TEXAS FAVORS REPEAL AND BEER IN SAT. ELECTION

BAILEY COUNTY CITIZENS VOTE NEARLY THREE TO ONE AGAINST MEASURES IN LOCAL OPTION CALL

Texas, last Saturday, became the twenty-third consecutive state of the Union to vote for prohibition repeal, also to legalize 3.2 beer within its vast area which had been dry for the past 14 years. The beer may be sold after midnight September 14.

Final tabulation of the election announced by the Texas Election Bureau Monday night showed a majority of 114,885 for repeal and for liberalizing the constitution to permit the manufacture and sale of beer; there was a majority of 128,206. These majorities were indicated in a total vote count of 444,649, it also being estimated by the bureau that there were less than 100,000 votes still out and not yet counted.

A state constitutional amendment authorizing a $20,000,000 bond issue and another granting home rule to counties of certain sizes were shown to have carried by a majority of more than 100,000. Another amendment extending tax exemptions of $3,000 to homesteads went over by more than 200,000 votes.

Local option votes were taken in numerous counties throughout the entire state, and while the state as a whole has voted by a safe majority for repeal and legalization of 3.2 beer, yet in the 188 local option elections held indications now are that three-fifths of them would remain dry. Practically all the larger cities throughout the state went wet.

Repeal: for 135; against 309.
Beer question: for 195; against 295.
Bond issue: for 310; against 140.
Home rule: for 322; against 77.
Local option: for 116; against 273.

In the Muleshoe voting box the vote for state repeal was 56 for and 145 against; for 3.2 beer, 67 for and 133 against; for local option, 57 for and 142 against; for state bonds, 162 for and 26 against; for home rule, 49 for and 72 against; for homestead exemption, 146 for and 154 against.

Dry to Continue Fight
The United Forces for Prohibition declared in an official statement: "The God of righteousness still lives. The renewed warfare against the accursed liquor traffic has just begun. Texas still has the state constitution prohibiting liquor above 3.2 per cent and will have for two years, and officials who have taken an oath to enforce the Constitution, and laws, we should still have no liquor."

The statement also declared that "local option elections can be called every six months and the brewers may take notice that they will be in an eternal fight against the forces for righteousness and will never have a day of peace until they are again driven from the State and ultimately from the Nation."

Postmaster Farley, in a statement issued Sunday evening, said he expected total repeal of the Eighteenth amendment by November 7; that the result of the Texas election was no surprise and indicates the sentiment of voters in Southern states.

Other states to vote on this question this year are: Sept. 5, Vermont; Sept. 11, Maine; Sept. 13, Colorado; Maryland and Minnesota; Oct. 19, Idaho and New Mexico; Oct. 3, Virginia; Oct. 10, Florida; Nov. 7, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania and South Carolina and Utah. Some other states may also vote this year.

The Texas legislature at its last meeting set up the necessary machinery for the taxing of beer so the state will get its share of the returns from such sale.

LEWELAND MAN IS KILLED
Tom Lattimer, 45, is dead and V. L. Bradley, 45, is being held under a charge alleging the slaying of him with a shotgun, one shot producing almost instant death last Saturday.

The killing is said to have grown out of an argument over the election of last week.

THIS IS THE "NO-NO" BIRD

This fool bird doesn't care where he's going; he only knows where he's been. He represents just the opposite to the blue eagle who realizes it is headed toward greater prosperity. It well represents those who have not signed up under the NRA.

NRA Committee Named Here For Enforcing Order

At the regular meeting of the local Kiwanis club held Friday noon the committee was appointed for the purpose of canvassing the town of Muleshoe and adjoining territory to secure consumer signatures to cards pleading support of the NRA movement now effective, according to instructions received last week from General Johnson, Washington, D. C., who is in charge of the Rehabilitation act. It is understood this committee will also form the police corps for this town, having charge of the enforcement of this act.

Mrs. W. B. Charles, postmaster, was named chairman of the committee, Cecil H. Tate, secretary, and Rev. E. C. Raney and R. L. Brown, members of the committee.

It is stated that while practically every business concern in Muleshoe had joined the NRA movement, yet only about 80 consumers have signed and returned their cards to the local post office. The post master stated she had put cards in every post office box and sent sufficient out on the rural and star routes to accommodate every family thereon, but the large majority of them had not been returned.

According to General Johnson's instructions, every family is expected to sign one of these consumer's cards, or else be branded as a "slacker," an opprobrious appellation no loyal, patriotic citizen desires. This week a canvass of the town and territory will be made by the committee for the purpose of securing these required signatures.

A feature of the Friday's meeting was the entertainment furnished by Erman Gray, of the Gray Stock Co., playing here this week under auspices of the Muleshoe Fire Department. Gray is a very accomplished musician on various instruments, performing on the symphonic for their entertainment, playing "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," "The Glow Worm" and a personal improvisation of the old melody, "When You and I Were Young."

