Speedy Boost Of Taxes Key To Program

Johnson Fears $112.8 Billion In Spending To Spur Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson sent to Congress today a $112.8-billion budget, by far the biggest in history, with a notice that he may come back for more money and new taxes if the war in Viet Nam gets hotter.

He warned also that the military build-up, on top of an expected 7 per cent upsurge in national output, will "raise the threat of price instability" as the booming economy nears full employment.

This inflationary risk makes necessary "some moderate restraint through tax policy," Johnson said. He asked quick approval of the $4.8-billion stepup of income, corporate and excise taxes already sent to Congress.

These revenues, plus the tax collections generated by an unprecedented sixth straight year of economic growth, Johnson said, will provide $111 billion of receipts in fiscal 1967 and bring the budget with $1.8 billion of balance.

That would be the smallest deficit in seven years—and it can be achieved, Johnson said, even with a net increase of $2.1 billion in spending for his "Great Society" programs of education, health, housing and manpower development.

Defense Spending Up

Inflation need not be the price of social progress, nor should it be a cost of defending freedom," Johnson told Congress. His blueprint for taxing and spending in the government year starting next July 1 had these further highlights:

Space Funds Cut

Outlays for overall defense-related spending will soar to $60.5 billion, up more than $10 billion from last year and nearly $4 billion from this year. Besides building muscle for Viet Nam, the Pentagon will start a second $400-million nuclear-powered aircraft carrier and begin procurement of the Minuteman III, an advanced intercontinental missile.

Poverty

The second full year of the war on poverty will bring outlays of $1.6 billion compared to $1.2 billion this year.

Nearing Completion

The Canadian project requests, according to Rep. George Mahon, who is chairman of the House committee which considers the budget, will complete this year. But this will "sustain our progress in space exploration" and not alter the

Four In Dwelling Are Found Dead
CRAWFORD, Okla. (AP)—Four persons, apparent asphyxiation victims, were found dead Sunday in a rural Roger Mills County home just north of Crawford, Okla.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Edgington, about 60; their grandson, Kim White, 9; and another relative, Lloyd Roy, about 12, in his late 50s.

The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack White of Pampa, Tex.

Sheriff Leon Gilliland said the deaths appeared to be caused by a faulty vent on the butane furnace in the home. The bodies were discovered by a neighbor who was asked to check on the Edgingtons.

DALLAS MAN ARRESTED
Small Distillery Found In House By Authorities

FORNEY, Tex. (AP)—A small frame house with tarpaper over its windows yielded 720 gallons of illegal corn mash and alcohol-producing equipment in a raid Sunday night by federal and state officials.

A Dallas man was arrested and will be charged and arraigned today before U.S. Commissioner W. Madden Hill in Dallas.

Officers from the Kaufman County Sheriff's Department and the alcohol and tobacco tax division of the U.S. Treasury Department found 18 barrels of corn mash in the house. They estimated the barrels held 720 gallons but said no whisky had been refined yet.

The inside of the house was fully equipped as a small-scale distillery, officers said, including a cooker and bottling equipment.

The arrested man bought the land two weeks ago near the East Dallas Lake Community, six miles southeast of Forney and five miles from the Dallas-Kaufman County line.

While the suspect watched, officers destroyed the equipment and poured out the pungent-smelling corn mash.

DIRKSEN OPENS ATTACK Filibuster Triggered As Mansfield Offers 14B Repeal Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield moved today for another Senate test of strength on the administration's bill to nullify state right-to-work laws. As expected, it triggered the start of another filibuster.

"I'm just a humble citizen trying to do my duty," said Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen as he started to launch an opening speech attacking President Johnson's proposal.

"Even though Mr. Meany (AFL-CIO President George Meany) doesn't like me, I like Mr. Meany," said Dirksen. "I like Mrs. Meany, too—and so does Mrs. Dirksen."

Mansfield's motion to call up the House-approved bill to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Law was the target of Dirksen's opposition.

Section 14B sanctions laws by which 19 states which bar the union shop in which workers must pay dues to keep their jobs. Dirksen successfully blocked earlier action on the repeal bill last fall and a new talk was ready to keep a new talk.

Air India 707 Down In Alps

CHAMONIX, France (UPI)—A New York-bound Air India Boeing 707 jetliner crashed today on a cloud-shrouded Mont Blanc, Europe's highest peak, killing all 117 persons aboard.

The plane, Flight 101 which originated in Bombay, slammed through a thin rock ledge about 700 feet below the 15,771-foot summit as it was preparing to approach Geneva airport. The wreckage spilled in hundreds of fragments down the snow-covered slopes.

Among those killed was Dr. Homi J. Bhabha, India's top atomic scientist, a Belgian baroness, several industrialists and 46 Indian sailors. Air India officials said only two Americans, employees of the line, were aboard.

No Survivors Found
"We found no survivors," said a helicopter pilot who was among the first to reach the crash scene. "It wasn't possible for there to have been any. The debris of the plane was scattered over a large area."

An Air India spokesman said there were 106 passengers and the crew of 11 aboard the flight. It originated in a medium "Kanchenjunga" after the second highest mountain in the Himalayas. It had stopped in New Delhi and Beirut and was to continue on to Paris, London and New York after Geneva.

The passengers were about equally divided between Indians and Europeans.

Officials of the airline said the passengers included P. C. R. Coates, general manager of the Burma Oil Co., Gianni Bertoli, the airline's regional director for Europe, and Belgian Baroness Degley.

NEITHER RAIN, HAIL, SLEET NOR SNOW—The U.S. mail must go through. The same for a planned wedding. It was the latter case in Nashville, Tenn., as Miss Margaret Fulton waded through seven-inch snow to enter the church where she married Robert Fajardo. Things May Get Sticky For Thief

RICHMOND, Calif. (UPI)—A thief with a sticky tongue was the object of a police search today.

Officers reported 45,000 trading stamps stolen from a gasoline station sometime over the weekend.

Before going to all the trouble of licking the stamps, worth an estimated $27,000 in merchandise, police advised the thief to consider the fact that they know the serial numbers of the stamps.

Texan Is Charged In Assaults On 2 Women

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An apprentice seaman from Treasure Island Naval Base in San Francisco City Jail charged with assaults on two women, one of them a 19-year-old mother who was carrying her baby in her arms.

The sailor is Philip R. Gerding, 18, of Denton, Tex., chased and captured by police after the two assaults on Lee Avenue.

The first victim, Anne Mather, 52, was seized on the sidewalk near her home but broke from her attacker and called police.

The second, Jeanette Nathan, 19, was attacked half an hour later while police patrolled the area.

Knocked To Pavement
Mrs. Nathan said she was walking along Lee when a youth crossed the street and knocked her to the pavement, shoving her 11-month-old son, John, out of her hands. The young mother told police the attacker stabbed her in the back and said: "If you yell, I'll kill the baby. If you love the baby, keep quiet."

Lockner jumped out of the car and chased the suspect a block. The officer said the youth hurled a brick at the car.

$200 Taken In Burglary

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas attacked the U.S. Air Force base at Da Nang today with mortar barrages. The attack came after a force of U.S. Air Force jets seized the initiative and killed an estimated 190 guerrillas in a lightning strike just 25 miles after the new year's day ended.

Twin attacks were directed at the sprawling air base just south of Da Nang and the nearby Marble Mountain Marine helicopter base. Mortar shells ripped into the facilities from positions outside their defense perimeter.

First Since Truce
The attack marked the first major Communist offensive against the base since the three-day lunar holiday truce ended 1 a.m. Monday (noon Sunday EST).

U.S. forces made the first attack after the truce, sending night bombers to the Communist base in the Mekong Delta with bombs, rockets and cannon fire in a one-hour and 15 minute attack. A forward air observer who directed the attack and flew over the burned-out camp later estimated the dead at almost 200.

Machines Missing
Police said a front door and padlock were pried at W. B. Abbott Jr. Construction Co. offices, 1510 2nd St. Reported missing were an electric typewriter, adding machine, and a portable radio.

An electric heater, coats, a mule blanket and even a sled were reported stolen here Saturday night and Sunday.

Largest haul was reported at the Koko Palace where district

Son Of Pioneer Lubbock Educator Once Turned Down LBJ For Teaching Job

By GAYLE NOLL
Avalanche-Journal Staff
Naasson K. Dupre describes himself as "just a simple school teacher" but the president of the United States once asked him for a job. And was turned down.

About 1930, when Dupre was chief administrative officer of Houston Junior College, a tall gangling young Houston Public School teacher named Lyndon Baines Johnson walked into his office one afternoon and asked for a job teaching public speaking at the college.

Had Enough Teachers
"A lot of teachers back then asked for night jobs at the college to supplement their salaries. And although I would have liked to have hired him, I could not have done so. I already had enough teachers," Dupre recalls. Dupre, 71, with his wife, Florine, resides at 2325 61st St. He is the son of the late Marjorie Matine Dupre, pioneer Lubbock educator and longtime Lubbock school superintendent for whom M. M. Dupre Elementary School at 1420 Ave. T is named.

Also, oldtimers say it was M. M. Dupre who first presented to a Lubbock Kiwanis Club the idea of working for establishment of a state-supported college here.

The Lubbock educator spent countless hours of study and travel working to secure the college for Lubbock. But Dupre died in February 1925, seven months before Texas Technological College opened its doors that fall for its first class of students.

