Debate could make or break president

By WALTER R. MEARS AP Special Correspondent

CLEVELAND (AP) - President Carter and Ronald Reagan campaign face-to-face, at last, tonight.

It's 90 minutes, Democratic president vs. Republican challenger, for the debating championship of a campaign shadowed at the end as at the outset by the uncertain fate of the American hostages in Iran.

In a close contest for the White House, with just one week to go before Election Day, the nationally televised and broadcast debate could make or break a president.

An Associated Press-NBC News poll indicated Reagan was narrowly ahead in the current preferences of likely voters — but with 25 percent still undecided, and about as many saying the Cleveland debate will be a major factor in their final decisions.

The survey listed Reagan as preferred by 42 percent of likely voters, Carter by 36 percent, independent John B. Anderson by 10 percent, the rest scattered or uncertain. But the poll indicated that millions of Americans have made only tentative decisions on how to cast their ballots. The margin of error was 3 percent.

Anderson, who protested bitterly and futilely when he was dropped from the debate roster, is staging his own rebuttal in Washington. He is to answer the same questions the major party candidates get in a show to be televised by Cable News Network that will include, too, the Carter-Reagan

In a race so close, with the hour of decision so close, the two candidates in the real debate may well prove to be cautious, repeating familiar campaign themes, wary of the slip or the misstatement that could cost votes.

Carter campaigned his way to Cleveland and said he was ready for Reagan. The president was spending the day in his hotel, across the street from the ornate, 900-seat Music Hall debate scene, at his last-minute studies and rehearsals.

Reagan did his studying at home, at his rented estate in Middleburg, Va. before coming to the bunting-draped debate city to appear briefly at a downtown rally, then wait out the final hours until the 9:30 p.m. EST confrontation.

Four panelists were to question the candidates, whose aides tried to anticipate topics and questions, and put them to the debaters in private rehearsals. Reagan practiced with a stand-in playing Carter's role.

The questioners: Harry Ellis of the Christian Science Monitor; William Hilliard, assistant managing editor of the Portland Oregonian; Marvin Stone, editor of U.S. News & World Report; and Barbara Walters of ABC

Television commentator Howard K. Smith serves as moderator - as he did when John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon met 20 years ago in the first of the televised presidential campaign debates.

Reagan conferred Monday with former President Gerald R. Ford, a veteran of three debates with Carter in his losing campaign four years ago.

Blackout blamed on 'bad cross arm'

A 30-minute blackout of several buildings in downtown Midland Monday afternoon was caused by a "bad cross arm" in the vicinity of South Lamesa Road and Tennessee Avenue

According to Shug Bowlin, a Texas Electric Service Co. spokesman, a bad cross arm let two phases get together, which locked out the feeder. "It let two circuits get together, and it tripped them out."

A TESCO employee speculated that high winds were responsible for blowing the phases together. Power went down at 2:20 p.m. and was restored at 2:50 p.m. Affected were the County Courthouse, City Hall, The Midland Reporter-Tele-, Gihls Towers, Midland Savings, Building of the Southwest, Mid-American Building, Petroleum Life Building, Shell Oil Building and Texas Electric Service Co. In addition, several downtown traffic lights were out, necessitating placing police officers at these intersections to direct traffic.

At the courthouse, and possibly other multi-story buildings, there were reports of people stranded momentarily in the elevators. "However," said a courthouse spokesman, "those people were released right away. They weren't in there but a minute.

And the untimely lights out didn't interfere at all with business as usual, as jury selection continued in one of the courtrooms.

Many, including those at the courthouse, assumed the problem was just in their building. After power had been restored, courthouse maintenance men were unavailable for comment, since they were busy checking their generator for the trouble.

Calls reporting the blackout swamped the TESCO switchboard. "Boy, when that power went out, the switchboard lit up," joked one em-

And to one called-in report that "our power is down," TESCO operators were heard to reply, "That's OK, so is ours."

Khomeini lashes out at Carter

But hostages go unmentioned on 'holiday'

By The Associated Press

Revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini lashed out at President Carter, but failed to mention the 52 American hostages in a speech broadcast by Tehran Radio today.

In Washington, the Carter administration expressed increased annoyance at news accounts suggesting their release is imminent and suggested the possibility of an Iranian backlash.

Khomeini said Carter "is sitting in the White House" killed. His hour-long address came on a religious holiday that prompted the suspension of the Iranian Parliament's debate on the fate of the hostages.

The Iranian leader said "peace is not acceptable" with Iraq because of the "crimes committed" against Iran during the 37-day-old war. But the 80-year-old Shiite Moslem patriarch indicated Iran might relent in its no-compromise position if Iraqi President Saddam Hussein "stops this, if he takes his hand off the Iraqi people or if he repents.

Khomeini received members of the Majlis, Iran's 228-member parliament, government officials, Moslem clerics and Islamic legal experts at the Husseinieh Mosque and Religious Center in Damaran, the village north of Tehran where the ayatollah has a residence.

The Majlis was scheduled to resume debate Wednesday on what to do with the hostages. Sources in Tehran close to the debate said it was likely to continue for several more days or longer because of conflicting views on the demands that should be made on the United States for their release and whether all 52 captives should be freed together.

The sources said a large number of deputies still favor trying some of the Americans as spies and have pledged to drag out the debate as long as

A West German television network in Hamburg reported today that Iran may demand live television time in the United States to argue its case before the American people as a condition for releasing some of the captives.

A spokesman for Iran's Parliament denied the report. "This is not true," said an official who identified himself as Mr. Manafi. He was reached by telephone from Beirut at the Parliament's public relations office.

West Germany's ARD network quoted "informed circles" in Tehran as saying that the demand was proposed to the Majlis by a seven-memb

ARD said the proposal would call for a three-hour live transmission from Tehran to the United States. Afterwards, an undetermined number of hostages would be freed, the network said.

In the Swiss capital of Bern, a spokesman for the Swiss - who handle U.S. affairs in Iran — said he had not heard the report. Denis Feldmeyer said, "I have no information on the conditions of a possible release of the hostages...I cannot confirm any condition (and) there is no certainty about (their) He said the Swiss had "no idea" whether the hostages will be released and on

A U.S. diplomat in Bern scoffed at the ARD report, saying, "It's starting to sound like Disneyland out there."

With Election Day and the first anniversary of the Iran hostage crisis a week away, Carter administration officials in Washington said reposts of the captives' release may not only prove groundless but actually prolong the State Department spokesman John Trattner suggested that optimistic reports may prompt an Iranian backlash. He noted one report quoted an unidentified Iranian as saying authorities in Tehran are interpreting the accounts

Sleet, snow surprise Midlanders

Midland residents and others throughout most of the Permian Basin got a pleasant surprise this morning when snow and sleet began

The snow was melting as it fell this morning, but it reportedly was heavy in several communities including the Tall City. Andrews and Lamesa received light snowfall about 7 a.m. and shortly before noon today snow was falling in Midland, Stanton and Big Snowfall also had been recorded at Rankin this morning and Big Lake reported sleet and some light rain. Crane and Garden City reported cold temperatures and overcast skies this morning.

The snowfall caught nearly everyone off guard, including forecasters at the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport. Weather officials issued a freeze warning for tonight and speculated that a new "earliest killing freeze" could occur.

The earliest killing freeze on the record books for Midland occurred Oct. 31, 1946. If the mercury drops below 32 tonight, a new record will be established.

Another record is being threatened too, weather officials said. The earliest measurable snowfall on record for Midland fell on Nov. 8, 1955 - .04 inch. By 11 a.m. today no measurement on the snowfall had been recorded, but the temperature was dropping.

At 11 a.m. the temperature was 34 degrees and had been dropping for a couple of hours at that point.

The cold front that blew into the Permian Basin late Monday evening spawned the light sleet and snowfall that began about 9 a.m. today in Midland, Andrews, Lamesa, Big Spring and Odessa.

The temperature was hovering at 34 to 36 degrees in most communities this morning when the snow was reported. Most other area cities reported cold, windy and cloudy condi-

None of the snow or sleet was sticking to the ground, weather-watchers said, and in Odessa the snow reportedly was not reaching the ground.

Out of the Permian Basin area, the National Weather Service was reporting snowfall at Wink and Abilene. The forecast is calling for colder temperatures throughout this afternoon and tonight with snow ending early tonight. Cloudiness should decrease tonight and it should get colder. Wednesday should be sunny and not so cold.

Chance of snowfall this afternoon was 50 percent, according to the weather service. A 20 percent probability of snowfall will exist tonight.

Low temperature tonight should be near 30 and the high Wednesday should reach only the mid 50s. Winds tonight will be light and variable. Winds Wednesday should blow out of the west at 5-10 mph. High temperature Monday was 70, much cooler than the record high 89-degree reading set on that date in 1950. Low this morning was 38, nearly matching the record low of 36 degrees set 10 years ago. No precipitation was recorded in the 24-hour period ending early today, leaving the monthly total at .10 inch and the total so far for 1980 at 15.81

GSA officials charged in abuse of travel regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior officials of the General Services Administration padded their expense accounts and violated other government travel regulations during two recent out-of-town management conferences, an internal GSA audit charges.

In a sharply worded report, the auditors said the abuses ranged from a top official accepting luxury hotel suites at no charge on two of the trips to officials asking reimbursement for meals on the night of a GSA ban-

The auditors charged that the acceptance of the free suites "raises a question of 'quid pro quo' at a time when GSA personnel should be particularly circumspect." A copy of the report was made available to The

A 21/2-year investigation of corruption at GSA, the government's building and supply agency, has led to more than 140 convictions of government officials and contractors, and prompted a strict new code of ethics

The audit also criticized holding the GSA leadership conferences in San Antonio, Texas, and Colorado Springs, Colo., when more than half the participants came from GSA's home office in Washington, D.C.