Monday morning Mrs. Charles received further instruction from Washington calling also for the signatures of all women in co-operation with the NRA plan. It is a well known fact that the women of the households do most of the buying, hence their co-operation in purchasing from business concerns which have signed up under the blue eagle banner is desired. When signing, each woman will be given the NRA insignia which she is asked to display in some prominent window of her home.

GRADING MORE BLOCKS
The local Red Army, under direction of Pat R. Bobo, in charge of Bailey county work, last Monday began cutting down to grade the block on east side of court house, which will later be re-graded and filled in with caliche to state specifications.

When this is completed, other blocks leading toward State Highway No. 7, will also be graded and given the caliche base, in so far as the money is available for such work, Mr. Bobo said.

BUY'S DON'S RESTAURANT
E. Layman, of the Y. L. community, last Friday closed a deal to purchase the restaurant of Don Q. Eason, which he has operated here for the past year or more.

Layman assures his customers of the same quality menu and courteous service as they have received in the past.

ORANGE AND BLACK NEXT YEAR
Texas automobile license plates for 1934 will be black ground with orange center.

They will be made in the state by the state, using prison labor, machinery for such having been recently purchased and installed.

Teacher Is Hired; New Law Regulates Salaries To Be Paid

At a meeting of the Muleshoe School Board held Wednesday night of last week, Mrs. C. R. Stevens was hired as an additional teacher required because of the increased number of pupils coming to this school this year.

Mrs. Stevens carries an A. B. degree and has had eight years experience in teaching in affiliated schools.

At this meeting it was stated that it was passed by the last legislature requires teachers salaries to be divided into 12 equal payments, instead of being paid in full by the month according to the number of months teaching as heretofore. This law also provides that superintendents of schools shall not be paid more than $125 per month, principals not more than $85 per month, high school teachers not more than $85 per month, and grammar grade teachers not more than $75 per month, the state paying for eight months of teachers, salaries. This law means a slight lowering of the salaries paid the higher grade teachers and a slight raising of salaries to lower grade teachers. If an excess salary is paid any one teacher, the school district board state aid in this particular instance.

It is stated that the school tax rate for the coming year will probably be $1.00 per $100 valuation, the same as last year. The board of equalization may some slight lowering of the valuations when the Board of Equalization meets and the budget of expense for the coming year is figured.

Government Is To Insist On Payment Of All Crop Loans
Statements given out this week by government officials are to the effect that Federal crop production loans on cotton crops plowed up are not waived and farmers are expected to pay them.

Considerable confusion has generated recently in this respect because of the provision of an old law which was dug up in Washington. Most farmers who have government loans expect to pay them, it is said, but some have been wondering if it really was required.

Banks and county farm agents have been furnished with lists of farm borrowers and the government expects to require crop reduction whereby the grovers will be certain of the party price, based on production between 1909 and 1914.

The proposal does not contemplate the grover's domestic production be figured on what he raises after he reduces his acreage next year by about 15 per cent, but rather on his average production over a period of five years. Thus, if a grover has been raising an average of 100 bales per year, he would be guaranteed parity on 50 bales.

If the market price averaged parity, the government would make no further payment but would pay the difference if it fell below parity.

TWO GAMES VS. THE BLACKS TO BE PLAYED HERE NEXT WEEK
The Muleshoe base ball team has this arrangement for playing two games with the negro team from Lubbock, the playing to be Sunday and Monday afternoons of next week, each game to be called at 3:30 p. m., according to Manager Goss.

Two games have been previously played with this team, the blacks winning the first 12 to 4, and the second 8 to 2. Goss declared he is going to have a team this time that will take the senagambians down the line for defeat.

SCHOOL TIME IS HERE
School time has again arrived in Bailey county, practically all teachers having returned to their schools and are ready to begin their work for the fall term.

Bula district got the bulge on education matters in the county, beginning its school Monday, August 21. Schools beginning last Monday were Watson, Wilson, Goodland. Schools to start next Monday are Stegall, Muleshoe, West Camp, Liberty, Progress, Fairview and Circleback. Baleyboro and Longview schools will not begin until sometime in October.

ORANGE AND BLACK NEXT YEAR

They will be made in the state by the state, using prison labor, machinery for such having been recently purchased and installed.

Since Hale county was organized in 1888, there have been 3,392 marriage licenses issued in that county to date.

COST OF THE ELECTION
Exclusive of overtime, which is estimated at some $20, Bailey county's election staff of approximately 40 people on duty at the election last Saturday cost the county about $120 in salaries.

Since three elections were held as one, there was a saving to the county of approximately $240.

In addition to this sum precinct officers were allowed $2.00 for bringing the boxes and election returns into Muleshoe, totaling another $20, and making the cost approximately $160 for the entire election.

IN JUSTICE COURT
Grady Hillier was to be from Lamb county, was arrested Saturday night at a dance by Sheriff Cook on a charge alleging possession of intoxicating liquor. He was released on bond of $1,000.

