U.S. Peace Emissaries Continue Global Treks

Western Europeans Dubious On Success

Communist Leaders' Statements Negative On Viet Nam Settlement

(By The Associated Press)
U.S. ENVOYS worked in India and North Africa Sunday enlarging what the United States calls a series of missions to seek peace in Viet Nam. In Western Europe, there were voices of skepticism as to the success of the missions.

U.S. Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman arrived in New Delhi for talks with leaders of India, which is a member of the International Control Commission in Viet Nam with Poland and Canada.

More Talks With Britain's Wilson
Asst. Sec. of State G. Mennen Williams flew into Algiers on a journey that is expected to take him through Africa to explain U.S. views on the Vietnamese war.

In London, U.S. Charge d'Affaires Philip Kaiser called on Prime Minister Harold Wilson in a follow-up to Wilson's conference Saturday with Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Humphrey Returns
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew back to Washington to report to President Johnson on his talks in Japan, the Philippines, Formosa and South Korea.

In Seoul, South Korea officials expressed opposition to any peace negotiations which they said could lead to a stalemate like that which now divides North and South Korea.

In Vatican City, Pope Paul VI told pilgrims in St. Peter's Square that he prayed for the success of peace appeals he has sent to the Soviet Union, Red China, North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam.

Reds Still Negative
But from the Communist world came only what appeared to be negative responses.

"Monsters and freaks of all descriptions are scurrying hither and thither and raising a lot of dust with their sinister activities," said the official Chinese Communist Party paper Peking People's Daily.

Said North Viet Nam's Nhan Dan:

"Our people who have fought for a score of years for freedom and independence are determined to continue to fight for many scores of years if necessary until complete independence is achieved."

Ullterior Motive Charged
In Moscow, Pravda, the Communist Party paper, claimed the United States is pretending to make a big new peace effort while actually planning to expand the war.

The Johnson administration, it said, "now is getting ready to commit a new act of aggression by carrying hostilities into Laos and Cambodia. The flames of war are spreading on the Indochina peninsula."

There was no air of expectation in West European capitals of any immediate break in the hard stand taken by North Viet Nam, supported by Red China.

Some diplomatic analysts expressed fears that a complete failure of American envoys could bring even more bitter—and possibly more widespread—fighting Viet Nam.

But there was a general feeling that the bombings of North Vietnam were a step in the wrong.

'GOOD LICKING' HELD MORE EFFECTIVE

U.S. Troops Skeptical Of Peace Moves

(By The Associated Press)
SAIGON — U.S. troops on the fighting fronts of Viet Nam seem skeptical that peace will arise out of U.S. diplomatic missions around the world.

Many, even the ones who have to fight the hard core Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese, would not like to see the conflict end as the situation now stands.

They would consider it at best a stalemate and at worst a wasted effort that has cost too many American lives.

The troops listen to the armed forces radio broadcasts and read news accounts of peace efforts, but they pay little attention to them.

Both English newspapers here, The Post and The Daily News, have given page one display to peace moves.

Stories dealing with the halt to U.S. bombing raids against North Viet Nam also get wide attention.

Military spokesmen here have made no comment on the "no-bombing" policy.

A machine-gunner in the 1st Cavalry Airborne Division said recently: "I think some people are confused about this war. Back home some people seem to think it's a civil war."

"Those dead VC up in the Ia Drang Valley were from North Viet Nam. This is no civil war. It's an invasion and we're here to stop it."

More than talk of peace negotiations, one hears with the infantry talk of bigger and bloodier battles.

"We're going to have to give them a couple of more good lickings before we talk to them," a 1st Cavalry trooper said.

MAY EXCEED 600

New Year's Traffic Death Record Falls

(Avalanche-Journal News Service)
DEATHS on the nation's highways established a record Sunday for the New Year weekend and pushed sharp upward in the final stage of the three-day holiday.

Americans were dying at the rate of nearly seven an hour and safety experts feared the final total for the three-day holiday might exceed 600.

The record of a New Year's holiday had been 474 traffic deaths, set only a year ago. That mark was exceeded shortly after noon Sunday. The toll was exceeding that record pace by about 100 deaths most of the day.

A National Safety Council spokesman said, "It's clear that the nation can't depend on more horror to terrify drivers into safe highway behavior."

"Can anyone doubt that with cars at their present level of development and maintenance, roads at their present level of engineering and drivers at their present level of skill, that our transportation system is no longer adequate to the demands that we place on it?" the council statement said.

Late Sunday, 530 had died on the nation's highways. There were 51 fire deaths, 11 fatalities in plane crashes and 48 deaths from miscellaneous causes for an over-all violent death toll of 640.

22-HOUR ORDEAL

Trapped Youth Pulled From Tennessee Cave

(By The Associated Press)
LEBANON, Tenn.—A college sophomore, trapped overnight in chest-deep mud and rocks, emerged on the back of a rescue worker from a cave at the edge of Cedars of Lebanon State Park Sunday.

Charles Ray Smith, 19, Hermitage, Tenn., had been pinned in a 30-foot deep crevasse by a 40-pound rock since 3 p.m. Saturday, when two fellow cave explorers lowered him into the cave on a rope.

Smith was taken to a Lebanon hospital where Dr. Sam McFarland said his condition was "quite satisfactory" considering his 22 hours of exposure. He said there appeared to be some kidney damage and Smith was in a mild state of shock. "But we believe he'll be all right."

The rescue operation had grown to some 300 workers before the rock was pulled free.

However, as the hole was enlarged and the mud removed, Smith's spirits rose. He was given hot food, and a doctor administered a pain-killing shot.

The cave in which he was imprisoned was the seventh explored Saturday by Smith and a classmate, Gaylon Smith, 19, and Thaxton Sullivan, 19, home on leave from the Navy.

CHAPLAIN

Motorcycle Helps Area Man In Asia

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)
BROWNFIELD — Capt. Carroll Johnson rides a motorcycle in South Viet Nam—but he's not a "devil-may-care" cyclist. He works for the other side. He's a chaplain.

The Brownfield Baptist pastor is stationed near Bien Hoa at an air base.

His wife and two sons, Steve and Randy, live in Brownfield. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wood E. Johnson, longtime residents of Rt. 4, Brownfield, in the Johnson community.

Humanitarian Work
Since last March, the captain-chaplain has been busy counseling, conducting church services, making hospital calls and doing a lot of humanitarian work.

He hopes to return in March of this year, where he is pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The chaplain, who is kidded a lot about his motorcycle riding, would like to have a "Clergy" sign to fasten on it. He also would like to have one printed in Vietnamese.

"The boys kid me about wearing a black leather jacket with a cross on the back," he said, chuckling, "but I really don't."

Yanks Help Vietnamese
He uses the motorcycle to good advantage in getting around to perform his many duties.

He reports that in Bien Hoa, the Americans spend off-duty hours helping orphans, students and Vietnamese townspeople.

Capt. Johnson said the Americans teach English—a difficult task because of the difficulty in getting the students to pronounce such forceful letters as "p" or "t."

"The Americans really are fighting the war on two fronts," the chaplain said. "They work all day and then go over and work extra hours helping these people."

A current project is to obtain some school supplies from the States to be used in South Viet Nam. His address is: Capt. Carroll Johnson, Third Tactical Fighter Wing, Box 355, APO San Francisco 96227.

VOTE ENDS STRIKE
WOOD RIVER, Ill. (UPI)—Striking machinists voted Sunday to end a month-long strike against the Oline Matheson Chemical Corp., sole producer of small arms gunpowder used by American fighting men in Viet Nam.

STAY HOME PLEA ISSUED

Offer To End New York Transit Strike Refused

(Avalanche-Journal News Service)
NEW YORK — Striking transit workers made their first counter proposal Sunday night in the massive city bus and subway strike that threatened chaos during today's morning rush.

The offer was rejected by the Transit Authority as "fantastically high."

Authority Chairman Joseph E. O'Grady's rejection came shortly after Transit Workers Union chief Michael J. Quill said he had trimmed his union's demands by 80 per cent based on the figure of $80 million the authority earlier had said the union's demands would cost.

Quill's counter offer—the first by the union—was for $216 million in a two-year contract. The authority earlier had offered $25 million which Quill had rejected as "peanuts."

"I'm using their figures, not ours," Quill said in announcing the 80 per cent reduction. "We never said it would cost $80 million."

Quill continued: "The monkey is now on their back. It's up to them to fish or cut bait."

SITKA HARD HIT

Fire Strikes Alaskan City

SITKA, Alaska (AP)—Fire destroyed a substantial part of this picturesque southeast Alaska city's main business district Sunday and leveled the 121-year-old Greek-Russian Orthodox Church of Saint Michael.

The fire, which started in sub-freezing temperatures about 7 a.m. raced along on gusty winds to engulf more than a score of business houses on Lincoln Street, the main street of this first Alaska capital city. The cause was not known.

It was more than three hours after the first alarm before firemen appeared to have controlled the flames. They watched the shifting, 15-20 mile winds apprehensively, however.

There were no injuries. At least 16 businesses, two churches, including the Lutheran church, and a public utilities office were destroyed. They included Sitka's only theater, station KSA-TV, a beauty shop, paint and ceramics store, the Alaska Hotel, hardware store, the town's only commercial printing shop, a barber shop, jewelry store, women's clothing store and a men's store.

UPPER LAKES REGION

Winter's Biggest Snowstorm Strikes

(By The Associated Press)
THE BIGGEST snowstorm of the winter swirled across the upper Great Lakes region Sunday.

Northern Wisconsin was hardest hit. Green Bay had four inches of snow and residents of nearby Wausau had to dig out from under eight inches of new snow which fell during the morning hours.

The storm moved into upper Michigan and northern lower Michigan during the day. As much as six inches of snow was expected.

Another snowstorm continued to lash the Northwest. It spread into the northern Rockies as the day progressed.

Pendleton, Ore., recorded three inches of snow while two additional feet of snow further clogged passes in the Cascades. Some of the main passes out of Seattle had as much as eight feet of snow on the ground.

Dust, Rain Hit, Too
Dust storms and rainstorms added to the weather woes of the Northwest.

Walla Walla, Wash., was buffeted by a dust storm with winds up to 52 m.p.h. Lewiston, Mont., recorded 71 m.p.h. winds. Heavy rains drenched the northern California coast, where hurricane-force winds and downpours struck last week. Another inch of rain fell in Crescent City, Calif.

Heavy rains also continued unabated in the lower Mississippi Valley. Nearly two inches of rain fell at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and Tupelo, Miss.

Mercury Skids
The rains were expected to spread northward through the parched Appalachians today.

Some of the lowest temperatures of the winter were recorded in the Rockies and the northern plains. Midday zero readings were common. The mercury sank during early morning as low as 30 below in many mountain valleys.

Meanwhile, in sharp contrast, brisk southerly winds pushed temperatures into the 60s as far north as the Ohio River.

Early afternoon temperatures ranged from 6 below in Devils

Strong Quake Strikes Corinth Gulf, Athens

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A strong earthquake shook the Corinth area 50 miles east of Athens early Monday.

No casualties were reported. The Athens seismological station described the quake as strong but said the fatal point was in the Gulf of Corinth, missing the land area.

The quake hit shortly after midnight. It was preceded by slight tremors in Athens.

Lake, N.D., to 81 at Fort Myers, Fla.

Torrential rains soaked northeast Arkansas Saturday night and early Sunday, flooding many highways and city streets and forcing the evacuation of about 350 persons from their homes.

No injuries were reported. Most of the evacuees were at Paragould, Jonesboro and Hoxie, in extreme northeast Arkansas.

Water Recedes
The rain stopped before dawn Sunday, standing water began to reduce rapidly, and the evacuees were expected to be returned to their homes Sunday night, police said.

No damage estimate was available.

Rain at Paragould since 5 p.m. Friday totaled more than 10 inches. At Walnut Ridge more than 8.57 inches of rain.

New Spring Fashions Antiquate 'Old'

It was an "escape kit" which means a man can wear the suit part with tie and shirt or dress it down with the same jacket, slacks and sports shirt, getting a five-piece wardrobe out of one outfit.

The most popular knitted shirts were the Henley neck in a wide range of solids and stripes and velours in solids with white trim. Peenies had some new standouts: Cotton seersucker knits with vertical stripes, the classic tennis sweater-look in a light-weight shirt with red and white trim on the V neck, wide open mesh shirts which let the skin show through and an all cotton random knit lightweight shirt which looks like a sweater.

Steel Boss Says Price Hike 'Not Inflationary'

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s top officer maintained Sunday night his company's $5-a-ton price increase on structural steel shapes and piling "is not inflationary" and offered an explanation to support that position.

The statement by Edmund F. Martin, chairman and chief executive officer of the nation's second largest steel producer, said the price changes announced Friday came about "as a result of product improvements." He claimed use of a lightweight steel would pass on savings to those who construct steel buildings and bridges.

Increase "Unjustified"

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and President Johnson both have denounced the price increase as unjustified and inflationary.

Ackley met with Bethlehem officials in Washington Saturday, then said later he hoped the boost would be rescinded. He also said that the company offered no new information to change the government's view.

Structural steel shapes and piling, on which Bethlehem announced the price increase, are used for construction of big buildings, bridges, highways and some heavy equipment.

Sees Cost Decline

In his statement, Martin said: "After the price adjustments, the cost of equivalent steel framing for structures will be less than five years ago. This is not inflationary."

Over the last several years we have been increasing the strength of the steel going into structural shapes and piling, thus reducing the weight and the final cost of buildings, bridges and other steel-framed structures.

Martin said the weight of the steel used is being decreased but can still do the same job. "The introduction last week of a new series of lightweight structural shapes will further reduce the tonnages which our mills can produce," Martin said.

Begin Again!

JOHN H. DAY, D. C.

Things can get pretty bad, but usually we can begin again. If an issue is worth working and living for, we can stand up and start again.

That is, we can begin again if we have health. Don't give up on your health. Don't accept pain and discomfort. If your condition has defied conventional treatment, or you just don't feel up to par, and the artificial depressant tablets, per pills, powders, punctures, and potions haven't gotten to the cause of your trouble, look to Chiropractic.

Chiropractic has the distinction of being the health science concerned with locating and removing the nerve pressure causes of malfunction and disease in the body. There is no substitute for chiropractic.

