New Methods Offered City Solving Water Problem

of the engineering and Nichols, Fort Haskell City and offered four plans to the water board. One was to build a small lake on North Paint Creek. According to estimates of the firm, there would be a drainage area of 73 square miles. This would be as little as you would want to figure on for a surface water supply for a city the size of Haskell. However, he said, while this would handle the needs of the city comfortably and while the water is of good quality, the lake would not be large enough to support an industry, such as a utilities company or to sell water to another town. Haskell also would have to bear the burden of the cost of building without help.

OUT ON A LIMB
By CHARLENE WHITE

Haskell youth outdid themselves Halloween being models of perfect behavior. A great deal of the credit goes to school officials for the party, the local merchants and the psychology used by Sheriff Bill Pennington and Police Chief Tom Barnett.

Though the pranksters were kept busy, the younger set was surely out in full force and "Trick or Treat" was heard with it seemed, every tick of that blasted cuckoo clock. About 50 goblins visited the White menage. Several dozen cookies had been baked in preparation, but these gave out about 8 p. m. and more had to be hurriedly thrown together.

Several of the local residents were caught by surprise it would seem. Mrs. Tully Mitchell bought a sack of candy and some bubble gum. If that weren't enough, she figured she had some old hard apples she could palm off on the kids. (It was dark, they'd never know the difference.) In an hour, the candy, gum and apples were gone and the cupboards were bare except for some popcorn. She popped the corn, one arm holding off her husband who kept trying to snatch a handful. "At first I gave the children a large handful, then four pieces, then two and there at the last I just tossed in a few old grains of corn."

One little fellow just tried to cover too much territory or maybe he was stocking up for a long hard winter. He walked and walked, his sack getting heavier until Haskell County for the establishment of a German and Swede Colony.

Alexander Mercantile Company has moved their dry goods into their new stone building on the southwest corner of the square. Simmons Livery Stable has added a new Wagonette transfer which meets all trains coming into and leaving Haskell. It can conveniently accommodate ten passengers in addition to their baggage.

R. A. Lackey of the south side was in town Wednesday. He says farmers in his section are making good headway in gathering a bumper cotton crop.

finally he reached the D. V. Hiebert home. "Kin I sit down, a minute? My feet hurt." In order to get the Free Press out early Thursday morning, the staff stayed at the office a couple hours later than usual Wednesday. (Started to say worked, but the boss knows better, anyway.) The back door was open and a ghost and a pirate wandered in; the pirate leering at the girls. Dwana Klose, wide-eyed, whispered, "Those aren't kids!" She was wrong. The kids were Mr. and Mrs. Hub Merchant.

If there is one thing as sure as death and taxes, it must be "them as has, gets." Mrs. Barney Frazier won the combination dishwasher and sink Friday at Eynum's Grand Opening drawing. And them with a secret, probably. Almost as bad as "Shady" Lane winning that reclining chair at Jones-Cox drawing. Reckon there's some collusion going on around here. You notice White's name never turns up on those things.

Texas Rangers Get Fastest Pursuit Cars on Road

DALLAS—The Texas Rangers, scourge of the western badmen for more than a century, recently received new mounts which are said to be the fastest police pursuit cars on the nation's highways.

Fourteen of the Rangers, including Col. Homer Garrison, Director of Department of Public Safety, and Chief R. A. (Bob) Crowder, took delivery of the specially-built Dodge D-500 Texas police cars with 225 horsepower engines. The trunk compartment of the D-500 Texan is more than six feet wide and provides all the space necessary for the saddles, armament, and assorted equipment each Ranger must carry in his line of duty.

The Rangers still pack pearl-handled revolvers, wear high heel boots and big hats, and ride horses; for "Ole Paint has not been put out to pasture," according to Chief Crowder, but is transported in trailers behind these new powerful patrol cars.

Local Reserve Officers Observe Training Being Given Under New Army Program

Lieutenant Colonel Herman K. Henry, Commanding Officer of the 375th Replacement Battalion, and Major Wm. E. Lawson, Executive Officer, were members of a group of Reserve Officers sent from Texas recently to observe the training being given the 17 and 18 year olds at Fort Chaffee, Ark. The 17 and 18 year olds are members of the Armed Forces acted under the Reserve Forces Act who go on active duty for six months after graduation from high school then spend the remaining 7½ years of their military obligation serving at home.

Buick Introduces New Styling in 1957 Models

Buick this week introduced a new line of cars for 1957 packed with more engineering and styling changes than any previous model in Buick history.

The new Buick line features all-new roomier bodies, bolder designed in smart, new "dream car" styling, new and more powerful V-8 engines, and a completely new chassis with improved ride and handling.

All of the new cars have been reduced in height. Some models are as much as three and three-eighths inches lower than last year, without any sacrifice in ground clearance. Headroom remains the same and legroom has been increased in the four-door hardtops.

The variable pitch Dynaflo transmission, which has proved such a spectacular success, is continued as standard equipment on the Roadmaster, Super and Century, and optional on the Special.

