TELL OF EARLY DAYS IN HASKELL . . .

Articles Placed in Building Cornerstone In 1907 Replaced in Remodeled Structure

If inanimate objects could talk, a small leaden box replaced in the cornerstone of the Sherrill Building when it was remodeled recently, probably would declare "The first 50 years are the hardest."

The box was placed in the original cornerstone of the building when it was laid in 1907. Remodeling plans for the building after a fire had damaged the second floor, called for an entire new front, and the box came to light when the old front was removed.

When opened, its contents were perfectly preserved after being sealed in the box for almost 50 years. In the box were a Bible, the Presbyterian Confession of Faith, several letters dealing with the early history of Haskell County, a copy of the Christian Observer, along with copies of two Haskell newspapers, The Free Press and the Haskell Herald.

The letters, written by early settlers C. D. Long, F. C. Wilfong, and others told of features of the country in earlier days. Wild game was abundant, including antelope and turkey, with a few deer and occasional bear being killed in the breaks of the Brazos. From the descriptions given in the letters, noticeable changes had transpired from pioneer days until 1907, and Haskell was becoming a "modern city."

All of the objects were kept intact, and with other material, were replaced in the original box which was again sealed and placed in the cornerstone of the new building front. Additional material included a current copy of The Free Press and a story of the fire damage to the building which resulted in its remodeling.

Haskell Teacher Attends State Conference

Miss Madalin Hunt, president of the Haskell Classroom Teachers' Association, represented local teachers at the annual Texas Conference on Teacher Education, held at the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells Oct. 28-30. Two hundred teachers were registered for the meeting, held in the Baker Hotel.

Representatives from the Texas Education Agency, administrators and teachers from universities, along with classroom teachers from public schools discussed together vital problems of education.

The teacher education program in Texas was one of the important subjects discussed. Accreditation and teacher certification were discussed by members of the Texas Education Agency.

The "Fifth Year" Program, or working towards a Masters degree was given much consideration. It is going to be much more difficult to get a Masters degree under the new program. It is going to be a much greater task to receive a Doctorate. Very rigid examinations will be given.

Dr. L. D. Haskew, vice president of the University of Texas gave an address on "The Effects of the Revival of Tradition and Conservatism on Teacher Education." Dr. Haskew stated that the temper of education has changed greatly in the past few years. He stated that the progress has been "zig-zag" rather than straight forward, but it has been progress.

Dr. Dwight K. Curtis of Iowa State Teachers College gave an informative address on "Curricular Problems in Teacher Education." Ten work groups were held to give teachers a better opportunity to ask questions and discuss problems.

Tuesday morning, Miss Hunt attended the Audio-Visual Teacher Education Group directed by Dr. Ernest Tiemann of the University of Texas. He said an outstanding audio-visual program is being planned for Texas. When this program is under way in the schools, it will be a great step in better education, teachers were told.

Legendary Spanish Treasure, Copper Mine Believed to Lie in Area Around Kiowa Peak

As far back as the first settlement of white men in this part of the state, legends have persisted that at some early date Spanish prospectors worked copper mines a little above the junction of the two main branches of the Brazos River, the Salt Fork and the Double Mountain Fork. Location is reputedly near Kiowa Peak, well known landmark. The site would be near the northwest corner of Haskell County, or possibly in Stonewall County. Furthermore, they are supposed to have had, and left here, a vast store of gold.

Various people have come from unknown parts searching for this treasure, but no special headway was made until 1908, when a Mexican posing as a shepherd is believed to have found and made off with a part of the treasure.

W. C. Allen of Denver City, ex-Sheriff of Haskell County and former Texas Ranger, has a vivid recollection of the incident. His father was one of the first settlers in northwest Haskell County, and W. C. Allen worked with a party organized to search for the treasure.

He relates that in the Spring of 1908 an old man who gave his name as Forrest came to Haskell. He spoke Spanish fluently and to the few persons with whom he became acquainted he

At the height of the treasure-hunting activities, its leaders felt certain they had the hidden wealth almost in their possession.

Concerned about the safekeeping of the treasure, they consulted together about a place to store it. Some of the men felt that if the gold was placed in a bank, that it might be robbed by bandits.

The Sherrill Building here had just been completed, and in it was a huge steel vault, reputedly burglar proof. That was the answer, and leaders of the expedition contacted told that he had spent most of his life exploring and mining in Old Mexico. He quietly began inquiring about the topography of the country and any traditions of Spanish treasure he could learn from settlers.

Having learned all he could he took a few men into his confidence, including the late Dr. C. L. Terrell of Haskell, and explained his mission to them. He said he had been given certain information by reliable Mexicans on the Rio Grande and that he proposed to search for the key to the hidden wealth.

His information was that during the period when Spanish miners were gathering great quantities of gold in Mexico a company of them in search of further treasure, had wandered far to the northwest, taking with them a large store of the precious metal. In their wanderings, directed by some Indian or by their own keen instinct for such things, the Spanish had located the copper mines on the Brazos and proceeded to work them.

In some way they aroused the hostility of native Indians. Feeling certain they would be attacked and killed if they remained, the Spaniards worked several nights in hiding their treasure and digging false shafts in the mines. They left under cover of darkness, after a priest in the party had made a plat of the country, carefully noting directions and distances from prominent points of nature. After making their way back to Mexico, the leaders of the group kept the plat but the Indians continued so hostile the Spaniards could never return and take away their gold.

Later the plat was delivered for safekeeping to a faithful Mexican convert who had been with the Spanish party. It remained in his keeping until the old man, approaching death, delivered it to a member of his family as a passport to immense wealth. Thus the plat passed along for two or three generations until Texas fell into the hands of the hated "gringos" and it became certain that no poor Mexican could ever get possession of the treasure.

Finally for some small favors and a little money, a Mexican turned the plat over to the American who had now come to Haskell County.

He organized a small company to assist him in locating and digging up the treasure. As a show of faith, Forrest was to pay half the expenses involved and take half the treasure.

