and Anastasio Somoza Debaye, the late president of Nica-

Cox finished the book in Paraguay and just after it was published, Somoza was killed by assassins. In a sense it is Somoza's dying testament.

Somoza flatly accuses President Jimmy Carter of betraying Nicaragua and delivering it to communism by design. There is plenty of evidence to back him up, including in the appendix several pages of taped transcripts of conversations between Somoza and U.S. officials. You can judge for yourself what is valid and what is not. Some of the book, of course, is self-serving, but the basic facts cannot be denied. In 1977, at the insistence of the Carter Administration, military aid to Nicaragua was cut off. U.S. economic aid was cut off. The U.S. intervened to prevent the World Bank from renewng Nicaragua's loans. The U.S. intervened to prevent other nations from supplying Nicaragua with arms. Since then, the Latin policy of the Carter administration has been to attack anti-communist nations and encourage communist nations.

leftists Carter brought into government - men like Robert Pastor, who came in as the National Security Council advisor in charge of Latin America. He came from the old Linowitz Commission set up by the Rockefeller and Ford foundations. Always the excuse is human rights.

But whether the damage done to freedom has been by design or accident, the damage has been done and the people of the United States are much less secure than they were four years ago. Ponder our situation if Mexico goes communist.

U.S. mercenaries trained Libyan terrorists

WASHINGTON — American cloakmoter of world terrorism.

Dozens of victims have reportedly been hunted down and executed, probably with the cold efficiency American know-how has brought to the murder profession. One death squad was discovered in the United States and expelled from the country before it could complete its grisly

According to secret Justice Department files, the American experts have taught Qaddafi's killers how to construct sophisticated boobytraps that can turn such innocent objects as a book, telephone, or tube of tooth-

Terpil, even offered to smuggle into Libya a U.S. Redeye missile, a shoulder-launched, heat-seeking weapon that can bring down an airliner in flight. There have been unconfirmed intelligence reports that an Israeli airliner, which mysteriously exploded in the skies, was shot down with such a weapon by Qaddafi's terror-

The fiery Qaddafi, a crucible of anger without focus, supports terrorist groups around the world from Ireland to Malaysia. Declares one federal investigator's report: "Libya publicly admits that it gives training, weaponry and funding to terrorist organizations throughout the world, specifically admitting support of the Palestine Liberation Organization, Irish Republican Army, Red Brigade

Billy Carter first admitted, then denied to Justice Department officials that Terpil had discussed a machine-gun deal with him. There's no evidence Billy was ever aware that Terpil was training terror-reviewed the classified Justice Department files, which read like a James Bond yarn. Here are just a few startling excerpts from the files:

- Terpil agreed to train Libyan agents in "espionage, sabotage and general psychological warfare" as well as "the design, manufacture, implementation and detonation of explosive devices." The undercover training was disguised as a mineclearing operation.

- Terpil closed the deal in London the Thames with the notorious terrorist Carlos the Jackal.

Beginning in mid-1976, the furtive Terpil, himself an ex-CIA agent, recruited a team of American clandestine operatives, paramilitary spe-cialist, professonal killers and explosives experts trained by the CIA and U.S. special forces. By August 1976, the Americans were esconced grandly in the former winter palace of former Libyan King Idris — a luxurious hideaway that they assigned the curious code name "Swanee."

INSIDE REPORT:

'Shultz test' will reveal Nixon's influence with Reagan

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - One test of just how much influence Richard M. Nixon really exerts in the Reagan camp will be whether Ronald Reagan, if elected, names industrialist George Shultz as secretary of state. Nixon, surprisingly, opposes his former Cabinet strongman for the post.

Shultz, now the California-based president of the Bechtel Corp., is the clear front-runner inside the Reagan camp for the State Department post. But Nixon has passed the word to Reagan operatives that he thinks it would be a bad selection indeed.

Ironically, Nixon plucked economist Shultz from the obscurity of the University of Chicago in 1969 as his unexpected choice for secretary of labor. Shultz quickly rose to a dominating position in the Nixon administration, ending up as secretary of the treasury. Nixon's opposition to Shultz to become secretary of state is based on the belief he would be too friendly with foreign service professionals, always high on the former president's enemies list.

CIA STALL

On orders from the top, the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has abruptly halted a "finished intelligence" report on the status of Soviet anti-ballistic missile (ABM) progress.

The hold order, issued personally by CIA director Stansfield Turner to last until after the Nov. 4 election, caused a quiet but unsuccessful revolt in the CIA. Turner's reason: The intelligence report is expected to show Soviet gains in the field of ABM technology and in the use of anti-aircraft radar for detecting incoming ballistic missiles, which violates SALT I. Turner and the White House feared that the all-but-completed assessment would leak to the press and damage President Carter on the defense issue.

