U.S.-IRAN

- Reagan and said it would be a mistake for Iranian leaders to await his inauguration in hopes of a better deal to free the American hostages. He said he would offer his help to President Carter in any way to win their release.

TRANSITION

- Reagan is organizing a bipartisan transition team and said there "could very well" be one or more Democratic members of the administration. He declined to speculate on appointments, including whether he might name Henry Kissinger as secretary of state.

U.S.-SOVIET

- Reagan said Richard V. Allen has rejoined him after temporarily stepping aside as foreign policy adviser late in the campaign amid allegations of wrongdoing.

BAKER

- Reagan said he expects Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee, a moderate and former rival of Reagan for the GOP presidential nomination primary season, to become majority leader of the Senate. "His position is solid." Reagan said.

 Reagan said his first priority will be winning congressional approval of his economic proposals, including a 10 percent cut in tax rates.

 Reagan promised an open presidency, and said he will consider the views of all Americans, including fundamentalist Christian groups that helped him win the White House. WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices jumped 0.8 percent in October, equal to a 10.6 percent compound annual rate, and the nation's unemployment figure edged up one notch to 7.6 percent, the government reported today.

October's jump in the Producer Price Index contrasted markedly with September's 0.2 percent dip. The increase was fueled by rising automobile prices and significant boosts in the cost of sugar, meat and other foods, the Labor Department said.

Prime rate jumps again

NEW YORK (AP) — The prime lending rate stood today at 15.5 percent, its highest level since May, but one of the nation's top banks said the latest increase did not necessarily mean the key lending rate will continue to climb in the months to come.

The rate has been inching upward since August. On Thursday, following the lead of No. 3 Chase Manhattan Bank, bankers across the country raised the rate from 14.5, where it stood after a one-half percent boost last week.

The jump — sparked by sharp increases in banks' cost of acquiring funds - was the largest single-day rise since it rose a full percentage point, to 14.5, on Oct. 19, 1979.

In the last three months the prime rate has climbed 3½ points. Chase said the jump does not ensure the prime rate will keep rising in the near future. It attributed Thursday's increase to rises in its cost of acquiring funds, adding, "Indeed, this increase does not fully reflect the increased cost of funds to Chase."

The rise in open-market rates was underscored Thursday when the rate on federal funds — uncommitted re-serves that banks lend one another rose as high as 15.5 percent.

In addition, banks are paying nearly a full percent more on six-month savings certificates as of Thursday. The rates on those certificates, which are an important source of banks' funds, are tied to the discount rate on Treasury bills, In the government's latest auction, the discount rate jumped to 13.269 percent from 12.284 percent.

When banks' cost of acquiring money goes up, they usually respond by raising their lending rates. The prime rate applies to loans taken out by a bank's top-rated corporate customers, while other businesses pay even higher rates.

The prime does not apply to consumer loans but is considered a key guidepost of trends in all kinds of interest rates. When the prime changes, other rates often move in the

Money left on desk stolen

ODESSA - Deputies for the Ector County Sheriff's Department this morning were continuing their investigation into the theft of a large sum of money from an Ector County business Thursday.

Details were sketchy, however. Deputies said employees of Odessa Block and Supply, 2500 W. 42nd St., were counting money on a desk inside the building a little after 1 p.m. Thursday. They reportedly left the money on the desk and walked into the back part of the business.

Another man who was not employed by the business was in the building at the time, deputies said.

When the employees realized what they had done, they rushed back to the front, but the other man was hurrying away. The money that had been left on the desk was gone, officers said.

Deputies refused to say how much money was taken in the incident, but said it was in denominations of $20. One report indicated the amount was

Egypt wants news blackout during Rapid Deployment test

United States' new Rapid Deployment Force are to begin next week, but Egypt, site of the exercise, has insisted on a news blackout of the operation.

American officials say they're puzzled. The first of about 1,400 soldiers plus airmen and eight A-7 ground attack planes are to arrive in Egypt Monday. The overall movement from the United States will continue until Wednesday. The Army troops will then move from the Cairo West Airport into the Egyptian desert for 10 days of maneuvers, beginning Nov. 15.

