IN TRANSIT STRIKE:

Mediator Senses Air Of Agreement

NEW YORK (AP) — The do is appeal to good sense and reason, he indicated.

Issues narrowed

Both Wirtz and the chief mediator, Dr. Nathan Feinsinger, reported a narrowing of issues in the dispute.

The last publicly stated positions of the parties were $187 million apart on a two-year contract for 34,400 workers.

"I think I can smell an agreement or atmosphere of agreement when it arises around a bargaining table," the mediator said. "I can smell one now."

Feinsinger spoke as a delegation representing the city's one million organized union members visited Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for help in the strike, particularly seeking the release of hospitalized union chief Michael J. Quill and eight other labor leaders. They were jailed for contempt of an injunction forbidding the strike.

Wouldn't Help

With negotiations in recess, Feinsinger told a news conference he did not think release would speed settlement, saying "on the contrary, it would add insult to injury."

It was apparent, however, that the union delegation felt otherwise.

"The negotiations have undoubtedly been delayed while they're in prison, and if they are released, it would be a contribution toward shortening the dispute," was the way the delegation chairman stated their position.

Jobless Rate Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment fell last month to 4.1 per cent, the lowest in nearly nine years while employment hit a record December level of 72.7 million, federal officials reported today. They warned of budding labor shortages in some critical areas.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics attributed the bright employment picture and tightening labor market to the nation's record economic boom, to the Viet Nam war buildup and to federal job training programs.

Labor Shortage Seen

Ross, at a news conference, said labor shortages in the coming year are likely to increase and the jobless rate to go down further as the armed services oak up most of the increase in the male labor force.

Compared with a year ago, total employment was up 2.4 million and the number of unemployed was down 600,000 to approximately 2.9 million last month.

Ross said federal agencies are working out plans to make better use of the nation's manpower and will soon call in industry and labor union representatives.

Family Saved By Thoughtful Girl

EL SOBRANTE, Calif. (AP) — A family of five, unconscious Thursday from a defective home gas heater fumes, credited a thoughtful girl with saving their lives.

Debra Grouse, 7, became concerned when her friend, Mary Johnson, also 7, didn't meet her for their morning walk to school. She hurried to the Johnson home and when nobody answered the doorbell, she alerted two women neighbors.

The women opened an unlocked back door, smelled gas and raced through the home to pull the unconscious Johnson children, Mary, Andy, 6, and Eric, 4, from their beds to safety.

Firemen arrived moments later and rescued Johnson, 31, and his wife, Kay, 31, both also unconscious. The family was revived with oxygen inhalators and taken to Brookside Hospital where they are recovering.

Viet Cong Bomb Plot Smashed

ADOPT CHILDREN Couple Win Two-Year Struggle

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Two Vietnamese children adopted by a U.S. Air Force sergeant and his wife took in the sights and sounds of their new home town in California today far away from a war that has been their way of life.

Thi Yen, 2, and her brother, Hi Sen, 11, neither of whom speak English, arrived in San Francisco by jet Thursday.

They had a mute but joyous reunion with their new parents, T. Sgt. Marlin Leese, 47, and his wife, Lucy, 45.

Two-Year Struggle

For the Leeses, childless during their 22 years of marriage, it was a victory after a two-year struggle with red tape.

"I think it's wonderful," said Mrs. Leese. "I've waited so long."

Leese first tried to adopt the youngsters while on a tour of duty in Viet Nam in 1964. Both children are from large families whose fathers are dead. Their mothers had put them up for adoption, hoping to provide with brighter futures.

"I had all my paperwork done and was waiting for the embassy to give the final okay when the embassy was blown up by a terrorist bomb — with my papers — last March," Leese said. He had to start the adoption procedure all over again.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Police smashed a Viet Cong plot today to blow up a U. S. billet in downtown Saigon with the biggest plastic bomb ever used in the capital.

Intelligence agents of the national police seized six terrorists two and a half miles north of Saigon as they were bringing a 265-pound plastic bomb in a large water tank into the city. Two of the terrorists were armed with 45-caliber automatics.

Kidnapers Free Girl

HOBBES, N.M. (UPI) — New Mexico State Police have launched an intensive search throughout the state today for the alleged kidnapers of an 11-year old Arkansas girl.

Police said Debbie Sullivan, daughter of C. E. Sullivan of Doddridge, Ark., was released unharmed in Hobbs Thursday and put on a bus for Odessa.

Charges Filed

Officers said the girl arrived in Odessa late Thursday and told police the couple who took her seem to be headed for California. Debbie went to the home of her mother in Odessa, who is divorced from her father.

Las Vegas Cab Drivers Attacked

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Molotov cocktails were tossed at four Yellow Cabs parked in front of a "strip" hotel early today. Their drivers were attacked by some 60 men armed with tire irons and baseball bats, authorities reported.

Two drivers were hospitalized with head lacerations. One cab was damaged by fire.

The violence broke out shortly before the last floor show was over at the Riviera Hotel. Unofficial reports said the hotel had been warned Thursday that trouble might occur.

New Sewer System's Manholes Are Lost

WALLKILL, N. Y. (AP) — This Orange County community has a new $1.1 million sewer system.

But the construction company inadvertently paved over the 30 manholes.

So the town board voted Thursday night to pay town engineer Arthur Eustance $200 to survey maps of the project, find where the manholes are and have them uncovered.

Expect New Onslaught

Officials had already warned the capital to expect a new onslaught of terrorism in the next two weeks before the Vietnamese New Year — Tet — on Jan. 21. Thursday night they arrested five Vietnamese, aged 16 to 37, in an investigation of two explosions an hour apart at the military entrance to the Saigon airport and across town at a police substation.

The blasts killed one Vietnamese and injured 16 persons, including four American servicemen.

In the field, a U.S. Marine patrol sweeping a road for mines ran into a Viet Cong ambush six miles south of Da Nang. And reportedly suffered moderate casualties.

Reds Open Up

A Marine officer said 20 or 30 Reds opened up from both sides of the road with automatic weapons and hand grenades. The Leathernecks returned the fire, killing two Viet Cong on the spot and another in a chase. They also captured a Chinese-made submachine gun.

U.S. military commanders announced that the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade would continue operations in the marshy Plain of Reeds west of Saigon where the paratroopers have been slogging through mud and water after the Viet Cong for the past week. It is the first big American invasion of the northern fringe of the Mekong Delta, a Communist stronghold.

Although the Viet Cong fell back before the brigade's push, officials said the paratroopers would be kept in the area to destroy Communist supplies. The UNUSUAL WEATHER—A heavy snowstorm hit the northern California town of Dunsuir this week and before it ended the town and its 3,700 residents were without electricity for two days. Then it started to rain and buildings collapsed. Here men are busy shoveling snow from the top of a downtown building. Decorations still hang to remind the citizens there had been a Christmas. Arctic Air Numbs Areas Of Midwest

(Associated-Press News Services)

Arctic cold gained strength in the northern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley during the night, dropping temperatures to more than 30 degrees below zero in places and spreading light snow from Iowa to lower Michigan.

To the west, residents of the rugged coastal region where Oregon meets California hoped the worst was over after storms that drove more than 1,000 persons from their homes, blocked highways and stopped trains.

On 14,162-foot Mt. Shasta a rescue party from the Sierra Club outdoor group hoped for improved weather today to continue a search for three San Francisco Bay area climbers missing since last weekend.

One Dies In Gas Cloud

PLANO, Tex. (UPI) — A 6,000-gallon anhydrous ammonia tank at a farm store sprang a leak today and released a big cloud of gas that spread about like a blanket of fog. One man was killed.

Authorities ordered houses cleared out around the store, which is a mile north of Plano, and police reported three persons overcome by fumes. A man was treated at a McKinney, Tex., hospital for injuries.

Traffic also was diverted about the area. The gas abated in about 75 minutes and authorities relaxed precautions.

Turns to Gas

Anhydrous ammonia is used as fertilizer. Under pressure in a tank, it remains a liquid but turns to a gas as soon as released into the air. The gas is not harmful unless it is breathed in quantity.

The tank was at the Wells Brothers Grain Co. Plano is a northern suburb of Dallas.

The body of a man who was not immediately identified was found sprawled in a ditch. He apparently had abandoned his car and inhaled the fumes that came from a ruptured hose line.

He was dead on arrival at a McKinney hospital, where another victim was under treatment.

Mrs. Anita Powell was treated and released at Wysong Hospital, and Mrs. G. D. Tallent of

Arizona Man Honored For Keeping His Town On Time

CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP) — They used to come into Alouis Novak's jewelry shop and complain about the watches he repaired.

No more.

Novak found out his watch work still was good—it was the town clock Chandler people used to check their timepieces by that was at fault.

So that day in 1940, Novak did something about it.

For 25 years now, six days a week, Novak has walked into the Chandler fire department to handle what he considers the important—but unpaid—task of sounding the noon siren.

Each day he checks his own gold watch for the exact time. Then he walks to the fire department. At precisely six seconds before noon he pulls the siren lever. At precisely six seconds after noon he stops the siren.

He says he never misses. "I came on crutches for a time when I broke my ankle," Novak said.

Now, at the age of 77, Chandler's conscientious clockwatcher has been given a timely honor.

The mayor proclaimed Alouis Novak Day and presented him with a framed scroll, noting that Novak "has voluntarily and diligently rendered time signals daily through siren blasts."

Kremlin Chiefs Go To Mongolia

MOSCOW (UPI)—Kremlin trouble-shooter Alexander Shelepin arrived today in Hanoi with a team of missile and armament experts and pledged the Soviet Union's firm and undeviating support to Communist North Viet Nam in its war with the United States.

Another high-powered Soviet mission headed by Communist party leader Leonid Brezhnev, and including the defense and foreign ministers, left Moscow today for the Republic of Mongolia as virtually the entire Soviet leadership converged on Chinese Communist-dominated Asia.

Ho Welcomes Russian

Premier Alexei Kosygin already was in Tashkent in Soviet Asia for talks with the Indian and Pakistani leaders. It appeared Russia was mending its fences in the vast Asian continent where in recent years Peking's influence has grown.

Shelepin held what was described as a warm and cordial meeting with North Viet Nam President Ho Chi Minh, the Tass news agency reported. It quoted him as telling a giant welcome rally in Hanoi:

"By sending this delegation on a visit to the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, (D. R. V.) our Central Committee and the Soviet people once again expressed by this act the firm and undeviating desire of the Soviet people to render all support and aid to the Viet Nam people fighting against aggression, to strengthen and develop to the utmost friendship and cooperation between the Communist party of the Soviet Union and the party of the working people of Viet Nam, between

HE FACES VIET NAM AND BASKETFULL OF OTHER PROBLEMS

LBJ Has Little Chance Of Politically Relaxed Year

By GRANT DILLMAN
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's chances for a relaxed and politically prosperous 1966 are linked inextricably to Viet Nam. But even an end to the war would leave him with a basketful of problems at home and abroad.

Others include the India-Pakistan conflict, West Germany's bid for a role in NATO's nuclear defenses, the danger that Rhodesia may trigger a black-white upheaval in Africa, how to walk the narrow tightrope between prosperity and inflation and where the "Great Society" goes from here.

Charles Corddry, UPI's chief Pentagon reporter, put it this way: "At worst, we could be at war with China in 1966. At best, we could be out of it altogether."

No Dramatic Turn
But few in Washington expect any such dramatic turn of events, despite Johnson's current far-flung peace offensive. Most officials feel privately the war will drag on and China will not become an active combatant barring some major miscalculation by one side or the other.

Such a massive buildup would add to the complex problems already demanding early decisions by Johnson. Basically he would need manpower, money and Congressional and public support. And while he undoubtedly would get them, the path might not all be smooth.

On the budget front, spiraling war costs already have spurred talk of a $50 billion military War II—and led to at least preliminary decisions to hold outlays for Johnson's cherished "war on poverty" to this year's levels.

Public support is something of an "imponderable" where Viet Nam is concerned. Public opinion polls show a split support for Johnson's policy. But they fail to reflect the fervor evidenced in World War II when American interests were directly threatened.

The polls also turn up considerable apathy toward the war on the part of some older voters and outright condemnation by younger people who question whether the United States is practicing in Viet Nam what it preaches about self-determination.

C. T. Benson Rites Are Slated Saturday

Funeral services for C. T. Benson, 74, 2503 Ave. L, who was dead on arrival Wednesday at Methodist Hospital, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Sanders Memorial Chapel, with the Rev. Ben D. Johnson, pastor of the College Heights Baptist Church, officiating.

These sobering facts emerged from a survey made by a special UPI reporting team which was assigned to assess the problems confronting the chief executive in the months ahead.

The Pentagon said the peak U.S. commitment in Korea was 402,000 men, including actual combat forces, support troops, sailors aboard the U.S. 7th Fleet and men manning air bases in Japan and Okinawa.

In a similar situation in 1952, a Democratic president, Harry S. Truman, found himself unable to agree to a Korean War settlement which his Republican successor, Dwight D. Eisenhower, largely accepted.

Computers May Solve Tough Store Inventory Problems

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The customer may always be right but in about one out of every four trips to the department store she leaves empty-handed because it was out of what she wanted to buy.

Coming to her rescue is that all-around handyman of the Soaring Sixties—the computer. Computer makers say this modern helper of industry is all set and eager to help the customer. And if this streamlining of the retailing business works as planned, the shopper eventually should be able to dictate through her purchases, the merchandise her favorite store will carry—and be sure to have in stock.

"Most often this out-of-stock problem is not the retailer's fault," A. J. McGill, manager of distribution industry marketing for International Business Machines, said in an interview. "The average department store carries about one million stock-keeping units—that is, individual sizes, colors and styles of every item. The time lag in manually keeping track of this enormous stock means that many items will not be reordered in time."

Computers Needed
 He said that even large and well-managed department stores, dedicated to customer service, find that no matter what inventory levels they carry, manual stockkeeping methods will result in one out of 10 customers leaving the store without the item she came to buy.

The new approach is called inventory management program and control technique, and McGill says it is as complicated as its name. But the machine handles the complications.

Complex Procedures
 "An extremely complex set of mathematical techniques," says McGill, "will let retailers predict future trends of merchandise in stock, based on past sales history. They can tell more accurately and quickly with fashion items, such as women's dresses, are selling and which are not. Then they can reorder the one and reduce the other for early clearance."

For the customer this would mean being able to keep in her set, or to get her hands on a bargain faster. And also she would be sure that the trek to the store wouldn't be in vain.

Based On Study
 The new program is based on a study of more than 30,000 shoppers in typical department stores. This showed that what the retail trade calls "never outs"—such staples as men's socks and women's lingerie—were actually out of stock in specific styles, sizes or colors some 22 per cent of the time. In some stores the "never outs" were actually out as much as 35 per cent of the time.

So the computer makers saw a big opening. And now IBM will offer a set of 40 computer programs to help the retailer manage his inventory. It will also let computers balance stocks to the projected needs of customers, and also react quickly to the unexpected twists in consumer buying trends.

 Jerry Hall, veteran Avalanche-Journal reporter who leaves next week to become a statehouse reporter in Austin for the Fentress newspaper chain, was honored in lighthearted ceremonies at the Lubbock City Council meeting Thursday.

Mayor Max Tidmore and members of the Council presented Hall a certificate designating him as an "ambassador extraordinary" for Lubbock. News media co-workers also gave the reporter a sheaf of specially printed note paper.

Hall, who first joined the A-J staff more than 16 years ago while a student at Texas Tech, will go to Austin next week to represent newspapers at Austin, Waco, Port Arthur and Lufkin in the capital.

A native of Stanton, Hall is a former reporter for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and a former assistant to U. S. Rep. George Mahon. He has won numerous news writing awards for his stories in The Avalanche-Journal. Since 1961, he has covered City Council meetings and the political scene here.

Vocational Nursing Class Set At SPC
LEVELLAND (Special)—The next vocational nursing class will begin at South Plains College, Feb. 1. This is a 12-month program and those desiring to enter may take the placement examination if other requirements are fulfilled.

Examinations will be given each Wednesday in the LVN Room at the college until time for the opening class session. Mrs. Nevelle Danner, R.N., is instructor.

The program has been enlarged this year with the affiliation of the Morton Memorial Hospital. Other hospitals cooperating with the program include: Levelland Clinic and Hospital, South Plains Hospital, Levelland; Medical Arts Hospital and Clinic, Littlefield; and Littlefield Hospital-Clinic.

Today In History

Today is Friday, Jan. 7, the seventh day of 1966 with 358 to follow.

The moon is in full.
 The morning star is Jupiter.
 The evening stars are Mars, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.
 Those born today are under the sign of Capricorn. The 13th President of the United States, Willard Fillmore, was born on this day in 1800.

On this day in history:
 In 1789, George Washington was elected the first president of the United States.
 In 1918, Nikolai Lenin established a dictatorship of the proletariat, abolishing the Constituent Assembly of the Soviet Union.
 In 1927, regular trans-Atlantic telephone service began between New York and London.
 In 1960, British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan began a twenty thousand mile tour of British Africa.
 A thought for the day: British author H. H. Munro said: "Poverty keeps together more homes than it breaks up."

POOR NOT EXCLUDED

Newspaperman Says Many Persons Are Snobs, Even If They Don't Admit It

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you a snob?

The world is full of snobs, but few of them realize it or admit it. Most snobs are hypocrites. They don't want to be recognized as snobs. It is the rare snob indeed who faces up to the fact of his snobbery — and enjoys it.

Snobs come in both sexes and all sizes, shapes, ages, occupations and degrees of wealth. Snobbery sometimes is thought to be a prerogative of the rich, but no man is so poverty-stricken he can't afford to be a snob.

Many Poor Snobs

Actually there are more snobs among the poor than among the rich, simply because there are more poor people.

Snobbery is a very human attribute, but just how much of a snob are you?

Well, you are probably just about 100 per cent snobbish if most of the following things are true about you:

You'd try to romance a waitress or hunchback girl but never think of marrying one.

You'd date the boss's daughter but never marry her either, for fear someone would think you were a social climber.

When talking about your ancestors, you always mention the one who came over on the Mayflower — and never mention the one who was hanged as a horse thief.

Avoid Best Sellers

You never read a book that makes the best seller list.

When you are alone in an elevator and hear footsteps approaching, you quickly push the up button so you won't have to ride with a stranger.

You fawn on those you think are your superiors and frown on those you think are your inferiors.

You never order corned beef and cabbage for lunch because it is supposed to be a vulgar dish.

When a friend confides to you that his son has just been thrown out of a public school, you brag that your son has just been thrown out of a private one.

You are proud of having won a Phi Beta Kappa key in college but you never wear it in public because you are afraid it will make you look ostentatious.

At a cocktail party you talk knowingly about international affairs when what you'd rather talk about is blondes, brunettes and baseball.

Tipoffs Given

When your rival for promotion at the office comes down with an ulcer, you develop two ulcers, hepatitis and migraine.

You'd never think of making a trip to Niagara Falls or the Grand Canyon — too many common people have had fun there.

Should a friend buy a more expensive house than you believe he can afford, you mutter sourly, "Some people don't know their place in life. Thank heavens, I do."

You believe anybody younger than yourself is still wet behind the ears and couldn't possibly know as much about life as you do.

When you move to the suburbs you immediately switch to another political party and join a different church.

You sometimes say to yourself: "Well, at least I know one thing: Whatever else I may be, at least I'm not a snob."

But are you sure? As the old saying goes, it takes one to tell one.

FREE MODEL! CORDLESS HEARING AID

ELMSFORD, N.Y. (Special) — The famed acoustic engineers of Sonotone Corporation have developed the smallest, most comfortable hearing aid ever made to help the deafened-in fact, it's one of the world's smallest!

Everything is worn in the ear for cordless hearing. So no outside cords, tubes or wires. Nothing is worn anywhere else except in the ear.

To prove the new "Whisper" can be worn in the ear, a limited number of plastic replicas are available FREE to examine in privacy. Those with hearing problems are urged to use the coupon below to obtain a replica, (not a hearing aid) which is the same size as the actual Sonotone.

This new hearing aid marvel mimics 33 years of Sonotone research devoted to solving hearing problems. Now you can see for yourself just how small the "Whisper" is and how easily it can be worn.

The actual "Whisper" weighs less than 1/5 of an ounce, including tiny battery, and is smaller in diameter than a dime.

See an actual-size replica, get yours free while they last. No cost or obligation.

BOYS ARE NERVOUS

Allen, Rossi Ready For Crack At Movies

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Allen and Rossi, Paramount's new comedy team, can't laugh off the fact that they are attempting to fill the shoes of Martin and Lewis at the studio. Everywhere they turn they find people whose sides still ache from both sides of the comedy pictures kept by Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis. Their pictures kept Paramount on its feet financially and the customers rolling in the aisles with mirth.

Launching New Team
 Now, hopeful that the American movie-goer is ready for another comedy team, Paramount is launching Allen and Rossi in "The Last Of The Secret Agents".

Curiously, the teams have a great deal in common. Steve Rossi, like Dean Martin, is a handsome Italian singer with a nose job. Marty Allen, like Jerry Lewis, mugs and woggles his eyes and is a very funny man. And like Martin and Lewis, Allen and Rossi were brought together after working unsuccessfully as singles.