Monday morning J. G. Holland, arrested Saturday night on a charge of intoxication, was released on assessed fine of $1.00 and costs, totaling $15.80.

Since Hale county was organized in 1888, there have been 3,392 marriage licenses issued in that county to date.

Trades Day In Muleshoe Held Monday, Sept. 4

Elaborate plans are being made this week for the regular monthly Trades Day to be held in Muleshoe next Monday, the committee now preparing a program of activity that promises to be of special interest to all visitors.

One of the chief drawing cards for the day will be a baseball game between Whites and Blacks—the Muleshoe Caucasians playing the Lubbock Ethiopians during the afternoon. These two teams have crossed bats twice here before, the Muleshoe lads receiving a generous skinning "each time"; but Manager Goss declared that in the Monday's game the skinning is going to be all the other way, since he has his balls all fused and primed like automatic bombs, the bats whittled out of dynamite, while the local players have all been turned into automatic acting machine guns capable of worse destruction than a bunch of Chicago gangsters.

A Husband Calling contest, something never yet pulled off in these parts is also on the program. Each woman taking part is permitted to call friend husbands, but the contestants in the Monday's game the skinning is going to be all the other way, since he has his balls all fused and primed like automatic bombs, the bats whittled out of dynamite, while the local players have all been turned into automatic acting machine guns capable of worse destruction than a bunch of Chicago gangsters.

There will be other races: one for boys and one for girls, each of the local drug stores offering prizes of malted milk, ice cream sundae and ice cream cones. The first, second and third places, respectively, with an all day sucker to each entrant.

The Muleshoe Motor Co. is offering a brand new inner tube to the one bringing the largest crowd in the parade. A Skillet Throwing contest is scheduled for women—catch as catch can style with no grease in the frying pan. Husbands who are accustomed to having rolling pins flying in their direction are warned to stay in some of the alleys while this contest is going on.

Winner of the first prize gets a new dress, while second place winner gets a new pair of hose.

A Fat Man's race, wherein participants must be over 40 years of age and weigh at least 200 pounds, is also on the program, and a suitable prize is being arranged for the winner.

A brand new dollar bill is offered the one bringing to town for sale that day the largest amount of cranberries, and $500 worth of cotton condition powder is offered the one bringing in the largest batch of cackle berries for sale.

Swapping, buying and selling will be in order throughout the entire day. Everyone who has anything to dispose of is urged to bring it, parking it on the lots just off Main street. An auctioneer will be present to render his services gratis, as needed.

Merchants and other business men will have on special sales, make offerings of special values, and this will be an excellent time for all families to beget their shopping for school and winter needs.

It is a well known fact that prices are constantly and rapidly rising, many commodities having already doubled in prices. The Government processing taxes are coming on, and all who can should avail themselves of this opportunity of making money in the purchases while here meeting friends and enjoying the day.

SCHOOL FUNDS INCREASED
That the public schools of Texas will receive $6,010,700 more than was received last year, is the statement of R. S. Carter, statistician for the comptroller's department, who further says this money will be available when paid back out of the general fund to which school money had been diverted during this year.

The estimated total to be distributed among the schools of the state for the fiscal year beginning August 31 is $20,694,241.

LOWER FIRE RATE DUE
A representative of the State Fire Insurance department was in Muleshoe Thursday of last week making a re-check of property location, hazards, etc. for the first several years past. As a result of this re-checking, individual fire insurance rates will be considerably lowered, and it is reported that even the key rate for this city will be reduced.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
There is no darkness, nor shadow, of death where the harvesters of iniquity make themselves.—Job 34-22.
God hath yoked to guilt her pale tormentor, misery.—Bryant.

SUNSHINE AND DEPRESSION
The assumed connection between weather and economics, as the basis of a theory that a rise in solar radiation brings a decline in business activity, of the other way about, is not new. Common sense would seem to uphold this view through the law of supply and demand. Good weather brings good crops, but good crops do not always bring good prices. On the contrary heavy production makes things cheaper, and this affects business in general. As the farmer is a heavy buyer of goods from cities, his purchasing power has a direct and substantial effect on business in general. When his production is great, his demand is great, but his purchasing power is small. As the farmer is a heavy buyer of goods from cities, his purchasing power has a direct and substantial effect on business in general. When his production is great, his demand is great, but his purchasing power is small.

NO DISCRIMINATION
We hear some unfavorable criticism usually of an involved nature, of the fact that the consumer must pay the bill for the degree of unemployment that will produce industrial recovery. Occasionally a critic, who perhaps has not become adjusted to very material changes in conditions in our country, will leave the impression that this obvious fact constitutes some sort of unjust discrimination against a particular class of citizens.

NEW LIFE FOR FAIRS
For several years the average Muleshoe citizen of mature years has felt that the county fairs of the country were about to become extinct. Now they will learn with interest that many of them are being revived and that more county fairs will be held this year than for many seasons past.

