Cattle Movement Under Way After stegemoeller of Sunday for Elmore. Heavy Rains

By TED GOULDY Fort Worth-The arrival of more than 11,000 cattle and calwes at Fort Worth Monday signaled the start of the summer shipping season, which has been hampered by rain, mud and flood in recent weeks. The big movement followed the first few days more than 11,000 cattle and calman the "pokey" or paying installments. But for the thousands of persons who attend the Rodeo and Reunion, it is only a short time for recalling memorable events and a wonderful vacation. Despite the drouth the past few of dry weather following the record breaking rains of April and May.

For the record it was the largest offering in four years and approached the numbers record-ed Oct., 21, 1946 before the day

Grass cattle prices weakened under the impact, but strong stocker and feeder demand held the price break to relatively minor proportions. Grainfed steers, yearlings and heifers held steady. Bulls sold 25 cents lower. Cows. slaughter caives and plain to medium grade stockers were around 50 cents lower. Grasser vearlings and heifers shared the 50 cent decline. Good and choice quality stockers and feeders held

Fat cows drew-$12.50 to $15.50, and some heiferish cows reached $16 and were consigned by C. T. White of Brady, who also had some young fat dry females at $16.75, that weighed around ,050.

Canners and cutters drew $8.50 to $12.50. Bulls ruled at $11 to $15.50. Good and choice slaughter calves cashed at $19 to $21.50, a few to the butcher trade to $22. Common and medium offerings drew $13 to $18.50, while culls bulked at $10 to $13. Good and choice stocker steer calves cashed at $19 to $23, and stocker steer yearlings bulked at $21.50 down. Feeder yearing heifers sold from $19.50 down, and stocker heifer calves ranged from $20.50 downward. A few replacement cows sold from $10 to $14.

Rains Brighten Outlook for Texas Cowboy Reunion

Things are really looking up for he Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held at Stamford on July 2, 3 and 4 since all West Central Texas has been blessed with wonderful rains, giving the setting a beautiful green look after several years of parched pessimism.

Twenty-seven years can be a nightly long time if it is spent in the "pokey" or paying install-men's. But for the thousands of persons who attend the Rodeo Despite the drouth the past few years, 538 contestants participat-ed in the show and more are expected this year. Spectators enjoy the thrills and spills again of such events as calf roping, brone riding, wild cow milkng, bull riding and the cowgirls clover leaf barrel races just as they have since the beginning of the show in 1930. Many of the contestants are the sons and daughters of those who took part in the very first reunion. The big parade will open this year's show at 11 a. m. on the morning of July 2, the world fa-Hardin-Simmons Cowboy Band will be on hand to add color and spirit throughout the 3-day celebration.

President W. G. Swenson has announced that the special GI roping event will be held again this year with the top 10 ropers who are GI's or ex-GI's will compete in the arena the last night for a beautiful saddle.

New Highway Map Of Texas Being Distributed -

The official highway travel map of Texas, completely redrawn to include 450 towns not shown in previous years, has just been released by the Texas Highway Department, D. C. Greer, Stale Highway Engineer, announced today. These maps are being dispatched as rapidly as possible to fill a backlog of thousands of requests, and new requests are pouring in daily, Greer said. Inch for inch, the map-which is possibly one of the most widely known travelogues of the state gives more travel guidance about the largest state in the Union than any comparable printed matter of such handy size. A new cartographic system employed to produce the 1957 map made possible the addition of 30 per cent more information. Multi-lane highways, farm to market highways and state and federal highways are indicated Key roadside parks as we'l as state parks are indicated. The new ma contains more detailed information than its predecessors.

Ali streams and public lakes of major size are shown, and cities and or more are mapped as a city inset. Color photographs on the back side of the map show Texas A&M College. Texas' recreational, industrial and landscape at ractions. A running account of Texas history and the state's natural resources, climate, size, recreational and industries are included in the backside information. Greer estimated that approximately one-half of the map requests each year come from prospective out-of-state tourists. 'Maps are available free," the State Highway Engineer commented, "and they may be se-cured either by writing direct to the Texas Highway Department, Austin, or to any of the Depart-ment's district offices or to the Travel Information Bureaus Travel Information maintained by the state."

SMS Ranch Foreman Familiar Figure At Reunion

John Selmon, rugged and ven-erable foreman of the SMS Flat Top Ranch, is one of the familiar sights at the Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford each year as he leads the Grand Entry into the arena when the band strikes up the music to signify the start of another exciting enactment of the thrilling cowboy events. With hands calloused by many years of hard work and minus a thumb and little finger on one of them, John is still very much at home on a horse (which may account for the slim waistline revealed by his blue jeans and western shirts). He was selected the most syrical courboy under 55 years typical cowboy under 55 years old the first time in 1932 and would easily be identified as such even now on the sidewalks of New York or the streets of Paris. despite the additional years,

John and his boss, W. G.

Swenson, (called Willie by many who knew him when) general manager of the SMS ranches and president of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, are the only two persons who have been actively associated each year with the Reunion since its origin in 1930. Both will be on hand July 2, 3 and 4 for this year's performances.

Grows In Texas Agriculture

Irrigation plays a much bigger part in Lone Star agriculture than most Texans realize. Nearly a haif billion acres of Texas land are now irrigated. About one-fifth of the crop land harvested in the state is irrigated land. Although many centuries old, the practice of irrigation is relatively new in the state. There and other activities occupy the were no definite reports on the amount of irrigated Texas acreage until 1940, when less than 895,000 acres were irrigated.