SHACKLING BEGIN

Heavy White House pressure is being applied to Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin not to stage another Israeli invasion of Lebanon. but Jordan's new alliance with Iraq is making it much harder to restrain

"If Jordan gets involved militarily in the Iraq-Iran war, Israel will move," a White House aide told us. That would put President Carter in a political bind. If he lets Israel get away with it, he will mobilize the entire Arab world against the U.S. If he forces Israel to withdraw as in the past, he will alienate the all-important Jewish vote just before the elec-

The temptation for Begin to move now is extreme. Once the election is over, Begin knows that the U.S. would react harshly and publicly to any new incursion into South Lebanon.

CARTER'S KOCHPHOBIA Even though President Carter seems to have moved ahead in New York, his operatives in the state still regard Mayor Ed Koch of New York City with fear and loathing.

No meeting of Carter's New York campaign organization is complete without the president's men inveighing against Koch. They express loathing that the mayor's critical statements cost Carter the state's Democratic primary last spring and fear that he might yet deprive the president of the state's 41 electoral votes Nov. 4. The Carterites claim Koch has privately commented that Ronald Reagan in the Oval Office would be no disaster for the city.

A footnote: Fears of Koch aside, Carter's New York operatives consider the battle for the state all but over. They have canceled special media advertising campaigns aimed at disaffected Jewish voters on grounds the effort is no longer needed.

JERRY BROWN'S SLUMP Just how far Gov. Edmund G.

Brown Jr. has slumped in California since his landslide re-election two years ago is shown by a private poll exposing him as a decided underdog in any third-term try.

If the election for governor were held today, according to the poll, Brown would be defeated by Republican Lt. Gov. Mike Curb by 17 percentage points. That's one good reason why Brown in 1982, instead of seeking an unprecedented third term in Sacramento, may oppose Republican Sen. S. I. Hayakawa instead.

Republican strategists fear that the 74-year-old eccentric Hayakawa is the one Republican Brown might be able to defeat in California. But there is no sign of dislodging Hayakawa from the Republican nomination without a bloody primary contest.

Libyans for up to $250 apiece. VAGRANT CONTRIBUTORS?: Federal Election Commission rules require that the businesses and occupations of political contributors be listed so the public will have some idea of what special-interest groups are supporting which candidates.

But the National Conservative Political Action Committee (NCPAC) an ultra-conservative group that is attempting to depose such veteran liberals as Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., Frank Church, D-Idaho and Birch Bayh, D-Ind. — appears to be going out of its way to flout the regula-

NCPAC's lists of contributors are peppered with donors who are allegedly "unemployed" or have no occupation whatsoever. Stock market gains

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market, absorbing a flurry of mixed corporate earnings reports, managed to post gains in key market indexes Monday. Oil stocks, mixed for much of the session, helped lead a late market rally. Transportation stocks were also among the standout issues. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose 4.70 to 960.84. The blue chip index had been showing a loss of about 3 points by early afternoon before a late buying surge reversed that trend. The Dow Jones average of 20 transportation stocks jumped 6.57 points to 355.39 as several companies in that sector reported substantial earning gains. In the broad tally of trading on the New York Stock Exchange, however, losing issues outnumbered gainers by a small fraction. There were 771 issues which declined in price and 742 which gained as of the 4 p.m. close.

President Carter while campaigning in Ohio said he believed the economy is "on the way to full recovery." He said he would continue to pressure banks and other financial institutions to hold the line on interest rates. Most commercial banks raised their prime business lending rates to 14 percent from 13.5 percent late last week.

The statements reinterated positions Carter had previously taken and had no apparent effect on the stock market.

Analysts instead said the market's gains were helped by bargain hunting after recent steep declines. The Dow Jones industrial average fell more than 16 points in the previous two sessions.

Among transporation stocks, Burlington Northern rose 2% to 55% after reporting a sharp increase in its quarterly earnings. Trans World Airlines, which also reported higher earnings, gained 1% to 16%. UAL Inc. rose 1% to 18%. St. Louis-San Francisco Railway gained 4½ to 98¾. It reported sharply higher earnings late last week.

Among oil stocks, Exxon gained 1 to 79½; Atlantic Richfield rose 1 to 65½; Mobil jumped 3% to 81 1/4 and Superior Oil added 5 to 226.

