Dirksen In Warning Against 'U.S. War'

WASHINGTON — Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen Tuesday cautioned those who advocate a tougher Vietnam policy to weigh every factor before urging an escalation that could turn the conflict into an American war.

Dirksen said he approved Richard M. Nixon's statement that the goal in Viet Nam should be the "guaranteed freedom and independence of Viet Nam," and added: "This is not our war. This is a Vietnamese war."

Mayor In New Push For Pact Pressure From Public Mounts

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK — Mounting public pressure and the goading of an angry mayor set a mediation panel scrambling Tuesday for a new approach to settlement of New York's 11-day, billion-dollar transit tieup.

Douglas MacMahon, acting head of the striking AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, stood on his initial rejection of Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay's peace formula, calling for either mediation pressure, fact finding, or advisory or binding arbitration.

Trouble Shooter On and The contents of a formal, written union reply to Lindsay's proposals were not known. The reply went to the mediation panel. The Transit Authority, in its reply, said it was not unresponsive to any mediation alternatives.

Ass. Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds was in the city in connection with another labor dispute. It was not known whether, as the federal government's ace labor trouble shooter, he would be available in the subway and bus strike deadlock.

Not Far Apart? He told a news conference: "If the figures that have been given me prove correct, they are not so far apart and they ought to be able to get a settlement in a day or so."

Three leaders of the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths sent a telegram to union and Transit Authority negotiators which said: "Millions of New Yorkers find transit strike no longer tolerable. We strongly urge the immediate acceptance by both parties of Mayor Lindsay's recommendations and speedy restoration of transit service. We offer our good offices in any way in which we can be helpful."

Demand For Ambulances Police sources reported a growing demand for ambulances and said the health of eight million New Yorkers definitely was being affected by the daily strain of traveling without buses or subways.

Speculation increased over the possible marshaling of the National Guard, although there was no indication that soldiers could operate the city's complicated 800-mile transit system, idle since the Jan. 1 walkout of 34,400 bus and subway employees.

Johnson Says Budget To Provide For 'Great Society', Viet War

(Avalancho-Journal News Service) WASHINGTON — President Johnson, on the eve of a personal report to Congress and the nation, said Tuesday, "I am determined to press ahead in building the 'Great Society' in addition to living up to the nation's military commitments in Viet Nam."

In a letter to AFL-CIO President George Meany, Johnson said his 1967 budget will provide both for the military effort in Viet Nam and for maintaining the nation's forward movement in economic and social programs.

Meany Concerned About Reports Meany, in a letter to the White House, had expressed concern about reports that some domestic programs, such as Johnson's war on poverty, might be cut back because of the war in Viet Nam.

Part Of Letter Read Meany told a news conference Johnson's letter was in response to his own. He read excerpts from the President's letter and paraphrased other portions of it but would not permit newsmen to see the letter.

Johnson will deliver his State Of The Union address to Congress at 8 p.m. CST today in the House Chamber. The message also will be broadcast to the nation.

Twenty-four hours ahead of time, there was nothing in the White House atmosphere to indicate that any blockbuster announcement might be dropped — nothing to indicate that Johnson might be able to announce anything so significant as a hoped for start toward the peace table in Viet Nam.

Meany said Johnson's letter told him that work on the 1967 budget was not completed so he could not give any specifics.

But, Meany said, Johnson continued that through efficient management, reductions in some areas and the elimination of obsolete government functions would result in substantial savings for use in other areas.

Meany's news conference followed a meeting of the AFL-CIO's executive Council which also expressed concern at possible cutbacks.

The council said in a statement that the nation's prime concern is the war in Viet Nam but that economic progress must not be suspended because of the war costs.

"Such a suspension could be the costliest penalty of all," the council said. "For the strength of American society, on which is based the spirit of the American people, is the nation's most powerful weapon on every front."

Must Be Borne By All The council added that the burden of the war in Viet Nam must be borne by the entire nation, and not at the expense of programs to end poverty and improve education.

Mahon Sees 'Restraint'

Spending Mood Is Termed 'Cautious'

(By NED CURRAN) WASHINGTON — The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee sees the second session of the 89th Congress as the reverse swing of the pendulum.

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock, who must be considered an oracle at least on Congressional spending, predicts that the session swing will be toward "restraint" in opposition to its profligate habits of last year.

"The key word is probably 'restraint,'" says Mahon. "I think this session will display that in everything it does, particularly in spending. The whole climate will just be more conservative."

Says Inflation Feared The new mood, Mahon continues, will reflect the feeling of the country, a feeling which he says demands government prudence.

People are concerned about inflation most of all, according to the chairman, because it hits them all directly in the pocketbook. And that makes them secondarily worried about one inflation cause — heavy government spending, which in turn is brought on by the Viet Nam war.

This prompts them to demand financial restraint from Congress to achieve the two-fold effect of curbing inflation and sidetracking social welfare programs, Mahon reasons. A brake on welfare spending, he points out, would free the U. S. to pursue the war to a successful conclusion and thus ultimately help end the inflationary cycle.

Won't Axe Budget In light of all this, Mahon sees a pronounced go-slow congressional attitude across the board on domestic spending. He sees no new starts and no escalation of programs modestly launched last year. Mahon is quick to emphasize that the restraint won't be manifest with a meat ax on the presidential

FROM COLLEAGUES, STUDENTS Professor's Trip To Hanoi Evokes Strong Opinions

By DON MEIKLE — NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Everyone connected with Yale University seems to have a strong opinion about Prof. Staughton Lynd and his unauthorized trip to Hanoi.

The opinions — of administrators, faculty members, students and alumni — are as varied as the lively Yale community, a survey shows.

They range from denunciation and calls for federal prosecution to praise.

Risked Prison Term
 Lynd, 36, and two traveling companions risked possible penalties of five years in prison and $5,000 fines if convicted of violating the State Department ban on travel to North Viet Nam.

The government has not announced what, if any, action it will take against the three.

The trio arrived by plane in New York City Sunday night after talking with officials in North Viet Nam. Accompanying Lynd were Thomas Hayden, 26, of Newark, N.J., a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, and Herbert Aptheker, 50, of New York City, a theoretician for the Communist party.

The three said their trip was a fact-finding mission to learn whether the North Vietnamese wanted to negotiate for peace.

Slips Back To Routine
 As debate about Lynd waxed hot on the Yale campus Monday, the assistant professor of history slipped back quietly into university routine when he met a seminar in American history.

The talk about Lynd's trip went like this:

"On principle I was definitely against it," said Terrence J. Mullin, a senior from Chicago. "I was against students going to Havana and disregarding federal law."

Mullin, who took Lynd's seminar last year, said that "if pushed into a corner, I would say he would have to be prosecuted."

SEN. ROGERS Hale County Honors Slated

PLAINVIEW (Special) — A large gathering of South Plains Panhandle and North Texas residents is expected here the night of Jan. 21 for a banquet honoring State Sen. Andy Rogers, of Childress, who has served in Austin 17 years.

The banquet will be held in the Hale County Agricultural Building here. Tickets are selling for $5 each.

Jess West, Plainview, is banquet chairman. Dist. Judge James A. Joy, Plainview, is chairman of the reception committee.

Senator Rogers represents the 30th District, which has been increased from 15 to 21 counties. He has not announced for re-election but is expected to do so soon, friends said.

Prior to service in the Texas Senate, Rogers was a state representative.

Deplores Lynd's Action
 "I join the majority of Yale students in deploring the irresponsible and clearly illegal actions of Staughton Lynd," said Philip McCombs, a senior from Rockford, Ill., and chairman of the campus chapter of the Young Americans for Freedom.

"I can only hope for a strong student-faculty reaction against this prime example of unjustified civil disobedience," said J. Harvie Wilkins, a senior from Richmond, Va., and president of the Yale Political Union.

As for Yale President Kingman Brewster Jr., he was referring callers to a speech he gave in Los Angeles in November.

Lynd had taken part in a Viet Nam protest demonstration at Berkeley last May. Brewster chose the occasion of a meeting of the Yale Club of Southern California to spell out his position.

Bank Deposits Up In Slaton

SLATON (Special) — Record deposits totaling $10,819,623 were revealed in year-end statements from Slaton's two financial institutions.

Citizens State Bank showed deposits of $6,025,492 while Slaton Savings and Loan announced deposits of $4,794,131. The combined total of the two last year was $10,274,341.

The bank reported deposits up $583,503 over the close of business in Dec. 1964. Loans at the close of business Dec. 31, 1965 were listed at $4,478,196. Total assets were tabbed at $6,633,626.

Reflecting healthy growth, the bank showed a comparison of figures with its first statement released in October, 1953. Deposits have risen from $253,011 to more than $6 million.

Loans have increased from $48,529 to almost $4.5 million, and capital and undivided profits are now $598,133 compared to $28,240 the first year. Original investment of shareholders has increased $573,000.

Penalty "Unthinkable"
 He concluded that "as long as I am convinced that a man is conscientious; as long as I am convinced that he is not in default with respect to his teaching and scholarly obligations for which he is employed; then the long-run interest of this university makes it unthinkable that we should penalize a faculty member for his political position."

Shel Stromquist, of Cos Cob, Conn., president of the Yale Civil Rights Council, said, "It's important for people of some stature to challenge the travel ban."

Faculty members varied in their reaction to Lynd's trip.

Law Prof. Thomas I. Emerson said, "In general it's a good thing. It has always seemed to me that the statements from both sides with respect to negotiations have been ambiguous."

Clovis Band Concert Set Saturday Night

CLOVIS (Special) — The combined bands of Marshall and Gattis Junior Highs and Clovis High School will present a concert here at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The concert will be presented in Marshall Auditorium and will feature the music of John Philip Sousa.

The concert is sponsored by the Clovis Shrine and Bugle Corps.

Appearing as soloist will be Jamie Ward, playing a cornet. A piccolo trio composed of Carolyn Thompson, Sherry Deyo and Linda Noreen will present special numbers.

Clarification Valuable
 "It should be a valuable thing to make clear to the public what the positions are and what are the possibilities for fruitful negotiations," Emerson said.

Lynd's immediate superior, John H. Blum, history department chairman, said Lynd's trip was "his own business — not a departmental matter."

"If the government did penalize him," commented Charles A. Moser, assistant professor of Slavic languages and literature, "I would consider it justified."

SCHOOL COUNT BEGUN

SLATON (Special) — A count of all school-age children in the Slaton Independent School District is underway, according to Dr. P. L. Vardy, superintendent. More than 1,000 school children have been counted so far, Dr. Vardy said. The census must be completed by Feb. 1.

Light On Motives
 James Millikan, an instructor in philosophy and supporter of the New Haven-Yale Committee to end the War in Viet Nam said, "A piece of truth will be injected into a mess of tangled motives and projects."

The effects of Lynd's trip, Millikan said, would be "to force us to listen closer to just what it is that Ho Chi Minh is demanding."

Judging from published letters to the editor of the Yale Alumni magazine, most think that Lynd should be removed from the faculty. University sources said that the letter writers are not a representative sample of the alumni.

IN SECURITY MOVE

Calls To Presidential Assistants Are Logged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today new moves to keep a record of every telephone call placed to President Johnson's special assistants were dictated by security interests as well as economy.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers acknowledged that White House switchboard operators now record the names of all persons calling Johnson aides. He said one reason was a recommendation by former Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, who headed a panel that reviewed presidential security measures after the assassination of John F. Kennedy, that better records be kept on calls to the White House.

Phone System Revamped

In addition, Moyers said the White House telephone system is being revamped with the aim of saving money and that a log of traffic was needed for this.

Moyers said some offices — and he mentioned his own — need more telephones while some other Johnson assistants have more phones than they need.

He also acknowledged that detailed logs were kept on the use of official White House cars — who rides in them and when and where. He said such a log always has been kept and that in the past there was some abuse of government transportation. For example, he said some members of the White House staff used them to take their wives to parties or to go shopping.

Auto Use Studied

Close current study of the use of the fleet of White House sedans is underway, Moyers reported, by a desire to save money by eliminating needless traffic.

Moyers was asked about telephone and auto logs after syndicated columnist Rowland Evans and Robert Novak wrote about them.

Evans and Novak said McGee Bundy, Johnson's assistant for national security affairs, complained to the President in a memo that he had a right to receive phone calls in privacy from anyone he wanted.

No Comment

Moyers said he could not say whether Bundy had written such a memo. Asked to comment on an assertion by Evans and Novak that the checks on telephone calls had caused apprehension among some members of the White House staff, Moyers said, "Why don't you ask Mr. Evans and Mr. Novak about their sources?"

The columnist had named presidential assistant W. Marvin Watson Jr. as the overseer of the new security-economy checks and labeled him the "White House gumshoe."

"Moyers said he thought that was a very clever but inaccurate and unwarranted description."