The audit said the $25,000 spent to send Washington personnel to San Antonio last April could have been saved if the meeting had been held near the capital. Another $24,000 was spent to send Washington officials to Colorado Springs in September, it said.

The audit said the senior GSA official on the two trips violated agency regulations against accepting gratuities when he was given luxury suites from the hotels for free.

Although the audit did not identify the "senior official," GSA sources said he is Ray Fontaine, an assistant administrator and controller for the

Asked about the audit Monday, Fontaine said the hotels had given him the free rooms because the GSA conferences had booked more than 25 rooms and he was the top official on the trips.

"I was told (by GSA lawyers) that there was nothing wrong as long as I didn't claim it (the cost of the room on an expense account)," Fontaine said. "I saved the government money."

At the conference in Colorado Springs, the audit said, the senior official "was provided a suite of rooms normally rented for $190 a day at no personal cost for

The official also received a free suite of rooms for six days when he attended the conference in San Antonio, the audit charged. The suite normally costs $59 a day.

The auditors cited a GSA regulation that says "no employee may accept on his own behalf payment (in cash or in kind) from a non-government organization for travel, hotel accommodations, meals, registration fees or other expenses incident to attendance at meetings." In addition, the audit said the senior official at a third conference, in Colo-

The official was identified by GSA sources as Paul Newton, a deputy been raised to $75 a day. GSA administrator for external affairs and a close aide to GSA Administrator Rowland G. Freeman III. Newton said his suite had been used as a temporary office to coordinate conference matters and therefore part of the cost was charged directly

The auditors noted, however, that a conference room was already available to GSA for such purposes. The auditors also noted that nine GSA officials claimed dinner expenses on a night at that conference when they attended a banquet paid for by the GSA and that one official claimed an extra night of lodging on the day of departure. Although acknowledging that the reported abuses did not amount to a large sum of money, the GSA's chief auditor, Howard Davia, noted that several of the conference participants were top GSA officials and should be

The reporting officer said he stopped two women in a car in the 300 block of South Webster at 6:55 p.m. Monday. The driver identified herself, and the passenger handed the officer an ID. After running a check on both women, the officer could find no record of the passenger.

The two women were released, and the officer returned to the Police Department, where he called the residence listed on the passenger's identification. He discovered the ID had been stolen.

The officer returned to the driver's residence and notified her that the passenger's identification had been false. According to reports, the woman told officers the other woman was gone. Officers staked out the residence and saw the passenger leave the residence. She was arrested on charges of failure to ID. It was later discovered that she had an outstanding warrant for her.

Three people were transported by CFD ambulance Monday.

Three killed in Odessa mishaps

ODESSA - Two Monday night accidents west of Odessa on U.S. Highway 80 resulted in the deaths of three women and injuries to two men.

At 4: 45 p.m., a two-vehicle accident 18.5 miles west of Odessa killed Essie Mae Pullins, 66, of Phoenix, Ariz. According to the Department of Pub-lic Safety, a flatbed truck driven by Lendon Keith Thomas of Odessa was parked on the highway's shoulder on the eastbound lane. A car driven by Prince Calvin Pullins of Phoenix was eastbound on U.S. 80. The car struck the parked truck in the rear. Essie Mae Pullins was pronounced dead at the scene. Her body was taken to Easterling Funeral Home.

Her husband, Prince Pullins, was taken to Odessa Medical Center, where he was listed in fair condition this morning with chest injuries. Thomas also was taken to Medical Center, where he was treated for neck injuries and released, a hospital spokesman said.

A one-car rollover 13 miles west of Odessa at 8:50 p.m. resulted in the deaths of two Monahans teen-agers.

A Department of Public Safety spokesman said Angela Ann Shaw, 16, was westbound on U.S. Highway 80 when the car ran off the road on the north side. The driver overcorrected back on to the roadway, and the car rolled five times. Ms. Shaw and Jeannette Kay Carter, 17, a passenger in the vehicle, were thrown from the

Ms. Shaw was pronounced dead at Odessa Medical Center with severe head injuries. Ms. Carter was pronounced dead at the scene. Her body was taken to Easterling Funeral Home.

30 Americans released from Cuban jails

MIAMI (AP) — Thirty Americans released from Cuban jails — after up to 11½ years of captivity - were home at last today, and even the five who returned to the arms of the law were glad to be back in the United

"The (U.S.) jails will look like a country club, a paradise" compared to Cuban prisons, said Melvin Cale of Detroit, who faces hijacking charges along with three others who arrived Monday to the cheers of a flag-waving crowd. A fifth man was held as a parole violator.

About 200 relatives, friends and supporters — some wearing yellow ribbons — cheered as the chartered Boeing 737 touched down at suburban Tamiami Airport after the flight from

"He looks so great to us! He's home! He's home!" shouted Earl Dacus of Jonesboro, Ark., as he and his wife hugged their son, John. "I have his (plane) ticket right here. We're taking him back to Arkansas. We're going home. We've been partying for two weeks and the biggest party is tonight."

When Walter Clark of North Miami Beach left the plane, his wife, Juanita, screamed with joy and his daughter, Elaine, wept.

"Oh, I'm ecstatic! It's the happiest day of my life!" Mrs. Clark said as her husband, who was jailed on an immigration charge, waved.

'It's the greatest country in the world," Tony Bryant, an acknowledged hijacker and former Black Panther Party member who was among the five held by U.S. officials, said of the United States.

Ten federal marshals accompanied the flight from Havana. Bryant and four others were led from the jet in handcuffs and taken to a federal facility in Dade County Cuban President Fidel Castro announced Oct. 13 that he was pardoning 33 Americans of alleged offenses ranging from "illegal entry" to drug smuggling to air piracy.

U.S. officials said three of the 33 decided to stay in Cuba. They were identified only as Charles Hill, Jef-frey John Hoban and Lester Perry. Authorities said Hill hijacked a plane to Cuba in 1972 and was later released, but landed back in jail for passing bad checks. No other details about them were available

Jaycees to offer ride for voters

Midland Jaycees will be providing sites Nov. 4 for elderly and handicapped Midlanders who do not have any other way to get to voting booths.

Steve Orr, chapter chairman of the Jaycees, is requesting those who would like a ride to call 685-2075 or 685-2089 by Friday to reserve a time for their ride.

As part of their civic and community projects, the Jaycees are providing this service to increase voter participation and allow those otherwise not able to get to the polls to vote.

Both cars and vans will be used to transport the citizens.

Jaycee Guy McCrary said, "This is not really for someone who has transportation otherwise," but rather for those citizens who could not make it to vote alone.

The Jaycees will set up scheduled routes for pick-ups in accordance to the response by Friday, so interested citizens need to call ahead.

Garfield Street to close Nov. 5

Midlanders who get home by way of Garfield Street north of Wadley will have to find another route. So will the students at Midland College.

Starting Nov. 5, the city will barri-cade Garfield Street at the bridge that crosses the Northwest Drainage Channel, according to Fred Baker, director of public works. Baker explained the city has awarded a contract to have the Channel improved to handle larger quantities of water during heavy rains. The contractor is ready to start his work Nov. 5 and the first phase will be removal and replacement of the bridge on Garfield, said Baker. He suggested persons living north of that bridge try Ward Street or FM 868 as their new route.

For 479 more Midlanders, the fall elections are over, as indicated by long lines Monday at absentee voting booths at the Midland County Courthouse. Election clerks Betty Calvert, Pat Eastup and Maude Jones assist voters who are allowed to vote early by stating they will be absent Nov. 4, or that they are handicapped or over age 65. Through Monday, more than 2,600 citizens had taken advantage of absentee voting, which ends Friclay. (Staff Photo By Bruce Partain)

Incumbent again faces challenge

WRIGHT CITED HIS influence in effecting several programs and projects in his service as a commissioner: county retirement program; $2-million bond issue to renovate the 50-year-old courthouse; overpass on U.S. Highway 80 at Midland Regional Airport; the Odessa north loop, which "will benefit us more" than Odessa and will help make Midland an eco-nomic "hub" of West Texas; creation of Permian Basin Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center branches in Midland, Odessa and Pecos. He was also instrumental in effecting the Midland County Housing Finance

He is seeking an expanded library and a new county annex building; both are to be built without bonds or raising taxes.

Wright noted that he has missed only two regular commissioners' court meetings in 12 years. ("I was unavoidably out of town.")

"I haven't missed a budget session, never missed a board of equalization session." When the county judge is out of pocket, Wright often serves as presiding judge of the court, which is the county's governing body.

THE COMMISSIONER said that his personal philosophy of conservative spending and his independent spirit "certainly meshes with Midland's.'

Wright, whose background is as a business and credit analyst, is president and owner of Wright Resources, a downtown consulting firm which now is all but "dormant," he said.

The job of commissioner, which entails more than attending two commissioners' court meetings each month and overseeing road work, precludes his devoting much time to his private business. "It has grown from a virtual parttime job to a virtual full-time job," he said of the commissioner's position. Each commissioner in 1981 will be drawing a salary of $19,500, which is about $7,000 below the pay scale of other elected county officials, such as the sheriff, county and district clerks, treasurer and tax assessor-collector. "I have to give a tremendous amount of my time to the job," said

Wright, who deems himself "full of zest and full of optimism." BARBER, WHO CALLS himself the 'old man of the (sales) territory, has two sales representives working under him at Certified Laboratories. With those fellow salesmen freeing him from routine work, he would have sufficient time to work as a commissioner. He said he figures he could work his sales territory about three days a week.

