Emergency declared in Florida by Carter as influx continues

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — President Carter today declared a state of emergency in Florida where officials were processing almost 18,000 refugees, including many who never asked to leave their homeland.

The president issued the order in Washington less than 24 hours after getting the request from Gov. Bob Graham. The action is designed to speed federal assistance to areas impacted by the mass migration of Cubans.

Meanwhile, officials say the exodus of Cubans in the "Freedom Flotilla" has evolved into the deportation of criminals and others who dissatisfy the Cuban government.

"These people aren't emigrating, they're being deported," a U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service officer said late Monday.

Federal officials said this morning that 3,594 Cubans had arrived in a 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. That pushed the total since the boatlift began to 17,636.

There was no end in sight to the influx as refugees spilled into Key West on Monday at a rate of up to 300 per hour. The Coast Guard estimated that more than 2,000 small boats piloted by Cuban-Americans, many of whom were trying to pick up relatives, still were tied up at the Cuban port of Mariel.

"There's only one man who knows how long this is going to go on, and we are in no direct communication with him," said William Trauth, spokesman for the Federal Emergency Management Agency. "I'm referring to the guy in Havana with the big cigar." He was talking about Cuban President Fidel Castro.

At Elgin Air Force Base in North Florida, where a refugee processing center and "tent city" was set up last week, officials were preparing to allow the first of the Cubans who had been given clearance to leave today. The refugees were checked for criminal backgrounds and health problems.

President Carter pledged Monday to accept thousands more Cuban refugees and said he welcomed them with "open arms and an open heart." But one new arrival, fresh from a Cuban jail cell, said he wasn't sure he wanted to stay in the United States.

"My wife and two sons are still in Cuba. I don't know if they know I'm here," said Jorge Castillo, adding he may ask to go back if his family can't join him.

Castillo, jailed in Cuba under a "dangerous persons" category that includes draft dodgers and homosexuals, is one of a growing number of prison inmates among the refugees, immigration officials say.

To prove the point, an INS officer walked along a row of refugees waiting for meals, snatching their passports and asking, "Why were you in prison?"

Two of every three admitted being in jail. Some said they were thieves, one a pimp and one homosexual, but most said they were jailed for political crimes.

The INS officers say about 20 percent of the most recent arrivals were jailed for "serious crimes." They said they have passed their observations along to the "appropriate federal agencies." More than 150 refugees suspected of being criminals have been detained in processing centers in South Florida and at Elgin.

Forty-six refugees were sent to a federal prison camp at Talladega, Ala., but camp spokesman Bill Key said he did not know if they were suspected of being criminals. He said processing centers were overcrowded and the prison had some extra beds.

Carter's decision to accept an unlimited number of refugees marked a turnabout in federal policy toward the boatlift, which entered its third week today. The administration had tried to no avail to discourage the operation by threats of legal action and appeals to Cuban-American leaders. When a plan was first worked out for the migration of 10,000 Cubans who took refuge at the Peruvian Embassy in Havana, the United States said it would take 3,500 refugees from the embassy.

But thousands of other Cubans have been crowding aboard the boats of the "Freedom Flotilla" for the 90-mile trip across the Florida Straits.

For the last week, INS officers said, Cuban authorities have handpicked four refugees — many of them criminals — for every one relative turned over to the exile fleet at Mariel.

At Elgin Air Force Base, more tents were going up and efforts to relocate thousands of Cuban refugees at that Northwest Florida base went into high gear today after three days of shuttle flights swelled the makeshift "tent city" beyond capacity.

Officials were matching security and medical clearances with offers of jobs and homes throughout the country in hopes of moving some refugees out of the center by late today to make room for more being flown in from Key West, Fla.

"We have the sponsorships. All we need are the clearances today and tomorrow," said Janice Pittman, regional director of the U.S. Catholic Conference, the principal organization arranging for the relocations.

By Monday night, the tent city population had reached 2,000. Another 400 to 500 refugees were being sheltered temporarily at a base gymnasium and a large hangar.

An influx of about 1,500 Monday outstripped the round-the-clock construction of rows of 18-foot by 52-foot tents, each housing 25 to 35 refugees, on the 42-acre site.

"Tent building is the No. 1 priority here because it looks like a big effort is being made to get the people out of bad conditions in Key West into better conditions here," said Maj. John Toner, Elgin public affairs officer.

One takeover ended British pull daring rescue

LONDON (AP) — British commandos swung down ropes from the roof of the Iranian Embassy and in a paralyzing hail of explosives and gunfire killed four Arab-Iranian terrorists, captured two others and rescued 19 hostages to end a six-day siege.

"It's a victory, lads!" shouted a British hostage, BBC soundman Sim Harris, grinning and punching the air.

Meanwhile, a senior government minister said today Britain hopes that its commando rescue of the captives Monday may encourage Iran to free the 53 Americans held hostage by Iranian militants since Nov. 4.

"I hope it may lead those concerned in Iran, not just the government, to think afresh about this — to realize that the rules about diplomats and embassies and so on are not just luxuries," Foreign Office Minister of State Douglas Hurd said in a British Broadcasting Corp. radio interview.

Hurd, who was involved in weekend talks with Arab ambassadors about the six-day siege, said the rescue had improved relations between Britain and Iran.

However, he foresaw no formal mediator's role for Britain in Iran's dispute with the United States but added that if "there's anything we can do usefully I'm sure we will."

Home Secretary William Whitelaw said the daring assault Monday night, ordered after the terrorists murdered two Iranian hostages and threatened to kill another every half-hour, showed "we in Britain are not prepared to tolerate terrorism."

Whitelaw said he ordered the raid after the gunmen dumped the body of the embassy's press attaché, Abbas Lavasani, 25, out the embassy's front door shortly after 7 p.m.

"It was clear that failure to take further action was going to cost lives," the home secretary told a news conference.

Six or eight commandos from the Special Air Services set off a deafening explosion from the roof of the five-story town house just off Hyde Park at 7:23 p.m. Apparently it was a "stun grenade" — used by the West Germans to capture a hijacked airliner in Somalia in 1977 — to immobilize the gunmen. The commandos lowered themselves on ropes to the second floor of the building, both front and back, threw more explosives in the windows and then stormed in with automatic weapons blazing. At least eight of the men were inside within 40 seconds.

Flames and smoke poured from the building.

Newspaper reports said highly sensitive microphones had been lowered down chimneys of the building to pinpoint the location of the hostages.

The 19 persons freed included 16 Iranians, five of them women, and three British men. Two men on stretchers appeared to be unconscious. Others were treated for cuts or shock. But most of them were released from St. Stephens Hospital in Chelsea and taken to a secret location overnight for rest and questioning.

None of the commandos was injured, but one of the captured terrorists was reportedly badly wounded.

The Britons rescued were a clerk on the embassy staff, a policeman on duty there when the terrorists captured the building last Wednesday, and the BBC soundman who with his producer was applying for a visa.

The producer was among five hostages released earlier.

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, who watched the rescue as it was broadcast live on television, visited the commandos and congratulated them.

Rescuers' bodies en route to U.S.

By The Associated Press

The bodies of the American servicemen killed in the aborted hostage rescue attempt in Iran were headed home today, 11 days after the mission collapsed in fiery failure in the eastern Iranian desert.

The remains were transferred to U.S. custody after arriving in Zurich, Switzerland, aboard a regular Swissair flight from Tehran. They then were placed aboard a U.S. Air Force C-141 transport plane that took off for Dover Air Force Base, Del.

U.S. officials say eight men died in the Iran mission, but the Iranians have variously said nine or 10 bodies had been recovered.

In Tehran, meanwhile, the newspaper Kayhan reported that an American woman had been arrested as an alleged CIA spy. She was not identified.

Iran's militia-like revolutionary guards contend they have documents proving that the woman was working for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, Kayhan said. The Iranian Foreign Ministry asked that she be handed over to its custody, it was reported.

In Washington, State Department spokesman said they were unfamiliar with the report and could not comment on it.

The transfer of the American servicemen's remains took place in a document-signing ceremony at a Zurich airport hangar.

Greek Catholic Archbishop Hilarion Capudji, who accompanied the coffins from Tehran, formally transferred the remains to Swiss government and International Red Cross officials, who then passed them on to U.S. Ambassador Richard Vine.

Confusion persisted over the number of bodies. The United States has maintained consistently that eight men died in the April 25 rescue bid and has named them. But the Iranian official who supervised the recovery of the bodies said originally nine had been found, and last week Tehran Radio said a 10th body had been recovered from the desert site where the rescue mission was aborted.

Capudji, speaking with reporters in Zurich, said the Iranians told him the nine coffins he was escorting contained nine bodies.

NEA president endorses Carter during visit here

By DAVID CAMPBELL
Staff Writer

Amid the capella fanfare, red carpet and West Texas smiles, Willard McGuire, president of the National Education Association, came to the Midland-Odessa area Monday bearing news about education, teachers and the association's endorsement of President Carter.

The leader of the nation's powerful education lobbying group, which actively supported the creation of the Department of Education, heartily endorsed another term of office for Carter in Monday's press conference at Midland Regional Airport.

McGuire noted Carter is a pro-education president because of his opposition to tuition tax credit which, according to the NEA president, would have been damaging to public education and Carter's enrolling his daughter, Amy, in a public school.

Also McGuire said the NEA supported the Texas State Teachers Association's bill to guarantee collective bargaining for teachers.

"We (NEA) are working at the national level for a federal collective bargaining bill," he said. The NEA will be working "hand-in-hand" with TSTA to get a similar bill passed at the state level, he added.

The occasion of McGuire's visit to the area was to address the Ector County Teachers Association at a banquet honoring TSTA's 100th birthday.

At the press conference, the NEA president addressed issues which were of national and regional importance.

McGuire deemed federal support of education a necessity because of increasing pressures on the state and the school districts to come up with funds to support education. He noted that because of inflation the cost of education is increasing in non salary items such as paper costs, transportation costs and so forth.

Since teachers have had to pay for those costs through low salaries, he said, the only way to meet the monetary demands of education is by increasing the sources of revenue.

And the federal government through taxes is the best way for providing those resources, he said.

Regarding today's educational climate, McGuire said 90 percent of the students graduate from high school, whereas a generation ago only half of the students graduated.

But there is a narrowing of the curricular and extracurricular activities, he said, when there should be an increase because there is a wider range of interests and abilities in those areas than ever before in public schools.

The NEA takes no position on educating children of undocumented aliens, McGuire said, except that of providing free, quality, public education to all children in the United States.

The problem of documentation is not the students' fault, he said, and should not be a reason to deprive them of an education.

There is no uniform agreement in the states regarding bilingual education, McGuire said. However, he opposes the view that the goal of bilingual education should be to get non-English speaking children to adopt English as their primary language.

The NEA believes that bilingual education is very necessary to the (non English-speaking) student so that he can obtain his highest potential (in education) and still keep the customs and language of his culture," the NEA president said.

Competency testing for teachers is another area which McGuire opposes. Criticizing the system used by colleges and the state to certify teachers as competent, he said teachers should not be faulted for using that system.

However, McGuire agreed with the competency testing of students in the basic skills — reading, writing and arithmetic, adding students are being sensitized by the increased frequency of tests administered in public schools.

The New York "truth in testing" law and the close public scrutiny of college entrance examinations is a good action, according to McGuire. Although the NEA does not favor abandoning testing, he said the group condemns the use of testing data as

A companion who will never leave you

If you love Me, obey Me; and I will ask the Father and He will give you another Comforter, and He will never leave you.