The new styling presents dramatic new front and rear design bigger panoramic windshields with a more rakish slant to the pillars, new bumpers both front and rear, and three-piece back windows on the Special, Century and Roadmaster.

ported that the training is quite different and a large improvement over the training given during World War II and Korea. Instructors and officers who train the 17 and 18 year olds are hand-picked and there are very few who do not possess the educational level of college-trained professors. The training consists of eight weeks of basic, eight weeks of advanced training, which at Fort Chaffee consists of basic artillery instruction. In the third phase of training the trainees will become a part of the artillery and fulfill the job that would be expected of him in combat, such as a whole there are four specialist schools for which a trainee may qualify. These are: Administrative, Supply, Motors and Radio-Telephone. Any one of these schools would equip a man to obtain a job as a skilled man in the profession and would cost $500 to $600 to obtain in a private school.

Regulation and privileges to RFA men are almost the same as those for active army personnel. Pension, compensation, death gratuity, hospital benefits and life insurance are all provided for the 17 and 18 year olds. They are also authorized 15 days leave during this 6 months active duty period.

One of the most impressive things about the training, according to Col. Henry and Major Lawson is that the boys gain an average of 15 to 25 pounds during the six months period. According to Major General Dunn, Commanding General of Ft. Chaffee, the boys are given better treatment than at home. RFA trainees are in bed by 9 o'clock each night and are not allowed off the post for the first four weeks. The boys enjoy a full program of plenty of well prepared food, various entertainment consisting of first run movies, name bands and entertainers and last but not least a full church program under the guidance of a chaplain of their faith.

And just to prove that this is a new Army the barbers all have guards on their clippers to prevent cutting the RFA's hair shorter than 1 inch.

Horned Owls Take Strong Fancy to Imported Quail

AUSTIN—A graphic description of field men's efforts to protect a shipment of Pakistan reared See-See partridges from raiding horned owls was reported to the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

The rare partridges, imported for experimental stocking in the Panhandle, were confined in out-purposes by mfd door pens preparatory to release. The predacious big owls apparently were attracted by housing the far eastern birds "in unnatural numbers."

The biologists, A. S. Jackson and Richard DeArment, said six of the attackers were taken, 3 in traps and 3 by gunfire.

One of the six caught had previously been snagged in a ground set trap and apparently had escaped with the trap, later losing both foot and the trap. Besides two horned owls temporarily detained at the See-See cages, escaped by twisting off the foot by which they were held.

Citing the viciousness of the raiding owls, the field men related how one horned tiger-bird caused the death of three partridges, apparently in the dark of night. Owl feathers were mingled with partridge feathers lodged in the wire mesh showing they deduced, that the owl had repeatedly charged into the barrier before becoming caught in the trap. This daring owl later was shot after it had lost the trap with a foot attached.

Interest Should Prompt All Veterans to Join Legion

Years a growing attack has been developing on veteran benefits of World Wars I and II and the Korean Conflict. It is time that every veteran should know how this attack operates, what it is and what they can do about it.

UNDER ATTACK

Groups of veterans are under the current attack and in losing their precious rights. An average veteran you probably get no vets' benefits today if you're a WW2 vet you probably used some of the benefits in the past . . . You may not know what protection you have.

RIGHTS

Benefits are available on the same sensible basis . . . If you are as well as the average veteran today, you have no right and cannot qualify for one.

SOUND AND SANE

The veterans' program is sound, sane, well regulated, modern and up well under honest study . . . There are no give-aways in it . . . The American Legion has always insisted, and has agreed, that each benefit should make sense and be recognized purpose.

CAN DO

Veterans and their widows do? It is for public opinion—organize. The American Legion and its Auxiliary make up the most solid organization today.

Paint Creek . . . Community News

MRS. GENE OVERTON
This week will finish our football schedule as far as conference games are scheduled and there are several "firsts" as to whether we play any more games. If we beat Weinert, and if Benjamin wins over Mattson, then we are the conference champions. But if we lose to Weinert and Mattson wins over Benjamin, then the Mattson Mustangs are champions. And if we win over Weinert, and Mattson wins over Benjamin then we tie for 1st place in the conference, and I suppose we'll flip a coin to see who plays Jayton in the Bi-District game. For the sake of this large group of Seniors on our ball club, and also for the sake of us who love to watch Paint Creek play ball, I hope we can win, and go on to Regional.

Monday night the board members and their wives were guests of the faculty at the regular meeting of the T.S.T.A. at the elementary school at Haskell. It was a dinner meeting, and after the dinner and business meeting there was a program of music by the Three Blind Mice of A.C.C. and an address by Lon Morris, president of A.C.C. Attending from Paint Creek were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sims, Paul Fischer, W. S. Owens, Gene Overton, Miss Beas Smith, Mrs. Lilla Hefflin, W. C. Taylor, Irene Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cook, and Pat Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Howard from Watsonville, California, spent several days last week with his brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Vernay Howard and Vern, and his mother, Mrs. M. B. Howard. Another brother, Merle, from Albany, came while they were here to be with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton Sr. attended the Halloween party for the office force and the board of the ASC which was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Royall Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones Sr. of Rule attended the Paint Creek-Vera game last Thursday.

Mrs. Jack Medford is under an oxygen tent at the Haskell Hospital, following a heart attack last week. Mrs. Medford is the mother of Mrs. Frank Underwood, and is one of our Paint Creek pioneers.

Margaret Fischer spent last weekend at Mattson with her grandmother, Mrs. Annie Peiser. Rudy Raughton of Baylor University spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Raughton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kuenstler of Odessa were guests of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuenstler. They also visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kuenstler and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Overton.

work. Dr. Bray is still in Japan. Our District supports the Brays in their work, and the churches from Rochester and Rule churches also attended the service.