Followed Pattern
The younger Dupre followed the occupational pattern set by his father as an educator, and today N. K. Dupre is credited with organizing three Texas colleges — San Antonio Junior College, Texas Southmost College (Brownsville Junior College) and the University of Houston. After graduation from Center, Tex. High School in 1912, Dupre attended Southwestern University at Georgetown two years before launching a teaching career at Alvin, Tex., in 1914, the same year his father moved to Lubbock. The younger Dupre also taught at Crosbyton High School at that time. They were married in 1915-1917. It was during his stay in Crosbyton that he met Florine Smith, a schoolteacher and daughter of lieutenant in the Air Service during the late Sep. Smith, who was president of the Crosbyton bank. For the next four years Dupre turned to agriculture for a living and was a stock farmer at Crosbyton. But the "romance" of education lingered with Dupre and he continued studying and in 1922 received a B.A. degree from Southwestern University. The following year he obtained a master's degree from the University of Texas.

The Dupres moved in 1923 to San Antonio, where Dupre was an elementary school principal and his wife a school teacher.

Meanwhile, the University of Texas board of regents had offered to start a branch junior college in San Antonio and school board members in that southern Texas city tapped Dupre to organize the college.

But in 1926, only a year after he had put the San Antonio college into operation, Brownsville school officials hired Dupre to organize a college there. Brownsville Junior College (later named Texas Southmost College) opened in the fall of 1926.

Named Dean
Again his stay was short, and in 1927 Dupre organized Houston Junior College and was named dean of the school, which had an enrollment of 461 the first year.

It was about three years later, about 1930 or 1931 while Dupre still held his position as dean of the college that he brushed sleeves with Lyndon B. Johnson.

Dupre remembers little about the encounter, except Johnson was just another "fine teacher seeking a position that was already filled."

During the 17 years Dupre was serving as dean and chief administrative officer of the Houston college, the school grew rapidly and in 1934 was renamed the University of Houston.

Unusual Beginning
But Houston Junior College had an unusual beginning and after it was organized in 1927, offered nothing but night classes for seven years.

The college had been organized under the auspices of Houston Public Schools' board of directors and the college had no classroom buildings, not even a campus.

Until 1934 all classes were conducted "after hours" at night in the public schools.

But after the school's name changed to a "general college" program, a few day classes taught in a Baptist Church were started. But it was not until 1939 when the college got its own campus and buildings, that day classes were offered on a

Funeral Pending LCC Enrollment In Lubbock For Idalon Couple

Services are pending at Frank Imhoff Funeral Home for an Idalon couple found dead of possible asphyxiation Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilbanks were found dead about 8 p.m. Wednesday in their home at 10th and West Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Imhoff Funeral Home.

LCC Enrollment Gets Underway

Registration for the spring semester at Lubbock Christian College was underway today and will continue until Tuesday noon.

Early prediction by college officials was that a record spring enrollment would be reached. Nearly 700 students were expected to enroll for classes beginning Wednesday.

Because of pre-registration conducted in December, the final enrolling was moving smoothly.

College officials said new students and transfers from other colleges were to register Tuesday.

DEMO LEADERS WORRIED

Johnson's Honeymoon With Congress May Come To End

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Presidents when it comes to financing domestic Johnson's honeymoon with most programs. They have a nonstar spending.

Slowdown Seen
It isn't likely that Congress will shelve any of the new programs approved last year. More likely it will slow them down temporarily by cutting the money needed to keep them going full speed ahead.

Some presidential proposals, new and old, which don't need heavy financing also are in for tough sledding.

While there is widespread support in the House for Johnson's request to change the Constitution and elect representatives for four-year terms, a pinch that the House will approve it.

It takes a two-thirds vote of each branch of Congress to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to the states. That means 290 votes in the House and 67 in the Senate if everyone votes. Many of the 140 House Republicans are expected to oppose the proposal. Some influential Democrats haven't been sold on it.

Formidable Opposition
The President's proposals to establish a "unanimous" requirements for nondiscrimination jury selection, to make it a federal crime to kill, attack or intimidate civil rights workers and to prohibit racial discrimination in the sale or rental of housing face formidable opposition.

So do his recommendations in the area of labor, including a new unemployment insurance program expansion of minimum wage benefits and repeal of a federal law allowing states to ban union shop labor contracts.

Starkes, who was trained to serve as a crewman in field artillery gun or howitzer units, received instruction in maintenance of weapons, ammunition handling, storage and loading of artillery guns, howitzers and heavy machine guns and communications. He also learned tactical employment of self-propelled field artillery combat vehicles and techniques of driving wheeled vehicles used to transport weapons, personnel and equipment.

The 21-year-old soldier entered the Army last September and completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La.

Some Democrats seeking to election think perhaps this is the charge that most incumbent Democrats were rubber stamps for the President in their support of costly Great Society programs enacted last year.

University Of Maine Investigating Cheating

ORONO, Maine (AP)—University of Maine officials say they are investigating an examination cheating incident which may involve 100 students.

All results for the 730 students taking the midterm test have been voided, officials said, because of advance knowledge of questions. Dr. Arthur M. Kaproff, head of the Psychology Department, said most of the students were innocent.

LBJ Asks $57.15 Billion To Cover Military Program

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP) — For $57.15 billion, President Johnson calculates, the United States can provide in the next fiscal year whatever is needed for waging war in Viet Nam and add to general defenses such as a second nuclear carrier.

These will move the arsenal toward the goal of 1,000 intercontinental ballistic missiles for the Air Force and 656 Polaris missiles for the Navy by the end of fiscal 1967.

Co-ordination Of Body Is Nature's Miracle

JOHN H. DAY, D.C.

DR. DAY

The human body is an example of perfect timing and co-ordination. No machine or instrument on earth is so complicated or so perfectly timed and co-ordinated as the human body. Like any great factory, the human body must have a controlling center—the brain is that center.

If we eat a meal, the brain immediately sets up muscular, as well as glandular action, which secretes fluids and chemicals necessary for assimilation. The brain controls these activities over the nerve system, which is similar to a great telephone system only far more complicated. If we go out into the cold, the brain controls the heat of the body. The brain is always balancing the body chemically and in other ways, compensating for changes due to outside influences.

A body becomes sick or out of balance due to an interference with the nerve system. If there is an interference or pressure upon nerves, the brain does not have complete control of the body. An organ or gland gets out of time which results in in-co-ordination all down the line. The stomach may secrete too much of one chemical and not enough of another, resulting in indigestion, gas formation causing pain, intestinal trouble and many other ailments all because of nerve interference.

The only place this interference can occur is in the spine, where nerves make exit between spinal segments. If these segments become slightly misplaced due to falls and strains, pressure is produced on nerves, result varied in-co-ordination and bodily ailments.

The chiropractor locates nerve interference and corrects spinal misplacements, restoring co-ordination between brain and body.

A body free of nerve interference, or nerve pressure, is a healthy body. You have but one life... and one body... protect it while you can.

$12 Billion Addition
Submission of the annual budget followed by only a few days a Pentagon request for a $12.3-billion addition to the current military budget.

That supplemental request, the second augmentation of the budget for the fiscal year ending next June 30, provided all of the manpower increase requested for this and the next fiscal year to reach an authorized strength by June 30, 1967, of 3,093,000 men in the armed forces. Therefore, the new budget shows no further increase.

Similarly, the two supplements to the current budget probably accounted for a large part of the planned procurement of ammunition for the next year and a half. Those supplements raised the total of ammunition procurement, which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says will make available "massive firepower" in Viet Nam, to $4.1 billion.

Surprises For Many
The budget proposals contained somewhat of a surprise for the Navy — Johnson asked funds to begin building another atomic carrier.

The Navy had been urging another nuclear carrier for several years, basing its recommendation on the performance of the first such carrier, the Enterprise. The proposed new carrier will use two, instead of the four reactors powering the Enterprise. But improvement in reactor efficiency is expected to give the new carrier substantially the speed and range of the Enterprise. The cost, however, probably will not be many millions below that of the Enterprise because of rising material and labor prices. Speculation had been that the new carrier might cost about $400 million.

Johnson dropped into his budget message a sentence mentioning "initial procurement of the new, improved Minuteman III" missile.

New "Escape" Device
His message did not elaborate on the Minuteman III. However, he may have been referring to reported improvements and refinements of the Minuteman II series, believed to include devices to help the warhead escape detection and interception. The range and other characteristics may not be greatly changed, but the "penetration aid" devices would be of major importance.

There were published reports in April 1964 of a test of a Minuteman missile which showed some remarkable characteristics. As the test missile arched downward toward its target, several rocket-powered warheads were released from the capsule. Radar and other electronic tracking gear which had been following the warhead suddenly showed confusion. False blips and patterns showed on the screen while the main warhead plunged on into the target.

The budget proposal also calls for an increase in the number of the Navy's Polaris missiles launched from submarines, and

John Johnson said the strategic forces are sufficient for deterring nuclear attack or responding to it "with a margin of safety to spare."

He wrote: "In 1967, we will (1) continue to improve the effectiveness and survivability of our strategic forces; (2) further modernize our conventional war forces by increasing their firepower, mobility and ability to fight for extended periods; and (3) press ahead vigorously with the research and development programs needed to provide the weapons and defenses of the future."

The $57.15 billion for purely military functions compares with an estimated expenditure of $52.92 billion in the current year. When atomic energy, stockpiling of critical materials, procurement, which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says will make available "massive firepower" in Viet Nam, to $4.1 billion.

Reflect Harder Conflict
"The expenditure increases in 1966 and 1967," Johnson said, "primarily reflect the heightened conflict in Viet Nam, which has resulted in more U.S. forces there and in increased use and consumption of combat equipment, supplies and ammunition. Certain other factors, such as the substantial raise in military pay enacted by the last session of Congress, also account for a portion of these changes."

He said: "The national defense effort this year and in the year to come is heavily influenced by two paramount objectives. The first objective is to provide whatever forces and equipment are needed to help South Viet Nam retain its independence. The second is to maintain and improve our balanced strategic and conventional war forces."