He is the Holy Spirit, the Spirit who leads into all truth. The world at large cannot receive Him, for it isn't looking for Him and doesn't recognize Him. But you do, for He lives with you now and some day shall be in you.

No, I will not abandon you or leave you as orphans in the storm—I will come to you.

In just a little while I will be gone from the world, but I will still be present with you. For I will live again—and you will too.

When I come back to life again, you will know that I am in My Father, and you in Me, and I in you.

The one who obeys Me is the one who loves Me; and because he loves Me, My Father will love him; and I will too, and I will reveal Myself to him."

Judas, (not Judas Iscariot, but His other disciple with that name) said to Him, "Sir, why are You going to reveal Yourself only to us disciples and not to the world at large?"

Jesus replied, "Because I will only reveal Myself to those who love Me and obey Me. The Father will love them too, and We will come to them and live with them.

Despite loss, Hightower says Texas voters haven't seen the last of him

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Jim Hightower says Texans can expect to see and hear more of him in the future despite his loss to Jim Nugent in Saturday's race for railroad commissioner.

"We are not going to go away," said Hightower, who drew 48 percent of the Democratic primary vote while spending only about a third as much campaign money as Nugent, an incumbent commissioner.

Is he spoiling for a rematch with Nugent, who must run again in two years if he wants to stay on the Texas Railroad Commission?

"I'm not saying no. I'm not saying yes. I'm kind of tired today," Hightower said at a news conference Monday.

He said he intends to work on enlarging a "populist" coalition of minorities, union members, old people, small businessmen and farmers that he said brought him nearly to victory.

The coalition helped him carry Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Lufkin, Tyler and Marshall, among other places, he said.

"While we fell short of winning, we rallied a constituency in Texas that is not going to go away. . . . We showed you can run on the issues. We showed you can run against the moneyed establishment. We showed that populism works in Texas," the former editor of the Texas Observer said. "We can build a winning coalition."

He said Nugent's accusation that Hightower's support came from "Yankees and radicals" was "hate rhetoric."

"I don't think there are 570,000 radicals in America, much less Texas," Hightower said in a reference to the number of votes he received.

Hightower said he was pleased that Nugent's commission colleague,

John Poerner, fell to Rep. Buddy Temple of Diboll in the primary although Temple never drew the kind of commission vs. consumers line in the dust that Hightower did.

Carroll concedes

TEMPLE, Texas (AP) — Lawyer James Lee Carroll, who at one point during election night received victory congratulations from Gov. Bill Clements, conceded defeat Monday in his race for state senator.

Carroll, of Temple, announced he would not seek a recount of the 28,839 to 28,055 tally that gave the Democratic primary victory to Rep. John Wilson of La Grange.

Wilson and Carroll tangled in a 13-county district to succeed Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado; who chose to run for Congress instead of another term in the Legislature.

Wilson went over the top when late returns showed majorities of as much as four-to-one, with a heavy turnout, in counties he had represented in the House.

Congratulations to all

Congratulations are in order to all the winners of the Democratic and Republican Party primaries Saturday.

The elections marked virtually the end of the campaign trail this year for candidates who will have no opponent in the November general election. For others, however, the elections were only the beginning of the campaign.

The primary elections are always exciting because of the involvement of the citizenry they entail. We have an opportunity to witness the true grassroots of our democratic process in electing officials ranging from precinct offices to nominating the candidates who will represent the Democratic and Republican parties in the race for the presidency.

That system works best when there is widespread, active involvement on the part of the citizens in any particular community such as Midland. It's important to get involved in our political system because without the involvement of a majority of Americans we end up with a situation in which a small percentage of the citizens elect the leaders who represent all of us.

The 12,000-plus residents of Midland County who took the time to go to the polls Saturday and cast their ballots are indicative of the high level of civic involvement felt by Midlanders. Those 12,000-plus voters represent about a third of the total voter bloc in Midland County. Getting a third of the qualified voters in any given community to the polls on a rainy, dreary election day speaks highly of that community's spirit of civic involvement.

In the contested races locally, congratulations are in order for C. DeWayne Davis, who won the Democratic nomination for commissioner of Precinct 3; Alexandra Morris, who won the Republican nomination for commissioner of Precinct 3; Robert Rendall, winner of the Republican nomination for Midland County attorney; John Biggs, winner of the Democratic nomination for Precinct 1, Place 1, peace justice; Charlie Sprayberry, Republican nomination for Precinct 1, Place 1, peace justice; Charlie Jones, Democratic nomination for constable, Precinct 1; and Darrell Smith, re-election as Midland County's Democratic Party chairman.

All the races were handled in a respectable fashion, to the merit of the candidates and those who sought nomination in Saturday's elections are to be commended for offering themselves as candidates. They have made the political system work well in Midland County.

Now we can all look toward the November general election with heightened interest and a stronger sense of community pride.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Tuesday, May 6, the 127th day of 1980. There are 239 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On May 6, 1936, the German dirigible, "Hindenburg," exploded and burned on landing at Lakehurst, N.J., killing 36 people.

On this date: In 1889, the Eiffel Tower in Paris officially was opened.

In 1895, the silent movie star, Rudolph Valentino, was born in Italy. In 1941, Josef Stalin became premier of the Soviet Union, succeeding V.M. Molotov. Stalin already was head of the Communist Party.

Ten years ago, Interior Secretary Walter Hickel warned President Nixon that his administration — and Vice President Agnew in particular — was contributing to revolt and anarchy in America by attacking the nation's youth.

Five years ago, President Ford, angered by American opposition to South Vietnamese resettlements in the United States, appealed to the nation to welcome the war-weary refugees.

Last year, at least 70,000 people massed at the Capitol in Washington for a rally protesting nuclear power.

Today's birthdays: Actor-director Orson Welles is 65. Retired baseball great Willie Mays is 49. Author Theodore White is 65.

INSIDE REPORT:

Vance's departure heightens U.S.-Soviet war risk

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Several congressmen were stunned to hear quiet-spoken Mrs. Anatoly Dobrynin, wife of the Soviet ambassador, remark at a small dinner recently that the resignation of Secretary of State Cyrus Vance could "heighten" the risk of U.S.-Soviet war.

Mrs. Dobrynin based her concern on this fact: Vance's resignation ended the main channel of confidential negotiations between Washington and Moscow. She worries that with Vance gone, there is no one — certainly not Zbigniew Brzezinski, President Carter's national security adviser who is despised by Moscow — to keep talks going.

Actually, Vance's departure opens up a possible new avenue of U.S.-Soviet communications long recommended by U.S. experts worried that Dobrynin's 18-year residence here and his diplomatic skills give the Kremlin an edge over the U.S. That avenue is to move the contact out of Washington and into Moscow, letting the U.S. Embassy handle the tough talk and bypassing the wily Dobrynin.

SCOOPE AND BILLY SHOW
 Stonewalling tactics by Carter administration officials who briefed the Senate Armed Services Committee April 25 on the failed Iranian rescue operation has resurrected the bipartisan coalition against SALT II led by Sens. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and William Cohen of Maine. Both were outraged when officials refused to give them the time of day at the supposedly top-secret briefing when they asked about the rationality and feasibility of the Iranian operation. The two senators stormed from the briefing before it was over and voiced their complaints, side by side, before television cameras.

Jackson, 67, one of the Senate's most senior Democrats, and Cohen, 39, a freshman Republican, worked closely together in attacking the arms limitation treaty (SALT II). Now they will collaborate in a forthcoming armed services committee hearings to probe the Iranian operation.

MUSKIE'S RIVAL
 The selection of Sen. Edmund Muskie as secretary of state overrode a surprisingly big push from "establishment" foreign policy figures on the East Coast to persuade President Carter to appoint White House Counsel Lloyd Cutler, a Washington super-lawyer.

The campaign fell far short, because — without confiding it to any but his closest aides — Carter had

WASHINGTON-MERRY-GO-ROUND Tip O'Neill was an Abscam priority target

WASHINGTON — House Speaker Tip O'Neill was a high-priority target of the FBI's ABS-CAM investigation, according to sources close to the bribery caper.

In fact, the Massachusetts Democrat was such a tempting possibility that the Justice Department earmarked an unprecedented $75,000 in bribe money for him.

No actual offer was made to O'Neill by the FBI's phony, favor-seeking "Arabs," insiders told my associate Gary Cohn, for the simple reason that they were unable to lure the Speaker into the scam. But there's considerable evidence that they were dead-serious about nailing O'Neill — who has had strong differences with the Carter administration, and whose son is a vocal supporter of Sen. Ted Kennedy for president.

O'Neill's emergence as a target raises new and disturbing questions about the ABS-CAM operation. Justice Department officials have insisted that no members of Congress were pretargeted, or entrapped, but rather that the congressmen themselves made the overtures, usually after being contacted by one of the middlemen used by the FBI.

While it's true that O'Neill's name was first mentioned by one of the go-betweens, it is now clear that the middleman did it only to impress his wealthy "Arab" benefactors with his own importance. The middleman, a New Jersey building contractor named Joseph R. Silvestri, actually didn't know O'Neill at all.

But it's also true that the undercover agents pursued the O'Neill possibility with uncommon enthusiasm. They repeatedly pressed Silvestri to make good on his boast that he could produce O'Neill. They dangled the promise of a $50,000 payoff.

Silvestri, trying to stall the agents until he could find someone to introduce him to the Speaker, suggested that $50,000 wasn't big enough bait for such a big fish. They told him they'd consider a bigger offer, and four or five days later — apparently after checking with Justice Department brass in Washington — they authorized a payment to the Speaker of $75,000.

One of the big mysteries of the ABS-CAM operation is the zeal — or lack of it — that was shown in following up leads that pointed to various government officials. Some leaders were pursued; some were not.

That's what happened in the O'Neill case. Silvestri, trying to appease the FBI agents for his failure to produce O'Neill, offered to introduce them to other officials — including North Carolina Lt. Gov. James Green. The ABS-CAM agents said they weren't interested in Green, who happens to be a prominent member of the Carter re-election campaign in North Carolina.

Instead, they pressured Silvestri again and again to set up a meeting with Speaker O'Neill.

Footnote: Silvestri refused to comment.

DOWN WITH PROFITS: President Carter has directed his anti-inflation program against the wage earners, small businessmen and small farmers. By pressing the Federal Reserve

CHARLEY REESE Consumer responsibility hasn't been lessened

Let me give you a good example of how the radicals in this country are working to undermine the free market economy, or what's left of it.

In the June issue of Mother Jones, a magazine edited for socialists and aimed at the young, hip crowd, there is an article by Karen Branan, a freelance journalist, which claims to expose the fact that neither Ford Motor Co. nor the federal government has acted to correct what the writer alleges is a dangerous defect.

The gameplan from the radical point of view is to convince you that American corporations are heartless, careless, heedless of human life, and concerned only about profits.

Ms. Branan is a competent, if not conscientious, magazine writer. Her article follows the standard format of pop journalism: anecdotes designed to elicit sympathy interspersed with facts, quotations, and assertions.

To the careless reader, she paints a grim picture of both corporate and governmental irresponsibility.

The focus of the article is on an alleged design defect in automatic transmissions which allegedly allows the cars to jump from park to reverse.