ON SPEARS

Eligibility Hearing Set

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Supreme Court Tuesday agreed to hear arguments Jan. 19 on the eligibility of State Sen. Franklin Spears to run for attorney general.

The court gave Spears permission to file a suit seeking to force state Democratic Chairman Will D. Davis to put Spears' name on the May 7 primary ballot.

Sen. Galloway Calhoun Jr. of Tyler said he would file a similar request late this week or early next week.

Sources predicted the court will decide the cases before Feb. 7, the deadline for filing as a candidate in the primary.

Davis Monday refused Spears' application for a place on the ballot. He said he would also reject Calhoun's.

Wants Interpretation

Davis said he wants the Supreme Court to interpret a section of the state constitution designed to keep legislators from raising the pay of an office, then running for it.

Spears and Calhoun served in the 59th legislature which raised the attorney general's salary by $2,500 a year.

Each senator contends the constitutional prohibition does not apply to him.

The third announced candidate for attorney general, Secretary of State Crawford Martin, is not subject to the eligibility question and is not contesting the candidacies of Spears and Calhoun.

FIRST TO FILE

Grandmother In Governor Race

AUSTIN (AP) — Miss Johnnie Mac Hackworth, a Bible-carrying grandmother from Brenham, became today the first candidate to file for the 1966 governor's race.

Pat O'Keefe, executive director of the State Democratic Committee, accepted a certified check for $1,000 from Miss Hackworth as her filing fee. He said her application was in order.

Miss Hackworth, 61, polled 10,955 votes out of 1,830,351 cast in the Democratic primary in the 1964 governor's race.

"This time I'm going to win," she asserted.

She said she had been married three times, that her last husband died in 1957 and that she uses her maiden name.

OAS Sets February Judicial Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Organization of American States has summoned a judicial conference in Panama beginning Feb. 25 to formulate modifications of the OAS charter in order to make it more effective in coping with political matters.

The OAS council has also called a conference of the hemisphere's finance ministers in Buenos Aires, Argentina, for March 25 to review the activities made under the Alliance for Progress and set up new guidelines for the next two years.

City Man Is Named To Post

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith named a five-member citizens advisory group Tuesday to assist the Texas Legislative Council's study committee on services for the deaf.

The study was authorized by the 59th Legislature last year. Findings are to be reported to the 60th Legislature, which convenes in January 1967.

Named to the citizens panel are: Dr. W. P. Anthony, Fort Worth ear specialist; George D. Holland, Lubbock; L. T. Johnston, Austin, and Louis B. Orrill Sr. and Don G. Pettigill, both of Dallas.

LBJ-Controlled Firm Eyes New TV Interest

LITTLE ROCK (UPI) — A lawyer for Capital Cable, a community television antenna system in Austin, said today a broadcasting firm controlled by the family of President Johnson may buy up to 50 per cent of the company.

C. Hamilton Moses, the attorney, said the option expires Jan. 26.

"Apparently they're going more," Moses said. "They've said they are but they haven't done it."

Moses said the company, which owns a television station, had said "three or four months ago" that it would exercise its option. He said he would be notified if the firm decides to do that.

ONE PERSON KILLED

Army-Police Patrol Halts Dominican Riot

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A mixed army-police patrol fired into a group of rock-throwing demonstrators in Santo Domingo Tuesday, killing one person and seriously injuring another.

The violence occurred along with appearance of the first break in the explosive Dominican crisis—the revelation that six top rebel officers had complied with a presidential order to leave the country for diplomatic jobs abroad.

Departure of seven officers was announced originally, but one experienced difficulty in getting his personal affairs straightened out.

Cars Stopped

The shooting took place near a high school in the northern suburbs where a crowd was stoning passing cars and throwing up barricades in an attempt to block traffic. National Police Chief Herman Despradel said the patrol truck was showered with rocks. One soldier fired, he said, killing one of the rioters. Another person was struck in the leg.

The incident took place during a Communist-led strike protecting a government order transferring to assignments abroad army officers who sided with the rebels in the April revolution. Organizers of the strike, which has partially disrupted the city for two days, announced Tuesday night that the strike would end today.

Regular army men also are among the 30 military officers ordered transferred to foreign missions last Thursday by President Hector Garcia-Godoy, but leftist protesters are aimed only at the order affecting the rebels.

Leaders Not Included The group does not include the leading figures of the rebel movement, Col. Francisco Caamano Dery and Col. Manuel Ramon Montes Arache. They were expected to leave later after completing arrangements to integrate some 900 rebel combatants into the regular army force.

The only reaction to the departure announcement was a reiteration by Commodore Francisco J. Rivera Caminero that the Army will consider its part of the president's order as soon as the top rebel leaders are out of the country.

Rivera, outgoing armed forces minister, and the air force and army chiefs of staff also have been assigned to attack positions abroad.

Coup Seemed Imminent The army had balked at the presidential order when it was first announced and it appeared for a while a coup was in the making. But Rivera said no rebellion was involved, only a strong expression of protest by military units.

An official source said the departing rebel officers and their destinations were: Col. Emilio Ludovino Fernandez, Rome; Col. Armando Arturo Sosa Leiva, Guatemala; Col. Domingo Esteban Gallart Vallejo, El Salvador; Col. Pedro Augusto Alvarez, Holguin, France; Col. Jose Mauricio Fernandez, Mexico; and Lt. Jose Anibal Nobeja Games, Uruguay.

PEARL BIKINI Here's One For The Woman Who Has Everything. By KELLY SMITH NEW YORK (AP) The newest swim wear for the chic lady with everything is a custom made $500 Bikini of 23,000 pearls—and it's water tested as safe. "A practical item," said Joseph H. Meyer, president of Richelieu's, which introduced the bikini to the New York couture group Tuesday. "It's great for patio living. "You can't play baseball in it," he says. "But it's safe in water. It won't fall apart of anything." Classic Design The bikini is what Meyer calls "a classic design with rows of little ruffles. Simulated pearls are sewn on an elastic backing. The bikini bottom is stretchy and supposed to fit anyone. The halter is fitted individually. The first suit took two seamstresses three weeks to put together. Richelieu also has introduced a pearl wig designed by hair stylist Mark Traynor. It's styled exactly as a wig made of hair, but this one is all pearl. "The wig is ideal for the traveling woman or one who wants to be chic for a gala occasion," says Meyer. Wigs For $600 Wigs are made to order of white, gray or black with more than 5,000 pearls. Each costs $600. "Even the best set wig gets mussed," says Lillian Firestone of Richelieu. "The pearls can't mess, they don't have to be cleaned and you can change the hairdo as often as you like." The pearls are set on wire. By rearranging the wires, the hairdo changes from a flip to a chignon. "You carry it around in your bag just like you do other wigs," she says. "It's not heavy to wear and makes the most common outfit sensational."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A seventh-grade dropout and disillusioned Ku Klux Klansman told the House Committee on Un-American Activities Tuesday a tale of church-burning plots and belt-whipping morality.

Police are probing an arson incident and burglary attempt at a Lubbock grocery store early Tuesday night, but no suspects had been questioned.

Investigations into an arson incident and burglary attempt at a Lubbock grocery store early Tuesday night, but no suspects had been questioned.

Police were notified of the burglary attempt when a burglary alarm was set off at Stewart's Grocery, 1706 E. 29 St., about 3:45 a.m.

A hole about 6 inches by 8 inches was burning in a back door when patrolmen arrived at the scene. Two other places in the door apparently had been ignited, but failed to keep burning.

Two break-ins were discovered earlier by patrolmen. Loss at Ray Farwood's Gulf station, 3718 Ave. A, included about $50 cash, a radio and money from a vending machine.

Two rolls of copper wire and tools valued at $179 were reported missing from Plains Electric-Plating & Bumper Supply, 714 Ave. E, and Joe Hale, 303 52nd St., reported that some one rode motor scooters of his two sons at O. L. Slaton Junior High School Monday, breaking a motor mount on one and putting sand in the gasoline tank of the other.

Items Missing J. T. Gunn of Carlisle reported to sheriff's deputies Tuesday that a radiator, two mirrors and two log chains were stolen from a truck at his home.

Matthew Price, 809 Ave. B, reported the theft of two pistols, a trench coat and a pair of shoes from his home.

Police also arrested two suspects Tuesday in a recent burglary here. The men, stopped for a traffic violation, had an assortment of men's and women's clothes, two empty purses, baby clothes, pictures, TV trays and a suitcase in the car, officers said.

Charged were Claudell Hughes, 17, and James Wesley Nery, 18. The arrests were announced by Robert J. Pettengill, 19, of San Bernardino, Calif., and Frank Marcello, 18, of Elizabeth, N.J. Both recovered from their wounds, but Pettengill lost an eye as a result of the shooting.

Police with tracker dogs searched a desolate area north of this gold mining town Tuesday for the killers of two white girls found shot through the head in a disused mine building.

Police identified the girls as cousins, Petronella Nel, 12, and Isabella Fourie, 13. A police officer said both were nude when found.

Police Chief Kidnaped CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Interior Ministry reported Tuesday that Communist guerrillas have kidnaped the police chief of the village of La Yuca in western Venezuela.

A WORD WITH THE CHAIRMAN — Chairman Edwin Willis (D-La.), left, talks Tuesday with John H. Gipson of Slidell, La., during recess in the House Un-American Activities Committee hearing in Washington on the activities of Ku Klux Klan. He said he quit the Klan last week and testified that two Negro churches which burned in Slidell had been scheduled for the torch by the Klan. (AP Wirephoto)

Johnson Determined To Push For 'Great Society'

forth a labor legislative program.

Among other things, the council urged an early Senate vote on a bill to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This section of the law permits states to outlaw union shop contracts under which all employees must join the union.

The bill was blocked by a filibuster late in the last session of congress.

Meany said he has talked with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and believes the repeal bill will be brought up in the Senate early next week.

Wage Minimum Cited
The council's statement said other pressing items Congress should enact are an increase in the federal minimum wage of $1.25 an hour, improvement of the federal-state unemployment compensation system, legislation to protect consumers from "protefters," and a labor-backed bill that would permit picketing at large construction sites involving many employers.

The construction picketing is now banned by the Taft-Hartley Act as a secondary boycott.

The council said the federal government should also take action to protect civil rights workers in the South, but Meany said the federation had no specific recommendations along these lines.

Asked whether he was as concerned as some administration spokesmen about the dangers of inflation, Meany said he saw no such major threat.

Bit Of Inflation

"You are bound to get a little bit of inflation in an expanding economy," he said.

Uppermost among the topics with which Johnson must discuss tonight in the address to Congress is the lingering war in Viet Nam, whose end he seeks in a peace offensive launched toward the close of the old year.

The state of the war in Viet Nam inevitably touches the State of the Union at home—the size of the budget, the size and number of home front projects of the "Great Society," and even prospects for continued prosperity.

The President again may choose to work into his State of the Union message a total figure on the budget for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers has not swerved from an estimate that it will be between $110 billion and $115 billion and a likelihood that it will be nearer the higher total.

National defense, as it has for many years, is expected to require more than half the federal spending in the neighborhood of $60 billion.

Spending Programs
To take care of rising investments in the effort to keep South Viet Nam free, Johnson apparently has determined to hold down numerous long-time spending programs on the domestic scene and launch few new ones. But he still has more than a score of holdover legislative items from the last congressional session, and he says he still intends to push them through.

Tonight's address will be Johnson's first major public pronouncement to the people and Congress since his peace campaign got under way with the secret dispatch of a team of diplomatic and high-level spokesmen to capitals around the world.

While the White House has acknowledged now that direct contacts have been made with Hanoi, there has been no word of any promising responsiveness from the North Vietnamese government.

Large Sum Spent On Research In 1965

HOUSTON (UPI)—The petroleum industry's suppliers, servicers and equipment manufacturers spent $65 million on research and development in 1965, an official of Bethlehem Steel Corp. said Tuesday.

J. V. Spaulding, Tulsa, in remarks prepared for the meeting of the Purchasing Agents Association of Houston, said the entire petroleum industry reaps profits from research done by the oil-related firms.

Spaulding listed inventory control improvements through computerized operations as one of the key improvements due to research.

Air Pollution Curbs To Cost Car Owners

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Efforts to curb air pollution by automobiles may cost American car owners more than half a billion dollars according to the head of Ford Motor Co.

Henry Ford II says it would cost $500 million to equip each of the cars produced by his firm next year with pollution control devices, and this expense would be passed to the car buyers.

San Angelo Legislator To Head Defense Cuts Probe

By ED JOHNSON
Avalanche-Journal Washington Bureau

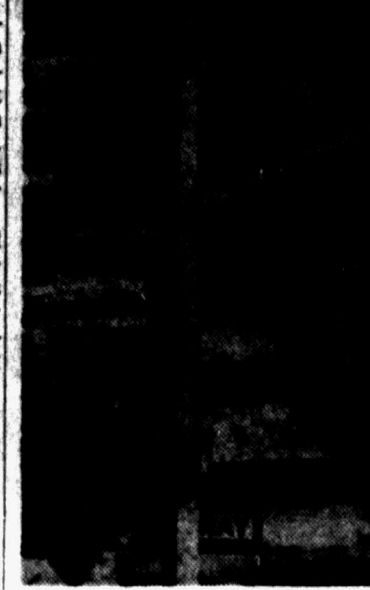

WASHINGTON Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo was named Tuesday to head an investigation into the Defense Department's recent downgrading of 149 military bases at home and abroad.