Mrs. John Hisey entertained the little folks with a Halloween party Wednesday night. Everybody came masked and costumed and it took quite awhile for them to guess who was who. Especially was it hard for them to recognize Mrs. Owens and Mrs. Ballard. Refreshments of caramel apples, popcorn balls, punch, suckers and candy were served to Danny, Jeannine and Janice Isbell, Amelia and Ricky Perry, Phyllis Middlebrooks, Dody Earles, Frances and Nancy Jones, Ann and Randy Hise, Danny Carl Ivy, Joy Bergstrom, Carolyn, Melanie, Eloise and Donald Livengood, Linda Bean, Janay and Vicki Morrison, Albert Bittner, Garry and Gordon Don Harris, Bonnie Howard, Breda, Danny and Donnie Hise, the hosts and several of the mothers.

Pat Morrison, Rudy Raughton, Willie Lee Medford, Roddy Kuenstler and Arvie Bergstrom attended the game Saturday in Ft. Worth between TCU and Baylor University.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuenstler spent Wednesday in Abilene with his brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Vick Kuenstler. It was Vick's birthday and they helped celebrate.

Eight thousand more baby chicks were delivered to Haskell County last Saturday, but I have not heard whether the Ballards or the Middlebrooks received theirs. I think most of these went to Mattson farmers.

Mrs. O. G. Houston and her daughter, Mrs. O. G. Hughes helped another daughter, Mrs. Dempsey Bolding move to their new home on Hudson Road. This home is right next door to Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mickler.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hager Jr. and their children Kathy and Carolyn of Mattson visited their parents last week. Mr. and Mrs. John Grand and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hager. The Junior Hagers are moving to Brownfield soon where

The basketball game with Burleson was a lot of fun because the girls stayed all night with the Paint Creek girls. Mr. Morrison found out how many guests each Paint Creek family wanted, and sent the list to Mr. Williams. Then he assigned his girls to the families according to how he thought they would get along. It was so nice for the girls to get cards on Friday saying who their guest or guests would be. Then they met them at the school when they came at five and took them home with them for supper. After the games (one B team, one which we won, and one A team which we won) they served sandwiches and cookies in the lunchroom and took the girls home to spend the night with them. Mr. Williams came by in the Burleson bus and took them home about 8 Saturday morning. He thought Mr. Morrison wasn't such a nice host to have him drive 200 miles and then beat his team so badly. But maybe we'll give them another chance sometime. Mr. Morrison just has a good team this year. Cynthia Russell was high point girl, and since she didn't play much last year, Mr. Williams said she was our secret weapon.

At the football game with Vera last Thursday at the halftime Sue Shaw was presented and introduced as our football sweetheart. She was presented a bouquet of mums by Nellie Walton, Sue Watson and Alice Early were her attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery were in College Station last weekend to visit their son and family. Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery and son John Paul, attended the A&M-Arkansas football game. John Paul came home with them to stay until Thanksgiving holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Estle Gileland spent last week in Tulsa, sowing wheat on their place there. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pitcock of Seymour named their new baby daughter Theresa LuAnn. Mrs. Pitcock is the former Rayleen King.

Paint Creek Laces Vera 78-18; Heads Into Clash With Weinert Saturday

By William Overton

On Saturday, November 10, Paint Creek goes to Weinert to meet the Bulldogs in a game which has become an annual favorite.

Last week, the Pirates had little difficulty in carving out a 78 to 18 district victory over Vera at Paint Creek. The Pirates scored almost at will to keep themselves in their championship tie with Mattson.

Paint Creek pushed across their first touchdown with a pass from Leon Hokanson to Kenneth Carlton. Vera quickly scored twice with 45 and 69 yard runs by Benny Carl Coleston which put the Pilots ahead 12 to 6.

Eddie Lee Thane caught the kickoff and blazed over 70 yards for a TD bringing the score to a 12-12 tie. Thane moved the Pirates ahead when he caught a Hokanson pass on his own 35 yard line and made the score. Hokanson kicked the point.

Later an interception by Waller Overton set up a score for Paint Creek by Burl Medford who caught a pass, shook off three Vera players and crossed for the TD. Thane scored with a pass from Hokanson who converted and Eddie Earles drove across another touchdown to bring the halftime score to a 40 to 12 Paint Creek lead.

At their between-halves performance, the Paint Creek Pep Squad presented the football queen for 1936, Sue Shaw, a senior this year at Paint Creek.

In the third quarter, an interception by Kandel Watson made possible another Eddie Earles TD. Hokanson kicked the point. Dub Sims made a score for the Pirates in this quarter, as did Burl Medford, and the frame ended with the score 62 to 12.

In the fourth quarter, Don Hager grabbed a pass by Leon Hokanson for a Pirate score. The Pilots made their third and last touchdown with a beautiful 50 yard pass from Nobby Trainer to Jim Frank Coleston. A final Kenneth Carlton TD on a kickoff and a Hokanson conversion made the final score 78-18.

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car— it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite! For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come. You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dreambook: a Key-board Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957—soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

MRS. JOE MACK DUNN

Terry Ann Bynum, Joe Mack Dunn Repeat Wedding Vows in Church Ceremony Nov. 3

Wedding vows were repeated by Terry Ann Bynum and Joe Mack Dunn in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in this city at eight o'clock Saturday evening, Nov. 3.