Emphasis will be placed on antisubmarine warfare, Johnson said. This, like the new atomic carrier, has been another goal of the Navy.

The budget calls for building 19 new destroyer escorts and five new atomic-powered attack submarines. By the end of fiscal 1967 the Navy would have 40 atomic-powered attack submarines in operation, compared with 24 by the end of next June. Each of the services will get an increase in funds under the new budget.

Expenditures for the Army in fiscal 1967 are estimated at $16.51 billion, compared with $14.02 billion estimated for the present year.

The Navy's spending would be $17.05 billion, compared with $15.46 billion this year. This will include expenditures by the Marine Corps, which is preparing to create another division.

Air Force spending would be $19.80 billion, compared with $19.76 billion this year.

Aircraft procurement would go up for all three services. The Air Force would spend $3.7 billion, the Navy $2.1 billion, the Army $854 million. Emphasis will be on procurement of helicopters, a prime requirement in the jungle war of Viet Nam.

Mrs. Gandhi Takes Oath Of Office

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Mrs. Indira Gandhi, dabbling tears of emotion from her eyes, was sworn in today as India's first woman prime minister in a ceremony attended by representatives of more than 60 nations.

Mrs. Gandhi, clad in a hand-woven white sari and scarf, twice dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief during the ceremony at the elegant presidential palace.

Also Take Oath
Fifty-one cabinet ministers and deputies also took the oath administered by President S. Radhakrishnan in the palace.

The 48-year-old widow and daughter of India's first prime minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, promised to uphold the constitution of the world's most populous nation. The tall, bespectacled, turbaned president towered over the five-foot, two-inch Mrs. Gandhi.

The ministers, who took the oath around a mahogany horseshoe-shaped table in the ornate Ashoka Room, almost to a man were in cabinets headed by Mrs. Gandhi's father or her late predecessor, Lal Bahadur Shastri.

The ashes of Shastri, who died of a heart attack Jan. 11, earlier today were borne in solemn procession to the New Delhi railroad terminal. They will be taken by train for immersion Tuesday in the sacred confluence of the Ganges and Jumna rivers at Allahabad.

The Press, which was planning to move into a new building next month, will be printed at the plant of its parent company, the Superior Evening Telegram, until facilities are set up to have it published again in this northern Wisconsin community.

Writer Volunteers Advice To Republicans On How To Update Their Conventions

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican Party has set up a committee to study ways to "modernize and simplify" its national conventions.

National Chairman Ray C. Bliss said the idea is to make the conventions "more attractive and effective in the eyes of the public."

He said the committee "will seek advice from top-flight correspondents in the newspaper, television and radio fields" as well as from party officials and political scientists.

This is such an admirable project that I have decided not to wait for the committee to solicit my advice. I am voluntarily giving it the benefit of my thinking on the problem.

I want to make it clear, however, that there are no partisan strings attached. If the Democrats want to adopt my recommendations for their conventions, they are free to do so.

Demonstrations: It used to be that political conventions had a monopoly on demonstrations. But that situation has changed drastically. Demonstrations may take place every day of the week and twice on Sunday.

To meet this outside competition, conventions have no choice but to escalate to full-scale riots.

Non-violent demonstrations: Conventions usually end anti-climactically with acceptance speeches by the nominees. From a dramatic standpoint it would be more effective if the candidates made their acceptance speeches before they are nominated.

Television: This is the root of the whole problem. Until flamboyant performance as the aging doxy in "Zorba the Greek." The honor made the Parisian actress a worldwide celebrity.

around the floor, pick their noses and otherwise enjoy themselves. Orators could ramble on for four hours without boring anyone except the delegates, who weren't listening anyway.

Once people started watching what was going on, they naturally became exasperated. The politicians, in turn, began worrying about their image.

The business of picking candidates became of secondary importance, the main concern being not to alienate the TV audience.

It is therefore obvious that the simplest way to make conventions more attractive and effective in the eyes of the public would be to ban television coverage.

Delegates were free to mill

TYLER (AP)—One of two federal prisoners who escaped from U.S. marshals Sunday night were sought Monday in an area northeast of Tyler.

The two prisoners were arrested in Birmingham, Ala., and were being returned to Texas to face bank burglary charges when they fled as they climbed out of a car in front of the Smith County jail.

Jesse McKinney's wrists were handcuffed together when he ran away. He is 26. The second man, Joe Charles Nix, 24, was recaptured immediately.

Officers said the men were charged in connection with the burglary of a bank in Ore City in Upshur County. Upshur County District Attorney Lowell C. Hill said the two men were also named in a grand jury indictment alleging they burglarized an Ore City store.

Cong Soldiers Range From Hardy Vets To Teenagers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong has many faces. He lives with fear, not only of his father before him known as the Viet Cong.

He could be a boy in his early teens, half naked, standing out in the dark atop his water buffalo. He could be an ordinary farmer in black pajamas by day and a fighter by night.

They don't call themselves Viet Cong. That name was coined in Saigon, originally as a term of derision for Vietnamese Communists. They are told they are liberators members of a liberation army who will drive out the foreigner as they drove the French a dozen years ago.

The Viet Cong concentrate on the young in areas where they intend to stay, they use children and women to build fortifications. Boys who are good at their jobs are brought into the organization but do not get weapons right away.

Today In History

Today is Monday, Jan. 24, the 24th day of 1966 with 341 to follow.
The moon is between new and first quarter.
No morning star.
The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.
American ballerina Maria Tallchief was born on this day in 1925.

On this day in history:
In 1848, gold was discovered in the Sacramento River near Coloma, Calif.
In 1908, the first Boy Scout troop was organized in England by British Gen. Robert Baden-Powell.
In 1945, Soviet troops crossed the Oder River and landed on German soil for the first time.
A thought for the day H. L. Mencken: "It is the dull man who is always sure and the sure man who is always dull."

New Newspaper Office Boy Reminds Hal Boyle Of Days When He Had Same Chores

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—I have never forgotten those days, as the only period of total freedom I ever knew.

Office boys in those days were slothily, poorly dressed and tousle-haired.

Now, and then an important-looking editor would make the mistake of yelling "Hey, boy!" This was an immediate blow to your dignity, and you put the offender in purgatory, and forever afterward responded to his summons with the alacrity of molasses.

To a newspaper office boy then, your editors were either gods or demons. If you liked them you would serve them like a slave, if you didn't like them, you invented reasons to dismiss them. Doing less than nothing for them became an art form of expression.

The greatest hero of course was the police reporter. He had exciting tales about the inside of the vice. When you are in your teens the miserable errors that people make hold the fascination of a fable.

Favorite Editor
My favorite editor was Leon Dunitz. He had developed the vague, cluttered look that time-worn, clattered, sometimes get I liked him because he used to buy French chignons, and during lulls would tell me about his experiences during World War I.

I also liked him because when our city editor fell asleep at his typewriter amid the sweet smell of bourbon, Leon would do his job of distributing copy and let me sit down and do the city editor's work. We worked at night when people are informal and when people are informal, I am a free man.

his name has nearly reached his target of $4 million.

The bottom has dropped out of the Churchill souvenir market which flourished in the first months after the 90-year-old statesman's death.

Plastic Busts
Stores sold plastic busts with bow tie and cigar for 70 cents. One department store featured silver teaspoons topped by a likeness of Churchill for $4.90.

Commemorative cards and excerpts of his speeches sold in bookstores and Churchill records placed in the Top Ten.

An album of 12 records of Churchill's speeches sold for $70 and one could get highlights for $5.25.

"We sell only a trickle now," said a record company official. The best buy for speculators has been the 22-carat gold medals struck in Churchill's honor by Spink & Son Ltd., the royal medalists. The firm struck 500 medals for $280 each and 1,000 of a smaller version at $98 a piece.

Price Doubled
They sold out in a few hours, today they are being resold at more than double the price.

"We were deluged with dollar orders from the United States," said a member of the firm.

Memorial stamps were issued May 24, Commonwealth Day, but many people criticized them because Churchill's likeness was larger than the queen's.

Much of Churchill's personal property has been sold at auction. His London town house went at double the normal price. His 1954 Humber limousine with an oversize cigar ashtray in back went to a local dealer who resold it for nearly three times what he paid.

The railroad baggage car which served as Churchill's funeral car went to Darius Johnson of Los Angeles for $800, and Churchill paintings have been bringing good prices.

Chartwell Manor, Churchill's estate in Kent, is now a national property and will open this summer as a museum.

EARL WILSON: Toreador Is Party Guest

NEW YORK (AP)—The famous bullfighter El Cordobes recently declined an invitation to appear on the Johnny Carson show because on Sat. Jan. 29 he is to be guest of honor at a big Washington party to be given by Sen. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy and children. The great toreador will be en route to Houston to be one of the judges at the Astrodome bullfights.

This all reminds me that the wife and I have to add reportage on bullfights to our schedule. Also, I believe this is the first time in history in Washington that a bull session will be held under its honest name.

Boss Hunter explains why he hopes to get Greta Garbo back to films for his picture "The Heaven Train." "She doesn't want to come back as a glamorous character," he says. "I have a role for her with great humor, in which she would play a Mother Superior. I know a lot of people around her and I am asking them to help. They will think it is not right that this great talent should expire."

is a second generation revolutionist. His brothers, fathers and uncles have been fighting more than 20 years ever since shortly after Ho Chi Minh, a combination of Nationalist and international Communist organization but do not get formed the Viet Minh—League for Vietnamese Liberation—to war against the French colonial power which returned after World War II.

Ho's forces defeated the French decisively at Dien Bien Phu in 1954, and at a Geneva conference, Viet Nam was divided into North and South. But many Viet Minh remained in the South, striking sporadically against the government's authority and forming the nucleus of what is now called the "liberation army."

