American officials wait out final stages of 'Freedom Flotilla'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) - American officials say they will wait out the final stages of the Cuban refugee boatlift until they are certain the ragtag "Freedom Flotilla" has

"We will be here until we are sure there are no more," said a sunburned U.S. Immigration officer about the seven-week sealift.

Estimates of the number vessels remaining in the Cuban port of Mariel range from 15 to 25. One boat captain said it is impossible to know the exact number because many have been traded to Cuban officials for

Other vessels there might be inoperative and abandoned, said another skipper.

One large shrimper, which carried 235 people, and four other boats arrived here Monday, boosting the grand total of Cubans seeking new homes in this country to

Monday's arrivals included 19 refugees who were plucked from a sinking craft in a dramatic nighttime

The 68-foot shrimper Miss Too Nicey towed the disabled 30-foot Rachel II almost all the way into port after rescuing the 19 passengers and crew of the pleasure craft Noemi in the Florida Straits.

"If he hadn't come along, we would all have drowned," said Orlando Rabeiro of Tampa, skipper of the Noemi. "I would not be standing here talking to you if Miss Too Nicey hadn't been there."

No one was seriously hurt in the incident, authorities

Captain Walter Noyes of the Miss Too Nicey said it was impossible to tell how many American vessels might be waiting to load refugees at the Cuban port of Mariel.

"Some of the boats were traded for relatives and left there," he said. "The Cubans also have eight or 10 big ships'in there, and you can't tell what's in back of them...There's just no way to tell."

Federal agencies processing the refugees - Customs, Immigration, Border Patrol - cut their staffs to the minimum over the weekend. The Federal Emergency Management Agency, which has coordinated the government handling of refugees, transferred most of its personnel to various processing and relocation centers

While riot-equipped soldiers stand guard outside a military barracks during a surprise security check, a seemingly disinterested Cuban appears unconcerned. Two other Cubans were arrested for operating a still inside the barracks. (AP Laser-

OPEC agrees on need to cut output

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) - The 13 Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries were reported to have tentatively agreed today on the need to cut oil production and to have inched closer to a pricing accord.

Iranian Oil Minister Ali Akbar Moinfar said after the first round of closed-door talks that oil ministers had agreed on the need to reduce OPEC output to 26.5 million barrels a day. OPEC now produces about 27.5 million-28 million barrels daily.

But Venezuelan Oil Minister Humberto Calderon Berti said Saudi Arabia, the world's leading oil producer, insisted it would not trim production unless there was a pricing agreement.

Ministers of the 13-nation group were scheduled to discuss the sensitive pricing issue later today. Kuwait Oil Minister Ali Khalifah al-Sabah said there was "not yet" the basis for a price agreement and Calderon, the Venezuelan delegate said: "We are still arguing."

Knowledgable sources from several OPEC nations said the ministers were moving slowly toward an agreement under which Saudi Arabia would increase the price of a barrel of its oil from $28 to $30. But Iran was still reported insisting that it not lower its $35-a-barrel price.

Iraq proposed Sunday that all OPEC nations charge $32 a barrel for their oil. Under the proposal, OPEC hawks — including Iran — would have to drop present prices by $3 a barrel, middle-of-the-roaders would raise theirs $2 and Saudi Arabia, which produces one-third of all OPEC oil, would increase prices

But Moinfar said "there was no way" Iran would decrease prices, that he was "sure" there would be no agreement and that along with Algeria, Libya and Nigeria, Iran will continue to sell oil for as much as it can get for it.

Iraq and Iran are at ideological odds and recently have engaged in sporadicfighting along their shared border. Iran accuses Iraq of being a stooge of the United States Conference sources said without a compromise, prices would stay about the same for the rest of 1980. Analysts here say disunity within the oil cartel saves money for oil consumers, including the United States.

The sources said during the session Monday night that Iranian Oil Minister Ali Akhbar Moinfar accused Iraq and Saudi Arabia of "serving American imperialism by raising production rates."

They said Iraqi Oil Minister Tayeh Abdel-Karim shouted back that Iraq was the first power in the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to nationalize Western-owned oil operations.

The sources said Saudi Arabia's minister did not even attend the session and Qatar's minister walked out of the hall in the middle.

"The most important thing is not the price but production," Moinfar told reporters, adding that he and other OPEC militants would press for Saudi Arabia to cut its output. Conference sources said the Saudis, who produce one-third of OPEC's output at 9.5 million barrels a day, pressure to decrease production levels by 1 million barrels daily.

Qatar sources, meanwhile, said Iran was also urging a cut in production by Iraq, OPEC's second largest producer with daily production of 3.5 million

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy wanted to be in Seattle today, as invited, to address the U.S. Conference of Mayors. So did President Carter. And the White House saw to it that Carter was, and the senator from Massachu-

Kennedy, who hoped to share the president's limelight at the mayor's conference by appearing within an hour of the chief executive, was left to deliver his urban speech to a union group in Anaheim, Calif., instead.

Presidential press secretary Jody Powell said the White House objected to the same-day appearances because. Kennedy previously had accepted an invitation to speak Wednesday and tried to change it to today only after learning of Carter's schedule.

Bottles, boos greet president in Miami

MIAMI (AP) - President Carter says he didn't notice the rocks and bottles tossed at his motorcade by a jeering crowd, but the mayor of this racially torn city is worried that the incident could spoil any benefits of the president's visit to a riot-scarred neighborhood.

It was one of the most violent encounters in Carter's presidency.

One photographer was hit with a bottle, but no one was reported hurt or arrested — when 600 people scram-bled for safety late Monday as the motorcade was bombarded. Carter had waved to the crowd, at which point the crowd began booing and shouting insults. When the rocks and bottles came, Carter ducked into his car and sped off.

Dade Metro Police Cmdr. Douglas Hughes said "a few kids at the back of the crowd" had thrown the debris.

The incident, which followed demonstrations by blacks and Cuban exiles, occurred as Carter left a meeting with black leaders in Liberty City, the neighborhood burned and looted last month in racial riots that claimed 16 lives. Police in riot gear cleared the block and the only damages reported were broken windows on another motorcade vehicle. Carter's car was nicked by a beer

"I think the bottle-throwing incident is a natural expression of people who are frustrated," said Mayor Maurice Ferre. "Most of the crowd wasn't involved...I don't think they were throwing bottles at Jimmy Carter, but at the presidency. This is a continuation of the other — it is an

Ferre said he feared "this one little incident that took five seconds" would detract from Carter's attempt to soothe raw nerves in the black and Cuban communities with promises of jobs, justice and compassion.

Ferre said the president did not make specific commitments to provide assistance to the riot area. "It was a bland meeting — we did not come forth with an organized plan. He made no commitments and wasn't asked to make any," Ferre said. "It was a missed opportunity.'

"So far as the demonstrators are concerned, I didn't see them," Carter said later on arrival in Seattle, where he is to address big city mayors. "But they have a problem in that area that we're all working together to try to

White House press secretary Jody Powell, asked Carter's reaction to the incident, said, "His feeling was that it was a worthwhile visit and that it was important that he came." Presidential aide Jack Watson said a program of aid for Miami is expected to be ready in two weeks.

Carter's visit was his first to South Florida since the May rioting sparked by the aquittal of four white former policemen charged in the beating death of a black businessman. It also was his first contact with Miami's Cuan exile community since the Freedom Flotilla, which has brought more than 112,000 refugees to the United States, began seven weeks

Quake shakes Panhandle

AMARILLO (AP) - One woman said her house swaved, but no damage or injuries were reported from a small earthquake that rumbled through the Texas Panhandle and western Oklahoma Monday evening.

The U.S. Geological Survey's Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said the 5:37 p.m. CDT tremor registered 3.6 on the Richter scale. The National Weather Service here said the quake, which lasted only a few seconds, was felt 70 to 80 miles from the epicenter in the Miami area of the eastern "It shook parts of Gary, Hudson, Carson and Potter

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906, which occurred before the Richter scale was devised, has been estimated at 7.9 on the Richter scale - about 10,000 times stronger than Monday's disturbance in the Panhandle.

Courthouse security plan OK'd

But sheriff's original idea modified

By LANA CUNNINGHAM Staff Writer

Midland County Commissioners took another shot at playing with the roulette wheel Monday, but wound up back on square one when it came to a security plan for the county court-

Sheriff Dallas Smith had presented a security plan to the commissioners in a previous meeting and a deci-sion on the matter had been tabled. Briefly, the plan requires all county employees and visitors to the courthouse after working hours to go through the entrance at the sheriff's office and sign in with the radio dispatcher. If the commissioners didn't want to go with the plan for the courthouse, Smith asked permission to use it for his own department, located on the ground floor at the courthouse.

The sheriff's original plan was adopted with the change that certain elected officials and county employees could be issued a key if it is requested. This way, they bypass the sheriff's office.

For a security plan to be effective, Smith said everyone had to participate. He would be the person in charge of the program, "and if it didn't work, I would be responsible for it," he said.

Commissioner Win Brown made a motion to adopt the plan.