Xerox, down 1 at 64% topped the NYSE most active list as of the 4 p.m. close. Texaco, up 1% to 40%, was the second most active. Among other issues, Du Pont dropped 11/4 to 421/4.

Millions have no insurance, study reveals

WASHINGTON (AP) - Three of every four Americans see a doctor at least once a year and one in 10 is hospitalized, but millions of people have no form of health insurance to help with the costs, says a major government survey.

Preliminary results of the survey, termed the most comprehensive ever done on personal health care and expenses in this country, were to be released today at the American Public Health Association's annual meeting in Detroit.

The entire survey, which looked at the health-care habits of 37,000 persons in 14,000 households during 1977, will take years to analyze fully.

But the National Center for Health Services Research said early findings give some insight into how Americans talk up $200 billion in health expendi-tures each year.

"One surprise of this study was the large number of persons who reported being uninsured — 26.6 million persons or about 12.6 percent of the civilian population," said the agency, part of the Department of Health and Human Services.

There was no difference in insurance coverage between men and women, but there was a racial Eighteen percent of whites had no coverage, compared with 11.7 percent of all other races, the survey found. Medical assistance programs for low-income persons, such as Medicaid, accounted for some of this difference.

Persons with less formal education also were more likely to be uncovered. The survey found that among persons older than 17 years of age, 15.5 percent with less than 12 years of education had no insurance, compared with 8.9 percent of those with more than 13 years' schooling.

In other categories, more than 160 million persons

— 75.9 percent of the 1977 population — had at least one physician contact that year.

Whites more than other races, females more than males and persons over 65 years of age more than those younger were more likely to see a doctor. Doctors fees varied widely, but the mean figure was $23 per visit. Families and individuals paid 65 percent of these costs themselves and private health insurance picked up 15 percent. Medicaid paid large propor-tions of doctors' fees for low-income persons and those other than whites, the survey found.

About 10.3 percent of the 1977 population, 21 million persons, had stays in hospitals that year, with the mean length of stay being 7.6 days.

"The overall mean charge for a hospital stay in 1977 was $1,127 for those where hospital charges were. known," the survey said.

Private insurance paid 53 percent of these hospital charges and Medicaid paid 18 percent, it said.

When it came to getting dental services, about 43 percent of the population had their teeth checked at least once that year. Whites had more dental visits, being almost twice as likely to do so than all The mean charge per dental visit was $48 and the number of visits per person increased with family income and education, the survey found.

THE NEWSPAPER BIBLE

A gift is for giving

ET love be your greatest aim; nevertheless, ask also for the special abilities the Holy Spirit gives, and especially the gift of prophecy, being able to preach the messages of God.

But if your gift is that of being able to "speak in tongues," that is, to speak in languages you haven't learned, you will be talking to God but not to others, since they won't be able to understand you. You will be speaking by the power of the Spirit but it will all be a secret.

But one who prophesies, preaching the messages of God, is helping others grow in the Lord, encouraging and comforting

So a person "speaking in tongues" helps himself grow spiritually, but one who prophesies, preaching messages from God, helps the entire church grow in holiness and happiness.

I wish you all had the gift of "speaking in tongues" but, even more, I wish you were all able to prophesy, preaching God's messages, for that is a greater and more useful power than to speak in unknown languages-unless, of course, you can tell everyone afterwards what you were saying, so that they can get some good out of it too.

Dear friends, even if I myself should come to you talking in some language you don't understand, how would that help you? But if I speak plainly what God has revealed to me, and tell you the things I know, and what is going to happen, and the great truths of God's Word-that is what you need; that is what will help you.

Even musical instruments—the flute, for instance, or the harp-are examples of the need for speaking in plain, simple English rather than in unknown languages. For no one will recognize the tune the flute is playing unless each note is sounded clearly.

And if the army bugler doesn't play the right notes, how will the soldiers know that they are being called to battle?

In the same way, if you talk to a person in some language he doesn't understand, how will he know what you mean? You might as well be talking to an empty room.

Man gets $3,463 for hurt toe

CHICAGO (AP) - The Cook County Board has approved a $3,463 settlement for a former assistant Cook County state's attorney who stubbed his toe rushing to answer a telephone.

The board's approval came Monday.

The Illinois Industrial Commission had recommended the award for James Heizel, 31, a prosecutor from August 1976 until this Aug. 15. Heinzel filed suit with the commission after his boss, State's Attorney Bernard Carey, refused to settle a claim for the June 1979 accident.

According to an arbiter's calculation, the $3,463 award represented 40 percent of the worth of a healthy toe, said Leonard Foster, chief of the workmen's compensation division.