Ready For Drive
The Viet Cong were ready for their big all-out effort to take over South Viet Nam in December 1960, when the formation of the National Liberation Front, a political arm for the guerrilla forces, was announced. From that time forward, the conflict in the South rose in intensity.

Today, the Viet Cong claim to control four-fifths of the land area of South Viet Nam and 10 million of its 14 million people. Even conservative estimates put the area under Viet Cong control at about 70 per cent.

As the scale of war rises, the Viet Cong tactics tend to change from time to time. Where once Viet Cong units had avoided set-piece battles they now become involved in such actions, despite their code which had preached that no battle be joined unless success is assured.

Guerrillas Praised
When it comes to pure guerrilla fighting, the Viet Cong, in the view of some military observers, are superior to North Vietnamese regulars—who sometimes expose themselves to merciless punishment from allied air attacks.

The traditional guerrilla is much more cautious. He hides his weapons, disguises himself as a peasant, slips into prepared tunnels or other hiding places if superior enemy forces show up. Viet Cong tactics are the result of long experience and painstaking organization which begins at the village level.

Enter Bidding
The two organizations have entered Arizona in the bidding for the 2,000-year-old temple, offered the United States by the United Arab Republic for its help in saving other historic monuments from the rising waters of the Aswan Dam.

"We are a natural because of our climate, terrain and serious desire to be the permanent home of the temple," said Ralph Watkins, president of the Buckeye Development Corp.

Paul McGinnis of the Valley Inkeepers' Association, acknowledged that Arizona is only one of several states trying for the temple. He said "Arizona can offer Egypt-like climate."

BORDER ARRESTS

West Berlin police said witnesses informed them the two men, both aged about 25, were arrested at Friedrichstrasse elevated border rail. No reason for the arrests was given.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Frozen South Plains To Thaw Out Today

temperatures were expected during the afternoon and Tuesday and melting of most of the snow on the South Plains is expected by late Tuesday. Minimum temperatures throughout Northwest Texas are forecast to range from 23 to 35 early Tuesday and the maximum readings Tuesday are forecast to be from 35 to 45 degrees.

The forecast for the next five days indicates temperatures will be below the seasonal normal, in spite of the slow warming period the first part of the week. Colder weather is expected to move in again Wednesday night or Thursday and snow is expected the last half of the week.

Schools Closed

Most schools on the South Plains reopened today. However, the Crosbyton Public Schools were closed.

In Quanah, where it was 10 degrees early today with four inches of snow on the ground, roads were considered extremely dangerous. Both Quanah and Chillicothe schools were closed today and will be closed Tuesday.

A light snow fell early today in some parts of the Panhandle. There was drizzle in South Central Texas and as far north as Bonham, where drizzle was mixed with snow and sleet.

Heavy Snow Reported

In the northeast Texas counties of Fannin and Lamar, light to heavy snow made bridges icy.

All highways in the Childress district in Northwest Texas were hazardous due to ice spots.

An Amarillo youth using an overturned car hood as a sled was killed when a towrope connected to his father's car cut loose and he skidded beneath a parked car.

East Is Battered

Snow and freezing rain, whipped by gale-force winds, battered sections from Arkansas to New England Saturday night and Sunday, downing power lines, flooding coastal areas and icing highways.

Storm center had moved into the Atlantic coast of Nova Scotia today, leaving cleared skies. But overnight temperatures plummeted to subfreezing levels, and many areas seemed destined to have snowdrift and sludge around for awhile.

The storm hampered plane and bus transportation. Railroad trains got through.

New York City declared a snow emergency to help clear its 6,000 miles of streets.

The Buffalo, N.Y., suburb of Lancaster reported a two-foot snowfall in Buffalo, where 17 1/2 inches of snow fell in 24 hours, the airport was closed and a public and parochial school holiday was declared today.

Tanker Aground

In New York's Lower Bay, the British tanker Chelwood ran aground on a reef of rocks and 25-foot seas as the vessel veered around a half-mile east of Sandy Hook, N.J.

Condition Not Critical

Mrs. Nathan was treated at an emergency hospital for a stab wound in the back. Doctors said her condition was "not critical." Mrs. Nathan was not injured.

Gerding was booked on two counts of suspicion of attempted murder, one of resisting arrest cases, and one of possessing stolen property — identification cards.

In a jail interview Gerding said he had drunk a pint of Scotch and some vodka.

"I don't know what happened. I just sort of bombed out."

Gerding's booking record listed his father as professor of Spanish at North Texas State University in Denton and his mother as a music teacher.

"I wanted to be a teacher like my parents," he said. "I come from a pretty nice family. But I sort of blew that."

3 Suspects Are Charged In Robbery

Three suspects were charged today with robbery by firearms in a Saturday morning holdup of a clerk at Savings Center Supermarket, an all-night grocery at 704 E. Broadway.

Named in the complaint were Susano Cardenas Jr., 21, 1911 8th St.; Jessie Ortega Garza, 26, 317 Ave. V, and Geromino Alvarado, 25, of 327 N. Ave. Q. They were placed under $2,500 bond each by Justice of the Peace George M. McCleskey.

1318 Taken

About $138 was reported taken in the 12:50 a.m. hijacking. The owner, Quentin Brooks, said he was in the market section, and his 18-year-old son, Steve, at a check-out stand during the robbery.

Two men were in the store, "like they were warming," Brooks told police.

One of them approached Steve Brooks as though to pay for two packages of gum, but then pulled a pistol and demanded the money from the cash register, according to police reports.

Looted Register

Steve Brooks said the cash register didn't open the first try, and the other man hit Brooks as the man with the head with his fist. Then, both men looted the register, the victim said.

The holdup men fled in a car, heading eastward. Shortly afterwards, patrolman Ed Nelson stopped the described car and spotted it in 4200-block Quirt Avenue. Alvarado was identified as the driver. The other two men were identified by Brooks, according to officers.

On the suspect who were in the store earlier, police said a revolver was found in the car and some ammunition was taken from possession of Cardenas. The latter was identified as the man with the gun, officers said, while Brooks pointed out Garza as the one who struck him.

three of its U.S. employees were among those killed. They were two Americans, James W. Gray, chief space control supervisor in New York and Mrs. Jacqueline Freitas, a reservation agent in Los Angeles and a French national, Mrs. Josette Bonnar, a New York resident.

Two Leave Plane

Air India said one of its hostesses, Swiss-born Doris Lady, escaped the crash because she felt ill when the plane landed at Beirut and was given permission to leave the left. Another passenger, also left at Beirut.

The orange and silver wreckage of the plane was first spotted by a Swiss federal air force pilot Raymond Tillman, surveying part of the 15,717-foot mountain. He dipped his small twin-engine plane through a hole in the clouds when news was radioed to him that the airliner had disappeared from the radar screen at 8:10 a.m. (2:10 a.m. EST) as the pilot was preparing to make his approach to Geneva.

The wreckage was scattered over a broad area near the Vallot mountain refuge, about 1500 feet up the slopes of the famous white mountain and near the treacherous "Tour du crag" where another Air India plane, the Malabar Princess, crashed Nov. 3, 1950, killing 48 persons.

The crash was one of the four worst single commercial aviation disasters in history. The worst single crash occurred June 3, 1962, when a chartered Boeing 707 carrying 121 Atlanta, Ga., art patrons and a crew of 9 ran off a runway at Orly Airport in Paris killing all 130 persons aboard.

Veteran Pilot

Air India identified the pilot of the craft as Capt. J. D'Souza, an 18-year veteran with more than 13,000 hours as commander of an aircraft.

"We have little to go on yet as to the cause of the crash," said Swiss civil air inspector Werner Donau who was handling the search from the Swiss side.

Donau confirmed that there was no indication from the wreckage of any malfunction. "But this does not mean that nothing was wrong aboard the plane," he added. "It just means that if something did go wrong it also cut the radio immediately."

The last major airline disaster occurred May 20, 1965, when 119 persons died in the crash of a Pakistan Air Lines plane near Cairo.

Mont Blanc, situated in France, is the highest peak in sea of jagged alpine mountains all in the 13,000-foot plus range.

Rescue teams from France, Italy and Switzerland searched for possible survivors.

Swiss aviation officials said the plane apparently had settled into its landing pattern when it struck the peak.

Father Reveals Autopsy Report In Son's Death

SHEFFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The father of Newcomb Mott said today he was told an autopsy showed his son died from slashes on his throat, wrists and abdomen.

The autopsy also showed bruises were inflicted on his body after death.

Howard Mott said he was notified by telephone by William T. Shinn Jr., a consular officer at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

No Other Details

Mott said he was given no other details, except that one of the bruises was on the back of the head.

"They must have done something dreadful to him," the elder Mott said in an interview with The Associated Press.

The father said his wife, who has done some nursing, is more convinced than ever that their son was a victim of "physical murder," because of the "post-mortem bruises."

Mott had said earlier he believed his son either was murdered or subjected to psychological pressures that forced him to suicide.

The report to Mott's parents came after a U.S. Embassy doctor and a consular officer met with Soviet officials for three hours today inquiring into Mott's death. He was an American tourist convicted of illegally crossing into the Soviet Union a few miles and sentenced to a prison term.

The Embassy in Moscow withheld comment on the medical inquiry until the Mott family was notified.

The Soviet Union said Mott killed himself on a train en route to a labor camp.

Cong targets elsewhere in South Viet Nam today as the air war resumed following the 78-hour reprieve at 6 p.m. Sunday (5 a.m. est).

The moratorium on attacks against North Viet Nam began Dec. 24, continued today.

The U.S. spokesman reported today a U.S. Navy anti-submarine aircraft disappeared mysteriously Saturday off the coast of North Viet Nam.