Fisher, a high-ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services Committee, took over a segment of a three-pronged probe ordered by his chairman, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-S.C.).

Rivers has clashed repeatedly with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara over decisions which allegedly cut fat from the military establishment or phased out outdated weapons systems.

Will Eye Delay
Rivers, after a closed committee session, announced that subpanels also will look into the scrapping of B-52 and B-58 bombers in favor of missiles, and the delay of starts on previously authorized military construction projects because of rising costs of the Viet Nam war.

Smarting after Pentagon cutbacks, Rivers commented, "I think there are times when the Department of Defense forgets the Congress exists for reasons

Firms To Assist Medicare Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) Three firms have been designated to help administer the hospital insurance part of the medicare program. They are the Blue Cross Association of Chicago, Aetna Life and Casualty Co., and Travelers Insurance Co., both of Hartford, Conn.

The firms, acting as agents for the government on a non-profit basis, will receive and pay bills under the medicare program.

The announcement by John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, did not say which hospital would be represented by each of the intermediary firms. He said hospitals not desiring to be represented by one of the three firms may make other nominations or deal directly with the Social Security Administration.

Occupants Escape As Navy Plane Crashes

KINGSVILLE (AP) A Navy jet crashed 3.5 miles north of here on a paved field on the King Ranch Tuesday. Both occupants escaped.

Suffering minor injuries were a flight instructor, Capt. E. D. Long of the Marines, whose home is in Kingsville, and a student pilot from the Navy, Lt. (J.G.) K. R. Adams of Wayne Mich.

The jet, which suffered a power loss, burst into flames upon impact.

are an awful lot better. Motorists seem to be getting adjusted to things.

A piercing winter wind added to the discomfort of the millions who struggled through another work day. Temperatures were in the 20s.

In a stinging address Monday night from City Hall, Lindsay declared:

"The strike could be settled today if the city were willing to pay any price. The city is not, but it is willing to pay a fair price — fair to the employees, fair to the employer and fair to the public.

"The government of this city will not capitulate before the lawless demands of a single power group. It will not allow the power brokers in our city or any special interest to dictate to this city the terms under which it will exist in New York."

Panel Directed
Lindsay then directed the mediation panel to pursue one or more of three alternatives.

To make specific recommendations on all terms of a strike settlement.

To agree to a fact-finding inquiry, returning to work immediately.

To arrange an agreement between the union and the Transit Authority to accept new procedures to halt the strike immediately, considering advisory or final and binding arbitration.

In his initial rejection of Lindsay's proposals, union leader MacMahon declared:

"What power broker is he talking about? He should stop trying to cheat the people of New York with innuendo and talk of power blocs and other nonsense which has nothing to do with the case.

"Our differences are not too great and they can be settled by collective bargaining. We can close the gap and we are willing to do that. But we will not accept Mayor Lindsay's formula."

The three members of the Transit Authority made a mid-day visit to City Hall to confer with Lindsay. Newsman asked Transit Authority Chairman Joseph E. O'Grady if he saw any prospects of a strike settlement before the end of the week.

"I would hope there would be a settlement before then, but this is only a hope," he replied.

Thick Fog Hits Much Of State

(By The Associated Press International) A thick blanket of fog covered the eastern third of the state Tuesday, bringing a halt to almost all air travel in the area and slowing automobile traffic down to a crawl.

Visibility was cut to less than a mile from the Red River to the Gulf of Mexico, and as far west as San Antonio and Midland.

Airports in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and the Rio Grande Valley were closed, and highway traffic was reduced to slow speeds in the affected areas.

The fog burned off very slowly through East Texas, and as late as noon, Tyler, Waco, Austin and San Antonio were still reporting foggy conditions.

Once the low-hanging soup cleared away, mostly sunny skies were in evidence across the state. Only sections of the Gulf Coast had enough clouds to notice.

John C. White To Seek Re-Election

AUSTIN (AP)—State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said this week he will seek re-election. He called for immediate attention to a statewide "truth in packaging" to protect Texas consumers.

"This is an early announcement does not signal the beginning of a period of political activity, but rather a year of work towards continued progress in Texas agricultural matters," White said.

U.S. Troops Find Sign Of Infiltration

SAIGON (UPI) — American troops sweeping the Cambodian border area have discovered evidence that a North Vietnamese anti-aircraft battalion with an arsenal of 18 heavy guns has infiltrated into South Viet Nam along the Ho Chi Minh trail, it was disclosed Tuesday.

A military spokesman said information of the battalion, known as the H-13 anti-aircraft unit, was obtained from three North Vietnamese regular soldiers captured by U.S. Air Cavalrymen in action along the frontier.

It was the first such northern anti-aircraft unit positively identified as having moved into South Viet Nam. The battalion's 18 guns can knock fighter planes and jet bombers out of the sky and obliterate helicopters as they settle onto landing zones with loads of troops.

Use Machine Guns
The prisoners said their unit had 12.7 mm machine guns — the Communist Chinese version of the American .50 caliber-weapons. Communist forces previously had shot down several American planes with captured American .50 caliber machine guns during the battle before the U.S. Special Forces camp at Plei Me late last year.

The three Vietnamese prisoners were captured by 1st Air Cavalrymen who were dropped by helicopter in a border area early Tuesday. Three others were killed in a brief clash.

In another operation to the south, American and Australian troops were disclosed Tuesday to have killed 62 Viet Cong with the help of artillery and air strikes in an area some 25 miles from Saigon.

It was the most Communists killed in the area since some 8,000 American troops, accompanied by Australians, began a sweep through a heavily wooded zone on the fringes of the Viet Cong's "Iron Triangle" stronghold.

Capture 28 Guerrillas
Troops in the operation as of Tuesday also had captured 28 Viet Cong and detained 495 suspects, a military spokesman said.

In Saigon Tuesday, U.S. Marine Corps Commandant Gen. William M. Greene Jr. said the remainder of his 22,000-man force was capable of joining the 40,000 Marines now in Viet Nam if the Communist side decided to keep on fighting rather than negotiate.

Green spoke with reporters after a four-day inspection tour in Viet Nam. He noted President Johnson's current peace offensive and added:

"However, the President has also made it clear that he intends to abide by his pledge to the Vietnamese people, and that we're here to stay to help them."

The lull in the American air strikes against North Viet Nam went into its 19th day. The last air raid on the Communist north was made just before Christmas Eve.

Grenade Hurts Three Soldiers In Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — A grenade planted by Viet Cong terrorists outside an enlisted man's club in Da Nang exploded late Tuesday, injuring three Americans.

A military spokesman said the grenade was placed in a paper bag about 50 yards from the "Take Ten" club. It exploded when one of the soldiers kicked it.

Five Hurt In City Traffic Accidents

Five Lubbock residents were injured in traffic accidents here Tuesday, but only one required hospitalization.

Vernon Wayne Gee, 19, 5239 40th St., was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday night at Methodist Hospital where he was taken by Henderson ambulance following a two-car crash at 49th St. and Flint Ave. about 4 p.m.

Hospital attendants said he suffered a possible back injury.

Robert Owen Greaves, 68, and Ellie Greaves, 58, were treated at Town and Country Clinic for minor injuries suffered in a two-car crash at Colgate and College Ave. about 3 p.m.

Nora Lloyd Stinson, 31, 4707 39th St., was treated and released at Highland Hospital after a two-car collision at 50th St. and Quaker Ave. about 7:45 a.m.

Frankie Lee Green, 40, 2610 Weber, was treated and released at Methodist Hospital after being hurt in a two-car accident at Main St. and Ave. S about 12:30 p.m.

But a classification process is administrative, not legal — and there's a question about who makes that law.

"Our law provides that anyone who does something contrary to their deferment — and the state director notified the local boards of each of the students that they had interfered with the draft board — then the local board has the right to decide on their reclassification," Hershey added.

Hershey said he had not read Vinson's letter but "I don't think" he said anything to the contrary.

supply to a comparative trickle, forcing stiff restrictions on the use of man's commonest commodity.

The New York Yankees finished sixth in the American League, the Giants and Jets got pushed around in pro football. The basketball Knickerbockers and the hockey Rangers couldn't win for losing.

Once, the big fights came to New York because its vast population promised the richest gate receipts. Now there's something called closed circuit television, the money piles in at theater box offices from coast to coast and the heavyweight title bouts are held in places like Lewistown, Maine.

The transit strike was just about the last straw.

Salespeople outnumbered customers in the stores. Legitimate plays folded. Night clubs closed in mid-evening. Tradesmen swarmed to the federal Small Business Association seeking to stave off bankruptcy.

The old saying about New York being a nice place to visit but you wouldn't want to live there became academic. It was impossible to do either.

Faced with a shortage of hotel rooms, a stoppage of buses and subways and frustrating queues for cabs, visitors stayed away in droves.

As for the people whose homes are in New York, they were walking miles to work in rain and icy winds or caught in traffic jams like flies on sticky paper and who calls that living?

For many years the deal Peter Minuit made with the Indians for Manhattan Island has been hailed as a great score for our side. Now more and more people are saying he goofed.

Annexation of Morton County Lands was made possible by a redefinition last April of boundaries of the Ogallala formation south of the Canadian River.

Unofficial returns showed a total of 508 votes cast, an "about average" turnout.

Ballots will be canvassed later this month.

Incumbents Get Nod In Buffalo District

Three incumbent directors of Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 (Buffalo Lakes) were returned to office in light voting in Lubbock County Tuesday.

Only 233 votes were cast and election officials said a number of those were for write-in candidates.

Unofficial returns showed that V. G. Browning, Buri H. Kizer and Gordon H. Rose were re-elected. Browning topped the list, with 178 votes while Rose polled 149 and Kizer 143. Tom H. Hutchinson, the only challenger, netted 102 of the ballots.

Returns will be canvassed at the next board meeting Friday at 2 p.m. in the Buffalo Lakes administration building. Following the tabulation, the directors will be sworn and the board will be reorganized.

Directors are named for two-year periods.

T. E. Milam, chairman, and H. D. Waller are the holdover directors.

Leader Mike Mansfield and four other Senators, including two Republicans.

The report was pessimistic about the possibility of negotiations, and expressed fears that the fighting could escalate into a general Asian war.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee also met and discussed the Mansfield report.

The secret U.S. note to Hanoi apparently was discussed in another meeting of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

One Congressman who heard a State Department briefing said that the most encouraging fact about this latest move in President Johnson's peace offensive was that the North Vietnamese had actually physically accepted the note.

Weather Note Refused
The North Vietnamese refused to accept a previous note which had been relayed to Hanoi during the five-day pause in the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam last May.

The contents of the latest note, what it said about the possibility of halting the Vietnamese war and opening negotiations, have not been disclosed. An American diplomat handed the note to a North Vietnamese official in one of the world capitals where both countries have representatives.

Handed To Official
Rep. Cornelius Gallagher (D-N.J.) told reporters after hearing a briefing by Undersecretary of State George Ball that the note was handed to the North Viet Nam official shortly after the bombing lull started on Christmas Eve.

That current halt in the raids on the North, now in its 17th day, signaled the start of Johnson's worldwide peace offensive.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers, who said he knew of "no reaction" to the new note, was asked what the present feeling was about the peace offensive — "where do we stand now? Are we any closer than we were at Christmas?"

Moyers replied: "I doubt that the President could say right now . . . could give an answer. It's a matter of evaluation, listening, waiting and hoping."

Asked whether Johnson's State of the Union message could "change the picture," Moyers replied: "We'll just have to wait and see."

"Direct Contact"
The press secretary had disclosed Monday that there had been "direct contact" between the United States and the North Vietnamese. He did so in reply to a question about the statement of Yale University professor Staughton Lynd that there had been no such contact.

The State Department on Tuesday sent an intelligence analyst to Yale to talk to Lynd, who returned Sunday from an unauthorized trip to North Viet Nam. Lynd said the official questioned him about details of his contacts with Communist officials.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said no decision had been reached on whether to take any action against Lynd and his two traveling companions for making the trip without passports validated for travel to North Viet Nam.

74 PERCENT RISE

New Flood Of Students To Hit Campuses

By WILLIAM J. EATON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—An explosive growth in the number of college students during the next decade was forecast this week by the U. S. Office of Education.

It predicted a 74 per cent increase in students seeking college degrees in the fall of 1974—a rise from about 5 million to 8.7 million.

