Mayor responds to poor quality water allegations

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below is a letter from Mayor Robert Vaughan concerning the quality of the city water in Robert Lee.

When the rumors started concerning the quality of drinking water in Robert Lee, The City called the Regional Office of the Texas Department of Health for assistance. Mike Menzies of the regional office came within two hours of the call. He examined the results of all the samples of drinking water submitted to the Health Department Laboratory for the past several months. All of them were clear of any contamination. Six samples are taken each month over the city of Robert Lee and taken to the State laboratory for testing.

Mr. Menzies also talked to the hospital administrator and the supply doctor, Dr. Terry Pulse, who has now gone back to Dallas.

The two people who were ill are employed by the Hospital in Robert Lee, one in the kitchen, and the other in maintenance. One of the patients was sent to San Angelo for treatment. Dr. Pulse told Mr. Menzies that he was diagnosed as having Amoeba Hystoleticus. The regional office was notified and the Austin Department of Health was contacted. They reported that although this bacteria can be found in water, it is not normally transmitted this way. Further checking on this is being done by the health department in Austin.

Under the rules of the Texas Health Department, if samples submitted by a city shows presence of coliform, check samples are immediately taken and if these are bad, the department of Health immediately helps the city find the source of contamination and to correct it.

Only the Department of Health, County Health Officer, and the City are authorized to issue this information.

In the future if you have any questions concerning the quality of Robert Lee's drinking water, call the City Hall and you will be given correct information.

New paper in works for county; debuts next week

We are happy to announce that starting next week, you will not have to subscribe to two newspapers to find out what's going on in Coke County. That's right! The new county-wide newspaper serving all of Coke County, The Observer/Enterprise, will make its debut next week.

What will you have to do to get the new paper? Absolutely nothing! If you are a regular subscriber to the Bronte Enterprise or Robert Lee Observer, your subscription will be continued on in the same manner. If you subscribe to both papers, your subscription will be automatically extended for the total time remaining on each subscription, added together. Of course, papers will remain on sale at the different locations throughout the county, if you purchase your paper at a newsstand.

Probably the best news about the new Coke County Observer/Enterprise is that, in most cases, advertising rates will be less expensive than the old rates of advertising in both papers. This applies to classified as well as display advertising rates. For those previously advertising in one paper the slight increase in rates will result in reaching almost twice as many readers.

One thing will change with the new paper. The size. Your new Observer/Enterprise will be a standard full-size newspaper instead of tabloid size, as has been the case in the past.

The new Observer/Enterprise will also have a special section in each issue devoted to local news in your community; so there is no reason to fear any change in local news coverage.

We are excited about the new Coke County paper, and want any comments you might have, good or bad, concerning the change.

Service to the local community has and will always be our first concern. Let us know how we can be of better service to you.

Benefit street dance to be held this Saturday in RL

A good old-fashioned Street Dance to benefit a community need will be held Saturday night, August 11, in downtown Robert Lee. The West Coke County Emergency Ambulance Service is sponsor of the dance and other fun activities to take place on the Coke County Courthouse parking lot.

Larry Spivey and the Country Jokers will provide toe-tapping, boot stomping music for the dance. Ticket prices are set for $5.00 per person and any donations to the ambulance service fund will be gladly accepted. Proceeds from the dance and other activities will go toward the purchase of a new heart defibrillator and a heart monitor to be used in the ambulance.

Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. after the weather cools down in the evening.