Allen, a young man at the time living in the vicinity of the old mine, was employed to help in the digging. He recalls that Forrest guarded the plat carefully and kept its information mostly to himself. But the detailed intricacy of the faded map was confusing to the possessor. It covered a large territory, including the two branches of the Brazos, Kiowa Peak, and numerous minor features of the vicinity. It called for many specified rocks and many marked trees. Some of the rocks had become covered with soil and some of the markings on others had been partially obliterated by weather. Most of the trees had been destroyed by the frequent prairie fires over a long period of years. An explanation was given to some of the signs, but the meaning of more had to be guessed at.

The search was thorough and continued for several months, with a great deal of money being spent digging. Most of the prospecting was right along the river, and a Mexican who was herding sheep in the neighborhood began to enter into the counsels of the treasure hunters. He confided in them that while working as a herder he was also searching for certain signs and objects which would lead him to a vast amount of wealth.

The herder said the Mexican government knew all about the treasure, that it had records too, of five or six very rich mines in Texas but that it would never reveal these secrets because of a sacred pledge involved. He added that certain priests in Mexico City could locate this treasure that was being sought on the Brazos.

The Mexican convinced the treasure seekers that he knew something about the matter, and to use his information they made him a partner. As soon as this agreement was made he announced that if a certain rock was found with a certain letter on it, the outline of which he drew, he could find the gold. Only a few days after this, diggers in the party did uncover, about eight or ten inches under the soil surface, a rock they called the "Spider Rock."

The rock had many curious markings on it, among them the letter "H" in queer old Spanish chirography, as the Mexican had called for. He pretended to explain the markings on the rock. He said that the little hill on which the "Spider Rock" was found was underlain with the "base rock" that underneath the "base rock" were buried a great many bodies; and that 19 steps to the west of the bodies would be found buried a large bone of some prehistoric animal. He said that in excavating the diggers would find a kind of wall, as if a trench had been dug and then filled in with a much harder substance.

Fired with hope, the treasure hunters started digging for the "base rock." They did find a wall of very firm substance, wider at the top and narrower at the base, as if a trench had been filled in.

When they had got down some fifteen or nineteen feet, Allen estimated, they were met with such a stretch they could hardly work. They found a great many decayed bodies and many relics of various kinds. Furthermore, at the specified distance, they found the bone of the prehistoric animal. It was about the thickness of a man's body and very porous.

The Mexican now directed that the diggers go to a bluff a little farther to the west. He said that there they would find under a rock a great bone like the first and other things buried by the Spaniards. The bone was found and with it were an old-fashioned sword, some copper ornaments thought to be spaullets, some silver ornaments, about forty-two gold buttons, and a great number of beads.

But here ended the findings. The Mexican became vague in working out further directions, and considerable time was spent in fruitless digging. Allen said that he, like others in the group, thought the Mexican knew more than he was telling.

A few nights later, the Mexican disappeared from the camp. After a few more days of haphazard digging, the disheartened party quit digging after having dug up over an acre of land all told, the excavations ranging from a few inches in some places to twenty feet at other points.

The expedition made plans to reorganize, but shortly afterwards Forrest left and did not return.

A majority of the relics found were placed in Dr. Terrell's drug store in Haskell, and were lost when the building burned in 1909. Allen said he believed the "Spider Rock" was retrieved from the ruins of the building and might still be in possession of Dr. Terrell's oldest son, Cal.

A sequel to the ill-fated treasure hunting expedition was supported some of the speculations of the sheepherder recalled.

Across the Brazos on opposite direction from which the Mexican had searched, a skeleton was found in an excavation which to have been made out of time. Near the skeleton was a small, heavy copper pot, the form of a canoe. It was round and a half, stronger than any made and capable of being self full of the heaviest. The popular conclusion that the Mexican took the copper vessels at least the hidden Spanish treasure.

Local Legion Post Favors Expanded Vet Land Program

Rogers-Cox Post No. 221, American Legion, Haskell, has recently endorsed the proposed Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas pertaining to additional funds for the Veterans Land Program of Texas. Listed below are the topics of discussion which were factors in the endorsement.
Several years ago the State of Texas saw fit to extend credit to the veterans of this State who desired to purchase farm property within the State. Through this program approximately 17,000 Texas veterans have been able to purchase farm property which they likely would not have been able to purchase without extension of credit by the State. Like most other programs devised by Federal, State, and local government and private concerns, there were many policies which required changes after the inception of the program. When discrepancies were found in the Texas Veterans Land Program action was taken to correct those discrepancies and an appropriate prison sentence was given to the person guilty of misapplication of the law. The American Legion took the lead in the investigation and final prosecution of this person. Since changes in personnel have been made and since additional safeguards have been instituted, there is no evidence of any recurrence of misappropriation and poor management.
Since the inception of the Veterans Land Program the State of Texas has realized a net profit in excess of two million dollars, and will, upon repayment of the total number of loans made to date, realize a net profit of approximately twelve million dollars. Therefore, it is obvious that this is not a tax supported program and is costing the taxpayer absolutely nothing.
All money which was initially available has been spent in the purchase of property for Texas veterans. Only about 2% of the eligible Texas veterans have been able to participate in the program thus far. Proposed Amendment No. 5 to the Constitution of the State of Texas will be voted upon Nov. 6, 1956. If this proposition meets the approval of the voters of the State an additional one hundred million dollars will be made available for loans to those Texas veterans desiring to purchase Texas farms. This Amendment will also provide additional safeguards by effecting a change in the present Veterans Land Board.
"It is believed that the Texas Veterans Land Program is basically sound and that the veterans in the State of Texas are deserving of the benefits provided by this program. We therefore urge your support of this program by your vote for Amendment No. 5 to the Constitution of the State of Texas on Nov. 6," a spokesman for the local Legion Post said.

Paint Creek Overwhelms Forsan 68-36, Play Vera Tonight in Conference Tilt

BY WILLIAM OVERTON

Tonight, November 1, the Paint Creek Pirates play Vera at Paint Creek. Although the Pirates are predicted to win, the game promises to be a good one.

Last week, the Pirates won over the Forsan Buffaloes 68 to 36 in a Friday night non-district game at Paint Creek.

Early in the first period, after covering a Forsan fumble on the Buffalo 34, Paint Creek made a touchdown in short order when Eddie Thane threw a pass to Leon Hokanson who streaked for a touchdown and then kicked the extra point. Later Dub Sims took the ball from Hokanson and passed to Don Hager who crossed for the second Pirate TD.