But another commissioner, Charlie Welch, opposed the motion, saying "I hate to do it (the program) right

His major objection was to the idea that only Smith would have a key.

Backing up Welch was Commissioner Durward Wright. "I don't think we need to shut down everything to this extent," he said of Smith's proposal. Welch proposed going with "a mini-mal amount of security" and began outlining what he meant, despite suggestions coming simultaneously from

"I think y'all are saying the same thing," Smith interjected into the two conversations

Welch and Wright said some department heads and elected officials voiced their opposition to not having keys, feeling some "freedoms" were being taken away by Smith's plan.

But County Judge William Ahders pointed out that if there is a burglary in the building, it's up to Smith to solve it. By limiting the keys and making visitors sign in, the investigation would be narrowed down to a few

Around and around the discussion went until at one point Brown said he was "ready to chunk the whole dang thing. We're getting hung up because some elected officials want to carry a

Wright finally proposed an amendment which would allow any elected official or department head who wanted a key to request it from the sheriff and sign for it.

The amendment passed, along with the motion, after Brown explained to a dubious Commissioner Jack Leonard that "if you're in favor of the amendment, you're in favor of the

Jordan witness says publicity could influence her lifestyle

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) -Martha C. Coleman, in her first public appearance since Vernon E. Jordan Jr. was shot, says "national exposure" may make it impossible for her to resume the life she knew before a sniper attack on the black civil rights

"I think that because of the type of exposure I've had and the things that have been implied...I'm going to try (to lead a normal life.) but I seriously doubt I'm going to be able to do it," the Urban League worker told reporters Monday.

Water park 'washed out'

Sometimes, too much water is not a good thing. Take the case of Wild River Canyon.

The water fun park was scheduled to open today at 11 a.m. But Sunday's floods "washed out," so to speak, all plans for a big opening.

Said one spokesman with the developers, "they're pumping out the mud and water.

Barring any more unexpected rains, the family fun park will open at 11 a.m. Wednesday. A ribbon-cutting ceremony will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday.

The park, located on the corner of Princeton Avenue and Holiday Hill Road, features water attractions, such as T-bar slides, the Spillway Slide for shooting the rapids, Mine Mountain River Ride, a paddle boat exhibit, a Baja speedway and train ride. When the facility finally gets its doors open to the public, hours should be 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. weekdays and noon to 11 o.m. on weekends.

Meanwhile in Indianapolis, a 25year-old black man who claimed he shot Jordan was taken to a hospital for a mental examination, police said. "There's always a chance it could be something, but I don't know that it's anything to get excited about," said FBI public information officer Steve

Jordan, 44, was gunned down as he emerged from Mrs. Coleman's car in the parking lot of the Marriott Hotel in the early hours of May 29. The National Urban League president remained in serious but stable condition Monday, recuperating from an operation on an abcess in an incision made during earlier surgery, a Parkview Memorial Hospital spokeswoman said.

Mrs. Coleman, who said she had no plans to visit Jordan during his convalescence, said she would return to seclusion at the homes of friends because she is afraid to go home. "I want the least amount of exposure I can possibly get. I don't want pictures taken of my car parked at Kroger (supermarket), I don't want reporters in my front yard," said Mrs. Coleman, who is vacationing from her job at International Harvester Corp.

"I have received some very, ugly mail...one person told me it was unfortunate they didn't shoot me. Something more exciting is going to happen soon, and everyone will go away and leave me with various kooks," she

Officials have said Mrs. Coleman, who passed a voluntary lie detector test last week, was never a suspect in the shooting. She said Monday she was willing to undergo hypnosis to show she had no further information to add to the investigation.

"I simply did not see anything," Mrs. Coleman said, adding she believed the shooting was a "racial incident" carried out by someone probably from outside the Fort Wayne area.

Volcano watchers wonder

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — Mount St. Helens simmered down this morning, puffing only small steam plumes, while scientists wondered what's going to happen Friday the 13th when the moon's gravity tugs on County coroners, meantime, have scheduled a hearing for Wednesday on issuing "presumptive death certificates" for 46 persons missing since the violent eruption more than three weeks ago that killed 26. Many are thought to be buried in tons of mud and volcanic debris.

No seismic activity was reported at the volcano early today, said Don Eaton, federal emergency management agency spokesman, and the mountain was sending steam plumes only 100 feet into the air.

Park planned near Odessa

Water Wonderland, an amusement park which will feature a number of water-related activities including slides and boats as well as snack stands, souvenir shops and a pinball arcade, is scheduled for opening in mid-July, according to Petro Construction Co. spokesman Ken Burkhart.

The park is being developed by Sonny Richardson of Odessa on U.S. Highway 80, about 21/2 miles west of Midland Regional Airport.

To help carry out the park's water theme, a water slide featuring two 420-foot flumes will be featured. "We'll also have skeeter boats, which are a type of go-cart on water, bumper boats, and remote boats controlled by radio," said Burkhart.*

For landlubbers, there will be Can-Am race cars and "crazy cars," as well as a large arcade featuring pinball, skiball and bootball, he said.

Dressing rooms with lockers and showers will be provided, as well as two snack bars and a souvenir shop. "We're including the latest, safest equipment money can buy," said Burkhart. The park will also have a first aid station Burkhart said the park will cover 12 acres this year, with plans to expand the property to 50 acres next year. "We're going to add a kiddle park and miniature golf course, and we're going to develop a 20-acre lake that's already there to make a catfish

Exploring a landscape more akin to the swamps of Louisiana than West Texas, three Midland boys Monday were treated with more watery fun when the Grafa Park sprinkler system started. Frolicking in the jet sprays are Chris Elgin (no shirt) and William Elgin (jumping over the sprinkler head), sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elgin, 3106 Seaboard Ave. Also in on the wet fun was Chris Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, 3108 Mamar Ave. (Staff Photos by Edward McCain)

Sizzling, summery temperatures to return to Basin, weatherman says

After two days of cool relief, the Permian Basin should get back to the sizzling temperatures of summer, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport.

Sunday's gully-washers trickled down to a few sprinkles and mist . Monday. And those skies should be giving way to the sun's rays by Wednesday, the weatherman said. Only a trace of rain was recorded Monday at the weather service of-

The mercury should drop into the middle 60s tonight and rise into the upper 80s on Wednesday. The chance of more rain tonight stands at 20 percent

High Monday was a moderate 73 degrees, almost a cold front compared to the record 105 set on that day in 1964. Today's low of 64 was still above the record of 51 set in 1975. Winds should be southeasterly at 5 to 10 mph tonight. Area towns reported partly cloudy skies and fog early today

Eisenhower

(AP) - Milton Eisenhower, brother of the late. President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has been chosen as John B. Anderson's stand-in running mate so the independent presidential candidate can get his name on the ballot in Florida.

Campaign officials said the Illinois congressman asked Eisenhower last week to lend his name as a candidate for vice president on petitions to get Anderson on the November ballot.

Anderson must have the signatures of 42,172 registered Florida voters by Aug. 15 to qualify for the state's ballot.

Since dropping out of the Republican presidential race to run as an independent, Anderson has concentrated on trying to get on the ballot in enough states to give him at least a mathematical chance of being elect-

Kermit's crater stops growing — for now

KERMIT (AP) — The West Texas sinkhole, apparently satisfied after gobbling up a 50-foot chunk of earth, has stopped growing for the time being, but cracks extending from the crater continue to widen.

Winkler County Sheriff's Deputy Randy Tenney said the latest cave-in occurred early Monday on a corner of the chasm away from Petro Lewis Corp.'s oil well and Shell Oil Co.'s tank farm.

He said Shell workers were draining the tanks closest to the hole and rerouting some pipelines broken when the hole suddenly appeared last Tuesday. But a Shell spokesman said the drainage had nothing to do with

"We drained 'em when we needed some oil to pump," he said late Monday. "It was just normal usage."

The spokesman also disputed officials' estimates that the crater had grown larger than three football fields. He said a measurement of the hole Sunday showed it was about 465 feet by 200 feet.

Cracks surrounding the sinkhole have crept to within 100 feet of the oil well and 300 feet of a highway, which has been closed to the public. Shell's tank farm remains several hundred feet from the cracks.

Petro Lewis workers capped the well with cement last week as a precautionary measure. Cracks extending from the crater continued to widen Monday, and officials theorized a recent rain may have been a factor.

Iranian who 'helped Zionism' executed by Tehran firing squad

By The Associated Press

Sixteen persons were executed by firing squad in Tehran today, including the head of the Iranian branch of Pepsi-Cola who was convicted of "helping Zionism" and other charges.

Tehran Radio, meanwhile, praised Ramsey Clark as a "true patriot of America" and warned President Carter not to prosecute him. Clark, a former U.S. attorney general, defied Carter's travel ban and attended the "Crimes of America" conference in Tehran last week. He urged Iranian authorities to release the 53 U.S. hostages seized Nov. 4 and said the U.S. government should apologize for past interference in Iran.

Iran's official Pars news agency said those executed today included Yousef Sobhani, head of the Zamzan Co., the Iranian division of Pepsi, and five others convicted of "corruption on earth," sabotage, murder and counter-revolutionary acts.