"This defect, it gradually became clear to me, was responsible for thousands of accidents nationwide," she writes. Yet, a few lines later, she quotes the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration figure as 3,700. Well, 3,700 can be called "thousands." Three point seven, to be exact.

But aren't 3,700 accidents bad enough? Well, according to her own figures, the design "defect" is present in up to 16 million cars and trucks. If that number is true, then ten thousandths of one percent (.0002) of the vehicles have had a reported accident attributable to the alleged defect.

But now we get to the kernel of the nut. Is it in fact a design defect or were the accidents the result of careless drivers? In a caption accompanying a reproduction of an internal Ford memo, the magazine asserts: "Memo written by Ford engineer D. R. Dixon shows the company knew nine years ago that its transmissions were causing, as Dixon put it, 'actual high accident incidence.'"

This is a false, misleading statement. Dixon's memo does not show that at all. Dixon's actual statement is: "Present customer usage patterns indicate that this condition of careless shift lever actuation (emphasis mine) is occurring frequently in the field with actual high accident incidence."

In non-engineering language, the design permitted a careless driver to make a mistake and not shift completely into park. Dixon recommended that future designs eliminate this opportunity for driver error.

The sketch in Dixon's memo shows plainly and the writer admits that if the car really is shifted into park, it cannot possibly slip into reverse. In fact, she says you can chin yourself on the shift lever without it jumping out of park.

There is an enormous difference between a design which is defective; you actually shift into park and the transmission jumps out of park and into reverse and a design which permits a careless driver to think that he has shifted into park when he has not.

Ignored completely in the article is the element of driver responsibility. The most basic rule of safe operation of a vehicle is that you never leave an unattended vehicle with the engine idling. In all of these accidents, the drivers violated this rule. In every instance, if the driver had simply turned off the ignition before getting out of the car, there would have been no accident. In every instance, if the driver had made sure the car was in park, there would have been no accident.

There is a trend, instigated by some greedy trial lawyers and perpetuated by stupid judges, toward absolving victims of all responsibility for their acts. The reason is obvious. If the victim is at fault, justice requires that he receive no compensation. If the blame can be shifted to the manufacturer, there is a possibility of fat, juicy verdicts by jurors who figure, "What the heck, the guy is hurt and the corporation has lots of money and insurance anyway."

Radicals love it because they can cite this as "evidence" of corporate sin. The truth is, though, that Ford did not design a defective transmission; they simply designed one that was not idiot-proof. To demand of any manufacturer of any product an idiot-proof machine is to demand the impossible.

decided to limit the pick to Muskie and Deputy Secretary Warren Christopher.

Even if Carter had kept his list open, Cutler faced one major obstacle: his public statements in the early days of Carter's fight to boycott the Olympic Games in Moscow this summer. Carter was furious when Cutler indicated the president really was not all that serious about the boycott and might well change his mind.

JOAN MONDALE SPEAKS
 The antagonism of Carter campaign operatives toward Vice President Walter F. Mondale for refusing to slash away at Sen. Edward M. Kennedy in the Pennsylvania primary campaign was not eased election night when they saw Joan Mondale disagreeing with President Carter over nationwide television.

Interviewed over ABC's "Nightline" program, Mrs. Mondale called Barbara Timm "very courageous" for going to Tehran to visit her hostage son — against the president's wishes. "...I think the woman who went was very effective," she said, adding that Timm should not be punished because "this is a free country."

One of her aides promptly called one of Mondale's aides to ask whether the vice president's wife had not transgressed from the Carter line. The reply was that Joan was an experienced campaigner and ought to know what she was doing. There is no record of any complaint lodged with Mondale by the Carter campaign staff, but the annoyance there was intense.

SIMON: NO VP
 Although high-level Reagan campaign operatives always place ex-Treasury Secretary William Simon high on the list of possible vice presidential candidates, he is not in the slightest interested.

Simon, an early and active supporter of Ronald Reagan for president, has made clear in his inimitable blunt style that he is not out for a job he considers powerless. But he has hinted he would be available for the Reagan Cabinet — not back at the Treasury, but in a new role as secretary of defense.

A footnote: Reagan advisers are intrigued by the hint dropped by Sen. Henry M. Jackson over NBC's "Meet the Press" that he would consider becoming Reagan's Democratic secretary of defense, after rejecting that offer from Richard M. Nixon.

Slowly putt-putting around St. Lawrence on their 50cc, one-cylinder mini-trail bike, left, are the driver, Juan Garcia, 10, his sister, Candy, 1, and brother, Saul, 3, who is bringing up the rear. ## St. Lawrence full of Dutch flavor

ST. LAWRENCE — St. Lawrence is "kosher," but not in the Biblical sense. It's more or less properly Dutch — virtually 100 percent Catholic and no Hebrews.

This German farming community quite properly holds on to much of the Old World tradition. And it's Anglicized in language but without losing its Dutch flavor.

St. Lawrence is an industrious farming community where the work ethic, the church and family life reign supreme. Naturally, there's time for feasting and the Big One: the communal festival on the first Sunday in November.

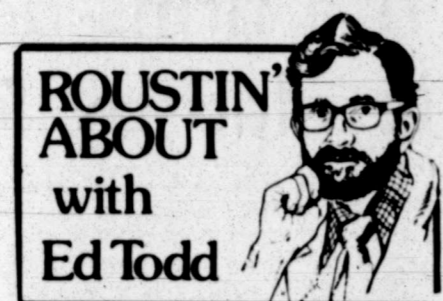

It's a sprawling community where-in farm houses are miles apart, farmland is broken up by rangeland and hunting and oil leases, and family names have Germanic sounds such as Schraeder, Halfmann, Seidenberger, Schwartz, Hoelscher, Hirt, Fuchs and Braden.

But, as in most any ethnic community, there's a few across-the-channel names.

Ynell Williams has one. "We're kind of oddballs out here," she said. She and her husband, Siler, run the St. Lawrence Trading Post & Grain Co. store, which is just across a cotton field from the Catholic Church and is even closer to a cotton gin.

"That's right," store clerk Emma Lou Halfmann, 19, said in agreeing with Mrs. Williams' oddball assessment. "Every name is German in this part of the country: Halfmann, Schwartz, Schraeder, Hirt, Braden. You name it."

Twelve-year-old Tommy Halfmann felt in place.

"There's a bunch of them (Halfmanns) out here," said Emma Lou. "We (meaning she and Tommy) ain't kin."

Mrs. Williams and Emma Lou were into a card game. But they never got to finish it; work came first, especially when a paying customer walked up to the counter.

The Williamses bought the post from Maxwell Stone about four years ago.

"Oh, I wish I hadn't (got the trading post)," said the storekeeper. "Oh, it's OK; it's just the tying down" that sometimes tires her.

The card game was interrupted more than once. Dallas hardware-automotive supplies salesman Larry Bucher, who hadn't been this far west before, and Big Spring salesman Don Reed, who certainly has, came by to drum up business.

"(It's) different out here," said the East Texan, as he and Reed walked out with a sack of fried pork rinds.

Mrs. Williams already was snacking on a sack of the rinds.

Bea Green, who has been farming and otherwise taking care of the home place out here since about 1950, slowly eased up to the counter. She was buying a snack of rinds, which, for the moment, seemed more popular than potato chips, corn chips, French-fried potatoes or ice cream do in town. "Town" and shopping places to the denizens out here usually mean Midland, Odessa, Big Spring or San Angelo.

Mrs. Green, just for humor's sake, noted that some outsiders sometime wonder how the non-German-surnamed families got into the community, which got its upstart in the late 1940s. She has a stock answer:

"Someone asked me how we got in with all these Dutchmen," she said. And her answer is simply: "We waited until they went to sleep and slipped in."

Farmer Arnold Braden, 29, who dropped by the post with his 16-month-old "younger farmer" son, Jeremy, said the St. Lawrence clamsmen get along fine with the non-Dutchmen.

"Yeah," he said, "we got to work 'em. That's about it."

Department of Education begins by throwing party

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first thing the new Department of Education is doing is throwing itself a birthday party.

The department, which began its official existence this week after it was split off from the old Health, Education and Welfare Department, is sponsoring a week-long "Salute to Learning," including White House ceremonies featuring entertainers Loretta Lynn, Robert Merrill and pianist Vladimir Horowitz.

Liz Carpenter, assistant secretary for public affairs for the new $14 billion agency, said the entertainers will appear free. She said the final bill will be "well less than $100,000," which she called "a bare-bones budget." Most of the money will be spent to make a film of the birthday party, but the bill also includes designing a flag and logos for the new agency.

Private firms have donated $22,000 to help cut the costs of the "Salute to Learning," and some activities are at agencies that are donating their services, she said.

Two years ago, when HEW celebrated its 25th birthday party, the taxpayers' bill was $108,000, far above the initial HEW estimates of $15,000.

Officially, the new department began life at 12:01 a.m. EDT Sunday. HEW, meanwhile, turned into the Department of Health and Human Services, but it still has 140,000 employees and a budget of more than $200 billion.

Secretary of Education Shirley M. Hufstедler has 6,000 employees, most of them drawn from the old Office of Education in HEW. During the next 2½ years, the Education Department will pick up 11,000 more staffers when teachers from the Pentagon's Overseas Dependent Schools become part of the new agency.

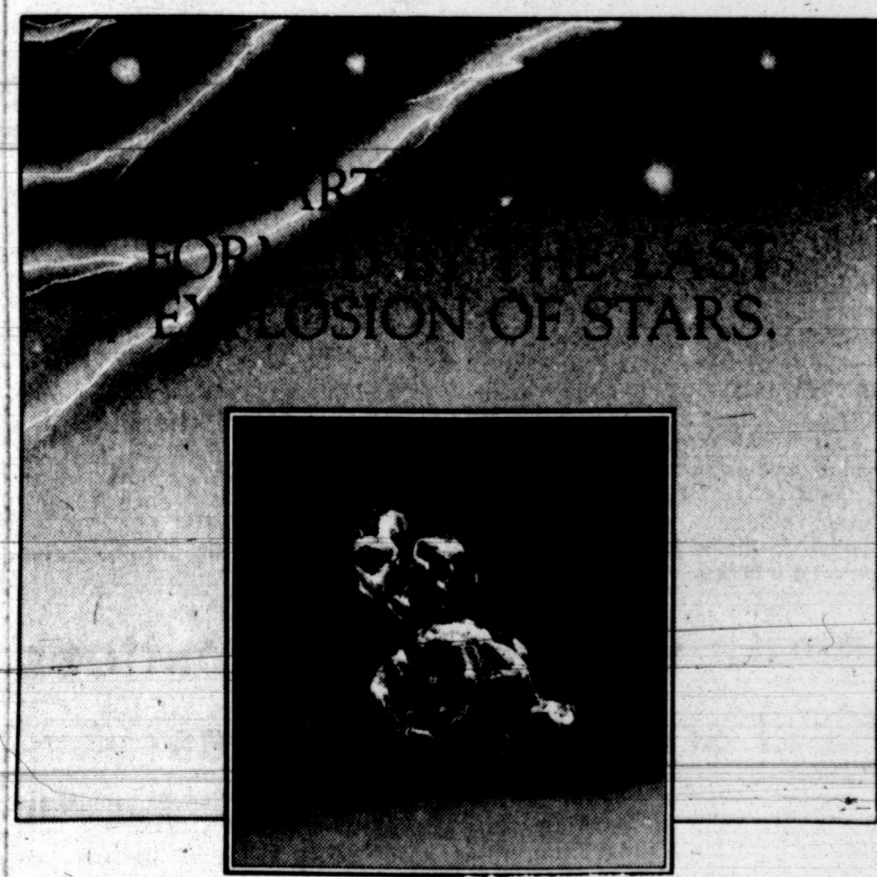

On Wednesday, Mrs. Hufstедler and First Lady Rosalynn Carter will visit a model school in the District of Columbia where students are taught both Spanish and English.