Forsan made their first score with a long pass from Tony Starr to Johnny King, and a second touchdown pass from Starr to Travis Schafer.

Paint Creek scored when Thane caught a pass on the 25 and took down the sideline for the TD. Hokanson converted.

In the next quarter, Thane returned the pass to Hokanson who scored and kicked the point.

When Paint Creek again took the ball, Charles Sreen, 75 lbs. Forsan end, caught a fumble on his own 3 and raced for a TD.

The Pirates made the final score of the first half with a Hokanson to Thane pass and the kick was good leaving the score 38 to 18.

As the second half opened, Don Hager made his second score of the game for the Pirates. The Buffaloes then scored with a 38 yard TD run by Gary Starr.

Thane took the ball from Dub Sims for another Paint Creek score, and Forsan followed with a score by Pat Brunton closing the 3rd quarter with the score 62 to 30 in the Pirate's favor.

Paint Creek scored twice in the final frame with runs by William Haynes and Leon Hokanson. Hokanson converted both times.

After the second Pirate TD, Brunton took the kickoff deep in Buffalo territory and ran almost the length of the field for the final score.

A sandwich supper was given the visiting team and pep squad after the game.

Its nine-foot wing spread makes the condor the largest bird that flies.

General Electric, RCA Whirlpool, Kelvinator, Admiral, Westinghouse, and others.

Furniture department occupies a commodious balcony in the store, featuring a complete stock of furniture and home furnishings. Office supplies department of the store carries a full line of office machines, furnishings and equipment, typewriters, adding and billing machines, filing cabinets, etc., in addition to a wide range of small supplies and office filling needs.

The service department has been expanded and new equipment added make it one of the most modern in this section. This department specializes in repairs for typewriters, adding machines and other office appliances. In addition, service is rendered on all appliances sold by the concern.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Bynum, personnel in the new store includes Beatrix Mobley, in charge of the housewares and gifts department; A. B. McDonald, J. W. Davis and Jack Plunk, and Glenn Darden, on leave while in the armed services.

Move of Bynum's to the new and larger location had its beginning last spring, after a fire on the second floor of the Old Sherrill Building had caused extensive damage to the stock of Hattox Hardware and Furniture Company on the ground floor.

The Hattox stock was later purchased by Mr. Bynum, and after disposing of this stock, plans were started for remodeling and modernizing the building. These plans included removing of the upper story, and replacing the old front with a modern brick and glass exterior.

Some changes were also made in the basement of the building, which will be utilized as a storage warehouse.

Concern Started in 1941

Bynum's modern store of today had its beginning 15 years ago when he opened the Southwestern Specialty Company on the north side of the square, located in the building later purchased by Mr. Bynum.

As the business expanded and new lines were added, including office machines and furnishings, larger quarters became necessary, and in August, 1946, Mr. and Mrs. Bynum leased the Allen Building on the south side.

With removal to the larger building, more new lines of merchandise were added, including furniture and home appliances. With the continued expansion of the business and steadily increasing patronage, still larger quarters were needed resulting in the decision which was culminated in the move to the newly modernized Sherrill Building.

"We believe that our move and added investment is justified by the substantial and increasing patronage our concern has enjoyed," Mr. and Mrs. Bynum said. "We are firm believers in Haskell and its future, and our move to our present location is made with a desire to be in position to better serve the people of Haskell and trade territory."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bynum are longtime residents of Haskell. His father, the late J. T. Bynum, came here in 1927 and until his death was manager of the Old Farm Bureau Gin. J. A. Bynum followed in his father's footsteps, for several years before entering business for himself. The Haskell businessman is a member of the Lions Club and is a trustee on the Haskell School Board.

Mrs. Bynum, who is actively associated with her husband in business, is the former Odell Williamson. She is currently serving as president of Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, and is also an active member of the Progressive Study Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bynum have two children, Jane, a Freshman in Junior High School, and Jimmie, a pupil in the Fourth Grade in Elementary School.

Farm Bureau Near Goal In Drive For Members

Only 33 renewal memberships remained to be secured Tuesday and Wednesday to meet the Farm Bureau's quota of $25, directors of the organization were told at called meeting of the board held Monday night. Fifteen directors and Mrs. Gene Tonn, secretary, were present.

Gene Tonn, membership chairman, gave the report and stated that 33 more renewals would entitle the Haskell unit to its full voting strength of nine delegates at the state convention in Houston Nov. 11.

Directors voted to change time for the regular board meeting from the second to the fourth Monday each month, with the next meeting to be held Nov. 26. Directors also voted to close the Farm Bureau office on Saturday afternoons.

Reservations have been made for the local delegation at the Houston meeting, and expenses of all the voting delegates to the state convention will be paid by the local organization. Volunteers to attend the convention were requested to turn in their names to the local office not later than

No. 9. Members who stated they could attend are L. B. White, G. E. White and Adell Thomas. Others indicating they might be able to attend are Frank Oman, Leon Newton, B. Kupat, Rudolph Ramm, Herbert Nierdeck, Alvin Bredthauer, Lou Young, F. A. Ulmer, Bob Harren, Douglas Lees and Shelby Johnson.

A visitor and special guest at the meeting from Wisconsin was Orbert Garsow of West DePere, Wis. He happened to be stopping in Haskell for the night, and being a Farm Bureau member, asked that he might "sit in".

Haskell Air Force Officer Called To Pentagon

Lt. Col. Shelby Jack Harris of Haskell, currently stationed at Anchorage, Alaska, with the U. S. Air Force, was in Washington, D. C., this week for a conference at the Pentagon.

Lt. Col. Harris wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheby Harris of this city, that he would be in Washington probably Monday and Tuesday. His wife and their three children, Jan, Penny and Jackie, are living in Anchorage while he is stationed there. The officer wrote that when he left home Saturday, there was 12 inches of snow on the ground and that the two little girls were having a high time building a snowman.

Elementary P-TA Realizes $660 From Carnival

Merry-making was in order at the Halloween Carnival sponsored by the Elementary Parent-Teacher Association on Saturday night, Oct. 27. The affair was held in the elementary school, where ghosts, goblins, witches, clowns, pirates and other strange characters roamed the halls.

The association realized $660.69 from the activity. A large portion of the carnival fund is always spent on some outstanding need of the school.