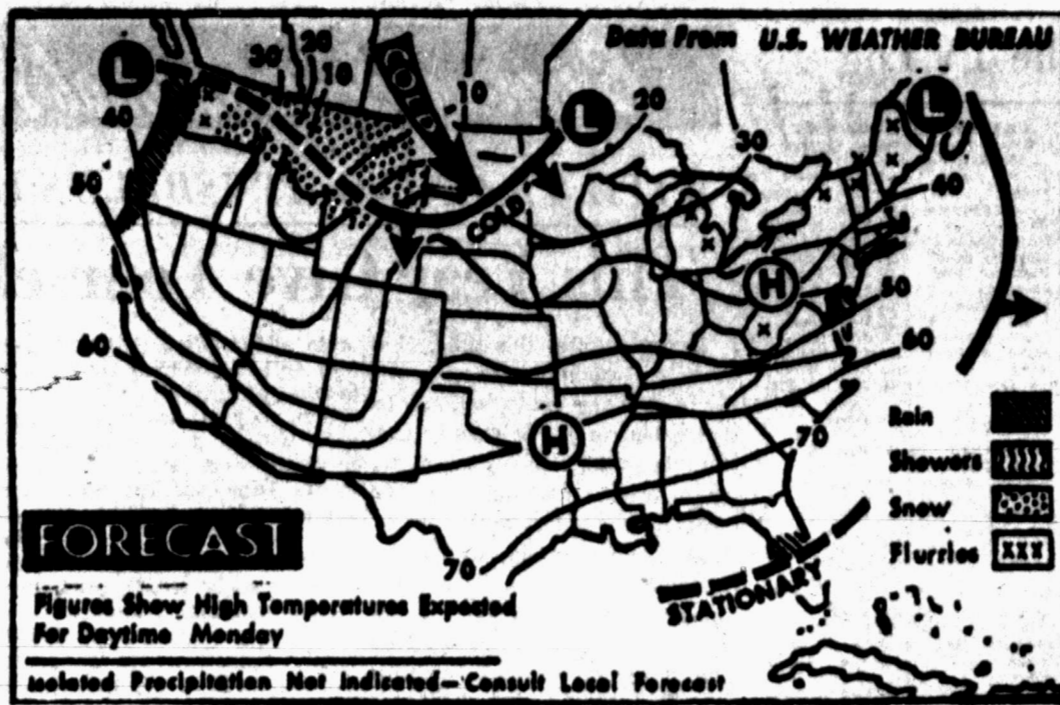

There are many who have benefitted by Chiropractic correction. Have felt they had made, then later process and recognized the need to return to restorative Chiropractic adjustments. Don't wait until it is too late. You can begin again, and feel better again.

Perhaps, you have heard a friend, relative, or neighbor say, "I don't know what would have become of me without Chiropractic." Have you listened to their good advice to your benefit, or ignored it to your own loss? You can think clearer, and enjoy life more, if you feel well.

A Chiropractic spinal examination now to determine if your organic, circulatory, alimentary, digestive, glandular, muscular, respiratory or nervous conditions are due to nerve pressures interfering with normal function.

Leaflet Bombing At Disneyland Is Unsuccessful

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — A leaflet "bombing" of Disneyland by an unidentified airplane was termed unsuccessful Sunday by police.

Hundreds of anti-Viet Nam war leaflets picturing a child and an adult allegedly burned by napalm in Viet Nam were dropped Saturday night in the huge Disneyland parking lot and at the Long Beach Naval Station, 18 miles west of here.

Police said none of the 5-by-10 inch leaflets landed within the park itself. A Disneyland crew sent out before dawn Sunday gathered up the papers and took them inside the park to burn them.

Long Beach Police said about 200 of the leaflets landed on the U.S.S. Hector docked at the naval station.

Long Beach Airport officials said many light planes were in the air at 10 p.m. CST when the leaflets were dropped, and that it would be impossible to trace which aircraft was used.

Police here said the aircraft was flying without lights.

The leaflet features the photograph on one side and a protest against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam on the back side.

Senator Discounts Use Of A-Weapons In Viet Fight

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said Sunday night that escalation of the Viet Nam war will be done through use of conventional, not nuclear, weapons if peace efforts fail.

"I would discount nuclear weapons now," Russell said in news panel program televised by WAGA-TV. But more manpower and more extensive use of conventional weapons, such as bombers, will be required, he said.

"It undoubtedly would mean the use of a great many more men," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee. In another interview he said the number of U.S. troops in Viet Nam might reach 600,000 or more.

Closing Is Favored

Russell said he favored the closing of the key Communist port of Haiphong and had been urging this action.

Russell disagreed with Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-SC) the House Armed Services Committee chairman who has called for carrying the war to Communist China if necessary.

"I don't think we can justify attacking China," Russell said. He said the Chinese Communists had not committed overt aggression and that their aid to the Viet Cong was not sufficient reason for attacking them.

Russell said the United States made a mistake in allowing the East-West confrontation to take place in distant Southeast Asia. The Communists should have been stopped in Cuba, he said.

Choice Was Theirs

"We very foolishly let them select the battlefield," Russell said, "instead of facing them in Cuba." What had looked like a U.S. policy victory turned out to be "a good deal for Castro," the senator said.

Russell said that unless something intervenes eventually the United States probably will clash with Communist China. "As of today, I think the chances are fair that they will have a war with Russia before they will with us," he said.

Once before, Russell said, a lull was allowed in Viet Nam fighting and the United States tried behind the scenes negotiations and "did not get credit for trying to make peace." The latest effort shows what America is trying to do, he said.

Russell said he expected President Johnson to either hold the line or cut back on domestic programs in order to finance the war effort.

ON WYOMING PEAK

Stranded Climbers Spotted; Rescue Crew Sent To Scene

PINEDALE, Wyo. (AP) — Search officials at Pinedale said three Californians who attempted to climb 12,900-foot Temple Peak in the Wind River range were spotted from the air Sunday and appeared to be "well and good."

A few emergency supplies and a note were dropped from a plane, informing the stranded group that a rescue party with snow vehicles was on its way to the area, about 20 miles south of Pinedale.

SOS In Snow

A Pinedale physician and air deputy, Dr. Howard Smith, said he spotted Margaret Young of Palo Alto, Jim Richardson and Tom Cochrane Sunday. He said an SOS stamped in the snow apparently was to indicate their plane — which had landed at the 9,100-foot Big Sandy opening in the base area of the peak — was mired in deep snow. An estimated three to four feet of snow was reported in the area where the plane was parked.

Smith said the climbers evidently returned safely to their base camp Saturday. He said one of them managed to fly the plane out with some supplies which he left in Pinedale in an apparent effort to lighten the airplane's load.

Couldn't Take Off

But an overnight snowfall made it impossible to take off Sunday.

The three flew to the Pinedale area last week and said they would return from the assault on the peak about New Year's Day. Smith said the woman appeared to be in her mid-20's, while the two men were about 19 or 20.

Sublette County Sheriff's officers and volunteers estimated they would bring the group out late Sunday. The area is only about 15 minutes from Pinedale by air, however the route the rescuers will take is about 40 miles.

HANOI SAYS

Women In U.S. Urged To Attack American Move

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi radio said Sunday "American mothers and women" have been urged to demand that the U.S. Army release two American soldiers charged with aiding the Communists while prisoners of the Viet Cong.

A broadcast heard in Tokyo said the appeal was made in a message Dec. 27 by a woman Viet Cong leader. Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, vice president of the South Viet Nam Liberation Women's Union. It was sent to Mary Clark — no address available — of the American "Women's Strike for Peace," the broadcast said.

"Greatly Indignant"

"We are greatly indignant at learning on Dec. 27 that the U.S. authorities are detaining G.E. Smith and C. D. McClure in Okinawa Island. They bullied them, threatened their lives and intended to bring them before the court because the latter have exposed the aggressive nature of the Johnson government and denounced its crimes in South Viet Nam," the message said.

A U.S. Army spokesman in Okinawa said that although the two Army sergeants — George E. Smith of Chester, W. Va., and Claude D. McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn. — have been charged with aiding the enemy while prisoners of the Viet Cong, they are not under confinement and a decision has not been made to bring them to trial. The two were released by the Viet Cong Nov. 24 and were brought to Okinawa.

"We request you American mothers and women for the sake of freedom and justice and the right to live of your sons and brothers, to actively demand that the U.S. authorities set free G. E. Smith and C. D. McClure and abolish their crude acts which violate the elementary principles of international law prohibiting the detention and trial of those released by the opponent side," the message said.

IRREGULARITY IS SCORED

Maryland's Criminal Laws Among Most Bizarre Rules In United States

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — It is a misdemeanor in Maryland to use a machine gun to perpetrate a crime of violence...

State's Atty. Charles Moylan Jr. of Baltimore City cited these and other examples Sunday to support his contention that Maryland's criminal laws are among the most bizarre in the United States.

Moylan asked that the General Assembly, which convenes Jan. 19, take action to reclassify laws to straighten "the irregular and haphazard line that separates felonies from misdemeanors."

The prosecutor noted that conviction for burglary with explosives, a misdemeanor, carries a maximum penalty of 40 years in prison. On the other hand, conviction for the felony of injuring a race horse would mean a maximum sentence of three years.

Moylan cited other examples of what he called anachronistic laws: "Larceny after trust with a five-year maximum is a felony. But abduction of a child under 12 with a 20-year maximum, escape from the penitentiary with a 10-year maximum and bribery with a 12-year maximum are all simply misdemeanors."

"Shoplifting with a three-year maximum is a felony. But storehouse burglary with a 10-year penalty and embezzlement by a public officer with a 10-year penalty are all simply misdemeanors."

Moylan suggested that any offense punishable by imprisonment in the state penitentiary be classified as a felony. This, he said, is now done in 36 states.

Distinctions Vital He stated distinctions between felonies and misdemeanors are vital to law enforcement.

A policeman, he said, may arrest a person suspected of having committed a felony and may then search him. However, he said an officer may arrest and search a suspect in a misdemeanor case only if it was committed in his presence.

He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation may arrest a fugitive who has escaped to another state if he is suspected of a felony but cannot intervene if the crime was a misdemeanor.

Among other misdemeanors and maximum penalties are: abduction of a female under 18, eight years; injuring railroad car, five years; stealing fish, two years; dueling, penalty up to court; marrying close relatives, banishment from state forever.

The penalty of tobacco plants is a felony punishable by a prison term of up to 15 years.

Berlin Barricade Slams Shut Again

By JOSEPH B. FLEMING — considered only fifty-fifty. The BERLIN (Monday) (UPI) — old agreement took long, patient negotiations to overshut again today, plunging into gloom families split by the barricade dividing Berlin.

They did not know when they would see each other again. It could be many, many months or not at all.

Parents and their children, sisters and brothers said tearful farewells as the Christmas holiday pass period expired at midnight 5 p.m. CST Sunday.

On the last day of the two-week visiting period about 75,000 West Berliners flooded past armed Communist guards at five crossing points in the Wall built Aug. 13, 1961.

Open For Stragglers The wall technically closed at midnight but in practice the guards kept crossing points open for stragglers.

The wall was opened for Christmas holiday visits Dec. 18 and a new agreement will have to be signed by the West Berlin and East German governments if the wall is to open again.

The chances that a new agreement can be reached are

Terrorists Bomb U.S. Vehicle; Five Injured

By NAT GIBSON — A terrorist bomb was hurled into a U.S. Army truck late Saturday and an estimated five persons were injured in the explosion, national police reported Sunday.

A police spokesman said both soldiers and civilians were injured in the blast. He said they were taken to different hospitals before police arrived, making it difficult to pin down a more exact count.

U.S. military spokesmen were not immediately available for comment on the report.

Bomb Thrown From Car The attack took place on the main road between downtown Santo Domingo and the municipal airport. The spokesman said the bomb apparently was thrown into the truck from a passing car.

In other terrorist incidents, police reported two more persons were killed. The spokesman said both of the dead appeared to be Dominicans.

Terrorist Plan Campaign The bombing and other incidents appeared to back up reports that hard-line Communists were preparing to launch a terrorist campaign against U.S. forces stationed in this restless Caribbean island republic.

Earlier Saturday, anti-American demonstrators stoned a U.S. military jeep in downtown Santo Domingo before Brazilian troops of the Inter-American Peace force broke up the crowd with tear gas.

None of the soldiers riding in the jeep was injured.

Checkbook At Resort

PARK CITY, Utah (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson should have her checkbook by now. The wallet-sized checkbook was found last week by two Treasure Mountain ski resort employees in a mine train car which the 21-year-old daughter of President Johnson occupied last Tuesday.

One of the finders, Mark Jolley, said he attempted to reach Miss Johnson in Evanston, Wyo., where she was visiting friends. But she already had left for the LBJ Ranch in Texas, so the checkbook was sent there by registered mail.

Russians Buy Bulk Of German Vessels

BERLIN (AP) — East German shippers built 243 ships of various types during 1965, with the Soviet Union the major purchaser, the Soviet news agency Tass says.

Other nations buying from the Communist yards include Red China, Norway, Poland, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, Tunisia and Tanzania, according to Tass.

WITH TRAINING AT ISBELL'S UNIVERSITY

This Year Give Yourself, Your Talent A Chance

Every year at this time, New Year's Resolutions become the topic of many conversations. Isbell's University of Beauty Culture is making a resolution for the new year...

style and method that will give him or her personal recognition in the profession. Why not begin this coming year with a new, exciting and profitable education? Requirements are easily met and January is a prime enrollment period...

Everyone will agree that today, more than ever before, education is an absolute must for anyone to achieve success in any career. Without advance study or specialized training, the ambitious person of today and tomorrow will find they are forced to become laborers or unskilled personnel instead of the professional they desire to be.

Many years ago, when cosmetology was just beginning its start toward the goal of the many faceted profession we now know, it was possible to make the transition from advanced amateur to the professional ranks without too much advance knowledge or training. Now, only a very few — those with an exceptional effervescent talent and determination — have been able to become successful professionals in this highly competitive field without having the best of basic education and continuing their advancement through a formal plan of post-graduate study.

The person who completes the basic six month course and is issued a license to practice has only begun to scratch the surface of the numerous possibilities in cosmetology. This basic training opens the door to a variety of professions such as teaching, salesmanship, technician and salon management to name only a few.

It is a privilege and point of pride to Isbell's University, after many successful years in the best educational facilities for the cosmetology profession. To the person who wishes to become more than an average hairdresser, Isbell's offers the opportunity to study, not only the required six month period, but to extend their educational period two or even three months to enable them to be more thoroughly trained in all categories or to specialize in some facet such as razor cutting, roller setting, pin curls, permanent waving, color or hairstyling.

Isbell's concentrates their efforts during basic training toward teaching the fundamental methods and encouraging the personal creativity of each student rather than have them learn or copy set patterns, designs or methods. This enables each person to develop an individual

INSTRUCTIONAL AREA ENLARGED

Draughon's Remodels School

Draughon's Business College, with many years of service to Lubbock and the Lubbock area, is in the midst of remodeling its facilities here in order to better train an increasing number of students.

Draughon's offices have been expanded and the instructional area enlarged.

Officials of the school are expecting a large group of college transfer students and students who for some reason were not able to start college last fall.

Spring term classes at Draughon's will start Feb. 7. A full schedule of classes, including subjects such as business machine training, shorthand and typing, are being offered by the school, now in its 36th year in Lubbock.

Draughon's classes are designed to make its students competent, skilled workers, able to handle any assignment which they might be given.

The classes also will help those planning to enter or return to a four-year college later.

Skills acquired at Draughon's, such as typing and shorthand, will prove an effective prelude to college. Students should have a firm foundation in typing and related subjects before entering a four-year college.