The Rev. M. D. Rexrode, pastor, officiated for the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurmond Bynum of Haskell and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dunn of Abilene.

The couple exchanged vows before an arch of lemon leaves intertwined with white mums and white gladioli. In the center of the arch hung two white styrafoam wedding bells tied with white satin ribbon. The arch was flanked by tall white tapers burning in wrought iron candelabra. Tall baskets of white mums and white gladioli and lemon leaves graced the altar on each side. White satin bows marked the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original creation of exquisite imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over layers of net and white satin. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace was designed with an intricate portrait neckline with Queen Ann collar. The long fitted sleeves tapered to a fine point over the bride's hands and were fastened at the wrist with a row of tiny lace covered buttons. Tiny lace buttons accented the back of the waist and drifted into the skirt below the waistline. The pointed waistline in the front was set into the translucent bouffant ballerina skirt of tiers of hand-clipped lace on tiers of nylon tulle. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was shirred to a double crown of white satin, embroidered with iridescent sequins, rhinestones and pearls. Her braided bouquet was a cascade of white feathered carnations with white satin streamers.

Her shoes were of white satin. For something old and borrowed the bride wore on her right hand a gold wedding band belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Allen D. Adams. For something new she wore a tiny silver cross, a wedding gift from the groom. Something blue was a satin and lace garter, a gift from her mother.

For a lucky charm she had a new penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Frank W. Martin, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Rice Alvis Jr., of Abilene, who sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Martin played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bride entered on the arm of her father, and "Clare de Lune" during the wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Kenneth Stapleton of Fort Worth, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Her dress was of yellow imported organza over yellow taffeta. The waistline was accented with a cummerbund. The full skirt was streep length. She carried a cascade of yellow feathered carnations with yellow satin streamers. Her headpiece was fashioned on a bandeau of yellow satin with net ruffles forming a bonnet effect. Orange blossoms nestled through the center of the net ruffles and formed rosettes on each side of her headpiece. A tiny band of silver spray outlined the net ruffles.

Miss Sherry Lou Bynum of Dallas, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a pink imported organza over pink taffeta. Her dress was fashioned similar to that worn by the matron of honor. She carried a cascade of pink feathered carnations with pink satin streamers. Her headpiece was exactly like the one worn by the matron of honor.

Mrs. Jim Sorenson of Abilene was bride's matron. She wore a dress of mint green imported organza over mint green taffeta, designed similarly to the dresses worn by the other attendants. Her headpiece was designed similar to the others. Mrs. Sorenson carried a cascade of mint green feathered carnations with mint green satin streamers.

Miss Elaine Middleton, junior bridesmaid, wore a pink velvet dress, fashioned by her mother, Mrs. Alton Middleton. It was designed with a round neck and was sleeveless. Tiny pearl buttons accented the front of the waist. Rows of ruffles made the full ballerina length skirt. Her headpiece was of pink velvet accented with tiny flowers.

Little Miss Belinda Stapleton of Fort Worth, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a dress of ice blue organza over taffeta. Her headpiece was of pink satin and net with tiny flowers nestled through the center.

Ringbearer was Mike Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Robertson of Abilene. The rings were carried on a white satin pillow designed and made by Mrs. Hayden McDonald.

Ken Stapleton of Fort Worth, brother-in-law of the bridegroom was best man. Groomsmen were Jim Sorenson of Abilene and David Jones of Haskell. Bobby Segog and Floyd Self of Haskell and Rice Alvis of Abilene served as ushers. Candelighters were Floyd Self and Tommy Dunn.

All male attendants wore buttoned-up white carnations. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The reception table was laid with a Madeira cloth centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses, white bells, topped by a miniature bride and groom inside a white styrafoam wedding bell.

The attendant's cascades in the chosen colors decorated the reception table. Pink and white carnations and greenery decorated the reception room. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

Holiday Snack Server

Most Christmas fixins are planned weeks ahead so guests will always be welcome and snacks and holiday cookies are always on hand. However, all the delicious foods shouldn't be reserved for guests. You'll find it's as much fun to have some surprise snacks when your family is home watching TV in the evening.

And while everyone is decorating the Christmas tree or wrapping gifts they'll love steaming chocolate to drink with tasty Christmas snacks to nibble on. Simple, easy to make snack foods become something special when they're radiating from a snowball centerpiece you can make yourself.

You'll find the white plastic foam balls hold party picks firmly in place and Christmas greens and decorative tree balls add a festive touch to the tablepiece. Use it for a party buffet or on the coffee table for before-dinner hors d'oeuvres. Fresh garden flowers replacing the evergreen make it a year around decoration.

At your own family party serve gay miniature kabobs on multi-colored toothpicks. Skewer one stuffed olive, a minced ham cube, and a cheese circle all topped with a tangy pickled onion. Be sure to have plenty of cream cheese balls rolled in bits of dried beef and crown other picks with party sausage and all-time favorites, carrot curls and ripe olives.

You'll find the lightweight plastic foam used for the snack holder in sheet form and balls at your local variety store. For the circular base invert a dinner plate on a one-inch thick sheet and cut around it with a sharp paring knife. Then with adhesive glue or toothpicks attach the large half ball (also cut in half with a knife) to the base. For extra sparkle brush glue on the balls and sprinkle with glitter.

