The Republican Precinct Convention will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 5. Commissioner Precincts 1 and 3 will meet at the Robert Lee School. Commissioner Precincts 2 and 4 will meet at the Bronte School.

Absentee voting begins for primary

Voting may be done in the clerk's office or if you're over sixty-five or are out of the county you may vote by mail. To vote by mail, send a written request to the County Clerk's Office and a ballot will be returned to you. The ballot must be returned to the Clerk's office by mail.

Grain-use report deadline nears

Farmers have until May 4, 1984 to report the sizes and intended uses of their wheat, oats, barley, rye and other fall-seeded small grains to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Fall-seeded crops which are not certified by the deadline will be ineligible for program benefits.

County ACS official, J.E. Quisenberry Jr. said some farmers reported their small grains when they signed up for the 1984 acreage reduction programs and some reported spring-seeded crops.

ASCS randomly checks farms to verify that the acreage reports are accurate and also provides aerial photographs for farmers to identify their fields.

To be eligible for price support loans, target prices and other program benefits, farmers who participate in the 1984 programs are required to report the actual planted acreage on a field-by-field basis. "Farmers who did not sign up for the programs could benefit also by certifying their planted acres because the 1984 acreage will be used to establish the 1985 crop base," the ASCS official said.

Coke-Sterling County farmers who have not certified their fall-seeded crops are urged to do so by May 4, 1984.

Students out until Tuesday

Students in the Robert Lee School System will get a long Easter Vacation. There will be no classes Friday, April 20 or Monday, April 23. Monday will be a teacher in-service day.

The Coke County offices will be closed Friday, April 20.

Chicken dinner will benefit WT Rehab Center

The occasion is the Second Annual Spring Chicken Affair sponsored by Southern Sea Restaurant and Southwest Bank of San Angelo to benefit West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

The event will be staged in huge tents on the parking lot behind Southern Sea Restaurant, 3451 Knickerbocker Road in San Angelo. Tickets, which are $5, can be purchased in advance at West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Southwest Bank, Southern Sea Restaurant and Hemphill-Well's downtown and Sunset Mall stores-- or at the gate the day of the dinner.

Entertainers will be the Brooks Brothers, Shauna Smith, the Texas Hoedown Cloggers and, for the second consecutive year, Johnny Gimble.

"We're looking forward to a delightful occasion and hope our neighbors from communities near San Angelo will come enjoy it with us," said WTRC President/Executive Director Shelly V. Smith.

Helwig named Hance coordinator

Kent Hance, one of the major Democratic candidates for the United States Senate, today announced that Bill Helwig will be his coordinator in Coke County.

In making the announcement Hance said, "Bill will bring the kind of vigorous effort and grass roots organizational skills that will be an important part of our campaign."

Coke County is one of the more than 230 counties that the Hance campaign has organized throughout the State of Texas. "I'm proud of our county organiza-

Bike-A-Thon plans proceed to April 28

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bryant, co-chairmen for the 1984 St. Jude's Bike-A-Thon, report plans are moving toward the Saturday, April 28, benefit. Starting time for Coke County riders has been set for 9:00 a.m. Entries and pledge sheets will be distributed to Bronte and Robert Lee Schools before the Easter holidays so that bikers will be able to contact their donors.

Individuals, businesses and organizations are urged to get behind these kids who are willing to make the strenuous ride for the campaign of a worthy cause. St. Jude's Hospital treats all children with dread diseases and concentrates especially on cancer.

Mrs. Bryant announced that first prize will be $25.00 cash. This award will go to the person collecting the most in pledges and in no way applies to the rider finishing the race first. Other prizes awarded will be St. Jude's T-shirts and tote-bags.

Coke County Sheriff Marshall Millican assured Mr. and Mrs. Bryant a law officer would be on hand for the protection of the bike riders, and cautioned drivers to watch for them on Highway 158 between Bronte and Robert Lee.

Tax checks sent to Coke County

AUSTIN, TEX.-- State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday sent checks totaling $46.3 million in local sales payments to the 985 cities that levy the one-percent city sales tax.

"These receipts are up more than 16 percent over last year," Bullock said. "This is just exactly where I estimated they would be when I gave the Legislature its estimate of revenues last year. Texas is in the thick of the national economic recovery. Let's just hope we stay there."