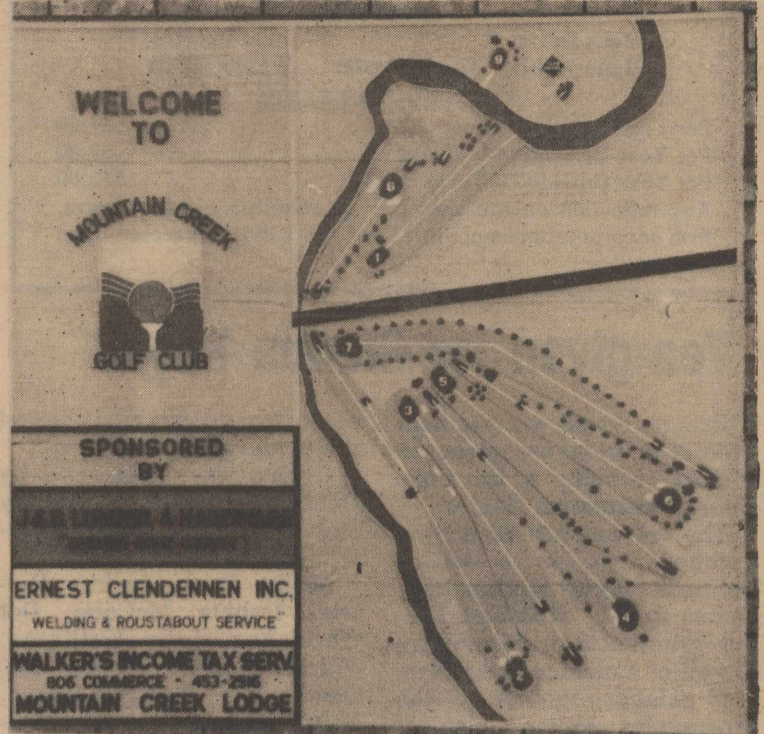

A "Dunkin'" booth with Gene Hinnard, John Carver, Lou Wright, and others (any one wanting to be cooled off) will be perched on the spot ready to be "dunked" by anyone with a good throwing arm. This activity starts at 7 o'clock in the evening at the same time as the concession stand operated by members of the EMS opens. Food items for sale will be ice cold drinks, snowcones and pop corn.

The RLHS cheerleaders will have delicious homemade ice cream for sale from their booth on the courthouse grounds. They need your sup-

The public is urged to bring lawn chairs for comfort while listening and watching the dancers, join in dancing, or just visiting to help support this worthy undertaking.

Bryan notes passing of 'Ole Coke County' with sadness, gratitude; sets next year's date

"The 1984 production of OLE COKE COUNTY, Home of the Rabbit Twisters, is past," states Lucile Bryan, with a note of sadness. She says success was achieved by "You, You, and You--You who performed, You who came to see the play, and You who helped with the many chores which rounded out rehearsals and four performances." The tired, but pleased, director feels gratitude to all.

Dates of performances in 1985 will be Friday and Saturday nights of the last two weekends of July: July 19, 20, and July 26,27. People are urged to mark calendars and plan vacations so as to be free on those dates.

With the publication of the Coke County History Book, writers expect to find materials for many new scenes for future use. Those with other usable stories are urged to write them and turn them in to be filed. Ideas are welcomed.

Actors who have not returned costumes are urged to do so. Lost and found articles might be had by calling the Wilson Bryan residence, 453-2692.

Golf club mini-tourney results told

Thursday's Afternoon Delight attracted 29 club members for the weekly 9-hole mini-tourney. Claiming 1st place with 32 were Wade Wallace, Bubba Kennedy, Sue Ybarra, and Randy Smith chased by Bob Morgan, Sid Burns, and Jackie Walker with a 2nd place 33. Third slot, also with a 33, went to Buddy Brown, Bob Northcutt, Peggy Jackson, and Clark Tinkler.

American Well Servicing sponsored last Sunday's ABC Tournament at the local course. A nice group of 48 golfers paid to play.

Lisa Pearson, Greg Pearson, and Rudi Rodriguez teamed up for the 65 top score to win the gold. Another 65 was carded by Gaylon Hall, Kyle Williamson and Johnnie Webster for 2nd. Sixty-five was the third place team's score, too, as Bill Rowoldt, Jake Jacoby, and Bill Ballew totaled out.

Next ABC tournament on the Mountain Creek schedule will be held on Sunday, Aug. 19, hosted by San Angelo Pipe & Supply Co. Entry fees will go at $5.00 with a 1:00 p.m. tee-off-time.

"Carelessness" is the main factor in the more than 50,000 people injured each year in accidents involving power lawn mowers.