BIBLE VERSIONS
It's really interesting sometimes to observe the man who is generated by some folks in arguing Scripture, and many know as much about it and its interpretation as they do Shakespeare or Tennyson. Occasionally, even in this enlightened age, one runs across somebody who still insists that the Bible was printed and bound in heaven and thrown down to earth or at least a belief to that effect so positive are their of its absolute authorization and inspiration.

JAUNTY JOURNALETTES
As we see it today, the ERA business is going to get some Muleshoe folks into a peck or so of trouble, for when they get something to do they won't know how to do it.

DROUGHT PREDICTED
As a general rule, Muleshoe people prefer not to cross their bridges until they come to them, but there are many who find delight in looking ahead for something to worry about.

SNAP SHOTS

Pavement Pickups

President Theodore Roosevelt was a strong advocate of big families, according to G. C. Danner, but now his cousin Franklin Delano, now he gets to be president advocates birth control among his renters, he says.

Homer Huntington says the rains of last week came just in time to keep the farmers of Bailey County from having to sell diseased eggs, evaporated milk and dehydrated beef in hoof.

Rev. Williams, who is holding a meeting this week at the Methodist church says the NRA code is a good one, but that the one Moses brought with him when he came back down from Mt. Sinai is a better one, and would help a lot of folks if they would use it.

Trying to sell a suit of clothes to a customer the other day, A. W. Bennett, local tailor, remarked that prices are all going up since the NRA began. "That's true," replied the customer, "but I'm thinking of jolting a nudist colony and before next summer I may not need any clothes at all." "None of us may need any," rejoined the salesman.

A customer was buying some steel wool the other day at Hart's, and wanted to know of R. L. Buchanan where it came from. "It's obtained from the shearing of hydraulic rams," replied Buck, and never cracked a smile.

Dave Coulter says when he gets married he's going to be in the chicken house instead of in the church then the chickens can pick up the rice that is thrown at the young bridal couple.

Tom Davis says, "with the government going into the hog business, it looks now like the hogs will finally root us out of the depression."

Dr. Matthews says he's often heard about the old maid who was so modest she kept the table legs wrapped so their bareness wouldn't be made public, and of the charming young lady who pulled the shades down just for a blind, but last week he had a new experience. A bashful old maid of these parts came to his office complaining of having a sore knee, but she was so bashful she wouldn't let him examine it. The next day she returned bringing with her a doll and she pulled up the doll's dress and showed him the exact place on its knee which corresponded to the sore spot on her own knee—and then Doc prescribed for her.

Booster Bob Brown is planning starting an irrigation well on his place in the near future. Being very fond of spinach, he will plant 100 acres of his land in okra next spring.

Julian: "What do you think of a man who will constantly deceive his wife?" Clay: "I think he's a darned wonder!"

John Benson, famous local Lapslander, told the King Oscar of Sweden was his great-grandfather, declares the wheel-barrow was invented for the explicit purpose of training the Irish to walk on their hind legs.

A lady came into Damon's the other day wanting some medicine. She described her symptoms, and after she had finished, Pharmacist Hill said: "Madam, you have acute prolasus." "Oh, Mr. Hill," she embarrassingly replied, "you flatter me so."

Rev. Joiner declares that while the wages all over the country have been considerably reduced during the past two years, the wages of sin are just as high as they ever were.

Business is surely improving in Mule shoe. Last Monday a local grocer refused to take a certain quart from a customer merely because it wasn't bright and shiny.

Look out! Prosperity turns the corner she is apt to be accompanied by Profiteering and High Cost of Living.

It has about reached the point where the only crime in Wall Street is that of being a little fellow.

About the only difference we have discovered between modern bathing suits and the first ones used is that the modern ones are made of wool and the first ones were made of fig leaves.

At any rate, nobody has come forward with a proposal to change Muleshoe into a brewery, though Postmaster Farley is so anxious for 3.2 beer he may make the suggestion after the eighteenth amendment has been totally repealed.

Another wonder of the world will come when some moving picture couple celebrates their golden wedding anniversary.

Another thing that increased the number of jobless is the stork's activity about 21 years ago.

Mixing alcohol with gasoline may help the farmer, but think how that gas taste will hurt the bootleg trade.

Almost everything has been changed by the depression except the desire of some families to outdo the family next door.

Another way to be sure of your job is to get a job where you doesn't try to out-guess Wall Street.

Jess' Jasack Josh and Mulesense

It is universally known by all who ever worked a mule, that this beast is the most intelligent animal ordinarily given credit for. Many times mules and other animals have a foresight or instinct which warns them of some coming danger or needs, and to prepare for the emergency. Sometimes they are a lot wiser than men. B. C. Forbes, writer on economics, has this to say about the difficulty of inducing the old plantation mule to walk on the coming row so as to plow it in the cotton destruction plan.