Draughon's offers IBM training along with all the other business opportunity courses. The training can put you on the ground level of an exciting new career which will take you as high as you want to go.

Don't wait until the last minute to enroll, call G. C. Stewart, manager, or Sandra Ivie today. Let Draughon's lead you into an exciting new career in business. Call PO5-5544 for more information on the spring term.

Read And Company Can Protect Your Income

To generate income—buildings are constructed and insured, Stock of merchandise, machinery and fixtures are installed and insured.

But in too many instances the income of the business is not insured. This is the most valuable asset any business has—its income. Read and Company can protect your income from fire, lightning, windstorm, hail, smoke damage, riot and civil commotion, vandalism and many other perils.

If you sustain a substantial loss to your building or contents, you immediately sustain a loss of income. Such things as mortgage or rent payments, payroll for key personnel, advertising, taxes, personal income, automobile payments, and many others continue although your income grinds to an immediate halt.

Read and Company's low cost Business Interruption Insurance will protect your business and provide you with the same income you would have received had no loss occurred. How many of your personnel could wait, without salary, for several months while you were rebuilding your business? With Read and Company's protection you can continue to meet your monthly obligations without any drain on your company's assets or surplus. Even the owner would sustain no loss of personal income.

Read and Company, doing business in Lubbock since 1922, would be pleased to discuss this low cost, necessary coverage. Business Interruption—The insurance which could save your business.

THEN GO BY DELAHUNTY'S Need That Band Instrument Repaired

How long has it been since you had that band instrument of yours checked to see if it needed repairs? Are you getting the sound you want?

Now might be just the right time to take that instrument by Delahunt's Horn Shop, 1722 Broadway, where you can get the best care available for your instrument.

And while you are at Delahunt's look over the big selection of instruments available. Perhaps you might want to trade your old one in for a new instrument.

Delahunt's offers a very special deal—one that can be found nowhere else. Delahunt's will do the repair work and help you keep that new horn in shape to get the very best out of it.

And if you didn't get that horn or those drums you wanted for Christmas, now is the best time to correct that. Delahunt's offers several purchase plans to help you along.

Delahunt's has a convenient trial-purchase plan. Here's how it works.

Let's say you wanted to buy a new clarinet.

You pick out the instrument you want. You make a small down payment, which delivers any instrument on Delahunt's trial-purchase plan.

Then you try out the instrument for a certain period of time. If you decide you want it, Delahunt's sets up a series of regular monthly payments thereafter.

The amount of the payments is determined by the price of the instrument selected.

Delahunt's also has a rental-purchase plan whereby you rent a horn for a small amount per month, then if you decide you want to buy that horn a part of what you have paid in rent money is applied to the purchase price, and you can finish paying out the horn as small monthly payments.

Delahunt's also has several other purchase plans, too.

And Delahunt's, as you probably know, is headquarters for instrument repair on any instrument. There's not a repair job that Delahunt's cannot accomplish, be it piccolo or bass clarinet, tuba or bassoon.

Delahunt's also has a good stock of used instruments.

Go by Delahunt's, 1722 Broadway, today and see for yourself the tremendous selection of instruments and bargains.

Insurance Firms Pay For Ships

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A settlement of $18,037,141 has been paid by a group of American and English underwriters for two ships sunk during Hurricane Betsy last Sept. 9.

The ships, under construction for Lykes Steamship Co., Inc., of New Orleans, sank in the Mississippi River when they were ripped from their moorings. The settlement was announced by Winkler & Co., insurance brokers for Avondale Shipyards, Inc., builder of the vessels.

Vikings sailed to northeastern America largely to seek wood, according to the Icelandic sagas.

KENNETH DIXON:

Castro Gets A Speedup

ALONG THE GULF COAST-Fidel Castro's recent attempt to discourage Cubans from leaving the country merely speeded up the exodus. He issued orders that all those who indicated they wanted to flee to the United States were to be fired from their jobs.

WHAT MADE it worse was that Castro also ordered a slowdown on the processing of those who were officially being elected to leave. And this made the situation critical.

SO THEY KNEW the routine. But after this latest development, they refined the procedure somewhat.

THEY STAYED far enough away from Cuban shores to remain in international waters. That way, even if detected, they were within their rights.

THERE WERE some foul-ups on the deal at first, but by and large it worked out according to plan.

CAHOES, rafts, sailboats and small outboard motorboats put out from shore to make the rendezvous point. Most of them were loaded far beyond the point of safety.

SOME OF THE boats towed the refugees' small craft in with them. One skipper even took the time at the rendezvous point to lash down the sails of a small boat so that he could pull it behind him.

WHEN he reached shore he turned back the money which had been paid him for the trip with the understanding that he could keep the sailboat.

GUEST EDITORIALS: En Garde, General

PRESIDENT de Gaulle, that stalwart defender of things Gallic, has revived his crusade to rescue the French language from an erosion of English words.

WHAT IF Americans should decide to retaliate and shoo interloping French words out of our vocabulary? This would be quite a house cleaning.

JOHNSON PARK IT IS HIGHLY appropriate that the proposed Lyndon Johnson National Park is being established in Texas and by funds donated mostly by Texans.

FOR THE present the designated area is 240 acres of orchard and grazing land, completely typical of the area in which the president has called home all of his life.

POLITICAL INSIGHT THERE ARE moments of blinding insight in the lives of some politicians when they see all too clearly that they are going to be beaten.

OFFHAND THOUGHTS There was a time when a woman was satisfied with an ordinary hairdo.

SOLID FACTS PROVE OTHERWISE

Viet Nam More Than 'Family Fight'

AFTER NOSING around in the Johnson City neighborhood, Columnist Kenneth Dixon, whose writings often appear on this page, comes up with the information that most of President Johnson's neighbors don't approve of his 'speeding up this country's participation in the Viet Nam conflict.'

And that one of the neighbors thinks the example of Franklin D. Roosevelt in keeping the U.S. out of the Spanish Civil War back in the late 1930s should be followed.

'Nobody ever got anything but a bloody nose mixing into a family fight,' one is quoted.

This notion that the Viet Nam struggle is a 'family fight' is a delusion long since dissipated by solid facts. President Johnson, as indeed do most realists who have dealt with the problem, knows better.

The Park Problem

A DIFFICULTY in planning for new Texas parks has been pointed out by Ben Barnes, speaker of the House of Representatives.

The problem is finding a source of new tax money if Gov. John Connally's planned request to the 1967 Legislature for between $25 million and $50 million for land purchase is to be met.

In spite of the economic strain, he believes that the citizenry might go along, since 'we will never be able to buy land any cheaper than we can now.'

It is generally accepted that the State's growing population and tourist trade call for more parkland.

War's Impact Felt

THE WAR IN Viet Nam has not attained the proportions of a 'major conflict' as yet, but it already is having its impact on the economy.

Economists predict that there will be an increase of 1.5 million jobs in 1966, many of them created by the needs of the Viet Nam war.

According to the recently released Michigan Economic Forecast, the Vietnamese war can be expected to leave large numbers of civilian jobs empty and waiting.

The U.S. Employment Service reports that the war has caused a slight shortage of technically-skilled personnel in some parts of the country.

The longer it lasts, the more the war in Viet Nam will create stresses and strains in the economy.

All this the Government will have to take into consideration as it strives to maintain prosperity at a high level at home, while waging an expensive war overseas.

Horn Tooting Excusable When Columnist's So Often Right

WASHINGTON-Once a year a Washington columnist must take stock of what he wrote and how it affected the country.

In January I warned President Johnson to forget his legislative program for the Great Society. I pointed out that with a hostile Congress there was no possibility of getting any bills passed this year, and he would be better off if he concentrated on making friends up on the Hill rather than twisting arms.

WITH REGARD to the space program, I was the only one to predict that Gemini 6 and Gemini 7 would never be able to rendezvous. I pointed out that scientifically it was impossible for the two space ships to get near each other and the whole exercise would be a waste of money.

MY PENTAGON and CIA sources told me once we destroyed the Ho Chi Minh Trail the North would not be able to supply their troops in South Viet Nam and they would have no choice but to surrender and sue for peace.

porters in North Viet Nam are a small minority. They seized power during a political upheaval, just as did the Bolsheviks in Russia and Mao Tse-tung and his followers in China.

Presidents of the U.S., their foreign policy advisers and majorities in Congress have consistently held that this objective must be blocked, for the security of this country and its allies.

As for the Spanish Civil War, the ultimate issue was whether Communism or Fascism should prevail. Certainly President Roosevelt could not justify intervention on either side.

Our conclusion is that Mr. Dixon has striven mightily to find an analogy which will not stand up under an objective analysis.

Miss Mae Murfee

WHEN THE mortal remains of Miss Mae Murfee are lowered today into their final resting place, one of the last bridges between the one room schoolhouse and this era's educational palaces in West Texas will be forever closed.

In fact, it may be said that the death of Miss Murfee in Lubbock on Friday night closed the last bridge between public education of the earliest years of this century and the kind we have today.

This story illustrates the desperate straits of California's moderate Republicans trying to salvage the Hiram Johnson-Earl Warren tradition in their party.

Gaiety In Havana

HAVANA IS not the gay capital it once was, with something for almost any kind of fun lover.

Therefore, delegates to the 'anti-imperialist' Tricontinental Conference of African, Asian and Latin American Revolutionary Solidarity, opening there today, might be short on amusement between sessions.

Word has gone out from the Indian Cabinet, therefore, that any fertilizer plant licensed before March, 1967, would be assured free trade for seven years after going into production.

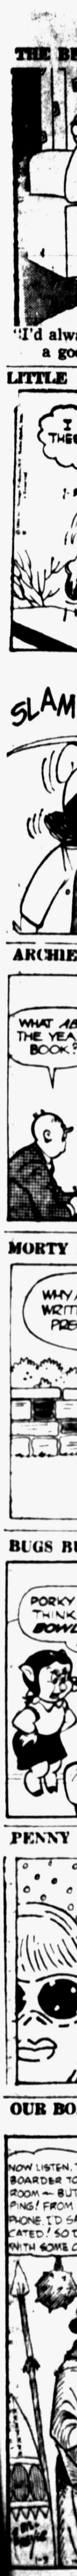

IN THE FACE of these Indian pledges, President Johnson has assumed the only proper attitude. He has let it be known that the U.S. will help India as much as possible, but he has not made any specific long-range commitments.

Even at this early date, there are rumblings of discontent from certain political segments in India over the agricultural about-face.

India, of course, might solve its food problem without help if it diverted funds from its defense budget. The boys have rocks in their head if they think they can create a military establishment capable of holding off Red China.

EVERYBODY FORGETS it now, but when the aluminum companies raised their prices I was the only columnist who pointed out that there wasn't a thing President Johnson could do about it.

I WAS ALSO the first one to print that Henry Ford would marry Sybil Burton and that his daughter Charlotte would marry Frank Sinatra.

WITH ARABS

Germany Is Eager To Mend Fences

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany is eager to mend fences with nine Arab nations that broke ambassadorial ties when it recognized Israel, but so far it has met little response.

An official review of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's administration in 1965 charges President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic with "having brought unrest into German-Arab relations" by receiving Walter Ulbricht, head of the Communist East German government, as an official guest.

This along with West Germany's recognition of Israel last May and the disclosure it had furnished some $50 million worth of military aid to Israel started the diplomatic flap.

The issue is still simmering in Bonn. Many politicians and officials disagree on how to handle the Middle East.

The nine that broke relations are Algeria, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Syria, the U.A.R. and Yemen. A tenth, Kuwait, scrapped plans to open an embassy in Bonn.

Bonn decided to keep aid programs approved before the break, but no new funds were allocated.

Not Much Reward Three countries that kept their ambassadors in Bonn have not as far as is known, reported much tangible reward. They are Libya, Morocco and Tunisia.

In many respects the severing of relations was more symbolic than practical. Relations at consular level remain. Thousands of Arabs continue studying in West Germany. Arab businessmen sell on the import-happy West German market.

Nasser never carried out his threat to exchange ambassadors with the Communist East German government if Bonn set up relations with Israel. He still allows West German ships to sail the Suez Canal.

PRICES HELD Grain Market Scare Factors Rare In 1965 CHICAGO (AP) — Scare factors of the kind which send prices soaring broadly and rapidly were rare in the grain futures market in 1965. Prices generally were guided by more realistic influences.

Talk of escalation of the fighting in Viet Nam exerted a mildly bullish influence from time to time but never more than briefly.

Speculators Limited For the most part, statistics were the basic price-making considerations and, as usual, were seldom spectacular. Prices of such major grains as wheat and corn varied little from seasonal patterns of other years.

Wheat Yield Down A probable reduction of about 2 per cent in the world wheat yield, mainly because of poor crops in Russia and Communist China, improved the U.S. trade prospects. It was expected that Russia eventually would buy large quantities from the United States even though it already had booked about 350 million bushels from Canada, Argentina and France.

Harriman's stay was brief. He is to confer in Peshawar today with Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan. Harriman, 74, was described as tired after his talks with Communist leaders in Poland and Yugoslavia.

In Algeria, Williams talked with a political ally of the Viet Cong who has been mentioned as possible go-between for the initiation of Viet Nam peace talks.

"I would be very happy if Algeria or any other country could help us find a negotiated solution to the Viet Nam problem," Williams said after his meeting with the Algerian leader.

Files To Tunisia Williams said, however, he knew of no contacts between American and Viet Cong representatives in Algeria Sunday which might lead to Viet Nam peacetalks.

Following his meeting with Boumediene Williams flew to Tunisia, after which he was to go to Ethiopia, Nigeria and Kenya.

The Algerian government's hostility to American action in Viet Nam was underlined on Dec. 23 when Boumediene hailed the Viet Cong's fifth anniversary.

"The Algerian government will spare no effort to assure the triumph of the Vietnamese people's just cause in fighting against the destructive power of American imperialism and working for the ending of aggression, the withdrawal of foreign troops from Vietnamese territory, . . . and faithful application of the 1954 Geneva agreements," Boumediene's message said.

Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes said a normal weekday already brings 600,000 cars to Manhattan south of 59th Street, and another 100,000 would end "useful movement."

Commuter railroads and ferries are expected to operate as usual, discharging millions of passengers from Long Island, Westchester County, New Jersey and Connecticut at Manhattan terminals.

Public and private schools, including some colleges, were ordered closed.

Protestants Taking New Stand On Films LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Protestants are taking a new attitude toward motion pictures, according to the Rev. William F. Fore, executive director of the National Council of Churches' Broadcasting and Film Commission.