Other charges against Sobhani included murdering a "fighter" 17 years ago and collaborating with Savak, the secret police under the deposed shah, and the martial law adminstrator's office. The Zionist charge against him was similar to one leveled against Albert Danielpour, a leader of Iran's 40,000 Jews, who was executed Thursday in the Iranian town of Hamadan 175 miles southwest of Tehran.

Danielpour, a member of a wealthy Jewish family, was convicted of spying for Israel and supporting former Prime Minster Shahpour Bakhtiar. The execution underscored fears among expatriate Iranian Jews that Iran's Islamic regime is purging the country's Jewish community.

AUSTIN - Rae Juan Markunas, president of the 36,000-member Texas Classroom Teachers Association, announced Monday that the TCTA had voted overwhelmingly, by a 3 to 1 margin. to reject a mandatory membership requirement in the Texas State Teachers Association-National Education Association. The classroom teachers association is currently the largest department affiliate of TSTA-NEA. Ms. Markunas pointed out that "what TSTA has referred to as a 'deunification' vote means that Texas Teachers will now have the option of joining TCTA without being required to also join TSTA-NEA.

Earlier this year, the TCTA Board of Directors called for an all member vote on the mandatory membership requirement. Each TCTA member was given the opportunity to vote as to whether TCTA members would or would not be required to hold membership in TSTA-NEA 'eginning this fall. After announcing the results, Ms. Markunas took exception to one TSTA officer who was quoted as saying "the vote creates disunity among Texas teachers and allows the will of a very few to reduce the strength of many."

Markunas responded, "in a democratic society such a TCTA, it is important to allow the membership the right to speak, and I am gratified that so many of our members have spoken so

"It appears that teachers are united against any attempt by TSTA to control the right of members to decide which professional association they want to join," she

'Tax protester' loses move to dismiss case

Staff Writer

Austin B. Tibbetts, a former Midland optician who once headed up the income-tax protest movement tabbed the United Tax Action Patriots in Midland, lost another round Monday in federal court to get his case dismissed. U.S. Federal Judge Lucius D. Bunton ruled against a defense motion that Tibbetts was subjected to "discriminatory prosecution" by the government.

Tibbetts' attorney, Mark McClellan of Phoenix, Ariz., argued that his client was singled out for investigation of possible income tax evasion because he was vocal about his stance on income taxes and he freely aired his anti-Internal Revenue Service views in assemblies

He said the case should be dismissed, for Tibbetts, 59, was exercising his First Amendment rights under the Bill of Rights to assembly and freedom of speech.

"I really think that any other conclusion is absurd because of the outspokenness and vocalism."

THE JUDGE apparently thought "I'm going to overrule the motion."

Bunton said. The judge also overruled other metions, including one to give Tibbetts access to grand jury minutes con-cerning him, another to postpone the trial, and yet another to dismiss the case against Tibbetts because he "was not properly informed" of his rights under the Privacy Act of 1974.
"The motion is overruled," said the judge, "although I do think it is an interesting point." The judge ordered Tibbetts to trial Monday in federal court here. He currently is free under a $100,000

Principal witness in the hearing was Jerry Stamps, group manager of the IRS's Criminal Investigation Division in Lubbock.

Stamps admitted that the Tibbetts investigation was triggered by Tibbetts' involvement in tax protest efforts. But otherwise his protesting had nothing to do with the prose-

The IRS agent conceded that Tibbetts' outspoken stand "had a bearing" on the investigation. The IRS started its "preliminary check" on Tibbetts, who moved to Amarillo in 1976, in mid-1974. IRS Special Agent Bob Wilson was assigned to the Tibbetts case in 1975 and was succeeded by Special Agent F.R.

Tibbetts was placed under surveillance by the U.S. Treasury agents.

"...He was going in and out of tax protest meetings," Stamps observed. But he insisted that Tibbetts' outspokenness and his attendance at taxprotest meetings were incidental to the investigation and to subsequent indictments and prosecution.

"No," he said, "that had nothing to do with it, except that it started us out" in the investigation "to determine that he had, in fact, broken the

Furthermore, the IRS alleged that Tibbetts attempted to "evade and defeat" the income tax system by: -Failing to make proper income tax reports. -Failing to pay the IRS taxes due.

-Discontinuing use of checking accounts and using currency, money orders and cashier checks "to conceal his transactions."

-Preparing and causing to be filed "protest-type" 1040 Forms and failing to disclose his income, expenses and

If Potts' request is granted, execution could occur within a month. He would be the first person executed in Georgia in 16 years and only the fourth in the United States in more than a decade

Potts was sentenced to die for the 1975 kidnapping and murder of Michael Priest, a 24-year-old father of Potts fired his attorneys last fall, converted to Catholicism, and said he would rather be executed immediately than continue living under what he considered intolerable prison conditions. He also complained of constant pain from a bullet lodged near his spine, a wound suffered in a shootout with police.

He was scheduled to die at 10:30 a.m. last Thursday. But at 7 p.m. Wednesday, after his brother and a former girlfriend pleaded with him all day, Potts agreed to authorize new appeals and named anti-death penalty attorney Millard Farmer to handle the case.

Potts' letter said he asked to appeal his sentence "to satisfy my brother...so he could know without a doubt he had done all he could do for me." Potts said he "had no idea the stay would be granted.'

Farmer contended Potts was harassed by prison guards at the Georgia State Prison at Reidsville after the execution was scrubbed and the humiliation influenced his decision to drop his appeals.

Department of Offender Rehabilitation officials denied the charges.

A 50-year-old Canadian who has a "long" criminal record was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary Monday afternoon by U.S. Federal Judge Lucius D. Bunton in Midland after he had pleaded guilty in federal court to illegal re-entry into the United States.

The man, Kenneth Daniels of British Columbia, was arrested in Valentine on March 28 and pleaded guilty in federal court in Pecos to illegal entry on May 27. He had been a trusty in federal custody in Pecos.

WASHINGTON — Justice Department officials may have tampered with the FBI's ABSCAM investigation by ordering undercover agents not to pursue promising leads against seven members of Congress.

The favored seven have been idea.

The favored seven have been identified as House Speaker Tip O'Neill, D-Mass., House Judiciary Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and Reps. James Florio, D-N.J., William Hughes, D-N.J., James Howard, D-N.J. and Jim Mattox, D-Texas.

This charge will be documented in a forthcoming book by Bob Greene, Newsday's veteran investigative reporter. The confidential outline indicates that the book will be based heavily on evidence from Mel Weinberg, the government's star witness in the ABSCAM caper.

Washington is a mecca for unsavory financial transactions which are often consummated in cash, with no records lying around to cause later embarrassment. But eight members of Congress were implicated in the ABSCAM scandal, most of them caught on videotape pocketing greenbacks passed out by undercover FBI operatives posing as bagmen for an Arab oil sheik.

Seven others were mentioned as legislators whose influence could be purchased with the right amount of mazuma. Now it will never be known whether they would have accepted bribes, because the investigations were quietly cut off. In all seven cases, the only incriminating conversations were with the middlemen who boasted of congressional connections they may have exaggrerated.

that the FBI undercovermen had expressed great interest. But then nothing happened. I also noted that Justice Department officials had expressed no interest in pursuing a lead involving North Carolina's Lt. Gov. James Green, who is active in President Carter's re-election campaign.

Greene's book outling goes further

Greene's book outline goes further. Citing evidence from Weinberg and other sources, Greene declares: "Weinberg and the agents who worked with him were frustrated and bewildered at a series of orders from the Justice Department in Washington which prevented them from pursuing what they regarded as promising leads."

The outline names the seven legislators and points out significantly: "The intermediaries who offered these congressmen had already successfully delivered other congressmen into the federal net."

The document doesn't identify who issued the orders scotching the pursuit of the seven members of Congress. But the ABSCAM investigation was closely supervised in Washington by Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti and Philip Heymann, head of the Justice Department's criminal division.

Army study, titled "Army Concerns, Impacts and Costs," warns that construction delays, equipment shortages, lack of funding and other constraints jeopardize U.S. readiness overseas ... In closed-door meetings with congressional leaders, administration officials have advocated substantial budget cuts for every major agency except one: the Defense Department. Yet all the fat that the armed forces have accumulated actually hinders their military efficiency ... President Carter has asked the Commerce Department to pick up some of the Pentagon's sea lift costs. At the same time, the president's budget experts have been trimming and tightening the department's budget. This has led Commerce Secretary Philip Klutznick to ask the budget office discreetly about "a possible supplemental appropriation ... in light of the defense issue the president has asked me to address."

SLOW LEARNER: Even after nine months on the job, Energy Secretary Charles Duncan continues to make flubs that have members of Congress shaking their heads.

At one recent Capitol Hill hearing, for example, he referred to Doris Dewton, assistant administrator of the Energy Regulatory Administration, as "Mr. Dewton."

Duncan committed a more serious gaffe at an appearance before the House trade subcommittee. Asked to explain an important technical point in the proposed oil-import fee, Duncan confessed that he did not fully understand it.