The tracker plane, an S2D Hornet, disappeared from radar suddenly while flying about 100 miles southeast of the major North Vietnamese port of Haiphong, a point where the Gulf of Tonkin and the South China Sea converge. U.S. authorities said the fate of the plane and its crew remained a mystery, but their disappearance coincided with a Radio Hanoi report that an American plane had been shot down in the area.

Search Called Off

An S2D normally carries a crew of four. Search and rescue operations for the missing crew were called off early today.

Military spokesmen reported no significant ground action against Communist guerrillas between the end of the cease-fire and midday today. But in the renewed aerial offensive, U.S. combat planes flew 72 sorties Sunday night and early today. No overall Communist casualty estimates were released, but the military spokesman reported 352 Viet Cong buildings destroyed, another 90 damaged and 8 sampans sunk.

U.S. authorities reported 82 Viet Cong "incidents" in violation of the lunar year cease-fire while it was in effect.

Two small unit attacks and an assassination were attributed to the guerrillas as it expired.

Not Guilty, Baker Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert G. (Bossy) Baker pleaded innocent today to a nine-count indictment charging him with grand larceny, tax evasion, fraud and conspiracy.

Trial date was set for Oct. 14 for the 37-year-old former Senate aide, once a protégé of President Johnson when the latter was a senator. He was arraigned in U. S. District Court before Chief Justice Matthew McGuire.

McGuire set Baker's bond at $5,000. He ordered all pre-trial motions filed by June 7.

Dapper As Usual

Baker was dapper as usual at the arraignment, but appeared somewhat subdued.

He answered "not guilty" after Judge McGuire read the indictment and asked how he pleaded. The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury here Jan. 5 following a 15-month investigation.

Baker was accompanied to the hearing by his two attorneys, Edward Bennett Williams of Washington and Boris Kostantetz of New York City.

Baker waited in a second-row seat while McGuire disposed of some routine court business before asking his plea. Baker was dressed in a dark blue suit with light grey shirt and a blue tie.

Several of the charges against Baker cover activities since he resigned his $19,600-a-year job as secretary to Senate Democrats.

If convicted on each count, Baker could be given a maximum penalty of 48 years in prison and fines of $47,000.

The specific acts charged in the indictment allegedly occurred after Johnson left the Senate to become vice-president in 1963.

The indictment charged that in 1962 Baker obtained a total of $100,000 by fraudulent means from three California savings and loan association executives.

The indictment also charged that Baker underestimated his income by $54,588.91 for 1961 and 1962 and that he evaded $23,690.27 in federal income taxes for those two years.

THINKING OUT LOUD

WHIT RIX VICTORY ARLEN P. TRICE

An advertising executive who travels extensively, checked into a motel and was surprised to see an attractive, unique invitation card in the desk drawer. It read —

YOU ARE INVITED TO WORSHIP WITH US THIS SUNDAY

For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereunto I sent it. ISAIAH 55: 10, 11.

The advertising man attended the church service. After worship, he had a brief chat with the minister and was informed that 10 or more guests from nearby motels visited the church every Sunday. It may seem strange, but doesn't it seem these two verses from Isaiah state a pretty strong case for advertising—even for churches? Whit Rix Victory and Arlen P. WILL BE 98 TUESDAY

Mrs. Harriett Adams Has Learned Never To Worry

By LELAND BOYD
Avalanche-Journal Staff

Mrs. Harriett Louise (Eliza) Adams, 1917 25th St., will be 98 Tuesday, another milestone in a life she describes as ordinary, but filled with good health and sustained strength even until today.

"I only use glasses to read, don't need a hearing aid, and try to keep abreast of things that are happening," she says.

To celebrate the birthday she and relatives who live in Lubbock plan to eat out at a cafeteria. After the meal they'll return home for visiting and games.

Through the years she remembers the development of the automobile—she was past 30 years old when she first saw a car—the airplane, and the conveniences of living today.

Born in Tennessee

Born in Tennessee, Jan. 25, 1868, she remembers a girlhood filled with school, work, social outings and life with pioneer surroundings.

Living in a log house, the family used open grease lamps filled with cooking grease for light, glassless windows that closed tight with boards for bad weather, smokehouses filled with sugar-cured meat, and a food cache in the ground for storing fresh apples, turnips, potatoes, and cabbage during the winter.

Her family moved to Peach Orchard, Ark., when she was 12, and came to Cisco, Tex., when she was 22. Later she moved to Abilene, met and married a railroad man. She lived for a number of years at Big Spring, where her three daughters and a son were born and reared.

Children Listed

The daughters are Mrs. Grace Lowe, 2113 13th St., Mrs. W. T. Rawson, North Plainview Highway, and Mrs. E. S. Swindell, 1917 25th St., with whom Mrs. Adams lives. A son, George W. Egan, lives at Los Angeles. There are five grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

She worked in a hat shop in Abilene, where she made and sold hats for women. After her first husband died she finished rearing the children alone, depending on her skill as a seamstress to earn money. Her second husband died several years ago.

She still makes many of her own clothes; does needlepoint work; goes to the beauty shop regularly; likes to cook and play canasta.

"Long life is to honor thy father and mother," she says, quoting one of her favorite passages from the Bible.

She attends Sunday School and worship services regularly, and says that her faith in the Lord has given her a lot of peace.

"According to the time that I've been living, I don't have much more time left," she says. "I'm not worried about it."

She speaks of a latent desire to go see the Holy Land, but doesn't expect to because she can't travel alone and would not want to be a burden to some of the younger people who'd have to go along to take care of her.

There are three sisters of her family still living. The oldest is 91, another is 88 and the youngest is 83.

YOUTH HELD

Charge Is Filed Here In Shooting

A charge of murder with malice was filed this morning in the shooting of Rodney Dewitt Underwood, 21, early Sunday on Avenue A after a traffic incident.

Defendant is Daniel Ortiz Arguio, 18, of 2810 Auburn St., who was arrested Sunday afternoon with two companions in a car in 400-block Avenue H. Officers said a pistol was found in the automobile. Arguio was placed under $2,500 bond by Justice of the Peace George H. McCleskey.

Funeral services for Underwood were set at 3 p. m. Tuesday in Highland Assembly of God Church, 3808 Quaker Ave., with the Rev. Morris Sheats officiating, assisted by the Rev. H. M. Sheats. Burial will be in Resthaven Memorial Park under direction of Henderson Funeral Directors.

The victim resided at 2801 37th St., with his wife and year-old daughter. He was a partner with his father, Marshall D. Underwood Jr., in Underwood's Barber Shop at 408 Ave. Q.

Identified in Line-Up

Three of Underwood's four companions in the incident identified the suspect in a police line-up late Sunday, officers said.

The shot was fired during an exchange of words between the young barber and his assailant after a collision between the two vehicles had been narrowly averted.

The bullet severed the victim's jugular vein, according to investigators. It struck Underwood at the top of his left jaw bone and lodged below the right ear.

Underwood's four companions, James D. Alderson, 21, 1509 27th St., driver of the car; James Albert McCasland, 19, Villa Inn, Spencer A. (Buddy) Brown, 22, an airman on leave from McChord Air Force Base, Tacoma, Wash.; and David Leroy Griggs, 24, 2311 25th St., were all witnesses to the shooting.

Garb Bessell, Alderson and Brown told The Avalanche-Journal Sunday night that there was no doubt in their minds that the suspect was the same man that had fired the gun Sunday morning.

"He was even wearing the same sweater," Alderson said. Underwood had described to officers following the shooting.

Underwood's companions said Sunday night that Brown had just arrived in Lubbock on a 30-day leave from the Air Force and that a bunch of his classmates had got together at a friend's house Saturday night. Brown, Alderson and Underwood had attended school together at Smyer from the time they entered the first grade until graduation, and Underwood and Brown had entered the Air Force together in 1962.

En Route Home

Alderson said they had left the friend's house and were on their way home when the incident occurred.

"We were driving south on Avenue A and were on the inside lane," Alderson said. "We were going faster than the car in the other lane and started to pass, but as we did, he pulled in front of us. I had to brake and switch lanes to keep from hitting him."

"By the time we had slowed down we were beside him, Rodney milled down the window and asked me what his problem was. The man on the left side of the car said 'You don't like it, huh?' and when Rodney said we certainly didn't, the man pulled a gun and shot," Alderson added.

Hands To Mouth

"Everyone ducked when he shot and I got out of there," he said.

It wasn't until after they had left the other car behind that his companions discovered the shot had hit Underwood.

Brown said that after everyone in the car had raised up, Underwood said, "They hit me," and turned to Brown who was sitting beside him in the back seat of the car. "He had his hands in his mouth and I saw blood coming out his mouth and told James to get to a hospital because Rodney had been shot," Brown said. "The gun sounded like a pop gun, but when we realized it wasn't, we didn't think about license plates, we were just thinking about saving Rod's life."

Victim "West Lamp"

Goodnight Hospital, about two miles from the scene of the shooting, was the closest place Underwood's companions could think to take him. Brown said he was still alive and trying to move until they turned in at the hospital. Then he went "limp," Brown said.

Alderson said the gunman must have had the gun, later found to have been a .22 calibre through the bullet taken from Underwood's neck, in his hand when they pulled up beside the car. "It didn't take him a split second to shoot, and the expres-

Leader Of Protests Arrested, Charged

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Hoses Williams, Negro leader of six-day demonstrations here, was arrested Sunday and charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

Williams disclaimed the charges. He will be tried in traffic court tonight.

Police said Williams, an officer of the so-called Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was arrested about 3 a. m. by motorcycle policeman W. C. Evans, who said Williams drove through a red light at 50 to 60 miles an hour.

Williams posted $300 bond and was released. He asserted he was mistreated by police.

Allderson said everyone in the car except McCasland got a good look at the gunman, and three of the men were able to pick the suspect out of a lineup of six men Sunday night.