The crowd gathered early for a Mexican supper served by the teachers and mothers of the Primary department. Ninety cakes were furnished by mothers of the Third Grade, and young and old merry-makers alike enjoyed the cake walks during the evening.

Others enjoyed the puppet shows, the picture show, fish pond, darts, ball games, and the sponge bath, while the fortune teller was kept busy. Joe Harper, manager of the Country Store, reported a good business.

The doll walk caused much excitement and many little girls went home much happier because they had a beautiful new doll, dressed by some mother of the P-TA.

Members of the association express their appreciation to every person who in any way helped

Will The BIG CITY GOP Machines Control Texas Again?

In 1952 Republicans Won Texas In The Big Cities

Don't Let It Happen This Time!

VOTE TUESDAY!

The Republicans carried Texas in 1952, but the GOP failed to win an all-Texas victory.

- Eisenhower's lead in Texas was 133,650 votes.
- Nearly all this margin—133,002 votes—come from only eight big-city counties: Bexar (San Antonio), Dallas, El Paso, Harris (Houston), Lubbock, Potter, Tarrant (Fort Worth), Travis, (Austin).
- More than half the 1952 Republican votes came from the big-cities of Texas.
- Outside the five largest counties, Republicans squeezed through with a lead of less than 1 per cent.

Texans outside the big-city precincts know what Republicanism means: neglect, indifference, depression. That is why it is important that you vote Tuesday.

- The big-city GOP machines don't care about you.
- Remember: four years ago, Democrats piled up an 85,000 vote lead in 106 small-town and rural Texas counties—only to have that lead wiped out by the votes from Dallas and Houston alone.

Make your vote count! Go to the polls Tuesday and take another Democrat with you. Don't let the big city Republican machines control Texas—and you.

MAKE YOUR VOICE HEARD!

Picture of Paint Creek-Benjamin Game Included in Life Magazine Feature

A picture showing some of the action in the recent Paint Creek-Benjamin 6-Man football game was included in the Oct. 29 issue of Life Magazine, in a feature article titled "Texas Blows Its Top Over Football."

Stressing the state's tremendous interest in football, the story carried pictures of other grid activities in this area. Included were scenes of McMurry College and Hardin-Simmons University. A color night photo of McMurry's tepees on homecoming weekend was shown, with comment that "Even small McMurry College puts on a highly elaborate homecoming."

An interesting contrast in the photos appeared in the pictures of the Texas A&M-TCU game played during a rainstorm, and the Paint Creek-Benjamin contest on a dust-cloved field.

The picture made at Paint Creek revealed a slip-up in geography on the part of the Life staff. Outlines accompanying the picture read "Game in the dust of drought-stricken Texas Panhandle is played by six-man teams from Paint Creek and Benjamin high schools. Twenty-three of the 28 boys in Paint Creek are on the squad."

Hallowe'en Carnival At Weinert Nets $95 to Sponsors

A Hallowe'en Carnival held in Weinert Saturday night under joint auspices of the Weinert Study Club and the Lions Club was a highly successful event, and netted approximately $95.00 to the sponsoring organizations.

One of the highlights of the evening was the coronation of the King and Queen, Minister and Mrs. Damon Smith. Their selection for the titles had been kept secret until time for the ceremony, and came as a complete surprise for the popular couple. They were crowned by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dutton and then were presented with a key to the city and a nosegay of roses by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Mathison.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who are moving to Melrose, N. M., this week, also were presented with gifts of pottery by the Duttons on behalf of the Lions and members of the Study Club.

District 18 P-TA Has Workshop on Mental Health

Nearly 100 persons attended the 18th District P-TA Mental Health Workshop Oct. 23 in the Women's Building, Abilene, according to Mrs. Bob Herren, Haskell, 18th District P-TA president.

The workshop was presented by the District P-TA in collaboration with the Hogg Foundation. Dr. Charles Dent, University of Texas, Austin was consultant for the day-long workshop. District co-chairmen were F. J. King and Nena Kate Lewis, Abilene, who gave instructions throughout the day.

Mrs. Herren gave the welcome and orientation and then presented Dr. Price Munster of University Baptist Church, Abilene, who gave the invocation. Dr. Dent was introduced by F. J. King and instructed the work groups as to the manner in which they would go into their sessions.

The group was the guest for luncheon of the Abilene City Council. In the opening session after lunch, a film, "Preface to Life" was shown concerning the effects and influence upon their children's personalities of the actions of the parents.

Those attending were urged not to confuse Mental Health with Mental Ill. Specific techniques were suggested whereby the individuals might better be able to communicate the Mental Health Emphasis in their own particular communities.

Those from Haskell attending were Mrs. R. W. Herren, Mrs. Scott Green, Jr. Hi Mental Health chairman, Mrs. W. O. Holden, District corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ed Hester, district vice president.

Hunting Season On Ducks, Geese, Opens Nov. 2

Although only a few flights of ducks have been observed in this area, prospects for the waterfowl hunting season opening in Texas at one-half hour before sunrise Nov. 2, were described as "promising" by the Executive Secretary for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the situation represented strange angles since the migrating duck and goose population "seemed to be tremendous" but that the flocks may not be able to occupy favorite wintering areas because of fresh water shortage.

"The most acutely dry area now," said the Executive Secretary "is the Upper Texas Gulf Coast where unfortunately there is such a great concentration of hunters. If we can get some substantial rains right away, the incoming birds will stop at their old haunts because feed there is reported adequate."

He said "the back country hunter" apparently will get some breaks since recent rains filled up ponds, tanks and small streams "which are always irresistible to touring ducks and geese."

The duck and goose season open simultaneously this fall, with the sixty day goose season closing on December 31, while the duck season comprising seventy days continues through Jan. 15.

Regulations otherwise are identical with last year—five ducks a day, ten in possession; five geese a day and five in possession; daily hunting from one half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The goose regulation stipulates that the daily possession limit shall not contain more than two Canadian geese, or its subspecies of two whitefront geese, or one of each."

and Mrs. O. D. Lovell of Texon, Mr. and Mrs. Seaboerne Enke of Snyder. They were accompanied by Mr. Kennedy's father, Will N. Kennedy of Brownwood. Two deer were killed by the party, nine and four-point specimens.