"So, I'll have ample time to make a full-time commissioner," he said of his plans to work at the county job two days a week.

Eight years ago - in 1972 - Barber challenged Wright for the job but lost 3,036 to 2,717 votes; he carried two of seven voting boxes, including the absentee vote.

"We had a damn good one (campaign)," Barber said. "Really, he beat me in my own territory, but I didn't walk the territory." Wright did that. "The Republican vote just didn't turn out," Barber reasoned.

Barber didn't take Wright to task at the election polls four years later.

"I gave him a free ride in 1976," Barber said. "I don't have any ani-mosity toward Durward Wright." But Barber, by innuendo, is suggesting in his campaign literature that Wright is a "professional politician. "Twelve years is long enough for any politician to be in office. Barber's opponent now wants to make it 16 years."

Barber says he is for "turning things around and getting back to basics" and that "conservative spending of our tax dollars is the first

He says that road development and maintenance are year-to-year obli gations and not just "election-year"

WRIGHT, TOO, IS for conservative spending and good county road mainare limited and cannot support extensive road work; the tax money just isn't there. The proposed county budget for 1981 is less than $7 million, and the road-and-bridge department gets only a pittance of that.

We don't have a sorry road and bridge department," Wright said. We've got a real good road and bridge department." The department has been beset by "the crisis created by (the unusually heavy September) rains and, in recent years, "by the fantastic rural growth" and the "gone-out-of-sight" cost of equipment and road-building material.

Furthermore, Wright said, Midland County has "one of the best road and bridge departments in the state and a very capable superintendent (Albert Stewart).

But Barber visualizes better roads and better road maintenance.

"I don't want to harp on the road situation," he said, "but they're in bad shape. And if you don't keep up road equipment, you won't have good roads and (then) there's no way those people in the county can get good

BARBER, LIKE Wright, said he's running an honest campaign and "I think you get as much business done by 'shooting straight' as by 'playing politics," the Republican challenger said.

Ironically, Barber is using some of Durward Wright's tactics - going door-to-door and meeting the folks to let them know who he is and what he stands for — in seeking the com-

"The man I'm running against is a hard campaigner," Barber said. "If I get beat, I'll be beat fair and square,' the challenger said. "And if I win, I'll win without quitting.'

Barber said he is developing into an untiring campaigner, similar to the commissioner.

"I hate to make the quote that I beat him at his own game, but that's the essense of it," Barber said.

Mondale using new strategy

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP) - Warning that a vote for independent John B. Anderson "could result in the election of (Ronald) Reagan," Vice President Walter Mondale is openly and aggressively courting Anderson supporters.

The Democratic vice president unveiled a new strategy in a series of a dozen speeches, news conferences and interviews Monday in Oregon and Washington, two states where the race between Reagan and President Carter is close and where the Anderson vote could be pivotal.

At the same time, Mondale again attacked Reagan, describing the Republican presidential nominee's foreign policy as "scary," his energy policy as "bizarre," and his tax cut plan as "economic voodoo." On all of those issues, Carter and Anderson have the same goals, Mondale said.

'I don't believe anyone thinks Anderson has a chance," Mondale said in a television interview in Yakima. "If they vote for Anderson, it could have the effect of putting a person in office who's against everything they believe in. And for that reason, I hope and expect that...Anderson's supporters will increasingly discover they must vote for President Carter," he said.

"This week is going to be a particularly difficult one for those who support Mr. Anderson, Mondale predicted in a news conference in Eu-

Economy deciding noll issue'

PITTSBURGH (AP) -Republican vice presidential candidate George Bush says the nation's economy, not the hostage crisis, will be the deciding issue in the Nov. 4

Bush predicted Monday the Iranians will fail in what he said was an to help Jimm Carter's re-election bid by manipulating the fate of the Americans held captive for nearly a

Ronald Reagan's running mate said, however. that he does not think President Carter is guilty of orchestrating the hostages' release in order to bolster his popu-

"No, I think that would be too much," Bush noted in a television interview.

Robert Strauss, Carter's campaign manager, said on Sunday, meanwhile, that he does not believe the Iranian government favors Carter over Reagan.

Bush said he's sure the Republican ticket can win even if the hostages are freed before election day "because the economy always determines the election.

The former CIA director also discounted the televised Reagan-Carter debate tonight as the deciding factor in the elec-gene, Ore. "Those who have been thinking of supporting Mr. Anderson have to ponder the consequences of casting a vote for him which contrary to what they may wish to be the case - could result in the election of Mr. Rea-Mondale press secretary Al Eisele said the vice president picked Oregon to launch his plea for Anderson supporters because "this is probably the state where Anderson shows strongest and could have the greatest effect" on the elec-

A Portland Oregonian poll last week said Carter had a slim 35-33 percent lead over Reagan, with Anderson still supported by 18 percent of Oregon's voters.

In Washington, a Seattle Times poll published Monday gave Reagan a 43-36 lead, with Anderson at seven percent. Reagan led by 11 percentage points in a September poll. The newspaper said that was an 11 point drop by Anderson since September and that about half of his support went to Carter, with most of the rest going to the undecided column.

As he courted support from Anderson supporters, Mondale hammered away at the theme that Reagan represents "an extreme right-wing philosophy' that is out of step with the Illinois congressman's supporters on every major issue. He said of Reagan's opposition to the SALT II treaty: "I don't believe that Anderson supporters want someone for president who is that reckless in disregarding absolutely the imperative of controlling the horrors of nuclear weap-

Mondale said Reagan shows "contempt for all conservation matters" in his energy policy, and that Reagan's opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment "moves this nation in a dramatic reverse direction."

Anderson's contribution

John B. Anderson, the former Republican who's seeking election to the American presidency this year as an independent, is in serious trouble. Perhaps the whole idea of a third American hesitant to support either Democratic incumbent Jimmy Carter or Republican Ronald Reagan would swing to him as an alterna-place: His support is beginning to

What is taking place, the polls indicate, is that voters who've remained undecided up until now are beginning to choose between Carter and Reagan. Those who had climbed on Anderson's bandwagon earlier in the campaign apparently are abandoning him now because of their concern about casting what obviously will amount to a protest vote.

Has the candidacy of John B. Anderson this year really meant anything to the American elector-sented another side of the overall election picture and offered voters some food for thought on

But it's a historical fact that third party candidacies have not been overly popular with Americans. No third-party candidate for president has ever won the presidency. In fact, no third-party candidate for the presidency has even come close. Only former President Theodore Roosevelt, running as the Bull Moose candidate in 1912, captured more than 25 percent of the popular vote.

Anderson stands little chance of making even that good a showing. But one has to admire his determination, his perseverance. Even now he's maintaining the polls will be proven incorrect when the results of the election are reported. Perhaps, but we're not going to hold our breath.

There were some who thought the third American political party idea might actually have a chance back when Anderson launched his campaign. Now it looks as though Americans have rejected that

The Anderson candidacy should sound a warning for both political parties and those who aspire to public service. The large bloc of voters that remained uncommitted until late in the game this election campaign were signalling unhappiness with the system and the philosophies on which the two parties are based. An investigation of how to modify current philosophies of political candidates and political parties might be a wise undertaking after Nov. 4.

CHARLIE REESE

Reverse discrimination theory doesn't hold water

There is a character by the name of David Duke who has an organization he calls the National Association for the Advancement of White People and what he is peddling is a clever form of racism.

There are a lot of people, some black and some white, who are peddling variations of racism and what they are all trying to do, aside from getting rich, is divide us.

We shouldn't let them get away with it. Americans, black and white, have more in common, including their problems, than they have differences. Duke's particular pitch is that all of the problems of white Americans are caused by reverse discrimination. A little reflection will show you that's

What are our problems? Excessive taxation. Well, there are less than a dozen congressmen out of 435 who are black. Quite obviously, tax laws are written by whites, not blacks.

Another problem is inflation. There are two basic causes of inflation. One is deficit spending by the Congress, which is for all practical purposes all white, and the other is the monetary policies of the Federal Reserve Board, which as far as I know is all

No white person can justly claim that he has a tax or inflation problem because of blacks. The third great problem facing the American people, both black and white, is the expansionist policy of the Soviet Union. The only black Russian I've ever heard about is drunk in American bars, not found in the Kremlin.

So you see, neither taxes nor inflation nor the threat of war is a result of black people. They, in fact, suffer from these problems, too.

Now Duke and other racists would have you believe that the entire welfare state is structured for the benefit of blacks, but that also is a lie. The largest components of the welfare state: medicare, medicaid, VA programs, various subsidies to business and industry, social security, unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation, and public education, are either color-blind or benefit more whites than blacks.

I wonder which one of those Mr. Duke would like to abolish? I think if he tried to abolish any of them he would have a lot of Americans, nearly all white, on his neck in a hurry.

The truth is that the major problems facing white Americans today are in no way, shape, or fashion, related to reverse discrimination. That is a big lie technique. Of course some of the government's efforts to correct racial problems are heavyhanded and sometimes the process is abused, but this is true of all government efforts. It derives from the nature of bureaucracy. OSHA and EPA, which have nothing whatsoever to do with race, are just as heavy-handed and sometimes as crazy as some of the race-related programs dreamed up by Washington.