They were introduced six years ago by the late Nat Cole when Rossi told the great entertainer he was looking for a partner.

After a half-dozen years of fair success in night clubs and in television guest spots, the new team is finally taking a shot at the bigtime.

Boys Are Nervous
 The boys are nervous. Such great teams as Wheeler and Woolsey, Laurel and Hardy, Abbott and Costello are rare — and they know it.

Suit Over $33,000
Laurel Estate Filed
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A suit seeking part of the earnings from the estate of the late Stan Laurel has been filed in Superior Court by the comedian's former wife.

Virginia Ruth Laurel, of Beverly Hills, claimed in her suit Thursday that Laurel agreed to pay her five per cent of his gross earnings in a 1963 divorce settlement.

She claimed the five per cent sum has not been paid in the past four years. Laurel died last Feb. 23. He was 72.

Laurel's $33,000 estate was left to his last wife, Ida Kiteava Laurel in a will dated Nov. 3, 1947.

Paratrooper Sings Praises Of M16 Rifle

A Lubbock man serving as a paratrooper in Viet Nam thinks a lot of the weapon he is using. "It's the best friend I have in Viet Nam," he says.

That was Spec. 4 Nathan Lundberg, 21, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Lundberg of 3317 32nd St., speaking to a correspondent in Viet Nam. The interview was published recently in The San Antonio Light.

Lundberg said he has frequently owed his life to the speed, accuracy, and firepower of the M16 rifle.

"Just Right"

He said he had spent seven months as point or lead man, on patrol in Zone D and the Iron Triangle, two guerrilla jungle strongholds north of Saigon, and the M16 is just right for the airborne—it's good for close-in fighting.

He was slightly wounded in action several months ago but returned to his unit after two weeks.

The M16 weighs only 6.5 pounds and can spit bullets at the rate of 700 to 900 per minute. It also will fire single shots, but the men prefer three- to six-round bursts at the semi-automatic or full position which makes it a submachine gun, Lundberg explained.

Lundberg graduated from Lubbock High School in 1962 and attended Texas Tech prior to entering the service in October 1963.

He said he joined the airborne because he likes to make parachute jumps.

Adolph Zukor Gets Birthday Kiss From Natalie Wood

ADOLPH ZUKOR PROUD OF GAINS

Paramount Studio Founder Now 93—And Still Working

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — He seems, as he pads wearily down a studio street, as if a sudden gust of wind might carry him away.

But when he sits down in his office and talks about the movie business the ancient eyes take on a glow, and the voice speaks forcefully.

Still Working

This is Adolph Zukor, 93 today and still keeping daily office hours at Paramount Studios, which he founded.

The Hungarian-born exhibitor was one of the major architects of the movie industry. He began with a penny arcade in 1901, later helped create the star system and theater chains and the big studio operation.

Some of the Zukor innovations have faded with changing industry patterns. Studios no longer control assemblages of stars. Film companies divested their theater chains on government orders. The Hollywood studios now are virtually clusters of independent producers.

But Zukor has witnessed many changes in the film world, and he was never more confident.

Industry Sound

"I think the picture business is in better condition now than it has been for the last five years," he remarked. "TV had its vogue, when the novelty of having entertainment in the home was so enticing that people didn't care what they looked at."

"But it has always been true in show business that when you feed the public the same thing over and over again, no matter how good it is, the diet gets stale."

"Now people are willing to pay money to go out and see movies. And fortunately the producers are making more good pictures than ever before."

Zukor speaks not from Paramount and competitors', and watches a great deal of television as well. Now chairman of the board emeritus of Paramount Pictures, he spends every business day in his New York office from 10 to 4.

Same Schedule

For 40 years, he has spent the winter months in California, and he maintains the same office schedule at the studio. He can be seen each day in the Paramount commissary, chatting with longtime associates and newcomers, too.

"I'm just as interested in the picture business as I was 40 years ago," he said.

Zukor said he goes to bed at midnight and rises around 9. "I live I retain three a day," used to do a little boxing, tennis, golf and baseball, but I gradually gave them all up," he said. "I have only one big meal, at his lunch. I haven't had a drink in 30 years. Cigars are the one thing I still enjoy."

PORT CONGESTION

Fleet Of Barges Sent To Viet Nam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fleet of large barges, towed by sea-going tugs, is on the way to help relieve the port congestion which has jammed up the flow of supplies to U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

Military authorities also are sending a number of floating piers across the ocean, to be put in place where permanent docks are few and inadequate.

Each of the 350-foot floating piers can handle three or four ships.

Long Delay

Officials cited these and other emergency steps being taken to clear a bottleneck which has resulted in cargo ships waiting as long as 11 days to be unloaded.

Defense transportation authorities predict a "decided improvement" in the next 30 days, when the barges — called lighters — and tugs get to work in Viet Nam.

The stopgap measures are intended to tide U.S. forces over until completion of permanent port and base construction cost now about $500 million, says fully by mid-year.

The Defense Department contends that "all supplies which are vital are moving on schedule," despite an acknowledged lack of enough docks and warehouse facilities, rail and road systems.

Ships with high priority cargo, such as ammunition, are being unloaded without serious delays, officials claimed.

Logistics Problem

Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor, in answer to questions from newsmen Thursday in Honolulu, said a problem of logistics exists in getting men and material ashore in South Viet Nam. But he said all Army combat supplies are getting ashore where needed. Resor was returning from an inspection trip to Viet Nam. It was estimated that the usual office schedule today, he said, then celebrate his birthday with his family. When I wished he'd have many more, he grinned and replied, "I'm willing."

One such pier already installed at Cam Ranh Bay made the trip from the United States in three months, Army Engineer officials said.

"The next few months will see a tremendous improvement in our logistics situation out there," said one authority.

The big push in port base, warehouse and similar construction began last summer about the time President Johnson authorized a major reinforcement of U.S. troops which now has reached more than 181,000 and will continue to rise.

Critics have contended the big construction to support such a large force should have begun much earlier.

Defense officials denied there was a lack of foresight.

They said they had plans ready a year before the big buildup began but that these plans hinged on it and when U.S. troops were committed in numbers.

"Until we knew they were going in, we couldn't go ahead with the big construction program," said one expert.

Debate Teams Attend Meeting
Texas Tech will be represented by two debate teams at the Southwest Conference Debate Tournament today and Saturday at Baylor University.

Janine Coats of Amarillo and Hall Upchurch of Kermit will uphold the affirmative, and Carl Moore of Lubbock and David Bradley of Denison will debate the negative of the question: "Resolved—That law enforcement agencies in the U.S. should be given greater freedom in the investigation and prosecution of crime."

Debate Coach Vernon R. McGuire of the speech staff will accompany the teams to Waco. Trophies will be awarded the top team of both affirmative and negative divisions and a traveling trophy to the school tracking up the most points.

Member schools in the conference are Texas University, Baylor, Texas Christian University, Texas A&M, Southern Methodist University, University of Arkansas, Rice University and Tech.

FEW CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS COMING UP THIS YEAR

Minimum Of Labor-Industry Squabbling Seen In '66

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, pressing peace efforts to end the war in Viet Nam, faces a welcome lull in the home front battle against economic strife and the threat of inflation.

With the Big Steel price flap settled, the prospects during the rest of 1966 are for a minimum of major labor-industry squabbles threatening big strikes or widespread wage-price escalation.

Johnson, who didn't hesitate to remind both unions and management that U.S. fighting men were dying in Viet Nam, had to step into a number of big disputes last year, including steel negotiations and shipping strikes.

Few Negotiations

But this year will see the fewest major labor contract negotiations in recent years, reducing the chances of White House intervention in the name of the national interest.

However, there are some exceptions that could force Johnson back into the labor-management arena at the national level.

An estimated record $8 billion a year in deferred wage increases go to some 4 million workers in 1966 and may bear watching for potential upward pressure on prices.

But government economists generally believe these wage increases — negotiated previously in long-term contracts — will cause little inflationary squeeze because businessmen have had plenty of time to figure them into pricing policies.

Perhaps the biggest potential threat to labor peace is a renewal of economic warfare in the railroad industry, which enjoyed its first relatively peaceful year in 1965 since 1960.

Wage Demands

Five train operating unions plan to demand wage increases, and a flareup is expected in the locomotive firemen's case.

The firemen, who have lost some 17,000 jobs under a federal arbitration ruling, already have demanded a 25 per cent wage hike and insist the railroads fill all the abolished jobs when the two-year arbitration law expires March 31.

"Frivolous," snapped chief railroad negotiator J. E. Wolfe in indicating stiff industry resistance.

Railroad talks, always a headache under the complicated Railway Labor Act, could turn into "a can of worms," one federal official said.

In the past, railroad negotiations have frequently wound up in the White House.

Machinists' wage demands in joint talks with seven major airlines could also cause trouble requiring some government action.

Harry Bridges, West Coast longshoremen's chief, plans to go after major wage increases that could ruffle five years of labor peace on the Pacific waterfront.

Shipping Calm

But East Coast shipping, torn by labor strife throughout 1965, should be calm.

Seven AFL-CIO unions will make a major drive for bigger contract gains from two major firms — General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp. — but observers see no trouble for the administration there.

The communications workers conceivably could tangle with the national interest in expected tough negotiations with 19 major divisions of the Bell Telephone system.

The United Mineworkers Union — which won its first wage increase in six years in 1964 — will seek more for coal miners this year. But indications are for a peaceful settlement.

Besides these major contract talks on the horizon, there are the usual host of smaller negotiations.

Strike activity — at a six-year high in 1965 — is expected to be down substantially in 1966.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Carroll Baker came back from an entertainment tour of South Viet Nam with Gen. William C. Westmoreland's four stars, an ashtray from the captain's cabin on the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga, and a combat suit marked "property of U. S. Marines."

Miss Baker said she took along $25,000 worth of Paris-designed gowns on the Christmas tour with Bob Hope. None of them were brought back, she said.

"I lost a couple," says the blonde star. "One $14,000 gown just disintegrated in the heat, mud and rain. Another from Balmain was mostly feathers. The boys just picked them off — and I couldn't care less."

She figures she kissed 5,000 GIs.

"Maybe Bob had better jokes," she said, "but the boys all seemed to like what I had to offer."

Open House Set This Weekend At Resthaven

Open house will be held Saturday and Sunday for public viewing of the new Resthaven Funeral Home and Little Church of the Flowers at Resthaven Memorial Park and Mausoleum, 5740 Levelland Hwy.

Frank Wilson, general manager and funeral director of the facilities, reports completion of an extensive building project and invites visits of the public between 1 and 5 p.m. on the two days.

Will Seat 250

The new chapel will seat 250 persons, Wilson said, and is similar to one in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Los Angeles.

The new Resthaven facilities total about 14,000 square feet. The Resthaven cemetery was established in 1948, the mausoleum was added in 1956, and time-honored way of bending the stalks and flailing the grain into their canoes.

Slatonite Seeks Precinct 2 Post

Jim Benton, a Slaton resident, has announced his candidacy for the office of county commissioner, Precinct 2, in the May Democratic Primary.

Benton, a lifetime resident of Lubbock County, was born at Posey July 2, 1913.

He attended Slaton school and was graduated from Slaton High School in 1932.

He and his wife, Betty, reside at 115 N. 6th St., Slaton. They moved to Slaton in 1964 from Lubbock.

Benton is a partner with his son, Jim Benton III, in the Interstate Fixture Co., Slaton.

Morse Birthplace May Be Torn Down

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Unless another site can be found, the Walker house in Concord, where Samuel F. B. Morse married Miss Lucretia Walker in 1818, will be torn down.

Morse, inventor of the telegraph, was a portrait painter when he met Miss Walker, daughter of a Concord lawyer.

The house has been sold to a Manchester doctor, who plans to build an office building on the site.

"If I could find a site for it, I would move it and keep it as an apartment house," said real estate agent Albert Fox. "But I can't find a site."

REVISION OF RULES TO BE DISCUSSED

Regional Meet Set On Draft Situation

FT. STEWART, Ga. (AP)—Which way the nation's military induction system will proceed dipping into the pool of draft-deferred college students or lowering other requirements will be discussed here at the first of three regional conferences.

The meetings were called by Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the Selective Service director, to meet the growing manpower need in Viet Nam. State Selective Service directors from Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will attend the session Sunday.

A Washington spokesman said, when Hershey called the meetings a week ago, that restoration of Korean wartime deferment rules was under consideration. Calling up high school graduates who have flunked mental tests will be discussed along with tightening deferments of college students.

2.2 Million

There were about 2.2 million college students holding deferments last November. Col. Mike Y. Hendrix of Atlanta, a regional field director, said the conference will deal with matters "pertaining to changes in policy regarding deferments."

"I think there will be a great deal of talk about student deferments," said Col. Harry O. Smith, Georgia director. He said he favors lowering the mental standards to pick up more of the young men who failed draft tests before moving in on college students.

"My feeling is that before we get too much into student deferments the standards in the 1Y classification should be lowered even more," Smith said. "Then the next step would be the college students." That has been the procedure in the past, he said.

Necessary Review

"I think that's pretty much what's going to be followed," he said. It was decided Dec. 23 to review the cases of the men in 1Y, those who failed the mental exams and are classified as unfit except for emergency service.

Selective Service officials in Washington said in announcing the conference that a review of the manpower situation has become necessary because the draft rate of about 40,000 men per month is dwindling the supply in the 19-25 age bracket of unmarried, physically and mentally fit men.

On the agenda of the meeting is a statement by Hershey on the policy regarding persons who burn draft cards, stage draft board sit-ins or otherwise disobey federal law.

An estimated 98 per cent of the homes in Bermuda have electricity.

'CONTACT' STRESSED

Trade With Mexico Discussed At Meet

"Personal contact is highly important in selling in Mexico," Paul Flores told members of the impending Jan. 22-30 Lubbock Trade Mission to Mexico at Thursday afternoon briefings concluding the one-day Third Annual International Trade Seminar on the Texas Tech campus. Flores, Mexico specialist with the Office of International and Regional Economics, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C., reported in his down-to-earth analysis of U.S.-Mexico trade that Mexico is the United States' largest customer in Latin America and the fifth largest in the world.

Market Decline
"Mexico's imports in 1964 were about $1.5 billion, with the U.S. supplying about $1 billion of that total, representing a U.S. share of the Mexican market that year of about 68 per cent. However, this represents a decline from the peak of almost 90 per cent in 1944," he disclosed. The Mexican market is primarily a producers and capital goods market, Flores said, and U.S. exporters have several advantages in the growing competition for supplying of that market. Mexico's proximity for fast delivery, low transportation costs and easy access to servicing and technical assistance were pinpointed at head of the list of advantages. The U.S. reputation of products of high quality also enters in, the specialist said.

Adverse Factors
Adverse factors listed by Flores included fact that other foreign suppliers are offering lower prices for certain items and in some instances are offering more favorable credit terms.

ALL-STATE

Students To Compete For Choir Places

Twenty students from four Lubbock high schools will compete Saturday at West Texas State University, Canyon, for positions in the All-State Choir. The 20 are among 32 students from the south zone of Region I who will be competing for positions. An additional 32 will be competing from the north zone, and from the 64 contestants, only 16 will be selected for the choir. An additional 16 students from Region I will be named alternates.

Of the 20 Lubbock students, four are from Lubbock High; 12 are from Monterey, three are from Coronado and one is from Lubbock Christian High School.

Travel By Bus
The 19 public school students will leave Lubbock about 7 a.m. Saturday by chartered bus. Students will try out in quarters, with each student to be heard by one judge. Eight judges have been chosen.

The contestants will sing try-out numbers from memory, and four students from each section, soprano, alto, tenor and bass, will be selected for the All-State Choir.

Those competing from Lubbock High School are Jackie Medley, Elizabeth Brock, Mike Haley and Larry Onley. All-State candidates from Monterey High School are Suzie Shaw, Susan Goad, Ginger Fowell, Kathy Rogers, Pat Gaddis, Marsha Zinn, Donna Smith, Kirk Jones, Ragen Upshaw, Randy Sever, Melvin Billups and Roy Gannaway.

Coronado Candidates
Candidates from Coronado High School are Terry Rodgers, Wayne Miller and R. C. Ogle. Lubbock Christian High School will be represented by Paul Silvery.

Accompanying the public school students will be choir directors at the three public high schools. They are Gene Medley, Lubbock High; James Ramsey, Monterey High, and Joe Klingstedt, Coronado High School. The group will return to Lubbock Saturday afternoon.

Lamesa Council Is Taking Meter Poll

LAMESA (Special) — The Lamesa City Council currently is conducting a poll among businessmen in Lamesa and Dawson County residents to determine their preference for replacing parking meters in downtown Lamesa.

The parking meters were removed last Dec. 1 and were to be replaced — Jan. 1. At a recent council meeting, the group voted to distribute ballots to enable the people of Lamesa to have a say in whether or not the meters will be replaced or will be discontinued permanently.

Gorillas In Albuquerque Zoo Earn Their Keep By Painting Abstracts

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Two gorillas put to work to earn their keep at the Albuquerque Zoo by fingerprinting have sold another abstract. The zoo announced Thursday that Public Service Co. of New Mexico, an electric utility, had bought for an undisclosed price one of seven paintings the gorillas have produced. Earlier one painting sold for $1,000 and another was sold for an undisclosed amount. Zoo officials hope the paintings will raise $15,000, the price the zoo agreed to pay on a buy-now, pay-later basis for the two young gorillas and a third which has not yet been delivered.

TO BUILD TRADE

Russians Seeking Base In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia, (AP)—The Soviet Union may be seeking a base in Malaysia and Singapore for its campaign to increase its influence in Asia at the expense of Communist China.

More than a year ago, a correspondent for the official Soviet news agency, Tass, visited the country. He was the first member of the Soviet Communist party allowed to travel in the rich Southeast Asian peninsula. He is due back to open an office in Singapore this month.

A Soviet trade expert has applied for permission to visit. Approval of his trip is expected. "Why not?" some officials say privately. "Russia is one of our biggest rubber buyers. Why not sell to them directly?"

While Red China has been frightening Western-oriented Asian nations with its militant propaganda, the Soviets have been quietly building trade. They already have embassies in two key Asian countries where the Chinese are excluded—Japan and Thailand. These provide a solid foundation for Soviet programs in the area and, among other things, have led to a Soviet-Japanese air pact and Soviet observers at the Asian Development Bank.

Increased Soviet presence in Malaysia would put an excellent weapon to build up its Asian image and would give it a tremendous economic lever against the Chinese. Malaysia has taken on new stature since neighboring Indonesia's war against it virtually collapsed following the abortive Peking-backed coup in October.

Since the pressure from Indonesia has eased, the Malaysian government has been working to resume diplomatic ties with the Philippines. It has tightened ties with Burma and is a close ally of India and Thailand.

Malaysia's calls for revival of the Association of Southeast Asian nations. This would link Thailand, Malaysia and the Philippines economically and culturally and generally tighten up those Southeast Asian nations against Red China.

The Soviet Union's overall objective seems to much the same as that of the United States—to contain Communist China.

WARNING GIVEN Break-Ins Could Be Dangerous

A warning of possible electrocution without trial or sentencing by a court has been given to a person or persons who have been breaking into power facilities here.

Santa Hunter of Southwestern Public Service Co. reported two break-ins of fenced sub-stations this week, at an "interchange station" at E. 26th Street and Grove Avenue and another south on the avenue at 96th Street.

"I could be a very dangerous situation," Hunter told sheriff's deputies. He added that there had been other break-ins prior to this week.

In the incident at 26th Street station, a hole was cut in the fence and also a ground wire severed on four lightning-arrestor stands. About 10 pounds of wire and a five-gallon fire extinguisher were stolen. Fence-cutting also was discovered at the other station.

City police were investigating theft of about 100 feet of copper pipe and fittings from a house at Bob's Ready-Built Homes, 2101 Erskine St. Someone used a cutting torch to take the installed pipe, police were told. Loss was estimated at $100. In a burglary about $25 in installation labor.

Mer Jack B. Wright, of 1510 Ave. R, complained that a $400 diamond ring was missing from her apartment. There was indication of forced entry, according to police reports.

Mrs. Wartes Dies In City Mrs. W. C. (Addie) Wartes, 79, 708 E. Fordham, died at 1:10 a. m. today in a Lubbock convalescent home after a lengthy illness.

Services will be at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church at Lorenzo, with the Rev. Peyton Fullinmeyer, pastor of Plains Baptist Church in Lubbock, officiating.

Viet Cong Caught With Big Explosive Charge

Vietnamese troops will be withdrawn. Red Supplies Found. Since the U. S. Vietnamese, Australian and New Zealand soldiers began the operation near Bao Trai, 25 miles west of Saigon, on New Year's Day, they have turned up nearly three tons of fertilizer, nine tons of rice, about 5,000 documents, nine grenade launchers, five machine guns, ammunition, body traps, radio equipment and medical supplies, officials reported.

At the expense of light casualties, the allies claimed 243 Viet Cong killed, 52 captured, 624 suspects detained and the capture of 41 individual weapons and 11 crew-served guns. The explosives seized on Saigon's jungle outskirts exceeded in destructive power the 250-pound bomb used by the Viet Cong to blast the eight-story Metropolitan Hotel, an enlisted men's billet, on Dec. 4. The attack killed two Americans, a New Zealander and eight Vietnamese, and injured more than 100 others.