After getting out of the Air Force in 1963, Underwood joined his father in the barber shop at 408 Ave. Q and had been working there as a barber since then.

He was born in Weatherford, but had lived in Lubbock 20 years. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Smyer.

Survivors include his wife Mrs. Bobbie June Underwood, 2801 37th St.; his daughter, Rhonda Michelle, 1; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Underwood Jr., 5426 35th St.; a sister, Mrs. Neva Joyce Hood, Dallas, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall D. Underwood of Rt. 5, Lubbock, and Bud Stoneman of California.

Wife Of Juan Peron Stirs Trouble In Ranks Of Powerful Argentine Party

By ISAAC A. LEVI
 BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The handsome wife of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron returned to Argentina last fall ostensibly to heal a split in the powerful Peronist party and pave the way for her husband's return.

Instead, she seems to have widened the breach. But Argentine political observers say that may have been the plan all along.

Goal Remains Same
 Her goal remains the same but first she must discredit veteran labor leader Augusto Vandor, who stands in her husband's way. Vandor, head of the metal workers, opposes Peron's return and gives signs of wanting to lead the movement himself.

Warring Factions
 For more than a year now, the Peronist movement, Argentina's biggest political party, has been cracking into several warring factions.

Public evidence of the split erupted last Wednesday when Mrs. Peron and Vandor now appears to be shaping up with Isabelita's emergence this week as head of a new top command in the Peronist movement. The command of 42 members includes 18 unions from the General Workers' Confederation for Argentina, whose election as governor of Buenos Aires province in 1962 led to the military overthrow of President Arturo Frondizi.

Pay Lip Service
 Some Peronist leaders, while paying lip service to the 70-year-old former strong man, privately admit they are convinced he will never return.

Peron tried it in December 1964 but was turned back, at the request of Argentine authorities, when he reached Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Some Peronists say Vandor convinced Peron the time was ripe to return knowing he would be stopped and held up to ridicule.

Peron followed up by sending the 34-year-old Isabelita, a former night club dancer, to Buenos Aires last October. Shortly after her arrival, a barrage of pamphlets appeared accusing Vandor of being too friendly with Frondizi during his anti-Peronist administration. Publicly, Isabelita declared she had returned to redraw Peron's image with the rank and file and to heal Peronist wounds.

Reliable sources say she has a third secret mission: unseat Vandor. She appears to have taken the first step in the direction.

Morpheus was the god of dreams in Greek mythology.

THREE TOP TEXAS NEWSPAPERMEN PLAN STUDY

News Coverage Code To Be Explored

By BOB M. GASSAWAY
CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Three top Texas newspapermen today began exploring ways of protecting rights of persons accused of crimes while fulfilling the constitutional obligation of news media to keep the public informed.

The planned effort was announced after a panel discussion of the new Texas Code of Criminal Procedure's provision on news coverage on criminal cases, climax of the annual Associated Press Managing Editors meeting here yesterday.

"We must be sober, we must be responsible and we must fight with dignity and wisdom to preserve nearly two centuries of licensed freedom," Felix McKnight, editor of the Dallas Times Herald, told his fellow newspaper executives. "But we also must be yielding in some respects and have a fresh, constructive look at some old practices." McKnight said he will seek a meeting of newspaper leaders of the bar and law enforcement representatives to tackle the agencies in creating a model of mammoth problem of establishing coordination and cooperation to ing voluntary guidelines to be followed by other states and vent running afoul of the new we don't have to sacrifice a criminal code's provision gov-principle or an honest belief to erming news coverage of crim-inal cases.

When He Said "Take" Limousine, Airline Passenger Did Just That

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—"What's the quickest way to town?" asked the passenger as he got off a plane. An airline agent told him to go out front and "take the limousine."

He did. A transportation firm reported it stolen. Police found it a few hours later at a downtown motor hotel.

McKnight said he will seek a meeting of newspaper leaders of the bar and law enforcement representatives to tackle the agencies in creating a model of mammoth problem of establishing coordination and cooperation to ing voluntary guidelines to be followed by other states and vent running afoul of the new we don't have to sacrifice a criminal code's provision gov-principle or an honest belief to erming news coverage of crim-inal cases.

Goal Of Meeting

The goal of the proposed meeting will be to prevent enactment of legislation which will restrict news coverage of criminal cases.

McKnight, Talbot Rain, a Dallas attorney, and Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, were panelists in a discussion of one sentence of the criminal code enacted by the 1965 legislature which limits the information law enforcement officers and court officials may release concerning an alleged

He called on Robert Jackson, editor of the Corpus Christi Caller and Times, and Ed Hunter, editor of the Galveston News and Tribune, to help arrange the meeting. All three are members of Gov. John Connally's interim committee for the study of legislation and fair trial.

Registration

Registration will be from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. both Tuesday and Wednesday, and from 8 a.m. to noon Thursday. No late registration is planned.

Graduate students unable to complete enrollment during the regular registration period will be allowed to register from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday. Classes for the spring semester will begin at 8 a.m. Friday. Tech officials estimate that enrollment will exceed 15,000 students this spring, surpassing the record set last spring which was 13,281. Last fall's all-time record enrollment was 16,205, but enrollment figures normally decrease in the spring.

Inmate Fights To Stay In Chicago Jail

CHICAGO (AP)—"It's a fine jail. I'm comfortable. I have all the food, clothing and shelter I need and I want to stay here." That's why Clarence Bendix, 46, an inmate of Cook County Jail, is fighting the court and his estranged wife to stay inside the institution. Bendix began serving a six-month sentence July 21, 1965, for failure to pay $75 a week support to his wife, Pearl, 43, who filed suit for separate maintenance. After serving the sentence, he was told he would be released if he would sign a $2,500 bond and stay within the jurisdiction of the court. "Nothing doing," Bendix replied. "For the first time in my life I have no worries."

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson proposed today a slash of nearly 16 per cent in the spending of new federal funds by the Agriculture Department in fiscal 1967.

Although the suggested cut totals more than $1 billion, the actual reduction would be only about $278 million.

The President recommended that $812 million in department programs be financed from private credit sources and by re-use of funds collected on repayment of old Rural Electrification loans.

The budget proposal actually totals $3.4 billion, but department outlay of Treasury funds would be $5,798,300,000 compared with an indicated $6,888,600,000 for the current year. The difference stems from departmental participation in the programs of other agencies.

Program Costs
Costs of programs for bolstering farm prices and incomes—long a major spending item—would be reduced by $145 million. These programs would cost $2,989,000,000 during the coming fiscal year compared with $3,134,000,000 this year.

The biggest reduction in use of new money from the Treasury—$549 million—would be made under a Johnson proposal that the department be authorized by Congress to sell credit certificates to private lenders to help provide subsidized loans to low-income families and rural residents under the Farmers Home Administration.

Other reductions would include the department's school milk and school lunch programs, the Food for Peace program, the government's meat

20 Persons Killed In Texas Violence

(By The Associated Press)
Icy highways led to fatal accidents for some persons in Texas during the weekend but the fierce weather apparently kept the bulk of drivers off the roads and kept the traffic deaths down.

At least 20 persons died violently in Texas from 6 p.m. Friday through midnight Sunday, according to an Associated Press tabulation. Fourteen deaths were in traffic mishaps.

Robert Carthel, 16, of Amarillo, was killed Sunday evening when the makeshift sled in which he was riding behind an automobile went out of control and slid beneath a parked car. A second Amarillo youth, Bobby McPherson, 16, is in critical condition at an Amarillo hospital.

San Antonio Crash
Mrs. Trinidad Dominguez, 23, was killed Sunday at San Antonio when the car in which she rode failed to negotiate a curve and crashed into a city public utility pole.

Mrs. Lillian Wright, 52, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision on Highway 90 west. Six other persons were injured. Mrs. Wright was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Mary Scott, 26. Mrs. Scott's son, Eddie, 3, is in critical condition in a San Antonio hospital. Mrs. Scott and her daughters, Vickie, 8, and Connie, 6, were listed in fair condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bryan Fisk of McGregor were killed Sunday when their car skidded onto Santa Fe railroad tracks five miles north of Temple and a 117-car freight train hit them. The site was a rural intersection known as Willow Creek Crossing.

Brownwood Shooting
Mrs. Eddie Mae Brown, 27, of Brady was shot to death Sunday during a Brownwood tavern brawl. Police questioned a second woman.

Norman Lee Mosser, 45, was found shot to death in his home at Mullen, about 20 miles southeast of Brownwood, Sunday afternoon. He had been shot in the head with a rifle which lay nearby.

Joe Acosta, 23, and his brother-in-law, Leonardo Garcia Diaz, 24, were shot to death Friday in a Dallas apartment house during what police called an all-

IN AN EFFORT TO ACHIEVE HIGHER SALARIES

Kentucky Teachers Plan Statewide One-Day Walkout

Ag Programs FROM PAGE ONE

Under this program, stamps good for purchase of foods are given eligible needy persons. As recommended a year ago, but without success, the President asked that the cost of federal inspection of meats and poultry be shifted to processors and slaughterers. This would save $66.2 million.

1968 Fiscal Year

Looking to the 1968 fiscal year beginning June 1, 1967, the President asked Congress to make a big cut in an agricultural conservation program under which cost-sharing payments are made to cooperating farmers. He recommended that the 1967 crop year program which would be paid for during the 1968 fiscal year be authorized at an expenditure level of $100 million compared with $220 million authorized for the 1966 crop year.

Milk Program Cuts

The President would cut federal contributions for the department's special milk program from $80 million this year to $57 million next year. Under this program, the government pays year were recommended at $42 million compared with $22 million available to school children. The President would limit federal contributions to milk made available to needy children only. Others would have to pay the full cost.