The truth is both black and white Americans want the same things. We want a job and a home in a decent neighborhood. We want an education for our children. We want to live in peace. Where is the conflict? There is none. It's not a they-win-we-lose situation. We can all have those things if we all work together and not allow idiots to mislead us.

White Americans need to face up to the fact that black Americans suffered real damage from racial discrimination and as a result of that, some of them do need special help. What's wrong with that? Tell me what group in this nation does not ask for special help when it has a problem? What's the difference between providing special scholarships for black students and providing subsidies for Chrysler Corp.? What's the difference between setting aside a certain number of jobs or medical school openings for blacks and granting exclusive franchises to corporations?

I can understand someome being envious of David Rockefeller, but to envy a black student extra tutoring or black person a job is petty in my book. If Mr. Duke is so convinced that blacks have made off with all the goodies in this country, I wonder why he isn't trying to buy a home in a black neighborhood? If they're so well off, it ought to be a good invest-

Meanwhile, unbeknownst to Sermetel, a top-level inter-agency group in Washington decided late in February that the export license should be revoked. For some reason, Commerce never acted on the decision.

On March 24 - a Monday - Defense Secretary Harold Brown sent a hand-delivered message to Commerce Secretary Philip Klutznick, ordering him to stop the shipment. Klutznick ignored the message.

Four days later - on Friday, March 28 - the FBI notified the Pentagon that the Russians were diverting a freighter to pick up the shipment. Brig. Gen. William Odom, military aide to National Security Adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski, telephoned top Commerce officials. He ordered them to stop the shipment, and threatened to go to the president if action weren't taken immediately.

Thus inspired, Commerce finally acted. At 5:15 p.m. that Friday, Ser-metel got a phone call from Commerce enforcement agents wanting to know where the material was located. Company officials said the government agents were in "complete panic," but that Sermetel assured them the goods were safe in a Newark, N.J., warehouse. Pentagon officials, however, told my reporters Lonnie Rosenwald and Vicki Warren that Sermetel disclosed the location only after a Commerce official threatened economic sanctions against the Sermetel has appealed the revocation of its export license. Commerce is conducting an internal investigation of the delay in effecting the revocation. And a group of Republican senators led by Utah's Jake Garn is trying to set up a special strategic trade office to take over export controls from the reluctant Commerce Department.

INSIDE REPORT:

Reagan told 'attack Carter' commercials won't help him

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - With only 10 days left in the campaign, Ronald Reagan's high command was divided whether to unleash hard-nosed television commercials attacking President Carter's record.

of toughness as Carter's attacks on Reagan, were produced weeks ago but never put on the air. Republican politicians long have been pleading with the Reagan camp to take off the gloves against the president. But the "attack" spots fared poorly when screened for panels of undecided voters. These voters complained that they were well aware of Carter's shortcomings but wanted to know what Reagan would do differently.

Consequently, the spots would boost morale of the Republican faithful but might not help with crucial swing voters who will decide the election. DEBATE SECOND THOUGHTS After finally succeeding in luring Ronald Reagan to the debate table, President Carter's men had second thoughts about the wisdom of their Carter aides confide they would have been just as happy had Reagan continued to resist a one-on-one confrontation with the president. After release of the Iranian hostages became a strong possibility, the Carter camp came to look at the debate as a potentially dangerous nuisance.

The president's men also wondered about one of their top procedural demands - follow-up questions by reporters - once the Reagan camp accepted it. They worried that the newsmen were so much more familiar with Carter's record than Reagan's that they might be tougher on the presi-

MUSKIE'S MISSTEP

Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie's surprising warning that Polish workers must not be "insensitive" to the Soviet Union in their battle for free labor unions aroused anguish among Soviet specialists in both the State Department and the White House. In his otherwise skillful performance on ABC's "Issues and Answers," Muskie seemed to praise Moscow for having been "restrained" in reacting to the dramatic Polish movement to establish free unions. The movement has captured world sympathy, making all the more questionable Muskie's lecture to the Polish workers "not to be insensitive to the pressures" from Moscow and its East European communist empire.

Reflecting White House concern over that phraseology, the official State Department spokesman deflected a series of questions from newsmen the next day. He refused to dignify Soviet feelings, as the secretary had. He would not define "Soviet sensibilities," saying only that Muskie meant that Moscow "is watching the situation carefully."

DEBATING THE DEBATE Robert Strauss, President Carter's campaign chairman, proved unfathomable to fellow Texan James Baker,

representing Ronald Reagan in negotiations on the presidential debate. Strauss began by claiming that he had not been in personal contact with Carter, and, therefore, was not entirely sure of the president's position. Then, as Baker vainly tried to take coherent note of the Carter demands, Strauss threw out a bewildering array of proposals. Baker could not be sure what Strauss really wanted and what he did not want. At one point in the negotiations, press secretary Jody Powell left the room to take a White House call from assistant press secretary Ray Jenkins on an unrelated matter. After Powell returned, Strauss informed Baker that Powell had just spoken to the president himself and had been given fresh instructions.

CARTER'S LITTLE ERRORS President Carter's propensity to get things slightly wrong popped up again on his four-state Southern tour when he referred to himself as the first person from the "Deep South" elected president since James Polk of Tennessee in 1844. He was wrong. Gen. Zachary Taylor of Louisiana was elected as a Whig in 1848. Carter persisted in the Polk reference while speaking in New Or-leans. "I think the president read it in some newspaper," an aide told us in explaining the source of Carter's erroneous information.

A footnote: On the same Southern swing, in addressing a Texarkana rally, Carter also blundered by describing the Wall Street Journal as an opponent of the Kemp-Roth tax reduction bill. In fact, the newspaper has been a spiritual godfather of the tax cut movement.

'Disability' has different definitions

Dear Dr. Solomon: I am an accountant but have been finding it increasingly difficult to work because of asthma. Yet when I applied for disability benefits under the Social Security program, I was told I am not disabled. If asthma isn't a disabling condition, what is? — Mr. F.L.

Dear Mr. L.: The definition of disability for Social Security purposes is different from the ordinary meaning of the word. The Social Security definition assumes that a disabled person is unable to do any work because of a physical or mental impairment that is so serious that it is expected to result in death or, at least, severe enough to prevent the person from working for a year or longer

While we may agree that anyone with asthma is disabled to some degree in the usual meaning of the word, not everyone with asthma meets the criteria for disability under Social Security. Many people with asthma are able to hold a job even though they may have some difficulty doing so.

Dear Dr. Solomon: My son has hemophilia, but has made as good an adjustment to the condition as I suppose is possible. In fact, he was married last year and is employed in an administrative capacity in a social service agency. This situation that continues to trouble me terribly is that he still has occasional bleeding episodes, and the doctors seem to be having more and more trouble finding a suitable vein so that they can give him an injection to stop the bleeding. Would you have any idea why they have all this trouble, and whether anything can be done about it? - Mrs. C.Y.

Dear Mrs. Y.: When a person receives repeated injections, the veins often become scarred and may become increasingly difficult to find. In additon, as you probably know, patients with hemophilia often bleed into their joints, including the elbows. This causes their arms to contract, making it even more difficult for doctors to get access to thier veins.

The importance of having an accessible vein may be said to be a matter of life and death. When a patient with hemophilia has a bleeding episode, he must receive an injection of factor VIII, a blood product that helps cause clotting. If factor VIII cannot be introduced into the bloodstream quickly, the patient may bleed to death.

Physicians at North Carolina Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill are trying to solved the problem by replacing the damaged veins in patients' arms with the carotid arteries from cows. An eight-inch length of the new vessel is implanted in each upper arm. It has been found to hold up better and to be easier to stick with a needle than the patient's own veins.

Dr. Stanley Mandel, who has performed the vein graft surgery, does not recommend that the operation be done routinely. Rather he suggests it be considered only for patients with veins that are so inaccessible that emergency treatment in the event of a bleeding episode would be seriously impaired.

Monte Carlo— Midland style

A 1981 Chevrolet Monte Carlo was the highest bigging item in the second annual Monte Carlo Night sponsored by the Midland Chapter of the March of Dimes Saturday night at Midland Center.

Frank See Chevrolet donated the car with other local merchants donating other auction prizes in-cluding Jacuzzi spas, chartered trips, a side of beef, a baby package and paintings. The live auction began at 10:30 p.m. with posted bid auctions conducted throughout the gaming.

Live entertainment was provided by Monte Mead and the Wheels of Odessa. Leslie Forshgen was in charge of food arangements and Doug Forshgen and Bill Hightower were responsible for the gaming events. Jack Hightower was auctioneer.

Over 500 people enjoyed the gaming events with over $65,000 net raised. According to the local chapter's executive director Angela Latham, 40 percent of the money will be used locally and 60 percent will go to the national foundation with the money being spent on research and educational grants.

The local money is used to provide educational materials and programs to area schools, aide area families with children who have birth defects, exhibit materials for early pregnancy classes and last spring the March of Dimes bought an intensive care transport unit for Midland Memorial Hospital. The local chapter also gave an educational grant for the Community Wide Family Life Seminar sponsored by

At a recent regional March of Dimes meeting in Dallas, Midland's chapter was awarded for having the highest donations per capita and for having the highest percentage increase nationwide.

March of Dimes actually started in 1938 when then President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a victim of what is now known as polio, founded the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. That organization started going door-to-door asking for dimes to fund research. In 1955, the SALK and SABIN vaccines were proved viable in the prevention of polio and in 1958 the organization redirected its efforts to prevention of birth defects and changed its name to the National Foundation of March of Dimes.