Colleges and universities will almost double their spending in this time period, the report said, by increasing outlays 89 per cent to $22.5 billion.

A new publication also forecast a big per cent increase in the number of bachelor degrees awarded each year to reach the annual total from 225,000 to 899,000.

The federal projections also envisioned a doubling in the number of persons receiving master's and doctor's degrees by 1975.

The same picture of growth, although not quite so explosive, was drawn for high and grade schools.

The projections show:

- A 13.5 per cent increase in enrollments at public and private schools below college level, from 48.1 million in 1964 to 54.6 million in 1974.
- 5.9 per cent increase in public and private high school graduates each year to bring that total to 3.4 million.

More Teachers Needed

The additional students will require about 500,000 more teachers in elementary and secondary school systems. This will mean a 25 per cent increase in teacher's ranks to 2.4 million.

Spending on elementary and secondary schools also will zoom upwards, rising by 47 per cent to $8.4 billion in the 1974-75 school year, the federal study predicted.

The figures show that the number of high school students will double compared to 1964 and the number of college students will have tripled in 20 years.

The profile of American education was described in "Projections of Educational Statistics to 1974-75," a new federal publication.

Tashkent, U.S.S.R., Monday of a heart attack shortly after signing a limited peace agreement with President Ayub Khan of Pakistan, had a history of heart trouble.

Shastri, 61, suffered a serious heart attack in 1959 but he paid little heed to the urgings of his family and friends not to work too hard.

Burdens Telling

The burden of office began to tell on Shastri almost as soon as he became prime minister a year and a half ago.

Only 18 days after Shastri assumed the leadership of India on June 9, 1964, he was felled by what his government called exhaustion but what informants said was a mild heart attack.

The mild-mannered Shastri had been working 16 or more hours a day taking up the late Jawaharlal Nehru's fight against India's massive problems of poverty, illiteracy, religious hatred, economic backwardness, rising prices and running feuds with Red China and Pakistan.

In the days that followed Shastri's assumption of power, the tremendous burden of trying to better the lot of India's down-trodden millions etched lines of fatigue on the face on the man who rose from humble beginnings to the helm of the world's largest democracy.

Humble Beginning

Shastri was born in the abject poverty of a mud hut in back country Mughalsarai village in north India's Uttar Pradesh State on Oct. 2, 1904.

The date was 43 years before the end of British rule brought the independence he was to help win in the nonviolent resistance movement of Mohandas K. Gandhi and Nehru.

His work for freedom cost him nine years in British jails.

Shastri's schoolteacher father died when he was 18 months old and he and his two sisters grew up with their grandfather, who sent him to school in the nearby holy city of Banaras.

Swam To School

Lacking the ferry fare, sometimes he swam the Ganges River, books strapped to his head.

His family endured the poverty of India's millions. So poor were they that a childhood photograph was an unobtainable luxury. "I do not know what I looked like as a young man," Shastri once said.

But the hardships of his youth endowed him with a genuine simplicity and deep understanding of the suffering of the masses, and from his humble, unassuming manner came his strength with the Indian people.

Still, after the aristocratic Nehru died May 27, 1964, Shastri's succession was paradoxical.

Three months before graduation, Shastri quit high school to join the independence campaign. His activities soon landed him in prison. Released, he finished high school, entered a Sanskrit college and won the degree of "Shastri" meaning graduate in ancient scriptures. The title remained part of his name.

Married At 23

His education behind him, he married Lalita Devi at the age of 23 and rejoined the nationalist resistance.

Imprisoned again, he got word that his year-old daughter had died of typhoid because his family lacked money for medical care. The Shastris later had two other daughters and four sons.

Shastri, a 5-foot-2, 110-pounder, developed into an adroit politician and a force in the All-India Congress party, becoming its general secretary for Uttar Pradesh State—India's most populous—at age 31.

He entered the state legislature three years later and in 1946, the year before independence, was made parliamentary secretary to the state's chief minister.

Was Province Minister

Coinciding with the exit of British rule, Shastri rose to be Uttar Pradesh minister for police and transport. His first national post came in 1951—secretary-general of the Congress party, the only powerful political machine in India.

Winning a seat in Parliament the next year, Shastri joined Nehru's Cabinet as minister of railways. He resigned this job in 1956 because his conscience made him feel morally responsible for a rail tragedy in which more than 150 persons died.

"No one can wish a better colleague," Nehru said shortly before he died. Nehru, a close friend coaxed Shastri back into the government to handle the 1957 general election.

Held Many Posts

Afterward he became minister of transport, communications, commerce and industry, then home minister.

Shastri stepped down again in the fall of 1963 in Nehru's "Kamraj Plan" under which 12 ranking officials left the government. Some, Shastri evidently included, were released to rejuvenate Congress party affairs.

Others were believed to be men Nehru did not want around him.

After Nehru suffered his first stroke Jan. 7, 1964, he summoned Shastri back to the Cabinet as minister without portfolio to relieve him of much of the burden of leadership. Nehru's health waxed and waned until his death, as did Shastri's duties, but it was widely believed Shastri would have been Nehru's choice had he named a successor.

Shastri, a middle of the roader and skilled compromiser, was elected prime minister of the world's most populous democracy largely because in a Congress party rife with factionalism and intrigue, this out-wardly shy but effective politician was the only man his colleagues on all sides would trust with power.

With intelligence and quiet vigor, Shastri took command of the vast—33 million employees—bureaucracy and plunged into India's inherent ills of disunity and diversity of race, religion and regionalism. He preserved and state socialism at home, but was more liberal toward sorely needed foreign private investment.

Listening more than talking, Shastri made decisions, stuck by them and saw them carried out. More and more he was regarded as the man for India's huge problems, most importantly maintaining national unity and making democracy work for 465 million people in the second most populous country on earth.

Helicopters Serve As Pack Mules, Ambulances Of Vietnamese Conflict

By PRESTON MCGRAW
FORT WORTH (UPI)—Huey helicopters—the pack mules, the weapons carriers, the troop carriers and the ambulances of the Vietnamese war—slowly move along five assembly lines, day and night, toward completion at Bell Helicopter's Fort Worth plant.

It is 10½ days from start to finish of the 500-foot assembly lines. Production could be speeded up, but the present pace is fast enough to keep up with military demands.

An estimated 1,400 copters, most of them Bell UH1Bs and UH1Ds, already are in Viet Nam. Bell contracts through last Dec. 31 totaled about $250 million, so there soon may be more.

New Weapon

The Huey copter can take off and land in an opening a little bigger than its 44-foot rotor, fly vertically, forward, backward or hover. It is the new weapon to come out of the Vietnamese War.

Veterans of the conflict believe that if it were not for the copter, U. S. forces would have made far fewer gains.

The copter is a tough bird. It can take an incredible amount of lead and still get back to base.

Army CWO Phillip D. Pettit of Birmingham, Ala., a veteran of 773 copter missions in Viet Nam, has seen copters hit many times in supposedly vital areas and survive. He was not as lucky.

"We took a hit in the engine during an assault," he recalls. "We went straight into the trees and crashed. We had been flying about 100 feet from the treetops and they were about 100 feet from the ground."

"I fractured my back in the crash but nobody else was hurt except for cuts and bruises. On the way down, I was able to get out one quick radio call."

Fires Rockets

A pilot of a nearby copter heard the call and hovered overhead until the survivors crawled away from the wreckage. When survivors were clear, he fired rockets into the wreckage to keep the Viet Cong from getting it.

They crawled to a clearing. Another copter picked them up there and flew them out. Pettit, now recovered, has been test-flying copters at the Bell plant since last Oct. 25.

The copter, as a functioning aircraft, is less than 25 years old, but the concept is not new. Leonardo da Vinci experimented with a "flying screw" during the Renaissance.

Igor I. Sikorsky and Henrich K. J. Focke, a German, came up with modern copter designs about the start of World War II. So did Arthur Young, a Princeton graduate, who supplied the basic principles of Bell's first copters.

Young had spent 13 years experimenting, when, in 1941, he walked into the Bell Aircraft plant in Buffalo, N. Y., and asked to see the late Larry Young.

Bell, the company president. Because Young had a beard and a rumpled overcoat, he was told he had 10 minutes to show Bell whatever was in a black box under his arm.

A Long 10

The 10 minutes extended to eight hours, as Young demonstrated for Bell a model copter he had in the box. Bell put Young in charge of a copter development program. As a result of Young's work, Bell in 1946 got the first federally licensed copter.

At least five companies, including Bell, make copters in the United States, though Bell claims to have made more than all the others put together.

Bell got a leg up on its competition in 1955 by winning an Army-sponsored competition for a turbine-powered copter. The winner was the Iroquois of Huey.

The first model was the HU1 from which sprang the "Huey" name. The Army switched the letters around, making it UH1, but the name stuck.

Flying copters is work. Pilots compared it to simultaneously rubbing the top of one's head with one hand in one direction and one's stomach with the other hand in the other direction.

Pettit says military pilots want a faster copter. They may soon get it in the Huey Cobra, a slimmer down version of the UH1 that will fly 200 miles an hour.

Lutheran Bishop Plans To Retire Berlin Position

BERLIN (AP)—Dr. Otto Dibelius, 85, a critic of nazism and communism, will retire on March 31 as Lutheran bishop of Berlin, it was announced here.

The West Berlin Lutheran Church gave failing health as the reason for Bishop Dibelius' retirement from the position he has held since 1945.

Electoral College Convoked

The heads of the synods of East and West Berlin have convoked an electoral college to suggest a candidate to succeed him.

The two synods, divided by the Communist wall, are to meet separately in February to elect a new bishop, the church announcement said.

Bishop Dibelius previously had announced his intention to retire in the summer of 1961. The wall was built in August of that year and subsequent difficulties in attempting to elect a new bishop made him decide to retain his position.

Last May, he was reported to be suffering from what was described as minor circulation disturbances. But he was later said to have recovered.

Fort Worth Demos Enter House Race

FORT WORTH (AP)—Three Fort Worth Democrats became candidates for the Texas House today, and a fourth said he would relinquish his House seat to run for county judge.

State Rep. Howard Green said he would run for county judge, a post held by Marvin Simpson Jr. Simpson had not disclosed his plans.

Don Gladden, who served in the House previously, said he will seek the seat now held by Green. Rep. W. C. Sherman said he will ask re-election to Place 3.

Larry Meeker, Fort Worth businessman and civic leader, said he will oppose Rep. Jack McLaughlin in Place 1.

Mourners Crowd To See Shastri

Hundreds Hurt During Stampede To See Body

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A stampede swept an immense crowd of mourners today covering on Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's residence for his funeral. More than 100 were reported seriously injured.

Pushing and shoving began as hundreds of thousands of grieving Indians strained to get a last look at the body of their leader who died of an apparent heart attack early Tuesday at Tashkent, in the Soviet Union.

Shastri's body lay in state throughout the night and several times police, wielding long clubs, beat the crowd back. Then the stampede erupted.

Police ambulances took seriously injured mourners to hospitals while others were given first aid in a special station set up near Shastri's home and on the Janpath Road.

Police Disperse Crowd
 After struggling in the pre-dawn darkness, police dispersed much of the crowd that had tried to get through the gates and into the grounds around Shastri's large white home.

With traditional cremation rites on the banks of the sacred Yamuna River, India consigns the frail little man who was their prime minister for 19 months to the pantheon of India's great leaders.

World leaders converged on the Indian capital to attend the rites.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and the American delegation arrived early today. Shastri's widow, Lalita, maintained a vigil for hours at the side of her husband's body.

Two Indian military officers were standing at attention near Shastri's head throughout the night. The officers entered the room at half-step march, a slow, ritualistic march used in state funerals.

Son Lights Pyre
 To Shastri's eldest son, Hari Kishan, fell the task of lighting the funeral pyre in Hindu rites at a site on the river bank close to the places where Gandhi, India's independence leader, and Nehru, his heir, were cremated.

Shastri died in the cause for which he lived — as an advocate on conciliation with firmness, a quester for peace. He was felled by a heart attack in

Suits Filed To Hasten Integration

(By The Associated Press)
 The U.S. Justice Department brought legal actions in four Southern states Tuesday, calling it the first in a series of steps aimed at maximum school integration by next fall.

Federal suits were filed against school districts that have submitted desegregation plans to the U.S. Office of Education and are receiving federal financial aid. These are the city of Charlotte, N.C., Franklin County, N.C., and Tipton County, Tenn.

The other counties involved are Lowndes and Greene in Alabama, St. James Parish in Louisiana and Mecklenburg County in North Carolina.

Rock-Throwing Binge
 In Alabama, approximately 300 Negro high school pupils went on a rock-throwing binge for an hour and a half when school officials in Birmingham barred them from joining a voter registration demonstration.

And in Georgia, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. returned to Atlanta to talk strategy with Negro Rep.-elect Julian Bond who was denied a seat in the state legislature for his antiwar and anti-draft views.