"I am a layman," he explained airily. "I am not a lawyer."

At this, Rep. James Shannon, D-Mass., reminded Duncan with some asperity, "You are the secretary of energy."

CHARLEY REESE

Carter's performance will determine election

Well, the big project among political pundits these days is picking Ronald Reagan's vice presidential candidate. It is amusing to watch the liberal pundits come up with elaborate arguments for Reagan choosing a liberal.

You understand, of course, that the word, "liberal," is no longer fashionable and that the current euphemism is "moderate." Naturally the same pundits who are instructing Reagan on the choice of his running mate are the same ones who instructed Republicans earlier to choose a moderate and not Reagan.

I don't think Reagan will take their advice. He listened to that kind of advice in 1976 and it cost him the nomination. I expect that this time around he will choose someone acceptable to the conservative mainstream.

Actually, the liberals are just play-

Actually, the liberals are just playing a propaganda game. No liberal has ever suggested that a liberal presidential candidate choose a conservative running mate in order to "broaden the base." Jack Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson were both liberals; Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale are both liberals. Only conservative Republican nominees are urged to choose liberal running mates.

Balancing a ticket philosophically is intellectually dishonest. Why should people vote for a president who believes in collectivism? Why vote for a president who wants to lower taxes and a vice president who wants to raise them?

There are more legitimate ways to balance a ticket. In Reagan's case, he will want to balance his age with youth. He will probably want geographic balance. For both of those reasons, my guess — and it is only a guess — is that Rep. Jack Kemp, R.-Buffalo, N.Y., will be the choice.

Kemp is the author of the Kemp-Roth tax reduction bill which Reagan has made a major part of his campaign. Kemp is young and vigorous (former NFL quarterback) and from the industrial northeast. Yet he is in tune with Reagan on philosophy and he has from the beginning actively campaigned for Reagan's nomination.

I really can't see why Reagan would choose any of the men he defeated since all of them are demonstrably weaker vote getters than he is.

Liberals, however, with an eye on Reagan's age will maneuver frantically to get one of their own on the ticket and the public has no way of knowing what will take place in the backrooms of the convention until after the fact.

I learned from a man who was present that in 1976 it was Nelson Rockefeller who prevented President Ford from even offering the second spot to Reagan. Ford's professional advisors urged him to throw the choice open to the convention, knowing the convention would nominate Reagan. If Reagan accepted, they reasoned, it would be a strong ticket; if Reagan declined, no Reagan supporter could hold a grudge against President Ford. That's a sound political strategy.

Rockefeller, however, fiercely opposed it. To Rockefeller it was more important to keep Reagan away from the White House than it was to elect Ford to a second term. After all, Rockefeller's brother was backing Carter so the Rockefeller dynasty had all its bets covered. Some Republicans feel that the decision cost Ford the White House.

But Nelson Rockefeller has been called to the great board room in the sky and it may be that there are no liberal Republicans left with enough clout to influence Reagan. We shall have to wait and see.

It's my opinion that the 1980 election will be a referendum on the Carter-Mondale administration and that the majority of people will be voting for or against Carter rather than for Reagan or the other independents.

If that's true, then the outcome is more dependent on Carter's performance between now and November than it is on Reagan's choice of a running mate.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Tuesday, June 10, the 162nd day of 1980. There are 204 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia named a committee to draft the Peclaration of Independence.

On this date: In 1610, the first Dutch settlers in America landed on Manhattan island. In 1898, U.S. Marines invaded Cuba in the Spanish-American War.

In 1945, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower received the Soviet Union's highest award, the Order of Victory.

In 1967, the Six-Day War ended in the Middle East, with Israel holding conquered Arab territory four times its own size.

Ten years ago: Palestinian guerrillas, insisting on unrestricted freedom to use Jordan as a base of operations against Israel, were fighting forces loyal to Jordan's King Hussein.

Five years ago: The Rockefeller Commission charged that the CIA had unlawfully opened mail, wiretapped, bugged rooms and compiled files on thousands of individuals and organizations in America.

Last year: Pope John Paul II ended a nine-day visit to his native Poland and urged his countrymen to "be strong with the strength that comes from faith."

Today's birthdays: Britain's Prince Philip is 59. Former astronaut James McDivitt is 51.

Thought for today: I like a man who grins when he fights — Sir Winston Churchill (1874-1965)

I don't understand myself at all, for I really want to do what is right, but I can't. I do what I don't want to-what I

I know perfectly well that what I am doing is wrong, and my bad conscience proves that I agree with these laws I am breaking.

But I can't help myself, because I'm no longer doing it. It is sin inside me that is stronger than I am that makes me do these evil things.

I know I am rotten through and through so far as my old sinful nature is concerned. No matter which way I turn I can't make myself do right. I want to but I can't.

When I want to do good, I don't; and when I try not to do wrong, I do it anyway.

Now if I am doing what I don't want to, it is plain where the trouble is: sin still has me in its evil grasp.

It seems to be a fact of life that when I want to do what is right, I inevitably do what is wrong.

I love to do God's will so far as my new nature is concerned;

But there is something else deep within me, in my lower nature, that is at war with my mind and wins the fight and makes me a slave to the sin that is still within me. In my mind I want to be God's willing servant but instead. I find myself still enslaved to sin.

So you see how it is: my new life tells me to do right, but the old nature that is still inside me loves to sin. Oh, what a terrible predicament I'm in! Who will free me from my slavery to this deadly lower nature? Thank God! It has been done by Jesus Christ our Lord. He has set me free.

False alert 'confirms confidence'

Malfunction proves complex 'fail-safe' system works

WASHINGTON (AP) - Military professionals say last week's false warnings of Soviet missile attack confirmed their confidence in the U.S. alarm system, even though a computer malfunctioned

They say their ability to determine - within three minutes or less - that no attack was in progress reinforced their belief that the complex system is fail-safe against a mistaken U.S. response triggering nuclear war.

'The computer is like a burglar alarm," said one officer, who asked not to be identified. "It makes you go see whether your house is threa-

Alerted by last week's computer alarms at North American Air Defense Command headquarters, watch officers sprang to study direct readouts from satellites more than 22,000 miles in space and a variety of ground-based radars in Alaska, Greenland and England.

Billions of dollars' worth of electronic sentinels, some equipped with infrared devices that can spot heat plumes from Soviet missiles the instant they take off, constantly monitor possible approaches of Soviet at-

Last week, according to Pentagon officials, all these watchdogs registered negative after the computer alarm, indicating no actual missile launchings from submarines or from inside Russia.

The experts then concluded that the NORAD computer, which is supposed to collect data from the satellites and radar stations, had erred.

The episode points up, however, that potential life-and-death judgments must be made in a matter of minutes. That is because nuclear missiles can hit U.S. bomber bases from Soviet submarines in as little as nine minutes. The total flying time of a land-based missile from inside the Soviet Union to a U.S. target is 30

Only the president may order the firing of strategic nuclear weapons. and Pentagon authorities said senior military officers last week reached the false-alarm conclusion before it was necessary to disturb him. Top defense officials were not notified,

Last November, it took six minutes to make sure a false alert flashed from NORAD was caused by a test tape fed into a computer by mistake. Officials said at the time that had the error not been "absolutely confirmed" within another minute or so, President Carter and Defense Secretary Harold Brown would have been informed.

Last week, when the missile alarm registered on the computer in NORAD's Cheyenne Mountain command post at Colorado Springs, Colo., high officers of NORAD instantly consulted with generals at the Strate gic Air Command in Omaha, Neb., and at the National Military Command Center in the Pentagon

The White House Situation Room, manned by crisis specialists, was notified. Following standard operating procedure, word was flashed to all major commands in Europe, the Pacific and elsewhere so they could take any steps they considered necessary to prepare their forces.

Meanwhile, crews of B-52 and FB-111 strategic bombers on ground alert were ordered to man their planes and start their engines for a speedy takeoff. But they were kept on the Missilemen manning the 1,054 U.S. Minuteman and Titan intercontinental weapons in their underground capsules also were warned to heighten their alert last Tuesday. Up to 30 percent of the nation's 510 strategic bombers are maintained on ground alert at all times. There is also a SAC command plane aloft 24 hours a day to prevent U.S. bomber and missile forces from being immobilized because of a Soviet missile hit on the SAC underground command post.

The SAC commander, Gen. Richard Ellis, has authority to scramble his planes, but he cannot send them past a "fail-safe" line toward the Soviet Union without specific presidential order. No bomber may head for its target without an authenticated voice

President to tour tornado damage

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) - One week after tornadoes swept through Grand Island, killing five and injuring more than 200, President Carter was to take a whirlwind tour of the devastated city. Carter was scheduled to arrive today, meet with local officials and tour the area by car. "I hope he can lift some flagging spirits," Rick Semm, information officer for state Civil Defense, said Monday. "The blues are setting in."

Semm, who grew up in this eastern Nebraska city of more than 30,000 residents, said the full impact of the disaster "is just sinking in. People are more and more depressed and they're getting very tired."