Robert Lee received $2,282.95 compared with $1,611.84 for the same period last year bringing the 1984 year to date total to 10.65% ahead of 1983.

Bronte received $835.39 compared with $547.19 for the same period last year bringing the 1984 year to date total to 5.04% ahead of 1983.

The county also received a quarterly rebate on sales taxes for mixed drinks. Coke County got $327 on sales of $2,180.

ABC Tourney well attended

Last Sunday's ABC Tournament could be rated a big success according to the number of entries when 66 golfers registered to play. Angelo Pipe & Supply sponsored the event.

Heading the pack in first place were Rick Cox, Bronte, Gery Naico, Robert Lee, Bob Northcutt, Colorado City, and J.B. Koenig, of San Angelo with a 61 total.

Second with a score of 65 were Jim Morrow, Bronte, Terry Hines, Robert Lee, Speedy Sparks, Sterling City, and Jackie Walker, Robert Lee.

Also shooting a 65 for third place were Jeff Webster, San Angelo, Gary Bivins, Bronte, Jim Naico, Robert Lee, and Ron Ledbetter, San Angelo.

Club members are enjoying more and more play as the weather improves. One member, Ben Bessent, really enjoyed his action on the links last week. He aced the 9th hole, a 145 yard shot with a seven iron. He has had several other hole-in-ones since he started playing the sport but every one is a thrill.

Improvements are continuing to develop at Mountain Creek Golf Course with the completion of a new section of golf cart sheds.

Ladies will be in the limelight on Saturday, April 28, at 9:00 a.m. when the Ladies' Partnership Tournament will be held. It will be a Select Shot tourney and entry fees have been set at $25.00.

'Contests' need scrutiny

COLLEGE STATION-- That official-looking letter announcing you have won an expensive prize which can be claimed by attending a resort area sales meeting may seem too good to be true.

Unfortunately, these offers -- typically used to promote land sales or timesharing a vacation home -- often are too good to be true, says Dr. Marjorie Smith, a resource management specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economics program.

Many of the prizes are less expensive imitations of luxury items, she says. To collect these prizes, consumers may be subjected to high-pressure sales tactics used during sales meetings.

Consumers who sign contracts at these sales meetings may also find it difficult to cancel without losing some money, says the specialist. That's why it's important to carefully consider any purchase before signing a contract, cautions Smith.

Due to a growing number of complaints from consumers, the Federal Trade Commission has issued the following warnings about these promotions:

- Do not be swayed by official-looking letters. Some contest promoters use an official-looking name or envelope that looks like it contains an important telegram.

- Read the letter carefully, especially the fine print. Sometimes the letter may tell you the cash value of each prize or that you are required to attend a sales meeting as part of the contest.

- Carefully consider attending a sale meeting simply to win an expensive prize. It is unlikely that you will win a truly valuable prize. If you are interested in finding out more about the vacation property being promoted, however, you may want to attend.

- Do not immediately sign a contract or give the salesperson a deposit if you attend a sales meeting. Resist offers that are supposedly for a "limited time" or efforts to make you buy on the spot. You cannot count on being able to cancel and get your money back unless the contract clearly spells out your right to do so. Take a few days to consider your decision and get additional information. You can call the Better Business Bureau or other consumer agencies to inquire about the seller's reputation.

- Make sure you read the contract carefully before signing. A salesperson may make many claims that are not in the contract, but it's the contract that counts.

April tabbed 'Buckle-up Month'

SAN ANGELO-- Governor Mark White has declared April "Buckle-Up" Month and urged all Texans to buckle-up themselves and their children in cars. Citing an estimated 3,850 traffic deaths in Texas last year, White noted that traffic collisions are the leading cause of accidental death, especially for young people.

Texas leads the nation in traffic deaths of children between the ages of 0 and 4. At least 162 children in Texas in that age group died while riding as passengers in motor vehicles within the last two years, according to Department of Public Safety accident records.

According to national estimates of use, only about 15 percent of drivers wear safety belts. About 27 percent of children are properly protected in vehicles.