Front of the remodeled Sherrill Building, pictured here, is one of the city's most attractive business buildings. Bynum's, occupants of the remodeled building will observe their Grand Opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The structure, located on the northwest corner of the square, was almost completely rebuilt following a fire in April of this year. Originally two stories, the upper floor was removed and the front completely modernized, along with interior of the building. A small section in the south front of the building houses the West Side Barber Shop. Bynum's, formerly located on the southeast corner of the square, will feature a complete line of hardware, furniture, appliances and office supplies in their new and larger quarters.

Haskell Is Invited To Have "Day" at Fort Worth Show

Haskell has been given an invitation to have a special day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. A letter to the Chamber of Commerce from W. R. Watt, president-manager of the Fort Worth exposition, Jan. 25-Feb. 3, states:

The "days" of the cities add color and contribute much to the success of the Stock Show and we are grateful for your participation in the past.

We would like for your band to give a concert; for your riding club to take part in the rodeo and grand entry; for your Cowgirl Sweetheart to receive an introduction to the rodeo audience; and for as many of your citizens as possible attend. A block of tickets, if you wish, will be sent to you for advance sale so that your delegation can all sit together.

Your cooperation enables the Stock Show to render a greater contribution to the development of our great livestock industry and especially to give recognition to the farm and ranch youth through the Junior Livestock Show.

Everyone is working hard to try to make the '57 show the finest yet. We are looking forward to your acceptance and will give your plans as widespread publicity as possible and all of us will do everything in our power to make your visit enjoyable.

Sally, this is Jane... I'm so upset. Our electric bill has really jumped since we got our new electric range.

Jane, our gas bill is one of the lowest-cost conveniences we have! Why don't you switch to gas at less than 1/4 the cost!

ONLY WITH EXCITING NEW FEATURES LIKE THESE CAN YOU REALLY COOK MODERN!

- Cook-Saver Automatic Top Burner Control. Now flame-fast! Gas Cook-Saver holds pre-set temperature. Foods won't burn! Makes all your pans automatic!
- Built-in Rotisserie. Broil indoors with flame-broiled "barbecue" flavor. Turns out your favorite foods easily and deliciously.
- Shower Flame. On each burner, key points of flame make waterless. "Vitamin-saver" cookery is snap. Unlimited keep-warm and simmer settings.
- Automatic Clock-Controlled Oven. Foods which cook while you're away... heat oven on and off automatically. Free circulation of heat... easy cook position.

But of course! Smart Southwest Moderns know that cooking with gas is the most economical way to cook. It costs less than 1/4 as much to use as electric cooking. This means: if you can cook on an electric range for $2.20 a month—you can do the same amount of cooking with gas for less than 55¢ a month. (Or a savings of $19.80 a year!) What's more, an automatic gas range costs less to buy, less to install, and less to operate and maintain. No wonder smart women say truly modern cooking is cooking with flame-fast gas.

SAFEST COOKING EVER! American Gas Association seal assures reliability. Fire insurance statistics prove gas is safer!

High Court Rules For Phone Company In Rate Cases

In a decision which may have far reaching effects on telephone rate making in Texas, the Texas Supreme Court October 3 reversed the decisions of the district courts and appeal courts denying General Telephone Company of the Southwest temporary injunctions in the Wellington and Eden rate cases and remanded the two cases to the respective district courts.

In both Wellington and Eden, General had asked the city councils for rate increases. The Eden City Council turned the rate adjustment request down completely while at Wellington a small increase was granted.

General then went to the district courts seeking injunctions restraining the cities of Wellington and Eden from enforcing their present rate ordinances and allowing the company to raise telephone rates. Both District Judge O. L. Parish and District Judge Luther Gribble turned the requests for temporary injunctions down. Their rulings were upheld by the Civil Appeals Courts.

The Supreme Court ruling reversed the findings of the lower courts and remanded the cases to the respective district courts for new hearings.

Streamflow Critically Deficient in Texas Streams During September

Streamflow was critically deficient in most Texas streams as the drouth intensified during the month of September, the Board of Water Engineers reports. New record-low flows occurred in the Sabine, Neches, San Jacinto, and Trinity River basins. Flow in the lower Brazos and Colorado Rivers was maintained by releases from upstream reservoirs. Most of the United States' share of the flow of the Rio Grand River below Falcon Reservoir was made up of releases for domestic and livestock uses, and for the salvation of citrus orchards.

Total conservation storage for all uses in 35 major reservoirs in the State was the lowest end-of-September content during the past six years of severe drouth. Combined storage was 42 per cent of useable capacity about one-half of that available a year ago. The most critical deficiencies were in storage supplies for municipal uses.

Water levels in south, central, and west Texas declined in four observation wells and rose in 4 in September. Water levels in observation wells in El Paso, Uvalde, Alief in Harris County and near Buda in Travis County declined to all-time record lows. Those in San Antonio and near Poteet and La Pryor declined to record lows for September.

Average rainfall over the State was less than one-fifth of normal for September with many sections receiving no rainfall. Areal averages varied from 0.13 inch in the area west of the Pecos River to 2.36 inches in the Brownsville area—6 to 48 per cent normal, respectively.

Precipitation

According to preliminary figures furnished by the U. S. Agricultural Marketing Service, cooperating with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, from data collected by the U. S. Weather Bureau for about 120 selected rainfall gaging stations, the statewide average rainfall was 0.53 inch or 18 per cent normal.

Areal average rainfall in all regions of the State was less than one-fourth normal except in the northeast and in the lower Rio Grande Valley. The Brownsville areal average was 2.36 inches or 48 per cent of normal, and the northeast Texas areal average was 1.22 inches or 40 per cent of normal.

Ground Water Water levels in south, central, and west Texas declined in four observation wells and rose in four during September. Water levels in observation wells in El Paso, Uvalde, Alief in Harris County and near Buda in Travis County declined to all-time record lows. Those in San Antonio and near Poteet and La Pryor declined to record lows for September.

All-time record flows occurred on the Sabine River from Gladewater downstream to Bon Wier. The mean-daily flow for the month of the Sabine River near Gladewater was 9.3 cfs, while the previous low monthly-average flow was 10.3 cfs, in September 1939. The flow of the Sabine River near Ruliff was the lowest since 1924.