The Pentagon was expected today to announce the operation, which will be the first test of the unit, designed to be dispatched rapidly in case of a

Pentagon officials say they are puzzled about Egyptian reasons for requiring the blackout because Defense Minister Ahmed Badawy gave details of the impending exercise last month in an official Middle East News Agency dispatch. However, the officials acknowledged the Egyptian action could reflect some concern about highlighting the presence of U.S. troops at a time when Arab countries are split over the Iran-Iraq war.

Although the deployment of elements of the 101st Airmobile Division from Fort Campbell, Ky., to Egypt is the first U.S. action of its kind in the Middle East in more than 20 years, senior military officers are cautioning against regarding this as a demonstration of any U.S. ability to project major forces and their equipment over thousands of miles from the United States to the Middle East.

Gen. Volney Warner, who oversees the Rapid Deployment Force, said in a recent interview that "it would be erroneous" to portray the exercise, called "Bright Star," as such a demonstration.

Warner said that, because of a shortage of strategic airlift and sealift, the United States will not be able to project until about 1985 a force big enough to confront a serious Soviet threat to the Middle East-

Persian Gulf area "We need to be able to project at least 21/2 divisions," Warner said. "As things stand, we can't do this now in a timely fashion. At the same time, Warner said that the movement of the infantry battalion, its helicopters and weapons to Egypt and next week's maneuvers with Egyptian forces "is a signal that we can project at least a small force and that we are serious about projecting

Soviets denounce imperialism, warn aggressors during parade

'American imperialism" and warned it would give a "crushing rebuff to any aggressor" as it paraded its military might through snow-whipped Red Square today on the 63rd anniversary of the Bolshevik

The ambassadors of the United States, most of its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Japan and China boycotted the parade, just as they did the May Day celebrations, to protest the Soviet military intervention against anti-communist Moslem rebels in neighboring Afghanistan. Some 5,000 crack troops, backed by tanks, artillery and missiles in tight formation, moved through the brightly decorated square under the gaze of President Leonid I. Brezhnev, Defense Minister Dmitri F. Ustinov and others who stood atop the Lenin Mausoleum in blustery 30-degree temperatures.

Ustinov, in full dress uniform, told the massed soldiers, sailors, airmen and commandos that "the forces of oppression, militarism and aggression and the actions of American imperialism and the aggressive NATO bloc oppose the peace-loving trend in international politics.

He said the world situation demands "constant vigilance and the strengthening of our defense potential," and that the "Soviet armed forces have everything necessary to give a crushing rebuff to any aggressor.'

The military parade, an annual event, appeared to contain no major changes from last year. It involved about 220 vehicles and weaponry ranging from light, and mounted the stand without difficulty, accomair-transportable infantry vehicles to multi-round panied by an aide who stood close by.

MOSCOW (AP) - The Soviet Union denounced rocket launchers and anti-aircraft and surface-tosurface missiles.

As T-72 tanks, the nation's main battle tank, rolled by at about 10 miles per hour, a Moscow radio announcer praised their "strong armor" and said "their crews are well protected from nuclear blast and radiation." The military parade was followed by hundreds of

A huge portrait of Vladimir I. Lenin, the founder of the Soviet state, dominated the square just outside the Kremlin. Red balloons soared overhead and live and recorded marching music reverberated off the walls of the Kremlin and the massive GUM department store nearby.

Brezhnev and other leaders saluted the military marchers — led by 172 youthful drummers — and waved to the mass of civilians. The marchers carried portraits of Soviet officials and escorted floats prais-

Communist warns Polish unions

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Communist Party chief Stanislaw Kania, taking a hard line on the eve of the 63rd anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution in the neighboring Soviet Union, warned Poland's biggest independent union its rejection of a clause affirming party supremacy will not be tolerated.

But a senior adviser to Solidarity, which claims half of Poland's 20 million workers, said it might be impossible to dissuade the rank and file from launching a lengthy nationwide strike Wednesday if the Polish Supreme Court does not remove the clause from the union's charter during an appeal Monday.

"Who is interested, what reasons speak for it, to keep away from statements which determine the socialist character of the Solidarity trade union?" Kania said in a speech delivered Wednesday in Krakow and broadcast nationwide on Thursday.

"I don't know any reason workers' interest would speak for it. This brings harm to Solidarity itself, creates unnecessary tensions, which may raise to. doubts on the purity of intentions" of union leaders, Kazimierz Barcikowski, a member of the party's Central Committee, echoed Kania, saying in a separate speech, "Nobody with common sense can sub mit passively to this dangerous gamble with the fate of our nation and the state.'