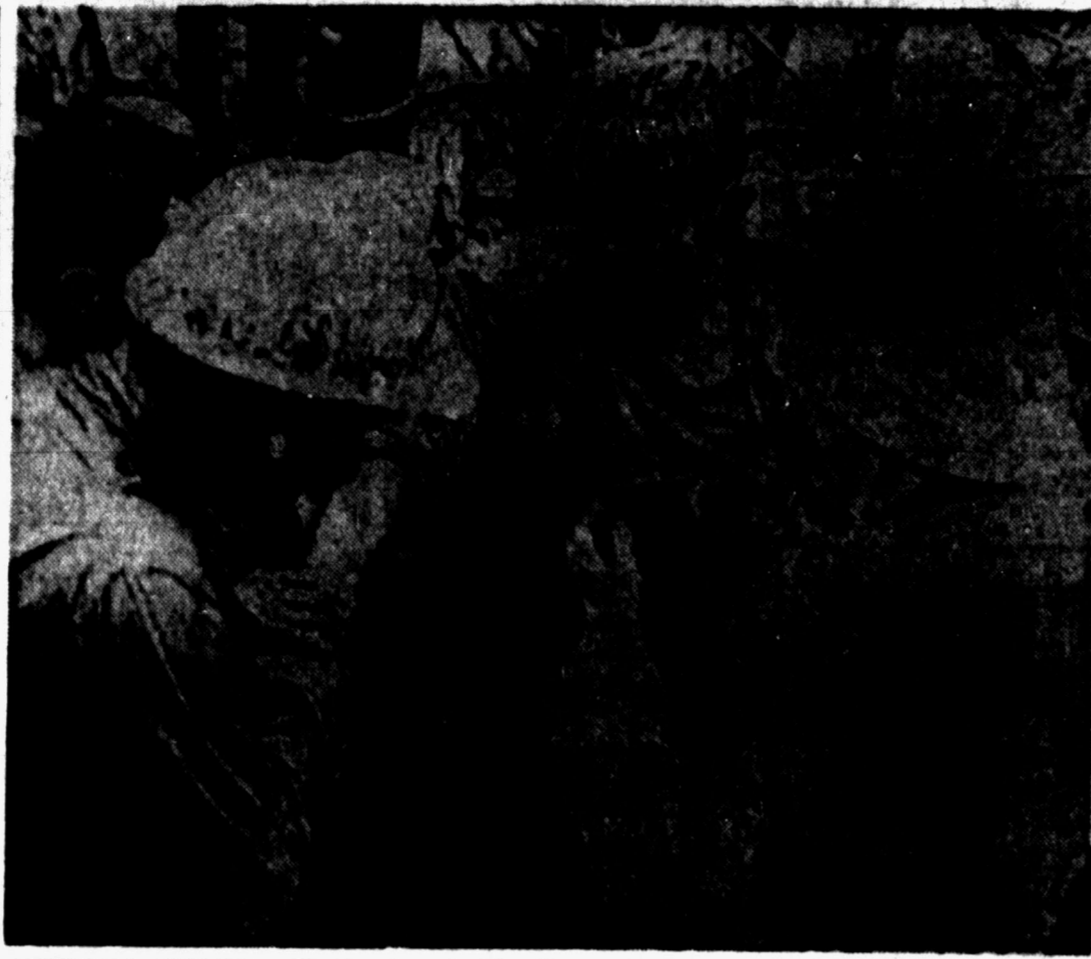

Inviting all major U.S. film producers to submit their entries for 1965 NCC Film Awards, granted annually to "American-produced films of outstanding artistic merit," the Rev. Fore said Protestants are no longer primarily concerned with condemning "sex and violence" or "the depiction of immorality and filth." Instead, he said they are "more interested in films which are honest in their portrayal of the human situation."

New Congregations Okayed By Lutherans MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — The Board of American Missions of the American Lutheran Church has authorized the start of 62 new congregations in 1966. Estimated cost of the program, including capital fund loans to the new congregations, is $8,033,000.

Loan funds for the new churches will average $125,000 each. In addition to financing land acquisition and an initial building program, the board's policy is to subsidize each mission congregation's local expenditures until it is self-supporting.

Home Of City Man Ransacked

Several thefts and burglaries, including a ransacking of the home of Dr. Paschal Strong, 3501 43rd St., were under investigation by local police Sunday.

Dr. Strong told police that he had been gone from the house since Dec. 18 and returned Sunday morning to find the place had been broken into and some of his property either stolen or destroyed.

Door Pried Open He said it appeared that the door had been pried open and a wire used to trip the night latch. Three beds had been used, popcorn popped and food cooked in a brass bed tray.

In addition a hair dryer had been taken into the yard and torn up and a carving set broken. Missing from the house was a record player, radio, and $175 cash, he reported.

In other house burglaries, Steve Covarrubio, 3011 Bates, reported a television set stolen. Bobby Snodgrass, 2418 26th St., reported a $200 charm bracelet stolen, and Tom Lara, 2811 Emory, reported a television set, electric toothbrush, clock radio and two rings stolen from his house.

$150 In Cash Taken Officers were also investigating theft of $150 in cash from the clothes of Edward Morlan, 1910 E. 1st St., from his locker at the Avalanche-Journal, a car burglary in which the purse of Mrs. Callie Grassland, Albuquerque, N.M., and $35 cash master keys to four Lubbock businesses from the car of Julia Tipton, 3320 E. 16th St.

Police were also holding an 18-year-old Negro youth Sunday night in connection with shooting out a window at the Professional Student Nursing Home in the 2000-block of Miami about 1:30 a.m. Sunday. Charges are expected to be filed today.

Victim Of Car-Train Crash Termed Fair Mrs. Jania Ortega, 26, 1402 Oak, victim of a car-train smashup Saturday night, was listed in fair condition at Methodist Hospital Sunday night.

Mrs. Ortega was the only one of the three injured in the crash just east of the Lubbock City limits to be hospitalized. Her husband, 24-year-old Richard L. Ortega, and another passenger in the car, Mary Landeros, were treated and released.

Hospital attendants said Mrs. Ortega suffered head injuries, broken ribs and internal injuries.

U.S. Troops Pushing Viet Cong Toward Cambodia

SAIGON (Monday) (AP) — U.S. airborne troops, in a push to drive the Viet Cong toward the Cambodian border, have killed 201 guerrillas and captured 69 others, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

He added that 444 Communist suspects were detained. In one operation in the campaign that opened Saturday, U.S. helicopters sprayed the Viet Cong with a nonlethal tear gas which apparently had little effect in the swampy terrain.

The paratroopers' thrust is centered around Bao Trai, 20 miles west of Saigon, and is the first major allied campaign in Viet Nam's delta region.

The U.S. spokesman said large stores of rice and other foods and Viet Cong flags have been taken.

Supported by South Vietnamese, Australian and New Zealand forces, the U.S. paratroopers poured on the pressure in a multibattalion attack and forced the Viet Cong to fall back through the soggy marshland into the famed "Plain of Reeds."

Allied forces forged toward the Cambodian border only 12 miles away. The area would mark American units' southernmost penetration of the country.

Bombing Lull Continues In the air war, the U.S. moratorium on bombing of North Viet Nam went into its 10th day with no indication of an immediate break.

The suspension has been widely interpreted as part of U.S. efforts to bring about conditions favorable for peace talks with North Viet Nam.

The big U.S. assault westward began New Year's Day after one of the largest American convoys of the war rolled in from Saigon Friday. Associated Press photographer Horst Faas described it as a "huge snake of manpower and equipment."

The convoy moved over Highway 1, the scene of frequent Viet Cong ambushes. Helicopter drops put the paratroops into position to launch their mission. They were backed by heavy air and artillery support.

Near Bao Trai, 20 miles west of the capital, U.S. helicopters sprayed a powerful, nonlethal gas on pockets of Viet Cong troops after ground troops had lobbed tear gas grenades.

However, much of the gas dissipated in the wind or was absorbed in the swamps and the Communists remained holed up in thickets of sugar cane and bamboo, AP correspondent Peter Arnett reported.

It was the first time American troops have been known to use the nonlethal gas, type "CN," on such a large scale in Viet Nam.

Enemy Force Located One column of the U.S. 173rd Brigade located a large enemy force on the east side of the Vao Oriente River. Another column joined up with South Vietnamese government troops, Australians and New Zealanders in the area about 35 miles west-northwest of Saigon and forged toward the Cambodian frontier about 12 miles away.

BABIES TOSSED

Fire Rescue Just Game Of Catch

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Obie Williams stood beneath a third-floor window Saturday, catching babies tossed from his sister's apartment.

He caught four and laid them on the lawn as thick black smoke from the burning building billowed from every window.

Williams, 29, missed a clean catch on his fifth try but the child was not seriously injured. Then he helped break the fall of the children's four parents as they leaped to the ground.

The fire brought death to Clifton Christian, 25, Kansas City, and injury to 19 other persons among the 97 residents or guests at the three-story apartment house.

Many residents panicked and leaped from upper floor windows as smoke poured through the corridors and into rooms.

Williams said he was watching television in the apartment of his sister, Mrs. Marion Jenkins and her husband along with another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Downton. Also in the apartment were the Jenkins' two children, three months and 14 months old; Williams' younger sister, four; and the Downton's two children, five and two years old.

Smoke Came Pouring "When the smoke came pouring in through the door I knew we couldn't get out through the hall and there was only one other place to go. I kicked the screen off the window and tumbled out. I didn't even have my balance."

"I called for them to drop the children." Cecil Daniel, fire battalion chief, said when he and his crew of 20 men arrived, people were jumping from windows. Curtains and bedding tied in knots hung from windows of the U-shaped building as evidence of other methods of escape.

"I screamed for them to stop but they didn't pay any attention," he said. Fire Chief Herbert Hughes said the blaze was under control 15 minutes after his men arrived. He said about $10,000 damage occurred and the fire started from trash and careless handling of cigarettes.

Cold Front Heads South

(By The Associated Press) A cold front that dropped temperatures to shivery levels in Texas barged into the Gulf of Mexico late Sunday as forecasts called for more above-normal temperatures.

Generally clear skies across most of West Texas turned into scattered cloudiness in North-east Texas, cloudy to partly cloudy in Southeast Texas and light rain in the Lufkin, Beaumont and Galveston areas.

Maximum temperatures, mostly in the 50s, ranged from 41 at Amarillo to 76 at Brownsville.

Rainfall for the 24 hours to 6 p.m. Sunday included Austin .06 of an inch, Beaumont .91, Brownsville .30, College Station .33, Dallas .45, Fort Worth .15, Galveston .60, Houston .87, Lufkin .09, Mineral Wells .16, Victoria 1.05 and Waco .07.

A five-day forecast for Jan. 4-8 called for high temperatures ranging from 4 to 12 degrees above normal in the state. Rain, the forecasts indicated, would be light in North Central and Northeast Texas, practically none in Northwest Texas and moderate to heavy in the southeastern and south central portions of the state.

AUTHOR OF IDEA UNDISMAYED

Plan To Split California In Two Greeted By Laughs

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — They laughed when he set down to split California into two states. They scoffed and told him to be sure and make Disneyland his capital for the south.

But who knows? Maybe it will all come true some day, and the name of Richard J. Dolwig, an earnest state senator, will be more famous than Mickey Mouse.

Dolwig, 57, is a Republican, an attorney and a legislative veteran of 20 years. He is a responsible man who received measure of statewide attention in 1962 when he campaigned unsuccessfully for the GOP attorney general nomination.

Why does he want to crack the Golden State? His answer begins with the Supreme Court's "one man one vote" decision of 1964, which required population-based districts in both houses of legislature.

The decision meant an end to rural domination of the California Senate, where members represent geographic areas and where Los Angeles County and Death Valley each have one man. The court gave power to Los Angeles and the urban south, taking it from the farm and mountain country of the north. Dolwig, a northerner from the San Francisco area believed that state-splitting was a better idea.

Under his plan, California's seven southern counties would break away, from 51 in the north. Dolwig said the southern group, with 10.3 population, largest state. He said the would become the nation's third northern counties would become the seventh largest with 7.8 million.

Northern and southern California are distinctive areas, separated largely by the Tehachap Mountains. Dolwig believes that separation would benefit both. The south could keep the millions of dollars earned by its state-owned offshore oilfields; the north would get more legislative protection for its biggest business: Agriculture.

Number Of Motives There's more to this than sectionalism, according to Dolwig. "This state will have a population of 21 million in another six or seven years," Dolwig said, "do you know that that's larger than the three quarters of the nations in the world? That's just too big!"

Dolwig said California's elected officials are losing control of the huge state government, which now employs more than 150,000 persons. Control, he said, is passing to bureaucrats. And, "next to communism, bureaucracy is the most dangerous thing we're experiencing."

Dolwig introduced state-splitting legislation in the Senate last January as an alternative to the court-ordered reapportionment before the upper house. His measures needed approval by the legislature, California voters, and the U.S. Congress. If all agreed, conventions would draft constitutions for the two new states.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's response was typical. When asked about the Dolwig plan during one of his regular weekly news conferences, the Democratic governor smiled and, paraphrasing the late Sir Winston Churchill, announced his opposition.

"I'm not here to preside over the destruction of this empire," I'll tell you that," the governor said.

Dolwig has not given up. On Nov. 29 he filed articles of incorporation for "Founders of the States of California," a non-profit corporation devoted to convincing the public that the state should be split.

Dolwig estimated that his group, composed so far of a relatively few northern Californians, would need about five years and at least $500,000 for the necessary "public education campaign." He said he hoped the money would come from the state's roots.

However, published polls have shown that a majority of Californians like the state the way it is. Also, the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors is opposed to any split and the president of the state Chamber of Commerce Joseph A. Moore Jr., says that the whole idea, after 115 years of statehood, is incomprehensible.

Even some of Dolwig's old friends are against him. Laughlin E. Waters, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said he had known and appreciated Dolwig's talents since their days together in the assembly. "I also know that a fixed idea like this can remove you from reality," he said.

But Dolwig is not dismayed. "People are always skeptical at first, but when I explain it, they begin to come around."

LONG ROUTE Old Border Town Postman Will Retire BROWNSVILLE (AP) — A. E. Cavazos, a tall, thin, spry man of 67 years, retires today after 20 years of carrying the mail in the Old Border Town district of Brownsville. The Old Border Town district is along the Rio Grande. Cavazos has lived there most of the time he has been the area's mailman and will continue to do so. His fellow postmen call him "Senator," a tribute to the many years of work he has performed on behalf of higher pay for postal employees. Draw More Retirement He will draw more retirement pay than the highest paid letter carriers did when he went to work with the Post Office Department 30 years ago as a custodian ("that was the only job open then") and he can remember a lot of other changes. "It used to be that we ran the post office as a service," he said at a retirement party Saturday night. "Now it's on a statistics basis. Soon the machines will master man or man will master the machines. I won't predict who will win out, but if people don't wake up machines will master them."

He says many mail unions still haven't learned to write addresses legibly on letters, so there's little chance they'll use zip codes properly. "I can see where the zip code is a good deal on big mailers who can do it, but the average man will never put a zip code on unless he is compelled by law to do it," Cavazos said. Asked about his experiences as a postman with dogs, Cavazos said: "I've only been bitten about three times, and they all died within a week's time; that's the truth. Some of the neighbors might have helped (the dogs die), but it's always been my fault when I have been bitten."