It's carnival time again

By NANCY LORD Lifestyle Writer

Halloween's almost here, so watch out for witches, ghosts and goblins, but don't miss the various PTA carnivals and fall festivals planned by many of Midland's schools.

The carnivals provide a fun and safe Halloween atmosphere for children and their families, with the proceeds going to provide schools with those necessary "extras" for the re-mainder of the school year.

Food, games, arts and crafts are but a few of the items to be offered at the schools.

LAMAR ELEMENTARY will celebrate the first anniversary of its Fall Festival from 6-8: 30 p.m. Thursday at 3200 Kessler. Among the activities planned are country singing, cake walk, arrow shoot, cotton picking and lots of serving of food featuring Mexican Supreme and hot dogs.

EMERSON ELEMENTARY'S Halloween Carnival will also be on Thursday from 6-8 p.m. Booths this year will include cookie walk, animal walk, lollypop tree, post office, gold mine, cake walk, spider web, engraving, bingo, candle shoot, model walk, dart throw, ring toss, sponge throw, flying saucers, disco and junk food.

New to the carnival this year is a booth where children can have their own special mask created beginning at 5:30 p.m.. Also, the Country Store featuring homemade goodies, craft items, Christmas decorations, ceramics, used books, puzzles and records, horse rides on the front lawn of the school, a spook movie and thumbprint pictures that can be made and purchased complete with mats.

Plus, Scott Wells, a professional magician, will be performing; and vinyl tote bags bearing the school mascot logo, the roadrunner, will be sold for $4. A meal will be served in the school cafeteria during carnival hours.

A costume contest will be held in the cafeteria. Judges include Barbara Buckley, last year's Miss Texas USA; Manuel Carrasco, MISD elementary education coordinator; and the Rev. Ben Walker, pastor of Fannin Ter-race Baptist Church.

Judging times for each grade will be as follows: kindergarten and first grade, 6: 15-6: 45 p.m.; second grade, 6: 45-7: 15 p.m.; third grade, 7: 15-7: 45 p.m.; and fifth grade, 7: 45-8: 15 p.m.

HOUSTON ELEMENTARY plans their celebration for 5:30-8:30 p.m. Toursday.

from 6-9 p.m. Friday.

SOUTH AND FANNIN will begin celebration at 6:30 p.m. to continue through 9:30 p.m. Fannin's sweet shop promises to be a real treat, with homemade sweets and desserts to be available. Plus, there'll be chili dogs, hot dogs and frito-chili pie to be served in the cafe-

Along with the traditinal booths, a new one this year will be "The Host Walk." The Spook House will also be around again.

Pumpkin and costume contests will be held in the cafeteria. A door prize drawing at 9 p.m. will be highlighted by the awarding of two 20-inch Schwinn bicycles from Petyton's, according to Bob Crawford, carnival

CROCKETT AND WEST schools will have their carnivals from 7 to 10

The fun festival at West will include a raffle, with beef and bicycles among the prizes, as well as booths to be opened. A special menu will be served in the cafeteria featuring nachos, chili dogs and frito-pie.

BOWIE'S carnival this year is from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. In addition to the usual Halloween theme, Bowie also has an additional theme that is stressed through costumes and dec rations.

Theme is "It's a Small World," to be used throughout the carnival in booths and other activities. The annual costume, parade/contest is at 5 p.m. on the school patio. This event is open to the public and includes preschool age and up. Judging will be held for both the best traditional Halloween costumes and the best costumes incorporating the theme. Prizes will be awarded.

Dinner at Bowie will be served in the cafeteria beginning at 5:30 p.m. On the menu are enchilada dinners, chili dogs, hot dogs and nachos.

Booths will open at 5:30 after the parade. New booths include a pony ride, balloon shave, golf and a photo booth, plus much more.

A drawing at 8:15 p.m. will include the giving away of a large floppy stuffed dog, plus other prizes. Tickets may be purchased at the carnival.

RUSK'S carnival is from 5:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tickets will be a dime each and will be for sale Wednesday and Thursday at the school and on Friday at the carnival.

Regular food booths will be open, as will be a spook house, disco, lollipop tree, makeup booth and shave bal-

DEAR ABBY

Pencils a treat, not a trick

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the last 10 years I've been meaning to write this letter to you, but I always put it off until it was too late for Halloween. This year I finally got around to writing it on time, and I sure hope it makes your column, because it could be very

My kids used to go out on Halloween for the ususal "tricks or treats" in their neighborhood. They would come home with food bags filled with candy. They really couldn't appreciate the candy because there was so much of it. Besides, all that candy at one time wasn't good for them.

Well, while shopping in the variety store one day, I happened to see an assortment of colored pencils. They came in some beautiful colors-lavender, orange, shocking pink, robin's egg blue, deep purple-just about every color in the rainbow. I bought several dozen, and then shopped other stores to add to my collection.

Came Halloween eve. I offered the trick-or-treaters a colored pencil of their choice or a candy bar. Much to my surprise, eight out of 10 kids chose a colored pencil instead of a candy

The next year I picked up an assortment of inexpensive toys-rings, marbles, toy cars, the type of things one used to find in a box of Crackerjacks. Some of the smaller children were delighted with that for a treat.

After 10 years I find that the pretty colored pencils rank No. 1 with the trick-or-treaters in my neighborhood. If one shops around, these pencils can be found for about 3 cents each, which is a lot cheaper than candy. They're much better for the youngsters, too. And if there are any left over, you can always use them the following year. Candy gets stale, pencils last. PEN-CIL PUSHER IN ARIZ. DEAR PUSHER: Write on!

DEAR ABBY: I have recently become engaged to a man whom I have dated for two years. We set the wedding date and plan to buy a home. He owns two cars.

Now he tells me that everything will be in HIS name only for the first five years of our marriage-in case it doesn't work out.

I feel that he doesn't trust me, and that our marriage will be on a trial basis. He is 35 and has lived with his parents all this time.

I love him very much, but I'm confused.—CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: If you can "love...very much" a man who insists on a pre-marriage contract on HIS possessions, lots of luck.

The marriage ceremony is silent on "trials." The vows imply "trust," but your intended wants to hedge. Back

The bidding: South West North East 1 NT Pass 3 NT Pass Pass Pass Opening lead: Four of .

There is no bridge law that says you have to make your opponents' job easy for them. Let them work things out for themselves.

Despite the fact that he held only 8 points, we heartily endorse North's decision to bid three no trump. He had the worst possible distribution for a suit contract and not enough strength to try for eleven tricks. His long suit would be a splendid source of tricks. West led his fourth-best club, declarer played the ten from dummy and East won the ace. With the long diamonds staring him in the face, East decided to look for more fertile fields. Mentally, he tossed a coin between the major suits, and fortunately it came up spades. He shifted to the jack of spades. The defenders quickly reeled in the first five tricks and were happy to concede the last eight to declarer - down one. South's performance was distinguished by a lack of guile It was reminiscent of the sand when faced with danger, thinking that, because it cannot see its enemy, it was invisible.

South's play to the first trick was virtually sure to force a switch, regardless of whether East won with the queen or the ace. Declarer would not play low from dummy without a club honor in his hand. He should at least give the opponents a chance to go wrong while giving himself a better chance to make the hand.

Declarer should play the king of clubs from dummy at the first trick. If it holds, he is home with overtricks. But even if it loses, all is not lost.

There is still a combined club stopper on the hand, and now East is on the spot. It is possible that West's club holding includes the queen and jack, in which case the only way to defeat the hand is to continue the suit. If East does, the contract will be safe. In fact, West will have to cash the spade ace after winning the club queen to prevent a second overtrick.

Commissioners OK $17 million for home loans

By ED TODD

Midland County commissioners Monday unanimously sanctioned an additional $17 million in home mortgage loans, said thanks and fare thee well to resigning County Attorney Les Acker. And, outside the officialdom of the court, the commissioners took a negative look at Constitutional Amendment No. 3 on the Nov. 4 general election ballots.

The proposed $17 million in bonds would be administered by the Midland County Housing Finance Corp., which Oct. 9 meted out $21.6 million in bonds to several hundred prospective homeowners in rural and urban Midland County.

The commissioners originally had envisioned issuing $40 million in bonds at one time, but the fluctuaing market precluded that.

"When we went to the market place, the market was 'soft,' " noted Commissioner Durward Wright, and the program was cut back to $25 million.

"THERE'S AN outside chance we can go back and get the remaining portion...and get enough money to make it worth our while and their (the underwriters') while," speculated Wright, who is a member of that corporation. "This is very problematical, but as long as there is an outside chance, we should pursue it.'

His fellow commissioners concurred. Minutes later, after the court had put aside the issue, banker Harry Clark, president of the corporation, dropped by the court to give his appearance and spiel to passage of the already-approved issue.

"We can't do anything without saying you've approved it," Clark said. The commissioners and County Judge Bill Ahders seemed mischievously delighted in telling Clark that they already had sanctioned the proposal.

Clark seemed pleased with blanket approval, but cautioned that the bond issuance and loan at 10% percent may not materialize if no bond buyers are

"I DO WANT to keep emphasizing if, if, if," he

In an unrelated matter, the commissioners accepted the resignation of Midland County Attorney Les Acker, 36, and promptly appointed Robert Ren-dall, 26, Acker's assisant and the unopposed Repub-lican candidate for the post in the Nov. 4 general election, to the job.