Kania's declaration was his first public speech since he and other Polish leaders returned from a lightning trip to Moscow Oct. 30 for a meeting with Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

Following the Kremlin talks, Polish officials and Solidarity leader Lech Walesa agreed to defer a decision on the controversial clause to the Polish Supreme Court.

But Walesa said his group will not compromise on demands that the phrase be removed; if it is not, he says the union will call a strike and that workers will stay off the job "for a week, for a month if we have Solidarity leaders maintain the clause breaches the agreement that ended nationwide strikes last "Today one has to say there are borders which no summer. The pact allowed unions to function free of one can cross. Everybody who hits at socialism hits party control for the first time ever in the Soviet

Stock market loses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took its sharpest drop in almost six weeks Thursday as many banks across the country raised their prime lending rates by a full percentage point. The slide in prices more than cancelled out the market's gains Wednesday following the sweeping Republican victories in the national elections.

Precious-metals stocks were particularly weak as gold prices tumbled in world markets.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had been up 15.96 on Wednesday, fell back 17.75 to 935.41. That marked the average's largest loss since it dropped 18.17 points on Sept. 29.

New York Stock Exchange volume slowed to 48.89 million shares from Wednesday's record total of 84.08 million.

Among the gold and silver stocks, Homestake Mining fell 61/8 to 75 as of the 4 p.m. close in New York; ASA 4½ to 77¾; Dome Mines 7% to 1043/4; Campbell Red Lake 51/4 to 64; Callahan Mining 3 to 30 %, and Hecla Mining 3 % to 38.

The price of gold fell $23.80 to $613.20 an ounce on the Commodity Exchange in New York, while silver dropped 45 cents to $18.52 an ounce.

Investors' attention was beginning to return to the gloomy outlook for inflation and interest rates.

New York's Chase Manhattan Bank raised its prime lending rate Thursday morning from 141/2 to 151/2 percent, and many other large banks quickly matched the increase.

The latest reading on inflation is due Friday with the government's monthly report on producer prices.

Some aerospace issues continued to move up in anticipation of increased military spending under the incoming administration. General Dynamics climbed 3 to 71; Fairchild Industries 13/4 to 31, and LTV % to 15%. LTV led the active list on turnover of more than 1.2 million shares

But Boeing, also active, was down 11/4 at 37; McDonnell Douglas dropped 11/4 to 38 k, and Northrop lost 1 to Oil issues, which also had been standouts on Wednesday, declined broadly. Superior Oil fell 111/2 to 1741/2; Mobil 21/2 to 731/2; Conoco 1 1/2 to 61%, and Getty 1 to 90.

Stocks in the interest-ratesensitive category fared poorly as well. American Telephone & Telegraph was down % at 48%; Great Western Financial 1/2 at 1634, and H.F. Ahmanson 11/4 at 181/4.

Standard & Poor's index of 400 industrials tumbled 2.81 to 147.13, and S&P's 500stock composite index was off 2.42 at 128.91. The daily tally on the # Future of mine is now in doubt

By JAMES R. PEIPERT Associated Press Writer

ROSSING URANIUM MINE, South-West Africa (AP) — This dusty, open-pit uranium mine in the vast emptiness of the Namib Desert is a veritable treasure in an energy-hungry world.

But the multinational companies that work it are accused of plundering on a gigantic scale, and the mine faces an uncertain future as this South African-administered territory moves toward independence as the nation of Namibia.

Foreign journalists were allowed a rare visit recently to Rossing, the world's largest uranium mine, about 44 miles inland from the Atlantic coast town of Swakopmund that was founded by German settlers in 1892.

Last year the huge hole in the desert yielded 4,980 tons of uranium oxide, a greenish-black powder called U-308 which is further refined and enriched elsewhere to power nuclear reactors. It is sold at $28.50 a pound. Mine officials say it will produce its capacity of around 5,000 tons again this year.

The Rossing mine accounts for about 16.6 percent of the non-Communist world's uranium production. Each drum of 704 pounds of U-308 packs the same amount of energy as 23,000 barrels of crude oil. The mine's annual production is equivalent to around 326 million barrels of oil - about half of Britain's annual

The Rossing operation, which reached full production in 1979, has aroused a storm of protest in the United Nations and other international forums on the grounds that South Africa holds the territory illegally and that extraction of its resources thus amounts to grand theft.