Everyone should "take a few extra seconds to protect themselves and their passengers by the use of safety belts and car seats," said White, who is an habitual safety belt user.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimates that safety belt use could reduce traffic deaths by as much as 50 percent. Among infants and young children that estimate of lives saved goes as high as 90 percent. Safety belts have also been cited as a major line of defense against the drunk driver, as the best protection now available in a collision.

A surgeon is so called from the Greek words meaning "one who works with his hands."

Beef Is Favorite Meat Of Majority of Texans

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Texans rank beef as the most heavily consumed meat, over poultry, fish, or pork according to a recent survey of eating habits by the Department of Rural Sociology, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University System.

In examining recent consumption trends for six commodities, the state-wide survey indicated that close to half of adult Texans were eating about the same way as they had last year, according to Drs. Patricia Guseman and Wm. Alex McIntosh.

However, where changes had occurred, respondents tended to be consuming less beef and pork but were eating more fish, poultry, fruit and vegetables than they were last year.

Although a majority suggested they would not be revising eating patterns over the coming year, those that indicated a change in intake suggested they would be consuming less red meat and more poultry, fish, fruit and vegetables.

Girl Scout leaders sought

Anyone can be a Girl Scout leader: Anyone, that is, who is patient, fun-loving, understanding, enduring, inspirational, cooperative, sympathetic, creative, fair; organized, caring and who can find tremendous personal satisfaction and growth in helping young girls seek wonder and fulfillment in their lives.

Yes, ma'am - and sir - we guess you could say that Girl Scout leaders are a very, very, special kind of people.

Girl Scouts certainly think so. That's why they honor their leaders on Girl Scout Leader's Day and cherish the involvement of the concerned women and men who give freely of their time to make a difference in girls' lives.

Today's Girl Scout leaders are highly-motivated, specially-trained individuals who find they get as much out of Girl Scouting as they give, whether its accompanying Brownie Girl Scouts on their first camping trip or helping a Senior Girl Scout decide on a career.

If you know a Girl Scout leader; today is her - or his - day. Please take a moment to say thanks.

And, if you are a Girl Scout leader; our caps are off to you. Enjoy your day!

Since the production of meat animals in Texas has consistently provided almost half of the agriculturally-based cash receipts for the State, such trends are of vital importance to agricultural producers. In 1982, cattle and calves comprised 41% of all Texas commodity receipts.

Nationwide, individual consumers spend more for beef than any other single food. Over one-fourth of adult Texans now eat beef five times or more a week and two-thirds have beef during any 24-hour period.

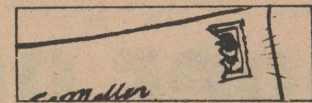

Cuts in beef consumption were noted by some females although again, almost half felt their intake had remained the same over the last year.

A drop in consumption by women could cause a trickle effect that would lead to reduced consumption for all household members, Guseman noted.

On the other hand, young adults, more than any other group, suggested they would be eating more beef, as well as other meats.

"Dieting was related to reduced consumption of beef and pork," Guseman noted, "and increased intakes of poultry and fish. Concerns for health and nutrition were associated with increased consumption of vegetables and fruit, but had no consistent relationship with consumption of red meat."

Puppet show used in drug program

The Big Country Puppeteers contracted by the Sweetwater Council on Alcohol/Drugs covering Nolan, Coke, and Runnels Co. presented programs to Robert Lee and Bronte Elementary Schools. Their program uses puppets to get across to students the effects of alcohol and other drugs including cigarette smoking on the various parts of the body.

Mr. Tom Watson, alcohol and drug counselor for this area states this has been the most effective means to alert children in the lower grade levels of the danger of alcohol and marijuana and hopefully not to be persuaded by peer's or friends to experiment with drugs. Mr. Watson wishes to thank Elementary Principal Bill Hood and all other teachers in allowing the program to be presented.

Part of the money contributed by Coke County for alcohol and drug abuse service make these programs possible.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Bright Plants Add Color To Those Shady Corners

Finding annuals and perennials that will flower and bloom profusely in the sunny parts of your yard is not difficult. It does not always seem quite as easy, however, to find plants that will add color to the partly sunny and downright shady areas of your yard.

The following are a few plants, some with colorful flowers and some with colorful foliage, that will add beauty and accent to those shady areas.