"Are mules wiser than men?" This question is prompted by the refusal of Southern mules to trample down the growing cotton the farmers are being paid by the government to destroy. The mules heretofore have been taught to avoid crushing the life out of the young plants.

I have a lot of understanding sympathy with the mules. I was brought up so near the poverty line that I find myself shivering when I read about cotton, wheat and other necessities of life being deliberately destroyed. I was taught that plenty was a blessing, not a curse. And although I read all the treatises upon the advisability, the wisdom, the necessity for combating abundance, and although I know all about what low prices meant, somehow economic philosophies cannot quell my instincts.

It helps not at all when I read that our major cereal crops this year are the meagerest in a generation. I find questionings arising from deep within as to whether maybe nature doesn't know better than to crop destructionists.—Kerrville Times.

DAD CURED HIM

An old farmer recalled his son from college because he was neglecting his studies and wasting his money. After the son returned the old man took him into the field to do work there. This displeased the former student, and he gave vent to his dissatisfaction in a string of Latin phrases. Turning to him, the old gentleman said: "Henry, here is a fork and yonder is the manure in a cart. What do you call this in Latin?" "Forus, manubius, cartibus," replied the son, with an air of satisfaction.

"Very well, then," replied the old man, "if you don't at once take that forus and unload that cartibus of manubius, I'll break every bonibus in your bodybus. Understandibus?"

CLASS GIVES PLAY TUESDAY

Members of the Senior class of young people, Methodist church, very successfully presented "Mr. Bob," a comedy-drama Tuesday night at the High school auditorium. The cast was as follows:

The play was directed by N. E. Trosie, sponsor for the class. There was a fair attendance, and $9.00 was realized.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETING

A social meeting of the Methodist Missionary society was held at the home of Mrs. J. F. Wallace, Mrs. I. W. Haney assistant hostess, Monday afternoon.

Plans were discussed for the next study course which begins at the second meeting in September.

Refreshments of ice cream and caramel cake were served to the following: Mesdames Gay Deavers, E. C. Ranzey, Jean Kistler, Tom Davis, I. W. Haney, Pearl Brashear, W. H. Kistler, H. C. Holt, Nora Best, Fay Elrod, A. P. Stone, Ruth Pierson and Miss Mildred Davis.

SENATOR B. Y. P. U. MEETING

The Drawing Power of Jesus Asserred, R. B. McEneaney.
The Drawing Power of Jesus Demonstrated, Miss Floy Beller.
The Drawing Power of Jesus Experienced, Jim Alsop.
The Drawing Power of Jesus Analyzed, Miss Eva Harper and M. G. Miller.

An election of officers for the coming year will be held September 11.

SAYS BEN TO KEN—

"He's right!" declared Ken. "The permanent wave has cut out the healthy arm lifting required in putting up the hair in curl papers. The fountain pen has done away with the long straight right to the ink bottle and the swing back to the page. There is a hickey that lets people choke off a crooner without going across the room to the radio. A new fangled card table won't let the players go through any finger exercises, but does all the shuffling and dealing itself. The talkies keep folks from exercising their vocal cords like they did in the silent pictures while reading captions aloud. What they call the nineteenth hole in that golf game puts on more weight than the other eighteen take off. Etiquette keeps you from exercising your lungs through soup. (Of course, Ben, you understand I don't really mean you, personally about the soup—etiquette would never stop you.) Foods are strained, shrunk, seeded, squashed and otherwise simplified so there won't be any work connected with the business of eating that'll tire out a person or result in wear and tear on the teeth and stomach.

MULTY JULY

NOT HARD MATTER TO PREVENT MOLT

Careful Feeding and Use of Lights Important.

By PROF. L. E. WEAVER, New York State College of Agriculture-WNYU Service. The molt is an old custom among hens and is adhered to by every avian female. But the molting season is costly to the poultryman unless he can frustrate the hen's or pullet's idea of stopping laying while the old plumage is shed and a new, glossy coat is grown in the fall. If a pullet lays two or three months prior to the usual molting season, she is likely to follow the example of the older hens and molt, too, and lay no eggs for the first six weeks molting period. If the pullet starts to lay just before or during the normal molting season, she will continue to lay. Many poultrymen hatch their chicks late in the season to avoid the molt; but, under those circumstances, the late-hatched pullets do not begin to lay full-sized eggs until egg prices start to fall. The early hatched pullets are the ones that lay full-sized eggs when eggs are high-priced and make money for the poultryman, if they do not molt. Get the pullets to eat all the feed they can, for they will not get too fat. Be sure they have all the dry mash they want at all times; and, as soon as the pullets begin to lay, wet mash can be fed, in addition, once a day. If possible, mix the wet mash with milk, for milk helps keep the flock healthy. Lights may be used to give about 13 hours of daylight, starting about two weeks after the pullets are put into laying houses. Plenty of green food, especially cabbage, helps to keep the flock in good condition and to prevent the molt.