The blast was part of a wave of grenade-throwing and other terrorism marking the fifth anniversary of the Viet Cong last month. The terrorism continued up to the Christmas period. The Viet Cong were expected to continue their new violence in the capital until the four-day cease-fire they have proclaimed for the lunar New Year Jan. 21-24. Viet Nam's national holiday.

Warning that the period before the lunar new year was the right time psychologically for the terrorist attacks, a police official said. "The Viet Cong are operating right at the city's edges. This gives them and their liaison agents an easy time of it to get into and out of Saigon. It is just like going next door."

Authorities gave no details of how they learned of the bomb plot, one of the few they have formed out. Police sources said the target was the Bui Vien hotel, two blocks from the Metropolitan Hotel. Viet Cong commandos also a taxi and motorcycles were to shoot up the military post at the front of the hotel while a truck carrying the bomb was being parked at the rear.

The Communists used similar tactics to blast the Metropolitan as well as the Brink Hotel, the main U. S. officers' billet in Saigon, on Christmas Eve 1964, and the U. S. Embassy last March 30. A 200-pound bomb blew up at the Brink Hotel killing two Americans and wounding 107. The explosion of a 225-pound bomb at the embassy cost 20 lives, including those of two Americans, and injured 175 Vietnamese and Americans.

Outside the capital, a U. S. Air Force C130 Hercules transport loaded with 31,000 pounds of bombs and ammunition exploded as it was landing at Pleiku, in the central highlands. All five men aboard were killed, a military spokesman said. Two explosions ripped the big four-engine turboprop plane at 1,500 feet just short of the runway at Camp Holloway, outside Pleiku, where the U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division is encamped 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

ABOUT TOWN

Funeral services for Clayton Brown, a former resident of Abernathy and Wolfirth, were to be held at 2:30 p. m. today at the First Baptist Church in Eldorado, Okla. Brown died Jan. 1 at Santa Clara, Calif., his home in recent years. Among survivors are a sister, Mrs. Ross Kirk, 2804 41st St., Lubbock, two brothers, Oscar L. and Guy Brown, both of Abernathy, and several grandchildren in this area.

Two Loveland children were treated at Methodist Hospital Thursday afternoon after they were believed to have eaten rat poison. Treated at the hospital were Dena Smith, 4, and Todd Smith, 20 months, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Loveland. Hospital attendants said the two children had their stomachs pumped out and were sent home.

Reservations for the annual dinner meeting of United Fund of Lubbock, scheduled at 7 p. m. Monday at the Student Union Building at Texas Tech, may be made by calling the United Fund office, 5HT-2711. Speaker will be Pat Taggart, publisher of the Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald and president of Newspapers, Inc. The public is invited to the dinner.

Minor damage to a wall was reported in a fire about 11 a. m. today at Yoakum's Beer Store and Jack's Bar-B-Q, in the same building, a few miles east on 19th Street. Firemen said a stove too near the wall was the cause.

Texas Schools To Get Share Of U.S. Funds WASHINGTON (AP)—Various Texas schools are listed in an Office of Education announcement that some $15 million will be allocated under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The projects are designed to serve children and teachers in public and private elementary and secondary schools, preschool age youngsters, adults and youths not in school. Allocations for each project will be announced after further consultation with local authorities.

The Texas projects include: Alpine, planning, Alpine public schools for a West Texas innovative education center; Burleson, planning, Burleson Independent School District for an instructional improvement of educational opportunity and quality; Canyon, planning, Canyon Independent School District for Texas cooperative dissemination project; El Paso, operation, El Paso Independent School District for a language training and instruction center; El Paso, planning, El Paso Independent School District for a Texas Gulf Coast science educational resource center; Houston, operation, Spring Branch Independent School District for a training center in exemplary instructional systems; San Antonio, planning, San Antonio Independent School District for inter-American educational center; San Marcos, planning, Hays County school superintendent for Central Texas educational media center.

Search Continues On 14,162-foot Mt. Shasta a rescue party from the Sierra Club outdoor group hoped for improved weather today to continue a search for three San Francisco Bay area climbers missing since last weekend.

Mt. Shasta, where the rescue party sought to continue its search for three persons, was hit by a massive snowfall during the storm.

The trio, Les Wilson, 34, Berkeley; John Crowley, 20, San Francisco, and an unidentified companion abandoned their car at the 4,000-foot level. Searchers found it. Their trail was lost at 6,000 feet.

There were no confirmed deaths. Flood damage estimates rose to the $1 million mark. Rain was predicted for today in the California-Oregon boundary area. This posed a new danger to coastal towns should the showers combine with high tides and peak river runoff.

A crest was expected before noon at Reedsport, Ore., at the mouth of the Umpqua River. Should the crest be delayed until 1 p. m. it would combine with a tide of 9.8 feet, one of the highest since last summer.

The 200 families who had evacuated their homes north of Crescent City had returned, the Del Norte County sheriff's office reported. They had fled before the overflowing Smith River.

release demand. The chairman Harry Van Arsdale conferred Thursday night with Mayor John W. Landry and Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz.

Wirtz, sent here by President Johnson after Lindsay appealed for help, met until the early morning hours with various parties involved in the transportation paralysis.

LBJ To Get Report Then Wirtz reportedly returned to Washington to report to the President.

The importance of eased punishment also was apparent in the day-to-day delay of a further court hearing to determine whether, and how much, the jailed officials and the unions will be fined. These postponements were requested by Lindsay's mediation panel.

Nimitz Receives LBJ Telegram

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, 80, hospitalized with a light stroke he suffered this week received a telegram from President Johnson Thursday expressing concern for the old sailor.

Nimitz' condition Thursday night was described as satisfactory and stable. Earlier he had been reported recovering from the cerebral hemorrhage he suffered Monday.

The President paid tribute to Nimitz' "indomitable spirit that gave us hope 20 years ago." Nimitz commanded the Pacific Fleet in World War II and served as chief of Naval operations until he stepped down from active service in 1947.

"Lady Bird and I were greatly saddened to hear of your illness. We pray for the full recovery of a great American and an old neighbor," the President's telegram said.

Two Plead Guilty In Misdemeanor Cases

Two persons pleaded guilty in misdemeanor cases this morning before Judge Edwin H. Boedeker, County Court-at-Law No. 1.

Assessed $125 and court costs and three days in jail was R. L. Martin, 36, 315 Ave. R, charged with DWI. Albert Holder, 43, Tahoma, charged with check law violation, was fined $35 and costs.

Pleading innocent and placed under bonds were Elmer McCoy, 41, 803 Ave. U, charged with unlawful possession of a barbiturate drug and also driving while under the influence of a drug; James P. McCasland, 44, 513 36th St., possession of barbiturate drug; and J. C. Yates, 36, 4104 32nd St., check law violation.

Mother Of Area Residents Dies

GREENVILLE (Special)—Funeral services were to be at 2:30 p. m. today here for Mrs. W. S. (Bill) Watson, 91, who died in a convalescent home here Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Watson, who would have celebrated her 92nd birthday Feb. 7, was a Greenville resident. The family recently counted 250 descendants of Mrs. Watson.

Among survivors are three daughters, including Mrs. J. B. Woolley of 3005 55th St., Lubbock, and Mrs. Jack Woodson of Wolf; and seven sons, including Melvin Watson of Hale Center, Fred Watson of Carlisle and Allen Watson of Ropesville.

Bagpipes Added To Music Slate

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The kind of bagpipes soon will be heard in Baltimore public schools.

Behind the move for a bagpipe band is Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin (Clan Campbell). Dr. Laurence G. Pagnin, school superintendent, has told music instructors to look for bagpipe teachers. "While I cannot claim Scotch ancestry," he told the Mayor, "I have enough Celt in me to appreciate bagpipe music."

"I hope we will have the pleasure of seeing you in your kilts in their first public appearance."

Hose Ruptures Lee T. Uland, an employe at Wells Grain Co., said the 6,000 gallon tank had just been filled "when suddenly a 1.5-inch hose ruptured."

Because of calm air in the area, he said, that gas just hugged the ground and "we couldn't get in to turn the valves off. When we got there the valves were frozen."

Upheld For Texan

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A life sentence assessed a Texan for killing a sheriff more than eight years ago was upheld Thursday by the Alabama Supreme Court.

Cecil Tiner, who listed Dallas as his home, first drew the death sentence for the fatal shooting of Geneva County Sheriff James Woodham in 1957.

That conviction was reversed by the supreme court and Tiner was sentenced to life on his second trial.

William Hable, a companion who also identified himself as Dallas, is serving a life term for the slaying.

EARL WILSON:

Strike Hits Subway Set

WILSON

HOTEL AMERICANA, New York—Mike Quill and I were neighbors before he went to jail, although he didn't invite me nor necessarily want me.

Mike's digs were much better than mine, of course. He had the 50th floor corner suite which normally rents for $105 a day. Eddie Fisher, Peggy Lee, and Honor Blackman, the "Goldfinger" girl, have at various times slept where his kingly head has been lying.

As one of the greatest actors of our time, he must have felt a quiver of power at how he had the Celebrity Set trembling . . . and watching.

His hotel floor's the highest in town . . . "About as far away from the subway as you can get," several have remarked.

THE STORIES DRIFTED IN

And the tales would drift to him through the hotel where I now still dwell as a sort of war correspondent.

Danny Stradella—"Diamond Danny" of Danny's Hideaway, who takes 50 people to Copacabana openings—was personally washing dishes the other night, for his dishwashers are members of the Subway Set who couldn't get to work.

Jayne Mansfield checked in and nobody took her picture. She was too unimportant.

MIKE MADE HIS BED, but he might not have been able to lie in it if several executives and secretaries including "Skip" Hartman, personnel director of the Loew's Hotels, hadn't helped make the beds.

"Do you have 'male maids' here?" one guest asked . . . and was pretty impressed that his "maid" was a department head.

In the lobby of our hotel—Mike's and mine—I heard joking. A switch on the joke I used Thursday: "Lindsay's only been a mayor a couple of days, but he's already stopped crime in the subways" . . . David Merrick just ended the strike. He hired Quill to play "Hamlet."

FREE BUS TO SHOW

Out on B way at 46th I saw a bus with a sign: "Free Bus Leaving For Live Show." It was going to Steve Allen's "I've Got A Secret."

"Isn't that amazing?" said Charles Nelson Reilly of "Sky-scraper."

All members of his cast came to the theater by carpool except Julie Harris, the star, who loves to walk.

Mike's strike made part of B way a Great Blight Way. Dirty Moore's closed for the day. Basin St. East planned to close except weekends if the strike continues. The Four Seasons' famous Pool Dining Room, scene of the Princess Margaret party, didn't open the other night, though the rest of the restaurant did.

ALEX COHN STROLED up B way gloomy that he'll probably have to close "The Devils" because Anne Bancroft, hospitalized with a slipped disc, may have to be operated on.

"And then this! It'll cost me over $100,000. Oh, well, I've been broke before."

And Mike, up in Suite 5001 which he occupied for a month or more with the greatest view of Times Square in town, heard the jokes.

"Sick Transit Gloria," Si Seidler said . . . Jay Jackson heard a Long Island RR conductor sing out to the commuters, "All right last stop, all you Essentials!"

"Tranquility" phoned in a reader named Harold Gold, "has nothing to do with Mike Quill."

TEST FOR TOP MODEL

Top model and commercialist Heather Hewitt's being pushed by Producers Cubby Broccoli and Harry Saltzman to test for "Funeral in Berlin," sequel to "The Ipcress File."

Comic Geoffrey Cambridge is out of the Basin St. E. show after a New Year's Eve hassle with the management.

Frank Sinatra told Jilly Rizzo (who's flying to see the FS-Las Vegas Sands show), to bring along a dozen pasticcio pastries, two jars of pickled pigs' feet, two dozen Italian breads . . . Actress Sharon Tate left the London set of "13" to say goodbye to her father in H'wood; he's an Army officer off to Viet Nam.

TONY BENNETT SQUIRED a pretty blonde to the Bobby Hackett opening at the Rainbow Rm. . . The Peter Sellerses and Barbara Streisand saw "Cactus Flower," went backstage to visit Lauren Bacall . . . Anita ("Gentlemen Prefer Blondes") Look is writing a movie for Carroll Baker. . . Gower Champion, now directing "Boscomb Barlow," says his next'll be the Mary Martin Musical, "I Do, I Do" . . . BBardot's ex, Jacques Charrier, said at Trude Heller's he's filming a series in Brazil . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor's dtr, Francesca is studying acting at Bennett College.

Anita Ekberg has her Rome home for sale . . . A Brazilian hotel's threatening to sue a film star who "forgot" to pay a three-month bill . . . Zeppo Mostel says he'll have another play (Exit the King) by Jones, who wrote his "Rhinoceros." A luxurious boat that'll be seen in "Trials of O'Brien" was loaned by singer Jimmy Dean.

Construction Progressing On By-Pass Route

PLAINVIEW (Special) Construction on the approximately $2,500,000 by-pass to route U.S. 87 to the west of Plainview is ahead of schedule in some phases. D. C. Greer, Lubbock, state highway engineer, has reported.

Total used against the contracts as of the beginning of January was $626,895. Good weather that extended into the early winter weeks boosted progress on the project, designated as Loop 194.

Greer gave the following status on the major project:

The loop, from U.S. 87 north of Plainview to the south end of U.S. 70 overpass west of Plainview—grading, structures, establishing base and two course treatment—19 per cent complete with $17,620 used against a contract of $937,028.

Other Segments

Other segments of work: Loop 274 in Hale County from the FW&D Railroad-State Highway 194 overpass and approaches west of Plainview, 32 per cent complete with $123,277 used against the $519,197 contract.

Loop 274 in Hale County from the south end of the U. S. 70 overpass west of Plainview to U.S. 87 at Ferguson Switch, 25 per cent complete with $226,998 used against the $891,787 contract.

U.S. 70 in Hale County from two-tenths of a mile west of Loop 274 to two-tenths of a mile east of the loop, a $38,680 contract with work not started at the time of the report.

State Highway 194 in Hale County from one-half mile east of the Loop 274, to 0.28 mile west of the loop, $106,652 contract with work not started.

Shift In Community Action Program Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson reportedly has decided against shifting the community action part of his antipoverty program to the new Department of Housing and Urban Development.

But he still has not made up his mind when to appoint a secretary to head the new urban agency.

A high administration source reported Thursday that Johnson had rejected a recommendation to shift the community action program made two weeks ago by his special task force, which studied the functions and organization of the department which came into being Nov. 8.

The source said Johnson backed the position of Sargent Shriver, director of the antipoverty program, that this was a had time to consider such a switch, although it might be feasible later.

There was no indication whether Johnson would name a secretary and announce specific decisions relating to the new cabinet-level agency before Monday's opening of the new congressional session.

In the meantime, housing administrator Robert C. Weaver, a Democrat, continues to run the department. Officials say private industry is stalled on dead-end, and there are morale problems and delays in starting projects.

The new secretary will have to make a case before Congress early in the new session for the funds to begin the new rent supplement program. Congress decided to fund it last October as confusion over the program's administration arose about it by a Senate appropriations subcommittee.

Wants Best Man The only thing Johnson has said about a possible secretary is that he wants the best man available. Among the newest names being mentioned in speculation are two Republicans, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Baltimore Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, a former Maryland governor.

There have also been rumors that the choice might be Walter Reuther, President of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers and head of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Division. Reuther was a member of the task force which studied the new department.

Winter Concert Set Tonight At LCC Auditorium

All five major organizations of the Lubbock Christian College Music Department will be featured in the annual winter concert at 7:30 p.m. today in the college auditorium.

The program will be opened by the Women's Chorus singing "It's a Grand Night for Singing" by Rodgers with Joe Godfrey directing. After selections from "The Sound of Music" and "Greensleeves," Mrs. Patricia Vickers will direct a piano ensemble in three numbers.

Meistersinger Chorus, led by Charles E. Cox, will then sing several arrangements including "Almighty God of Our Fathers" and selections from "The Music Man."

The Royal Blue Band, directed by E. Joe Lee, will offer a change of pace with various war marches. Godfrey's Cappella Chorus will then perform numbers including "Salutation to the Dawn," "Just a Closer Walk with Thee," with Charles Sibert, Midland sophomore as soloist and "Over the Rainbow."

No admission will be charged for the concert.

Wayne Hinds, who is on leave of absence to work toward a Ph.D. in music, is head of the music department.

Martin Dies Jr. To Run For Congress

LUFKIN (AP)—State Sen. Martin Dies Jr. said today he will run for Congress in the 2nd district.

Newspaper ads will appear in the district next Thursday.

The new 2nd district, in the redistricting plan approved by a Houston federal court this week, includes much of the previous Dist. 2 and Dist. 7, where Rep. John Dowdy of Athens is the incumbent. Dowdy was first elected to Congress in 1952.

Grants For Medicare Promoters Announced

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sargent Shriver, the field marshal of President Johnson's War on Poverty, announced Thursday the first of some 80 grants to hire 5,000 elderly poor persons to spread the word about Medicare to other oldsters.

The first grants, totaling about $45,000, were to Indianapolis and Mound River, Ill. The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) plans eventually to spend about $2 million on the project across the country.

MARCH OF DIMES

Teenagers Will Stage Walkathon

Between 50 and 75 Lubbock teenagers will stage a walkathon from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, hoping to raise $6,000 for the March of Dimes.

The teenagers will split up into four teams and, with the assistance of public contributions, will race to the circle at Texas Tech. Each team will have a 45-kilometer march to the circle, and each time contributed will take them one step closer to their goal.

The teenagers will dress in unusual costumes and some will have bands to attract public attention for their individual groups. Team names and the streets they will march on include the Roadrunners on Broadway, the Longleggers on 19th Street, the Toddlers on 34th Street and the Creepy Crawlers on 50th Street.

Through the Teen-age Program for the National Foundation of the March of Dimes, teenagers over the nation raise approximately one-fourth of the total sum donated to the March of Dimes each year. Bill Hunter, chairman of the Lubbock project, said funds from the walkathon will go toward research in birth defects.

Dimes may be donated for the walkathon by calling the March of Dimes, 3610 Ave. Q. Miss Kay Jones is supervisor of the teen-age project.

Reese Officers Get Promotions

Four Reese Air Force Base first lieutenants move to the rank of captain during the next 10 days as dates for promotions arrive.

They are Gary Smith, William E. Hall III, Robert McInnis and Robert L. Rutherford. Each was notified several weeks ago of selection for promotion.

Li Smith becomes a captain Wednesday. From Raymond, Ill., he came to Reese in September 1962 and has served as instructor pilot in the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron. He is a graduate of Southern Illinois University.

Li McInnis, from Shreveport, La., has been at Reese three years and is an instructor pilot in the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron. He is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

Li Hall, from Sarasota, N. Y., becomes a captain the following day. He also is an instructor pilot in the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron and is a graduate of Notre Dame University.

He came to Reese three years ago from Moody AFB. Li Rutherford, from San Antonio, is an instructor pilot in the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron. Commissioned through Air Force ROTC at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos, he has been at Reese since August 1962.

Motions Expected In Contract Suits Here

Both sides in a suit on two contracts for installation of irrigation equipment are expected to file motions for judgment on answers to special issues returned by a 140th District Court civil jury Thursday.

Judge Robert H. Bean presided.

Boss of Lubbock had asked $3,200.50 judgment against D. C. Lothringer of San Antonio, alleging only $5.00 of the $7,938.50 due under the two contracts had been paid.

In its answers to special issues submitted, the jury found BOSS is due $2,213.95 on one of the contracts and that Lothringer is entitled to recover $1,350 for breach of contract under the other contract.

Capt. Posey To Be Honored

E. L. Posey, the oldest highway patrol captain in the state in years of service and in age will be honored tonight at a dinner at the Palm Room.

Capt. Posey, who will be 70 Sunday, has announced his retirement, effective Jan. 31.

About 350 persons are expected for the dinner, including top-ranking Department of Public Safety officials. Among guests will be Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, and Lt. Col. W. E. Sauer, his assistant, both of Austin.

Mac Harry Hutchison, commander of the Lubbock region of the DPS, will give the welcome at the 7 p.m. dinner.

Capt. Posey, who has been in Lubbock 20 years as head of the highway patrol, joined the highway patrol Jan. 1, 1931, just a year after it was organized.

World Title Claimed By Oyster Shucker

FANNY BAY, B.C. (AP)—Johnny Zurich, 19, claims he is the world's champion oyster shucker.

Johnny, who works full time at it in this Vancouver Island community, says he shucked 44 gallons and 2 1/2 quarts in an hour from a London firm for eight-hour shift. He says the title formerly was held jointly by members of a 12-man local crew who shucked 39 gallons each in eight hours.

ADVANCED WEAPONRY

World Title Claimed By Oyster Shucker

FANNY BAY, B.C. (AP)—Johnny Zurich, 19, claims he is the world's champion oyster shucker.

Johnny, who works full time at it in this Vancouver Island community, says he shucked 44 gallons and 2 1/2 quarts in an hour from a London firm for eight-hour shift. He says the title formerly was held jointly by members of a 12-man local crew who shucked 39 gallons each in eight hours.