Mrs. Payne was the program director for the day and told of "English Settlements" pointing out on a world map the route taken by the Pilgrims from England to America and the settlements in several states. Mrs. C. O. Holt explained "Why The English Colonies Were Founded", and Mrs. Bill Lane told of "Apostles of Religious Freedom."

Present at the meeting were: Mesdames C. V. Payne, Fred Gresham, C. O. Holt, J. U. Fields, C. L. Lewis, R. C. Couch, Sr., Earl Aitchison, Ada Rike, J. G. Vaughter, Fred Monke, Mary Sue Wilson, H. T. Art Exhibit From ACC Displayed at Study Club Meet

An interesting art exhibit was displayed by Miss Juanita Tittle, head of the Art Department in Abilene Christian College and two of her senior students, Wallace Collier of Houston and Glenn Webb of Abilene, to the Progressive Study Club on Thursday night, Nov. 1 in the Homemaking Cottage.

"We think of art as a painting on the wall, but it is something we do every day," stated Miss Tittle. "Actually it communicates something. Nature is one thing, paint another which can be put on canvas, but nature cannot. Nature can be interpreted and expressed in one's own personality."

Mr. Collier and Mr. Webb, who are senior art majors, conducted an open discussion on different medias of art as well as showing some of their own works and of other students in painting and ceramics. It was very interesting as well as informative.

Mrs. H. L. Perkins directed group singing with Mrs. Wilda Medford as accompanist.

The Brotherhood members and their wives of St. Paul's Lutheran Church enjoyed a fish fry in the church basement Sunday night. It had been planned for the Haskell Park, but the weather was unsuitable, so it was held in the basement.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stegemoller, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stegemoller and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Raphael and Erna and Walter Schaaek of Stamford, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reed and sons in Sweetwater Sunday.

Distinctive New Mercurys to Be Shown Nov. 12

Introducing "dream car" design, the 1957 Mercurys are distinguished by an unusually low silhouette, a completely new and larger body, choice of 225 hp. Safety-Surge V-8 or 290 hp. Turnpike Cruiser engine and a unique new floating ride which pioneers air-cushion rear suspension on many models.

The 1957 models will be introduced in dealer showrooms Monday, Nov. 12.

"These new Mercurys introduce a new concept of motoring with bold, new styling and many mechanical advances to influence the shape of cars for years to come," said F. C. Reith, Ford Motor Co. vice president and Mercury general manager.

"Designed to provide unequalled driving ease, comfort, safety and performance for motorists on America's turnpikes and freeways as well as on rutty, rural roads or city streets, they represent one of the most extensive model changes in the history of the automotive industry.

"We are confident they will present Mercury's greatest challenge for public favor."

Mercury's long, flowing lines are highlighted by graceful, sculptured side projectiles topping low rear fenders and terminating in massive V-angle tail-lights which make Mercury unmistakable on any road.

Local Teachers to Attend Conference in Austin

Miss Madalin Hunt, president, and Mrs. K. H. Thornton, vice president of the Haskell Classroom Teachers Association will drive to Austin Friday to attend a conference sponsored by the Texas Classroom Teachers Association and the Texas Education Agency.

The session will be held in Stephen F. Austin High School, Saturday, Nov. 10.

Reports from four state-wide committees who have been working on specific problems concerning the improvement of education will be presented, and the results discussed.

The conference this year will hold discussion groups on instructional problems in several subject matter fields. A committee from the Texas Classroom Teachers Association suggested the discussion topics that they thought needed the study and interest of the teachers. These topics will receive serious consideration, and revisions of the curriculum will be recommended.

All teachers who have registered for the conference have been sent advance programs and study guides.

Jennings H. Flathers, president of Texas Classroom Teachers Association will preside for the general assembly. J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, will address the gathering. Former Haskell Woman Writes of Work With Good Will Center in Port Arthur

A former Haskell resident, Mrs. Faye Thompson, who is now living in Port Arthur, has written Haskell friends concerning her work there in a Good Will Center maintained by the Southeast Texas Baptist Association.

Mrs. Thompson teaches kindergarten in the Center from Monday through Friday, 9:30 to 11:00 a. m. Then she does Religious Educational work with other groups, which includes weekly meetings of primary and junior groups, with plans in the making to extend this program to include intermediates and young people groups during November.

"The Good Will Center is sponsored by the Southeast Texas Baptist Association, which has more than sixty churches," Mrs. Thompson writes. "The Center is not affiliated with the Southern Baptist Mission Board, but is patterned after the Good Will Center work that the Board promotes."

"I am a member of the Baptist Temple, which is a Mexican church. The pastor is Angou and he and his wife and four children and myself are the only Anglos who belong. We are building a beautiful little church at this time, and in the meantime are worshipping in an Odd Fellows Hall. Sunday services and Wednesday night services are held there, while our W. M. S. and youth organizations meet in homes. The Brotherhood meets at the building site, have a Scripture reading and prayer, then work is their program."

"The four largest Baptist Churches in Port Arthur have a Rescue Mission downtown and the men who are ministered to are told of the church work and those who are physically able are invited to come out and work. It is surprising how many have come out for several days work. The pastor, Rev. Frank Johnson, reads the Scripture each morning and then has prayer before the start of the day's work. Some of the men prove to be real good carpenters. The evils of drink are on every hand and many who come to the rescue mission are victims of alcoholism."