Proper mower servicing, observing standard operating precautions, and picking up rocks and other objects from the lawn prior to mowing will eliminate most accidents.

The lawn mower should be routinely serviced each time before taking it out of the garage to mow the lawn. A properly operating mower is safer to use and cuts grass better than one in poor shape.

Routine service includes checking the blade for nicks and cracks, checking the blade to be sure it is securely attached to the shaft, checking the crankcase oil level in 4-cycle engines, and filling the fuel tank with fresh regular gasoline.

Always disconnect the spark plug wire before examining the blade. The condition of the blade is critical to the mower's operation and safety. Remove, sharpen and balance the blade several times during the mowing season. Replace damaged blades.

Service the carburetor air and change the crankcase oil after every 25 hours of operation, or at the manufacturer's recommendation. Also clean the mower after each use to reduce rust and corrosion and to prevent overheating, both of which reduce life of the mower.

Another reason for keeping your mower clean is to reduce the amount of dirt getting into the engine. Clean the outside of the engine, the cooling fins on the cylinder wall, and the blade housing with a stiff brush and soap and water or a degreaser.

Also clean the muffler and exhaust parts so that the exhaust system does not become restricted. Cleaning the mower regularly will extend its life and will also aid in detecting worn or broken parts before they cause extensive damage.

Before mowing scout the lawn closely and remove any objects that might be picked up by the mower blade.

While operating the mower, follow these precautions:

--Never allow children to play in the area where you are mowing since the blade can pick up and throw rocks and other objects.

--Avoid mowing up and down slopes--always mow across the slope to prevent slipping under the mower housing.

--Always push rather than pull the mower.

--Never leave a mower running while unattended.

--When starting the mower, put your foot on its housing to pull the starter cord.

Caution and common sense will prevent most lawn mower-related accidents. That means keeping your lawn mower in good condition and using good judgement.

How Gardeners Can Beat the Sun

The high soil temperature of late summer can adversely affect germination of crops. To help cool the soil, you can lay newspapers, burlap sacks or even boards over seeded areas.

Be sure to keep watching closely for signs of sprouting and then remove the covering.

Another common summer problem is crusting in the soil. To help prevent it, water the soil before planting the seed instead of after. Watering after planting may result in the formation of a crust that seedlings can't penetrate.

To further reduce crusting, when putting seeds in the ground, push each seed down to the desired depth with your index finger. The tight column of soil compressed beneath the seed will act as a wick to draw moisture to the seed.

It is very important in fall gardens to apply enough water, but it should be done in frequent, light applications rather than in occasional heavy drenchings. Also, be sure to mulch your plants to help them retain moisture and keep their roots cool.

Most of all, be patient. Keep your plants healthy and soon the days will be cooler and the harvest will be better.

County Attorney publishes article concerning solving DWI problem

The following article is a public service by this paper through the cooperation of Bill J. Helwig, County Attorney and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of Coke County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the statistics, the law in Texas, and the attitudes behind driving while intoxicated.

A WONDERFUL MACHINE
Imagine a wonderful new machine that would make live easier and more enjoyable. It would be durable, relatively easy to maintain, and affordable to most consumers. It would revolutionize our way of life and everyone would be ecstatic to have one. But there is one catch. Each year, in order to have this machine, we would have to sacrifice some 40,000 lives.

Preposterous? Absurd? The American people would never stand for it, you say. And yet that is the price we pay each year in automobile accidents, not including the price in human suffering and property damage--accidents caused in large numbers by drunk drivers.

Drunk driving kills more people than homicides--injures more people than guns. More Americans have died at the hands of drunk drivers during the past two years than died in the ten years of Viet Nam. In the U.S. alone, drinking drivers cause about 26,000 deaths each year--71 people every day.

Department of Public Safety statistics show that D.W.I. was a contributing factor in 35,370 accidents on Texas roadways in 1983. Some 1,006 fatalities were attributable to drunk-driving-related accidents, although it is believed that that number would be much higher if Texas law required blood alcohol measurements from all drivers involved in fatal accidents. Of those 1,006 deaths, 509 were the drunk drivers themselves.