Earlier in the month, Acker tendered his resignation, saying he would be a closing attorney for Lone Star Abstract Co. and maintain a limited private practice of law on the side.

Ahders expressed gratitude to Ackers' services since he took over the job from Jimmie D. Oglesby in

"He been dedicated, loyal, most effective, enthusiastic, enterprising, intelligent," the judge said of Acker appeared appreciative of the praise from the Republican judge.

"YOU NEVER KNOW when I might need a Republican endorsement," Acker said,

"You have mine any time," Ahders said.

The commissioner departed from the 15-item agenda, which they disposed of in about 30 minutes, and casually focused on Amendment No. 3, which calls for requiring a single appraisal and a single board of equalization within each county for setting property taxes.

Commissioner Charlie Welch indicated a "thumbs down" vote on the proposed amendment. So did Com-missioners Jack Leonard and Win Brown.

"My vote is secret," said Wright, who nonetheless volunteered his "feelings" on the principle.

"WE SHOULD HAVE a clear tie between the public and the taxing bodies," he said. "Consequently, I'm voting my feeling."

The commissioners suggested that the amendment would remove the taxing bodies from the public and, in the words of Welch, the citizens of Texas would be faced with "taxation without representation."

Brown, too, is against the amendment, which was spawned by the Peveto Bill several years ago. "In theory," said Brown, "it works out real well. But removing the taxpayers away from any (local) control would deny the taxpayers access" to taxing

If the amendment fails, the commissioners indicated that they would remove the county from the newly-established Midland County Tax Appraisal District. This district is being set up to do the appraisal for the city of Midland, Midland Independent School District, Midland Memorial Hospital

District, Midland College and Greenwood ISD. If it passes, the county would have no option but to remain on that district. Midland city Tax Assessor-Collector Virgil Jones had been named chief appraiser.

"The idea was real good," said Leonard, who added that it won't work for the good of the people.

GM takes largest loss in corporate history

DETROIT (AP) - General Motors Corp., the world's biggest automaker, bottomed out into the record books with a $567 million loss for the third quarter, the largest three-month loss in U.S. corporate history, but analysts and GM officials say the worst may be over.

And with quarterly reports from Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. still to come, Wall Street analysts say GM's July-September loss, announced Monday, is not likely to stand as the U.S. corporate record. Some analysts predict a Ford loss of $700 million.

The third quarter is always the worst for automakers, coming at a time when buyer interest is low and the companies are retooling for new cars.

But 1980 is still exceptional. The four U.S. automakers are on their way to their worst year ever, with losses exceeding $4 billion. GM will show its first losing year since 1921.

The former quarterly loss record was $562 million by U.S. Steel in the last three months of 1979. GM's operating losses were far worse than U.S. Steel's, however, because U.S. Steel's figures included a charge for major plant closings.

GM Chairman Thomas Murphy and President

Elliott Estes said in a statement that GM was hurt by recession and inflation, the shift to smaller cars which yield lower profits, and an inability to recover cost increases. They said rebates also cut into profits, as did retooling costs.

Jets defeat Miami, Cosell too for second NFL victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Beating Howard Cosell Monday night seemed to be more important to the New York Jets than beating the Miami Dol-

After they had turned back Miami 17-14, losing their first shutout in four years only in the final minute, the Jets targeted the ABC sportscaster as a prime motivator.

'I guess it shut Howard up for a little while," said Jets quarterback Richard Todd, whose run-oriented attack enabled New York to build a 17-0 lead on Scott Dierking's 1-yard sweep, Todds's own 16-yard scramble and Pat Leahy's 48-yard field goal. "If we had lost, he would have found fault with everything we had done."

Then, sarcastically reflecting on the chorus of boos which greeted the Jets' first appearance on the field and the number of anti-Cosell banners in the Shea Stadium stands, Todd suggested: "Howard's not as well liked as we are, but he deserves it. It's self-made.

Joe Klecko, the right end on the New York defense which limited Miami's total offense to just 167 yards before the Dolphins mounted their two scoring drives in the final 1:21, noted: "Monday Night Football is a big factor. Cosell is a big factor. He gets on the TV, he can tear you apart. We didn't want that to happen.'

Dierking, though, looked at the television exposure a little more positively. "We've got a whole nation which hasn't seen us," he said. "This was a chance for us to start all over again in front of the whole country."

The victory was, in fact, a rebirth of sorts for the Jets, a preseason pick by many to win the American Conference's East Division title and by some to reach the Super Bowl. Their season, though, is a shambles at 2-6, the worst in the conference.

"We're better than our record," Todd said. "This time we didn't do anything stupid. No penalties. No missed assignments. Just drove it right down their throats ... It sure feels good to win one at home. Heck, we were 1-6. It feels good to win one anywhere."

For Miami it was a very costly loss. A victory would have kept them within a game of New England and Buffalo, who share the AFC East lead. "We had a real opportunity to stay in the race, but now we're back to 4-4." Coach Don Shula said. "We missed an excellent opportunity to be up

Todd completed 11 of 20 passes for 175 yards while David Woodley, the Miami rookie playing in place of Bob Griese, threw the ball 42 times completing 22 for 224 yards. But 154 of those yards came in the final 6½-mi-nutes when the Dolphins scored on an 11-yard pass to Tony Nathan with a minute left and - following a successful onside kick - Nathan's 1-yard dive 11 seconds from the final gun.

"Mixed emotions," Woodley said.
"I feel good coming up with two touchdowns, but bad because we came up short. The bottom line is to win and it doesn't matter how good your performance is if you lose.

Shula said Woodley "showed a lot of poise. He would have looked a lot better if we hadn't dropped a few passes in critical situations.

Woodley couldn't disagree. "The first time we had the ball we went in for a touchdown (on a 28-yard pass to Joe Rose) but it was called back (on tackle Jon Giesler's holding penalty). Then it seemed every drive, something went wrong. That's part of the game. You're supposed to overcome that. But we just ran out of time."

After that missed touchdown, safety Ken Schroy of the Jets buried his team on its own 1-yard line with an interception. But Todd guided New York the length of the field in 17 plays, the last one Dierking's right-end sweep at 1:19 of the second period to cap the march which took 9:22.

Alabama still leads poll

UCLA moves up to second after big win

By The Associated Press

Texas dropped out of the national championship picture after suffering its first defeat of the season while UCLA, Notre Dame and Georgia moved up to contest Alabama's bid for an unprecedented third consecu-tive college football crown in today's Associated Press poll.

The Crimson Tide of Alabama led the rest of the pack for the seventh week in a row with 57 of 65 first-place votes and 1,289 of a possible 1,300 points by defeating Southern Mississippi 42-7 and knocking the Golden Eagles out of The AP Top Twenty after their first appearance ever in However, Texas was upset 20-6 by Southern Methodist and skidded from second place all the way to 12th.

UCLA, Notre Dame, Georgia, Florida State, North Carolina, Southern California, Nebraska and Ohio State all moved up one position along with Baylor, which jumped from 11th place to 10th.

UCLA, a 32-9 winner over California, received the other eight firstplace votes and 1,222 points. Last week, Alabama led Texas 57-2 in first-place ballots and 1,250-1,147 in points with 63 panelists participating while UCLA was third with four first-place votes and 1,108 points. Third-place Notre Dame defeated Arizona 20-3 and received 1,141 points while Georgia earned 1,105 for blanking Kentucky 27-0. Then came Florida State with 985 points after downing Memphis State 24-7.

North Carolina received 940 points for trouncing East Carolina 31-3, idle Southern Cal pulled down 859 points, Nebraska crushed Colorado 45-7 and totaled 852 points, Ohio State shut out Wisconsin 21-0 and earned 771 points and Baylor turned back Texas Christian 21-6 and received 719. The nation's six remaining unbeaten-untied teams are Alabama, UCLA, Notre Dame, Georgia, North Carolina and Baylor. The Second Ten consists of Pitt, Texas, Penn State, South Carolina, Missouri, Oklahoma, Brigham Young, Michigan, Southern Methodist and Purdue.

Last week, it was Baylor, Pitt, Penn State, South Carolina, Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Washington, Brigham Young and Southern Mississippi.

However, Arkansas lost to Houston 24-17, Washington was upset by Navy 24-10 and Southern Mississippi bowed to Alabama.

Meanwhile, Michigan whipped Illinois 45-14 and returned to the rankings after a four-week absence, SMU made it back after a two-week lapse by defeating Texas and Purdue reappeared for the first time in seven weeks by downing Michigan State.

Basketball is nearing; U-T band appears here

A reminder that basketball isn't that far off, the Chaparral Boosters elected Bernard Lankford president for the coming year, Rocky Ford vice-president and Pat Blackwell, secretary-treasurer for the coming season, which begins for Coach Jerry Stone's Midland College squad on

And Howard College's Harold Wilder labels the Chaps as the "team to beat in this year's (Western Junior College Conference) race." Now, what do you suppose Harold has up his sleeve?.. A Memorial Stadium treat, that is, if Odessa Permian vs. Midland Lee isn't enough to sate the appetite, will be a Thank-You appearance by the University of Texas Longhorn Band following Friday's game. And that's no trick. The band will be lodged in private homes in the Tall City Friday night en route to their Saturday afternoon performance at the Texas Tech-Texas game in Lubbock's Jones Sta-

WHO SAYS Tom Landry doesn't have a sense of humor? After the Cowboys dissected the 49ers 59-0 recently, Landry gravely revealed that We came ready to play and we did what we had to do." Didn't even crack a smile, but it went over everyone's head. So he tried again, "I knew it was our day when we were in the Shotgun formation and the ball was centered between Danny White's legs. He finally picked it up and ran around until he threw downfield and completed a pass to a man who had two men on him. It was one of our longest gains of the day.'