Grand Island Mayor Robert Kriz echoed the growing feeling of frustration and fatigue. He told a City Council meeting Monday night that officials, top, are

"We're not accomplishing our goals of the day," he said. "But we'll try — bear with us."

Kriz acknowledged that he was "overwhelmed with the courage of Nebraska people and Grand

"But after 10, 15, 20 days, people are going to become uptight," he cautioned. "It's a normal psy-chological effect."

The mayor also said that a car, pickup truck and two horse trailers were pulled Monday from a waterfilled sandpit just east of the most heavily-damaged area. All the vehicles were empty. Authorities had feared one or more of those on the missing list might have died when the vehicles were blown into the water by the storms. Divers had been hampered in the search by poor visibility in the Last week's storm spawned more than seven tornadoes in the area with six confirmed touchdowns Gov. Charles Thone Monday released figures projecting damage to private property at $116 mil-lion, public property losses at $15.1 million, and damage to public schools at $6.5 million. The tornadoes caused an estimated $5.1 million damage to Hall County's agricultural sector alone, authorities said Monday. Rodney Youngquist, county executive director of the Agriculture Conservation and Stablization Service, said the damage figure includes "17 total wipeouts — farmers who lost everything — 11 farmsteads with major damage and 20 more with medium damage. Authorities Monday cut the official list of "unaccounted for" to four. In addition, about 200 National Guard troops from surrounding cities were being withdrawn from Grand Island on Monday after spending nearly a week patrolling the city. Lt. Col. Larry Hennings said 77 guardsmen from Grand Island would continue to assist local police until it is determined they are no longer needed.

Rural Mexican area recovering from quake

(AP) — Residents in this rural area of northwestern Mexico today were recovering from a devasting earthquake that left at least one dead, scores injured and hundreds homeless. Residents in the farming village of Oaxaca, 23 miles southeast of Mexicali and hardest hit by the rollin tremors, were without water and utilities Monday. Boiling water seeping through cracked ground from around a nearby geothermal plant flooded the town's streets. "There is destruction everywhere you look,"

MEXICALI, Mexico said Enrique Hage, spokesman for the civilian auxiliary of the Mexican Red Cross.

In Victoria, a village located 43 miles southeast of Mexicali, numerous homes were damged or destroyed.

The quake struck last Sunday night, and sent shock waves north through California and Arizona.

Two bombs explode today in Tel Aviv

By The Associated Press

Two bombs planted by Arab terrorists exploded in a Tel Aviv suburb today, and the city's police warned that Palestinian guerrilla organizations might be planning a letter-bomb blitz. Meanwhile, President Carter's plan to resume the talks on Palestinian autonomy appeared to be moving forward.

One bomb was planted at a military pickup point in Peah Tikvah for soldiers traveling to their base, and the second in a trash bin in the town, about six miles from Tel Aviv.

Authorities reperted no injuries or damage, but said: "Check all your mail carefully for name, return address and size. If you have any suspicions, report immediately to the police.

Arab guerrilla groups have threatened to step up their attacks from Lebanon, and more recently from Jordan, in response to the sudden escalation of violence in the occupied West Bank.

Egypt has accepted Carter's proposal that Egyptian and Israeli negotiators meet in Washington to try and break a month-long deadlock in the Palestinian autonomy talks. Israel has said it may send its negotiator to Washington this week, but has not commented directly on Carter's

Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie urged Israel and Egypt to work for a political climate that would aid the talks. However, Muskie also denounced new Israeli settlements on the West Bank of the Jordan as disrupting chances for an agreement on the future of the Palestinians living there.

"If negotiations are to succeed, no party should take steps on its own that prejudge the outcome," Muskie said in his first speech on the Middle East since becoming secretary of state last month following the resignation of Cyrus Vance,

President Anwar Sadat, who announced the Egyptian decision Monday, said his government was consulting Washington on a date. Senior foreign ministry sources in Cairo said Egypt proposed the first week of July. Sadat said Egypt would make its decision known "in a few days."

Israeli Prime Minister Menachem

Begin has said Interior Minister Yosef Burg, who has led the Israeli delegation at the autonomy talks, may go to Washington this week to discuss a date for resumption of the talks. He declined to say whether Carter had invited Burg.

Burg told reporters in Tel Aviv that he expected a procedural meeting, but would not comment on Begin's statment about a trip to Washington.

"I believe we will not have negotiations about the essence of the autonomy, but about the procedure: when we will meet, which working groups should meet and so on — preparations for the real meeting," he said.

Sadat also indicated that Washington meeting would be preparatory to full resumption of the talks.

Under the Camp David accords, the Egyptian-Israeli talks were supposed to have produced a Palestinian autonomy plan by May 26. Sadat suspended the talks in early May because of what he called a "dismal political atmosphere" created by Israel in its refusal to discuss the status of Arab East Jerusalem.

Muskie's remarks, delivered at the Washington Press Club, were intended to for western Europeans as well as Arabs and Israelis. With the autonomy talks stalled, the Europeans are preparing U.N. resolutions in support of Palestinian "self-determination," a codeword for statehood.

DEAR ABBY One test to leave till after the wedding

DEAR ABBY: I am an old-fashioned European-born widow who is being courted by a gentleman who wants to marry me. I like him very much and think he would make a fine husband, but he says before he decides to marry me he would like to know what kind of lover I would make. He says his wife will have to be a good lover.

Abby, I am the kind of woman who makes love only with her hus-band, so what should I say when he keeps asking me to go on an overnight trip with him? - OLD-FASHIONED

DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: Tell him it's against your principles. (He might be wise to take his chances. While putting you to the test, he could flunk it.)

DEAR ABBY: We are three secretaries in a relatively small office. We have a wonderful boss. The problem is his overbearing wife.

She calls several times a day and asks us questions concerning what is happening at the office, such as, 'How did my husband's meeting to with Mr. So and So?" right down to things that are privileged information. "Did he have a lunch date with anyone?"

Any suggestions on how to solve our problem? — FRUSTRATED IN FORT WORTH

DEAR FRUSTRATED: The solution is simple. When the boss's wife asks for information, you do not wish to disclose, tell her that you are very busy, but you'll have her husband call her. Then tell your boss to call his wife and forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old attractive single woman who has been going with a 47-year-old divorce man for two years. (I'll call him

About six months ago I was at Tom's apartment when his son dropped in. The son, Billy, is 22. Tom and I were both pretty drunk. I had to get home and was in no shape to drive and neither was Tom, so Billy drove

Well, I guess you could say Billy took advantage of me. It really makes me sick and ashamed every time I think of it, but there's nothing I can do about it now

Tom would be very hurt if he knew what happened. Since then, Billy has hit me up for money, and I have given it to him because I don't want to get on the wrong side of him for fear he'll tell his father about us.

I don't like being blackmailed, and that is what is happening to me. I need your advice and will do whatever you say. - GUILTY REDHEAD

DEAR GUILTY: Tell Billy that the blackmail game is over, and if he wants to tell his father what happened to go ahead and tell him. The chances are that he won't. But if he does, admit it, and get it over with.

Your horoscope

By JEANE DIXON

Wednesday, June 11, 1980 YOUR BIRTHDAY TO-DAY: Chad Everett-who is presently starring in the adventure series "Hagen"-shares your birthday. In the next few months, your adventures will be mainly in the area of finance. Look for several very unusual opportunities to lay the groundwork for long-term monetary gains.

Employment affairs could improve for you while they deteriorate for others. Try not to push yourself too hard physically. You may have to take responsibility for a relative's welfare. In romance, look for a partner who shares your peaceful dedication to high

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Emphasis is on doing adequate research, being able to support declarations with facts. Check subordinate's work very carefully. Associate who seems to be on the fence has already chosen sides. Look for new allies.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Do not become emotional ly involved in matter that does not concern you. You may have heard only one side of a fairly complicated story. Let others resolve their own dif-

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Business associate may offer some valuable information regarding taxes. Do not be afraid to express the depth of your affection for a loved one. Mate. partner has something special to confide also.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Travel could be disappointing now. Surprising disclosure by co-worker gives you food for thought. Evening hours should be used for selfo improvement activities.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): • Keep emotions under control. Sudden moves or impulsive words could jeopardize future financial security. Steer clear gested by well-intentioned friend

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Postpone shopping trips and long-distance journeys. Play it safe in all relationships, encounters. At work, highest possible standard of efficiency should be maintained.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Lack of ready cash may hamper personal plans. Use your ingenuity: make do with available materials. Try to keep minor domestic squabble from escalating into a major battle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov.-21): Be alert to the motives of others. Sad story may turn out to be a tall tale. Save your sympathy for those who deserve it! Self-discipline helps you deal with a difficult personal problem. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Seek the company of a hardworking acquaintance. Social friend could tell you of an important business, career opportunity. Choose confidants carefully CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Work goes smoothly but day may seem especially tiring. Special message delights you. Friend is happy to help out in an emergency. Show appreciation by returning favor at earliest opportunity AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Assertiveness pays off in both business and romance today. Come to grips with an important career decision. Travel may be involved. Older person offers sound advice about personnel matter.

PISCES (Feb: 19-March 20): Improve efficiency. Someone with a good head for figures can help you come up with a better way for keeping records. Seek the cooperation of family members.