The property damage in dollar amount is more than that done by forgers, burglars and robbers all added together. More than 25% of all auto insurance premiums go to pay for the damage done by drinking drivers. It is estimated that society's loss in one year for wages, productivity, medical and legal costs, purchasing power, and the like caused by deaths and injuries in drunk driver wrecks exceeds $24 billion.

What are your chances of becoming a victim of drunk driving? If you are between the ages of 16 and 24, it is your leading cause of death. On an average weekend night, one out of every ten drivers on the road is drunk. It should come as no surprise that drunk driving is the most common form of violent death in the nation. Your chances of being involved in a D.W.I. collision sometime in your life are 1 in 2.

No question about it: the statistics are frightening! What has been done about it? What can be done about it? The next article will examine Texas law on D.W.I. and the efforts of Texas lawmakers to address the problem.

This article is provided by The Prosecutor Council in cooperation with your local prosecutor. For further information call: Bill J. Helwig, 453-2001.

Each person uses about 80 gallons of water a day around the house. During summer months, even more is used in the yard. With the drought conditions the way they are, we can not continue to use water as freely as we have before. At the rate of 80 gallons per day, that's 29,200 gallons per person per year!

About 75% of the water used in a home is used in the bathroom; 45% for toilets, and 30% for bathing. Laundry and dishes account for 20%, while drinking and cooking account for only 5%.

You can save water in the bathroom, and energy (from the hot water heater) as well by observing the following procedures:

1. Five minutes may be long enough for a shower. A shower without a water-saving shower head uses 5 to 10 gallons of water a minute.

2. Buy a flow restrictor. This inexpensive device makes water flow through a smaller opening and can cut your water use in half.

3. Turn off the water while you shampoo and soap up.

4. Don't fill the bathtub too full— $\frac{1}{4}$ of the tub of water may be enough. Every inch of water in the tub is about $4\frac{1}{2}$ gallons, so a half-filled tub uses 25 gallons of water.

5. When brushing your teeth, don't let the water run the entire time. Every minute, 4 to 5 gallons of water will run down the drain.

Other water saving techniques include:

*Wait until you have full loads before operating the dishwasher and washing machine. A full washer uses 35 to 60 gallons—whether it contains a full load of clothes or one pair of blue jeans.

*Letting the water run to get a cold drink sends gallons down the drain. Put a bottle of water in the refrigerator for cold drinks.

These are only a few of the many ways we can help save water. If each person does his part in conserving—our water may go further.

Sales tax up over last year

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today sent checks totaling $98.3 million in local sales tax payments to 988 cities that levy the one percent sales tax.

Although bookkeeping changes that were part of last year's tax deadline speedups made the August 1984 payment smaller than the previous payment, Bullock said year-to-date comparisons can be made accurately.

"This 12 and a half percent increase is honest growth over last year because both this August payment and last August's are based on all sales reported during the first half of both years."

For the period of August 1984, Bronte received $2,960,50, bringing the total payment for 1984 up to $15,154.05.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

America's exceedingly strong recovery continues to gain momentum across Texas as well as the rest of the nation. From all economic indications, this recovery is developing into one of the strongest in recent history.

On the national level, factories are operating at their highest capacity in four years, an average of 81.7 percent in June. Domestic auto sales increased to an 8.3 million annual rate in June, 19.9 percent higher than during the second quarter in 1983. The Index of Industrial Production in June was 21.3 percent above the recession's low and 8.1 percent above January 1981 levels.

Additionally, consumer prices have risen only 4.2 percent in the past 12 months. The 1983 inflation rate was 3.8 percent, the smallest annual rise since 1972. It was only in 1979, that an inflation rate of 13.3 percent was plaguing our nation.

All Americans, not just the rich, benefit from this strong economic recovery. Because the poor spend most of their money on the basics -- food, housing, energy and medical care -- they have been aided the most by the cost of living decreases.