The play worked so well, the Cowboys tried it again the next week against Philadelphia, but this time it looked more like a busted play than a carefully devised bit of razzle-daz-

The New York Times rates its top 20 college football teams by combining the won-lost records and caliber of opposition, based on their won-lost success. Recent Times ratings had Florida State No. 1 and UCLA No. 2. You can make a pretty good case for the Seminoles. The Seminoles, of course, lost 10-9 to Miami, but own victories over Nebraska and Pitt, which, at the moment, is an unparalleled feat.

Last year the Seminoles played a schedule in which the opposition's won-lost precentage was impressive, but the opposition was in the Cincinnati category and a bit deceiving....

J.C. CAROLINE, a high-stepping back from the Chicago Bears last championship team in 1963, has joined the "What's wrong with the Bears?" critics and his analysis of the one-time Monsters of the Miday is that they don't start enough black players. Sometimes they have as many as two white players at wide receiver, he points out...

Tight end Raymond Chester, once with Baltimore and now with Oakland, blames former Colts' Coach Ted Marchibroda for turning quarterback Bert Jones "into a spoiled brat." I didn't know that...

One time Midlander Eddie Le-Baron, now the Atlanta Falcons GM and a former NFL quarterback himself, rates Otto Graham, Johnny Unitas and Y.A. Tittle one, two, three on his all-time list. However, none of them could match 5-7 Eddie's still standing record of completing the shortest touchdown pass in NFL history, a one-incher while he was with the Washington Redskins...

The baseball Hot Stove League already is heating up with trade rumors and defections and promised defections rife. One of the more interesting concerns talk of the Phillies sending shortstop Larry Bowa and outfielder Greg Luzinski and a couple of others to the Chicago Cubs for shortstop Ivan DeJesus and a relief pitcher Bruce

At the moment, that makes sense for the Cubs. The Cubs really don't have that much use for Bruce. He dropped from 37 Cy Young winning saves in 1979 to 28 this year, which isn't bad, considering Bruce had relatively few opportunities to protect a late inning lead. When it came time for Bruce to do his things, the Cubs were so far behind, even a Sutter couldn't help. He's still got to be regarded as the National League's premiere relief pitcher.

Lewis named WAC winner on offense

DENVER (AP) — The Western Athletic Conference offensive player of the week is Colorado State running back Alvin Lewis, who amassed 193 yards on 30 carries - the fifth-best showing in CSU history — against Utah on Saturday, WAC officials announced today.

By virtue of the 6-feet, 175-pound Lewis' performance, CSU mustered a 21-21 tie with the Utes and stayed atop the WAC standings.

Wyoming nose guard Chuck Bradford was named the WAC defensive player of the week on Monday for his nine unassisted tackles and two assists against San Diego State on Sat-

Lewis, a senior, rushed fives times for 44 yards on CSU's first scoring drive of 71 yards. During the Rams' game-tying, fourth-period drive that covered 61 yards, Lewis rushed six times for 41 yards.

Besides piling up nearly 200 yards rushing, Lewis also caught two passes for 19 yards and returned two kicks for 21 yards.

The tournament is made possible through the Midland Mixed Doubles Benefit tournament, which is spon-sored by the Midland National Bank.

SMU's win over Texas

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Texas Coach Fred Akers says the "brightest part" of the 20-6 loss to Southern Methodist was that even though several Longhorns were injured and SMU played well "we still had an opportunity to win.'

"It would have been really dismal if we hadn't had any chance at all," Akers told his news conference Monday.

Akers said he was "not blind to the fact" that five Texas offensive starters were sidelined with injuries Saturday, but he added, "We've made it a habit of not accepting any excuses or giving any, and I believe that's the way to do it."

"SMU played a very good football game," he said. Asked if the loss made the upcoming game against Texas Tech crucial, Akers said, 'They're all crucial. ... After a loss, I believe they're even more so. ... we've got a chance, but it's going to be tougher."

Texas' first loss of the season dropped No. 2 Texas to 2-1 in the Southwest Conference. Baylor and Houston lead the SWC race for the host spot in the Cotton Bowl but both must still play Texas.

Akers said Longhorn coaches had selected defensive tackle Kenneth Sims as the most valuable player on defense against Southern Methodist and center Mike Babb as the MVP on of-

Sims made 20 tackles, including 16 unassisted, and Babb, blocking on 270-pound nose guard Michael Carter of Southern Methodist, got a 92 score the highest of any Texas line-

Sims, however, suffered a deep thigh bruise, and defensive tackle Steve Massey hurt his knee as the string of Longhorn injuries continued. Offensive tackle John Tobolka reinjured his ankle, and Akers said he would not know until Tuesday whether halfback A.J. "Jam" Jones or offensive guard Joe Shearin could play against Jones went out Oct. 11 with a pinched nerve in his neck. Shearin has missed two weeks with a reaction to aspirin he had taken for a cold.

On two goal line plays that failed to get into the end zone, Akers said, "SMU didn't stop them - we did" with blocking Akers counted seven or eight passes that were dropped by Longhorn receivers. "What hurts is when you have several players do it. That causes a lot of frustration and a lot of doubt offensively," he said. Akers said a mental error also cost Texas a touchdown on a punt return as safety Bobby Johnson called for a fair catch on a play that saw Herkie Walls take the kick and break clear for an apparent score.

"There's no such thing as King's X in football," said Akers, showing how Johnson quickly brought his hand down after he realized what he had done. "You can't cross your fingers and say it didn't count. It could have been a big play."

"We're capable of recovering, and I expect us to," said Akers. "These guys are good competi-

Akers praises Andrews keeps fans interested in final outcome

Sports Writer

Andrews just doesn't want its fans to lose interest in the football season. And the way the Ponies have played the last two weeks none will!

Two weeks ago, Andrews had to rally in the second half to escape with a 21-14 win over Monahans. Friday night it was even closer.

There were just two seconds left when quarterback Keith Brooks lofted a 22-yard touchdown pass to Marty Keesee and then ran over the twopoint conversion to give the Mustangs a 21-20 win over underdog Fort Stockton in a spine-tingling District 2-

AAAA contest. The win kept the Mustangs undefeated at 8-0 and on track for a district

Stanton had plans to wrap-up the District 5-AA title with a win over Plains Friday night. Things didn't work out that way. The two defensive-minded clubs battled to a 0-0 deadlock. The finish leaves Stanton with a 3-0-1 mark while Plains stands at 2-0-1 in district action. This means the outcome of the district race, most likely, will rest in the hands of the Seagraves Eagles. It is quite simple. If Seagraves beats Plains, the clubs meet in two weeks, and Stanton finishes its season with no more blemishes, the Buffs win the title and go to the playoffs.

Rankin just about wrapped up a District 6-A title with its 61-0 blitzing of Sanderson. It was a balanced Red Devil attack as six different players found their way to the end zone for

The Red Devils are undefeated, 7-0, on the season and defeated their nearest challenger, Iraan, earlier this

It looked like Crane might pick up its first win of the season Friday night as the Golden Cranes headed into the final 12 minutes of play with a 21-13 lead. It wasn't to be.

Alpine's Bucks unleashed a 22-point fourth quarter blitz to register a 35-27 come-from-behind victory. Ramon Torres paced the Bucks' comeback with four touchdowns.

Crane was lead by Kevin Putty, who scored on an 83-yard run and caught TD passes of 23 and 40 yards from quarterback Darryl Burton. Scoring three first half touchdowns.

Wall weathered a 10-point third period rally to hand the Reagan County Owls a 21-13 defeat Friday night at Wall. The loss dropped the Owls to 0-3 in District 9-AA, 1-6 overall. Greenwood bounced back from last week's loss to Iraan by drubbing the Balmorhea Bears 35-12 at Greenwood. Tailback Todd Brooks led the Ranger attack; racing 50 and 37 yards for touchdowns.

The win lifted the Rangers to 3-1 in District 6-A, one game behind Rankin, whom they play this Friday on the Greenwood field.

The Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa had the weekend off.

Phillips happy with performance

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Oiler Coach Bum Phillips prefers to believe that the Oilers' performance was responsible for Sunday's 23-3 victory over Cincinnati rather than pre-game comments by the Bengals. That didn't keep Phillips from plastering comments by defensive end Ross Browner on the team's bulletin board. Browner said the Oilers had no class and that he disliked the Oilers from Phillips on down. Defensive back Greg Bright said Earl Campbell could be stopped "if we can keep him out of a phone booth." "I don't think it (comments) helped Cincinnati, but I don't think it hurt them either," Phillips said Monday.

"I'd like to think if we played like we did and they played like they did we'd have beaten them anyway. Phillips' also admitted he ran out of words to say about Campbell. "I ran out of words before he quit running," Phillips said, responding to Campbell's latest career milestone, back to back 200-yard rushing performances. "I can't say anymore." Campbell, fully recovered from an early season groin injury, scored a knockout over Cincinnati Sunday, rushing for 202 yards on 27 carries and scoring touchdowns on runs of 55 and three yards in a 23-3 victory.