But with the advent of larger more mechanized farms in recent years, irrigation systems have spread to all corners of the Irrigation has fit well into the ever-changing agricultural pic-ture. It has been the answer to problems of drouth, low yields and cost-price squeeze. And there probably isn't a farmer in Texas today who hasn't given ome thought to irrigation.

This is no wishful thinking on the farmer's part-to want "rain" at the right time in the right amount. Many farmers in the heavier rainfall sections of Texas are setting up irrigation systems for small tracts and in-creasing yields up to 200 per

Although 95 per cent of the irrigated farms are located in just 78 counties, the scientific principles or irrigation are rapidly being applied in all areas of the state. During the past year, numer-ous irrigation "clinics" and demonstrations have been held under auspices of county agents, Soil Conservation Districts and irrigation engineers and manufactur-

All indications point to an even bigger role for irrigation in Texas agriculture's future.

When the fighting began, Father Forgo reported, many of the Russian occupation troops refused to oppose the Hungarians. In his own village in Western Hungary, the policemen wore armbands of the national colors and joined the revolutionaries in a large dem-

When the Russians moved in the first of 40 divisions of troops to quell the rebels, the Hungarians realized that to resist would be suicide, the priest stated. The Russian tanks were the first to Hungary, but the tanks could operate only on the high-ways and roads, due to muddy fields. Father Forgo was thus able to escape Nov. 14 by riding across 20 miles of open fields on a motorcycle to the Austrian border. He was the last Cistercian priest to leave Hungary.

Life in the communist dominated country was full of re-trictions of the most extreme not free. Frequently people lose their jobs just because they go to church. Pressure is put on men n the offices and factories not to go to church," he said.

He stated that in the schools the children are drilled in Russian materialistic doctrine. "Some months ago, the priest has often been asked to compare a Hunga-rian village with one of the ap-proximate size of Knox City. "The first and most noticeable thing for most Americans would be for the lack of cars in the streets. In a village of 2.000 only one or two people would have cars. Even doctors are not allowed to have them unless they can get a permit from the government. To do this, they must convince the government people that there is ex-treme need of the car. Once he has a permit, he may buy an au-tomobile—assuming he has the money. And of course, the car will be an old one; new ones are not available."

"Everything belongs to the state. Families may own only small dwellings. The average worker must work a day to buy a pair of sox and a month for a suit. My brother is a graduate of the university in engineering, yet his salary is the equivalent of $50 per month," he said.

Although rapidly adjusting to their new way of life, the priest and the Moris still miss Hungary, thus one of their happiest discoveries in Texas is a dish of hamburger, saurkraut and cabbage leaves called Pig in a Blanket. "It's an old Hungarian dish," the priest beamed.

Because pigs, especially white trictions of the most extreme ones, can get sunburned, agricul-kinds, he declared. "Religion is tural authorities recommend the use of sunburn lotion on them.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association Austin, Texas—Though still four nonths off, Gov. Daniel's plan for special legislative session this fall is already generating lively discussion around the Captitol.

There is sentument both for and against.

'memorandum' was reportedly circulated asking persons to write the governor and ask him not to call the special session. It is predicted the bills the governor wants would fare no better then than before. A long-time House member was believed to be the author of the memorandum.

But if the session is held, Rep. Tony Koroth of Sherman says he hopes the governor will submit small loan regulation as an emergency measure. Korioth's "loan shark" control bill died in committee last session.

New "State" Formed While Texas lawmakers take a break, some probable leaders of the future are trying their hands

Road Building Speed-Up Texas State Highway Commission is moving swiftly to take advantage of new laws designed to speed up highway construction. A meeting of the Commission and key personnel was to be held in Houston this week. Objective: to hasten the day when heavy traffic can move safely and smoothly along multi-laned superhighways with no crossroads.

Principal legislative changes are (1) provision for the state to go 50-50 with cities and counties on land buying costs and (2) new authority for the state to obtain la:/1 for and have control of super-roads through cities. Goal for 1970, according to Highway Engineer D. C. Greer, is 900 miles of expressways linking Texas' population centers.

First of the new laws means car and truck owners will pay 10 per cent more for their next state will set speed limits on state highways through towns—

But one "speed-up" law failed.
Legislature decided against raising present 60-mile per hour limit, no matter how good the road. Tougher For Teens

4. A special "license" will be needed for driving motor bikes and scooters. Taking a more optimistic view of the same subject were the more than 100 experts, educators and parents in Austin for the Texas P-TA's youth development workshop.

Today's youth seems to be 'sailing along," they opined, but suggested more interest by father's help.

Drop In Water Level Noted In Plains Counties

"Will Texas Plains Run Short of Water?" This question is ask-ed by Editor Eugene Butler in the July issue of The Progressive

Farmer magazine. In some parts of the High Plains there has been a serious drop in water level. Sam Reid, breeder of Northern Star cotton at O'Brien, says he was forced to lower his irrigations pump 20 feet two years ago. Recently, he lowered it another 20 feet and it is now down to 140 feet. In addition to looking at the decline in water leved, the underground water supply is being studied by the High Plains Water Conservation District. It is the thickness of the waterbearing strata in relation to the drop in the water level that counts. For example, the loss in the water level around Plainview is greater than in Lubbock County. But Plainview has a thicker waterbearing stratum. It has lowered its water level more than Lubbock but it still has more underground water in storage.

Anyway you look at it, the Plains is using up its underground water faster than it is being restored. The best it can do is to use what it has to best advantage and be certain not to waste any.