The proper defense is for East to shift to the jack of spades at trick two. If declarer does not take the trick, East simply continues with a low spade. However, declarer will probably win in dummy with an honor.

There is no way that declarer can come to nine tricks without tackling diamonds. When West wins the ace of diamonds, he simply reverts to a spade, and East rattles off three spade tricks to complete a one-trick

NEW YORK (AP) - A 26-year-old Queens man has been charged with the hospital room slaying of Carol Jurlando, who lived across the street from him, police said. Ronald J. DeCasper was arrested at his Ozone Park home Monday night and charged with second-degree mur-tained "a minor head injury which was subsequently reported as being sustained during an accidental fall," said the report, in which all names had been deleted.

"A number of nursing service personnel, in violation of VA regulations, failed to properly report instances of patient abuse observed by them," the report said

"In all but one instance, the stated reason for not making such reports was a prevailing but unsubstantiated fear of reprisals if they did make such reports. One nursing service employee attributed her failure to report instances of abuse to a lack of confidence in the supervisor to take any

"I wish they would send me one," Baker said. "I've talked with Washington and apparently my copy is still floating around the central office." He refused to comment on the report until he had a chance to see it.

U.S. to eye low tar cigs

WASHINGTON (AP) - The U.S. surgeon general is redirecting research on smoking in an effort to determine whether Americans are doing themselves even more harm by smoking more but thinking they're getting less tar and nico-

Dr. Julius B. Richmond told 75 doctors and scientists at the opening session of a three-day conference Monday that the trend to low-tar and low-nicotine cigarettes has led to changes in people's smoking habits.

Richmond, in a 1979 report to Congress, raised the question of whether people smoking low-tar and low-nicotine cigarettes might be doing themselves more harm by smoking more often or inhaling more deeply.

Dr. Joanne Luoto, medical officer for the Smoking and Health agency in the Department of Health and Human Services, said cigarettes with 15 milligrams of tar or less accounted for only 2 percent of cigarette sales in 1967, but 46 percent today, "a 23-fold increase in 13

VDT operators report more health complaints

NEW YORK (AP) - A group of office workers Monday. who operate video display terminals reported significantly more health complaints than a control group that did not use the terminals, a new federal study says.

The complaints ranged from eye problems to muscular aches to fatigue, according to the study by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health.

The institute also checked for radiation leaks, but none was detected in 67 terminals tested at the Blue Shield office in the San Francisco area, where the survey was conducted.

The study was requested by the AFL-CIO Office and Professional Employees International Union, which released The union's president called for a national campaign for protection from and prevention of hazards of the terminals, which are used in airline offices, billing offices, secretarial services, computer firms, banks, news media offices and other businesses.

According to the report, questionnaires were given to 102 VDT operators and a control group of 110 clerical workers who do not use VDTs at the Blue Shield office.

The response rate was 72.5 percent for VDT operators and 38.2 percent for control subjects. The VDT workers reported significantly higher levels of health problems cluding eye strain. blurred vision, burning eyes and lack of color perception. Many complained of problems related to glare.

-Muscular and bone problems, including neck pain, sore shoulders, pain in the arms and legs, neck pressure, neck pain into shoulders, swollen muscles, sore wrists, hand cramps, numbness and loss of arm strength

-Psychological problems, including fatigue, anxiety, depression and confusion

John Kelly, president of the AFL-CIO organization, said the problems cited in the NIOSH study 'serve as a warning that potentially significant psychological dysfunction could occur for individual VDT operators."

Chevron energy report:

Independent marketers of Chevron products-

Small businessmen doing a big job.

They're the indispensable link in getting petroleum products to you efficiently.

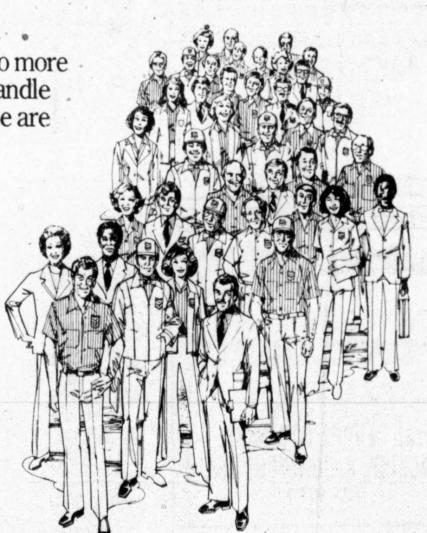

Chevron independent marketers do more than operate service stations. Some handle marine or aviation products, and some are home heating fuel distributors.

Others are Chevron commission agents and jobbers, getting the products to commercial, agricultural and industrial customers as well as to some service stations.

They are all independent businessmen and women, and they all have the same big job: helping to meet America's energy needs.

To help them run their businesses successfully, Chevron provides professional training, technical know-how and operational counsel. This in turn helps them serve you better—a big job for small businessmen, especially in these difficult times.

Today, we all have a big job: conserving energy. It's one of the best ways to help make America energyindependent.

GOLF - Nicholas Beauvy of Los Angeles defeated Welsh youth champion Andrew Ingram to spark an impressive run of American first-round successes in the British Amateur Golf Championship. Steven Cisco of Chicago scored a 19thhole victory over English international player Ian Bradshaw.

Other first-round American winners were Christian Kling of New York, Atlanta's Charles Harrison and Graham Cowan of Los Angeles.

BASEBALL - Third baseman George Brett of the Kansas City Royals was named American League Player of the Week. Brett batted .469 during the June 2-8 voting period and accumulated 29 total bases, including two doubles and four home

HOCKEY — Scotty Morrison, the National Hockey League's referee-in-chief, said that the league has adopted its toughest approach yet toward brawling.

A new rule passed at the session says that when a fight erupts, all players must leave the area and go to their benches or a clearly-defined zone of noncombatants. Failure to do so will result in a minor penalty. In addition, any player who drops a glove or both gloves after a fight has started will receive a 10-minute misconduct penalty.

TENNIS - Roscoe Tanner struggled for almost two hours to beat Rod Frawley 3-6, 6-1, 9-7 in the first round of the Stella Artois Tennis Grand Prix at the GENERAL - The Canadian Olympic Association is considering ways to honor Canadian ath letes who won't be going to the Olympics because of the boycott, COA President Richard Pound said.

Pound said the group is encouraging the various sport bodies to go ahead with selection of Olympic teams. He said the association then may issue the teams with commemorative medals to honor the athletes.

Herzog captures first win

By BRUCE LOWITT

It took a while for Whitey Herzog to get his first victory as a National League manager. But that was nothing compared to how long it took San Francisco to win its game Monday

Herzog, succeeding Ken Boyer, needed a lot of help from George Hendrick, namely his run-scoring single in the first inning, RBI-double in the sixth and three-run homer in the 10th inning that gave the Cardinals a nail-biting 8-5 victory over Atlanta and ended their five-game losing

It took the Cards 21/2 hours to make Herzog a winner. In Philadelphia, it took an incredible 71/2 hours from first pitch to last - including the five-hour rain delay - before the Giants locked up a 3-1 victory.

Elsewhere on the National League's weather-plagued schedule, the Cincinnati Reds and San Diego Padres played to a 6-6 tie with the game called after 101/2 innings following 31/2 hours of rain delays, the Los Angeles Dodgers' game against the Mets in New York was rained out before it began and the Houston Astros beat the Chicago Cubs 6-2. Pittsburgh and Montreal were not scheduled.

"I was very particular about the job I'd take," Herzog said, "This was the first one offered to me - so I took it.

"I don't think we are a last-place club," he said of the Cards, who trail fifth-place Chicago by five games and first-place Montreal by 12 in the NL East. "Things have happened and I'm not blaming anybody. We've just got to right it."

In the 10th inning, Keith Hernandez walked and Ted Simmons, who had homered in the third inning, singled off Larry Bradford before Hendrick greeted Gene Garber with his 12th homer of the year..

"I usually hit better against righthanders," said Jackson, who can enjoy it but can't explain his success against southpaws. In addition to his dramatic solo homer in the ninth inning off Dave LaRoche, which tied the game at 7-7, Jackson had a two-run double off LaRoche in the seventh, when the Yankees scored four times to wipe out a 4-0 Angel lead. 'My thought was to give the team, the manager and myself the best chance," said Jackson, recalling his thoughts before the seventh-inning double. "I wanted to get the fat of the bat on the ball with a good compact

In the only other American League games Monday night, Baltimore beat Oakland 3-2 and Seattle edged Boston 8-7 in 13 innings. Rain washed out the contest between Kansas City and Cleveland.

Orioles 3, A's 2

Eddie Murray's sacrifice fly in the ninth inning scored Pat Kelly from third base, leading Baltimore over Oakland. Before Kelly drew a walk, the Orioles had been virtually helpless for more than six innings against the A's Rick Langford, 4-5. After three straight hits in the second inning, Langford retired 22 straight batters.

Ken Singleton sent Kelly to third with a single and Murray followed with his sacrifice fly to right.