Later Wednesday, President Carter will sign a "Salute to Learning Day" proclamation at a ceremony on the White House south lawn and Amy Carter will unveil the agency's flag.

A press release from the new department calls the Carters the "nation's No. 1 school parents" and their daughter Amy "the first student of the country."

American dream is gone, says speaker at luncheon

By PATSY GORDON
Lifestyle Writer

"The American dream has gone down the tube," Lewis G. Mosburg Jr. told the Midland secretaries attending a luncheon held in their honor.

He was speaking at the annual Secretaries Day luncheon sponsored by the Permian Chapter, National Secretaries Association (International), and held in the Midland Hilton.

Another highlight of the luncheon was the naming of Fred Poe, assistant city manager, as the Boss of the Year. He was nominated by Pauline Gruder, his secretary. His award was a plaque.

Mosburg, a member of the Mosburg and Berry law firm located in Oklahoma City, Okla., talking about economic survival in these troubled times, said, "I'm not saying America is failing, but when I was growing up, hard work and an education was all it took to achieve the American dream. That's not enough now."

Mosburg expressed his opinions on crises. "The energy crisis is real. Our water crisis is said to be more serious. There is a crisis in every type of natural resource."

"In almost any other kind of industry, there would be a substitute for the shortage; there is no substitute for oil and gas. Everything depends on an adequate supply of energy. All of this adds up to a crunch economy for everyone," Mosburg said.

How do you survive an economic crunch? Save for a rainy day? "You find now you lose money by saving it," the speaker pointed out.

Reducing taxes is the absolute key to financial survival, said Mosburg. "These are the indirect taxes that reduce buying power of dollars. These hidden taxes are as much important as the obvious taxes such as income tax."

Mosburg blasted the windfall profits tax as "the worst ripoff foisted on the American people. The result may be a windfall, but it's not the oil people that will be hurt by it. It means increased price of crude and other things. The American people will pay for it at the pump—$2.50 a gallon by the end of the year."

How do you fight back? Not with the stock market, said Mosburg. "The stock market is too uncertain. Inflation will erode dollars put into a savings account, certificates of deposit or treasury notes.

"Gold, silver, oil and gas and real estate are the best bets for investment, but they're not suitable unless you are making a large amount of money."

Mosburg said the sure way was to "reduce expenditures and make sure every dollar spent counts. Review where your money is going."

The attorney said there is nothing that says "you have to pay excess taxes to be patriotic. There are two steps to reducing taxes — take legitimate deductions by talking to accountant to find out what they are and keeping records."

He pointed out to the secretaries to maximize earning ability and make every effort to upgrade their job.

Also recognized was Florene Anderson, 1980 Secretary of the Year.

Secretaries Week Committee was made up of Patricia M. Beck, CPS, and Stella Pearson, CPS, co-chairmen; Andrea Yarborough, CPS, Career Day; Dawn Blum, publicity; Ms. Pearson, Speakers Bureau, and Jane Cooley, BOTY chairman. Incoming officers are Ann M. Breeding, president; Sherri Koebelen, vice president; Linda Neely, CPS, recording secretary; Angelia Thomason, corresponding secretary, and Polly Clark, treasurer.

Ms. Beck was the mistress of ceremonies, and Ms. Anderson is outgoing president.

Don Ewan, 1979 Boss of the Year, presented Poe his award.

DEAR ABBY

Do 'special' labels cover truth?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Hooray for Mr. Anderson who objected to the misuse of the words "exceptional" and "special" when referring to Mongoloid, or as you corrected, "Down's Syndrome" children.

Why is it that standard dictionary meanings and words seem to no longer suffice in today's society? Just what metamorphosis is supposed to occur when Negroes are called "blacks" and homosexuals are called "gays"? Neither word is very descriptive of its respective group.

When schools/media now insist on calling a retarded child an "underachiever," is that supposed to suddenly make him more intelligent? Or just more content with his lot? Or are we doing it to comfort the "poor parent"?

Abby, one cannot disguise or change the truth by giving it a different label.

"I'm signing my name, but if you print this, sign it...DISGUSTED IN BEAUFORT, S.C."

DEAR DISGUSTED: Of all the letters I received in response to Mr. Anderson's (and there were hundreds), yours was the only one that said hooray for him. Read on for an especially poignant response:

DEAR ABBY: This is prompted by the asinine letter written by William G. Anderson Jr. Twenty years ago when my special child was born, a friend sent me a poem that I would like to share with other mothers of special children.

I am proud to be one of those chosen few trusted to care for one of these children. — MARILYN NEWTON, TUCSON, ARIZ.

HEAVEN'S VERY SPECIAL CHILD

A meeting was held quite far from earth "It's time again for another birth," Said the Angels to the Lord above, "This special child will need much love."

His progress may seem very slow, Accomplishments he may not show And he'll require extra care From the folks he meets way down there.

He may not run or laugh or play His thoughts may seem quite far away In many ways he won't adapt And he'll be known as handicapped. So let's be careful where he's sent We want his life to be content Please, Lord, find the parents who Will do a special job for you.

They will not realize right away The leading role they're asked to play But with this child sent from above Comes stronger faith and richer love. And soon they'll know the privilege given

In caring for this gift from heaven Their precious charge, so meek and mild Is heaven's very special child. (Author unknown)

Fun Day slated for Thursday

Tired? Bored? Looking for some fun? Then join the Midland County extension homemaker clubs for Fun Day.

The event is slated from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Thursday at Memorial Christian Church.

The program will include a "History of Midland" by Linda Stanley of the Valley View Extension Homemakers Club and a demonstration on ribbon roses or silk flowers by Vivian McKee from the House of Arts and Crafts.

Lunch will be served at noon and participants are asked to bring one regular size dish of their choice of casseroles or salads. Drinks and crackers will be furnished by the Midland County Extension Homemakers Council.

At 1 p.m., the club with the largest percentage of members present will receive the traveling plaque to keep one year and the club with the most guests will receive a cash gift.

Following luncheon, a "Make it, Bake it, Grow, it" gift exchange will be conducted. Participants are asked to bring an item wrapped, boxed, sacked or packaged some way.

It has been announced that the council will not be able to furnish baby sitting this year. Mothers Day Out also is at Memorial Christian Church, but reservations need to be made in advance. Expense and lunch for the child will be responsibility of the mother.

PRECEPTOR EPSILON DELTA CHAPTER, BSP

The Preceptor Epsilon Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the Midland Country Club for the end of the year luncheon and installation of 1980-81 officers.

Altamarzie McCoy, out-going president, installed the new officers which are Joann Gardner, president; Deborah Bench, vice president; Marline Byrd, secretary and Charline Shepherd, treasurer.

Secret sister gifts were exchanged and guests were Mrs. Byrd's mother, Pauline Perkins of San Angelo and Jeannie Jewell.

PRECEPTOR ALPHA OMEGA CHAPTER OF BETA SIGMA PHI

Unice Dersch presented a program from the book "Reflections of our Lives" during the meeting of the Preceptor Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in which new members were installed.

Reared in Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Dersch joined Beta Sigma Phi in 1943 in that city.

Officers installed were president, Jo Beverley; vice president, Lois Heath; recording secretary, Elaine Conrad; corresponding secretary, Margaret Lawrence and treasurer, Eunice Dersch. It was announced the chapter will sponsor an ice cream party for the health care floor patients of Trinity Towers and their families May 22. The chapter's next meeting will be May 13 at the home of Myrtle Russell.

YMCAs will offer 10 weeks of fun-filled day camping

Ten fun-filled weeks of summer day camping will be offered by the Midland YMCAs this summer to boys and girls aged 4 through 12, according to David Graunke, Camp Chaparral director.

Camp Chaparral is a nationally accredited YMCA day camp program whose goal is camper fellowship and fun through varied two-week and one-week programs offered all summer, according to camp organizers.

Regular activities include progressive swim lessons daily, archery, riflery, nature lore, camp crafts, arts and crafts, carnival games and specially designed programs for the older campers.

The two-week sessions include out-of-town trips, a parent supper and an overnight for the campers followed by an early "flap-jack" breakfast. All sessions include horseback riding.

The Camp Chaparral dates are June 2-6 for Session I; June 9-20 for Session II; June 23-27 for Session III; July 7-18 for Session IV; July 21-Aug. 1 for Session V; and Aug. 4-15 for Session VI.

Boys and girls aged 4 through 12 may enroll in any or all of these sessions, and will be placed in similar aged groups. Kinder-Camp will be a part of the day camp, with a low-key daily schedule and with many of the same activities as the older campers. First graders who are 6 will be in day camp; 6 year olds not yet in first grade will be in kinder-camp. Day camp runs from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, and parents may drive their children to camp or campers will be transported from various spots in the city, Y officials noted.

Camp Chaparral costs YMCA members $22 for a one-week session and $44 for a two-week session. Non-members pay $27 for a one-week session and $54 for a two-week session for those who register before May 15.

The cost includes a T-shirt for each camper, insurance, supplies, horseback riding, swim lesson, staff salaries, out-of-town trips, the overnight and breakfast. A non-refundable deposit of $10 must accompany registration forms to secure one of 60 camper spots open during the sessions.

The camp staff is directed by Graunke, who has had 12 years experience in day, travel and residence camps in the YMCA. The junior and senior staff members are carefully screened. Camper to counselor ratio is one to eight.

Further information may be obtained by calling 682-2551.

It's election time for class officers

By Guest Writers, DEBBIE FOSTER, MARTHA WENTWORTH, and JANET LANDENBERGER

Hey Rebs, as the school year winds down, elections are winding up, all you candidates for Junior and Senior class officers had better be tying up all the loose ends of your campaign as elections are scheduled for Wednesday, May 7, second and third period.

On Monday, April 28, spirits broke loose and hopes ran high as 17 enthusiastic competitors competed for the position of Varsity Cheerleader. As the gym filled, tension mounted as everybody anticipated seeing the super stunts and spectacular spirit each individual would display. The votes were tallied and the decision was made, so a big congratulations goes to Dayna Dixon and Mike Smith, Michelle Lenter and Jack Johnson, Karen Moseley and Clay Porsche, and Patricia Johns and Phil Hoyt. Once again, CONGRATULATIONS!

Midland was up in the air last Thursday when the internationally known group, Up With People, sang and danced their way into our hearts and homes. We'd like to express our feelings of gratitude to these people for keeping the doors of our Youth Centers open.

Last Tuesday, our Rebel Batmen slugged those Abilene Eagles out of the ball park with a super score of 6-3. A special congratulations goes to Alan Koonce for his hand-burning home run. On Saturday the mighty Rebel Diamondmen were up for their game against those cruddy cross town rivals, the Baby Bullpups. Although the game was washed out, the Rebel men will wash up the Bullpups in a rescheduled game on Monday, May 5, at 3:30.

Our sensation girls' golf team traveled to Austin this past week to challenge golfers statewide. They were right up to par as they placed fourth in the competition. Great going girls!