The 53-year record low flow of the Neches River near Rockland—3.0 cfs, Oct. 15, 1931—was broken when flow diminished to 1.5 cfs, at month's end. The flow of the Neches at Evadale was at a critical low for the month, the monthly average being 187 cfs. A regulated decrease in the flow at Evadale resulted from a small increase in storage in Dam "B" Reservoir. The unregulated flow would have been about 210 cfs.

The West Fork of the Trinity River at Fort Worth was dry most of the month and the flow in the lower Trinity was primarily sewage effluent from Fort Worth and Dallas. Trinity River flow at Romayor has been less than the previous minimum of record for the past six weeks.

Flow in the San Jacinto River basin was the lowest of record. The flow into Lake Houston did not equal pumping demands for municipal, industrial and irrigation uses.

Headwater streams and tributaries in the Brazos and Colorado River basin carried only minor flows or were dry. Sufficient flow in the lower Brazos and Colorado Rivers were maintained by releases from upstream reservoirs to supply the demand.

According to Board of Water Engineers and U. S. Geological Survey records, the Guadalupe River above Comal River at New Braunfels carried sufficient flow for the 14th consecutive month. Flow was deficient 65 out of the past 76 months, during which time 32 record-low monthly flows occurred. Comal Springs at New Braunfels have not flowed since early June. Flow in the Comal River averaged 15.7 cfs, daily which was primarily pumpage from wells.

Residual runoff from late August rains in the Nueces River basin receded rapidly to extreme lows during the month.

Reservoir Storage

Total conservation storage in major reservoirs decreased 8 per cent to stand at 42 per cent of useable capacity, which is 43 per cent less than the available storage this time last year.

Lake Stamford on Paint Creek held 16,500 acre feet at the end of September, 1956, compared with 30,850 acre feet in September, 1955. The current level was 29 per cent of capacity, reflecting a 3 per cent decline during September.

Fort Worth successfully negotiated for the use of storage in Benbrook Reservoir on Clear Fork Trinity River; even so, the available supply for municipal uses reached a record-low since present storage facilities were completed. Storage in the City of Dallas reservoirs was critically low, and the quality of the surface water supply was deteriorating because of the chlorides in diversions from the Red River. Releases from the Texas share of storage in Falcon Reservoir on the Rio Grande were made for general use between the 5th and 15th of September. The rest of the month releases were made only for domestic and livestock uses and for the salvation of citrus orchards.

Sherrill Building Once Envisioned as Modern Hotel

The newly remodeled Sherrill Building, now occupied by Bynum's, at one time was on the verge of being transformed into a modern hotel building by a group of Haskell businessmen.

In the early 1920's, when Haskell was experiencing a substantial growth, businessmen and civic leaders realized the city's need for larger and more modern hotel facilities than were available here.

A group of men, including Hardy Grissom and other community leaders began the study of a proposed hotel.

Because of its central location in the business section, a proposal was advanced that the Sherrill Building, a two-story structure, be purchased and remodeled into a hotel.

However, this plan was dropped when a company was formed to build the Tonkawa Hotel, now Haskell Hotel, in 1925.

Vote You Lucky American Vote

You live in the greatest nation under the sun. Help keep your country great by taking part in it's governments, Local, State and National. It is the duty of every American Citizen to vote November 6th. Vote your honest convictions, VOTE.

If you are a REPUBLICAN at heart, vote the ticket Straight. That is the honorable thing to do.

If you are a DEMOCRAT at heart, vote the ticket Straight. If you voted in the Democratic Primaries, it is your solemn and binding PLEDGE to support the nominee.

It is honorable, honest and Democratic to settle our differences, and to nominate our Candidates in party primaries; then to join forces to carry out our Party Platform, and to elect our Nominees in General Elections. This is the incentive for the two party system; for each to build a platform they think best for the masses of our nation to live under, and to select candidates they think best suited to carry out the mandates of their respective parties.

There is a wave of political fanaticism and coercion being spread over our Nation by the MIGHTY PRESS, the POWERFUL CORPORATIONS, and headed in Texas by our Governor, who feels our government, State and National should be run to their liking, and their special benefit; They are in collusion to wreck our Democratic Party, and deliver it to the Republican Party, by calling themselves "DEMOCRATS FOR EISENHOWER". They are misleading you, they are misrepresenting to you, they are appealing to your prejudices; YOU CANNOT BE A DEMOCRAT AND VOTE FOR EISENHOWER. Eisenhower is the Republican nominee.

It is unthinkable that thinking voters will be influenced by our Governor to betray our Democratic Party. He has stabbed in the back the party that kept him in office for 22 years, he has double-crossed his friends where money and power were involved. There has been more corruption in our State Department in the past six years than all time since Statehood. His handling of the Resignation of Senator Daniels should be enough for any thinking voter. Senator Daniels knew what he was doing when he wrote his resignation. You will be embarrassed at the politics your Governor is playing in this resignation. He is obsessed with ONE MAN RULE OF TEXAS GOVERNMENT. You are in for a BIG surprise what your Governor is going to do.

Fellow Democrats

Let's not let the powerful Corporations again buy the Presidency of the United States. The heads of 150 Corporations in New York contributed more than One Million Dollars to the Republican SLUSH fund. The Democratic National Committee is asking that One Million Farmers, Laborers Small Business of every walk of life contribute $1.00, $2.00 or $5.00 if able in order to keep our Democratic nominee before the people. You have a duty, you have an obligation. You have no right to criticize the Benson Farm Program, the discrimination against the Southern States, unless you do something to remedy it. Haskell County was given a quota of $775.00 based on our qualified voters. We have raised barely $200.00, and that by a few. DO YOUR PART, any Farmer or laboring man can spare $1.00 or $2.00 to save your country from the greedy special interest group.

Voters calling themselves "DEMOCRATS FOR EISENHOWER" are not only breaking their Pledge, they are voting to demote Texas. They're voting to lower the prestige of Texas throughout our nation. They vote to demote Sam Rayburn from Speaker of the House to Minority. They vote to demote Lyndon Johnson from Majority Leader to Minority, then vote to demote every Democratic Congressman from Texas.

Do Some Thinking Think what the Democratic Party has done for you.