Aggressive 'Man On The Go' Is The Fellow To Watch For A Heart Attack

LUBBOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL
 Lubbock, Texas, Friday Evening, January 7, 1966 B

By RICHARD M. HARNETT
 SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The aggressive, ambitious "man on the go" is the fellow to watch for a heart attack, a massive research study disclosed today.

A startling 85 per cent of heart victims in the 39-49 age bracket were men with "a certain emotional complex," the study found. They were the ones who, before their attacks, had been tagged as having "excessive drive, aggressiveness and ambition... preoccupation with competitive activity, vocational deadlines and similar pressures."

The first large-scale effort to find out whether emotional makeup can signal danger to the heart was conducted by a team of doctors at Mount Zion Hospital here. The findings were published in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The doctors concluded that whether a man is a hustler or in a fast-paced job has a "profoundly important" bearing on whether or not he is likely to suffer a heart attack.

Back in 1960 the Mount Zion doctors selected 3,524 healthy men aged 39 to 59. Each was carefully examined and tagged for such things as high blood pressure and fat which are sometimes associated with heart disease.

The men were also interviewed and classified according to income, job and emotional make-

ACTION DELAYED Zone Change Near Tech Is Opposed

By KENNETH MAY
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

A much-discussed proposal to permit high rise apartment houses and dormitories south of Texas Tech in the vicinity of homes belonging to some of Lubbock's most widely known residents was tabled for still further study Thursday night by the City Planning and Zoning Commission.

In a hearing punctuated by periodic applause from a majority of the standing-room-only crowd, the home owners opposed the whole idea.

To Await City Council Action

Voting unanimously to postpone a decision, commission members said they wanted to wait at least until the City Council takes final action on a pending request for a multi-story project at 19th St. and College Ave.

Earlier in the day, the Council had tabled that case, which after two hearings had gone to the Council with the planning group's recommendation for approval.

Involves Wide Area

Thursday night's hearing involved all of the area along 19th Street from Avenue X to Boston Avenue. The proposal also would allow apartment houses up to 2½ stories high along the south side of 20th Street.

Although the case was tabled, the commission acted in another case by denying a pending request for an 11-story dormitory on 19th Street just east of College Avenue. The site is included in the area involved in the overall study.

The group, however, okayed R-2 duplex zoning east of Col-

DEDUCT EXPENSES Net Amount Received From Rental Income Is Figure Used For Tax

By RAY DE CRANE
 NEA Special Writer

Only the net amount received on rental income is taxable. In general the expenses deducted from gross rental income consist of: Depreciation • Repairs • Other Expenses.

The depreciation figure is an annual write-off of a proportionate part of the investment over the estimated useful life of the property.

Since a two-family home is the most common type of rental property, our example will illustrate how a typical landlord accounts for his income.

We will assume the home was built in January, 1960, at a cost of $35,000 of which $5,000 was the cost of the land and $30,000 the cost of the building. Depreciation is taken only on the building. Since the landlord and his family occupied half of the two-

TO BE 90 SUNDAY Lubbock Woman Is Glad She Decided Years Ago To Make Home In Lubbock

By TANNER LAINE
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

A choice between Lubbock and Amarillo as a place to live, and to rear a family, was made after much deliberation by Mrs. Maude Bradley on a July day back in 1929.

She chose Lubbock.

"I'm sure glad I did," said Mrs. Bradley, reflecting on her life here following that decision. She was a widow with four children when she picked the Hub City as a place to establish a drug-store.

MRS. MAUDE BRADLEY

Children Grown

She's been here ever since and has watched her chosen city grow and grow. Her children now are grown and have moved away to other cities.

Mrs. Bradley lives at 2418 9th St. She will be celebrating her 90th birthday Sunday, and a reception (planned by the children over her protests) will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at that address.

Friends, neighbors and acquaintances are invited.

"No gifts," Mrs. Bradley has insisted.

"It will just be a grand opportunity for me to visit them," the kindly woman said. (She is confined to a wheelchair.)

Mrs. Bradley is the mother of Ned Bradley, whose orchestra was a legend at Texas Tech in the 1920's. The band, which was composed of college boys, rehearsed at the Bradley house. And Mrs. Bradley "mothered" all of the members, they recalled at a reunion last year at Texas Tech's homecoming.

"When neighbors and passers-by asked me how I made it with all that noise, I just told them it wasn't noise, it was 'music,'" Mrs. Bradley said, smiling.

Apartment Plan Tabled

By JERRY HALL
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

Traffic and zoning, including a "favorable inclination" toward a pair of one-way street couplets, occupied Lubbock City Councilmen Thursday in their first session of the new year.

Zoning action saw the council table a controversial high-rise "apartment project oriented to Texas Tech students," at the southwest corner of 19th St. and College Ave. and override the Planning and Zoning Commission in two other cases.

On the traffic scene, the council decided to place on their agenda for the Jan. 20th meeting making 15th St. one-way going west and 16th St. one-way east bound.

To Give Public Chance

Main St., which already is one-way going east, would be coupled with 10th St., a new one-way going west.

Councilman W. E. Medlock was ready to make a motion putting the streets into the one-way status immediately, but after discussion the council decided to put them on the next agenda to "give the public an opportunity to let its feelings be known."

The one-way streets were recommended by a subcommittee of the Citizens Advisory Committee and are an outgrowth of similar suggestions from the Springer Report.

On another traffic matter, councilmen discussed "highly informally" the possibility of a grade separation at 19th St. and College Ave. which would involve three traffic levels.

In a "very rough preliminary sketch," councilmen saw a proposal which would leave College Ave. traffic at ground level. The 19th St. traffic would

Patty's mother, Mrs. Colleen Ryan, 19, was shot to death in Dallas by the child's grandfather, 42-year-old Robert M. Ryan. Police said Ryan had been hounding his daughter for several years and went to the drive in cafe where she worked and shot her to death. He fled the scene and later turned the gun on himself inflicting a fatal wound. (AP Wirephoto)

REFLECTS INFORMALITY—Mrs. Robert Pirtle, 4501 13th St., prefers informality in both casual and "dress-up" ensembles. She models a two-piece ensemble with a long seam fitted shell and straight skirt in toast herringbone rayon. The contoured large collar, topstitched with notches on either side, is accented with a fabric bow. A brown and black smoke ring, dark brown gloves and lizard handbag complement the ensemble. Women's Staff Photo.

Women's Staff Writer
Variety in fabrics, colors and designs is the keynote to fashion selections made by Mrs. Robert Pirtle, 4501 13th St. Casual ensembles which are comfortable and informal are chosen in preference to dressier ensembles. Mrs. Pirtle wears little jewelry.

"Anything outdoors," including gardening, yard work, golf and swimming are listed as hobbies by Mrs. Pirtle. She lists other hobbies as refinishing furniture, knitting and other needlework. Club and civic activities include membership and participation in Lubbock Country Club and Junior League.

Likes Casual Wear
The Pirtle family attends St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, 17th and 10th streets. Coronado High School, Rob. 14, and Pat. 13, attend MacKenzie Junior High School, and Elizabeth is in 10th grade.

A casual ensemble modeled by Mrs. Pirtle features a bone shell and slacks with an alpaca cardigan. The sleeveless shell has a turtle neckline. Small covered buttons, topstitched edging and three-quarter length sleeves complete the cardigan design. Mrs. Pirtle explains that accessories include only a casual handbag.

In choosing casual clothing, Mrs. Pirtle likes matching sets rather than mix-and-match sets, new styles and heavy knit sweaters with fringed hemlines.

For "Dress-Up" Wear
To illustrate the type of ensemble she would wear to "dress-up occasions," Mrs. Pirtle models a two-piece ensemble of toast rayon with a small herringbone design. The topstitched front panel of the long seam-fitted shell follows the princess line of design.

The contoured large collar is topstitched with notches on either side. The collar is accented with a small fabric bow in the center front. The set-in sleeves are short.

To complement the ensemble, Mrs. Pirtle chooses a brown and black smoke ring, dark brown lizard shoes and handbag and long brown gloves.

Mrs. A. A. Kahlich Gives Club Program

The Woodrow Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Louis Shambok, 2511 30th St., with five members and one visitor, Mrs. Victor Macha, attending.

One new member, Miss J. W. Lambright of Station, was welcomed. Mrs. A. A. Kahlich led a skit on "How Old Is Old."

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Kahlich, Rt. 1, Station, at 2 p.m. Feb. 3.

COLONIAL DAMES MEET
The Colonial Dames of the 17th Century met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Van Pelt, 2817 23rd St. Mrs. Lawrence Green gave a program on Virginia's "Historical Triangle," including Jamestown, Yorktown and Williamsburg. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Amos Harter, 3502 33rd St., at 2 p.m. March 3.

Program On Racial Relations Given New Deal WSCS Members

NEW DEAL (Special)—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the New Deal Methodist Church met Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Mel Beggus. A short business meeting was conducted before a program on racial relations of the present day.

Views of racial relations in Asia, Africa, Europe and South America were presented by Meses. W. Killion, Allan Forbes, Clayton Teeter and A. Cox.

A book, "Racial Relations and the Christian Mission" (Daisuke Kitagawa), was reviewed by Mrs. A. F. Jobe.

The book is relevant to the WSCS study of "Missions, the Christian's Calling."

Refreshments were served by the hostess following the program.

Ten members were present.

MODELS CASUAL WEAR—Mrs. Pirtle, who describes herself as the "outdoor type," models a casual ensemble of bone wool slacks and shell with an alpaca cardigan. The turtle neck shell is sleeveless. By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Many couturiers competed for the high hemline championship at the preview of spring fashions which opened Wednesday. And surely one of the foremost contenders at the four-day American designer series was Geoffrey Beene.

Cleopatra-eyed manikins in tight, thigh-high lace numbers, sometimes banded around the hipbone, put him ahead in the preliminaries.

"All Is Aglitter"
Edging their skirts were boue ostrich feathers and flouncy ruffles, and glitter. The glitter in one case came from a rhinestone petticoat.

There were wild printed silk dresses with blouson tops and deep pleated skirts; pale crepe baby doll smocks with little jeweled collars and cuffs; slick, icy white silk suits with Louis XIV bows and buttons at the sleeves. Whatever the Beene style, the costumes stopped very shortly after they got started.

Among the prizes for brevity at the Donald Brooks show were zig-zag printed Indian crepe shirts; baby smocks in brilliant patterned silks; and naughty nightie type cocktail dresses made of see-through black net over nude pink slip.

For the more modest, Brooks offered wide-legged cuffed pants costumes, too long to be gym suits and too short to be culottes.

Both Beene and Brooks created suits, jackets and dresses never meant for buxom belles.

If all had gone well, the dean of American designers, Norman Norell, would have indicated that he, too, thoroughly approved of the flat-chested, high-hemmed fashion for '66. But he canceled his plans to show the out-of-town press a capsule of the spring collection he introduced at a black tie opening Monday night.

New Game Played
A popular game the designers seem to be playing is to see who can put together a dress using the fewest number of seams. With these designers the kimono-like cut of the fabric and the way it falls naturally on the body is the important thing.

Two renegades during the late-day shows were John Moore and Jean Louis Moore, the tall Texas-born lad who made Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's inauguration gown, tossed flexible lines, small folds, shallow draping, directional seaming and complicated cutting into his collection.

With the well-shaped, usually crepe, V-necked dresses, his manikins wore huge hats of netting and ostrich feathers.

Plenty of nip and tuck could be found in the Louis collection. Waistlines could be found where they normally are, and kick pleats were in skirts.

Floaty chiffons and draped crepe sheaths, plunging necklines, bar backs and twinkling sequins added up to a glamorous night life wardrobe.

Miss Dee Brunner Honored At Shower
Miss Dee Brunner, bride-elect of Joe Mike Bryan, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Paul R. Sparkman, 2818 32nd St.

Co-hostesses were Miss Patti Lacy, Miss Marcia Sparkman and Mrs. Frank Morse. An electrical appliance was presented to the honoree.

A centerpiece of red flowers was used. Special guest was Mrs. William Brunner, mother of the honoree.

Miss Brunner and her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Don Bryan of Spearman, will be married at 8 p.m. Jan. 21 in Bowman Chapel of the First Methodist Church.

Polly's Pointers

Solution For Loose Veneer

DEAR POLLY—I enjoy the column so much and want to thank you and the people who sent in their Pointers for so many good ideas. I have some loose veneer on my dining table caused by dampness. What can I do to fix it? Thank you, dear readers, and dear Polly.—Virginia

VIRGINIA—All our thanks for those kind words. I sought out an answer to your problem which other readers may have, too.

The authority consulted says that little will be gained by simply putting some glue or other adhesive beneath the loosened veneer and then pressing it down until the adhesive dries. First it is necessary to remove the old glue both from the wood that held the veneer and the veneer itself. It will have to be carefully scraped off with a sharp instrument of some sort and care taken not to bend the veneer pieces too much. Old veneer is brittle and breaks easily.

After the new glue is applied beneath the replaced pieces, cover the repair with a piece of waxed paper and then put a flat block of wood between this and the furniture clamp that will hold the veneer in place until it dries. In other words, this is a tricky job.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I have a very tall friend and her new wool sheath dress should be lengthened enough so I helped her crochet a lady border, from matching color wool, to put around the bottom of the skirt. We added a little of the crochet trim around the neck and it is really a smart, lovely looking dress.—Mrs. R. J. L.

DEAR POLLY When hemming a flared skirt or dress, turn under the raw edge and sew with a machine basting stitch but break the thread at each seam. The threads can then be drawn up to make slight gathers in the hem edge until it will be the same size as the skirt. Handstitch the spaced.

To keep a waist seam from stretching sew a strip of seam binding just beyond or over the seam that joins waist and skirt.—Mrs. L. M. T.

DEAR POLLY—When buying bath towel sets it is sometimes hard to get matching bath mats. I buy an extra matching bath towel, fold it and then stitch it all around the edges to make a nice mat.—Edith

DEAR POLLY When the upper part of your daughter's leotards becomes too tight and "crampy" for comfortable wear, cut them off and use the long sock part to make knee socks. Elastic can be put in the tops of these socks which will stretch and often give another year's wear.—Helen

DEAR POLLY—Can anyone tell me how to remove the printing from feed bags? I would like to make towels out of them.—Barbarita

Marion Roberts, Miss Mowery Wed

AUSTIN (Special) — Miss Susan Mowery of Austin and Marion S. Roberts Jr. of Dallas were married in a double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Dec. 29 in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ray C. Mowery, 2901 20th St., Lubbock, and the late Mr. Mowery. Roberts is the son of Mrs. Marion S. Roberts of Houston.

Mrs. Roberts was given in marriage by her brother, R. Cliff Mowery, and was attended by Mrs. R. Cliff Mowery, Maj. Ernest E. Apostle was best man, and Paul W. Phee and Frank D. Scarborough of Abilene were ushers.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of candlelight peau de soie and Brussels lace jeweled in seed pearls. The molded bodice featured a batteau neckline with long sleeves tapering to petal points over the hands.

The high rise waistline extended into an A-line controlled sheath bouffant skirt with a brush train.

Her heirloom veil of Brussels lace was held in place as a mantilla with a high court Spanish comb enhanced with jewels.

She carried a large orchid atop a white Bible.

The attendant's full-length gown was of blue chiffon over taffeta. It featured a square neckline, elbow-length sleeves and empire waistline accented by green velvet. She carried three long-stem white roses.

Cecil Bolton of Lubbock was organist. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Jack Lewis, formerly of Austin, now of Ithaca, N.Y., where he is director of religious work at Cornell University.

Following the ceremony a reception was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phee. For travel, the bride chose a suit of blue raw silk with accessories to match.

A later wedding trip is planned for Mexico City. The couple will be at home at 4214 Rawlins, Apt. 118, Dallas.

The bride has been associated with the International Office of the University of Texas, where she has received B.A. and M.A. degrees. As a student, she was named an outstanding student; was president of Cap and Gown, senior girls' society; was a member of Mortar Board and the student assembly, and vice president of Alpha Phi, social sorority.

Roberts has received B.A. and LL.B. degrees from the University of Texas, where he was a member of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity, and Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity. He is associated with a law firm in Dallas.

Phi Sigma Alpha Officers Named At Dinner Meet

Theta Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha met Thursday night in the Ming Tree Restaurant, with Mrs. Alfred Redwine and Mrs. Woodrow Cates as hostesses. Aqua candles centered in aqua flowers decorated the tables. Mrs. E. W. Harkey presided at the business meeting. Twenty-two members and one visitor, Mrs. Brose Oglesby, were present. The membership accepted as a project to visit and entertain the residents of Lubbock Convalescent Home. Mrs. Calvin Manrum installed the following officers: Mmes. Harkey, president; Bob Parker, first vice president; Wallace Bogart, second vice president; Rayford Tanner, treasurer; Charles Whisenhunt, recording secretary; and Walter Seim, corresponding secretary. Following the ceremony, Mrs. Parker, program moderator, led a discussion on the book, "Inventory of Personality," with all members participating. The hostess gift was won by Mrs. H. H. Collette. Next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Feb. 3 in La Hacienda Restaurant, with Mrs. Seim and Mrs. E. W. Smith as hostesses.

Mr. Chisholm, Emily Croom Pledge Vows

HOUSTON (Special) — Miss Emily Anne Croom and Raymond Gary Chisholm were married in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Dec. 30 in the Bethany Methodist Church, with the Rev. Roy L. Bagley, minister, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Croom, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Chisholm of Amarillo. The bride wore a white broad formal-length gown with portrait neckline and chapel-length train as she was given in marriage by her father. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white chrysanthemums with white velvet ribbons. Her elbow-length veil was held by a white brocade pillbox. Miss Judith Croom served her sister as maid of honor, and the bridegroom was served by his father as best man. Ushers were Jerry Seale, Fred King and Charles Young. Lanson Demming, minister of music of St. Paul's Methodist Church, was organist, and Mrs. Charles Pena was soloist. Following the ceremony a reception was given in the church parlor. For her wedding trip the bride chose a blue and olive green three-piece suit with matching long coat and navy accessories. The couple will be at home in Vicenza, Italy, where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Army.

Edyth Thornton McLeod Beauty After Forty

"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod: PLEASE TELL ME, will my neck look worse than it does now if I diet? I am overweight.—Rose." If you are careful to take care of your neck, you should come out all right. No woman can afford to neglect her neck, yet so many do. They do not even apply makeup on their necks. If you want to "restore" your necks, send for a copy of my leaflet, "How To Youthify Your Neck." This plan, if followed, will produce results. A badly wrinkled neck, a lined-with-rings neck, is so unflattering and makes a woman look old. If you wish a copy of the leaflet, send me a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and enclose ten cents in coin. Naturally when reducing, you need more neck care. SHOULD A woman of forty-nine going on a cruise need a dinner dress? I am a career woman taking my first month's holiday I leave March 1.—S.F.H." Good for you—but of course you will need dinner dresses. The women dress every evening for dinner; this is part of the fun. When the Captain gives his dinner, you should have a very festive dress. The men dress every evening also, which all adds to the excitement of a cruise. "MY DAUGHTER, a business executive, is getting married in Chicago in March. I have to be there. Her wedding is at city hall. Could I wear a tweed suit? I am fifty-four.—Mom." No, don't wear something softer and more dressy, such as a wool dress in charcoal gray or a deep blue. Make yourself look most attractive. Wear a pretty hat. Monday—"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod"

John Hay Jr., Miss Hampton Pledge Vows

TOMBALL (Special) — Miss Anita Kay Hampton and John Frank Hay Jr. were married at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 18 in the Church of Christ, with John R. Stevens, uncle of the bridegroom, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hampton, and was given in marriage by her father as she wore an original gown of candlelight satin. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hay, 4915 17th St., Lubbock. Miss Karen Ward was maid of honor, and Misses Faye Yates of Tulsa, Okla., Ginger Hay of Lubbock, Carole Clarkson of Houston and Edelyn Mathis of Atlanta. Best man was Bill Lawrence of Ft. Worth, and groomsmen were Robert Strzinek of Lubbock, Paul McQueen of El Paso, Raymond Hardin of Tyler and Ron Schultz of Abilene. Ushers were David Bailey of Abilene and Clyde Hampton of Houston. Rick Wickman, Judy McLeod and Chester Harville, all of Abilene, were soloists with the Abilene Christian College A capella Chorus. Following the ceremony a reception was given in the Smith Hotel, and the couple left for a wedding trip to San Antonio. The couple will be at home at 2621 19th St., Lubbock, where both are students at Texas Tech. The bride has attended Abilene Christian College, and will be a senior at Tech. The bridegroom is a candidate for a masters degree in zoology at Tech, where he has been a teaching assistant for the last two years. He was graduated from Abilene Christian College, where he was a member of Frater Sodalis Social Club and the Men's Glee Club.