"I have Mexican, French, Korean, Italians and Germans among the 28 I have enrolled in kindergarten. Some are mixed nationalities because of war marriages."

"We have a group of mothers who meet each Wednesday morning. They do handwork and have Bible study. Also they are served refreshments and have a social period. It is an inspiring sight to see a group representing so many nationalities come together and find so much in common. A lady comes from Port Neches and teaches the Bible lesson, and another from a local church teaches handwork. A sewing machine has been given to the Center recently, and she will teach them the use of patterns and simple sewing."

Mrs. Thompson relates that although she will always consider Haskell "home" she is enjoying her work and that Port Arthur is a delightful place in which to live. Her address is 1428 Houston St., Port Arthur.

Don't take chances and see that fellow hunters respect and obey the same safety rules you follow, says Cooper.

Pecan Continues As Popular Food From Early Days

By F. W. MARTIN, County Agent

The Indians who inhabited the southern United States recognized the pecan as a valuable kind of food. They used it in a variety of ways: one was to provide food during the winter months. One was to make a broth for seasoning venison, hominy and corn cakes. They also used them to make a powerful intoxicating drink. The Spanish prince, Don Vaca was fed pecans and wild berries along with other things by the Indians who held him captive.

During the past thirty years, the commercial production of pecans in the United States has increased from forty to fifty million pounds annually to one hundred and eighty-five million pounds. This means that the early day popularity of the pecan has continued to the present day.

The popularity of a food material depends upon several factors.

1. The pecan, shelled or unshelled, is freely available on the markets. The kernels can, by proper storage, be kept in good edible condition easily for one year.

2. Pecans fresh from the shell are a clean food. The pecan kernels as handled in a modern shelling plant are steamed, shelled, sterilized and packed without being touched.

3. Pecan kernels are high in food value. The kernels are 75% oil, which is about the same as butter. They contain about 10% protein, and about 22% carbohydrate. They have only 3% water when fully mature. The mineral content compares favorably with that of many other fruits and vegetables. The pecan is an energy food; one pound of kernels produces over 3,800 calories.

4. Pecan kernels are an appetizing food. They are good to eat, whether eaten out of hand, or with other foods they can have a place in the diet every day in the year. Enterprising housewives find a place for using them in

Student body of Junior High School staged a colorful ceremony for the coronation of the Football Queen, Suzanne Lane, and Football Hero, Kenny Neely. Taking part in the program were the Junior High School Band and Pep Squad. Janice Hattox is drum major of the band, and pep squad cheer leader leaders are Dorothea Rueffer, Beverly Helweg, Christy Royall, Barbara Worrell and Joan Watson.

The Pep Squad formed a stage for the coronation of the queen and hero, while the Junior High School Band formed an aisle through which the Queen made her entrance.

Attendants for the Queen and Hero were Delores Offield, accompanied to the stage door by Dorothea Rueffer and then escorted on the stage by Joel Nanny; Karen Adkins, accompanied to the stage door by Beverly Helweg, where she was met by her escort, Bobby Pierson; and Sandra Gentry, accompanied by Christy Royall and escorted on the stage by Buddy Conner.

Suzanne Lane, football Sweetheart, was escorted to the center of the stage by Joan Watson and Barbara Worrell. Miss Lane is president of the Pep Squad and was cheer leader last year.

The football hero, Kenny Neely, escorted Miss Lane to the center of the stage for the coronation ceremony. Red roses were presented to the football hero by co-captain Richard Long of the Junior High football squad.

Haskell, Weinert Couples Return From Deer Hunt

Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Liles of Weinert and Mr. and Mrs. John Kimbrough of Haskell have returned from a two weeks deer hunt at Camp Cuchara, Colo. They were joined there by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson of Haskell, and five deer were bagged by the party.

The Liles and the Kimbroughs attended a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Berger near LaVeta, Colo., and the menus each day consisted of wild game of the season.

The covering of nine inches of snow over the mountains and valleys was an unusual sight to the West Texans, while sledding and sight seeing were delightful experiences.

Wives Welcome No-Button Work Shirt That Saves Hours Of Care!

Newest work-saver for homemakers is the modern, buttonless work shirt now being sold in all reputable stores carrying work clothing and it gives greater freedom from mending and laundering than has been possible with the conventional button-equipped shirts.

Housewives who have faced regular button repair work over the years are finding these new shirts eliminate many laundering, ironing, and button-replacement problems. Gripper snap fasteners instead of buttons are on the shirt front and cuffs.

Metal snap fasteners do not crack or chip and, of course, button holes with their usual problems of wearing and fraying are eliminated completely.

These new work shirts stay cleaner in use because the wearer does not have to fumble all the way up the front with soiled hands to get such a shirt open. The snap fasteners hold firm and sure for the life of the shirt, yet it takes just a sudden tug to open the shirt all the way. This is considered an important safety feature for men working around moving machinery. If the shirt snags on something, it would give way rather than pull the man toward danger.

Indians

before being ran out on the two. Harris powered through on the next play, with a perfect boot by End John Sam Rike setting the halftime count at 13-0.