JUST DECIDED

Anthony Quinn Weds Italian

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actor Anthony Quinn and Italian-born Yolanda Addolori were married Sunday in the Beverly Hills home of his agent, Milton Grossman. Quinn, 50, and Miss Addolori, 30, "just decided to get married. Only 20 close friends and Tony's mother were present," a spokesman said. Quinn, two-time Academy Award winner, divorced his first wife, Katherine De Mille, a year ago in Mexico. At the time of his divorce, he said it was "because of the sense of duty I feel toward my two little boys in Italy."

Quinn's romance with Miss Addolori became an international sensation in 1963 when an Italian magazine identified the tall, deep-voiced actor as the father of her sons. In April 1964, a second son was born to Miss Addolori.

BUT BLOCKED BY CHINA

Solon Believes North Viet Nam Ready To Talk Peace

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The chairman of the House subcommittee on the Far East said Sunday he personally believes North Viet Nam leaders are ready to negotiate an end to the war in Viet Nam, but are being blocked by the Red Chinese.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki (D-Wis.) who recently returned from a 40-day tour of Poland and Southeast Asia, said Polish officials told him Ho Chi Minh, the North Vietnamese president, was prepared to approach negotiations.

"They insisted that Hanoi was sincere and ready to get together on an honorable truce," Zablocki said.

Many In Agreement He added that in his talks with leaders of Asian nations, "almost all stated that the trouble is not with Hanoi but with Peking."

Zablocki is chairman of the Far East and Pacific Subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Zablocki is often considered a congressional spokesman for President Johnson on U.S. policy in Viet Nam, but he emphasizes that his views on North Viet Nam's attitude toward negotiations were solely his own.

Zablocki was asked what he thought might be factors in any willingness by Ho Chi Minh to negotiate a settlement. "We have been quite restrained in Viet Nam. I think he knows full well that there are government leaders and legislative leaders in the United States and in South Viet Nam who are urging stronger measures such as bombing Hanoi, Haiphong and the Red River dikes," he responded.

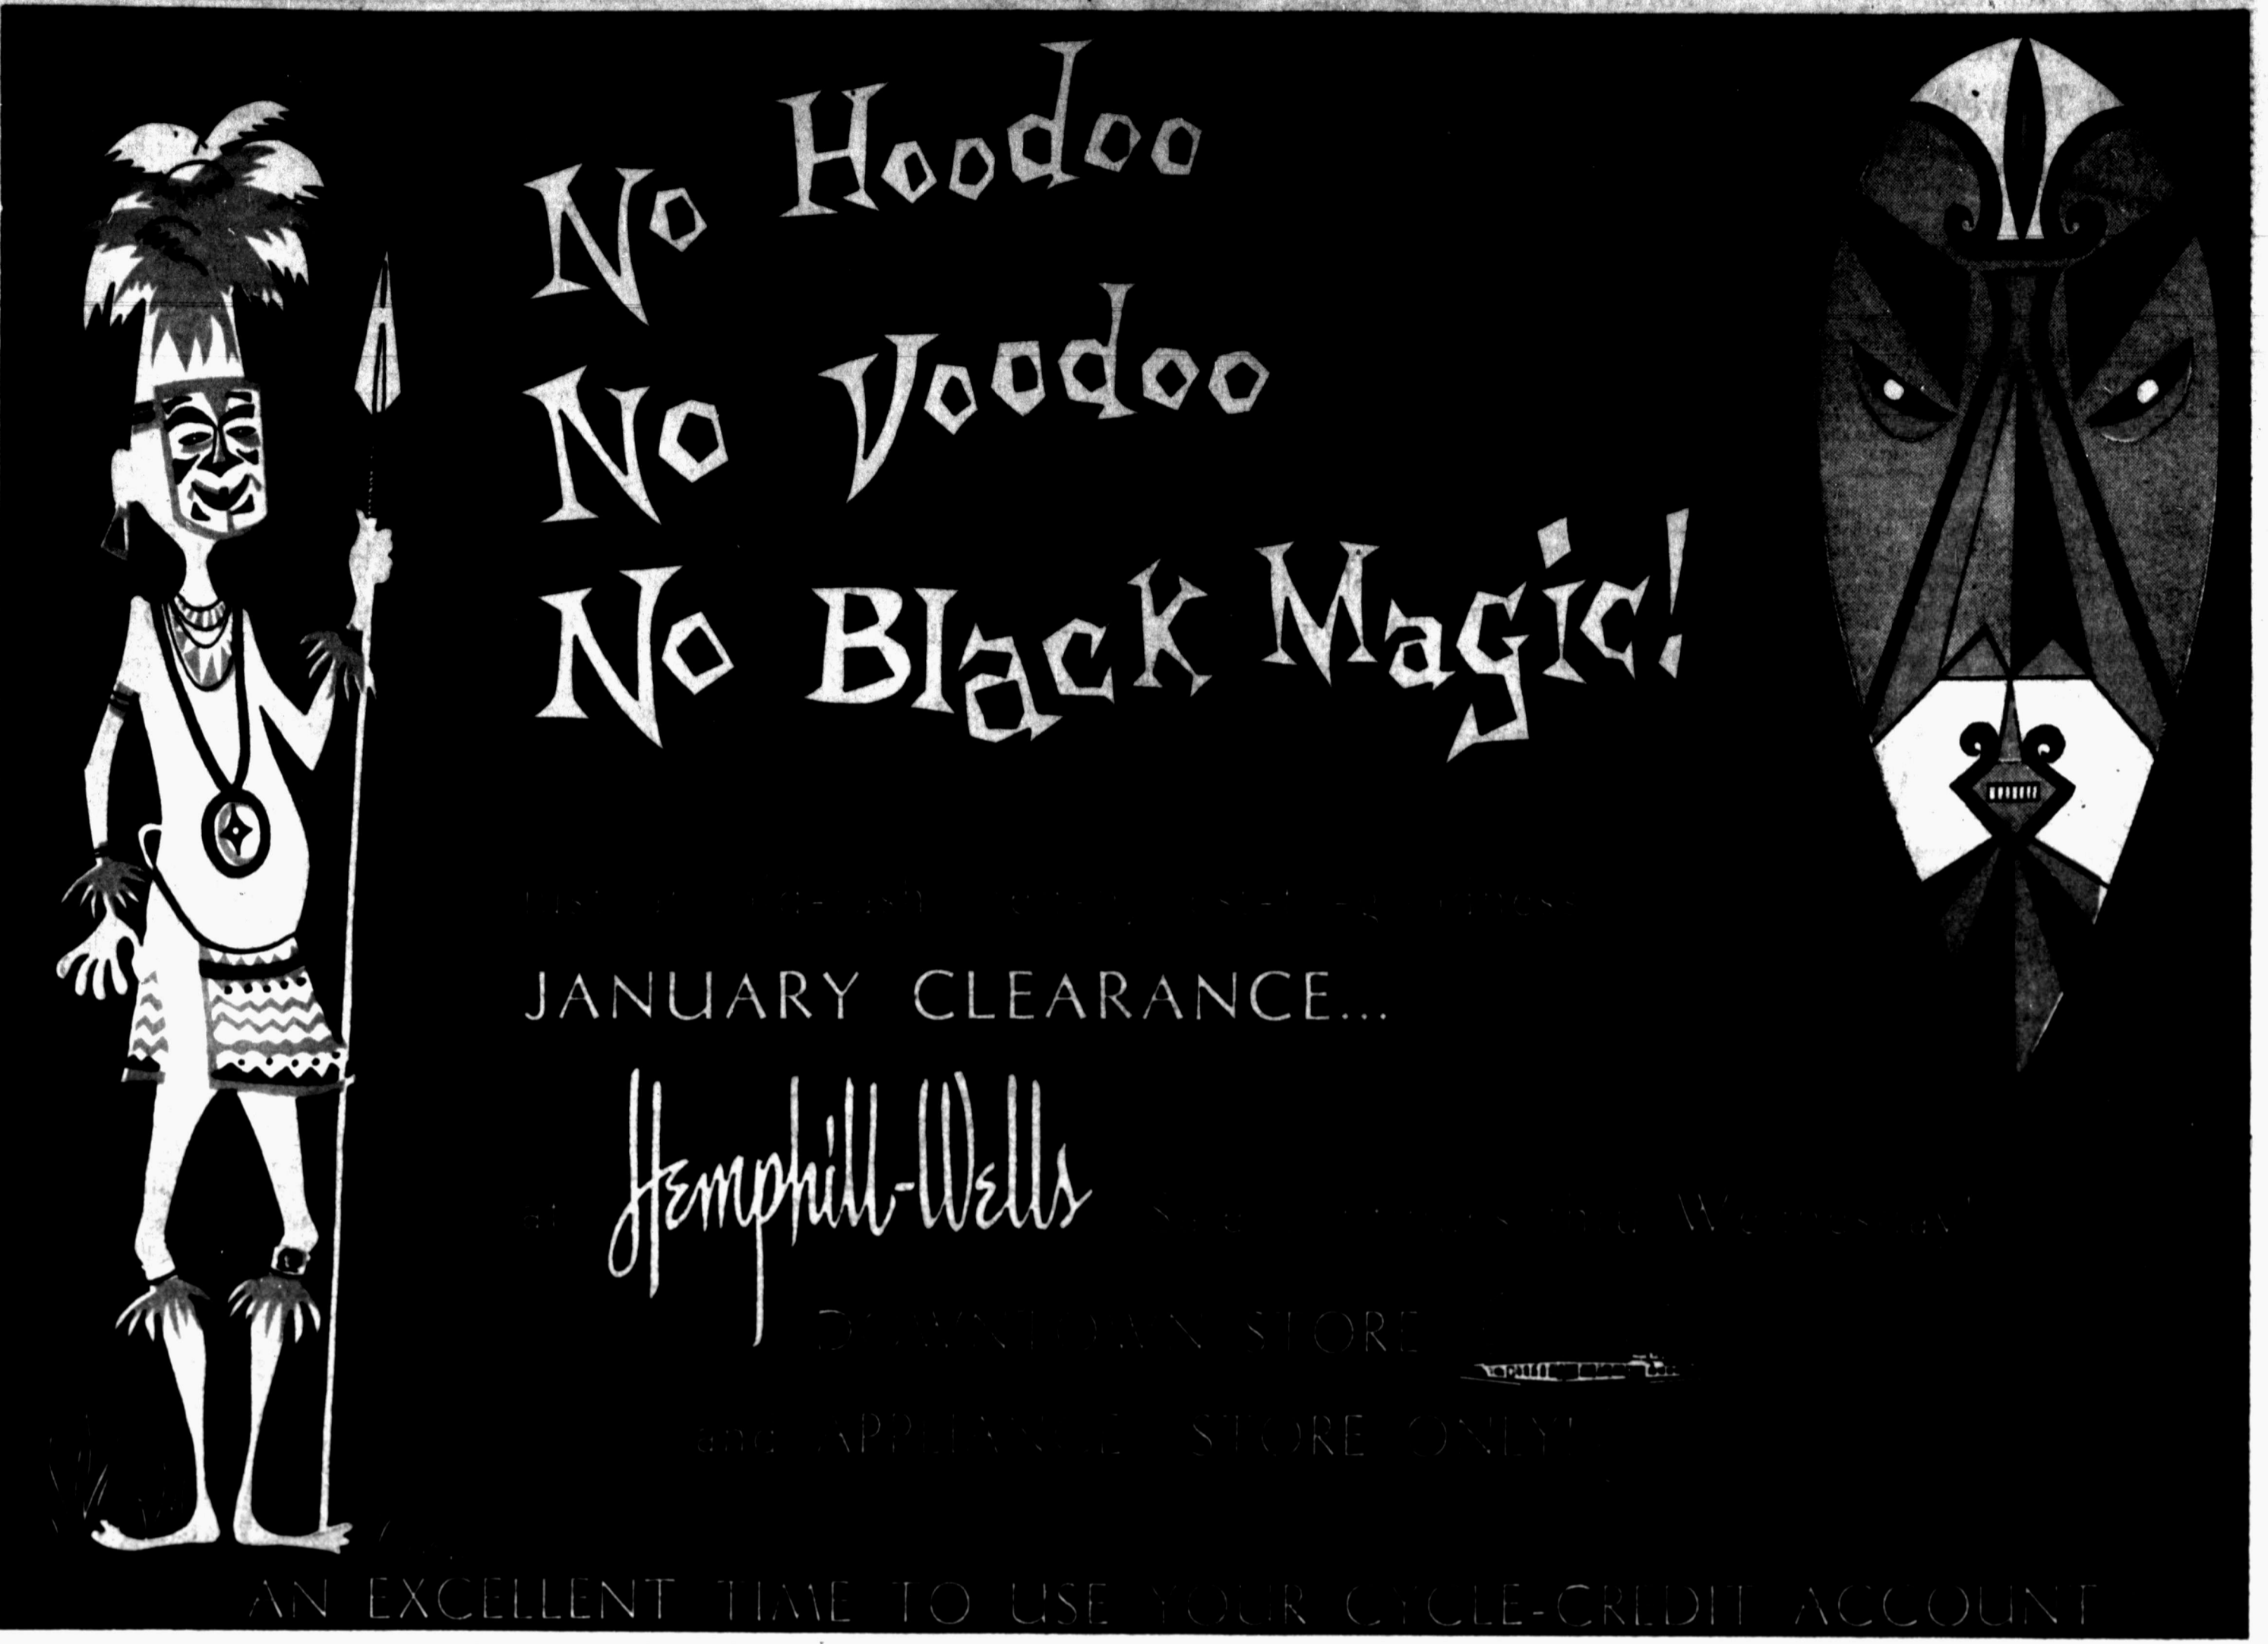

"This, of course, would be an escalation of the war which would carry considerable trouble for North Viet Nam. To cope with this, he would have to agree to ground warfare intervention by the Red Chinese, which it is our understanding he does not desire."

Zablocki visited 15 nations in the Far East as well as Poland on his tour with other congressmen in November and December.

He identified nations whose leaders had voiced beliefs that North Viet Nam was being blocked by Red China as including The Philippines, Japan, Nationalist China, South Korea and Thailand.

SHOWDOWN AT FT. CHRISTMAS TREE—The sounds of machine guns and the exploding of mortar shells rocked the make-believe world as a group of youngsters "battle" (no doubt with new Christmas toys) on a vacant lot at 49th and Salem Sunday. REDS IN SIGNIFICANT NEW DIPLOMATIC VENTURE

Soviets Will Host Conference Between Feuding Leaders Of India, Pakistan

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has taken on a significant new diplomatic venture by hosting a conference this week between the government chiefs of feuding India and Pakistan.

This is a role that has anti-Chinese connotations. Improvement of Indian-Pakistan relations is considered a remote prospect by some here who are familiar with the difficulties between the two countries.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India and President Mohammad Ayub Khan of Pakistan will consider those difficulties in Tashkent, the main city of Soviet central Asia, at the invitation of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Kosygin flew to Tashkent Sunday.

Kosygin's role will be that of a middleman who avoids urging any solutions, according to the Indians. They have taken pains to make sure Kosygin understands that they do not want interference.