Net Amount Received on Rental Income Is Taxable

(Continued From Page One) expenses solely attributed to the rented section are charged at 100 per cent. A typical repair expense for a two-family home would be: exterior painting $250.00; repair plumbing for tenant $2.50; carpentry work for tenant $18.90; furnace inspection, filters $12.50. Total $283.90. Items shown in the "other expenses" tabulation might be: mortgage interest $375.50; real estate taxes $218.00; fire insurance $8.00; snow removal $17.25; landscaping $55.00; water charges $7.25. Total $776.70. Total charges against the rental income would be $1509.60 ($375 depreciation plus $413.90 repairs plus $720.70 in other expenses). If the landlord was collecting $150 a month rent and had the home rented for the full year he would have collected $1,800. But on his income tax return he would only show a net rental income of $290.40—($1,800 minus $1509.60). The accompanying illustration shows how this is reported on Schedule B of Form 1040. The accounting of the $375 claimed in depreciation on the building is also reported on Schedule B (see illustration). In reporting the cost of the property, we have used the $15,000 figure which represents the investment attributable to the rented section. We have the straight-line method of depreciation (abbreviated S. L. on the schedule). This allows the identical 2% write-off annually over the useful life of the property.

Total charges against the rental income would be $1509.60 ($375 depreciation plus $413.90 repairs plus $720.70 in other expenses).
If the landlord was collecting $150 a month rent and had the home rented for the full year he would have collected $1,800. But on his income tax return he would only show a net rental income of $290.40—($1,800 minus $1509.60). The accompanying illustration shows how this is reported on Schedule B of Form 1040.
The accounting of the $375 claimed in depreciation on the building is also reported on Schedule B (see illustration). In reporting the cost of the property, we have used the $15,000 figure which represents the investment attributable to the rented section.
We have the straight-line method of depreciation (abbreviated S. L. on the schedule). This allows the identical 2% write-off annually over the useful life of the property.

Opening lead: Seven of ♠

An error in timing cost South his three no trump contract. North opened with one diamond and East overcalled with one heart. South's free bid of one no trump adequately describes his 10 points and balanced distribution. North probed for a possible spade fit; however, when South rebid two no trump, North was content to abide by his partner's judgment and carried on to game.

West opened the seven of hearts and East played the nine. As South won the trick with the jack, declarer led a diamond and finessed dummy's queen. When East's jack appeared, it had all the earmarks of a singleton. If South cashed the ace of diamonds next, it would probably establish two tricks in the suit for West.

Since it was not convenient to reenter his hand for another diamond play, declarer led a small diamond from dummy and put up his ten to force out West's king. West returned his last heart. East played the ace and then cleared the suit.

South was in with the king of hearts, and he took a diamond finesse against West's nine, putting in the eight from dummy. This play enabled him to run four diamond tricks but, after the ace of clubs was cashed, he had no quick re-entry to his hand to take his ninth trick, represented by the king of clubs. East got in first with the king of spades and proceeded to cash the sitting tricks in hearts.

Altho declarer handled the diamond suit skillfully, he erred in not cashing North's ace of clubs first before the small diamond was led from dummy. A trick there if South unblocks the clubs, when East knocks out the last heart stopper, declarer will be in position to cash the king of clubs. After the second diamond finesse clears up that suit, South has his nine tricks in one spade, two hearts four diamonds and two clubs.

Lubbock Rose Society Given Laundry Tour

Lubbock Rose Society met Wednesday afternoon in Municipal Gardens-Arts Center. Members toured Quality Steam Laundry. Kenneth Woodard conducted the tour and explained machinery used in laundering clothing. Following the tour, members met at the center for refreshments and business. Two new members, Mrs. Ralph Edler and Mrs. John T. Fullingim, were recognized. Sixteen members attended. Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Kelly, Mrs. J. L. Eaton and Mrs. S. E. McWhorter. Next meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 2 in the center.

Net Amount Received on Rental Income Is Taxable

BUSY INTERSECTION STUDIED New One-Way Streets Due To Be Designated In City utilize an underpass while the northbound traffic on College desiring to turn west on 19th would be routed around an aerial "half-clover leaf" which would cross College and discharge into 19th going west.

Two councilmen, in an informal session after the meeting, hinted that a bond election "might be on way" to finance such an improvement. In other action Thursday, the council: 1. Voted to try 30-degree angle parking along 13th St. to see how it works during the period left before a report is due on the 45-degree angle parking in use on a trial basis elsewhere; 2. Authorized initial plans for the 1966 paving program which will include 140 residential and thoroughfare blocks and 30 alleys.

Thoroughfares will include 50th St. from Indiana Ave. to Silber Road on the south side, Quirt Ave. from 34th St. to 50th St. and Quaker Ave. from 53rd St. to the loop.

Paving hearings will be conducted in about six weeks. Indiana Lines Set 3. Established a building line on Indiana between 19th St. and 34th St. which, after right-of-way is obtained and the street is widened, will handle three lanes of traffic going each way; 4. Approved revisions in the city electrical code which has been under study by a citizens group for several months; 5. Heard a report on Workweek, which suggested several possibilities on the future of the program but delayed action for additional study; 6. Approved on first reading closing of several streets and alleys adjacent to Sears-Roebuck & Co. and the American State Bank and

7. Awarded contracts amounting to several thousand dollars on low bids for various budgeted items for city department use. Confer With Attorney When the council began voting on the zoning cases, members went into a lengthy huddle with City Atty. Fred Senter around the mayor's chair on the Coliseum and 19th streets. After some 20 minutes of discussion in low tones, Medlock made a motion to "table this request temporarily." Simpson made the second, and the vote was unanimous.

Chapman, who remained at the session all day, later expressed disappointment and wonderment at "how long is temporary." Apartment Plan Okayed In the first of the other nine zone change requests, the majority of which were for still more apartment projects, County Atty. Fred West won unanimous approval for R-3 zoning near Bangor Ave. and 4th St. West said he had a loan commitment for $1.4 million to build 160 apartments averaging $10,000 in value per unit. Simpson moved approval of the change, and the second was by Kastman.

The next zone case was the first in which councilmen overruled the zoning commission's recommendation. Mrs. C. D. Knight was seeking A-3 zoning at the southeast corner of 16th St. and Quaker Ave. "Wants To Be 'Consistent'" Kastman commented that "item 14 today (another zone case) is a recommendation from the zoning board for R-3 zoning in the entire area which this tract is located. There's another zone change being requested today also in that category, and I move that we be consistent and grant R-3 in all three cases. Simpson made the second and the vote was unanimous.

The zoning board had recommended both of the other cases where R-3 was involved. One was the request of Gene Blackburn near Peoria and Quaker. Leland Payne was granted C-3 zoning at the northwest corner of 40th St. and Ave. Q. Appeal Is Continued An appeal by Bruce Barrier for M-2 zoning on the south side of E. Broadway near the entrance to Mackenzie State Park was continued until the next meeting.

motion of Simpson and second by Kastman, C&G Corp. and Mrs. Pearl Newberry were granted R-3 zoning near 5th St. and Ave. W. The second time the zoning board's recommendation was turned down was on a request by Bob Medlar and Bill Straencer for R-3 to build apartments on the east side of College Ave. between 25th St. and 26th St. Sees Crowding In Area An adjacent property owner told the council he had an easement on some of the property involved, and Kastman commented "I feel like this is crowding up a little anyway."

The mayor said he "didn't necessarily agree." Kastman made a motion to deny the request, and the second was by Simpson. All the councilmen voted to deny, but Tidmore voted against the motion. The zoning board's request for R-3 in an area north of 19th St. between Quaker Ave. and Brownfield Highway extending to a point even with the south line of 15th St. was the one which prompted Kastman to make his "three-in-one" motion. It was approved, and the mayor commended the zoning board "for making thorough, blanket studies such as these."

801 More Apartments The final zone change granted was the request of Howell Killgore for the Maddox Investment Co for a specific use for more lege Avenue to Avenue X from the alley north of 20th Street southward to 22nd Place. This rezoning had been opposed by some of the home owners who objected to the dormitories and apartment houses along 19th Street.

Traffic "Chaos" Seen Approval of high-density housing units in the neighborhood would "result in nothing short of chaos," Mrs. J. T. Krueger argued. She said this would happen because of increased traffic congestion at the 19th St.-College Ave. intersection. High rise apartments and dormitories in the area south of the Tech campus is "neither logical, reasonable or feasible," Mrs. John R. Chalk added. She and other opponents said they feared approval of even one project would lead to further encroachments to the west.

Members of the Planning Commission earlier had voiced similar beliefs. One opponent, Bob Corley took advantage of the hearing to blast what he considered misguided attempts to rejuvenate downtown Lubbock. "Downtown Lubbock is in trouble," he said, "and it's not because women have a hard time finding a place to park. It's the congestion of the streets."

He said a move toward alleviating this congestion should be made both in the downtown area and along streets leading downtown. To erect dormitories along 19th Street, he said, would serve to complicate the existing congestion. In other action at the monthly meeting in City Hall, the Planning Commission: —Approved for apartment use the north one-half of a block between 35th and 36th Streets from Flint Avenue to Gary Avenue. The south one-half was recommended for duplex use. A minimum lot area of 1,500 square feet would be required for each apartment unit, with one and one-half off-street parking spaces per unit made mandatory. Melvin Harvey and Burl Jones had asked for apartment zoning on the entire tract.

Okayed for Bob Agy a spot of apartment zoning on one lot and of day nursery zoning on two adjoining lots at 42nd St. and Chicago Ave. Approved requests by Jere Kirk and Charles Dollins for apartment zoning on 5th Street between Avenues W and X. Restrictions identical to those on nearby property were imposed. —Planned Zoning Okayed —Recommended C-4 heavy commercial zoning at 30th St. and Ave. D. Larry E. Ezell and Charlie M. Young Jr. had requested M-1 industrial zoning for a potato processing plant, but agreed to the higher C-4 designation after nearby residents expressed fears a night club might go on the property if it were zoned industrially.

Said "yes" to a request by Ed Martin for M-2 heavy industrial zoning at 2nd St. and N. Ave. K to permit modernization of a concrete batching plant. The property was restricted to that one use at the request of nearby residents. —Rejected a request by Charles L. Cobb for Dale Bellamah Homes for duplex zoning at 66th St. and Oxford Ave. Owners and developers of nearby single-family homes opposed the re-zoning on the basis duplexes would deteriorate the infant neighborhood. —Sought Restriction Removal —Okayed Tom Griffith's request for E. G. White Jr., for C-2 local retail zoning at 4th St. and Hartford Ave. Another request by White for apartment zoning at 2nd Pl. and Hartford Ave. was delayed for public hearing a fourth time. —Rejected Dollins' request for T. R. Bumpass for removal of restrictions requiring a masonry screening fence and a 25-foot setback from 35th Street on property near Avenue U. However, a driveway opening was permitted in the fence. Dollins said a business school is being built on part of the tract. —Approved Harold Chapman's plan for an office building at 40th St. and Ave. U for Hicks and Ragland Co. —Took from the table and approved apartment zoning at 47th St. and Chicago Ave., requiring one and one-half off-street parking spaces per unit and allowing one unit for each 1,500 square feet of lot area. The zone change had been requested earlier by Griffith for L. D. Thomas. Hearings were delayed on two requests for R-3 "catch-all" zoning along 22nd Street just west of Knoxville Avenue. Edward R. Smith was elected chairman of the commission for 1966, with Arnold Maeker being named vice chairman. Smith succeeds W. B. Holmes. A special session was called for 11:30 a.m. Monday to complete consideration of several subdivision plans. Present were: Holmes, Smith, Maeker, Aubrey H. Faulkner Sr., Syd Moore, George Campbell, and new members R. D. Whipple Sr. and Charles B. Jones. Roy Jennings was absent.

NEW DEAL (Special) — The Home Demonstration Club met at noon Thursday in the New Deal community center for a salad luncheon. Mrs. W. M. Killian was hostess. Guest speaker was Mrs. Helen McElwold of Lubbock, speaking on "Legal Aspects of the Partnership, the Wife." Other guests were Mrs. Royce Patterson of Lubbock, Mrs. R. G. McNeely and Mrs. Samuel Storrs. Mrs. Patterson was in charge of the installation of officers: Mrs. Killian, president; Mrs. F. H. Henry, vice president; and Mrs. C. A. McDonald Jr., secretary-treasurer. Club members toured the spinning mills in Raisin. Next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Jan. 20 in the Community Center, with Mrs. Charley Jackson as hostess.

Bigger, Better And Brighter Garden Flowers Will Be Available This Year

IN NEW COLORS—A young zinnia plant in the Texas Tech annual flower trial area shows tremendous potential for Plains residents. These hybrid zinnias are being developed in many new color categories.

What in the way of garden flowers can we expect in the near future?

In addition to new roses and new gladiolus, new dahlias, iris, and mums, some of the most drastic departures or changes in development have taken place in the seed-grown annuals; and the catalogue descriptions stating: "newer and bigger and better, or brighter or more unusual will be true claims as many of these new items actually exist and are not merely on the drawing boards."

Thus, hybrid zinnias—a dream 10 years ago—should shortly be on the market. These zinnias have factors for additional vigor and disease resistance which would permit you to have bigger, more double, longer-lasting zinnia flowers and plants with no more effect than you exert now.

Makes Difference
This advantage might not be so spectacular to see in other areas, but under our bright sun conditions, this factor for disease resistance and flower size really can make a difference in performance compared to the very best that have been available on the market in the past years.

New snapdragons are now available and should be in this area this coming spring. They appear to last longer and give greater total show of color because of the fact that the snap in the snapdragon was bred to be left open, this giving it a penstemon appearance. These snapdragons against proved to be top-notch performers under our South Plains conditions.

We have not been quite so fortunate in finding suitable giant-flowered dwarf marigolds that would be well adapted to South Plains conditions, but no doubt in due time this heat resistance factor will be brewed into new varieties of marigolds.

Texas Bluebells
Area plant dealers who have not had them in the past should be stocking a few Texas bluebells this season. These native Texas wildflowers are now domesticated and appear to withstand our drought conditions and heat rather well.

Texas Bluebells are grown from very small seed, and they form extremely small plants which grow very slowly the first few months of their existence.

Plants just an inch and a half to three inches tall planted early in the spring should produce excellent flowers this season. These plants have few problems in the garden except perhaps the overproduction of seed, which does tend to shorten their life span.—E.Z.

Garbage Collector Has Fitting Title
SWANSEA, Wales (AP)—Ernest Arnold was asked in court to state his occupation.

"I'm a garbage collector," he said. "What's that?" the judge asked. "I'm a garbage collector," said Arnold. He was fined $28 for stealing a car battery.

ALERT THEM TO NEEDS

Extended Weather Data Should Aid Gardeners

By ED ZUKAUCKAS
Tech Horticulturist

The full coverage weather information which is being disseminated by the improved, extended weather bureau reports should be of considerable value to regional gardeners to at least alert them to possible needs of their garden plants.

Whenever the sun is bright and temperatures moderate, with low humidities and some air movement, the rate of water loss may be such that, even at this time of year, watering might be necessary, especially in plant beds where relatively shallow root absorbing capabilities of Bermuda grass can be found.

Therefore, perhaps it would be best to go out and look for yourself, but having some idea of the drying conditions and the rate of water loss certainly can alert you to a closer estimation of possible water need in your landscape.

Another problem which appears to be developing is one which frequently arises when some member of the family has been fortunate enough to obtain some new pruning equipment, and he begins to make mince-meat out of trees and shrubs.

Purpose Of Pruning
Many pruning acts are performed for the sake of pruning, but are really a method of gaining exercise. Pruning is simple, practical and logical. Most of the intentions in pruning are aimed at making the plants stronger or more attractive.

In most instances, pruning which is done for an increase of strength selects just a few major scaffold branches: preserve these; and eliminate superfluous branches like those especially on fruitless mulberry, which tends to over produce many major branches.

Gardeners should make it a point to make their cuts of main branches flush to the main trunk itself so that eventually this scar can be healed over completely. Young trees, of course, need to have just a number of main branches selected and these branches so spaced that they arise at different points along the trunk rather than all at or near the same place.

By all means, trim up and trim out narrow angled branches, although this is not usually necessary in oaks and other strong-wooded trees.

On a warm, sunny day you might also check over your gates and latches. Often continued use of wooden gates will tend to loosen wooden stops or partially pull out parts of the latches.

By all means, see about applying dormant oil sprays to trees that have been attacked by scale this past season.

Consumer Confidences In 1966 Is Reported
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A University of Michigan survey says the American consumer is confident 1966 will be a prosperous year and he contemplates major expenditures, including a new car.

The university's Institute for Social Research says that the proportion of families planning to buy new cars is higher than last year.

Winners Named In Divisions Of Bridge Play

Winners were named in two divisions Thursday as the annual "King Cotton" sectional bridge tournament opened at Koko Palace.

At least 152 pairs from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado competed in opening rounds of the tourney, which continues through Sunday.

Lee Mirowitz and Don Taylor captured first place in Cotton Seed pairs while two teams deadlocked for second and third place. They were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hearne, Mrs. L. C. Gore and Mrs. Lenore Kreiger.

Winners Listed
Played simultaneously was Masters pairs competition. First session leaders north-south were Mrs. Roy Thompson and Mrs. Wesley Stuart, both of Lubbock.

In second was Barbara Phelps and O. B. Stuart, both of Lubbock, with Boots Kendrick, Lubbock, and Jim Hooker, Odessa, finishing in third spot.

First session leaders east-west were Mrs. R. L. Wood-Mrs. H. H. Conger, both of Midland, Al Armstrong, Lubbock and Fred Pryor, Dallas, teamed up for second place honors while Mrs. Jack Clendenin, Lubbock and Sue Emery, Wichita Falls, placed third.

Results of Masters pairs (second session) and side play were not available early today.

Competition continues in five events today with initial action scheduled at 9:30 a.m.

The Llano Estacado sectional tourney—largest in Texas—is sponsored by Lubbock Unit No. 197.

Czech Broadcasts Reportedly Jammed
LONDON (AP)—Red-ruled Czechoslovakia has complained to Britain that Czech domestic broadcasts are being jammed by pop music and commercials from this direction.

The British post office said the interference came from a "pirate" transmitter called Radio Caroline which operates around the clock from two vessels off the British coast and makes it money broadcasting commercials.

Rex Allen's Horse Arrested At Border
EHRENBERG, Ariz. (AP)—Koko, cowboy singer Rex Allen's horse, was whooped at the Arizona-California border and arrested. The horse's health certificate was missing—left back on the ranch in California.

In Phoenix, Allen faced 1,000 people at the Arizona National Livestock Show without Koko. It took several hours before officials of the livestock show got Koko sprung.

GROWERS TO MEET
South Plains dahlia growers will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Garden-Arts Center to organize a dahlia society. Plans will be made for a dahlia show to be held at the center in September.

Oakwood Baptist To Dedicate Sanctuary

The formal dedication of the new sanctuary of Oakwood Baptist Church will take place Sunday afternoon and night and Tuesday night.

Dr. T. A. Patterson, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Dallas, will give greetings from Texas Baptists in the service at 10:30 a.m. Sunday and will speak in a service at 2:30 p.m. Sunday on "Oakwood Baptists and Our State Convention."

Wayland President Speaks—Dr. John E. Schwensen, pastor, will preach in the morning service. The service of dedication, with pastor and people participating, will follow the sermon.

In the Sunday afternoon service, Dr. Roy C. McClung, president of Wayland Baptist College, will speak on "Oakwood Baptists and Higher Education" and the Wayland International Choir will present a concert of sacred music, under direction of James Crum.

"Calvary Appreciation Night" will be observed at 7 p.m. Sunday, in honor of Calvary Baptist Church, sponsor of the Oakwood congregation. Dr. W. E. Thorn, former pastor of Calvary Church and now pastor of Metropolitan Baptist Church of Wichita, Kan., will speak. The combined choirs of Calvary and Oakwood churches will sing, under direction of F. Marvin Myers, minister of music and education of Oakwood church. Jack Christie, former music director for Oakwood church, will present special music.

"Lubbock Night" Planned—At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, "Lubbock Night" will be observed as services of dedication continue. Greetings will be given by Dr. W. M. Turner, missions superintendent of Lubbock Baptist Association; Mayor Max Tidmore; the Rev. William S. Smith, president of Lubbock Ministers Association; and the Rev. I. D. Walker, moderator of Lubbock Baptist Association.

Other pastors of Lubbock churches participating in the Tuesday night service will be Dr. Dudley Strain, First Christian Church; the Rev. R. L. Porter, Antioch Baptist Church; and the Rev. Curtis Simpson, Southside Baptist Church. Dr. F. E. Swanner, Caprock-Plains area missions superintendent, Plainview, will give greetings and the Rev. Boyce Evans, Lubbock, of the Development Department of Hardin-Simmons University, will give the benediction.

Ministers of the city have been invited to attend the Tuesday night service. The public also has been invited to participate in services. A nursery will be open during all of the services.

Oakwood Baptist Church was organized as a self-sustaining, incorporated church Nov. 11, 1962, with 425 charter members. The chapel had opened 14 months previously under leadership of the present pastor, Dr. John E. Schwensen. In May of 1962, the congregation entered into the first of three construction programs which ended with completion of the new sanctuary last month.

The first unit, containing 8,000 square feet of educational space, was built at a cost of $70,000, exclusive of equipment. The second unit, built in 1964, contains 9,000 square feet of floor space, including a basement unit. It was built at a cost of $65,000, exclusive of equipment.

The newly completed facilities contain more than 25,000 square feet of space and were built at a cost of $220,000, including furnishings. The new facilities contain, in addition to the sanctuary, an office suite and additional fellowship and educational areas which will be developed later.