Begonias: This is perhaps the best flowering plant in Texas for color in the shade. There are hundreds of different variations, with flower colors including pink, red, and white. Leaf colors include bronze and green. The Caladium: These plants are grown for their spectacular foliage, which runs from red and pink to white and green. Flowers should be removed immediately as they form. Plant the bulbs in midspring, once the soil has warmed considerably. Caladiums grow from 12 to 20 inches high in shade or part shade. The light-colored types stand sunlight better. Avoid high-nitrogen fertilizer to prevent excessive greening of foliage.

Coleus: This is another plant grown for its foliage, which runs from red, yellow, white, pink, and orange to violet and green. Any flowers should be removed immediately. Height varies from 12 to 30 inches. Coleus does well in the shade or part shade and provides good color from spring through fall.

Impatiens: This flowering plant offers brilliant, intensely-colored flowers for shady places. Flower colors include reds, oranges, pinks, white, purples, and other intense colors. The plants spread and are best used in mass plantings. Height varies from 6 to 24 inches. Give impatiens adequate moisture and watch for spider mites in the heat of summer.

Four O'Clock: This fragrant-scented flower blooms in the late afternoon. Colors include red, pink, white, and yellow. Plants grow 2 to 3 feet tall and will reseed themselves. Four O'Clocks grow in shade or part shade, and will even grow in sunny locations if watered adequately.

SAFETY HINTS

Facts About Fire

Here are some fire prevention tips from the experts:

- If your home has a fireplace, make sure the chimney is professionally inspected and cleaned annually before the heating season to get rid of obstructions and creosote accumulation.
- Never start a fire in the fireplace or in a woodstove by using gasoline or other flammable liquids.

- Keep a box of baking soda handy in the kitchen in case a small grease or electrical fire breaks out. To extinguish, toss handfuls of baking soda at the base of the flames. When baking soda is heated, it releases carbon dioxide which will smother the flames. Since ARM & HAMMER® Baking Soda is of food grade purity, it won't hurt the food being cooked. Just rinse the baking soda off, and you can still enjoy your meal.

- Don't use baking soda to extinguish fires in deep fat fryers, as oil could splatter and spread flames. Also, remember that baking soda should be used to extinguish only small fires and is not a substitute for a commercial fire extinguisher. If you have any doubts about whether you can extinguish a fire, call the Fire Department immediately.

- You can make a baking soda emergency fire pail by using a one-pound coffee can and punching holes 1/4 inch down from the top adding a handle and filling with baking soda.

New process takes 'beany' flavor out of soybean protein

COLLEGE STATION—A process that takes the 'beany' flavor out of soybean protein products used in baked goods, ground meats and other foods has been patented by a Texas A&M University researcher.

"Flavor has been cited as one of the main factors limiting wider use of soybean protein products in foods," explained inventor Jim Lawhon, a veteran oilseed protein researcher with the Food Protein Research and Development Center of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station.

Help Your Heart

American Heart Association in Texas

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

Hostility and Heart Disease

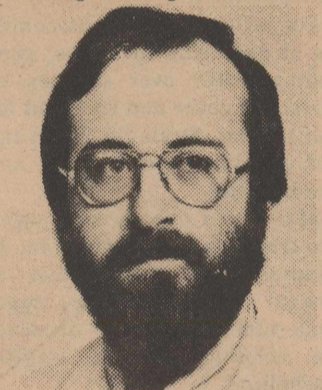

Hostility may be a key aspect of the "Type A" behavior profile — the hard-driving, impatient person who is at higher risk than others of having heart attacks, said Redford B. Williams, Jr., M.D., at a recent American Heart Association meeting.

Not all Type A's get heart attacks, but in studies at Duke University Medical Center in Durham, NC, over the last seven years, Type A patients showed more severe coronary heart disease than others. And the Type A's who scored high on an experimental "hostility" scale from the standard personality assessment questionnaire, the Minnesota Multiphasic Inventory (MMPI), had a particularly high rate of heart disease reported Dr. Williams, associate professor of medicine and professor of psychiatry.