Shastri has made it clear publicly that he was being dragged reluctantly to the conference table. He will be unwilling to make any meaningful change in India's stand on Kashmir.

since Sept. 2. But previous talks between India and Pakistan have shown that the unresolved Kashmir problem poisons all other relations.

Coldly calculated Soviet national interests rather than Leninist theory will bring the leaders of the Soviet Union, India and Pakistan together in Tashkent. The conference will present this country in the role of trying to preserve peace between an India-Pakistan war works against Soviet interests.

MORE BELT TIGHTENING?

Castro Discloses Communist China Has Broken Rice-For-Sugar Pact

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro disclosed Sunday that Communist China had broken its rice-for-sugar agreement and would neither send Cuba rice this year nor buy Cuban sugar.

"We now find we have only half the rice we had in 1964," he said. "We did not grow more rice ourselves because we were concentrating on other agricultural products."

Because of the lack of Cuban production and the cutoff of Chinese imports, Castro said, there would be much less rice available to the Cuban diet.

When Kosygin first proposed the meeting Sept. 17, Ayub had hopes of United Nations action on Kashmir. But after the fighting ended Sept. 2, the hopes faded.

Pakistan finally agreed to the Tashkent meeting as a way of keeping the Kashmir issue alive. India had to agree to talk or look unreasonable.

"Temporary Setbacks" Castro said he was sure the "temporary setbacks" in agricultural production and lack of imports would not affect the "revolutionary ardor" of the Cuban people. He sought to whip up that ardor with an attack on the United States.

"It isn't easy to love enemies—not as easy as it is to love their children after you've done away with the enemies."

Agenda items include Rhodesia, where a white minority government has declared its independence from Britain, and the Portuguese colony of Mozambique, a committee spokesman said.

Indians like to claim that this silence is meaningless and the Soviet position is unchanged. But traditionally Soviet diplomacy has shifted over tricky ground by silence rather than new statements.

As Moscow-Peking relations deteriorated between India and Pakistan because conflict only heightens the danger of Pakistan commitment to Peking.

He lamented that what he thought was a long-term agreement with Red China turned out not to be. Under it Cuba sent China two tons of sugar for each ton of rice received.

SAFETY SCHOOLS HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The Cuban government, alarmed at the increasing number of industrial accidents, has established safety schools staffed with Soviet instructors.

Browns Fall In Snow, 23-12

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung charged through the snow, rain and fog and Don Chandler kicked three field goals Sunday to lead Green Bay to the National Football League championship with a 23-12 victory over the defending Cleveland Browns.

Playing their old style ball control game, designed by Coach Vince Lombardi, Taylor chewed up Cleveland's line while the Packers' brilliant defense shut out the great Jim Brown.

Bart Starr, racked up last Sunday on the first play of the bitterly contested playoff game with Baltimore, hit Carroll Dale with a 47-yard touchdown pass in 3:52 of the first period.

Chandler kicked field goals from the 15, 23 and 29, tying an NFL record for most field goals in a title game, and Hornung dashed 13 yards on the old style

Westerners, Plainsmen Are Hosts To Bulldogs, Rebels

By CARLTON STOWERS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

The Lubbock High School Westerners, hoping to insure themselves a tighter grasp on their top ranking in District 3-AAAA circles, and Monterey's Plainsmen, the tournament winningest combo in the league, will host Plainview and Tascosa respectively tonight in a Municipal Coliseum doubleheader. And, victories for the Hub City crews are imperative if title dreams are to develop into anything of a material nature. A win for coach Max O'Banion's

Westerners would likely set up a Friday showdown with the Amarillo Sandies for the outright loop leadership and a MHS triumph would enable the Caprock Tournament champion to remain in position to strike should the leaders stub their toes down the line.

Both Lubbock and Amarillo are currently 5-0 in league play and Monterey is 4-1, good enough for a tie with Pampa. Other crucial action pits the Sandies and Pampa Tuesday night in Amarillo. Monterey hosts the up and

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Lou Saban, the American Football League's Coach of the Year, resigned Sunday night because "there can be little left to conquer in professional football."

The Associated Press, meanwhile, learned that the 44-year-old Saban will be named head coach at the University of Maryland Monday, succeeding Tom Nugent.

The University already has announced a press conference, but officials were not available for comment on the report that Saban would be named.

Indefinite Plans
Saban told a hastily called news conference, however, his plans were "indefinite at the moment."

"You will have to check (Maryland) officials on the campus," he said.

Saban's announcement of his resignation, apparently a well-kept secret even from some members of the Bills' official family, stunned team representatives as he made his statement at the Buffalo club's office.

Saban, who works without a contract reportedly for $30,000 a year and has come to terms with Bills owner Ralph I. Wilson Jr. on a handshake each year, will be leaving the pros at the peak of his career.

The Bills have put together 12- and 10-3-1 records en route to Eastern Division titles and the AFL championship the past two years while Saban, who just missed after the 1964 season, became Coach of the Year this season for the first time.

Saban, in a statement, said: "After much thought I have decided not to return as coach of the Buffalo Bills."

"In doing so I have severed my relationship with an organization I have enjoyed being a part of and a team I will ever have in high regard for effort and accomplishment it showed on the playing field the past four years."

"I will ever be grateful to Ralph C. Wilson Jr. for the opportunity he gave me at a particular point in my coaching career when I was named head coach."

"He has never failed to back me and my staff as we struggled to put together the championship teams of the past two years."

"Winning the championship has enabled me to enjoy the highest honor both as a player and coach that can come to a man in professional football."

"I played on a championship team with the Cleveland Browns and now coached the championship Bills."

"There can be little left to conquer in pro ball but no man who has been a part of pro football can leave without regrets. However, I feel my decision would be the same regardless of the team or city in which I was coaching."

Saban has been grappling with the decision to leave the pros for several days but still it will come as a major surprise since he always has been on the closest terms with Wilson. However, there has been no friction between the two and Saban merely has decided to make the 44-year-old Saban, who played his college ball at Indiana.

King Reviews Gator Loss And Discusses Next Season

By BURLE PETTIT
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — The Gator Bowl game behind him, Coach J. T. King sat sipping coffee and talking over things that had happened during the past 48 hours and what might be expected during the next 12 months.

The Texas Tech coach, getting ready to fly from here to Honolulu and a Hula Bowl engagement, looked neither dejected nor encouraged. Fatigue was evident.

"We didn't do a good job," he said. "And if your stories filed back home said our defensive effort was poor, you were being very kind about it."

Quarterbacks Kim King and Larry Priestley had directed a running game against the Raiders that left them virtually helpless. Sending halfbacks Lenny Snow and Giles Smith and others in, through and around the Tech forward wall with demoralizing frequency, the Jackets rolled up well over 300 yards on the ground.

"I felt this way about King before the game was played. I thought he'd throw as many as they'd catch."

"So we didn't do a good job. We should have put the entire student body up there and made him throw it. We just didn't do a good job at all."

"They took tremendous splits in the line, then did a good job of knocking us out of there. They pulled that silly reverse on us three times, and we acted like we'd never seen it before."

Tom Wilson's passing lacked the pinpoint accuracy that had made the diminutive Dynamo one of the greatest aerialists in SWC history. Time and again, he overthrew receivers who were open in the secondary.

"I think Tom went to the long passes too quickly," King said. "We were 10 points behind, but had nearly eight minutes left to play when we got the ball deep in our own territory."

"Probably we could have done better had he stayed with the short patterns, the halfback draw and other short-yardage plays.

"But, in defense of Tom, I know what was behind his thinking. Our defense was doing so poorly that he felt he had to move us fast and often."

The Gator Bowl game behind him, King began talking in terms of what to expect next year.

"I would say immediately that the success we have next year will depend a great deal on how strong our quarterback position develops. If we come up with one who can make the big play, our team could be close to this year's."

Foremost in the quarterback battle at this time appears to be Guy Griffin and John Scovell.

"Neither of them at this time is ahead," King said. "We'll open the thing up in spring training and by the time it's over, we hope to have made a decision. But if we haven't, we'll start 'em off even next fall and pick one or the other on the last day of two-days."

What about Donny Anderson, the two-time all-America who must go down in the books as one of the most versatile halfbacks of all time?

"We of course won't be able to replace Anderson with one man. He could do too many things too well. But we can use a combination of people to replace him."

"For example, Kenny Vinyard

is such a punter that he should be able to keep our kicking game just as strong as it was this year (Vinyard is a freshman from Amarillo).

"Then Bob Bearden is going to be a fine receiver. He has great speed, great hands and could develop into one of the best we've ever had."

"Mike Leinert can give us a great running threat. He should be even better next year, and this year he was among the most explosive in the league."

The problems, then, don't exist?

"You bet we have problems, and our biggest one next year is going to be the same one we've lived with for several seasons. We just don't have enough experienced muscle to keep teams from lining up and running over us, like Georgia did last year and Georgia Tech did the other day."

"Now we have some larger people on the freshman team, but you don't know how they're going to pan out under fire. We have eight starters remaining of our defensive team, but that's no sign that all eight of them will be starting next year."

"We weren't adequate against Georgia Tech with what we had on the field, so these young kids are going to have a shot at several positions."

"GREATER LOVE," one Georgia Tech fan must surely have said that warm, sunny Friday afternoon. "Hath no man than one who will surrender so prized a possession as a Gator Bowl ticket to a stranger..."

It seems, the story went, that Russell Hewitt, a 20-year-old Yellowjacket supporter from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, had flown in to Jacksonville three days prior to the Battle of the Techs, ticket in hand, ready and rarin'.

BUT ALAS, shortly after midnight on the eve of the game, 'Ole Russ' got wound up in a spontaneous downtown parade with members of the GI band. In the wild process of parading down streets, through hotel lobbies, and riding atop the shoulders of an equally 'wound up' Yellowjacket supporter, 'ole ticket was lost.

In a cab en route to the game Friday, he was recalling his ill fortune for the benefit of other passengers and expressed hope he could get another ticket at the gate.

Well, seems the two passengers were backing the Rambler. Wreck attack with just as much vigor as 'Ole Russ. "I have an extra ticket," smiled Merritt Ambrose of Atlanta, Ga.

Jaws tense, palms sweaty and eyes sparkling, Russ fired back, "I'll buy it from you."

"No you won't," the Georgian smiled. But, just before 'Ole Russ' lower lip hit the floorboard, he issued a statement becoming the fabled Southern hospitality: "If you came all the way down here from Milwaukee to see the game, I'll just give you the ticket."

And he did.

AFTER BOWL SHAKEUP

Question: Who Is No. 1?

(By The Associated Press)

Will the real Superman in college football please stand up? Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska, the top three college football teams, turned in their red and blue outfits and unblemished records New Year's Day while fourth-ranked Alabama threw off its Clark Kent disguise and emerged as the leading pretender for the national championship.

With the ruling triumvirate toppled, the Alabama Crimson Tide, conqueror of Nebraska, is the chief candidate for top honors that will be determined Tuesday when The Associated Press' panel of experts turns in its final ballots.

Talk Hurt

"That barrage of superman talk hurt us," admitted Michigan State co-captain Don Jipchen after the top-ranked Spartans were yanked in their bid for the national championship by losing to fifth-ranked UCLA 14-12 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

The Razorbacks from Arkansas also undefeated and No. 2 in the nation, were upended by unranked Louisiana State 14-7 in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas as their winning streak of 22 — the longest in the country — came to an unexpected end.

Alabama, steadily improving since an opening game loss, completed the sweep of the Big Three by whipping the third-ranked Combschers, 38-28 in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

In the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, sixth-ranked Missouri built a commanding first-half lead against unranked Florida and then had to hold on for a 20-18 victory.

The weekend's bowl activity got underway Friday with Georgia Tech defeating 10th-ranked Texas Tech 31-21 in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. Texas Western edging Texas Christian 13-12 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., and the West whipping the East 22-7 in the Shrine game at San Francisco.

And when it was all over, Alabama quarterback Steve Sloan and two UCLA standouts, quarterback Gary Behan and defensive back Bob Stiles, stood as the outstanding performers in the four major bowls that traditionally close the college season.

Sloan, Joe Namath's understudy last year, broke two Orange Bowl records as he completed 20 of 29 passes for 286 yards and two touchdowns. Ray Perkins, who caught 10 of Sloan's passes for 159 yards, was on the end of both scoring strikes and set up another touchdown and a field goal with his receptions.

"Steve Sloan is the most accurate passer I ever coached," said Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, while putting in his bid for the No. 1 spot in the final balloting by saying:

"If I had a vote, Alabama would be No. 1. I don't know what it takes to be No. 1 but I guess with everybody getting beat — I guess we're it."

He wouldn't get much argument from Nebraska's Bob Devaney who UCLA Coach Tommy Prothro won't go along.

"After all," said Prothro "a

Anderson Salary Estimates Said To Be Conservative

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — According to a source close to the situation, the figures released in connection with Donny Anderson's contract were "on the conservative side."

Anderson, who signed with the Green Bay Packers for what was conceded to be the highest amount ever paid a professional football player, would not comment.

Neither would his attorney, H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock, nor the Green Bay executive who acquired the signature, Pat Pepler.

"Donny signed for $711,000," said the source, who insisted on going unnamed.

"It is the policy of the Packers not to release salary figures on any one," Pepler said. "And that includes everyone from Paul Hornung, Bart Starr and Jimmy Brown to Vince Lombardi himself."

Houston Oilers owner Bud Adams said Friday that his closing offer to Anderson had been a total package worth $887,000, including a $200,000 home in Houston.

"I couldn't say about that," Anderson told The Avalanche-Journal here, shortly after signing. "I didn't even look at their final offer."

The Packers also declined to disclose the terms of a one-year contract awarded Jeff White, Raider split end from Compton, Calif.

However, it was learned from a reliable source that White received a clause assuring him of playing at least two years on the Pack-er "taxi squad," a unit similar to the red shirt teams in college football.

Adams did not get shot completely out of the picture, as the Oilers took John Carrell, Raider linebacker from Lovington, Carrell, whose draft rights were acquired by Houston from the San Diego Chargers, reportedly got a two-year non-ot contract that will pay in excess of $25,000.

Matson On AAU Team

Aggie Shot Putter Leads National Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Randy Matson, world record shot putter with a throw of 70-7, heads the all-college track and field team for 1965 announced Sunday by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Also named to the squad of 16 men and four relay teams were Tom Farrell of St. John's of New York, best of the country's half-milers, and UCLA's Bob Day, who set a college record of 3:56.4 for the mile.

Day's mark likely will be in jeopardy when Jim Ryan of Wichita, Kan., gains varsity eligibility. Ryan, who heads the all-star high school cast announced by AAU Executive Director Don Hull, was the nation's No. 1 miler with a record performance of 3:55.3. He is a freshman at the University of Kansas.

Two men were named for two positions each: Clarence Robinson of New Mexico University was selected for the long and triple jumps and Montana University's Doug Brown for the three and six-mile runs.