Hunter Construction Co. was the contractor. Herman Ribberd was architect. Melvin Harvey, chairman of the building committee, and Clem Simpson, chairman of the building finance committee, will take part in the Sunday afternoon program.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR RESIGNS

Role Of Ministry In Social Protests Brings Cleavages

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press International Two Presbyterian ministers, a continent apart, demonstrated during the first week of 1966 how wide and deep is the cleavage which has developed in Protestant churches over social action.

Instructor At Emory Insists "God Is Dead"

By KATHRYN JOHNSON ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A leader in the "God is dead" movement says he takes the phrase literally, holding that God died in Christ on the cross. "Christianity resurrected the body of Christ," said Dr. Thomas J. Altizer, 38, "but that which the Church knew as the resurrected body of Christ is dead."

CRITICISM MOUNTS

Storm Of Protest His views have stirred a storm of protest in Emory circles, but Dr. Altizer is unrepentant. He said he and other leaders of the "God is dead" movement, including William Hamilton of Colgate University and Paul Van Buren of Temple University, are simply trying "to work out a new form of Christian theology."

R. W. Pope Funeral Scheduled Saturday

R. W. Pope Sr., 65, former Lubbock resident, died about 11 a.m. Thursday at his home in Arnett, Tex. Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Saturday in Sanders Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Hardy Brigham, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. T. Bolding, associate pastor of First Baptist Church.

Criticism Mounts

A university trustee, William R. Bowdoin, called Dr. Altizer "an irresponsible individual who used powerfully bad judgment" and declared "I wish he'd leave promptly." Dr. Sanford Atwood, Emory's president, commented: "Dr. Altizer is a man who feels he has an idea worth discussing."

What's GARDENING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SUSAN'S mother is a wonderful cook. She'll teach her little girl all about garnishes and dumplings and conserves ... and about dozens of other skills that will help Susan to be a talented homemaker herself, one day.

We pass our own store of knowledge on to our children because we want to make things easier for them in the future. They will need all the preparation we can give them in order to cope with a life that grows ever more complex.

ABOVE all, we owe our children the opportunity to learn about their best Friend, God. Awareness of His loving presence will give them confidence and courage whatever they do, wherever they go. Through regular church attendance, they can absorb the inspiring principles of Christianity ... the most valuable recipes for modern living that exist.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway says there's nothing that takes the old go-go out of a person like running short of funds.

Job had patience, all right, but in his day there were no dealings with bureaucrats.

LIKE MANY another American, I recently have read with casual interest several news stories and magazine pieces about the probable state of the nation's business in 1966.

Unfortunately, there is not among the oft-quoted economists of the land any blessed with the crystal ball foresight credited to Mrs. Jeanne Dixon, the celebrated Washington seeress who, strangely, has a whole of a high batting average over a considerable period of years. The economists, like the rest of us, can do no more than run up an estimate of what probably "will happen . . . if."

To be sure, professional economists must be accepted as being better informed on the nation's economy than the rest of us, just as sound and experienced baseball and football men are better judges of which youngsters likely will be the stars of the future than some group of jugglers, song-and-dance men, or ministers.

But just as many a scintillating college star fails to make the grade in pro football, and most bush league home run wallpapers fall on their faces in the Big Time of baseball, many a business comes a cropper and many a stock which "should" go up goes down when the going is rough.

IT'S TAKING nothing away from the professional economists to note that they can't be relied upon to score a touchdown on every play and that their prognostications cannot be accepted as Gospel. If they could, all the rest of us could get rich riding along with them and it is a matter of record that the wealthiest men in the land are not economists.

The citizen may enjoy reading the forecasts of the money guides and, conceivably, can learn some good, sound lessons therefrom. But if he is wise he'll remember that fortune-telling, of any kind, is a most precarious and haphazard trade. If there were an economist who really knew which businesses are going to make a killing in '66, and which stocks are going through the roof, he'd keep his trap shut, beg, borrow and or steal every dime he could corral and put it where he knows it'll do the most good!

Solomon was lucky in one respect. In his day, wives didn't go in for mink.

That Man on Avenue Q says it may be possible to hurry a woman on some occasions, but when she's dressing to go out to dinner is not one of them.

It's no compliment nowadays for a man to be described as sound as a dollar.

The fellow who says there is no such thing as perpetual motion has never baby-sat with a normal five-year-old boy.

SOME OF US were grouching the other day about the scarcity of "give-away" calendars in this jet age—the big kind you hang on the wall, or those about six by nine inches, showing all the 12 months of the year—that a fellow can slip under the glass top of his desk and read without peering too closely.

Time once was when everybody was loaded down bowlegged with calendars of some size, but no more. There are plenty of the small, wallet-size ones these days, and a multiplicity of little 'uns for perching on a desk. But there is a great paucity of the other kind.

The conversation reminded me what unquestionably was the great landmark in calendars—a New Year of over a half-century ago, a time when, with darning-do "September Morn" made her debut, in color.

The well done picture of the lissome lass, standing on one foot, ankle deep in the shallow waters of a lake and dressed only in her birthday suit created more than a furore. It brought forth an explosion!

A PICTURE like that today would result in no more than a fleeting glance and might even avoid a calendar in a pastor's study without generating criticism, or even conversation. But in those dear, dead days it was really something.

I was just a kid of seven or eight, I reckon, when "September Morn" was born, but I remember the hullabaloo which was raised by it.

Pastors roared against it. Some women even ordered their husbands to "get that thing out of your office," and the more courageous males, who fetched home calendars featuring the lass, got a more thorough going-over than a pro quarterback with a weak line in front of him.

Actually, as a calendar art gem, "September Morn" doubtless struck a new high in perfection. As an advertising gimmick it attracted much more attention than a stag at bay, "The Glensiders," a snow-covered mountain, or a red-coated huntsman jumping his mount over a fence in chase of a fox—which scenes abounded before "September Morn" ushered in a new era.

For a good many years thereafter, until people began to realize that there really isn't anything basically sinful about a young girl's bare hide, the term "she would have posed for 'September Morn'" was used to describe any young woman deemed by members of the sewing circle to be "fast."

"September Morn" is largely forgotten now, but in its day it was as big an event as the recent rendezvous in space is now.

How times change!

BILLY GRAHAM:

My Answer

QUESTION: My church is trying to get me to take a Sunday School class of children. They are so mischievous that several teachers have resigned, and I'm not sure that I have the patience to do a good job with them. What should one do under such circumstances? J.A.

ANSWER: I can think of no finer contribution one could make than to teach children about the Gospel and the saving power of Christ. Of course children are mischievous, and who would make them old before their time? But, what workers with children often forget is: children, though at times may appear disinterested, are never unresponsive to a lesson sincerely and prayerfully taught. If one lets their capers distract him enough to become impatient, then the teacher loses his grip. With some imagination, and study of child behavior, a good teacher can break through and get the attention of the group, and great benefit can come to such a class.

Daniel Webster once said: "If we work on marble it will perish. If we work on brass, time will efface it. If we rear temples they will crumble to the dust. But if we work on men's immortal minds, if we imbue them with high principles, with a just fear of God and love of their fellow men, we engrave upon those tablets something that time cannot efface, and which will brighten and brighten to all eternity."

Take the class as a challenge from God, and do some powerful engraving on these tablets for eternity.

ALLEN & SCOTT:

Cuban Jews Persecuted

MIAMI—The House Immigration Investigating Subcommittee is looking into Fidel Castro's increasing persecution of religious groups, particularly the dwindling Jewish community in Havana. Rep. Michael Feighan, (D-Ohio), chairman, and a staff assistant, now in Florida for a first-hand study of the Cuban refugee program, are interviewing fleeing Catholics and Protestants on the plight of the Jews.

The preliminary findings indicate that 80 per cent of the nearly 11,000 Jews in Cuba at the time of Castro's takeover have left the Communist-ruled island—with a majority fleeing to the U.S.

OF THE 2,000 remaining Jews, Department of Health, Education and Welfare authorities estimate that 1,300 are seeking to leave in the large-scale refugee exodus now underway.

"Many of these Jews, like their Catholic and Protestant brethren, came to Cuba to escape Nazi and Communist persecution in the 1930s and '40s," Representative Feighan pointed out in a memorandum to members of his subcommittee. "Cubans of all faiths now say that those Jewish refugees are again being forced to flee because of Castro's persecution."

FEIGHAN STRESSED that Castro's policy of harassing Catholics and Protestants applies equally to the Jewish community in Havana.

"Refugees report that religious persecution, confiscation of all property, and forcible Communist indoctrination of children is forcing members of the Jewish community to leave Cuba," reports Feighan. "Their plight under Castro parallels their plight under Nazism."

AFTER A DETAILED inspection of the Miami receiving center and discussions with U.S. officials, Feighan will return to Washington to prepare for public hearings on the Cuban refugee program.

As chairman of the Immigration Subcommittee, he is probably better informed on this sensitive subject than any other member of Congress. In hearings last year on the Cuban refugee problem, Feighan charged that Castro had selected 50 per cent of the refugees who departed following the 1962 missile crisis.

It is Feighan's conviction that with direct U.S. help and a tougher policy toward Castro, the more than 275,000 refugees now in the U.S. can be the nucleus of the "wave of the future" that will eventually topple the Red dictator.

SYLVIA PORTER:

Policy Goal Is Restraint

"WE WOULDN'T BE worrying about inflation now if we hadn't cut income taxes so much in 1964," said my long-term friend, a multimillionaire who has profited enormously from his business as well as his stock investments in recent years. "I warned you that cutting taxes when we were running budget deficits would put too much money in the economy and encourage too much spending."

As I involuntarily whispered, "Oh, that's not it at all!" he shrugged me off and continued: "You have been writing for months that there are unhealthy pressures in our economy now and we've reached the point of actual shortages of some materials and worker categories. Why? Because the tax cut created the pressures? The slack we had in our economy was a good thing and your 'New Economics' killed it. Now you wait and see: they'll take back all the tax cuts. You said it yourself only yesterday. The President will 'reverse gears.'"

SO THERE it is, the reopening on a new level of the wisdom of the new 1964 income tax reductions.

The obvious tightness in today's economy has again given a powerful voice to those who honestly believe, "A little recession is good for us." The reappearance of manpower shortages has given those who like it when unemployment is comparatively high (although they won't admit it out loud) a new reason to attack expansionist policies.

I HEREBY enter a vigorous dissent to my friend's arguments—and I refrain from snide comments on how he has prospered from the tax cuts. My points are:

(1) The pressures in our economy today are coming not from the tax cuts of 1964 but from the rapid buildup in Viet Nam spending piled on top of an already strong economy. Were it not for Viet Nam spending, we would not be debating the proper "mix" of more tax cuts and bigger Great Society spending in '66 to sustain the upswing.

(2) The pressures also are the result of the timing of the Viet Nam stimulus. Strictly from an economic viewpoint—and nothing else—we would have welcomed this stimulus in the early 1960s, when we were trying to pull the economy out of its sluggishness. We did, in fact, welcome the Berlin buildup for precisely this reason.

(3) The 1964 tax cuts achieved everything their supporters hoped for. The tax reductions added tremendously to consumer spending, which in turn spurred industrial production and business investment in modern plants and equipment, which in turn sent corporation profits soaring. Other factors have helped fuel this upturn, of course, but the tax reductions have been a vital, central force.

(4) AT THE same time, the rising paychecks and profits created by a rising economy have produced more income taxes for the Federal Government. Between mid-'64 and mid-'65—the first full fiscal year after the tax cuts became law—Federal revenue climbed $3.5 billion to $93 billion.

(5) The comment, "They'll take back all the tax cuts," is unadulterated nonsense—assuming Viet Nam spending doesn't blow up to fear-some proportions. Taxes have been slashed by $21.5 billion in this decade: $2.7 billion via tax incentives to business investment in 1962; $14 billion via income tax cuts in 1964; $4.8 billion via the excise tax cuts voted in 1965. The Viet Nam war would have to reach fantastic dimensions for all this to be taken back—and still to be decided is whether anything will be taken back.

THE CRUCIAL point which cannot be over-emphasized now is that the "New Economics" must and will work two ways. In 1961-65, it dictated a policy goal of expansion. In 1966 Viet Nam is compelling a shift in policy goal toward restraint. When the Viet Nam nightmare ends, expansion, will once more be the policy goal.

To attribute the Viet Nam pressures of 1966 to the tax cuts of 1964 is, as one authority says, "Like saying we shouldn't take our coats off in summer because we will need them when Winter comes."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL:

"Good Life" Misunderstood

A SUBJECT of widespread interest is how best to attain the Good Life. Political pundits and Utopian dreamers constantly are telling us that we may be nearer to the achievement of the Good Life now than ever before in history. Yet they fail to define the Good Life in terms that are satisfactory to those who are seeking it.

The attainment of the Good Life is a goal toward which men long have been striving, but it is evident that the term, as used today, means something different than that envisioned by the ancient philosophers. The latter spoke of the Good Life in terms of its intellectual and spiritual dimensions. Today's political theorists seem to equate it with the possession of an abundance of material things.

Just as the idea of the "more abundant life," as advocated by the New Dealers in the 1930s, differed from that taught by Jesus, so the modern definition of the Good Life differs from the ideal stressed by the philosophers. A University of Pennsylvania sociologist, Dr. E. A. Gutkind, recently described the shallow concept which prevails today.

"To multitudes," he says, "the Good Life means going to a cinema, a theater, a concert, a game, in other words taking part in commercialized entertainment. There are, of course, the opportunity for social intercourse, the availability of institutions of learning and culture, and many other activities.

"For the great majority of people," he continues, "the Good Life is identical with trivial entertainment, cheap music, superficial writing, and an unending stream of visual trash. Their life is divorced from an enthusiastic faith in the future. It is focused on immediate pleasure sustained by a simplification of the grave problems pressing in upon them. Their great ambition is the imitation of the upper classes, to keep up with the Joneses. The prospect of more leisure, more frightening than hard work, has turned into a fear of leisure. And science in its present morally irresponsible state does not hold out any hope of happiness—though it could do this—but only an ever-growing helplessness and dependence on the 'wonders of science and technology.'"

If our idea of the Good Life is shallow, as the Pennsylvania professor seems to think it is, it may be because so many people have accepted a false definition of the term. The sooner we revise our thinking and arrive at a deeper understanding of what the Good Life really is, the better off we shall be.

WHITNEY BOLTON:

Newspaper Map Recalls Chat With 20,000-Year-Old Man

NEW YORK—There was a map 150 million years old in The New York Times the other Sunday, showing that Asia, Europe, North America, South America and Australia, at that time, were all joined in one piece, a continuous run of land, with occasional lakes and inland seas, but joined, continent to continent.

The theory is that thermal forces within the earth pressured and thrust up what we now know to be the Atlantic Ridge and, thus, separated the continents, pushing them apart, breaking them away from each other.

ALL I COULD think of was an old man in a dinner suit so old it was turning green.

An old man I picked up in Westwood Village in Los Angeles one late afternoon and dropped off in Culver City. He said he lived out that way, toward the Baldwin Hills and had lived there, man and boy, for 20,000 years. That's right—20,000 years.

IN THOSE days the geological history of California fascinated me, because a geologist had told me that California was unfinished, that it faced change and even cataclysm sometime—next week or 5,000 years hence—but change.

He told me of the Mojave Desert and the Coastland cliffs and many things, including how the La Brea tar pits happened, how old they were and that prehistoric creatures used to mire in them and drown in the petroliated mud.

KNOWING A FEW of these things, even if superficially, I threw questions at my passenger in the car and he answered every one of them with accuracy and even threw in homely, intimate details.

"This was all terribly hot and tropical," I remember him saying at one point. "We lived, my parents and I, up there in the hills in a large and dry cave. Just about there, where that cliff you can see now is. Of course, severe earthquakes have done away with it. I'm sorry to say. It would be nice to walk up there and see the old place again. The whole terrain is changed."

RIGHT HERE, where we are riding, used to be under sea water. A tongue of the ocean swept in here and went all the way across the Mojave as far as Lone Pine. Ever been in the Owens River Valley up there and seen the clam shells and so on where only desert is now?

"The Alabama Range up there outside Lone Pine is covered with signs that it was under sea water. Shells, bones, potholes scoured by sands whirling in a spiral of water. I remember how it rather made travel difficult. I learned to swim in that sea. I was a tadpole—figuratively—as a kid."

I ASKED HIM about the tar pits. "Just a smidgen of what they used to be," he said. "They were huge. Spread all over the place, with high grasses growing down to the edges. It would rain and maybe an inch of water would sit on the surface. Animals, thirsty, would go down to the edges, lick up water and, as they did, slowly sink into the tar. In time they'd be

HOLMES ALEXANDER

For N-Day: Postattack

WASHINGTON—Sometime this spring President Johnson is expected, in effect, to commission a subterranean "battleship" at Denton, Texas.

It's a shipshape, self-sufficient, underground structure that "floats" on suspended springs. Eventually there will be eight such edifices throughout the country. They will house regional, emergency Federal staffs to run the country in event of nuclear attack.

Out of the planning for such a disaster has come a high priority word: "postattack." The hyphen has been dropped in Federal usage. The word is considered so important that authorities are thinking of having it stamped in large letters on the outside and the inside pages of every pertinent document.

THERE ARE TWO reasons for this emphasis: One is to impress every Government functionary, high and low, that the emergency procedures do not apply to scare situations, or to non-military emergencies like the Nov. 9 power failure in the Northeast, or to floods, fires, earthquakes and hurricanes, or even to a conventional raid or invasion by the enemy.

The second reason for getting "postattack" into the common vocabulary is to educate the public, and to head off sensationalist journalism which might describe these precautionary plans as a blueprint for peacetime dictatorship.

REGIONALIZED AND possibly nationalized dictatorship would exist, all right, but only for the duration of the immediate catastrophe. The buried structures, engineered so as to rock with the nuclear blasts and then to assume upright postures like vessels in water, would be manned by non-elective officials in full control of production and distribution of goods and services.

Virtually every Executive Department, and many federal agencies—for example, the Federal Reserve Board and the Red Cross—would be represented by appropriate bureaucrats.

TO TAKE THE curse off over-federalization, there are 3,500 "executive reservists," mostly from industry, named for assignment at the eight emergency centers. In addition to Denton, the centers will be located at Harvard (Mass.), Olney (Mo.), Bate Creek (Mich.), Thomasville (Ga.), Denver (Colo.), Santa Rosa (Calif.) and Everett, (Wash.).

Postattack planning got an energizing jolt on the night of the November power failure. At about 5:30 that evening, when the juice was cut off, nobody was manning the White House press office. Press Secretary Moyers, in Austin, was just finishing a general briefing of the newsmen, and learned later about the blackout from a New York City reporter.

THE PRESIDENT was out driving and heard about it on his car radio. At the Office of Emergency Planning—in the Winder Building at Washington—Director Buford Ellington got through by phone to a Consolidated Edison vice president and became the first official to learn what had happened and to pinpoint the cause of power failure at 10.5 miles below Niagara Falls.

Ellington's priority with the information was appropriate. In a postattack crisis the OEP Director would have full charge of implementing the survival and recovery plans. His board orders are "to promulgate national policies and program directives . . ."

THE FEDERAL Government would take over just about everything under the heading of "resources"—including private manufacturing firms, all stores of medicine and food, all media of spreading information. It would supersede all State authority and commandeer all manpower.

There would be, in fact, the most instantaneous and far-reaching dictatorship ever conceived, no doubt the most necessary one, and hopefully one of the shortest. But it's no wonder that Federal officials want to see "postattack" stamped big and clear on their planning. This is a package not to be opened—until Doomsday.

RUTH MILLETT:

We—The Women

MEMO TO retired men: The one, sure thing you can do to make your retirement years happier for both you and your wife is to start helping her with the housework.

You don't believe it? Well, in a study recently made of 135 retired men and their wives by a Duke University sociologist only one thing was consistently associated with high morale of retired couples. That was the husband's participation in household tasks.

That factor was even more important than the amount of money the retired couple had to live on. And when you stop to think about it, it's easily understandable.

SHARING HOUSEHOLD chores should make a retired man better satisfied because it keeps him from feeling guilty over having a lot more leisure time than his wife. If household work is shared, then the husband has the satisfaction of knowing that he is still carrying half of the load.

And having her husband help with the daily chores is bound to make a wife feel that her husband is trying to lighten her load, as his has been lightened. Also, it would keep her from feeling sorry for herself as wives do whose peired husbands never turn a hand around the house but just make extra work.

AND THERE'S another thing. The couple who work together to do whatever housework has to be done are sure to find companionship in shared work. A husband who is drying dishes while his wife washes them is a lot more talkative than one who sits in an easy chair reading or watching television while his wife works alone.

And the wife whose husband helps with the housework has no excuse for not doing what her husband wants to do when the work is finished. She can't plead that she hasn't time to go fishing or to a movie or off a ride because she has too much work to do.

Helping with the housework may be a surprisingly new experience for a lot of retired men. But if it is guaranteed to help the morale of the husband as well as the wife—a retired man ought to give it a good, long try.

Area Residents Learning Medicare Program Is About As Clear As Mud

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following article, Kenneth May, Avalanche-Journal staff writer, takes a facetious look at some of the confusion attending the new Medicare plan.