The suits brought in Washington by the Justice Department brings to 31 the number of legal actions over school segregation which the department has initiated or intervened in under the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The outbreak of violence by the Negro high school pupils in Birmingham, Ala. was the first in the two-week-old voter registration drive started by the Southern Christian Leadership

LAMB COUNTY Area ASCS Office Gets Top Honor

LITTLEFIELD (Special) — The Lamb County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office was honored here Tuesday night as the top county ASCS office in six states.

Walter Bieberly of Washington, D.C., deputy ASCS director for the South-Central area of the U.S., explained that the award is based on overall performance in administering federal farm programs on the local level.

Top Award
 Bieberly and top state ASCS officials attended a banquet honoring the Lamb County office staff at a banquet at the Crescent House Restaurant.

The Lamb County group, Bieberly said, won the honor in competition with more than 550 county ASCS offices in Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas.

There is no further competition beyond the six-state level, he said. "If there were a top national award, however, I personally feel Lamb County would be right in the running for it," he added.

First State WIN
 W. Lewis David of College Station, state ASCS executive director, said the Lamb County office is the first in Texas ever to win the six-state award.

Lamar Aten is going on his tenth year as manager of the Lamb County office. He has been with the ASCS and the U.S. Department of Agriculture agencies which preceded it for almost 19 years.

AT VEGETABLE MEET Quality Stressed As Key To Market Needs

By DUANE HOWELL, Avalanche-Journal Farm Editor

PLAINVIEW — Production of a quality product should be the first objective in efforts to expand vegetable markets, Gordon Powell, a fruit and vegetable marketing specialist from Texas A&M, said here Tuesday.

Powell was one of a battery of nine speakers at the annual West Texas Vegetable Growers Conference in the Hale County Exhibition Center. Approximately 130 persons attended the all-day meeting.

Preston Walker of Plainview, who produces around 150 acres of vegetables, was elected President of the South Plains Vegetable Growers Council, which sponsored the conference.

Walker succeeds Bruce Parr of Friona. Eugene Tannahill of Lockney was elected vice president and Clovis Poteet of Otton is the new secretary-treasurer.

The council represents an area that produces approximately 50,000 acres of vegetables a year, officials said. They said gross value of vegetable production in the area is about $13 to $15 million annually.

Addressing the group prior to the business session, Powell declared that the fruit and vegetable industry "has no alternative but to supply chain stores with what they demand."

"There is no cut and dried procedure for supplying supermarkets," he added. "Their common goal is quality control."

Powell said chain stores, be- See MARKET Page 16

WOMAN TALK Don't Wait 'Till Father Gets Home

By RUTH WINTER
SHORT HILLS, N.J. (WNS)—Mothers! Don't say, "Just wait until your father gets home," when you want to discipline your children, a professor of behavioral science at New Jersey College of Medicine advises.

Dr. Leo Shatin believes that too many mothers delegate their disciplining duties to the fathers.

"A child should be taught responsibility by both parents," he said. "The parent who is there at the time the child needs the discipline, should do the disciplining."

A child with a sense of responsibility does what is right automatically without a parent standing behind him with a whip," in his view.

Dr. Shatin, who earned his Ph.D. degree at Harvard, suggests the following rules to aid parents in teaching their children responsibility:

1. Set a good example... children learn by identification with an adult. If you don't take your responsibilities seriously they won't take theirs.

2. Don't be too early... don't try to enforce responsibilities for which the child is not ready. For instance, it is pointless trying to toilet train a child at nine months when physically, he will not be ready until 12 to 14 months.

3. Don't be too late... a child may want to learn to put on his shoes or to help with the dishes or to cook when we don't have the time or patience to teach him. Then, when we are ready, the child may have lost his enthusiasm.

4. Don't be too permissive... often parents try to fulfill their own early deprivations through excessive giving and permissiveness. They identify with the child and don't want their child to lack for anything.

5. Don't be inconsistent... try not to put your foot down one week and insist the room be kept neat and then the next week let it go. This confuses the child.

6. Don't be too rigid... Times do change and maybe all the other kids are wearing long hair. Feel occasionally that you can be wrong and the child is right.

7. Ask your child's teacher for advice... educators have experience with many children and usually know at what age level a child is ready for something and how other parents are handling certain problems.

Dr. Shatin emphasized that by teaching a child responsibility, you are not teaching him to deny his own desires.

"Responsibility does not mean we must stop change our own needs," he concluded. "When a child is responsible to society, at the same time he fulfills the needs within himself for self-esteem, status and psychological security."

Young Homemakers See Film On Cancer

ROOSEVELT (Special)—Roosevelt Young Homemakers met Tuesday morning in the Roosevelt clubhouse with Mrs. John R. Miller presiding.

Dr. Malcolm Thomas, a Lubbock doctor, was present for a question-and-answer period, after a film on cancer was shown.

Plans were made for the Texas Young Homemakers Convention in Austin Friday and Saturday. Mrs. W. L. Harris, Mrs. R. D. McCallister, Mrs. Sam Morren and Mrs. Troy Thomas will attend the state convention.

Next meeting will be at 9 a.m. Jan. 25, for a program on Child Development. Dr. Gene Rankin, Lubbock pediatrician, will be guest speaker.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Trimming baby's nails can be a chore at times, especially if he's a confirmed fist-cleaver. Two clever-mother suggestions that may prove just right for you:

• You might try snipping them right after a meal, when your wee one's drowsy, his fingers relaxed.

• If baby's a steady sitter, try placing him on your lap in front of a mirror for the manicure. Self-reflected glory is absorbing.

Vegetable review with two special points of view. Introducing a variety of vegetables at an early age serves a two-fold purpose. It helps build good eating habits when food acceptances are most easily established. It provides a wide range of vitamins and minerals. Gerber Strained Vegetables are notable for garden-fresh colors and natural-flavor goodness. Like all Gerber Baby Foods, each one is "custom-cooked" according to its own requirements to preserve the utmost in precious nutritive values.

Substitute plan. If your baby should occasionally rebel at a vegetable, why force the issue when you can easily substitute another with similar nutritive values? Mixed Vegetables for Sweet Potatoes or Squash for Spinach, for example?

Beauty course. Whenever you give baby his oil or lotion beauty treatment, snitch a few drops for the backs of your hands. Wonderfully satiating, also helps keep cuticles soft.

Smile center. Grins galore are usually in store for you when you top-off baby's main course with a Gerber Strained Pudding occasionally. Deliciously flavored and delightfully smooth, any one will make a happy ending for a baby meal. Made with egg yolks and other good ingredients, they're wholesome as can be. Vanilla, Chocolate, Orange or Cherry Vanilla, P.S. For a flavor bonus, top with a dollop of any Gerber Strained Fruit. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 172, Fremont, Michigan.

Women: Get Rid Of Hair And Be In Style For Spring

By KELLY SMITH
NEW YORK (AP) — Vidal Sassoon, the London hair stylist who makes James look like James, claims every woman in America ought to get rid of her hair "so she'll have time to do some real living."

Nightly pinups, teasing, bouffant hairdos and bobby pins are ridiculous, he says, "especially when this country is otherwise such a modern, spectacular place."

Short hair, he says, would give women time to be more feminine.

Sassoon expressed his views for 200 fashion writers attending New York Couture Group style previews Monday. The ladies gazed when shown one German model with platinum blonde hair shorter than Sassoon's.

"Every woman would cut her hair this way if she saw how easy it is," says Anna Lenz of Munich. To contrast her close cropped hair, she wears make-up that takes an hour to put on.

"Men love my hair short," says Sassoon model, Judy Mursch, 23, of Copenhagen, Denmark. "They rub their hands in it. They can't believe it's so straight thick. I think it's very sexy."

Kelly McKown, 28, of New York, wears her blonde hair in what looks like a blown cut. "It's so interesting I get twice as many job bookings now," she says.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Spring has come to New York's Seventh Avenue. Outside it may be bleak and blustery, but inside the showrooms the current fashion collections are as colorful and soft as the season they were designed for.

From the look of things the costume becomes more important in fashion each season. And it takes many forms.

Shift Seen There is the shift under its own straight-line coat and the sweater coat with matching dress. Other favorites are dresses with open jackets and short jackets with tunic dresses.

One three-piece costume shown was a solid-color dress with a plaid top and a scarf that picked up all the colors of the dress and the plaid. And the costume suit sometimes totaled four pieces—skirt, blouse, jacket and contrasting vest.

Print Teamed Print dresses are teamed with solid color coats that pick up one of the shades in the dress print. Sometimes two or three fabrics are combined in one costume done in a single color—or two or three colors done in a single fabric.

Bold bands of contrasting colors have been used with imagination to section off hems, waist and neckline. And the color contrasts are exciting—pink banded with gray, yellow with white, navy and red, lemon and lime and lavender with pale blue.

Navy is still important for spring as are the camel and beige tones and white.

Fabrics used are chiefly hard-finished worsteds, gabardines, Shetlands and silk and worsted combinations.

In one form or another the costume will make its way into many spring wardrobes this year.

Mrs. C. E. Reynolds gave the devotional, "In the Beginning, God." Mrs. T. J. Sifton and Mrs. J. E. Walter gave the program, discussing events of 1940, a history of the local Asbury Guild and then directed thinking ahead to what might be 25 years from now.

Twenty members, including a new member, Mrs. Dwight Robertson, and four visitors attended.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Feb. 14 in the home of Mrs. A. D. Leonard, 3201 36th St., with Mrs. Wayne Cook presiding. Mrs. George Tyson will be co-hostess.

Original Poems Read By Arts Club Members

In place of the scheduled book review, members read original poems and poems by favorite authors.

Mrs. Gordon Clouser of Norman, Okla., was a guest. Fifteen members attended.

Mrs. S. M. Taylor presided. A social will be in the home of Mrs. Katherine Watts, 2123 22nd St., at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 18.

Stop Dry Skin

When the harsh winter weather robs the complexion of moist oils quicker than the oil ducts of the skin can replace it, the dangers of wrinkle-dryness will result. Those of you with dry skins should take a little extra care at this time of the year by smoothing oil of Olay over the face and neck daily before applying make-up. This hygroscopic (moisture attracting) oil will give the complexion the natural glow of a healthy outdoor skin and is the finest protection against wrinkle-dryness.

ANN LANDERS

Suggest 'Great Divide'

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 21-year-old girl who is going with a 23-year-old graduate student. We plan to be engaged on Valentine's Day. I hope you won't think my "problem" is too silly to bother with. It's serious to me.

Frank is very handsome but his eyebrows are extremely bushy. They grow together in the middle instead of separating the way most people's do. He looks as if he has one eyebrow over both eyes.

The other evening I asked Frank if he'd let me tweeze a few hairs out of the middle. He laughed and said, "You'll make me look like a pansy. I'd be in a fight every thirty minutes."

Please understand I don't want to shape his eyebrows or anything like that. I just want to pull out a few hairs and improve his looks. What do you think?—Frank's Girl

Dear Girl: Your idea is good but your approach is wrong. Most well-groomed men ask their barbers to do those little chores. Barbers use scissors not tweezers. Suggest this to Frank and let's hope he goes for the Great Divide.

Dear Ann: My story is not new, but it might sound different coming from a mother. Our 16-year-old daughter couldn't say "no" and she became pregnant.

No girl can imagine what a mother goes through when she gets such news—not until she hears it from her own daughter, God forbid. Her father and I stood by. We never belittled her or shed a tear in her presence. But we cried plenty at night behind closed doors. With the help of a wonderful family doctor we made arrangements to send her to a home for unwed mothers.

Two days before she was to leave she had a normal miscarriage. Now several months later, things are quiet and she is dating several nice young men.

I hope all young girls who read this letter will ask themselves: "How would my mother and father react to an announcement that I am pregnant?"—A mother still in shock

Dear Mother: Thanks for a powerful letter. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Dear Ann Landers: I disagree violently with your advice that the father should tell his young children whose mother committed suicide that "Mommy took the wrong medicine and it made her very sick and God called her to heaven."

This is a perfect example of telling children a lie that might scar them for life. A child who is given such ideas will be terrified every time he has to take medicine or be vaccinated. He will live in fear that he is taking the wrong medicine or that the doctor may be making a mistake.

I am 33 years old and I am still trying to overcome some of the fears instilled in me during childhood by parents who thought it best not to tell the truth.—Ethel

Dear Ethel: Sorry but we still disagree. I think it's better to tell a child that "Mommy took the wrong medicine" than to say "Mommy killed herself."

Sometimes young children of suicide victims feel it was their fault, that they failed the parent. This can be far more damaging than the fear of taking the wrong medicine.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

hints from Heloise

Many of us are now using stainless steel skillets.

One precious "dolly" allowed me to experiment on her stainless steel skillet that was so-so with black carbon on the bottom. For two months she had tried to get this off with soap-filled steel wool pads.