Coach Fred Akers. "We must be the thinnest No. 2 team in history," said Akers.

He commented after disclosing that two newcomers, including a freshman who has never touched the ball in a college game, apparently will start at running back against Southern Methodist on Saturday.

Texas has not played since its 20-13 victory over Oklahoma Oct. 11, but it moved up one place in the Associated Press poll after No. 2 Southern California was tied by Oregon, 7-7.

p.m. "The week off really helped us," Akers told a news conference Monday. "It came at a great time, but everybody better take advantage of it, because there won't be another one for six weeks.'

"We're thin," he said. "We haven't scrimmaged since the first ball game. We're so thin, we can't afford to do

"Depth will really be a problem" in the next six weeks, he said.

Texas lost leading rusher A.J "Jam" Jones with a pinched nerve in his neck in the Oklahoma game, and freshman Bobby Micho has replaced Rodney Tate at the other halfback. Akers said Jones, who has run for 569 yards, is "doubtful" for the SMU

Sophomore Darryl Clark, who has run only 22 times for 80 yards, is the top sub for Jones.

Asked about the promotion of Micho, 6-foot-4 and 210 pounds, Akers said, "We put players in there who get the job done well. Some have had five weeks to do it, and they haven't done it, so we look to other people."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Frey shifted a wad of tobacco big as a baseball from his left cheek to his right cheek, splashed the dugout steps and said equivocally:

Those are strong, fighting words, and the clerkish little skipper will have to prove them when he sends his Kansas City Royals against the Philadelphia Phillies in the World Series showdown tonight and, if necessary, Wednesday.

Frey's minions may or may not become the baseball champions of the entire world but they can take their Series swag and go home with one consolation — they have captured the hearts of the country.

THEY ARE the people's choice. First of all, they are new kids on the block, actually born only 12 years ago in this bearded old pastime which is more than 100 years old. They have never been in a World Series before. They are, as a team, fresh, easygoing, and amenable in sharp contrast to the Phillies who, except for Tug McGraw and Pete Rose, are generally a sulking, brooding and even, at times, insulting outfit.

Their keystone - and excuse the pun - is George Brett. He has emerged indisputably as taseball's new Golden Boy, a super hero who can be mentioned in the same breath with Reggie Jackson, Bjorn Borg, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and

Royals are people's choice .300 hitter, who this year challenged the elusive .400 mark right down to the end, ultimately batting .390. BUT HIS stature has been enlarged immeasurably by his exposure to national attention in the World Series. He has moved from the sports arena into everybody's sitting room.

Hollywood handsome - blond with steel blue eyes — with a boyish charm, he, as Arnold Palmer of old, is making housewives gush and teenyboppers scream. They're all rushing the concession stands for Brett buttons, caps, jerseys and trading cards.

It isn't simply his ability that created this new charisma. It's his low key, down-to-earth personality. He comes across strictly as a good guy, which "He reminds me a lot of Arnold Palmer," said a veteran Los Angeles sports editor. "Always pleasant and obliging, never offending anyone. Not fat-headed, not a mean streak in his bones.'

Brett showed his true mettle when he was hit in midseries last week by an ailment not normally discussed in polite circles, hemorrhoids. He became the target of a hundred jokes. This didn't faze him. He came back and had more jokes about himself than anybody. He showed class and

ON SATURDAY when he was decked by a knockdown pitch, he never said a word. But Frey did, and his manager immediately was challenged by Pete Rose, defending his pitcher, Dickie Noles.

"Rose," he said, "plays baseball as it should be played."

Brett is just one of the personalities that give the Royals a unique and captivating touch. Willie Aikens is a big, powerfullybuilt young man with a magnetic name and a home run swing to be compared with those of Babe Ruth,

Hank Aaron and Reggie Jackson. As a kid in Seneca, S.C., he developed a stutter in his speech and became too embarrassed to go into a grocery store and ask for a loaf of bread. But when he hit two home runs in two different games last week, he found it necessary to face up to scores of cynical newsmen. Measuring every word, he stood on the podium and gave an illuminating description of the life of Willie Aikens. The writers were mesmerized.

Amos Otis is a veteran whose active bat has made him a prime candidate for MVP honors. Willie Wilson is a streak of lightning on the bases. Frank White is a phenom at second base, gliding, running, throwing, making plays such as the Series has never seen before.

Catcher Darrell Porter is a story for the world — a man's struggle against drugs and alcohol. And there is the quaint Dan Quisenberry, with his un-orthodox submarine delivery and his subtle wit.

All of these are shepherded by the chewin' and spittin' little skipper who never played a major league game in