Dr. Williams studied the records of 255 physicians who had taken the MMPI 25 years earlier, while in medical school. Those who scored low on the hostility scale had a less than three percent heart attack rate during the ensuing 25 years, compared with more than a 12 percent rate for those with higher range hostility scores — nearly a five-fold difference. Their death rates from all causes followed this same pattern, being lower among the low-hostility men.

Numerous researchers are investigating the mechanisms, by putting Type A's and the more calm Type B individuals through stressful experiments in laboratories. Type A's show larger boosts in blood pressure, and larger increases in blood levels of epinephrine and cortisol, the adrenal hormones that cause blood vessels to constrict, Dr. Williams said. The Duke researchers found, among Type A men given simple arithmetic problems, physiologic and hormonal reactions similar to those seen in emergency and fight-or-flight situations.

Dr. Williams

Excessive levels of the adrenal hormones and of testosterone, the male sex hormone, have been implicated in animal studies in the hardening and narrowing of arteries.

Further studies are necessary to determine if the higher hormonal responses observed so far in some Type A persons are causative factors in heart disease, Dr. Williams said. If susceptible people could be identified early, then preventive measures could be taken to save their lives.

DYE EASTER ---

NATURALLY

The first Easter trail Peter Cottontail hopped down was in Pennsylvania, and that first trip took place in 1728, long before commercial egg dyes became popular.

Back then many Pennsylvania Dutch children used natural dyes from herbs and foods to dye the eggs that were then exchanged as tokens of good times to come.

This Easter your children might enjoy making their own dye (with your help) as well as coloring the eggs. They might even learn something about the many uses of foodstuffs along the way.

For softer, lighter shades, prepare the dye and strain it to remove the herbs, roots or foodstuff used to obtain the color. Then, dip and turn pre-cooked eggs in the dye until you get a pretty shade. To create a deeper shade, simply make the dye and cook the eggs at the same time, allowing the eggs to simmer for as long as 20 minutes to reach the deepest hues.

Another method of dyeing eggs is to wrap raw eggs in bits of the dye-making plant or food and then tie them in cheesecloth. When the eggs are boiled the dye is transferred directly to the eggshell, leaving a unique mottled effect.

Adding vinegar or alum to the dyeing mixture will increase the strength of the dye.

Here are some "recipes" for various colors:

For yellow dye use chamomile tea or dandelion blossoms, pour boiling water over the tea or blossoms, cover and let stand for half an hour. Strain the liquid and add a teaspoon of vinegar and dye is ready.

Make gold dye by simmering two tablespoons of tumeric for 20 minutes. Add a teaspoon of vinegar before dyeing eggs. Since tumeric does not dissolve, the coloring will be slightly marbelized.

A brass-brown shade results from onion skins, even red onion skins. Place the skins in a pan of water and simmer until the desired shade is obtained. Strain the liquid and add a teaspoon of vinegar and the dye is ready.

Lavender-blue eggs can be made with blueberries or grapes. Crush the berries or grapes by hand or in a blender. Add water and simmer for a few minutes. Strain the mixture and add a teaspoon of vinegar to complete the dye. Use a similar method to make robins-egg blue from cabbage.

Mint leaves will make pale green Easter eggs. Pour boiling water over mint leaves, cover and let simmer for half an hour. Strain the mixture and add a teaspoon of vinegar to complete the dye.

Any of the dye-stuffs can be wrapped around or folded against a raw egg and enclosed in cheesecloth and then boiled to obtain unusual patterns of color on the egg.

AGRICULTURE

County Extension Agent

by Tommy Antilley MID-YEAR CROP AND LIVESTOCK REPORTS

...The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in mid-May for 1984 crop information and mid-year livestock inventories.

State Statistician Dennis Findley emphasized that information from these surveys is very important to the entire agricultural industry. "A good response on these surveys is essential so accurate figures will be available for each county and the state."

Results of the confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, will be published late in June.

"These estimates will help farmers and ranchers adjust their operations and plan their future marketings," Findley added.

To reduce survey costs, Findley is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. The reported information will be combined for state and county estimates.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables, and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

Tick-transmitted disease can be fatal to dogs

Texas veterinarians are reporting an increasing number of cases of Canine Ehrlichiosis (pronounced early early-ki-o'sis), a potentially fatal dog disease.