With four minutes left in the third, disaster struck the Eagles when David Duncan, alert Indian halfback, recovered a punt dropped by Richard Gowen, Eagle back, on the New Diana 21. With Harris, Starr and Fullback Jimmy Brock carrying, the Indians moved to the two, where Duncan plowed through left guard for the Tribe's third marker with Rike's perfect kick adding the point after.

Indians scoring in the fourth period was fired by Halfback Joe Decker when he took a handoff on the New Diana 41 and streaked 30 yards to the 11. Three carries by Gene Mullins, Decker and Starr moved to the two, and Quarterback Don Pennington on a sneaker hit pay dirt, with Rike turning in another perfect conversion kick.

With 2:20 left in the game a desperate drive by the Eagles was stymied when Halfback Duncan snared a New Diana pass on the Haskell 37 and on the next play Decker traipsed 43 yards to the 20. The Tribe powered to the one, where Brock plunged through for the Indian fifth TD and Rike added the point after.

Outstanding for the visitors on both offense and defense were Eagle Quarterback Larry Don Jones, and Backs Richard Gowen, Gerald Lancaster and Jimmy Westbrook.

Future Teachers Group Installs Officers

A regular meeting of the Future Teachers of Haskell High School was held in the Visual Aids room.

After a discussion of plans and projects for the year, Bobby Sego, chairman of the nominating committee read the names of the officers selected for the year, and all were elected by acclamation.

An impressive installation service was conducted by Mrs. Luther Burkett. On a lace aid table, four candles were lighted representing the National Education Association, the Texas Teachers Association, the Classroom Teachers Association, and the Future Teachers of America. The lighted candles represented the spirit of a united teaching profession. Each officer lighted her candle signifying her pledge to carry out the specific leadership duties of her office.

Mrs. Terry M. Diggs and Mrs. Burkett are to advise, guide, and provide realistic and happy experiences related to teaching. Officers for the year are: President, Norma Jean Gipson; vice president, Janice Hester; secretary, Sara Sue Roberson; treasurer, Vicki Medley; historian, Gayle Spain.

Fourteen members of the organization were present. The meeting was closed with the entire group giving the Future Teachers pledge.

Pecan growers are advised not to become unduly alarmed about the present market outlook for pecans. Prices later are expected to follow the trend of past years and if this happens, prices should pick up. Growers should harvest their pecans as early as possible to avoid losses from crows, squirrels and bad weather. The crop should be handled carefully to insure clean pecans of uniform high quality. New Dream Car Styling for Buick city finances was suggested by a Travis County grand jury last week. It was noted that the city furnishes police and fire protection and other governmental services to state institutions and buildings—all exempt from city taxes. . . . Texas contributions of $5,000 have been sent to Europe to help feed refugees in Hungary, according to John Gillies, Texas Director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program. . . . Request has gone to Washington for approval of 1957 Texas cotton acreage allotments, the Texas Agricultural and Conservation Committee has announced. Figures were not released. West Texas cotton farmers say they will be unable to repay their obligations and make a normal income unless their acreage quotas are increased. . . . Lawrence E. Ledbetter, superintendent of the Capitol buildings and grounds has retired after 38 years of state service. He was among 17 long-time employees of the Board of Control to retire at the same time. A new policy of that department makes retirement compulsory at the age of 72. Those leaving ranged in age from 70 to 82.

The classic design of Buick's new dream car styling for 1957 is exemplified in the Super four-door hardtop with its low silhouette and racy lines. Powered by a 300-horsepower V-8 engine, with 10-to-1 compression ratio, the Super is one of the most agile cars on the highway. Bigger panoramic windshields, roomier bodies and a completely new chassis are featured on all new Buicks. Buick's variable pitch Dynaflo transmission and power steering are standard on the Super.

Emergency Hay Benefits Absorbed By Higher Prices

Dissatisfaction with the new drought relief hay and feed concentrate program of the Federal Government is becoming evident from letters received by the Texas Department of Agriculture. Farmers are complaining that the monetary aid received was immediately devoured by a corresponding increase in hay prices. A price study by the Department seems to bear out the criticism. After four months of negotiations the Texas Emergency Drought Committee succeeded in attempts to get the Federal Government to reinstate a drought aid program in the state. The plan went into effect in October. It called for $7.50 per ton grants-in-aid for drought area farmers on hay or roughage purchases. In addition, a price reduction of $1.50 for each hundred pounds of feed concentrate in government storage was granted needy stock farmers. The State Committee, composed of farmers and leading agriculturalists strongly recommended that the government also inaugurate some temporary form of price controls on roughage and feeds. This phase of the program was neglected when the plan went into operation. Here are the results of price studies since that time. In June, when a new relief plan was suggested, grass hay was selling mostly at $33.70 per ton. In July, when the Federal Government would start a program, grass hay went to $38.20, and in September—when the program was a certainty—prices stood at $42.90. This $9.20 increase not only takes all of the $7.50 aid allotted to farmers, but makes it more expensive than when no program was in effect. The same was true to legume hay. June prices went from $34.80 to $39.60 in July and then to $48.10 per ton in September—an astounding increase of $13.30 per ton. Hulls jumped from $15.80 to $24.20 and mixed hulls and meal from $35.80 to $42.80 in the same period. Temporary controls would have gone a long way towards applying the relief money where it was intended.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Good news from Governor Allan Shivers. Texas' Governor reports that the State will begin the new biennium with a $50,000,000 surplus. He also advised the Texas Research League to whom he made the announcement, that under the same general budget now in use, a tax bill might be avoided by the upcoming legislature.