Lubbock area residents aged 65 and over are learning the nation's new Medicare program is just as clear as most government projects.

In other words, they're confused.

After asking a few questions, however, they begin to understand. Then they make a terrible mistake: They "read up" on the plan — and often become more confused than ever.

Health insurance for the aged goes into effect July 1, but March 31 is the date to remember. The plan is tied to Social Security, but you don't have to be eligible for Social Security benefits to participate.

In a manner of speaking, persons 65 and older are covered automatically. Then again, they're not either. They don't have to "sign up"; on the other hand, they do, too.

It's a voluntary program? Partly true, partly false. You have to say "yes" or "no" by March 31? That depends. You can enroll later? Maybe so, but there's a clunker.

If you're 65, you may be a "missing person" without knowing it—at least in the eyes of the Social Security Administration.

There are simple explanations for all these apparent contradictions and obscurities in the Medicare law passed by Congress last year. If you don't believe it, just ask someone who knows.

"We're having a lot of inquiries," says John G. Hutton, district manager for the Social Security Administration office at 3428 Ave. H, "but once we explain the plan to people, they understand it."

Let's take it from the top: Being 65 or older and a citizen are the only requirements for being eligible to receive the new hospital and medical insurance benefits.

If you've never worked, you're eligible just the same. If you're still working, you are eligible regardless of income. You receive the same benefits whether you are a pauper or a millionaire.

Some people will be enrolled more or less automatically for some of the benefits — but not for all of them. Others won't get any benefits at all unless they ask for them.

Persons who already have reached 65 should act before March 31. That's the deadline. Persons who become 65 later may enroll in the program only during the three months before or the three months after their 65th birthday. That's important to remember.

There are two different kinds of health insurance in the package: hospital and medical.

Hospital Coverage Is Free

If you are over 65 now and are receiving a monthly Social Security check, you will receive a card entitling you to hospital insurance coverage. This, however, will not provide you the supplementary medical insurance protection unless you apply for it before March 31.

You will pay nothing for the hospital coverage. If you want the medical protection, it will cost you $3 monthly deducted from your Social Security check.

That's why, say the bureaucrats, the medical part is called "voluntary." You already have received a card in the mail which you must check "yes" and return if you want the medical coverage.

You May Be "Missing"

If you still are working, or for any other reason are not receiving a Social Security check, you should go by the district office to enroll for either or both types of coverage. You are one of the "missing persons" officials won't know about unless you contact them.

Anyone already 65 who misses the March 31 deadline won't be able to enroll later until October, 1967. It will cost you more at that time and you won't be protected until July, 1968.

In the 18-county Lubbock district, 14,000 persons over age 65 have received cards asking whether they want the medical coverage. No one knows how many have said "yes" in this region, but of 15 million nationally about 10 million have returned their cards and about 9 million of those said "yes," according to Hutton.

Count 6,000 Eligibles

The district manager estimates there are another 6,000 persons in this area who are not getting Social Security checks but who are eligible for the Medicare benefits if they apply before the deadline.

For them, too, the hospital insurance is free. The medical coverage costs $3 monthly, an amount matched out of the federal treasury.

Hospital insurance will pay for up to 60 days in a hospital (except for the first $40) beginning July 1 and for all but $10 per day for an additional 30 days in the hospital. It also will pay for up to 20 days in an "extended care facility" such as a nursing home—and for all but $5 per day for an additional 80 days.

Sixty days after one period of institutional care ends, the insured person will become eligible for a new round of these benefits. The insurance also will pay 80 per cent of the cost of outpatient diagnostic tests in a hospital after the first $20. Doctors' fees are not covered by the hospital insurance, however.

The optional supplementary per month will give additional protection. After the patient pays the first $50, the medical plan will pay 80 per cent of the balance of the reasonable charges for doctors' services whether furnished in a hospital, his office or the patient's home. A number of other benefits also are provided.

A person who signs up for the medical coverage can drop it at any time. Social Security workers won't go looking for persons eligible to enroll in the two insurance programs. Only in rare cases (such as your being bedfast) will a worker come to your home; most people must go to the Social Security Administration office to get firsthand information and enroll, according to Hutton. The office here is staying open until 8:45 p.m. Thursday in a special effort to be helpful.

The district manager says such a visit will elicit answers to all questions and he hopes it will eliminate confusion. That's saying quite a bit.

Make It With Wool Meet Is Slated Saturday

Dr. Gene Sheldon, head of the Department of Clothing and Textiles in Texas Tech's School of Home Economics, will attend the Make-It-Yourself-With Wool state contest Saturday at Texas A&M University.

As chairman of District I, the Tech professor will participate in a business meeting where plans will be made for next year's contest.

Climaxing the meeting will be the selection of state representatives who will model their costumes in national competitions Jan. 20 in Portland, Ore. Approximately 50 winners from the 10 districts in Texas will be competing in the various divisions at Saturday's show, Dr. Sheldon said.

Others To Attend

Representing District I at the state level will be Marsha Shaver of Rochester, who placed first, and Rebecca Gail Ashley of Hale Center, who placed second, in the junior division; Glenda Hudspeth of Hamlin, first award winner, and Rosalind Shields, who placed second, senior division, and Mrs. Paul Kropp of Lockney, who placed first in the adult division. Adults do not compete past the state level.

State winner of the senior division will receive a $300 scholarship to the college of her choice from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, and the junior winner will receive a $50 savings bond from the TSGRA Auxiliary.

Sponsors of the annual contest are the American Wool Council, the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Association and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

TUITION HIKED

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Tulane University has announced an increase of $150 per semester for full time students, effective September 1966. The present tuition for undergraduates is $600 per semester.

Why take a plain plane to Washington?

Most airplane trips are colorless, rather boring affairs.

They don't have to be. Braniff International has introduced a new kind of excitement to air travel.

Gone are the plain planes of yesterday. Instead, a variety of 7 exterior colors, 7 interior color schemes, and hostesses who change uniform as often as 4 times on a single flight (to mention a few of the thousands of innovations we've made) will cheer the heart of the travel-weary passenger.

Our new 7:06 am flight is the only direct service to Washington. It lands at convenient National Airport. We also have service via connections at Dallas.

Call a travel agent, or Braniff International at PO 2-8773.

Once you've flown with us, you may never want to fly on a plain plane again.

Westerners, Sandies Battle For Loop Lead Tonight

Men Play At Pampa

By CARLTON STOWERS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

With spoils to the victor present in bountiful proportions, the Lubbock High Westerners and Amarillo Sandies, co-leaders in the hectic District 3-AAAA cage chase, clash today at 8 p.m. in the new AHS Gym.

Both teams enter the contest riding the crest of six straight league wins and the knowledge that tonight's winner will be assured of at least a tie for the first round title. The Sandies, pre-season favorite in a poll of league coaches, have only Berger remaining after tonight's battle while Lubbock High will finish out the initial go-round with cross-town rival Monterey.

And, while the spotlight falls squarely on the Amarillo battle, Monterey travels to Pampa for an 8 p.m. clash with the Harvesters in a game which also demands a great deal of interest. Coach Gerald Myers' troops have suffered but one loss in loop action to date — an overtime affair to the Sandies — and can move into a tie for second place with the LHS-AHS loser should they get past the run-and-shoot Pampans.

Amarillo Impressive

Amarillo ripped the nets for an impressive 50 per cent from the floor Tuesday to down Pampa, 73-62, after Lubbock had eased past Plainview, 44-34, Monday. Monterey was forced into a double overtime affair before turning back pesky Tascosa, 41-38.

The Lubbock-Amarillo duel will pit the league's most prolific offensive against the stingiest defense — a situation which is obligated to produce interesting results to say the least. Through their six league tries, the Sandies have hit for 67 points-per-game while holding their opponents to a 53.9 average. Coach Max O'Banion's Westerners have averaged 49.3 points-per-game and allowed only 38.5, best in loop circles.

O'Banion will keep his starting lineup pat with big Bill Green (6-5, 12.2) leading the way. Rounding out the starting five will be Wesley Verner (6-1, 6.7), 11-0) and Nello Armstrong (6-7, 11-0) and Ronnie Shuffield (6-1, 4.0). Don Burrell (6-3, 11.0) and Nello Armstrong (6-6, 1.3) will also likely see a good deal of action.

Amarillo coach John Ethridge will retaliate with the likes of league scoring leader Charlie Wells (6-1 1/2, 16.5), Dennis Falk (5-11, 10.5), Bill Jordan (6-5, 12.7), Jeff Harp (6-0, 11.3), and Harold Jennings (6-1, 8.1).

The Westerners will carry an impressive 14-2 season mark into tonight's battle. Amarillo is 14-1, having lost only to El Paso Austin by two points. Lubbock has suffered losses at the hands of Odessa Permian and San Angelo.

Monterey will enter their battle with Coach Terry Culley's Harvesters with a 14-2 season mark and a 5-1 league record. Pampa is 4-2 in district circles, having fallen to Amarillo and Lubbock, and is 13-3 for the season.

All-Senior Lineup

Myers' all-senior starting lineup will feature scoring twins David Reed (6-3, 13.0) and Kenny Coleman (6-3, 13.0), rebounding leader Steve Hardin (6-5 1/2, 6.9), Chuck Lewis (6-2, 5.7), and Craig Wright (6-4 1/2, 9.3). Big Danny Sledge (6-6, 6.1), Steve Hurt (6-2, 1.5) and Randy Anson's action in the Plainsmen's continuity offensive.

Probable starters for the Harvesters are David Cain (6-5, 10.5), Mike Wise (6-3, 7.3), Kenneth McWilliams (6-3, 6.8), Gary Crossland (5-8, 6.7) and Steve Williams (6-0, 7.0).

Coach Don Gardner's Lubbock 'B' team Cowhands will tangle with the unbeaten Sandie 'B' squad in a 6 p.m. preliminary affair in Amarillo and Joe Michalka's Monterey Lancers will take on the Pampa 'B' team at the same time in Pampa.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Defending champion Al Odom of Galveston, Tex., increased his lead to four strokes Thursday in the National Left-Handed Golf Tournament with a par 72 for a 141 total.

Thorne Wood of Asheboro, N.C., also fired 72 over the 6,702-yard course for a 145 total and second place.

Ross Collins of Dallas, Tex., and Lodie Kempa of Macon, Ga., who were tied for second after the first round, fell further off the pace. Collins shot a 74 for 146, Kempa a 77 for 149.

Unknowns Pace Field At Los Angeles

"FORE!"

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Casper Jr. and Arnold Palmer found themselves slightly overshadowed by a pair of relatively unknown pro golfers today as the $70,000 Los Angeles Open went into the second round.

Pacing the pack of 143 players at the Ranch Municipal Golf Course were Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla., who admittedly has had two terrible years on the PGA tour, and—

Young Steve Oppermann of San Francisco, who is best known in his own neighborhood and just beginning his second year on the tournament trail.

The 30-year-old Ragan and Oppermann, 23, posted identical four-under-par 36-31-67 rounds.

Two strokes back were Dave Marry, Gay Brewer and Chuck Courtney. Brewer and Courtney had first rounds of 35-34 and 34-33.

Casper, with 38-32-70, was tied with eight others.

Chris Blocker, former Texas Tech ace who joined the pro tour last year, shot a 71 to tie with 15 others, including Ken Venturi, Rex Baxter and Paul Harney.

Palmer, who bogeyed three straight holes on the first nine when he missed three putts of four feet and less, was tied at 72 with a small army—not Arnie's—of 14 others.

For a long spell Thursday only five could break par. But as the afternoon wore on the 70 took a beating. When it ended at dusk, 29 pros had either broken or equaled the figure.

Sanders Shoots 70

Included in this group were Doug Sanders in the 70 shooters, and at 71 were Harney, seeking a third straight Los Angeles Open triumph, and a sentimental favorite, Venturi, who held the U.S. Open championship in 1964.

Venturi, who was bothered last year by a circulatory ailment in the fingers, said he felt fine and played well.

Palmer's run of bogeys started on the third hole. He had

Bearcats Whip North Texas As Texas Western Notches No. 12

Tulsa Nips Louisville

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The University of Cincinnati Bearcats, who dominated college basketball in 1961 and 1962, are on the way back.

The national champions of those years who missed an unprecedented third straight national title by a mere three points in 1963, made it five in a row and 9-1 for the current season by defeating North Texas 62-57 at Denton Thursday night.

A year ago the Bearcats posted a dismal season record for them of 14-12 which included a defeat at Denton by North Texas.

"We'll get a true appraisal of ourselves this week," said Ted Baker, the Cincinnati coach, before the game. "The mark of a championship team is the ability to win on the road under pressure."

Rolles Scores 30
Don Rolles, with 30 points, led the Bearcats, who stuffed off an Eagle rally that cut Cincinnati's lead to four points in the closing minutes.

Cincinnati's nine victories have been against Central Missouri, Miami of Ohio, South Dakota, Colorado, UCLA, Wisconsin, Utah and Wake Forest in addition to North Texas. The Bearcats' lone defeat was by Southern California at Los Angeles. Their next game is at Tulsa Saturday.

Like Cincinnati, Tulsa opened its Missouri Valley Conference schedule with a victory Thursday. Playing at home, the Hurricane came from behind in the last three minutes to defeat Louisville 84-79. Eldridge Webb, a 6-foot sophomore, led the Hurricane rally with 28 points after Louisville had taken a 77-74 lead.

Texas Western Wins
Texas Western, ninth-ranked in The Associated Press poll and one of the two major unbeaten teams in the country, made it 12 straight by defeating Seattle 76-64 at Seattle. Willie Cager, a 6-5 soph, came off the bench in the second half and led the Miners with 16 points.

Bradley, No. 5 in the AP poll, overpowered Wichita State at Peoria 91-86 and the sixth-ranked Providence Friars whipped Massachusetts 87-73 at Amherst, Mass. Alex McNutt, with 25 points, and Eddie Jackson, with 22, led the Braves over Wichita. Mike Riordan, with 25 points, and Jim Walker, with 25, paced the Friars. Bradley's record now is 12-1, Providence's 10-1.

Soph Leads Tech
Soph Phil Wagner tossed in 33 points to lead Georgia Tech to a 87-72 victory over Clemson at Atlanta. St. Louis staved off a late Drake rally to score a 60-54 home court triumph over the Bulldogs.

Jerry Wells and Gary Gray combined for 63 points to lead Oklahoma City over Loyola of the South 105-83 at New Orleans. Wells hit for 33 points, Gray for 30.

NYU Whipped West Virginia
NYU whipped West Virginia 104-91 and Duquesne drubbed Iowa 74-57 in a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden. Army easily beat Lehigh 64-52 at West Point. Wyoming scored a 90-88 road victory over Denver and Virginia Tech, playing at home, took Richmond 88-73.

Hosts Divide Games In Bledsoe Tourney
BLEDSDOE (Special) — Three games kicked off the invitation basketball tournament here Thursday night, with the host school winning one game and losing another.

Levelland B downed Bledsoe, 41-45, in one of two boys division games, and the Bledsoe team, 39-27, in the only action in the girls division.

Brownfield B whipped Denver B, 45-42, in the only other game played out with championship action Saturday night.

Today Bledsoe meets Denver City B, and Brownfield B meets

BRADLEY BEATS WICHITA—Bradley's Bob Swigris (12), followed closely by Wichita forward Roger McDowell (13), sails under the Braves' goal on a fast break during the first half of the game Thursday night at Peoria, Ill. Bradley won, 91-86. (AP Wirephoto)

ROBERTSON SPARKS CINCINNATI Royals, Philadelphia 76ers Gain On NBA Boston Celtics

(By The Associated Press)
None of the teams represented the cities where the games were played, and the results most likely caused some uneasiness in Boston.

This riddle is the result of Wednesday night's edition of the National Basketball Association's roadshow.

Royals Gaining
The Cincinnati Royals defeated the Detroit Pistons 109-97 at Toledo, Ohio, and the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Baltimore Bullets 133-127 at Syracuse, N.Y., in the league's only games.

The victories boosted the Royals to within one-half game and the 76ers to within 1 1/2 games of the Eastern Division-leading Boston Celtics.

Happy Hairston scored 13 points and Oscar Robertson 11 points as the Royals outscored the Pistons 36-23 in the last quarter.

Robertson High
Robertson was high for the game with 29 points, followed by teammate Jerry Lucas with 24. Eddie Miles led Detroit with 20. Baltimore fought back after trailing 81-53 at halftime but couldn't quite make it. Poor foul shooting—only 29 of 55—cost the Bullets the game.

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain netted 41 points and grabbed 28 rebounds. Hal Greer contributed 37 points to the 76ers' cause. Gus Johnson led Baltimore with 25.

Levelland B in two boys division games. There are no games on tap today in the girls bracket.

ENMU Defeats Jon Brittenum Will Undergo Operation

WAYLAND (Special)—The Eastern New Mexico Greyhound rolled to a 42-29 halftime bulge here Thursday night and then went on to easily defeat Wayland, 90-81, as four players hit in double figures.

Wilson Watkins led the attack with 31 points while Ron Oram hit for 10 starts. The win is the third in 10 starts for Eastern. Wayland is now 4-9 for the year.

Chester Sample led the losers with 27 points with Terry Hughes hitting for 19. Gordon Nemcek was the lone other player in double figures with 15.

CARDWELL SIGNS
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pitcher Don Cardwell signed his 1966 contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday. The Buc's righthander won 13 games and lost 10 last season while compiling a 3.19 earned run average.

BRITENUM WILL UNDERGO OPERATION
BRINKLEY, Ark. (UPI)—The parents of standout quarterback Jon Brittenum of the University of Arkansas expected their son today to have surgery on his shoulder to restore full use of it for his football future.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brittenum said Jon telephoned them Thursday from Fayetteville, home of the University, and said doctors tell him the operation is needed.

Brittenum, an All-Southwest Conference quarterback, hurt the shoulder trying to block in the Cotton Bowl game New Year's Day.

The Citadel Hires Parker

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Jim (Red) Parker, a successful Arkansas coach, was appointed head football coach at The Citadel Thursday.

Parker, 34, succeeds Eddie Teague who quit last fall to devote full time to his job as athletic director.

Parker has been athletic director and head football coach at Arkansas A&M since 1961. During the last three years, his teams compiled a record of 24-5-1, and twice tied for the Arkansas Interscholastic Conference championship.

His first act as head coach of the Southern Conference school here was to announce that Harold Steelman, his top assistant at A&M, would coach the Bulldog defense.

Before entering the college ranks, Parker was coach at Fordyce, Ark. High School and built it into one of Arkansas' prep powers. At one time he produced a 37-game winning streak.

A native of Hampton, Ark., Parker played his college football at A&M, where he was a defensive star.

Meadow Beats Union In Ropesville Tourney

ROPEVILLE (Special)—Meadow, Abernathy, and Cooper scored opening round wins here Thursday night as the tournament got underway.

Jim Melcher hit for 13 points to lead Meadow past Union, 72-61. Rex Baxter's 19 points led Abernathy to an 87-37 riot over Wilson and Roy Peterson hit for 14 to pace Cooper to a 51-41 win over Smyer.

In girls action, Meadow defeated Union, 31-15. Abernathy downed Wilson, 64-13, and Cooper stopped Smyer, 51-35.

Dunbar Hosts Odessa Quint

The Dunbar Panthers, 13-6, for the season and 1-0 in District 1-AAA action, will play host to the Odessa Blackshear Steers in a 7:30 p.m. league affair in Dunbar Gym today.

Coach Curtis Gipson will open with Jimmy Gary, Buford Wiley, James Gary, James Johnson and Larry Blaylock. Probable starters for the Odessa crew will be Clarence Reddick, Johnny Jernigan, Billy Harris, David Blackley and Troy Ellis.

The unbeaten Dunbar 'B' team, boasting an 11-0 season mark, will take on the Blackshear 'B' squad in a 6 p.m. affair.

Blackshear is 0-1 in District play, having lost to Abilene Woodson.

Johnson To Test Persol

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Johnson, the former light heavyweight champion, hasn't had a fight in 21 months. He'll sort of sneak into town tonight to take on contender Johnny Persol in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden whether the transit strike is still on or not.

The Garden says the fight show will go on even if the subways aren't running.

Not Big Draw
Most fight fans come by subway from Harlem, uptown Manhattan and the Bronx and Staten Island, too. So there's liable to be more fighters in the joint than customers.

Even at best, Johnson is not much of a gate attraction. The 37-year-old Philadelphian is a safety-first craftsman and rates as the 3-1 choice over the seventh-ranked, 25-year-old New Yorker.

Johnson, because of his idleness, no longer is ranked. Not too many contenders want any part of the skilled, counter-punching veteran who rarely opens up.

Wants New Shot
"I'd like to get another shot at the title," said Johnson, who lost the 175-pound division crown to Willie Pastrano on a disputed decision 2 1/2 years ago.

Since then old Harold has had only two bouts. On Dec. 6, 1963 he beat Henry Hank in 10 rounds and on April 20, 1964, he stopped Hank Canady in eight rounds. His record is 72-9, including 32 knockouts.

Persol hasn't been any busy bee, either. He had only two fights last year. He dropped a controversial decision to Scot Chic Calderwood in England and on Aug. 25 stopped Jimmy Duree in the ninth at the Garden. His record is 13-3-1.