Texas is fortunate to be in a good economic position. Although some parts of Texas are prospering more than others, I believe all Texans will benefit from the national recovery.

Of major consequence to Texas, Hispanic unemployment today is seven-tenths of a percentage point below that of January 1981, a larger decrease than had been seen during the previous four years. This indicates that we are making real progress in closing the gap which has caused Hispanics to suffer more severely than the population at large. The unemployment rate across Texas is 4.8 percent compared to a high of 8.7 percent just a few years ago.

In Texas, our economic difficulties arose primarily due to factors not connected with the national recession. In the past, the strength of the South Texas economy has been dependent upon the retail trade from Mexico.

As important as the Mexican economy is and will continue to be in the Southwest, never again must we allow our economy to become inextricably bound to that of our neighbors to the south.

We have initiated several measures to benefit South Texas such as the establishment of Foreign Trade Zones.

This will serve as a long-term vehicle for the Hispanic business community to seek economic opportunities. Hispanic business has experienced a 65 percent growth rate over the past five years. Three of the fastest growing Hispanic businesses in the nation are located in Texas.

I believe this recovery will continue at the speed and strength it has demonstrated. It is a strong signal that good economic times lie ahead for America.

Debra Bowman of Lawton, Okla. was matron of honor. Bridesmatron was Nancy Jezek of Midland. Bridesmaids were Marjorie McQuerry of Midland and Ruth Ann Acker of Sallisaw, sister of the bridegroom.

Specialist says consumers misled by food advertising

Consumers can be easily misled by food advertising that plays on their concerns about calories, cholesterol and sugar, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt. Advertising is regulated by the Federal Trade Commission, and cannot contain incorrect information. But some advertising claims take advantage of consumers' lack of nutrition information, she says. Advertising can provide some valuable and useful information. But to avoid being misled, consumers must become informed about nutrition and carefully read the labels on the food products they buy, says the nutritionist.

High Blood Pressure in Women

Nearly 34 million Americans — about one in six — have high blood pressure. Only a small portion of all those who have this disease are being adequately treated. Does it really matter? Yes, because uncontrolled high blood pressure may lead to heart failure, stroke, kidney damage, and more.

Help your heart! Have your blood pressure checked. That's the only way you can tell whether you have high blood pressure. A reading of 120/80 is about normal for most people. A blood pressure reading of 160/95 is considered by most doctors to be high. If this reading stays high on repeated examinations, most physicians would begin therapy.

Doctors don't know what causes high blood pressure except in a few rare cases. Research scientists — many of whom receive financial support from the American Heart Association, its affiliates and components — are studying this mysterious disease.

Men and women, whites and non-whites, are affected by high blood pressure. Dr. Harriet P. Dustan of the University of Alabama Medical Center, Birmingham, gives this advice to women:

* Taking contraceptive pills is associated with high blood pressure in some women. This is more likely to happen if you are overweight, have had hypertension during pregnancy or have some predisposing condition, such as mild kidney disease or a family history of high blood pressure. So it's a good idea to ask your doctor to measure your blood pressure before prescribing the Pill and then to have your blood pressure checked every six months or so.

* Some women develop high blood pressure during pregnancy. In women who already have it, pregnancy may make their condition more severe. This form of high blood pressure may disappear after delivery, or it may continue.

* As a woman grows older, her chances of having high blood pressure become greater than a man's, particularly after menopause.

* Black women — even very young black women — are much more susceptible to high blood pressure than white women.

* If your parents and other relatives have had high blood pressure, there's a good chance that you have it or may develop it, too. If you have it, your children may also develop it. Like adults, children should have regular blood-pressure checks.

To control your blood pressure, you've got to work together with your doctor, nurse, and others, Dr. Dustan says. You may have to take medication every day, perhaps for the rest of your life. And there may be other treatments, such as losing weight, using less salt, and getting more exercise. Don't take life-or-death chances with a disease you can control.

The 1984-85 school term begins August 23 for all students in the Robert Lee schools. A list for needed classroom supplies has been prepared by the principal's office and is being published in this week's Observer.