Four future needs were listed by the retiring governor, for the Legislature's consideration:

1. Full-time paid parole supervisors.
2. Authority to back up responsibilities placed on the governor.
3. Abolition of earmarked special funds.
4. A building for housing state archives.

Austin's biggest spotlight will, of course, be turned on the Capitol building come January. Arrival of a new Legislature will quicken the tempo of the city. Large turnovers in the summer primaries mean a horde of newcomers to both houses.

CRUSADE FOR ARCHIVES—Legislators likely will hear many pleas for a "permanent and proper home" for Texas archives.

Group after group has joined the crusade to protect the state's historical documents. Their theme: a remote Quonset hut is no fitting place to house the original Texas Declaration of Independence and William B. Travis' famous "victory or death" letter from the Alamo.

Besides being unhandy and unsuitable, say the crusaders, the hut is unsafe. It's the same building where Highway Department records burned two years ago. It's leaky, and some water already has seeped in and damaged some documents.

Texas State Historical Foundation is taking the lead in rallying its 400 members and other tradition-minded groups to seek legislative action. WATER MONEY SOUGHT—Texas Water Resources Committee is working against time to have a statewide water conservation program ready for the next Legislature.

Already approved by the committee is a proposed $10,000,000 appropriation to buy storage space in federal reservoirs.

Three other proposals are being re-written and will be taken up at a December meeting. They are (1) an anti-pollution bill to deal with contamination of underground water supplies, (2) a constitutional amendment to set up a $100,000,000 bond fund to finance local conservation projects and (3) an enabling bill to finance the bond revenue.

Also still being considered is a three-cent property tax with proceeds marked for water conservation. Some observers have suggested that several plans operating all at once will be needed to finance the kind of water program Texas needs. Texas League of Municipalities is backing a $300,000,000 program.

SAM HOUSTON SHRINE—Another request of the Legislature, this one from Huntsville, will be laid before both house in Austin, come January. Asked for will be $82,000 to add three new wings to the Sam Houston Memorial Museum, plus a $3,000 appropriation increase for maintenance.

GAS PRICING FORMULA—Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has filed a "friend of the court" brief in the case of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. vs. The City of Detroit. He wants the U. S. Supreme Court to review a decision by the court of appeals for the District of Columbia.

Shepperd's complaint is that the appeals court decision compels the FPC to use a gas pricing formula that penalizes small producers. "The Federal Government should not to have the power to fix Texas natural gas prices," Shepperd contended, "but if they assert that power, then the FPC should determine local prices on a local basis."

CHRISTMAS IS WHITE HOPE—Despite a steady four-months sales decline, Texas merchants still think Christmas will cure the year's average.

Opinion surveys by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research show that "typical merchants are confident that holiday business will surpass 1955 and that satisfactory volume can be expected well into 1957."

Latest figures pointed the other way. September sales were down

12 percent from a year ago, and the year as a whole was 6 percent under 1955. Slipping significantly from last year were: Automobiles, 28 percent; Food Stores, 18 percent; Furniture, 13 percent; Building Materials, 13 percent.

Bureau explanation in a nutshell: People bought so heavily in '55, they're having to use '56 income to pay off the installments.

FARMERS AT WORK—Wide-spread rains, though generally light, put farmers to work day and night. It was a chance to get winter crops in before the soil dried out again. But it wasn't soon enough, say agriculture experts, to prevent a hard winter for livestock owners.

"It's pretty late in the year for enough winter grazing to be produced. . . herds will require heavy supplemental feeding," said a spokesman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "But with additional moisture, farmers and ranchers can begin their 'come-back' next spring and summer."

SHORT SNORTS—Frank A. Driskill is the new administrative assistant to Land Commissioner Earl Rudder. Driskill, a Crockett businessman, succeeds Douglas Weitzel who went to Longview as an investigator in the district attorney's office. . . Six major air-sampling stations will operate in Texas after the first of the year, reports the State Department of Health. Sites will be Dallas, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, El Paso and Point O'Connor on the Gulf Coast. Air will be tested for sources and types of contamination. . . State assistance for Austin

Lag in Building, Consumer Spending, Affect Business

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 5—Declines in residential building and consumer spending for durable goods are the principal factors holding down the 1956 level of business, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports. Dr. John R. Stockton, Bureau director, gives the analysis in his monthly "Business Situation in Texas" survey in the current issue of Texas Business Review. "Sales of nondurable - goods stores have remained at the same average level in 1956 as in 1955, but durable-goods store sales during the first nine months of 1956 have averaged 15 per cent lower than in 1955," Dr. Stockton writes. "The greatest decline has been reported by automobile dealers, but furniture and appliance stores and building material stores also have registered a decline in volume of business," he continues. "Much consumer income has been taken to repay the extremely large volume of installment credit extended during 1955, particularly for the purchase of automobiles. "The decline in durable goods sales during 1956 is without much doubt related to the over-expansion of sales of durable goods last year," Dr. Stockton says. He sees no likelihood of change in the prospects for residential building for the remainder of 1956. "In spite of the high levels of consumer income, many consumers already have extensive commitments that prevent their buying the houses now being constructed except on extremely liberal credit terms," he says. England's King is not allowed to enter the House of Commons. Pythagoras first announced the belief that the word is round.