Originally introduced to the U.S. from Vietnam, the disease is transmitted by ticks and aggravated by stress, according to an article published recently in the Texas Veterinary Medical Journal.

Veterinary internal medicine specialists say early symptoms may include listlessness, fever, poor appetite and weight loss, followed by depletion of red and/or white blood cells and decreased blood platelets. If not properly diagnosed and treated during the early phase, some dogs may be subject to a severe chronic phase of the disease 50-100 days after infection. This stage of the disease is frequently fatal, with treatment often unrewarding and animals living only a few days.

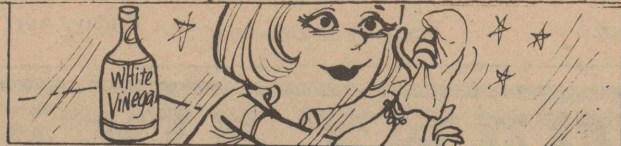

The disease is characterized as rickettsia, which is smaller than a bacteria but larger than a virus.

Dogs possibly infected with the disease should be tested for Ehrlichiosis (blood test) by a veterinarian.

When a test is shown to be positive, the dog is then treated by a veterinarian with tetracycline antibiotics. Other control methods include the elimination of ticks, both on the animal and premises.

Commissioners hire consultants

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I enjoyed reading names of early day settlers in Coke Co.

J.J. Austin was my grandfather. My mother was Sealy Belle Austin. She was born in Coke Co. It was a territory at that time. She always said she was born on one of the Conchos, camped out. The first time she turned over, she rolled into the campfire, Grandpa Austin picked her up and brushed the coals from her head.

My father was Eugene Fletcher, a blind broommaker. Son of Jim and Mary Fletcher, old time Coke Countians, other boys were Archie Pole and Homer Fletcher. Papa's only sister, Mary was Mrs. J.H. Benningfield. Their home was at the foot of Fletcher's Peak in the Yellow Wolf Valley.

Papa was 9 years old when they arrived in Coke Co.

Grandpa Fletcher was a Civil War veteran. I can recall seeing his muzzle loading gun and his stories of the war and of hunting to find his wife after the war, who he found in Texas with her father's family. He was wounded in the war, carried a bullet in his hip the rest of his life. He was a first aid man in the army. I would love to see a tomb or some remembrance of his service. He set alot of broken bones and was sent for in case of emergencies. He saved my life when I was 4 years old, when I was bitten by a rattlesnake on our place, further up into the cove of the mountains.

Dr. Turney came by buggy and-- did other things to save me.

I had one brother, Oren Fletcher and one sister, Neva Francis. My sister died in 1976 and Oren passed away in 1983. He is buried in Sanco Cemetery. We three were born at Sanco in Coke Co. and Oren and I went to school at Sanco until I was 11 years old.

All four of my grandparents are buried in Sanco Cemetery, along with other relatives.

I return each year for the homecoming at Sanco. I hope to do so, as long as I live. My tracks are deep there.

I wrote the stories of both sets of my grandparents in the Coke Co. book that will soon be out and pictures of them I cherish.

showing is free, and open to the public.

Featuring narration by Billy Graham and Cliff Barrows, the film weaves together Scripture passages, great works of religious art, music, and some of the most stunning color footage ever filmed in the Holy Land. The film touches the heart and mind of the viewer with its relevance to twentieth-century mankind.

Rich in visual beauty, and enhanced by a powerful, original, musical score, The Living Word bring the pages of the Bible to life in a fresh new way.

The Reverend Roy Epperson, pastor of the Baptist Church, is extending an invitation to all to attend. The Living Word is an outstanding film for anyone who has unanswered questions about just what the Bible means to us today. The producers of the film feel the real beauty of the production is not so much the color photography, which is truly memorable, but more the clear way in which it explains what the Christian faith really is. God has a plan for us, set in motion at the moment of Creation, and it's still being realized today. The film aims to help each viewer discover that plan, and to see how our lives fit into that plan.

World Wide Pictures, the producer of The Living Word, is the film ministry of the Billy Graham organization. Among the company's other releases are the award-winning The Hiding Place, and the recent film, Joni, which stars Joni Eareckson, a quadriplegic, as herself.