Do More Thinking Think what the Republican Party has done to you.

Paint Creek . . . Community News

MRS. GENE OVERTON

Our luck has changed- It rained from an inch to 1½ inches all over Paint Creek Monday night. That little rain last week brought up some of the wheat in the southeastern part of the community, and did wonders for some of the stock tanks over there, but this one was more general. It rained hard while it was raining, and of course those kind of rains are the best for stock tank water, even if they do run off the fields a little. The poor little wheat that had the nerve to come up last week will now have a good chance to make it, and this rain should bring the rest of the wheat up. Wasn't the rain wonderful, after all that old sand that blew Monday? Can't decide who deserves the most sympathy, the farmers trying to farm during a drouth, or homemakers who try to keep house and live in West Texas. I guess the homemakers have the hardest time, because they have sandstorms to contend with, drouth or no drouth. Anyway, this Tuesday morning is nice and damp, and we can clean house and have it stay dustless for a while, and maybe soon the fields will be covered with little green wheat, and pastures won't be so dry, and we won't have so much dust.

Speaking of dust—have you seen last week's Life Magazine? Well, our Life photographer didn't have an article about us at all, only one picture. And that one was so dusty one could hardly recognize anybody. It was made of a defense play for Paint Creek, and the players that can be seen can only be recognized by their numbers. The Pep Squad can figure out which of them are in it by remembering where they were standing, but on the whole it was rather much ado about nothing. They surely wasted a lot of film, just to run one picture. But I suppose they often do that. Maybe the pictures weren't good because it was such a dusty night. If I may be punny—that's Life, I guess.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mickler went to Colorado City Saturday and had lunch with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Twain Mickler and baby daughter. Then they went on to Big Spring where they had supper with another son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Mickler. That evening, Mrs. Mickler attended a pink and blue party for Mrs. Bobby Mickler.

The game with Forsan was one of the best we have seen all year. Our boys played one of the smoothest games they have played, and I guess that was because it didn't matter whether they won or lost as far as the conference was concerned, and they were relaxed and enjoyed the game themselves. After the game, the pep squad and football mothers served sandwiches, brownies and orange crush to the teams, squads and Forsan fans. They had never been served after a game before, and they commented on how nice it was for a team to feed them after giving them such a beating as Paint Creek did them. The score was 68-36.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Reeves of ACC in Abilene were her Sunday and attended Sunday School at the Methodist Church with Mrs. Reeves' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perry and Carla.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Deen Grisset of Lubbock are spending this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bounds here, and Mr. and Mrs. Grisset.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Meacham and children of Turkey were here for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McRae, and to see the Forsan game. Mrs. Meacham attended Forsan high school when her father taught there.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Montgomery at Jud last Saturday night.

William Overton showed his puppets at the Hallowe'en Carnival at the Elementary school at Haskell Saturday night. He was assisted by Marlene Watts and Tom Bill Holden.

Jess Mickler was a business visitor in Brownwood Friday. He is buying and selling blackeyed peas for Kimbell Milling Co.

John Kuenstler was honored Thursday evening with a birthday supper at the home of Mrs. Kuenstler's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Vernay Howard. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Hisey and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kuenstler and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuenstler, and the host and hostess and their son Vern.

Hoyt Perry was back in Sunday School last Sunday for the first time since his surgery. He looks well, and seems to be feeling fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mickler and son Jay from Fort Worth spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mickler.

Sheep and lambs were fully steady. Good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $18 to $20, while cull to medium sorts sold from $10 to $17. Stocker and feeder lambs drew $13 to 17. Fat ewes sold from $5 to $5.50, and others cashed at $3 to $5 with the lower end of the price range on freshkind s. Old Wethers drew $8 to $12. Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings drew $16 to $23.50 and common and medium offerings sold from $10 to $16. Fat cows cashed at $10 to $12.50, and canners an cutters drew $8.50 to $10. Bulls sold from $8 to $12, a few higher.

Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $14 to $18, some heavy weights around 600 pounds to $19. Common and medium slaughter calves sold from $10 to $14, while culls sold from $8 to $9. Stocker steer calves of medium to good grades sold from $14 to $18.50, and steer yearlings of medium to good grades sold from $13.50 to $17.50. Stocker cows cashed at $7 to $9.50. Cotton Men Agree Mechanization Is Key to Future

Mechanization can go a long way in solving the basic problems of cost and quality, thus insuring cotton a bigger and better future in its competitive battle for present-day markets.

Such was the consensus of representatives of the cotton industry and allied interests at the ninth annual Beltwide Cotton Mechanization Conference recently in Atlanta.

Keynoting the conference, Rhea Blake, executive vice president of the National Cotton Council, analyzed the nature of cotton's competition and the need for low production costs and high quality if existing markets are to be held and new ones gained. His talk emphasized the opportunities offered by mechanization in attaining these goals.

Panel discussions during the three-day conference stressed research needs in mechanizing cotton production, from breeding through harvesting, and ways in which new machines and techniques can be put to use quickly and profitably by cotton farmers. The discussions emphasized how cotton farming efficiency can be increased through the breeding of varieties better adapted to mechanization and through improved land preparation, planting and fertilization practices.

Experts from the Department of Agriculture, the farm equipment industry, and the cotton ginning industry took part in talks on the growing and processing of cotton so as to maintain its high quality. Conferees viewed a full-scale demonstration of cotton production machinery at the experiment station near Griffin, Georgia.

Approximately 600 representatives of the cotton industry, farm equipment manufacturers, Cotton Belt land-grant colleges, the United States Department of Agriculture, and farm organizations attended the conference. The mechanization meeting was sponsored by the National Cotton Council in cooperation with the University of Georgia and the above groups.

Navy Sets Annual NROTC Examination For Dec. 8th

Vice Admiral James A. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel, has announced that the 11th annual national competitive examinations for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps will be given interested high school seniors on December 8. Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington, 25, D. C. Applications must be filed before November 17.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises as a midshipman. After completing the usual four years college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the Navy's far-flung fleets. For those who apply and qualify, immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in Naval aviation.

High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1937. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

Better Homes for Low-Income Families Provided by Haskell Housing Authority

By MRS. OPAL ROSE
Haskell Housing Authority is an institution of our Federal Government. It was planned and designed to provide better homes for the low-income families and those living in untenable homes.