A Dollar Dinner for Four

DO your thrift dinners cry out "thrift"—or do they look so attractive and taste so good that no one can guess the cost? It's all a matter of careful planning. First, get an appealing menu, like the one given below; second, prepare the foods carefully; third, deem them worthy of your pretty china and table covers. Then you can say with sincerity to your casual guest "Do stay for dinner!" Menu: Veal Loaf with Carrot and Pea Sauce, 38¢ Fried Potatoes 6¢ Mashed Turnips 6¢ Dressed Lettuce 10¢ Bread and Butter 8¢ Baked Pineapple Pudding 26¢ Dessert Sauce 3¢ Veal Loaf with Carrot and Pea Sauce: Remove wrapper from 7-ounce can of veal loaf, cover with boiling water and boil for fifteen minutes. Remove meat from can, placing it on a hot platter. Make a sauce of one and one-half tablespoons butter, one and one-half tablespoons flour, two-thirds cup milk and the liquor from an 8-ounce can of carrots and peas. Add the carrots and peas, season to taste with salt and pepper, and pour over the veal. Baked Pineapple Pudding: Cream three tablespoons of butter and four tablespoons of sugar, add one well-beaten egg, yolk. Add one-half cup of dry crumbs and one-half cup of crushed pineapple. Fold in the stiffly-beaten egg white. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, for twenty to thirty minutes. Serve with one-fourth cup of thin cream.*

Care of Birds Before and After Caponizing

Cockereels can be caponized successfully late in the season if care is taken to handle the birds properly. Not more than 10 or 12 birds should be confined together. They should be kept without feed for 24 hours before the operation. Afterwards they should be given a light feeding of moist mash consisting of bran and ground oats moistened with skimmilk. Plenty of clean water should be provided. A condition known as wind puffs is likely to develop a few days after the operation. This is nothing serious and can be ignored for eight to ten days. By this time the incision between the ribs will have healed and if the outer skin is punctured the air will be released. Capons outsell cockereels for enough to pay for most of the trouble of caponizing.—Prairie Farmer.

Feed for Molting Hens

Hens that are molting should be fed a good laying ration. Cutting down the amount of protein will slow up the growth of feathers and they will not get back to production so soon. If the hens do not get enough protein they will grow feathers at the expense of body weight and then body weight must be built up before they can produce eggs again. If the birds are losing weight, feed them on each day a mixture of equal parts of cornmeal, rolled oats and condensed milk, say Penn State poultry specialists.—American Agriculturist.

Poultry Hints

Poultry manure should be collected from the dropping boards, stored under cover and mixed with dry earth or sand. To maintain a high level of egg production, it is not necessary to cull more than a third of the birds from a normal flock of chickens during the year. The best pen of 10 birds in the Illinois egg-laying contest for the month of June was White Leghorns owned by Logan Leghorn farm, Parnell, Mo. This pen laid 145 eggs.

Average returns on 123 flocks of Ohio poultry last year was 70 cents per bird. A normal healthy hen will produce about 80 pounds of moist or wet manure in the course of a year, which should convince farmers of the great value of farm flocks.

Each student in the winter short course in poultry at the New York State College of Agriculture is assigned the entire care of a small flock for four weeks of his course.

Green alfalfa, fed liberally, has been recommended for checking the death of poultry due to poor feeding.

Clean litter on the floor every day in the year makes the poultry house more sanitary and helps in keeping the flock healthy.

Unless turkeys are well fleshed and have a covering of fat under the skin, they usually sell as undergrades. The same is true if they are full of pinfeathers even though they may be in fair condition.

SALUBRIOUS SALADS

SALUBRIOUS salads with a savor of their own and which help to digest the proteins of a heavy winter meal are good to have among your collection of recipes. Here are two which fulfill these specifications because they contain pineapple, the enzyme of which is known to help the digestion of proteins, and it is artfully combined with other tasty foods. Pineapple, Beet and Celery Salad: Drain one 8-ounce can of Hawaiian pineapple tidbits and one 8-ounce can of diced beets. Combine three-fourths cup diced celery with one diced green pepper. Marinate these three ingredients separately in French dressing. Arrange three lettuce cups on each plate, and put a pile of the pineapple in one, beets in another and celery and pepper in the third. In the center make a rosette of mayonnaise. Serves six. A Sea Food Salad: Shrimps in Pineapple Aspic: Soften one tablespoon gelatin in four tablespoons cold water. Drain one 8-ounce can of Hawaiian pineapple tidbits, add four tablespoons lemon juice to the syrup, and then enough water to make two cups of liquid. Bring to boiling, pour over gelatin, add four tablespoons sugar, and stir until dissolved. Cook. Put a shrimp from a 3 1/2-ounce can and several pineapple tidbits into each individual mold, and add a couple of spoonfuls of gelatin. Let harden in ice-box. Add another layer of shrimps, tidbits and gelatin, and harden. Do this until the molds are full. Chill. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise garnish. Serves eight.*

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., and while the pastor will be away for a few days, if conditions are such that he can, there will be services at the morning hour.