Last Tuesday, five artistic Rebels went to a luncheon at the Museum of the Southwest. They were being honored for outstanding achievements in the field of art, receiving awards were Kim Knight, Janet Whitmore, Jeni Jaso, Michelle Patterson, and Janet Landenberger. Our art teachers, Mr. Cooper and Mrs. Bureson, also attended.

Dreams will come true next Saturday night at the Junior-Senior Prom at the Youth Center. The theme is "Somewhere Over the Rainbow." So follow the yellow brick road on down to the Y.C. where tunes by "Alexandra" will be playing. Hey Juniors, open your ears and listen to the announcements for when to come out and help with the decorations.

See ya later alligator, After while crocodile, Chow cow, and last but not least LATER TATOR! Debbie, Martha, and Janet

P.S. HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Phil C. (May 5) and Elisa D. (May 7) PARTY HARDY!

'Louie' designing matchbook-cover correspondence course

LOS ANGELES (AP) — My pal Louie, a sucker for mail-order scams, has decided to turn the tables. He's establishing a matchbook-cover correspondence course.

"You Can Become a Network Television Programmer," Louie said excitedly, proreading his first matchbooks "Earn big money and influence the leisure hours of millions. Six-week course just $14.95."

"But Louie," I cautioned, "You don't think anybody's gullible enough to go for that, do you? Everyone knows that programmers are high-powered executives who've demonstrated unique skills and perception to get where they are."

"Yeah, I knew you'd say that," Louie said. "But look, I've followed TV very closely for a year now — casing it, you might say. CBS beat ABC in the ratings and everybody made it a big deal."

"Well, from reading the papers, I'd say that Robert Daly (CBS' chief programmer) is the first to admit that he really didn't do anything. He kept his hit shows where they were and let the other guy (ABC) make mistakes."

MC Stage Band holds free recital tonight

A free recital by the Midland College Chaparral Stage Band is scheduled for 8 p.m. today in the Allison Fine Arts Building's recital hall.

Led by instructor Don Haddad, the group will play a variety of tunes, ranging from an adaptation of a Bach composition to newly-composed music by some of the students and Haddad.

Students who will be featured in the concert include Robert Douglass, flute; Liza Lutton, sax; Carvel Mills, sax; Bev Johnson, sax; Jay Wise, trombone; Dale Sterling, trumpet; John Amos, sax; Jesse Grimes, sax; Kenny Coffman, bass; Milton Hathaway, bass; Kyle Covington, drums; Cyndie Wakefield, vocals; and Tausha Day, vocals.

A special feature will be a duo by Haddad and his son, Ron, on guitar in a newly-composed piece entitled "Something Special."

Also featured will be three original compositions by Cyndie Wakefield — "All Alone," "Questions" and "No Love Song."

The program includes "Four Brothers" by Jimmy Giffre, performed by the Jazz Octet; "My Funny Valentine" featuring Carvel Mills; "Cute" by Neal Hefti, featuring Kyle Covington; "Quiet Nights of Quiet Stars" and "Wave" by Jobim, featuring Tausha Day and Cyndie Wakefield.

Also, "Shiny Stockings" by Count Basie; "Tough Talk" by the Jazz Crusaders, featuring John Amos; "Body and Soul" by Johnny Green, featuring Liza Lutton; "Blues" featuring Milton Hathaway; "I've Got It Bad," featuring Jay Wise; "Tour de Force" written and performed by Robert Douglass; "Bourree" by Bach, featuring Kenny Coffman; and "Perdido" and the theme from "Rocky" to close the show.

The recital is open to the public.

Rebs make claim

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — Islamic rebels killed a large number of Afghan government troops in a clash at Deh Rawat, in Ruzgan province, in southwest Afghanistan, rebels were quoted today.

Quoting these sources, Pakistan Press International news agency said "the number of deaths suffered by the Afghan troops may be as high as 300. A number of Afghan troops also have deserted."

Fireworks explosion kills one

SPANGLER, Pa. (AP) — A series of earth-shaking explosions ripped through a fireworks warehouse today, killing at least one person and injuring four others, officials said.

The explosions were heard up to 15 miles from the warehouse in this Cambria County community in south-central Pennsylvania.

The blasts occurred at Terrizzi Fireworks, said Northern Cambria police dispatcher Carol Hughes. "There were multiple casualties and numerous ambulances have been dispatched," she said.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Sting reactions studied

Dear Dr. Solomon: Last summer, my 9-year-old son had a severe reaction after being stung by a wasp. He broke out in hives, his face began puffing up and he had to be taken to the emergency room of our local hospital. I'm concerned about the effects should he be stung again. Is there any way to minimize the reaction if this should happen? — Mrs. K.L.

Dear Mrs. L.: A highly effective treatment for insect sting allergies has been developed by physicians from the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions. The treatment consists of a series of injections of gradually increased amounts of pure insect venom. So far, tests have shown it to be effective in preventing allergic reactions to stings in 95 percent of children and adults treated. One major drawback is that the treatment is expensive and may have to be continued indefinitely, possibly for life.

A complicating factor is that it is not possible to predict whether someone who has had an allergic reaction in the past will have a similar reaction if stung again. Many children lose their sensitivity to stings with the passage of time and, therefore, would not require the new therapy; others experience increasingly severe reactions with each sting.

In an effort to try to distinguish between the two groups, Johns Hopkins allergists are studying children between 3 and 16 years of age who have had allergic reactions to stings. They hope to be able to determine who can benefit from insect sting therapy, while avoiding unnecessary long-term treatment for others.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I recently moved to a new community, which of course meant starting with a new doctor. At my first visit, he took a very thorough medical history. In fact he asked me questions that I am ashamed to say I was unable to answer. After leaving his office, I began to wonder why such a detailed history is necessary. Can't a doctor tell what is wrong with a patient by examining him instead of asking a lot of questions? — Michael

Dear Michael: A thorough medical history is an essential part of good medical care, and compiling such a history is as much the patient's responsibility as it is the physician's. For example, how can doctor prescribe medication intelligently should the need arise if he does not know what the patient may already be taking. Some combinations of drugs produce serious reactions.

You can assure yourself of better health care by providing your physician with as much detailed information as possible. If you have any physical complaints such as pain, make a note of its exact location, when it began, whether you've experienced it before, and so on. If you can't remember all this, don't be ashamed to write it down.

The more responsibility you take for your health care, the more your doctor will be able to help you.

(If you have a medical problem, see your doctor.)

Child killed

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — A 2-year-old girl who wanted to play on an airport luggage conveyor belt was killed when her brother turned the belt on and she got caught under a door, airline officials said.

Security police at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport identified the girl as Sally Ramirez, of Alhambra, Calif.

British give credit to Americans

HOUSTON (AP) — Great Britain's oil minister says the British learned practically everything they know about North Sea oil operations from Americans. The British, says Hamish Gray, minister of state for oil and gas, learned quickly. "We can now compete on equal terms," he said, adding quickly, however, that Americans still have much to do in the North Sea.

would be swapped for the heavier crudes. He also refused to identify countries involved. "We will be happy to do business with anyone who has the oil and everything else is equal," Gray said. He did not elaborate but added, "You can make anything you like out of that."

Draft registration plan moving fast in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's draft registration plan is moving faster through the Senate than it did through the House, and that's troubling opponents of the plan.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was meeting today to vote on whether to spend $13.3 million to begin registering young men this summer. One-week ago, the plan was approved by an Appropriations subcommittee.

By contrast, seven weeks elapsed in the House before subcommittee and full Appropriations Committee action on the proposal. The House approved the plan April 22.

With the proposal facing its last battleground in the Senate, Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., and others are planning to wage a filibuster against registration when the plan is brought to the floor for the final debate.

Hatfield's staff said the filibuster is "clearly the best shot" to stop Carter's program.

Barry Lynn, head of a coalition of groups opposing registration, agreed.

"Members just don't think this is important anymore," he complained, adding that a "long and serious debate" might convince them otherwise.

But at this point, Hatfield does not have the backing to prevent a filibuster from being cut off, according to his staff.

Debate on a bill can be limited if 60 of the 100 senators vote to invoke cloture, which restricts the time that can be taken up with discussion of legislation. Hatfield would have to have 41 votes to prevent a filibuster.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Investigators who cracked a "unique" teen-age burglary ring are still trying to figure out why three exceptionally bright students would be involved in burglary, extortion and weapons dealing.

Two 16-year-old boys have been charged in the case and a 16-year-old girl was arrested Monday morning. The boys remained in the Tarrant County juvenile detention center Monday night, but authorities said the girl had been released.

Juvenile Judge Scott D. Moore said he arraigned the boys last week on delinquent conduct charges that specified one burglary count. One of the youths also was named in a charge that specified possession of a Thompson machine gun.

The trio of Paschal High School students allegedly committed several burglaries, attempted extortion and collected a small arsenal of weapons that included a Thompson submachine gun and explosive chemicals. They also operated a money-laundering scheme.

"This is something unique," said Lt. Hank Snow of the Fort Worth police youth division. "I don't think it represents any kind of modern trend, but I don't know. We're still investigating."

"These are exceptional students with high IQs," said police Capt. G.S. Geeslin. "It's a shame they couldn't find something more constructive to do, but apparently school wasn't any challenge."

Geeslin said the youths were "bored out of school" and turned to crime. They stole more than $60,000 worth of silverware, police said, and hid some of their weaponry in a school locker.

They had been operating together since last fall, police said, and are suspected of burglarizing at least four homes in the area around Texas Christian University and selling stolen goods to a buyer in nearby Euless.

Student involvement puzzles investigators

OCALA, Fla. (AP) — An Ocala man is scheduled to appear in court May 26 on a murder charge in the death of his estranged wife, who was killed by a shotgun booby trap police said he installed to protect his home.

Charles Robinson, 36, was ordered held Monday under $10,500 bond.

Robinson's trailer home was burglarized several weeks ago, so he rigged a single-barrel shotgun to the screen door so it would fire if someone opened it, Police Chief Lee McGehee reported.

Robinson had just returned from a store and met his wife, Geraldine, a 34-year-old schoolteacher, shortly before 11 p.m. Sunday, a police spokesman said.

"Indications are that when he went to unlock the trailer, the device discharged before he was able to disarm it, striking and killing his wife," McGehee said. She was shot in the neck, McGehee said.

Robinson and his wife had been separated for five months, the chief said. They met earlier in the evening "without any incident" at Mrs. Robinson's home, the chief added.

Robinson shouted for help from a neighbor, but when rescue teams arrived, Mrs. Robinson showed no signs of life, McGehee said.

Husband charged in booby trap death

MIDLAND police have arrested a man, whose address was listed as the KOA campground, for possession of dangerous drugs.

According to reports, officers were dispatched to a disturbance at 1911 S. Colorado Ave. around 8:47 p.m. Monday. On their arrival, Barbara O'Neal told them a man was in her house and wouldn't leave.

Police found the man lying on the couch. They asked him to leave and he did.

Once outside the residence, the man was arrested for public intoxication. While booking the man into jail, a routine search revealed three small containers of pills believed to be narcotics, reports said.

Monahans man killed, wife injured in crash

BURNETT — A 63-year-old Monahans man died and his wife was injured in a traffic accident near Burnett early this morning.

The accident occurred at 1:55 a.m. today on Texas Highway 71, 1.9 miles west of Sticemod in Burnett County.