Violence FROM PAGE ONE

Police looked a 28-year-old man for murder. John Ervin Smith, 49, and Joe Rubarth, 53, both New Braunfels construction men, were killed and four other persons injured Sunday in a two-car collision on Texas 46. The Department of Public Safety said one of the cars skidded into the opposite lane and was struck broadside by the second vehicle.

No New Orders

Col. Garrison said he has not issued any instructions to his men on news releases since the code took effect Jan. 1 because "we don't completely understand that part of the code."

Woman Asphyxiated

Death by carbon monoxide poisoning was ruled Saturday in the death of Mrs. Lina Simuk Callahan, 18, of Victoria. Mrs. Callahan's body was found Friday night when her husband returned to their garage apartment in Victoria from work. Mrs. Rosa S. Hughes, 23, was killed early Sunday on the Gulf Freeway at Houston when the

Maryland Residents Aid Battered Rio

The Maryland friends of the Alliance for Progress have donated 15,000 doses of antibiotics to the flood-battered sister state of Rio de Janeiro. The rapid donation to this state was explained by authorities as due to constant contacts between amateur radio operators in Annapolis, Md., and Petropolis, Rio de Janeiro State.

Fallout Shelter Tests Scheduled

The Defense Department plans to test low-cost, dual-use public fallout shelters in new construction projects during the coming fiscal year. President Johnson's new budget contains an increase of $575,000 for civil defense research, primarily to test the new shelters.

Teachers Vote Walkout

All last week teachers in Kentucky's 200 school districts met to discuss the walkout. Many superintendents urged the teachers to forget the matter. The issue came to a head in Fayette County, in the heart of the Bluegrass country. Despite an effort to achieve higher salaries, Dr. G. S. Potts, and Breathitt's majority leader in the House of Representatives, John Young, Brown of Lexington, the teachers voted overwhelmingly to walk out.

Surging Raiders Head For Showdown With Ags Feb. 8

The Sports Scene:

Some Notes Slipped Through The Bars

By EARL SCUDDY

EVER TRY TO WARM up a college basketball team for an important game on an enemy court—and without basketballs?

That happened to Polk Robison's Red Raiders late in World War 2, when the Tech cagers went to Albuquerque to battle the always-tough New Mexico University Lobos. As Polk tells it, something happened to the team bus, so he decided to have his players suit up at their hotel, then take taxicabs to the NMU gymnasium.

"It all worked out fine, too," Polk recalled the other day. "We arrived at the fieldhouse just in time for our warmup, and the boys seemed eager to play. But when we got on the court, we found that we had left all our basketballs on the bus!"

Polk said the New Mexico coaches were unproductive, and Polk saw that the Raiders were getting worried and tense over the situation.

"Get on out there and go through your regular warmup drills," Polk told them. "Do everything that we normally would, except we won't actually use a basketball."

Crowd Likes Phantom Drill

THE TECHSANS TOOK to the court, a bit sheepishly at first, and began to go through the motions of passing, dribbling and shooting. The crowd's reaction changed from astonishment to laughter, then to applause. The Raiders caught the enthusiasm and really started to ham it up, Polk recalls.

"Shoot, by the time we went to the dressing room just a few minutes before the start of the game, I knew we were going to play a good game. I told the kids that everything was all right—they had nothing to worry about.

"And sure enough, we beat New Mexico pretty easily," Polk laughs at the memory.

TEXAS TECH'S PRESENT cage coach, Gene Gibson, and his friendly rivals around the Southwest Conference, face a bigger problem these days than not having basketballs to practice with. The plain truth is that the conference has taken a terrific drubbing from inter-sectional rivals this season, with a resulting loss of prestige.

Lou Maysel, the sports editor of the Austin American, wrote the other day that there's a little question that the Southwest Conference plays about as poor basketball as any major conference in the nation. The 7-44 win-loss record compiled by the SWC in December gives him some support for his theory, especially since a dozen of the triumphs were against inferior opposition.

The reason? Maysel quotes University of Texas coach Harold Bradley as saying that it is the lack of basketball background in this section of the country.

"Judging from the teams we have played, I'll bet their boys have played 200 more basketball games than the Texas boys," Bradley told Maysel. He also thinks that the state's growing basketball deficiencies start showing up in the high schools first.

"The number of good boys in the state tournament gets less and less each year, and I don't think the coaching is the reason for it," he said.

Texans Lack Fundamentals

THE REAL REASON, Bradley believes, is too little exposure to basketball in schoolboy ranks.

"You can't take a boy and make him into a basketball player during the season," Bradley told Maysel. "A boy has to learn the fundamentals at other times."

Bradley's assistant, Leon Black, supports that view of the situation.

"Fundamentals are the main thing that boys in Texas lack," Black asserts. "Lots of times a boy from a smaller school will look pretty good in high school, but he won't have the fundamentals and he will pass right on through college and never do anything."

MUCH OF THE BLAME for the cage problem is heaped on the stubborn leaders of the Intercollegiate League, who have placed severe restrictions on the amount of basketball instruction that can be given a schoolboy. But the state's traditional emphasis on football at all levels, certainly is a factor.

Under Intercollegiate League rules, there's no spring training for basketball teams, and coaches cannot start drills until Oct. 1 in Class B, Oct. 15 in AAAA, and Nov. 1 in AA and A.

Finally, Maysel emphasizes, there is the U.I.L. edict against summer clinics which boys could learn to play basketball. Other states permit this, and it helps give those boys a big lead over Texas hopefuls.

Abilene System Is Lauded

WHEN WITHOUT CHANGES in the U.I.L. rules, Bradley sees several possibilities for improvement.

"We need more basketball-minded people coaching in the junior highs around the state," he declares, citing the Abilene system as a good model.

"Abilene is the school system with the best program I know of," Bradley says. "They have it from the elementary grades on up, not only in basketball but in all sports."

"They have qualified coaches in the elementary schools and they play an 18-game basketball schedule in the sixth grade."

Bradley also is a strong supporter of making the gyms more accessible to the boys during the summer months.

"San Antonio last year opened its gyms during the summer," Bradley emphasizes. "It's the first big city around here that I know of that has done this. They put recreation people at every gym, not to coach the kids, but just to let them play and be exposed to basketball."

BRADLEY CERTAINLY HAS logic with him on this subject. It seems ridiculous for the school gyms to be locked, while boys have so much idle time that could be utilized to make them more proficient athletes and better citizens.

It seems obvious that something must be done, and soon. Or else the fans must be prepared to doom the Southwest Conference to the inferior status on the basketball courts of the nation.

Balfanz Takes Second Win

MIDDLETON, Wis. (AP)—with the top five jumpers representing the 1964 national champion, raked up his second straight victory Sunday in qualifications for the U.S. ski jumping team for the world championships in Norway.

Balfanz, a 25-year-old salesman from Minneapolis, Minn., jumped 189 and 193 feet in near-calm weather. He compiled 214 points for distance and form.

The North American record holder also captured the opening day's trials Saturday on the same Blackhawk Hill slope. The qualifications continue Jan. 29-30 at Duluth, Minn., and conclude Feb. 5-6 at Westby, Wis.

Bob Glover, everybody's choice to be the Southwest Conference's sophomore of the year, apparently has come of age and Texas Tech is ready to challenge front-running Texas A&M for the conference lead.

That face-to-face challenge won't be forthcoming until Feb. 8 at College Station when the two clubs meet for the first time and again on Feb. 15 when they collide again at Lubbock.

But, in the meantime, Glover and Tech may be fattening up their own records and in position to wrest the lead away from the Aggies.

Glover, who sat out last season because of a losing battle with grades, started slowly this season. But, he has come on like a whirlwind in recent games.

Last Saturday, for instance, he pumped in 27 points and hauled in 17 rebounds in sparking Tech to a 100-83 victory over Southern Methodist, the team everyone figured as Tech's chief threat for title honors.

That boosted his season output to 201 points and ninth place in season scoring and his three-game league production to 61 points, a 20.3 average good enough for the No. 4 spot in league play.

At the same time, Tech's veterans—Dub Malaise, Norm Reuther and Bobby Messells, also found the range. Malaise hit for 29 points, Reuther for 24 and a dozen rebounds and Messells for 19 points as Tech hit from the outside and inside with equal ease.

The Aggies had kept their record unblemished earlier in the week with a 64-37 victory over Texas on the road and now won't return to conference action until Feb. 5 against Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

Tech will be getting in three other games, meanwhile, against Rice at Houston Saturday afternoon and TCU and Texas at Lubbock Feb. 1 and

Massengale Wins First Big Title

Young Texan Credits Lema For Good Advice

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Champagne Tony Lema will get a bubbly recommendation from the winner of the $104,500 Bing Crosby Tournament if he ever decides to quit the pro golf tour and start teaching the game.

Lema, who ran into trouble with his own game in Sunday's final round was in a threesome with Don Massengale of Jacksboro, Tex., and when the Texan moved ahead of the pack, Tony supplied the counsel which helped stand off Arnold Palmer's famed charge.

"Tony was extremely helpful as the pressure built up," the 28-year-old Massengale said at the finish. "He helped calm me down, and a couple of times told me 'you have everything under control...let them chase you.'"

Lema Shoots 79
So while Lema soared to a 79 and 293, Massengale beat off the Palmer challenge and defeated the all-time money winning champion by one stroke with a 70-283.

Palmer shot a 71 on his final round and the double bogey he took at the first hole of the Pebble Beach course eventually proved his downfall.

Lema collected $1,200 for his effort but hopes to earn more this week playing in the Lucky International Open at San Francisco near his hometown of San Leandro.

Massengale and Palmer will be there for the $50,000 Lucky Tournament starting Thursday over the Harding Park Municipal course.