South Africa administers it under an old League of Nations mandate conferred in 1920 after South African troops occupied the former German colony in

But the League's successor, the United Nations, repudiated the mandate in 1966 and has given its backing to the South-West African People's Organization, generally known as Swapo. It is led by a

51-year-old former railway clerk, Sam Nujoma. In 1967 the U.N. General Assembly created the U.N. Council for Namibia to prepare the territory for independence. A 1974 decree of the council require's its consent for the export of any Namibian product. Swapo guerrillas use bases in southern Angola to conduct a hit-and-run campaign for control of the territory, which is also rich in diamonds and other minerals but has a population of under a million in a territory nearly four times the size of Britain. Rossing officials claim the mine has another 24 years of profitable production. But its future will depend very much on the protracted negotiations between South Africa and U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim on a U.N.-supervised transition to independence. The timetable for independence has yet to be worked out. "We assume business will continue as usual," said Rossing spokesman Clive Algar when asked about the mine's prospects once Namibia is independent.

But a senior Rossing executive conceded privately that Swapo would most likely defeat the Democratic Turnhalle Alliance, a coalition of local parties set up with the help of South Africa, in a U.N.-supervised election and that there would inevitably be adjustments in the mine's shareholdings.

Top officials of Rio Tinto Zinc Corp., the London-based multinational company which is Rossing's major shareholder, have reportedly held talks with: Swapo representatives on the mine's future. But Nujoma has offered little hope — at least publicly - that the multinationals will be allowed to stay

"Swapo will completely uproot all the colonial institutions created by South Africa and its imperialist allies, including the so-called multinational corporations. They are our enemies," Nujoma was quoted as saying in the February issue of the journal

Rossing executives said, however, that they doubt if a Swapo government could run the complex uranium-extraction process without the capital and expertise of the multinational corporations.

Rossing Uranium, Ltd., was formed in 1970 to extract the low-grade uranium ore in the deposit of granitic rock that was first found to be radioactive in 1929. It took its name from a nearby mountain, a purplish-gray mass of rock that looms over the forbidding sands and hard-packed gravel of the desert floor.

Rio Tinto Zinc, which has worldwide mining experience, was the prime mover in extracting the first uranium oxide in 1976 at a cost in capital outlay of $300 million.

The extraction process involves blasting the ore out of the ground, crushing it to bits with an immense machine like a mortar and pestle, and then using acid baths to leach out a bright yellow pulp called "yellowcake." This is then roasted to produce uranium oxide.

Rio Tinto has a 41.35 percent stake in the mine, and

Rio Algom, Ltd., of Canada — 52 percent owned by

Rio Tinto - has an additional 10 percent. The state-owned South African Industrial Development Corp. owns 13.47 percent, the French consortium Minatome 10 percent and General Mining of South Africa 2.3 percent. The holders of the remainder of the shares "wish to remain unpublicized," said Craig Gibson, a New Zealander who is managing director of Rossing

Uranium, Ltd., based in the territorial capital of Windhoek. Besides those shareholders, Rossing executives refused to discuss — because of South Africa's Atomic Energy Act - such matters as the grade of the mine's ore, who the mine's customers are, or how the black steel barrels of radioactive U-308 are dispatched around the world. The British government acknowledged last March that it has a contract for the delivery of 7,500 tons of Rossing uranium oxide between 1976 and 1982. The

Electricity Generating Board, which uses the uranium in its nuclear reactors. At a United Nations hearing in July on Namibian uranium exports, Wolff Geisler of the West German anti-apartheid movement testified that Rossing U-308 was also bought for nuclear power plants in West Germany, Japan, France, Austria, Iran, the United

Yoko Kitazawa of the Pacific-Asia Resources Center in Tokyo told the same hearing that the Kansai Electric Power Co., second biggest in Japan, has a standing contract with Rossing through its business agent, Mitsubishi Corp., to buy 8,200 tons of Rossing uranium between 1977 and 1986.

Rossing rejects the charges that it is exploiting Namibia. It claims to pump into the local economy more than $71 million a year in wages and payments for goods and services. Rossing has modern medical clinics at Rossing and Swakopmund. Company-built housing is available at very low rent to the work force of around 3,000 and their families - most of them blacks from the Damara, Herero and Ovambo tribes.