HELOISE

Ugh! All I did was dampen the bottom of the skillet and sprinkle it quite thickly with some electric dish washing compound (this is ordinarily used in electric dishwashers, and we found that the brand made no difference when used for this purpose), then covered it with a paper napkin (a thin rag will do), and poured a little water over the napkin.

I let this set at least 30 minutes—overnight won't hurt. So help me, Hannah, when I removed the napkin, I took my dishrag and wiped off the skillet, and nearly all of the carbon was removed!

Imagine! It just came off like magic. I don't even know why.

There were only a few spots remaining where I hadn't put enough of the compound, or the black goop was so thick on the skillet that it took another treatment.

Now... all you little honeys who keep house should try to remember that carbon (that's the black stuff from grease splatters, etc.) on the bottom of our pots and pans accumulates one coat at a time. Heretofore, we have been told that it must be removed one coat at a time. But, this method removes coats and coats of it within an hour.

Just keep in mind: If you scour the bottoms of your pots and pans each time you use 'em, the soil will not accumulate.

The dirt on the bottoms of cooking utensils will rub off on our stove grates and soil our clean-bottomed pans.

So, while you are about it, remove the grates from the stove (you can bet they have particles of carbon on them, too), and soak them overnight in a gallon of hot water, to which you have added at least a half cup of electric dishwasher compound.

through an opening in the side of the metal box.

Dear Heloise: When I was ironing a huge piece of nylon net, it took off all the starch, and other things that had accumulated on the bottom of the iron!

Dear Heloise: The suggestion of giving the children cans from the shelf to play grocery store...

I agree—it's a great idea—but Mom ends up putting away all the cans, boxes, etc., in their proper places!

I have empty cans that I have opened with an opener—which leaves no rough edges. I supply them with empty toothpaste boxes, brown bags, grocery receipts, etc.

Missionary Work In Africa Described At WSCS Coffee

The members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Asbury Methodist Church and their guests met in the church Monday morning for a WSCS Coffee.

Guest speakers were the Rev. Mr. Leonard Blomquist, who described their missionary work in Southern Rhodesia.

Mrs. Blomquist told of the African Women who considered membership in the women's organization of the church "the greatest honor of their lives."

They were the special uniform of that organization with pride and dignity, she added.

She related that membership in the women's organization commands great respect from the non-members.

The Rev. Mr. Blomquist showed slides of the rural areas, the modern cities and the various scenery and game reserves, as well as churches, clinics and community houses, for which the Africans gathered the materials and furnished the labor.

The Rev. Mr. Blomquist briefly discussed the political situation in Rhodesia and stated: "The influence of world opinion could touch off a situation which might lead to a world war."

The Rev. and Mrs. Blomquist are natives of Sweden and have been missionaries in Southern Rhodesia for 18 years. The Rev. Mr. Blomquist is a craftsman and carpenter by trade before becoming a minister, and has utilized his knowledge to train the Africans to build the churches, community centers and homes.

The thatched-roof mud huts are fast disappearing from Rhodesia, he said. During each year-long furlough, which is granted every four years, the Blomquists divide their time between Sweden and the United States. Their current temporary home is in Big Spring, where their daughter is attending high school.

At the end of the school year they will return to Rhodesia. The couple is personally supported by Asbury and St. John's Methodist churches and a Methodist church in Cleburne.

The WSCS of Asbury is beginning a joint study with the church-wide study on "Missions—the Christian Calling," at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the church sanctuary.

The study will continue through seven sessions, meeting on Sunday and Wednesday nights.

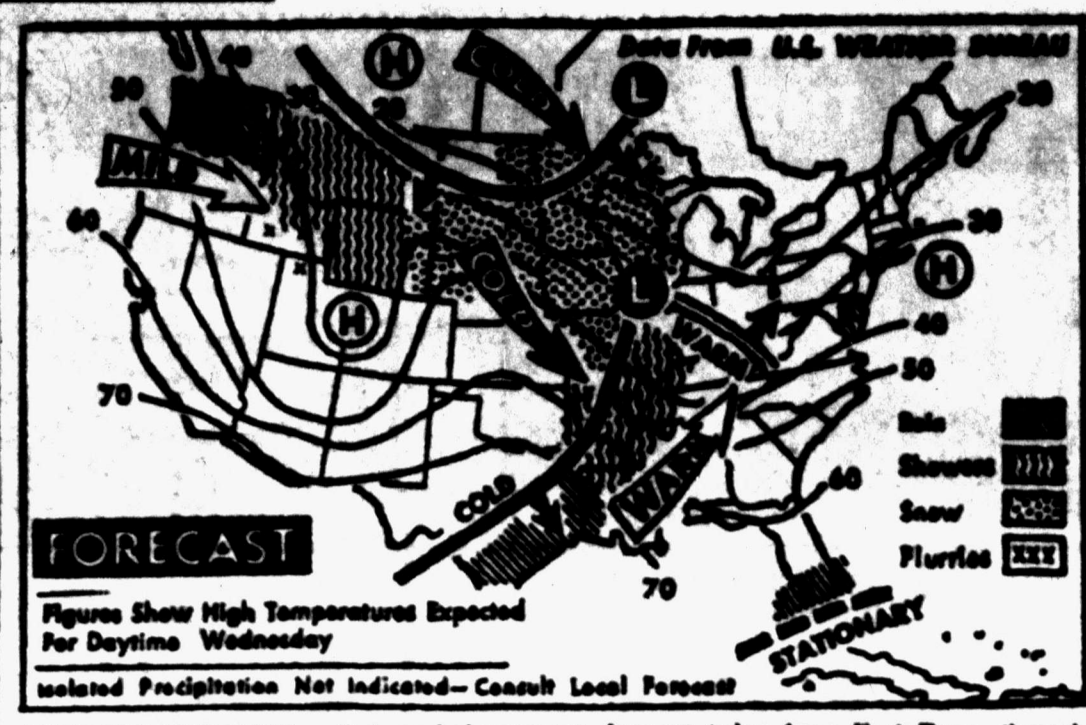

Next regular WSCS meeting will be at 10:30 a.m. Jan. 24. A fellowship luncheon will follow the program.

FEWEST BABIES SINCE 1951 Nation's Birth Rate Dips To 14-Year Low

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fewer babies were born in this country during 1965 than in any year since 1951, a Public Health Service spokesman said Tuesday.

The spokesman estimated the 1965 total was about 3.8 million. That would compare with a final total for 1964 of 4,027,490 and a 1951 total of about 3,751,000.

It became clear months ago that the declining birth rate would result in 1965 being the first year since 1953 in which births would number less than four million.

Estimate Projected

The spokesman made his estimate for the year in a projection of the figures shown in the October, 1965 statistics, made public today.

These showed that during the 12 months ended in October there were an estimated 3,812,000 births, down from 4,046,000 in the preceding 12 months ended with October 1964.

The birth rate for the 12 months ended with October 1965 was 19.7 per 1,000 population, down 7 per cent from the rate of 21.2 in the preceding 12 months.

Rate Drops

There were an estimated 318,000 live births in October, giving a birth rate of 19.3. This represented a decrease of 29,000 from the 347,000 in October 1964, when the rate was 21.3.

The monthly report on vital statistics showed that marriages increased during October, to 139,000 from 133,000 a year earlier, and the rate per 1,000 population rose 8.4 from 8.2.

"The rate of marriages for the 12-month period ending in October shows a consistent increase for the four years for which data are available, from 8.3 for the period ending October 1962 to 9.1 for the current year," the report said.

WORRY NOT ENOUGH

Public Urged To Help In Battle With Crime

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A law enforcement... national legal leader asserted F. Powell Jr., 58, past president that contributed so much to improve...

Powell listed areas in which he felt American citizens to be remiss.

They included: — Unfair criticism of law enforcement officers. "The term 'police brutality' is extensively misused and is a joy to criminal elements everywhere."

Unwillingness to testify against accused criminals. "Lack of 'a sense of duty' to report infractions of the law."

Failure to help police or fellow citizens struggling against assaults or trying to capture lawbreakers.

Unwillingness to serve on juries. Powell said hostility toward police in cities with racial unrest was a special problem. He declared racial groups should be fairly represented throughout the law enforcement structure, and particularly on police forces.

He said unwillingness of citizens to intervene in crimes committed in their presence might be lessened by state laws guaranteeing that "you can't be sued for volunteering to assist a somebody."

Powell suggested that reluctance of witnesses might be met in part by more adequate witness fees and prompter hearing of their testimony in the courts.

As for jury service, Powell called for a determined effort to make the public more aware of its importance in the enforcement of justice.

'SNAKE WAKE' Stripper's Pal Goes In Style

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A "snake wake" has been held here for Boa Cow, a six-foot boa constrictor and costar of a strip show.

The funeral at the 808 Club in the French Quarter had everything but the traditional marching jazz band. Instead a group of mourners huddled near a flower-bedecked table where Boa Cow was laid out on a snow-white pillow.

An organist played mournful funeral music. A French Quarter vocalist sang.

The snake had shared the spotlight with Mona Bovea, the club's featured stripper.

5,583 Left Homeless By Fire In Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — Flames whipped by 45-mile-per-hour winds swept through the heart of downtown Misawa City for six hours Tuesday and left 5,583 persons homeless.

Prefectural police at the city 250 miles north of Tokyo said there were no casualties. The fire was started by a gas range in a grocery store and spread quickly along the busiest street of Misawa, leveling 434 buildings and driving American and Japanese from their shops and residences.

SAVES BROTHER

Cowboy, Indians Savvy Is Useful

DALLAS (AP) — Joe Wilson had seen enough western films in his seven years to know instantly what to do.

He ran into the kitchen, grabbed a butcher knife, and started cutting at the rope.

The rope was around the neck of his half brother, Billy Mitchell, 13.

It was Billy's turn to pretend a hanging about dusk Monday night in a cowboy and Indians game. Both were in a tree. Billy's feet slipped and he hung by his neck.

Joe sawed through the rope and Billy dropped. Today he was in a hospital being treated for neck injuries and for the results of near strangulation.

SKEPTICAL OF SINCERITY

Protesters Question LBJ's Peace Moves

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaders of campus groups protesting U.S. policy in Viet Nam in general take a skeptical view of President Johnson's global peace offensive.

A spot survey showed that many already were planning new demonstrations. They said they were convinced that the major aim of the White House moves is to rally American support for an even greater war effort.

Many of the college organizations were making ready to take part in nationwide protests called for March 25-26 by the National Coordinating Committee to End the War in Viet Nam.

The protest groups at most schools include only a narrow fringe of the undergraduates body and their views are not shared by the bulk of students, university officials say. However, they tend to be well-organized and highly vocal.

A typical reaction to the presidential diplomatic drive was that of Michael McKain, a leader of a University of Utah group called "Student Action."

News Called Excuse

"I believe the Johnson administration's so-called peace offensive is an excuse for escalation. The administration will use the failure of the peace offensive as an excuse to intensify the war," he said.

Stanley Nadel, chairman of a University of Michigan "Committee to aid the Vietnamese," described the peace fellers as "basically propaganda moves."

Nadel predicted the President, "saying he did everything he could do for peace," would soon proceed with a massive buildup of U.S. fighting forces.

Brian Kelcher, a leader of demonstrations last year at the University of Michigan, declared "I don't believe the President is seeking peace in good faith."

GIs Charged For Aiding In Wall Escapes

BERLIN (UPI) — Two U.S. Army enlisted men were arrested by American military authorities Tuesday on charges they provided uniforms to help refugees escape through the wall from East Berlin. Three West Germans were also reported arrested.

A West Berlin lawyer, meanwhile, disclosed that Mary Hellen Battle, a 25-year-old Tennessee theology student who was arrested in East Berlin Nov. 24, was being held on charges she helped East Berliners escape.

The Army identified the soldiers as Pfc Michael R. Herman, 21, of Portland, Ore., and Spec. 4 William G. Taylor, 22, of Hermitage, Tenn., both of the 3rd Battalion, 6th Infantry Regiment.

Civilians Arrested

West Berlin police arrested the German civilians for their part in the escape of three East Germans last month in which the uniforms were used.

The soldiers face a possible court martial for providing uniforms to unauthorized persons and disobeying the order of a superior.

Two girls and a man participated in the successful escape Dec. 19. The girls hid in the trunk of an automobile while the other refugee sat in the car in an American Army uniform next to a West Berliner who also wore a uniform.

Got Post Guards

The car had Army plates the Army said were stolen. It was waved through the Communist checkpoint at Friedrich Strasse because Eastern border guards do not check Western Allied soldiers in vehicles with Western Allied plates.

Both the Army and West Berlin authorities acted because the use of Army uniforms and Allied license plates endangered Western military traffic into East Berlin.

Voters Facing Lengthy Hale County Ballot

PLAINVIEW (Special) — Hale County voters will be confronted with a rather lengthy ballot of precinct, county and district offices this year. In addition there will be the legislative and congressional candidates and those who seek the governorship.