Our housing program has been in operation since March 7, 1932. During that time we have housed approximately 170 families and some have lived here as many as three times. We have one couple who has lived here continuously since March 7, 1932, which was opening date.

Brick Village, which houses white tenants, was named by Jan Eastland, a grade school student. She submitted the name in a contest offered to the grade school children some two years ago. Brick Village has 42 apartments ranging from one to four bedrooms each. Each apartment has all modern conveniences including a gas refrigerator and range, and is comfortable in every respect. A playground covering a city block and enclosed with a cyclone type fence, provides playground equipment consisting of swings, seesaws, and space for ball games, etc.

Oasis Homes, named by one of our colored children, has eight apartments, with one and two bedrooms each. These are exactly like the apartments in Brick Village.

Each tenant is responsible for the upkeep of his grounds and the ordinary upkeep of his apartment. Any repairs requiring skill are performed by the maintenance man who also cares for all vacancies and surrounding grounds, and checks periodically for any necessary repairs which have not been reported.

Rents range from $16.00 to $50.00 per month per unit, and utilities are paid by the management except for excessive use which is paid by the tenant. Meters are read quarterly and charges made accordingly for excess use.

Upkeep of the housing sites is paid with the rent income, and any excess income is used to create a reserve fund, until the required reserve is accumulated. The Housing Authority has a Board of Commissioners consisting of five members who are Haskell businessmen, and is operated by an executive director and maintenance man. Payment in lieu of taxes is made to the City each year, and is computed on the basis of 10% of shelter rent. Distribution is made to the 3 tax departments by the city.

We have had the pleasure of seeing a number of "our" families move into their own homes, and we feel that their living here has created or promoted a desire to better living conditions, and the low rents charged has afforded them an opportunity to save money with which to buy their homes.

Tractor Killers

High on the list of causes of death in the farm belt is the tractor. Farm accidents in Texas this year, according to W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer and secretary of the council, have been on the increase in Texas this year. In July, two tractor operators on the South Plains were killed the same day in accidents. One was caused from excessive speed on a rural road and the other when the tractor was driven too close to an irrigation ditch which was being filled with soil. Both tractors turned over on the drivers.

Tractors can be killers, Ulich says, when they are operated in a careless manner. The specialist urges all farmers and others who operate tractors and other power driven farm machinery to always guard against practices which involve the element of chance. Don't try to make adjustments on machinery while the power is on or the machine is in operation. A hand, leg or life can be lost in an unguarded moment.

The Council is planning for more intensive work and requests the assistance of every interested person, organization, agency or group in carrying out their objectives that of preventing farm and home accidents in rural Texas.

A man whose normal weight is 150 pounds would weigh about 50 pounds if all the water in his system were dried up.

On March 21 and September 23, day and night are of equal duration in every part of the world.

Biggest Business Building Boom Began In 1906

Building of the Wichita Valley Railway into Haskell in 1906 set off the town's biggest building boom, particularly in the business district.

In turn, the initiative and enterprise of two brothers, the late R. E. and W. E. Sherrill, can be credited with having a major part in getting the construction of buildings underway.

Sherrill Bros. Company, in making plans for erecting a large two-story building on the northwest corner of the square, realized that securing of suitable building material in quantities needed was their biggest problem.

After considerable study and experimenting, coupled with visits to the North where concrete blocks were being successfully used in building construction, they decided to set up their own manufacturing plant here in Haskell.

That was done, and the concern made the concrete blocks, including all ornamental work, for their own building. Also, they found a ready market for the "new" building material and its availability here spurred additional building plans.

As a result, during and after the time the Sherrill Building was under construction, their plant manufactured material for almost the entire block of business buildings on the west side of the square. All were built in 1906 and 1907 from what was known as the "Sherrill corner" south to the lone brick building on the southwest corner, then occupied by a drug store.

Also, the locally manufactured building material was used in construction of the two-story McConnell Building on the north side, and for several other buildings erected during the "boom" caused by the advent of the railroad.

A. C. Wimpee, featured speaker from Dallas, kept the audience spellbound with his humorous jokes and magic tricks Saturday evening at the Baptist Association Youth Rally held in the Paint Creek High School Auditorium.

A capacity crowd turned out to attend the program which was in turn entertaining, motivating and inspirational. It was spiced throughout with sound advice to the young people present concerning moral and Christian activities.

The speaker came to Paint Creek from a recent tour of Florida where he spoke before the students of several high schools. It is estimated he has addressed over 850,000 students and teachers from every county in Texas.

Sherrill Structure Among City's First Office Buildings

The original Sherrill Building, now occupied by Bynum's, was the city's first office building when the two-story structure was built in 1906-07.

The ground floor of the building was designed for occupancy by the Sherrill Bros. hardware and implement concern while the second floor was arranged into attractive office quarters.

The front and entire south section on the second floor was utilized in this manner, while a part of the north side on that floor was used by the Sherrill concern.

For many years, some of the town's leading professional men had offices in the building. Among some of the early long-time tenants were Sanders & Wilson abstract and land office, and the late Clyde F. Elkins.

Freight Elevator in Sherrill Building Was Town's First

Building now occupied by Bynum's, built in 1906-1907 by Sherrill Bros., and still owned by the Sherrill Estate, originally was a two-story building, and in addition to other modern facilities, was the first building in Haskell to have a freight elevator.

Actually, the original building had three floor levels, a large basement being included, which was used as a warehouse and storeroom.

The elevator was located in the rear of the building near a large entrance, and served the basement, ground floor, balcony, and second floor. It was capable of handling the heaviest of loads, and was used principally for transferring heavy merchandise, implements, etc., to and from the different floor levels.

Since most Texas livestock, due to the prolonged drouth, are being fed, the job of controlling lice and ticks can be effectively and economically carried out. Herds generally are confined to smaller areas and thus are readily accessible for spraying or dipping. Parasite free livestock will better utilize the feed they receive and will go into the winter season in every state of the union and 17 foreign countries.

John Winters, Associational Youth Director, is reminding youth in the area to mark down the date of Dec. 1 on the calendar. That is the date of the next Youth Rally which will be held in the First Baptist Church of Mattson. All are invited to come and attend these inspiring programs for young people.