The league will meet at 7:30 p. m., and preaching at 8:15 p. m. We shall have an out of town man to conduct one of the services Sunday and the other by local talent, so there will be no services omitted if the pastor leaves. We shall leave it with the members of the church about the prayer services on this Wednesday night and it might be a good time for the church to have a general round up of many things that need to be done.

At the services Sunday night we had a set of our missionary slides showing what the Sunday school work is doing in the foreign fields and these figures were presented on one slide. In the United States there are four out of every five people not in Sunday school at all. In North America there are 13,400,000 receiving no religious instruction of any kind. One half of the people of the world do not yet know that Jesus ever came to earth.

There are yet two more months and a half until the annual conference and we are still hoping for a good closing of the year and with the New Deal, NRA and the rain and crop outlook now we should rally for our best.—E. C. RABEY, Pastor.

DESCRIBES FARM ADJUSTMENT PLAN

Agricultural College President Says Federal Program Seeks to Coordinate Production with Reduced Exports

The Federal farm adjustment program is partly guided by the belief that export of agricultural commodities will not soon recover its volume of five or ten years ago, in the opinion of F. D. Farrell, President Kansas Agricultural College, writing in the August issue of the American Bankers Association Journal.

"Nobody knows whether the farm adjustment program will succeed," writes Mr. Farrell. "It sponsors desire to socialize agriculture at least to the extent that farmers, in what is believed to be the public interest, will restrain their production activities and that processors, distributors and consumers will contribute something toward paying farmers the existing restraint. The adjustment programs definitely are based on the fact that prices are determined primarily by supply and demand. They also are based on the assumption that the export business in agricultural commodities will not soon return to its volume of five or ten years ago.

Dependence on Public Support
 "The plan offers wheat price insurance for 1933, 1934 and 1935, for the domestically consumed portion of the wheat crop. The insured price is to be sufficiently high to give the domestically consumed portion of the wheat crop pre-war purchasing power. If the plan is as effective as its sponsors hope it will be, the reduction in supply may influence wheat prices so that the entire wheat crop will have pre-war purchasing power.

"If the adjustment program succeeds, its launching probably will mark the end of an era of extreme individualism in agriculture in the United States," says Mr. Farrell.

"Recent fundamental changes led Secretary Wallace to say, 'What we really have to do is to change the whole psychology of the people of the United States.' This is a large order. It involves the whole program of farm adjustment as well as the larger national program, of which the farm adjustment is a part. If the people decline to participate in the program to the extent necessary to give the experiment a fair trial, we shall never know whether such adjustment as now proposed would have succeeded or not if it had been given a fair trial."

BANKERS PREPARE FARM FINANCE BOOK

Tells Bankers and Farmers What to Consider in Making Sound Loans

A book on "Making Farm Investment Safe" has been prepared by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, summarizing material published by it during the past ten years. It presents a compendium of scientific facts, practice and experience in farming, with timely and helpful suggestions to serve as a reference and guide in the daily routine of banking and farming. From its practical experts in these fields can obtain an idea as to what extent and in what manner farm loans should be limited by soil erosion, weeds, plant diseases, rodents and fire hazards, etc.

The book also indicates how much is added to the security of a farm loan by the farmer who keeps accounts and practices good business methods, as well as the extent to which loans are safeguarded by crop rotation, production of legumes, judicious use of commercial fertilizers, the use of quality seed and the providing of home grown feeds.

Another section sets forth the precautions that should be exercised by both the banker and farmer when negotiating loans to increase or improve dairy production, or beef, sheep, swine or poultry production, as well as what factors should be considered in the economic marketing of products and the way efficiency in production affects efficiency in marketing. Many other everyday details of farm life that have a practical financial significance are treated in the book. A particular important section deals with experience with farm leases and another with directed farm credit.

Banks Make Best Record in R. F. C. Loans Repayments.

Among the loans of $2,819,000,000 made by the Federal Government through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the highest percentage of repayments, official reports show, has been made by the banks, indicating the return of stability as the chief unsettling element of public fear has been lifted from them.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has authorized cash advances, fully secured by bank collateral, to 6,278 banks since it began operations in February, 1932, and made actual disbursements to them in the amount of $1,221,878,000. Of this amount, however, $545,073,000, or over 44 per cent, has been repaid by the banks. All other classes of borrowers combined had repaid about 15 per cent of their loan.

WHAT BANKING WENT THROUGH

By JOHN H. PUBLICHER
 American Bankers Association

BANKING in its long career has been compelled to withstand many serious shocks, but it ran into the most serious of its professional entanglements of its whole history since the general breakdown in values in 1929. The commercial structure of the entire world seemed to have been shaken from its foundations and the marvel is that the banker, with everything breaking down around him, was able to come through as he has.