Sherman surprise leader in 6-5A

District 6-5A really has been wild ais year. Lewisville, pre-season faforite to win the title and go a long way in the Class AAAAA state playffs again this year, stands 1-2 in the eague and it is Sherman's Bearcats who are on top with a perfect 3-0

Lewisville dropped a 10-6 decision the Bearcats last week and that was one of six misses in 36 games by this corner last weekend. The reason for the interest in 6-5A is the fact that no matter who wins that title, it will have its hands full with the 5-5A champion in the first round of the bi-district playoffs in three weeks.

Sherman only stands 4-4 on the year, but the Bearcats have lost to Plano, Highland Park and Irving in non-district and the rough schedule has done nothing but help Sherman in moving into 6-5A this season.

Anyway, on the year, the record stands 149 correct and 33 incorrect for a percentage of .820. Last week, with the 30-6 record, the percentage was an MIDLAND LEE faces Abilene High in Memorial Stadium tonight and the Warbirds have been tough on the Rebels winning the past two years. Coach Spike Dykes' crew played a fine defensive game last weekend against Odessa Permian and once again, defense will be the difference tonight as the Rebels win, 21-8.

MIDLAND HIGH has a mighty tough chore in Abilene's P.E. Shotwell Stadium tonight in taking on the talented Abilene Cooper Cougars. Quarterback Lanny Dycus will be the difference ina good ball game, probably the best in 5-5A. The Cougars to chalk up a 21-14 victory.

ODESSA HIGH may be looking towards the 5-5A showdown with Odessa Permian Saturday night when the Bronchos play Big Spring in W.T. Barrett Stadium. Johnny Subia and Company will capture their eighth win in nine outings with a 27-7 victory over the Steers.

ODESSA PERMIAN, like OHS. may be looking ahead to next week's shootout with the Bronchos, but the Mojo defense will take care of the San Angelo Central Bobcats in the Concho City tonight, 24-0. Three touchdowns and a field goal will do it as Permian posts its eighth shutout in nine games

OTHER GAMES: Sherman can nail down the 6-5A title with a victory tonight over the Wichita Falls Coyotes. The game is in Sherman and with that I'm going with the Bearcats to win, 14-10. In other games, Denton over Denison, 20-13; Lewisville over Wichita Falls Rider, 27-12; Fort Worth Dunbar and O.D. Wyatt are unbeaten in District 7-5A. Wyatt, 16-0 loser to Permian earlier in the season, will post a 17-14 victory to win the title; Southwest over Trimble Tech, 28-8; Eastern Hills 20, Arlington Heights 14 and Paschal 20, Western Hills 6; Plano and Lake Highlands stand 4-1 in District 13-5A and Plano has already beaten Lake Highlands. The Wildcats will post a 26-6 win over R.L. Turner; Berkner 20, Newman Smith 7; Greenville 14, Lake Highlands 12: Pearce over Richardson, 33-19; Pinkston, Carter and Sunset all share first in 12-5A with 3-1 marks. Carter will knock off Sunset, 20-19; Pinkston 30, Kimball 17; W.T. White over Thomas Jefferson, 32-13; South Oak Cliff is 5-0 and Roosevelt 4-0 in 11-5A. South Oak Cliff is open this week and Roosevelt will take a 24-14 win over Spruce; Samuell 20, Bryan Adams 0; Skyline over Woodrow Wilson, 21-8; Highland Park 33, Lakeview Centennial 0; Garland over North Mesquite, 23-20; South Garland 21, Wilmer-Hutchins 8; L.D. Bell stands 5-0 and Trinity Euless 4-1 in 9-5A. Bell will beat Irving, maybe, 20-19, and Trinity will take a 27-14 win over MacArthur to bring the up the title game next week between Trinity and Bell for a state playoff berth. Other 9-5A games, Duncanville 26, Grand Prairie 12; South Grand Prairie 30, Nimitz 16; Richland and Arlington tangle for the District 8-5A title tonight. Going with Richland to take a 22-21 victory; Bowie over Haltom, 20-13 and Lamar over Burleson, 26-13. Arlington Sam Houston stands 3-2 and is open this week.

Andrews eyes 2-4A title

By MIKE CRUVER Sports Writer

Andrews of District 2-AAAA has the chance to clinch its district crown with a win tonight in Sporting a 6-0 district mark and 8-0 season record, Andrews hosts the second-place Sweetwater Mustangs, who carry a 5-2 district record and are 6-3 overrall. Sweetwater is the only team with any hope of wrestling away Andrews' title aspirations; but those chances appear very slight with only two weeks left in the season. Tonight's game is the last of the regular season for Sweetwater.