According to the Department of Public Safety, John Leon McCoo, 63, was eastbound on Texas 71 with his wife as a passenger in the pickup. McCoo apparently fell asleep, ran off the side of the road and struck a tree head-on, said a DPS spokesman.

McCoo was pronounced dead at the scene by a Burnett County justice of the peace.

His wife, Lillian B. McCoo, 57, was listed in satisfactory condition this morning in Sheppard Hospital in Burnett. She received a broken arm, cuts and abrasions in the accident.

The accident was investigated by Trooper Alvin Fenter of Marble Falls.

$2000 PER MONTH PLUS
Manager Trainees need to fill $70,500 per year position. It normally takes only 2 to 3 years to become a manager. $24,000 is your guaranteed annual salary while you learn, however for those who survive the first year average compensation is $29,250 due to additional sales commissions: 90 to 95 percent of your time will be in sales during the 2 to 3 year training period.

FIELD ENGINEER
The Permian Corporation has an opening in Abilene, for a Field Engineer, experienced in crude oil, pipeline design and operation. The job will involve engineering of new pipeline projects including field reconnaissance design of facilities and construction supervisor. Additional duties will involve engineering design related to modifications of existing pipeline facilities.

San Antonio downs Sox on home run

By The Associated Press Larry Fobbs' two-run homer in the eighth inning sparked San Antonio to a 5-2 victory Tuesday over Amarillo in Texas League baseball action.

The win gave San Antonio, 17-8, sole position of first place in the League's Western Division. Amarillo, 16-9, trailed one game.

In other Texas League action Tuesday night, Midland swept a doubleheader from El Paso, 7-1 and 8-7. Tulsa edged Shreveport 7-6, and Arkansas struggled past Jackson 6-2 in 11 innings.

San Antonio jumped out in front of Amarillo with a three-run third inning. Amarillo scored on singles in the fifth and eighth innings, before Fobbs belted a home run to put the game away.

Brian Holton picked up the victory for San Antonio. Troy Dixon was credited with the loss.

A two-run single by Tulsa's Larry Reynolds in the eighth clinched a 7-6 victory over Shreveport.

Tulsa also scored three runs in the first inning on walks, then added a single in the sixth by Chacho Gonzalez.

Shreveport outhit Tulsa 10-8, but left 11 runners on base and committed five errors.

Steve Neilsen got the victory for Tulsa, 11-8, and Mark Calvert took the loss for Shreveport, 8-9.

Frank Hunsaker slugged a double and two RBI sacrifice flies as Arkansas rolled by Jackson 6-2 in extra innings. Arkansas broke the game open in the 11th with four runs on four consecutive hits.

Winning pitcher was Luis DeLeon, and the losing pitcher was Jesse Orasco.

Arkansas now is 13-9, and Jackson is 7-13.

Jets sign two top athletes

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Jets announced the signings of wide receiver Johnny "Lam" Jones and running back-tight end Ralph Clayton to a series of one-year contracts Monday.

Jones, from the University of Texas, was the second player chosen in last week's National Football League draft. The Jets obtained the No. 2 pick in a trade with San Francisco.

Clayton, who was a wide receiver at Michigan, was New York's second selection of the draft's second round.

Lobo recruiting brings penalties

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Probable NCAA sanctions against the University of New Mexico basketball program are months away, but Lobo Coach Gary Colson believes the punishment already has begun.

Frustration has marked the recruiting efforts of the new head coach, who took over after Coach Norm Ellenberger was fired and later indicted by a federal grand jury amidst allegations centering on the possible doctoring of grade transcripts for junior college transfers.

"I think we're being punished right now," Colson said Monday. "Even if we got off scot-free, we've already been punished in the players we've lost in our recruiting year. The bottom line is the unknown, probation."

The university's athletic program has been hit with 92 allegations of possible rules violations by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, involving such areas as transcripts, ticket purchases for players and the Lobo booster club.

M-Cubs sweep El Paso

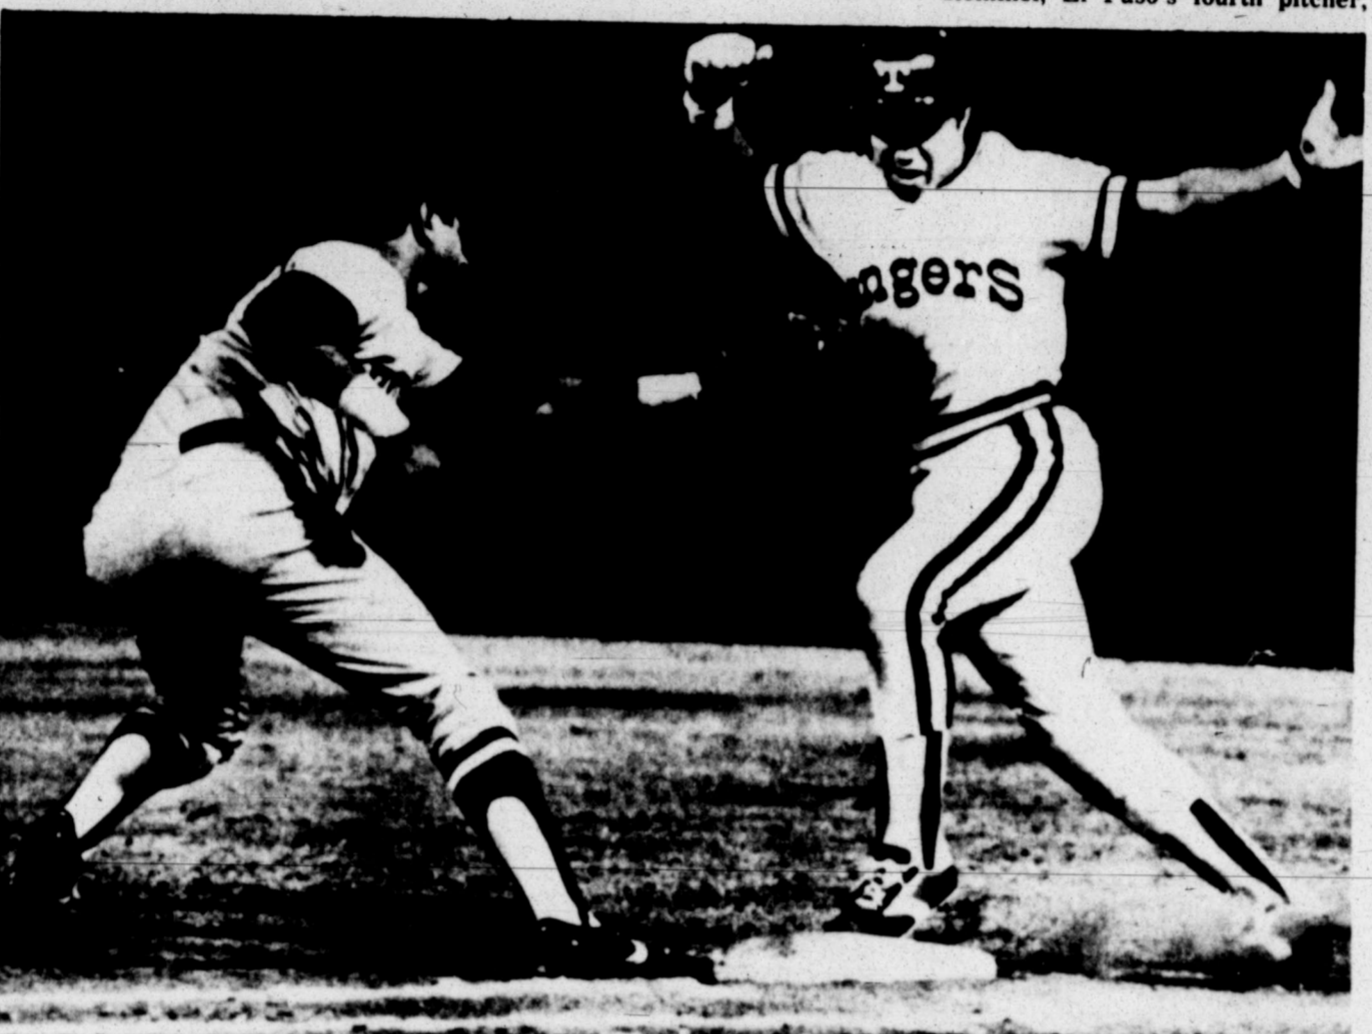

Perlman, Shepston pace Midland victories

By TED BATTLES R-T Sports Editor

It took until well after midnight, but the Midland Cubs finally swept the El Paso Diablos in a Texas League doubleheader at Cubs Stadium Monday night, winning the opener 7-1 on Jon Perlman's route-giving 10-hitter and then going extra innings to win the marathon nightcap, 8-7, in the last of the ninth.

The two teams will do it again today, starting at 6:30 p.m. with Herman Segelke, 1-2, and Randy Clark, making his Midland mound debut, going for the Cubs in the twinbill. The Cubs came from behind to force the second game into overtime as Joe Hicks, who opened the seventh inning with a single, scored on pinch hitter Tom Hall's base hit up the middle to tie it at seven. Then, in the ninth, Rich Rommel, El Paso's fourth pitcher, walked Dave Stockstill with one out. Hall then lined to center. Tom Burnansky caught up with the ball, but dropped it to put runners on first and second. Mike Shepston followed with a single to center and when the relay to the plate was mishandled, Stockstill raced home from third to finally end the three hour, 36-minute contest.

Stovall's hit in seventh gives MHS 3-2 win over Lee

By BOB DILLON Sports Writer

Wade Cartwright hooked up in a pitcher's duel with senior lefthander Paul Cox in the season finale. When the dust had cleared, Whalen hardly had time to enjoy the victory as the Bulldogs opened spring football drills 10 minutes after the outcome of the Lee-Midland baseball clash and Whalen was out on the practice field shouting out instructions to the big and burly Midland linemen afterwards.

WHALEN LEAPED high into the air as senior Perry Bolger scored the winning run with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning. Bolger had legged out an infield hit off Cartwright to lead off the fatal seventh for the Rebels.

Pinch-hitter Darrin Matlock, playing his final game in a Bulldog uniform, sacrificed Bolger to second, but junior shortstop Eddie Portillo popped out to Ricky Wright at third and it looked like Cartwright might be off the hook. Stovall juiced on a two-ball, no-strike count to knock in Bolger with the winning run to give MHS a final 11-11 season reading and a 4-3 5-4A mark in the second half to Lee's 15-11 and 5-2 mark, the same as in the first half of the race.

It was a well-played game by both teams as senior Lee righthander Bobby Stovall, Tracy Gann, Paul Cox and Shawn Mowles closed out their high school baseball careers in fine style Monday afternoon at the Memorial Stadium diamond.

Stovall rapped a long single into right-field in the bottom of the seventh inning to pace Coach Tim Whalen's Midland Bulldogs to a 3-2 victory over the Midland Lee Rebels in a makeup game in District 5-4A play.

The game had no bearing on the final standings since Abilene Cooper had already wrapped up the overall title with a narrow 7-5 victory over Abilene High Saturday, but the Tall City shootout still brought out a big crowd to see who was going to more or less win the Midland city title.

It was a sweet victory for MHS which had lost 14 straight to Coach Ernie Johnson's crew until the Purple Pack won, 5-2 in the first half of the race and the win Monday gave Midland a 2-0 record against Lee in 5-4A play under Whalen which was an assistant under Johnson for four years at Lee.