Albany Grid Assistant Resigns Job

ALBANY (Special) — Albany assistant football coach and head track coach, Sammy Walker, has resigned his position, school officials announced Sunday.

Walker reportedly plans to accept a position with a sporting goods firm in Seymour immediately.

Applications for the school job, which includes head track coaching duties along with line coaching in football, are being taken by Superintendent Carroll Tatom or Athletic Director Dee Windsor.

Walker graduated from Breckenridge High School and Hardin-Simmons University. He has coached about six years including stints at Winters, Hamlin and Albany.

SEKI WINS

TOKYO (AP) — Mitsunori Seki of Japan retained his Orient featherweight title Sunday night with an eighth-round knockout of Francisco Balug of the Philippines. Seki finished off his rival with a right hook to the head late in the eighth.

Seki weighed 125½ lbs. Balug 123½.

Chiefs' Scout Denies Rumored Move West

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Star, in a story from New Orleans Saturday, quoted Kansas City Chiefs' talent scout Don Klosterman as emphatically denying that he said the American Football League club planned to move to Los Angeles.

The statement was attributed to him by newsmen Friday in San Francisco, where Klosterman had gone to sign Mike Garrett, Southern California's All America halfback and Heisman Trophy winner.

"There's absolutely no truth to it," Klosterman told the Star in New Orleans, where he watched the Missouri-Florida Sugar Bowl game. "It made me heartsick when I read that quote in the papers."

"I was completely misquoted. The Chiefs intend to stay in Kansas City. We're delighted with the response of the fans."

"Someone asked me if the American Football League planned to expand to the west coast. I told them I was a talent scout and couldn't express an opinion. Then I was asked if the league did expand, would it go

AT TARLETON

Wayland Initiates Loop Play Today

Wayland College and the Tarleton State College Texans, number two and three respectively in National Intercollegiate Athletic Association District 8 North Zone, tangle tonight in Stephen-ville. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The first conference game for both teams, Wayland is 4-7 for the season and Tarleton is 2-5. The Pioneers have played three games during the Christmas holidays while the Texans have been idle since losing to Howard Payne, Dec. 16.

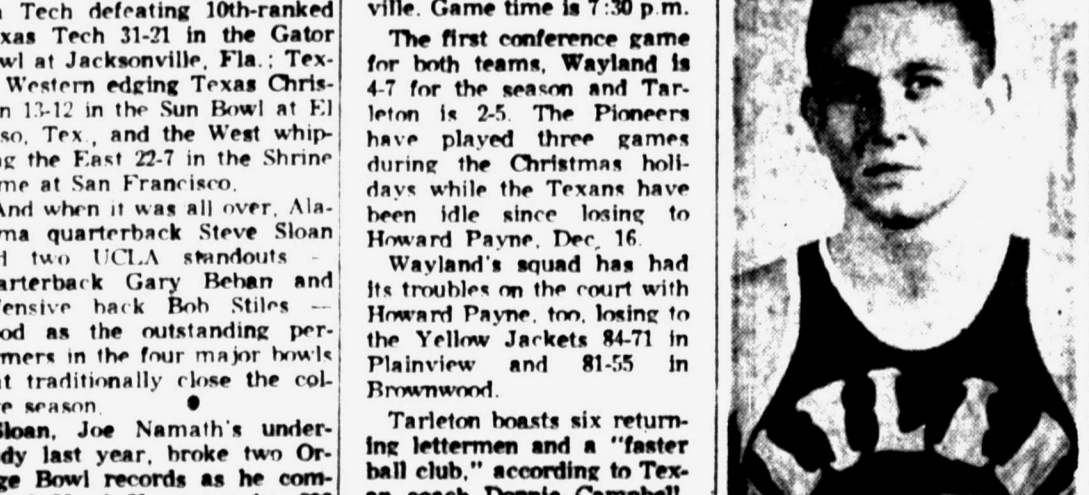

Wayland's squad has had his troubles on the court with Howard Payne, too, losing to the Yellow Jackets 84-71 in Plainview, and 81-55 in Brownwood.

Tarleton boasts six returning lettermen and a "faster ball club," according to Texas' coach Donnie Campbell. The Texans last high-point man R. M. Currin from last season. At post position, the 6-5 Currin averaged 19.5 points-per-game. However, Coach Campbell has a experienced junior, 6-4 Pete Lilljedahl, to fill the post position.

No Tarleton player is listed on the top 15 scorers in District 8 records, but Wayland has the number two man, Chester Sample, sophomore from Seminole, and number twelve man, Terry Bucher, senior from Noble, Okla.

After 11 games Sample is averaging 20 points-per-game and Bucher is getting 12.8.

The Pioneers enter district play with a young team. Five freshmen and four sopho-

VINCE LOMBARDI DISCUSSES HIS CHAMPS

Packers' Character Draws Praise

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — "This is not the best football team we've ever had, but it is a team of real fine character," said Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi after his Packers won the National Football League championship Sunday with a 23-12 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

"It's got a mark to it," said Lombardi. "It's got a great deal of perseverance. It never even began to count itself out. A lot of things happened to us this season, but the players closed their mouths and never said a word to the press or anyone. They kept their mouths shut about injuries and a number of things."

Lombardi referred to a mid-season slump in which the Packers scored more than a single touchdown in only one of six games.

May Have Folded "A lot of teams may have folded, but we stayed right in there. Of course, we had to get a break, and we got one from the Chicago Bears."

Chicago defeated the front-running Baltimore Colts 13-0 to keep the Packers title hopes alive. A week ago, the Packers defeated the Colts 13-10 in a playoff for the Western Conference crown.

Lombardi said the Green Bay strategy against Cleveland was ball control that would neutralize the Browns' high powered offense led by the rushing of Jimmy Brown and the passing of Frank Ryan.

"You have to control the ball against the Browns if you are going to beat them," Lombardi said. The coach minimized the effect of the wet snow-sprinkled field.

"We planned to stick to basics as much as possible. We're a pretty basic team anyhow."

The big Packer job involved containing Brown, who was held to 50 yards rushing in 12 attempts. Packer fullback Jim Taylor picked up 96 and half-back Paul Hornung 105.

"I think there's a little spark left in them," Lombardi said, referring to the play of his two veteran backs. "I also thought Bart Starr called a great game."

Paul Felt Good Hornung, told he and Taylor performed like rookie youngsters again, replied: "We felt like rookies. And when you win, you feel like rookies."

Hornung was questioned about Donny Anderson, the Texas Tech superstar signed by the Packers this weekend for a stratospheric bonus. "He's going to be a great back," Hornung said. "He's got all the tools."

When someone suggested that both Anderson and another highly touted Packer prospect, Jim Grabowski of Illinois, would probably watch Taylor and Hornung from the bench next season, Hornung said: "We'll wait and see about that next year."

Taylor, who has outshone Jimmy Brown before, said he was hampered somewhat by the heavy field. "I couldn't cut and drive too good. It was like having only one leg to run on."

Middle linebacker Ray Nitschke, who had the job of stopping Brown, disclaimed any individual credit. "No one player makes this defense," he said. "Our defense with the Packers is an 11-man unit."

Packers

Taylor, who won the most valuable award and a new car for his performance in the game, ground out 96 yards on 27 carries on the slippery turf. Hornung, the Golden Boy of old who scored five TDs in a crucial game with Baltimore in late season, slid past the Browns' defenders for 105 yards on 18 carries.

When Taylor was carrying the ball, Hornung was blocking for him. And vice versa. The old Packer pair played brilliantly in this contest played before 50,582 in intermittent rain and snow.

It was the ninth league championship for the home town Packers, owned by some 1,400 local fans. They previously had been tied with the Chicago Bears at eight.

Jim Brown, the MVP in the league, was held to 50 yards in 12 carries by the grudging Packer defense that rose to the heights once more.

Snow Hits Early A 3 1/2 inch snowstorm in early morning blanketed the field but grounds crew and city sanitation officials brushed back the snow and made the field playable. It rained intermittently through the game and then shifted to light snow in the final stages. Steam rose from the knots of players as they slithered in the mud.

Cleveland gave it the big shot but this simply was not the Browns' day. Brown had problems finding leverage in the slippery turf. The passing game of Frank Ryan, who completed eight of 18 for 115 yards, bogged down due to the alert Packer defense.

Willie Wood made a key interception in the second period and Herb Adderley picked off a last gasp desperation heave by Ryan in the final seconds.

Starr directed the play calmly sticking to his running game after it was established that the ground route was the way to travel. However, he still completed 10 of 18 passes with the hard-to-handle ball and piled up 147 yards passing.

Browns Come Back Cleveland struck back quickly after Starr's early TD pass to Dale and stunned the big crowd with a TD on three passes that ate up only 61 seconds. The payoff pitch was from Ryan to Gary Collins, the man who scored three touchdowns a year ago in the Browns' upset of the Baltimore Colts. Then came the bad break that put the Browns in the hole. Lou Groza who had made 96 consecutive points after touchdown in recent years, was set for the equalizer.

The snap from center appeared a bit off and was fumbled by Bobby Franklin, the holder.

Groza Passes! Groza grabbed the ball and threw a forward pass to Franklin in a desperate try for the conversion. Wood stacked up Franklin on the five.

A short punt by Chandler led the Browns to get into field goal position midway in the first period. The 41-year-old veteran calmly booted the three-point from the 24, sending Cleveland out front 9-7. Groza, who was to kick another later, has the all-time title game record with 10 field goals out of 17 attempts.

The Packers took charge of the football late in that exciting first period and, with the help of a 34-yard run by Hornung, moved into field goal range.

In fact the Packers penetrated to the Browns' three early in the second period but had to settle for the field goal by Chandler from the 15 after Starr was thrown trying to pass.

Ryan was trying desperately to get the Browns back in the ball game, but his pass, intended for Leroy Kelly, was picked off by Wood on the Browns' 25 and run back to the 10 after a penalty for motion and three incomplete passes. Chandler added three more points on a kick from the 23.

Cleveland's Walt Beach intercepted a Starr pass on the Green Bay 30 in the final seconds of the first half and Groza kicked a 23-yard field goal, making it 12-12 at the half with the missed extra point standing out as the difference.

The Packers, sticking to the game plan all the way, took charge in the second half.

With the offensive line providing fine blocking for Taylor and Hornung while Starr loosened up the defense with an occasional pass, Green Bay moved 90 yards in 11 plays that ate up six minutes, 48 seconds on the clock before Hornung finally went over on the 13-yard sweep.

Taylor went charging into the line four straight times during the Packers' fourth period march that finally stalled on the 21.

Chandler came in to kick the final field from the 29 and that was it.

Cagers

Coach Bob Clindaniel's crew, led by all-tournament pick Bob Boulding, defeated Lovington, New Mexico, 76-67, for the crown Saturday night.

Gerald Myers' troops, now 13-2 for the season and having lost only to the powerful Sandies by one point in overtime in league play, annexed the Caprock title to their Irving championship recently to become the only team in the league to win two tourney crowns this year. Pampa won its own Top 'O Texas affair for the 10th straight year and Amarillo won the Hereford title this season.

LHS Is 13-2 Lubbock High, 13-2 for the season, relinquished its Caprock title after a three-year reign, falling to San Angelo in the semifinals. The LHS crew has had its troubles in tournament play this year, suffering a loss in trying to defend its Odessa crown earlier in the year.

O'Banion will open with Bill Green (6-5), Wesley Verner (6-1), Jimmy Poe (5-9), Freddy Dickson (6-0) and either Ronnie Shuffield (6-1) or Don Burrell (6-3). Burrell, who has started in but one game thus far this season, led the Westerners' 56-43 win over Caprock Saturday night and he dumped in 15 points and hauled down 18 rebounds.

Also slated to see quite a bit of action for the 3-A co-leaders are Nello Armstrong (6-6) and Steve Letwisch (6-3).

Boasting the top defense in the league, Lubbock High will likely be faced with a superlative defensive performance themselves as the Plainview zone has gained momentum and respect with equal swiftness this season.

In a freeze-out affair with Pampa recently, the Bulldogs fell to Pampa, 18-17, allowing the Harvesters but three field goals.

Starters Probable Clindaniel will likely open with Boulding (6-4), Stan Rigler (5-10), James Engel (6-0), Clay Woods (6-4) and either Baxter McAllister (6-1) or John Roberts (6-4).

Plainview is 1-1 in district action and 7-12 for the season.

Myers will, as he has all season, field an all-season combo of Steve Hardin (6-5), David Reed (6-3), Craig Wright (6-4), Kenny Coleman (6-3) and Chuck Lewis (6-2). Also set for a good deal of action are Danny Sledge (6-6), Randy Andrews (6-3 1/2) and Steve Hurt (6-2).

Tascosa will likely retaliate with a fivefrom from the likes of Pat Estes (6-1), Ronnie Evans (6-6), Jerry Mudroch (6-1), Dick Storch (5-8), Shelby Bogan (6-2), Jerry Burkhalter (6-4) and John Burkhalter (6-10).

The Monterey 'B' team Lancers, recent winners over cross-town rival Coronado, will host the Tascosa 'B' unit in a 6:15 p.m. game at Monterey gym and the LHS Cowhands will host the Plainview 'B' team in Chapman Fieldhouse at the same time.

King

(Continued From Page 2) and Anderson, will return to Lubbock today after a visit at Cape Kennedy. And the coaches—except for King, who went on to Honolulu with Wilson and Donny, and Assistant Head Coach John Conley, who returned with the official party to begin the recruiting wars—also made the journey.

"It was a great trip, and everyone seemed to have a great time," King said, leaving the coffee shop. "Too bad we couldn't have won the game."

TAYLOR WINS CAR GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers was named the winner of the world's largest with a Award as the outstanding player of the National Football League's championship game.

COLLIER SAYS

'We Got Licked By A Good Team'

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — "We got licked by a good team," said Cleveland fullback Jim Brown. "It forced us to play catch-up football and whoever is ahead on a field like that has an advantage. It certainly wasn't a day for running. But then, you have to adjust to conditions. They did, and we couldn't."

Praises Taylor, Hornung Brown had high praise for Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung. "These two guys did a great job. When Hornung went 13 yards for their last touchdown, it really killed our chances. Not only did they go 90 yards on the drive, but they also were killing the clock. That's something you can do when you're ahead, even by one point."

Taylor carried 27 times for 96 yards, Hornung 18 for 105. Brown carried 12 for 50. Cleveland quarterback Frank Ryan, completed eight passes in 18 attempts for 115 yards and shouldered much of the blame for the loss.

"They have a tough defense, the toughest I've seen in two years," said Ryan. "But nobody can tell me any defense can stop Paul Warfield and Gary Collins. They were open at times and I couldn't hit them. Once the ball slipped out of my hands and a couple of times I slipped when they were wide open. That's no discredit to the Packers. But I still think if I had done a better job we would have had a better chance."

Ryan completed his first four passes, with the first three accounting for all the yardage in Cleveland's only touchdown.

In the second quarter the Packers put Jeter in for Doug Hart and the Green Bay pass defense suddenly perked up with Ryan completing only four of his last 14 attempts.