"I think I've seen it all," Gray said.
"I didn't think he could throw and then he threw a touchdown pass at Pittsburgh. I know all about his running ability and blocking. I've seen enough of him to know that anything he needs to do to get something done,

TCU climbs in SWC stats despite loss

DALLAS (AP) -- All it takes is a healthy 408 yards in passing and a team is sure to take a quick climb in the passing statistics. Despite its 21-6 loss to Southwest Conference front-runner Baylor, TCU is on top of the team throwing list, jumping from fourth

With Steve Stamp's 28 of 53 for 408 passing performance against the Bears Saturday, the Frogs now have a 30-yard per game lead on the field in team passing. The aerial extravaganza by Stamp also dotted the SWC record book.

It goes down as only the third time in conference history a player has thrown for more than 400 yards in a game. SMU's Chuck Hixson was 37 of 69 for 417 (all three figures conference records) against Ohio State in 1968. Rice's Tommy Kramer threw for 409 yards against Houston in 1976. Stamp's 53 attempts ties for seventh most attempts. Stamp is not the only one assaulting the top of the passing record lists. Currently, Hixson and Kramer are one-two in career completions, attempts and vards, but Rice's Randy Hertel is slowly approaching Kramer in completions and attempts.

With 502 career completions, Hertel is just six away from Kramer with 508. He's still 140 away from Hixson's 642 completions in three years. Hertel is 26 attempts behind Kramer (1,010 to 1,036) and 679 yards behind (5,518 to 6,197).

But there's irony in the current passing numbers. SMU and Rice, teams that have dominated the SWC passing figures in modern history, now rank fourth and sixth, respectively, in team passing. On Saturday, the two teams combined completed four of 17 for 80 yards.

The Owls have called nearly three times as many running plays as they have passing plays. The top three rushers in the SWC retained their ranking last week, A.J. Jones staying at 113.8 yards per game while nursing a neck injury which sidelined him for the SMU game.

Baylor's Walter Abercrombie is second at 98.1 yards per game and would need 113 yards against San Jose State Saturday for a 100-yard rushing average

The only change among individual leaders came in receiving where Bobby Stewart, caught six of Stamp's 28 completions and tops the receivers with 3.9 catches per game (27 in seven).

TCU's Phillips Epps' eight catches is a conference high for the year, as are his 174 yards. Another individual highlight was SMU's John Simmons getting his sixth interception of the year. His 16 career thefts is two away from the SWC record.

In team statistics, Baylor leads four of the six categories, losing the passing lead to TCU. The Bears' rushing average jumped to 276.1 while their total offense average slipped seven yards to 452.4. Texas is second in four of the six categories, joining Baylor with more than 400 yards per game total offense, at 408.5. Texas Tech, with last week off, retained its top spot in pass defense (109.5 yards per game), but there was some shifting after that.

Texas, allowing a season low yield of three passing yards to SMU, moved from fifth to third, while Baylor moved from third to eighth after watching the TCU air show.

Football strange game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Earle Bruce, Ohio State's football coach, contends college football is a strange game. 'We played Northwestern and won 63-0 and had very few defensive players grade winning performances," he told his weekly media luncheon Mon-

'Last week against Indiana we had a total of over 500 yards and very few of our offensive players graded a winning performance. That's unusual, too," he said.

"This week our offensive line - both of our tackles and both of our guards - graded a winning performance," he said.

Still, the once-beaten Buckeyes mustered only 285 total yards in a 21-0 victory over host Wisconsin. "I thought our play was spotty on the offensive field," Bruce said. "But it wasn't as bad after I viewed the movies as I might have thought in the course of the game." However, he did not elaborate and the media had no chance to explore the matter with the Ohio State coach. He entertained no questions for the first time in his two seasons of the luncheons.

"I've got some things I've got to do. I'm going to rush right out of here and go back to my job," he said after finishing his comments. Mary Homan, Ohio State's sports information director, said Bruce was pressed for time at the lunch hour because of interviews with some of his Bruce said it was the 6-1 Buckeyes' best defensive showing of 1980. "It was our most complete defensive game, where we played for four quarters," he said. The Buckeyes limited the Badgers to 157 total yards in pitching their third shutout this fall.

J.R. Richard is running

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Only two weeks after a grueling 18-hour operation on his pitching arm, Houston Astro ace J.R. Richard is already running and plans a weight program soon to get back in shape, his doctors said Monday.

Physicians who toiled to restore function to the 30-year-old Richard's right arm disclosed details of the Oct. 14 operation.

The surgery was performed by two teams at the University of California at San Francisco, headed by Dr. Edwin J. Wylie and Dr. Ronald J.

The 6-foot-8 athlete suffered a stroke last July, and his life was saved by Houston surgeons.

But a major artery to Richard's pitching arm, damaged before the stroke, threatened to cut short his baseball career. Richard and his family asked that the damage be re-

Jane and Bill Thomas combined for a best ball twosome 62 Sunday to win the Midland Country Club Women's Golf Association monthly mixed foursome golf tournament.

The Thomas-team effort was one stroke better than the second place team of Pat and John Carey. Dottie and Buddy Red-den placed third with a 65.

Rusty and John Euston took fourth place after a card playoff with Clara and Walter Boyd. Both teams posted a 66. Sylvia and Walt Laufer also posted a 66 and finished sixth after the card playoff.

Georgia on tube; SMU, Aggies too

NEW YORK (AP) - Saturday's college football game between Georgia and South Carolina at Athens, Ga., will be televised nationally, followed by five regional contests, ABC-TV announced Monday.

Both teams are nationally ranked - Georgia is unbeaten, South Carolina has one loss - and the game matches two of the nation's top runners, South Carolina senior George Rogers and Georgia freshman Herschel Walker.

Air time will be 11 a.m., CST, with the kickoff at 11:35 p.m.

At 2:45 p.m., CST, ABC will show Pitt at Syracuse, Texas A&M at Southern Methodist, Mississippi at Louisiana State, Washington State at Oregon and Western Kentucky at Morehead State.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The independent agency established by Congress to run the country's biggest energy program is demonstrating it knows how to save paper.

The Synthetic Fuels Corp. on Monday approved the rules industries will have to follow in applying for up to $88 billion in loans and price supports to stimulate development of synthetic The rules take 21/2 pages. That compartment needed previously to lay down rules governing its distribution of synthetic fuels money. Board members of the Synthetic Fuels Corp. said they wanted to avoid pares with 450 pages the Energy Dethe very specific application guidelines set up by the Energy Depart-"We are looking for a diversity of projects and many small companies just wouldn't have the money or time to submit applications (under the Energy Department procedures)," said board member John DeButts, retired chairman of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. The guidelines ask each applicant to supply information on the technology to be used and the type of fuel produced as well as a proposed con-struction timetable, environmental impacts and financial resources of the company. The guidelines must be approved by an advisory committee, but corporation chairman John Sawhill said he hopes they can be issued on Dec. 1 with companies given until March 31 to submit proposals

Companies offering the best proposals will go into a second round, in which they will have to submit more detailed information before the board selects the winners.

Polygraph operator testifies at ax trial

By KRISTIN GAZLAY

McKINNEY, Texas (AP) - Candace Montgomery told the truth last summer when she said she did not intend to kill her onetime lover's wife, a polygraph operator has testified at her murder trial.

The testimony at Mrs. Montgomery's trial came Monday after presiding State District Judge Tom Ryan ruled she was mentally fit for trial. The ruling followed a new series of psychiatric examinations over the weekend to determine her competen-

Dr. Thomas L. Thornton, who examined Mrs. Montgomery, told the judge she was "fully competent" for trial.

Mrs. Montgomery testified last week that she was fighting for her life when she struck Betty Gore 41 times with a three-foot ax June 13. The defendant said Mrs. Gore attacked her after learning she had had an affair with Mrs. Gore's husband, Allan

Polygraph expert Dan McElroy — testifying while jurors were excused — said he examined Mrs. Montgomery on June 20. He said the tests indicated Mrs. Montgomery was telling the truth when she said she became afraid when Mrs. Gore brought an ax into the room and that she did not intend to kill

To convict Mrs. Montgomery, jurors must find she "knowingly and intentionally" killed Mrs. Gore.

Asked if it was possible to lie without detection during a polygraph examination, McElroy said, 'I've never heard of it in my career.'

Ryan was to rule today on whether jurors would hear the testimony on the "lie detector" test.

In other testimony Monday, Dr. Fred L. Fason, a Houston psychiatrist, said Mrs. Montgomery flew into a blind rage during her struggle with Mrs. Gore and did not stop swinging the ax until her rage was Fason said he examined Mrs. Montgomery seven times at the request of her attorney and found her present mental state to be "detached and mildly depressed.'

He said she had disassociated herself with the killing and felt as though she had watched the slaying from outside her own body. "She didn't understand why she had done what she did," Fason said. "She said it was so ugly."

Defense attorney Don Crowder called several witnesses who testified Mrs. Gore often was moody and Elizabeth Cline said Mrs. Gore "got mad over the least little things...she never had anything good to Catherine Cooper, who supervised Mrs. Gore as a teacher in 1973, said the dead woman "had a hard time communicating with people" and was "extremely tactless.

Texas Baptists gather for annual 3-day session

HOUSTON (AP) - Conservative and moderate factions are squaring off for another round in their ongoing fight over Biblical interpretations as an expected record number of Texas Baptists convene

The annual 3-day session of the Baptist General Convention of Texas could be a battleground for opposing forces debating the issue of Biblical "inerrancy" - acceptance of the Bible as the exact word of God.

Conservative forces backing the inerrancy cept, led by Paige Patterson of Dallas, and Paul Pressler, a civil appeals judge from Houston, have vowed to take over the Southern Baptist Convention, a 13.7 million-member Protestant denomi-