"The ball wasn't too deep and I knew the right fielder had a strong arm. But I wasn't going to wait until the 22nd inning," said Kelly after beating Tony Armas' throw to the

NEW YORK (AP) - The Golden State Warriors opened the 1980 National Basketball Association college draft today by selecting Joe Barry Carroll, the 7-foot-1, 240-pound center who led Purdue to the NCAA semifinals last season.

The Utah Jazz, picking second, took guard Darrell Griffith, the explosive 6-4 star who led Louisville to the college championship.

Boston, choosing third, opted for Kevin McHale, a 6-11 center from Minnesota who may be shifted to power forward in the pros. McHale is an aggressive player who averaged 17.4 points and 8.8 rebounds per game last winter and was the MVP of the postseason Aloha Classic, regarded by scouts as a prime showcase for NBA prospects.

Denver was up next and selected 6-9 forward James Ray of Jacksonville, an outstanding shooter with great quickness and leaping ability.

The Nuggets were desperate for a power forward after losing George Johnson, their starter at the close of last season. Johnson had been sent to Denver a year ago with the option that he could be reclaimed by the Milwaukee Bucks, and they elected to exercise that option.

The next two picks belonged to New Jersey — their own and one obtained from Portland in last year's Maurice Lucas-Calvin Natt trade

The San Diego Clippers, desperate for help at forward, picked 6-7 Michael Brooks of LaSalle.

Portland completed the top 10 choices by selecting guard Ronnie Lester of Iowa.

Chicago then stunned the crowd by trading Ransey, whom it had taken with the No. 4 pick, to Portland for Lester, the 10th pick. In addition, Chicago will receive a first round pick

Mr. Dodger just one of the boys

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) - Los Angeles' manager Tommy Lasorda had hardly checked into his New York hotel room Monday morning when the telephone started ringing.

A reminder from Dr. Maurice Saklad about an 11:30 dental appointment. The Italian Society called to say don't forget the luncheon in his honor Tuesday. Old Friends wanting to say "hello." Strangers requesting baseballs, caps and other paraphernalia. Endless club details.

Then there were those two army sergeants from World

"I never shut off my phone," said the ebullient Dodger perennial. "If somebody wants to talk to me, I don't care how trivial, I'll talk to them.'

But back to those sergeants: They weren't begging. They were just collecting.

"It's a funny but true story, said Mr. Dodger, who brought his club to town as No.1 in Division West and bent on reviving the pennant surges of 1977 and 1978 interrupted by a slump last season. "It's 1945 and I'm doing an army hitch at Fort Meade, Md. I go up to my master sergeant and ask for a weekend pass. "Naw, nothing doing,' he

"I said, 'If you give me a pass I'll give you two tickets to a major league game when I get "The sarge was skeptical. He asked what major league team I played for. I told him I pitched for Concord in the North Carolina State League.

"The North Carolina State League!' he blurted, almost falling off his chair. But he seemed amused at my gall. I got the pass.

"A couple of weeks later I repeated the request. 'Not again,' the sergeant said. But he gave me the pass. Before I was through, I had hustled him out of about 10 weekend passes."

Eleven years passed. Lasor-da, a left-handed pitcher, had paid his minor league dues -Concord, Dover, Schenectady and mostly Montreal - and put in a couple of inauspicious years with the Dodgers before landing with Kansas City in 1956.

The then Kansas City A's swung into Boston for a series with the Red Sox. An obscure pitcher on the roster didn't for-

"I knew my old master sergeant, Lou Rinaldi, lived in Springfield, Mass., Lasorda said, "I got the hotel operator to put in a call. "Sarge,' I said, guess who this is? This is Lasorda from Fort Meade. Come on over and you can get those tickets.

"He came. Since then, I have repaid those weekend pass debts 10 times over.'

Scheduled for a ticket to tonight's game with the Mets was another sergeant, a Lasorda war buddy.

"He was my barber in the service," Lasorda explained with unbridled relish. "Sure, I made crazy deals with him for haircuts just like I promised tickets to my uncle who owns a restaurant in my hometown, Norristown, Pa. How do you think I got all those hot Italian sandwiches.?"

"I can't say 'no.' I'm a bleeding heart."

He bleeds Dodger blue.

Tom Lasorda is the roving ambassador for both the Dodgers and baseball. He makes hundreds of appearances annually at banquets and related affairs, usually for free. He is always on the stump.

A Hollywood favorite, he pops up on the talk shows, TV specials'and in the movies. Frank Sinatra and friends move in and out of his office at will. But Lasorda appears happiest when he is doing things for the ordinary people. Once, leaving Dodger Sta dium, he was approached by a

"It's a long, tough, hard course that rewards a good shot and penalizes a bad one. It's the kind of course I like.

It's the way I think golf ought to be. "I'm looking forward to it. The Open is something special in any case. It's the national championship. Considering I've let two of them get away, I'd have to say it would mean something extra special to me. Maybe it would mean more now than before.

He paused for a moment. "I have a wife (his second wife, Susie) who has convinced me that success doesn't mean much if you don't have to work for it.'

Alouettes smile when thinking about Biletnikoff

VICTORIAVILLE, Que. (AP) - Joe Scannella's surehanded receiver was available. eyes sparkle and a big smile creases his face. The head coach of the Montreal Alouettes is more than a little pleased to have Fred Biletnikoff, pass catcher extraordinaire, in camp.

"Fred Biletnikoff has, without a doubt, the greatest hands I've seen in football," Scannella said after No. 25 in uniform with the Alouettes. the Canadian Football League team had finished a grueling two-hour workout.

The offseason acquisition of the 37-year-old former National Football League standout with the Oakland Raiders came as a surprise.

Not long after Biletnikoff's signing, the Alouettes sent wide receiver Bob Gaddis on a deep fly pattern to Hamilton to try his luck with the Tiger-Cats. Scannella, who spent six years at Oakland with

"From what I've seen of him in camp so far, there's no difference," Scannella said. "He has the same speed, the same gait, he makes the same moves and he has the same burst to go get the ball when he has to." Scannella said Biletnikoff has never been a "blazer," but as long as he has the burst, he has a job with the Alouettes. As for the Alouettes' expectations of Biletnikoff, Biletnikoff as special teams coordinator, knew the Scannella said they hope he will be "a little more

"We expect him to make a big catch when we need it. He's always been consistent, always made the big catch. In my years at Oakland I only remember him dropping one pass - a crucial pass, that is."

Biletnikoff, who caught 589 passes in his NFL career for an average of more than 42 receptions a season, said he has no idea how many good years he has left and must play year-by-year.

"Up until five months ago, I never even thought I'd be out on a football field in training camp," said Biletnikoff, who scored 76 touchdowns with Oakland. "I don't how much longer I have. I'm going to stay in the best possible shape I can and do the best possible job that I can of contributing to this team and see if they want me back next year.

Posey believes Indy overrated

SHARON, Conn. (AP) - In pure racing terms, the Indianapolis 500 is not a great race, says veteran race car driver Sam Posey.

He says the car is more important than the driver and the track is dangerous

Still, Posey is fascinated by the race. He has driven it and has analyzed it for television. His position as driver-analyst has allowed him to do much thinking on his sport. For instance, he has concluded that to get a start in racing, a prospective driver must have money.

"Inherited wealth is the answer," the 33-year-old driver said in a recent interview. "There are few starting without family wealth.

Posey's family had money, making his entrance into racing easier than it would have been without. But he denied an old story that his mother owned the Lime Rock race track, where he made his first start on the professional racing level.

That first start at Lime Rock in 1965 as an 18-year-old was the beginning of the fulfillment of a life-long dream for the sandyhaired, slender Posey, whose love for auto racing began when he was growing up in Sharon, Conn. .

He was 8 when he and a friend began following the Grand Prix circuit through reports in The New York Times. In time, they were racing bicycles around Posey's home. And he eventually built a sled on wheels that he called the "Mudge Pond Express," a name he later used for the title of his autobiogra-"By the time I was 12, I had six hard years of competition behind me," Posey said. "We always raced against the clock, so consequently I am an excellent qualifier and an indifferent

Those races, he said, were the most important races of his career.

But after trying his hand at Grand Prix racing, Posey left it behind for good. "I saw that I was good enough at my very best to be near the best, but not the best. I felt I would constantly be over my head," "I backed out consciously and without any regrets. I just absolutely saw it wasn't me.' In his final year of Grand Prix racing, Posey also drove his first and last Indianapolis 500, where he finished fifth.

"I tried to race Indy more than once, but didn't make it as a rookie," he said. "That's the race that everybody wants to run, although in pure racing terms it ranks low. After his good showing, Posey returned in 1973, but his team was disqualified for cheating. That same year a friend also died while racing in the Indy 500. His friend's death persuaded him to never race again at Indianapolis. "I had a chance to reflect on the whole business of Indy," he said. "I had no chance to do better.

"The car at Indy is more important than (it is in) road racing. The danger is much higher, and I am not a very courageous driver or person. There you're always in constant danger. And the danger exists outside the driving in the track itself.' Still he admitted that "I love that race, I'm fascinated by it. I admire those who drive it."