The Rebels threatened in the top of the first inning off Cox by loading the bases with two out, but righthander Scott Collins struck out swinging, to end the threat. Barry Corley had reached first on an infield hit, Cartwright looked at a third strike and Randy Velarde singled into left. Jeff Hicks tapped back to the mound and Robert Perez was hit by a pitch, but Cox who moved the ball around well all afternoon, long, fanned Collins.

Midland got one run off Cartwright in the bottom of the first inning when after one was out, Stovall walked, Gann doubled him over to third and Jerry Zachery followed with a walk to load the sacks. Mowles grounded out to first, but Stovall scored to give the Pack a 1-0 lead. Frank Garamone walked, and Russell Wickman grounded out to Velarde at short to end the uprising.

COX RETIRED the next six Rebel batters and his teammates scored another run in the bottom of the third for a 2-0 reading. After one was out, Gann rapped his second double of the game and scored on Zachery's two-base hit for 2-0 advantage. Mowles and Garamone grounded out to the slick-fielding Velarde at short to end the inning.

After one was out in the top of the fifth, Clay Bateman singled into left for Lee's first hit since the first inning. Corley followed with a double, scoring Bateman to cut the MHS lead to 2-1. Cartwright looked at another third strike and Velarde walked, stole second and Corley scored when Wickman threw wildly at home plate to tie the score, 2-2.

Lee went down in order in the sixth and seventh innings as Cox picked up his seventh and eighth strikeouts in sending Ricky Wright and Corley back to the dugouts with KO's. Then came the fatal seventh for Lee. No other 5-4 games were made up between OHS and Permian along with the San Angelo-Big Spring games which were rained out on Saturday.

Littler burns Abilene greens

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — For two years, Gene Littler has been fighting a case of the "yips," the term golfers use to describe poor putting.

But Monday, the 26-year veteran of the pro golf tour rediscovered his feel on the green, tied a course record of 31 on the back nine and moved into a first-round tie for the lead in a $170,000 benefit golf tournament here.

"I putted very well today," Littler said after his 66, which matched the score posted by J.C. Snead. "It was encouraging," Littler added. "I've lost it (his putting stroke) completely the last couple of years."

The first-round scores put Snead and Littler one stroke ahead of Chi Chi Rodriguez. Tom Purtzer and Lou Graham shot 68s, with Graham shooting a 31 on the front nine. Andy Bean and Bill Kratzer were three shots off the pace at 69.

Daryl Sconiers, who beat the Cubs with a grand slam in El Paso, also had a big night for the Diablos, going 6-for-6 in the two games, including two doubles, but, as it turned out, it wasn't enough.

IN THE opener, the Cubs struck for four-first inning runs off El Paso starter Rick Steirer, 0-2, which was enough to win it. Fletcher ignited the rally with a double to right and Javier Fierro capped it with a two-run single. Midland added three more in the fifth as Joe Hicks singled, Hall tripled and Fletcher and Mitchell single to lead 7-0 going into the final inning.

Perlman, 3-2, going the route for the second straight time, lost his shutout in the final inning when Brant Humphry doubled and moved around on singles by Tom Bhagwat and Sconiers.

PRELIM LOWERED his earned-run average to 5.37, but over the last four games in 29 innings, it is 1.80.

Steve Viskas pitched a three-hitter the last time out and had a no-hitter for six innings, but Monday was another story. He walked Pat Keedy and Sconiers to open the second game and then Tom Burnansky, who had an 11-game hitting streak stopped in the first game, belted a three-run homer.

Hicks put Midland ahead 5-4 in the third with a two-run homer and the Cubs added another tally as Stockstill doubled after a walk to Tom Grant.

Keedy, in relief, had two out in the sixth when Keedy, Sconiers and Burnansky singled to tie it and then third baseman J.W. Mitchell's error led Sconiers score with the go-ahead run before Bob Blyth, the eventual winner, turned off the spigot.

Wills sparks Rangers to win

By The Associated Press

For the most part, Bump Wills has been known as Maury's son. But if the Texas second baseman keeps playing the way he did Monday night Maury may become known as Bump Wills' father.

Despite a .273 batting average last year, the Rangers were unhappy with Wills' overall play. They couldn't swing an offseason deal, though, and now Wills' price undoubtedly has gone up ... if he's available at all.

Wills went 4-for-4 — three singles and a double, plus a walk — scored three times and sparked defensively to back Gaylor Perry's eight-hit pitching and lead the Texas Rangers to an 11-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

In addition to starting two double plays, Wills doubled and scored ahead of Buddy Bell's homer in the first inning and singled and scored on Al Oliver's double in the third.

In the only American League game, the Oakland A's beat the Cleveland Indians 5-1, the Minnesota Twins defeated the Baltimore Orioles 4-2 and the Chicago White Sox outslugged the Milwaukee Brewers 11-7.

White Sox II, Brewers 7

Lamar Johnson's tie-breaking two-run homer in the sixth inning sparked Chicago in a game marred by a free-for-all. Both benches emptied in the top of the fourth inning after Chicago pitcher Mike Prolly hit Milwaukee outfielder Ben Oglivie with a pitch. Oglivie charged the mound after Prolly and a fight ensued. Oglivie, who was ejected from the game, suffered a bruised right shin and White Sox manager Tony LaRussa suffered a dislocated left shoulder during the melee.

Charger player under arrest

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A San Diego Chargers football player was among 12 people arrested in connection with an alleged cocaine ring, Essex County authorities said.

The arrests were made at four locations Saturday, and most of the suspects were arraigned Monday.

In the first raid, Peter Shaw, a safety with the National Football League Chargers, was among eight people arrested shortly after midnight when authorities raided an Orange apartment.

Bart Starr worried over past performances

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay coach Bart Starr admitted Monday to stockholders that he is troubled by the Packers' poor 1979 season on the field, but they were assured that the bank account is in good condition.

The stockholders' annual meeting was told that corporate investments and television contributed to another record profit for the National Football League club.

The club reported a 1979 net profit of $1,845,265 compared with $1,520,903 in 1978. The club has exceeded $1 million only three times.

Bart Starr worried over past performances

"I have never seen a coach more turned on or ready to go," he said. "We enter a new decade that we feel is filled with promise."

However, "I am a little bit perplexed as to what I should say to you" about the latest playing season, he said.

"We took a backward step," he said. "But we have literally rededicated ourselves to getting back on track."

Charger player under arrest

The arrests were made at four locations Saturday, and most of the suspects were arraigned Monday.

In the first raid, Peter Shaw, a safety with the National Football League Chargers, was among eight people arrested shortly after midnight when authorities raided an Orange apartment.

Petty, Sandoval win easy AAU boxing bouts

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Top-rated flyweights Harold Petty, Richard Sandoval and Louis Curtis all won handily Monday night as the annual National AAU Boxing Championships began.

Defending champion Petty of St. Louis decision Fred Perkins of Ft. Smith, Ark. Sandoval, last year's 106-pound champion, stopped Norman Rosas of Duluth, Minn., by technical knockout in the second round, and Curtis, the only boxer in the tournament who was a member of the 1976 U.S. Olympic team, outpointed Randy King of Nashville, Tenn.

All the bouts at Caesars Palace were scheduled for three rounds. Petty dropped Perkins early in the first round with a straight left to the head then pummeled him the remainder of the bout.

Sandoval's knockout victory came after a tired Rosas dropped his hands in the second round and the Californian stunned him with shots to the head.

Curtis had a more difficult time with King, but secured the win in the third by scoring with jarring right uppercuts to the chin.

In another significant opening bout, top-ranked Johnny Bumphas of Nashville bloodied, dominated and decided a game-but-outclassed Ronnie Shields of Houston in a match of 132-pounds.

There was one upset in the early going Monday night, with Clarence Darby of Clinton, S.C., beating No. 7-ranked Antonio Arnold of Atlanta in the 139-pound division.

High-ranked winners included No. 3 Robert

Shannon of Edmonds, Wash., and No. 4 Ronald Freeman of St. Louis at 106 pounds; No. 4 Randy Smith of Chicago and No. 9 Martin Pierce of Flint, Mich., at 165; and No. 8 Alex Delucia Jr. of Portland, Ore., at 178.

The tournament continues through the week, with the finals Saturday. Winners advance to the U.S. Olympic trials in Atlanta next month.

Vasquez injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Jockey Jacinto Vasquez, who rode Genuine Risk to victory in last Saturday's Kentucky Derby, suffered a strained left hand after being thrown from his mount in the Aqueduct feature Monday.

A spokesman for the New York Racing Association said, however, the injury is "nothing that would keep him from riding in the Preakness" at Pimlico on May 17 if the owners of the filly enter her in the second leg of the thoroughbred Triple Crown.

Vasquez was riding Sandro Tascia in the $35,000 Woodhaven Senior Center Purse when he was thrown shortly after the start of the 11-16th mile turf race. Dr. Thomas Costigan, attending physician at the track, said the jockey "complained of pain in the left hand, but we couldn't find anything wrong."

Man holds three sons hostage in Utah house

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A 28-year-old man held his three young sons hostage in a barricaded house overnight and threatened to blow himself and his children up if he heard broadcast reports of the incident, authorities said.

Kim Lehman, who told police he had a bomb strapped to his waist, and the boys spent the night in his father-in-law's house with a pinball machine and furniture jammed against the doors.

He claimed to have a second bomb, and police said he was armed with a .45-caliber handgun and other weapons from the home's gun room.

"We'll see what happens," sheriff's Capt. Bob Jack said early today, when a news blackout on the incident ended. "I'm still concerned about it. I'm sure we'll get a reaction. But we can't keep a lid on it forever."

Meanwhile, a man surrendered to police after briefly holding his wife and five children hostage in another part of the city, also threatening to blow them up with dynamite. No dynamite was found in the home, and there were no injuries.

That incident began at 12:45 a.m. and ended at 4:35 a.m. when police agreed to allow the man, identified by officers as Randall R. Larson, 28, to give himself up before television cameras. Larson was taken to a hospital to be checked before being ferried to the police station, officers said.

"People hear about things like this (the first hostage situation) and it's a good way to get attention," said Police Lt. Gerald Maughan of the incident. He said Larson was wanted in Michigan on three felony warrants and a misdemeanor charge.

Lehman was negotiating with police, relatives and a psychiatrist by telephone.

He talked about releasing the boys, Kevin, 7, Kory, 4, and Kristopher, 2, after they had a bath, but then said "they're getting tired" and he would put them to bed, sheriff's Sgt. Ben Forbes reported.

He said officers did not think of taking the house Monday night because it looked like everything was "down for the night."

Lehman, estranged from his wife Jo Lynn, had resigned as service manager for his father-in-law's auto dealership. The situation began as a bomb threat about 8:15 a.m. Monday, police said.

On Monday morning, officers detonated a crude bomb made from shotgun shell powder and left in a milk box at Lehman's house. He had left a sign there saying it was a small nuclear device and the house was "wired so no one can enter, or it will go."

Radio and television stations, at the request of the sheriff's department, blacked out news of the incident for 14 hours after broadcasting initial reports.

About 7 p.m., officers asked broadcasters to air a statement written by negotiators: "Negotiations are going well. Kim is being very cooperative. He is a father that obviously loves his children very much. Negotiators are talking to him and his family."