Tournaments Mark Ending Of Non-Conference Play

(By The Associated Press)

Now it's out of the holiday tournament turmoil into the new year conference chase for college basketball powers.

Four major conferences—the Big Eight, Southern Atlantic Coast and Southeastern—pick up steam Monday night. Kentucky and Texas Western, only unbeaten teams to make it into 1966, place their perfect records on the line in nonconference games.

The SEC and ACC got a jump on the other leagues Saturday night. Top-ranked Duke came from behind and whipped Wake Forest 92-76 as the ACC got started. Georgia took Louisiana State 82-59 in the SEC opener.

Louisville opened the Missouri Valley Conference race with an 84-80 victory over St. Louis. The MVC gets into full swing later in the week.

Duke Plays Monday Duke, which has won seven straight and nine of 10, goes back to work Monday night taking on Penn State, which won the Gator Bowl tournament last week.

Kentucky, unbeaten in eight, is at home to St. Louis and Texas Western, winner of 10 straight and the Sun Bowl tourney, is at home for Tulsa.

The Wildcats and the Miners were the only unbeaten clubs to stay that way through the holiday week. Among the losers were second-ranked Vanderbilt, Los Angeles Classic crown, and third-ranked Bradley and Oregon State, which on the fourth-ranked Iowa.

Vanderbilt, beaten by Southern California in the Los Angeles Classic, opens its South-eastern Conference season against Tulane Tuesday.

Bradley, loser to Indiana last Friday, is at home to St. Thomas of Minnesota Monday night.

Iowa, beaten in the Sun Bowl by Texas Western, is off until Saturday when the Hawkeyes take on Wisconsin in a Big Ten opener. Two other Big Ten teams who suffered tournament letdowns last week, Michigan and Minnesota, also are off until their conference openers Saturday.

The Wolverines, ranked seventh, lost a two-pointer to Arizona State in the Far West Classic but bounced back in the consolation round against the Air Force and Washington State. They play Ohio State Saturday.

Minnesota, 7-2, bowed to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, the eventual winner in the Quaker City tournament. The Gophers open their Big Ten slate against Michigan State.

Providence Takes Crown Other major tournament winners were 10th-ranked Providence, which beat Boston College for the Holiday Festival crown in New York; defending national champion UCLA, which beat cross-town rival Southern California for a fourth straight; Los Angeles Classic crown, and third-ranked Bradley and Oregon State, which on the Far West Classic for the 10th straight year.

The Big eight opens with three games scheduled for Monday night. Kansas is at Colorado, Oklahoma State visits Oklahoma and Kansas State plays at Missouri. Atlantic Coast openers show Clemson at South Carolina and Maryland at North Carolina.

In the Southeastern Conference, Virginia Military meets George Washington and the Citadel plays at East Carolina. Southeastern Conference games show Alabama at Florida, Mississippi State at Auburn, Mississippi entertaining Louisiana State and Tulane at Tennessee.

The Southwestern and Yankee Conferences open Thursday with the Mid-American and Pacific Coast Conferences joining the Big Ten for Saturday openers.

Only a handful of games were played on New Year's Night with Dukes' victory over Wake Forest the top one. In some other, New Mexico routed Denver 87-66. Butler whipped Yale's touring Bulldogs 75-67 at Indianapolis and Drake won the Queen City tournament at Buffalo with a 65-52 decision over Holy Cross.

Here's how the nation's Top Ten college basketball teams fared in action last week, with season records.

1. Duke 8-1, beat Notre Dame 92-73, beat Wake Forest 92-76.

2. Vanderbilt 10-1, beat Syracuse 115-96, lost to Southern California 74-77, beat Purdue 84-72.

3. Bradley 10-1, lost to Indiana 104-87, 4. Iowa 5-1, beat Arkansas 77-73, lost to Texas Western 86-68.

5. Kentucky 6-6, beat Notre Dame 105-97, 6. Brigham Young 8-1, lost to LaSalle 74-69, beat St. Bonaventure 99-87, beat Cornell 103-82.

7. Michigan 6-4, lost to Arizona State University 88-87, beat Air Force 83-74, beat Washington State 93-81.

8. St. Joseph's 7-4, 9. Oregon State 10-1, beat Minnesota 91-66, beat Temple 97-87.

10. Minnesota 7-3, beat Cornell 84-82, lost to St. Joseph's 75-66, beat LaSalle 92-87, and lost to Loyola of Chicago 82-80.

11. Providence 8-1, beat New York University 79-76, beat Illinois 81-73, beat Boston College 91-86.

OILERS SNAG TACKLES

NFL Outsigns AFL In Talent Search

(By The Associated Press)

National Football League teams struck a bonanza in college talent after weekend football games, scoring overwhelmingly against the rival American Football League even though Houston wrapped up a million-dollar package of tackles.

NFL clubs signed such highly prized prospects as Donny Anderson, Texas Tech's two-time All-America halfback; tackles Francis Peay and Butch Allison and halfback Johnny Roland, Missouri stars; ends Freeman White and Tony Jeter and defensive tackle Walt Barnes, all of Nebraska; halfback Jim Lindsey of Arkansas; Harold Lucas, Michigan State's mammoth tackle; and Larry Gagner, the fine Florida tackle.

Houston Leads AFL The Houston Oilers led the way for the AFL. They handed out contracts calling for what owner Bud Adams termed "in excess of a million dollars for four tackles—Glen Ray Hines and Jim Williams of Arkansas, and George Rice and Dave McCormick of Louisiana State.

Kansas City of the AFL also signed a big one, halfback Mike Garrett, the Heisman Trophy winner from Southern California.

Anderson went to Green Bay for a reported $800,000, which was some $200,000 less than he could have gotten from the Oilers, according to Adams. The Texas Tech flash will be a Packer rookie along with another All-America, fullback Jim Grabowski.

Giants Sign Peay The New York Giants landed Peay, their top choice in the recent draft, and White. Baltimore signed Allison, Jeter went to Green Bay, Lindsey to Minnesota, Gagner to Pittsburgh, and Barnes to Washington.

St. Louis signed the 286-pound Lucas and Roland, who was chosen by the Cardinals as a future in the 1964 draft. Other NFL signees included All-America ends Charles Casey, of Florida, with Atlanta, and Missouri quarterback Gary Lane, with Cleveland.

Peay, White, Lindsey and Allison were second-round choices in the AFL draft. Gagner, Lucas and Barnes were chosen on the third round.

The NFL now has signed 38 of their first 43 draft eligibles—14 of 16 from the first round, 11 of 13 from the second and 13 of 14 from the third. The AFL grabbed off only five of the 43, including NFL first-round picks Rice and linebacker Carl McAdams of Oklahoma.

AFL teams lost five of their 10 first-round selections, seven of nine from the second round, and four of nine from the third round, with one unsigned.

Millions of dollars in bonuses, salary and fringe benefits have been guaranteed to college players in the fantastic battle for glamorous names and new blood.

Perhaps typical was the Oilers' outlay for the four tackles. No definite prices were announced, but Hines supposedly received a $300,000 contract and Rice got one for $250,000—leaving something like $500,000 for McCormick and Williams.

NATIONAL LEAGUE Atlanta—Charles Casey, Florida end; Mike Bender, Arkansas guard; Baltimore—Butch Allison, Missouri tackle; Barry Brown, Florida end; Tony Blisk, Georgia Tech defensive back; Cleveland—Gary Lane, Missouri quarterback; Green Bay—Donny Anderson, Texas Tech halfback; Tony Jeter, Nebraska tackle; Minnesota—Jim Lindsey, Arkansas halfback; New York—Francis Peay, Missouri tackle; Freeman White, Nebraska end; Pittsburgh—Larry Gagner, Florida tackle.

St. Louis—Harold Lucas, Michigan state defensive tackle; Terry Redack, Georgia Tech halfback; Johnny Roland, Missouri halfback; Washington—Hal Seymour, Florida punter; Walt Barnes, Nebraska tackle; John Stromeyer, Nebraska tackle.

AMERICAN LEAGUE Buffalo—Bobby Burnett, Arkansas halfback; Bobby Crockett, Arkansas end; Houston—George Rice, LAU tackle; Glen Ray Hines, Arkansas tackle; Dave McCormick, LAU tackle; Jim Williams, Arkansas tackle; Allan Trammell, Florida defensive back; John Carroll, Texas Tech linebacker; Kansas City—Mike Garrett, Southern California halfback; Miami—Jack Harper, Florida halfback.

Snow Holds Governor Back From Game GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles failed to settle for the televised version of the National Football League championship game between the Green Bay Packers and the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

He flew to Green Bay from Madison Sunday but his plane couldn't land because of the heavy snowstorm and was forced to return to Madison.

READY WESTERNER—Don Burrell, a 6-3 senior who has been tabbed The Sixth Man thus far in the Lubbock High attack, is due to see a good deal of action tonight when the Westerners tangle with Plainview's Bulldogs—in fact, coach Max O'Banion is entertaining thoughts of opening with the versatile youngster. Burrell was a member of the LHS football team this fall and was named the Most Outstanding Line-man in 3-AAAA. (Staff Photo)

PEOPLE PRODUCED FASTER

World's Total Food Supply Stretched Thinner In 1965

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN — The Agriculture Department reported this Sunday in a review of the agriculture situation throughout the world. These were the vital statistics: —World agriculture production last year was a record, and was 1 1/2 per cent greater than in 1964. The world's population increased by roughly 2 per cent, which cut the per capita supply.

The department's Economic Research Service said actual food production—excluding such products as fibers and tobacco—increased only 1 per cent in 1965, significantly less than the rise in world population.

In the Western Hemisphere and western Europe, the ERS said, food production rose at a faster rate than population growth. However, the reverse was true in most of the rest of the world.

U.S. Crops Excellent
The United States and Canada had excellent crops last year—a record volume sparked by high yields.

But total production fell in eastern Europe and the Soviet Union. In Asia, including mainland China, total farm output was larger than in 1964, but the output per person declined. There was a marked deterioration of the food situation in India.

However, potato production was down 7 per cent; sugar 3 per cent; tobacco, 4 per cent; apples and pears, 9 per cent, and cocoa beans, 6 per cent.

Poor Quality Crops
The crop situation in northern Europe—from Ireland to the western part of Russia—was affected by unusually cool and wet weather. Although there was record or near-record output of cereal crops, the quality was poorer than usual. Output of most other important agricultural crops was also higher.

But in the Soviet Union, production of most crops was below the 1964 level. The Economic Research Service said wheat production probably was only little better than the very poor 1963 crop—due mainly to unfavorable weather conditions throughout the growing season in the eastern spring grain region.

In mainland China, 1965 production probably was little different from that in 1964, causing imports of cereal grains from the West to continue at a high level.

The report said that output in Latin America, led by Brazil, set a new high despite a leveling in Mexico and Peru and declines in Argentina, Uruguay and Chile.

U.S. Donates Statue Of Lincoln To Mexico
MEXICO CITY (AP) — A marble statue of Abraham Lincoln similar to the one in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington will be placed in Jules Verne Park.

The statue, which cost an estimated $100,000, was donated by the U.S. government.

IN NEW HEARINGS

Probers May Make Public Identities Of KKK Elite

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional investigators believe they know the identities of "a great many" rank-and-file members of the Ku Klux Klan and may make them public when new hearings get under way.

To do so according to one member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, would be a grievous blow to the secret organization.

The committee, which has been investigating the "Invisible Empire" for several months, resumes public hearings on Tuesday.

During three weeks of hearings this past fall, it got nothing but fifth Amendment replies from the dozens of Klansmen who testified. Every one of them invoked his constitutional protection against self-incrimination.

Klan officials also pleaded the fifth when the committee demanded records of the white supremacist organization. They refused to turn over any of the group's files, including membership lists.

Rep Charles L. Wetner (D-Ga.) says the committee has the legal weapons to eventually get those lists.

"But we already have a good idea of the identities of a great many rank-and-file members," he added.

Wetner is a member of the committee and was instrumental in persuading it to investigate the Klan. In a speech he delivered to the House last Feb. 1, he described the resurgence of the Klan in the south as "this madness in our midst." He called upon the committee to investigate the movement.

Wetner said the chief weapon of the Klan were secrecy, rumor and fear. The best remedy, he continued, was "plain fact and simple truth amply imparted to the public."

'SECOND BEST'

Students Reach Summit Atop Mt. Holy Cross

VAIL, Colo. (UPI) — Four college students apparently failed at their original goal of climbing 14,008-foot Mt. Holy Cross on New Year's Day, settled for second best and reached the summit Sunday.

Bob Parker, public relations man for Ski Associates, said the four Holy Cross College students and their mountaineering guide, Jerry Sinkovec of Vail, apparently rested at the 10,000-foot level of the mountain Saturday and made the trek to the summit early Sunday.

Parker said he flew over the mountain in a helicopter and could see tracks to within a quarter-mile of the peak, but he said the wind wiped out the climbers' tracks to the top.

In Good Shape
Parker said all four—Pat McDermott of Neb., Peter Will of Dayton, Ohio, Peter Kenny of Boston and Edward Brinan of Weymouth, Mass.—waded from their base camp south of Cross Creek that they were in good shape.

The four, with financial support of their fellow students and some assistance from a group of Colorado businessmen, Vail Ski Associates, decided to climb their colleges' namesake several months ago.

All are 21-year-old seniors, except Kenney who is an 18-year-old freshman at Holy Cross.

HAS PULSE, WILL BREATHE

Doctors To Get Lifelike Mannikin To Operate On

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Doctors at Los Angeles County General Hospital are getting an inhuman being to practice on. You could call it a "model patient." It isn't alive but it will.

Breathe, have a pulse and heartbeat, open and close its eyes and dilate its pupils, open its mouth and extend its tongue, wrinkle its eyebrows, tense and relax vocal cords, twitch shoulder muscles, cough, regurgitate, and change color from pink to blue to ashen.

It will be sensitive to varying doses of 10 different drugs.

The patient is a mannikin controlled by a computer. It will be created under a $280,000 Department of Health, Education and Welfare grant to the University of Southern California. The school will work with Aerojet-General Corp. on technical details.

Its purpose: to help train hospital residents in anesthesiology.

Take the problem of inserting an air tube into a patient's throat to ventilate a lung. The anesthesiologist administers a muscle relaxant which opens a passageway at the patient's vocal cords, and also halts breathing. The doctor has only 40 seconds to place the tube.

Degree Of Risk
There's a degree of risk with live patients. But with the model patient a bobble harms no one.

The model also will be used for drills in proper administration of drugs, proper placing of oxygen face masks, testing of the doctor's reaction to an operative heart attack and in other anesthesiological techniques.

It comes equipped with a "freeze" button on the computer console, so an instructor can instantly stop proceedings and comment on a resident's work.

The device is expected to take 22 months to build. Then the USC School of Medicine and General Hospital doctors will evaluate it in a nine-month program involving seven residents.

The mannikin, to be built mostly of plastics, is billed as the most complicated medical simulator ever attempted.