Get Fast Start
Palmer already has won $19,100 in the two tournaments he has played this year—the $11,000 winning purse at Los Angeles, $6,200 for finishing second to Massengale in the Crosby duel and $1,900 for a third place finish in the pro-amateur divi-vision of the crooner's silver anniversary clam bake. He teamed with his business manager, Mark McCormack.

Chuck Courtney and Dr. John Moier a dentist, won the pro-am in a playoff against Bill Martin and San Francisco businessman Bob Roos. Each team finished 72 holes with best-ball totals of 255.

As the pros had problems with errant shots, Dr. Moier carded a bogey which with his handicap stroke gave his team the victory and Courtney $4,000. The dentist received a silver dish.

Fringe Benefits
Massengale pocketed $11,000 for beating the monster Pebble Beach course. There also were

Baylor Snares Three Gridders

HOUSTON (AP)—Galena Park football co-captains Russell Serafin and Robert Haner and Brazosport tackle Walter Gross have agreed to play at Baylor University, assistant coach Taylor McNeil said Sunday.

Serafin, a much-sought athlete in the Houston area, was quarterback for Galena Park's 1965 football team.

The 6-3, 218-pound Haner played tackle for Galena Park and Gross was an all-district 12-AAAA defensive tackle for quarter-finalist Brazosport.

Snow Stops Dodger Ace

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers has found something beyond his control—snow.

The Dodger dandy, who has chalked up numerous pitching records, may have established a record for sheer frustration Sunday as he tried to get to Rochester to accept the S. R. Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year award for 1965.

Leaves Journey
Koufax left San Francisco, where he had been playing in the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament, at 1 a.m. Sunday, caught a flight for Chicago and arrived in the Midwest at 6 a.m. He left Chicago for Cleveland at 3:30 p.m. and arrived at 5 p.m. and at 5:45 a.m. on the way back to the West Coast.

A private jet had been waiting to take Koufax the final miles from Cleveland to Rochester but the airport in the upstate New York city was snow-bound because of the storm that hit the Eastern part of the country during the weekend.

Beyond Control
"Wild horses couldn't have kept me away," Koufax said by telephone from Cleveland, "but icy runways and impossible weather are things beyond anyone's control."

Koufax went on to discuss winning the award for a record second time while expressing confidence in the condition of his arthritic left arm.

"Winning the award once was great," he said. "Twice is unbelievable. The arm feels fine. I haven't thrown any but I don't expect any problems. I just hope I have as good a year this season as I had last year."

Last year Koufax wrapped up pitching a triple crown with a 26-6 record for the top win-loss percentage, a 2.04 earned run average and a record 382 strikeouts.

His post-season awards include the Cy Young award as the baseball's outstanding pitcher and The Associated Press Male Athlete of the Year award.

The 30-year-old southpaw won the Hickok award for a record second time with the most first-place votes ever and the biggest margin since the competition for the $10,000 diamond-studded belt was started in 1950.

PONCE GETS WIN
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—Orlando McFarlane, a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates organization, got four hits in four trips and drove in two runs Saturday as Ponce eliminated Caguas from the Puerto Rican League playoffs 7-1.

WARREN SPAHN REVEALS
In an interview Saturday, he said, "Maybe this is the time to make the break." He said he had been invited to spring training by the San Francisco Giants, but was warned, "we've got some left-handers on the club now that you might not be able to beat out."

He added then he would make up his mind about opportunities outside baseball before spring training, but said Sunday night at a sports writers' dinner here, "The way it looks now I'll be at spring training with the San Francisco ball club."

Other clubs had turned him down, Spahn said.

The hard-throwing lefty spent 20 seasons with the Boston and Milwaukee Braves before compiling a 7-16 record last year with the New York Mets and the Giants. He won 20 or more games in 11 seasons, the last one in 1963 when he had a 23-7 record.

Spahn's lifetime won-lost record is 363-245. He is only 10 victories short of matching the National League high for a pitcher, right or left-handed, but only seven losses shy of equalling the league's modern mark for most defeats.

"I think I can still pitch," he said, "but other people don't seem to agree with me."

GIANTS ARE BEST HOPE

Warren Spahn Not Certain About Chances This Year

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Warren Spahn, master of changeups, isn't through throwing them.

"It looks like I'll be out of baseball," he said Saturday night.

"I'm not retiring," he said Sunday night.

Spahn, who has won more games than any other southpaw in major league history, did admit he was having trouble finding a club which wanted him.

The lanky Oklahoman will reach 45 in April.

Warning Revealed
In an interview Saturday, he said, "Maybe this is the time to make the break." He said he had been invited to spring training by the San Francisco Giants, but was warned, "we've got some left-handers on the club now that you might not be able to beat out."

"Near-Mutiny" Of St. Louis Cards Bared By Paper

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Globe-Democrat has quoted "a source close to the team" as saying the St. Louis Cardinals were disgruntled last season because of reportedly high-salaried rookies who had no-cut contracts.

"When camp opened," the unidentified source was quoted, "the veterans began probing the rookies about their salaries and found that most of them were making unrealistic sums. And they had no-cut contracts."

The newspaper said Coach Wally Lemm held a special meeting at the end of the first week of drills and told the players they should be concerned only with winning games and should forget trying to find out what they teammates were earning.

Lemm gave up his job recently, reportedly because the Cardinals wanted a year-around coach and Lemm said he couldn't devote that much time to the job. The Cardinals, considered pennant contenders, had a 5-9 record last year.

Cardinal officials were not available immediately for comment on the Globe-Democrat article. The paper said two of "numerous cases in point" involved rookies Ray Ogden, a flanker, and Dave Simmons, a linebacker. The paper said Ogden earned more than either Sonny Randle or Bobby Joe Conrad, the Cardinals' two top pass receivers, and Simmons received more than either Larry Stallings or Dale Meiert, two of the three starting linebackers.

"If the money being paid those taxi squad players could have been divided among the players who really deserved it, you would have seen some guys play football last fall," he was quoted.

BILLY KIDD INJURED—Bill Kidd of Stowe, Vt., lies on a sled Sunday at Kitzbuehel, Austria, after injuring his left leg in a spill during the slalom event of the 26th Hahnenkamm men's races. The U.S. skier, a 22-year-old Denver University student, suffered a sprained ankle and torn ligaments. A plastic cast was applied and inflated immediately. He then was taken to a nearby hospital. New Atlanta Falcons Of NFL Due To Name Coach This Week

Billy Kidd To Be Sidelined

KITZBUEHEL, Austria (UPI) — Billy Kidd's sprained left ankle, suffered during the Hahnenkamm slalom Sunday, marred the end of an otherwise successful three-week European tour of the United States Alpine ski team.

Kidd was scheduled to join Heuga, but a spectacular crash at the last gate of the second slalom Sunday put an end to his European tour. He will be out of action for about four weeks.

"Apart from Billy's bad luck the tour was quite a success," Bob Beattie, the American team coach, said. "I was very pleased with our performance on the European slopes, especially how well our young and inexperienced girls came along. I think there are some fine prospects."

The Americans competed in West Germany, Switzerland, Austria and Yugoslavia with Kidd's victories in the special slalom at Hindolung, West Germany, and in the giant slalom at Adlon, Switzerland, the biggest successes.

MAY GET ATLANTA JOB Dallas Red Hickey Favored

Hickey Rated Favorite Over Parker, Wilson

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — One of the best-kept secrets in sports—the identity of the head coach of the Atlanta Falcons—may be revealed this week.

Rankin Smith, owner of the Falcons who has been searching for a coach for months, has been as tight-lipped as one of his insurance company's customers trying to fend off a salesman.

Confers With Rozelle — Possibly Smith's only confidant is Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, who is trying to promote a pro football franchise for Cincinnati.

Hickey Is Favorite — Smith and Rozelle had had several hours in Atlanta over the weekend, and they probably compared notes on the bids of the three candidates.

Lombardi Backs Off — Lombardi backed off when he was unable to swing a deal for partial ownership of the team. His flirtation with the Falcons did win him a better contract with the Packers.

RATHER QUIT THAN BACK DOWN

Chargers' Keith Lincoln Vows He Won't Take Slash

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Keith Lincoln, a Washington State University alum, said he would not take a pay cut in his new job with the San Diego Chargers.

Lincoln, who was approached before the season was over, said he thought the San Diego Chargers' fullback season was over. I think the Old Keith Lincoln is a soft touch.

Not Taking Cut — Coach Gillman and I are the best of friends except when it comes time to talk contract.

Lincoln reportedly received the highest salary of his five-year professional career for signing last year. But a knee injury early in the season put him on the bench during most of the year.

Asked about League Commissioner Joe Foss' ruling in voiding the trade which would have sent San Diego linemen Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison to Houston, Lincoln said he felt Foss had made the proper decision.

SWC Race

Feb. 5 Techs. televised game at Rice and a TCU-SMU match at Dallas Saturday night are the only league games on this week's program.

The Houston Cougars will host three conference teams: Baylor Wednesday, TCU Thursday and the Aggies Saturday.

Arkansas plays Mississippi State at neutral Little Rock Thursday and Georgia Tech at Atlanta Friday.

A&M's John Beasley, although he got only 22 points against Texas, continued to set a merry pace in the scoring race with 26.4 and 29.0 point averages for full season and league play, respectively.

In the only game Sunday, the Techs got 26 points from Walt Chamberlain and outscored the Hawks 82 in the last 24 minutes for a 104-98 victory at St. Louis, Mo.

Saturday, the Baltimore Bullets scored a rousing 132-107 homecourt victory over the Celtics, and the Hawks defeated the New York Knicks 119-111 also at home.

Cincinnati General Manager Pepper Wilson said he would file a complaint with NBA president Walter Kennedy