He viewed the race this year as an ABC commentator, a position he's held for most of six years. "ABC is satisfying, but very nervewracking. It's like taking a final exam — you've got to know everything," he said. His strength, he added, is analysis, not in calling the race. He also writes about racing for a national racing publica

Board to conduct public hearing

The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on the Transportation Transition Plan Wednesday at its monthly board of directors meeting at 1:30 p.m. in the Conference Room of the West Texas Education Agency building at the Air Terminal.

The Transition Plan identifies the transportation policies and improvements needed to achieve program accessibility for the handicapped. Copies of the plan are available for review from the Planning Department of the PBRPC. Interested persons wishing to submit evidence and recommendations regarding the plan may do so orally or in writing.

Other items to be discussed at the meeting include:

- An application from West Texas Opportunities for some $6,812 for summer programs in Lamesa, Stanton and McCamey for economically disadvantaged youths between the ages of eight and 13.

- An application from Ramcon Development, Inc., of Odessa for Federal Housing Administration approval of the Henderson Heights subdivision

- An application from the city of Seminole to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for funds amounting to $554,000 to set up a cooperative with the cotton producers on the South Plains. These funds are to be matched with private $3,466,350.

- An application from the Housing America Mortgage Co., Inc., of Dallas to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for mortgage insurance for the Grandview Village Apartments to be located in Odessa.

- An application from the city of Big Spring to the Texas Department of Community Affairs for funding for personnel management system improvement and training. The requested funds will amount to $18,738 to be matched with $19,521.

- An application for a revised interim budget for July 1 to Sept. 30, amounting to $7,636, for the PBRPC's Area Agency on the Aging.

Beckendorf works to be featured

An open house and art exhibit, featuring works by Charles Beckendorf. marks the 20th anniversary at Citizens Savings and Loan Association, 1100 Andrews Highway, through Fri-

On display are 48 original illustrations published in Beckendorf's "Images of Texas," which has received wide acclaim as a collector's item. Numbered and signed prints of each illustration as well as copies of the book are available to collectors.

Refreshments are being served to the public during business hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. through Thursday and until 6 p.m. on Friday.

Citizens Savings opened for business June 10, 1960, at 1408 W. Wall Ave. Total subscriptions were $663,342 with a capitol of $200,000 and paid in surplus of $100,000. Officers were Foy Proctor, president; L. Roy Prescott, vice president and manager; and Betty Lutke, assistant secretary. The original directors included Prescott, as well as R.A. 'Rudy' Berg, George S. Cone Jr., Marion Flynt, George W. Glass, Wil-liam A. Hutcheson, Boyd Laughlin, Dr. Henri E. Mast, Joseph I. O' Neill Jr., A.L. Pharr, Leonard Proctor and W.A. Yeager. Prescott now serves as chairman of the board. Citizens Savings had 30 Midland stockholders in addition to the officers and stockholders. Today, the Association has grown to total deposits in excess of $54,598,000 and has 29 employees in four offices.

Paper recycling becoming a trend

NEW YORK (AP) - Deep below the office building at 26 Federal Plaza, in a locked room with a special sprinkler system, is a treasure of sorts: 17 hampers on casters, each holding 350 pounds of white paper.

Similar treasures are scattered throughout the city — at the World Trade Center, at The New York Times, at Consolidated Edison, at the offices of the National Urban League.

Each represents a commitment to paper recycling.

"It's growing, it's in its infancy," said Sheila Millendorf, head of the Office Paper Recycling Service. "The companies that know about it are laughing up thefr sleeve at the others.

New York City each year generates 12 percent of the nation's high-grade waste - 175,000 tons of white ledger paper, computer paper and cards. Clients of Mrs. Millendorf's year-old service sell their high-grade waste to recyclers at prices ranging from $100 to $280 a ton. The Times, for instance, hopes to make $18,000 a year from recycl' 1g, said Booker Davis, manager of building services.

Mrs. Millendorf and her assistant, Jill Mendelson, tell executives that they can help the environment AND save money by recycling.

"It's a marriage of the two," she says. "Any company that comes to me and says, 'We don't care about the cost, or losing money, we just want to do this for the environment' - well, I'm leery of them because when it comes to budget cuts, it will be first to

"We're not promising tremendous revenues, but we're certainly promising no deficits," she adds.

With $54,000 in government and foundation grants, OPRS - part of the Council on the Environment of New York City — goes to each compa-ny and offers to draw up a recycling program tailored to its needs. Given the go-ahead, Mrs. Millendorf and Miss Mendelson take a detailed look at the firm and its offices, even weighing garbage.

Mrs. Millendorf figures the average office employee produces a quarter-pound of high-grade paper waste a

Her husband, Stuart, also has stake in recycling. He heads the World Trade Center's effort, which has collected 3.5 million pounds of paper in the past six years. Last year, the World Trade Center program, with less than a third of the twin towers' 45,000 employees participating, made $28,000. This year, Millendorf expects to make $70,000.

There are other big paper recycling efforts underway. Mrs. Millendorf knows of 15 companies that are recycling, and the city is collecting paper from 75 buildings throughout the five boroughs at a pace of 700 tons a

Under a directive from President Carter, the federal government is now recycling paper at almost all of its New York buildings.

"At least on a governmental level, you're going to see more of this," says
Barbara Kropf, recycling specialist, for the Environmental Protection.
Agency. "Our landfills are filling up, and by 1985, we're going to have to do something with our trash."

VW execs join Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) - Ten Volkswagen of America executives have jumped ship to join struggling Chrysler Corp., including eight who have first-hand knowledge of VW Rabbit design tech-

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Household utensils essential measures

Dear Dr. Solomon: My pediatrician recently prescribed some medicine for my daghter. The instructions called for her to get one teaspoon three times a day, and they were followed to the letter. Whatever I did obviously worked, because the child is now well. But a neighbor of mine tells me that doctors do not mean a teaspoon when they prescribe a tea-spoon of medicine. If this is so, what do they mean? Can you clear up this confusin? - Mrs. C.G.

Dear Mrs. G.: While the standard pharmacologic measure for a teaspoon is five cubic centimeters. household utensils may range from half a aspoon to a teaspoon and a half. In most cases, however, it is not essential that the exact dose be administered, and use of a household teaspoon would be appropriate.

When sensitive medications - such as drugs used to control seizures. medicine used in the treatment of asthma, and common antibiotics are prescribed, accuracy becomes increasingly important. This is particularly true when the patient is a young child or elderly persn. Why not check with your pharmacist to see if he can provide a more accurate measuring

Dear Dr. Solomon: My 12-year-old son insists on wearing sneakers wherever he goes because he wants to be prepared to play ball. When I was young, I recal being told that sneakers would cause flat feet if worn for any extended period of time. Would you please comment? - Mark. Dear Mark: Children who have very flat or very highly arched feet not wear sneakers: otherwise sneakers are not bad for the feet. In fact, their flexibility makes it possible for young children to wear them virtually all the time without suffering any ill effects. In one study of children who wore sneakers 85 percent of the time during a 10-year period, none developed flat feet or fallen arches. Sneakers permit the foot to spread out, yet can be laced tightly to provide support. Moreover, their rubber soles reduce the possibility of slipping.

However, sneakers should be made of a fabric that breathes, not plastic or artificial leather. Dear Dr. Solomon: A buddy of mine is being given methadone at a drug treatment center. If methadone itself is addictive, as I have been told it is, why don't they just give him heroin? - Frank. Dear Frank: It is true that methadone, a synthetic narcotic used to treat heroin addicts, can cause physical dependence. In fact, an overdose could even result in serious medical complications or even death. However, when used under proper medical supervision, methadone enables a person to hold a job, and generaly to lead a normal life. May programs that use methadone as part of their treatment of heroin addicts provide for its withdrawal once the addict has been rehabilitat-

Sohio raises gasoline price in Ohio by 11¢ per gallon

CLEVELAND (AP) - The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) says it raised its gasoline prices by 11 cents a gallon today because of forthcoming government regulations, but a lawmaker disputes that.

U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D. Ohio, called the move "a bald-faced attempt to use a public relations lations for Sohio's corporate greed."

Ohio motorists had enjoyed what cents nigher.

About 2,000 Sobio stations in Obio are affected by the price hike along with nearly 500 Boron stations in surrounding states and another 500 BP stations along the East Coast, said spokesman Chuck Partridge.

The increases were prompted by the imminent implementation of proposed Department of Energy regulations that would eliminate a price advantage held by companies using RK Petroleum completes Strawn discovery in Terry Sobia, a Cleveland-based company that is 53 percent owned by British Petroleum Lad. of London, has 22 percent of the oil reserves in Alaska's Prudhoe Bay.

The new government rules would change an entitlements program that originally was intended to equalize crude oil costs by having producers of duffiestic oil compensate those oil companies dependent on high-priced imported oil. Under that program, Alaskan North Slope oil was classed with imported oil because of the high transportion costs from Alaska.

The DOE said the soaring cost of foreign oil threw the program out of whack, giving North Slope oil users a 27-a-barrel cost advantage.