The Hale County ballot will list the following offices to be filled: 64th Judicial District Judge, district clerk, county clerk, county judge, two county commissioners, county treasurer, county school superintendent and justice of the peace in Precinct 1.

Incumbents of those offices, who to date have announced for re-election, are Mildred Tucker, county clerk; C. L. Abernethy, county judge; Harold Martin, treasurer, and J. C. Lewis, justice of the peace.

Other Incumbents Listed

James A. Joy, 64th Dist. Judge; E. A. Madera, district clerk; Homer Roberson, commissioner Precinct 2; Doc Brown, commissioner Precinct 4, and Mrs. Willie Merle Halthcock, school superintendent.

Madera stated recently he would not be a candidate for re-election. Mrs. Eleanor Harris, deputy district clerk, and C. E. Ragle, veterans administration officer, have announced as candidates for district clerk.

Rep. Ralph Wayne, Plainview, representative from the 89th Legislative district, will conclude his first term in that office with the end of the year. He has not announced plans.

Hale County poll tax payments are described as lagging. Tax collector Bill Hollars said Friday approximately 2,000 poll tax receipts had been issued, along with about 1,500 exemptions. The county exemptions have been averaging around 1,500 annually.

Last year—an "off-year"—there were 5,583 polls paid and 1,546 exemptions issued in this county.

There are 60,000 motels in the United States, says the National Automobile Club.

Sincerity Questioned

At the University of Chicago, Paul Booth, national secretary of Students for a Democratic Society, also questioned the administration's sincerity.

"We feel that the only issue is whether the United States will permit the Viet Cong to participate in a coalition government in Viet Nam," and Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said we won't," Booth commented.

John Duard, editor of the student newspaper at Chicago's Roosevelt University, said he found doubts among some of his readers that the administration really wants peace now.

Said Gary Thiher, a member of the executive committee of the Students for a Democratic Society at Austin, Texas.

Indirect Talks Cited

"I'm all in favor of the peace offensive, but Johnson has failed to talk to anybody directly involved in the war. If he were talking to China, North Viet Nam or the National Liberation Front—the political arm of the Viet Cong—I would think he was more sincere."

"Not going to the National Liberation Front will prevent any real negotiations from taking place."

Eric Lessinger, chairman of the Harvard-Radcliffe chapter of Students for a Democratic Society, took a similar position.

"We welcome all moves in this direction but frankly we don't expect anything to come of them the way they are being presented," Lessinger said.

"You can't possibly negotiate for peace if you don't include the belligerents."

Foresees More Bombing

"I am afraid the peace offensive is preparing public opinion for renewed bombing with increased fury and a sort of self-righteous attitude. We've tried and they haven't responded."

A leaflet published by the Viet Nam Day Committee of Berkeley, Calif., home of the University of California, complained that "the people we are fighting, the Viet Cong, are the only people we have not spoken to about peace."

Stewart Albert, a nonstudent who has been active for the committee on the California campus, said "we plan a militant demonstration Feb. 12 and will step up our activity."

A spokesman for the Students for a Democratic Society at Johns Hopkins University said the peace offensive "hasn't changed our feelings and won't."

Lamesa Pastor Takes New Post

LAMESA (Special)—The Rev. Milo B. Arbuckle has resigned as pastor of the First Baptist Church here to assume the same position with Temple Baptist Church at Denver, Colo., effective Feb. 1.

The Rev. Mr. Arbuckle came to Lamesa from Frederick, Okla., where he was pastor of the First Baptist Church 11 years. He will have been pastor of the church in Lamesa 12 years Saturday.

During his stay in Lamesa, the church has built a new educational building, a new parsonage, aided in the establishment of the Permian Basin Baptist Encampment and paid off a church indebtedness of $115,000.

Aside from his pastoral work, the Rev. Mr. Arbuckle now is serving as trustee of Wayland Baptist College at Plainview, and is a director for the Permian Encampment. He also has served as trustee for Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, Okla., and as first vice-president of the Oklahoma Baptist Convention. Since his alignment with the Texas Convention, he has served on the board of directors of the Texas Children's Home at Round Rock, Tex., as Chairman of the Committee on Nominations for Institution Boards of Texas Baptist General Convention and is on the executive board of the Texas Baptist General Convention.

AMERICAN MASTERY SEEN

Navy Says U.S. To Probe Sea With Nuclear Power

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Man will explore and exploit the ocean depths with nuclear power. In so doing he will give the United States mastery of the sea—mastery in the military, economic, social, and political sense.

This vision of the future was presented Tuesday by Navy Undersecretary Robert H. Baldwin.

Baldwin spoke at the opening of a two-day symposium here on "man's extension into the sea," a field of engineering enterprise which many believe is as important—and certainly as difficult—as manned exploration of space.

Benefit Many Interests

The Navy has to aim its investigations of the undersea world solely at strengthening America's defense. But practically everything it does in this connection, Baldwin said, is bound to benefit commercial interests bent on harvesting "the ocean's abundant mineral or living resources."

The symposium was organized by the Marine Technology Society and half a dozen other organizations concerned with scientific, engineering, and commercial studies of the ocean floor.

Most of the sessions were devoted to technical reports on last year's Sealab 2, described by the Navy as "the longest and most ambitious deep-diving experiments ever conducted."

Sealab 2 was a 57-foot chamber, resting at a depth of 205 feet on the sea bottom off La Jolla, Calif. From Aug. 28 to Oct. 12, 1965, a total of 28 divers spent 45 days in relays working inside and outside of Sealab 2 as part of the Navy's "man-in-the-sea" program. Carpenter stayed only 10 days on the ocean floor in and around Sealab 2. One of the most noted, Cmdr. Scott Carpenter, stayed down for 30 days.

Carpenter, one of the nation's hero astronauts, thus became fully-fledged aquanaut, a man equally at home in both inner and outer space.

The Navy plans a Sealab 3 experiment, at depths as great as 400 feet or more, late this year or early in 1967. Carpenter told a reporter he would like "very much" to participate in that project, too.

"But I just don't know whether I will be able to," he said. "As you know I wear two hats (astronaut-aquanaut), and I'm pretty busy at the moment with space matters."

LOOTED MILLION

Jewelry, Bank Thieves Known, Police Claim

DALLAS (AP) — Police said Tuesday they know the identities of a Texas band believed largely responsible for a million dollars in jewel thefts and bank burglaries.

The jewels were stolen in the past decade from the fashionable Preston Hollow district of North Dallas.

Identities of the Austin-based thugs have been sent to other law enforcement agencies.

"We know some of the gang have made some of our Preston Hollow jobs," said Capt. Walter Fannin of the Dallas Burglary and Theft Bureau.

"I can't prove it," he said, "but we know they were there."

A series of Texas bank burglaries may also be the gang's work, said Ranger Capt. Bob Crowder.

A dossier on the gang's activities is being compiled.

Officers said tried in vain last year to assume control of the juke box business in Dallas and reportedly took over operation of a house of prostitution outside of Austin.

The gang reportedly has two leaders—one for Texas jobs and the other for out-of-state forays.

ROME—Italy plans to build a new type of fishing boat.

SCORE ANGLO-RED TRADE

Republicans Seek To Stop Allied Trade With Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six House Republicans, in separate statements, called Tuesday for an embargo on all allied shipments to the Hanoi regime and criticized British and other free world trade with North Viet Nam and Cuba.

Their statements, in a joint press release, all cited U.S. cooperation with the British government's economic blockade of Rhodesia and called for reciprocal action by Great Britain.

The State Department reported that during 1964 North Viet Nam exported about $23.4 million worth of goods to non-Communist nations and imported $12.2 million in ships operating under flags of non-Communist nations.

Might Stop Aid

Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said countries involved which receive U.S. aid have been advised that the law governing such aid has provisions which could require a cutoff of the aid because of the Red trade.

McCloskey reported that during 1965 there was a 60 per cent reduction in the number of calls at North Vietnamese ports made by ships of non-Communist countries.

Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the GOP Congressional Committee, said 45 British ships unloaded cargo in North Viet Nam during the first half of 1965.

Time Ripe For Embargo

"Now that we are cooperating in the British-led blockade of African Rhodesia," Wilson said, "the time seems ideal to demand a free world embargo on shipments to our enemies in Viet Nam."

Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain of Michigan said the free world merchant fleet led by British vessels "strengthens the enemy base" in North Viet Nam and is aiding Cuba.

"This is not a pink tea; this is not table tennis," said Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio.

"Free world shipments to North Viet Nam and Cuba endanger the flower of our manhood in one case and our security as a nation in the other."

British-Viet Trade

British ships carried almost 60 per cent of 1965 shipments into North Viet Nam ports, said Rep. Samuel L. Devine of Ohio.

Rep. William L. Dickinson of Alabama said the United States should "insist on reciprocity by British and all the free world governments in enforcing an embargo upon Communist North Viet Nam and Cuba."

"Our administration has a right to insist that the British and others of our allies cooperate with us," said Rep. N. Erlenborn of Illinois. "A free world embargo on Cuba must be proclaimed."

FULL-FLEDGED BOMB TARGET

12 Years Turns Difficult Cong Trail Into Highway

EDITOR'S NOTE: The main route of Communist infiltration of men and supplies into South Viet Nam from the north has been the Ho Chi Minh Trail. It is described in this dispatch.

By MICHAEL MALLOY SAIGON (UPI)—For nearly 12 years, the Communists have been using the Ho Chi Minh Trail to supply their guerrillas to the south. It used to be rough going.

At first, the trail could handle only a trickle of hardy cadre who inched south through jungle and mountain terrain in exhausting treks that took anywhere from 45 to 60 days. But while using it, the Communists have vastly improved the paths and now the trail is a throbbing, full-fledged supply corridor and a full-fledged target of American bombs.

Seeking a way of moving men and supplies from North Viet Nam into the battle areas in South Viet Nam, the Communists converted the narrow paths into an infiltration route which takes its name from the North Viet Nam premier.

Travel Increases
In parts, there are all-weather roads that enable trucks, artillery, heavy equipment and men to speed southward. Where there are no roads, bearers carry the material—a painful tasking 30 pounds a trip—south.

As many as 2,500 infiltrators a month follow the trail, now double that number could be moved along it without too much added effort.

The improvements have cut the infiltration time from North to South Viet Nam to five days, making the trail a vital factor in the war.

The importance of the trail is that it permits the infiltrators to sidestep South Vietnamese defenses by traveling south through neutral Laos.

Although the Communists have never admitted they move troops over the Laotian territory—sparsely populated and virtually impassable except along the established trails—U.S. and Laotian officials have proof they do.

Laos has refused permission for U.S. or South Vietnamese troops to enter its territory to strike at the trail but permits the U.S. to bomb it.

American officials prefer not to talk about the roads on the trail in Laos but the attacks were stepped up late in 1965 when giant B52 bombers were thrown into action against it for the first time.

Raids by smaller, tactical aircraft were reported to be losing their effectiveness in the face of continued frenzied Communist buildup of the infiltration corridor.

Conference.
An adult Negro leader shouted encouragement to the excited pupils and police officers fired several shotgun blasts into the air to prevent the pupils from leaving the school. Rocks, bottles and sticks were thrown at the officers but there were no serious injuries.

In the Georgia capital, attorneys for the Negro representative-elect who was denied his seat Monday, worked on their lawsuit. Indications were that it would be filed Wednesday in federal court.

Bond was barred by the Georgia House after he refused to back down from endorsing a statement by the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee which denounced U.S. participation in Viet Nam as aggression and urged young men to seek alternatives to military service.

In Tuskegee, Ala., Marvin Segrest, 67, was released on $20,000 bond on a murder charge filed by the father of Samuel Young Jr., 21, a civil rights worker who was slain Jan. 3.

In Hattiesburg, Miss., Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. ordered around-the-clock efforts to arrest "these vicious and morally bankrupt criminals," responsible for the fire bomb death of a negro civil rights leader.

This was the governor's first comment since Vernon Dahmer died in Hattiesburg Monday of burns received several hours earlier when his rural home and grocery store were set afire.

cause of intense competition, are forcing producers of perishable products in Texas to take a broad new look at production and marketing practices.

"They place emphasis on quality," he said, declaring that "quality actually supercedes price. If the producer cannot give chain stores the quality they want, the producer is just about out of the picture."

Powell urged producers to learn better marketing procedures and to take an active part in seeing that their products reach consumers' tables in top quality condition.

"Growers have a vital stake in methods of handling and shipping their fruits and vegetables from the time they leave the farm until they reach the housewife's table," he emphasized.

Powell said promotional programs for specific products at home should be encouraged along with efforts to establish a favorable reputation in foreign markets.

He also said all Texas products should be labeled as such "to create an image in the consumer's mind that Texas does produce a quality product."

Specific Purpose
Varieties should be used that will produce a quality product that is preferred for various uses," he advised. "By this I mean allocation of acreage for processing or fresh market and so on. Grow the commodity for a specific purpose or use."