General business failures, agricultural stagnation, income losses, capital and credit shortages, and therefore liabilities of bankers to pay back depositors when loans were not paid, were the reasons, in most instances, for the bank failures.

No profession, no department of life is without its weaker elements, but had proper consideration been given to the relatively few instances in banking that had exaggerated and startling headlines been kept in true proportion, had banking not been used as a target for political self-seeking and with vote-seeking motives, bank-founded rumors nor been spread the people's confidence might have been retained and financial losses, for many bank failures were caused that need not have happened.

There were factors in our banking experience which every earnest banker deplora—factors which many had sought to eliminate, which it was fearfully recognized would aggravate any difficult days which might arise. One of the worst of these was due to political regulation which charged many banks that should never have been chartered.

That there have been incompetence and dishonesty in banking is admitted. That the instances that did occur were used as a basis to increase fear in the public mind, we affirm. We shall continue to strive for higher attainments in our profession and strive for laws that require competence and ability in management. That we cannot legislate honesty and usefulness into either a banker or a borrower must be conceded, but dishonesty, wherever it should be punished, it is as true in banking as elsewhere that no matter how good the law, dishonest and incompetent men can make it ineffectual, even though it is essential. We must strive for ever better ones, but their enforcement will come only as the public recognizes that it is a matter not of laws or codes alone but of the men who administer them.

The Public's Part
 Our people must be brought to realize that the welfare of our country depends upon the banking system, that the strength of the banking system depends upon the public's faith and understanding and the vast majority of banks, because of faithful service rendered, even through the whole of a general breakdown, had the right to expect the trust and confidence of the people.

In every great catastrophe, no matter what its nature, no matter what its cause, someone must be crucified. The banker was this time selected. In the late 90's, political agitation started a tirade against the railroads. Some railroads may have done reprehensible things, but the agitation became so general and so violent as almost to destroy one of the fundamental factors in the progress of a country. Today the same thing has been done to the banker. In spite of all that has happened, the fact remains that even most of the banks which failed are paying out infinitely better than are investments in almost anything else.

Bankers Aiding Agriculture

State associations of bankers in many agricultural states are giving time and financial support to encourage practices among their farmers that will bring about better farm results. The major activities reported from one state to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association which is nationally active in promoting this line of cooperation are as follows:

1. Drought relief work: Local banks have played a vital part in this work, being represented on the county committees for passing on all seed loans. These committees met practically every day during the spring to pass the loans in order to get an quick action as possible. A total of 914 applications were received and handled by one committee, 833 being granted.

2. Four-H Club work: Bankers helped stimulate 4-H Club work, financing many members who otherwise could not have enrolled. They also helped finance fifteen 4-H Club demonstrations in the state.

3. Livestock feeding: The banks cooperated with the Extension Service in the state and the railroads in increasing the amount of livestock feeding. Assistance was given the feeders in securing finances for their feeding operations.

4. Crop improvement: The bankers took part in the crop standardization program of the Extension Service and encouraged the farmers to use pure seed and in many cases made loans for this purpose.

MOTHER'S COOK BOOK DISHES THAT ARE DIFFERENT

THE following chicken salad with hot biscuit, dessert and coffee will make a complete luncheon menu: Chicken Fruit Salad. Cut cooked chicken into strips, using two cupfuls of chicken, one cupful of celery cut the same way and one cupful of orange sections. Pile on lettuce, top with mayonnaise which has been enriched with cream and top with the orange sections as they will crush when mixed with the salad.

Spanish Sauce. Prepare a white sauce, using two tablespoonsfuls of butter and the same of flour, one teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper. Melt the butter, add the flour and stir until well blended. Remove from the heat and add the milk gradually, using one and one-half cupfuls of top milk. Cook, stirring until the sauce boils, add seasonings and one small can of pinnetoes finely chopped. This recipe makes one and one-half cupfuls of sauce and lends a piquant flavor which is quite foreign.

Maple Bavarian Cream. Take two-thirds of a cupful of maple syrup, the yolks of two eggs, two tablespoonsfuls of gelatin, four tablespoonsful of cold water, one-half pint of whipped cream and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Soak the gelatin in the cold water. Heat the maple syrup to boiling, add the softened gelatin, add to the beaten egg a little at a time, let stand until beginning to thicken, then beat for a few minutes, fold in the whipped cream and flavoring. Pour into a mold and cool.

Sardine Salad. Take one-half cupful of sardines, skinned, boned and shredded, mix with the juice of half a lemon, add one-half cupful of stuffed celery hearts, one-half cupful of stuffed olives cut fine, mix all and add mayonnaise and serve on lettuce. Garnish with nuts.

Sardine Mayonnaise. Skin and bone three sardines, wash and mix with the cooked yolks of three eggs and add to the sardines; work until smooth, then add to one cupful of mayonnaise dressing.