For Andrews to drop the district crown, it would have to lose to Sweetwater this week then drop its last game of the regular season to Snyder (2-4, 2-6)

UNDEFEATED Rankin, a District 6-A power, is another squad looking to nail down a playoff berth. The Red Devils, ranked third in the Harris Rating System, can clinch a playoff spot with a win over Grandfalls tonight. To close the regular season Rankin travels to Buena Vista.

Reagan Country travels to Mason in an attempt to stop the Puncher express. Mason can claim a playoff berth with a win over the Owls in the District 9-AA outing. Crane, 1-7, 1-0, and Denver City stand on top of the four-team District 6-AAA race after the first weekend of district play. Crane travels to Seminole (1-7, 0-1) while Denver City hosts Coahoma.

STANTON, with the weekend off, will be playing a lot of attention to the Seagraves-Plains match in Seagraves tonight. A Seagraves victory would assure Stanton of a tie for the District 5-AA title. The Buffs could take the title outright with a win over Ropes Nov. 14.

Should Plains get by Seagraves the Cowboys would claim the district title no matter what the Buffs did against Ropes. Because Plains gained 11 first downs to Stanton's 10 in their 0-0 tie two weeks ago, the Cowboys would take the title.

Over in District 6-AA, McCamey (7-2, 1-0) is favored to take the district championship. The Badgers opened the district race with a 35-13 win over Marfa last Friday and is tied with Clint for the top rung in the four-team league. Van Horn journeys to McCamey tonight then the Badgers close out the season with a game at Clint.

One area school just playing out the season in District 2-AAAA is Lamesa. Tonight the Golden Tornadoes travel to Ector. Both teams are mired in the bottom half of the district standings.

Import drop cuts U.S. trade deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) - A continuing decline in oil imports to the lowest level in more than five years cut the U.S. trade deficit in the third quarter by 65 percent, the Commerce Department said today.

The value of exports increased 3.1 percent during the July-September period, to a record $56.4 billion, with higher prices accounting for the entire $1.7 billion change. Imports fell 5 percent, or $3 billion, to $59.1 billion.
That produced a deficit of $2.7 billion, lowest since a $1.9 billion gap in the third quarter of 1976. The third-quarter deficit compared with a re-vised $7.6 billion in the second three months of the year.

The figures are seasonally adjusted and computed on a balance-of-payments basis, which excludes military trade of U.S. defense agencies.

Oil imports dropped $3.7 billion, or 18 percent, to $17.2 billion, even though prices increased. The department said the average price of a 42-gallon barrel of oil rose to $31.43 from $30.84 in the second quarter. Just nine months ago, the average was $23.67 a barrel. The average number of barrels imported each day fell 19 percent, to 6.06 million from 7.44 million. That was the lowest daily average since the 5.80 million mark recorded in the second quarter of 1975. The decline in oil imports was attributed to conservation, lower industri-al use of oil because of the recession and an oil glut. Imports other than petroleum in-creased 2 percent, to $41.9 billion in the third quarter. The increase was attributed entirely to higher prices rather than higher volume.

Exports of U.S. farm products were up 12 percent, to $10.9 billion, and volume rose 6 percent. The average

Page Court hears arguments

LOS ANGELES (AP) - A federal appeals court heard arguments Wednesday in an unusual antitrust suit charging the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries with price fixing.

The suit, originally filed by the International Association of Machinists, was thrown out of court last summer by U.S. Distrist Judge A. Andrew Hauk, who ruled he did not have jurisdiction over the OPEC countries.

The union then asked the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeal to overrule the lower court.

The IAM contends price-fixing in this country should fall under U.S. jurisdiction.

"It went really very well," IAM attorney James Davis said after Wednesday's arguments. "We finally got down to the question of whether what the OPEC countries do is commercial. The other side contends it is not commercial. 'We contend that they price fix and that that's commercial."

None of the OPEC countries has responded to the suit, but the Indonesian Chamber of Commerce has ar-gued against the IAM action, which seeks an injunction against price fixing by the 11 OPEC members.

The appeals court can uphold Hauk's decision, order a rehearing or take action on its own, Davis said.