Powell said a closer check should be kept on the harvest dates of specific commodities at other geographic locations to avoid putting Texas products on the market at the same time where possible.

"It's inevitable that Texas must do more packaging at the producer or packing shed level," he continued. "The package must be attractive, of various sizes and definitely labeled."

Powell said much Texas produce which is of good quality loses its identity before reaching the consumer. He said retailers in most cases are not even aware of the products origin.

"We can be assured of one thing—a product that is grown in California or Florida does not lose its identity," he asserted.

The specialist said small growers should pool their respective commodities for marketing to "have a better chance of attracting buyers that only purchase in volume, such as buyers for large chain store operations."

Other Speakers
Joseph E. Ward, a marketing specialist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Fort Worth, told the group that "the food business is tough, competitive and fast moving."

Ward is in regulatory work with the USDA's fruit and vegetable division.

"No one succeeds in this business by simply buying or renting land, planting the seeds and harvesting the crop," he said, stressing that successful growers must have an adequate knowledge of marketing.

Dr. Robert Berry, plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, presided at the morning session. Dr. John Larsen, a horticulturist at Texas A&M, was chairman for the afternoon program.

Robert Reed of Texas Tech and Dr. Jack H. Kyle of the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock reported on results of vegetable research on the South Plains during the past year.

Orval D. McCoy, vegetable crops specialist with the University of California's Imperial Valley Field Station at El Centro, reported on recent developments in vegetable crops production. Other speakers included representatives of seed firms and chemical companies.

California In Senate Shuffle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—

The State Supreme Court approved Tuesday reapportionment of the California Legislature giving control of the Senate as well as the Assembly to Southern California.

The court in an unanimous decision said the plan worked out by the legislature last fall meets the constitutional standards set by the court.

The reapportionment, based on the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision, transfers control of the 40-seat Senate from Northern to heavily-populated Southern California.

Los Angeles County, which had one senator, now gets 14%. Southern California already controlled the 80-member Assembly.

Shastri

Tashkent, U.S.S.R., Monday after signing an agreement with President Ayub Khan of Pakistan to seek better relations.

Several hours before the cremation time, the body of the 5-foot-2 leader was brought to a veranda between two sections of the official residence, the platform inclined so his remains would be more plainly visible to the sea of mourners. Special fluorescent lights illuminated the body through the night as millions streamed through.

Shastri was honored in death with India's highest tribute, the Bharat Ratna—Jewel of India. President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan announced he had planned to confer it on Shastri Jan. 26, India's Republic Day, but that now it had been awarded posthumously.

Shastri's Successor
Shastri's successor, Guzarilal Nanda, pledged that India will honor the agreement Shastri concluded with Pakistan.

As home minister and ranking Cabinet member, Nanda became prime minister in accordance with tradition. A meeting of the ruling Congress party members of Parliament, planned in the near future, will decide whether Nanda or someone else will carry on as prime minister until elections in 1967.

Official documents refer to Nanda as "prime minister of India"—not acting prime minister, the title he had held several weeks after Nehru died in 1964 and before Shastri took office.

Delegations of the great and near great from around the world hurried to New Delhi to represent their nations at the state funeral and cremation rites. Among those assigned were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, heading a U.S. delegation, and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, who had presided at the Tashkent meeting.

A Soviet Aeroflot Ilyushin 18 jet liner brought Shastri's body to the Indian capital. The body, draped with the Indian tricolor, was placed atop a flower-decked gun carriage, and was borne by a military escort along the 12 miles into the capital and up to the official residence. Millions lined the route. There was not a gap in the solid wall of humanity. In some places the crowd was 100 or more persons deep.

LEAPS FROM BRIDGE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—

The 23rd leap to death from the 28-year-old Golden Gate Bridge was made Tuesday. Three minutes later the Coast Guard recovered the body of Waverly F. McGhee, 46, San Francisco.

Klan Organized

In Austin, Says Student Journal

AUSTIN (AP)—The Daily Texan, student newspaper of the University of Texas, said today a Ku Klux Klan unit of at least 25 persons recently was chartered for Austin.

The Texan quoted a part-time university student, 23, as saying he formed the local unit.

The student said the formations of the Austin Klavern of the United Klans of America, Inc., was disclosed when Smith visited the Texan office with a handout saying Royce McPahill, grand dragon of Texas, would speak in Austin Feb. 22.

Led March
McPahill, a Crockett insurance man, was leader of a downtown Austin march Nov. 8 of 31 robed by unmasked Klansmen in support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam. The marchers were heckled by several thousand spectators, many of them university students, who held an impromptu football pep rally while McPahill tried to read a statement on the Capitol steps.

The Texan quoted Smith as saying he started trying to form the Klan unit here in June, 1964, the first effort so far as he knew since the Austin Klan died in 1925. He said he was not able to get the required 25 members for a Klavern until after the November KKK march.

Smith told the Texan he is unemployed and had lost three jobs recently because employers found out about his Klan activities.

Plainsmen Defeat Lubbock By 47-41

Monterey Defense Aids Win

Late Westerner Rally Thwarted

By CARLTON STOWERS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
Coach Gerald Myers' Monterey Plainsmen blended a dead-eyed offensive bombardment with an aggression-packed defensive performance Tuesday night and rolled past cross-town rival Lubbock High, 47-41, as an estimated crowd of 5,500 looked on in frenzied excitement.

The victory moved the MHS combo into sole possession of second place in District 3-AAAA circles behind unbeaten winner Amarillo High. Monterey climaxed its first round efforts with a 7-1 mark while the Westerners, 6-2, finished third.

Though Monterey commanded the encounter after a deadlocked first quarter, the outcome remained in doubt until late in the final period as Coach Max O'Banion's Westerners chopped away at the MHS lead and stayed within striking range until the final three minutes of the 23rd installment of the historic series.

Hardin Leads MHS
Monterey, working for the sure-thing shots, recorded a nifty 50 per cent from the floor as Steve Hardin and Craig Wright led the scoring parade with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Rebounding, however, provided the edge for the winners. With Wright hauling down 10 and Hardin credited with seven, the Plainsmen cleared the boards 24 times while the Westerners were able to control but 17.

Wesley Verner and Don Burrell shared scoring honors for LHS with 13 and 12 points respectively. Verner, Nello Armstrong and Burrell took re-

By LEW BULLION
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff
There was hardly a speck of dust visible in Monterey Gym Tuesday but the Coronado Mustangs formed quite a stampede in running all over the visiting Caprock junior varsity, 78-38, to even the local cage crew's record at 8-all for the year and 3-6 in loop trials.

Ron DeShirlia was Coach Carl McMillan's big gun, hitting often from his 5-7 vantage point for 18 points. Rodney Craddick and Lynn Shuttlesworth lent an added boost to the scoring spree with dozen point performances apiece.

The locals had a ball in the first half, and for that matter in the second also, hitting above the 50 per cent mark from the floor in the initial pair of quarters and somewhere around 48 per cent in the

No Surprises In NCAA Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ivy Williamson, chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Football Rules Committee, said Tuesday he expects "no major upheavals . . . no surprises" when his committee meets this weekend in New Orleans, La.

However, he said that if the NCAA convention passes by a substantial margin today a University of New Mexico resolution calling for a return to one-platoon football "we would give that consideration."

The proposal for an end to offensive and defensive teams comes up for floor action at a general session of the 60th annual NCAA convention.

Williamson agreed with a news conference questioner who reminded him that when the NCAA called for a return to one-platoon football in 1953 the rules committee had complied.

The NCAA Football Rules Committee meets for three days starting Saturday in New Orleans.

The Football Coaches Rules Committee met Monday and urged that no major changes be made this year. Chairman Jack

BURLESON PREDICTS

Hawks' Clamor To Mount If Dove's Efforts In Vain

By ED JOHNSON
Avalanche-Journal Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — The Texan who ranks third in seniority on the House Foreign Affairs Committee predicts the American public will clamor for the hawk's attack if the current peace dove falls flat in Viet Nam.

Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson reasons that the nation cannot rationalize its limited war forever—that public opinion will demand a solution as American casualties in the rice paddies and jungles mount.

He sees the Johnson peace offensive leading to one of two courses. The Burleson alternatives are a settlement or total war in Viet Nam short of nuclear weapons.

Might Be First Step
"Our genuine effort to find a peaceful solution could be the first stage of prolonged talks during which the war itself could take a lower key, a de-escalation aspect," the congressman said.

He noted that the U.S. obviously took the first step in suspension of bombing and that the next move is up to North Viet Nam. Its obvious move is to halt the flow of men and materiel to the South.

Burleson feels that the signs are not encouraging, that we must face the strong possibility that the peace dove will be shot down.

"In that case, the next thing is to really clobber them," he said.

He opined that in that eventuality President Johnson would want and get the strong support of Congress. The lawmakers could show their strength through a resolution backing further escalation or by voting larger sums of money for the war effort. Burleson said Johnson wouldn't lose more than 10 votes on the Hill.

Would Go All Out
"We would have to show that we would go all out to get it over, that is, short of nuclear weapons," the congressman said.

That would encompass the end of selective bombing. The capital city of Hanoi, the port of Haiphong, factories, dams, all would be fair targets, he said.

Burleson is willing to risk going to the brink with its danger of Red China and the Soviet Union plunging totally into the conflict.

Brinkmanship also jeopardizes our friendship with non-communist nations around the globe. We would have to bear the taunts about a giant smashing a tiny nation.

Risks Must Be Taken
"We would have to run those risks. If the war is prolonged over the years, it will become more difficult to rationalize with more and more Americans dying over there," Burleson said.

He claimed that our whole foreign policy since World War II has been rationalized by "ifs" and that our shaky world situation today has resulted from our failure to use power when the situation demanded it.

He maintained that the American people would have a right to become exceedingly critical if a limited war continued as the alternative to negotiations or all-out conflict.

"The people would have the right to demand that we win the war or get out," he said.

Two Sustain Knife Wounds

A Negro teen-ager and a Latin American man received knife wounds, and another Lubbock man was shot in three separate instances of violence here Tuesday.

Rudolph Buricaga, 25, 2403 E. 10th St. was taken to Methodist Hospital by Henderson Funeral Directors ambulance after a cutting incident near Quirt Ave. and E. 19th St. about 6:30 p.m.

Hospital attendants said he was released after wounds on his back, side and arm were sewed up. Between 65 and 75 stitches were necessary to close the wounds. No arrests of suspects in the attack had been made Tuesday night.

Youth Arrested
Farris Cage, 16, 1313 E. Main Pl. was stabbed below his right shoulder in a fight near his home about 6 p.m. He was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital where he was listed in fair condition Tuesday night.

Police arrested a 15-year-old youth a short time later and were holding him for county juvenile authorities Tuesday night.

Jack Lloyd, 41, 2302 Ave. H was listed in fair condition at Methodist Hospital Tuesday night after undergoing surgery for removal of a bullet from his abdomen.

Lloyd was shot in an incident in the 3100-block of Bates St. about noon Tuesday. Police said a 42-year-old woman turned over a pistol and a statement was taken from her. However, no arrest was made, officers said.

Deliberation To Continue Today
A personal injury suit growing out of a car-pedestrian accident here Aug. 2, 1964, went to the jury in 140th District Court here Tuesday, but the jury was sent home after several hours of deliberation failed to produce a verdict.

The jury of five men and seven women will continue deliberation at 9 a.m. today.

In the suit, Carla Daniel, 3, acting through her father, William Daniel as next friend, and Daniel, acting individually, seek $25,000 judgment against Richard H. Pettyjohn. The petition alleges the child was struck by a pickup truck driven by Pettyjohn in the 3500-block of 33rd St. Judge Robert H. Bean is presiding.

A workmen's compensation suit in 117th District Court was recessed until 9:30 a.m. today after part of the testimony had been completed.

The suit, filed by Jose Rangel against Maryland Casualty Co. seeks a judgment of $14,035. Rangel alleges he is totally and permanently disabled as a result of a fall July 21, while he was employed by H. C. Lewis. Judge James A. Ellis is presiding.

Relatives Attempt To Locate Father Of Gunshot Victim

Relatives of a former Lubbock man, accidentally shot Monday night in Austin, are attempting to locate the victim's father owing to the seriousness of the wound.

Efforts to locate M. E. Dunlap, who formerly resided at 4310 Ave. S. Tuesday were fruitless. Dunlap, who is in the truck jack repair business, reportedly left the Lubbock area Christmas week to find work in Abilene.

His son, Kenneth, 23, was in critical condition late Tuesday from a gunshot wound in the stomach. Relatives said a pistol apparently discharged while he was cleaning it.

Young Dunlap's mother resides at 1918 15th St.

His father's sister, Mrs. C. A. Shipman, lives at 2621 2nd St.

Persons with information regarding the whereabouts of Dunlap are urged to contact Mrs. Shipman immediately.