French police arrest suspected terrorists

PARIS (AP) — French police, acting in cooperation with West German authorities, raided a Paris apartment and overpowered two women believed to be among West Germany's most wanted terrorists, authorities reported today. Three other women also were arrested.

Among those taken into custody late Monday afternoon were Sieglinde Hofmann, 35, and Ingrid Barabass, 28, officials said.

Miss Hofmann was wanted in connection with the 1977 murder of Jürgen Ponto, a leading West German banker. Miss Barabass was sought in connection with several bank robberies and the kidnapping of Austrian industrialist Walter Palmers.

Both are believed to be members of the Red Army Faction, the successor group to the notorious Baader-Meinhof terrorist group.

West German authorities said in Bonn that both were carrying pistols but that French police managed to disarm them.

In the apartment, according to the same officials, police found gasoline bombs, guns, a thousand rounds of ammunition and fake identity papers.

The three other women arrested were not immediately identified.

Police sources said French police, acting on confidential information, carried out the arrests under an international warrant. The suspects were arrested about 4 p.m. in an apartment in Paris' 5th district on the Left Bank.

Peter Sellers suffers slight heart attack

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — British actor Peter Sellers suffered a "slight" heart attack Monday night but was recovering today at St. Vincent's Hospital here, a hospital spokesman reported.

In the Irish capital with his wife, Lynn Frederick, to make a $2-million series of television commercials for a British bank, Sellers was taken to the hospital shortly before midnight after dinner at his hotel.

A spokesman at St. Vincent's said the 54-year-old comedy star had "a relatively slight heart attack and is quite comfortable now. He is now being kept for observation." He was in the hospital cardiac unit.

Sellers has a history of heart problems. He had a major heart attack in 1964 and had a pacemaker fitted after a collapse in 1977.

Earlier today his producer, Trevor Evans, told reporters: "He is OK. There was no collapse. He went to the hospital as a precautionary measure after feeling a little unwell after dinner. He rested in his room for a while before going along for a check-up as he has a pacemaker."

Evans said Sellers, star of the "Pink Panther" series of movies in which he portrays the bumbling French Inspector Clouseau, had been "in very good form all week."

Johnny Carson signs 3-year pact

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Carson will continue as host of NBC's "Tonight" show under a new three-year contract with the network, NBC said today.

The new contract commits Carson to four nights a week as host of the show, beginning in September, NBC said. Carson also will participate in other projects for the network.

The program, now 90 minutes long, will be shortened to an hour in the fall, the network said.

Beckwith says U.S. should try again to rescue hostages

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the United States can locate the American hostages in Iran, another military raid should be tried to free them, the commander of last month's disastrous commando mission has told Congress.

The recommendation by Army Col. Charles Beckwith came Monday during three hours of secret testimony before the House Armed Service Committee.

"He just said he felt that if we could find out where the hostages were, we should go back in and pick them up," Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said after the hearing.

Beckwith led a commando party on a rescue mission April 24 that President Carter ordered cut short after three of the eight helicopters ran into mechanical troubles. Six functioning choppers were needed. As the raiders withdrew from a staging area in the Iranian desert, eight were killed when a C-130 and a helicopter collided.

Stratton said Beckwith testified that the mission had to be aborted because, with only five helicopters, 15 of his 87 commandos would have to have been left behind.

Tito lies in state; Funeral Thursday

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Endless lines of sorrowing Yugoslavs filed past the closed casket of President Josip Broz Tito today as Belgrade prepared for the state funeral Thursday.

The lines of mourners stretched for blocks in two directions outside the Parliament building where the light brown coffin containing the body of the father of postwar Yugoslavia lay on a catafalque beneath the dome of the rotunda.

The doors were to remain open day and night until the funeral.

Tito died Sunday, three days short of his 88th birthday, in the Ljubljana Hospital, in northwest Yugoslavia, where he had been a patient for nearly four months. His special train brought the body to Belgrade Monday, and all along the route mourners stood beside the tracks to see it pass.

A crowd of 200,000 greeted the train in Belgrade, and tens of thousands of others attended ceremonies in Ljubljana, Zabreb and other towns along the route.

The casket, illuminated by floodlights and surrounded by red wreaths and his medals atop red velvet cushions, was visited Monday by his sons Zarko and Misha and his estranged third wife, Jovanka, who wept as she laid a wreath at the foot of the coffin.

Mrs. Tito, now 54, was her husband's constant companion until 1977. Then she disappeared into seclusion amid reports she had angered him by intruding to assure a place of influence for herself after his death. However, during his last illness there were rumors of a reconciliation and reports she visited him in the hospital.

More than 100 foreign leaders were expected to attend the funeral at noon Thursday, including Vice President Walter Mondale, British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Prince Philip, the husband of Queen Elizabeth II, and the chairman of the Chinese Communist Party, Premier Hua Guofeng.

Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will lead the Soviet delegation, the Soviet Embassy said.

Students place in UIL meet

AUSTIN — Three Lee High School students placed in the state University Scholastic League competition held here May 1-3.

Pete Marshall placed first in news writing.

Second Place in persuasive speaking was won by Kelly Osborn, and the team of Ernest Angelo and Paul Raymond took second place in debate.

All three wins mark the highest any Lee student has placed in the events in state competition.

Consumer specialist to visit here

Bob Jett, consumer communications specialist for Lone Star Gas Co., Dallas, will be in Midland Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to address four luncheon and banquet sessions. His visit here was arranged by Duke Jimerson of the Downtown Lions Club.

He will be the principal speaker Thursday night at the annual officer installation and ladies night banquet of the Downtown Lions Club at Ranchland Hills Country Club. A fellowship period is scheduled at 6:30 p.m., with dinner to be served at 7.

Morris Hulsey heads the new slate of officers for 1980-81, succeeding Ray Gwyn. Mrs. Windell Thomason will be installed as president of the Lion Tamers Club. The Lions Club's Big Name, International Convention Band will furnish the music.

The Lions will not hold their regular Wednesday noon meeting this week.

On Wednesday night, Jett will address the annual Vocational Education Students and Bosses Banquet.

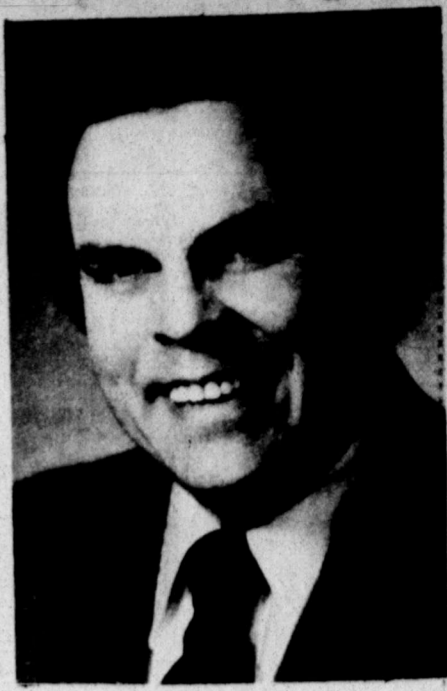

The event honors VOE students of both Lee and Midland high schools, and their bosses on part-time jobs.

Members of the Downtown Rotary Club will hear Jett at their Thursday noon meeting in the Midland Hilton.

The Dallas speaker will wind up his series of talks by addressing the Midland Jaycees Friday noon.

Jett joined Lone Star Gas in his present assignment in January 1977. He travels about the state speaking to civic and service clubs and youth groups concerning the energy crisis, and bringing his own special touch of humor to the subject. He has worked in radio, television, public relations and professional entertainment since 1954.

A native of Mobile, Ala., he has resided in Dallas since 1960. He is active in the Barbershop Music Society with the World Champion Vocal Majority Chorus. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Birmingham Southern College.

Judges were not warned of child abuse in Peoples Temple guardianship cases

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Judges who awarded the Peoples Temple guardianships over 276 children who died at Jonestown, Guyana were not warned about known instances of child abuse in the religious cult, according to a state report released today.

Deputy Attorney General John Moy, who wrote the report, said the state Department of Health began an investigation of the Peoples Temple after the August 1977 issue of New West magazine published a list of alleged irregularities at the San Francisco-based temple.

Moy said that because Temple followers could no longer obtain children through county foster care programs, they turned to legal guardianships.

The report charges that if state officials had told local probate judges what they knew about problems within the temple, the judges might not have granted the 22 guardianships.

The 22 children were among 276 youngsters who died in the 1978 Peoples Temple mass murder-suicide in Guyana. More than 900 persons died.

Moy said health department investigator J.C. Ortiz omitted from his report "allegations of physical and mental abuse and infringement of personal liberty."

Moy said the abuses included beatings and spankings, ostracism, shaving off a child's hair and hard punishment work at night followed by regular work during the day.

The report says state officials were wary of the Rev. James Jones' political clout in Sacramento and San Francisco.

Moy said Ortiz worked eight months on the report then closed it temporarily. Then, according to Moy, Deputy Director Mari Goldman declined to order her staff "to continue the investigation begun by J.C. Ortiz, giving the reason that Peoples Temple was 'highly publicized, too political,' and that the (division of) licensing did not have the resources to take on a big-name political case like Peoples Temple."

But the current department press secretary, Shawn Ortiz, disputed Moy's report.

"The conjecture is that, had we done something with the Ortiz report, any of the various state and local agencies investigating the Peoples Temple could have done something to prevent the deaths that occurred in Guyana," said Shawn Ortiz. "We do not agree with that."

Former aide killed in plane crash

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — John C. Bennett, 56, who served as deputy chief of staff at the White House during the Watergate scandal, has died in a light-plane crash.

Bennett's body was recovered Monday from the burned wreckage of his aircraft, about 1,500 feet up Mount Susitna, which is 30 miles northwest of Anchorage.

Bennett, who was from Anchorage, vanished Sunday after leaving Anchorage alone on a flight to two lakes north of the city.

Bennett was a 1945 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy and retired from the military as a major general in 1972. He joined the White House staff when Gen. Alexander Haig replaced Robert Haldeman in 1973 as chief of staff under President Nixon.

Bennett kept the records on the tapes that were secretly made of conversations at the White House. The tapes played a key role in the Watergate case and Nixon's resignation.

They contained evidence of an apparent White House attempt to cover up a break-in at the offices of the Democratic National Committee at the Watergate Hotel in Washington.

In early 1974, Bennett was questioned extensively by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica about an 18½-minute gap in a tape made June 20, 1972, three days after the break-in.

Bennett's latest job was executive director of Alaska 1984, a group promoting a world's fair in Alaska.

He is survived by his wife, Jean, their two daughters and two sons and his parents.

"Is it smart to save at two places?"

Ask the place that knows

"I've always done my banking at one place and my savings at another, because the interest rates paid at this other institution were higher. Yet, I read today that these higher rates don't mean all that much. I'm confused. Is my strategy right or wrong for me and my savings account?"

Are chances are you've overestimated the value to you of the "higher interest" offered by the other financial institution. For example, Federal law permits some institutions to pay 1/4% more interest. If you have, say $1,000, in a savings account at one of these institutions, you earn as little as $2.50 more per year (plus perhaps a few extra pennies-if interest is compounded). This $2.50 has to be compared to the cost of visiting this other institution many times during the year, reconciling different statements, and dealing with different people. A lot of people are discovering that the added costs are not worth the small difference in interest. Before you make your decision, talk to a Professional Savings Counselor at The Savings Place."