"He's a careful fighter but he can be taken," said Persol. "I'm younger, and faster and I want that shot at the title."

Both plan to rest forfeits with the New York Athletic Commission for a shot at champion Jose Torres.

Buster Mathis, the baby elephant from Grand Rapids, Mich., could steal the show. The onetime 300-pounder, now trimmed to a svelte 272, takes on Chuck Werner, a mere 225-pounder from Bayonne, N.J., in a six-round prelin.

Mathis, winner of the Olympic Trials in 1964, has a 5-0 record as a pro, including three knockouts. Despite his bulk, Buster is a fast-moving slick boxer who has to develop a punch if he ever hopes to achieve his ambition of a fight with champion Cassius Clay. Werner has a 4-1-2 record.

Swifts Star Scores 43 Points In One Half

AMHERST (Special)—Marvin Hoelting staged a one-man comeback here Thursday night to lead the Nazareth Swifts to a 77-75 victory over Pep in the opening round of the Amherst basketball tournament.

At halftime, Nazareth trailed Pep by 17 points, and Hoelting had scored but five at that point. Then the Swifts star hit an amazing 43 points in the final two periods to salvage the victory and perhaps set an area scoring record for 16 minutes' time.

Other boys games saw Whitarral down Hart, 48-35; McAdoo drop Amherst, 61-37; and Anton nudge Sudan, 59-50.

In girls division action, Nazareth beat Pep, 61-48; Amherst tripped McAdoo, 43-34; Hart edged Whitarral, 30-28; and Sudan nipped Anton, 47-42.

OVER HOWARD LCC Grabs 81-71 Upset

Coach Les Perrin's Lubbock Christian College Chaparrals evened their Western Junior College Conference record at 1-1 Thursday night as they defeated highly touted Howard County Junior College, 81-71.

Down 38-38 at intermission, the Hub City cagers came on to hit 15 of 30 shots from the floor in the second half to up their season record to 7-6. The Jayhawks are now 1-2 in loop action.

Robert Evans, a 6-1 1/2 sharpshooter, led the attack with 24 points with Jim Harp contributing 19. Marvin Levles contributed 14 and Gene Hight scored an even dozen.

Leon Smith was the big gun for the Howard County squad as he hit for 24 points and Kurt Papp canned 22.

It was a nip-and-tuck battle, with no team able to manage more than a four-point lead until late in the contest. With 7:11 left to play, LCC moved into a 62-61 lead and was able to build it into its eventual victory.

LCC travels to Roswell, New Mexico next Monday to do battle with New Mexico Military Institute.

Joe Blaylock Quits Tech Grid Post To Go To Tulane

By BURLE PETTIT
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
 Joe Blaylock, an assistant coach at Texas Tech since 1962, has accepted a similar position at Tulane. The Avalanche-Journal has learned.

Contacted Thursday, Blaylock said that he has resigned his position here and will leave for Tulane early next week. Head coach J. T. King, in Honolulu for the Hula Bowl game, was not available for comment.

"It is an opportunity I can not turn down," Blaylock told The Avalanche-Journal, "although I regret leaving Texas Tech and Lubbock."

Blaylock is the second assistant hired by Mike Pittman, who recently took over the head coaching duties at Tulane. It was announced Wednesday that Pat Culpepper had resigned at Colorado to join Pittman's staff.

Blaylock, a very successful high school and junior college coach in Mississippi and Louisiana before taking his first assistant's job with a major college, will be making his second hitch on the Tulane staff.

Before coming here in 1962, Blaylock worked two years on the staff of Andy Pilney.

Blaylock's duties here were working with the offensive ends and heading up the Tech scouting program. During the football season, he wrote a weekly column in The Avalanche-Journal, analyzing the upcoming Raider opponent each week.

Blaylock graduated from Southern Mississippi in 1960 and launched immediately a very successful career as a head coach.

He directed Perkinson High to a state championship in his first season, then made it to the finals the following year. After the 1951 campaign, he was named head coach at Perkinson Junior College.

Blaylock, during four seasons there, compiled a 32-8 record, then went back into the high school ranks at Springhill (La.) High School, taking his team to the semifinals and quarterfinals during his two year tenure there.

In 1960, he joined Pilney at Tulane for two seasons, then came to Tech in Feb., 1962.

Blaylock said Wednesday that his duties at Tulane would be working with the offensive backfield and offensive and defensive ends.

"I certainly hate to leave Tech," Blaylock said, "but I feel that the opportunity for advancement warrants my taking advantage of the offer."

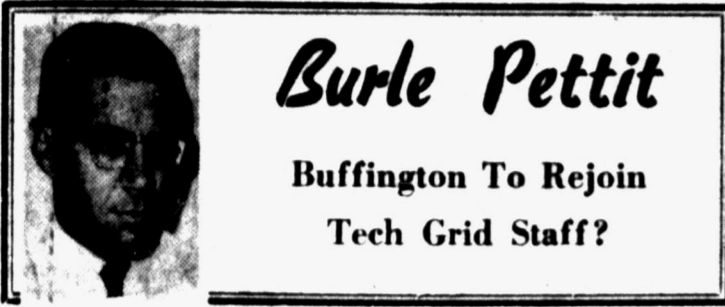

"I am very appreciative that I had the opportunity to come to Tech, and it has been a privilege to be associated with such a program as Coach King has developed here."

"I would like to thank the administration, the coaching staff and the community itself for the help they have given me and my family."

Blaylock's wife, Opal, and two children, Rhonda, 14, and Jody, 10, will join him in New Orleans late this month. He will attend the NCAA coaches meeting in Washington, D. C. this weekend, then report for duty at Tulane.

A replacement will not be named until King returns to Lubbock early next week.

Buffington To Rejoin Tech Grid Staff?

WRAPPING UP ANOTHER week, wonderin' who'll replace Joe Blaylock on the Raider coaching staff...

The absence of J. T. King makes speculation a little more difficult; however, it is this opinion that the new member will have a familiar face. Like, for instance, Harry Buffington.

Buff served a couple of seasons under King, working as defensive line coach. He left to accept a position in the Canadian League two years ago, and was replaced here by Matt Lair.

BUFFINGTON'S FAMILY has maintained a home in Lubbock, and Harry's son, Jack Buffington, was one of the stars of Monterey's success story last season.

Confirmation would be difficult to acquire, what with Jake out of the country. But it looks like a good bet.

To begin with, King likely would be fond of the idea of having another coach around that is familiar with his mode of attack, philosophies, etc.

And another defensive coach likely would be especially attractive, following Tech's showing in the Gator Bowl. With three coaches that side of the picture, it would be possible to have one working with the ends and linebackers, another with the interior defensive line and the third handling the defensive secondary.

A REORGANIZATION of the Tech staff is almost surely forthcoming. Not because King has been dissatisfied with any particular phase of any particular individual, but due to the expansion made possible by the board of director a few weeks ago.

With a larger staff, King will be able—by slightly reshuffling assignments—to better cover several aspects. If Buffington is the man, defense will be one phase likely to receive reinforcement.

King is obviously proud of his staff and of the job it has done, although it has been the smallest in the league.

"I have a lot of good people around me," King told a gathering of sports writers in Jacksonville. "This is the best all-around coaching staff I've ever been associated with."

"There is no petty jealousy, nor is there any dissension among the members. These things can kill a football team. I have a group of men that are willing to come early, stay late and work like heck all the time they're there."

JAKE'S TOP AIDE, offensive line coach John Conley, very likely is not a permanent fixture. Conley, whose ability inspired Jake to create the position of head assistant coach already has been mentioned in connection with at least one head job and very likely will be moving out on his own sometime in the not-too-distant future.

Depending upon how much Blaylock's departure affects the alignment, Tech's coaching picture at the beginning of spring training likely will shape up like so:

Conley, offensive line; Lair, defensive line; Jim Wright, defensive backs; Bradley Mills, offensive end; Earl Bartlett, offensive backs; and Bert Huffman, freshmen.

Should Buffington join the staff, he likely would work with the defensive ends and linebackers, and Lair concentrate on the interior defensive line. Or, perhaps, vice-versa.

SPRING TRAINING will open with the staff—despite the order of organization—having its work cut out for it in the clearest of fashion. Not only must it come up with a quarterback to replace Tom Wilson—which is the problem most obvious.

Its work on the defensive side of the picture might be enough to dilute the enthusiasm of even a coal miner.

The Raiders, as they've so graphically shown on several occasions during the past several years, must come up with more size and muscle in critical positions. Otherwise, they never will be able to compete against the teams who can take the ball and, pardon the expression, drive it through their torsos.

Ends with strength and size are a must in this league, not to mention guards and tackles with the same qualifications. If none are available, something dazzling enough to be compensatory must be developed.

It, then, is only fitting that King will be operating with his biggest staff ever. Anything less would be insufficient in coping with the problems at hand.

ALL-STATE AAA TEAM:

Brownwood And Dumas Gridders Win Honors

By The Associated Press
 State champion Brownwood, runner-up Bridge City and semi-finalist Weatherford each placed two players on the Class AAA all-state schoolboy football team.

But Robert David, Dumas end, got the heaviest support of the Texas Sports Writers Association. He earned 114 points of a possible 115.

Jim Piper, Brownwood fullback, was almost as popular. He had 113 points, and Eddie Matthews, Lake Highlands center, was the third man on the team to register as much as 100 points.

Others making the team were end Barry Burns of Weatherford, tackle Joe Shaw of Brownwood and John Rumsey of West Orange, guards David Sartin of Bridge City and Danny Cantrell of McKinney, quarterback Ronnie Collier of Weatherford and halfbacks Steve Worster of Bridge City and Sonny Heckendorn of Dickinson.

Host Teams Advance In Jayton Tourney
JAYTON (Special)—Jayton's invitational basketball tournament, got underway Thursday with two games in each division.

In the boys bracket, the host team defeated Patton Springs, 51-34, and Roaring Springs nudged Guthrie, 41-33. Jerald Murrell hit 12 for Jayton, Don Slaton scored 10 for Patton Springs, Kelly Kord tallied 16 for Roaring Springs and Weldon Ellis led Guthrie with eight.

In the girls division, Guthrie whipped Roaring Springs, 53-21, and Jayton felled Patton Springs, 55-26. Mary Ann Hart scored 32 for Guthrie, Cheryl Moore hit 13 for Roaring Springs. Dorothea Robertson came off for Jayton and Betty Tarrant tallied ten for Roaring Springs.

Teams from Turkey and Old Glory get into the action today after drawing byes in the opening round.

Former Minor League Centerfielder Dies
TEMPLE, Tex. (AP)—A. V. (Tony) Thebo, who played for Houston, Dallas, Galveston and Temple in the Texas League, died Thursday. He was 86.

Thebo, a centerfielder, was a professional baseball player for 17 years. He later was a cotton buyer and had moved here eight years ago.

His widow survives.

Hula Bowl Matches All-Americans

CHS Meets Palo Duro B

AMARILLO (Special)—The Coronado High School Mustangs, fresh from an impressive 58-45 victory over the Palo Duro 'B' team, take on the Tascosa Junior Varsity here at 6:30 p.m. today.

Likely starters for the Hub City crew tonight will be Lynn Shuttlesworth (6-5), Mark Leaverton (6-3), Robert Sweatt (6-6), Ron DeSheria (5-7) and Sammy Holt (5-8). Others who will likely see action for coach Carl McMillian are Gary Kirksey (6-0), Richard Black (6-0), Mark Clark (6-0), Dan Gobin (6-3) and Gary Mattison (5-7).

Chuck Rosebrough (6-3) is sidelined with an ankle injury.

The Mustangs are now 6-8 for the season and 2-5 in District 3-AAAA Junior Varsity action.

Collier New Bill Coach

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Joel Collier had been a football coach for nine years, but never the boss.

Today he is head coach of the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills.

Collier, 33, defensive coach for the Bills for the last four years, was promoted Thursday by owner Ralph C. Wilson. He succeeds Lou Saban, who resigned Sunday night to become head coach at the University of Maryland.

Kress Wins In Hale Tourney

JAMES CENTER (Special)—Hale Lockridge hit for 20 points to lead Kress to a 61-42 win over Freshhip here Thursday night in the opening round of the Hale Center Invitational basketball tournament. Don Allen managed 17 for the losers.

Happy defeated Silvertown, 56-31 and Cotton Center downed O'Donnell, 60-45. Dwayne Nixon scored 21 for the winners and Ronnie Barnes had 18 for the Eagles.

Ex-Soccer Great Dies At Dallas

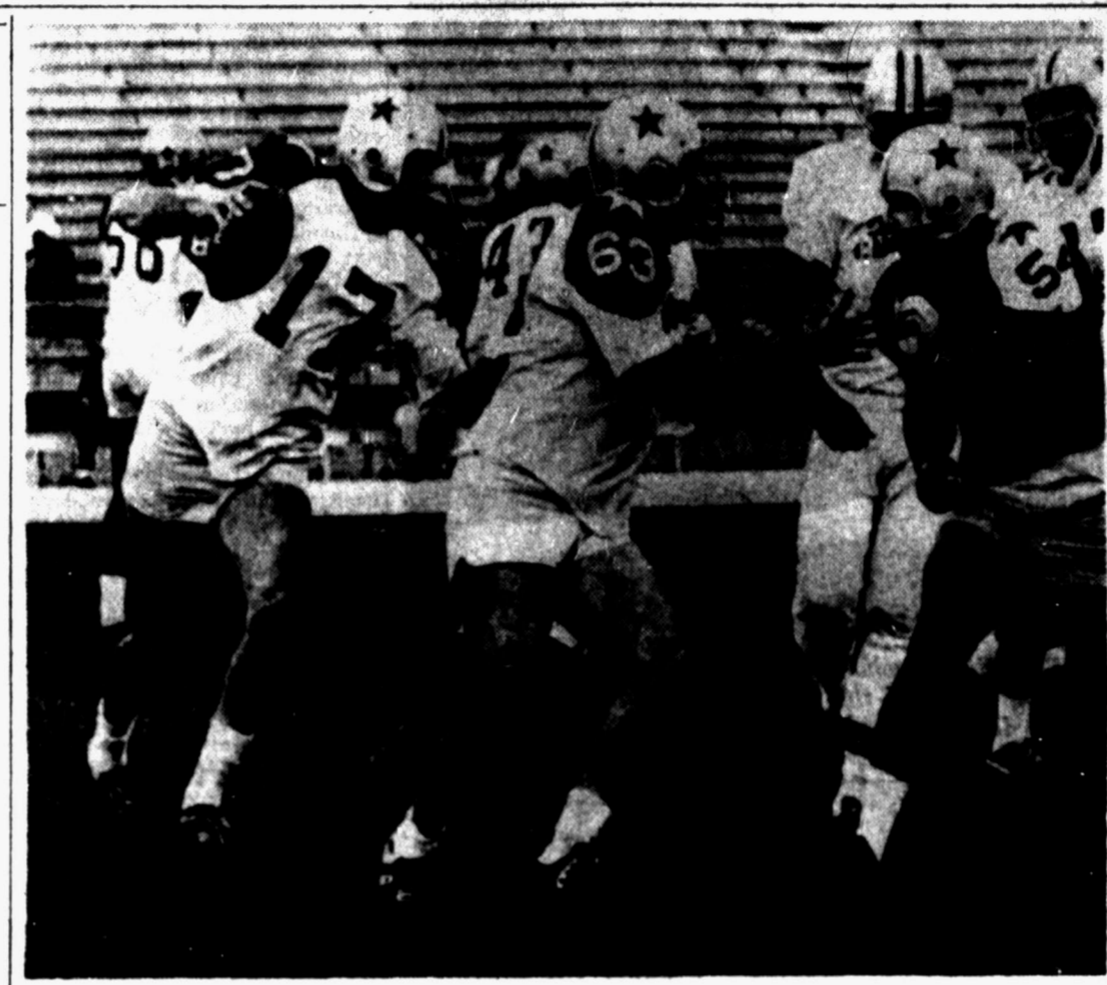

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Ramsden, 88, Dallas contractor and a member of the U.S. Soccer Football Association Hall of Fame, died Thursday.

A native of Prestwich, England, he was the past president of the American-British Club of Dallas.

Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Baltimore Gears Attack To Match Cowboys' Airpower

By CHARLES ALDINGER
MIAMI (UPI)—Bullet Bob Hayes may prove the difference between a victory and a loss for the Dallas Cowboys Sunday in the National Football League's battle of "also-rans."

Dallas, much-improved Eastern Division runner-up behind the Cleveland Browns thanks to the Don Meredith-Hayes passing duo, takes on the hard-kick Baltimore Colts.

ANNUAL TILT SATURDAY

Randy Johnson Guides Dixie In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Heroes of America end Charles Casey of Florida, quarterback Steve Sloan of Alabama, fullback Steve Bowman of Alabama, and tackle Sam Ball of Kentucky. Randy Johnson of Texas A&I, one of the few small college players invited to the bowl, is expected to carry the burden of the quarterbacking chores for the South, just as he did two weeks ago when he led the South to a 23-19 victory over the North in the Blue-Gray game.

Gagliardi Named Top NAIA Coach

KANSAS CITY (AP)—John Gagliardi of St. John's University in Minnesota Thursday was named NAIA Football Coach of the Year for directing his teams to two NAIA championships in the past three seasons.

Dick Peters, coach of unbeaten Ottawa, Kan., University, was runner-up in the balloting.

The 38-year-old Gagliardi, with a 13-year record at St. John's of 82 won, 26 lost and 2 tied, will receive the award in Kansas City March 11 during the annual NAIA convention.

Kress Wins In Hale Tourney

Anderson, Nobis Head South Stars In Clash

HONOLULU (AP)—All America backs Jim Grabowski of Illinois and Mike Garrett of Southern California run for opposing football teams a second straight week tonight when the North battles the South in the 20th Hula Bowl game.

The Hula Bowl game will start at 11:45 p.m. (CST). Last Friday, Garrett and the West beat Grabowski and the East 22-7 in the East-West game at San Francisco.

The South, with Garrett and five other All-America stalwarts, including halfback Dony Anderson, who shattered most of Texas Tech's offensive records, goes into this game favored over Grabowski & Co.

Wable On Squad
 On the South squad, in addition to Heisman Trophy winner Garrett, are Tommy Nobis, Texas guard; Glen Ray Hines, Arkansas tackle; and Walt Barnes, Nebraska tackle, each an All America.

In dividing the squads, the Mason-Dixon line was bent more than slightly. Barnes and his Nebraska teammate, end Freeman White, plus Iowa State center Dick Kasperk all are playing for the South, a team coached by J. T. King of Texas Tech.

Jim Owens of Washington and Jerry Bruns, former Iowa mentor, coach the North. In addition to Grabowski, the squad has All America Steve Judy, Michigan State quarterback, and Aaron Brown, Minnesota end.

Plenty Of Power
 Ray Palm of Oregon and Tom Barrington of Illinois are slated to start in the backfield with Grabowski and Judy, giving the North plenty of power.

Bill Malinehak of Indiana and Karl Noonan of Iowa are expected to be on the receiving end of Judy's passes when the North takes to the air.

Texas Tech's Tommy Wilson starts at quarterback for the South with Anderson, Garrett and Ray Handley of Stanford in the backfield. Kurt Altenberg, a UCLA Rose Bowl star,

Sprint Field Gains Stars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sprinters could vie for laurels with the distance runners in Saturday night's third annual Examiner Invitational indoor track meet with the addition of Nebraska's Charlie Greene.

Greene's entry provides the ingredient for a duel since Darel Newman, formerly of Fresno State, already had entered the 60-yard dash.

Greene beat Newman last year in the NCAA indoor 60 and outdoor 100 yet the Fresno State product has a best time of 5.9 seconds for 60, tying the record originally set by Bob Hayes.

Greene's best time on the boards is 6.0.

Even should their duel be as exciting as expected, the milers could steal the show with a finish under four minutes since such never has been recorded in San Francisco.

Kansas freshman Jim Ryan, UCLA senior Bob Day and Brishers John Whetton and Alan Simpson are given the chance of getting under the 4:00 mark.

Twenty-two events are slated for this inaugural of the indoor track season in the United States.

Freshmen Needs Four Girls Cage Contests

WOLFFORTH (Special)—Freshmen High School needs four girls' basketball games this month, Coach Norman Roberts has announced.

"We need games on Jan. 11, 14, 18 and 21," Roberts said, "and we'll play anybody, anywhere."

He can be contacted by calling 866-4280 in Wolfforth.

Who Is Enemy?
A Soldier Isn't Safe Anywhere
SAIGON, Viet Nam (NEA)—This war is closing in on this capital city, and many discouraged GIs can't tell one enemy from the other.

WHOSE SIDE ARE THEY ON? NEA's Tom Tiede and a lieutenant aid Jack Chang, a GI who was kicked and stabbed in a Saigon bar.

Change, a three-inch flap of flesh hanging from his skull, echoed the sentiments of a growing number of his fellows in this country. The feeling is, simply, that Vietnamese citizens are looking out for themselves and that an American in trouble is in it alone.

him up. Stymied, the American asked passers-by for aid but received only laughter.
'This man stole my bag,' he yelled to a Vietnamese M.P. 'No understand,' the M.P. responded.
